DALLES OF ST. LOUIS RIVER MAY BE MADE GREAT STATE PARK AND GAME PRESERVE

HUGE TRACT IS INCLUDED IN PROJECT

Jay Cooke Estate Will Provide One-Third of It at Nominal Cost.

Wilderness of the Wildest Grandeur at Duluth's Very Doors.

Playground for People and Refuge for Animals and Birds.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bill for an act to set aside 7,500 acres of wild land in Carlton county skirting on the dalles of the St. Louis river and to create a public park and game preserve to be known as the Jay Cooke state park, is expected to be introduced tomorrow in both branches of the state legislature by the Carlton county delegation.

Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet will introduce the bill in the senate and Representative Spencer J. Searls will father the same measure in the house. The two bills will be presented simultaneously. Other senators and representatives who are known to be friendly to the project may join with Senator Vibert and Representative Searls in introducing the bill.

It is understood that about one-third of the land proposed to be dedicated for state park purposes may be secured by the state for little or nothing from the Jay Cooke interests.

The Cooke family is still greatly interested in a financial way in this section of the country and it is known that they are disposed to deal with the state in a generous way in respect to the use of the lands for the purposes of a state park. Water power rights, however, will be reserved to the present owners.

The bill provides that in case any tract of land within the limits described in the bill cannot be secured by negotiation upon satisfactory terms, the attorney general has authority to institute condemnation proceedings on behalf of the state to acquire the desired property.

Game Preserve.

The bill also provides that the park shall be maintained by the state as a game preserve. No firearms of any kind will be permitted within the limits of the park and it will, if the law is passed, be unlawful to kill or injure any animal within its confines. The law also makes the mutilation of any tree or shrub within the park an offense.

The bill carries with it an appropriation of a sum not to exceed $40,000 for the year 1915, and a like amount available during the year 1916.

Jay Cooke, for whom it is proposed to name the park, was a Philadelphia banker who was closely associated with the early history of Duluth and the Lake Superior region. He was a national figure at the time of the Civil war, having negotiated the purchase of $2,000,000,000 worth of government bonds. Later he financed the construction of the Northern Pacific railroad. His death occurred Feb. 16, 1905.

What Bill Means.

To preserve unsullied against the marches of civilization, a beautiful remnant of the forest primeval which lies at Duluth's very door, and incidentally to pay immortal tribute to the memory of a pioneer and financier to whom the city, the state and even the nation owes much—this, is the intent of the bill creating the Jay Cooke state park, which will be introduced tomorrow in both houses of the state legislature.

Within a stone's throw from the extreme western limits of Duluth city, at the foot of the rapids of the largest stream which feeds the Great Lakes, lies a still unbroken wilderness in all of its pristine splendor. It is a picturesque portion of nature's vast domain and wild grandeur, yet uninhabited by man. Through it the majestic St. Louis river winds and plunges in a

WOULD PUT END TO THE "TIPPING" EVIL

Senator Bosshard Introduces Bill in the Wisconsin Senate.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—Senator Bosshard of La Crosse would put an end to the "tipping" evil by making it a misdemeanor to offer a tip and a heavy fine for accepting one. His bill, which will be reported back to the senate by the committee on revision early this week, is broad in scope and covers all phases of tipping. Under the terms of his bill every employe of any hotel, restaurant or public place and every employe of any person, firm, or any public service corporation engaged in the transportation of passengers or in the furnishing of food, lodging or other accommodations to the public who shall receive or solicit any gratuity shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The provisions of the law are to apply with equal force to those offering a tip. The fine for every offense shall not be less than $5 or more than $25, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days.

That the traveling public may be apprised of the provisions of the law the bill provides that when it becomes a law it shall be posted in every hotel, rooming and lodging house and in a conspicuous place in depots that all may read it.

DESPERATE BATTLE IS RAGING BETWEEN BAND OF INDIANS AND WHITES

Two Indians and White Man Killed and Several Wounded.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 22.—After a continuous battle throughout the night near Bluff, Utah, between a band of fifty-two Piute Indians and a posse of twenty-six men, led by United States Marshal Aquila Nebeker, bands of citizens from various towns in Utah were preparing today to go to the assistance of the whites. The Indians also have been reinforced.

Two Indians and one white man have been killed; two Indians and a white man wounded and two Indians captured. One of those killed was an Indian maiden who was said to have run into the line of battle. The fight started early Sunday morning.

The following report of the fight with the Indians has been received from Marshal Nebeker:

Indians Open Fire.

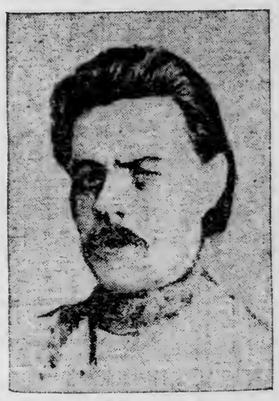

"Posse of twenty-six men led by sheriff of Dolores county, Colo., ex-Sheriff Gingles of Montezuma county, Colo., and Sheriff Peterson of San Juan county left Salt Lake City Saturday night to surprise and capture the Indians. At break of day the posse surrounded the camp where the Indians were located. The Indians seemed to be expecting the arrival of the posse and opened fire. J. C. Akin of Dolores, Colo., was killed in the beginning of the fight. An Indian called Jack's Brother was killed and an Indian girl who ran between the posse and the Indians was killed. The posse captured Indians named Howen and Jack. Both Indians are choice warriors and it is expected the other Indians will try to recapture them. A band of Indians known as Posey's band came to the relief of Polk's band from the south. Posey's band wounded Joseph E. Cordova of Cortez, one of our men who was placed to guard the southern approach. A posse of fifteen, all this town could arm, has been sent from here to assist the posse at Bluff. A posse of twenty-nine is on the road from Monticello, Utah, to assist those at Bluff. Communication between here and Bluff has been broken all day, and has just been restored. The fighting continues fiercely."

RESTORED TO GOOD GRACES OF RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

MAXIM GORKY.

Petrograd, via London, Feb. 22.—The prosecution instituted against Maxim Gorky, the author several years ago for his socialistic anti-government propaganda which necessitated his self-exile for several years, has been abandoned definitely.

Maxin Gorky's restoration to the good graces of the Russian government comes after a long period of years, during which he was at odds with the authorities. He returned to Russia about a year ago after eight years of exile.

NEW FEDERAL COMMISSION

Nominations for Trade Board Sent to Senate By President.

Joseph E. Davies, Madison, Wis., Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, William J. Harris of Cedartown, Ga., William H. Parry of Seattle, Wash., and George Rublee of Cornish, N. H.

Politically the commission has three Democrats, one Progressive-Republican and one Progressive. Parry is described by the White House as a Progressive Republican, and Rublee as a Progressive.

Mr. Davies is commissioner of the bureau of corporations, which is merged with the commission under the new law. Mr. Hurley is a business man and trade expert with extended knowledge of Latin-American conditions. Mr. Harris is director of the census. Mr. Parry is a lawyer and business man, and Mr. Rublee is a lawyer who was consulted frequently by leaders in congress when the trade commission bill was being framed.

Qualifications Examined.

The president narrowed his list of candidates for the commission down

LEGISLATURE IS HAVING HOLIDAY

Several Important Bills to Be Voted on This Week.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Washington's birthday anniversary was observed by both houses of the Minnesota legislature, which extended the week-end adjournment over today.

Three important pieces of legislation have been made special orders in the house and will be acted on before the end of the week, while the woman suffrage bill has been made a special order for Thursday in the senate.

Interest in the county option bill, which recently passed the senate and which will be voted on in the house Wednesday, overshadows all other matters.

The Minnetie telephone bill has been made a special order in the house for Thursday morning. Advocates of the measure declare they are confident of its passage. The bill passed both houses two years ago, but was vetoed by Governor Eberhart.

Repeal of the Elwell road law will be voted on in the house Thursday afternoon.

NOTED TRAGEDIENNE LOSES HER RIGHT LEG

SARAH BERNHARDT, As She Appeared in Her 1910 Visit to America.

The operation, made necessary by an affection of the knee, which had caused much suffering for several years, was performed by Prof. Denuce of the Bordeaux university.

Prof. Pozzi was to have conducted the operation yesterday, but he was called to the colors to serve at Val-de-Grace hospital in Paris and he found it impossible to leave his duties for several days.

Mme. Bernhardt refused to submit to a delay of what she courageously called her release from bondage, and it was decided that Prof. Denuce should perform the operation today.

A bulletin issued immediately after the amputation of Mme. Bernhardt's leg, said:

"The operation was decided upon at a consultation on Feb. 13 of Professors Pozzi of Paris and Denuce and Arnozan of Bordeaux. It took place on Monday morning and was endured under the best conditions. The condition of Mme. Bernhardt after the operation also was as good as possible.

EAST ST. LOUIS HAS $150,000 FIRE LOSS

Two Buildings Destroyed and Two Others Partially Burned.

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 22.—Fire that started in the upper floor of Ziegenhein Bros.' furniture store today spread to the four corners at the intersection of Collinsville and St. Louis avenues and caused a loss exceeding $150,000.

Two buildings—the Ziegenhein building and one occupied by the Pellmeyer-Crow store were destroyed. Two office buildings were partly burned. An apartment house was burned, but all the tweny-five families occupying it escaped safely.

SHELLS FALL SHORT: SHIP REACHES PORT.

Plymouth, Eng., Feb. 22, via London.—The Western Daily Mercury says that when the Australian mail boat Maloja, with 400 passengers on board, was entering the English channel on Saturday afternoon, she was ordered to stop by an unknown armored merchantman. The mail boat ignored the order and made for Plymouth, whereupon the merchantman fired five shells at her, although they all fell short. The Maloja reached Plymouth safely.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS CAPTURED IN PRUSSIA INCREASED TO 100,000

With Seven Generals and 150 Cannon Now in Hands of Germans.

Russian Official Statement Admits Enormous Loss of Men.

Successes of Germans Explained By the Russ General Staff.

Berlin, Feb. 22, via London.—The German official statement issued today announces that the captures in the battle of the Mazurian lakes district of East Prussia have been increased to seven generals and more than 100,000 men. The pieces of cannon taken numbered 150.

Explanation By Russians.

Petrograd, Feb. 22.—Explanation of the Russian retirement from East Prussia is contained in a communication given out last night by the general staff. Successes of the German coup is attributed largely to the lack of strategic railways which prevented the Russians from concentrating "with necessary rapidity on our East Prussian front forces indispensable to ward off this drive of the enemy." The communication follows:

"The Germans, after a series of exceptionally obstinate and tenacious attacks which cost them innumerable victims, became persuaded of the impossibility of dislodging us from the left bank of the Vistula and proceeded at the end of January to put a new plan into operation.

Overwhelming Force.

"Having finished the formation in the interior of their country of several new corps and deciding to continue the transportation of troops from their west front in order to make a supreme effort against us, profiting by their network of railroads, the Germans were enabled to launch an overwhelming force against our tenth army, which occupied strongly organized positions along the Angeraph river and the Mazurian lakes.

"Not being able, through lack of railroad facilities, to concentrate on our East Prussian front with the necessary rapidity forces indispensable to ward off this drive of the enemy, our chiefs decided to withdraw the above mentioned army from East Prussia towards the frontier and further retirement towards the Niemen and the Bobr has followed.

"In these movements the right wing of the tenth army, pressed by great numbers of the enemy and threatened with being surrounded on the right flank, was compelled to make a very swift turning movement in the direction of Kovno.

Exposed Flanks.

"This maneuver exposed the flank

FORMER U. S. SENATOR FROM ARKANSAS DEAD

W. M. KAVANAUGH.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 22.—Judge William M. Kavanaugh, former United States senator from Arkansas, president of the Southern Association of Baseball clubs, president of the Little Rock railway and Electric Railway company, and president of the Southern Trust company of this city, died at his home here late yesterday after an hour's illness. Acute indigestion was the cause of his death. He was 50 years old and a native of Kentucky.

Mr. Kavanaugh was made senator from Arkansas for the short term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jeff Davis. The governor appointed an interim senator, whose place Mr. Kavanaugh took.

INSURED BY GOVERNMENT

Evelyn First Ship Protected By U. S. Bureau to Be Lost.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The Evelyn is the first ship insured with the United States bureau of war risk insurance to be lost since it began operations several months ago. Insurance on ships and cargoes amounting to more than $55,000,000 has been written.

The bureau was closed today and no word had been received as to when a claim from the owners may be expected. There is little doubt that legal proof of the destruction of the ship and cargo will result in prompt payment of the insurance. Of the total amount of insurance written by the bureau, more than half has expired with the arrival of ships and cargoes at destinations. The bureau has earned in premiums more than $600,000, so that it is able to stand its first loss without resort to the appropriations made by congress.

Try to Fix Responsibility.

Senator Simmons, one of the framers of the bill which created the war risk bureau, a White House caller today, said he assumed an effort would be made first to establish the responsibility for the sinking of the Evelyn and that if the nationality of the mine could be discovered, the government war risk bureau would make efforts to collect damages.

"The war risk bureau has all the powers of a private insurance company," said Senator Simmons. "When the government goes into a business of this kind, it loses its official status, but simply because this is a government agency it does not have less right than a private agency of the same kind would have."

FEW DETAILS HAVE REACHED WASHINGTON

U. S. Naval Attache at Berlin Ordered to Make Investigation.

Steamship Evelyn, Loaded With Cotton, Sunk Off Borkum Islands.

Owners of Ship Consider Loss Due to the Risks of War.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Secretary Daniels today ordered Commander Walter R. Gherardi, American naval attache at Berlin, to investigate and make a full report on the destruction of the American steamer Evelyn. So far official advices merely have reported the sinking of the vessel and her cargo but gave no details.

Secretary Daniels explained that his purpose in directing an inquiry after the state department had called upon the ambassadors at London and Berlin for a report, was to secure technical information which perhaps might not be included in the ambassador's replies. It was, of course, understood that Commander Gherardi, as American attache at the American embassy at Berlin would be guided entirely by Ambassador Gerard in making his investigation.

Information Difficult.

It was said at the navy department that from present indications it will be difficult for the naval officer to secure exact information of what actually destroyed the Evelyn. Unless Capt. Smith or some of the members of the crew of the steamship actually saw the coming tower or periscope of a submarine, officials say, it would not be possible to deny that the Evelyn was sunk by a mine.

The fact that the Evelyn lies at the bottom of the North sea would make it difficult to examine her hull. It was pointed out, however, that German officials might disclose to the American naval officer in confidence the map of their mine fields in the vicinity where the Evelyn was sunk.

The minister from The Netherlands called at the state department early today to inquire what reports this government had received about the Evelyn. He said he had no official report of the destruction of the vessel. After conferring with Councellor Lansing, he expressed the opinion that the sinking apparently must have been entirely accidental.

No Complications.

Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee said he could

BRITISH SHIPPING MOVING AS USUAL

Scandinavians Are Showing Considerable Alarm Over Situation.

London, Feb. 22.—Germany's submarine blockade continues to be the chief topic of interest in the United Kingdom, although British shipping apparently is moving with its usual freedom. The Scandinavian neutrals, however, are showing much alarm over the situation, a great sensation having been caused in those countries by the torpedoing of the Norwegian steamship Belridge off Folkestone last week.

Representatives of the Scandinavian government are holding another conference today, the outcome of which is awaited with much interest by neutral shippers.

The question of a naval convoy, it is understood, is being considered seriously at the conference, but the guarded comments of the newspapers show that it is clearly recognized that such a step might lead to war.

The question of the right of the crews of five Danish ships to refuse to sail for England ports is now before a court which is considering their excuse that Germany is not likely to respect a neutral flag.

THE UP-TO-DATE CHERRY TREE.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The German war office announced today that the Russian tenth army was "considered as having been destroyed" as a result of the recent German victory in East Prussia. It is stated that more than 100,000 Russians, including seven generals, were captured.

The Russian military authorities, however, acknowledge no such losses. They admit that one army corps was cut to pieces, but assert the main force extricated itself.

In the Vosges further German victories are claimed, including the capture of another town. The German war office also states that the losses of the allies in recent fighting in the Champagne were "extraordinarily high."

The naval attache of the American embassy in Berlin has been instructed to investigate the sinking of the American steamer Evelyn. It was felt at Washington, however, that no disturbing complications would result.

The loss of almost an entire army corps in the recent retreat from East Prussia is admitted by the Russian general staff in its version of the German victory.

Unofficial reports from Petrograd say that the main Russian army succeeded in escaping from the German trap and has in turn taken the offensive.

An aeroplane, believed to be German, was fired on by soldiers while flying over Swiss territory and forced to descend. The German government recently made amends to Switzerland for violation of that country's neutrality by aeronauts.

It is reported in Rome that Pope Benedict has again approached Emperor William in the hope of preparing the way for peace negotiations.

An Australian mail steamer was fired on by an armed merchantman in the English channel, but was not struck, according to a dispatch from Plymouth. The Berlin report of the sinking of a British transport lacks confirmation from any other source.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

REMEMBERED BY HIS NEIGHBORS

His neighbors have proven good friends to Edward Johnson, 623 East Sixth street, for many years a subcontractor in city employ and until recently identified with water and sewer installation work.

Nearly four months ago, while at work at Duluth Heights, Johnson was caught in a cave-in and badly injured, his shoulder blade and several ribs being broken. For several weeks he was in the hospital, and since that time he has done no work.

Saturday night about thirty neighbors and friends had a "surprise" party for the Johnson family, and when the guests were about to leave, Patrolman Andrew Wanwick turned orator for a moment and "sprung" another surprise, presenting the family with a purse which contained about $75.

NORWEGIAN FREIGHTER IS SUNK IN COLLISION.

London, Feb. 22.—The Norwegian freighter Cuba bound from London to Rotterdam was sunk today in a collision in the North sea. So far as known no lives were lost.

BREWER-WHYTES OUT OF MERRIAM MEDAL RUNNING

W. B. Dunlop Puts State Title Holders Out of Local Spiel.

The Brewer-Whyte rink, winner of the Merriam medal, emblematic of the curling championship of the state, was put out of the present state title spiel in the early morning draw by Bert Dunlop of Duluth.

On sloppy ice the champions went down to defeat by the score of 10 to 7. The bad ice made all of the games of the early draw much in the nature of a swimming contest, but never the less the handicap imposed on real curling worked both ways.

All of the Twin City rinks with the exception of Jack Ordway's St. Paul rink, and Fleetham and Labatt, forfeited.

Frank Wade was one of the easy winners in the early play, easily defeating McMillan of Duluth. Fleetham and Labatt of Minneapolis won their games, while Matzke of Duluth defeated Jack Ordway.

The Duluth Architects' association will meet tomorrow noon for the purpose of discussing a proposition to hold fortnightly meetings. The new project is intended to make the association more beneficial to its members.

Civil Service Tests Tuesday.
A civil service examination will be held tomorrow at the Federal building to fill positions of stenographer and typewriter. Men especially, are desired at the present time. Full details may be learned from E. M. Barker, superintendent of the registry division of the postoffice.

For Game Preservation.
The Northeastern Game and Fish association will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at the Commercial club and general business will be discussed. Arrangements will also likely be made to send men along with the next fish hatchery car that is sent through this part of the state to help plant spawn in the streams of the county and adjoining counties.

Trinity Lenten Services.
Lenten services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 at Trinity cathedral, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street. Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, the vicar, will give an address. A service with an address will take place on Wednesday at the same hour. Thursday's services, with an address at each, will be at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.; the regular Friday evening lecture will take place at 8; and on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 there will be services with an address .

Sentenced on Disorderly Charge.
Arrested by Detectives Herman Toewe and F. L. Bradley in a rooming house at 1031 West Michigan street yesterday afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct, Mike Grip, aged 25, was sentenced to three months at the workfarm this morning by Municipal Judge W. L. Windom. With Grip was Sarah Warren, aged 20. The woman will be returned to her home at Rhinelander, Wis., today by police.

SUPERIOR GOES TO VISIT SICK; BREAKS HER ANKLE

Mrs. John Hurley, 1910 Oakes avenue, went yesterday afternoon to visit her brother, John W. Kerbs, who is confined at St. Mary's hospital from injuries received in an accident a week ago. Shortly before arriving at the institution she slipped on the sidewalk and broke her ankle. She was taken to the hospital and is now confined in a room near that of her brother. Both will be able to leave the institution in about a week.

"Expo" Opens Its Doors.

The Industrial exposition held under the auspices of the Superior Rotary club opened its doors at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The show will be open every day this week from 2 to 11 p. m. Practically every line of business at the Head of the Lakes is represented at the exposition. The affair is at the Truax building, Eleventh street and Tower avenue.

Held as Suspect.

Jack Johnson, age 27, was arrested Saturday evening by Detective McDonald on a charge of having robbed Andrew Ramstad of $45 and Victor Maki of $50. The robbery is said to have been done with the aid of glue. Maki's pockets are alleged to have been picked while in a Tower avenue saloon, and he told the police that he missed the money shortly after Johnson had jostled against him. The money taken from Ramstad is said to have been taken while he was sleeping in a hotel in the East end.

Held for Burglary.

Joseph Bello, 18, was arrested Saturday evening as he stepped off an Omaha passenger train, on a charge of having burglarized the store of James Smith of Gordon, Wis. When Bello was searched at the station, the police found $41.85 in small change on his person. The robbery is alleged to have taken place Friday night.

AMERICAN RELEASED BY ZAPATA TROOPS.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Harry T. Rhoades, general manager in Mexico for a Baltimore manufacturing concern, taken prisoner by Zapata troops, today's official dispatches to the state department report, has been released and returned to Mexico City. No Americans or other foreigners are under arrest at Pedras Negras as had been reported.

John R. Silliman, special representative of the state department, joined Gen. Carranza at Vera Cruz Saturday night. That is taken to indicate that railroad travel between the gulf and the capital has been restored.

The arrest and holding for ransom of 180 Roman Catholic priests by Carranza forces in Mexico City was attended by organized protests by the people. A procession of women marched to the Brazilian legation to ask the minister's intervention.

UNDER THE HEADLIGHTS

J. T. Fisher of Minneapolis, sales manager for the Northwestern Auto company, will be here during the week helping Mr. Davis make some Chandler and Saxon sales. He prides himself on selling the Saxon, the cheapest car at the show.

* * *

J. H. Northey, from the Minneapolis branch of the Studebaker factory, is here demonstrating that full floating axle, which makes up the exhibit. J. F. Brown and J. H. Wellens are also here from the Minneapolis branch to help Leonard McNamara make some sales. They also plan to attend the show in Superior during the week.

* * *

* * *

That old Oldsmobile car, which Earl Bradley has been driving around the streets for the last two days, made the Auditorium hill early this morning "on high" and is on display in the hall, along with the latest 1915 models.

* * *

Dunning & Dunning and Cole, Merritt & Cole, local insurance agents, have a handsome booth in which they plan to sell auto insurance during the week. In addition state license tags are also to be sold at this booth.

* * *

A. C. Templeton, district representative for the Dodge car, is here for the show, as is W. C. Bean of Minneapolis, head salesman for the Oakland, both of whom will help the Whitney Auto company sell these cars during the week.

* * *

F. H. Smith, traveling representative of the Hudson car, came in this morning from Detroit. He attends all the shows in the country and he declared on entering the auditorium that "this is some show and a credit to the boys." Mr. Smith is of the opinion that business is booming and that this show in Duluth is indicative of the optimistic view now being taken by business men.

* * *

The Electric Appliance company of Chicago has a large exhibit on the balcony, showing all the accessories needed for automobiles. G. H. Erich is in charge of the exhibit.

* * *

The Zenith Telephone company this morning installed a complete telephone system in the building, so that there is a central exchange in the balcony, with telephones in every booth.

* * *

* * *

Other displays in the balcony include those of the Duluth Radiator & Lamp Repair works, the Bowser company, George Wood, showing his tie-patching system, the Cornplanter Oil company of Duluth and the Puritan Oil company of Minneapolis.

* * *

Henderson and Harley-Davidson motorcycles are also on display in the balcony.

DULUTH'S FIRST AUTO SHOW OPENS MOST AUSPICIOUSLY

Decorations in National Colors; Many New Models Shown.

Appropriate to the day, the anniversary of Washington's birthday, the decorations are all national in character and American flags and buntings fill the entire hall. These are tastefully festooned and the effect is a credit to those in charge. The interior has been redecorated, and the freshness of new paint sets off the newest cars and the gaily colored walls and ceiling.

There was no formality about the opening this afternoon. This evening, however, at 8:30 o'clock Mayor Prince will make an address. Immediately after Helmer's orchestra will begin its concert and the show will be on for the week. After today the building will be opened at 10:30 o'clock every morning, closing at the same hour each evening. There will be a concert by Helmer's orchestra every evening until the close of the show next Saturday night.

Cars Are All in Place.

Every car was in place long before the doors opened at 2 o'clock. From midnight last night the dealers worked cleaning and polishing the cars in preparation for the opening.

There are thirty-eight cars on exhibition, with two stripped chassis also on display, besides the motorcycles and accessories on the balcony. The total value of the exhibits is estimated at $100,000.

That people have become more and more motor wise could be seen by their interest in design, construction and the mechanism of cars. Two or three years ago the sight of a stripped chassis was a novelty, and people gathered around out of curosity, but today they lingered to study carefully the various points.

Stream line bodies are no longer novelties and accessories which were considered luxuries a year or so ago, are now incorporated in even the moderate priced cars. Motorcycles are as popular as ever and the latest models on display are a revelation.

Electrical Vehicles.

Not only are increased refinements in electrical vehicles shown, but there is a lowering in cost that will tend to further popularize them. Those at the exhibit are the moderate priced kind and should interest many women buyers.

The largest exhibit at the show is that of the Kelley Hardware company, showing three Overland cars, with a stripped chassis. These include the limousine, six-cylinder touring car and six-cylinder roadster. The stripped chassis is also one of the new sixes.

* * *

* * *

Besides a six-cylinder, seven-passenger touring car, and a four-cylinder five-passenger car of the Studebaker line, Leonard McNamara, local agent, is showing a full-floating rear axle, dismantled, with electric light attachments so that anybody interested can see the exact workings of this latest feature in motor construction.

* * *

The Mutual Auto company is exhibiting a six-cylinder, five-passenger Chalmers touring car and the 1915 Ford sedan, town car.

* * *

Touring car models of the Maxwell and Paige cars are being shown by the H. B. Knudsen company, while Ray Buchanan has on exhibition a five-passenger, latest six-cylinder model of the National.

* * *

Dr. J. D. Park, local representative for the Locomobile, is showing the 1915 limousine and seven-passenger touring car models, which arrived early this morning from the factory.

* * *

* * *

* * *

The Interstate Auto company has a six-cylinder Franklin sedan and a Kissel limousine as its exhibit, besides the wearing parts of a 1911 Franklin touring car, which ran over 65,000 miles.

* * *

* * *

Another interesting exhibit is that of the Duluth Implement company, which is showing the four-cylinder Saxon, the cheapest car at the show, a light delivery Saxon and a five-passenger Chandler.

* * *

* * *

The Fred Kleyn Auto company has a 6-40 and a 6-54 model of the Hudson car, both of the six-cylinder type, at the exhibit.

* * *

Four and six-cylinder models of the Reo are being shown by the Duluth Auto company. Both cars are of the five-passenger type.

* * *

A four-cylinder Metz is shown by M. Obermeyer, a five-passenger, six-cylinder Apperson by the Apperson Sales agency, a seven-passenger Packard by Joy Bros. of Minneapolis, a six-cylinder Buick of the roadster type and a four-cylinder Haynes by M. W. Turner and a seven-passenger Marmon by J. D. Armstead.

* * *

The two electrics on display are the Detroit Electric by A. J. Robillard and the Rauch & Lang by H. H. Gilbert.

ECONOMY IMPORTANT.

Running Expense First Considered By the Purchaser.

"Automobile manufacturing is no longer a question of making a dependable motor car," says Edgar Apperson, secretary and treasurer of Apperson Bros. Automobile company.

"From now on, makers are utilizing every effort, and doing everything in their power to make a car that will be economical in operating expense. In these days, the prospective purchaser invariably asks, 'How many miles per gallon of gasoline' and 'Is the car going to be expensive in the matter of tires?'

"These two important questions have caused manufacturers to do valuable experimental and designing work, with the result that people are buying cars that average twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline, and run thousands of miles on a set of tires.

"Proper weight is responsible for this marked change. However, it must not be understood that this is brought about by sacrificing strength. To obtain medium weight it is necessary to use the finest steel and a generous distribution of aluminum.

"For an example, in the new Apperson cars the lower and upper half of the crank case, the transmission case and bearing caps are made of aluminum. With this method employed in the construction, the weight is materially reduced. And while speaking on this subject it might be well to credit the carburetor with the part it plays in gasoline consumption. Proper carburction has considerable to do with it and goes a long way toward gaining the minimum expense for gasoline consumption."

The funeral that failed

For several months past the pessimists have been trying hard to pin a "Rest in Peace" wreath on prosperity.

But they have failed. It simply couldn't be done. All the pessimism in the world couldn't kill the brand of prosperity this country is facing.

If there ever was a time for the merchants and manufacturers to "make hay" it is now.

The automobile industry has shown greater resistance than other lines during the recent depression. This resistance was by the few big strong companies whose product is everywhere recognized as standard. Other car makers in common with general manufacturers are making a desperate fight for existence.

The Hudson has shown great resistance and extraordinary gains. As evidence: Two years ago the Hudson Motor Car Co. made and sold $6,000,000 worth of motor cars. Last year $11,500,000, and this year $7,498,000 in the first five months of their fiscal year or at the rate of $18,000,000 for the year's output. Think of such a gain where others show losses!

Other makers endeavor to copy the HUDSON appearance. They claim HUDSON quality, but they lack the engineering skill, the selected brains, the ability which goes into every Hudson. The above figures prove that already the buying public has discovered the difference between the genuine and the imitation.

We confidently predict that soon many of these imitators will be forced to adopt drastic measures to market their product. They will resort to extraordinary newspaper claims. They will be compelled to reduce prices radically. Remember, when that happens, it is the last grasp at the straws in the current to prevent the final sinking into oblivion.

Many factories will probably claim that because they have paid "paper" dividends they can afford to reduce car prices.

Are they philanthropists?

Would you, if you had a paying business and could sell all your goods, reduce prices and so divide your profit with the public? WOULD YOU?

Isn't it more reasonable to suppose you had to reduce the price of your goods because you weren't selling them?

Be warned in time. Don't be misled. Study the history of the automobile business and judge the future by the past.

You will instantly realize that if you buy such a car, you buy a product which the manufacturers must market at any price it will bring; that you soon would own a car without a factory, without a dealer, without a home—an outcast in the greatest manufacturing industry on earth.

TRANSPORT IS REPORTED SUNK

Berlin, Feb. 22, wireless to Sayville.—The report of the sinking of a British transport with troops and the accompanying steamer reached Berlin too late for comment by the morning papers.

All of the papers, however, feature the report in first page headlines, together with reports of the sinking of other vessels by submarines or mines.

If, as is indicated by the foregoing, a British transport has been sunk, the news probably has been withheld in London. Although accounts of the sinking of various other steamers by German submarines or mines have been passed promptly by the British censors, there was no intimation in the London dispatches of the destruction of a transport.

DULUTH COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS STAGE EXCELLENT MINSTREL SHOW

"Misto Bones" was in fine fettle Saturday night at the Lyceum theater, when the United Commercial Travelers' association of Duluth staged what probably was the most successful amateur minstrel show ever given in the city.

Blackface comedians from the ranks of the traveling men "got across" in a way that undoubtedly would have made "Mistah" Primrose turn green, or as green as possible, with envy. Soloists and a chorus of forty voices provided music for the performance, and in addition to this, a number of vaudeville acts were staged.

"Mistah" Interlocutor, George O Sullivan, had no difficulty in keeping the audience in a gale of laughter, with the aid of "Bill" McGraw, Amonson, Anderson, Johnson and Clyde Robb, as end men.

The minstrel show is an annual event with the U. C. T., and this performance eclipsed all previous ones, judging from the way it was received. Charles Helmer, who has been directing rehearsals, conducted the orchestra and assisted in the staging.

The proceeds will be used in sending the band and a big delegation of Duluthians to the annual convention.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

"LARCENY OF ONE SALOON"

Duluthian Is Arrested on Charge of Stealing "The Oasis."

Men who steal saloons are rare, but a man who steals a saloon, is arrested and charged with stealing a saloon never had been recorded in the police hall of fame until Saturday afternoon.

A. J. Hendrickson, age 35, has won the distinction of being the first and only man in Duluth to be accused of stealing a saloon.

Gust Carlson, proprietor of the Oasis saloon, 15 Fourth avenue west, sold his place to Hendrickson Friday for $1,500, according to the story told police Saturday, and received as part payment a check on the American Exchange National bank, with, it is claimed, was worthless.

In the meantime Hendrickson was installed in his new place of business, had appointed George Dunlap his manager at a salary of $125 a month, and was doing a good business, having taken in about $35 during the few hours that he had been operating.

Dunlap, who had engineered the deal and who was to receive $100 from Carlson for finding the "buyer," was in full charge of the place when Sergt. Roberg, accompanied by Officer Boland, visited it Saturday afternoon in search of Hendrickson. The new owner was placed in custody, charged with the larceny of a saloon. He waived examination when he appeared before Judge W. L. Windom this morning and was bound over to the grand jury.

Acting upon the advice of W. A. Hicken, commissioner of public safety, Carlson allowed the police to close his erstwhile place of business Saturday, and the desert is minus its only "oasis" until a bona-fide buyer is found.

Sergt. Roberg, after arresting Hendrickson, returned to the place and drew down the blinds.

Commissioner Hicken stated this morning that the license would not be taken away, as Carlson had been running an orderly place, but that he had asked the proprietor to refrain from operating until he could secure a better manager.

This is Carlson's first venture in the liquor field. He purchased the saloon about four months ago, coming to Duluth from the range, where he was interested in diamond drill work, according to the police.

HE "TOOK THE CASH."

And "Let Credit Go" But Awoke on Hard Jail Bench.

"Ah, my beloved; Fill the cup that clears Today of past regrets and future fears."

For although Edberg is a humble carpenter, he can look upon the wine when it is red and see many things—far removed from the prosaic life.

When in his cups Edberg has a most fertile imagination, according to police, and on various occasions he has thought himself Napoleon, Theodore Roosevelt, "Billy" Sunday, and others equally noted.

At 1 o'clock this morning Walfrid was the father of his adopted country.

He discoursed at length to Jailer L. Johnson and Lieut. Barber upon the good deeds of Washington, and described at length hatchets, ancient and modern.

Being a carpenter, he said, he had in common with "George," an intimate knowledge of hatchets.

The roseate clouds had faded later this morning in police court, leaving him on a hard bench, looking outdoors into a grim, colorless, disagreeable day. He was sentenced to sixty days at the work farm.

SET THE STAGE FOR A TRAGEDY

But "Sandy" Donaldson Cut Loose With Artillery Before Victim Arrived.

An attempt to emulate Buffalo Bill cost "Sandy" Donaldson, 317 East First street, $22.50 in municipal court this morning, when he was arraigned before Judge W. L. Windom on a charge of discharging firearms in the city limits.

"I'm going to show you some fancy shooting," Donaldson is alleged to have told his wife Saturday night, after he had telephoned a man he thought had been paying too much attention to his spouse, and invited him "in for the evening."

Before the visitor arrived, however, "Sandy" became impatient, and brandishing a revolver in one hand and a .22-caliber rifle in the other, started showing his wife how "to do it."

A shot from the revolver went through the front door, a storm door, a window in a house nearby, and was buried in a sewing machine, narrowly missing a woman who was sewing. The seamstress, who lived at 31 East First street, called the police.

Capt. A. C. Fiskett, accompanied by Detectives Frank Schulte and Donald Irvine, answered the call, and after a lengthy search found Donaldson's wife hiding behind a fence in the rear of her home. Donaldson denied shooting until the officers found the bullet holes.

Mrs. Bessie Lathe Scovell of Minneapolis, for many years president of the state W. C. T. U., will deliver the principal address this evening at the third annual banquet of the local district branch of the organization.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street. It will be followed by a program of speeches and music. Other addresses will be given by Mayor W. I. Prince, Judge W. L. Windom and Rev. U. S. Villars.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine will sing a solo and the quartet of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church will also contribute to the musical program.

AUTO RACES ON THE LAKE

Cosgrove and Rosto Win Preliminary Heats of Two Events.

Big Crowd Watches Cars Plough Through Watery Surface.

Amid pools of water that dotted the surface of Lake Superior like white spots on the darker surface of a murky handkerchief, and with the wind driving snow into the faces and down the necks of some 2,000 spectators, the preliminary heats of the Duluth automobile races were held on the big four-mile track on the lake shortly after noon today.

There were but two entrants in the preliminary heat of the 16-mile race for big cars. Ray Buchanan in a National and Cosgrove in an Olds were sent away for the first contest of the day.

Something happened to Buchanan's car on the back stretch of the big track and he failed to finish. Cosgrove circled the big oval twice in 11:40, the slush acting as a serious detriment and making fast time on the turns next to impossible.

The preliminary heat of the small car event brought two starters to the mark. Rosto driving an Overland and Cliff Oppel in a Napier left the mark with thirty seconds intervening.

As in the first contest a mishap made a procession out of the contest and Rosto circled the track once and was given the preliminary heat, negotiating the four miles in the comparatively fast time of 4:50.

Unique Sight Presented.

One of the most novel sights ever presented to followers of sports was the one that greeted the straggling line of spectators that for nearly a mile stretched down the long length of the straightaway.

Sail boats, bob sleds, automobiles, sleds and other modes of conveyances lent a nondescript aspect to the scene and gave the scene a flavor of the sport of all nations.

The races were late in starting and there was some trouble experienced in keeping the crowd back from the track. The sport was thrilling while it lasted and the cars were able to attain a fairly high rate of speed on the home and back stretch.

The race between an automobile and an aeroplane will be held later in the week.

SEMI-HOLIDAY IS OBSERVED

The birthday anniversary of the father of his country today, gives a kind of semi-holiday feeling. All public offices and city schools are closed and so is the board of trade; also there is the opening of the auto show and the auto races on the lake, which help bear out the off-day impression; but those engaged in work other than in public offices, board of trade deals, and such lines, give little heed to the occasion.

One man did call up The Herald this morning to know if the saloons were open, evidently thinking that Washington's birthday was to be governed the same as election day. However, he was informed that Washington's election had taken place some time ago.

He merely replied "thanks."

About the only thing in the way of public amusement provided for the day aside from the theaters, was the auto races on the lake, and this afternoon at 3 o'clock the auto show opened at the auditorium. That will furnish an attraction for the rest of the week.

Tonight the big hockey game of the season will take place at the curling rink, when the sevens of the Duluth Curling club and the St. Paul Athletic club will clash at the curling rink.

The state curling bonspiel is also on at the club building and it is expected to be pretty well down toward the finish by this evening.

ASK PAVING FOR SIXTH STREET

About a dozen West end citizens, owning property on Sixth street between Twenty-first and Twenty-fifth avenues west, met with Commissioner Roderick Murchison of the division of public works this morning and presented a petition asking that the street be paved in front of their land.

A petition to that effect has been before the commissioners for nearly two years, according to Mr. Murchison, but it has been impossible up to this time to do the work desired.

Headed by August B. Width, 2112 West Sixth street, the owners asked that the city start work on the paving this spring.

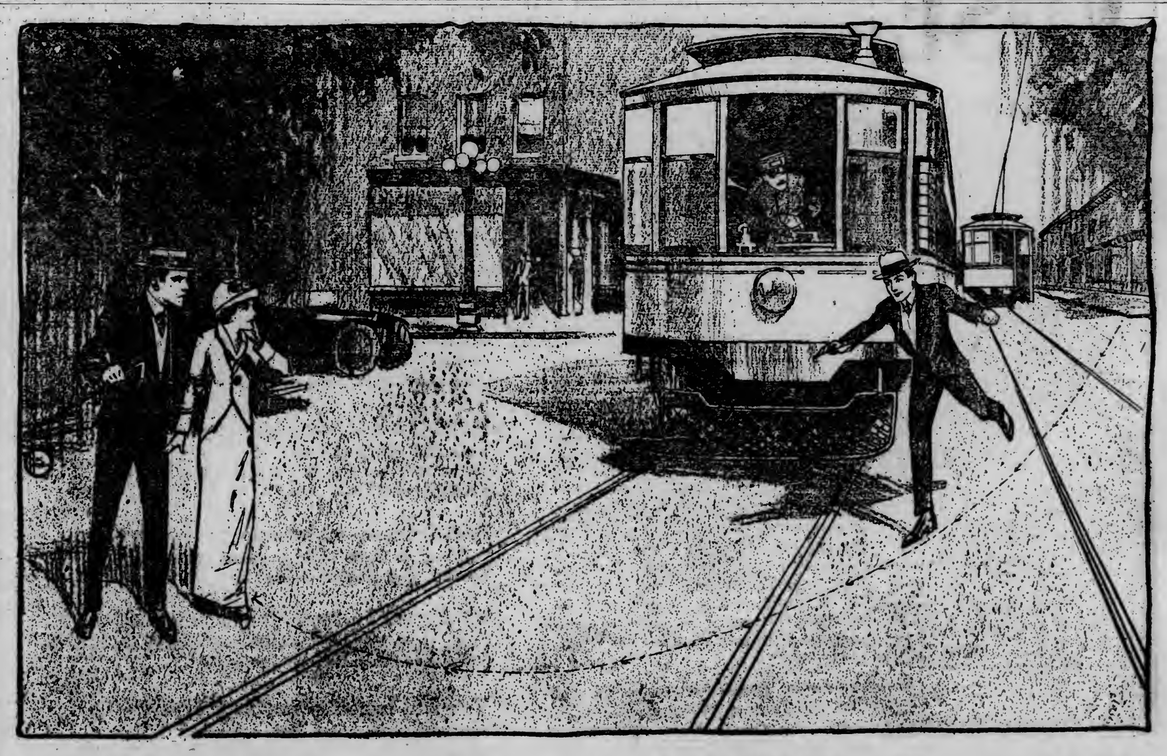

Commissioner Murchison promised that he would consider the matter, and put in the improvements if it is possible. He said that he proposes to grade the street, and pave as much of it as funds will allow.

MAP OF PROPOSED STATE PARK AND GAME PRESERVE

mad descent as if hurrying feverishly to its destination. Sharp and jagged rocks and those polished smooth by the rushing water, innumerable cataracts and waterfalls, present a wondrously delightful picture to the eye.

The dalles of the St. Louis do not furnish the only charm to the wilderness. Stretching away from either bank of the river is a tangled thicket of brush and timber in a condition of utmost primitiveness. There are forest slopes and wooded dells, crags, crevices and deep ravines. It is all there just as nature left it, untouched by the hand of man.

The tract which has been selected for the Jay Cooke State park is entirely within Carlton county. It lies on either side of the St. Louis river, below the village of Thomson, extending from the Northern Pacific Railway Short line on the north to the old military road and very nearly to the Great Northern railway line on the south. It begins about a mile up-river from Fond du Lac, where the city limits of Duluth end. The tract proposed by the bill includes approximately 7,500 acres of wild land, in the main, unfit for cultivation and through which no roads have been made, save the old St. Paul & Duluth railroad, which followed a well-selected trail along a ridge of highland overlooking the St. Louis river in a basin below.

Railroad Abandoned.

The railroad roadbed was abandoned twenty-seven years ago and is now covered with brush. The grade is an almost perfect one and the course followed is on a high enough elevation to overlook both banks of the river.

And from the old military road to the south, there are places from which one may distinguish the outlines of Cloquet and Carlton to the north and west and from the same position observe New Duluth, Fond du Lac and Superior to the north and east.

A considerable portion of the land in this vicinity was acquired forty-five years or so ago by the late Jay Cooke, the Philadelphia banker and railroad builder, who was so closely associated with the history of Duluth and the Head of the Lakes region. In the rushing, surging waters of the St. Louis, the Philadelphia financier saw wonderful possibilities. And his dream was realized. A tremendous water power, one of the greatest in the Northwest, has been harnessed and is now being utilized to furnish light and power to Duluth and adjoining territory. From Thomson dam to the power plant above Fond du Lac, there is a fall of 400 feet in a distance of about five or six miles.

All of the water power of the stream has not yet been utilized. About two and a half miles down the river from the present dam, which would be at a point near the city limits of Duluth, power from a 70-foot fall is available and in time may also be harnessed. Jay Cooke, years ago, looked far enough into the future to predict what actually did happen. And largely to him is due the credit for establishing the present light and power industry on the St. Louis river.

The greater portion of the land riparian to the river is owned by the St. Louis River Water Power company, a holding company for the Cooke interests and by the Great Northern Power company, which has developed the water power and which is now actually operating a most extensive enterprise. And it has been largely due to the generous disposition of the men in charge of the late Mr. Cooke's affairs that the state park idea has received the encouragement and support that it has had. The Cooke interests in the East have been known to be friendly to this section of the country and there is reason to believe that they will deal most generously with the state in connection with the proposal of turning their holdings along the dalles of the St. Louis river over to the state for park purposes. The law will not infringe in any way upon the rights of the Cooke interests and of the Great Northern Power company to develop water power from the river in this vicinity as has been done in the past.

On Main Highway.

The proposed park will be accessible from the Northern Pacific short line on the north, the city of Duluth on the east, Thomson and Carlton on the west, and the old military road and the Great Northern railway on the south. In fact it will be on the line of any and all of the main highways between Duluth and the Twin Cities.

The matter of establishing the Jay Cooke State Park has ben one which has occupied the attention of public spirited men in this section of the state for some time past. In Duluth, particularly, the matter was taken up several months ago by men who were anxious to see the state acquire the property for public park purposes and who were willing to lend their best efforts in the direction of attaining that end.

The matter was brought to a head recently when Frances W. Sullivan, chairman of the city planning committee of the Duluth Commercial club, called together a number of Duluth citizens who were known to be enthusiastic in the matter of the state park and as a result of the conference the bill was drafted. Among those who attended this conference were Judge William A. Cant, Z. D. Scott, J. B. Adams, R. B. Knox, Capt. Alex McDougall, William E. McEwen, C. S. Mitchell, Harvey Clapp, and Lieut.-Col. H. V. Eva.

While the land for the state park is within Carlton county, it lies at Duluth's door and is perhaps receiving its most enthusiastic support from St. Louis county. The measure carries with it an appropriation of $40,000 for 1915 and a like amount for next year. It will be urged that this portion of the state is entitled to consideration at the hands of the legislature in view of the fact that it contributes a lion's share every year in taxes to the state coffers.

While it is not aimed to destroy any of the natural charm or beauty of the wilderness in the area covered by the proposed park, it is intended by the provisions of the bill that necessary improvements which will render the park more accessible and which will enhance the wealth of natural beauty will be made and that it will receive such constant attention as will be appropriate to its size and location.

The close association of the late Jay Cooke with the early history of the Head of the Lakes region, coupled with the fact that his heirs are very friendly to the proposal of creating a state park, accounts for the selection of the name which was decided upon by the authors of the bill.

Water Power Enterprise.

In the minds of the present generation, the late Mr. Cooke's association with Duluth was largely in connection with the St. Louis river water power, which he owned for many years. He recognized its great possibilities. He sold it twice, once to a speculator who paid him $1,500,000 for it, making a small cash payment and giving bonds for the remainder. The purchaser died soon afterwards and the property reverted to him. He resold it, but during a financial panic it again reverted to him.

The development of a water power on the St. Louis river was a hobby of the late Mr. Cooke during his declining years and it was said of him that if one started him talking on this subject he would discuss for hours the possibilities and what its prospects were for Duluth. When the local power company, the Great Northern Power company, was organized, the Cooke interests retained a large share in the project and several of their connections are now in the directorate.

Jay Cooke was born at Sandusky, O., Aug. 10, 1821. He quit school and went to work at the age of 15. In 1838, he became a clerk and later a partner in the business of E. W. Clarke & Co., Philadelphia bankers. In 1860, he founded the house of Jay Cooke & Co., which handled the larger part of the $2,000,000,000 bonds issued by the United States during the Civil war. After the war, his firm financed and handled large enterprises, including the building of the Northern Pacific railroad.

Visits to Duluth.

Mr. Cooke made his first visit to Duluth during the summer of 1867. The purpose of his visit was to secure property and terminals for the Lake Superior & Mississippi railroad, which was then heading from St. Paul to the Head of the Lakes. The Lake Superior & Mississippi was later called the St. Paul & Duluth road and is now a part of the Northern Pacific system.

He also came to Duluth in 1868 and spent considerable time looking the village and surrounding country over. He popularized himself with the children at that time by going to the little school house on the edge of a clearing which is near the present location of the First Presbyterian church and there making an address. Afterward he presented each of them with silver 10-cent pieces. These were the first silver dimes they had ever seen and they were delighted. At that time about a dozen white children and four or five Indians were attending the school.

"In the early 70's, Mr. Cooke set out to float $30,000,000 worth of Northern Pacific bonds. He succeeded so far as to raise money enough to secure the building of the road by personally securing the payment of the interest in gold annually. This the company, it turned out, could not do. At that time, a dispute between Great Britain and the United States had reached a critical stage and the money market was upset.

Cooke's Failure.

Mr. Cooke's failure in 1873, it is said, was the proximate cause of the greatest financial crisis in the history of the United States. The shock was not only felt in Duluth where the bottom fell out of everything, but it was felt all over the civilized world. When he closed the doors of his banking house, he was practically stripped of every dollar he had gained in his thirty years of business life. Using his own words: "I lost $5,000,000 in one day." He started life anew, however, and went into a small office as a broker. Finally he built up a new fortune and at the time of his death in 1905 was the owner of large tracts of western land and rated as a millionaire.

The Proposed Bill.

"A bill for an act to establish and create a public park to be known and designated as the Jay Cooke State park, authorizing the purchase and condemnation of land for park purposes, and appropriating money therefor.

"Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Minnesota:

"Section 1. That all the following described land situated in the county of Carlton in this state, or so much thereof as may be acquired by the state of Minnesota, is hereby set apart as and declared to be a public park, to-wit:

"All the following described land situated in township numbered forty-eight (48) north of range numbered sixteen (16) west; all of sections numbered one (1), ten (10), eleven (11), twelve (12), fourteen (14), and fifteen (15); all of sections numbered two (2) and three (3) lying southeasterly from the right-of-way of the Northern Pacific Short Line railway, so-called; lots numbered two (2), three (3), four (4), five (5) and six (6), and the northeast quarter (NE¼) of the southwest quarter (SW¼), and the south half (S½) of the southeast quarter (SE¼), all in section numbered eight (8); the north half (N½) of the northeast quarter (NE¼), and the southeast quarter (SE¼) of the northeast quarter (NE¼) of section numbered seventeen (17); the northwest quarter (NW¼), the northeast quarter (NE¼), the southeast quarter (SE¼), and the northeast quarter (NE¼) of the southwest quarter (SW¼), all in section numbered sixteen (16); the northwest quarter (NW¼), and the north half (N½) of the northeast quarter (NE¼), the southwest quarter (SW¼) of the northeast quarter (NE¼), the north half (N½) of the southwest quarter (SW¼), and the southwest quarter (SW¼) of the southwest quarter (SW¼), all in section numbered thirteen (13); the northeast quarter (NE¼) of the northwest quarter (NW¼) and the north half (N½) of the northeast quarter (NE¼) of section numbered twenty-two (22); the north half (N½) of the northeast quarter (NE¼) of section numbered twenty-three (23).

"All the following described land situated in township numbered forty-nine (49) north of range numbered sixteen (16) west; all that part of the south half (S½) of the southeast quarter (SE¼) of section numbered thirty-five (35) and of the southwest quarter (SW¼) of section numbered thirty-six (36) which lies southeasterly from the right-of-way of the Northern Pacific Short Line railway, so-called; also the southwest quarter (SW¼) of the southeast quarter (SE¼) of said section numbered thirty-six (36.)

"All the following described land situated in township numbered forty-eight (48) north of range numbered fifteen (15) west; lots numbered five (5) and six (6) in section numbered six (6), and all that part of section numbered seven (7) which lies within the said county of Carlton.

Name of Park.

"Section 2. The name of said park shall be The Jay Cooke State Park, and the same is hereby forever dedicated to the public use, subject to such restrictions and regulation as may be provided by law.

"Section 3. The attorney general of this state is hereby authorized and directed to take all necessary steps to procure from the parties owning land within the limits of said park concessions to the state of Minnesota or conveyance thereto for such reasonable consideration as may be agreed upon, subject to the approval of the governor of this state. To aid in securing said lands, the governor may appoint one or more commissioners, who shall cooperate with said attorney general, and shall serve without pay. In case any tract of land within the limits of said park cannot be secured by negotiation upon satisfactory terms, the attorney general is hereby authorized to institute proceedings in condemnation on behalf of the state to acquire the same.

Section 4. The general care, improvement, and supervision of said park shall be vested in such officer or department of the state government as shall have charge generally of the public lands of said state.

"Under the direction of the governor, the state forestry board, or other officer or board charged with the duties now performed by said board of forestry of the state university may participate in the care and development of said state park.

"As an assurance to the owners of land within the limits of said park who may contemplate the dedication thereof to the public park purposes, it is hereby declared to be the settled purpose and intent of the state, without unnecessary delay, to suitably improve and develop said park and to continuously care therefor.

"The right to camp for limited periods within said park may be obtained from those having immediate care thereof, under such regulations as may be prescribed.

Game Preserve.

"Section 5. The said park shall be maintained by the state as a game preserve. No firearms of any kind shall be brought within the limits of said park, and no animal of any kind shall be killed or injured therein. No person shall willfully cut, destroy, or mutilate, or cause to be willfully cut, destroyed or mutilated, any tree, shrub, timber, evergreen or plants of any kind, within the limits of said park. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, by any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred (100) dollars for each offense, or may be imprisoned in the county jail of Carlton county, Minnesota, for not less than ten (10) days nor more than three (3) months.

"Section 6. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act, there is hereby appropriated out of the state treasury such sum as may be necessary to defray the cost and expense of acquiring and caring for such lands, not exceeding forty thousand dollars available during the year 1915, and a like amount available during the year 1916."

Bluff was received here yesterday and twenty men are preparing to go. Reports are that reinforcements from all the towns of San Juan county are on the way to Bluff. Arms and ammunition have already been sent from here. The Indians cut the telephone line between Grayson and Bluff this morning, making communication difficult. Advices received here are that the Indians, 52 in number are entrenched near Bluff and it is feared that they may attempt a raid on the town. There are now about 100 men arrayed against the Indians. Lorenzo D. Creel, special Indian agent arrived here tonight and will leave at once for Bluff with instructions for Marshal Nebeker.

To Pacify Indians.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 22.—L. D. Creel, agent for the scattered Indian tribes in Utah left Saturday for Bluff on instructions from the Indian commissioner at Washington to endeavor to pacify the Indians. Assistant United States District Attorney D. S. Cook accompanied Creel.

Tse Ne Gat, an Indian outlaw, is wanted for the murder and robbery of Juan Chacon, a Mexican in Colorsdo, just across the Utah line, a year ago. He was arrested by the Indian police, but escaped. Aided by his father, Old Polk, Tse Ne Gat gathered a following of Indians and the wandering band has been intimidating settlers in this region for several weeks. Old Polk, officials say, has encouraged his son not to surrender to the white man.

Citizens of the county have hesitated taking active part against the Indians through fear of reprisals.

Yesterday's fighting took place in one of the wildest portions of the country. Bluff is in the extreme southeastern portion of Utah on the San Juan river, and at the edge of the Navajo reservation. This region is the home of the pre-historic cliff dwellers and many miles from any railroad.

Indians Surrounded.

Denver, Col., Feb. 22.—Advices from Grayson, Utah, by telephone to Dolores, Col., today stated that the band of Piute Indians under Tse-Ne-Gat, which fought a desperate battle yesterday with a posse commanded by United States Marshal Aquila Nebeker, had been surrounded in Cottonwood Gulch, near Bluff. Leaders of the reinforced posse expected to renew the attack unless the Indians surrendered.

The telephone line from Grayson to Bluff has been out of commission much of the time since early last evening and details of the situation are difficult to obtain. As nearly as could be learned at Grayson, however, the whites have been reinforced by bands of armed men flocking from the nearby settlements and ranches. It was stated that the posse, originally outnumbered by 52 to 26, today was stronger than the band of Indians.

It was believed that both the original party of redskins with Tse-Ne-Gat and the detachment known as Posey's band, which came to the relief of Tse-Ne-Gat after the battle began yesterday, had been cornered in Cottonwood Gulch.

So far as could be learned at Grayson there were no more casualties after the fighting in which J. C. Akin of Dolores, a member of the posse, and "Jack's brother" and an unidentified girl, Indians, were killed, and several wounded.

A party of twenty men, mounted and armed, was ready to start from Dolores some time during the day for Bluff. This party did not expect to make the trip in less than two days of forced march over almost impassable mountain roads. Another posse, which reached Grayson from Monticello, Utah, left after midnight for Bluff.

Word has been sent throughout the frontier settlements near the Colorado-Utah line, and from all sides has come word that ranchmen are arming themselves and hurrying toward the scene of battle.

of the corps following, which, owing to this fact, found itself in an extremely dangerous position and only broken and disorganized portions succeeded in escaping from this district. Other corps of the tenth army, fighting continuously and stubbornly, slowly retreated in the direction marked out for them by their commanders. On taking up these positions the Russian troops bravely repulsed the attacking enemy, inflicting upon him severe losses, and overcoming incredible difficulties caused by the deep snow which covered all the roads. The roads being impassable, automobiles were not able to run and trains were delayed, frequently not reaching their destinations.

"Retreating slowly, step by step, one corps, forming the left wing of the tenth army, held the enemy for nine days on lines which are ordinarily traversed in four days.

"On Feb. 19, these corps fell back through Augustowo, retired from the battle at Sphoo and assumed the fortified positions indicated for them.

"At the present moment actions on the German front continue before Ossowetz, on the roads from Lomza to Edvabno, and north of Kadizidly on the road between Plotsk and Plonsk."

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 22, via London, 3:40 p. m.—The statement issued by the German general staff today is as follows:

"In the western theater: Another hostile trench was taken by us yesterday to the east of Ypres (in Belgium). The enemy's counter-attacks on the captured positions remained unsuccessful.

"In the Champagne district there was comparative quiet yesterday. The number of prisoners taken by us during the last battles in this region has been increased to 15 officers and more than 1,000 men. The sanguinary losses of the enemy have been extraordinarily high.

"The enemy made an unsuccessful attack on our positions to the east of Verdun during the night.

"In the Vosges the villages of Hochrad and Stossweier were taken by us after a short engagement. Otherwise nothing of importance occurred.

"In the eastern theater: The pursuit after the winter battle in the Mazurian district has come to an end. During the clearing up of operations to the northwest of Grodno and in the battles reported during the last few days in the Bobr and Navew district, one commanding general and four other generals and approximately 40,000 men have been taken prisoner up to the present. Seventy-five cannon and some machine guns, the exact number of which has not yet been ascertained, and much other war material has been captured.

"The total booty taken in the winter battle in the Mazurian district as a result of these additions has been increased to date to seven generals, more than 100,000 men, upwards of 150 cannon and quantities of other material of all descriptions, the amount of which cannot yet be approximately estimated.

"Cannon of a heavy caliber and ammunition frequently are buried by the enemy or sunk in the lakes near Loetzen and in the Widmer sea. Eight cannon of heavy caliber were dug up or pulled out of the water yesterday.

"New battles appear to be developing at Grodno and to the north of Seichawolas. It is reported that the battles to the northwest of Ossowetz and Lomza, as well as those at Przasnysz, are taking their regular course.

"There is no news from Poland to the south of the Vistula river."

French Statement.

Paris, Feb. 22, via London, 2:55 p. m.—The official statement given out today by the French war department says:

"There is nothing important to add to the official communication issued last night.

"Between the Argonne and the Meuse at the outskirts of the wood of Cheppy, we carried one of the enemy's trenches and extended our positions.

"Infantry fighting in which the enemy had three regiments engaged occurred in Alsace on both sides of the Fecht. Our advance posts fell back on our main line which we are strongly occupying. The enemy attacked in serried deep formations and as a result he suffered heavy losses."

WILL BE DIFFICULT TO SECURE EXACT INFORMATION

"An American vessel," said the senator, "ventured into an area known to be mined, and unfortunately struck one. So far it is not known what nation laid the mine. It is probable that a national claim for damages might be made when all the facts are established, but I cannot see how serious complications could come from the incident."

Will Make No Protest.

New York, Feb. 22.—William L. Harriss, of the firm which owned the steamship Evelyn, sunk in the North sea yesterday, said today that his firm would make no protest to the state department, as he considered the loss of the ship due to a war risk which he had taken.

American Ship Sunk.

Bremen, via London, Feb. 22.—The American steamer Evelyn, which sailed from New York on Jan. 29 with a cargo of cotton for Bremen, struck a mine Saturday off Borkum island, in the North sea. The vessel sank. Her captain and twenty-seven of her crew were saved.

The nationality of the mine which destroyed the Evelyn has not been established.

The Evelyn is the first American vessel to meet with disaster as a result of the sea warfare of the European nations, but she did not sink within the war zone included in the German admiralty's decree of Feb. 4, which went into effect Thursday. Borkum island lies directly off the German coast at the mouth of the Elbe river, German territory.

The Evelyn was a single screw steel steamship and was commanded by Capt. Smith. She belonged to A. H. Bull & Co. of New York and was chartered by the Harris-Irby Cotton company to take a cargo of cotton to Bremen. She was 252 feet long and 1,185 tons net. She was built in Southampton, Eng., in 1883. Her home port was Philadelphia. She was last reported as arriving at Rotterdam on Feb. 17.

NEW FEDERAL COMMISSION

to six men several weeks ago and since then has been looking into the qualifications of Mr. Rublee and George L. Record of New Jersey. He discussed the question with Senator Hollis of New Hampshire today and decided to name Mr. Rublee if was said in circles close to the White House, because New Jersey already has a number of important Federal appointments. It was understood, however, that Mr. Record is to have some other important post in the near future. The president is hopeful the commission will be confirmed during the present session of congress and organized at once.

The Appointee.

Mr. Davies was born in 1876 and is a lawyer. He is secretary of the Democratic national committee. Mr. Hurley was born in Illinois in 1864. He originated and developed the pneumatic tool industry in the United States and Europe. In 1913 he was appointed United States trade commissioner to the Latin-American republics. He is president of the Illinois Manufacturers association.

Mr. Harris was born in Georgia in 1868 and became an insurance manager and banker. He has been director of census since July 1913.

Mr. Parry is treasurer of the Seattle chamber of commerce and is 50 years old. He was editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, manager of the ship building plant which built the battleship Nebraska, chairman of the finance committee for the Alaska-Yukon exposition and treasurer of the city of Seattle.

Mr. Rublee was born in Wisconsin in 1868 and was educated at Harvard and the Harvard law school. He practiced law in Chicago and later in New York. At present he is counsel for the Alaska railway engineering commission. He is a resident of Cornish, N. H., where President Wilson spends his summers.

Southern Slavs Organize.

The South Slavic Naturalization club, with headquarters at No. 11 Park hotel, was organized at a meeting of South Slavonic citizens of Duluth yesterday afternoon. Ljubo Bogicevich was elected president, Mane Calich vice president, Joseph Koshak secretary, Eli Ratkovich treasurer and Louie Cheple sergeant at arms.

The South Slavonic Naturalization club consists principally of those South Slavs who have already obtained their citizenship papers. The membership also includes those who are desirous of obtaining citizenship papers.

The aim of the club is not only to appear before the public as a political club. Its object is also to improve the social standard of the South Slavs in this vicinity and to make useful citizens out of them.

NEW POSTMASTERS.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson has sent to the senate the nominations of the following Minnesota postmasters: E. N. Smith, Blackduck; E. J. Sutherland, Chatfield; James H. Parker, Kasson; Charles R. Frazee, Pelican Rapids.

"INVISIBLE" CONGREGATION

Pastor Addresses Sermon to Readers of Daily Newspapers.

Says "Outside Friends" Have Inspired Him to Speak Truth.

Calling readers of his sermons in The Herald his "invisible congregation," Rev. George R. Gebauer of the First Unitarian church, addressed his Sunday morning sermon to them.

"The Church of Freedom in Faith" was the subject of his sermon, and he spoke in part, as follows:

"There are not a few people in this community who are not of us, but are with us. They have caught hold of something higher than the church with its dogma and ritual. And let me say here, that I feel very close to that invisible Monday congregation, to which I have preached now for almost seven years. These outside friends no less than my own good people, have encouraged me in my work, have inspired me to speak the truth of God as I see it. Yes, I may say these outside friends have made me more liberal, for they have proven to me how indeed in its deepest spiritual life, humanity is very much at one. We are divided on inessentials largely. And this conviction should make us tender and considerate of our very differences.

"I have but little sympathy with the conoclast, who often, in trying to cast out superstition, will smash religion. Why indeed should I feel myself called to blacken a fellow's eyes for him, because he does not see the truth as I see it?

Not Dogmatic.

"The spirit of Unitarianism is not as some think theological and dogmatic, but humanitarian, moral, religious, spiritual. We Unitarians esteem belief, but we love faith; we uphold the truth we see, but we above all exalt life. You can not apprehend the spirit of Unitarianism except you realize, that this universe is at heart good, and that its life fills you. The red I see is not exactly your red, it is determined by the condition of my eyes, and your red is not my red. We simply agree on the general notion of color. And just so with what we call truth. We only can accept the same in a general broad way, for as soon as we begin to define we begin to differ. Each will see the truth in his own way, and there is no "must" in the realm of the spirit; the spirit bloweth where it listeth.

Freedom of the Soul.

"But if this be so, then of course it must be quite obvious, that there cannot be in our church anything that resembles in the least creed or dogma. Such is against the spirit of our faith. Unitarianism stands for the full freedom of the soul. It bids every soul to interpret the universe in its own way, find its beauty and truth, and ever trust that others will find the truth that is best for them. Indeed to us the creedmakers' task is absurd. No man can make a belief for another. Yes, too often indeed have the very champions of religious freedom, become humanity's despots by imposing their own belief upon others. Not so, Unitarianism calls no man master, though it will reverently and respectfully listen to the masters of the soul, that have appeared from time to time. And though I would not disparage any other faith, it is my conviction that only a free faith can be truly satisfying. Let but doubt destroy your faith in creed and church and this universe will be to you chaos and contradiction, unreason. Thus the great message of Unitarianism is not this or that belief, but faith; faith in the eternal soul of the universe, faith in the immortal soul in man.

Not Without Doctrine.

"But this does not mean that Unitarianism is without doctrine, it only means that these teachings are not in the foreground, and are not dogmatic; they do not constitute any official creed by which your soul is tested. They never limit the freedom of the individual. No one in our church has the right to say, this is true Unitarian doctrine. Your belief, as your faith is a matter between your mind and truth, your soul and God. What our church demands of each is not that he believe certain things, but that he believe with inward conviction the things which conform to his mind. More, we demand, that he always be aware that this mind is a growing one and that his belief too must grow and expand with new light. The man who does not change his belief, who has not a growing belief, has a dead creed and it matters little, if he made it himself or if some one else "made" it for him. Yet just because it is a growing belief, therefore too, it will remain essentially the same. The child may believe in the father who is in heaven as a man, the man on the other hand may smile at his childish belief, and yet at heart man and child believe essentially alike, if they see the goodness of God.

"But while there is thus no uniformity of belief in our church, it is joined by a real inward unity. Indeed it cannot be otherwise, for if men will search for truth in freedom and faith, they will find the same things, though they may call them by different names. Indeed, the great proof of the truth of our belief is, that men in the independence of thought, without regard to any authority, have arrived virtually at the same conclusions. All things that come to us we test by our reason, by our souls, by our conscience; whatever conflicts or contradicts these is for us falsehood, no matter by whom and where proclaimed, whatever is in harmony with the best in us, is for us truth and leads to salvation."

END OF WORLD NEAR AT HAND

Pastor Russell Declares War Is Fulfilling Bible Prophesy.

Says Man Has Failed and on Verge of Collapse.

SOME OF PASTOR RUSSELL'S ASSERTIONS.

"God has let mankind experiment for nearly 6,000 years, and the race is worse off today than at the beginning.

"The end of the world is near. The European war will be followed by a greater war; then will come a period of anarchy, which will usher in Christ's kingdom on earth for the period of a thousand years.

"There is no place in the original Bible text that teaches everlasting hell fire punishment.

"There is only one church spoken of in the Bible; that is the church of God. Denominations are not justified.

"Christ's salvation is for the pagan as well as the Christian; everybody from the beginning of the world will have a second chance to be saved.

"God has ordained the present war and prayers for peace are useless."

Many remarkable assertions were made by Pastor Russell of Brooklyn at the Auditorium yesterday when he spoke to a capacity audience for nearly two hours and a half. A large part of his discourse was a flat denial of many of the beliefs that are taught by the churches of today and the remainder was largely taken up with Bible prophesy. Despite his many startling statements, the speaker was given the most serious attention, and was not interrupted once during his address.

Man a Failure.

His statements regarding the prophesies concerning the present war were expected, but his statement that the human race was worse off at the present than it was nearly 6,000 years ago, came as a surprise. The social fabric has become so rotten, he declared, that the whole institution is on the verge of collapse. During this period, he said, God has let man experiment, and the result has been a failure. His discussion of "The Battle of Armageddon," however, was the thing that was of most interest to the audience.

Meaning of Armageddon.

Pastor Russell's discourse on the Battle of Armageddon he based upon the words of Jesus respecting the 'distress of nations with perplexity.' He referred to the literal Megiddo, where many great battles were fought in ancient times and where God gave the Israelites a great triumph. He pointed out that the word Armageddon is used symbolically in the Book of Revelation to refer to the great climax of earth's strife. He declared that it would mean the final overthrow of the powers of sin, for thereafter Messiah's kingdom will rule the world.

"As Elijah, the prophet, typified the course of the true church of God and her final taking to heaven," he said, "so these great events coming upon the earth were shown to Elijah in advance of his taking away. The winds that rent the rocks represented the present war. The earthquake represented the revolution. The fire represented the anarchy. Then follows the still small voice of God, speaking peace through Jesus Christ. This is the pure message, in contrast with a confusion of creeds, which have been preached and which have misrepresented the divine character and plan. The knowledge of the glory of God will then fill the whole earth, until none shall need to say to his neighbor, 'Know thou the Lord: for all will know him.'"

The pastor said that all the creeds of Christendom had mistaken this fire to be a literal one, instead of symbolic, forgetting that fire is repeatedly used in the Bible to represent severe trial.

The New Heaven.

Pastor Russell declared that this new heaven will be the church in glory, the true Church of Christ in Millennial glory; and that the new earth will mean society reorganized on its new basis, in harmony with the golden rule of Messiah's kingdom. He declared that to think of the earth as being burned up at the second coming of Christ would mean to forget that St. Peter elsewhere declares that at Christ's second coming times of restitution and refreshment would come to the world, and that this blessing had been declared by God through all the holy prophets since the world began.

"Our honorable president with praiseworthy intent has requested all Christian people to pray for peace in Europe," he continued. "I have been asked to sermonize accordingly. However, I cannot concur with our worthy president in this matter. Much as I appreciate peace—and I have all my life labored to be a peacemaker — I cannot pray the Almighty to change His plans to conform to those of our honored president.

"For forty years I have been proclaiming this very war and its glorious outcome, by sermons, oral and printed, and in my books on Bible study in twenty languages. Now, when the very year has come and the prophecy is being fulfilled, could I consistently ask the Almighty to change His program? Nay?

God's Part in the Present War.

"Doubtless many will be shocked with my declaration that this war and the resulting greater calamity are of Divine permission and arrangement, clearly prophesied in scripture. The gathering of the nations to the present struggle is referred to in the prophecy of Joel, where the weak nations are called upon to assert their strength and where all of them are commanded to go down to the Valley of Jehosphaphat—the Valley of Graves—the cemetery outside of the city of Jerusalem being used by the prophet in illustration of the terrible slaughter now going on.

"Apparently all the nations will yet be involved. Happy will it be if our own land shall escape! Our president and our secretary of state are men of peace, and will surely do all in their power to avoid complications and war itself. Nevertheless, the great nations of Europe, realizing how much they will be weakened by this war, will do all in their power to ensnare these United States, lest at the conclusion of the war we should tower above the others financially and otherwise.

"Only as we look at the Divine plan as a whole can we understand God's relationship with this bloody war—and with all war. To the majority it is confusing to think that God would bring about any war. There is surely something wrong or there would not be such perplexity, for the Lord tells His people concerning this time of trouble that they 'need not be in darkness that that day should overtake them unawares.' God's people should have general information regarding His plans and arrangements.

"The scriptures clearly teach that our earth is the only rebellious province in all God's fair creation. In this little planet God has permitted sin to take its course—to bud, to blossom, to bring forth its fruitage—that both men and angels may see the dire results of opposition to the Divine government.

"The Bible tells us how this world became rebellious. It tell us that God did not create mankind imperfect as we are today. Man was created perfect, an earthly being—in the image of his Heavenly Creator, in the sense of having a moral character.

"God foreknew just what would occur, however. He foreknew Adam's sin and fall, as well as the mental, moral and physical degeneracy which would result from the disobedience of our first parents. He foreknew our weakness and imperfection, our attempts at moral, religious and mental reform and at mental and physical health. Yet He permitted all this to come to pass. Sin entered the world and has continued to rest upon the human family for 6,000 years.

"God's penalty upon man is death and it matters not whether that death come through war or pestilence or famine or by slower processes. Meantime, God would use all of man's experiences of the last 6,000 years as a great lesson in the exceeding sinfulness of sin and on the utter hopelessness of any other help that that which God Himself has provided.

Sixty Centuries of Failure.

"From the creation of Adam until now has been a period of 6,000-year days—man's work week—during which he has been permitted to try everything he could imagine for his own relief from sin and its penalty of death. After these sixty centuries humanity is still dying—mentally, morally and physically. Our only hope is in God; and He has arranged His blessing shall come through Messiah's kingdom, when we shall have reached our extremity. Man's extremity will be God's opportunity.

"So far from gaining life everlasting for our race, all our efforts have accomplished nothing. Our most learned physicians and specialists declare that the world is on the verge of collapse, and that at the present rate of increase there would not, in 160 years, be enough sane people in the world to care for the insane. They tell us that various diseases are increasing so rapidly as to endanger the race in a very short time; and that this is true, notwithstanding the fact that sanitary conditions are made necessary, even to the extent of individual drinking cups.

"Our only hope lies in the great seventh day, the anti-typical Sabbath. In it Messiah, associating with Himself the saintly ones of this Gospel age, will set up the Divine kingdom amongst men—a spiritual kingdom, not an earthly one—but ruling amongst mankind, blessing and uplifting them. For 1,000 years the work of uplift will progress, until all the willing and obedient will have attained again the lost likeness of their Creator, and the while earth will be their paradise."

PERSEVERANCE IS DAY'S GREAT NEED

Rev. E. R. Sayles Declares Quality Necessary for Present Evils.

"Perseverance is needed today in the fight on great evils, many of which are commercialized," declared Rev. R. Edward Sayles in his morning sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday. His subject was "Perseverance," and adding to the assertion quoted, he declared that in many of the commercialized evils, men who are unseen are behind them and profit by their existence. Mr. Sayles said that while Americans love their country for its democracy, that very democracy becomes a peril when people do not fight against evil. As to perseverance, Mr. Sayles said in part:

"The value of perseverance is seen in the lives of those who have succeeded. Hawthorne worked at 'The Scarlet Letter' for twenty years. He kept saying 'My time will come; my time will come.' At last he gave us a masterpiece in English literature. William Carey studied as he cobbled shoes. He thought over a map of the world he had hung before him. When he suggested missionary work he was told to sit down. In India he began his work. There he worked until he was recognized as one of the foremost oriental scholars of the world.

"The secret of endurance is in words which describe Moses: 'He endured as seeing Him who is invisible.' A sense of God that is vital will enable a man to persevere in his fight against evil, for his ideals and for character. The sense of God gives support to good ideals, to a good will, to a good character. A sense of God gives a man a true vision of the real values of life and moves him to persevere in a search for these values."

CHURCH NEEDS CHRIST SPIRIT

Institutional Methods Are Deplored By Endion Pastor.

People Will Flock to Church That Represents Christ, He Says.

The church that actually represents the spirit of Christ will be crowded, according to Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, who preached yesterday morning on "Stooping to Conquer." The church should be a place of worship and not one of merchandise or entertainment, he declared. His sermon, in part, follows:

"This discussion is inspired by a newspaper clipping from the Ohio State Journal, which published a few weeks since, a copy of the following invitation to a so-called church cabaret held New Year's eve in one of the churches of Chicago:

"'You may tango if you like. When you are tired with dancing, you may sit at a round table and dip frappe out of a glass. A stringed orchestra will set the pulses throbbing. There will be girls and girls and more girls. Once in a while the orchestra will stop and somebody will sing. Then everybody will sing. The glasses with the frappe in them will clink together. The orchestra will play a two-step and the silk slippers will again trip over the waxed floor.'

"The excuse for this extraordinary method of procedure seemed to be that it was an attempt to keep the young people from going down town and attending cabarets of a more demoralizing character.

"We are indebted to Oliver Goldsmith, the peregrinating flute-player, physician and man-of-letters, for the phrasing of the theme and for the philosophy of achievement by stooping. In his amusing drama, 'She Stoops to Conquer,' he makes a pretty damsel score a triumph of affection by stepping out of the dignity of her social station into the role of a simple-hearted servant. But in her case the semblance was only seeming. She did not stoop to the character of a bar-maid. She won Marlow by meeting him on the level of the most ingenuous expression of the feelings of her heart, but she never for a moment stooped from the virtue of her essential self.

Maintains His Dignity.

"When St. Paul said, 'To the Jews I became as a Jew that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; to them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law; to the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak; I am become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some,' he did not mean to intimate for an instant that he had lowered to any level in any way which would in the slightest degree compromise the integrity or dignity of the gospel which he preached.

"Christ is the pre-eminent example of one who 'stoops to conquer.' St. Paul said of him, 'He counted not the being on an equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied Himself, taking the form of a servant.' He bore the likeness of a man. He was a man. He ate and drank and talked and walked and worked and worshiped like a man, but when other men saw the things He did, they turned their thoughts to God. He came down that He might lift up. He was in the world but not of it. His humility was His exaltation. He did not lower heaven; He lifted earth. When men saw Him live and love and forgive, they understood the Father.

The Institutional Church.

"The church is distinctively a house of worship. The church surrenders its divine prerogative when it enters into competition with worldly institutions. Its founder never intended that it should be made either a place of merchandise or a house of entertainment. The institutional church is a travesty on religion. I have the profoundest respect for the Catholic brethren who teach reverence for their houses of worship and hold them inviolably for sacred uses.

"I am not inveighing against what has been called a 'socialized Christianity.' The church should be democratic. It should aim to control the pleasure and the pastime of its children and its youth by providing helpful entertainment and wholesale social life, but these should be at times and places which do not interfere with the thought that the church is the house of God, 'whither the tribes go up' for worship, or, with the divine injunction, 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.' The widespread indifference toward religious things is largely due to a kind of unbelief that has its roots in a lack of reverence for sacred things and you destroy the authority of the Scriptures.

Needs Christ's Spirit.

"The secret of 'stooping to conquer' is in 'taking the form of a servant.' What the church needs is a baptism in the spirit of its Founder. It must vindicate its purpose by being and doing good. Its claim to excellence and hope of final victory lies, not in recognized similarity, but in acknowledged dissimilarity to the world. It must stoop to conquer, but its stooping must be the wooing of weakness with strength. Christ stooped clear down out of heaven to help people who needed a lift. The multitudes flocked after Him and tried to make Him king. When the church becomes His actual representative in the world men will flock to its altars like doves to their cote and the kingdoms of the earth shall become the kingdom of the Lord."

GIVES DISCOURSE ON SUN-WORSHIP

"How long halt ye between two opinions.? If the Lord be God, follow Him; but if Baal, then follow him," was the text taken by Pastor Stemple White, who spoke last night on "The Gospel vs. Sun-worship" at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of sixth street and Tenth avenue east.

"The oldest, most prevalent, and exceedingly abominable of all pagan religion was sun-worship," declared the pastor, "and all idolatry arose in the vain imagination of men, who changed the glory of God like into man, beasts, fowls and fishes; fashioned idolimages according to their own false and oftimes ridiculous conceptions; then bowed down and worshipped the works of their own hands. As the sun was worshipped as the great God, who exerted his glorious powers in reproduction, it was held to be the most acceptable worship for his devotees so to employ themselves and their powers. Consequently prostitution was the one chief characteristic of sun-worship, and in all nations, there were associated together male and female sun-gods.

"Constantine the Roman emperor, honored the sun-god above all others berore him. His coins bore Christ's name on one side, and a picture of the sun on the other. In A. D. 321 he made the first law in behalf of the 'venerable day of the sun,' and sun-god, sun-worship, and sun-day became more intimately associated together. After this, Constantine murdered his son Crispus, also Licinius; had his aged wife suffocated in a bath tub; and his will called for other lives, six of whom were killed after his death.

"Marriage and the Sabbath are the two Edenic institutions that sun-worship has even been arrayed against, ano although sun-day is as popular today in the religious world as was sun-worship in the past, yet the gospel of Jesus Christ stands for the Word, the Law, and the Power of the Creator, as against the word, law and power of the creature. 'If the Lord be God, follow Him; but if Baal, then follow him.'"

ABSTINENCE NOT ONLY LENT DEMAND

Meditation and Self Examination More Important Than Food Denial.

Superficial observance of Lent was attacked by Rev. A. W. Ryan in his sermon on "Some Lenten Values," at St. Paul's Episcopal church yesterday morning, when he declared that the value of abstinence was not so much in the denial of food as in the strength of will which self-denial develops, and that meditation is one of the desired attainments of the Lenten period.

"The superficial manner in which some people keep the Lenten period has, justly, caused them to be lampooned and ridiculed," declared Dr. Ryan. "The value of abstinence is not so much in the denial of food as in the strength of will which self-denial develops.

"Modern science now recognizes the value of short fasts as a curative measure for many physical ills, and the purpose of the early church in establishing the custom was, without doubt, twofold.

"Modern thought also recognizes the need for a period of meditation, a respite from the every-day hurry of life when one may make a mental inventory and discover its true values. This, also, the Lenten season offers. It would be well, at this time, for all to examine their lives, discover the processes of living and ascertain where they stand physically and what their growth has been in the mental and moral life."

WEIGHTS LIMITED ON BRIDGE AT AITKIN.

Aitkin, Minn., Feb. 22.—Notices have been posted on the Mississippi river bridge by the county board cautioning the public that the maximum load to cross the bridge in safety should not exceed three tons.

A recent examination of the bridge developed that the middle pier of concrete and steel is bulging owing to the breaking of a band, and the other defects prevent the swinging of the span in its present condition.

TWO HOLLANDERS ARE CALLED TO COLORS.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 22.—Two Hollanders, who have been living in the colony at Belfield, in this state were here, Friday en route to their former home. They have been called back for possible service and are confident that their native land will soon be embroiled in the great European war. They assert the order for the return of first reservists is general and thousands of Hollanders from all over the world are hurrying back to their native land.

POSTAL THEFT AT NEBISH ALLEGED.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 22.—E. M. Tschoepe of Nebish, whose wife is postmistress of that village, was arrested Saturday on a charge of stealing $888.34 from the government. The shortage is said to be in the postoffice receipts. Tschoepe pleaded not guilty before Commissioner H. A. Simons here. He asked an early hearing.

PRECEDENT ESTABLISHED

North Dakota House in Session on Washington's Birthday.

Bill to Erect Terminal Grain Elevator Is Defeated.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota legislature is today establishing a precedent—as the house of representatives is in session—the first time that Washington's birthday, a legal holiday, has seen either branch in session. The senate, although it has a greater amount of business before it than the house, is not in session today.

The legislative day beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow is the last on which the transmission of bills to the other house can be had without a suspension of the rules, and both branches are working hard to clear up their own bills.

In the senate, women's suffrage has become the big topic with the success the antis have had in preventing the messaging of the bill to the house. The bill was recalled from the house several days ago, after having been passed by the upper house. Since that time the supporters of suffrage have not been able to muster up a majority, which is required to send the bill back to the house. The vote, however, is close, being 25 to 23 on the last roll call taken. The bill comes up again tomorrow as a special order.

Elevator Bill Killed.

Terminal elevators were voted down by the house Saturday evening, 64 to 40. The bill, by W. J. Burnett, proposed the establishment of an elevator either in St. Paul or Superior.

Constitutional convention plans also fell by the wayside Saturday, the lower house indefinitely postponing Twichell's bill providing for such convention.

Haroldson's congressional appointment bill, which proposed the division of the Second and Third districts in such a manner as to segregate the north halves of two districts into one district, and the southern halves of the districts into another district, was also killed.

Senator Gibbens' constitutional amendment limiting each county to one senator and making counties the unit of senatorial apportionment, was passed without debate, and with a margin of five votes.

The Hoverson bill placing the purchasing power for educational institutions in the hands of board of control was killed.

City Levy Bill Killed.

The city levy commission bill went by the boards in the house on an indefinite postponement motion by Grow of Minot, which was not contested. The commission proposed in the bill would have had three councilmen, one board of education member and one park board member, as the city tax levying body. The fact that the council was given the majority killed the bill.

Among the bills passed by the house was one by Roble which makes the method of granting aid for better farming work more difficult. It does away with the right of commissioners to grant aid upon the petition of 25 per cent of the people of the county, and provides an election when 10 per cent petition for the same. Bratton of Pierce gave notice of reconsideration.

The oil inspection bill was amended by changing the fee from 7½ cents to 5 cents.

Burgett's bill, assessing moneys and credits, including mortgages, at 3 mills was passed, the author voting against it because of the amendment including mortgage taxation.

The Hendrickson bill making six years' insanity basis for divorce, was passed by a margin of only two votes.

RAVENNA MINE HAS CEASED OPERATIONS.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Feb. 22.—Orders were received by the local management of the Hollister Mining company to close the Ravenna mine and the crew was sent home. The suspension is for an indefinite period and pumping operations will be continue there.

The force at the Ravenna numbered some 120 men, all of whom have been thrown out of employment. No reason is given by the local management for the suspension of operations other than that the prospects at the property did not warrant developments at the present time.

MONTANAN IS KILLED IN GARAGE EXPLOSION.

Glasgow, Mont., Feb. 22.—One man was killed and eight automobiles were destroyed Saturday night when fire followed an explosion in the Fick Motor company's garage. Roy Fick, brother of the head of the firm, was crushed by falling walls when the blast sent the roof of the building many feet in the air, allowing the walls to crash inward. Flames completed the work of destruction. Financial loss is estimated at $15,000.

Ishpeming Safe Robbery.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 22.—The safe in the saloon of O. B. Lafreniere was robbed of $128. The safe is near the front window near the wall. A screen is placed between the barroom and the lobby, shutting off the view from without and within, and it is supposed that the culprit entered the front door and helped himself. The theft must have been committed hurriedly, the proprietor thinks, as $92 in cash was left, $47 of which was in bills.

Aitkin Wants Excelsior Plant.

Aitkin, Minn., Feb. 22.—One of Aitkin's business men is corresponding with an Eastern firm seeking a location for an excelsior factory, and they are very anxious to bring the plant to Aitkin. If the plant is located here, considerable of the stock will be taken by local parties and there will be no trouble about securing the best possible site.

Woman's Realm

A special meeting of the executive board of the Twentieth Century club will be held to morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the library clubroom. This meeting has been called to consider some phases of the agricultural work of the club and to change the dates of some of the club meetings.

Surprise Party.

Miss Helen Newstrom of 606 North Fifth avenue west was surprised by a number of her friends Saturday evening, the occasion being her birthday. Carnations and roses formed the centerpiece of the table. Music and games were the features of the evening, favors being won by Miss Edna Gayo and Miss Violet Shogran. The other guests were:

Misses—
Margaret Rutherford, Lillian Dinham, Zela Burrell, Eleanore Kraft, Ethel Molitor, Margaret Nelson, Agnes Gibson, Ruth Nelson, Harriet Cayo, Ebba Shogran, Doris Johnson, Mayme Clausen, Ethel Newstrom.

Messrs.—
Rudolph S. Shogran, Arthur Larson, Arnold Newstrom, Norman McLeod, Martin Carlson, John Koobs, Tony Wipson, Herbert Newstrom, Herbert Westerlund, Clifford Newstrom, William McCloud.

Growth of Cities.

The growth of several of the great cities of the United States will be the subject at the meeting of the department of education and home of the Twentieth Century club tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the library clubroom. Mrs. W. S. Donat will tell of the cities of the Pacific coast, Mrs. Charles H. Merritt will speak of the development of Boston and Mrs. C. R. Keyes will trace the growth of New Orleans.

This meeting will be open to all members of the Twentieth Century club and to all other persons who are interested.

Church Meetings.

The day of prayer of the Interdenominational Missionary union will be held Thursday at the First Presbyterian church. During the morning session that will open at 10:30 o'clock there will be a prayer service led by Mrs. W. J. McCabe, roll call and reports from all the societies belonging to the union. During the afternoon session beginning at 2 o'clock the following talks will be given:

"The Essentials of Effective Prayer," Miss Ella L. Roe; "Prayer in the Life of the Missionary," Mrs. W. B. Patton; "Prayer in the Life of the Christian at Home," Mrs. E. C. Maltas; "Prayer in the Life of Christ," Mrs. John McLeod. The afternoon prayer service will be led by Mrs. J. C. Swan and Mrs. D. J. Gray.

At 12:30 o'clock a basket luncheon will be served.

Wedding Anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Pastoret of 307 West Second street were surprised by a number of their friends Saturday afternoon in celebration of their fourth wedding anniversary. Music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baldwin are entertaining a party of friends at their cottage in the country for the day.

Lodge Notes.

Following a short business session Duluth Council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, will give a patriotic program this evening in their lodge rooms in the old Masonic temple. A. G. McKnight will be in charge.

* * *

Dewey Camp No. 1255, Royal Neighbors of America, will entertain at cards tomorrow evening in Foresters' hall. All Modern Woodmen and their friends are invited.

Reports of Children's Home.

The circulars and annual reports addressed by the Children's Home society Friday and Saturday were in this morning's mail delivery. The printing and stationery were donated by John Christie, who was assisted by O. F. Collier in the linotype work. The McClellan Paper company donated 1,000 envelopes.

The present effort is to obtain associate members for the Children's Home society. Any woman who wishes to become an associate member should send her name and address and $1 to the chairman of the finance committee, Miss Elizabeth Hoatson, 1707 East First street.

The need of a new building for the Children's home was first announced in the bulletin and annual report of 1908. The active campaign to raise funds for an additional building will be developed and executed as soon as the members of the advisory board and many absent directors return from the South and California. The members of the advisory board are: A. L. Ordean, chairman; C. A. Congdon, S. G. Knox, G. G. Barnum, W. C. Agnew, Luther Mendenhall and C. E. Bassett. The members of the board of directors are: Mrs. G. H. Jones, president; Mrs. W. C. Winton, Mrs. R. M. Hunter, Miss Anna Macfarlane, Mrs. F. D. Harlow, Miss Elizabeth Hoatson, Mrs. H. B. Paull, Mrs. T. W. Hoopes, Mrs. C. G. Traphagen, Mrs. T. L. Chapman, Mrs. Rene T. Hugo, Mrs. F. D. Day, Mrs. T. F. Cole, Mrs. M. L. Fay, Mrs. C. S. Wilson, Mrs. A. L. Agatin, Mrs. C. G. Hartley, Mrs. Watson S. Moore, Edward H. Windom, Miss L. Ella Roe and Mrs. David Williams.

Church Meetings.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. H. Stang, 2203 West Second street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

At the Martha Washington tea that will be given tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock in the parlors of Grace M. E. church by the ladies' aid society the following program will be given:

Piano solo, "Fantasie in D minor," Miss Gudrun Thrana; vocal solo from "Augusta," by A. Gordon Thomas, Mrs. C. B. Gilbert; reading, "A Tribute to Washington," "To a Usurper," "A Query," Miss Irene Hanson; vocal solo, "His Buttons are Marked U. S.," Master Willis Peer; vocal solo, "My Laddie," Miss Claudine Frederickson; violin solo, Master Herbert Miska, accompanied by Miss Myrtle McDonald; vocal solo, Mrs. Eva Adams Lund; folk dances, pupils of Bryant school, under the direction of Miss Schaffer; reading, "Average Boys," Master Alfred Milligan; vocal solo, Miss Claudine Frederickson; accompanists, Miss Glover, Mrs. George King and Miss Gudrun Thrana.

* * *

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church will give a reception and musical program this evening in the church parlors in honor of the 100 new members who have joined the organization during the membership campaign that has just closed.

* * *

An all-day meeting of the Woman's Guild of Trinity Pro-Cathedral will be held Tuesday, Feb. 23. During the Lenten season meetings will be held Tuesdays of each week. Basket lunch will be brought.

SHOWS EXCELLENT PROGRESS

Duluth Concert Orchestra Finds Haydn Symphony Within Its Scope—Miss Bradshaw Soloist.

Duluth's concert orchestra proved yesterday afternoon that the simpler symphonies are well within its scope.

The audience completely filled the high school auditorium, and Miss Mary Bradshaw was never heard to better effect. The program was the most enjoyable yet presented, and the orchestra showed marked progress.

It has never been doubted that the individual members of the orchestra, with proper time for rehearsal, are capable of playing any of the symphonies. The difficulty a new orchestra meets in attempting symphonies is the fact that many of them are orchestrated for more instruments than a small orchestra can boast, and to get a properly balanced orchestra for so many instruments would require the services of forty, fifty or even sixty musicians.

The Duluth orchestra, however, found Haydn's "Military Symphony" well within its scope. Haydn is known as the father of the symphony, and is said to have originated the present form. In Haydn's time the orchestra contained but few instruments, and most of those few works of his which have survived have been rescored. In the rescoring, such instruments as the trumpets and trombones were added.

Two movements of the Military Symphony were chosen, the minuet and the presto. They present no great difficulties to an orchestra of moderate size, and the Duluth organization gave them with much spirit and excellent shading.

A Real Treat.

The remainder of the program was a real treat. It began with the lively Hungarian march by Berlioz. Then followed the ever popular "Pagliacci" selections, and a charming little evening song by Elgar. "Whispering Flowers" by Blon was one of the most popular numbers on the program. A tuneful waltz by Gillet and a brief but very dainty polka by Delibes followed the symphony, and the lively "Fackeltanz," or Torch Dance, with its baritone and trombone solo, brought the program to a rousing finish.

Miss Bradshaw sang Tschaikowsky's "To the Forest" and Costello's "Sehnsucht," faultlessly, and for an encore gave "Arcady" by Woodman. For the two programed numbers the orchestra accompanied her, but for the encore Mrs. F. G. Bradbury at the piano and Oscar Brandser, violinist, were accompanists.

The success of yesterday's concert delighted the backers of the orchestra. In enthusiasm and artistic results it surpassed any of its predecessors, and the attendance, despite the weather conditions, was fully up to the mark of any of them. In fact, the hall could not have comfortably accommodated more.

At the next concert Scandinavian composers will be featured.

"PIANISTS OF YESTERDAY AND TODAY"

Ernest Lachmund Describes Characteristics of Some Well-Known Composers and Interpreters.

Members of the Matinee Musicale who attended the meeting of the study class this afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. this afternoon had the privilege of hearing Ernest Lachmund describe the distinguishing qualities that have made pianists and composers of yesterday and today famous. Some of the incidents related came under the personal observation of Mr. Lachmund, who said in part:

"In Germany there are many small principalities which are ruled by powerful dukes. These rulers for many years have vied with each other as to the brilliancy of their courts and so have practically supported not only well-known singers and pianists, but also full orchestras. It naturally followed that under these conditions music developed very rapidly. In the larger German cities there was also some powerful musician around whom the musical life of the city revolved. These musical dukes not only directed the local orchestral concerts, but usually selected the artists who were to appear in these concerts during the season. Thus Ferdinand Hiller of Cologne, Carl Reinecke of Leipzig, Joachim Raff of Frankfort—all composer pianists—were most powerful in their respective towns. Usually some composer ruled, as composers were always given the highest rank. At that time pianists specialized, more in the interpretation of some one great composer than they do now. There were Mozart interpreters, the most noted of whom were Hiller and Reinecke. For the proper interpretation of Mozart it is necessary to play with an absolutely clear technique, natural expression and true musicianship and in just these respects both Hiller and Reinecke excelled.

Specialists.

"There were also as there are today Beethoven specialists. Hans von Buelow ranked high above the others as a profound Beethoven interpreter. It is doubtful if any other pianist has ever attained to such a wonderfully plastic reading of the great master's works. He also had the advantage of being the most renowned director of Beethoven's orchestral works, all of which he conducted from memory. He was a very eccentric man and absolutely fearless. At one of his concerts before the performance of the 'Lenora' overture he made the extraordinary announcement that on the previous evening he had heard this work massacred at the 'Circus von Hulsen' (meaning the Royal opera of which von Hulsen was then intendant), and so he wished to show them all how it should be played. Naturally the orchestra was on its mettle and gave a remarkably fine rendition of this immortal work. There was intense excitement and although a few disapproving hisses were heard, the house rose in applause. A few evenings later von Buelow was ejected from the Royal opera, but, with the aid of the daily press, public opinion and of his powerful family, the doors were again open to him. At one of his Beethoven piano recitals, his memory suddenly failing, he stopped, took off his cuffs and, with the remark that they annoyed him, continued without another mishap.

Beethoven Interpreters.

"Today the greatest Beethoven interpreter is probably Eugene d'Albert. Edouard Risler, the French pianist, gave a series of six Beethoven recitals in Berlin in one season. Ansorge and others have performed this same remarkable feat.

"Of the Schumann interpreters it is rather odd to notice that the two most prominent of these were women, Clara Schumann and Clothilde Kleeburg, and because Schumann's music is essentially masculine and even in his most tender moods it still remains strong. It was a treat never to be forgotten to hear Clara Schumann's wonderful and loving interpretion of her husband's piano concerto. Madame Schumann never played in public without her music. Clothilde Kleeburg, a French pianist, was also a great favorite and never failed to draw a large house when she announced a Schumann program.

"There are many pianists who claim the distinction of being correct Chopin interpreters, but it is safe to say that de Pachmann was the greatest of these. He, like von Buelow, was extremely eccentric. We sat in the front row at one of his concerts, directly in front of the piano. During one of his numbers, much to my embarrassment, he frowned and looked directly at me for some time, finally saying in German, 'de Pachmann, that you did badly.' A little later he turned around with a smile and said, 'Fine, de Pachmann, fine.'

De Pachmann and Godowsky.

"One of the most touching traits in this man's character was his devotion to his friend, Godowsky. He always asserted that Godowsky excelled him as a pianist, and this Godowsky as assiduously denied. Unheralded and unsung, Leopold Godowsky lived for a few years in Chicago. He finally decided to go to Europe. He was received with such enthusiasm that he decided to remain in the German capital. Busoni had the same unfortunate experience in Boston, but met with great success abroad. Both of these artists are now fully appreciated in this country.

"The great Franz Liszt had gathered about him in Weimar many disciples, young piano giants who later became famous. Through the influence of my brother, Carl, who had spent two summers with Liszt, I had the good fortune of attending these famous lessons. Friedheim, Reisenaur, Sliotti, d'Albert, Sauer, Ansorge and Rosenthal were all studying with Liszt at that time. Liszt had a number of favorites, but Arthur Friedheim was his favorite pupil that summer. On one occasion he asked Friedheim to learn a new concerto of three movements in manuscript, and this was brought within a week's time memorized, surely a wonderful feat. Sauer excelled in individuality, Rosenthal in bravura playing, Sliotti in refinement, and Friedheim and Reisenaur in depth. The Liszt pupils looked forward every summer to one of the well known 'sausage concerts,' as they were called. Dr. Gille, a particular friend of Liszt, invited the master and his pupils to Jena, where, after a concert of Liszt's orchestral compositions, all went to Dr. Gille's estate for a sausage and sandwich luncheon.

Influence of Liszt.

"Franz Liszt, proclaimed by the critics of his time as the greatest of all pianists, was said to possess most of the good qualities of the other artists. A man of wonderful personality, a friend of kings and fearless in his opinions, Liszt's influence on the music of the nineteenth century can not be overestimated. As he never received remuneration from the many lessons he gave, his was truly a labor of love. Many stories are told of his generosity. To illustrate this there comes to my mind a true story of a young woman who falsely advertised herself as a pupil of Liszt. The great master, happening to see her sign and not remembering her, called on the young woman. She was very much frightened but managed to tell him that she had made use of his name on account of her struggle for existence. After she had complied with his request to play for him he said generously, 'You are now my pupil.'

"On one occasion when Liszt was playing before the czar, that ruler continued to talk during the performance and the musician stopped, saying it was not fitting and brief for him to play while the czar was talking.

"Count Zichy, a Hungarian nobleman, was a great favorite in Berlin. He had only one arm but, as some of the critics wrote, he played better with his one hand than a good many pianists did with two. He never played for money, only for charitable purposes.

"Grieg played many times in Leipzig, presenting his own compositions in manuscript. He was a small man with a very refined face and was much beloved.

"Brahms appeared in Berlin as accompanist for his own songs. He was a square thick-set man, very German in appearance.

"Imagine a man with a lion's mane, a face as strong as a lion and paws uplifted ready to strike the keyboard and you have a good picture of Rubinstein, a pianist who never failed to arouse his audience to the greatest pitch of enthusiasm. It is pitiful to remember that at his concerts he had to be led onto the stage on account of blindness.

"In closing I want to pay a tribute to our own American composer-pianist, McDowell, a genius whose tragic end robbed America of its greatest musician.

"On account of lack of time I am unable to speak of such pianists of today as Paderewski, Joseffy, Lhevinne, Hoffman, Carenno, Zeisler and the great romantic pianist, Gabrilowitsch, whom we shall have the privilege of hearing soon in Duluth. As you have heard most of these you are familiar with their characteristics."

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Provide Home for Parents.

Providing a home in which an old mother may end her days quietly and peacefully, without being made to feel that she is in the way, is the least return that a son or daughter can make for all the years of care and love that were lavished on them. No son or daughter, worthy the name will, under any consideration, allow strangers to minister to the needs of those who gave them birth, and if they have any sense of the obligation that is theirs when either parent becomes to old to take care of themselves they will not make any talk or dissension over what is a plain duty.

We all know that the ways of old people are very trying to those of a younger generation. The younger generation does not seem to consider, except in individual cases, that their ways are just as trying to the old people. And another thing that evidently slips the minds of most of them is that they themselves are growing older instead of younger every day, and that the time when they will be in the very same position is inevitably approaching.

We know, too, that there are parents who do not deserve very much at the hands of their children because they did not do their duty as parents and no real love exists between them and their children. The children of such parents were never set an example of love and self-sacrifice and the sad result is sometimes an utter disregard of their parents' welfare in their old age. But even under circumstances like these it is best that the children do their whole duty as cheerfully and as honestly as they can for the example it will set, if nothing else.

Usually where there is any trouble of this kind between parents and children the children are to blame. It undoubtedly does take some patience for a comparatively young person to get along with those who have passed a certain age. But it is not to be mentioned in the same category with the infinite patience and love that a mother gives her children for years and years and continues to lavish upon them long after they have become mothers and fathers themselves, and usually to the day of her death.

There is nothing more bitter on this earth for a mother or a father than realization that the children for whom they have worked and planned feel that they are in the way and as millstones about their necks. The prosperous son who prefers jail to making a home for his mother should be kept there until he changes his mind.

MAKES HER DEBUT.

Miss Doris Olsson, in New Play, Welcomed By Baldwin Patrons.

Miss Doris Olsson, young, pretty and with a most attractive stage appearance, made her debut to an enthusiastic and crowded house at the Lyceum Sunday afternoon as Princess Irma in a romantic comedy, "Hawthorne of the U. S. A.," a four-act play that will be popular with Lyceum patrons, a new play in Duluth, and a mighty entertaining play as presented by the Players. The staging shows no let-down of the local company's efforts to give Duluthians road-show presentations each week.

Miss Olsson came to Duluth recommended highly. Her first appearance here does not give her an opportunity to show just how good she is as an actress—the show is built around a man. But from what she did, it is safe to make the prediction that Miss Olsson will be a favorite with Duluthians. She is of the slender, blonde type, and she speaks her lines in a well-modulated voice. She was fully adequate to the rather colorless role and the audience gave her a most cordial reception.

Homer Barton, leading man, finds himself this week in his element—light comedy, with moments of seriousness, of love-making and of gallantry. He is the young fellow, Hawthorne, who, with his pal, Rodney Blake, finds himself in an out-of-the-way little kingdom, settled a revolution, makes love to the king's daughter, puts money into circulation—having won $100,000 by breaking the bank at Monte Carlo—and, after teaching the kingdom how to do business and talk American slang, sees the monarchy turn into a republic and weds the princess. Barton does fine work and the Sunday audience waxed enthusiastic. Walter Baldwin, Jr., plays Pal Rodney. Blake with very good effect. As the kindly king, William A. Mortimer makes a fine monarch. Joseph De Stephani plays the part of Prince Vladimir, the villian, with his usual success.

William Donovan is M. De Witz; R. B. Pell is seen again after several months' absence, as Senator Thomas Ballard, rheumatic, until he found the wonderful waters which Hawthorne afterwards booms to the gratification and enrichment of the citizens of Borlvina. Margaret Lotus is the senator's daughter, Kate Ballard. Miss Lotus is rapidly establishing herself as a favorite. She has always an intelligent understanding of her part and this week she adds much to the success of the production.

Several new names appear in the program, including James Edwards, an actor of good mannerisms and voice, and Chris Young, who plays Count Ivan Pauloric, and does well.

The play is strongly reminiscent of "Beverly of Graustark," with the "love behind the throne" emphasized as in that romance. There is a lot of action, few dull moments, with the plot properly discernible. It never has been shown in Duluth before.

Next week the Baldwins will present "Tess of the Storm Country," in which Mary Pickford, well known tto Duluth "movie" patrons, is said to have made her greatest sucess, and which will, it is believed, permit Miss Olsson, the new Baldwin "lead," to convince her new audience of her talents. "The Third Degree," "The Thief" and "Texas" are in preparation.

FAREWELL BILL GOOD.

New Orpheum Show Is One of Uniform Merit.

The farewell bill at the Orpheum, which began the closing week for that theater yesterday, will be remembered by Duluthians as a good one. There were no sensational features, but there was genuine merit in each act, and the whole program was pleasing and received cordial welcome. At the end of the present week the house will be dark for an indefinite period. The lovers of good vaudeville hope that the lights may soon be turned on again with the old-time Orpheum shows.

Laddie Cliff, who is one of the two headliners for this week, is a breezy, eccentric fellow, with many qualities to recommend him to popular favor. His dancing is clever and original and his songs, fresh from the London music halls, are diverting and are sung in a delightful dialect.

The Three Travilla Brothers, assisted by two seals, do an original aquatic act. One of the best "stunts" in the act is done by the young men who eat a luncheon sitting under the water in a large tank.

Ben Deely and Marie Wayne present a novel skit in which are introduced a telephone operator, a "burnt-cork" elevator man and an "eccentric" elevator. A lot of bright comedy, a little dancing and a few good songs, are presented in a clever manner. Mr. Deely is the hit of the act in presenting one of his own compositions, "I May Look Foolish But I've Got Common Sense."

Miss Corinne Francis and Tony Hunting present a skit called "A Love Lozenge" that is a delightful bit of light entertainment. Miss Francis is an engaging miss well gowned, who sings and dances well. Hunting in a youthful comedy role is a capable partner.

The best feature of the "Jaunts and Journeys" this week is a film showing dogs of all nations. Many classy canines were shown. Travel pictures round out the bill.

AT THE EMPRESS.

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" Pleases Big Audiences.

The Manhattan players at the New Empress this week are presenting "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway."

Two packed houses greeted the stock company yesterday.

"Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" is several years old, but the local players liven it up by introducing new song numbers and dance steps. The humor of the lines is as bright as ever and the audience last night seemed to thoroughly enjoy the sayings of Kid Burns or Mary Jenkins, the two principals.

A feature of the show this week is the introduction of a set of new costumes for the chorus.

James McElhearn as Kid Burns fills the part most acceptably, while Miss Mabel Day as Mary Jenkins, the maid, is especially pleasing. Her two song hits, "So Long, Mary," and "Mary Is a Grand Old Name," were encored time and again last night.

The action takes place in New Rochelle, a small town in upper New York, just about forty-five minutes from the center of the great metropolis. Cornelius Castleton, millionaire, has died, but failing to leave a will, his entire fortune is turned over to Tom Bennett, his nephew. The latter returns to New Rochelle, accompanied by Kid Burns and Flora Dora Dean, a popular actress, picked by Bennett as his future wife.

Upon his arrival at New Rochelle Kid Burns buys an old suit from the butler and while going through the pockets discovers the will left by Castleton. Of course, the money has been left to Mary Jenkins, the maid, but Kid Burns hides the will for the time being.

On the first night Daniel Kroman, who had swindled Castleton out of a fortune by selling him fake mining stock, breaks into the house and attempts to open the safe and steal the fake mining certificates. While working over the safe, Mary appears and starts the phonograph. This frightens Kroman away, but he is caught on his arrival in New York. It is later learned that Kroman and Mrs. David Dean, Flora Dora's mother, were working hand in hand and the actress and her mother leave the city to escape arrest.

Burns shows Mary the will, but she tears it up and declares she would rather have him than all the money in the world.

The play is well staged and no little credit is due Hudson Freeborn, director of the company, for the effective manner in which the girls are trained for the ensemble numbers.

Miss Clara Throop as Mrs. Dean seems at home and her portrayal of the haughty New Yorker scored a hit. Lee Daly as James Blake, Bennett's friend, and Fred Waelder as Kroman are both happily cast.

"Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" will continue the week, with a special matinee this afternoon, and regular matinees Tuesday and Saturday.

At the New Grand.

The three Dixon Girls, banjoists, dancers, musicians and singers offer a novelty in musical acts. All are said to be accomplished musicians and clever dancers.

Hugo Lutgens, the Swedish dialect monologist, promises to provide many laughs. His monologue is different from the usual cut-and-dried routine of the ordinary monologist and he dresses it with a Swedish accent. His impersonations of a Swedish preacher are particularly humorous.

Dow and Dow, offer a diversion in comics as Hebrew comedians presenting, "Fanny Things Aboard a Comic Cruiser." Their parodies and patter are always greatly enjoyed.

The Three Dietrich Brothers offer a novelty in comedy acrobatics and gymnastics.

Among the photoplays is the three-reel Broadway Star feature, "How Cissy Made Good," which introduces the entire Vitagraph company including John Bunny, Julia Swane Gordon, Harry Earl, Earl Williams, Anita Stewart and many others. "Getting Rid of Nephew," a comedy; "Her Sister," a drama, and a scenic film complete the program.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me."

In producing David Belasco's greatest success "The Girl I Left Behind Me," at the Rex today and Tuesday, neither effort nor money was spared to make it a real feature. The scenes of the play are laid in and around a lonely frontier army post in the old Indian days and in order that the vivid atmosphere of the piece be retained to the fullest extent, the entire company was sent to Fort Assinaboine Montana. There amidst the rugged western scenery, with real cavalry troopers, and with real Indians, the scenes of this stirring military drama were enacted for the camera. William Winter, dramatic critic, in the New York Tribune says: "At the close of the play the screen actors were cheered to the echo."

OBSERVE NATAL DAY OF G. WASHINGTON

Anniversary Celebrated in Every Department of National Capital.

Washington, Feb. 22.—George Washington's birthday anniversary was celebrated today in every department of the capital.

President Wilson attended exercises under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution, and while he was an interested listener for two hours he did not make an address.

Senator Townsend was the principal speaker there.

In congress Gen. Washington's farewell address was read and both houses celebrated the day by working. All the executive departments were closed.

The women's peace party had a mass meeting at which John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, was the principal speaker.

General in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Observance of Washington's birthday was general here today. Numerous civic, social and church organizations offered programs and boy scouts and semi-military organizations took a prominent part in the celebrations.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

JUST KEEP COOL.

There is sure to be a certain amount of jingo talk and jingo writing in connection with the sinking of the American steamer Evelyn in the North sea, but it can all be smoothed off and disposed of if the majority of the American people will just keep cool. It is reasonable to expect that is what they will do, but at the same time, it must be recognized that a few loud-voiced and active jingoists can sometimes give events a twist, and this is one case where no such twist is wanted.

It is more or less impressive to have an American vessel fall a victim to the war, particularly when our merchant ships escaped entirely in the first half year of fighting. But there are several features to be considered in this specific case. In the first place, the sinking did not occur in the much-discussed "war zone," but in a locality that was known in advance to be among the mine-strewn waters. The officers of the ship simply took a chance, so far as can be learned as this is written, and the chance went against them.

Again, the ship was not torpedoed, apparently, but was sunk by a mine; and not even the jingoist would try to maintain that any discrimination can be expected of an apparatus like that.

It is just possible that this incident will prove to have a material effect on the war itself. What if, for example, it made mariners wary of venturing into European waters? What if it made it more difficult, and eventually almost impossible, to ship goods or supplies from this side of the Atlantic to the other? There are those who maintain that such a situation would mean the speedy end of the war. If they are right, perhaps this loss of a comparatively small American vessel is to become an event of international importance even without the lifting of a finger by this government.

But whatever the result, the one thing for the American people to do is to keep cool. We will have no war unless congress declares one, and congress will not declare one without tremendous pressure from the people. In the meantime we have at the head of our government a man whose every effort is for peace, and in whom we have reason to have confidence. The American people have every reason to rest secure in that confidence.

It takes a real optimist to find the good in some things. For instance, the Wisconsin State Journal gives this encouragement: "For amateur gardeners the surest way to tell the weeds from the flowers is to pull them out. The ones that come up again are the weeds."

FATHERS AND SONS.

What do you know about your boy's hopes and ambitions? What do you know about his problems and troubles? What do you even know about his habits and associates?

Well, look at it in another way: How much is it your business, as his father, to try to know and understand about these things? How much more good could you do him if you understood more about them?

And look at the question still another way: How much more good could you and he do each other if he had some way of understanding that you have had experiences similar to his, and are having such experiences today?

All of which is only preliminary to reminding you of the "Fathers and Sons" banquet given under the direction of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. If your boy is a member of the department, don't fail to go to that banquet, and take him with you. It will not add one cent to your income, but you will learn things there that will work to make you a better father, and to make your boy a better son.

It is all part of the movement to get the men and boys of the country into closer relationship with one another. It is part of a movement to make the boy and the man more friendly, more interested in the same things, more helpful to each other.

And it is a movement worth while it means that the coming generation of men will be more intelligent citizens and better citizens than they would be if there were no such movement. It is, we believe, one of the best movements that has sprung up in many years, so far as development of American young manhood is concerned. Help it along. You will be doing a work that will carry its influence long beyond the present generation.

Somehow you naturally wonder who does the preliminary work on the legislators' gardens.

STATE GOVERNMENT.

One of the most striking features of legislative work this year is the fact that in different states the question of making radical changes in the state government is being seriously considered. It has been constantly growing more and more apparent that something is lacking in our system of management of state affairs. There have been found too many opportunities for abuse, and too little responsibility on the part of officials. At least that is the conclusion to which many have come after careful study of the past and present in the different commonwealths.

Minnesota is one of the states in which the question has come to a head, but it is not the only one. In Iowa a radical proposition has been offered, not by an appointive body, but by a committee chosen by the last legislature. The changes it would make in state management are the grouping under three departments of the present fifty-seven state boards and commissions; a state budget system; abolition of the parole board, and the appointment of railroad commissioners and the attorney general. The governor is made in fact the business manager of the state's affairs, and he appoints the heads of the three executive departments, each of whom would receive five thousand dollars a year salary.

Revolutionary as the proposals are, they embody only the acknowledged principle that the affairs of state are in fact business affairs, and should be as effectively and efficiently handled as is private business. The committee that drafted the bills says in its report.

> The main idea with us is efficiency. The economy will at once be felt in the getting of greater results from what we spend.

It will be interesting to watch what Iowa does with this proposal. As outlined, it seems to reduce to the last degree the idea of centralization and responsibility in the management of state affairs.

Does it ever seem, when you first wake up in the morning, as if the war stuff was just a nightmare?

Going Some.

Seymour, Ind., Democrat: Daniel Clapp of Clark county has suddenly become quite a noted personage. He was made a grandfather twice and a great-grandfather once, all within one week. Honors are really thrust upon some men.

HIM WHOM WE HONOR.

Never before has there been so great reason for the American people to look with respect on the memory of him whom we honor today, as there is on this one hundred and eighty-third anniversary of his birth.

Washington has been held up to our eyes in many different roles. He was presented to our childhood understandings as a boy with an incorruptible honor. Early youth had its imagination aroused by the accounts of the Indian war and the war of the Revolution. Manhood brings consideration and appreciation of the qualities of statesmanship that fitted our first president for the leadership accorded him.

But never until the present has there been so impressive an object lesson in the statecraft and farsightedness of this man who, himself of European descent, could nevertheless outline for unborn centuries that course which must be followed by the new nation if it would preserve to itself and its people what he, in the high-sounding phraseology of his time, described as "the permanency of felicity."

But no words can better show the degree to which we are indebted to his foresight and statecraft than those spoken by Washington, himself in his farewell address to the American people. The aptness of their application to the present would almost convince one that they were of recent origin instead of having been written and spoken for the first time in the closing years of the Eighteenth century. It would be well if every American, particularly those who, like Washington himself, are of foreign descent and with inborn prejudices as between foreign nations, would read and even memorize certain parts of that address, and adopt them as a personal creed. Hear how Washington spoke:

"Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence (I conjure you to believe me, fellow-citizens) the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. But that jealousy, to be useful, must be impartial; else it becomes the instrument of the very influence to be avoided, instead of a defense against it. Excessive partiality for any one foreign nation, and excessive dislike for another, cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil, and even second, the arts of influence on the other. * * *

"Europe has a set of primary interests, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves, by artificial ties, in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics, or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

"Our detached and distant situation invites and enables us to pursue a different course. * * * Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation? Why quit our own ground to stand on foreign ground? Why, by intertwining our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humor or caprice?"

What the Yankee Does With His Almighty Dollar

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

When Charles Dickens came to America, fifty years ago or so, he was received with open arms by the citizens of this comparatively young nation. He went back and wrote a report to the effect that the United States was responsive to nothing but the magic power of the almighty dollar. That phrase, by the way, had been previously invented by Washington Irving, an American by birth and Christian name.

Other tourists from Europe since Dickens have braved the foamy perils of the sea, and have gone home with the same report—that Yankees have no culture—no "kultur," even—because they are so single minded in chase of that omnipotent silver cartwheel.

Every now and then, however, cataclysms have happened in the "Old Country." A famine in Ireland—and America's dollars went across the ocean as a crude testimony of sympathy. An invasion of Belgium—and the American purse is slit again, not as an expression of partisanship, but for the sake of humaneness which is a love of humanity. And now comes the Italian earthquake, and American money again pours across the ocean. One is reminded of that other earthquake in Italy, a number of years ago. America's contributions to the sufferers on that occasion rebuilt that stricken corner of Italy.

One of these days nations that have laughed at the money-grubbing spirit of the Yankee will turn about and acknowledge that the Yankee wants money, but for what he can do with it. The dollar is not almighty; it is, however, mighty to relieve suffering, and without the American dollar, stamped with the motto "In God We Trust," certain nations of the old world would be far worse off than they are today, for bread, for covering, for faith in brotherly love.

Big Game, Sure.

Harper's Magazine: A senator from a Southern state always has an abundance of good Southern tales at his command. Here is one he tells of some friends of his who were visiting in Savannah, and who had chartered an old broken-down hack driven by a negro. The old fellow was a native, and, of couse, was on his job in pointing out all the places of interest along the route. As they jogged along out in the suburbs a squirrel appeared in the road. That was sufficient to arouse intense interest in one of the party, who inquired, anxiously:

"Do you have any big game around here?"

"Yes, suh; indeed, suh," replied the darky; "we has baseball."

Made the Shortage Good.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: The arithmetic lesson that day had been hard and trying and now, at the closing hour, Tommy stood before the teacher, waiting to hear results.

"Your last problem is wrong," was the verdict. "You will have to stay after school and do it again."

Tommy looked at the clock. "Tell me, please, how much am I out?" he asked.

"Your answer is 2 cents short."

Tommy's hand dived into the pocket where his most treasured possessions were stored. Swiftly he separated two pennies from a bunch of shoestrings, a penknife and some marbles and pieces of chalk.

"I'm in a hurry, please," he said; "if you don't mind, I'll pay the difference."

The Man of Burdens

Editorial in the Chicago Herald.

In these troubled times, when every day shows more clearly the dangers that confront even the most sincere neutrality, the hearts of all Americans should go out in sympathy and support to that solitary man sitting in the White House at Washington who carries the welfare of one hundred million people so largely in his hand.

His is a staggering responsibility. It is the greatest that could be laid on the chief executive of any nation in time of peace. No American since Lincoln has borne such a burden—has been confronted with issues which are so big with fate for the land we love.

It is easy for those who do not share his burden or realize its tremendous weight on heart and mind to say what ought to be done under any and all circumstances. But his is the solemn duty not only of saying but also of acting; not only of acting but also of doing so with the knowledge that the welfare of his fellow citizens may hang upon his course.

Under such circumstances President Wilson needs the sympathy and support of every true American. He needs to know that political friends and foes alike are with him; that they know the burden he is carrying and believe that he will carry it—if with pain and labor to himself—with honor to the nation.

He should be made to feel that there is from one end of the country to another an abiding faith in his integrity and singleness of purpose and in his absolute determination to walk with circumspection but directly to the goal—stepping aside neither in the spirit of truculence nor subservience.

He should be made to feel that partisanship and personal feeling wholly cease to have a meaning for Americans when their president is confronted with what may quickly develop into an international crisis of grave significance; that the whole moral force and the whole heart and the whole mind of the nation are his to lean upon or to call upon for support.

And above all he should be made to feel that Americans understand how free from the taint of personal ambition and pride are his high-minded efforts to serve his country in these moments of its need for wise guidance; that it is of his country and not of himself he thinks first and last of all; that his one aim is to serve her and her alone.

Nothing that could be said or felt or done can avail to abate his high and solemn responsibility. But his way may and should be brightened by the knowledge that those for whom he stands and speaks and labors have confidence in his integrity, his ability, his singleness of purpose and his zeal.

Papers Don't Develop Crime

New York Sun: The oft repeated charge that the reports of crimes in newspapers tend to develop criminality, or anti-social conduct, as the experts prefer to say nowadays, is met and disposed of effectively by Dr. William Healy, director of the Psychopathic Institute of the Juvenile Court of Chicago. In his book, just published, "The Individual Delinquent," he says plainly that in no one single case has he been able to trace criminality to the reading of newspapers.

The common assumptions on the subject have only a surface plausibility. Crime, after all, is only a small element in the news. The daily paper, so far from arousing attention to it, as a rule swamps it with a diversity of interests which tend to minimize its influence. Whenever crime is displayed, the glamour is all taken away. The criminal invariably gets the worst of it in the newspaper story. He is a hunted wretch or a miserable prisoner. He is shown haggard and hopeless. His sufferings are recounted.

Anyway, the majority of criminal careers are begun before the newspaper reading age is reached. Actual inquiry shows that young offenders hardly ever notice anything in newspapers except comic pictures. They show no interest in newspaper reports of crime, and no trace of hero worship or romantic sentiment as attached to criminality was found to arise from newspaper articles. In a word, the budding criminal is not infatuated by anything in the papers, and to those of older growth the newspaper treatment of the topic must be sobering and admonitory. The only direct bad effects of newspaper reading are found in occasional unbalanced minds, and in such cases the result is more likely to be false self-accusation of some crime that is attracting public attention than any attempt to imitate it.

Far different is the influence of the cheap crime story on the younger generation. Its pernicious influence, Dr. Healy says, can be proved by numerous cases. Along with morbid pictures of all sorts, bad literature is a fertile source of criminal inspiration. The difference in effect from the newspaper reports is due to the different treatment. In the "penny dreadful" the crime's the thing; in the newspaper the pursuit of it. In the bad story the criminal is the defiant and successful hero; in the newspaper he generally is the downcast victim of his own wickedness.

An Island.

My dream is of an island-place
Which distant seas kept lonely,
A little island on whose face
The stars are watchers only.
Those bright still stars! they need not seem Brighter or stiller in my dream.

An island full of hills and dells,
All dumpled and uneven
With green recesses, sudden swells,
And odorous valleys driven
So deep and straight that always there
The wind is cradled to soft air.

Hills running up to heaven for light
Through woods that half-way ran,
As if the wild earth mimicked right
The wilder heart of man;
Only it shall be greener far
And gladder than hearts ever are.

The place is all awave with trees,
Limes, myrtles purple-beaded,
Acacias having drunk the lees
Of the night-dew, faint-headed,
And wan grey olive-woods which seem
The fittest foliage for a dream.

* * * * * * * *

Nor think each arched tree with each
Too closely interlaces
To admit of vistas out of reach,
And broad moonlighted places
Upon whose sward the antlered deer
May view their double image clear.

Not Entirely Dumb.

Collier's: While Jane, the new maid, was taking her first lesson on arranging the dining table, someone in the basement kitchen put something upon the dumb-waiter below.

"What's that noise?" asked Jane, quickly.

"Well," said Jane, "he's scratchin' to git out!"

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Lawed to Death.

Tower News: There should be a law to head off the fool laws. Our statute books are becoming mighty volumes. Each session of the legislature and hundreds of new laws confuse the great unwashed. One dare not throw a brick at a dog without first consulting an attorney, and he must needs dig through musty volumes and search a mile of shelves before he can give expert advice in the premises. What should be done is to use the ax on what we have and trim off superfluities rather than to cumber the shelves with freaks. There are laws and laws. What will it be in a hundred years? We are lawed to death.

Most Foolish of All.

Wadena Pioneer Journal: The present legislature bids fair to do many foolish things, and the most foolish of all would be to repeal either the Dunn or the Elwell road laws.

Another "Most Fool" Proposal.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: A bill before the lower house of the legislature would restore the old plan of working out the road tax. That is the most fool proposition on record, and it did more than any other one thing to keep Minnesota towards the rear on good roads. It is no kindness to the farmer to have him neglect his spring farm work to get out and destroy the best piece of road in his neighborhood. Good roads are the greatest benefit to the farmers, and once a farmer gets a state road in front of his home and which is maintained by an efficient caretaker, it is a road he wants kept up to the best possible condition. It means an increase in the value of his farm land from $10 to $30 an acre.

For September Primary.

Carlton Vidette: The house members have voted to advance the Borgen bill on the calendar, which practically assures that it will pass. This bill provides that primary elections will be held in September instead of June. It is a logical move and the bill should be adopted.

Some Merit Indicated.

Brainerd Dispatch: A bill has been introduced in the legislature calling for a constitutional amendment that would abolish the state senate, providing for a system in this state that would substitute a legislature of one body of 100 members, fixing the terms of four years to meet biennially. The bill, originating in the body sought to be abolished and by a member thereof, would indicate that there is some merit in the measure.

County Option on Frogs.

Ely Miner: Heavens, what next! A bill has been introduced in the legislature prohibiting the catching of frogs in this state. Angle worms and grasshoppers will probably be next in order and the small boy will be deprived of the chance to replenish his exchequer from every side. We demand a constitutional amendment on this frog-catching measure and believe that county option on frog catching would be about right with a chance for the kids and frogs to vote. Would also suggest that a bill be passed calling for an examination of members of the legislature for assinine symptoms and the Osler treatment for their cure.

George Washington

Daniel Webster: America has furnished to the world the character of Washington! And if our American institutions had done nothing else, that alone would have entitled them to the respect of mankind. * * * The enthusiastic veneration and regard in which the people of the United States hold him, prove them to be worthy of such a countryman: while his reputation abroad reflects the highest honor of his country. * * * Born upon our soil, of parents also born upon it; never for a moment having sight of the Old World; instructed, according to the mode of his time, only in the spare, plain but wholesome knowledge which our institutions provide for the children of the people; growing up beneath and penetrated by the genuine influences of American society; living from infancy to manhood and age amidst our expanding, but not luxurious, civilization; partaking in our great destiny of labor, our long contest with unreclaimed Nature and uncivilized man, our agony of glory, the War of Independence, our great victory of peace, the foundation of the Union, and the establishment of the Constitution—he is all, all our own. * * *In all the perils, in every darkened moment of the state, in the midst of the reproaches of enemies and the misgivings of friends, I turn to that transcendent name for courage and for consolation. To him who denies or doubts whether our fervid liberty can be combined with law, with order, with the security of property, with the pursuits and advancement of happiness; to him who denies that our forms of government are capable of producing exaltation of soul, and the passion of true glory; to him who denies that we have contributed anything to the stock of great lessons and great examples; to all these I reply by pointing to Washington.

Food for Cannon.

Pittsburg Dispatch: The recent remark of Kipling that the pending war cannot last three years, because that "would mean more fire than fuel to supply it," of course depends on the fatuity with which European governments persist in feeding their population to the fire of battle. It is to be recognized that in this computation the militarist doctrine is adopted that population is fodder for cannon. Mr. Kipling recognizes also that this war has brought into the field a much larger proportion of the population than any of the historic wars of modern times.

Frederick the Great entered on his military career with an army numbering close to one man to each hundred of population. In the Seven Years war he started with about that number, but exceeded it before the war was closed. Napoleon's wars were of about that proportion, but exceeded it by drawing on countries brought into subjection to France. In our Civil war the proportion of one soldier in the field to 100 of population was not much exceeded on the part of the North until its closing years.

But by the most conservative estimates Germany has started in this war by putting one man in thirty of its population in the field. The French proportion is even larger. Whether the fight can go on till one man in twenty or even fifteen is made "cannon fodder" is more than doubtful. Unless the bitterness of the conflicts is exaggerated in the dispatches the consumption of life and limb is apt to go beyond the power of the population to sustain it.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the outer office of Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, one may usually find an assortment of dignitaries waiting to confer with the army head. There are United States senators, army officers, chairmen of important house committees, and probably a brace of solemn, preoccupied Indian chiefs.

It is certain that if there are any visiting Indian chiefs in Washington they will speedily make their way to the office of Hugh L. Scott. And when they reach Scott's outer office they will be ushered in to see him with the least possible delay. And having got into where Scott is they will remain there for a long, long time. An Indian chief is extremely loath to terminate a conversation with Scott, and Scott has not the heart to exhibit the slightest indication of haste or business pressure toward an Indian. He dotes on Indians. Senators and other vertebrates in the outer office simply have to wait until the Indians have had their say.

Hugh L. Scott knows more about Indians than any man in the United States army. He has won scores of battles in the Indian country simply by going to the tribal chiefs and holding conferences in the sign language. No Indian except the old chiefs can talk the sign language so well as Scott. The younger bucks, growing up on reservations, talk in spoken words. They are wayward Indians, the old chiefs think, and do not bother to learn the more compact language of sign and gesture. The old chiefs find so few persons with whom they can hold a nice silent conversation that they will gladly make a long journey to have a sign talk with Hugh Scott. And Scott enjoys these unspoken chats just as much as the Indians do. He declares that the sign language is the handiest system of talk known to man. One can say a whole sentence in a wave of the hand—just as a Chinaman, conversely, will speak a paragraph of words in order to say yes or no.

To sit and watch a pair of Indian chiefs during a long conversation with Hugh Scott is a real adventure. Not once does the expression of their faces change as they sit holding interlocutory reminiscences with their hands. When it comes to maintaining an immobile countenance it is nip and tuck between an Indian chief and an old-fashioned, ornamental iron dog.

The other day Scott received a call from two chiefs. It chanced not to be a busy day, and he permitted them to stay as long as they wished, sandwiching talk with them in between brief periods of transacting business. They remained right in their chairs, scarcely moving a muscle aside from those needed in making signs for six hours and a half.

When an Indian chief comes to Washington he calls on Gen. Scott. His calls are usually two in number—the first immediately after his arrival and the other after he has bought his railroad ticket to return to his reservation. He goes to Scott then to show him the ticket and get Scott's word that the ticket is all right. In matters of such paramount importance Scott is the one man in Washington whose word an Indian chief will accept.

Representative Kirkpatrick of Iowa, who has had an adventurous career, including twenty-seven years chasing moonshiners for the government, was introduced a while ago to Representative Caleb Powers of Kentucky, who, it will be remembered, suffered a long period of prosecution for alleged complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel.

"I'm very glad to meet you," said Kirkpatrick, and added off-handedly, by way of small talk, "you know I was tried for murder once myself."

An Adaptable Age.

Edinburgh Scotsman: The new Berlin botanical gardens are wonderfully beautiful, but to small children they are a forbidden paradise. Boys and girls under 10 are not permitted to enter.

Herr and Frau Muller found this out to their disappointment when they planned to take their little Paul on a Sunday trip to view the beautiful gardens. Nevertheless, they gave their young hopeful a few instructions and started out.

At the gate, the porter stopped the young Muller. "How old are you?" he inquired.

Paul answered: "Six for the electrics, really 8; for the botanical gardens, 10."

Increased Production.

Logansport, Ind., Pharos-Reporter: There is little doubt but what the farmers of this country will make unusual efforts this year to increase production. There will be a demand for everything that can be produced in the way of food products. Let us hope, too, that the yield of our fields may be abundant because of the great need that is sure to prevail. To assure an abundance, let us hope that nature may be generous in providing the rain and sunshine necessary to mature the crops.

"While Rome Burned."

Edinburgh Scotsman: The old gentleman beamed upon the little boy who stood on the crest of the hill one night at twilight, a happy, contented smile on his lips.

"I am very pleased to see you watching the beautiful red glow of the setting sun, my little man," he said, patting the youngster's back. "Do you watch it every night?"

The little lad chuckled.

"Oh, no, sir!" he said gleefully. "That's not the sun setting. That's our school burning down."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

SCHOOL LAWS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you answer in your Open Court:

1st. Is it lawful to use a school in the country or village for entertainments, religious purposes, etc?

2nd. How many children does the law require to maintain a school and what is the school age? E. I. D.

Norman, Minn., Feb. 19.

The state law says that the board of education may, on a petition of a majority of the legal voters in the district, authorize the use of any school building for divine worship, Sunday schools, public meetings, elections or any purpose which will not interfere with the conduct of the school. It may demand a bond for the preservation of the property, and collect such rent as it thinks fair.

When there are twelve children of school age the majority of freeholders of any territory comprising not less than four sections of land may petition the county board to establish a school district. The school age is between 8 and 16 years.—The Editor.

IVORY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Here I am again and want a little information about elephants. Are all bones of the elephant ivory? Are billiard balls made from the tusks alone or are the bones of the toes and feet also used for that purpose? Thanking your for past favors I am, yours truly,

CHAS. ZIMMER,

Duluth, Feb. 19. The Spalding.

Only the tusks of the elephant provide ivory, but it is also secured from the hippopotamus and the sea lion. The elephant ivory is the best. Billiard balls are frequently made from other substances than ivory.—The Editor.

POLAND'S SAD CONDITION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice the articles you publish from time to time in regard to Poland and its present condition, the last one appearing Monday, Feb. 15, entitled "Sad Plight of Poland."

I am a Pole and naturally such things interest me, and I take pleasure in thanking you today for giving our mother-country some publication, now in the hour of her need.

The Rockefeller committee reports that conditions in Poland are far worse than they are in Belgium and is now concentrating its efforts toward directing the attention of the American public to this fact. Your last article is right in line with that work and I thank you again for your share of directing The Herald readers to the "sad plight of Poland" and I trust that similar articles will appear in your paper again. Very truly yours,

G. I. IDZOREK.

Floodwood, Minn., Feb. 19.

GOVERNMENT JOBS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Would be very thankful to you if you would tell me through the Open Court where I could obtain information regarding railroad and other work to be done in Alaska in the near future by the United States government. Also whether applications may be sent in for work there. Yours truly,

A READER.

ACCURATE AND UNPREJUDICED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As a newspaper reader and general observer of events, I have come to the conclusion that there is no newspaper in the state so well represented in the legislature as The Duluth Herald. This individual opinion is reached after reading newspapers from the Twin Cities as well as both local newspapers for six weeks. In The Herald can always be found accurate, unprejudiced and perfect information of what is going on in the legislature. As efficiency is in the air everywhere nowadays, it is not more than fair to throw a bouquet where it is well deserved.

ORE FIGURES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Can you inform me through the Open Court concerning shipments of iron ore from Duluth, Superior, Two Harbors and Ashland. If not, where can I get this information for reference work? Thanking you in advance, I am,

A NEW SUBSCRIBER.

Park Falls, Wis., Feb. 17.

Write to the United States engineer at Duluth and ask for a copy of the annual report.—The Editor.

GOVERNMENT LAND.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Would you kindly tell me through the Open Court whether there is land to be opened for claims in Minnesota or not, and where and when if there is? Thanking you in advance, yours truly,

A READER.

St. Point, Wis., Feb. 18.

There is land available for settlement at all of the government land offices in Minnesota. The Editor knows of no special land opening scheduled. Write to the register of the Duluth land office for information. The state also holds land sales every few weeks in Duluth. The auditor can give you information on these sales.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"Ole From North Dakota," from James Clair of Scanlon.

Requests have been received for the following poems:

"Sweet Memories," from a Herald reader. "My Wife Has Gone to the Country," from E. C. Babcock of Cohasset.

The poem telling of the Indian's visit to his father's grave, "Where White River 'Mong Low Mountains," etc., Mrs. E. A. Sachett of Duluth.

"Kate Shelby" and "Asleep at the Switch," from Mez Root of Kelsey. The latter has been published recently and cannot be reprinted again so soon.

"There Is a Mother Waiting for You at Home Sweet Home," "To Be a Farmer's Boy" and "We Sank Her in the Lowlands Low," from a reader at Hibbing.

"She Rests By the Suwanee River" and "If Only I Had a Home Sweet Home," from a Duluth subscriber.

There's a Mother Always Waiting.

You're going among the city folks to dwell."
So spoke a dear old mother to her boy one summer's day.
"If your mind's made up that way, I wish you well.
The old home will be lonely; we will miss you when you're gone;
The birds won't sing so sweet when you're not nigh,
But if you're in trouble, Jim, just write and let us know."
She spoke these words and then she said good-by.

Chorus.

"When sickness overtakes you, and old companions shake you,
As through this world you wander all alone;
When friends you haven't any, in your pocket not a penny,

Years have passed; a stranger to that village came one day.
His step was halt and ragged clothes he wore.
The village children laughed at him, as down the lane he walked.
At last he stopped beside a cottage door.
He gently knocks; no sound he hears; he thinks, can she be dead?
At last he hears a voice well known to him.
She said, "Thank God, they've sent me back my Jim."

Walk.

Up the dusty road from Denver town
To where the mines their treasure hide,
The road is long and many miles
The golden styre and town divide.
Along this road one summer's day
There toiled a tired man
Begrimed with dust the weary way
He cussed as some folks can.
The stranger hailed a passing team
That slowly dragged its load along,
His hail roused up the teamster old
And checked his merry song.
"Say, stranger." "Wal, Whoap!"
"Ken I walk behind your load
A spell on this road?"
"Wal, no, yer can't walk, but git
Up on this seat and ride; get up hyer."
"Nope, that ain't what I want
For its in your tracks that's like a smudge
I want to trudge, for I deserve it."
"Wal, pard, I ain't no hog an' I don't Own this road afore nor hind,
So just get right in the dust
An' walk if that's the way yer 'clined.
Gee up. Ger lang," the driver said.
The creaking wagon moved again,
While close behind the stranger trudged,
And clouds of dust rose up again.
The teamster heard the stranger talk
As if two trudged behind his van,
Yet looking 'round could only spy
A single lonely man,
Yet heard the teamster words like these,
Come from the dust as from a cloud,
For the weary traveler spoke his mind,
His thoughts he uttered loud,
And this the burden of his talk:
"Walk, now, you — — walk,
Not the way you went to Denver,
Walk, — — jest walk.
Went up to mines and made your stake
'Nuff to take yer back to ther state
What yer never,
Wher'n hell's yer corn?
Wal walk, you — walk.
Dust in yer eyes, dust in yer nose,
Dust down your throat and thick
On yer clothes. Can't hardly talk?
I know it, but walk you — walk.
What did you do with all yer tin?
Ya-e blew every cent of it in:
Got drunk, got sober, got drunk again;
Well, walk — — jest walk.
Why when ye war that yer gold dust flew
Yer thought it fine ter keep op'nin' wine.
Now walk, you — walk.
Stop ter drink. What water—why that Water with you warn't anywhere,
'Twas wine, extra dry, oh! you flew high.
Now walk, you — walk.
Chokes yer, this dust. Wal that ain't the wust,
When yer get back where the diggin's are,
No pick, no shovel, no pan,
Wal, yer a healthy man,
Walk—jest walk."
The fools don't all go to Denver town
Nor do they all from the mines come down,
Most all of us have in our day
In some sort of shape—some kind of way
"Painted the town with the old stuff,"
"Dipped in stocks or made some bluff,"
Mixed wines, old and new,
Got caught in wedlock by a shrew,
Stayed out all night, tight,
Rolled home in the morning light
With crumpled tie and torn claw-hammer.
'N woke up next day with a "Katzenjammer."
And walk, oh — — how we are.
Now don't try to yank every bun
Don't try to have all the fun;
Don't think that you know it all,
Don't think that real estate won't fall.
Don't try to bluff on an ace,
Don't get stuck on a pretty face,
Don't believe every jay's talk,
For if you do, you bet you'll walk.

BUILDING MEN AT BANQUET

City's Architects Hosts to Contractors and Materials Dealers.

Mayor Speaks on Cooperation and Other Talks Are Made.

An address by Mayor Prince on building up a city and the important part taken by architects and contractors in helping along its development, was one of the features at a banquet given by Duluth architects to builders and building materials dealers at the Holland hotel on Saturday evening.

The mayor emphasized the need of co-operation between architects and the city building inspector in order that the requirements of the municipal ordinances may be met without friction.

Bentley P. Neff, secretary of F. A. Patrick & Co., gave an interesting talk, taking "Organization" as his topic. He pointed out the need of greater efforts on the part of the building trades to work together to make their organization more effective in producing results.

Mac Thomson spoke upon "The Relationship of the Architects to the Contractors and the Builders' Exchange." He outlined a plan whereby, with a corps of outside correspondents, he will be able to gather all the building news from Duluth's territory, and make it available to the architects and contractors of the city.

Addresses were also given by Arthur W. King, secretary-treasurer of the Woodruff Lumber company; Carl E. Nystrum and Ronald Smith of MacLeod & Smith.

A hit was made in the rendition of parodies on the popular songs of the day adapted to fit the architects, contractors and builders, by the Builders' exchange quintet. The quintet was composed of Sam Stroud, W. Sullivan, Clarence Nixon, Tom See and Henry Balsley.

A. Holstead, president of the Duluth Architects association, presided.

"STAG" DINNER AT NORTHLAND CLUB

The Northland Country club was the scene of a gala affair Saturday evening when the first "stag" party of the season was held. About 200 members were present, breaking all records for attendance at informal gatherings as well as enjoyment.

A dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock with the toastmaster and after-dinner speakers cut out. There were, however, a number of stunts which came in the nature of surprises from time to time during the evening. The musical program, which included a number of original hits, was in charge of A. F. M. Custance.

C. H. Bagley was in general charge of the affair. It is planned to hold similar gatherings every month.

GETS WORK FARM SENTENCE AND SEVERE REPRIMAND.

Gust Nikoll Heikkila, who pleaded guilty before Judge Ensign in district court Saturday afternoon to an information filed by Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, charging him with carrying a dangerous weapon, was given a 90-day sentence at the joint county and city work farm.

Heikkila was indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of assault in the second degree. It was charged that he wilfully shot Charles Teeri at a dance Nov. 21 last near Brookston. When tried under the indictment he was acquitted, but under the direction of the court was rearrested and held to the March grand jury on a charge of carrying a dangerous weapon. Heikkila's excuse for the shooting was that the gun was accidentally discharged.

The court gave the prisoner a severe reprimand.

WEST END

PUTS BULLET INTO BRAIN

B. August Davis Carries Out Threat to End His Life.

Wife and Child Flee—Return in Morning to Find Body.

B. August Davis, age 46, committed suicide late Saturday night by firing a bullet from a 38-72 Winchester rifle into his mouth. The bullet went through the brain and death was instantaneous.

Davis arrived home from the woods on Wednesday. He had spent about two months working in the lumber camps. His wife told the police yesterday that he has threatened to shoot her, and when he came home Saturday evening and asked his 14-year-old son to come upstairs to help him load his rifle, the son and mother left the house for that of a neighbor.

At 1 o'clock Sunday morning his daughter, Esther Davis, age 21, arrived home from a dance. She brushed against the body of her father, but believing that he was in a stupor and not finding other members of the family home she also went out to the home of a neighbor. The body was not discovered until 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when his son entered the house.

Davis leaves only the widow and two children. He also has a brother, John H. Davis, a barber at Thirty-ninth avenue and Oneota street, and another brother at Granleigh, Minn.

Mrs. Davis told the police that her husband had shown signs of being mentally unbalanced recently and was of the opinion that this was the cause of the suicide. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family home, Thirty-second avenue west and Eighth street, with interment in the Union cemetery.

Martha Washington Tea.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain at a "Martha Washington tea" in the parlors of the church tomorrow afternoon. FIVE DAYS MORE TO PAY TAXES

Saturday is the last day for the payment of personal property taxes without penalty. After Feb. 27, a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to all delinquent collections. The office is closed today, Washington's birthday, which leaves only five days more in which the taxes may be paid without penalty. Real estate taxes, or the first half of them, become delinquent June 1. The second half must be paid before Nov. 1, to avoid penalty.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clear and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

BIG BAKED POTATO SEPARATE COURSE

Feature of Annual Banquet of Far Western Travelers.

However varied their lines of business, the Far Western Trvelers association had much in common in their getting together 1,465 members at their recent annual banquet at the Astor hotel in New York City, but the particular feature of common interest was in their being served a great big baked potato as a separate course. The moment that these 1,500 three-pound potatoes entered the dining room, a note of recognition resounded from every table: "Just like we get on the Northern Pacific dining cars." These potatoes were also a wonder to millions of New York people who saw them while being paraded through the streets for five hours, carried upon an eight-ton auto truck of the American Express company, bearing a sign, "These potatoes furnished by the Northern Pacific railway to be served at the Astor hotel to the Far Western Travelers association Feb. 9."

These two tons of potatoes required 478 square feet of oven space for their baking and while it taxed its ovens to the fullest extent, the Astor hotel creditably turned them out.

None the less remarkable as a work of art was the immense fruit cake weighing 330 pounds, the product of the Northern Pacific's bake shop at Seattle. The base cake was surmounted by a miniature dining car done in sugar, complete in every detail and electrically lighted. The interior of the car showed the range, tables, chairs and flowers upon the tables, and a reproduction of the great big baked potato being served. Above the car supported by four sugar covered and decorated posts was another fruit cake bearing the official emblem of the association. The entire production was decorated in sugar in such an artistic manner that the guests went wild with enthusiasm and expressions of appreciation of the most wonderful creation of bakers' art."

WILL HEAR APPEAL ON LIQUOR CODE

Arguments will be made before the supreme court in St. Paul tomorrow on the appeal now pending from the decision of District Judge Dancer upholding the validity of the Hicken liquor code ordinance which was adopted by Duluth voters at a special referendum election Sept. 16, 1913. W. W. Clayton, contestant, will be represented by Hugh J. McClearn, and the city by City Attorney Harvey Clapp.

STATE EDITORS ELECT.

J. C. Morrison of Morris Is Chosen President.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—The Minnesota State Editorial association wound up its annual meeting here Saturday afternoon by electing these officers: J. C. Morrison of Morris, president; Harry M. Wheeland of Fergus Falls, first vice president; Farley A. Dare of Walker, second vice president; A. O. Moreaux of Luverne, third vice president; Herman Roe of Northfield, secretary, and H. C. Hotaling of Mapleton, retiring president, was elected treasurer. President Morrison, Secretary Roe and Treasurer Hotaling are ex-office members of the executive committee, and the other members are Frank Meyst, Minneapolis; N. H. Ingersoll, Brainerd, and E. K. Whiting, Owatonna.

The report of the legislative committee, approving two bills now before the legislature, one requiring the school boards of independent school districts to publish their official proceedings in the local paper, and another requiring the publication of personal property tax lists was adopted.

A Word of Precaution.

Why are any but vegetable preparations unsafe for infants and children?

Why are Syrups, Cordials and Drops condemned by all Physicians and most laymen?

Why has the Government placed a ban on all preparations containing, among other poisonous drugs, Opium in its variously prepared forms and pleasing tastes, and under its innumerable names?

These are questions that every Mother will do well to inquire about.

Any Physician will recommend the keeping of Fletcher's Castoria in the house for the common ailments of infants and children.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

S. J. Briggs & Co., of Providence, R. I., say: "We have sold Fletcher's Castoria in our three stores for the past twenty years and consider it one of the best preparations on the market."

Mansur Drug Co., of St. Paul, Minn., says: "We are not in the habit of recommending proprietary medicines, but we never hesitate to say a good word for Castoria. It is a medical success."

Hegeman & Co., of New York City, N. Y., say: "We can say for your Castoria that it is one of the best selling preparations in our stores. That is conclusive evidence that it is satisfactory to the users."

W. H. Chapman, of Montreal, Que., says: "I have sold Fletcher's Castoria for many years and have yet to hear of one word other than praise of its virtues. I look upon your preparation as one of the few so called patent medicines having merit and unhesitatingly recommend it as a safe household remedy."

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEARLY TEN MILES OF VIRGINIA PAVING

One Mile Was Laid By Range City Last Year.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—That this city is progressive in the matter of paving is shown by figures being prepared by Timekeeper D. Hayes as to the amount of public work done during 1914. This report will show that the city has nine and one-half miles of paving, of which one mile was put in last year. One and one-fourth miles of road was built to the Prindle mine. Over 2,500 yards of gravel was spread on the Wolf road and the Gilbert and Eveleth roads widened, raised and several needed culverts put in. A new road was also built to the gas plant and several blocks of streets opened on the North side.

Grading for four and one-half miles of sidewalk was made and one mile of wooden sidewalk built to West Virginia as well as five blocks of wood sidewalk in Fairview. Over 5,000 yards of filling were put in on the market site.

Built Three and a Half Miles of Sewer.

The sewer system in the residence part of the city were greatly improved, over three and one-half miles of sewer being added. Of this, 8,205 feet was sanitary sewer, 1,100 feet of which was tunneled on the North side, and 7,781 feet of storm sewer, of which 786 feet was for the North side, was placed, as well as the six-foot sewer.

During the year 4,596 blocks of paving were flushed, using 141 shifts of men. The labor cost $1,903, while repairs and gasoline cost $483.19, the total being $483.19, or the cost per block of flushing amounting to 52 cents.

The blacksmith shop and steam roller sheds were moved to the market site. A building, a shed for the farmers' horses, 30 by 120 feet, was erected and a man is in charge there, the stalls being used daily.

A new warming house for the ice rink was built and the three others repaired and set in place where the rinks are maintained.

Work has started on the new sewer to be constructed from the end of the Six-foot sewer to the North side storm sewer, or from the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific depot to the alley between Walnut and Chestnut streets on Virginia avenue. The pipe has arrived for the new sewer. Each pipe weighs 1,158 pounds.

BIWABIK'S WATER PROSPECTS BETTER

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new shaft for the village water works at the Biwabik mine is already producing enough water to obviate any danger of a water famine.

The men sinking the well are now down more than thirty feet, and by working but two eight-hour shifts and using the water that accumulates in the well during the other eight hours it has been possible to meet the demand.

Members of the council now feel assured that they will find plenty of water in this well. The present plan being to go down 200 feet from the bottom of the old shaft. Of course they will stop sooner if they should encounter a heavy flow of water, but there is little reason to expect this. It is the general belief that there will be a gradual increase in the amount of water secured. If the increase keeps up at the same rate this will certainly be the case.

NEW COACHES COMING.

M. & R. R. Railroad Will Improve Its Equipment.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 22.—General Manager C. H. Morey of the M. & R. R. Ry., states that the two new coaches ordered some time ago for his road are about to leave the shops and after a little painting to be done they will be shipped. They will arrive by March 1.

J. M. Jones has returned from Benidji where he was in a hospital for several weeks and was operated upon for ailment arising from the operation he had a year ago the result of a knife wound. He is feeling well.

J. B. Miller of Lake Jessie township who three weeks ago went to Duluth and had an operation on the same day he arrived at the hospital for appendicitis, has returned and is getting along nicely.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN GRAND RAPIDS JAIL

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Leo Bonn of Sioux City, Iowa, left here Saturday afternoon with the body of her husband, who died in a cell Friday night, taking it to Iowa for interment.

Bonn was a barber by trade and with his wife came recently from Sioux City to Deer River. He is said to have been a morphine fiend and was arrested at White Oak Lake, near Deer River, while running about aimlessly in the snow and apparently trying to freeze himself to death while suffering from the lack of the drug. He was brought here to the county jail to be examined, and Friday night was found dead with his head in a pail of water. The sheriff claims he was taken with heart failure and fell so that his head was immersed in the water and he drowned, but some contend he deliberately stuck his head into the water to end his life. He was about 32.

McCARTHY TO SPEAK.

Grand Rapids Man to Tell of Debt Owed to Washington.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 22.—The Woman's club will give a patriotic concert and entertainment in the public library today as a tribute to the name and fame of Washington. The library is appropriately decorated for the occasion and the women in charge will appear in Colonial costumes. The following program will be given: "Our Indebtedness to George Washington," C. C. McCarthy; vocal solo, selected, Miss Mabel Nordstrom; reading, Mrs. Sherman Dickinson; vocal solo, Miss Mae Benton; reading, Miss Florence Burlingame; vocal solo, Mrs. H. C. Lawrence; patriotic songs, ladies' quartet, Misses Ashton, Benton Nordstrom and Mrs. McGeat; song, "America," audience. The piano accompaniment will be played by Mrs. G. E. Hoepper.

PLAY TIE GAME.

Two Harbors and Proctor Girls Not Able to Finish Contest.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local high school girls and the Proctor city girls' basket ball teams played a tie game at the Y. M. C. A. here Saturday evening. After a desperate struggle consisting of two grilling twenty-minute halves the game ended with the score 8 to 8. As the visiting team wanted to leave for their home on the 9 o'clock train, it was impossible to play the tie off. The gym was packed with several hundred fans. Esther Sullivan and Ruby Kernan were the most effective performers for the local aggregation.

The line-up:

Two Harbors—		Proctor—
Anderson	f	Alice McCabe
Kernan	f	Kate Rappold
Sullivan	f	Ruth Brayden
Strand	g	Eva Brayden
Daniels	g	Mary McCabe
		Sub. Brayden

AURORA OPERETTA IS SUCCESSFULLY GIVEN.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The operetta, "In Little Folks' Land," which was given by the school children up to the sixth grade in the Hearding auditorium was the best and most popular entertainment that has been given here by the school children. The whole affair represented a grand carnival and the children from the different grades represented the nationalities, the trades and the sports. The affair was produced in typical carnival style and was jolly and full of life throughout. The teachers have been roundly credited for the success that attend their efforts. As a prologue the children from the kindergarten put on a bedtime sketch which was exceptionally well carried out.

BEAR RIVER VALLEY PHONE LINE ASSURED.

Bear River, Minn., Feb 22.—Bids for poles for the new Bear River Valley Telephone company will be opened at a meeting of the company Wednesday night. Stock to the amount of $2,100 has been sold, of which $450 was raised at a meeting of the Farmers' club, which has fathered the organization.

The following officers have been elected for 1915: R. W. Block, president; J. A. Westling, vice president; A. C. Brude, secretary and treasurer.

WIRT MUST GO DRY.

Itasca County Board Will Issue No License in That Town.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 22.—As it is located in the territory included in the Indian "dry" treaty the town of Wirt will be denied a liquor license by the Itasca county board. George Hauck sought the license and County Commissioner King took up the question with the agents of the interior department, Messrs. Brandt and Larson, who have charge of the enforcement of the decree of the supreme court with regard to closing the saloons in territory included in the Indian treaty of 1855.

Failing to get a satisfactory reply from the agents of the board cause a letter to be written to Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs. The reply received merely referred the board to the court's decisions. No more licenses will be granted for the present.

MANY RODENTS SLAIN.

Virginia Boys Have Slaughtered 4,606 Since Bounty Was Offered.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Since the city offered a bounty for dead rats last May, the boys of the city have slaughtered 4,606 of the rodents and received 5 cents for each killing, according to City Clerk Bickford.

The boys have not been bringing in as many as many rates of late as the pests are pretty well exterminated, though it is not likely the bounty will be removed.

October proved the banner month for rat-killing, 805 being brought in at that time. In all $230.30 has been paid out in rat bounties.

WILL ENTER MINISTRY.

Biwabik Teacher to Follow Calling of His Late Father.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 22.—George Gamble, son of Rev. G. H. Gamble, former pastor of Baptist churches in this city and St. Paul, who died suddenly at Byron last Thursday night, has publicly announced that he will enter the ministry, taking up the work, he says, left undone by his father.

Mr. Gamble is a teacher in the Biwabik public schools, but in his declaration to Rev. E. R. Pope, state superintendent of Baptist missions, he said that the moment he received the news of his father's death he vowed to enter the ministry. He proposes to begin at once to prepare for his new field.

William Gamble, another son of Rev. Mr. Gamble, is at the state university. He plans to enter foreign fields as a medical missionary.

TEN AFTER TREASURERSHIP.

No Dearth of Candidates for That Hibbing Job.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The job of village treasurer looks good to ten people who have filed for the position: Harry J. Burnham, Robert Gelselman, Mike Gleason, H. H. Nelson, Stephen O. Geiser, James Albertini, W. A. Cox, Fred McComber, Axel Sandberg, and Richard Kohrt.

V. L. Power and A. E. Templeton have filed for village president, while Village Recorder Haley is opposed for reelection by Edward Tatro.

Candidates for village trustee are Rupert Swinnerton, E. V. Cassidy, Frank Di Marco, and Trustees B. J. Burrows and John Curran, for reelection.

PRETTY ELY WEDDING.

Miss Elaine Mattson Becomes Bride of Joseph Booth of Virginia.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A pretty wedding occurred here on Sunday morning at 9:30, when Miss Joyce Elaine Mattson of this city became the bride of Joseph Leigh Booth of Virginia, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mattson, on Sheridan street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Mepheon, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Only immediate relatives were present. The house was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and the bride wore a bouquet of bride roses. The couple left on the 1 o'clock train the same day for an extended wedding trip at Duluth, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and St. Paul. They will reside in Virginia.

VIRGINIA DOG OWNERS ARE ENJOYING RACES.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chestnut street is thronged this afternoon, the occasion being the dog races being pulled off on that thoroughfare by owners of speedy canines. Several purses have been hung up and, despite the storm, conditions seem to favor some fast running.

BIWABIK SCHOOL REPORT FOR JANUARY.

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.) — Superintendent of Schools J. E. Lunn reports for the month of January that the enrollment totaled 590, while 561 attended during the month. The average daily attendance was 538.7, making the percentage of attendance 91.12. The number neither absent or tardy was 353, with 51 cases of tardiness. The minutes lost by tardiness totaled 237. Miss Weitzel's room had the highest percentage of attendance, 99.30.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

HIBBING BANKER TO TAKE STATE JOB.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 22.—J. L. Lewis, for several years cashier of Merchants & Miners' State bank here, and for the last year secretary of the Hibbing Commercial club, will leave here March 20, to make his home in St. Paul. He accepted a position as examiner in the office of the state insurance commissioner, Samuel D. Works.

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Robley Male quartet, the last feature in the Lyceum Course entertainments for this winter will appear in the high school auditorium this evening.

Boat Company Elects.

Many Seek Citizenship Papers.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 22.—The application of forty-three persons were heard Saturday at a special term of court held before Judge Hughes in this city and twenty-five persons were granted citizenship papers.

Since the war in Europe an especially large number of foreign-born citizens have expressed their desire to become Americans.

Duluth Central Won.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 22.—The Duluth Central high school backet ball team defeated the local high school five here Saturday night, 20 to 19, in one of the hardest fought contests seen here this winter. The game was a see-saw, first one and then the other side being ahead until the whistle blew.

Gheen Man Acts Queerly.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 22.—Leo Stumer who was picked up on the streets here while acting queerly has been taken to Duluth to be examined as to his sanity. Stumer was at one time an inmate of the detention hospital at Fergus Falls, but temporarily regained his sanity and was released. He was picked up by patrolmen on suspicion. He gave the patrolmen a two-block race before he was apprehended. Stumer is a homesteader near Gheen.

Virginians to Conference.

Aurora Band Concert.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The City band has announced a band concert for Monday night, March 1, at the Hearding auditorium. There will be no admission charged. The band gave a free concert some time ago, which proved very popular with the Aurora people, and the boys have determined to show that they can repeat with an entire new program.

LUMBERMEN WILL MEET AT FARGO

Annual Gathering of North Dakota Organization on This Week.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Retail Lumbermen's association will meet here next Wednesday and Thursday. The officers are, F. C. Potter of Cooperstown, president; N. P. Reed, Beach, vice president; H. T. Alsop, Fargo, secretary; W. C. Goddard, Grace City, treasurer.

Wednesday forenoon will be devoted to registration and personal greetings in the rooms of the local builders and traders' exchange, where the sessions will be held.

Will Welcome Visitors.

Wednesday afternoon, President Emery of the Fargo city commission will welcome the visitors and the response will be by President Potter. J. H. Chubb will discuss "The Uses of Cement on the Farm." The annual reports of President Potter, Secretary Alsop and Treasurer Goddard will be read.

In the evening the visiting delegates will be taken to a vaudeville entertainment, after which they will be entertained at a smoker given by the local builders and traders.

Thursday forenoon the delegates will be addressed by Secretary Hardy of the Commercial club, by the association attorney and newspaper men in a discussion of advertising.

Frank B. Stockdale of Chicago will deliver the only address Thursday afternoon, and this will be followed by routine business and the election of the officers.

The annual banquet will be held Thursday evening.

CIVIL SERVICE TESTS.

Many Federal Positions Will Be Filled in Near Future.

A large number of civil service examinations will be given in Duluth during the months of March and April. These will be in charge of E. M. Barker, superintendent of the registry division of the local postoffice. The list follows:

TRACTION MEN DINE.

Office and Shop Employes Hear Interesting Program.

Office and shop employes of the Duluth Street Railway company enjoyed a banquet Saturday evening at the "English Inn." The affair was attended by nearly forty employes. The men walked both ways from the end of the Woodland street car line.

D. C. Moore, superintendent of the company, was toastmaster. A talk on "Safety First" was given by R. H. Wellington, general claim agent. Others who gave short talks were Herbert Warren, vice president and general manager; Thomas Wood, general counsel for the company; S. L. Reichert, A. Williams, superintendent of the Superior lines, John Carson, chief engineer, and others.

BOWMAN JUDGESHIP COMES UP ON FEB. 28.

Bowman, N. D., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The court has set Feb. 28 as the date of the hearing of the contest over the county judgeship. Judge Deihl was defeated last November for re-election and started a contest against E. P. Totten, his successful opponent, on the alleged ground that Totten had violated the corrupt practices act and had bribed the voters by offering to accept a less salary for his services than provided by law.

MERCURY DROP IS PREDICTED

Stretch of Mild Weather "Unusual, But Not Rare."

Only Three Days at or Below Normal—Shifting Wind.

"The present kind of weather is unusual but not rare for this time of year," said Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson, when asked about it this morning.

"Looking back over the records," he continued, "one will find a number of such Februarys. However, this year, with three exceptions, each day in this month has had a temperature that was above normal for that day. The exceptions were the first, when the temperature was 8 deg. above while the normal was 10; the eighth with 12 deg. above and the normal, 12; and the ninth with 6 deg. above and the normal, 10. The straight stretch of above-normal days began on the tenth, when the temperature was 19 deg. above and the normal was 12, and each day since has been 5 to 10 deg. above normal.

At 11 o'clock, the thermometer had dropped about 1 deg. an the barometer was beginning to misbehave, according to the weather forecaster, and that meant a fall in the temperature. Mr. Richardson said that he looked for the wind to shift to the north and a colder spell to start this afternoon, the thermometer dropping to about 20 deg. above zero by tonight, in which case the ice at the curling rink will be in better shape for the hockey game as it does not take long to harden when the weather gets colder.

Premature Spring Signs.

The unusually long stretch of mild weather, it is claimed, is bringing on premature plant development in some parts of the city. Word comes from Woodland that lilac bushes there are budding—not flowering, as should be understood. And from various parts of the city word is received that willow trees are developing buds.

At any rate it is certain that the very mild weather of the last few days has played havoc with the snow and ice about the city. Yesterday and Saturday night, the thaw, helped by the rain, developed many bare spots. A freeze just now would necessitate the use of much sand and ashes to prevent the walks from being dangerous, in view of the fact that on a great many of the streets and avenues no attention is being paid to the city ordinance requiring the clearing off of walks.

The curling bonspiel for the state championship—now in progress—is going on under a severe weather handicaj, and unless a freeze sets in soon some of the curlers may have to take out navigation papers and use sails on their rocks.

Snow Flurries.

Local forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges:

Snow flurries this afternoon, tonight and probably Tuesday.

Colder tonight with lowest temperature about 20 deg. at Duluth and Superior and 10 to 15 deg. above on the iron ranges.

Shippers' Forecast.

Protect shipments of perishable produce against temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 deg. above zero in North Dakota, Minnesota and Western Wisconsin.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light rain or snow fell during the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours over Central, Southern and Western states. Rather mild weather prevails in Central and Eastern states and the Far West. The temperature has turned colder over the Dakotas and portions of Western Canada. Temperatures varying from zero to about 20 deg. above occurred this morning in Western Canada, Montana and North Dakota."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably light snow. Colder tonight.

Upper Michigan—Probably rain or snow tonight and Tuesday; colder Tuesday.

Iowa—Rain, probably turning to snow tonight and Tuesday; colder tonight and in east portion Tuesday.

North and South Dakota—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably snow flurries. Colder in east portions tonight.

Newspaper Plant Burns.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 22.—The buildings and plant of the Register and Leader, morning, and Des Moines Tribune, afternoon, newspapers here, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss exceeds $200,000, about three-fourths of which was covered by insurance. Gardner Cowles, publisher and principal owner of the two papers, said the plant would be rebuilt immediately. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Heads Michigan Dairymen.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 22.—Frank H. Vandenboom, dairyman of this city, was re-elected president of the State Dairymen's association at Flint, Mich., where the state dairymen have been holding their annual convention.

Quickly Relieves Without Distress

The congestion of waste and refuse from the stomach, fermenting in the bowels, generates poisonous gases that occasion distress and invite serious illness. Health and comfort demand that this congestion be speedily relieved and the foul mass expelled.

The well-founded objection most people have to the violence of cathartic and purgative agents is overcome by using the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A dose at night brings relief next morning, without discomfort or inconvenience. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

BOYS BREAK THROUGH ICE

Presence of Mind of Harry Dahl Saves Two Lives.

Two embryo auto enthusiasts, bound for the races on the ice this morning, were saved from a watery grave by Harry Dahl, 119 East Superior street, who saw them walk off into an air-hole, and pulled them out.

The two boys, both aged 9, were Carl Carlson, 720 Sixth avenue east, and Edwin Rodahl, 607 Sixth avenue east.

They had their fathers tell of the races to be held on the ice and determined to do a little exploring this morning, and see the amateur Barney Oldfields in action.

Starting across the lake near Second avenue east, the Carlson boy was deceived by sawdust from the sewer near that point, and walked off into soft ice, sinking almost instantly, despite his efforts to cling to the firm ice. His companion, in attempting to pull him out, also went too far.

Dahl heard the boys cry out, and ran towards them, pulling the belt from his mackinaw as he ran. He threw the Carlson lad an end of the belt and pulled him out, while the Rodahl boy clung to his companion's arm.

Dahl brought the pair to police headquarters and they were taken to their respective homes in the police automobile, although they insisted that "they didn't want to go home and let their mothers see them until their clothes were dry."

RESULTS ARE NOT YET DECISIVE

Fighting in Carpathians Continues Without Advantage to Either Side.

London, Feb. 22.—Fighting in the Carpathian mountains still is being fiercely prosecuted by the Russian and Austro-German forces but apparently without decisive results for either side. These mountain passes are now recognized by army men as forming the most difficult section of the long eastern battle front and the impression is growing among military observers in London that the other movements of both the Russians and the Germans are merely strategical operations designed to affect the result of the desperate struggle at the gateway to Hungary.

The French claim officially not only to have repulsed German counter attacks in the Champagne region but to have captured an entire section of German trenches to the north and east of the woods taken the day before.

At the eastern end of the western front the Germans have moved forward on the Alsatian flank of the Vosges mountains in the region to the west of Kolmar.

PREPAREDNESS FOR WAR IS DISCUSSED

Washington, Feb. 22.—War and preparedness for war were the sole topics of discussion today in congress, the senate debating the army bill and the house working on appropriations for coast fortifications.

Chairman Chamberlain of the senate military committee, gave notice that legislation for an army of 250,000 men and a reserve system would be taken up at the next session.

"With reorganization along these lines," said he, "the United States will be in a position to meet all dangers within or without the nation."

In the house, Representative Gardner declared that at the present rate it would be eighteen years before coast defense guns had sufficient ammunition for an hour's engagement and that the coast fortifications could be taken from the rear.

WORKING OVERTIME.

Chicago News: A couple of Boston physicians were swapping stories of their odd experiences, when one told the following:

"I called upon a lazy patient of mine to see a new baby. I found the infant all battered up—black and blue in spots. 'What's the matter with him?' I asked the mother.

"'Nathin much,' said the parent. 'Ye see, he was christened yistiday, and while his daddy was holdin' him the 6-o'clock whistle blew.'"

DANGEROUS DEBILITY

Debility may result from a number of causes—worry, after-effects of acute illness, lack of nourishment due to disordered digestion, or anything that makes the blood thin, thereby preventing it from carrying health and nourishment to the tissues of the body.

The symptoms of debility vary but weakness is always present, often a tendency to fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep.

Debility is dangerous because it weakens the body's defense against disease. For instance, debilitated people take cold easily and winter is always a trying time for them. When one cold follows another the system surely needs building up.

The treatment of such run-down conditions with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is based on sound medical principles and common sense. These pills build up the blood so that it nourishes every part of the body, nerves as well as muscles and brings vigor, strength and health.

Mention this paper and we will mail you the booklet "Building Up the Blood." Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember, the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WOODSMAN IS DEAD OF BLOW

Unknown Lumberjack Expires Unexpectedly in Carlton County Jail.

Taken From St. Louis County Lumber Camp While Acting Queerly.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The St. Louis county authorities probably will have another murder case on their hands as the result of the death in jail here early today of a woodsman believed to have been mortally assaulted in that county. His name has not been learned and the coroner from Cloquet is trying to ascertain something about him.

He was employed in camp 24 of the Northern Lumber company, which is situated in St. Louis county. He acted so queerly he was arrested and taken to the Cloquet jail.

Thought He Was Crazy.

Believing the case was a Carlton county one because of his being possibly insane the man was brought here. He died very suddenly in the local county jail about 2 o'clock this morning. A superficial examination disclosed he had been struck on the head by some blunt instrument and it is believed his skull was fractured.

The coroner is here from Cloquet and aided by Dr. Watkins will perform an autopsy this afternoon. If this discloses the woodsman was killed by a blow on the head the St. Louis county authorities will take up the case and try to find out who delivered the fatal blow.

There appears to be nothing on the man to identify him.

MOOSE LAKE MEN WERE NOT FINED

Cases of Selling Liquor Illegally Not Yet Disposed of.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The three Moose Lake saloonmen—H. K. Lower M. Mershler and Joe King—indicted by the late grand jury for selling liquor in that village, after the supreme court had held the village was dry along with the township, have not yet been fined nor have they pleaded guilty, as was stated in The Herald.

It develops they contemplated pleading guilty on condition they get off with straight fines, but as the law requires a jail sentence too the pleas have not been entered. The cases will come up before Judge Dancer in a few days when their counsel will decide whether they will plead guilty or stand trial.

GRIFFITH HEADS LEAGUE.

Grand Forks Man Succeeds Self in North Dakota Organization.

Others officers were elected as follows: J. P. Jackson, Bismarck, vice president; C. A. MacNamara, Fargo, secretary; R. M. Pollock, Fargo, treasurer.

WILDWOOD PROGRESSIVE

Little Koochiching County Community Has Up-to-Date School.

Northome, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifteen miles east of here, in Koochiching county is Wildwood, a wide awake community. The little log schoolhouse has given place to a substantial frame structure and this is Wildwood's social center.

The school has an enrollment of twenty-one, graded from first year to the third year of high school. The spirit of the school is a young man born in the famous Red River valley, educated at Warren and teaching now under the best county superintendent in the state—Annie E. Sheeland. H. I. Magladrey, teacher at Wildwood, leads in all the activity of this community. There is a thriving farmers' club with attendance of sixty, and a great interest is shown in the programs given by this club. Under Mr. Magladry's management, a play was given by the younger members of the club that proved a great success.

Not to be outdone by the trained domestic science teachers, Mr. Magladry organized a bread-making club and held a contest at Wildwood at the time of the spelling contest. Maude Rousse won at the local contest, and entered the county contest at International Falls, Feb. 13.

Again she won first place in class "B" and received hearty congratulations from a large body of teachers.

Mr. Magladry won much praise from the judge of the bread contest, Mrs. Margaret Baker of the university extension.

SETTLERS PROFIT BY TIMBER SALES

Men Living Around Floodwood Do Well Selling Forest Products.

Floodwood, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Garfield Blackwood, local representative of the National Woodenware company of Hill City, reports he paid nearly $12,000 to local settlers during ten days up to Feb. 20, for hardwood and spruce bought by that company. About $10,000 was paid by the Floodwood Mercantile company to farmers for spruce and balsam timber. There are several smaller dealers in timber here whose figures were not obtained, but it can be safely stated that between $25,000 and $30,000 have been distributed among Floodwood settlers in the last two weeks. Probably one-fourth of this money has been paid for balsam timber, which few years ago had no market, and the settlers had to burn it. Neither has there been here a market for hardwood bolts, until the National Woodenware company at Hill City created it. There is principally hardwood timber in this vicinity and settlers consider themselves getting rid of their timber at a good price, which is paid cash upon delivery and inspection.

WANT AUTOS IN PARK.

Yellowstone Trail Association Asks to Have Privilege Granted.

Montevideo, Minn., Feb. 22.—The Yellowstone Trail association at its meeting just held here passed resolutions urging that the interior department admit automobiles to Yellowstone Park with the provision that the association will be satisfied with any regulations the department may deem it necessary to impose if the autos are given entrance. P. W. Parmley of Ipswitch, S. D., was re-elected president. The other officers are: F. H. Barnard, Aberdeen, first vice president; G. P. Sull, Marmath, N. D., second vice president. Oscar Rohn, Butte; E. E. Hogoboom, Bowman, N. D.; Anton Karpen, Webster, S. D., and M. J. Dowling, Olivia, Minn., members of the executive committee. The secretary is to be chosen by the committee.

The conduct of the nation-wide publicity campaign to attract coast-to-coast tourists, was left to the larger cities on the extended trail, including Minneapolis, Spokane and Seattle.

RECOVERS LOST MONEY.

Crookston Woman Gets Back $30 Lost in Mail to Germany.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 22.—Thirty dollars lost in Germany at the beginning of the war has been recovered by Miss Lena Sparby, who was in Europe at that time. Miss Sparby, while traveling on the continent during July, was expecting the arrival of $30 in a letter from home. The letter never came.

Miss Sparby was surprised to find among her letters one from Germany in which was inclosed a $30 money order. Miss Sparby had given up the money as lost.

NEW SETTLERS COME.

Several Families Are Located in Aitkin County.

Aitkin, Minn., Feb. 22.—G. F. Fargher, a former Duluth land dealer, who is bringing settlers to this section has located several families in the vicinity of McGregor.

They came from Manchester, Iowa, and are the advance guard of a number of others who will come before spring opens.

The new settlers are J. W. Elder, W. D. Schmidt, Fred Rutan and A. E. Wood and families.

J. W. Elder has leased the Maddy hotel at McGregor, having assumed charge on Feb. 15.

FATAL FALL DOWN STAIRS

Rapid River Homesteader Loses His Life at Spooner, Minn.

Spooner, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Munroe, a well known homesteader of the Rapid River district met an accidental death early Sunday, when he fell headlong down the steep stairs of the Yan hotel and broke his neck. An inquest was held by Coroner F. E. Johnson, a verdict of accidental death being returned.

SETTLE NEAR FLOODWOOD.

Families Are Being Located in That Section Quite Rapidly.

Floodwood, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. I. Idzorek, resident agent for the Iron Range Railroad company land department, has sold lands to Polish families from Montana and one a Scandinavian family from Lac Qui Parle county, Minn. There were 320 acres sold, or about fifty-five acres to each family. The purchasers have gone after their families, and will start putting up houses as soon as they arrive and clear some land for a garden in the spring. In the meantime they will live in the village.

The railroad company's local agent brought into this district during the past year between twenty-five and twenty-six families, whose combined purchases total about 1,600 acres, or about sixty acres to each family.

OLDER BOYS CONCLUDE BRAINERD CONFERENCE

Next Year's Convention Will Be Held at Detroit.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second Northern Minnesota Older Boys' Sunday school conference in convention here elected these officers: President, Ingolf Dillan of Brainerd; vice president, Charles Haycroft of Bemidji; secretary, Harley Jones of Detroit.

The convention meets next year in Detroit. This city had a delegation of 1 adult and 17 boys at the convention and the invitation was almost unanimously accepted.

One hundred and fifty boy delegates, aged 15 to 19, were present at the banquet Saturday evening at the Gardner auditorium, where the principal address was made by Sherman Coy on "Playing the Game."

Resolutions Adopted.

The resolutions adopted thank the people of Brainerd for their hospitality and courtesy; discuss Sunday school work in relation to dividing up towns in districts; take a stand for temperance and advise all boys to sign the pledge; discourage the use of tobacco and cigarets, and advocate the conduct which would gain the approval of their mothers.

On Sunday representative adults and young men of the convention occupied pulpits of the city. Of the conference committee Prof. W. C. Cobb, superintendent of Brainerd schools, was chairman.

WILLS HIS PROPERTY THEN BLOWS OFF HEAD

Peter Moberg, Old Settler Living Near Floodwood, Kills Himself.

Floodwood, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Moberg, single, about 60 years old, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a rifle Sunday afternoon at his home on a farm in Prairie Lake township, about seven miles south of Floodwood. Before killing himself, he scribbled a note, in Norwegian, to his nephew, Albin Carlson, about 23 years old, who has been with him for about a year or two, in which he bequeathed all his real and personal property to the nephew, and asked him to take good care of his horses and the farm and to shoot the old dog that has been on the farm for about fifteen years. Another bequest of $200 was made to Hans Gjora, a neighbor who took care of Moberg when he was ill, some years ago, before the nephew arrived from the old country. No motive for the act is known.

Neighbor Hears Shot.

The young man was seen out in the yard by Fred Langhoff, a neighbor, who was walking along the road dividing his farm from Moberg's, at the time the shot rang out in the house. Both men hastened into the house, finding the body, with the head partly blown off, in a chair in a sitting position. Neighbors were at once notified. They took possession of the note left by Moberg, and Coroner McComb was notified. He is expected today to take charge of the remains and investigate the tragedy.

The deceased lived on his farm for nearly twenty years. He had pretty good buildings, had cleared considerable land, and the farm is worth about $4,000. It is situated on the bank of Moberg's lake. Besides the land, Moberg left some cash and personal property. So far as known he had no other relatives in this country except the nephew, to whom he willed the entire property. Moberg was a man of sober habits, industrious and very saving.

CRUSHED BY POLES.

Workman Killed at Woodrow, Minn., First Day He Worked.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—While unloading tamarack poles at the Wilcox mine at Woodrow, Frank Ravnikat was instantly killed when the load burst upon him as he chopped the stakes. Ravnikat had been working less than a day at the mine and had been instructed how to unload the poles. Growing careless, it is said, he chopped the wires of a carload and two of the stakes and the balance broke, the whole load tumbling on him and breaking his back. The body was taken to Brainerd. He was single, about 28 years old, born in Austria and leaves two brothers, Tony and Lawrence, employed at Barrows.

Revival at Calumet.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 22.—Rev. Walter Russell, synodical evangelist for the Presbyterian church in Michigan, Sunday opened a series of special meetings, which will continue for the next two weeks. Rev. Mr. Russell is visiting the Upper Peninsula and the Copper country for the first time.

Bury Mine Victim.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 22.—The remains of John McDermott, who was accidentally killed in No. 2 shaft at the Quincy mine on Thursday night, were buried in Forest Hill cemetery, Houghton, Sunday afternoon.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Prairie du Chien—George Gondek, allas George Cole, who confessed to burglarizing fourteen business places in Eastern Iowa since Jan. 4, and shooting Telegraph Operator Eddington at Ossian on Jan. 6, was sentenced to thirty years in prison by Judge Hobson at Decorah. The confessions were made here to Chief of Police Jones.

Madison—The Stemper bill to amend the Baker law, validating saloons outlawed by the supreme court's decision, has been set for hearing for next Wednesday before the assembly committee on excise and fees.

Bayfield—At the annual meeting of the Bayfield Peninsula Fruit association the following officers were elected: President, H. C. Hale; vice president, John Hauser; secretary, W. S. Powell, and treasurer, J. H. Sykes.

Grand Rapids—Miss Zoe Robinette, daughter of John Robinette of Babcock, was seriously injured in a runaway accident yesterday and there is little hope of her recovery.

Milwaukee—By pouring warm water down a man's throat, Chief Clerk McCue of the health department probably saved the life of a city hall employe, who was choking on a capsule lodged in the throat, which was hardened by cold water.

Washburn—Arthur Holverson, who is employed as teamster in the woods for the M. H. Sprague Lumber company, had a narrow escape from being killed when a sleigh load of logs on which he was riding rahn away. As the sleigh went around a big bend in the road it jumped out of the rut and this broke the neckyoke and knocked one of the horses down. The load of logs tipped over and Holverson was thrown from the load. One of the horses was buried with logs and Holyerson had his hip slightly injured in the accident.

Green Bay—Anna Paszke, alias Ruth Goldman, who has been held on charges of being implicated in burglaries for which John and Isabel Loring were sent to state prison last week, was returned to Chicago on Saturday by order of Judge Monohan.

Milwaukee—Mrs. Charlotte C. Terhune, widow of Theodore S. Terhune, and an old resident of Milwaukee, died Feb. 20 at her home here. Surviving are two sons, R. S. Dousman, Philadelphia, and D. A. Dousman, Milwaukee, and one daughter, Mary E. Dousman, Milwaukee.

Racine—Miss Mary Peterson, who was confined to the isolation hospital while suffering from smallpox and who later was presented with a bill for $14 by the county, has filed a communication with the health department in which she refuses to pay the bill because of alleged neglect and mistreatment at the institution.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—The Calumet No. 2 district school board has decided to build a four-room addition to the Centennial Heights school and one of similar size to the Centennial mine school. The improvements will cost about $12,000, but will increase the capacity of the schools of the district by about 300.

Escanaba—The municipal gas service will be extended to North Escanaba this season, as the result of action taken by the city council. The aldermen, by unanimous vote, gave permission to the board of public works to extend the mains through the Soo line ward from the present northern terminus.

Negaunee—Patrick Green of Ishpeming, aged 31, single, was struck by a C. & N. W. train Thursday night and died three hours later in Negaunee hospital. No one saw the accident and the crew of the train that struck him apparently knew nothing of it.

Ishpeming—John Watters, a resident of Ishpeming for the last forty-two years, has announced his candidacy for the nomination of treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Houghton—Lizzie Zwierckz, the domestic arrested on a charge of larceny from the student boarding house in which she was employed in East Houghton, was taken before Justice Bickkern for examination and bound over for trial at the circuit court. The girl could not give bonds and was remanded to jail.

Laurium—W. Ray Burt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burt of Laurium, has been selected as a member of the debating team which will represent the Detroit Oratorical society, an organization composed almost exclusively of students in the Detroit College of Law. The team will meet the Ferris Institute debaters in a contest on March 5.

Houghton—The Houghton village council selected Friday evening, Feb. 26, as the date of the annual village caucus. It takes place at the Amphidrome. The various boards to have charge of the election proceedings were appointed by President Hartman.

Laurium—Mrs. Irving Bryant, an old resident, died suddenly Feb. 19. Besides her husband, she is survived by her father, August Galby, one sister, Mrs. Lettie Weber of Gary, Ind., and one brother, Albert Galby, dispatcher for the Mineral Range road.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Formal transfer of the St. Bernard's academy property from the insurance company which owned the mortgage on it, to Dinnie brothers, has been made, consideration, $23,000. It is understood that Spriggs brothers are interested with Dinnie brothers in the property.

Bismarck, N. D.—For some weeks past the telephone service to Fort Yates has been discontinued by reason of the fact that difficulty was had in making a connection with the government line at Cannon Ball. The matter has been adjusted so that this connection is made and good service is now being maintained by the telephone company through to Fort Yates.

Fargo, N. D.—The Fargo city election will be held April 6 when the voters will be called on to name two city commissioners. The terms of J. J. Jordan and R. B. Blakemore expire this spring and the newly elected commissioners will hold office for four years.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Harry A. Lamb, formerly president of the defunct First State bank of McIntosh, died at the state penitentiary here from a tumor at the base of the brain, from which he had suffered for a number of years. Mr. Lamb was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary at the June term of circuit court in Corson county by Judge J. H. Bottum.

Mandan, N. D.—Rural free delivery, in force only in a few places in the eastern part of the state, must be installed in Western North Dakota counties within the next few months or the farmers will be sending special representatives to Washington, is the claim made here today.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota State Telephone association will be held here March 24 and 25. The present officers of the association are: President, L. D. Richardson, Fargo; Henry Wilkins, New Rockford, vice president; R. C. Baird, Fargo, secretary.

Minot, N. D.—Sailor Mechler of Minot, champion middleweight of North Dakota, will meet Charles Kleior of New Rockford champion lightheavyweight of the state, again at the Grand theater on the evening of Feb. 24.

Hebron, N. D.—The commission form of government is in a deadlock here. At a special election 122 votes were cast, which were divided for 61 to 61 against the issue. Judges declared that the proposition of incorporating carried, but the town board thinks differently.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Spooner — Oscar Hendrickson, a Swedish-Finn, was taken in custody by Immigration Inspector Don Gribble last week. A preliminary hearing was held at the immigration office and it was decided to take him to Crookston and held in custody, awaiting the decision of the immigration board.

Wahkon—The gasoline launch that W. T. Ebner had on the lake when he lived here will again ply the waters of Mille Lacs, having been shipped here from Elk River.

Fosston—O. J. Lomen, residing a short distance east of Fosston, has seed oats for sale. Mr. Lomen procured his original seed from the Great Northern experimental plot grown upon his farm several years ago. They are of the Swedish Select variety and have proved superior to any other kind grown in this locality, as far as he has been able to learn.

Roseau—The residence of Deputy Sheriff Mesenbrink was badly damaged by fire presumed to have started by an overheated stove. All the furniture was practically destroyed. Mr. Mesenbrink carried $850 insurance on the house and contents.

St. Cloud—The graves of forty veterans of the Civil war, who are resting in cemeteries at Melrose, Spring Hill and Grove, will be designated by neat metal markers to be produced by the St. Cloud Iron works. The county commissioners have authorized the purchase of these markers under authority granted them by statute.

Brainerd—The Nokay Lake Holstein Friesian association has been formed by T. C. Pointon, Roy Cook, George Dinwiddie, Fred F. Fleming, Will M. Meade, George Lake, M. W. Wickham and Otto Tynknynen. T. C. Pointon is president; Roy Cook, secretary, and George Dinwiddie, treasurer. The object is to improve the dairy cattle in Nokay Lake township.

Roseau—The village council decided to submit the proposition to bond the outstanding orders to the amount of 15,000 to a vote at the annual meeting.

Bemidji—Over sixty people will participate in the home talent production, "The Princess Chrysanthemum," which will be given about the middle of next month. Rhearsals are being held daily under the direction of Miss Margaret Newton.

Red Lake Falls—Many farmers' clubs are being formed in Red Lake county. The last community to become organized for social, educational and business betterment is that of School District No. 141, some four to six miles south of Plummer. The officers are Albert Frolland, president; John Hagen, vice president; Marius Waldahl, secretary-treasurer.

Crookston—The Northwestern Minnesota Blacksmith Mechanics association was organized here with these officers: O. H. Bjoln of Crookston, president; D. F. Brannan of Argyle, vice president; John Skog of Kennedy, secretary; C. C. Gullrud of Thief River Falls, treasurer.

East Grand Forks—As soon as weather conditions permit the Monarch Elevator company will commence the rebuilding of the elevator at Carthage Junction, recently destroyed by fire. A 30,000-bushel house, the capacity of the old one, will be built, with a number of added improvements and conveniences for the handling of grain.

Mahnomen—Peter Hawkinson and Nels Plomo, who left here the latter part of January for the Panama canal, returned home. Both men are agreed that the digging of the Panama canal was a great undertaking, and that a mere description of it is entirely inadequate to convey anything like a correct idea of the immensity of the work.

The Strongest Man in the World is only a baby when he lies on his back and takes orders from a rebellious stomach and a trained nurse. The best food to coax back the digestive organs to natural vigor is a food for invalids and athletes, for youngsters and grown-ups — contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The delicate, porous shreds of baked wheat are retained and digested when the stomach rejects all other foods.

Made in America

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. ST. PAUL HOCKEY TEAM READY FOR LINDER'S MEN

Ray Johns and Captain Kahler Confident of Winning.

Hobey Baker Will Not Play; Barkell Under the Weather.

Rain, snow, sleet, thaw or freeze—there will be a hockey game this evening at the Duluth Curling club rink.

Some of the followers of the game have anxiously been inquiring today whether a game will be played—it will.

Members of the St. Paul team are quartered at the Spalding hotel. Manager Ray Johns is confident concerning the outcome of the game. Capt. Nick Kahler of the down state aggregation is equally imbued with optimism.

"Watch our team tonight," said Johns. "We have one of the fastest hockey teams ever organized in this part of the Northwest. We expect to win and we are going to start with a lot of confidence in our ability to defeat what we know is one of the best teams in the West."

Nick Kahler kicked in with the following, to-wit: "We defeated Duluth on the Hippodrome ice, and at that time our team was not as experienced as it is at the present time. While we will be without the services of Goheen, nevertheless we expect to be returned victors."

Hobey Baker Not Here.

All rumors concerning whether Hobey Baker, former Princeton football captain and generally acknowledged as the greatest college hockey player in the world, were set at rest today when it was positively announced by the St. Paul men that the Princeton athlete would not appear in the lineup of the St. Paul septet.

There are a large number of St. Paul rooters on hand for the contest. In the sympathy chord thing the visitors will not be without encouragement. Three sections of seats will be occupied by frenzied individuals who would be perfectly delighted to see Duluth swamped, swabbed and otherwise mistreated in a hockey game.

Barkell Not in Shape.

Russ Barkell is not in the best of condition in the world. The little center has been under the care of a physician. It was announced by Capt. Joe Linder that Barkell would play, or at least start the game.

To offset the condition of Barkell, it was announced that Conroy of St. Paul was somewhat under the weather and would not start the game.

The management of the Regina, Sask., hockey team, present holders of the Allan cup, today telegraphed Manager Jacobi of the curling club team in quest of a game or series of games here. Regina is about to start on a Western trip and would like to arrange to stopover in Duluth.

Evidently the fame of Duluth as a hockey center has traveled abroad, for requests for games are pouring in on the local management.

The lineup:

Duluth—		St. Paul—
Nicholson	g	Weidenborner
Linder	p	Peterson
Bogan	cp	Fitzgerald
Mohon	r	Brennan
Barkell	c	Kahler
Mahan	lw	Simpson
Olson	rw	Smith

Jack Barkell, spare for Duluth; Vanderaulk, Wells, Conroy, spares for St. Paul.

GREAT GAME IS PROMISED BY JOE

FOND DU LAC IS BEATEN

Oswego Defeats Wisconsin Basket Ball Team 24 to 7.

Fond du Lac, Wis., was thoroughly and decisively defeated in the third game of the basket ball series with Oswego Saturday evening by the score of 24 to 7. The members of the Eastern quint cut loose from the opening whistle and succeeded in making somewhat of a show of the highly touted Company E aggregation.

At the end of the first half the score was 15 to 3 in favor of Oswego. During the entire game the team from the cornstarch region played circles around the players from Wisconsin. Big Grimstad, rated as one of the greatest players in the entire world, sure played up to his reputation. He was all over the floor and was the pivot of nearly every stellar piece of work.

Fogarty played a great game for the defeated team, his shooting and dribbling of the ball proving a revelation. But outside of this player the play was in favor of the Oswegoltes by such decided odds as to make the game somewhat uninteresting.

Catholic Quint Wins.

As a preamble to the big contest the Catholic Athletic club quint took a fall out of the Two Harbors team. The local players showed nice team work and some clever basket shooting.

The lineup and summary of the two games:

Witney	g	McCurdy, Johnson

Goals—Monaghan, 3; Conley, 7; Currie, 4; Paul, 3; Freeman, 4; Sullivan, 1; Woodward, 7; Filiatrault, 2. Free throws—Monaghan, 1; Freeman, 2.

CRACK RINKS COMPETING FOR STATE CURLING TITLE

Four Rinks Are Eliminated in Preliminary Play Saturday Evening—Ice in Wretched Condition for Play—St. Paul and Minneapolis Represented By Strong Players.

Play in the state curling bonspiel is on today. Four rinks were eliminated in the preliminary play of Saturday evening, Kapplin, Naughton, McDougall and Harbison being swept out of the spiel. The ice was in wretched condition to curl on the opening evening and will be worse, if anything, for the deciding of the state title today.

It was necessary to use a prodigious heave to get the stones across the hog line in the early play and since that time the ice has grown softer.

The Brewer-Whytes are the holder of the state titles. Some of the crack rinks from down state are here to try to lift the title. W. D. Stewart of St. Paul and George Labatt of Minneapolis are among the cracks from outside.

Plays started this morning at 8 o'clock. The winners of the early morning draw will go into the 11 o'clock draw. There will be three additional draws during the day.

Following is the complete draw and the results of the preliminary games:

First Round.	Second Round.
A. B. Kapplin, D. Tom Quinn, W. D.	Quinn, 13-10
R. J. McLeod, D. Dr. Kelly, St. P.
H. Haroldson, D. G. H. Feetham, M.
P. Harbison, D. D. Duncan, D.	Duncan, 16-4
S. L. Reichert, D. W. J. Elliott, St. P.
Dr. Catterson, D. H. S. McGregor, D.
W. Dinham, D. C. Naughton, D.	Dinham, 11-9
S. W. Richson, D. G. Labatt, M.
W. W. McMillan, D. F. H. Wade, W. D.
John Oldham, D. W. G. Hall, D.
R. D. Bradley, D. W. D. Stewart, St. P.

DULUTH-SUPERIOR BOWLERS SCORE WELL

Head of Lakes Participants in I. B. A. Tournament Show Up Among Best Teams; Elcoras of Duluth Lead Five-Men Teams From This Part of Country.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 22.—Duluth and Superior bowlers showed up well in yesterday's games of the International Bowling association tournament now in progress here and which will end tonight.

H. Jepson and H. A. Kampman of Superior, Wis., went into a tie for the ninth place in the doubles, with John and Matt Klaes of Duluth. The Superior team, rolling in great style, gathered a count of 1,201. Two other Superior teams participated in the doubles yesterday, A. Stromberg and A. Anderson rolling 1,143 and R. H. Tollers and Ben Norlega scoring 1,081.

Several Duluth and Superior bowlers worked in the evening singles shifts with the following results:

O. O. Whitney, Duluth, 600; Sam Olson, Duluth, 556; Glenn Harris, Superior, 950; H. A. Kampman, Superior, 598; H. Jepson, Superior, 561; R. H. Tollers, Superior, 553.

In the five-man shift, concluded early this morning, the Jacksons of Superior rolled 2,669; Floan & Leveroos, Su-

YOKEL WILL MEET FINN

Rocky Mountain Lion to Wrestle Ketonen Here March 9.

Emil Klank Says Salt Lake Wonder May Weigh In.

BY BRUCE.

Mike Yokel and Waino Ketonen were today matched by Tilton Lewis to wrestle to a finish at the Duluth auditorium arena on the evening of March 9.

The Rocky Mountain Lion wired his acceptance of the contest and the date from New York city. For the last week Yokel has been training at Brown's gymnasium in the metropolis. With the famous George Bothner as trainer and some of the cracks of the East as wrestling partners, the pride of Salt Lake City, one of the greatest wrestlers that ever stepped on the mat, will prepare for one of the greatest contests of his career.

Ketonen is in Lincoln, Neb. The little Finn decisively defeated Tom Doctor, rated as the greatest middleweight in the West, a week ago at Belleville, Kas. The Finn has one more contest scheduled. After this match Ketonen will come to Duluth and prepare for what is promised as the greatest opportunity of his life.

As to Weights.

Lewis is holding out for 158 pounds ringside. Emil Klank, manager of Yokel, is in Hot Springs, Ark. The former manager of Frank A. Gotch will come to the Head of the Lakes and complete all of the remaining details of the contest.

It is said that Klank is willing to permit Yokel to come in at 158 pounds. If the pride of the Mormon community makes the ringside weight for the little Finn, it is quite safe to state that a number of the followers of the game here will concede Waino an almost even chance with the Rocky Mountain Lion.

Ketonen will do his training here and will import a number of wrestling partners. The Finn realizes that he is facing the golden opportunity of his career and it is safe to state that he will neglect no training to be in the pink.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 22.—Walter Pipp, first baseman, and Hugh High, outfielder, will play with the New York American league baseball club this season, President Navin of the Detroit club has announced that Pipp had come to terms with Manager "Bill" Donovan of New York and had signed a contract subject to approval of Mr. Navin. High, Navin said, will come to terms probably today with Donovan.

Pipp and High are still the property of the Detroit club. President Navin agreed to turn them over to New York for a cash consideration.

BIG SMOKE GETS AS FAR AS HAVANA

Story of Reaching Mexico Premature—Claims Condition Is Good.

Havana, Feb. 22.—Jack Johnson, the pugilist, accompanied by his wife, secretary, sparring partner and a servant arrived here early this morning from Cienfuegos. He appeared in good condition and declared he never felt better.

Johnson said his only anxiety now is to reach Juarez, Mexico, in time for his match with Jess Willard on March 6. He was much annoyed at hearing of the present chaotic condition in Mexico, especially the difficulties which probably would confront him in going north from Tampico. Johnson declared, however, that he was determined to push ahead in spite of all obstacles, and if no regular steamer was available for the trip he would charter a vessel to take him to Tampico.

No plans had been made for his appearance in Havana, Johnson said, but he would confer with George M. Bradt, who holds the Cuban government concession for boxing matches in the Havana stadium, and might give an exhibition bout with Sam McVey or Jim Johnson.

The heavyweight champion reached Cienfuegos on the four-masted schooner Henry F. Krager, which he chartered to take him from Barbadoes. The passage, which was rough, took ten days.

DAVIDSON WINS FINAL CONTEST

Frank Bryant Breaks Roller Near Finish of the Close Race.

Harley Davidson won the final contest of his roller skating series with Frank Bryant at the Auditorium Saturday evening in a two-mile contest, the roller of one of the local boy's skates breaking on the last turn. Bryant was leading the champion at the time and looked a sure winner. The time of the race was 6:59.

Up to the point where Bryant broke the roller of his skate, it looked as if he had fairly outskated the man generally conceded to be the champion of them all. The Duluthian was in remarkable form and exhibited rare speed. Near the finish Bryant staged a remarkable sprint and was hitting the final turn in a magnificent burst of speed, when the accident to his skate threw him out of the running and enabled the great Davidson to skate across the line a winner.

The result of the contest of Saturday evening gave Davidson two out of the three races. In two of the contests Bryant met with a mishap. All of the races served to show the wonderful improvement in the form of Bryant.

LOSES ONE; WINS ANOTHER

Central High Quintet Returns From Range Basket Ball Invasion.

Beaten By Virginia and Takes Very Close Game From Hibbing.

The Central high school basket ball squad returned yesterday morning from their range trip, including two strenuous contests, one with the crack Virginia quintet, claimants to the state championship, and another with the scrappy Hibbing team. A split was the result, the loss being to the Virginia men and the victory coming from the unwilling grasp of the Hibbing aggregation.

The loss to Virginia was generally expected. The big range team is composed for the most part of veterans and they play together in wonderful form. They have not been defeated yet this season and are making some strong claims to the state title.

Of course, it was a case of the best team winning, but the Central men claim that several strange things prevented them from giving the Virginia shooters a better run. The side lines and the baskets handicapped the Duluth team. The "banking-board" was not solid and shots had to be made directly for the baskets.

On Saturday, Coach Glyer took his Central proteges across to Hibbing and there took revenge for the defeat of the evening before. The local warriors had previously administered a beating down here to the range quintet and the scrappy Hibbing team was entertaining some fond hopes of most gloriously trimming up the visitors. The game was one of the most sensational ever witnessed on the Hibbing floor and was witnessed by a mad and frenzied crowd of 600 rooters. Both sides played brilliantly at all stages of the game and when the referee's whistle finally concluded the fierce affray, the Duluth team was found on the long end of the uncomfortably close score of 20 to 19.

One of the features of the two games was the attendance. Crowds of about 600 turned out at each place and cheered frantically, the Duluth team claiming some supporters from among them.

Tonight the local Central team will travel out to West Duluth and take on the rejuvenated Denfeld aggregation. The Central team has already annexed one victory this season and even though playing on a strange floor, they are expected to win. This is Denfeld's first team and of course they are somewhat inexperienced. Most of the best athletes are freshmen, however, and some good teams should be developed there in the future.

FULTZ DENOUNCES REULBACH RELEASE

Fraternity President Declares Secrecy Is Unfair to Players Affected.

New York, Feb. 22.—The unconditional release of Pitcher Edward Reulbach by the Brooklyn National league club was characterized as "another evidence of unfairness of the present waiver rule as operated by organized baseball," by David L. Fultz, president of the baseball players' fraternity, in a statement just issued. President Fultz said he had submitted a request that the national commission and the national board of arbitration notify the fraternity when waivers are asked on players. Reviewing Reulbach's release, Fultz said:

"On Nov. 21 last the club secured waivers on Reulbach and thus evidenced its intention of not signing him for 1915. Notwithstanding this fact, Reulbach was not notified that waivers had been secured until Jan. 27 this year, three days before the club, by the rules of organized baseball would have either to send him a contract or give him his release. On this day he was released unconditionally after all clubs had practically completed their rosters for the coming season.

"All waiver negotiations are conducted secretly among the owners and the players know nothing as to what is taking place although the transaction is of vital importance to them. The recent instance in which Hugh Jennings was severely reprimanded for disclosing the fact that waivers had been asked on Bender, Coombs and Plank by Philadelphia shows how carefully the owners guard this information from the players."

The statement concluded by saying the national commission and board were asked by the fraternity in 1914 that the player be notified when waivers were asked upon them, but that the request was denied on the ground that this knowledge would injure the player's work.

MACK TAKES MANY NEW MEN SOUTH

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—Thirty-three players will be taken to Jacksonville, Fla., for spring trining by the Philadelphia American league baseball club. Twenty of these are regulars. The thirteen new men who will be watched by Connie Mack in the training camp are:

Catcher Gaven, semi-professional, Brainerd, Minn.; Pitchers Davis, Marey Point, Va.; Gardinier, Rochester, N. Y.; Reed, Philadelphia; Voltz, Johnsonburg, Pa.; Harper, drafted from the Greensboro, N. C., club; Myers, who belongs to the Raleigh, N. C., club; Hamilton, Philadelphia. Infielders Crane, drafted from Greensboro, N. C.; McConnell, Philadelphia; Foster, Ridgeley, Md.; Bostick, Union league, Salt Lake city. Outfielders Sherman, Massachusetts Agricultural college.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 22.—The advance guard of the St. Louis Americans yesterday reported to Manager Branch Rickey here for spring training.

FRANK WANTS RETURN RACES WITH DAVIDSON.

Frank Bryant announced today that he would probably secure a return series of roller skating races with Harley Davidson at the Arcadia rink in Minneapolis on March 5, 6 and 7. "I will skate Davidson under any conditions and agree to all terms," said Bryant. "He can have a side bet. I can defeat him and want to demonstrate this fact. A broken skate was all that prevented me from defeating Davidson in three straight races."

DULUTH MAN SCORES.

Sigurd Overby, Leading Ski Professional, at Milwaukee Jump.

FIELDER CARRIGAN SIGNS WITH GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 22.—Director A. J. Kavanaugh of the local baseball club announces that Left Fielder Carrigan, who succeeded "Dutch" Altman, after the latter left for Chicago, has signed a contract for next season.

Mr. Kavanaugh has been negotiating with William Fox, erstwhile association star, regarding the management of the local club. Mr. Kavanaugh may confer with Mr. Fox in Minneapolis the first of the month, when the league meeting is held.

H. Marino of Chicago established a new International Bowling association record last night when he scored 679 points in the individual event. The previous record of 671 was made here last year by Victor Weber, Lemars, Iowa.

Marino was pressed for honors by several other Chicago bowlers, three of whom landed in positions among the ten leaders in the singles event. Marino's showing forced James Garland of Minneapolis out of first place by nine points. H. Wagner, with 661 points; J. Kral, 651, and J. B. Louin, 638, were the other high men from Chicago. They went into third, sixth and ninth places, respectively.

Bowlers in the two-man class had an off day, and there were no changes among the leaders in this event.

At the business session of the association, H. E. Patterson of Minneapolis was elected president to succeed R. F. Malone, St. Paul. Other officers chosen were: Charles R. Gibson, Winnipeg, first vice president; F. B. Mample, St. Paul, second vice president; D. A. Luby, Chicago, third vice president; Theodore J. Gronewold, St. Paul, secretary, and W. A. Ryberg, Minneapolis, treasurer.

NEAR-MAJORS FIX PLAYER LIMITS

American Association Also Retains Double Umpire System.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Club owners of the American association adopted a player limit of twenty men before May 15 and after Aug. 15, and a player limit of sixteen during the intervening time at the session last night. The present limits are twenty-five and twenty men during these periods.

At the conclusion of the evening's session President Chivington announced the retention of the double umpire system and the appointment of a schedule committee with full power to draft a playing chart and decide the number of games to be played during the season.

The St. Paul situation came in for a share of talk, but the next move looking to a transfer of the franchise must come from St. Paul, it was said, and no action of any sort is expected for some time. There is every reason to believe the team will be kept in St. Paul, according to the club owners and they do not plan to enter Toledo this season.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—A group of local business men have secured a five-day option on the St. Paul American association baseball club, according to an authoritative announcement. The capitalist—who wishes his name kept secret for the time—at the head of the business men asserted that in all probability the club would be taken over tomorrow or at least before the option expires on Thursday.

VANDERBILT RACE MAY BE POSTPONED

Heavy Track and Continuous Rain May Necessitate It.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 22. — The Vanderbilt cup automobile race will be postponed if there is a heavy rainfall during the next four hours before the race is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. today, according to an announcement made by race officials this morning. Rain fell almost continuously during the night.

The contest between Ralph De Palma and Harry Grant, each twice winner, for the permanent possession of the trophy was expected to be a feature. Thirty-one other racers are entered.

The distance to be covered is approximately 297 miles. The course is 3 9-10 miles and the number of laps 77. It was estimated that the race would be finished in four and one-half hours. Grandstands erected along the course have a seating capacity of 80,000.

Starter Fred Wagner was expected to send the machines on their way three abreast at intervals of fifteen seconds.

WINNIPEG SPIEL REACHES CLOSE

Dunbar Only U. S. Representative to Win an Event.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 22.—Finals were reached late Saturday night in the Winnipeg bonspiel before a large gallery. Dunbar, St. Paul, defeated Rochon, 13 to 6, in the Purity Flour final. D. M. Braden, Winnipeg Granites, won the grand aggregate.

The McLaren cup was captured by "Scout" Carlson of the Thistles from Congalton of the Thistles, 13 to 9.

W.-I. LEAGUE MEETING.

Reorganization Will Be Discussed at Milwaukee Conference.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—Either a reorganization of the Wisconsin-Illinois baseball league or the planning of a new circuit embracing cities of Northern Wisconsin is expected to result from a meeting of the directors of the W.-I. league called for Milwaukee late today by President Frank R. Weeks.

Mr. Weeks would not discuss the probable outcome of the meeting prior to the coming together of the representatives.

WATSON WILL COMPLETE HIS TRAINING HERE.

Red Corbett Watson is expected to arrive at the Head of the Lakes Wednesday. Jack Kearns, the manager and Billy Murray, another of the pugilistic worthies of the Kearns combination, are due here to finish the work of preparation that the red head is going through.

From Minneapolis comes messages of advance condolence for Pal Brown. They do say down in the milling districts of the state that the pugilistic interment of the range boxer is set for next Friday evening.

On the ranges the by-word is "show me." The annihilation of Brown has oft been predicted. As yet the little Jackpine kid has never been knocked off his feet. Some of the staunch friends of Pal even go so far as saying that he has never been hurt.

Denies Rabbit's Statement.

Macon, Ga., Feb. 22.—George T. Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, denies the statement attributed to Walter Maranville, the team's shortstop, that much of the Braves' success last season was due to their ability to solve the signals of other teams.

NEARLY QUARTER OF CENTURY OLD

Nearly 500 Duluthians helped the Normanna Male chorus celebrate its twenty-fourth anniversary Saturday night at Forester's hall, when members of that organization and their friends made merry.

Although a short musical program was presented, most of the evening was spent in feasting and renewing old friendships. G. Schilbred, in the principal talk of the evening, gave a short history of the early days of the chorus, and told of its growth to its present position in the musical world.

Although the chorus consists of only about forty voices, there are many associate or "graduate" members. The Duluth club is one of fifty choruses comprising the Norwegian Singers of America society.

Each year the various choruses attend a national sangerfest, the last one at Chicago, being featured by the work of Duluth's organization. Led by Conductor Jens Flaaten, the Head of the Lakes singers carried off "all the honors," according to Chicago press critics. From Chicago many of the singers, including a large part of Duluth's delegation, made a trip to Norway. On this tour further fame was won for Duluth by its representatives.

A building fund, to be used in erecting a permanent home for the organization, will be started from the proceeds of Saturday's entertainment, it is announced. The committee in charge of the dinner included J. J. Jonasson, John Torgeson and O. Hanson.

The Normanna chorus has been a prominent factor in Duluth's musical world for a number of years. It was started three years ago under the leadership of Enge Sodahl, who held his position for ten years. Director Sodahl was followed by Teodor Sommers, O. Gronseth, Jens Flaaten, Gust Flaaten, Olaf Halten and then Jens Flaaten again, the present leader, who is responsible to a large extent for the present standing of the chorus.

Hughes Ends Journey.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Jack Hughes ended a 1,000-mile trip to Chicago by dog team yesterday. He made the journey from Fort Chippewyan on the Mackenzie river by sled in less than four months. Snow gave out at Madison, Wis., and the last few miles were by train. "I had a few bad days of it in blizzards of 40 deg. below," said Hughes, "but never once was in really bad straits."

OBESITY really can't boast of any compliment. The disease is not strictly an attractive one in either sex. But if you will take our title in the kindly spirit in which it is offered you may learn something that will make life more endurable.

People are too stout mainly for two reasons: either they eat too much and exercise too little or else they don't oxidize their intake of fuel rapidly enough.

Many obese individuals are very light eaters. But, oh, what assimilative powers they possess.

Obesity in very young persons is often, not always, due to a defective secretion on the part of the pituitary gland. Such subjects have an abnormally large tolerance for carbohydrates, are very fond of sweets—but this is a symptom of the condition, and not the cause of the obesity. Sugar is a good, digestible food, though a natural fondness for it does not make the individual fat. Sugar is too easily oxidized in the body to be stored up to any extent as adipose tissue.

Learn to Play.

It is apparent that the commonest type of obesity in men and women is attributable to a relative excess of intake with a disgracefully small output of energy—in other words, overeating coupled up with plain everyday laziness. By laziness, let us hasten to explain, we mean lack of real exercise, and as often as not this is only another way of saying that the individual doesn't know how to play.

The tendency to obesity runs in families. It is doubtful whether the disease is hereditary, but there is no doubt that family habits and temperaments are handed down through the generations. Especially at the dinner table are these things handed down; in America everybody tries to eat as much as everybody else, whether he wants it or not. If anybody takes it into his head to eat about half of his customary excess, why all the family worry about it and wonder if anybody is sick?

Questions and Answers.

Acetanilide, Headache Poison: Please inform me whether any of these remedies contain acetanilide or other heart-depressing drug: Antikamnia, Bromo-Seltzer, Shac, Laxo-bromo-quinine.

REPLY.

The first and fourth contain acetphenetidin, I believe; the second and third contain acetanilide—and all four are heart-depressing, blood-destroying poisons.

* * *

Not Evidence of Bladder Trouble: T. J. J. asks for advice regarding bladder trouble, which causes frequency of urination night and day.

REPLY.

That alone is not necessarily evidence that there is bladder or kidney trouble. Have a careful urinalysis by the doctor.

* * *

REPLY.

Yes. Every good doctor has it if you will follow his directions.

* * *

Cough From Other Things: Is cough caused by any other thing than trouble with the throat or lungs?

REPLY.

Yes, very often the cause of cough is neither in the throat or lungs. Ear troubles, heart trouble, certain nervous conditions, and enlarged glands often cause cough.

* * *

Horehound and Catnip: Will you please inform me regarding the properties of horehound and catnip? Is a syrup made of horehound good for a child with cough? Is a tea made of catnip good for a fussy baby inclined to have colic?

REPLY.

Both remedies are harmless and often helpful. Catnip, especially, is good for colic in babies, administered by mouth or, preferably, by enema.

* * *

Dangerous Mercolized Wax: Why is mercolized wax dangerous to apply to face?

REPLY.

Because it contains about 10 per cent of ammoniated mercury, a strength which is caustic in action.

WINS BET BY SLIM MARGIN

Jack Hughes Completes His Long Journey By Dog Sled.

On Feb. 9, Hughes, with his team of "huskies," passed through Duluth, after stopping off to rest for a few hours and to rest his dogs. He made an average of fifty miles a day after leaving Duluth, making the distance easily, despite the warm weather, which made traveling difficult.

Hughes, with his five best dogs, left Fort Chippewyan, a trading post, 800 miles north of Edmonton, Alta., on Oct. 20, to prove that he could reach Chicago by Feb. 20, at noon. He made the trip easily, stopping at International Falls, Edmonton, Duluth, Virginia and other places for a few hours more than necessary to rest his team.

By his feat Hughes has won his wager of $1,000, made with other fur traders at Fort Chippewyan. He complied with all the conditions of the bet, having two dogs left when he arrived in Chicago Saturday, of the original five. He was to have at least one "husky" left, according to the terms of the bet.

Two dogs were left at Edmonton and another, which suffered from sore feet through Minnesota, was left in Wisconsin. Hughes wore out a dozen pairs of moccasins during the trip and was obliged to resort to "store" shoes shortly after leaving the Head of the Lakes. He stated that the first fifteen days of his trip, which took him through the wilderness south of his home, were the hardest to cover, and that after he reached the "states" it was comparatively easy sailing.

Fiery Blood Disorders Checked

The Sources of Disease are Cleaned and Blood Purified

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with his skin all broken out; see him again in a week or two after using S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the droop. What is S. S. S. that can accomplish such wonderful results? First of all it is a natural medicine. Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated, S. S. S. owes it to Nature for its power to overcome disease just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S. is not a combination of prescription drugs. It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retains all the virile potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life. If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from any druggist but be careful to avoid the substitutes palmed off on the unwary. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 53 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and for private medical advice write briefly your symptoms to their medical department. MICHAEL DORAN PASSES AWAY

Was Once a Power in Democratic Politics in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—Michael Doran, Sr., 87 years of age, once a power in Democratic state politics for years, the first broker in the city, and once a multi-millionaire, died Saturday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Elmer H. Dearth. Death was caused by the infirmities of old age.

He was married twice. Five sons and five daughters survive. Mr. Doran was born in Meath county, Ireland, November 1, 1827, coming to America when 19 years old. He was raised on a farm, and after coming to the United States went to work on a farm in New York state. Later he moved to Norwalk, Ohio, where, when 28 years old, he married his first wife. The next year, in 1856, he moved to Minnesota, taking a homestead near Le Sueur village. He moved to St. Paul in 1869.

Entered Politics Early.

Mr. Doran entered politics in Le Sueur county, being elected county treasurer three years after he took up a homestead. The entry of this office was the beginning of a political career that did not end until the close of the second Cleveland administration.

In 1864 he was a delegate to the national Democratic convention, a position that he held until 1896. In 1870 he was elected a member of the Minnesota senate, falling of re-election in 1872. During the next four years he was chairman of the national Democratic committee. He won his senate seat again in 1875, serving four more years. His last two terms in the upper house were from 1883 to 1885. Then he ceased finally to represent the Nineteenth district.

Held Whip Hand Here.

About this time he began the management of the affairs of the Democratic party in the whole state. In the first administration of Cleveland the firm of "Mo and Mike," P. H. Kelly, the wholesale grocer, and Mr. Doran, came into existence. Old politicians assert that from 1885 to 1889 and from 1893 to 1897, Doran and Kelly handled the patronage of the state. It is said that during these years there was not an appointment made that did not bear the O. K. of one or both of these men.

Mr. Doran's first wife died during his first campaign for the office of county treasurer in Le Sueur county. He married again while still a resident of Le Sueur.

Becomes a Broker.

Coming with his family to St. Paul, he established the first brokerage business in the state, investors of the earlier days in St. Paul, including many whose names now are borne by prominent families here, being frequenters of his office. The firm was known as Morton, Doran & Co., but later became Doran & Co. Mr. Doran's offices were on Jackson street for years, later being moved to the Germania Life building, where they remained until about seven years ago when the pioneer retired.

The children surviving are James and Maurice J. of St. Paul, John and William of Spokane, Michael, Jr., of New York, Mrs. Mary V. Geraghty, Mrs. Nellie D. Dearth and Mrs. Annie G. Pew of St. Paul; Mrs. Arthur T. Mariz, wife of Capt. Mariz, a naval officer of Washington, and Mrs. Alice Haynes of Pueblo, Mex.

BODY OF FRANK JAMES CREMATED AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 22.—The body of Frank James, former outlaw, who died last Thursday, was cremated here yesterday. Thousands of persons crowded about the crematory, but only four men were permitted to witness the cremation. They were Robert James, son of the dead man; Jesse James, his nephew; Charles Polk and A. P. Duckworth, friends of the family.

Last night the party returned to Kansas City, the home of Frank James' widow, Mrs. Fannie James. Robert James carried in his suitcase a small urn containing the dust of his father. This, in compliance with the will of Frank James, will be kept in a safety deposit vault until the death of Mrs. James, when it will be interred with her body.

BOMBS DROPPED ON TOWN OF BRAINTREE.

London, Feb. 22.—A Braintree dispatch to the Press association says that about 8:30 o'clock last night a hostile aeroplane dropped missiles supposed to be incendiary bombs on the fields close to Braintree, but they did no damage. At 8:40 o'clock an aeroplane passed over Colchester, which lies about fifty miles northeast of London. It dropped a bomb which buried itself in a garden, where it exploded doing damage to the rear of a house and smashing the windows of other houses. No one was hurt.

IRISH STEAMER SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE.

London, Feb. 22.—A German submarine, described by some as the U-12 and by others as the U-21, which is operating in the Irish sea, found another victim in the little Irish coasting steamer Downshire. The Downshire was sunk not far from the spot where the British steamer Cambank was torpedoed a few hours earlier. In the case of the Downshire, however, the crew was given time to escape in their boats, and instead of wasting a torpedo, the Germans used a bomb, which destroyed the vessel in a few minutes.

On the other side of the British Isles, in the North sea, near the island of Borkum, the American steamer Evelyn, cotton laden, struck a mine. She sank, but her crew was saved.

POULTRY INCOME PAYS GROCERY BILLS.

Fosston, Minn., Feb. 22.—P. G. Bonlie, while in from Olga transacting business, said that he realized over $200 from his chickens last year. This year, up to the time he was in town, he had sold eggs for over $19. His hens provide amply for all the groceries required to carry on the house for the entire year.

Milwaukee to Have Jitneys.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—Tuesday the Milwaukee Jitney Bus company will begin operations with about thirty cars. Although it was intended to start with 100 automobiles, the plan had to be abandoned because of inability to get machines.

MARKET IS CLOSED HERE

Holiday Is Being Observed By All American Grain Traders.

Prices Weak at Winnipeg—Effect of Dardanelles Opening Doubtful.

With the American grain markets closed, members of the Duluth board of trade were interested in the price movement at Winnipeg today. The opening up there was weak, the initial trading in the May wheat future coming at around $1.56⅝, or 2⅜c down from Saturday. That was attributable to weakness at Liverpool on more liberal Argentine offerings and expectations of heavier shipments from there in the near future. An extreme drop of 3c a bu was reported on that market.

Winnipeg braced up substantially later on the appearance of good inquiry from exporters, and at the noon hour, May wheat was strong at 1.56½ bid. A break also developed in flaxseed there, the May future selling down 1½c to $1.61½. Oats ran off ½c to 66⅝c.

With every probability of a continuance of support by exporters, such as materialized at Winnipeg today, local grain men are inclined to look for a steady market here tomorrow, failing any special developments in the German submarine blockade situation.

The opening of the Dardanelles, as might be forecasted in the reported success attending the bombardment of the outer forts by the allies' fleets, is regarded as a remote contingency. It is pointed out that even were the defences on the Mediterranean side to be demolished, it would probably be weeks before the British and French would be in position to land an army to capture the position on its inner side, and that even when that happens the amount of grain in Russian elevators on the Black sea available to ship out is comparatively small, and that it would take some time to induce an extended movement from inferior points. In the meantime all of America's surplus would have been disposed of. So that, taken on the whole, the effect of any Dardanelles movement in the near grain futures should be merely negligible, it is thought.

Duluth Operators Not Alarmed.

"Any news that might indicate possibility of the early opening of the Dardanelles would certainly lead to weakness in our wheat markets," said W. J. McCabe, ex-president of the Duluth board of trade, today. "The effect, however, would likely be only temporary, however, as foreigners will require all the wheat they can obtain from us, and may be depended on to bid for it on any weak spots. It must be taken into consideration, too, that the Turks, if they are compelled to surrender the Dardanelles, are likely to block the passage to such an extent that it would take some time to open a way through it."

Said Percy Ginder of the Barnes-Ames company: "The market is so nervous that any rumor may lead to a sharp break, and then it is liable to recover just as promptly on foreign demand."

"The opening of the Dardanelles appears to be such a long way off that it can be hardly considered a market factor in so far as last year's crop is concerned," said H. J. Labree of the Beecher-Labree company. "Before they could send out any quantity of Russian wheat even under the most favorable conditions, our supplies would be out of the way."

MARKET BREAKS SHARPLY AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Feb. 22.—The market showed extreme weakness in the late trading today on renewed selling. May wheat closed 3⅜c off at $1.54⅜ and July 3⅜c off at $1.54⅝.

SHORTAGE IN FLAX FEARED

Increased Wheat Acreage Expected to Reduce Flax Production.

Demand for Other Cereals Will Probably Have No Precedent.

If the predictions of flax buyers in Duluth—the chief flax market of the world—come true, there is going to be one of the greatest shortages in flax this year that the world has ever seen since the seed was quoted on a grain exchange. The reason is, according to these prognosticators, that farmers will not sow the seed this year in anything but the smallest quantities on account of the prospective demand for wheat and the coarse grains that are needed most.

"The opening of the Dardanelles," said one of these flax dealers, when asked about it today, "will make no difference. It is not the question of how much wheat will come out of Russia, or how much we can furnish from our old crop; but it is the question of how much we will be called on to furnish from the crop to be grown this year."

This man added—and almost every other flax dealer asked about the matter, echoed his assertion—that America is going to be called on for enormous quantities of wheat, corn and oats during the current year and next year, even though the war should end abruptly.

"The end of the war will make no perceptible difference in the demand from this country for a long time," said he. "The farmers of the countries involved, are, as to the greater number of them, at least, at the front, and none but old men, children and women are tilling the farms. What little they can produce will be snapped up for local use, and even though the war should end in a few months, there will not be nearly enough wheat, corn and oats to furnish war-stricken Europe with what she needs and America must furnish it. That will be the case next year too—speaking on the supposition that war ends soon.

"The American farmer realizes this and he is going to get into the game for what money there is in it. Hence he is going to sow every available inch of land that he can handle to wheat, chiefly, and, secondly, corn and oats. Flax is going to be a neglected seed this year. I am willing to make a wager that there will not be sown on this continent one-quarter of the flax that was sown last year. One-quarter will be a liberal allowance. There is a poor market for the seed now, and the farmer well knows that to realize on flax the equivalent of what he will and has been realizing on wheat, he will have to get as high as $3 a bushel—and I guess that that would be too small a price.

"Therefore don't look for much in the way of flax during the coming season. Wheat, corn and oats—the stuff the people can eat—will rule the markets."

CANADIAN ROADS ASK BETTER RATE

Application for a general increase in freight rates has been made by the Canadian railroads to the dominion board of railway commissioners.

In support of their application, the railroads cited the authorization by the interstate commerce commission of an increase in freight rates to the roads in this country. Other reasons upon which the application was based included declarations that revenues had declined, while operating expenses are on the increase and the borrowing powers of the companies have been curtailed.

Duluth grain men are interested in the request included in the petition that rates on grain products from Port William and Port Arthur all-rail and lake-and-rail be advanced 1 cent per hundred pounds; that rates from the Canadian Head of the Lakes and Georgian Bay points, also from bay points to Montreal be advanced 1 cent per hundred pounds, and that the rates from the Head of the Lakes and Georgian Bay points to points in the maritime provinces be advanced 1 cent per hundred pounds in addition to the present and proposed rates east of Montreal.

In the general petition an advance of 2 cents a hundred pounds on all first class freight is sought, and 1 cent a hundredweight on all fifth class matter, rates for other classifications to be figured on the usual basis.

An advance of 10 cents a ton on coal and coke is sought, and 5 cents a ton on sand, gravel and crushed stone, except fluxing stone. On billets, pig-iron, wire rods, rails, ferro-silicon, iron ore concentrates, crude oxide of iron and mill cinder, advances of from 5 to 30 cents a ton are sought.

Other advances sought are ¼ cent to 1¼ cents above certain present rates for pulp wood, cordwood, paving blocks, logs, stone and artificial stone; ½ to 2 cents in certain rates on articles used in the manufacture of iron and steel, lumber and forest products, potatoes and wire netting; 2 cents on spirits, ale and beer, petroleum, and green hides under certain conditions, and ½ to 2 cents on grain and grain products, flaxseed and beans.

S. AND D. LAW HOLDS GOOD

Speculation Not Causing High Price of Wheat, Say Traders.

Russia Bottled Up and Australia Short; America Demand Center.

Grain men decry the present agitation against the price of wheat, denouncing of the exchanges and proposals to initiate expensive investigations and useless legislation.

It is pointed out by some of the best authorities in the trade that the era of higher quotations in all grains has been brought about through the operation of the law of supply and demand, the European war having led to a shortage in all the markets of the world. In addition to that Australia, which has been invariably a heavy exporter in past seasons, had a crop failure last year. No shipments have been made from that country since last November, and Australia will, it is expected, be compelled to buy several millions of wheat in America within the next few months.

"Russia has plenty of wheat, but cannot get it to market. In the present season but 670,000 bu. of wheat have come from Russia. Two years ago at this time Russia had shipped 173,000,000 bu. Since the first of August about a quarter of a million bushels have come from the Danubian ports, as compared with 36,000,000 bu. last year. Between Aug. 1, 1914, and Jan. 23, 1915, Argentina shipped less than 4,000,000 bushels. In the same period two years ago it shipped 44,000,000 bu.

"With a pronounced decrease in exports from India, North America became the only available source of supply. And notwithstanding Europe has bought from this continent at an unprecedented rate, the total world exports from Aug. 1, 1914, to Feb. 13, were only about 75 per cent of those of the same period in the preceding year. Not 'speculation,' but demand for food, advanced the price of wheat.

"Argentina has a large surplus which lack of shipping facilities has kept from the market. But in the past two weeks more wheat has gone from Argentina than in the preceding month. There is sufficient wheat to feed the world until our new crop is harvested; while the supply in the United States still shows a good margin of safety. Until there is evidence that our supply is approaching the danger line, is it not foolish to create alarm and attempt to interfere with the natural laws of trade, especially when the exports of wheat have had so much to do with reducing exchange from the $7.00 of last August to the present $4.80?

"If we cry because cotton is down, should we cry because wheat is up?"

PRICES JUMP; TRADE GROWS

Iron and Steel Business Shows Marked Improvement; Plants Operating.

Demand in Tin Plate Industry Causes Capacity Increase.

Taken on the whole, conditions are regarded as having improved materially in the iron and steel trade during the last ten days. Bookings are in increased volume and as a result of higher prices in several lines, the various concerns are thought to be operating upon a more profitable basis than in several months back.

A spectacular feature came in advances in prices of galvanized steel iron pipe of $6 and $4 a ton respectively, and in galvanized sheets of $5 a ton on account of the extraordinarily high price of spelter. Steel hoops have been advanced from $1 to $1.30 per 100 pounds, Pittsburg delivery. These bulges followed a raise of $1 a ton in wire and nails made a week ago.

Plants are estimated to be operating on a basis of fully 60 per cent of capacity, and indications point to operations being on an increased scale shortly.

Plant Operations Increasing.

The two bessemer furnaces of the Republic Iron & Steel company at Hazelton, Ohio, broke all previous records last month, one of them turning out 13,755 tons and the other 17,218 tons. The present ingot production of the United States Steel corporation is placed at between 60 and 65 per cent of capacity. After a shutdown of over six months, the American Sheet & Tinplate company's plant at Leechburg, Pa., will resume this week.

Announcement is made that the McKeesport Tin Plate company will break ground as soon as the weather permits for the erection of twenty additional modern tin plate mills, which are expected to cost approximately $1,800,000. The new mills will constitute an extension of the present plant of the company at Port Vue, near McKeesport, where the company owns 16 2-3 acres of land. It is planned to have the mills completed and ready for operation by March 1, 1916. When completed they will make a 42-mill plant, the largest in the world. The production of the company will be virtually doubled by this addition, making it about 3,500,000 boxes of tin plate per year.

WILL CHECK REPAVING

Nearly 100 East End Residents Protest Superior Street Work.

Murchison Declares Property Owners Have Overestimated the Cost.

Protests signed by nearly 100 prominent East end citizens, presented to Commissioner Roderick Murchison of the division of public works Saturday, have checked all repaving plans for East Superior street between Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth avenues.

As filed by Edward P. Alexander, 1211 East First street, a prominent real estate operator, this protest bears the names of many of Duluth's most prominent citizens and includes considerably more than the 25 per cent of the property owners in the district affected, required to stop the work.

This is the second protest against improvements voted by city commissioners recently, a large delegation of citizens voting against paving Second street from Fourth avenue west to Sixth avenue east last Friday.

On Jan. 11 the commissioners voted to pave East Superior street with asphalt from Sixteenth avenue east to Twenty-fourth avenue east, replacing the tar macadam now used, which is in very bad condition, according to Commissioner Murchison.

"We will not be able to start this work," said Commissioner Murchison this morning, discussing the project. "The names signed to the protest filed by Mr. Alexander are considerably more than the number required by the city charter, and the only way to secure this improvement will be to have a petition from a much larger number of property owners in the same district, asking that we go ahead with it.

"I thing it will be impossible to secure such a petition, as a majority of property owners signed the protest, I believe."

The commissioners authorized the work without a petition from the citizens owning property affected.

"Opposition to the work has grown up through a misapprehension of the cost of the improvement, I think," said the commissioner.

"Several property owners with whom I discussed the matter seemed of the opinion that their property would be assessed about $500 per fifty front feet. This is much more than the estimates I have provided for. It will not run over $300 to each fifty feet of frontage, as I understand it"

SEAMEN'S BILL IS AGREED UPON

Effort Will Be Made to Pass Measure This Session.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Disputed provisions in the seamen's bill were composed today in a conference of house and senate members after many weeks' deliberation. An effort will be made finally to pass the measure at this session. Conditions for lake, coastal and ocean steamers, for life-saving equipment, which has been one of the main points of contention, were compromised. Lake steamers would be required to carry lifeboats for 20 per cent of passengers and life rafts for 30 per cent more.

Vessels plying within twenty-five miles of the coast would be required to carry lifeboats and rafts for 35 per cent each—70 per cent in all. Ocean-going vessels would carry lifeboats for 75 per cent and rafts for 25 per cent more.

Conditions governing seamen remain practically unchanged.

STATEMENT FALSE.

Sir Edward Grey Replies to Charges Made in Berlin.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Sir Edward Grey has sent to the state department through the British embassy here a statement characterizing as a falsehood, a recent statement from Berlin attributing to the British the intention to destroy an American ship in the naval war zone and charge it to a German submarine with the expectation of precipitating a crisis between the United States and Germany.

ENGINEER KILLED.

Eight Passengers Injured in Wreck on Chicago, Great Western Railroad.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 22.—The engineer was killed, a mail clerk was fatally injured, the fireman is missing and eight passengers were injured when Chicago, Great Western passenger train No. 1, southbound from Des Moines to Kansas City, was wrecked at Talnage, Iowa, today. The engineer was H. E. Maxwell of Des Moines. Spreading rails are assigned as the cause of the wreck.

GEN. VON WROCHEN DEAD AT GERMAN CAPITAL.

Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 22.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Amsterdam Telegraff says that Lieut.-Gen. von Wrochen, commander of a German army division who recently was awarded the iron cross, is dead at the German capital.

According to the same telegram, Lieut. Count von Baszwitz-Levetzow, a son of the premier of Mecklenberg-Schwern and brother-in-law of Prince Oscar, fifth son of Emperor William, has been killed in the eastern theater of the war.

MAY RECONSIDER RULING ON COTTON.

London, Feb. 22.—The British government may reconsider its ruling permitting the entrance of cotton into Germany. This was intimated in the house of commons this afternoon by Harold J. Tennant, under-secretary of war.

Mr. Tennant stated that when the decision was reached not to make cotton contraband the government believed that the requirements of Germany were already satisfied, but, he added, "this attitude must be revised from time to time."

FACE TO FACE WITH CRISIS

Taft Says U. S. Threatened With Serious Invasion of Rights.

When the President Acts All Should Stand By Him.

Morristown, N. J., Feb. 28.—The United States is threatened with a serious invasion of its rights as a neutral by the warring nations of Europe and in preserving its commerce with those nations is face to face with a crisis in the opinion of Former President William H. Taft. In the solution of that crisis should it arise, no jingo spirit must be allowed to prevail, Mr. Taft advised; neither pride nor momentary passion should influence our judgment.

"And when the president shall act," Mr. Taft declared, "we must stand by him to the end. In this determination we may be sure that all will join, no matter what their previous views, no matter their European origin. All will forget their differences in self-sacrificing loyalty to our common flag and our common country."

Mr. Taft's reference to the situation confronting the United States was made at the conclusion of an address delivered today before the Washington Association of New Jersey.

SAY THE EVELYN STRUCK TWO MINES

Reports Declare That Only One Man Lost His Life.

Berlin, Feb. 22, via London.—Further reports concerning the sinking of the American steamship Evelyn yesterday off Borkum island in the North sea, show that only one man of the crew lost his life. This man was frozen to death in a small boat after the sinking of the steamer.

The Evelyn, which sailed from New York, Jan. 29 with a cargo of cotton for Bremen, struck two mines, but the crew had time to get into lifeboats. Some members of the vessel's crew were taken by a German ship to Helgoland, while the others were landed in Holland.

MANY IN DULUTH USE FAMOUS COMPOUND

The famous mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, is much used here in Duluth. This is the most complete bowel cleanser ever sold, being even used successfully in appendicitis. Just ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after Adler-i-ka is taken the gasses rumble and pass out—the INSTANT action is surprising. W. A. Abbett, druggist, 205 West Superior street.

STOMACH UPSET?
Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.
That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.
If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.
Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CITIZENS' PARTY WILL HOLD CAUCUS

Proctor Men Will Name Candidates for Spring Election.

The citizens' party of Proctor will hold its caucus tomorrow for the purpose of naming candidates to run in the village election on March 9. The party will name a candidate for village president, three trustees, justice of the peace and village recorder.

The naming of candidates for the village election will have nothing to do with the campaign for making the town "dry" as far as saloons are concerned. The petition asking that the local option be placed before the voters was filed with the council last week. It contained the names of sixteen citizens of the village. Ten was all that were necessary according to the state law.

PROCTOR WANTS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Plans Will Be Made But Location Will Be Chosen Later.

Plans for a new high school building to cost $40,000 will be ordered soon by the school board of the village of Proctor. It is proposed to have the school erected within the next year on the West side of the village.

The school directors are still undecided as to whether the building will be erected on the present site of the West side school or to have the building adjoining this structure. It is expected that at the next meeting of the school board this question will be decided.

The building is to be thoroughly modern. It will be of stone and brick construction, two stories high with a basement. The building will be as fireproof as it is possible to make it.

The present building is an old frame structure, which has served the village for a number of years. The old building will be remodeled for grade school purposes.

MORGAN PARK RINKS LOSE.

West Duluth Curlers Win in Two Contests.

Two rinks from Morgan park suffered defeat at the hands of West Duluth curlers Saturday evening. The visiting rinks were skipped by Leonard and Ritchie. In the game between Leonard and Mallory the latter won by a score of 11 to 9, and Ritchie's game against Olsen resulted in a score of 13 to 4 in favor of the latter.

Another game between the Morgan park players and Western Curling club members is being arranged for next Saturday evening.

OLD RESIDENT IS SUMMONED.

Mrs. Wilhemina Wendland, age 68, wife of August Wendland, 425 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, a resident of West Duluth for twenty years, died yesterday following a short illness. She leaves besides her husband, a son and two daughters. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the family residence with interment in Oncota cemetery.

"Safety" Will Be Urged.

The Proctor Railway club will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at the Proctor Y. M. C. A. The principal feature of the program will be the reading of a paper on "What Are You Going to Do About Safety?" by Edward H. Windom, general claim agent for the company. The program will also include music and readings.

League to Entertain.

Members of the Royal League councils of West Duluth will be entertained tomorrow evening at a social, following the business meetings of the two lodges. The committee in charge consists of M. J. Murray, chairman; Dr. E. W. Boerner, Louis Oreck and R. M. Goff.

Unite to Give Play.

The Sunshine Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church and the "We Brothers" class will combine to produce "The District School." The play will be given on Friday evening, March 5, at the church.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Asbury Methodist church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gilbert, 24 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. Mrs. I. G. Wollin will assist the hostess.

The card party planned for March 2 by the Euclid chapter No. 56, O. E. S., has been postponed until March 16. It will be held at the Masonic hall.

Harry Merriman, 4322 West Third street, is ill at his home with pneumonia. He returned from St. Paul Saturday and was taken ill shortly after his arrival home.

Rev. Gustav Oberg of Henderson Grove, Ill., former pastor of the Bethel Swedish Lutheran church of West Duluth, is spending a few days visiting friends in this end of the city.

Mrs. Lucien Merritt, 4611 Oneota street will entertain at a silver tea for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, Jan. 25, 1915.

Notice is hereby given, That on March 17, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1, 1916, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is 4 per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1 of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at 5 per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale. Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the Count Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

FINE OR IMPRISONMENT FOR FAILURE TO VOTE PROPOSED BY LYDIARD

Minneapolis Man Has Plan to Increase Vote at Elections.

Range Delegates to Have Hearing on County Division Bill.

Spooner Would Erect Office Building on Old Capitol Site.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Punishment up to $1,000 fine or a year in jail for failure to vote is the method for bringing out a good vote at elections in this state proposed by Representative Lydiard of Minneapolis, in a new bill introduced in the house this morning. It makes a gross misdemeanor for any voter to fail to exercise his franchise unless he is sick or out of the state.

* * *

A delegation of twenty-five or thirty range residents, headed by Mayor Victor L. Power of Hibbing, will be here tonight for the hearing before the house committee on towns and counties on the county division bill. The proponents of the measure likely will consume the entire hearing, so that a further hearing will be arranged at which the opposition may state its case against the bill.

* * *

County Option.

County option is a special order in the house at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and after more or less debate will be passed or rejected. Which will happen still is a debatable question, both sides claiming it with apparent confidence. The bill has already passed the senate, and if it goes through the house will go to Governor Hammond for his signature.

* * *

Proposed constitutional amendments allowing the governor to reduce or cut entirely any items in appropriation bills, and forbidding senators and representatives from taking postmasterships, the only office to which they now are eligible, are offered in the house this morning by Representative Charles L. Stevens of Warren.

Report on Old Capitol.

The board of control is instructed to investigate the feasibility of erecting a modern office building for state departments on the site of the old capitol by a resolution offered this morning by Representative Spooner, and adopted by the house. The board is instructed to report generally on what

OVER 100 BILLS TO COMMITTEES

All Offered to Wisconsin Assembly Last Week and Revised.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 23.—In a 15-minute session of the assembly this forenoon, more than 100 bills, offered in the house last week, were returned by the committee on revision and referred to the proper committees for consideration.

The assembly killed the Budlong bill to permit the counties to regulate Sunday closing. It sent back to the state affairs committee the Dixon bill, which would permit the reconstruction of the courthouse at Racine without conforming to the law passed two years ago as to distance from other buildings.

The assembly adjourned until tomorrow.

The senate will meet tonight.

HOLLAND IS PREPARED

Trenches on the Frontier to Prevent Any Surprise Inroad.

Efforts to Stop Contraband Being Smuggled Into Germany.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Amsterdam, Feb. 10.—The Dutch and German soldiers who have been patrolling on opposite sides of the boundary line since the war began have been ordered to withdraw from close contact on account of the fact that a number of disagreeable incidents have occurred. Up to the beginning of February the Dutch soldiers and the Germans paced side by side and carried on conversations. It appears that trouble sometimes arose through the expression of diverse views, so the commanders of the patrols have now separated the men by a distance of 100 yards. Between the small strip of territory separating the Dutch from the German sentries no one is permitted to go except on chance of being immediately shot.

Trenches on Both Sides.

Behind the frontier line on both sides have been erected field fortifications in the shape of trenches and gun emplacements. Those in Dutch territory are so placed as to render impossible

DIRECTED ON RAILROADS

Bombs From Zeppelin Thrown on Tracks at Calais.

Five Persons Killed and Much Material Damage Done.

Calais, via Paris, Feb. 23.—Warning of the approach of the Zeppelin which bombarded this city yesterday morning was given the sentries by the throbbing of the engine as it approached rapidly from the sea at a height of about 1,000 feet. The airship flew straight across the city toward the Fontinette station, dropping no bombs on the way.

The first missile fell when the Zeppelin was above the point where the railroad tracks intercept. It went through the footbridge and struck the track leading to Dunkirk. The airship then rose somewhat higher in the air and dropped five bombs in rapid succession. All fell in the vicinity of the railroad. One burst in the courtyard of houses close to the grade crossing, demolishing a shed and breaking windows. The occupants of the houses, awakened by the explosion, escaped without injury.

Family Killed.

Other bombs fell in the garden and on the roof of a little house in the Rue Dognien. An old man and a little girl asleep in the garret and the family which occupied the cottage on the ground floor, consisting of the father, mother and two children, were buried in the ruins. All were killed except one child, a baby 5 months old, which was taken uninjured from the twisted mass of brick and plaster.

The front of the house was cut off as clearly as though it had been done by a gigantic knife.

The violence of the explosion shook the neighboring houses to their foundations and broke all the windows within a wide radius. After dropping the bombs the Zeppelin disappeared rapidly over the sea. It evidently was manned by pilots well acquainted with the locality since it came from the sea directly to Fontinette, crossing the city at the point of its greatest width. A long German pennant attached to a sack containing sand was found on the roof of a house near one of those demolished and handed over to the military governor.

Five Killed.

Paris, Feb. 23.—The official communication issued by the French war office last night tells of the bombardment of Calais by a Zeppelin dirigible, which dropped bombs and killed five civilians. The text follows:

"A Zeppelin airship bombarded Calais this morning. It dropped ten projectiles, which killed five persons belonging to the civil population and caused some important material damage."

BUCKWHEAT CAN BE EATEN BY HUMANS

Wonderful Discovery By Professor After Series of Experiments.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 5.—Prof. Kuhl of Kiel, after a series of scientific experiments, has reached a conclusion that will be of deep interest to untold millions of American devotees of griddlecakes and syrup—namely, that buckwheat can be eaten by humans. It is a somewhat curious fact that in Germany, except in some parts of South Germany, this grain is used exclusively as feed for animals. The professor finds, however, that a mixture of 20 per cent of buckwheat flour with wheat flour gives "an elastic, tough dough, which rises well with yeast and furnishes a well tasting bread."

In view of this, and also of the fact that buckwheat can be grown on land fit for nothing else, the professor recommends that it be used to eke out the wheat supply.

ANOTHER NORSE STEAMER SUNK IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

Hit By Either Torpedo or Mine While Off Dover.

Sinks in Ten Minutes But Crew of Twenty-Two Are Saved.

London, Feb. 23.—The Norwegian steamer Regin was sunk off Dover this morning by either a submarine or a mine. The crew of twenty-two men was saved.

The Regin, which was carrying coal from the Tyne to Bordeaux, sank ten minutes after she was struck.

The Regin is the second Norwegian steamer to encounter a submarine or a mine in the English channel since Feb. 18, when the German submarine blockade against British ports went into effect. The tank steamer Belridge was torpedoed by a German submarine Feb. 19.

Disaster has overtaken two other Norwegian steamships in the last few days. The Nordykn went down in the Baltic last week, probably as a result of striking a mine or being torpedoed, and the Cuba, a freighter bound from London to Rotterdam, sank Feb. 21 in the North sea after a collision.

PEACE DISCUSSION IS NOT ADVISABLE

At Proper Time German Papers Will Be Allowed to Comment.

Berlin, via Paris, Feb. 23.—An inspired statement in the Norddeutsche Allegemeine Zeitung replies to demands that the newspapers be permitted to discuss the war and what should be done if Germany is victorious. Discussion of future peace terms at this time is considered inadvisable by political and military leaders, the articles say. It adds, however, that at the proper time, which will be decided by the course of military events, such a discussion will be permissible.

"When this time comes," it says, "the government will be thankful for the support of public opinion and there will be no disposition to prevent the people from publicly discussing the terms of peace."

GRAND JURY MEETS; HAS DARNELL CASE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—The Federal grand jury met in Milwaukee today to consider among other cases that of Rev. James M. Darnell, arrested in Chicago last week, charged with violation of the Mann act.

Among the witnesses summoned to appear in connection with the case against Darnell are Ruth Soper of Owatonna, Minn., and Doris Vaughn-Darnell, the latter recently divorced from Darnell.

The Darnell case may not be taken up before Wednesday or Thursday, according to District Attorney Guy D. Goff.

REIMS AGAIN BOMBARDED

Fifteen Hundred Shells Dropped in Town By Germans.

Cathedral Made Special Target and Suffers Severely.

Paris, Feb. 23, via London, 3.40 p. m. —The war office today issued the following statement:

"West of Lombaertzyde the enemy failed in delivering two infantry attacks.

"The bombardment of Reims, reported yesterday evening, was extremely violent. It lasted for a first period of six, followed by a period of five hours. Fifteen hundred shells were dropped in the town. What remains of the cathedral was made a special target and suffered seriously. The interior of the vaulted roof, which has resisted until now, was burst. About twenty houses were fired and twenty civilians killed.

"To the east of Argonne, between Malancourt and the Meuse, our battery found a German battery and blew up its ammunition wagons."

WOMEN'S VOTE MAY DECIDE THE ISSUE

Chicago Campaigners Admit Ballot By Gentler Sex Is Puzzling.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Today's mayoralty primaries were the first in which women were entitled to the same voting privileges as the men. They were privileged to vote for all offices.

Campaign leaders admitted that the question of the women's vote was puzzling them; in fact, many were of the opinion that ballots cast by the women would decide the issue. Candidates for mayor, city treasurer, city clerk, judge of the municipal court and aldermen in each ward were to be nominated.

Carter H. Harrison, the present mayor, is opposing Robert M. Sweitzer and six others on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Harrison is seeking his sixth term as mayor. Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, William Hale Thompson and Jacob A. Hey are the Republican candidates.

There are 665,911 persons eligible to vote, 447,199 men and 218,712 women.

SHELL HITS PRIEST WHILE SAYING MASS.

Hazebrouck, via Paris, Feb. 23.—A soldier priest was saying mass yesterday in a church at Elverdingue near Ypres, when a German shell exploded over the building. A portion of the missile came through the roof and struck the priest on the head. He was taken to the nearest ambulance where an operation was performed and it is hoped he will recover although his condition is serious.

RUSSIAN ARMY STANDS AT BAY ON OWN TERRITORY AND AGAIN ENGAGES GERMANS IN BATTLE

GIVEN RANK OF BRIGADIER-GENERAL

COL. MARCHAND,
Commander of Fashoda Fame, Promoted in French Army.

SUCCESSES REPORTED IN THE SOUTH

Vienna Says Russ Counter-Attacks Have Been Repulsed.

Struggle for Mountain Passes Has Been Extremely Sanguinary.

Artillery Engagements Distinguishing Feature on Western Front.

London, Feb. 23.—The Russian Tenth army, which, according to an official report by Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief in the field, lost one of its corps in the last big battle in East Prussia, now stands at bay along the line of the Narew, Bobr and Niemen rivers within Russian territory.

The latest Russian official communication relates many isolated engagements in this region which may mean that a counter-offensive is now in progress, but of this there is no confirmation.

Report Local Successes.

On the southern flank also the Russians have reported local successes, but these are not admitted by Vienna, which claims that all the Russian counter-attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Russians. Both sides report the capture of many prisoners and while the fighting has been without definite result, it is evident that the struggle for the mountain passes has been extremely sanguinary and that the combats in Galicia have assumed a more violent character.

Artillery Engagements.

Artillery engagements have been the distinguishing feature of activity along the western battle front during the past twenty-four hours with the French claiming the destruction of a heavy German gun at Lombaertzyde, and admitting that the city of Reims again has been violently bombarded.

The only recent activity in the air

MARCHAND MADE A BRIGADIER-GENERAL

Man Made Famous at Fashoda Promoted in French Army.

Paris, Feb. 23.—Col. Marchand of Fashoda fame has been promoted to the rank of brigadier-general. He retired from the army some time ago, but offered his services at the outbreak of hostilities and was appointed a colonel, the rank he held upon his retirement.

Col. Marchand was in command of the French force which crossed from the French Congo after great difficulties on July 10, 1898, and occupied Fashoda, on the White Nile, in the Upper Soudan, two months before the battle of Omdurman, in which the Dervish army was defeated by the Anglo-Egyptian forces under Gen. Kitchener. When hostilities in Egypt were over, Kitchener found Marchand and his force at Fashoda. The French officer refused to retire without orders from his government. After considerable diplomatic correspondence between Great Britain and France the Marchand mission was recalled and left Fashoda Dec. 11, 1898.

After the settlement of the Fashoda incident, Marchand was placed on half pay, not because of the part he played in that affair, but because on his return to France he permitted himself to become the head of an anti-governmental campaign, which was also anti-British.

TURKS ARE DRIVEN BEYOND THE RIVER.

Petrograd, Feb. 23.—A report on the fighting in the Caucasus received today from the headquarters of the Russian commander of that region says that on Feb. 21 there were engagements with the Turks in the vicinity of Tehoruk, as a result of which the Turks were driven beyond the river. There was no fighting elsewhere on this date.

CLAIMS WORTH HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS ARE ANNULLED

Supreme Court Upholds Taft's Withdrawal of Oil Land.

All Entries By Corporations and Individuals Now Worthless.

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Taft's withdrawal of oil land in California and Wyoming in 1909, without empowering legislation, was upheld today by the supreme ourt and entry claims of individuals and corporations valued at hundreds of millions of dollars were annulled thereby.

President Taft withdrew the lands as a conservative measure and on June 25, 1910, congress passed a law ratifying his action.

Oil corporations, principally, centered upon very many tracts between the two dates and have resisted attempts of the government to put them out. The government defended the withdrawal, partly as being for preserving an oil supply for the navy.

Justice Lamar announced the court's decision, from which Justices Day, McKenna and Vandeventer dissented.

The case has nothing to do with the enforcibility of the prevailing form of oil leases, which is involved in another case.

EVERY GERMAN GETS A TICKET FOR BREAD

Given to Imperial Family as Well as Humblest Households.

London, Feb. 23. — The Exchange Telegraph company's Copenhagen correspondent says a private message from Berlin states that today was the first "bread day." Every German received a ticket early in the morning entitling him to his supply. Every member of the imperial family as well as the humblest households were included in the distribution without distinction.

PRESIDENT OF HAITI ABDICATES

Washington, Feb. 23.—Davilmar Theodor has abdicated his office of president of Haiti and taken refuge on the Dutch steamer Frederik Hendrik in the harbor at Port Au Prince. After touching at one of the Southern Haitien ports the steamer will proceed to Curacao.

Local officials have taken charge of the capital, official dispathes say, and are maintaining order awaiting general Guillaume, leader of the revolutionist army.

AWAITING HIS FATE.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The famous cathedral at Reims, which was damaged early in the war, has suffered serious injury, the French war office announced today. The Germans are charged with having made a special target of the cathedral during a violent bombardment.

The Berlin communication reports further progress in the Vosges. The capture of another town, near Muehlbach, is announced.

Russian staff officers believe that the German advance in Northern Poland has been halted definitely.

Another vessel was sunk in the naval war zone today, established by the German admiralty. A Norwegian steamer was sent to the bottom in the English channel by either a submarine or a mine.

Heavy losses were sustained by the Austrians in the recent fighting, the Russian general staff announced in a statement claiming several victories in Galicia. In Northern Poland also, it is said, a successful stand has been made against the German army which drove the Russians from East Prussia. These reports are not in agreement, however, with official communications from Berlin and Vienna.

On the western battlefields there are no signs of returning activity, and apparently neither side desires to take the initiative at this time.

NEW CURLING CHAMPIONS ARE WEST DULUTH "KIDS"

It would be difficult to describe in mere words the feeling of delight entertained by members of the Western Curling club over the victory of the Donald rink in the state curling championship at the Capitol yesterday. It would be impossible to portray the pleasure and elation of the members of the victorious Donald rink. As to the expansive feeling of A. H. Donald, father of the skip and third of the new champions, English is barren.

The winning of the Merriam trophy this year is the first time that the honor has come to a West Duluth quartet. The closest that the Western Curling club members have come to it before was two years ago when Frank H. Wade, with the Alex Donald and James Donald, playing third and second, representatively and A. B. Kaplin playing lead, played Labatt in the finals in Minneapolis, but were defeated.

This is the fourth successive year that Labatt has played in the finals of the state championship event. Three years ago he was defeated by Elmer Whyte of Duluth; two years ago he defeated F. H. Wade, and a year ago the Whyte-Brewer combination took the trophy to this city again. Labatt won the championship also in 1909.

With all members of the rink playing with their stones reversed throughout the entire day owing to the condition of the ice and every member of the rink playing in championship style the Donald rink won from their opponents with scores that were decisive. The closest score was in the third game 7 to 4—in playing against James Myron.

Great Individual Play.

Alex Anderson, lead for the rink, played a star game. In the final game he laid 21 of the 22 stones in the "house," the other stone being only about six inches short of reaching the counting line. The play of Earl Scanlon, who played second, and James Donald, who played third, was effective in rolling up a high score for their rink and cutting down the score of the opponents. The laying of a four head in the eleventh end by a spectacular draw on the part of the skip put a finish to the game.

Added interest in the winning of the championship is taken by West Duluthians owing to the age of the players. The four members of the rink are all under 21 years of age. Anderson, lead, is 20; Scanlon, 17; James Donald, 18, and Alex Donald, 19 years. The latter two have been curling ever since they were strong enough to lift one of the stones, and since organizing, the rink have spent most of their spare time in winter in practicing the game.

Two games are scheduled at the Western Curling club tonight. Both games will be played in the Grand Avenue Pharmacy event. The state "champs" will play McDonald's rink and Ellis is drawn against F. H. Wade's rink. There will be music for skaters.

LOOKS FORWARD TO BUSY YEAR

West Duluth Manufacturer Says Orders Are Coming in.

Otto Swanstrom, general manager of the Diamond Calk & Horse Shoe company of West Duluth, left this afternoon for his annual trip through Eastern states. Mr. Swanstrom said that he expected one of the biggest years in the history of his company in the manufacture of horse shoes and horse shoe calks. Orders for the product have been coming in rapidly, he said.

The company recently had to turn down a big order from Europe. The order called for a type of horse shoes and calks somewhat different from those the company was making and which would require additional machinery. This, and also the fact that the plant is working at full capacity to fill American orders, was the cause of turning down the foreign order.

Mr. Swanstrom expects to be gone about a month or six weeks.

ONEOTA STREET WILL BE PAVED

West Duluthians Get Promise of Action From Commissioner.

That the city would probably pave Superior street from Thirtieth avenue west, Jenswold and Oneota street to Thirty-eighth avenue west this summer was the substance of a promise given during an interview this morning between members of the West Duluth Commercial club and Commissioner R. Murchison, commissioner of public works. Plans and specifications for the work will be prepared within a short time by the city engineering department.

The delegation comprised W. A. Pond, president of the club, David Sang and W. H. Kilton. The club has been active in urging that Oneota street be paved this coming summer in order that at least one good thoroughfare be established between the city proper and the suburb. The committee asked that the entire stretch to Forty-sixth avenue be paved, but owing to required fills at Forty-third avenue it was believed by the commissioner that this could not be done this year.

The paving will be done under an order issued more than a year ago. A part of the work ordered was completed last year when the section between Twenty-fifth and Thirtieth avenues was paved. It is probable that the same kind of material will be used in paving the next section of this roadway this year.

Joseph Castongay Dies.

Joseph Castongay, age 36, died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital following a short illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of his brother, Eli Castougay, 2816 West Second street, and at 9 o'clock from the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, with interment in Calvary cemetery. He was a member of the St. Jean Baptiste society, and was janitor of the French church for a number of years. He made his home in rooms adjoining the church.

Men's Club Program.

The Men's Club of the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Green street, will entertain Thursday evening at a festival in the church parlors. A program of addresses and musical numbers has been prepared. Among the speakers will be Rev. J. J. Daniels, pastor of the West End Swedish Mission church.

Infant Daughter Dies.

The body of Ruth, the year and a half old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Holmstrom of Shovel Lake, Minn., was brought to West Duluth today. The child died Sunday following a short illness. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Richter's undertaking rooms with interment in Oneota cemetery. Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom will conduct the service.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Smith of North Central avenue have returned from a short visit to the Twin Cities, where their daughter, Miss Alfa Smith, is attending a private school.

N. F. Nelson left this afternoon for St. Paul to attend the meeting of the State Retail Hardware Dealers' association.

James Scanlon, 209 North Fifty-third avenue west, who was injured a few days ago at the Alger-Smith sawmill, is rapidly recovering at St. Mary's hospital.

The funeral of Gust Davis, 46, who committed suicide Saturday night, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Fillatrault's undertaking rooms. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

R. Granquist, electrician, 304 Central.

The Buds of Promise Society of the West Duluth Swedish Mission church will be entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Osborne, 4430 West Third street.

Watch Repairing, Hurst, West Duluth.

John Ryan, 316 South Sixty-third avenue west, has returned from Fairdale, N. D., where he was called a month ago on account of illness of his brother, Thomas Ryan.

PRESIDENT MAY VISIT DULUTH

Tumulty Promises to Consider Invitation From Zenith City.

Col. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, this morning received from Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, a reply to an invitation the colonel sent some time ago in behalf of the club, asking the president to include Duluth in the itinerary of his western tour. The president, through his secretary, thanks the club and the city for the invitation and gives assurance that he will consider the invitation in making up the route which he will take.

The president is due to leave Washington for the Panama canal on March 5. He will sail through the canal and up to San Francisco, where he will attend the exposition, and will then begin his tour of the West, en route back to Washington. It is expected that he will take in the more important points of the Northwest in this tour, and with that probability in view, the Twin Cities are after a visit from him, and Duluth may possibly be included.

If You Are Nervous and are losing weight, we recommend that you take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion containing Hypophosphites for a short time. A prescription which we gladly endorse.

MANY EXPECTED AT MOOSE LAKE, MINN.

Gathering of Land Men Wednesday Expected to Bring Large Crowd.

Moose Lake, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local people are planning to entertain many visitors tomorrow when the meeting of land men is held. It is expected that at least 200 from Duluth, Cloquet, the Twin Cities and other points will be present to discuss the best methods of disposing of Northern Minnesota lands to actual settlers.

W. R. McKenzie of Minneapolis, former secretary of the N. M. D. A., who is taking an active interest in the gathering, will be present and take a prominent part in the proceedings.

It is expected that resolutions will be passed asking the legislature to enact certain legislation to further the disposition of lands in this section and aid in settling up the country.

"KEY 419," A NEAR TRAGEDY IN HOTEL LIFE OF A BIG CITY

"The Villain Still Pursued Her."
A comedy drama.
Dramatis personae:
A hotel key, played by itself.
The villain, William Wakely.
The gentle heroine, unknown.
Time: The present. The action takes place in the space of twenty-four hours, thus following the Greek unity idea.

What has a key of room 419 of the St. Louis hotel to do with a wild woman's scream—or the wild scream of a woman—the arousing of a hotel, a near-arrest of a man with harmless intentions, or no intentions in particular, and other commotion details?

Well, today, William Wakely walked up to the desk of the St. Louis and threw down the key to a room he occupied several months ago. Mr. Wakely was in a peevish mood, or he simulated that manner of being.

"Here, Mr. Funk," said Mr. Wakely, "take this key. I have been carrying it around in my pocket and grip for the last two months. I hope I never see it again."

At this melodramatic speech, Mr. Funk, the well-known clerk, grew immediately interested. It is the mission in life of the hotel clerk to listen to the troubles of his fellow men.

"What is the matter?" asked the clerk, and there was a ring of sincerity and heartfelt sympathy in the voice of the clerk.

A Sad, Sad Tale.

"Well," began the aggrieved Mr. Wakley, "it is this way. I was stopping at this hotel in December. I rushed out of here one afternoon in a hurry to catch the afternoon rattler for St. Paul. In my overcoat pocket, as since transpired, was the key to room 419 of this here hotel. All well and good. But listen and wait.

"In the course of my travels over the country it so happened that I went to St. Louis, Mo. Now it also further happens that there is a quiet little hotel down there named the St. Louis hotel. Do you begin to get the plot, Mr. Funk?

"Well, I register at the St. Louis of St. Louis, Mo. Now on Christmas eve, being as I am unmarried and gay of spirit, I was out with some of the boys. I came home all right—at least I thought I was—maybe I was just a trifle happy; anyway, unthinking, or perhaps with my mind on Christmas, I go down in the pocket of the heavy coat that I had not worn since hitting across the Missouri line, until that very day, and grab the key of room 419, Hotel St. Louis, Duluth, Minn., and says to the elevator boy, 'up to four, kiddo.'

"Maybe some of the Christmas cheer had got into me; Christmas comes but once a year, you know; but anyway I sauntered down the hall of the St. Louis hotel, St. Louis, Mo., and tried to insert the key to room 419 hotel St. Louis, Duluth, Minn., into the keyhole.

"It happened, Mr. Funk, that she was an old maid, with a horrible fear of men, or a hallucination to that same end. I was just thinking it was peculiar that the key wouldn't work, like men will at times, Mr. Funk, when a scream ran down my spine and the hotel hall at one and the same time.

"If that woman had screamed just once, it would not have been so bad. I started away, Mr. Funk, with that first blood-curdling scream—but it was too late.

Help! Police!

"That woman yelled for the police, the fire department and the hotel porters. Then she stuck her head, all done up in little papers, like Topsy in Uncle Tom's Cabin, out of the door, and screamed forth maledictions upon me, Mr. Funk.

"Well, the night watchman came, Funk, and several policemen followed and that female, with her head stuck out of the door, charged me with deliberately attempting to break into her room.

"Well, Mr. Funk, I came near being locked up and spending Christmas day in a dark and damp cell. But my story held. The key was my alibi. You see when I showed them the key, and it had 419 on it, and the room of this old dame was also 419, it kind of made them think.

"The next day I apologized to the venerable lady, but she later told someone I was trying to flirt with her. I merely tell you this, Funk, to let you know that Southern chivalry is not always what it is cracked up.

"Here is the key, Funk. It has taught me a lesson—aside from what those two policemen said to me. Keys should be carefully handled. That night I put this key in my grip and I have carried it that way.

"If you have time, Funk, I will purchase something for the two of us."

NOT WORKING ON THIS TRIP

N. F. Hugo Engineer Thirty Years Ago—Passenger This Time.

Thirty years ago N. F. Hugo of Duluth was an engineer on an ocean boat, making the trip from New York to San Francisco, around the Horn. This year he is making the same trip, on a boat of the same line, as a passenger, accompanied by Mrs. Hugo.

In 1885 Mr. Hugo started from New York to deliver a new boat to her owners in San Francisco. After a long, stormy voyage around the Horn they arrived in San Francisco, to find that the vessel was damaged so badly that the owners would not accept her.

The boat was re-sold to South American interests, and taken there by the Duluthian, who was at that time a resident of Kingston, Ont.

Aboard the steamer Kroonland, Mr. Hugo now is en route down the west coast of South America. The boat passed through the Panama canal several days ago, and will make the trip around Cape Horn, coming up the east coast of the Southern continent to New York.

The trip will take about four months, and Mr. Hugo's friends are willing to wager he will spend much of his time in the engine room.

CAPTURED GUNS ARE BROUGHT TO ENGLAND

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 10.—All the machine-guns captured from the Germans by the British troops in France and Flanders are being brought to England for distribution among the new army units at their training camps. The guns are very similar to those used in the British army, and are being used for instruction purposes.

Killed in Battle.

Paris, Feb. 23.—Another of the distinguished soldiers of France has fallen on the field of battle. It was announced that Gen. Loyzeau de Grand Maison had been killed in a recent battle.

"Even in the Sunny South!"

Whether you have always lived in the sunny south lands or whether you are a visitor there from the North, you'll notice and will welcome the rapidly increasing use of radiator heating in the better homes, hotels, leading stores, etc. Even in Florida or southern California when there come days of the "Norther," heavy rains, penetrating dampness and high winds you'll find the only reliable method of heating, just as in zero climates, is by these national comforters—an outfit of

AMERICAN RADIATORS & IDEAL BOILERS

An IDEAL Boiler will burn least fuel because it is unnecessary to force the fire to send heat to windward rooms—the more heat needed at the exposed side of the house, the faster will be the flow of warmth to the AMERICAN Radiators stationed there to offset the cold.

All IDEAL Boilers are or may be fitted with an IDEAL Sylphon Regulator, which gives perfect automatic control over the draft and check dampers, insuring great fuel economy and uniform heating. Saves running up and down the cellar stairs during quick changing weather. It is the greatest improvement made in a century for exact control of the volume of heat.

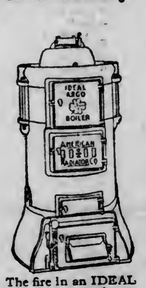

The sure comfort and every-day economies, conveniences and cleanliness of these heating outfits have been demonstrated in thousands of notable buildings, homes, stores, schools, churches, hospitals, theatres, etc., in nearly every civilized country. Besides, this ideal heating is endorsed by all leading health officials, engineers and architects.

A No. 1124 IDEAL Boiler and 461 sq. ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $225, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

That is why IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are so fully guaranteed. Yet they cost no more than ordinary types made without scientific tests of construction and capacity. IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators do not corrode, warp nor rust out by action of fire, gases or water—will last scores of years! They reduce the cost of living and better the living!

Their purchase price is a far-sighted investment, adding 10% to 15% to rentals, and you get "full money back" if building is sold, or larger loan from banker on buildings thus modernized. If freezing days at home have again shown you how comfortless and fuel-wasteful your present heating is, write us today for (free) book:—"Ideal Heating"—which shows how to make your own inside climate at a turn of the radiator valve and save fuel. Iron prices now rule the lowest in 10 years—best time to buy and at this season you get the services of the most skilled fitters!

The fire in an IDEAL Boiler need not be rekindled in an entire heating season. One charging of coal easily lasts through the longest zero night. There can be no fuel waste.

An unfailing Vacuum Cleaner—built into the house. Price $150

You should know about our ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner, for dustless, complete cleaning of rooms, furnishings, clothing, etc. Sits in basement and cleans through an iron suction pipe running to each floor. Easily put in OLD buildings. Fully GUARANTEED. Lasts as long as the building—like radiator heating. Send for catalog.

RUSS STAFF IS OPTIMISTIC

Outlook Along the Whole Eastern Front Considered Favorable.

Claims to Have Defeated German Offensive Campaign in North.

Petrograd, Feb. 23, via London.—Making claim to marked successes in the Carpathians and to having defeated the German offensive campaign in the north, which "never emerged from its period of preparations," Russian staff officers took an optimistic view today of the outlook along the whole front.

The German advance from East Prussia has been stopped, owing largeto the flooding of rivers and the melting of snow, while the attempt to cross the Bobr river has been thwarted. A new battle line has thus been formed in the north, along which there is uninterrupted fighting.

On the other hand, operations in the Carpathians are developing rapidly and the Austrians' right flank is now threatened by the Russian offensive movement. Near Krasne, thirty miles east of Lemberg, the Russians repulsed an Austrian division.

The situation in Northern Poland, however, is regarded as of greatest immediate importance. The position of the Germans near Ossowetz is considered critical, as they are under attack from the heavy guns of the fortress and are unable to bring up their own heavy artillery, owing to the poor roads.

No fears are felt here for the safety of Lemberg. The town of Halicz, with its extensive fortifications, is expected to provide an effective barrier to the Austrian advance towards Lemberg.

NO COMPLICATIONS IN EVELYN CASE

Captain Not Following Safe Course When Ship Struck Mine.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The administration sees nothing in the Evelyn incident liable to cause international complications, it was said today after the cabinet meeting.

It was said to be practically certain that no replies would be sent to the latest British and German notes.

President Wilson told callers he has been unofficially informed that the captain of the Evelyn was not following a safe course laid out for him. He added that warnings had been given that mines were planted in the area in which the Evelyn was sunk.

Representative Moore, Republican, introduced resolutions today calling for details of the war risk bureau's insurance of the Evelyn and a report of its business to date.

At the bureau it was said the government granted $100,000 insurance on the ship and $301,000 on the cargo.

New Sign Ordinance.

A new sign ordinance, repealing the one passed early in January, will be introduced at the meeting of the city commission this afternoon.

The ordinance passed two months ago was declared to be invalid by City Attorney Clapp, because of a double penalty imposed on any violator. As a result the commissioners never enforced the ordinance when it went into effect about three weeks ago and a new one was ordered prepared.

Provision is made in the ordinance to be introduced today for a penalty of $100 or 85 days for violation of the ordinance, while the old law provided for a penalty of $25 or twenty-five days, or both.

CASCARETS FOR COSTIVE BOWELS, SOUR STOMACH, COLD OR HEADACHE

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means your stomach is sour—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It isn't your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—it's biliousness and constipation. Try Cascarets; they sweeten the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble, headache, bad cold and all such misery ends.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

HAS LOST BEST FRIEND.

Thomas Gaynor Ignorant of Fact His Mother Is Dead.

When Thomas Gaynor, aged 34, formerly of Oshkosh, Wis., returns to his boyhood home, he will find that he has stayed away too long, and that while he has been gone, he has lost the best friend he ever had.

Mrs. James Gaynor, 410 Joe street, Oshkosh, has written to Duluth police, asking their aid in the search for Thomas, who is a painter by trade. His mother died recently and since that time all efforts to locate him have failed. He is thought to have been in Duluth recently.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

"LONG, LONG JOB TO PICKLE MARY"

But Lester Finished His Song Behind the Bars.

"It's a long, long job to pickle Mary," sang a youth who gave his name as Lester Simpson, late last evening, as he tacked along West Superior street.

"It's easy enough to pickle Lilly,

"But what made Lester swear——"

"The English are on us," said Detective Frank Schulte, as the strains of the martial air floated on the breeze. "Deutschland uber allies. Come on, Scotty, you're my ally in this war."

"You and your Kaiser Bill better stay out of this," retorted Donald, starting to whistle "The Campbells Are Coming" as he bore down on the "swearing Lester."

"This Tommy Atkins is in a fog, but it isn't 'is old Lunnon fog, and I'm going to interne him," said Irvine,

Accordingly the pair made towards headquarters, the home of the most efficient peace conference in the world, with Detective Schulte covering their retreat.

"I'm not going to mix in this affair," declared Capt. A. G. Fiskett, who is a good Italian; "I intend to preserve my neutrality."

A moment later "Scotty" prevailed upon Jailer Andrew Wanvick, and the belligerent Tommy was interned in the city bastile, conceded to be under Scandinavian rule, whatever the nationality of its occupants may be.

As the jailer came back from his domain, Lester was still swearing in a falsetto tenor:

"It's easy enough to pickle Lilly,
But what made Lester swear
Was the dough it took to pickle Mary
When I had none to spare."

IRISH INVASION.

Mile Post 25 "Occupied" But Invader Had to Pay Indemnity.

The German invasion of Belgium "had nothing on" the Irish invasion of Mile Post 25, on the Alborn branch of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, Friday, according to Frank Butts, section foreman.

When the Irish scouts appeared in the office, Mr. and Mrs. Butts fled hurriedly to the town of Hull Junction, two and one-half miles away, for police protection.

Special Officer Stan Wahlstrom of the D., M. & N. was notified of the war, and equipping himself as an army of occupation should be equipped, journeyed to Mile Post 25 and arrested John B. (Fighting Jack) Mulroy, aged 63.

Mulroy was brought before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting this morning, charged with attempted breach of the peace. As indemnity, he was sentenced to post a bond of $300, or serve 90 days, should the bond not be forthcoming.

"Jack" is a hunter. He is alleged to have been disorderly in the course of a visit to the section house, and upon being ejected, started home for his gun, with a threat to "clean house."

His invasion was a complete success, but the allies were too much for him.

HELD FOR KEEPING DISORDERLY HOUSE.

Arraigned in municipal court before Judge F. H. Cutting this morning on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, Mary Olson, 4706 Jay street, waived examination and was bound over to the district court. Bail was set at $100.

The Olson woman was arrested Feb. 19 by Chief C. H. Troyer, who alleges that she has been a disturbing element in her neighborhood for some time, and particularly since Feb. 1.

"DARK MAN HANGIN' ROUND."

And Today Frank Walker Bemoans Loss of Five Hens.

"There's a dark man a hangin' around," said a fortune-telling friend to Frank Walker, 524 East Eleventh street, yesterday, but Mr. Walker only laughed.

This morning five of his choice Plymouth Rock hens were missing and he began to believe that a "dark man" had indeed been "hangin' around."

He could follow footprints leading from his barn, evidently belonging to a very large person, but the trail didn't go very far until it was lost in a well-traveled street.

OBITUARY

Dr. Richard Hudson, 70, formerly dean of the department of literature, science and arts of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor died of pneumonia at a New York hotel, Feb. 22. He was on his way to Ann Arbor after a trip in the South, where he had gone on his doctor's advice.

Brigadier-General John E. Gough, who took a prominent part in the retreat from Mons, and who since then has several times been mentioned in official dispatches, has died of wounds received last Saturday. Brigadier-General Gough was born in 1871, the son of General Sir Charles Gough. He had seen service in various campaigns and in 1903 was awarded the Victoria Cross while in command of the British force at Daratoleh, Africa. He was an aide de camp to King George.

Rev. T. H. Haugan, one of the best known and most widely beloved ministers in the United Norwegian Lutheran church, died at Northfield, Minn., Feb. 21. He had been in ill health for several years, his last illness dating from Jan. 8, 1915, when he was taken sick while attending the banquet for the Rev. Doctor Bockman of the United Church Seminary in Minneapolis. Rev. Haugan was born in Norway, May 22, 1861.

A Personal Statement.

There are so-called "honey and tar" preparations that cost the dealer half as much but sell at the same price as the original and genuine Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We never offer these imitations and substitutes. We know you will buy Foley's whenever you need a cough syrup if you once use it. People come long distances for the true FOLEY'S—over thirty years the leading remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial and la grippe coughs. Sold everywhere.

REDUCE HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES

Make Your Own Cough Medicine

The difference in buying one of the most efficient, latest and up-to-date cough and cold remedies (which can be made at home), and buying the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds, is that with the new one you get all pure medicine, instead of buying a large proportion of sugar and water, besides paying for bottles, corks and labels; and it usually requires 2 to 3 bottles of the old-fashioned, ready-made remedies to break up a cough or cold, while 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's new Concentrated Expectorant, which is altogether different from any other cough remedy, and is so strongly concentrated that 2 ounces, when mixed at home with simply one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water, makes a full pint (16 ounces) of excellent cough remedy, and will be sufficient to probably last the whole family the entire winter. It positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, and is so pleasant that children like to take it. Arrangements have been made with the Lyceum Pharmacy to refund the money to any person who finds it does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the very best remedy ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and hoarseness. In fact, all druggists of this city will sell this new remedy under the same guarantee. You will be the sole judge, and under the positive guarantee by these druggists, absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. R. J. Schiffman, Proprietor, St. Paul, Minn. (56)

Neglected Kidney Trouble --Serious Sickness

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of Kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the Bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decided to try it and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass Gravel until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since—and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

NO AIRS ABOUT HER.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: "Airs!" exclaimed the proud mother, and shook her head vigorously. "My Elsie, for all her learning, hasn't any more airs, so to speak, than her poor old dad."

"Then she won't turn up her nose at her old friends?" queried the visitor.

"La, no!"

"How refreshing! Most girls who go through college nowadays will hardly look at you after they're graduated."

"Well, they ain't like my Elsie, that's all I can say," retorted Elsie's ma. "She's become a carnivorous reader, of course, and she frequently importunates music. But stuck up—my Elsie? Not a bit. She's unanimous to everybody, has a most infantile vocabulary and, what's more, never keeps a caller waiting while she dresses up. No, she just runs down, nom de plume, as she is."

WILLIE'S COME-DOWN.

Baltimore American: Little Willie, after flattening his nose against the outside of the baker's window for about half an hour, at last entered with his mind evidently made up.

"I want to know," he said, in a determined yet hopeful voice, "how much those wedding cakes are?"

"Well," answered the enterprising proprietor, "I have them at all prices. Tell your mother that I can do her a beauty for $20. The cheapest is $10."

"Ah, well," he murmured, in a resigned voice, "let me have one of those 1-cent gingerbread rabbits."

BUSY SESSION FOR COUNCIL

Park Bond Controversy and Superior Paving Will Be Discussed.

Objections of East End Residents Will Be Presented.

The park bond controversy, the East Superior street pavement and several minor matters will be settled at the meeting of the city commission being held this afternoon. The meeting usually held on Monday was postponed on account of Washington's birthday.

Last Monday Commissioner Voss raised objection to the ordinance appropriating $125 for the printing of park bonds, claiming that the contract had been awarded by Mayor Prince in violation of the charter and that the Christie company was charging too much for the work. As a result Commissioner Hicken, who was presiding in the absence of the mayor, tabled the ordinance for a week and it will be finally acted on this afternoon.

Yesterday morning residents along East Superior street, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues, presented Commissioner Murchison with a petition protesting against the proposed paving of that thoroughfare, because of uncertain business conditions at the present time. This petition will be taken up at the meeting today, as the council recently passed a resolution ordering the pavement.

Commissioner Murchison will introduce an ordinance appropriating $700 for the purchase of sandstone paving blocks to be used in repair work during the year.

The council will order the construction of a storm sewer in Twenty-first avenue east, between Sixth and Seventh alleys, and a sanitary sewer in Peabody street, between Forty-seventh and Fifty-third avenues east. The contract for furnishing the city with 132 lineal feet of cast iron pipe will be awarded to the American Cast Iron Pipe company on its offer of $26.89 a ton, f. o. b. New Duluth. The pipe will be used in the construction of the Gary sewer.

MINING SCHOOL ALUMNI BANQUET

Twenty Graduates of Michigan College Hold Annual Association Meeting.

Twenty mining engineers of Minnesota, graduates of the Michigan College of Mines, attended the annual banquet of their state alumni association at the Spalding last night. T. H. Bennett of Houghton, Mich., superintendent of the Lake, South Lake, Algona & Indiana copper mines, was the guest of honor.

After the dinner, which started at 6:30, the party attended the Duluth-St. Paul hockey game, returning to the hotel later in the evening for an informal business session.

J. W. Van Evera of Virginia was elected president of the association for the coming year. Other officers are: A. B. Holley of Virginia, vice president; and E. P. Scallon of Virginia, secretary and treasurer.

The Michigan College of Mines, located at Houghton, Mich., has about seventy alumni in the various mines of Minnesota, and all of the ranges were represented at last night's gathering. Those present were:

Will Close Series of Lectures.
Dr. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, who has been giving a series of talks on "The Sermon on the Mount" for the Men's Bible class at the Young Men's Christian association, will give his closing address tomorrow evening. Luncheon will be served at 6:30 o'clock and the address will follow. Arrangements are being made for other addresses to follow those of Dr. Lawrence.

Rabbi Talks to Baptists.
The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church will be held in the lecture room of the church this evening. A buffet lunch will be served at 6:30, and the feature of the evening will be a talk by Rabbi M. Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel on the European war. All men are invited.

Returns From East.

Merchant Bankrupt.
Frederick Fuller of Virginia, Minn., filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States district court today. He placed his assets at $225 and his liabilities at $999.47.

Judge Morris in Minneapolis.

Has Resumed Practice.
Dr. C. J. Wallace has reopened his offices at 305 Temple building, after completing a special course in obstetrics and gynecology.

Lent at Trinity Cathedral.
Tomorrow, being St. Matthias' day, there will be two services at Trinity Cathedral, Episcopal, at which the vicar, Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, will give addresses. They will be held at 10 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. On Thursday services with addresses, will be held at the same hours. This plan will be followed each Thursday during Lent.

Women Will Meet.
The Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's English Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church parlors.

Brotherhood Meeting.
The Lakeside Brotherhood will meet next Friday evening to hear Commissioner Hicken explain the plan proposing to close thirteen street intersections at Lakeside in return for a fifteen-foot strip of the Duluth & Iron Range road's right-of-way. Considerable opposition has developed to this plan and it is expected that some formal action will be taken by those at the meeting.

NO GRAIN TONNAGE ASKED FOR YET

Wild Market Makes Cargo Offers for Spring Shipping Unsafe.

A recently published assertion that inquiry and offers are being made here and at the Canadian Head of the Lakes for bottoms to carry grain down the lakes is emphatically denied and derisively laughed at by local vessel men. The story ran that inquiry is made here for grain tonnage at 1¼ to 1⅜ cents a hundred.

"If that is so," said a local vessel man this morning, "it's funny that I can get no offers. The fact is that none are being made, and my opinion is that none will be made for some time. Shippers would be mad to make offers for grain tonnage with the grain market in the shape it is in just now. To contract ahead one needs some assurance of where he is coming out in the deal, and there is no assurance of any kind just at this time."

Very little in the way of chartering boats for storage was made last fall at the American or Canadian Head of the Lakes. There are afloat in this harbor 257,800 bushels of corn and 333,743 bushels of oats, as against nearly 2,000,000 bushels of grain a year ago. At the Canadian Head of the Lakes there are afloat at this time 283,132 bushels of wheat and no other grain, against nearly 7,000,000 bushels a year ago.

The ore movement at the opening of navigation—which, by the way, is expected to be late, owing to the lack of business—is expected to be very light, and for that reason offers of coal cargoes are not being eagerly grabbed up, for it would mean the return East of empty hulls.

DIE ON SAME DAY.

Two Veteran Residents of Winona County Get Simultaneous Summons.

Winona, Minn., Feb. 23.—Companions for fifty years, two of Winona county's old pioneers will be borne to their graves on Wednesday at the same hour, following the double service in the church at Homer.

The deaths of Samuel A. Alling, 90 years old, and J. H. Lemay, 70, occurred within a few hours of each other Monday, while the Old Settlers' association of the county was convened in annual session.

Alling came to the county in 1854 and settled on a farm at Homer. Six years later Lemay came, a much younger man, and took up an adjoining farm. Both had lived in the county ever since.

Think Ship Was Torpedoed.
Dover, Feb. 23, via London, 4:32 p. m.—The crew of the Regin landed at Dover this afternoon. The men said they believed the ship was torpedoed by a German submarine.

SCROFULA AND ALL HUMORS GIVE WAY

There are many things learned from experience and observation that the older generation should impress upon the younger. Among them is the fact that scrofula and other humors, which produce eczema, boils, pimples and other eruptions, can be most successfully treated with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine is a peculiar combination of remarkably effective blood-purifying and health-giving roots, barks and herbs, which are gathered especially for it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood the test of forty years.

DEMAND, NOT SPECULATION

Reason for Keeping Up Prices of Wheat, Says Board Man.

Opening of Dardanelles Will Show Immediate Change in Prices.

New York, Feb. 23.—If the Dardanelles should be opened by the British and French fleets, thereby releasing vast supplies of grain from Russia and the Danubian countries, there would be an immediate and radical change in the situation which in this country is keeping up the price of wheat, according to C. H. Canby, president of the Chicago board of trade.

This statement was made while testifying today at the investigation of the state attorney general into the causes of the high price of wheat, bread and flour.

It was the tremendous demand from Europe for grain that was keeping up the prices, not speculation, declared Mr. Canby. He said he knew on the best authority that there was one European nation involved in the war which would gladly pay $2 a bushel for 50,000,000 bushels of wheat "if it could make the purchase."

"No power on earth," he testified, "except that of governmental prohibition of exports—which would have resulted in a general financial panic and left the west with its wheat in the same position as the south with its cotton crop—could have prevented the present range of values."

Tends to Confuse.

The witness said he did not like the idea of investigating the situation, "as it tended to confuse."

"The western farmer is beginning to ask what all these investigations mean," he said. "The question the farmer desires answered is this: 'Do the people of the great cities expect him to pay good prices for all the articles he is compelled to purchase and at the same time deny him the right to take advantage of conditions which place his crops—the only thing he has to sell—on a profitable basis?

"The sharp rise in the price of wheat is due largely to the sensational newspapers and exchange agencies of this country and abroad and the fact that governments, instead of trade purchasers, were the bidders for our wheat.

"But the situation is clearing up—wheat has reached its limit—and by spring, when the shipments from Canada and Argentina begin it will be well in hand. Abnormal prices can't last. High prices cure high prices."

HEAVY SNOWFALL IN THE SOUTHWEST

Train and Wire Traffic Badly Demoralized at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Feb. 23.—Demoralization of telegraph and telephone service and big delays in trains reaching Kansas City today following an almost unprecedented fall of heavy, wet snow that extended during the past twenty-four hours over Kansas, Oklahoma and this part of Missouri.

A high wind swept hundreds of poles away and it was believed it would be several days before normal wire conditions are restored.

South Dakota Blizzards.
Sioux City, Iowa, Feb. 23.—Severe blizzards throughout the James river valley in South Dakota, extending southward into Nebraska as far as the Platte are tying up traffic on all railroad lines and threatening to cause serious trouble to telephone and telegraph communication. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has abandoned all trains running on its Mitchell and Yankton divisions and on the Platte branch. Dispatches received here last night say a heavy snow is falling with a thirty-mile gale piling it into drifts.

SUPERIOR

COUNTER-CHARGE PLAN.

Recallers Will Bring Action to Stop Injunction.

Citizens who signed the petition for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel will be made party to the suit to be brought to stop the injunction proceedings recently brought by J. S. Stack, according to W. P. Crawford, attorney for the recallers. Counter charges will, it is said, be brought against the men responsible for the injunction, according to statements made by the attorney. It is intended to bring the case to trial before the circuit court within a short time.

SCOTTI IN "L'ORACOLO."

Antonio Scotti has added to his laurels by creating in Leoni's "L'Oracolo," the part of a drug-steeped, murderous Chinaman. Mr. Scotti's Scarpia in "Tosca" is one of the standard interpretations of the operatic stage the world over. His new part is likely to bring him even more fame.

FEDERAL JURY MAY INVESTIGATE ELECTION

A Federal grand jury will open a session in Superior a week from tomorrow and it is rumored that it will investigate alleged frauds at the November election. While the proposed investigation is merely a rumor at present, several well known political leaders are said to give it considerable credence.

Hearings have been held and witnesses examined by the court commissioners pertaining to the recent election, and warrants have been issued against some of the officials of the election.

Bankers in Convention.
Members of the Northern Wisconsin Bankers' association will meet today and tomorrow in convention in Superior. Several well known bankers of Wisconsin will be present. Many of the delegates are expected to arrive this afternoon while the greater number will be in the city at the opening of the session at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Thief Snatches Purse.
Superior police are looking for a pocketbook snatcher. Yesterday afternoon a thief snatched a purse belonging to Mrs. A. J. Linderstat, 722 Hughitt avenue, just as she was about to enter her home. Despite her screams the thief got away. The purse contained $15. Only a meager description of the thief was obtained.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

ELECTRIC CAR IS MOST ECONOMICAL

Cost of Operation Lowest and It Can Be Driven Safely.

(By A. J. Robillard, local agent for the Detroit Electric.)

For several years it has been recognized that a good electric is the most economical type of automobile from the standpoint of operation cost. The simplicity of the electric, and the fact that it can be driven with safety by every member of the family, have also become established facts.

Within the last year or two the electric pleasure car has forged its way to the front, and has demanded consideration everywhere, because it has proven itself a practical car for motoring needs.

The question is sometimes asked why the electric car is the logical vehicle for practically every motoring need of a family? In the first place, it is a car of utility. Its field of usefulness really knows no limits. There was a time when men hesitated at buying an electric because they felt that the zone of operation was too restricted. Today statistics prove 98 per cent of all automobile trips do not exceed a total of 60 miles, at an average of 20 to 25 miles an hour, which means that 98 per cent of all trips are within easy radius of a good electric car. And for this 98 per cent trips the electric is considerably less expensive to run, so that, everything considered, the electric car is a wise investment.

Another reason why a good electric today is a practical car, is based on the fact that an electric has ample power and hill-climbing ability to go anywhere. This is proven by the fact that in hilly cities the streets are dotted with electrics, whereas, a few years ago, they were comparatively little seen. We have equipped our cars with larger battery and larger motor connected directly to the driving shaft, thus giving from 15 to 20 per cent more power to meet the most severe conditions.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome
SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's short-comings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, let it be stated that the prescription calls only for three-grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating powers imaginable. The effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.—Advertisement.

WIN TICKETS TO AUTO SHOW

Twenty-Five Good Guessers of Auto Pictures Announced.

Hundreds of Answers Received in Auto Naming Contest.

PROPER NAMES OF CARS IN CONTEST.

1. Franklin.
2. Maxwell.
3. Apperson.
4. Ford.
5. Packard.
6. Cadillac.

The names of the twenty-five accurate guessers in the contest conducted by The Herald have just been chosen. The pictures of six makes of autos were published in The Herald of last Saturday and it was announced that each of the first twenty-five accurately naming the cars would be entitled to three tickets to the auto show. The replies came in like a snow storm. The auto editor was swamped. When he was out the rest of the newsroom force had to bear the brunt of the deluge, and it looked as though a special accountant would have to be engaged to keep the answers numbered in the order in which they arrived.

Not all of the answers were read, it may as well be confessed. The auto editor simply took the pile, the letters in which were numbered in the order they were received, and started reading from No. 1. When twenty-five accurate answers had been scanned, he heaved a sigh of relief and remarked: "The last time I'll start anything."

At any rate the contest is over and each of those mentioned in the list given herewith will receive his or her tickets by calling at The Herald office this afternoon or evening or tomorrow. Following is the list of lucky contestants:

Jack O'Grady, flat B, 126 West Fourth street.
Gordon Gamble, French & Bassett company.
Russell Coleman, 214 Second avenue east.
Jack Arnold, 201 East Second street.
C. F. Wiberg, 611 Mesaba avenue.
Elner Brander, 203 East Second street.
Marion Worlee, 1023½ East Second street.
Roy O'Donnell, 425 West Faribault street.
James Anderson, 1127 East Fourth street.
W. C. Bergeron, 110 East Seventh street.
John Chisholm, 329 West Fourth street.
A. Grimard, 1023½ East Second street.
Fred N. Cayo, 520 West Seventh street.
Serono McComber, box 75, Taconite, Minn.
Douglas Goldberg, 25 North Fifth avenue west.
Marc B. Goldberg, 529 Tenth avenue east.

I Owe My Life

To Peruna I will Praise it as long as I live. I will not be without It in the Home. It Saves Many Doctor Bills.

Mrs. Selena Tanner, Athens, Ohio, writes: "I was nearly starved when I began to take Peruna. My stomach was so bad with catarrh that I could scarcely eat enough to keep me alive. In two weeks after I began to take the medicine my stomach felt all right. I have been well ever since. That was fifteen years ago. I only wish every one knew how useful Peruna is in the home. Whenever I am taking a cold a few doses will always break it up. Peruna is a good tonic to strengthen any one. Peruna is excellent for old people; also puny or weak children.

"Yes, you can use my testimonial wherever you wish. I am trying to tell every woman I can, for I am so thankful that a neighbor told me when I was considered incurable. It cured me to stay cured. Today I am enjoying good health. I am sixty-six years old. I owe it all to Peruna. I cannot find words to express my thanks for your kind advice at various times."

WEST END TEMPLARS WILL SUPPORT HICKEN

Lodge Will Bring Noted Temperance Lecturer to Duluth.

Commissioner W. A. Hicken will have the united support of the Independent Order of Good Templars of the city in his re-election campaign this spring. At a meeting of the district lodge, which has jurisdiction over all of the I. O. G. T. lodges of the city, held last night, plans were made to have a special representative from the outside come here and speak in his behalf.

Dr. Fritchof Wenershold of Chicago, a well known Scandinavian temperance worker, will be secured. He is expected to arrive here within a few days and will work with Peter Fosness, district president, among the voters. He will assist the local lodges in conducting a campaign for membership.

During the first few days of his presence at the Head of the Lakes, he will work among the people of Proctor, where the voters will pass upon local option on March 9. Following the campaign there he will spend two weeks in Duluth and will then go to Brainerd, Minn., where local option is also being considered as an issue in the campaign.

SPEAKERS SECURED FOR CLUB BANQUET

Dr. Oredson Will Be Toastmaster; Prince and Others to Speak.

Dr. O. A. Oredson, chairman of the speakers' committee for the banquet of the West End Commercial club, to be held on Friday evening, March 5, at the Rex hotel, has been selected as toastmaster for the affair. Several good local speakers have been selected for the program, which will follow the supper.

Among the principal speakers will be Mayor W. I. Prince, Elmer F. Blu, Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Rev. F. O. Hanson, pastor of the Trinity English Lutheran church, and representatives from the Duluth Commercial club and the West Duluth Commercial club. The two men to represent these organizations have not yet been announced.

One speaker will be present from the Woman's council of Duluth. She will give a toast in behalf of the women. Wives of members are expected to be present and make up about half of the attendance. Several musical numbers will be given, and among those rendering numbers will be members of the Svea Glee club.

The supper will be served promptly at 7 o'clock. The committee is making arrangements to take care of 200 guests. Tickets to the banquet are said to be going rapidly.

A.-O. CLUB ENTERTAINS.

Musical Program Thursday and Banquet Planned for March.

The Alpha-Omega club of the West end will entertain at an informal party for a few of its friends on Thursday evening at its rooms in the Mohaupt building, 2020 West Superior street. A musical program will be given by the Alpha-Omega quartet and orchestra.

The club is making plans for a banquet to be held during the latter part of March, but the date has not yet been set. The committee in charge is headed by J. A. Peterson, president of the club.

Services at St. Peter's.

Special services in English and Swedish will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and Third street, each week during Lent. On Thursday evenings the services will be held in Swedish and on Friday evenings they will be in English. Rev. W. E. Harmann, rector of the church, will have charge.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. O. A. Oredson, 2310 West Third street, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with relatives in the southern part of the state.

Miss Mabel Simonson, 2102 West Superior street, returned last night after a few days visit with relatives at Mason, Wis.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, entertained this afternoon at a "Martha Washington" tea. Colonial costumes were worn by the members. A musical and literary program was given.

The funeral for the 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. Aggurino, 1125 West Michigan street, who died Sunday, was held this morning from the residence.

Sophia lodge, Order of Vasa, will entertain at cards this evening for members of the society and friends at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. A musical program will also be given.

Mrs. A. Anderson, 2828 West Michigan street, entertained last evening at whist at her home for a few of her friends. Favors were won by Mrs. Peter Olson, Mrs. Olaf Peterson and Mrs. Christ Young. The other guests were Mrs. Lena Grenner, J. Dayven, S. Agre, C. Hanson and J. Anderson.

LANDLORD BLAMES ROOMER FOR FIRE

D. Favuzzi Now Sorry He Let Boarder Get Behind With Rent.

It was an unlucky day for D. Favuzzi, 913 West Superior street, when he let one of his boarders get behind on his rent, for he believes that the delinquent one set fire to his home last night. The fire was successful, viewed from the angle of an alleged incendiary, as it caused damage estimated at about $150.

Favuzzi conducts a boarding house in his little home on the side of the hill, near the Point of Rocks, and has three or four roomers. They were driven into the street shortly before 4 o'clock this morning by the blaze, and the house was badly damaged.

Favuzzi told Assistant Chief Wilson he was sure that the missing boarder, who had left yesterday, had come back early this morning and set fire to the house. Indications were that the blaze had started from the top of a large pile of kindling wood in the basement.

CAPTAIN SAYS HE WAS MISDIRECTED

Evelyn's Commander Followed Wrong Course on Advice of British Officer.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—According to advices received here, Captain Smith of the American steamer Evelyn has informed the German authorities that his ship came to grief through the advice of a British naval boarding officer, who instructed him to follow the course on which he struck the mines instead of the northerly course as laid down in the German instructions.

The disaster occurred at 4 o'clock Friday morning and the Evelyn sank seven hours later. Captain Smith, a Dutch pilot and thirteen men drifted in a rowboat until Saturday afternoon when they were rescued by a German patrol boat. A Spanish stoker in the rowboat died meanwhile from exposure. The other men in the boat are all recovering. They are now at the Sailors' home in Bremerhaven.

The mate and the remainder of the Evelyn's crew are understood to have landed in Holland.

TALKS TO STATE RETAIL MERCHANTS

Bentley P. Neff Will Make Address on "Dry Goods" at St. Paul Convention.

Bentley P. Neff, secretary for F. A. Patrick & Co., left last evening for St. Paul where, this afternoon, he will deliver an address before the Minnesota Retail Merchants' association. His subject is "Drygoods."

The convention is the annual get-together meeting of the general merchants of the state. The sessions will extend over three days. The meetings are being held in the auditorium of the Ryan hotel.

Mr. Neff expects to return to Duluth Thursday morning.

GOVERNOR COMING.

Will Be Chief Speaker at Banquet Closing State Maccabee Convention.

Governor Hammond is expected to be one of the speakers at a banquet, which will feature the quadrennial convention of the Maccabees of the state of Minnesota on March 3. A number of other well known speakers are also expected to attend.

Dr. Edward H. Haas of St. Paul, great state commander of the Maccabees, will call the convention to order at 10 a. m., March 3. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor W. I. Prince. Officers will be elected at the afternoon session and during the evening a class of nearly 200 candidates will be initiated.

Six teams from various sections of the state will also participate in a competitive drill. The ceremonies will be followed by a theater party and a banquet.

SARAH BERNHARDT PASSES A GOOD NIGHT.

Bourdeaux, Feb. 23, via Paris.—It was announced today that Sarah Bernhardt had passed a good night. She slept continuously and her pulse and temperature are normal. Mme. Bernhardt's leg was amputated yesterday.

FEARS FELT FOR TWO GERMAN SUBMARINES.

London, Feb. 23.—A dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph company says reports from the German frontier state that much uneasiness exists at the German fortified seaport of Cuxhaven concerning two large submarines which have not returned to their base. The undersea boats are said to be two days overdue and it is feared they have been destroyed.

GET THE HABIT OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

We are all creatures of habit. It is as easy to have the habit of being at your best as it is to appear slovenly. The successful attractive women are those who have the best habits of personal care. Simple, good, natural habits of hair care means only keeping both hair and scalp perfectly clean and healthy. This is very simple when you know that it is not advisable to use a makeshift, and that you should always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

"GOOD HIGHWAYS" FARRELL'S SLOGAN

Candidate for City Commissioner Addresses Hillside Farrell Club.

City paving and good highways were the main topics of the address delivered last night by J. A. Farrell, candidate for the city commission, before the Central Hillside Farrell club at Polish hall, Fourth avenue east and Fourth street.

A large audience was present to hear Mr. Farrell, who announced that he will work for better highways leading out of the city and for more paved streets, if elected on April 6. He emphasized further that he is out for the position of commissioner of public works, now held by Roderick Murchison.

After the meeting last night it was announced that another Farrell club is to be organized in the West end this week.

PALESTINE LODGE IS FORTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.

Palestine lodge, No. 79, A. F. & A. M., celebrated its forty-fifth anniversary at the Masonic temple last evening. A program of dances interspersed by entertainment furnished by vaudeville performers, who are appearing at a local house this week, and cards and refreshments, featured the affair. About 300 people attended.

Palestine, No. 79, is the largest of the five Masonic "blue" lodges of the city. P. M. Hanft is the worshipful master.

BIG RED CROSS HOSPITAL SHIP

Fine Vessel Which Plies Between Havre and Southampton.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 10.—The British Red Cross hospital ship Asturias, which the allies assert was subjected to a submarine attack, is by far the finest hospital ship in the British service. It plies between Havre and Southampton. In the old days, the ship was in the South American passenger service and was then noted for its luxurious accommodations and steadiness in rough weather. Luxurious fittings are now cleared away, but nothing has been lost on the side of comfort. There are 1,200 swinging beds for the wounded, who receive every care possible in a land hospital. While surgical operations at sea are generally avoided on hospital ships, unless of a minor kind, the operating theater of the Asturias is so well equipped that any serious cases are handled there.

The Asturias is painted white with green stripes and carries a huge square cross painted in red amidships on both sides. At night, the red cross is illuminated by electric lights and can be seen clearly from a long distance. Besides the doctors and orderlies, there are twenty women nurses aboard.

THRILLING STORY FROM WAR ZONE

Red Cross Nurse in Flanders Tells of Exciting Life.

London, Feb. 10.—A letter received by an English family from a daughter serving as a Red Cross nurse in Flanders gives a thrilling glimpse of a girl's life on the Nieuport-Dixmude line.

"We had a lively day of shelling on Monday," she writes. "At about 10:30, whiz—bang! just outside our house, and all our glass came shattering down. Whiz—bang! another, and another, and yet another. Just then the Belgian doctor came in and told us we had better go into the cellar. We went down into the cold, damp cellar and stood about on bits of wood and coal, and listened to the continued whiz, bang and crash of big shells. The noise was pretty near deafening, and they must have plumped in about 100. Out of all that lot luckily we only got two wounded men—a priest, wounded by a flying bit in the face, and a soldier. It was extremely lucky that on that day the trenches opposite our house were not occupied or there would have been many killed and wounded."

Continuing her letter on the following day, the writer says: "The big cannonade is still going on. There must be a tremendous battle, I am hoping they are gaining ground, and that we shall soon move on down the road. I should just love to move forward into Brussels. The weather has been truly awful lately, nothing but rain. I live in knee-high rubber boots and my oil-skins. I am sure I will never be able to get back to hobble skirts and 'fashionable sides,' as our American nurse says.

"We are thinking of going to Furnes for the afternoon, just for a joy ride. We have been hard at it for nearly a fortnight without a break, so we think of going in. You have no idea what a pleasure a trundle into Furnes is, when you have not done a thing but remain in two smelly, dingy posts, day in and day out. I will tell you what the pleasure consisted of: Getting into a motor-ambulance that has seen its best days, and trundling over broken, holey roads that nearly jolt one's inside out; probably at least once, and perhaps more, sticking in the deep mud, and all having to get out and push and shove to get the car out, and eventually arriving at Furnes and having a mad rush round the shops and grabbing all stores we can find, but it all seems so new and interesting after a desolate town.

"Then a mad rush back again, over the same bumpy, holey road, and home to our tumbled-down cottage. Yet you have no idea what a great treat it seems to us."

LANDIRAULT WAS ROMERIL OF "VICS."

The player on the St. Paul Curling club team, who last night played under the name of Landirault, is said to be Romeril of the Winnipeg Vics, who played against the Duluth team last season.

Ray Johns declared that he secured Romeril to fill in one of the places created by injured players, and that deception was not intended nor practiced in the playing of the Winnipeg man, the name on the boards being the name of a player whom it was originally intended to play.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessne, backache, headache, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.

MINSTREL SHOW NETS TIDY SUM

U. C. T. Will Send Band and Baseball Team to Winona.

In addition to being a great artistic success the United Commercial Travelers' minstrel was a financial success and exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic of the association. Between $800 and $900 was netted, and this tidy little sum will be sufficient to insure a big booster delegation to Winona in June when the "drummers" will hold their annual convention. The delegation will carry a baseball team and a band, and Duluth will be boosted as never before by the Head of the Lakes' men.

The minstrel show has proved to be one of the most satisfying things ever done by the local men. They point with pride to the stage setting and drop effects, which might have done credit to a professional performance. The palace setting was unique and elaborate and the drops bore the letters "U. C. T." with flowers and a chandelier of many lights. The stage manager, Charles Coburn, is given credit for being especially generous to the salesmen.

Among the soloists to win laurels were: Walter Milburg, who sang, "If I Were a Dreamer"; Ollie Dignes, "The Little Gray Home in the West"; Wilbur Robinson, "Song of Steel"; Warwick Martin, "Because." The olio featured to advantage Miss Etta Newstrand and Fred Lavelle in the interpretation of modern dances, and E. N. Haagensen, "the original Swede," in a monologue.

An excellent little skit entitled "Life on the Road," was presented by Ed. Stevens, Neil Buckley and James L. Wilson.

PLAYED ROLE OF A "RUBE"

Edward Fitzpatrick Was "Switched" If He Wouldn't Buy Store.

Ardor Alleged to Have Cooled After Partner Collected Commission.

It was a regular gosh ding rube from Rubensville that Edward Fitzpatrick portrayed when he reckoned he'd buy a stock of goods and business from A. N. Friedman, proprietor of a small grocery store at 1131 East Fourth street, one day last November when the deal nearly went through, according to the story which developed today at the trial of Fitzpatrick and his alleged accomplice, Julius Paul, on an indictment jointly charging them with grand larceny in the second degree.

The accusation which the two men are facing is that they defrauded Friedman out of $50 by false representations. Paul, it is claimed, represented to Friedman that he had a purchaser for his stock of goods in one Edward Loud, a farmer living near Rice Lake, Wis. Loud, who, it is charged, turned out to be Fitzpatrick, agreed to buy the property. But before the money was actually paid over, Paul came to Friedman and demanded a commission of $50, which had been agreed upon. Friedman paid the commission and then the deal fell through.

According to the story as told by the state's witnesses, when Fitzpatrick came to interview Friedman, he was decked out in a red mackinaw, slouch hat, and wore top boots. He also had a week's growth of beard on his face. Such expressions as "By Heck!" and "Well, I swan" were profuse in his vocabulary and he spent considerable time telling about things back on the farm, the chickens, the cows and the like.

"Switched" If He Wouldn't Buy.

Loud, as Patrick was introduced to Friedman, expressed particular delight in the fact that the store was lighted with electricity and before he left he remarked that he would be "switched" if he wouldn't take it. A price of $365 was agreed upon and it was stipulated that the deal would be closed as soon as possible.

Paul, who had been instrumental in bringing buyer and seller together, then informed Freidman that he wanted a commission of $50 for the sale. After receiving assurance from Paul that the deal would not go through unless the commission was first paid over, a check was issued to Paul, who lost no time in converting it into cash. This happened to be the closing incident of the deal. Freidman later demanded a return of his money, but Paul refused. He obtained the arrest of both of the men on Nov. 19, 1914, the same day.

J. Fitzpatrick, it is claimed, was not a farmer, but had come to Duluth several months ago. For a time he was employed as a salesman for the Bellnet Furniture company. He is 44 years old. Paul, who gave his age as 23, is a cattle buyer and has lived in Duluth for a number of years. It is understood that the defense is that they would have gone through with the deal if Frieman had not had them arrested.

Etta Friedman, 220 West Fourth street, a sister of the complaining witness, took the stand in district court this morning. She told of a visit which Paul and Fitzpatrick had made to the store at 1131 East Fourth street, where she was clerking at the time.

G. A. E. Finayson appears in court as attorney for the defendant Fitzpatrick and John H. Norton is representing Paul. County Attorney Warren E. Greene is prosecuting.

WILL PAY FINAL HONORS TO PIONEER

Funeral for E. W. Wakelin, Mineral Expert, Will Be Held Wednesday.

Funeral services for Edward W. Wakelin, Duluth pioneer, who died yesterday at the home of his niece, Mrs. W. S. Wakelin, 323 West Second street, will be held from the residence at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Rev. A. W. Ryan officiating.

Since 1857 Mr. Wakelin had been living at the Head of the Lakes, and he was well known as an authority in mineral research work. He has resided at Ontonagon, Superior, Duluth and Grand Marais at various times during recent years.

He was born in Lincolnshire, Eng., in 1838, and when 17 years of age came to Cleveland, Ohio, and then to Duluth. He was very active until a short time before his death, and was a great lover of the outdoors.

During the last hunting season he shot a moose and deer, to be taken to Phoenix, Ariz., as a reminder of the North country. He intended to make Phoenix his home until he was taken ill.

He is survived by a nephew, E. S. Wakelin, and a niece, Miss Lucy Wakelin, both of Phoenix, who arrived in Duluth from the South before his death. He also is survived by two nieces, Mrs. M. Little and Mrs. W. S. Wakelin, both of Duluth; three grandnieces, Mrs. John Murphy of Grand Marais, Miss Franah of Minneapolis and Miss Mary Wakelin of Duluth, and a grandnephew, W. L. Wakelin of Duluth.

KNIGHTS OF ROAD FLOCK TO DULUTH

Unemployed Are Numerous Despite Betterment in Conditions.

Magazine and newspaper articles on the manner in which Duluth cares for her unemployed have resulted in the acquisition of many new citizens, graduate knights of the road, according to police.

Despite an improvement in working conditions here, consequent upon the reopening of several sawmills and factories, the number of unemployed continues to grow, judging by reports from the various free lodging houses in the city.

Police have had more men lodging on the stone basement floor at headquarters recently than at any time since early in January, according to the records of the police.

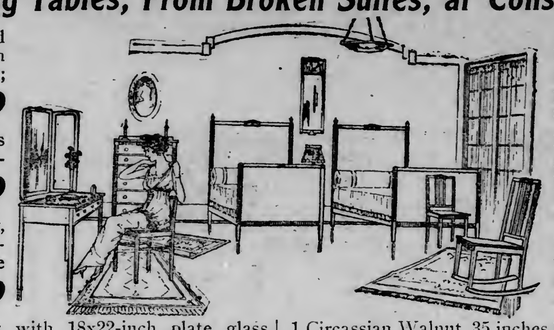

Last night eighty-eight men curled up on the floor in the one small room at the station. For the four previous days the record has totaled just 300 men, which is considerably above the average for this time of year.

At the Bethel, Eighth avenue west and First street, there has been no decrease in the number of boarders, while Rev. F. E. Plumb, at the Gospel mission, 17½ Lake avenue south, reports a "rushing business."

"'Vags' from all parts of the Northwest have heard that Duluth takes good care of men out of work," said Chief of Police Troyer, in discussing the situation, "and they are hurrying to test our hospitality. Many of these men, of course, are seeking work, but many are not."

HOOK AND LINE FISHING BARRED

Closed Season on Many Fish Will Last Two Months.

Hook and line fishing is barred for two months after next Saturday.

The closed season for pike, muskallonge, croppies, perch, sunfish, catfish and sturgeon will begin March 1 and end April 30. The approach of the closed season is being called to the attention of Minnesota fishermen by Carlos Avery, executive agent of the state game and fish commission.

In case of black, gray or Oswego bass, the season will remain closed until May 29. The spearing of pickerel, suckers, red horse, carp, bullheads and other rough fish will not be affected.

The trout season will open April 15 and last until Sept. 1.

ASKED TO FIGHT DRASTIC MEASURE

Bill Would Give Control of Streets to House-Movers.

The Duluth Commercial club today received from the Winona Association of Commerce, with the request that adverse action be taken, the copy of a bill now before the legislature for the benefit of house-movers, but which, it is believed, would be exceedingly detrimental to property owners in general. The letter accompanying the copy declares that the bill was introduced at the request of a man in Winona, who follows the business of moving buildings. The passage of the bill would effect Duluth as well as other cities.

The bill prescribes that such house moving may be done along any streets, avenues or other highways, and that if there is found to be obstruction in the streets used, the property owner controlling such obstruction shall be notified to remove the same, and if he has not complied with the notification within twenty-four hours the obstruction may be removed arbitrarily and the cost thereof charged up to the property owner involved.

"In other words," said Secretary Eva of the club, today, "the way I view it, and evidently the way Winona people look at the provisions of the bill, is that if a house is being moved along a street and trees—for instance—on the sides interfere, whether or not they be shade trees, they will have to be cut down or trimmed so that the house can pass. I have never heard tell of such an arbitrary measure being asked for, and such a bill should certainly be killed."

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky; bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

HICKEN WINS POINT AGAIN

Threat to Cancel Saloon License Brings Quick Results.

Commissioner Hicken has won his point.

This time it is in the controversy with the owners of the Brunswick hotel, regarding the opening of the hostelry by Jeanette Palmer, a former resident of the red light district, who recently arrived in Duluth from Chicago.

The head of the public safety division, upon hearing that she was going to reopen the hotel immediately informed the owners of the building that, if she was allowed to go in, Fred Hartlage, who operates a saloon on the first floor would lose his license, and that another license would never be granted for that building until the Palmer woman moved out. Mr. Hicken, agreed, however, to grant Mr. Hartlage a transfer to some other building.

This morning Commissioner Hicken was informed that Jeanette Palmer is going to leave the city shortly and that she will not occupy the hotel.

"These women cannot come back to Duluth and operate houses under the guise of a hotel," said the commissioner this morning, "and if any property-holder rents to one of these women, I'll see that a saloon license is not granted for any building he owns in this city."

PROPERTY VALUED AT HALF MILLION

Simon J. Murphy, wealthy timber and mining magnate, whose death occurred Feb. 5, 1905, left property in St. Louis county valued at upwards of $500,000, according to the final account of the executors under his will, Elisha H. Flinn and William H. Murphy, which was allowed by Judge Gilpin in probate court today.

The estate, according to the account as allowed, consisted of personal property, such as cash and securities, amounting to $248,780.39, in addition to real estate holdings in the Mesaba iron range mineral belt estimated to be worth at least $300,000.

The heirs of the Murphy estate, of which there are several, will not be obliged to pay any inheritance tax, because the law under which Minnesota is operating did not become effective until April 19, 1905, more than a month after Murphy's death.

The principal heirs named in the will were: Frank E., William H., Charles E., Albert M. and Simon J. Murphy, Jr., sons; Anna D. and Helen P. Murphy, daughters, and two grandchildren.

LAW CONSTITUTIONAL.

Supreme Court Upholds Ohio Measure Regarding Mining of Coal.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the Federal district court in Northern Ohio, holding constitutional the Ohio mine run or anti-screen law.

The law required payment for mining on the weight of coal before screened. Mine owners in Eastern Ohio contended before the court they could not operate under the law and have said it was responsible for the present coal strike in that state.

Woman's Realm

No longer will a woman have to carry a purse the size of a suitcase to hold her handkerchief, memorandum, pencil, powder puff, calling cards, hairpins, bargain advertisements and samples, nor, on the other hand, will she be compelled by fashion to go to the other extreme and depend upon a coin purse that refuses to work when the street car conductor comes around or the collection is taken up in church, for she is to have pockets, real, mar-size pockets. They will not be tucked out of sight under the pleats or gathers, nor concealed in seams. They will be highly ornamental and will be seen on blouses and afternoon frocks as well as on suits. Patch pockets are set on at usual and unusual angles and even some of the belts on the coats are provided with small purses for change that is left after the suit has been paid for.

W. C. T. U. BANQUET.

Mrs. Scovell of Minneapolis Tells of the Progress of Prohibition.

Mrs. Bessie Laythe Scovell of Minneapolis, for many years state president of the W. C. T. U., was the principal speaker at the third annual W. C. T. U. district banquet held last evening at the First Presbyterian church by the Central, West Duluth, Scandinavian and Proctor branches.

In her address, "The Clock Moves," Mrs. Scovell characterized the county option bill now before the legislature as an out-of-date piece of legislation, as it has been before that body sixteen years and the time has come when whole states are going dry. She expressed the opinion that the county option bill will be followed by statutory prohibition in Minnesota.

She showed that the clock has moved not only for temperance, but also for liquor organizations by telling how six years ago the national association of retail liquor dealers pooled $6,000,000 to fight prohibition in the various states and how at the last meeting of the association a movement was started to secure legislation to reimburse liquor dealers who had been put out of business.

Temperance News.

Mrs. Scoville said that papers that years ago published no W. C. T. U. news now take all they can get and that during January as much as twenty-one columns of temperance news has been published in individual papers.

Mrs. Joseph Cochrane, the district president, who was toastmistress said: "We are a great home and foreign missionary society, trying to do something to help and to heal the hurt of humanity. Forty years ago the women of this nation declared war on King Alcohol, the arch enemy of humanity and the state of war still exists. Our veterans are falling by the wayside, but recruits are filling the ranks. We are so glad that the young people of the nation have taken up the cause, and the notes of victory that are reaching us from other states make us more than assured that the white banner of a 'saloonless nation' shall be unfurled over the land by 1920."

Other Speakers.

Rev. J. J. Daniels gave the invocation that was followed by a welcome from the church by Judge W. L. Window. Rev. U. S. Villars spoke on "The Arrest of Thought," contrasting the temperance cause in the time of his mother with the temperance cause of today. Mayor W. I. Prince gave the toast "The City."

Mrs. David Adams and the Asbury quartet, composed of Rev. W. H. Farrell, Ray W. Abbott, Dr. M. R. Zaek and R. J. Coole sang the "Battle Song," and the quartet sang "Thousand Years." Vocal solos, "Abide With Me" and "The Rosary," were given by Rev. C. W. R. Wermine.

After the banquet a reception was held with the following members in the receiving line:

Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Alfred Jaques, president of West Duluth union; Mrs. E. Gustafson, president of the Scandinavian union; Mrs. David J. Gray and Mrs. W. G. Harrison, president and vice president of the Central union; Mrs. N. Downie, president of the Proctor union; Mrs. B. H. Smith, Mrs. Alice Warren and Mrs. L. W. Linder.

The banquet was served by the West sidt auxiliary of the Presbyterian church. The women were in colonial attire with fichus, caps and powdered hair. The banquet room was decorated with flags, the posts were twined with red and white, and the table decorations were red carnations and red candles in crystal holders.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Louis Nephew of 3711 West Fourth street entertained at a sleighride yesterday afternoon in celebration of the sixth birthday anniversary of her son, Bernard. A small cherry tree formed the centerpiece of the table, the place cards were hatchets and red, white and blue were used in the decorations. Mrs. Nephew was assisted by Mrs. W. A. Nichols, Mrs. A. T. Wilkins and Mrs. F. Nephew. The guests were:

Drama Class Meets.

The reading of Ibsen's "The Lady From the Sea," under the leadership of Miss Helen Anderson, was begun at the first regular meeting of the Evening Drama class held last evening at the Holland hotel. The meeting was attended by fifty members, five of whom joined the class last evening. Mrs. J. C. H. Engel, the chairman, presided.

Mrs. E. W. Kaltenbach gave a humorous reading and Miss Isa Botten and Miss Ethel Jacobson played piano numbers before the opening of the regular meeting.

The next meeting of the class will be held Monday evening, March 8, at the Holland.

Cherry Pies for Prizes.

The pivoe bridge and five hundred party given by the White Ehrine order at the Masonic temple yesterday afternoon was attended by 200 women. In keeping with Washington's birthday were the decorations of flags, tri-color designs on the tally cards and cherry pies for consolation prizes. Cake plates and compotes were the first and second prizes. The winners of the prizes in the bridge game were Mesdames Wennerland, Lindbeck and Sampson; the winners in the five hundred game were Mesdames Nolander, Ember and Donald McLennan.

Initials Forms of Felt.

Philadelphia Telegraph: A new initial embroidery form, which is made of felt instead of paper and cloth, has been invented. The argument made against the ordinary paper forms is that when they are sent through the laundry the paper breaks, causing the needlework to lose its shape. The new bases are heavily starched and compressed to one-eighth of their original thickness during the manufacturing process. When the starch is washed out, during the laundering of the linens, the felt expands, pulling out tightly the slack in the embroidery threads and giving a well-rounded surface.

CROWDS CAN'T GET IN.

The New Grand was unable to accommodate all its patrons yesterday, owing to the size of the crowds, but those who were able to get into the theater were well pleased with the new bill that opened a three-day engagement there. The bill was good throughout, and would be hard to improve upon at popular prices.

Hugo Lutgens, the Swedish dialect preacher, is the star attraction, and his "announcements" and "sermon" caused roars of laughter. His discussion of the modern tendencies of society was a scream. Despite the fact that he is in a difficult comedy role, he does not say anything that could be offensive to church-goers.

The Three Dixon Girls are clever, light-footed dancers and musicians who "put over" a good act. They go through some of the most difficult dance steps while playing the guitar, and they also sing well.

Dow and Dow are Hebrew comedians who have a turn somewhat different from the ordinary. Their make-up is toned down a little from that of the general run of Hebrew comedians, and their parodies were good for many a laugh.

Deitrich Brothers, three of them, offer a good gymnastic and strongmen's act that gets by well. Their appearance is unusually good and their turns are mostly new.

The pictures this week are entirely out of the ordinary. The star film is a three-reel Vitagraph comedy, in which all the stars of that famous company are introduced in a comedy entitled "How Cissy Made Good." Cissy applies for a position on the staff of a picture magazine and is given a "try-out" by the editor, who sends her to get an interview with vitagraph stars. Being a novice, she has an "awful" time at the film factory, but she manages to see John Bunny, Maurice Costello, Edwin August and dozens of other stars and directors. She visits every part of the studio and factory, and the picture offers a liberal education in the art of film production. Other good films round out a bill of real merit.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE PLANS ACTIVE SOCIAL SEASON

MRS. JAMES E. FERGUSON.

Mrs. James E. Ferguson is the wife of the new governor of Texas and dispenses the hospitality of the new state administration at the governor's mansion in Austin. It promises to be a very lively winter socially in the Texas capital. The inaugural ball was the biggest of its kind ever seen in Texas. Mrs. Ferguson has appointed a social secretary and will entertain a great deal in the historic mansion, which is the home of Texas' governor. For entertaining Mrs. Ferguson will have an allowance of $1,000 from the state. She is a noted housekeeper and her entertainments are expected to vie with those of her predecessor, Mrs. Colquitt.

Surprise for Miss Olsson.

Western stock company methods proved a source of surprise to Miss Doris Olsson, the new leading woman of the Baldwin Players. Miss Olsson had been leading woman with the Castle Square company of Boston, where John Craig has acquired the reputation of being one of the best stock company producers in America. His company produces the Harvard prize plays, and many of its productions go direct to New York for runs in the metropolis. "Believe Me, Xantippe" was produced by Mr. Craig and sent to New York without any changes, for its run there. But in spite of this experience with the best in stock productions, Miss Olsson was surprised at this week's production by the Baldwin Players of "Hawthorne of the U. S. A."

"Why, it's amazing," she said to Mr. Baldwin after the matinee Sunday. "I never saw such attention to detail in a stock production. You apparently have the pick of some of the best furniture houses in the West for your properties. You have your own scenic artists and a new production for every play. Just as an example of the detail this week, the drop showing the city by night, and even the fireflies, could not be surpassed by a road production. I wondered why your stock company was so successful in Duluth, for we have been getting reports of it in New York, but after seeing the way you put on a show here, it no longer surprises me."

Hold Three World's Records.

Each of the three Trivalla brothers, appearing at the Orpheum this week in a novel diving act in which two trained seals play an important part, holds a world's record for achievement in the water. The boys were born on the coast of California near Catalina island where the perpetual summer time makes ocean swimming possible the year around. Consequently swimming came as natural to the three brothers as it does to a brood of ducks, and by the time they were 10 years of age they were doing stunts in the water that were making most of the professional swimmers open their eyes. The boys are now aged 22, 24 and 26 respectively, and the eldest holds a record for high fancy diving, the next oldest for the longest distance swimming under water, 128 yards and nine inches, while the youngest holds the world's record for deep water diving, diving sixty-seven feet deep and carrying a line which he attached to an anchor at the bottom of the ocean just off Catalina island. Jointly two of the brothers hold the world's record for staying under water, the time being four minutes and thirty-seven seconds. The boys learned their diving stunts in diving for shells and pearls which strew the bottoms of the ocean around Catalina island, which they would sell the tourists. Seals also are numerous on the island and the boys made quite a business of capturing the young seals, which they have sold to almost every zoo in the country. The two they have with them, they captured when quite young and have trained them to do the diving stunts with them in the tank. Since starting in vaudeville over two years ago with their present act, they have toured the world.

Has Had Varied Experience.

James McElhearn, leading man with the Manhattan Opera company, which is appearing at the New Empress this week in "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," has appeared in some of the biggest musical attractions in recent years, while he has also played with stock companies in various parts of the continent.

While Elsie Janis was being starred in "The Fair Coed," Mr. McElhearn was playing the leading comedy role in the play. Last season he played the comedian in "One Girl in a Million," which appeared at the La Salle theater in Chicago for nearly six months.

Within the last few years Mr. McElhearn has played the leading comedy roles in "The Winning Miss," "The Pink Lady" and "The Fortune Teller."

As a member of the Aborn Opera company, Mr. McElhearn played in New York, Brooklyn, Baltimore, Washington and Toronto for several seasons, while he has been a member of musical stock companies at the Delmar gardens, St. Louis; Chester park, Cincinnati, and Olympic park, Newark, N. J.

Western Drama at Rex.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me" at the Rex is as stirring to the blood as a trumpet call. It deals with life at a lonely frontier army post beset by hostile Black Feet Indians. A love story of great beauty makes a delightful contrast to the stern realities of Indian warfare. A craven among the garrison is discovered at the critical moment when the savage Black Feet have surrounded the post. A volunteer is wanted to ride for aid. It is one chance in a hundred. Lieut. Hawksworth takes it. He succeeds in his mission after thrilling adventures and also wins the girl he loves. The scenes are all made on the actual grounds where this was enacted near Fort Assiniboine, Mont. Today is the close of this famous drama at the Rex.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Get Your Sleep Early.

I looked into the face of a woman the other day who I happen to know makes a practice of going to bed early and of rising equally early. In all things this woman leads a natural, normal life. Her face is as smooth as that of a child's and restful to watch. Unconsciously you untie some of the knots in your own countenance as you gaze upon hers and she is positively wonderful in that she is able to quiet and soothe you without making the slightest effort to do so. Neither is she seemingly conscious of her influence upon you. She has her share of work and trouble but to counterbalance these she has learned that regular habits are very essential to well-being and the proper performance of one's work.

We Americans have been accused of not having taken time enough to accomplish all that we would like to during our natural waking hours, so we take it out of those which should be devoted to sleep and the time that we should spend properly masticating our food. It is true enough that as a race we are inclined to spend as little time about the dinner table as decency permits, except on certain occasions, when if we do linger a little we spend the extra time in gorging ourselves, so the result is about the same in either case.

The loss of sleep, and sleeping in unnatural or irregular hours, leave tell-tale marks quicker than almost anything else. Some people seem to think that as long as they get a certain amount that it is just as beneficial, no matter what time of night one retires. My observations, from association with men and women who turn night into day in pursuit of a living, teach me that this is not so, and even those who keep late hours in the pursuit of pleasure fast acquire a worn, wrinkled appearance that is frequently due to late hours alone.

If you have been in the habit of wooing sleep after the midnight hour, turn about and get to bed by 10 o'clock for six weeks or two months. At first you will declare that your early retirement makes you feel worse instead of better. But if you persevere the good result will follow and show itself in a brighter and more youthful looking face and in more interest and zest in life.

When one commences to go to bed early it is necessary that they also rise early, that is if they are to receive any benefit. A certain amount of sleep taken at the proper time is one of the greatest producers of mental and bodily health, but after the requisite amount has been taken, that which one allows himself as addtional may be looked upon as a positive detriment.

TOO GOOD TO MISS.

One of the finest opportunities the state has had in many years to do something that will be a benefit both to the present and to succeeding generations is the chance to establish the Jay Cooke state park, as proposed in bills presented today in the state legislature.

Establishment of the proposed park would mean the preservation in its natural state of an area equal to approximately three thousand city blocks; it would mean placing it at the disposal of the people as a place of recreation, and also making it the means of preserving some of the wild life native to Minnesota.

It is, moreover, an excellent opportunity to establish an unusually fitting monument to the memory of a man who not only rendered service to this part of the country, but to the nation as a whole. The name of Jay Cooke was familiar to every American only a few decades ago, and to those who know the story of the man, the name is a symbol for success in spite of misfortune and discouragement.

It would be peculiarly appropriate to have a memorial to this man in the preservation of natural land in this vicinity, because it was due to his foresight and his understanding of the possibilities that existed in this section of the country that many important features in the present development have been brought about.

To the state at large the establishment of this park would mean the securing of a rarely equalled natural park, within easy access from all sections of the state. The railroads and automobile roads come close to it, and it would be exceptionally accessible to the public for this reason.

Under present circumstances the state is given the opportunity to secure a big natural park on unusually reasonable terms, it is claimed, and the chance is far too good to miss. The legislature should act promptly, and make the state the possessor of a park for which other commonwealths would be willing to pay many times what it will cost Minnesota to own it right within her own borders.

No doubt there is little theoretical difference between breaking ground for an armory and digging a trench.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Ever since congress met it has been known that there would be appropriation bills to pass.

Within the last few weeks the Republicans have been sitting up nights, literally, to talk the session to death.

And now they are laying their lines to accuse the Democrats of shiftlessness in not getting the appropriation bills through sooner.

Can you beat it?

Having mild weather in February is all right, but it's kind o' tough to have winter tighten again.

LET THEM GO HOME.

In spite of the fact that there seems to be no real demand anywhere in official circles, certain newspapers are campaigning for an extra session of congress after March 4. They seem to think the president can be persuaded to call an extra session in view of the probable fate of the ship purchase bill, but even aside from that they advance a theory that the country would be safer with congress in session than with it not in session.

All of which is more or less foolish. The thing to do with congress, when this session is over, is to let it adjourn and allow the members to go home. There isn't any crisis just now that demands that congress stay in session. The only troubles that are likely to arise are of a character that can be handled by the executive department of the government, and that department is fully qualified to handle them.

Moreover, they can be handled all the better if congress is not in session. Then there will be less temptation for the members to play politics, and experience in the last few months has proved that there are members who regard even grave national situations as only opportunities for the exaltation of themselves or the party of which they happen to be members. It will keep the president and his cabinet busy to take care of necessary matters for the next few months without having to endure the nagging of politicians in congress.

Another reason for letting the congressmen go home is put forcibly by the New York World, which says:

> The country is nervous and irritable and suspicious. The war is telling upon the public temper. Everything that congress does or leaves undone is resented. Business has the persecution mania, and manias may be ridiculous, but they cannot be ignored.
>
> The public nerves are raw. No matter how prudently congress conducted itself it would be an object of continuing suspicion. The country needs what Mr. Cleveland called "rest and peace and reassurance," which it will not have if congress is in session after March 4.

The present congress has done well, and has had an almost continuous session ever since it came into being. Its members have earned a rest. So far as can be seen now there is nothing to justify an extra session, and it is hardly to be thought that President Wilson will call one for the passage of the ship purchase bill, desirable though that measure is. It will be well for him and for the country if he can have a few months of administration free from the necessity of constant negotiations with the legislative bodies.

With his famous propensity for conversation, how does John Lind keep from being quoted on the European war?

THE TRADE COMMISSION.

The president seems to have used excellent judgment in naming the new Federal trade commission. There is some disgruntlement on the Republican side of the senate, of course. That was to be expected from the fact that certain members insist on playing politics and seeing nothing but politics in whatever happens, even against the advice of some of their leaders. But leaving out the political grief, the men seem to have been chosen primarily for their fitness for the work.

Mr. Davies, as commissioner of the bureau of corporations, has had opportunity to become familiar with many of the details of business enterprises that will be more or less closely interested in the work of the new commission.

Mr. Hurley's familiarity with Latin-American conditions and trade customs should be invaluable in building up our trade with the Southern countries, a work that today is second to none in importance to our foreign commerce.

Mr. Harris has made a special study of the domestic distribution and concentration both of industries and of commercial interests, as well as of other interests.

Mr. Parry is an experienced and practical publicist and business manager, and Mr. Rublee is a specialist in law and transportation problems.

Maybe it would have been possible for the president to have picked a better layout than that for this special work, but such a possibility is not apparent on the face of the returns.

Nobody has tried to start a movement to "buy a bushel of wheat."

WELL, WHY NOT?

> Biwabik Times: We all admit that if the mines were all closed tomorrow, it would be possible to make this country prosperous by booming agriculture. Why not make it doubly prosperous by getting busy and booming agriculture long before there is any prospect of the mines being exhausted?

Well, why not? That is what The Herald has been preaching this long time—that the northeastern part of Minnesota is good for something else than just to have iron ore dug out of it and then be left to lie idle. And The Herald isn't the only agency that has said so, by a good deal. The idea has been taken up by one organization after another, and today it is, as the Times says, generally recognized in this country that it is possible to develop it agriculturally. Any doubters can be quickly converted by a visit to the state experiment station.

One thing is sure—that that kind of development never will come from any outside source. This is considered to be an iron country, and the popular conception of an iron country is that it won't grow anything more edible than iron "pigs." It is up to us who live here and know what the soil is capable of to bring about the agricultural work, and until we do that we will have to wait for outsiders to come in and help us settle the land.

The Times is dead right. We should make this country doubly prosperous by getting busy and booming agriculture even while our tremendous mineral resources are being developed.

The Filibuster

By Sayoyard.

Washington, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The late Benjamin Franklin opined that when us good folks get to heaven we will find a heap of people there we are certain have no business there, but who are admirably fitted for denizenship at the other place not quite meet for mention to ears polite. And so, your profound Republican statesman, like Root and Lodge, your patriotic Republican statesmen, like Gallinger and Penrose, and your chaste Republican statesmen, like Cummins and Clapp, can see no calamity so portentious, so demoniac, as an era of political tranquillity and a period of material prosperity, under a Democratic administration of the American republic. Hence the filibuster.

These gentry fear that the ship purchase bill when enacted will bring relief to the sore-tried commerce of our country. If they had thought it would bring disaster, or no relief, the bill would be a law right now. What they fear, and all they fear, is that American commerce will get benefit out of this bill and the Democratic party some credit for it. Therefore, the bill is to be thwarted at all hazards, and seven Democrats have joined with them to defeat and bring to naught the efforts of Woodrow Wilson to help American commerce with alien nations.

Everybody who has any sense knows, and everybody who has any honesty confesses, that it was the silver issue that defeated the promises of the William L. Wilson tariff of 1894, notwithstanding the treason of Gorman & Co. Business did not know whether the basic dollar was to be gold worth 100 cents or silver worth 47 cents. So business folded its arms, kept idle, till the thing was settled by the election of 1896. There were fools then to believe, as there are knaves now to declare, that the depression was due to the triumph of the Democratic party in a presidential election in 1892.

And here come knaves to assert and fools to credit that the present deficit in the revenues is due to the Underwood tariff and that the war in Europe has nothing to do with it. The man who believes that writes himself down an ass. Here are the five greatest nations of Europe in the death grapple of relentless war. One of them is our best customer and another our next best customer. With Germany and Austria our trade is entirely cut off. With England it is sorely curtailed. France and Russia are not nearly the customers they were. Under the new Democratic tariff trade with all these would have been stimulated and augmented if peace had prevailed.

And yet they insult the intelligence of every man who has a "smidgen of sense" to say that the war did not occasion the deficit—that the tariff did it.

* * *

Now about this filibuster—there is not a single senator in congress who believes in it. There is not a single senator in congress who would not welcome, as the negro of the South Lincoln's proclamation, an escape from such resort. It is not an infamy—far from it—it is an idiocy, twin sister to depravity and the elder born.

What is it? A minority of a single branch of congress has it in its gift to neutralize and make impotent the greatest government on earth. That is what it is and all it is. Let me tell you the best way to cure this evil—abolish the useless publication, the Congressional Record. Do that, and congress will work more and talk less.

* * *

Failing that—put a great man like Tom Reed in the senate and give him a majority, elect him president pro tempore. On some occasion like the present he would smash the filibuster. The late Roger Q. Mills of Texas begged the Democratic majority to give him a whack at it. He would have put an end to the nonsense. But they would not.

The end of this abuse is not far distant. It is now avowed by the minority for the first time that it is a filibuster. Imagine the impossible Jones of Washington state speaking "all night!" At his best, even in daylight, he cannot speak an hour without an abuse of everybody's patience. And such stuff they call "debate." On the field of battle a contest of muscle is all right; but in the cabinet brains ought to have a show.

* * *

Heretofore it has been pretended that "full debate" shall be had, but there is no pretense of debate in the present filibuster and that is what is going to bring "cloture" in the senate. When the senate was created in the Constitution nobody supposed it would ever have have the members now on its roll. It was intended to be a senate of debates, not of filibusters, though our fathers had for warning that grim Scotchman who held back for a year the "Union" of England and Scotland by what is now called a "filibuster."

* * *

We have never had party government in our country and hence we have never had a government responsive to public opinion. I am sure that party government is at hand, brought about by Mr. Wilson. The president ought to be the head of his party. He ought to formulate the policies, and the man in either house of congress who opposes them ought to get out of the party.

That sort of thing is at hand. Then you will have no more Gormanism in the Democratic party and that "seven" now on Capitol hill would be less than 30 cents—about 23 cents.

Symbolism

Collier's Weekly: Symbolism is one of the riskiest tools in the literary craftsman's stock. He may so manipulate it as to produce very stimulative and inspiring effects. Or its keen edge may slip and cut him. Of course, by symbolism we mean just what the dictionary does: Something "chosen to typify or represent some idea or quality in something else." It may be little or big; the squirrel's revolving cage to represent modern metropolitan life, or Maeterlinck's quest for the blue bird to typify the search for happiness.

Madison Cawein wrote a little poem called the Father:"

There is a hall in every house,
Behind whose wainscot gnaws the mouse;
Along whose sides are empty rooms,
Peopled with dreams and ancient dooms,
When down this hall you take your light,
And face, alone, the hollow night,
Be like the child who goes to bed,
Though faltering and half adread
Of something crouching crookedly
In every corner he can see
Ready to snatch him into gloom,
Yet goes on bravely to his room,
Knowing, above him, watching there,
His father waits upon the stair.

Even for the picture of childhood it sketches, this justifies itself. But it takes on a finer significance when one reads into it the conception of a protecting power which watches over us as we falter along the forbidding corridors of life. Here is symbolism in its true estate.

Their Duties as American Citizens

From the Literary Digest.

It is undeniable that grave misgivings were heard in many quarters when the call went out some weeks ago for our German-American population to "organize" as a unit for some action not then clearly defined. These misgivings have increased rather than diminished, if we may judge by press comment, since the movement then foreshadowed has taken definite shape and frankly announced its platform.

Although the nation-wide organization launched in Washington on Jan. 30 by fifty-eight representative German-Americans declares its chief aim to be the re-establishment of "genuine American neutrality," its critics do not hesitate to denounce it as an attempt to coerce the United States government into taking an active pro-German stand.

That these objections to the program of the Washington conference are not prompted entirely by sympathy with the allies may be inferred from the striking protest registered by Dr. Kuno Francke, head of Harvard's Germanic museum, and one of the most uncompromising champions of Germany's cause in this country. In a letter to Representative Richard Farthold, declining to take part in the movement, Dr. Francke, after declaring his sympathies in this war "wholly and fervently on the German side," goes on to say:

"But my German sympathies cannot make me forget what seem to me my duties as an American citizen.

"I believe it would be against my duties as an American citizen if I were to take part in a propaganda the purpose of which will be thought to be to force our government into a hostile attitude toward England. Your circular letter speaks of England as 'America's arch enemy.' It calls for a 'New Declaration of Independence,' which is to 'eliminate all undue English influences from our American life.' And it protests 'against the continued traffic in arms and munitions of war which practically arrays our country on the side of England.'

"I do not wish to emphasize the fact that the proclamation of an embargo on arms and munitions of war would be an altogether illusory thing. Arms and other implements of war would, if our government established an embargo on them, be shipped from this country to Havana, or to Vigo, or to some other neutral port and would reach their destination from there without any hindrance. What I do wish to emphasize is that the establishment of such an embargo would inevitably bring our government into conflict with England and might drive us into war with England. As a man of German blood I might welcome the help which would accrue to Germany by such a conflict between the United States and England. But as an American citizen I cannot possibly support a policy which would bring the terrors of war to our own country.

"What I feel bound to support, as an American citizen, is a policy, which holds itself strictly within the now accepted rules of neutrality, although, to my regret, this policy, through circumstances over which the United States has no control, practically turns out to the advantage of England and to the detriment of Germany."

Dr. Francke's letter closes with the following earnest plea:

"We have every opportunity in this country to make felt what is best in German character and life. Let us continue to do so; let us continue to have a leading part in all endeavors for political, civic and industrial progress; let us stand for the German ideals of honesty, loyalty, truthfulness, devotion to work; let us cultivate our language, our literature and our art; let us fearlessly defend the cause of our mother country against prejudices and aspersions. But let us refrain from political organizations which would set Germans in this country apart as a class by themselves.

"Such an attempt would lead not to the raising, but to the degradation of the German name in this country. It would foster hatred instead of sympathy; and only by gaining the sympathy of the majority of the American people can we German-Americans help the cause of our mother country."

Poor Little Fellow!

Madison, Wis., State Journal: John Nicholas Brown, 14 years old, possessing $22,000,000 and known as "the richest boy," has arrived in Southern California, in his private car, accompanied by servants enough to make a small army and doctors and nurses enough to kill a big one. Johnny is in very bad health and has always been more or less of an invalid, and we are dead sorry for him. He is one of the Browns of the famous Browns of Rhode Island, and the first thing he learned in this life was that he was one of the Browns of the famous Browns of Rhode Island.

Here is what they gave him: A cradle of mother-of-pearl; a cow that drank only distilled water, fed in a $100,000 clover field under care of her own physician, and was milked by a special maid; a palatial yacht; a special cook; squabs and chickens bred especially for him; a pond in his house in which he could wade or sail boats; special valets; and always special physicians.

Of course, what ails Johnny is as plain as the nose on your face—they have not let him be a boy. He has had too much care, too little dirt and real human experience. They have treated him so like an angel that he is likely to fly away and be one. They worked along artistic and ethereal lines while the real boy of him has reverted to the famous Browns of Rhode Island who had to roll up their pants and dig clams for a living. They have thought that millions buy sturdiness, manhood and health, while they really buy ease, luxuries, doctors and pills, and they have poor Johnny crammed full of the latter things, figuratively speaking.

Mother-of-pearl cradles, special cows, special servants, special doctors produce one sort of boy. Johnny is a legitimate product. You can pet to death the ordinary cactus that grows in Arizona. From cradle to date, they have been distilling and specializing the boy out of Johnny. That is what ails him, and we are sincerely sorry for him, because the fellow who is never permitted to be a real boy misses things which justify him in holding a deep grudge against the world, including the Browns of Rhode Island.

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman, who operates the state of Indiana, is a nimble fellow even to his fingers. He can do various slight-of-hand tricks with cards and coins, and his favorite form of practical joke is to go through a crowd of his friends, picking their pockets. He can engage almost anyone in conversation and take away his watch, pocketbook, or scarfpin entirely unnoticed. All he has to do is put his arm about his victim in a fatherly manner, talk entertainingly, and let his fingers do the rest. His friends insist that he would make a corking pickpocket if he cared to take up that form of endeavor as a profession, but he is willing to waive the item of personal profit and picks pockets only for joke purposes.

At the last Democratic national convention Taggart went about plying his little hobby until he had about twenty watches in his coat pockets and several costly scarf pins. Then he began to redistribute the watches. He would go up to a man, ask him what time of day it chanced to be, and then amuse himself by noting the man's discomfiture when he found his watch missing.

But here was the real joke of the thing:

After he had handed back all the watches and jewelry so far as his memory would permit, he still had an extra watch in his pocket. For the life of him he could not recall whose it was. It required two days of careful inquiry before Taggart could get that watch and its owner restored to one another.

Before he entered congress, Edward Keating of Colorado used to have one big extravagance. He was a newspaper man at that time, and so of course made a great deal of money, but nevertheless he confined his extravagances to one item, to-wit: Cigars. Keating used to buy cigars costing 10 cents each, and he did so with the utmost unconcern. Now and then he would pay even more than that for a smoke. Once he paid a quarter of a dollar.

Members of congress soon learned after Keating's arrival in their midst that he was a good place to go for cigars. Consequently he found his congressional career proving too expensive. He switched one day from good cigars to the poorest he could find and continued to carry only that kind until he got all his friends and associates educated down to his new basis of supplies. As soon as his acquaintances ceased to ask him for cigars, and even refused to accept his cigars when offered them, he once more began to buy good ones. Thus he is able to live within his means.

A manufacturer of golf balls went to the White House the other day to seek the privilege of presenting a dozen balls to the president. They were a specially constructed ball, he said, and would go from twenty to thirty yards farther than the average ball, and they would drop dead on the green. While at the White House the golf ball man fell into conversation with Tommy Brahany, one of the affable young Irish secretaries who help run the executive offices. He found Brahany such an engaging person that he not only presented a dozen balls to the president, but a half dozen to Tommy as well.

Brahany, instead of keeping all the balls himself, as many a sordid spirit might have done, spread them about among some of the great men of the nation, among them Representative John J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee.

"It will go thirty yards farther than the balls you have been driving and will drop dead on the green," Tommy explained, as he laid the gift ball in Fitzgerald's palm.

"If it goes thirty yards farther than the balls I have been driving," replied Fitzgerald, without pausing a second to think this up, "I will drop dead on the green."

Women Run Homes Badly

The Boston Post: Mrs. Eva Whiting White of the Boston evening school centers and the Elizabeth Peabody house says the middle class home is as badly managed and more insidious in its influence on conditions than the very poor home.

Speaking at a joint public meeting of the Winchester fortnightly, the Winchester Mothers' association and the Grange, she gave several radical views on school and home management.

"Education isn't giving us the kind of original thinking it ought to," she said, "because it is not correlated with the interests of life."

She would give certain types of girls in manufacturing towns Dooley in preference to Shakespeare in their literature classes, believing that they would never open a book again if they began with Shakespeare. She would also further the teaching of home-making both in school and at home.

"The time will come," she prophesied, "when the public school will try home visiting. There should be a model tenement in every school, and school lunches prepared and managed by the pupils. Teachers of domestic science should be able to demonstrate the things they teach.

"And the public schools should never consider anyone graduated. Home problems cannot be solved once for all. There should be an opportunity for those outside the school membership to receive teaching in home economics. Massachusetts is already farthest advanced in its extension courses. In some of these one group of women will come to learn to make a dress, or a layette, others to make bread.

"There is everywhere in homes the greatest lack of standards, and ineffectiveness of expenditure. Many a man squanders his last cent trying to make up for the mismanagement of his wife, while their children do not get what they are entitled to have. There are social workers, too, eager to help, but as ineffectual in their knowledge of home managements as the tenement dweller.

"And homemakers are bound to take their part in the affairs of the day, though I consider the suffrage movement only one phase of the woman's movement as a whole. For the home is the central pivot on which the intricacies of government have been reared, and women have a definite part to play.

"In changing over from producer to consumer they are responsible for creating the right demands. By their purchases they stand back of every factory, by their standards they stand back of every situation in housing. We blame the business man for poor and showy products, but his business rests on the demands of the community."

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

A Foolish Policy.

Grand Rapids Independent: The daily press reports the sale by the state of Minnesota of the maple trees on 300 acres of state-owned land, which was to be cut for cordwood. Which is a very fair example of the fool policy pursued by the state in regard to its land all over Northern Minnesota. It is selling every stick of timber of every kind on such lands, leaving for the farmer wishful to come in, buy its land and make a farmhome for his family nothing but a stump-covered area whereon he must buy fuel or freeze while he is digging out stumps and clearing up land for cultivation. Which is truly a cheering prospect for intending settlers as well as for Northern Minnesota, generally—but exactly what the state is offering, for all that. And yet the state—outside of Northern Minnesota—wonders why folk will go to Canada or elsewhere, while Minnesota has so much, such excellent and such cheap land to offer. Every country newspaper in Northern Minnesota has cried aloud over the utter folly of it this long while back, but without avail. Surely it is now full time for our legislative representatives to try what they can do.

Now Is the Time.

Aurora News: All over Minnesota settlers are coming in and taking up the cheap lands and in a few years when farm land is selling at greatly advanced prices many of us will complain that there are no opportunities for the poor man. Right now is the time to get hold of your forty acres. Almost any person can buy and pay for a forty-acre tract on the terms that can be secured, and all the while the investment will be growing in value.

One of Many Qualities.

Bemidji Sentinel: While other parts of the country are convulsed with violent storms, Northern Minnesota skips about in sunshine that turns the frost-capped pines into diamond crescents and makes your blood tingle with health.

Settler Needs Some Help.

International Falls Press: State Auditor Preus suggests that state lands should be homesteaded. That plan might apply to state lands in some counties in the central or southern part of the state, but not to Koochiching and Beltrami county lands, which must be reclaimed in order to make them habitable and roads built through them in order to make them accessible. The Federal government gave these lands to the state on condition that the state would reclaim them. If the state does not propose to thus meet the condition of the grant, then she should sell these lands to anyone who will buy them, and thus get them on to the tax list and the one who buys them will be compelled to reclaim them in order to get his money out of them by selling them to actual settlers who will convert them into productive farms.

Dairy State Without Equal.

Pine River Sentinel-Blaze: As one reads the exchanges that come to our desk, we can not help but be impressed with the reports given by the different creameries throughout the state, and especially in Northern Minnesota. Each year their business is increasing as new settlers arrive. At the same time they are a help to the farmer who finds a ready market for this line of product. Truly, and without "blustering," we can say that Minnesota as a dairy state has no equal, and each year we are more and more proving our many possibilities.

What of the Morrow?

What shall the morrow, love of mine,
Bring of sorrow, rain or shine?
It matters not, it matters nay,
What of the morning, what of the day.
Since you love me, love me so,
Blooms will bloom in the sleet and snow.
Kiss me, love, and love me deep,
Deep as the dreamy depths of sleep.

Thy love shall hold me, hold me fast
Till the little sleep, sweet sleep is past,
And I wake saved forever, love,
Flesh and spirit flown above.
Teach me, love, oh, teach me now
All thy thought, and tell me how
I may meet thy heart's demands,
Kissing, love, thy dimpled hands.

The Russian and the Steel Flea.

George Kennan in the Outlook: The Russian peasants, of course, are neither scientists nor technologists; but even they think that they can do a few things—and especially work metals—as skillfully as anybody. A century or two ago, according to a folk tale current in Russia, the Gossudar (the czar) called together a dozen or more peasants who had a reputation for skill in the working of metals, and exhibited to them a steel flea, of natural size, which had been "made in Germany" and had been sent to him, partly as a gift and partly to show the delicacy of the German smiths' work. The Gossudar handed it to the peasants on a plate and said:

"Look at that! You think that you can work metals; but I don't believe there's one of you can duplicate that steel flea."

The peasants said, "Perhaps not, Batushka (Little Father); but if you will let us take the flea home, we will see what we can do."

The czar consented, and they retired. A day or two later they reappeared, and with low waist bows presented to their monarch on a plate the same German flea, but without the expected duplicate.

"Ah!" said the czar. "You couldn't make another. I knew you couldn't."

"Will your majesty deign to look at the flea through a magnifying glass?" replied the peasants.

A glass was brought, and upon close inspection it was found that the Russian metal workers had shod the German flea with steel shoes.

A Woman's Logic.

The Pathfinder: The following fable, which is probably of Turkish origin, is not without a touch of truth: As a woman was walking, a man looked at and followed her:

"Why," she said, "do you follow me?"

"Because," he replied, "I have fallen in love with you."

"Why so? My sister, who is coming after me, is much handsomer than I am. Go and make love to her."

The man turned back and saw a woman with an ugly face, and, being greatly displeased, returned and said: "Why should you tell me a falsehood?"

The woman answered: "Neither did you tell the truth; for, if you were in love with me, why did you look back for another woman?"

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THINKS FATHER TOOK RIGHT COURSE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I read recently in one of the local papers of an irate father at Hammond, Ind., spanking his 19-year-old daughter vigorously with a slipper because she had been in company with some people he did not approve of, whereupon the daughter had her father haled to court, where the judge sentenced him to ninety days and then suspended sentence, considering that girls of that age are too old to be subjected to such indignation. If the father meant well and was a man of reason and this young girl was really going with bad company, and was stubborn and persisted in so doing, her father did what was perfectly right in warming her up with the slipper; but of course, if he was an unreasonable grouch and the company was respectable the young woman was with, she certainly was grievously mistreated and the irate parent deserving of the severest censure. But I know one thing—if young girls, who keep company with doubtful or bad persons and persisted in such after given fair warning by an honorable father, a severe application of the slipper on a spot where it would be felt and remembered might in later years save some of these girls from a life of shame and disgrace. The country is full of lecherous men who prey like harpies upon young womanhood.

Yours truly,
AN ADMIRER OF NOBLE WOMANHOOD.

FARMER HEARD FROM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

After the closing of the St. Louis county school board meeting, which was held at Virginia Friday, Feb. 19, all the members were invited to a banquet by the business people of Virginia and were received and treated splendidly. The meeting was called with the idea of getting the farmers and the business people together for discussion of mutual interests. It occurred to the writer that the discussion was very much one-sided. A program was made beforehand and the speakers were announced, which from their side spoke splendidly. But, as usual at those meetings so far, the farmers had very little show. I noticed several farmers present who tried to get a word in between somewhere, but there was very little room. Several speakers made remarks finding fault with so many consumers and farmers who are sending to mail order houses for their supplies instead of ordering and buying at home and helping to build up home industry. The public market of Eveleth also got its share of criticism. I will try to explain what I think is one of the main reasons for this. Our wholesale houses and merchants do not care to deal with the farmers of St. Louis county in buying their supplies. They would rather send outside and pay higher prices or else they happen to be overstocked and cannot buy their goods, and if they do buy at all the prices are very low and at their own figures. The jobbers or wholesale houses compel the producers to sell at their own figures but will not sell one pound or exchange in return to the farmers, but compel him to buy at the very highest retail prices every thing he wants to buy. This does not look like a square deal in meeting the farmers half way and he is not the only sufferer. The consumer is generally hit the hardest. This, I believe, is the main reason why so many people are now sending to mail order houses, where they can get their supplies cheaper. There is one more step that the farmer must take and that is to organize and build warehouses, so as to not be compelled to put their products on the market in the fall, when everybody is overstocked, and also to buy from the business houses outside the state when the home dealers are not willing to do business with them. The farmers cannot be bought and blindfolded with nice talk.

Talk is cheap. Yours respectfully,
JOHN MATTSON.

STIRRING UP SOME TROUBLE FOR ODANAH.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please print in your Open Court some good topics for a literary society to debate upon.

Thanking you in advance, I am, yours truly, WARREN MOONEY.
Odanah, Wis., Feb. 19.

Here are a few topics you might consider: Woman's suffrage; public ownership; is armament a protection against war? Would Socialism remedy present social conditions? Should the church confine itself to religious instruction or take up social service? Is the modern system of dealing with criminals just or unjust?—The Editor.

GIVES HER EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

A short time ago some one asked, through the Open Court, "Why the lip of a frying pan was always on the left side, instead of the right?" No one seems to have my version of it. As a rule there are more right-handed people then there are left-handed, and one using the pan with the right hand would find it more convenient to turn the pan toward them to pour out the liquid than to turn it outward. I am not a professional cook, however, but could manage to cook a meal if I had to, and as the Editor said to "ask the cooks," I thought I would give my idea. I may be wrong, however.

Thanking you in advance, I am,
MISS MAUD M'CANN.

THE TORRENS SYSTEM.

To The Editor of The Herald:

Will you please state, through the columns of the Open Court, what a Torrens deed is? Also what is the number of prisoners reported captured by Germans and allies? Thanking you,
A READER.
Thomson, Minn., Feb. 21.

The Torrens system of land registration was devised by Sir Richard Torrens of Australia, and adopted in this country in Illinois in 1895. Minnesota adopted it in 1901. By a certain system of legal procedure a certificate of title is issued which is guaranteed by the state. The result is that a new and absolutely indefeasible title is created by the state. Only one search of title is required. After the title has once been "Torrensed," transfers of property require only the surrender of the old certificate and the issuance of a new one. If you are interested in the details of the system, you will find many articles on it in the public library. It is fully treated in encyclopedias.

The Editor has not seen any recent estimates of the total number of prisoners captured by either the allies or the Germans. Such estimates would not be reliable in any event.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald ackowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems: "Only a Pansy Blossom" and "Just A'Wearyin' For You" from Mrs. Marion Douglas.

Just A'Wearyin' For You.

Just a'wearyin' for you,
All the time a feelin' blue,
Wishin' for you, wond'rin' when
You'll be comin' home again,
Restless, don't know what to do,
Just a'wearin' for you.

Mornin' comes, the birds awake,
Used to sing so for your sake;
But there's sadness in the notes
That comes trillin' from their throats,
Seem to feel your absence, too,
Just a'wearyin' for you.

Evenin' comes, I miss you more
When the dark gloom's round the door,
Seems just like you orter be
There to open it for me,
Latch goes tinklin' thrills me through,
Sets me wearyin' for you.

Only a Pansy Blossom.

Ah! 'Tis only a pansy blossom,
Only a withered flower,
Yet to me far dearer
Than all in earth's fair bower;
Bringing me back the June time
Of a summer long ago;
The fairest, sunniest summer
That I shall ever know.

Only a pansy gathered at her feet,
Faded unlike her love
That made that summer sweet;
Still in this pansy blossom
Her tender face I see,
From under the churchyard grasses
Bringing her back to me.

Ah! 'Tis only a pansy blossom
Only a withered flower
Yet to me far dearer
Than all in earth's fair bower;
Bringing me back the June time
Of a summer long ago;
The fairest, sweetest summer
That I shall ever know.

Every Sip Of INSTANT POSTUM Is Satisfaction

and suggests the aroma and flavour of mild high-grade Java. That's because the roasted "berry" of wheat, from which Postum is made, has a snappy flavour remarkably like that of the roasted coffee berry. The real taste is a delightful savor distinctively Postum—rich and nourishing.

Unlike coffee, Postum never imposes upon its users a tribute of headache, nervousness, biliousness, sleeplessness, heart flutter and other ills, because Postum contains not a particle of the coffee-drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

INSTANT POSTUM

is the concentrated form of this pure cereal food-drink. No boiling required—made in the cup with hot water—instantly. Wonderfully convenient for the home, for travel, for the picnic—handy anywhere. Delicious! 30c and 50c tins.

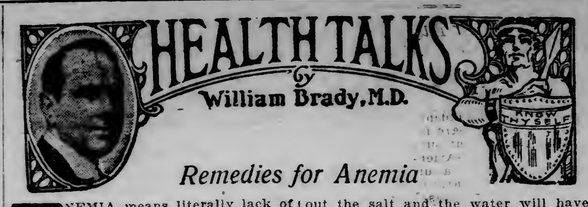

If coffee is interfering with your comfort and success, as it does for most users, suppose you shift to POSTUM.

"There's a Reason"

Postum may also be had in the original form—which must be well boiled—15c and 25c packages.

Both forms of Postum are equally wholesome and delicious, and cost per cup about the same.

Remedies for Anemia

ANEMIA means literally lack of blood. While it is still thought that exceptional cases of anemia are "primary," that is, due to defects or failure of the blood-making glands to produce red corpuscles, the great majority of cases of anemia are known to be secondary, or in other words caused by apparent or hidden factors other than defects of the blood-making glands. For instance, malnutrition from digestive troubles, too little outdoor life, frequent small concealed hemorrhages, incipient tuberculosis, early Bright's disease and the like will usually be accompanied by more or less anemia.

Colon Irrigation.

One of the most effective remedies for anemia is frequent and thorough irrigation of the colon by an attendant trained in such work, and not by any particular apparatus. This has been found especially helpful in cases of pernicious anemia, one of the primary anemias. Herter, a research worker, found that a certain germ, bacillus aerogenes capsulatus, is rather suspiciously active in the intestine of such patients, and that the anemia improves when the activities of this germ are diminished. In fact some apparent cures of pernicious anemia have been reported by reliable practitioners by colon irrigations, after all other measures had failed. But it must be understood that colon irrigation and self-administered enemas are very different things.

It is possible that the restricted animal protein diet—rather the vegetarian diet—which has proved successful in many cases of pernicious anemia owes its efficacy to the fact that the bacillus aerogenes capsulatus does not thrive well on a pabulum poor in animal protein.

Questions and Answers.

Whitening the Face: Is a glass of salt water before breakfast good to whiten the face?

REPLY.

For a few moments, yes. But leave out the salt and the water will have a less instantaneous but more sustained influence upon the complexion.

* * *

Long Distance Opinion: My 18-year-old daughter has had a hard cough for a long time. She had adenoids removed, also had her uvula clipped. She is well nourished, has a splenddid appetite, is a fresh air crank. There is no expectoration. Kindly give me your opinion.

REPLY.

Hardened wax in ear canal. An enlarged bronchial gland, result of adenoids. These are two long distance guesses. Take her to your doctor.

* * *

Harmless, Quick Bleach for Arms: Western Girl asks us to recommend a harmless, quick bleach for arms and neck. Also something to keep the elbows soft and smooth.

REPLY.

For the arms and elbows nothing is better than dish water with a bland soap. For the neck try early to bed and lazy to rise. Our beauty hints are always practical.

* * *

Enlarged Glands in the Neck: Are enlarged glands in the neck always tubercular? If so, what treatment is advisable, surgical or medical?

REPLY.

No, most frequently they are simple enlargements resulting from bad teeth, adenoids, diseased tonsils, nasal catarrh or middle ear trouble. Tubercular glands (scrofula) are successfully treated by medical and hygienic measures, though they must be operated on if they suppurate (soften).

* * *

Treatment of Bronchitis: Kindly advise me what to do. Last spring I went to the seashore for bronchitis, but am no better—I wheeze when I exert myself. Very short of breath, can't walk much.

REPLY.

FOUNDATION GIFTS TOTAL $6,400,000

Donations Made By Rockefeller Institutions Made Public.

New York, Feb. 23.—The gifts and pledges made from the resources of the Rockefeller foundation since its organization approximate $6,400,000, according to a statement given by the foundation to the United States commission on industrial relations at the quest of the commission and made public last night.

More than $1,000,000 was given for war relief in Europe, about $142,000 was expended for the investigation of the hook worm disease in tropical countries, $5,252 in the investigation of industrial relations in this country, $39,270 for medical work in China and $223,574 for the purchase of a bird refuge in Louisiana. These expenditures, totaling $1,420,218, are listed under disbursements for activities under the immediate supervision of the foundation.

A list of other gifts and pledges totaling $1,763,640 includes $100,000 to the American Red Cross toward the erection of headquarters in Washington; $100,000 to the American Academy at Rome; $450,000 for the American foreign mission boards; $200,000 to the New York association for improving the condition of the poor in its widows' pension work, and $45,000 to charity organizations in New York city to relieve distress due to the war and industrial depression.

East Grand Forks Fire.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Feb. 23.—Fire destroyed the office and storage buildings of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company here. A carload of beer on a sidetrack also was destroyed, as were several hundred barrels of beer in the storage house. The loss is $10,000 to $15,000.

"SKEETER" "TOUGH BIRD" SAYS EXPERT

Has Caused Downfall of Nations; "Swat" Campaign Is Urged.

According to a special bulletin just issued by the University of Minnesota, prepared by C. W. Howard of the division of entomology, the mosquito that inhabits Minnesota and depends upon its humans for sustenance, is a tough bird. Also he does not die in winter as is popularly supposed. While he is active in summer only, he does not expire when the chill somes on nor does he migrate to warmer climes; not he. Instead of that, according to the bulletin:

"Our commonest mosquitoes pass the winter in the adult stage, hiding away in cellars, stables or sheds, hollows in trees, crevices in bark, caves and other dark places where they will be protected from freezing. They do not feed at this time, although they may become somewhat active on very warm days in winter."

That all concerns the "he" variety. As to the female of the species, the bulletin says:

"It is only the females that hibernate. Many mosquitoes in northern and temperate regions pass the winter in the egg stage, the eggs hatching soon after the melting of snows in spring. Some species winter as wigglers, being able to freeze up in ice and thaw out again without being harmed."

That Kipling was right to some degree is shown in the matter of mosquitoes, for according to Mr. Howard, the female of this species is more deadly then the male. The female wants blood, while the male is a vegetarian.

"The male of mosquitoes," says the bulletin, "are not adapted for blood-sucking and must subsist on a vegetable diet. Even females, which prefer blood, must frequently feed otherwise and are known to attack soft-bodied insects and reptiles, and to frequent flowers and plants. The mosquitoes which we know best, however, prefer a meal of blood."

The bulletin described "wild" mosquitoes as those bred away from human dwellings and in natural collections of water; and the "domestic" variety is described as those that breed in artificial collections of water.

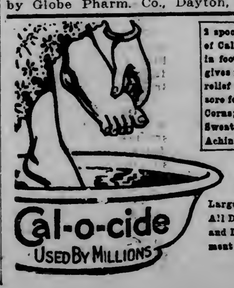

There is no closed season for mosquito—one may kill on sight, if one can. It is asserted in the bulletin that at least $10,000,000 annually is spent in the United States for wire nettings to screen doors, windows and porches to prevent the entrance of mosquitoes and house-flies. The mosquito's propensity for carrying disease is emphasized, and the writer advocates unceasing use of fumigants, repellents and screens to combat the adult mosquito, and draining, oiling, community cooperation, etc. for destroying the insect in its immature stages of egg, wriggler and pupa.

"Mosquitoes," declares the bulletin, "have undoubtedly affected the welfare of man more than any other group of insects. Their presence has made many places practically uninhabitable, while in other regions they have sapped the vitality of whole nations, and contributed largely to their eventual downfall."

In short the mosquito is "some bird," and it is apparently up to the people to "swat" it as vigorously as it is advised to attack the fly.

How to Cure Rheumatism

Here is a prescription for rheumatism (to be mixed at home) used all over the U. S. for many years and said to be the surest known remedy; neutralizes acid in the blood and gives results after first dose. "One ounce of Toris compound and one ounce syrup of Sarsaparilla. Put these two ingredients in half pint of whiskey. Use a tablespoonful before meals and at bed time." Get ingredients at any drug store. ARE HOSTS TO THEIR "DADS"

Boys of Y. M. C. A. Entertain Their Fathers at Annual Banquet.

Many Fathers Did Things Aired in Juvenile Court Now, Says Resche.

One of the most successful affairs ever held at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., was that of last night, when the boys entertained their "dads" at the second annual "Father and Son" banquet. One hundred and fifty were seated around the tables, each father seated beside his son.

Following the dinner Willard Thorp, as toastmaster, introduced the speakers. The first was Irving Grover, who gave an address of welcome. Mr. Grover declared that no relationship in the human family is quite so close as that between father and son, as it was not a sentimental bond, but one of strong sympathy. Mr. Grover was followed by Rev. C. N. Thorp, who spoke on the subject, "What a Father Expects of His Boy." Mr. Thorp gave instances in his own life which showed that outside desiring to see him be a success in life, every father expects respect of his boy and that the boy will respect the rights of other members of the family, especially after 10 p. m. Mr. Thorp pointed out that, after all, the fine relationship between the father and son merely illustrates the greater relationship that exists between God and man.

Russell Duncan, who spoke on the subject, "Chums, Father and Son," in his characteristic way, pointed out the necessity of the father being the chum of his boy.

The next number on the program was a vocal duet, "Excelsior," sung by F. G. Brown and J. R. Batchelor. This was followed by Col. Resche, who spoke on the subject, "Other Boys." He announced that he was not going to speak about bad boys, as he believes there is no such thing; it is only the spirit of mischief, he said, which is in every boy, and many a father remembered the time when he had done many of the things for which boys come before the juvenile court nowadays. The colonel made a strong plea for closer companionship between father and son.

Mr. McLeod was called upon and spoke about some experiences with boys. He told of his trip east and the boys' departments he had seen. The concluding number of the program was the stereopticon display of pictures of Camp Miller and of moving pictures.

any surprise inroad into the Netherlands, and they are defended by strong bodies of troops. On the opposite side in Belgium the entrenchments face away from the Dutch frontier, and are evidently intended to offer shelter to the German army in case it should find itself obliged to retire from its present positions in Flanders.

There is a strong feeling among the Dutch troops that the Germans will be forced over the frontier in Limburg should the allied forces eventually push them out of Belgium. This little strip of Holland, forming a sort of appendix to the south, is bounded on the west by Belgium and on the east by Germany. It is very narrow and would offer great temptation to a retreating army trying to get away from its pursuers. The Dutch realize this and are determined to oppose any such action by every means in their power.

To Prevent Smuggling.

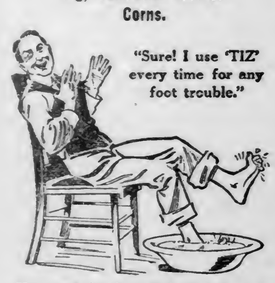

On the other side of Holland the greatest attention of the Dutch government is directed toward the prevention of attemps to smuggle contraband articles over the frontier from Holland into Germany. These attempts are frequent owing to the profit attached to such transactions. The precautions taken against such "runs" are of the most extreme severity. The frontier line is patrolled night and day and the troops engaged in this work are frequently changed so that they may not become too intimate with the inhabitants of the frontier districts and so be inclined to display laxity in their vigilance.

While these efforts to maintain a strict neutrality are maintained there has been some criticism of the Dutch government in consequence of its action in keeping such a large number of troops under arms. Premier Cort van der Linden, however, maintains that the position taken up has been the only correct one under the circumstances and declares that the government is sure that "the Netherlands will, neither now nor in the future, surrender her rights to any one without a struggle."

There is a strong movement among a section of the people in favor of an appeal for intervention in the interests of peace. There exists an "anti-war league," which recently has displayed great activity, and petitions are placed everywhere for signatures asking the queen of the Netherlands to make some move in this direction.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"TIZ" for Sore, Tired, Puffed-up, Aching, Calloused Feet or Corns.

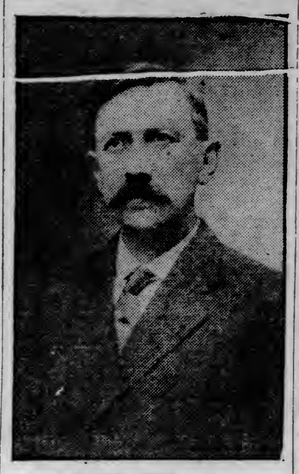

"Sure! I use 'TIZ' every time for any foot trouble."

You can be happy-footed just like me. Use "TIZ" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "TIZ" is grand. "TIZ" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

Hog Cholera Serum Plant.

The house in committee of the whole overwhelmingly recommended for passage the Bendixen bill providing $30,000 for increasing the output of the hog cholera serum plant at the state college of agriculture.

Opposition arose on the ground that the state shouldn't go into the manufacturing business, that it is unconstitutional to do so, and that hog cholera serum is no good anyway.

Representative H. H. Harrison of Stillwater recited a case where cholera got into a farmer's flock of pigs and he had them all inoculated with cholera serum, except one that got away, and the one that got away was the only one that lived.

There was objection to the cost, too, but Representative Pratt of Anoka pointed out that in his county alone last fall the loss from hog cholera was more than the entire appropriation proposed.

His Speech Censored.

Representative A. F. Teigen of Montevideo complained to the house this morning of the efficiency and economy committee, after Chairman Spooner had announced that all discussion was to be reported and reproduced. He wanted to know who had the right to censor his speech.

Representative Knud Wefald said that doubtless the omitted portions contained the wisdom the house needs to enable it to vote intelligently on the bill, and he moved that Mr. Teigen be given permission to repeat his speech; a suggestion to which Mr. Teigen did not take kindly, deeming it apparently a species of spoofing.

The house voted down Mr. Teigen's motion to correct the report of the committee hearing, but Mr. Spooner informed the aggrieved statesman that he would have the matter rectified if he would point out what has been omitted from his speech.

RUSSIAN ARMY STANDS AT BAY

has been provided by a single Zeppelin, which dropped bombs on Calais yesterday, while the only incident of note in connection with the submarine blockade has been the safe arrival at Liverpool of the Cunard line steamer Orduna from New York, Feb. 13.

Nothing so far has been heard in England of the two German submarines overdue at Cuxhaven, concerning whose safety the Germans are anxious.

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 23, by wireless to London, 3:20 p. m.—The German war office today gave out the following report:

"In the western arena of the war: The Calais fortress was freely bombarded during the night of Feb. 21-22 with missiles from an airship.

"Yesterday the French again delivered an attack in the Champagne district to the north of Perthes, but with decreased forces. Each of their advance movements broke down under our fire. At Ailley and Apremont the French forces were driven back to their positions after having first secured some minor successes.

"In the Vosges the Sattlekopf, to the north of Muehlbach, has been taken by storm. Otherwise there has been nothing of importance to report on the western line.

"In the eastern arena of the fighting: An advance attempted by the Russians from Grodno, moving in a northwesterly direction, resulted in failure. The number of Russian cannon taken after the battle of the Mazurian lakes has been increased to over 300.

"To the northwest of Ossowetz, north of Lomza, and in the vicinity of Przasnysz the fighting continues. On the Vistula, to the east of Plock, we have advanced further into the Wyszogrod district.

"In Poland, south of the Vistula, an advance by a Russian division on our positions on the Rawka river has been repulsed."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, Feb. 23.—Repulses of the Austrians and Germans at several points on the eastern battle front are claimed by the Russians in an official communication issued last night. It is stated that in Eastern Galicia, southeast of Stanislau, two brigades of Austrians were driven off with the loss of 1,500 prisoners, including twenty officers and several machine guns. The communication follows:

"Fighting continues on the right bank of the Bobr and the Narew in isolated engagements. An encounter of secondary importance occurred near Grodno on the Lypskov road in which we attacked the Germans.

"The guns of the fortress were used actively and effectively in the fighting in the Ossowotz district. On the road from Lomza we took Jedwabno after a fierce combat. The enemy took the offensive in considerable force in the Przasnysz region.

"Attacks of the enemy on the north bank of the Pilica, in the district of Lopuszno, were repulsed.

"It has been definitely learned that the Austrians suffered very heavy losses north of Zakliczyn in Western Galicia on Feb. 17.

"After capturing the heights of Smolnika, east of Lupkow pass in the Carpathians, our troops repulsed repeated counter-attacks of the Austrians who reached a point within a few paces of our positions, but were forced back with heavy losses.

"The Germans delivered four attacks against the height of Myto Kozlourka on the night of Feb. 20, but were driven back. We had carried the hill, which was an important part of the enemy's position.

"We attacked the Austrians south of Stanislau in Eastern Galicia and drove back two brigades after a combat in which the bayonet sometimes was used. We took here 1,500 prisoners, including 20 officers and several machine guns."

BRITISH REPORT ON PROGRESS OF WAR

Semi-Weekly Statement Tells of Fighting in the Eastern Theater.

London, Feb. 23.—The British semi-weekly report on the progress of the fighting on the continent was given out today and reads as follows:

"The enemy continues to show considerable activity. In the neighborhood of Ypres several attacks and counter-attacks have occurred. At 6 o'clock in the morning of Feb. 21 the enemy exploded an elaborate series of mines which destroyed one of our trenches. A new line was prepared a short distance in the rear and immediately occupied. Any attempts at further progress have been completely frustrated.

"Near Givenchy our infantry, after a successful bombardment, captured a trench of the enemy and blew it up. An attempted attack by the enemy along La Basse canal was easily repulsed by our artillery.

"To the south of the River Lys there has been an increase in artillery and rifle fire, in which our troops showed marked superiority. Along the remainder of our front there has been nothing more than artillery duel. The thick weather has handicapped the work of aircraft."

SAY GERMANY IS NOT MEETING COST

Allies Complain of Lack of Payment for Care of Prisoners.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The entente allies have made representations to the United States that Germany is not meeting the cost of care of her prisoners of war in their camps, and have asked the United States, as caring for the diplomatic interests of all the warring powers, to make representations to Berlin.

The effort to provide supervision of all prison camps by American army officers in the interest of humanity and to establish uniform treatment seems to have been permanently checked because the warring countries do not agree upon the extent of American activities.

Meanwhile, some of the reports received declare the treatment of prisoners is, in some cases, in violation of the Geneva and Hague conventions.

ORDERED TO DUTY IN UNITED STATES.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, Jan. 26.—Maj. Akira Karasudani of the Japanese army has been ordered to the United States on special duty. He is a member of the bureau of military affairs of the war office. He will go to the Japanese embassy at Washington and stay there for some time, leaving here Feb. 6.

MANY SALES ON FIRST DAY

This record is considered exceptional, as there is usually little business done on the opening day of automobile shows. Sales managers, who are here from the factories in the East, are surprised and they declared this morning that the large sale shows just how much better business conditions are in Duluth and the vicinity at the present time, than many believe.

The first sale of the show was made yesterday noon by L. Filiatrault of the Mutual Auto company, when he sold a Ford sedan. The doors of the Auditorium were not opened until 3 o'clock, but an early observer of the cars couldn't help fall for "the little old Ford."

The E. H. Whitney company made the biggest record with a sale of four Dodges during the day, while H. B. Knudsen reports the sale of two Maxwells and one Paige car.

Two Coles were sold by Herman Johnson, who also reports that he has two more prospects, who, he thinks, will probably close the deals today.

E. J. Filiatrault of the Mutual company, sold two Fords and a Chalmers car yesterday, while J. T. Peacha, Jr., reports the sale of a King, a Franklin and two Kissels.

The Kelley Hardware company sold two Overlands, while other dealers are rather reticent about giving out their sales, but also report that business was surprising.

PROPOSES DRASTIC LIQUOR MEASURES

Representative-Elect Randall Says Congress Will Be Asked to Act.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 23.—Charles H. Randall, Prohibition party congressman-elect from California, in an address to Prohibitionists last night, announced that it is to be proposed in the next congress that the Federal government shall withdraw from the liquor business all the facilities which are under the government's control or ownership.

"A series of four proposed laws are being prepared," he said, "briefly described as follows:

"1—Federal liquor license receipts are hereafter to be issued only to holders of valid licenses already granted by local authorities in the states.

"2—The United States mails will be closed to the liquor interests for any purpose whatever, thus preventing the vicious and fraudulent advertising published in many newspapers and sent through the mails.

"3—The United States will prohibit the use of interstate commerce for liquor shipments or for any purpose and will stop importations from foreign countries, thus erecting a stone wall at every state line.

"4—A Federal embargo will be placed against the waste of food products by prohibiting the transformation of grain, fruits or any product valuable for food into intoxicating or alcoholic liquors."

FIGHTING WITH THE INDIANS CONTINUES

Reinforcements for Whites Expected to Reach Bluff Any Moment.

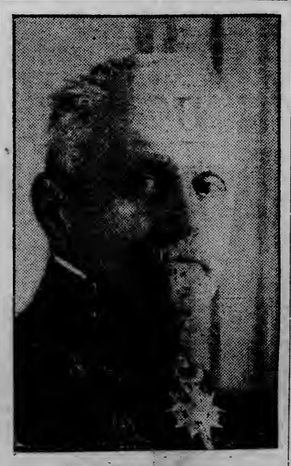

Denver, Colo., Feb. 23.—Reinforcements are expected to reach Bluff, Utah, today, where posses are engaged in a battle with Piute Indians.

In the fighting which began Sunday, five Indians and one white man have been killed, one white man wounded and six Indians taken prisoners. It is said desultory fighting continued all night within a half a mile of Bluff, and that the huts of Tse-Ne-Gat, leader of Ten Indians who is wanted for murder, have been burned.

Reinforcements are expected from Monticello and thirty-five Navajo police are en route to Bluff from Ship Rock Indian agency, N. M.

It is believed that the Indians will attempt to escape through the hills, according to advices from Bluff, and the leaders of the posses are anxious for reinforcements in order that the retreat of the Indians may be cut off.

MAN WHO STOPPED ADVANCE ON PARIS

GEN. MAUNOURY.

In an interview just made public Gen. Joffre gives credit for the repulse of the Germans in their advance on Paris to Gen. Maunoury. It was he who massed an army in the path of the Germans and stopped them.

PREPARING FOR NEW LAW

Uncle Sam Will Begin Strict Regulation of Narcotics on March 1.

Dealers Urged to Make Inventory of Stocks at Once.

Dealers are now preparing against the day when the new law regulating business in narcotics will go into effect, March 1. Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Ray Coburn urges all dealers to be prepared when the new Federal statute becomes the law of the land.

All dealers, said Mr. Coburn today, should have a complete inventory of their stocks taken by March 1, so that they may be checked over by the Federal inspector, who will then make his rounds. The law includes the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives or preparations. There will be no special form of inventory required by the government; each dealer may use the form he desires.

Mr. Coburn urges further that all dealers lay in a supply before March 1, as the order blanks which will be required after that date may be delayed in reaching Duluth. If a dealer does delay to fill in a stock sufficient for his needs, he may be the loser, as no alternative is provided.

Hard to Get "Dope."

After March 1 the "dope fiend" will find it difficult to get opium or cocaine or any form of narcotic drugs, and druggists or any other persons handling such drugs will find it difficult to dispose of their goods except under conditions provided in the law. A strict account of all dealers and the narcotic drugs they carry will be kept by the Federal government. So strict will this regulation be that Uncle Sam will know just how many ounces are bought and how much and to whom such drugs are sold.

This new law is also expected to net Uncle Sam a neat little sum of money in the way of tax. The law provides that on or before March 1 each person, firm or company dealing in narcotics shall register with the collector of the district in which he does business, and on or before the first day of July in each year thereafter pay to such collector a special tax at the rate of $1 a year. A special application for registry must be made for each place of business conducted by such a person, firm or company, except in the case of a physician, dentist or veterinarian.

Appropriate coupon stamps, denoting payment of the special tax under the act named, will be furnished the collector on requisition, and will be charged to them and will be accounted for as in case of other special tax stamps.

"WHERE, OH WHERE, ARE THE JOBLESS?"

Uncle Sam Just Can't Get "Stenogs"—Men Are Like Hens' Teeth.

If there is a stenographer or typewriter who wants a good job, let him or her step forward. Uncle Sam is after help and after it hard—with apparently no results adequate to the opportunities offered.

Today E. M. Barker, who conducts such examinations here for the civil service department, was scratching his head in perplexity. Last week he gave an examination for stenographers and typists, but only three responded—only one of the trio being a "male." Today he gave a second test for the same purpose, this time only one person came to the front.

Now things have come to a pretty pass, says Mr. Barker, if the United States government can't get stenographers and typists. It begins to look as if some of the Federal officials in Washington would have to run their own machines and get down to real labor.

The scarcity of applicants is unaccountable. The salaries offered are from $65 a month for beginners, up, with a reasonable opportunity for promotions and increases in salary, and a large number of the successful appointees will be situated in Washington, D. C., the dream of the government employe. Times must be pretty prosperous, Mr. Barker concludes, when there is virtually no demand for good jobs.

NEW VERSION OF SPANISH SWINDLE

Suspect Game May Be Worked in the United States.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 10.—Scotland Yard warns the public against a new version of the old Spanish prisoner swindle. This time it is not a Spaniard who has hidden a war chest of the Carlists in an accessible mountain and appeals to some one to accept half the contents in return for furnishing him with bail money. In the new version of the swindle it is a Belgian. The Belgian, on the death of his master in the siege of Liege, fled with £20,000 in Bank of England notes. He is now in trouble in Spain, and will part with half of the notes to any one helping him out of the scrape with a little ready cash.

A large number of these swindling letters have been sent to England, and Scotland Yard men suspect the game is also being worked in the United States.

For Grey Hair

I Will Tell You Free How to Restore to your Hair the Natural Color of Youth.

No Dyes or Other Harmful Method. Results in Four Days.

Let me send you free full information about a harmless liquid that will restore the natural color of your hair, no matter what your age nor the cause of your greyness. It is not a dye nor a stain. Its effects commence after four days use. I am a woman who became prematurely grey and old looking at 27, but a scientific friend told me of a simple method he had perfected after years of study. I followed his advice and in a short time my hair actually was the natural color of my girlish days. This method is entirely different from anything else I have ever seen or heard of. Its effect is lasting and it will not wash or rub off or stain the scalp. It is neither sticky or greasy, its use cannot be detected; it will restore the original natural shade to any grey, bleached or faded hair, no matter how many things have failed. It succeeds perfectly with both sexes, and all ages.

Write me today giving your name and address plainly, stating whether lady or gentleman (Mr., Mrs. or Miss) and enclose 2c stamp for return postage and I will send you full particulars that will enable you to restore the natural color of youth to your hair, making it soft, natural and easily managed. Write today. Address, Mrs. Mary K. Chapman, Office 632 F. Grosvenor Bldg., Providence, R. I.

The Hudson Light Six-40 Is An Attained Success

The Hudson Light Six-40 is not an engineer's hope or a designer's dream. It is an attained success. Ten thousand cars of this model are in use in the hands of private owners. Some of them have been in service over a year. At the low average of 1,000 miles per car they have traveled over 10 million miles of road. This fact is worth considering by the buyer of a new car. It shows him what he may surely expect from a similar car. It proves to him that he takes no chances when he chooses the Hudson Light Six. Experience is safer than experiment. It is better to be sure than to be sorry.

GIRLS! GIRLS! YOU MUST TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

For 25 Cents You Can Make Your Hair Lustrous, Fluffy, and Abundant.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

Safe Home Treatment for Objectionable Hairs

(Boudoir Secrets)

The electric needle is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain delatone the most stubborn growth can be quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder, then spread over the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

ROW OF PLEASURE CARS AT AUTOMOBILE SHOW

GOOD CROWD AT AUTO SHOW

About 2,000 Defy Weather; Mayor Gives Optimistic Address.

Exhibits and Program Are Excellent; Star Features for Each Day.

Despite the inclement weather during the afternoon, a goodly crowd filled the Auditorium from the opening of the show at 3 o'clock until long after meal time. However, at night, the hockey game at the curling club kept many people away from the show, and it is expected that larger crowds will be present throughout the week.

Mayor Prince formally opened the show with an address at 9 o'clock last night, welcoming the Duluth automobile dealers and their new 1915 cars. He declared during his address that this exhibit shows exactly how business conditions are and how it serves as a barometer of good times.

Following the mayor's address, Charles Helmer and his orchestra began a program of music, which lasted until 10:30 o'clock. During the evening Jean Mack of the St. Louis cafe rendered several popular numbers.

The musical program follows:

March—"The Auto Race" .....
Selection—Remick's hits .....
Song—Selected .....
Jean Mack.
Waltz—"Milicent" .....
Trumpet solo—"The Little Gray Home in the West" .....
Charles Helmer.
(a) Fox trot—"Chin Chin" .....
(b) One step—"Get Out and Get Under" .....
Song—"The Little Old Ford Would Ramble Right Along" .....
Jean Mack.
Overture—National airs .....
Selection—"The Girl From Utah" ..

This morning the show opened at 10:30 o'clock and a good sized crowd was present throughout the day.

Today is Auto club day, and it is expected that this evening all the members of the local organization will be in attendance at the show. Tomorrow is Superior day and Thursday will be Duluth day. Governor Hammond is scheduled to be here Friday night, when society is expected to be out, while Saturday the management has set aside as Range day.

MANY VISITORS FROM THE RANGE

Many range residents came to Duluth this morning to attend the automobile show at the Auditorium and at the same time decide on the car for 1915.

Practically every dealer at the show could be seen towing around one or two visitors from the range, explaining his car and its exceptional qualities.

In addition to prospects from the range, every sub-agent working for a local automobile dealer, is also down for the show, meeting with these range residents and helping the dealer "clinch" the sale.

Those who came this morning say that range residents will be coming down throughout the week, but that the biggest crowd can be expected Saturday, which has been set aside by Manager Daly as range day.

UP AND DOWN THE AISLES

E. W. Nicholson, sales manager for the Chalmers factory, wired this morning that he will arrive today and spend the week in Duluth. Mr. Nicholson will help the Filiatrault "boys" make more sales, if that's possible.

* * *

H. B. Knudsen, local agent for the Maxwell and Paige cars, is making a hit with the four "Paiges," who go about running errands and answering calls throughout the Auditorium. The boys dressed in "Paige" suits, are Rolland, Glen and Albert Knudsen, all sons of Mr. Knudsen, and Glen Abraham.

* * *

More automobile races will be held on the lake next Saturday morning, Dr. J. D. Park announced last night. If the weather is favorable, the aeroplane flight will also be made.

* * *

Fred W. Smith of Hibbing, subagent for M. W. Turner, drove the winning Buick car in the third heat yesterday afternoon. The Buick came in first, Maxwell, second, and Ford, third. Mr. Smith is down here for the show and will meet all the range residents who visit the Buick-Haynes booth.

* * *

F. R. Barlow of Detroit is here helping sell Maxwell cars for Mr. Knudsen, while G. L. Wigton is expected here this afternoon to represent the Paige factory. Mr. Wigton is the district representative for the car.

* * *

F. H. Smith, who came here yesterday from Detroit to help Fred Kleyn sell some Hudsons, saw his first hockey game at the curling rink last night. He was surprised to find such a crowd at a game, which he always thought hardly amounted to anything. Mr. Smith is now "a real hockey sport."

* * *

Dunning & Dunning and the Cole, Merritt & Co., are giving away a $10,000 accident policy at their booth. State auto licenses are also sold at the booth.

* * *

D. S. Dyder of Minneapolis will be here this afternoon to help J. D. Armstead sell some Marmons.

* * *

* * *

* * *

For the benefit of Ford owners the Ezyfill Radiator Cup company is showing its newest system at one of the booths in the balcony.

WOMAN THE BIG FACTOR

Feminine Influence Causes Transformation in Auto Construction.

Easily Adjusted Mechanism and Luxury Are the Result.

Much of the rapid evolution of the motor car from a one-lunged contraption of pain and sorrow to a smooth-running, luxurious vehicle can be attributed directly to feminine influence. Woman has demanded, and has been accorded, her place in motordom just as she has demanded and received practically everything else she wants.

Motor car manufacturers who fail to heed feminine requirements have not made the success they might otherwise have achieved. In many cases it is the final decision of a man's wife, sister or sweetheart that settles the question of the car he is going to buy. Consequently it is only natural that we should consider the needs of woman in the design and construction of our cars.

From a woman's standpoint a motor that requires cranking by hand is a relic of barbarism. She dislikes putterting around with gas tanks and matches in order to turn on the lights. And her aversion to the car that does not do away with these unpleasant tasks is more than a mere whim. An automobile without complete equipment is as inconvenient as a suit without buttons.

The upholstering has been deepened, springs lengthened and improved and the riding qualities enhanced in many ways to make her more comfortable. Rain visions windshields of the ventilating type protect her from the elements. Foot rests, robe rails and many other accessories and refinements have been installed in consideration of her interests.

If she desires to drive the car herself the switchboard, attached to the steering column just below the wheel, places the ignition, lighting, starting and horn controls within easy reach of her hand. With a slight pressure of her finger she starts the car, turns on the head, side, tail or dash lights and sounds the electric horn. She does not have to bend down or stretch from her position once while driving.

All indicating devices, including the magnetic speedometer, oil sight feed and ammeter, together with the carbureter priming button, are neatly and conveniently arranged in the cowl dash instrument board.

With these advantages, combined with left drive and center bear shift, the woman driver is given all the assurance of an experienced chauffeur.

PRICES SLASHED BY CHANDLER COMPANY

Cut of About 20 Per Cent Sets New Low Level.

Announcement of one of the most sensational price reductions in the history of the automobile industry, made public a short time ago by the Chandler Motor Car company of Cleveland, has given automobile manufacturers and motorists generally the biggest topic for discussion in some years.

Retaining the same model of the Chandler lightweight six which last year established a record for volume of sales at the price of $1,595, officials of the company have placed a new price of $1,295 on the same car in five and seven-passenger bodies for the coming season. This reduction of $300, or close to 20 per cent of the former selling price, stands without a parallel in the high-grade field.

According to President F. C. Chandler, the announcement of the new price on the Chandler six follows the most successful season's business in the company's history.

The Chandler announcement is of peculiar interest to the public because of the pioneer position occupied by that company in the building of lightweight six-cylinder cars. When first placed on the market two years ago, the six-cylinder car was almost exclusively confined to the high priced field and was considered something of a fad. Convinced through their eight years' experience in the construction and sale of sixes, that a lightweight car of this type selling at a moderate price would find a ready market, the present officers of the Chandler company brought out the Chandler six, weighing less than 3,000 pounds and at that time selling for $1,785.

In order to take care of increased production, plans have been drawn up, approved and work is under way on an addition to the Cleveland plant, which will more than double the present capacity of the company for turning out cars. In addition to increased manufacturing space, provision will be made for larger office quarters to take care of the business. The new buildings will be completed and in shape for occupancy as soon as it is possible to push them through.

HAS NO AUTHORITY TO INSPECT ROAD'S FILES.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The supreme court today held the interstate commerce commission is without authority to inspect correspondence files of interstate railroads. It sustained the district court of Western Kentucky, which refused to compel the Louisville & Nashville to permit examiners to inspect its files.

IMPROVING DAIRY HERDS ADVOCATED

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dairy meeting of the Harris Township Farmers' club held at the McCormick schoolhouse was fairly well attended despite the weather. The principal subject discussed was "The Kind of Cows Our Farmers Should Get," in which W. M. West led. Mr. West asserted that "the most important cow of a herd is the sire," and he stated that it is only by breeding to a sire which is not only pure bred and registered, but which is a descendant of heavy producing ancestry that this section—or any other section—will get good cows; that being practically the only way to secure good cows. Careful breeding he declared will not only secure a good herd, but it will improve the herd for the future, which is important. Mr. West touched upon the proposed plan of the creamery association of supply farmers with cows.

Favors High-class Sires.

He asserted that the contract made with such farmers should include a provision that a high-class sire should be placed in each community and that the cows should not be bred to any other; that the farmers be required to keep records of production and feed. Mr. West lamented the fact that there are so many different breeds of cattle being raised in this section, and stated that the farmers should all agree on one breed and confine themselves to raising that breed. He stated that he would change breeds if an agreement was arrived at, providing the change made would not be too radical.

Prof. A. V. Storm, who is deeply interested in Harris township progress, suggested that attention be paid particularly to three things in dairying: breeding, feeding and weeding of the dairy herds. He followed the theme to its logical conclusions, giving a most interesting talk.

George B. Aiton, O. J. Niles and others spoke and a lunch was served.

CHICAGO JUDGE IS VIRGINIA SPEAKER

"Traitors to Justice" Discussed By Jurist Who Is Given Banquet.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The Traitors to Justice', was the subject of a notable address given in the high school here last night by Judge Cavanaugh of the superior court of Chicago, under the auspices of a lecture bureau. The speaker told a large audience that not only the judges but the attorneys and other court officials, combined with a general lack of law enforcement, were responsible for many of the so-called laws delays and the reputed failures of justice.

Following Judge Cavanaugh's address he was given a banquet at the Fay hotel by the local council of the Knights of Columbus. Former Mayor M. A. Murphy was toastmaster and addresses were delivered by Father Powers, Superintendent of Schools Colgrove, Former Senator J. P. Boyle, Rev. Mr. Lappala, the Unitarian minister, W. H. Eaton and Dr. Lenont.

COLONIAL MUSICALE.

Patriotic Exercises Are Held in Grand Rapids Library.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last evening at the lecture room of the public library a most delightful treat in the way of a colonial musicale was given under the auspices of the Grand Rapids Woman's club. The program consisted of several numbers by home talent and opened with a lecture on "What We Owe to George Washington," by Former Senator C. C. McCarthy. This was followed by a piano solo by Miss McIntyre, a vocal solo by Miss Nordstrom, reading by Mrs. Sherman Dickinson, vocal solo by Miss May Benton, reading by Miss Burlingame, vocal solo by Mrs. H. C. Lawrence. Miss McIntyre accompanied the foregoing musical numbers. The entertainment closed with the singing of "America" by the audience, Mrs. C. E. Hooper accompanying. All the numbers were of a colonial nature and the decorations were along the same lines. Following the program light refreshments were served.

CHISHOLM DOG RACES

Events Pulled Off on Lake Street Pleased Old and Young.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dog races pulled off yesterday afternoon on Lake street were witnessed by several hundred. The races were in charge of William Mueller and proved most successful. The antics of the dogs caused no little merriment, and the races were as thoroughly enjoyed by the adults as by the children.

NURSE WRITES OF WAR.

Hibbing Woman Gets Letter From Relative Nursing Near Berlin.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another letter relating to hospital life near Berlin has been received by Mrs. R. J. Morehouse from her cousin, Miss Mabel Carr, a volunteer Red Cross nurse.

"Since coming here, three months ago, life has been one constant panorama of the terrible sight of maimed and wounded," the letter reads, "and although now this no longer seems unbearable, all the nurses here will never be as frivolous as heretofore. Death, somehow, seems less horrible and life more serious. It is said that the burden of war falls on women. The one who said this would qualify this statement, providing he should work in a hospital a while. You see, it has made even me think of these things, and you know what I used to think of life and everything else."

The letter tells of several incidents of different requests made by soldiers who fear death. "The remarkable part of it is," Miss Carr writes, "that, although the wounds are most terrible, most of the soldiers who believe that they are going to die, recover. I don't know which is worse for them—death or recovery."

PARENT'S BRUTALITY IS AIRED IN COURT

Hibbing Girl Tells How Father Often Beat Her With Poker.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—How her father often brutally beat her and a younger sister with a stove poker or other equally hard implements for nothing more than failing to keep the house and to cook as he demanded, was told by 9-year-old Gertrude Merreus of Alice to Probation Officer C. E. Everett and Judge Thomas P. Brady in municipal court.

The girl showed bruises on her arms and about her body where she said her father, Frank Merreus, had hit her with a poker.

Merreus and his wife, who is now in Duluth and who has not yet received a separation from her husband, have frequently appeared in municipal court on charges of assault preferred by each other.

Given His Children.

Recently Merreus inquired from officials here if he could get his children back providing he would keep a housekeeper. This request was granted. Not long ago Probation Officer Everett discovered that the housekeeper had been dismissed and that Merreus was imposing the housewife duties on his 9-year-old girl and her younger sister. He visited the home to see how the family was getting along when the girl confessed her troubles. While testifying in court she frequently broke into tears.

Her brother Roy, aged 12, was sent to the state home for children at the time that the wife and husband had their most vehement fights.

Both the girls are now at the home of Probation Officer Everett, where they will be provided for until their case is disposed of in juvenile court.

ODD FELLOWS TO HAVE CLUBHOUSE

Triple Link Joyland Club to Maintain Place on Lake Vermilion.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Triple Link Joyland club was organized here Sunday by Odd Fellows of the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges for the purpose of maintaining a clubhouse and summer home five miles from Tower on Lake Vermilion. The capital will be $500 and the membership limited to Odd Fellows.

The officers are: G. Fay, president; Dr. Ike Van Doman of Virginia, vice president; Oscar Naslund of Tower, treasurer; Peter Morin of Tower, secretary and steward. The club will at once begin work on the clubhouse so it can be available for members this year.

CARP EAT WILD RICE.

So Haley Will Introduce Bill Permitting Seining for Those Fish.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bill to permit seining of Heron lake for carp, which are said to destroy the wild rice in that body of water, is being prepared by Senator John A. Healy of Hibbing at special request of various outing and gun clubs owning the land surrounding the lake, which is virtually a private fish and game preserve. Because of the abundance of carp in the lake, all the wild rice, the food of wild ducks and other aquatic fowls, is being killed and it has been suggested that if the carp were seined out of the lake this condition would be corrected.

MINING CAPTAIN CHOSEN SECRETARY.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Michigan College of Mines alumni are pleased at the action taken in Duluth last night at a meeting of the alumni when Capt. Edward Scallon of the Lincoln mine here was chosen secretary, as he has a host of friends on the range.

VIRGINIA DOG RACES DELIGHT BIG CROWD.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dog racing fans had sport yesterday afternoon when the Washington's birthday canine contests were pulled off, two blocks on Chestnut street, from the American Exchange bank to the Elks home. Five dogs were entered one of which Prince, owned by Fred Luzar, ran away at the start upset the sled and made for his home kennel.

A large crowd estimated at between 2,500 and 3,000, cheered the animals and generally enjoyed the unique spectacle.

Fred McAll's Buster won, taking two out of three heats. Clay Roberts' Jim was second; Charles Gannon's Gyp third and Frank Moore's Spring, fourth.

VIRGINIA SEWER WORK GIVING EMPLOYMENT.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-four men were placed at work today digging for the extension of the 6-foot sewer from Chestnut street north to the alley which will be 415 feet long and more men will be added as the work progresses.

ENTERTAIN COHASSET M. E. LADIES' AID.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. M. Stackhouse entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Cohasset M. E. church at the home of Mrs. F. E. Reusswig. There were about twenty-five present and they came over in in a carry-all sleigh, enjoying the ride very much. Lunch was served and a most enjoyable time was had.

HIBBING CLUB IS SEEKING SECRETARY

Live Energetic Man Wanted to Succeed J. L. Lewis, Resigned.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—John A. Redfern in discussing the need of a live, energetic secretary of the Commercial club to succeed J. L. Lewis, who resigned to take a state job, said that an aggressive business man of high standing in the community should be made executive secretary, while the drudgery which the position entails, should be done by an assistant secretary. The assistant secretary should receive a salary, while the executive secretaryship would be an honorary position without monetary compensation.

Job Open.

If the suggestion has any merit, now is the time it should be considered, Mr. Redfern believes.

The assistant secretary, who would do practically all of the work, would serve entirely under the direction of the executive secretary.

If the position of assistant secretaryship should be created, an able business man, whom the salary of the position could not attract, could direct the work, without sacrificing any considerable portion of his time. Therein lies the merit of the suggestion, Mr. Redfern stated.

As a tentative suggestion, Mr. Redfern mentioned W. J. Ryder as the right man for the executive secretaryship.

Mr. Redfern's plan will be considered by the club.

ALLEN LLOYD CASE IS ABOUT FINISHED

Chisholm Man Charged With Operating Gambling House Faces Jury Next.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several new witnesses were called to testify in district court this morning by Assistant County Attorney H. F. White in the case against Allen Lloyd, charged with stealing a suitcase valued at $55 from Edward Hubert, at a hotel in Chisholm Jan. 21. The indications are that the case will be given to the jury this afternoon. Among the witnesses called were Mary Bruce and three policemen.

It is probable that the criminal calendar will end the middle of the week. The next case is against C. Ero of Chisholm, charged with operating a gambling house. The Paul Riatai case is to be tried over again, the jury having disagreed.

Riatai is charged with stealing five quarters of beef valued at $60 from Oscar Pera of Mesaba, Dec. 7.

BIGFORK FARMERS' CLUB PROGRESSIVE.

Bigfork, Minn., Dec. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a very progressive and active farmers' club here with a membership of forty-two men and twenty women. During the winter the club meets in the basement of the Presbyterian church on stated Saturday afternoons. The farmers come to town, do their trading in the forenoon and at noon a basket lunch is served by the club. The program starts at 1 o'clock and the business meeting at 2 o'clock. In the summer time the meetings are held in the afternoons at the different homes.

COFFEE URN EXPLODES, CAUSING BEMIDJI FIRE.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 23.—Caused by an explosion of the coffee urn in the restaurant, fire did about $4,000 damage at the Dalton hotel, a two-story frame building. Martin Dunn, one of the waiters was filling the tank of the urn with gasoline when the explosion came.

So rapidly did the flames spread that the other waiter, who rushed for the telephone in the night turn in the alarm, had hardly sufficient time in which to turn in the report. His hair was slightly singed. Dunn's left hand was considerably burned.

CHISHOLM CLUB TO AID BELGIANS.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Women's club met Saturday afternoon at the library. Mrs. William Conley read an interesting paper on "Children in the Home," which was followed by a general discussion of current events.

A special meeting was held last evening, when ways and means for raising money for the Belgian fund were discussed.

HIBBING BRIEFS.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many fight fans are planning to attend the Brown-Watson scrap at Superior Friday night. Cy Reiger, an enthusiastic sport fan here, will head the Hibbing delegation.

Raymond E. St. Julien, the 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. St. Julian, 214 Mahoning street, was buried this morning. Services were held at 8:30 o'clock from the Catholic church. Interment was in Hibbing cemetery. The infant died Saturday.

The funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor E. Maki of Alice, was held yesterday afternoon from the residence. Interment was in Hibbing cemetery. The child died Sunday morning.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

SNOW

Get out your ashes and your sand. Salt will do. The walks are a fright today, the freezing weather having set in right after the heaviest thaw of the season. Walking is by no means safe. Aside from that conditions are not so bad, but a glimpse of the sun would make nobody angry.

A year ago today was cold. The sun rose this morning at 6:59 and will set at 5:44, giving ten hours and forty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Snow or rain fell during Tuesday or last night over the central valleys, lake region, Southern and Eastern states, the Plateau region and Pacific states. Colder weather prevails in the Red River valley, Eastern Manitoba, Western Ontario, Minnesota, the Lake Superior region, and southwestward to Texas. Zero temperature occurred last night at Winnipeg. Many reports are missing because of inadequate wire service on the part of the Western Union."

General Forecast.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Minnesota—Partly cloudy in west, snow in east portion tonight; Wednesday probably fair.

Lower Michigan—Probably snow in north and rain or snow in south portion tonight and Wednesday; colder Wednesday and in south portion tonight.

Upper Michigan—Snow tonight and Wednesday.

Wisconsin—Snow in west, rain or snow in east portions tonight; colder in south and east portions tonight; Wednesday probably fair.

Iowa—Unsettled tonight with probably snow flurries in east portion; colder in east portion tonight; Wednesday fair.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight; Wednesday fair.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, possibly rain or snow west of the divide; warmer in east portion tonight.

CHISHOLM ALL-STARS BEAT JUNIOR FIVE.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The All-Star team defeated the second team of the Junior Athletic club in a fast game of basket ball at the new high school gymnasium Monday afternoon, 14 to 13. Prof. Drotning was referee.

The lineup:

Junior Athletics—		—All Stars.
Arthur Anderson	sg	A. O'Neill
Al Waara	fg	Jim Gandsey
Louis Lamore	c	J. Einsweller
Berl Ladin	sf	Frank Babnick
Ole Bye	ff	Joe Gzelka

In the latter part of the game Andy Alguire played field forward for the Junior Athletics and Bye shifted to the position of stationary forward.

HIBBING MEN WILL ADVOCATE DIVISION.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large delegation of range business men will attend the public hearing of the county division bill in St. Paul tonight. Among those who left Hibbing for St. Paul to appear at the hearing are Mayor V. L. Power, D. D. McEachin, Senator John A. Healy and Representative S. C. Scott will also speak in favor of the bill.

FOR MORE PRECINCTS IN STUNTZ TOWNSHIP.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bill which will provide for approximately fifteen election precincts in the township of Stuntz, instead of one as is the case now, will be introduced into the state legislature this week by Senator John A. Healy. The bill has already been drafted and is so worded that it will not apply to any township in the state except Stuntz.

Hibbing Red Men Dance.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than 100 masqueraders made merry at the annual ball of Winnebigoshish tribe, No. 32, Improved Order of Red Men, last night. Prizes were given to the most comic, best dressed, best acting and other unique couples and for unique costumes. John Munter, chief of records and keeper of wampum, had charge.

Hibbing Concert Pleases.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Applause was evoked by selections of the Hibbing band at a concert given at the armory at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon before the largest and most enthusiastic audience of the season. Classical numbers were interspersed with popular music in a selective program which pleased all music lovers.

Mountain Iron Wins Another.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Feb. 23.—The local high school basket ball team defeated the Eveleth high five here last night at the high school gymnasium, 35 to 9. Leo Beck of the locals made 24 of the 35 points. Thompson of Chisholm was referee. Mountain Iron has won all but two games, losing to Chisholm and Virginia.

Virginians to St. Paul.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following left today for St. Paul to urge the enactment of the county division bill: W. J. Archer, E. J. Larson, Judge Montague, city attorney and G. Jenia.

County Commissioner Ill.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner James Passard is ill at his home in the north part of town with a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism. His condition is improving, and he hopes to be out again before long.

MOUNTAIN IRON BRIEFS.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Walker, superintendent of the light and water plant, announces he is a candidate for president of the village council in the election to be held on March 9. He also states that if elected he will resign from his present position.

Miss Ida Schwartz recently finished a course in the Duluth Business university and has accepted a position in Duluth.

George C. Smith, who was in town Saturday from his farm in the Anderson settlement, stated that a benefit dance will be given in the Anderson schoolhouse on March 6 for Mrs. Lindquist of that neighborhood, whose husband was drowned about a year ago, leaving the family in straightened circumstances.

Miss Nelly Kelly entertained at her home Thursday evening, Feb. 18. Cards and music were the features of the entertainment, followed by lunch.

Mrs. Mary Coulter of Duluth spent the week-end with Mr and Mrs. Eilertson.

D. A. Mitchell left Tuesday morning for St. Paul as a delegate from the Commercial club to appear before the legislative committee on the matter of county division.

An old-time blackface show will be put on tonight in the auditorium of the high school by local talent. One of the main attractions will be the Alabama male quartet. The entertainment is given for the benefit of the athletic fund and there is no doubt but that a capacity house will greet the performers.

The local basket ball team went to Hibbing Friday evening and played the high school team there, winning the game by three points. The local team has had a very successful year, winning every game played on their own floor, and all but two away from home. In a recent game with Biwabik, Leo Beck made 35 of the 53 points, as against 5 for Biwabik.

E. F. Postal of Virginia, connected with the land department of the Oliver company, did some engineering work in the village last week.

What Thin Folks Should Do to Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and is used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats than thin people need are provided. Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

WOODSMAN'S DEATH WAS NOT VIOLENT

Autopsy Fails to Disclose Fractured Skull as First Reported.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner Raider of Cloquet and Dr. Watkins of this village today completed the autopsy on the body of the woodsman who died early yesterday in the county jail. They found no contusion of the brain, as a skull fracture was first feared, because of a bruise on the head, that it was thought might have been delivered by a blunt instrument. The heart and liver were found diseased, and it is believed he died from natural causes and not from being struck over the head at the lumber camp where he worked. Coroner Raider deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Worked in St. Louis County.

It has been learned the man's name was John Kesty, that he was a Finn, aged about 36, and last worked for the Cloquet Lumber company at their Camp 24 in St. Louis county. As it is a St. Louis county case, the officials of that county have been notified to take charge of the body. Kesty was arrested in Cloquet on suspicion of being crazy and died here soon after being locked up in jail, pending a hearing as to his sanity. A deep bruise on his head led to the surmise he had been hit over the head in the lumber camp and crazed by the blow, but it is now believed he fell while intoxicated and cut his head. Nothing is known about his relatives.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leo Stumer, the Gheen homesteader who was picked up here on the street while acting irrationally, was taken to Duluth today to be examined as to his sanity.

To Discuss Park Work.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many matters pertaining to Virginia's park system will be considered at a meeting of the park board to be held next Friday night.

DIPLOMA ETCHED BY GERMAN ARTIST

Shows Peaceful Co-operation of Nations Disturbed By War.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Leipsic, Feb. 5.—The International Exposition of the Book Trade will be commemorated by a diploma symbolizing how the peaceful co-operation of the nations there was disturbed by the outbreak of the war. Prof. Max Klinger, one of the best known of German artists, has etched it. In front of the etching one sees the broad stairway of the exposition flanked by pillars, with the huge monument of the battle of Leipsic towering up behind them. In the foreground are two female figures embracing each other; these represent Germany and Austria. Italy, another female figure, stands somewhat apart in the meditative mood. On the other side of the picture another group represents England, France, and Russia, behind which are soldiers of those countries with drawn swords. Between the two groups is the last half-length figure of a fury rising out of the earth, with clenched fist, its head shadowed with clouds.

JAP COMMITTEE NAMED BY OKUMA

Will Study Relations Between Japan and United States.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, Jan. 26.—Count Shigenobu Okuma, the prime minister, in his capacity as president of the Japanese Peace society, has made public the names of the committee appointed to study questions bearing upon the relations between Japan and the United States. This committee, as already reported, will meet with a similar committee appointed by the American Peace society and prepare a statement upon the various questions of interest.

The Japanese committee is composed of fifteen prominent men, educators, business men, bankers, and former government officials. A number of the members are familiar at first hand with America having received university education there.

GERMAN HOSPITAL FOR THE HORSES.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Insterburg, Germany, Feb. 5.—One of the best of the horse hospitals connected with the German army is that erected at this place, which has handled nearly 2,000 horses since November and whose average number of animals under treatment is over 600. During the past month 84 horses were operated on for severe wounds and 73 of these were discharged as cured and returned to service. Reckoning the average value of a horse for army purposes at $375, these operations alone have saved the war office authorities $27,375. Many others were suffering from slight wounds which rendered them temporarily unfit for service, and these also were returned cured to the army, while hundreds of the sick horses have gone back to the front.

YOUR HEAD AND STOMACH

Headache caused by a disturbed digestion is nearly always accompanied by pain in the stomach, belching of gas, vomiting and often by constipation. This sort of headache is generally located in the forehead and is not constant but comes and goes.

It does not come on immediately after eating but after the food has had time to ferment which it does because the digestive fluids that should take care of it are insufficient, because the glands that secret these fluids are weak, because the blood is failing to nourish these glands properly.

Rich, red blood is the first essential to proper digestion and the digestive process cannot go on without it. When lack of nourishing blood causes fermentation and poisons are absorbed from the digestive tract, the pain in your head advises you of the fact. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give the blood just the elements they need to correct this condition and, with a laxative, when required, form a perfect treatment for the headaches of indigestion.

Mention this paper and we will send you two little books on the diet and the proper use of a laxative. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — Scoop Is Now On the Servant Problem Job — By "HOP"

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MANY TOWNS WILL BUILD

Western North Dakota Is Facing Great Building Boom This Year.

Mandan, Glen Ullin, Kildeer, Hazen and Other Places Will Build.

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 23.—Architects and builders are looking for one of the greatest building campaigns the western section of North Dakota has known. In Mandan a $65,000 postoffice, a large brick block, a fireproof garage, 50 by 140 feet, a high school costing $25,000 and numerous residences will be constructed.

Glen Ullin to Build School.

Glen Ullin will build a new school, and Kildeer, two churches. At Hazen, a bank and drug store will occupy a new brick building. At Golden Valley, Kildeer, Beulah and Dunn Center other brick blocks are contemplated. Conservative estimates are that within the year there will be expended for new buildings in Morton, Mercer, Oliver, Dunn, Stark and Sioux counties $500,000 or more.

AGAINST SHIPPING ARMS.

Wisconsin's Governor Against Sending War Munitions to Belligerents.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 23.—"I believe it our moral duty to cease supplying munitions of war to the countries of Europe and if bread is one of the elements that they must have to continue it, let us cease to furnish that," declared Governor Governor Philipp at the Washington-Lincoln celebration at the La Crosse state normal school last night. More than 1,000 persons who packed the hall cheered him. He declared in favor of the stopping of all shipments of arms.

"The great struggle going on in Europe at this time is a war for commercial supremacy," declared he, "in which we, as Americans, have no interest. We have but one duty it in all, and that is to stand up in the interests of humanity. We should uphold our president in his efforts to maintain neutrality.

"Trying incidents will occur. Our commerce will suffer and now and then a venturesome American flag will be buried in the sea. Under some conditions that would be unbearable. However, in the present situation, such a misfortune may occur without any intentional act on the part of the responsible nation, and we must hold our American spirit in check, or we shall be drawn into that great controversy, serving no useful purpose, but merely increasing the cost to ourselves and the world."

ROBERTS PRAISES BOYS' CONFERENCE

National Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Lauds Late Calumet Gathering.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 23.—The boys' conference just held here with delegates present from various Upper Peninsula points was considered a great success. The next conference will be held in Marquette in 1916, the vote on the location being as follows: Marquette, 462; Menominee, 61; Sault Ste. Marie, 2.

The big man of the conference was E. A. Roberts of New York, national county secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He was greatly pleased with the attendence and interest. Mr. Roberts declared the conference one of the most successful he has ever attended, and he attends an assemblage of their sort almost every week. Mr. Roberts says the Calumet high school orchestra, which played at the banquet and assisted in other meetings with the music programs, is the finest organization of its kind he has ever heard.

The final meeting of the conference was held Sunday night in the Calumet Congregational church, a song service for delegates only. There was also a big mass meeting in the afternoon at the Calumet high school auditorium.

"Team Work" Essays.

A striking feature of the conference mass meeting Saturday afternoon was the excellence of the papers on "Team Work," prepared and read by boys from various parts of the peninsula. The papers and their authors follow: "Team Work at Home," Walter McKie of Marquette; "Sunday School and Y. M. C. A. Pulling Together," Ted Magnusen of Ishpeming; "Community Team Work," Kenneth Nicholson, of Manistique; "Team Work in the Church," Arthur Truscott of Hancock; "County Y. M. C. A. a Community Factor," George Breen of Stambaugh township; "School Team Work," Everett Kearney of Ironwood.

ALLEGE MOYER HIRED GUNMEN

Charge Made By Butte Miners Against Western Federation Head.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 23.—An answer filed in the district court to the suit of President Charles H. Moyer and other officers of the Western Federation of Miners against officers of the Butte local, to regain control of the local, alleged that Moyer hired gunmen when he came to Butte last June and that the local organization was forced to pay them.

It was also alleged in the defendant's answer that the miners in Butte had paid more than $1,000,000 to the Western Federation since May, 1893, without receiving benefit.

MINNESOTA FIRE LOSSES DURING 1914.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—The total premiums collected by all insurance companies in Minnesota for the year 1914 were $8,123,688.80, and the losses $4,138,708.98, as compared with $7,975,960.88 premiums collected in 1913 and $3,881,901.48 losses in 1913, the loss ratio being 50 per cent in 1914 and 48 per cent in 1913.

SAMUEL FIFIELD'S FUNERAL.

Large Attendance at Last Rites for Former State Officer.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 23.—The Presbyterian church was thronged Sunday afternoon when the last rites were held for Former Lieutenant Governor Samuel Stillman Fifield, former Ashland postmaster, and long prominent in Wisconsin. The Masonic bodies attended the obsequies. The Knight Templar escort was headed by the nine living past commanders of Ashland commandery, C. A. Lamoreux, H. B. Warner, M. Iverwin, C. W. Himes, Dr. Dodd, Judge McCloud, Will Garnich, Frank G. Johnson, T. C. Ryerson, and the present commander Guy M. Burnham.

The active pallbearers were: Martin Kennedy, W. J. Ritchie, John A. Watson, Judge Ben S. Smith, W. C. Morris and Allan T. Pray.

A large number of out-of-town people were here to attend the funeral.

CROSBY HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The home of Herman Hill in Hale's addition was completely destroyed by fire, the origin of which was the tipping over of a lamp Saturday evening. Few of the household effects were saved. The east side of the two-story residence of Charles Bakkento was badly damaged by the flames but the quick work of the fire department saved the structure. Both places were insured.

MARQUETTE PLANS FOR HOME-COMING.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 23.—The executive committee recently appointed by President Joseph Cannon of the Commercial club to arrange for the homecoming to be held here July 4 has appointed the committees to arrange the various details for the event, as follows: Invitations, Morgan W. Jopling; accommodations, Dr. R. W. Boyer; finance, F. J. Jennison, E. S. Bice and A. S. Chase; program and entertainment, J. C. Gannon, P. G. Teeple and A. F. Jacques; publicity, Frank Russell; advertising, A. K. Moore; transportation, John D. Mangum.

"KEEP CROSBY DRY," SAYS TOWN'S FATHER.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 23.—This city will continue on the water wagon if George H. Crosby, the father of the town, has his way as expressed in a wire received from him at his winter home in California in response to an inquiry whether, if the people voted the town wet, and licenses would be issued to four saloons he would remove all deeds to property sold by him the proviso against liquor being sold on the property. He wired back: "You have voted out of your beautiful village the greatest curse known to humanity. Keep it out. Nine-tenths of all the crime and distress finds its origin in the liquor traffic. Put your efforts in the upbuilding of your village on a higher plane. Elect competent, honest, clean citizens to office. The money spent for liquor each year if spent for food, clothing and comforts will make prosperity and happiness in your midst."

CROSBY NOTES.

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A public meeting held here protested against the school board letting the contract for a new schoolhouse to any architect until the people had voted on the proposition of issuing the necessary bonds.

The following local Masons went to Brainerd last night to attend the special Washington's birthday exercises by the Brainerd Masons: W. S. Pitt, Herman Lefkovitz, F. F. Wm. Butt, S. L. Brunelle, W. G. Young, Hugo Almquist, S. G. Latta and James B. Haskell. At the conclusion of the lodge work a banquet was given.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR GRANTED DIVORCE.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 23.—Prof. H. E. Hard, recently of the agricultural college, has been granted a divorce by Judge Pollock of Fargo. He is awarded the custody, for two months a year, of Elizabeth, the 7-year-old daughter he recently kidnaped at Saginaw, Mich. The child is to remain with her mother the rest of the time and the two other children all the time.

The professor is to pay Mrs. Hard $60 a month alimony. He is restrained from marrying within three months and she from marrying within a year of this date.

Mrs. Hard and two of her children are at Saginaw.

GROCERS' PROFITS SMALL.

Speaker at State Meeting Declares They Do Not Exceed 5 Per Cent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—Speakers at the opening session of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' association here yesterday afternoon declared few grocers or general merchants are making over 5 per cent on their investment. All advised trying to correct this condition.

John S. Taylor, secretary of the Minneapolis Retail Grocers' association, and J. F. Nangle of Fergus Falls warned the merchants of evils they have allowed to grow up in the business of selling goods. They urged an air-tight organization as the only means of remedying the evils.

G. F. Finger of Fond du Lac, Wis., president of the Wisconsin Retail Merchants' association, told of the efforts being made in that state to enact laws to protect both the merchant and the customer. He advised the association to work for laws of the sort.

C. C. Neals, state superintendent of weights and measures, told the merchants that an effort is being made to amend the law relating to inspection of scales and measures to make the state pay the fees instead of charging them up to the merchant.

Alfred Buell of St. Paul spoke on the subject of single taxation.

GRAND MARAIS PAIR OFF ON LONG HIKE.

Grand Marais, Minn., Feb. 23.—F. R. Paine and Hans Kasper have left for a long hike, going by way of the Gunflint road to Clearwater lake. There they will stay a day or two to enjoy a little of the trout fishing. After securing all the fish they care to pack back, they will continue their hike across country to the Pigeon River Lumber company camps. From Pigeon river they will return home by way of Hovland.

SAUK RAPIDS WAR VETERAN HEEDS CALL.

Sauk Rapids, Minn., Feb. 23.—Edward Clifton, veteran of the Civil war and for half a century a resident of Sauk Rapids, died Feb. 22, aged 80 years.

He is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters: Edward of Sauk Rapids, Thomas of St. Paul, Mrs. Lucella Keller of Sauk Rapids, Mrs. Mary Parker of St. Paul and Mrs. Oliver Dulum of Brainerd.

The funeral will be held from the Sauk Rapids Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CHILD LOSES FINGERS PLAYING WITH SHOTGUN

Grand Marais, Minn., Feb. 23.—The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson of the town of Colvill, lost three fingers of her right hand and the thumb of her left hand by the accidental discharge of a loaded gun with which she and a 5-year-old brother were playing.

$100,000 BAIL BOND FOR BUTTE MURDERER

Butte, Mont., Feb. 23.—One hundred thousand dollars was the amount of bail asked by County Attorney M. F. Canning in the Henry Robinson case, when the defendant appeared before Judge Michael Donlan to enter a plea of not guilty to the charge that he murdered Tom Munro, a mine guard, by shooting him recently at the corner of Main and Park streets.

His attorney protested, but the order stood and the accused was locked up after pleading "not guilty."

MELLEN MAN KILLED.

Mellen, Wis., Feb. 23.—Henry Hammond, aged 35, of this place died Saturday in an Ashland hospital of a fractured skull sustained by falling from a log dock while working for the Kielley Woodenware company. The body was brought here for burial.

MILL CITY GROCER IS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 23.—While members of his family were waiting for him to go to the breakfast table, H. P. Davlin, a grocer, aged 43, married, accidentally shot himself with a shotgun in his room early Monday and died a few minutes later.

He had talked of going hunting and his family believes he had taken the shotgun from the wall to examine it. The charge entered the abdomeu.

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly. Cheap and Easily Made

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint—a family supply—of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—at a cost of only 54 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly heals the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex,"—do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MICHAEL DORAN IS BURIED AT LE SUEUR.

Le Sueur, Minn., Feb. 23.—The funeral of Michael Doran, veteran Democratic politician and St. Paul broker, who died Saturday, was held at St. Anne's Catholic church here at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, the Rev. James Cahill officiating.

There were no services in St. Paul. The funeral party left St. Paul at 7:35 a. m. Monday.

The pallbearers were former associates of Mr. Doran at Le Sueur.

BEING DETAINED ON WHITE SLAVERY CHARGE

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 23.—A young Russian is being detained here by the immigration officers on a charge of white slavery. The girl that he was bringing into this country for alleged immoral purposes was picked up by the officers at the bridge. Sheriff White arrested the man on Ninth street.

SOLDIER-LEPER IS AGAIN IN RESTRAINT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—Vernon D. Bennett, the soldier-leper, is back in confinement at the Milwaukee Soldiers' Home. He was located in South Dakota and returned to Milwaukee Sunday. Bennett was found washing dishes at the government sanatorium at Hot Springs, S. D., two years ago.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Fond du Lac—Insanity resulted when S. Olsen returned here after an absence of seven years and looked into the face of his father and mother. Joy at being home again after wandering around the world drove him stark mad.

Hudson—The funeral of Henry J. White of Minneapolis, who dropped dead while at the supper table Feb. 19, took place here Feb. 22. He was 81 years old and had been a pioneer resident of Hudson, moving to Minneapolis a few years ago. He was a native of Ohio.

La Crosse—The Tomah high school, with two victories to its credit, is today the champion of the district debating league, consisting of Sparta, Tomah, La Crosse and Tomah. Debates were held simultaneously in each of the four cities on the question.

New Richmond—Mrs. John M. Hagan has been recommended to the postoffice department in Washington as the successor of her father, Postmaster Charles Donohue, who dropped dead on the street while in this city a week ago.

Ashland—James Stewart, aged 32, a one-armed peddler from Ashland, sustained a fracture of the skull during a fight at East Water and Biddle streets, Milwaukee. Stewart was struck by a street car after he had been knocked down by John Jojnacki of that city. Jojnacki was arrested and his case continued until March 11.

Hurley—The hearing in the matter of attaching a portion of the territory of the town of Vaughn to that of the town of Oma will be held Wednesday afternoon at Madison. It is probable that the town of Vaughn will be represented at the hearing and a protest made.

Ashland—The churches of Ashland, under the direction of the Ministerial association, will take a religious census of the city Feb. 25-27.

Milwaukee—The Rev. Paul Siska, local pastor, who was held in the Austrian army for five months, has been returned to his old parish by Archbishop Messmer. He has assumed his duties at St. Stephen's church.

Washburn—Lafayette Reuter, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Reuter of this city, has been kept alive the last four weeks by artificial respiration. Some time ago his nervous system became paralyzed and at last his respiratory organs became so affected he was unable to exhale the air from his lungs. It became necessary to force the air from his lungs, and this has been continued a month.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ishpeming—The Jones block on Canda street will be entirely remodeled and Trebilcock Bros., who have the contract for the basement work have already commenced to haul stone which will be used for the foundation.

Marquette—A post card sent from the trenches of the English soldiers on the battle line of the allied forces was received by Walter O. Johnnson, assistant cashier of the First National bunk, thanking him for his donation of a box of tobacco and cigarettes made some time ago. The card came from J. Kelley, a private in the seventh division of the British expeditionary forces.

Houghton—Joseph Jokinen of Ripley broke through the Portage lake ice and took an involuntary bath, but suffered no ill effects.

Hancock—Charles B. Saxby has returned from a trip to Iowa where he purchased a carload of draft horses and driving horses.

Calumet—Rev. Luther K. Long, pastor for seven years of the Calumet Congregational church, who left this community early last year and has not since taken a pastorate, has been extended a call from the Ovid, Mich., Congregational church.

Hubbell—The Hubbell Belgian Relief association will make its final shipment of food and clothing to the New York Belgian commission this week. The association has about 700 pounds of freight to be packed including $100 worth of condensed milk for Belgian infants.

Calumet—Mrs. Cyril Nicholls, aged 21, formerly Miss Ellen Sellberg, who was married in June, daughter of Chris Sellberg, died Feb. 20 at the home of her father, Raymbaultown. She is survived by her husband, her father, one brother, Arvid Sellberg of Hancock and two sisters, the Misses Maebel and Esther. The funeral took place Monday afternoon.

Negaunee—Alexander Heyn, a former well-known business man, died last week in Milwaukee. Mr. Heyn was 68 years old and is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. E. C. Ostermann. An older daughter, Mrs. Clara Ginzberger, died in Milwaukee several years ago.

Ishpeming—Ferdinand La Breche has gone to St. Ignace, to take a position with the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railway company, under his son, J. F. La Breche, who is the company's agent there. Mr. La Breche was in the employ of the Oliver Iron Mining company for twenty-eight years until he was retired on a pension.

Marquette—Mrs. E. L. Wells, mother of Mrs. M. E. Schlabach, died Feb. 21 at the residence of her daughter at 806 North Front street.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—John Dows, president of the American Bottling Works company, sustained a severe cut on the head Saturday when one of the large indirect light chandeliers in the lobby of the Hotel Frederick fell from its socket, striking him a heavy blow.

Devils Lake—Raymond, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lange of Morris township, is at the Mercy hospital receiving aid for a cut leg. He attends the Webster school and he was injured while riding on a sleigh.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The Grace Township Farmers' club has been organized with fifty charter members. The officers are: Thomas Jodock, president; J. J. O'Hara, vice president; Mrs. A. Johnson, secretary; A. L. Jarman, treasurer.

Minot, N. D.—The funeral of Mrs. Emma Pooler, wife of Cloe Pooler, who died at St. Joseph's hospital Thursday night, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, 615 Sixth avenue south and the Labor hall on North Main street.

Agricultural College, N. D.—The information service of the North Dakota experiment station has issued a bulletin on the result of crop rotation on the Hoss demonstration farm, which has been in operation for four years past. During this time the net profits from this land have amounted to $5.92 per acre annually.

Fargo, N. D.—Miss Minnie La Moine Carpenter, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Carpenter, died Feb. 20 of a complication of diseases. Miss Carpenter is survived by her parents and a sister, Miss Irene Carpenter, a teacher in the Fargo College conservatory. She was a very fine violinist and one of the most talented musicians in Fargo.

Hebron, N. D.—Claiming that his law business has been injured, that his reputation is smirched, and that stories told were detrimental to his character, Attorney Samuel P. Halpern of this city has commenced suit for $10,000 damages against Fred Patzwold.

Bismarck, N. D.—Casey Quinn, who was arrested by Indian policemen from the reservation on the charge of selling liquor to Indians at a "blind pig" here, will be summoned into federal court on March 16 to answer to the charge. Quinn is being held in the county jail.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—John P. Kramer, a resident of East Grand Forks for twenty-two years and employed as a tailor by West side tailoringshops for years before he retired, died Feb. 20, at his residence near Minnesota Point. He leaves a wife, two boys and a daughter. The funeral was held Monday at 9 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church, with burial at Calvary cemetery.

Bemidji—Fifty-eight mothers were entertained by the two first grade rooms of the Central building. Tea and wafers were served.

Brainerd—The Buffalo Creek Farmers' club met at the home of Frank Kozel. After a dinner the club was called to order by the president, Peter B. Anderson. The secretary read his report, and the same was accepted. The roll was called and several new members joined the club.

Rochester—Johan Rodvik, who was recently extended a call from Bethel Lutheran church in Rochester, has accepted. Mr. Rodvik is now attending Augsburg seminary in Minneapolis and will graduate the latter part of May.

St. Cloud—A jury of twelve decided that N. J. Karels, Sauk Rapids saloon man, was not guilty of selling liquor after 11 o'clock on New Year's eve. The jury was out about an hour and returned a verdict of not guilty to Justice C. E. Bell who heard the case.

Stillwater—The funeral of Mrs. Ella Evans was held Saturday, services being conducted by the Christian Science church at the family home. The interment took place at Fairview cemetery.

Aitkin—The Doris Farmers' club held a meeting recently at which the following officers were elected: John Tollerfson, president; Carl T. Carlson, vice president; Oscar Shallman, secretary and treasurer. The Doris club voted last year to breed Holstein cattle and purchased a registered sire.

St. Cloud—The entertainment committee of the local lodge of Elks reported $841 realized from the production of "Miss Cherryblossom" for the building fund.

Little Falls—The petition for a license election has been filed with the city clerk with 129 signatures attached. Most of the signers are laboring men, although a number of business and professional men have signed and three or four are ministers.

Eriesburg—A petition has been filed with the village clerk of Eriesburg asking for a vote on the saloon question the second Tuesday in March.

International Falls—County Agriculturist Jewell will visit the schools of the Effie district this week and from there will go to Grand Rapids to arrange for seed potatoes to be used by the scholars of this county who will enter this year's contest.

Aitkin—E. P. Lester, who came here from Iowa last fall and bought an eighty-acre tract of state land near Shovel lake, loaded his household goods and shipped them to his new home. Mrs. Lester has been teaching at Swatara this winter.

St. Paul—Herbert W. Topping, former president of the park board of St. Paul, died suddenly at Sierra Madre, Cal., Saturday night. The funeral will be held in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Topping has relatives. He was born in England July 9, 1850, and came to Minnesota in 1870.

TOUCHARD SHARES IN DOUBLES TITLE

Playing Through Indoor Tennis Champion and Washburn Win.

New York, Feb. 23.—G. F. Touchard and W. M. Washburn won the national indoor tennis doubles championship yesterday, defeating Karl Behr and T. R. Pell, in five sets, 7-5, 3-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The final match was played at the Seventh regiment armory. The result was somewhat unexpected as Behr and Pell were regarded as the strongest title contenders.

Touchard, on his side of the net, was the general that directed the maneuver which brought the doubles, as well as the singles indoor championship to his keeping. While uncertain at times, Touchard out-volleyed and out-drove both Behr and Pell. He was quick to discern Behr's propensity to edge over into Pell's territory and made the most of it.

Washburn was weak on service, but he made amends by his fine volleying, quick cross-court shots and ability to pick out openings in the rallies.

Pell endeavored to make up for the erratic play of his partner. He worked his backhand splendidly and at half volleys in rapid exchanges with Touchard and Washburn kept the big crowd applauding.

New Yorker Gets Only Three Rounds—Other Bouts Decided.

Akron, Ohio, Feb. 23.—Johnny Griffiths, local lightweight was given a newspaper decision over Joe Shugrue of New York in a 12-round bout here last night. The fight was Griffiths' in every round except the fourth, fifth and sixth when Shugrue outslugged the local boy. The last two rounds were terrific, but when the gong sounded at the end of the twelfth both boys were in the center of the ring fighting hard. Each weighed in at 3 o'clock under 135 pounds.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—Matty McCue last night defeated Sammy Trott in a scheduled 10-round bout, in the opinion of the majority of newspaper writers. McCue drove Trott to the ropes in the second with a hard right and floored him in the third with a right to the head.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 23.—Joe Azevedo of Oakland, Cal., won the decision over Frankie Callahan of Brooklyn in an eight-round bout here last night. They are lightweighs.

BIG FIGHT IS BLOCKED

Johnson Marooned in Havana and Willard Scrap Will Be Postponed.

Carranza Officials Will Challenge Entry as Smoke Is Fugitive.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 23.—Virtual postponement of the Jack Johnson-Jess Willard bout is admitted by promoters. It was believed that Johnson could not arrive at Juarez from Havana by way of any Mexican seaport by March 6.

The promoters, however, declared that they believed Johnson would arrive safely at Juarez within a short time after the original date. It was not made known how he would cross through the east coast ports held by Carranza to the Villa lines.

The Carranza officials have announced their intention of challenging Johnson's entry on the ground that he is a fugitive from justice in the United States. It was learned, too, that American border officials were on the lookout should he attempt to enter Mexico through the United States, because of the indictment against him at Chicago. It was pointed out that a postponement would make no difference to the spectators, few of whom have started for the border.

Havana, Feb. 23. — The unexpected appearance in Havana early yesterday of Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, who is on his way to Mexico to fight Jess Willard for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship was followed in the afternoon by his equally unexpected disappearance from public view.

Nobody but members of his party who arrived here with Johnson and a few friends knew his whereabouts. None of these people would disclose his place of abode.

Johnson and his party, consisting of his wife and brother, manager, sparring partner and servants, with a great quantity of baggage, arrived from Cienfuegos, which port was reached Sunday night on board a schooner from Barbadoes.

Johnson said then he intended to proceed immediately to Tampico and thence as rapidly as possible to Juarez, where the fight with Willard is to take place.

When informed of the difficulties he probably would meet in traveling in Mexico, Johnson cabled Gen. Carranza asking him if he would be permitted to land in Mexico and proceed to Juarez. No reply to this message had been received last night.

Western Conference Game.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 23.—Ohio defeated Iowa 27 to 15 in a Western conference basket ball game here last night.

CENTRAL QUINT WINS EASILY

Denfeld High School Team Is Simply Swamped.

The Central high school basket ball team last evening defeated the Denfeld high school quint by the overwhelming score of 40 to 7. The game was contested in the gymnasium of the latter school and was won so easily that the contest lost interest.

Solheim was one of the stars for Central. Shaw was another of the stellar lights, making six baskets in the second half. The Central team outclassed its opponents and won by superior play in every department of the game. The lineup:

Central—		Denfeld—
Karon	f	Clark
Scrivens, Shaw	f	Ross
Moore	c	Miles
Solheim	g	Deutsch
	g	Rosborough
Farah, Rosenberg	s	Newsome

Goals—Scrivens, 5; Karon, 3; Solheim, 5; Shaw, 6; Ross, 1; Miles, 1. Free throws—Moore, 1 out of 4; Solheim, 1 out of 5; Ross, 3 out of 5.

LITTLE FALLS MAKES BASKET BALL RECORD.

The Little Falls high school basket ball team, claimants of the Sixth congressional district championship, has a hard row to hoe in order to take part in the state tournament.

Out of nine games this season, seven have been won, with two defeats.

Aitkin won on the Aitkin floor by a score of 16 to 15, but Little Falls has one more game to play with them in which to even up matters.

Wadena defeated Little Falls Friday at Wadena by a score of 25 to 22, but Little Falls won on the local floor, 36 to 22.

Bemidji seems to be the only team Little Falls has to defeat in order to claim the district title, and it is thought that only one game will be played on a neutral floor, possibly Brainerd.

Race Bill on Its Way.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 23.—The horse-racing bill in Texas under the Pari-Mutuel betting system, was passed in the state senate yesterday and will go before the house. Under the terms of the bill, 5 per cent of all wagers placed shall go to the state to be used to encourage the breeding of fine horses in the state.

W.-I. BECOMES W.-M. BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 23.—A new baseball organization to be known as the Wisconsin-Michigan league was tentatively organized in Milwaukee yesterday. The proposed make-up of the circuit embraces seven clubs—Escanaba, Ishpeming-Negaunee, Menominee-Marinette, Green Bay, Oshkosh and either Appleton or Wausau. The salary limit has been placed at $1,200 and the number of players at twelve.

Frank R. Weeks of Green Bay, was elected president, secretary and treasurer and Charles F. Moll, vice president.

Another meeting, it is expected, will be held within the next two weeks, after President Weeks has negotiated with parties in the various cities named, at which time a playing schedule probably will be drawn up.

Permission was granted to Madison and Rockford to join the new Bi-State league and the same action probably will apply to Racine.

ST. PAUL HOCKEY TEAM SUFFERS DECISIVE DEFEAT

Duluth Trounces the Visitors By Forlorn Score of 11 to 1.

Caesar's immortal chatter, loosed some years back, regarding the seeing and conquering stuff, aptly and eloquently applied to the hockey contest of last evening. St. Paul came, we saw and conquered them by the excrutiating score of 11 to 1. She was a slashing game, slashing in the literal sense of its application, and in the matter of team work and combination passing of the puck the visitors were outclassed.

Duluth scored in 3 minutes and 52 seconds. The final score was made in 58 seconds before the call of the game. In the interim the scores came with amazing regularity and resulted from the fastest play that has been exhibited on the local ice this season.

In the matter of team work the St. Paul players were simply outclassed. In individual play Simpson, Brennan and Landrault of the visiting team shone with scintillating brilliance. In particular was the work of Simpson of the cyclum order. This Canadian played one of the most brilliant games that has ever been unloosed on the local ice.

Game Early Decided.

The contest had gone but a few seconds beyond the 7 minutes of play when the result was clearly indicated. Duluth ran up four scores against the lonely mark of the visitors. Not only the score, but the play for the early part of the game was almost entirely confined to the home guard. The rushes of the visitors were unsupported by what in war circles they would call bringing up the reserves; it was individual play against a superbly working combination, and the combination won.

Early in the game Capt. Nick Kahler of the visitors was led limping from the fray. Later Peterson received a jab in the face from Jack Mahan and was incapacitated from further effort.

From early in the game it was simply a question of the size of the score. St. Paul could not penetrate the defense of the Duluth team, except on a few occasions when the brilliant Simpson rushed the puck through the entire team. But at that, Simpson was rarely given a clear shot at the net.

Toward the latter part of the game the Apostles settled down and played a steadier and surer brand of hockey. But they had been swept from their moorings, carried off their feet in the early period, and the only end their brace served was that of holding the score.

Large Crowd on Hand.

The largest outpouring of hockey fans of the present season witnessed the game. It is estimated that something over 2,500 fans and accompanying fannesses were in the big oval when the gong sent them away. While no doubt many of the supporters had expected a closer game, the dashing play could not fail to satisfy.

In some details the game was a rough one. To many of the spectators it seemed that Linder repeatedly infringed on the not too polite standards of hockey. There is no question in the world over the ability of Joe Linder as a player—there is some question in the minds of the patrons over his methods of play.

Duluth Starts Early.

Right under the gun the locals started after the Apostles. From the bell the rubber was repeatedly rushed into the Saints' territory. Hardly had the spectators settled in their seats when Parkell started down the ice. Mohon was on his right going down. Russ penetrated the Apostle defense by some neat dodging and stick handling and then neatly passed Mr. Puck to Mohon who neatly passed him through the cage.

That started it. Scarcely a minute later Arnie Olson negotiated another goal from a position a trifle to the side of the cage, Mohon passing the rubber on to the West Duluth lad.

Hardly had the cheering faded into the recesses of the vaulted roof until Jack Mahan shot a vicious one from the side ice. The puck hit the skate of little Weidenborner and bounded out. Like a hawk, pouncing on friend chicken, Russ Barkell, camping near the cage, shoved it in.

Right after this three-score feat of the locals the visitors scored their lone count of the game. Landrault and Simpson went up the ice. A long shot at the Duluth goal was blocked, but the rebound was neatly seized upon by the alert Landrault and the puck caged.

In swift retaliation Jack Mahan shot the prettiest goal of the evening. The rubber was shot in from the boards, fifty feet back from the net, and was one sweet effort. Old Joe Linder took the next one down the ice, making a grand rush. Joseph took the puck nearly to the goal and then slipped it to Barkell, who slipped it by the confused Weidenborner. Just before the call of time—three seconds, in fact—Barkell got the puck in a scrimmage in front of the net.

All Over—But—

In the second half Duluth registered five nets and the visitors failed to score. Barkell scored three of the five, one on a neat pass from Olson and the remaining two on rebounds. Olson got the other and Mahan shot another unassisted.

In the second half the visitors had the puck in the home scoring zone more frequently than was the case in the first half, but the deadly checking of Bogan and Linder and some safety first shot blocking upon the part of Nicholson prevented any actual damage.

The work of Mohon was a thing of beauty and a perpetual joy to the followers of the Duluth fortunes. The speedy Canadian was all over the ice, checking, working cleverly and effectively in combination, and preventing a score of shots at goal.

While St. Paul was beaten—decisively at that—the Saints furnished an entertainment that will not be speedily forgotten. The Apostles were game to the end and tried their best—but the best offered by Nick Kahler's brand was not up to the winning standard, and that about tells the story.

DONALD WINS STATE TITLE

West Duluth "Kid" Rink Carries Off Merriam Medal.

Labatt of Minneapolis Is Badly Beaten in Final Game.

On the slow and sloppy ice the Donald rink of West Duluth late last evening defeated George Labatt's Minneapolis rink and went gleefully out to the western portion of our city with the Merriam medal and the state curling championship safely stowed away.

In view of the fact that all of the members of the Donald rink are minors, the victory stands out as one doubly meritorious. When the game was completed the kids were literally showered with congratulations. The victory was one well earned and one that brought genuine joy to the hearts of every member of the Duluth as well as the West Duluth club.

The Donald rink played a consistent game all the way through. Early in the day the West Duluth kids met and vanquished John Rheildhoffer of Minneapolis, rated as one of the most dangerous rinks of the spiel. The win was by the safe and sane score of 11 to 5.

Moving on into the second round, the kids met and defeated Bert Dunlop, who was flushed with a victory over the Brewer-Whytes, former state title holders. Dunlop was staked to a 11-to-4 beating.

Donald then treated the veteran Jamie Myron to a beating and moved into the finals with Labatt.

To the surprise and obvious joy of the Duluth followers of the sport, the Donald youngsters, playing one of the smoothest and most consistent games that has ever been witnessed on the Duluth Curling club ice—and this in the face of conditions that made good curling a feat indeed difficult to accomplish—handed Labatt a drubbing that the Minneapolis skip will not soon forget. The final game was won by the large score of 15 to 6.

As the score of the final game by ends indicates, the Donald rink took the lead, was tied in the second end, then got a four head and was never headed from the third end on.

Weather Handicap Overcome.

Despite weather and ice that was more fitted for a rowing regatta than a curling contest, the bonspiel was a complete success. While it is true that the condition of the ice was responsible for some of the one-sided scores, there was some remarkable curling, and the best part of it all was that the rink annexing its name to the famous Merrian medal played the most consistent game all the way through.

Following will be found the lineup of the two rinks, the score by ends of the final game, and the previous winners of the Merriam medal, now domiciled in West Duluth:

Minneapolis—J. Tresise, J. Covell, Roy Williams and George Labatt, skip.

Duluth—A. Anderson, Earl Scanlon, James Donald and A. Donald, skip.

Title Holders.

The record of title holders follow:

1890—Champion curlers of Minnesota.
1891—Chicago Curling club, Campbell, Prichard, Wood, skip.
1892—St. Paul Curling club.
1894—Duluth Curling club, T. Gibson, R. Smith, H. Hurdon, R. MacLeod.
1902-03—Nushka, St. Paul, C. M. Griggs, skip.
1905—Nushka, St. Paul, Evan Rees, skip.
1907—Capitol City, St. Paul, Evan Rees, skip.
1908—Nushka, St. Paul, W. D. Stewart, skip.
1909—Minneapolis, G. K. Labatt, skip.
1910—St. Paul, Capitol City, R. H. Dunbar, skip.
1911—Duluth, R. J. MacLeod, skip.
1912—Duluth, E. N. Whyte, skip.
1913—Minneapolis, G. K. Labatt, skip.
1914—Duluth, E. N. Whyte, skip.
1915—West Duluth, A. Anderson, lead; Earl Scanlon, second; James Donald, third; Alex Donald, skip.

FAST GAMES SCHEDULED

Double Hockey Bill Will Be Played at French Rink.

There will be a double hockey bill at the French rink this evening. Dave Larson's crack Northerns will meet the Central high school team and the Universals and Bagleys are to clash.

With weather conditions promising fine ice and with all of the teams in the best of condition, some real sport is promised. Central is stronger right now than at any time this season. The Northerns are ranked as the stars of the league, after the victory over the strong Big Duluth team.

It is expected that the Universals will clean the Bagleys, thus creeping further along on the percentage pole. The members of the Bagley team are going to make the one effort of their sweet young lives to win a game.

There are a number of postponed games on the docket of the league. If the weather becomes colder there will be some frequent games during the next few days. It is the desire of the league officials to run out the schedule and with the promise of an early spring there will have to be some tall hustling.

Sailor Jack and Pete Petkoff will settle once for all their ancient grudge on the wrestling pad at the old Masonic temple. The contest is carded for this evening and a large evening is promised to the devotees of the game. Louis Zofrbas and Young Gotch are also going on in the show.

For some time the Bulgarian strong boy has been harboring the hunch that he was the welterweight champion. To these higher flights of aspirations the Sailor returned a rough and uncouth guffhaw. The raucous laugh reached the sensitive ears of Petkoff and he grew real peeved. It is promised that this evening all the ill-feelings that have welled up in the systems of the two men will be worked into a frenzy of wrestling enthusiasm and strenuous effort.

Both of the boys are strong and both are rough. A rough and hard contest is looked for by the followers of the game.

WELL-KNOWN YOUNG MEN AS WRESTLERS

Freight Man Fails to Throw Grain Man in an Hour.

The Camels and a few of their friends witnessed a most interesting wrestling match at their hall in the Axa building last night between two well-known young men of Duluth, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The contestants were C. Alger Anderson, soliciting freight agent for the Canadian Northern road, and George McKenzie of the Itasca Elevator company. The match was the outcome of casual remarks passed some time ago. Both young men are athletic and considered good amateurs on the mat. Anderson outweighs McKenzie by quite thirty pounds, weighing 170 to McKenzie's 140, but the latter is a flash. When the discussion started a challenge resulted. Anderson agreed to throw McKenzie once in an hour.

Both have trained faithfully for weeks—the chief part being that they gave up smoking when anybody was looking.

Last night Martin Johnson refereed the bout. Anderson struggled with his little opponent but failed to get McKenzie's shoulders to the mat in the required time. Referee Johnson declared the bout a draw, and the spectators are still wondering how he figured it out.

THREE INDOOR GAMES.

Masonic Baseball League Finishing February Schedule This Week.

Teams in the Temple Indoor Baseball league will play three more games this week to complete the February schedule.

Tonight the Chapter and Scottish Rite nines will play, while the Ionic and Shrine teams will play tomorrow and the Trinity team and the Shriners will clash Friday.

Following the game Friday night, there will be an informal dance for Masons and their ladies only.

RED WATSON HAS A GREAT RECORD

California Lightweight Has Reputation of Being a Real Two-Handed Slugger; Pal Brown Has Golden Chance to Get in Right With Fight Fans.

BY BRUCE.

On the face of the early returns from the outlying fight precincts, the approaching meeting between Pal Brown and Red Watson should be about the best pugilistic offering that fans in these parts have been privileged to witness.

Watson has a real ring record and is touted as a boy with a punch in either hand. Brown is one of the toughest boys in his division. In some of his fights the Jackpine kid has been very easy to hit. If Watson can hit as hard as they say and he can get to Brown, some excitement is promised in the Superior ring.

Brown fights best when an opponent is bringing the fight to him. It is claimed by his admirers that he likes the tearing, slugging style of battlers. If all this is true—and Watson is the simon pure slugger that his record would indicate and competent judges of the Twin Cities substantiate, then watch the Californian and Minnesotan clash.

Sport Writers Coming.

Yesterday information was received that Jawn Ritchie, Fred Coburn and old Man Hoskins, who write sporting news for Twin City papers, would be up to see the tilt. The workouts of Watson in the two cities have aroused considerable curiosity to lamp the Kearns' red-head in a real battle.

Manager Jack Kearns, Billy Murray, the fighting middleweight, and Watson are due to arrive tomorrow. Watson will work in Superior and this will give some of the fans an opportunity to judge for themselves of the ability of this battler—a boy who comes with perhaps the highest recommendation of any lightweight that has ever journeyed thither.

It is our opinion that this will be a corking scrap. Brown is in the position of a man on trial. He has got to show in the battle of Friday evening. Watson is a comer and it is the comers that generally fight. Kearns, backed by Mike Collins and Eddie Kane, pleaded for an opportunity to show the fans at the Head of the Lakes a real scrapper. After long and somewhat deep consideration the two Abrams acquiesced in the oft repeated requests of the Twin City bugs. Watson has been knocking them dead on the coast. He came so near chucking Leach Cross to the birdie land that the dentist involuntarily shuddered when he recounted the experience with the redhead. All this brings us to the querry—What can Watson do with Brown?

Yes—What Will Pal Do?

Roaming over the other side of the fence, it might be asked what Brown will do.

Some years ago fans by the score were touting the Jackpine kid as the coming lightweight champion of the world. In the parlance of the arena, some of that talk has been "canned." The sorry showing Brown made against Johnny Tillman still rankles in the memory of the fight followers. Now is the golden-tinted opportunity for P. Lawrence Brown to remove the stigma of that start and rehabilitate himself in the hearts of the fans.

They say that Old Man Opportunity calls but once, and failing to find you in, does not deign to even leave his card. That being the case it is up to Pal Brown to fight the battle of his career when the clang of the bell sends him on the ten-round journey against a boy touted as a curly wolf.

BILLIARDS

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 23.—Albert Cutler of Boston defeated Welker Cochran of Chicago 300 to 224 here last night, in a champion Billiard Players' league match.

Saginaw, Mich., Feb. 23.—Harry Cline won from Al Taylor 300 to 245 in a Billiard Players' league match here last night.

DULUTH SKI CLUB TO HOLD MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Duluth Ski club at the Commercial club on Monday evening. The election of officers and nine new directors is on the order of business. In addition to this there is the report of the secretary and treasurer to come before the members.

COLUMBIA LEADS.

Beats Pennsy in Three Events, Ties One and Loses One to Yale.

New York, Feb. 23.—The annual carnival of minor sports was held at Columbia university last night, the local athletes meeting teams from Yale and the University of Pennsylvania. Columbia defeated Pennsylvania in three branches of sport and tied the visitors in a fourth meet, but bowed to Yale in a dual wrestling meet.

Columbia and Pennsylvania tied in their gymnastic meet, 27 to 27.

The water polo event went to Columbia 15 to 10.

ULTIMATUM ON BAKER.

Philadelphia, Feb. 23.—J. Franklyn Baker, the Athletics' third baseman, will play ball with that team for the next two years or he will not play ball at all, according to a statement issued last night by Connie Mack, manager of the American league champions.

Mack said he had no reason to believe that Baker had changed his mind about quitting the game, but that he issued the statement "in order to quiet the many wild rumors which are being published in different parts of the country."

VETERINARY SURGERY

Being Discussed at Five-Day Course at State Farm College.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 23.—Surgery from the standpoint of a veterinarian will be the chief feature of a special five-days' course which opened at the University College of Agriculture yesterday. Prof. M. H. Reynolds supervises the course.

It will deal extensively with the more advanced stages of surgery as met by a veterinarian. A series of lectures will be given on hog cholera serum, but animal husbandry and farm management also will be taken up.

Dr. John W. Adams, University of Pennsylvania, will be the leading lecturer. Dr. C. F. Flocken, government bacteriologist, now experimenting at the farm school, will be another out-of-town speaker. Prof. Reynolds, Prof. W. L. Boyd, Dr. H. P. Haskins and Dr. C. C. Palmer, all of the division staff, will be assisted by several of the university faculty, including Prof. H. R. Smith, A. Boss, T. Patterson and J. M. Montgomery.

Dean A. F. Woods opened the course Monday morning with a talk on "The Organization of Agricultural Education."

Alexander Hamilton Encouraged Brewing.

FIRST CONGRESS A UNIT IN THE OPINION THAT BREWING DESERVES SPECIAL ENCOURAGEMENT.

In 1789 Alexander Hamilton introduced a revenue system with the object of encouraging the industry of brewing for moral and hygienic reasons. His efforts were supported by the First Congress which moved that if "The morals of the people are to be improved by whatever enters their diet, it would be prudent of the National Legislature to encourage the manufacture of malt liquors."

Dr. Benjamin Rush, father of real temperance, famous publicist and professor of medicine, taught that the promotion of temperance could be accomplished only by the encouragement of the brewing industry.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON

Upon every clause of the constitution of the United States his individuality is indelibly stamped. Daniel Webster says of him: "He smote the rock of national resources and abundant streams of revenue gushed forth."

FITGER NATURAL BEER IS A SPARKLING DRAUGHT BEER—BUT BOTTLED

It is draught beer because it has the full natural character taste and aroma of the best beer as drawn from the wood. Heretofore the only known way to keep bottled beer was by pasteurization. Pasteurization, or steaming, gives beer that noticeable flatness of taste, heretofore the great objection to bottled beer.

Kieselguhr filtration* our new process keeps bottled beer better than pasteurization. It filters beer to a pure brilliancy heretofore unknown. It preserves in Fitger Natural Beer all the qualities that heretofore have made draught beer preferable to bottled.

SENATOR NEWTON AND CONGRESSMAN LUNDIN MEET THE GOOD JUDGE.

WHEN men tell their friends about "Right-Cut" they call it the Real Tobacco Chew. Right there you have the secret of "Right-Cut" success — the fact that it has so many advantages causes men to tell the good news to their friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

MARKET BREAKS SHARPLY ON HEAVY LIQUIDATION

Wheat Declines, With Selling on Nervousness Over Foreign Situation.

Trading in Flaxseed Light; Market Off on Small Crushers' Demand.

May wheat closed 6¼c off, and July 6¼c off. May durum closed 6c off and July 6c off.

Oats closed 2c off at 52⅝c for on the track; rye 3c off at $1.19@1.20; barley 1c off at from 67c to 76c, and corn 2½c off at 67¾c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1⅜c off at 66c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.36 asked and calls at $1.48½ asked.

Wheat showed sharp weakness at the opening today in line with a heavy decline at Liverpool, brought about through favorable reports regarding the prospects of the opening of the Dardanelles and more liberal Argentine offers. Good buying, much of it attributed to export account, appeared on the low spots, and prices rallied a full cent shortly after the opening. Quotations then eased off moderately and rested.

With uncertainty regarding the foreign situation and possible adverse shipping developments, traders in all the American markets are disposed to go easy, and operations are largely confined to merchandising. The spells of weakness shown during the past week, and the heavier margin requirements being enforced, are said to have resulted in largely eliminating public speculation from the market, so that fluctuations in quotations have not been as violent of late as they would have been previously under similar conditions.

New York reported export sales of both wheat and oats today, and Winnipeg advised a good export demand for wheat, both for all-rail shipment and to go forward at the opening of navigation.

The American visible supply showed a decrease of 1,813,000 bu this week, as compared with decreases of around 3,000,000 bu during the two preceding weeks. Corn supplies increased 1,036,000 bu, and oats increased 350,000 bu. Interest was taken today in an estimate of a Chicago expert of 151,000,000 bu of wheat still in farmers' hands as compared with 52,000,000 bu at this time last year. This close comparison with last year in view of the heavy expert trade put through, was regarded as gratifying. The large volume of grain remaining on the farms taken in conjunction with the great increase in price, is pointed out as meaning an enormous gain in grain growers' resources.

May wheat opened 3¼c off at $1.50, and gained ½c up to the noon hour. The July future was neglected locally. It opened 2¾c off at $1.46¾ without any trading being recorded in it. May durum opened 3c off at $1.56½, and weakened ½c more.

Small Trade in Flax.

Business in flaxseed was in the lightest volume in several days. Trading came only in small lots and prices sagged further in the absence of active crushers' inquiry. It was firmer at the close. Business was confined to the May future.

May flax opend ¾c off at $1.85 1-3, and closed ¼c off at $1.85¾ asked. July closed ¼c off at $1.86¾ nominal, and September unchanged at $1.85 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ¼ c off at $1.65⅞ bid, and July unchanged at $1.68.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Fears of Dardanelles Being Forced Causes Rush to Sell Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Fear of the Dardanelles being forced led to a rush of selling in the wheat market today and caused prices to break 5c a bu. Attention centered on the fact that the wresting of Constantinople from the Turks would radically alter the foodstuff situation. After opening 2½c to 4¾c lower, the market made some further recession and then rallied, but not in a lasting manner.

Falling off in export sales largely on account of shipping perils, caused increased selling pressure in the last hour. Closing prices were heavy at 5⅞@7¾c net decline.

Corn collapsed with wheat. Commission houses, though, were good buyers on the decline. The opening, which ranged from ⅞@1c to 2c lower, was followed by a fair reaction.

Lack of any important call from the East had a depressing influence in the later dealings. The close was weak at 2¼@2¼c to 2⅝c under Saturday night.

Oats showed more resistance than other grain.

In provisions there was a severe setback for pork prices. Lard and ribs held relatively steady.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—Barrett & Zimmerman report: Demand remains about the same, and still centers on farm and draft pairs. It is expected that the spring demand will come earlier than usual this year as present indications point to an early spring. Shipments made to Lake City, Mazepa and Wabash, Minn., and deliveries about the cities make up the day's clearances. Sam Zimmerman, Charles Stanley and G. M. Hughes are on the market with carload consignments of agricultural horses. Prices rule as follows:

Drafters, extra	155@200
Drafters, choice	140@165
Drafters, common to good	120@150
Farm mares and horses, extra	150@190
Farm mares and horses, choice	120@165

QUIET MARKET IN COPPER STOCKS

Trading Confined to a Few Issues—Price Changes Nominal.

Business was limited in mining stocks at Boston today and operations were confined to a comparatively few issues. Price changes through the list were only nominal. The market eased up generally in the late trading.

In the Boston curb list as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Calumet & Corbin sold at 12@13c; United Verda Extension at from $2.18@2.42; Calaveras at $1.06; Stewart at $1.63; La Rose at 70c; New Baltic at $1.38, and South Lake at $4.87.

* * *

Isle Royale's output is reported to have been increased to a volume greater than it was before the curtailment at the outbreak of the war.

* * *

At London, spelter sold at a new high figure of 42 lbs 5c per ton, or 9.09c per pound today.

* * *

According to report made to the Federal court, Butte & Superior mined and milled 32,817 tons of ore in January. Recovery was 78,642 tons of concentrates, valued at $39.97 a ton. Cost was $3.52 a ton.

* * *

The spelter situation is growing more acute. Buyers are said to be bidding 11 cents for spot delivery. Sales of April, May and June are reported at 10½ cents, or nearly 2 cents over the prime western grade. Producers state that they have no unsold supplies for February and March. Prime western is quoted at 8.85 cents to 9 cents for April shipment.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Weakness Is Exhibited in All Parts of the List.

Foreign Conditions Continue to Exercise Decidedly Adverse Effect.

New York, Feb. 23.—Resumption of trading in stocks after the double holiday was characterized by greater weakness in all parts of the list, the local market taking its cue from London, where international issues were lower. Declines ranged from 1 to 2 points in important stocks, United States Steel showing more steadiness than any of the speculative favorites. American Car and Seaboard air line preferred fell to their new minimums and Baltimore & Ohio and New Haven were within fractions. Miscellaneous shares also weakened.

Early selling, which came largely from interior sources and represented an accumulation of orders over the holiday, ceased towards the end of the first hour of today's market, stocks recovering a substantial part of their loss. Toward midday, however, liquidation was resumed in more adequate volume, some prices going under their early declines with Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Railway preferred touching their minimum. Foreign conditions continued to exercise a decidedly adverse influence. Exchange on London and the continental market was weaker. Bonds were under pressure.

New points of weakness developed in the late trading, particularly in the specialties. The closing was heavy.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —TO— CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— PITTSBURGH STEEL ORE COMPANY.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Allegheny—ss.

We, the undersigned, Wallace H. Rowe and C. E. Beeson, do hereby certify that we are respectively President and Secretary of Pittsburgh Steel Ore Company, a corporation of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said Company, duly held on the 11th day of February, 1915, at 4 o'clock P. M., at the Company's office, Room 1900 Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., at which meeting all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company were represented, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, all of the said issued and outstanding shares being voted in the affirmative, viz.:

"Resolved, That Article VI and Article VII of the Certificate of Incorporation of this Company be, and the same are hereby, amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VI.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000.00), divided into Seven Thousand Five Hundred (7,500) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each; the same to be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VII.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000.00)."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and the corporate seal of said Company at Pittsburgh, Pa., this 12th day of February, 1915.

COUNTY OPTION MEASURE IS BEFORE HOUSE AND OUTCOME OF VOTE IS STILL IN DOUBT

FRIENDS OF BILL FEELING CONFIDENT

Claim Sixty-Seven Votes, or One More Than Necessary.

Opponents Equally Positive in Their Predictions of Victory.

Woman Suffrage Bill to Be Considered By Senate March 9.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the outcome still in doubt, and the prospects that it might be late in the afternoon before a final vote was reached, the house went into battle on the county option bill shortly before noon today. As the bill has already passed the senate, and as it seems to be generally assumed that Governor Hammond will sign it if it goes through the house, today is momentous in the history of the county option movement, which is ten years old in this state but never until this session has succeeded in putting a bill through either branch of the legislature. The bill needs sixty-six votes to pass. Optionists this morning were claiming sixty-seven votes, or one more than necessary. The opponents, however, were making equally positive claims that the bill would lack one of the necessary number.

Evenly Balanced.

The issue is very evenly balanced, clearly, with the chances slightly in favor of the passage of the bill. When the measure was reached as a special order at 11 o'clock, the galleries were full of interested spectators, but Speaker Flowers had prevented congestion by limiting admission to seating capacity, and by keeping strangers off the floor. A call of the house to bring in absent members took half an hour, at the end of which every member was present, except Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 24.—John Stutzman, his wife, a son and two daughters were burned to death early this morning in a fire that destroyed their home. Another son, Dean, escaped with but slight injuries.

The dead children are: Harold, 14; Mabel, 12, and Floy, 16. Dean is the only survivor of the family.

PREUS' PLAN VOTED DOWN

Bill Reinstating Homestead Requirements Is Killed By Committee.

Senate to Have Fight on Bill Changing Primary Date.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—"I don't like to oppose our genial state auditor," said Senator Leonard H. Nord of International Falls before the house committee on public domain, which had up for hearing the bill reinstating the homestead requirements of the Cole law on the sale of state lands, "for he is, as I believe, the best state auditor the state ever had, if I may say so.

"But the best interests of Northern Minnesota compel me to do so, for the state auditor is wrong on this bill."

Moreover, he did oppose the state auditor's plan, and Representatives H. J. Miner of International Falls, Paul Marschalk of Warroad, and L. G. Pendergast of Bemidji joined with him to such effect that the committee voted to recommend the bill for indefinite postponement. State Auditor Preus, who was present, did not ask for a minority report, so this is the end of this bill, for the present at least.

It was generally admitted, even by the strongest opponents of the bill, that theoretically Mr. Preus was right in his proposal, which took the form

WANTS DIVISION BILL TO INCLUDE OTTERTAIL

M. J. DALY, Former Senator From Perham.

OTTERTAIL INTERESTED

Would Have Range County Division Bill Applied More Generally.

Hearing Is Given to the Advocates of the Measure.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county division fight took a new angle yesterday, and one that indicates some of the possibilities of the peculiar system of county division proposed by the range folks.

A delegation from the northeastern part of Ottertail county, of which Perham is the metropolis, arrived in St. Paul Monday evening, and yesterday it developed that it was on the ground to engage in an active fight to have the range county division bill broadened so as to include Ottertail county.

The members of this delegation, which is headed by Former Senator M. J. Daly of Perham, were at the meeting of the house committee on towns and counties last night when the range men presented their case, but did not speak.

For many years there has been a county division fight in Ottertail county, even more bitter than that which has lately prevailed in St Louis county. The people of the northeastern part of the county, around Perham, would like very much to cut away into a new county; but the rest of the county has always been opposed to the change, and as that part has a majority of the votes, there has been no division.

Like the Range Idea.

As the Perham district folks are keenly interested in any system of

CAPTAIN IN MARINE CORPS A SUICIDE

Former Aide to President Taft Ends Life By Shooting.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Capt. A. E. Harding of the United States marine corps shot and killed himself today at the Racquet club, of which he was a non-resident member. The police have thus far been unable to assign a cause for the suicide.

Capt. Harding was an aide to President Taft. He was born in Illinois in 1879 and was appointed to the marine corps from that state in 1899.

SWEITZER, THOMPSON

Democratic and Republican Candidates for Mayor of Chicago.

Loss of First Ward Vote Fatal to Mayor Carter Harrison.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—With four precincts still missing, revised figures of yesterday's primaries show today that Carter H. Harrison, who served five terms as mayor, was defeated for the Democratic nomination by Robert M. Sweitzer, county clerk, by a plurality of 77,551.

Votes cast for Mr. Harrison, son of Carter H. Harrison, Sr., who also was mayor of Chicago for five terms, totaled 104,283. Women cast 36,307 of them. For Mr. Sweitzer 182,534 ballots were cast, 57,666 by women.

William Hale Thompson's plurality over Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, on the Republican ticket was 2,325. The total vote for Mr. Thompson was 87,060, while Olson was 84,735. The former received 25,842 votes cast by women and Olson 32,922.

Charles M. Thomson was unopposed as the Progressive candidate and Seymour Stedman, a lawyer, was unopposed as the Socialist candidate.

Record Woman Vote.

A record woman vote turned out, 90,000 Democratic women ballots being cast.

Mayor Harrison announced last night he would not run as an independent candidate, and attributed his defeat to the desire of the voters for a wide open town.

Yesterday's primary was the third in which women participated and they polled a vote nearly three times the size of any former primary. The highest primary record heretofore was 47,424. Yesterday more than 155,000 women voted. There were approximately 65,000 Republican women votes.

In the famous First ward, where Aldermen Michael (Hinky Dink) Kenna, and John (Bath House) Coghlan at all previous elections had turned in an overwhelming Harrison majority, the mayor was defeated 6 to 1. At the last city election the First ward gave Harrison a vote that overcame a lead of Charles E. Merriam, the Republican candidate, and elected him. Harrison's home ward, where he had heretofore counted a safe vote, went for Sweitzer by more than 3,000.

THIRTY-SIX PLUMBERS GUILTY OF VIOLATING THE ANTI-TRUST LAW

Convicted of Criminal Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade.

Guilty Men Are Residents of Eight Different States.

Sentences Will Be Passed Upon Them at Later Date.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 24.—All thirty-six master plumbers, who have been on trial here since Feb. 10 on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law, were convicted by a jury in Federal district court today. Judge John C. Pollock will pass sentences later.

The men are residents of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota. They are members and officials of the National association of Master Plumbers and of the state organizations of that body.

It was charged in the indictments, returned here June 4, that the association has been operating in violation of the Sherman law ever since its organization in 1884, and that it had conspired to interfere with the business of plumbers and plumbing supply houses not members of the association. The men convicted of a criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade are:

MAY ASK GOVERNOR FOR ASSISTANCE

Trouble Expected in West Virginia When Warrants Are Served.

Fairmont, W. Va., Feb. 24.—Constable W. R. Riggs, wounded in the rioting between a sheriff's posse and striking miners at Farmington, W. Va., last Saturday, died in a hospital here today. Thomas Buckley, a deputy sheriff, shot in the same fight, suffered a relapse during the night, and was said to be in a dying condition.

The grand jury summoned to investigate the riots was expected to report before nightfall, and arrangements were made to keep down possible disorder when warrants were being served in the strike district. It was reported that Governor Hatfield would be called upon for assistance, but peace officers refused to confirm the rumor.

ASKS GOVERNMENT TO SEIZE POTATOES

Statistician Believes Germans Should Control Supply in Country.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—Dr. Kuczynski, director of the Schoenberg statistical bureau, in an article in the Tageblatt today, adds his voice to those which previously have demanded that the government take over the supply of potatoes in Germany as it has done with flour and grain.

The doctor refers to the advice given Germans that each person, in order to eke out the supply of grain should increase his potato consumption by 400 grams daily, and he says that if this advice be followed, the present potato supply would not last over four months. Assuming that the present ratio of potatoes devoted to the feeding of swine be maintained, Dr. Kuczynski believed that expropriation is the only way to maintain equable consumption.

Berlin Socialists, at a number of recent meetings, also have demanded the expropriation of potatoes as well as meat. The vice president of the Prussian state ministry declared in the diet last week that the expropriation of potatoes had been considered but found impossible.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION WRECKS THE OAKBY

Hatches Blown Off and Decks Splintered By Torpedo From Submarine; Smack Rescues Entire Crew.

British Collier Sunk Off Hastings and Another Ship in Distress; American Ship Carib Also Lost.

London, Feb. 24.—The British steamer Oakby was torpedoed by a German submarine off Rye yesterday. Her crew was rescued by a fishing smack and landed at Ramsgate.

The Oakby was bound in ballast from London for Cardiff, Wales. She was struck on the port side. Her main hatches were blown off, her decks splintered and the binnacle hurled into the air. One lifeboat was swamped by the great volume of water thrown up by the explosion of the torpedo.

The fishing smack Gratia, which was four miles off, felt the shock of the explosion and hastened to the scene. The fishermen arrived in time to take off the crew of the Oakby, none of the members of which was injured.

An attempt was made to tow the Oakby to Dover but she sank off Folkestone this morning.

Two Vessels Torpedoed.

Lydd, via London, Feb. 24.—The steamer Kalibia has arrived here and reports that two vessels have been torpedoed off Hastings. One sank and the other was supposed to be in a sinking condition with three trawlers standing by. The crew of the first vessel was saved and landed. A mine sweeper was attending the other to cover. Her crew was saved by a Ramsgate fishing smack.

Crew Lands.

New Haven, Eng., via London, Feb. 24.—Eighteen members of the crew of the Cardiff steamer Branksome Chine, a government collier, landed here last evening. Their boat either struck a mine or was torpedoed in the English channel, twenty miles southeast of Beachy head, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The men say the captain and mate of the steamer are standing by the vessel, which is badly damaged and awash. An attempt will be made to pull her to the coast and beach her.

A large steamer is reported in distress near the same spot. Lifeboats are in attendance upon her.

American Ship Sunk.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—The American steamer Carib has gone to the bottom off the German coast in the North Sea, as a result of running on a mine.

At the time of this disaster to the Carib the vessel was not using the route laid down in the German marine instructions.

The steamer Carib belonged to the Clyde line. She was of 2,280 tons net and left Charleston Jan. 27 for Bremen. She was in command of Capt. Cole.

The Carib was built in 1882 at Port Glasgow, Scotland. She was 288 feet long and 36 feet beam.

Crew of Thirty Men.

New York, Feb. 24.—The Carib had a crew of thirty men and was in command of Capt. E. L. Cole, whose home is in Maine. She had 4,600 bales of cotton aboard. At the offices of the Clyde line here, it was said nothing had been heard from the Carib since she steamed from Charleston for Bremen on Jan. 27.

Outside Route.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Official notice of the sinking of the American steamer Carib was received at the state department today in this message from American Minister Van

GERMANS POINT OUT SAFE ROUTES

Say Vessels Will Have No Trouble If They Follow Them.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London—The German admiralty has communicated a memorandum to Commander Walter R. Gherardi, the American naval attache, pointing out that the destruction of the American steamers Evelyn and Carib was due to not following the course prescribed by the German admiralty to a point northwest of Helgoland. The memorandum reiterates the assurance of the German government as to the safety of the prescribed course.

The Proper Courses.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The German embassy here today issued a statement giving the courses which vessels bound for German ports should pursue in order to be perfectly safe.

Merchant vessels bound for the Eider, Elbe, Weser and Jade rivers must first make Lister Deep buoy; those bound for the Ems should make directly for its mouth. Pilotage is compulsory from Lister Deep buoy.

Shipping north of the Shetland islands in the eastern area of the North sea and in a strip of at least thirty sea miles in width along the Netherlands coast is not imperilled.

DECLARATION BY GERMANS

Officially State Food From America Will Not Be Seized.

Statement Will Be Presented to Britain in Wilhelmina Case.

London, Feb. 24.—W. L. Brooking, a member of the firm of W. L. Green & Co., commission merchants of St. Louis and owners of the cargo on board the American ship Wilhelmina, reached London today from Berlin, having in his possession a declaration from the German foreign office signed by Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign minister, and attested by James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, which pledges the German government not to assume control of the cargo of the Wilhelmina, nor of any other vessels arriving from America. This declaration says that such cargoes may be sold on the open market and that they will not be used by the army or the navy.

The case of the Wilhelmina soon is

CONFLICTS IN NORTH POLAND

Fierce Engagements Being Fought on East Prussian Frontier.

No Sign of Conclusion of Battles Raging in the Carpathians.

Along the East Prussian border, in Northern Poland, some of the fiercest engagements of the campaign in the east are taking place. An official statement from Petrograd reports that in these battles villages changed hands several times. Three German attacks on Przasnysz, where the conflict is sharpest, are said to have been repulsed. A Berlin dispatch says it is reported there that "further obstacles have arisen" to prevent an invasion of Russia. The correspondent of a Paris newspaper estimates that the Germans lost 50,000 men in the fighting in the north.

In the Carpathians the series of detached battles continues with no sign of a conclusion. The Russian war office announced that Austrian attacks

HEED WEST END DEMAND

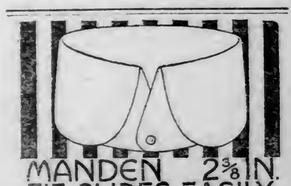

City Commissioners Promise Purchase of Site for Police Station.

Members of the city commission promised a delegation from the West End Commercial club this morning that they would begin negotiations at once for the purchase of a police station site in that end of the city.

Sanford W. Hill, Capt. K. A. Franklin and Peter Olson, former alderman, representing the West End club, called on the commissioners this morning and asked that a new station be built, as the present building is insanitary and inadequate. They suggested the site next to the Woodman hall at Twenty-first avenue west and First street as being central and best located for a police station.

Commissioner Hicken, Mayor Prince and Commissioner Voss met the delegation and after the matter was discussed at length the promise was made that the site will be examined at once and, if it proves satisfactory, negotiations will be started for the purchase. Whether a new building will be erected this year, the commissioners decline to say.

NO WORD FROM EVELYN'S CAPTAIN

Some Doubt as to Whether He Was Saved After Wreck.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Official advices today seem to throw some doubt on whether Capt. Smith of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk in the North sea by a mine, was among the saved and whether it is not his boat which is missing.

"American steamer Evelyn ran on two mines on the 19th, 4 a. m., near Isle Borkum. Sank seven hours later. Capt. Smith, thirteen men and Dutch pilot in one boat; First Officer Swanson and thirteen men in another. First boat said to have been rescued 10 a. m. Saturday, but present whereabouts yet unknown. Latter boat picked up by German scout ship Mars, 4 Saturday afternoon and taken to Helgoland. Thirteen men brought to Bremerhaven and put into Sailors' home. Spanish stoker, Hans Ilado, frozen and buried at sea, appears to be only dead. Other survivors expected tomorrow. Those in Bremerhaven out of danger."

ONE CHARTER AMENDMENT

Other Four Proposed for the Spring Election Are Rejected.

That to Be Submitted Raises Non-Advertised Purchase Limit.

Only one charter amendment will be submitted to the voters of Duluth at the regular election to be held on April 6.

T. T. Hudson, chairman of the charter commission, announced this morning that the committee appointed two weeks ago, has recommended but one amendment to the charter, that one providing for an increase of the purchase limit from $100 to $500. He said that the commission will be called together within the next two or three days and that formal action will then be taken on this amendment.

Five amendments were originally presented to the commission by the city council. The council will formally vote on the amendment after it is presented and if it is considered favorably, it will be placed on the ballot.

According to the enabling act, amendments to a city charter cannot be presented to the voters except by a board or commission, or by a petition signed by at least 5 per cent of the voters registered at the last municipal election. As these amendments would have to be acted on by the council next Monday, since publication of them for a period of thirty days before the election is required, voters would have no time now to circulate a petition for any of the other amendments.

Rejected Proposals.

The other four amendments presented to the committee, but which have been rejected, are:

That a property owner will have to pay interest on an assessment, against which he appeals, and that he shall also pay the penalty in case he loses, the object being to make it more costly to appeal an assement, by which, it is claimed, some owners manage to postpone paying and thus make other use of their assessment money.

The extension of assessment, where the amount exceeds $25 for each 3,500 square feet of property benefited by the improvement, so that owners will be able to pay in annual installments, with an additional 7 per cent interest.

The changing of the board of review acting on tax matters, so that the city assessor would be in the body in place of the city clerk. The mayor and finance commissioner are the other members.

The giving of power to the city commission to appraise property damaged for proposed improvements.

The members of the committee are: T. T. Hudson, chairman; John G. Williams, J. H. Crowley, City Attorney Clapp, T. W. Hugo and H. H. Phelps.

The charter commission comprises the following members: T. T. Hudson, chairman; John G. Williams, Thomas Olafson, E. A. Silberstein, S. A. Foster, City Attorney Harvey Clapp, H. C. Strong, C. A. Congdon, J. H. Crowley, T. W. Hugo, C. R. Haines, M. B. Callum, Judge Bert Fesler and W. E. McEwen.

BROTHER LOST ON NORDKYN

Relative of Harry Benson Drowned When Steamer Is Sunk.

A three-line dispatch from London, printed in The Herald's Associated Press report, told Harry Benson of Duluth that he had lost his younger brother, Charles. The dispatch read:

"The Norwegian steamer Nordkyn has been sunk through striking a mine near Bernholm island, in the Baltic sea. All members of the crew were drowned."

Benson, who is himself a sailor and who has been working on Great Lakes steamers out of Duluth for about two years, stated this morning that his brother had been aboard the Nordkyn for some time and that he undoubtedly was in the crew at the time of the accident.

This is the first case known wherein a Duluthian has lost a relative or acquaintance who was a citizen of a neutral country since the present war began.

Since the German blockade was declared, several neutral ships, including two or three American vessels, have been damaged badly or sunk by mines. No further word has been received from the crew of the Nordkyn and no hope is held out for any of the men aboard her.

Benson stated this morning that he was going back to his old home in Norway as soon as he could make the trip in safety. His brother never has visited Duluth.

ACTION DEFERRED.

Proposed Legislation for Repeal of Mixed Flour Law Set Aside.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Proposed legislation for the repeal of the mixed flour law has been set aside by the ways and means committee of the house. The committee today held a session at which the bills presented by Representatives Vollmer of Iowa and Rainey of Illinois were discussed at length, with the result that action was deferred.

It was stated that the committee probably would not hold another meeting before the expiration of the congress, Thursday of next week, which kills present attempts to change the law.

STEENERSON ELECTED OFFICER OF UNION.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Representative Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota was today elected a vice president of the American group of the interparliamentary union at the annual meeting here. Representative James L. Slayden of Texas was elected president and Speaker Clark and Representative Adamson of Georgia were elected to serve as vice presidents with Mr. Steenerson.

TRINITY WILL DROP THE "PRO" AND BECOME A CATHEDRAL

REV. T. W. MACLEAN.

BISHOP J. D. MORRISON.

If a bill now before the legislature passes, and it is believed that there is no reason why it should not, Trinity Pro-Cathedral, Twentieth avenue east and Superior street, will drop the qualifying "pro" and become a full fledged cathedral. It will be the first Episcopal cathedral in Minnesota, despite the fact that there is another diocese besides that of Duluth and ante-dating the latter.

The Duluth diocese was formed eighteen years ago as a missionary district, with Bishop J. D. Morrison in charge. About a decade ago it became self-supporting and was advanced to the class of diocese, and was cut off from the supervision of the Minnesota diocese, of which it had been a part. The latter diocese has a pro-cathedral, with Bishop Edsall in charge, at Faribault and has had for many years.

Strangely enough no effort has been made to get legal sanction for a cathedral until the Duluth Episcopalians took the matter up at the present legislature. The bill provides that a holding corporation may be formed to handle the property of the cathedral. Heretofore the property of the local church has been that of a parish with the bishop performing the functions of his office therein. The bill, if it becomes a law, will permit the creation of a cathedral chapter in place of the vestry.

The present vicar of the pro-cathedral is Rev. Thomas W. MacLean.

ASSEMBLY ASKS LIST OF LOBBYISTS

Wisconsin Legislators Call on the Secretary of State for Same.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 24.—The assembly today passed a resolution calling on the secretary of state to furnish a list of registered lobbyists.

A resolution was adopted calling on the attorney general for an opinion as to whether a member of a normal school faculty on salary can be directed by the board of normal school regents to appear before the legislature in opposition to certain legislation. The resolution is directed against a member of the normal faculty.

Indefinite postponement was reported on the Krembs bill to reduce the wage exemption of working men from $60 to $40.

The Donnelly resolution to revamp the election law of the state was postponed.

Among the bills killed were those extending the time for opening and closing the polls in towns; to give the mayor of any city greater power in discharging municipal employes; for vestibules on all passenger coaches; for a half holiday on election days.

The senate adopted the finance committee's joint resolution memorializing congress to adopt a comprehensive plan for prevention of floods in the Mississippi valley.

A motion giving the chief clerk one more week in which to report out bills prevailed.

Both houses adjourned until tomorrow.

Morrison County Farmers Organize.

Little Falls, Minn., Feb. 24.—The Morrison County Bar association, at a meeting held here, adopted a constitution and elected the following officers: President, E. P. Adams; vice president, F. W. Lyon; secretary-treasurer, S. C. Vasaly. The officers form the executive committee.

DAMAGES ASKED FOR HEALTH LOSS

Laborer Claims Ore Thawing Caused Tuberculosis and Breakdown.

Because he was obliged to work at thawing frozen ore with hot water and steam, Berg Leland claims that he contracted tuberculosis from which he will never recover, and in district court today he started suit against the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company to recover $10,986.40 damages, claiming that his employers are responsible for the malady.

Leland, who is now at the state sanatorium at Walker, Minn., claims that the railway company put him to work Aug. 26, 1913, at Proctor thawing out frozen ore in transit and that daily he was obliged to breathe moist air until his lungs were so weakened as to incapacitate him for remunerative work again. He worked until Nov. 5, 1913, when he was obliged to quit on account of his health.

SUM OF $90,000 FOR UTILITIES

Merritt Ordinance and Several Others Passed By Council.

Printing Controversy at an End; New Sign Ordinance Introduced.

Ordinances appropriating $125 for the printing of the park bonds that started a controversy about a week ago between Commissioner Voss and John Christie of the Christie Printing company, $90,000 for the water and light department to be used during 1915 in improvements and the purchase of supplies, $80 for the purchase of calcium chloride to be used on park roads and boulevards, and others for minor improvements were passed at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon.

The park bond ordinance was passed without any comment, although it was expected that another controversy would rise during the meeting. Commissioner Voss was the only member to vote against the ordinance.

At the meeting of the commission last week Commissioner Voss raised an objection against the ordinance, declaring that the mayor had violated the charter in ordering the printing of the bonds without first receiving bids and that the charges made by the Christie company were all too high. Mayor Prince was out of the city at the time and the commissioners decided to hold the matter over until his return.

Department to Get $90,000.

The ordinance introduced by Commissioner Merritt two weeks ago, appropriating $90,000 for the water and light department, was given its third reading. The money will be used in constructing a new bridge over Tischer's creek on First street, the construction of a new reservoir tank at Woodland, the purchase of an automobile and other supplies for the year.

Mayor Prince's ordinance appropriating $800 for the purchase of valeium chloride to be used by the park department for boulevards and park roads was passed yesterday afternoon. The compound will be purchased at once, Mayor Prince announced, and will be used as soon as warm weather sets in this spring.

The contract for furnishing the city with a five-ton tandem roller was given to the Barber Asphalt company, on its bid of $1,581, less 2 per cent discount.

The ordinance appropriating $160.60 for a typewriter and auditing machine attachment to be used in the city engineer's office was passed.

New Sign Ordinance.

Commissioner Murchison introduced the new sign ordinance, which was given its first reading. It provides for a penalty of $100 or imprisonment for eighty-five days on anyone violating the ordinance by using temporary cloth signs and also repeals the ordinance passed in January and which was found to be invalid because of a double penalty imposed.

An ordinance appropriating $700 for the purchase of sandstone paving blocks to be used in improvements during 1915 was introduced by Commissioner Murchison.

On motion of Mayor Prince the amendment to the employment agency ordinance was laid over until next Monday. The ordinance amends the ordinance and provides that agencies may be established on Michigan street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues west.

The bids opened yesterday morning on an automobile for Chief Randall and a truck for the fire department were presented to the council by Commissioner Hicken. Action will be taken next week, it was announced.

The resolution introduced by Commissioner Merritt awarding a contract to the Crane-Ordway company for furnishing pig lead to the water department was laid over one week. It calls for an expenditure of $4,087.50 for fifty tons of lead.

Mains to Be Extended.

Gas and water mains were ordered extended from the end of the present main in Sussex street to Livingston street, a sanitary sewer was ordered in Peabody street, from Forty-seventh to Fifty-third avenues east, and a storm sewer was ordered in Twenty-first avenue east, from Sixth street to Seventh alley.

The contract for furnishing 132 lineal feet of 20-inch cast iron pipe, f. o. b. New Duluth, was awarded to the American Cast Iron Pipe company on its offer of $26.89 a ton.

On motion of Commissioner Merritt the Duluth-Edison company was directed to install an arc light at the east end of Commerce street and an incandescent light at Fifteenth avenue east, betwen London road and South street.

Richard Sheasby, 220 East Superior street, was granted a transfer of the saloon license owned by Clarence Leach. A pool hall license was granted to L. E. Sturm, 104 East Superior street, and Weisberg & Belousoff were given a transfer of the second-hand store license owned by M. Viner at 703 West Superior street.

LOGGERS FEAR EARLY SPRING

Few Weeks More Needed in Woods for Hauling Out Logs.

High Grain Prices Expected to Boom Building in Farm Districts.

Indications of an early spring are causing considerable worry among logging companies who fear that they will have difficulty in getting out their logs ready to float down the streams when the high water period arrives. There has been considerable snow in the woods this winter and so far the thaws have not been extensive enough to do a great deal of harm.

"Up to the first part of February we have had one of the best logging seasons in years," said a prominent lumberman today. "Labor has been cheap and plentiful, December and January were cold with plenty of snow and the work of cutting and hauling logs has gone on without interruption. If the snow stays on for a short time more, the present season as a whole may be considered one of the very best in years. Logs have been shipped into Duluth for some time, and the mills have a good supply of timber on hand."

It is expected that the coming spring will be excellent for floating logs, as the heavy snowfall will cause high water. The companies are making ready to take advantage of this as soon as the streams break up, which may not be far distant.

Lumbermen are a bit shy about making predictions as to the future of that business just now. Overproduction in the last few years and unsettled conditions at present are said to have caused considerable uncertainty, and the wise ones are said to be waiting now to see "which way the cat will jump." With the high price for grain and other farm produce now prevailing, the Northwest is said to be in a good position to begin an era of building. Farmers who have neglected to build good houses and barns until they had their farms paid for should now be in a position to spend large sums for such improvements. The timber in the farming districts is now about exhausted, and native lumber is little used, the farmers finding it cheaper and more practicable to buy pine, spruce and other varieties shipped from the Northern and Southern regions.

IS FATALLY INJURED BY CIRCULAR WOODSAW.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Svenson, living near Twin Valley, died in a local hospital yesterday of injuries received while sawing wood with a circular saw. He became tangled in the saw feed. Before he could be taken from the machine one eye has been gouged out and his forehead had been severely cut.

A brother and sister of the deceased took the body to Twin Valley, where interment will be made.

BIG APPROPRIATION BILLS ARE PASSED

Army Measure Through Senate and Fortification Bill Through House.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Without a dissenting vote, the senate yesterday passed the army appropriation bill, carrying approximately $103,000,000, while the house passed the $6,000,000 fortifications bill.

The only debate on the army bill related to action of the senate committee in striking out of the house bills a provision which would prohibit the use of stop watches and other so-called scientific shop management methods in government plants, and the appropriations for payment of bonuses to employes. The committee was sustained.

An all-day discussion of the national defense marked the passage of the fortification bill in the house. Representative Sherley of Kentucky, in charge of the measure, declared there was no danger of American fortifications being destroyed by a hostile fleet; that the fleet of an enemy would not seek to reduce fortresses if it had control of the sea, and would not waste ammunition shooting from a range of 21,000 yards.

Mr. Sherley admitted that there might be danger of bombardment of some cities, but insisted that the cost of fortifying all coast cities would be too tremendous to consider. Representative Mann asked why Great Britain and the allies, having control of the sea, did not bombard German fortifications.

"It is a good deal better for them to undertake to bottle up Germany's fleet," replied Mr. Sherley, "and control avenues of trade than risk going up against the German fleet and fortifications with the almost certainty that they would be unable to subdue them from the sea. In the Dardanelles it is different. They are there undertaking to attack the sea forts to get to a given place."

Representative Butler of Pennsylvania insisted that American trading ships should stay away from the "death zone" and that even the destruction of such vessels should not be permitted to involve the nation in war.

The house appropriations committee has completed the general deficiency bill, the last of all the annual supply measures of congress. The estimates covered in the bill aggregated $9,000,000, from which considerable cut was made. The bill probably will be reported tomorrow.

DARNELL WILL NOT BE PRESENT

Witnesses Arrive in Milwaukee to Appear Before Grand Jury.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 24.—Rev. James M. Darnell, whose case involving charges of violation of the Mann white slave act is to come before the Federal grand jury, will not be brought to Milwaukee at this time, according to United States District Attorney Goff.

The arrival of Ruth Soper of Owatonna, Minn., last night, was followed today with that of Doris Vaughn-Darnell, Chicago, both answering to subpoenas to appear before the jury.

Witnesses in the Darnell case, according to District Attorney Goff, will not be called before this afternoon at the earliest and may not be heard before tomorrow.

A number of persons from Kenosha, interested in the cases are here, though they are not subpoenaed.

The principal witnesses are closely guarded by their attorneys or government officials and efforts by reporters to obtain interviews proved futile.

Shot Sitting at Window.

Mineral Point, Wis., Feb. 24.—A 10-year-old daughter of Thomas Hartford is fatally injured and Mrs. Thomas Haug is suffering from gunshot wounds. Both were sitting by a window in the Hartford home when a weapon was discharged outside. Thomas Haug, divorced husband of the woman, is being held charged with doing the shooting, and the case will be heard on Thursday.

MILWAUKEE TRAIN BUMPS INTO FREIGHT

Collide Near Albert Lea During Blizzard; Engineer Fatally Hurt.

Albert Lea, Minn., Feb. 24.—Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Passenger Train No. 23 crashed head-on into a freight train three miles west of here during a blinding snow storm early last night, injuring seven persons. Engineer David Jones of Austin, Minn., the only one of the engine crew who did not jump to safety, probably will die.

Although on a straight track, the blizzard made it impossible for the enginemen to see the freight's engine until too late to avoid a collision.

The injured were brought to Albert Lea. They are all residents either of Austin or Albert Lea.

Verdict Against Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 24.—In district court the case of Michael Michelson against the city of Bemidji for injury to his Nymore property, because of the establishment of the pavement leading to that village last summer went to the jury late Monday and two hours later a verdict of $500 was returned.

GERMAN BREAD CARDS CAUSE INCONVENIENCE

Berlin, via London, Feb. 24.—The first day's trial of bread cards, which every German was required to have in order to receive his supply, resulted in some misunderstandings and friction, but the system in general worked well, although there were considerable delays at the bakeries. The greatest inconveniences were experienced at the restaurants, where many of the guests forgot to bring bread cards, and for that reason were allowed no bread. The innovation also greatly crippled the numerous automatic restaurants.

FAKE COLLECTOR FOR BELGIANS FINDS VICTIMS

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 24.—A well dressed Englishman, wearing a monocle and carrying a cane, relieved a number of sympathetic North enders Sunday of considerable money. Posing as a Belgian relief collector, "the widows' mite" and a $10 note were both acceptable.

Two weeks ago, two women, well gowned and affable, worked the aristocratic South end in the same way of about $90 before the fraud was discovered. The Englishman has disappeared, although a police bulletin has been sent out.

First Wife an American.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 24.—The betrothal of Prince von Bismarck's eldest grandchild, Countess Hannah von Bismarck, to Capt. Leopold von Bredow is announced. Capt. von Bredow's first wife, who died in 1907, was Miss Frances Clara Newlands, daughter of Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada.

FOURTH TRIAL STARTS IN BELTRAMI COURT.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. W. Stanton is holding court here today for Judge Wright and is trying with a jury the damage case of Former Mayor J. P. Pogue of Bemidji vs. the Great Northern railway to recover damages for his automobile being struck by a Great Northern train at Wilton, Oct. 28, 1909. The case was twice tried before Judge McClenahan and dismissed and the third time it was tried before Judge Wright, Pogue getting judgment for $3,500. The supreme court granted a new trial and now the fourth trial is on.

MERRITT IN THE BREACH

Offers to Buy String of Lots to Assure Paving.

Assessments Would Run Above Property Values, He Declares.

Commissioner Merritt, head of the public utilities division, at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon offered to buy a string of lots along Oneota street to assure the paving of that thoroughfare this year and completing "the trail to West Duluth."

During the discussion on the proposed paving of Oneota and Superior streets, from Thirtieth to Thirty-ninth avenues, Commissioner Voss raised an objection, declaring that the entire thoroughfare should be paved. He also declared that many owners of low-lying lots would be unable to pay their assessments, which would, in many cases, go above the value of the lots.

"Well then, I'll buy those lots myself," declared Commissioner Merritt. "We need that pavement and now is the best time. We've promised the people of West Duluth a trail to their end of the city and they ought to get it."

Following the discussion, Commissioner Murchison was instructed to have an assessment roll prepared, so that plans can be made for paving from Thirtieth to Thirty-eighth avenues. In view of the fact that protests have been made against three other pavements, it was decided by the commissioners that this is the best time to begin on the "trail to West Duluth."

YEOMEN WILL ATTEND BANQUET IN SUPERIOR.

At the meeting of the Non-excelled homestead, No. 4276, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, to be held this evening at Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue, plans for attending the banquet to be held in Superior tomorrow evening will be made. The banquet is being held for members at the Head of the Lakes in honor of the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the order.

It is expected that about 100 members from the western end of the city will attend. A special car, leaving Seventy-first avenue west about 7:15 p. m., will take the local members across the bay.

A feature of the celebration will be the initiation of a class of new members numbering close to 100. The initiation ceremonies will take place at the Maryland hall and following this ceremony the banquet will be held at the Hotel Superior. Several of the head officers of the order as well as the mayors of Duluth and Superior will be among the speakers.

ENDS HER LIFE IN MONUMENT SHAFT

Woman Jumps From Top of the Washington Obelisk.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Mrs. W. F. Cockrell of Delray, Va., jumped into the elevator shaft of the Washington monument at a landing near the top late today and fell to the bottom more than 500 feet below. She left a note addressed to her husband saying she was sure she could not recover from an illness. Her body was crushed by striking the sides of the shaft on the way down and she was dead before her body reached the bottom.

The district coroner issued a certificate of death by suicide. Mrs. Cockrell's farewell note, written on a physician's prescription blank and left in the monument, said she realized she was a "burden" to her husband, and asked that her body be cremated.

It was the first time the towering obelisk, which was opened to the public in 1888 and has been visited by millions of Americans, had been the scene of suicide.

An hour before the monument was closed for the day, Mrs. Cockrell went to the observation gallery near the top of the structure in the elevator. A few minutes later she walked down to the third landing and clambered between the steel rails that separate the elevator shaft from the stairway. The sightseers screamed and Miss Edna Rockefellon of Takoma Park rushed to Mrs. Cockrell's side and clutched at her clothing. There was a brief struggle, then portions of the dress gave way and Mrs. Cockrell plunged down the shaft.

As she fell, her body careened from side to side, striking against the railings. Horror-stricken tourists and the watchmen at the base of the monument notified officials and Col. W. W. Harts, superintendent of public buildings, took charge of the body.

A few hours earlier, Mrs. Cockrell had gone with her husband to the office of a local specialist on nerve trouble. She was 32 years old.

LEWIS FOLK WILL GATHER

Everything in Gaelic But They Won't Say "Hoot."

Duluthians who are natives of the Isle of Lewis, Scotland, "Eilean an Fhraoich," the "Isle of the Heather," will gather at Foresters' hall tonight for their fourth annual banquet and entertainment of the Lewis Society of Duluth. They will begin at 7 o'clock and get through when they get through. The annual gathering of the Lewis society, of which there are about seventy-five members, is always one of the big events of the year among the Scottish residents of Duluth, being second only to that other night which all Scotsmen celebrate regardless of what island or shire they come from—Jan. 25, the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns; and at that, it is with scant acknowledgment that a Lewis man will admit so much.

This year the proceeds of the banquet will be sent to Lewis to be a part of a fund to be devoted to the support of the Lewis people rendered widows and orphans by the present European war, and it is expected that private contributions will swell the sum to handsome proportions.

They Don't Say "Hoot."

On this evening at the gathering everything will be Scotch from the language to the menu and one wandering in who cannot discourse in the "twa talks" would have a hard time of it. English is taboo, and they don't say "hoot," despite the erroneous popular idea that all Scotsmen use the Harry Lauder conversational vehicle—that is left for the Lowlanders, and the Lewis men are Highlanders, be it known. Even the menu is printed in the Gaelic language, and most of the program is.

On the front of the very neat program issued is a picture of the castle of Sir James Matheson of Stornoway, the chief town of the island, and the officers named are: Honorary president, D. B. Macdonald; honorary secretary, William Morrison; president, Capt. M. A. MacLennan; and vice president, P. M. Young.

As a prelude to the banquet and program there will be a selection by Lewis pipers, who are Norman MacLean, John MacLean, Norman A. Matheson, Don E. Mackenzie, Angus Nicholson and W. Macllitchie. Following that, John Macdonald will ask a blessing, in Gaelic, and the banquet will then take place, to be followed by the program, for which Miss Mina Macaskill will be accompanist. The program will close with a play—all in Gaelic—called "Reiteach," the nearest English translation of which is "A Marriage Contract."

Evening's Program.

One of the speakers on the program will be James T. Mitchell, a native of Lewis, but now engaged in the newspaper business in Winnipeg. The program follows:

Address of welcome ..... Capt. M. A. MacLennan, president.
Solo (Gaelic) ..... Don MacLennan.
Toast, "The Island of Lewis and It's People" ..... James T. Mitchell of Winnipeg.

DECLARES "THIS WAR DIFFERENT"

English Drum Major Tells of His Experiences in Present Conflict.

"Men even die differently in this war."

That was the way A. H. Cliff, drum major of the Royal Naval Military battalion, expressed his opinion of the struggle now going on abroad, in telling of his experiences while at the front in Belgium during October. Mr. Cliff has been in Duluth visiting his son, Laddie Cliff, who is playing at the Orpheum this week.

"They don't throw up their arms and plunge backward or forward after the manner of the famous old pictures of war. They just drop down where they are hit, with no motion of the arms and little of the body.

"After weeks in the trenches one has no clear conception of war, or no panoramic mental picture of what is going on. Your picture is a series of ghastly, shocking incidents that you never will forget.

"My most vivid recollection is of a man who stumbled along a road, holding himself with both hands as if trying to keep from literally falling apart."

Mr. Cliff has three brothers and two nephews at the front. One of the latter was in service at Ypres and the battle of the Aisne.

UPBUILDING NORTHERN MINNESOTA ITS OBJECT

New Magazine Launched to Advocate Development of Resources of This Part of the State.

"Northern Minnesota," a new monthly publication, issued by the Northern Minnesota Publishing company of Duluth, has made its initial appearance.

Guy W. Small, for a number of years editor and publisher of the Journal-News at Two Harbors, Minn., is the editor of the new magazine, and Harriet Small is named as the assistant editor.

Many interesting articles appear in this first issue, the list including: "Our Climate and Its Relation to Agriculture," by H. W. Richardson, Duluth weather forecaster; "1915 at the Northeast Experiment Station," by Mark J. Thompson, superintendent; "Commercial Organization and the Farming Element," by Hubert V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club; "The Northern Minnesota Development Association," by George D. McCarthy, secretary of that organization; "Rudiments of Potato-Raising," by A. B. Hostetter, and "Ten Years in Northern Minnesota," by A. J. McGuire of the state agricultural college.

AUTOISTS HIT CYCLE AND WAGON

Three Suits for Personal Damages Against Drivers Are Begun.

When an automobile collided with a motorcycle on which Chester Lathrop and Marie Hegler were riding Oct. 28, 1914, near Gilbert, it resulted in a bad spill for the occupants of the motorcycle. Lathrop was severely cut about the head and face and his companion's left leg was so badly lacerated that it required nine stitches to close the wound.

Yesterday afternoon in district court, each started suit against John Siegal, who was driving on the wrong side of the road and at a high rate of speed. Lathrop is suing for $1,770 and Miss Hegler for $1,775.

Charles Shogran and Rudolph Shogran are defendants in a personal injury action filed yesterday afternoon in district court by Oscar Lee, who wants $5,160 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by himself and for the wrecking of his wagon in an automobile collision. The accident, he claims, was due to carelessness on the part of the defendant, Rudolph Shogran, in the operation of his car while driving on Superior street, near Tenth avenue west, on Oct. 20, 1914.

FISH WERE TOO SMALL

Three Duluth Dealers Arrested on Complaint of Game Warden.

Wood Claims They Were Selling Fish Under Legal Size.

Managers of two wholesale houses, as well as the proprietor of a large retail grocery establishment in the city, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Game Warden George Wood, who is starting a campaign against the marketing of undersized fish caught by fishermen in Lake Superior. They were: L. J. Hogstad of the Booth Fisheries company, H. J. Kolling of the H. J. Kolling company and M. M. Gasser, of the M. M. Gasser company.

The Federal law says that pike must be fourteen inches in length and weigh one pound, round; whitefish must weigh two pounds when dressed and lake trout must weigh at least one and one-half pounds when dressed.

According to the game warden, fishermen many times do not comply with the law and throw back the undersized fish brought up in their nets. In this way the wholesale fish dealers find themselves with under-sized fish on their hands.

After an inspection of the Booth fisheries plant on Lake avenue Warden Wood seized eleven sacks, containing nearly 1,000 fish. He also seized four packages of partridges which were found in storage. Manager Hogstad did not enter a plea when arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting late in the day, but asked that his examination be postponed until March 9. This was granted.

H. J. Kolling, representing the company bearing his name, which has a plant at 128 West Michigan street, was charged with having undersized whitefish in his possession. His hearing will be on March 3.

M. M. Gasser, manager of the grocery at 209-11 West Superior street, will appear in court on March 2 to answer to a similar complaint.

The arrests were made to insure a more careful observance of the Federal laws covering fresh water commercial fishing, it is said. Dealers may be fined $10 for each undersized fish found in their possession.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant.

WEST END

INDORSES BOTH FOR RE-ELECTION

Swedish Mission Church Club to Support Hicken and Murchison.

Commissioners W. A. Hicken and R. Murchison were indorsed for re-election at a meeting of the Men's Welfare League of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, last night. Members of the club, comprising nearly 100 residents in this end of the city, pledged their support to the commissioners and propose to work for their re-election at the polls this coming spring.

Carl Mellin, president of the club, praised the work of the two commissioners and said that he believes that Swedish people of the city as a whole are in favor of re-electing them. He predicted that the West end will pile up a large majority for Mr. Hicken and Mr. Murchison.

WANTS "OPEN DOOR" POLICY AT CITY HALL

Farrell Scores Council for "Closed" Meetings; Club Is Formed.

"There will be no more meetings behind closed doors if I am elected," said Bert Farrell, candidate for commissioner at a meeting attended by about fifty voters at the organization of a West End Farrell club at the Anderson building, Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street, last night. Mr. Farrell outlined the policy he said he would follow if elected, and that among other things would be an "open door policy" as far as the city hall was concerned.

Mr. Farrell told the members of the club that he had been employed since he was 15 years old in the engineering department of the city until three years ago, and said he believed himself to be fully qualified to handle the public works department of the city. He scored the present commission for holding a number of secret conferences, saying that the officials were elected to serve the public and that their proceedings should be open at all times to the public.

John Murphy was elected president of the club and Olaf Peterson, secretary. Short talks were given by a number of residents of this end of the city.

NEW DEPOT SOON.

Soo Road Will Resume Work on Freight House at Early Date.

Construction work on the new Soo freight depot will begin early this spring at Twenty-ninth avenue west and Michigan street. The building will be one story high and practically a half block long.

A large part of the excavation work necessary was done early last fall. The entire block was graded so that now it is almost down to the level of the street. A roadway will be provided off Twenty-ninth avenue as well as from Thirtieth avenue which will enable teamsters to get to the building.

According to officials of the company, it is expected to ultimately bring a large part of the company's freight business into the city through the western end of the city. This will make the freight depot in the West end one of the most important loading and unloading points for the company in Duluth. The tracks, during the past year, have been put into good shape for this use.

St. Peter's Church Notes.

St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will entertain at a Lenten tea on Thursday afternoon in the guild rooms. Mrs. Gus Johnson, Mrs. Thomas Bark and Mrs. Alex McKenzie will be hostesses.

Swedish Lenten services will be held in the church Thursday evening. Following the service Mrs. Charles Rindbeck will entertain members of the Ladies' guild and their friends in the guild rooms.

Rev. Hans J. Wolner of Virginia will preach at the English Lenten services to be held in the church on Friday evening.

Rev. W. E. Harmann, rector of the church, left this morning for Aitkin, Minn., where he will conduct a confirmation class today and also hold services. He will return home tomorrow.

West End Briefs.

George Cease, who has been spending a few days visiting his family at 119 North Twenty-third avenue west, has returned to Minneapolis.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will speak on "Christ in the Home" at the special revival services to be held in the church this evening. The meetings will be continued every evening this week.

The Alpha-Omega club of the West end will entertain at an informal party in the clubrooms of the Mohaupt building tomorrow evening. A musical program has been arranged.

Miss Esther Anderson, 7620 West Fifth street, will entertain this evening for the Young Ladies' Society of Zion Norwegian Lutheran church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish Methodist church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the church.

Mrs. Louis Peterson, 3910 Halifax street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for the Serepta Ladies' Aid society at her home.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dwyer, 2221 West Third street, at St. Mary's hospital, on Monday.

SPRING BELIEVED NOT FAR AWAY

Geese Are Seen Flying North, Which Is Considered Sure Sign

When geese begin to fly north, it is a sure sign that spring is not far off, according to some prominent naturalist—Ernest Seton-Thompson, Jack London or perhaps Theodore Roosevelt.

Duluth authorities disagree as to the origin of this belief, but it is generally accepted as a true indication, and woodsmen say there is no better weather prophet than the wild goose, not even his majesty the ground hog.

During the last day or two several reports have been received telling of wild geese en route northward to the summer homes along the Canadian lakes.

W. J. Rood, a farmer of Northern Minnesota, saw a flock of about twenty "honkers" yesterday, he says, headed for Manitoba, and accordingly he expects to be able to get out into his fields before very long.

There is some question as to whether Mr. G. Hog saw his shadow on Ground-Hog day. Warm weather which has followed carries out the opinion that he didn't, and the geese have strengthened this belief.

"By George! I hope it's true," say the Common People.

"Nothin' to it," says the coal man.

HELD ON CHARGE OF ROBBING TILL

Action Brought Against William Wardak By Hotel Clerk.

Accused of having stolen $26 from the till at the Park hotel, Sixth avenue west and Superior street, last Thursday night, William Wardak, aged 26, was arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury, bail being fixed at $500. First Assistant County Attorney Mason Forbes appeared for the state.

J. N. Starliha, clerk at the hotel, says Wardak had been hanging around all evening, and that finally, when no one else was in the room, he saw him slip up to the cash register.

After a chase of several blocks, Patrolman Le Beau found Wardak hiding in a wagon box near the Salvation Army hall. In his pocket was $26 in bills, the amount missed from the till.

Despite the evidence, Wardak has maintained his innocence from the time of his arrest. He told the court that the money was some he had secured by cashing a time check from a Cloquet lumber company for which he had been working.

TWO PRIZES GO TO HARVARD MEN

Results of National Economic Essay Contests Are Announced.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Two prizes out of four were taken by Harvard men in a national essay competition endowed by Hart Schaffner & Marx of this city.

First prize of $1,000 went to Donald Earl Dunbar for a paper entitled "A Comparative Study of the Welsh and American Tinplate Industries." The other Harvard winner received $300. He was Richard S. Meriam. His topic was "The Webbs' Theory of Wages."

Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of Chicago university was chairman of the committee of college professors making the awards. Albert H. Leake of Ontario, Can., captured the second prize of $500, writing on "Agricultural Education." The fourth award, $200, went to Niles Carpenter, a student of Northwestern university, Chicago. His paper discussed "A Comparison of the Financial Operations of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company During the Panic of 1907 and Period Preceding."

This was the tenth annual contest held. Essays were received up to June 1, 1914, and the committee used the intervening time to make careful selection.

The Blazed Trail to Motor-Car Satisfaction

Follow the trail blazed for you by ten thousand owners of the Hudson Light Six-40. These men have tried and tested the Hudson in forty-three countries. They are enthusiasts over the beauty, the luxury, the economy and the road-performance of the car. Dissatisfaction and expense are sure to follow if one experiments with novelties or buys a car built at a venture. Experienced motorists always advise the selection of tried and proven standard cars built by makers of unquestioned stability. You can't go wrong if you follow the trail blazed by ten thousand experienced motor car owners.

HUDSON SIX

The Hudson sets the standard. You must see it before you decide. Come, let us show you the car and take you for a drive. You be the judge.

HUSBAND HAS BEEN SPHINX

Wife Says He Has Treated Her With Contempt Since Arrest.

Has Technically Obeyed Court's Order But She Wants Divorce.

When Mrs. Annie Komay had her husband, Joseph Komay, haled before a court on a non-support charge one day last autumn, she opened a sore spot in their family life which has never healed over. And although perhaps technically obeying the order which the court made with reference to contributing to her support, Komay has treated her with silent contempt ever since. Their troubles are being aired in district court before Judge Ensign at the trial of an action in which Mrs. Komay is seeking a legal separation and alimony from her husband.

Mrs. Komay testified that since the police court episode her husband has maintained a sphinx-like attitude except on occasions when he thought of something particularly vile and insulting to say to her. In his actions, she said, he was sullen and morose. He has paid the grocery and meat bills in accordance with the court's orders but has failed to keep her provided with clothes. At times, she claimed, he had been cruel in other ways. She told of one instance when he threatened to throw her down stairs.

Both have been married before. She had five children by her former marriage and he had two daughters, whom Komay, in his answer, alleges lived with him until his wife and her children made it too unpleasant for them. Mrs. Komay, on the other hand, claims that he threatened to throw her children out of the house. Komay, in asking that the case be dismissed, alleges that his wife and step-children are scheming to get him to leave home. He charges that they recently offered him $1,000 if he would relinquish all claim to the property.

Mrs. Komay asks for a divorce, one-third of her husband's property and permanent alimony. She also asks for the custody of their one child, Joseph, aged 3. Mrs. Komay is 38 and he is 46. They were married at Cambridge, Ohio, Sept. 22, 1910. Komay owns property at Gary, where they have been residing.

* * *

Primas Gerchar, 32, yesterday instituted suit for divorce against his wife, Frances Gerchar, 22, on the grounds of desertion. They were married at Virginia on Nov. 8, 1911, and according to his story she abandoned him on Dec. 20 of the same year, and took her maiden name, that of Frances Korachich.

* * *

Charging that his wife, Angela Erjovec, 28, committed adultery with one Matt Bukevich at Gilbert on Aug. 11, 1913, Anton Erjovec, 38, started suit for divorce in district court today. They were united in marriage at Sparta, May 17, 1903, and lived together until he discovered her infidelity, he says. He asks for the custody of their three children: Anton, 10; Louis, 9, and Angela, 7.

* * *

Notes of issue for new divorce cases to be tried at the March term of court were filed with the clerk today in the following cases: Olivia Swanson vs. Theodore Swanson, Ellen Lindstrom vs. John A. Lindstrom, Harry A. French vs. Margaret French.

SEWING CLUB VS. HUSBAND

Latter Loses in E. W. Nelson Family and Divorce Suit Results.

When Edward W. Nelson 50, of the West end, forbade his wife to join a certain church sewing circle to which a number of friends and acquaintances belonged and then refused to permit them to visit at her home, she rebelled and made up her mind that she would rather become a widow with six children again than to remain the wife of a prosperous feed merchant.

Mrs. Nelson promised that she would love, honor and obey when she took the wedding vows with Nelson less than two years ago, but she did not anticipate, according to her story, that she would be subject to dictatorial commands from an uncompromising spouse. She alleges that ever since they were married, up to the time that she left him—on Dec. 6, 1914—he made it an object to worry, vex and injure her feelings. On that occasion, she says, he charged her with insanity.

Before her marriage with Nelson she was a widow with six children. Nelson, the defendant in the divorce action, is a member of the firm of Nelson & Peterson, which operates a grain elevator and a feed store at the West end. She alleges that he is worth upwards of $40,000 and has an annual income of $3,000.

Mrs. Nelson asks for permission to resume her former name, that of Mrs. Bessie Hanson.

FIRST DAY FOR FILING

Candidates Have Ten Days To Enter Race for City Offices.

Tomorrow morning candidates for the city commission and the municipal judgeship may begin filing their nomination petitions and next Monday afternoon the commissioners will formally call the election for Tuesday, April, 6.

Candidates for office have ten days in which to file, making Sunday, March 7, the last day as provided by the charter. However, the state law makes a provision that if the last day falls on Sunday, then Monday shall be included, so that candidates will have one day of grace.

By next Monday morning it is expected that the charter commission will present its amendment, so that it may be voted on at the afternoon meeting. At that time the commissioners will vote on it and order it placed on the regular ballot.

There will be two registration days this year on Tuesday, March 9, and Saturday, March 13.

The voters will select two candidates for the commission to fill the short terms of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, both of whom are seeking re-election, and a successor to Judge Windom, whose term will expire next January. Judge Windom is also making the race for another term.

GERMAN GUN EXPLODES; SIX MEN ARE KILLED.

Geneva, Feb. 24, via Paris.—One of the largest and newest of the heavy German guns, which was being used in the bombardment of a position of the allies near Thann, Alsace, exploded today. One officer and five gunners were killed.

PLAN ATTACK ON RUSSIAN FORTS

Russ Staff Thinks Germans Will Then Attempt Southerly Movement.

Petrograd, Feb. 24, via London.—Officers of the Russian general staff believe that the German plan of operations in Northern Poland is to concentrate attention upon the Russian fortresses along the rivers Niemen and Bobr, and with their left wing safely established on Russian territory, to make a general southerly movement, meeting the Austro-German forces advancing northward from the Carpathians and acquiring a large section of Poland in addition to that already under their control.

The success of this gigantic movement is dependent upon the ability of the Germans to capture the line of fortresses, of which Ossowetz is the first to be singled out.

The latest communication from the Russian general staff indicates that the Germans have achieved no success in this initial attempt.

In view of the difficulty of penetrating the fortified line at this point, where the marshy land presents a serious obstacle, the Germans evidently are shifting their attack to Lomza, hoping to encircle the fortresses instead of taking them by direct assault.

TREATMENT OF PRISONERS

Steps Taken By German Foreign Office Explained in Diet.

Unable to Reach Satisfactory Agreement With the Allies.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—The steps taken by the foreign office in the matter of the treatment afforded German civil and military prisoners in hostile lands were described today in the lower house of the Prussian diet in connection with the budget for foreign affairs.

The spokesman of the government said the foreign office had in the beginning called attention to the provisions of The Hague conference bearing upon prisoners. For civilians living in hostile lands at the outbreak of warfare there existed no regulations, it was explained, and it was the view of Germany that these persons should be permitted to leave the country and return home. Such agreements had been reached with Serbia and Japan. France, Great Britain and Russia, however, had refused to permit able bodied belligerent aliens to leave the country and most of these men in France and England were interned. It had been possible therefore to reach an agreement with these countries only for the departure of women and children and men of a non-military age.

Many Complaints Received.

Many complaints of the improper treatment of German prisoners, the speaker in the diet continued, had been received and investigated by American diplomatic officials and other neutral persons and a great number of abuses had been corrected. Germany had not hesitated to adopt counter-measures corresponding to those operative in hostile countries in order to force better treatment for interned Germans.

Frenchmen, Russians and British subjects of military age were forbidden to leave the country, it was explained and the French and the British have been interned. If the report is confirmed, it was declared, that German civil prisoners in hostile countries are being compelled to work, the same treatment would be accorded civil prisoners in Germany. The limitation on the amount of money a prisoner may receive as an allowance is based on the restrictions in this direction adopted by hostile countries.

WANTS $8,150 FOR BEING CRIPPLED

William J. Wright Sues John M. Ford and His Chauffeur.

John M. Ford and his chauffeur, John Black, Jr., are named as defendants in a personal injury case today instituted in district court by William James Wright, who claims that he was knocked down and severely injured Nov. 22, 1914, while crossing West First street between Fourth and Fifth avenues west. As a result of the accident he has been made a cripple for life, as his right ankle has been left in a permanently stiffened condition. He asks $8,150 damages. In an answer also filed today the defendants deny their liability and allege that they were not responsible for the accident.

To Issue Second War Loan.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London, 5:45 p. m. —The imperial government will issue shortly its second 5 per cent war loan. This is to consist of 1,000,000,000 marks ($250,000,000) in treasury notes, maturing at an average of five years. The issue price will be about 98.50.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

WARNED "ONLY" EIGHT TIMES.

Otto Eerola Gets Twenty-Day Sentence for Fuel Theft.

EIGHT warnings weren't enough for Otto Eerola, aged 28, who protested vigorously in municipal court this morning when Special Agent Hindrum of the Northern Pacific testified that he had warned the prisoner about a dozen times that he was breaking the law.

When the officer's statement was translated to Eerola by Detective Gustav Lahti, who acted as interpreter, he became very indignant.

"Twelve times!" he cried, "why that's a lie. He only has warned me eight times."

Eerola had been picking up wood and coal along the Northern Pacific right of way, according to the evidence. He was sentenced to twenty days at the work farm for trespass.

FIRES TWICE AT HIS OWN HEAD

Victor Ranta Misses, But "Will Do Better Next Time."

"So be warned by my lot,
(Which I know you will not)
And learn about women from me."

Although Victor Ranta, aged 36, may never have heard of Rudyard Kipling and his poetry, he has, in common with the English writer, a dislike for the fair sex. He tried to commit suicide yesterday afternoon, and gave as the reason the unfortunate outcome of his various affairs of the heart.

Ranta entered the saloon of Karl Lehto, 224 South First avenue east, about 4 o'clock, and drawing a 38-caliber revolver, fired two shots at his own head, with very poor aim. Both bullets went wild, one of them spoiling the front window and the other passing through the door casing.

Bystanders disarmed him before he could fire again, and he was taken to police headquarters by Patrolman Harling, who was near by. Ranta was sentenced to 60 days in the work farm for disorderly conduct when he appeared in municipal court this morning.

After sentence had been pronounced, he started to leave the room in the custody of Capt. A. G. Fiskett, stopping long enough to say:

"I'll do better next time."

FORTY DAYS FOR "JOKE."

Helmer Johnson Gives Motormen the "Ha, Ha;" Bluecoat Objects.

A new game was invented yesterday by Helmer Johnson and it netted him a 40-day sentence at the work farm when he appeared in municipal court this morning.

He stood on West Superior street, near the Soo depot corner, and stopped every street car as it came along. When the gates were opened, Johnson would laugh, wave a friendly little greeting to the motorman, and step back.

After he had stopped several cars Patrolman James Wood evinced a desire to get into the game, and the fun ceased.

YOUTHFUL SUSPECT.

Moose Lake Boy Arrested as Possible Robber of Home Postoffice.

Jesse James or Nick Carter are thought to have a youthful admirer in Neilla Sanders, a 14-year-old school boy of Moose Lake, Minn., who was arrested this afternoon as a suspect in the robbery of the postoffice at Moose Lake several days ago.

Neilla was seen loitering around the Union depot, and when questioned by the police, told several conflicting stories of a trip to St. Paul, Superior and Duluth.

He ran away from home, he said, because he was afraid he was going to be arrested for robbing the postoffice, although he didn't do it. Chief of Police Troyer has communicated with Moose Lake authorities, and is holding the boy pending the receipt of their reply.

TWO SEEK DAMAGES FROM TRACTION CO.

The Duluth Street Railway company is defendant in three personal injury actions which were filed this morning in district court, in which damages aggregating $6,270 are asked.

Albert Milostan is plaintiff in two of the actions, one in which he is asking $5,000 for the benefit of his 20-year-old son, Leo Milostan, and the other in which he is seeking $440 damages for his own benefit. In the third case, Robert Gustafson wants the company to compensate him for injuries in the amount of $830.

The accident on which the first two actions is based occurred when a street car and a motorcycle on which Leo Milostan was riding, collided. The young man was riding across Third street at Twenty-third avenue west at 7:45 o'clock on the evening of Oct. 1, when he was struck by a passing street car. He received a deep gash in his head and was rendered unconscious by a blow which fractured his skull. The boy's father asks separate damages because of the action.

Gustafson alleges that while riding a bicycle along Second street between Fourth and Fifth avenues east on Second street he was struck by a westbound car and severely injured. He was traveling in the same direction as the car that struck him.

ALL MEMBERS OF CREW OF THE CARIB SAVED.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—A dispatch received in Berlin from the American vice consul at Bremerhaven declared that all members of the crew of the American steamer Carib, reported yesterday as having sunk in the North sea, have been saved. It is understood, the vice consul continues, that the Carib struck a mine in the Bight of Helgoland the afternoon of Feb. 22.

WILL DISCUSS COUNTY DIVISION AT CLUB.

The state and county committee of the Commercial club will hold a meeting tomorrow noon after the lunch hour, at which the proposed division of St. Louis county will be discussed. It is expected that the committee will recommend adversely on the matter and will ask the Duluth members of the legislature to use their efforts against it.

The legislative committee will meet tomorrow noon also. It has several matters before it for discussion and action.

Woman's Realm

A most enjoyable program was given last evening at Glen Avon Presbyterian church when R. Buchanan Morton played organ and piano numbers and Mrs. Morton sang two of her husband's compositions and familiar Scotch songs.

The program opened with the organ number, "Finlandia" by the Finnish composer Sibelius. This was followed by two Beethoven compositions, andante in F major and a sonata in F minor, commonly called "Appassionata." This was given by request. Mr. Morton showed his great musicianship in the interpretation of this magnificent classic.

Nine selections from Schumann's "Kinderscenen" expressed many moods and included the well-known and greatly loved "Traumerei."

Mr. Morton's second organ number was "Harmonies de Soir," by Karg-Elert. "Shifflieder" by Seeling and "La Regatta Veneziana" by Liszt were the last compositions on the program, but an encore of piano sketches had to be given before the audience would consider the evening of music completed.

"Somebody," composed by Mr. Morton from Burns' poem and still unpublished, was sung by Mrs. Morton, who gave another of her husband's compositions, "Proud Maisie," "Leezie Lindsay," "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon" and "Annie Laurie" formed a delightful group and were given with great charm.

Mr. Morton, who is a new member of the musical circle of Duluth, has earned an enviable reputation for unusual ability during his short residence here.

ART HISTORY CLASS.

St. Gaudins, French, MacMonnies and Bartlett Are Studied.

St. Gaudens, French, Bartlett and MacMonnies were studied yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the art history class of the Twentieth Century club that is now on the subject of American sculpture.

Mrs. C. V. Greer whose topic was St. Gaudens, said he represented the third period of American sculpture, beginning about 1876, and asserted hi screative power, taking broader and more lasting themes than his predecessors had done. She traced his studies from the time he was apprenticed to a cameo cutter at the age of 13, through his work at the National Academy of Designs in New York, to his period of study and work in Paris and Rome, and his return to the United States where he executed many remarkable portraits, statues and plaques. "He had an instinctive sense of form," she said; "he saw the whole and subjugated details."

Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., spoke of Daniel French, who experimented in fields and accomplished more in ten years than many a sculptor does in a lifetime. Among the works of this artist, whose mother was a niece of Benjamin West, Mrs. Jamar mentioned the "Minute Man" at Concord, the greatly admired production, "Death and the Sculptor" and "Alma Mater" at Columbia university.

Miss Clara Shaver commented on the realism and idealism of Frederick MacMonnies, whose bronze statues range from the pagan joy represented by "The Bacchante With Infant" to his dignified bust of Shakespeare. She explained that he was little known until 1893 when he was chosen to design the Columbian fountain of the World's fair in Chicago, solely upon the recommendation of his teacher, St. Gaudens.

Miss Jessie Case described the work of Paul Bartlett who exhibited a bust of his grandmother when he was 14 years old and who is best known as the sculptor of "The Bear Tamer" that is in the Metropolitan museum in New York, the portrait statues of Columbus and Michelangelo in the congressional library and the equestrian statue of Lafayette that was a gift to France from the school children of the United States.

Miss Gertrude Carey, chairman of the class, was in charge of the meeting.

The sculpture and architecture of the Chicago World's fair and the Panama exposition will be considered at the next meeting of the class that will be held March 8.

TO PRESIDE AT DIXIE SOCIETY DINNER GIVEN IN NEW YORK

MRS. HENRY PIERSON.

Mrs. Henry Pierson will preside at the annual dinner of the Dixie society to be held in New York. All the representative southerners in the big city belong to this organization, which is planned to preserve the spirit and traditions of the South for those southerners who have made New York their home.

Patriotic Entertainment.

A Washington's birthday entertainment was given last evening at Memorial hall, courthouse, by the Ladies of the G. A. R., J. B. Culver corps, No. 69, W. R. C., Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, and Spanish war veterans. The following program was given:

John Norton presided.

W. R. C. Meeting.

J. B. Culver corps, No. 69, W. R. C., will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Memorial hall, courthouse. Mrs. Esther Stitt will be the hostess for the social half hour.

Colonial Party.

Rev. and Mrs. U. S. Villars of 5451 East Superior street entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of Lester Park church last evening at a Martha Washington party. The guests wore colonial costumes, powdered hair and patches. Flags and cherries were used in the decorations, a spinning wheel helped carry out the colonial idea, and a negro mammy ushered in the guests. Mrs. Edgar G. Smith and Rev. Mr. Villars sang old-time songs.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. W. W. Nott of 1008 East Second street was surprised last evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Mrs. D. Burnett presented Mrs. Nott with a mahogany tray, the gift of those present. Five hundred was played at five tables, and favors were won by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wood.

Card Party.

Five hundred and pedro were played at fourteen tables at the card party given last evening at Foresters' hall by Dewey camp, Royal neighbors of America. Mrs. V. Williams and B. Wagner won the first prizes and Mrs. Gill and J. R. Robinson were awarded the consolation prizes.

L. and M. Bridge Club.

At the meeting of the L. and M. Bridge club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Martin, favors at auction bridge were won by Mrs. G. V. Heathcote and Mrs. John B. Greenfield. Mrs. James A. Kirkwood will be the hostess for the next meeting.

"Faust" Is Continued.

The study of "Faust," under the leadership of Rev. George R. Gebauer, was continued at the meeting of the Ladies' Literature class held yesterday at the home of Mrs. David Davis, 2630 East Superior street. An informal discussion followed the reading.

Recital and Reception Postponed.

It has been found necessary to postpone the Matinee Musicale recital and Mrs. Alexander Milne's reception that were to have been held at the normal school Friday afternoon.

Cities Are Studied.

At the meeting of the department of education and home of the Twentieth Century club held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom the reforms that have taken place in some of the large cities of the United States were discussed.

Mrs. C. H. Merritt, whose subject was Boston, spoke of the free kindergarten, the hospital ships used for poor children during the summer, the magnificent free memorial clinic and the improvement of the streets.

Mrs. C. R. Keyes traced the regimes that formed the early history of romantic New Orleans, leading up to the great civic improvements that have been introduced there.

Mrs. W. S. Donat whose talk was on Western cities paid particular attention to the reforms that have been brought about in San Francisco.

Surette Lectures.

Thomas Whitney Surette of Concord, Mass., who will lecture Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Pilgrim Congregational church under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale, may be called an apostle of good music as he has made it his profession to spread the gospel of good music broadcast. These lectures will not be for musical persons only, but will interest persons at large, as they deal not only with music, but with literature, painting and other forms of expression.

Church Meetings.

A day of prayer will be observed tomorrow by the Interdenominational Missionary union at the First Presbyterian church. The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock and the roll call will be at 11 o'clock. Mrs. W. J. McCabe will lead the prayer service, Mrs. E. R. Cobb will give the Scripture reading and reports will be given of all the societies belonging to the union.

At 12:30 o'clock a basket luncheon will be served.

At the afternoon session that will begin at 2 o'clock the prayer service will be led by Mrs. J. C. Swan and Mrs. D. J. Gray. Mrs. J. M. St. Clair will lead the responsive Scripture, Mrs. Nell B. Morrison will sing and the following talks will be given: "The Essentials of Effective Prayer," Miss Ella L. Roe; "Prayer in the Life of the Missionary," Mrs. W. B. Patton; "Prayer in the Life of the Christian at Home," Mrs. E. C. Maltas; "Prayer in the Life of Christ," Mrs. John McLeod. The afternoon prayer service will be led by Mrs. J. C. Swan and Mrs. D. J. Gray.

The meetings will be open to all women who are interested.

* * *

The Woman's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. Grimwood, 5331 East Superior street.

Meeting at Bethel.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of Central Baptist church, will speak at the women's meeting at the Bethel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A social half hour will conclude the afternoon. Women from all parts of the city are invited.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Congdon, Miss Helen Congdon and Miss Marjorie Congdon of London road, accompanied by Miss Marjorie's guest, Miss Currier of Massachusetts, have gone to California. They will visit the exposition.

* * *

Cecil Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Myers, who has been attending Culver Military academy at Culver, Ind., was operated on for appendicitis Sunday evening at South Bend, Ind. The operation was successful, and he is reported to be progressing favorably. Mr. and Mrs. Myers, who are in South Bend, will probably return with their son as soon as he is well enough to travel.

* * *

Miss Charlotte Brocklehurst of 1939 Minnesota avenue, who is at St. Luke's hospital, is improving.

* * *

Dr. C. E. Lum and Mrs. Lum, 1103 First street, will leave Sunday for California, to be gone a month. They will attend the exposition at San Diego and San Francisco.

* * *

Mrs. W. J. Nott of Menomonie, Wis., has returned after a several days' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nott, 1008 East Second street.

* * *

C. E. Jeronimus of Minneapolis is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Jeronimus, 17 East Fourth street, for several days.

* * *

Mrs. M. Zorotic of Ely has returned after a several days' visit in the city.

* * *

Miss Jane Melville of 1911 East Fourth street left yesterday for St. Paul, where she will be the guest of Miss Hoy.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Ceass of 119 Twenty-third avenue west has as her guest Mrs. George Carpenter of Virginia and her son George of Minneapolis.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards and daughter of 1325 London road returned Monday morning from Negaunee, Mich., where they spent a week with relatives.

LAMBS' CLUB GROWING MORE AMBITIOUS

Has Remarkable Growth; Plans Big Concert and Another Amateur Play.

The Lambs' Club of the Central high school, which is the youngest and richest organization of that institution, has shown remarkable activity and development since it was organized a short time ago, and its members are becoming ambitious to do bigger things.

The young club now has thirty members and fifty more students on the waiting list. The desire to get into this club seems to be keen.

The money possessed by the club seems to be filling the members with ginger and great eagerness to spend some of the "roll" for altruistic purposes. The sum of $200 or more was netted from the show recently given at the Lyceum theater, and $100 of this is available for any purpose decided upon by the club members. The balance was turned over to the Zenith board.

The best way to dispose of it according to most of the members is to give a concert to the school children of Duluth. It is planned to employ the Duluth Concert orchestra for this occasion. It is desired that admission be free, but if the $100 is insufficient to pay the orchestra, the club will probably arrange to charge 5 cents admission.

The club also is planning to give another play—this time something a little better than the "burnt-cork" stuff. Some of the members favor playing the trial scene from "Pickwick," which they believe would be entertaining and a very creditable vehicle for the young actors. Harry Haines is the president of the club.

ACTRESS SAYS SHE IS TO WED MILLIONAIRE

GERTRUDE DALLAS.

Gertrude Dallas says she is going to marry a Pittsburg millionaire. Gertrude is of the stage and that is a favorite recreation of pulchritudinous actresses. So the announcement is not surprising. Gertrude is more coy than the average actress and refuses to give the name of her fiance or to identify him further than to say that his name is as well-known as that of Carnegie. Gertrude is playing in "Sinners" at the Playhouse in New York. This is a play of the style of "Way Down East," which Owen Davis wrote and which seems to have got a grip on all the lovers of "b'gosh" drama in New York.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Hawthorne of the U. S. A."
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
EMPRESS—"Forty-five Minutes From Broadway."
REX—"Mistress Nell," photoplay.

Popularity Growing.

The growing popularity of Miss Margaret Lotus of the Baldwin Players, with the regular patrons of the company, is shown by the reception given her at every performance this week. Miss Lotus has been with the company several weeks, but it has happened that each week until the present one, that she has drawn rather insignificant parts. The plays chosen have not provided any important roles for her, until this week. This week she is cast as Kate Ballard, the young American girl, traveling with her father in the capital of the mythical country of Borovino. She has a much better opportunity to show what she can do than in any previous play, and she takes good advantage of it. Her scene with Walter Baldwin in the last act is one of the best bits in the play, and she has been warmly greeted by the audience at every performance this week.

Despite the fact that this is the first week of Lent, the attendance this week has been fully up to the average, if not ahead of it. The combination of a new play that has never been seen here before, a new leading woman, and automobile week, seems to have been most effective in maintaining interest during the dullest season of the year in the theatrical world.

Next week the Baldwin Players will present "Tess of the Storm Country."

Will Close Saturday.

The Duluth Orpheum theater will close its doors Saturday night, for an indefinite period.

Manager Ross L. Garver said this morning he had received notice that this would be the last week, but that he had no directions as to what would be done with the theater.

"We will simply lock up," said Mr. Garver. "I shall remain here for some time at least, for somebody will have to look after the theater. There have been dozens of rumors as to what will be done, but I have nothing definite from headquarters."

There is a well defined rumor current that the Orpheum will reopen on Easter Sunday with the full Orpheum shows again, and that the old scale of prices will be restored, but Mr. Garver could neither confirm nor deny this report.

Grand Will Change Bill.

The last performance of the present bill at the New Grand will be given today. It has been said that there is more comedy in this bill than any seen at this popular playhouse in many weeks.

Hugo Lutgens, who impersonates a Swedish preacher in his Sunday morning discourse, is what might be termed a "scream." His act is original and new.

Dow and Dow, Hebrew comedians, in "Fun Aboard a Comic Cruiser," have a novelty that is one of the big hits of the bill.

The three-reel Broadway Star feature, "How Cissy Made Good" is a comedy which introduces all the Vitagraph stars and shows the inner workings of the Vitagraph studio. "Her Sister," a heart interest drama; "Getting Rid of Nephew," a comedy, and a colored educational film complete the bill.

Tomorrow the bill will change entirely and will be headlined by George Wilson, blackface comedian, of Primrose & Wilson minstrel fame. Le Roy and Cahill bon ton entertainers; Campbell and Brady in an artistic novelty and the great Marriott troupe in a cycle and monoplane novelty are among the vaudeville offerings.

The Hearst-Selig News of Events; "Dwellers in Glass Houses," a pretty drama; one of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Escape on the Fast Freight," and a comedy, "Sophie's Fatal Wedding" complete the program.

Wanted His Own Company.

Because he wanted to direct his own company, Hudson Freeborn, a member of the Manhattan players at the New Empress, appearing this week in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," left "The Red Canary" to come to Duluth. Mr. Freeborn is the director of the local players and is in charge of all the shows.

Mr. Freeborn played with Madame Abarbanelle in "The Red Canary" for nearly a year, when he gave up his part to take charge of the local players. During recent years he was associated with such stars as Edna May, Grace van Studdiford, Mabel Wilber and Alice Hegeman. Two years ago he played one of the leading roles with Dianne D'Aubrey in "The Innocent Sinner."

Besides directing the company Mr. Freeborn also plays leading roles and this week is appearing as Tom Bennett, the heir to the millions left by Cornelius Castleton.

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" will continue throughout this week, with a regular matinee Saturday afternoon.

Next week the Manhattan players will appear in "The Telephone Girl," in which Louis Mann starred for two years.

Mary Pickford Returns.

For two days, Wednesday and Thursday, the daring days of gay King Charles II as portrayed in the famous drama "Mistress Nell," will be the feature at the Rex theater.

Mary Pickford in this Famous Player-Paramount feature is the same charming "Little Mary." In some scenes one has the feeling that Little Mary is too dainty and little for the part of Mistress Nell as readers have always associated this part with big women. But despite these defects, the story is beautifully worked out, and costuming and setting are perfect. One very pleasing new feature is the close-up views of Mary working opposite Owen Moore, whose work always meets with decided favor. If there were nothing else to the film these close-ups of Little Mary's expressive face depicting the emotions of the various scenes are worth while.

Big Crowd Expected.

"Put-it-offs" will be sorry they didn't get the suit or coat you may get for $5 at Gray's tomorrow.

NEVADA DIVORCE BILL SIGNED BY GOVERNOR.

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 24.—Governor Doyle signed the six months residence divorce bill late yesterday. The bill restores the law relating to divorce as it was two years ago.

Bury Steenerson's Brother.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 24.—The funeral of Levi Steenerson, aged 68, a pioneer of Polk county, who died of apoplexy was held at Climax a few days ago. He was a brother of Congressman Steenerson and Former Postmaster Elias Steenerson. He was the first to locate in the town of Vineland, now the townsite of Climax, going on a homestead in 1871. He served several terms on the county board and always manifested a keen interest in public affairs. Mr. Steenerson was originally agent for the Hudson Bay company. He left a wife and three daughters, all of Climax.

MAKING READY FOR BIG STYLE SHOW

Dates Advanced and American-Made Goods Will Be Featured.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee that has charge of the style show which Duluth merchants will conduct during the latter part of March, two important steps were determined upon, the first being the advancing of the dates. The original dates called for the last three days of the week beginning March 21, but as that was too close to Easter, it was decided that the opening day of the style show—the day on which the window displays would be revealed, would be changed to March 22, Monday of that week, and that the selling feature days would remain the last two. Yesterday, however, it was determined to change the days to the first three business days of the week, March 22, 23 and 24.

Another important decision was that American-made goods would be featured during the style show days to demonstrate to the shopping public that Americans have lost nothing in style or attractiveness by the curtailing of European-made goods.

The shades that conceal the window displays will be removed on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at a given signal by the firing of bombs on each of the street corners in the downtown district. The stores will remain closed that evening from 6 to 7 and will then reopen until 9:30, not for selling, but for display. The two following days, however, will be devoted to merchandising.

It has also been determined that instead of restricting the prizes for the best essays to individuals over 16 years of age the contest will be thrown open to all, without age limit.

ADMITS RECEIVING STOLEN GROCERIES.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Jennie Davis pleaded guilty yesterday before Justice Phil McLoughlin to receiving the groceries stolen from the Wilson store last Friday night, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and spend thirty days in the county jail.

The cases of Edward Mallory, John Mullen and William Gardner, charged with burglary in connection with the same affair, were continued until 10 o'clock next Friday morning.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Liquor Appetite Is Dangerous.

The habit of drinking intoxicants is so common among men that I cannot foresee the end of the custom. There are pitiable sights to be seen in our courts every day in the shape of men whose lives are wrecked because of their appetite for drink. They are there charged with all manner of unlawful acts, from disturbance of the peace to murder. This goes on year after year and men do not seem to profit by the terrible examples of others who have gone before them.

Despite all the sad havoc wrought by drink, from my observation I am convinced that the men who drink occasionally or moderately far outnumber those who drink to excess. There is a class composed of men who have no particular desire or appetite for liquor but who, through habit, drink a small quantity each working day. They go out with a customer or a friend once or twice a day to convenient places, which abound everywhere in cities, but when they are home evenings and Sundays such a thing never occurs to them, which seems to prove that it is simply a habit which they might break themselves of without difficulty.

On the other hand, there are men who have an overmastering something—call it appetite, disease or whatever you will—who are perfect slaves to alcoholic beverages and the problem is how are they to be helped without trespassing on the rights of others? It is a question whether a man who drinks constantly is secure against a fate which means a sad ending if not disgrace. As a rule the drunkard commences his career early in life and goes slowly and almost imperceptibly downward to the awful end.

But there is another class. I once knew a man who had been a moderate drinker all of his life until the time he was 60 years old. Then a great misfortune overtook him and he commenced to drink heavily, and finally died a drunken outcast in the streets of New York. In the light of such things what man can say that he is safe from what we may justly term an insidious foe to human happiness?

An acquaintance, who might be called a light drinker, remarked to me on this very subject that he had never felt the slightest inclination to use liquor to excess. He pitied those who had the overmastering appetite and would be glad to see the traffic abolished, solely for the benefit of those who could not withstand the temptation. And perhaps this is the only way that material results will ever be accomplished.

HOW THE WOMEN VOTE.

Carter Harrison, like his father, is to retire from the office of mayor of Chicago at the close of his fifth term. The primary election yesterday settled that. But there are several features in the Chicago vote that are interesting to note.

The First ward helped materially in defeating the mayor for the Democratic nomination, turning him down by about six to one in favor of Sweitzer. And it was this First ward, with Bathhouse John and Hinky Dink as its political overlords, that gave Harrison his victory over Merriam in the last election. Apparently the mayor's attacks on the saloons left him few friends in the First.

Apparently, also, the effect of the women's vote on the election was greatly over-estimated. Although some hundred and fifty-five thousand votes were cast by women—a record for a Chicago primary—Harrison, who had ardently advocated woman suffrage and who, through his war on the saloons, had been expected to get most of the women's votes and perhaps win with them, received only 36,207 of them while Sweitzer, his opponent, got 57,666. The total vote for Sweitzer was 182,534, and that for Harrison was 104,283. Eliminate the women's votes and Sweitzer still is the winner by about two to one.

In the Republican vote the women also failed to influence the result, though they reduced the small plurality given to Thompson over Olson.

Chicago threatens to enforce the law against betting on elections. A whole lot of people will wonder what's the use of having an election.

A CHANCE FOR THE JITNEYS?

Some of the Eastern papers are proposing, apparently in all seriousness, that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway be torn up and abandoned, as having done its work. They say it isn't needed any more, and some of them suggest, even if they don't come right out and say it, that there is such a hoodoo over the whole outfit that the sooner the country is rid of it, the better.

It's a little hard to see just what these suggestions would lead to. There isn't anything to show that the New Haven has quit carrying people or freight. The idea of there being a hoodoo on it is comprehensible enough, but it has been a managerial hoodoo rather than the kind that scares the Southern negro.

But maybe the folks who are back of these suggestions are figuring on putting in a jitney line to take the place of the New Haven. If that's the case, let 'em hop to it. The country is all more or less interested in jitneys just now, and the operation of one in place of an old established railway would give it a test that would be reasonably conclusive.

The national senate and house spent $109,000,000 yesterday. How'd you like to be the national senate and house?

STILL ANOTHER FORM.

Among the bills before the Iowa legislature is one providing for the operation of "municipal social center houses" in any city that chooses to establish them. The plan is to have a building to which the people can go for recreation, reading or social purposes, with a room in which the men can smoke and with an auditorium for purposes of general assembly and in which to hold lectures and other entertainments.

The plan is not particularly different from what has been attempted in other places, except in the idea of having a separate building for these purposes. But the striking thing about it is that after all it is only one more effort to apply the principles of the social center.

It would be hard to find out just how strong a grip this social or civic center movement has on the cities of the country. One after another has taken up the work, generally by means of opening the schoolhouses to the use of the people. And in many, if not in most, instances where there has been anybody with the time and energy and skill to lead in the affair, it has been a distinct success.

How much of benefit would come from the adoption of this Iowa plan is very much of a problem. It is claimed that it would make the place a kind of club house that would attract men from less desirable localities. Perhaps it would. But it seems that the same result might be obtained by making proper use of the schoolhouses, in which the public already has considerable sums invested which are making returns only a part of the day. If this could be done, it would seem infinitely wiser and better than to tie up still more money in another establishment which, after all, would be used mainly only when the school building was not being used.

The votes cast at the East St. Louis primary yesterday cost the city three hundred dollars apiece. Seems as if it would have paid the city to do its own voting.

AS TO SENATOR ROOT.

Such newspapers as see fit to oppose the ship purchase bill are making much of the fact that Senator Elihu Root of New York is active in opposition to it. They want the country to understand that they are horribly shocked and mortified and scandalized to think that anybody could consider that with Senator Root on one side of the question, there could even be any other side worth mentioning. "Such a man as Mr. Root"—that is the way they put it.

It's not uninteresting to look back a little and see where "such a man as Mr. Root" stands. In the first place we must remember that the opposition to this bill, in its inception and in the bulk of its operation, was Republican. Yes, and "old line" Republican, at that. Which after all is but another way of saying that it was "stand-pat" Republican.

Oh yes, O'Gorman was fighting it, but O'Gorman's Tammany, and Tammany and stand-pat Republicanism aren't so very far apart when you dig down to first principles with both of them.

Now it also happens that "such a man as Mr. Root" is also a Republican. Not a near-Republican nor an ex-Republican nor even a Progressive Republican, but just plain, unvarnished, stand-pat Republican who never did anything irregular, or at least anything irregular enough to get him "in bad" with the everlasting regulars. In fact Mr. Root himself was sufficiently regular to be satisfactory to the stand-patters and to be made chairman of the Chicago convention in 1912. And the way he handled that convention is not only history, but pretty well remembered history in some quarters.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Root was, is, and glories in being a stand-pat Republican, an approver of the Payne-Aldrich tariff and its backers, and the friend and supporter of the policies of privilege and protection that led to the downfall of that party. Not that he is dishonest in his position. He most likely is thoroughly honest in believing that position right. But even that fact doesn't necessarily mean that "such a man as Mr. Root" is unqualifiedly right and that the president and other well informed, honest and patriotic men are equally wrong, especially when his action has the ear marks of being dictated quite as much by partisanship as by personal opinions.

When the German submarines appear the English worry, and when they disappear the Germans worry. Why don't they abolish the pesky things and be done with it?

COMPULSORY VOTING.

Representative Lydiard of Minneapolis is barking up an old and honorable tree in proposing that the state fine or imprison eligible voters who refuse to vote. Compulsory voting has been advocated more or less ever since the novelty of the privilege wore off and men began to get indifferent or lazy in their attitude toward the duties of citizenship. And probably the idea existed even in the time when men were lax about attending the town meeting.

The great trouble about compulsory voting is that it would take away a certain proportion of the chief value of the ballot—the expression of the voter's individual choice. If he hasn't enough choice to take him to the polls, or enough active intelligence to make him have a choice, it would probably be foolish to make him go and mark a ballot of whose significance he understood little and cared less.

The man who fails to vote has no right to complain of the conduct of affairs. And if he hasn't enough interest even in his own tax payments to care to say his say as to how the money is spent and who spends it, he isn't worth driving to the polls.

Another way to get your name in the paper is to be blown up by a mine.

Just remark to the first man you meet that the first car sold at the auto show was a Ford, and see if he doesn't say, "Did you ever hear ——" or else "That reminds me ——."

The discovery that a German scientist has just discovered that buckwheat cakes are good to eat will have a tendency to discredit the wideawakeness of the whole scientific world.

A Day In a War Hospital

A graphic description of the work of the British base hospital units in France is given in a recent edition of the London Chronicle. Lady Priscilla Norman, who established the hospital written about near Boulogne, is herself on the hospital staff.

There are about seventy of us surgeons, doctors, dressers, nurses and assistants. Who can describe adequately the splendid services and skill and the charm of twenty-two trained hospital nurses, many of them of splendid physique, in their flowing white caps and aprons? Then the twenty orderlies, some in the khaki uniform of the British Red Cross, some in the dark blue uniform of the St. John Ambulance.

It is curious to see these men at work. One wonders vaguely who and what they are, and whether the tall one in the spectacles would be best employed as a charwoman, nurse, scavenger, parlor maid, or what. But once one knows them it is wonderful how handy they are, and it is pleasant to hear the cheering words they address to the brown blanket with something under it as they hurry with their stretchers to and fro between the X-ray room, operating theater and ward. "They won't hurt you in there." "All right, now, all's over." "Soon get you into bed again." "No, I won't touch it." "Careful, your end;" and gently—more gently, perhaps, than even a nurse could—those strong, well trained fellows transfer their blanket with something under it into bed again, and one sees the patient back again fully operated upon, cleansed and tended, safe with splint and bandage to protect him.

Then the ambulances, a nice little fleet of seven, also one sitting-up car, and a lorry for transport of food, coal, etc. The ambulances rank up at the station at Boulogne at 7 o'clock in the morning to meet the ambulance train as it steams slowly and noiselessly into the station.

When one sees four pairs of stockinged feet one knows that the dark ambulance is full, and the canvas flap is lowered, and slowly, so slowly that even the cobbles of Boulogne are not felt on some fractured arm or thigh or terrible head wound, these cars that one saw racing down to the station crawl at four miles an hour away to their destination. The wounded are well cared for on the wonderful ambulance trains, where surgeons, medical stores and hot meals abound, and some of those helpless forms seem rather to cling to where they are than undergo once more the handling that, however skilfully performed, they must endure in being transferred to the stretcher which is to carry them to some hospital.

What are the men like that we have got? One goes anxiously round trying to reassure those in pain that soon they will be attended to, and that the breakfast is just coming in. One tries to understand how long their train journey has been and from where.

When I last looked at the few empty beds we had ready waiting for patients, they were neatly made, coverlet and sheet arranged like any bed one might get into. But just before the patient is laid upon the bed a strange upheaval is deftly made by the nurses, and the top coverings disappear, showing a dark gray receiving blanket over the bottom sheet. And as the stretcher is taken away and one sees one's guest as he really is, one understands the meaning of that blanket and its subsequent history of boiling and disinfection. For the men come in caked with mud, garments slit up, bloodstained great coat, one boot off, one boot on, bandaged, and often crawling with vermin.

Who knows what the sufferings of war are, who has not seen these pathetic figures lying on their receiving blankets? Matron, ever busy, passes me in her nice blue alpaca, and, nodding to a bed near by as she hurries on, says, "Poor fellow, hip wound; we can't move him to take his things off yet." But, in spite of this, as one looks at his face, it is the face of a strapping, weather-beaten, well fed, cheerful soldier, not at all that of an invalid.

How different these men look from the ordinary inmates of our local infirmary! The latter are ill, these men are well. They are diseased but whole, these men are well but wounded and septic. One or two men break down (chiefly nerves gone) or moan and groan, but very, very few, and once washed, shaved, and in their scarlet bed jackets one chats with a fellow who looks almost as usual, little suspecting the wounds hiding under the bedclothes.

The afternoon is devoted to heavy slumber in the wards and to eight or ten operations and perhaps as many plates exposed in the X-ray room. Curious results are obtained by those wonderful plates—shrapnel that splinters, bullets that bounce back again, unexpected fractures in unexpected places, suspected shell wound showing only stone in kidney, and kindred surprises.

One soon gets to know the snoring sleep of the man who has been operated on, and his collapsed position as he slowly comes to, and one sees that these are the cases to whom newspapers, cigarettes and conversation make no appeal. But next day he is sitting up, shaved and joins in the talk, or has, perhaps, reached the stage of looking wistfully after a cigarette, and has improved wonderfully. Soon he will be relating fearsome stories of his regiment, told with touching modesty—and then, just when he has really come to be friends with us (although it is hard to remember every name), I hear he is to be evacuated to England by hospital ship.

Nearly every day we send ten or twenty forth again, and I dread these occasions. It means giving out the man's valuables that I have been keeping for him, a new shirt, underwear and socks, and then that his old kit is sent for and put under his bed and examined to see what may serve again and what remains to be burnt and must be replaced.

Then I hurry upstairs again, and this time bring down new greatcoats, trousers, tunics, caps, boots in six sizes, cardigan jackets and mufflers. Or for certain cases it will be varied by two pairs of very loose bed socks over two very bandaged feet, or perhaps a warm woolen helmet for some head fracture to cover the bandages. This is always a long and tiresome business, for if one man's kit has gone astray it means a wait for others, too.

The men dress themselves awkwardly and sit shakily on their beds wondering whether they can stand or not, and others wait lying flat for the stretcher bearers to carry them away. It is always a sad time, and I hate to let them go, but it must be, first because if they can safely stand the journey it is better for them to be at home in England once more, and also because their beds are required for others worse off than they.

So, day by day, our hospital admits and evacuates its men, one day much like another. Once we have been thrilled by the advent of a V. C. hero. Sometimes we learn that some poor fellow has passed away. It is sad work collecting his little treasures from his pockets, and hunting about to find his exact age in his army book for the return of his death to headquarters. Sadder still to bring down the Union Jack to cover his little pine coffin, as the orderlies lift him onto a light rubber-tired two-wheeled handcart.

Then we form up behind and as the sergeant orders, "Party! Slow—march!" we follow his body up the hill to the little cemetery where he is laid. It is quite hard at first to keep step with this peculiar lagging, lilting, mourning march, but I am getting used to it now, and find it more natural. But whereas an ordinary civil funeral seems a grate on one so often, this soldier's burial strikes me as more and more beautiful and impressive every time I go. The entire absence of pomp, the great yawning grave which seems insatiable, the lowering of the yellow coffins two deep, neatly placed one on top of the other, and the burial service, followed by the Lord's Prayer in French, in which the peasant women and children gathered round always join, are most pathetic and reverent. Beautiful, too, the "Last Post" sounded by a stout little boy bugler.

Putting on the Kibosh

Anoka County Union: It's about time to put the kibosh on all this talk about keeping the boys on the farm. Why should a boy or young man want to stay on a farm when he can go to the city, and, after tramping through the heat, or cold, or rain, land a fine, fat, easy, soft snap of a job as a motorman? Then all he will have to do will be to get up at about 5 a. m., winter and summer, swallow a boarding house breakfast that a hog on his father's farm would spurn, dash merrily to the car barn, take the abuse of a slave-driving carstarter and go gaily to work.

Ah, what pleasure to stand all day in a vestibule that is perfumed with the smells of the unwashed bodies of just-over immigrant laborers, on their way to work in a sewer! Think of the fragrance of all grades of tobacco, in cigarettes, in cigars and in pipes of many degrees of strength! It is simply great to breathe this spicy air all day.

In the meanwhile one hears the sweet compliments of the ladies and gentlemen who do not happen to think of signaling when they want to get off, but who rightfully feel that the motorman should have known, if he was not such a fat-headed slob, and who do not hesitate to tell him so.

Oh yes, it's great. Every farmer boy ought to leave home at once and dash to the city. Think of the wages he'll get! Why, at the end of a month, after paying for board, room, laundry, clothes and uniform, union dues and assessments, he'll have almost enough left to go to a movie show. But he probably won't go, because he'll be so all-in and so full of the poisonous reek that he inhaled all day, that he will tumble into bed to forget it until the alarm clock calls him to begin all over again.—Written by some unknown who knows.

A Quaker Marriage.

Indianapolis Star: A marriage took place last week between a son and daughter, respectively, of two old and wealthy Philadelphia families, the Lippincotts and the Biddles—names known the country over and inseparately associated with the Pennsylvania metropolis.

Such a wedding, in the ordinary course of events, as fashions now go, would be a more or less spectacular affair, perhaps conducted in church, with a host of guests in attendance and with much form and ceremony. Nor would the fact that the families belong to the Society of Friends be expected to make much difference, for the younger generation of Friends leans to the ways of the "world's people." The distinctive Quaker dress has been largely abandoned by the young people, and in habits and customs they show few signs of the former simplicity that marked the members of the society.

But this young couple returned to the simple methods of their ancestors. The ceremony was that prescribed by the Friends. There was no music and the guests were seated as the bridal party filed in and up the center of the room, which was divided off in a long aisle. When they reached the end the bride and bridegroom faced the guests and seated themselves, the bride on the left and the bridegroom on the right. They remained seated for more than five minutes, and then Mr. Biddle rose and, going to the bride, took her right hand and repeated the marriage form. He then returned to his seat and the bride arose and repeated the formula. After a silence of some time Prof. Swain of Swarthmore, formerly, by the way, of Indiana university, gave a short address on "Youth."

After this a table was brought in and placed before the young couple. On the table was a long document to which they affixed their names, after which an elder of the church formally addressed them as Mr. and Mrs. Biddle, and the bridal party filed silently out and the guests came forward to sign the certificate, according to the usual custom.

Both simplicity and solemnity were characteristic of the service—two elements that are lacking in the ordinary marriage, but which properly belong to this important event in life. There is a great difference between such a ceremony and a hurried formula rattled off by a justice of the peace or an elaborate church wedding in which everyone is more concerned with the spectacle—the clothes, the flowers and "who's who"—than in the marriage itself, a difference all to the credit of the Philadelphia proceeding. The contrast is refreshing.

The Empty Room.

The lock is rusty, the slow key grates—
Turn it more daringly, open the door!
Only a ghost at the threshold waits,
They that have crossed it cross it no more.

Heavy the unbreathed air of the room—
Throw wide the casement, let the wind blow;
Once it brought breath of roses in bloom,
Of the dew of a morning long ago.

Speak low—there are presences here of old,
Sighs and sorrows and sweet desires,
Falter of prayers, and wild tunes trolled,
And here love lighted his sacred fires.

The dreams that some woman haply dreamed,
The smiles that shone on her tender face,
Here where the moonlight over her streamed,
Unseen, unshaped, still haunt the place.

For the tense string touched sings on and on—
Do you hear the music? A cradle song.
Lightsome laughter? The voice is gone,
But the soundless thrill still sings along.

Friend and lover, and man and wife,
The child's sweet babble—stay, feel the spell
The empty room brims over with life,
As you hear the sea sing in the shell!

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. D. Decker, a boyish-looking congressman from Joplin, Mo., is a great friend and admirer of Senator James A. Reed. During the debate in the senate on the shipping bill somebody came up to Decker and began to cast aspersions on the things Reed was doing over in the senate.

"See here," interrupted Decker, "I want you to understand that I am a friend of Jim Reed's and if he has really done something foolish I won't admit it."

When the time came to start his campaign for re-election to congress last fall, Representative John V. Lesher of Pennsylvania was asked by the Democratic campaign committee to furnish them with copies of all the speeches he had made in the house during his term of office. They wished to go through them, pick out the goodies, as one would from a hickory nut, and make use of them in boosting Lesher's candidacy.

"But the trouble is," said Lesher, "I have not made any speeches. So far as I can recall now I haven't uttered a word, except on roll call."

"Wh-a-a-a-t!" gasped the chief of the committee. "You didn't make a speech? Well, how in the name of Bill Bryan do you expect to make a campaign then? That's what speeches in congress are for—to use in the following campaign. The people will think you're a dead one when they learn that you never got up and talked about any of the great questions of the day. What did they send you down there for, anyhow? I say, what did they send you down there for? And how can you hope for re-election?"

"Well," faltered Lesher, "everybody else was making speeches and using up space in the Congressional Record, putting the government to much expense to print all they said, and I just thought I would be different. I decided not to make any speeches at all. Then my people would not have the chance to accuse me of disseminating hot air like so many public men do. I'll simply have to make my campaign on that basis."

The campaign managers were extremely dubious about the success of this, but they made the best of it, and whenever Lesher was presented to an audience he was introduced as the non-speaking congressman. He got up then and made a stump speech, of course, but in doing so he pointed with pride to his speechless record in the house, his abstemiousness from mere talk and hot air and the glorious novelty of his career in that respect. The voters soon began to warm up and glow with pride at having a congressman so different from the usual run.

And they gladly re-elected Lesher.

Frank T. O'Hair, Illinois congressman, has a sense of humor. Also O'Hair got married a few years ago. On the wedding trip O'Hair frequently mortified his bride by eating with his knife and pointing out objects of interest with his fork. Not until the wedding journey was over did his bride receive positive assurance that O'Hair really knew better. He had been eating with his knife because he thought it was a good joke on his wife.

If a congressman desired to get an item in an appropriation bill past Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriation committee, and sought to do it by making polite overtures to Fitzgerald, patting him on the back and calling him "Nice Fitz, good old Fitz," he would make scant headway. The only way to gain the favor of Fitzgerald is to abuse him, calling him every name at one's disposal. And even then Fitzgerald would doubtless go ahead in his own way.

Women of the North Woods

Virginia, Minn., Enterprise: Yesterday there died at the county hospital in Duluth a farmer from the Pike river country. Ten days ago he was brought to Virginia in a sleigh to be taken to that hospital, suffering from nephritis. The weather was 20 degrees below zero. The start from his home was made before daylight, and by the side of the vehicle which brought him to Virginia trudged his daughter, a fine young woman of 20. Her anxiety for her father's comfort when they reached this city aroused general admiration. She didn't like the idea of his being taken to the county hospital, but that was the best place for him. There she followed him three days later, carrying a lunch prepared at home to eat on the train and in the depot waiting room, for there probably was not sufficient money in the family purse to admit of the extravagance of a hotel, and she worried about her dad. The death of her father leaves this young woman and her mother to fight the battle of life alone on a St. Louis county homestead. But they are the kind who are able and will not shrink from the task.

Much has been said of the men who go into the woods to hew homes from the wilderness. But what about the women? Surely they have a part just as great. Women have a prominent place in the pioneering history of every community. Only a few years ago in the country above Thief River Falls was found a happy and contented woman who had not visited a town in eighteen years. She was the mother of a fine family of children who will grow up to be useful men and women. Many of the greatest mothers of men have lived in the backwoods. They have passed to their reward with little recognition from a thoughtless world. And the women of the backwoods, are they as happy and as contented as good women should always be? We hope so, for they are among the grandest women we know.

Who Do We Know of Trouble?

Buffalo Enquirer: Remarking that "every tenth Briton has enlisted, every tenth Frenchman is at the front, and every tenth Belgian is dead, what," inquires Herbert McCann, "does the United States know of trouble?"

If he could afford it, McCann would take steamer loads of American excursionists to Europe. He would show them Belgium's "12,000 square miles of wreckage," battlefields "150 miles wide" and trains "ten at a time, five minutes apart, packed with the maimed and the dying."

Then he would say to his guests: "Now go back and appreciate the United States. * * * Go back and advertise. Get ready for the most tremendous business boom that any nation ever had. Build your factories bigger. Train more salesmen. Borrow more money. Go ahead, and thank God that you are alive and that your family is alive, and that you are living in a land that is at peace, at a time when nearly the whole world is at war."

A people with the powers of imagination and thought should not need sight of Europe's horrors to learn the lesson of contentment, hope and confidence and catch the inspiration to be up and doing. The United States knows nothing of trouble. It has no troubles.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

But They Develop Them.

Austin Transcript: The highest work of science is nullified by the grasping hands which at once seize upon the economics to be effected by new inventions and the scientific discoveries made in laboratories and in workshops, and turn them into more profits for wealth rather than into a larger degree of comfort and prosperity for the poor and those of moderate means. This is an evil with which the world in general, and the United States in particular, is called to deal.

Too Many to Digest.

Elk River Star-News: Notwithstanding the attitude of the public in not taking the responsibility of voting on constitutional amendments they do not understand, the legislature is being flooded with more amendments. Most of these amendments are probably all right, in a way, but they ought to be submitted one or two at a time when the public would probably take the trouble to study them up and vote for or against according to their merit.

Governor Is Right.

Pine City Pine Poker: One of our exchanges accuses Governor Hammond of being something of an "old woman" because he refused to sign a law containing a grammatical error. If fewer laws containing grammatical errors were put on our statute books there would be less "judicial legislation." Governor Hammond was right.

Good Reason for Support.

Redwood Falls Sun: One indication, it would seem, that the economy and efficiency commission would be a good thing, is the fact that heads of state boards are bitterly opposed to it.

Co-operation Will Do It.

Carlton Vidette: If there is one trait that predominates in the character of Americans it is that of an everlasting optimism. This is amply shown at the present time by the efforts that are being made upon every hand to rally from the depression of the last few months and get public confidence back to normal. Conditions in the United States are not normal, public opinion has wavered for the time, but the reaction is setting in and we are on the road to renewed prosperity. All that is needed to make this prosperity real and lasting is the co-operation of public interests, both in the cities and on the farms.

Not to Be Expected.

Detroit Herald: With loud acclaim, the Republican standpatters are pointing to a loss of customs revenue under the Underwood tariff. Not a word about the income tax, however—not a word. Not a syllable about the transfer of this part of the burden of taxation from the shoulders of the poor to the shoulders of the rich—not a single syllable.

Stand by the President.

St. Cloud Journal-Press (Rep.): We may differ with President Wilson about the tariff and about the government purchase of ships, but as good Americans we should give him united support in his efforts to steer the ship of state in peaceful waters.

It is no child's job.

Not only must we protect American interests when the greatest nations of Europe are at war, and each would like to involve this nation as its backer, but we have even a more serious problem nearer at home in Mexico, while Japan is aggressively endeavoring to get in control of China, while the rest of the powers are in no position to interfere.

Conditions in Mexico are growing steadily worse, if possible, and the unfortunate condition is that the revolutionists thrive on revolts, as most of them are stirring up trouble for loot and what little glory and power they can wrest with the aid of their foolish followers.

The United States is interested in keeping the commercial door of China open, a wise policy inaugurated by John Hay.

It is a most difficult and complicated task that the president is called upon to solve—if solve he can—and he is entitled to the support of his own people, so long as he strives to keep this nation from war.

Woodrow Wilson is the official representative of all the people of the United States. By aiding him to keep the country at peace with all the world, we are simply helping ourselves.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

I must work the works of Him that sent Me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work.—John ix, 4.

Christians are constantly praying that they may hear "Well done," when the Lord comes to reward His servants, while, as a matter of fact, they are doing nothing. They talk about entering into rest, but what are they going to rest from? A beautiful verse in Thessalonians referring to the rest of the saints is, "Those that are laid to sleep through Jesus." Dives was tormented with insomnia. If he had been late to dinner because he was looking after Lazarus' family, and had clothed a thousand children among the poor, he might have had sleep; but because he was self-centered he could get none. A. J. Gordon.

A little girl came home from school and ran to her mother saying: "Will has called me 'Old red head' before all the girls in my class." "Oh, dear, bring me by Bible," the wise mother said. "Now will my little one turn to Isaiah lIII, 7." The child read it out: "He was dumb," etc. "Do you think they called Him names?" and as she listened to the Gospel story, she was led to ask for strength, "to be like Jesus," who never spoke an angry word.

What War Really Is.

Chicago News: "At night, under the glare of searchlights, the undulating mass of wounded made efforts to extricate themselves. Then, toward 2 o'clock in the morning, they moved no more."—French official account of the effects of slaughter by Russians and by the winter cold.

Not Dore, not Verestchagin, has presented so shocking a picture of war as this picture of suffering and sacrifice of life in the most barbarous of wars now raging in Europe. Dealing with this same heartless butchery, the correspondent of The Daily News, Mr. Bass, has described how, after German charges against Russian trenches, the corpses lay piled in windrows until they were dismembered and flung into the faces of the Russian soldiers by explosions of German shells.

This is but one, and not the most frightful, aspect of modern warfare. It is necessary that such terrible facts be told in order that civilized people may realize how inhuman is war.

The firemen's annual ball at the Spalding was a grand success. Between 400 and 500 people were on the floor at one time and the net proceeds will be about $200. The proceeds are for the establishment of a pension fund in connection with the Firemen's Relief association. The committee on arrangements included Captains Charles Boyington, Thomas Connor, George Maghan and W. A. Smith.

The Winter club will give a cotillion at the Masonic Temple tomorrow night. The german will be led by Maj. C. B. Sears and C. J. Kershaw.

Miss Grace E. Collins gave an informal musicale yesterday afternoon at her home on East Third street for the members of the Tom Karl Concert company. Three of the young ladies in the New York ladies' quartet, Misses Potts, Graves and Herlocker, are friends of Miss Collins, they having studied music together in New York.

The first annual benefit concert for the City band will be given at the Temple on March 15. The officers of the band are: President, Burt Holcomb; secretary, E. Norellus; treasurer and bandmaster, John Young; director, Otto Muhlbauer; manager, Frank E. Hoare.

At the meeting of the Federated Trades assembly last evening a vote of censure was passed upon County Attorney Arbury and County Commissioners Swenson and Dinham for the manner in which they treated the assembly's committee which waited upon the county board to request them to reconsider the award of the printing contract to a St. Louis firm. The representatives and senator from St. Louis county will be here from the legislature tomorrow and a committee of ten from the assembly, composed of Messrs. Cobb, Baker, Findley, Harmon, Anderson, Warneka, McCallum, Haire, Olson and Nichols, will meet them and demand that every effort be made to pass bills establishing a state labor bureau, a state mine inspector and a day's labor not to exceed ten hours for street car employes.

It is reported that Alderman William Getty will soon resign his seat in the common council so that he can devote his whole attention to the duties of the office of surveyor-general.

Acting Mayor B. F. Howard yesterday ordered the police to close up the bucket shop operated in the St. Louis hotel building by J. C. Turner.

On the Yale Seal.

Madison, Wis., State Journal: Loyal Yale alumni, whose letter paper has worn the Yale seal conspicuously blazoned at its head, must be pained to discover that through fault of the engravers to observe the distinction between the Hebrew characters "Waw" and "Resh" they have been proclaiming themselves "Blasphemers and Farmers" instead of for "Truth and Light." It is a sad mistake but in no wise a left-handed compliment. No one minds being a farmer. Indeed one covets the privilege and certain enlightened souls do not seem to mind even the distinction of being called "Blasphemers." The pathos of the story is that the startling motto was not instantly detected by Yale's loyal and cultured sons.

THE OPEN COURT

LIKES THE STAND THE HERALD TOOK.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I want to compliment you on the stand you are taking relative to the Miner bill as opposed to the Preus plan for the development of state lands.

It seems to me that the former proposition is exactly what the land speculator has wanted right straight along, while the Preus plan aims directly at development, but on the part of the real home builder.

I have talked this matter editorially and otherwise until I am all talked out, and I know you have done the same, only you keep right on talking, but I think the results of this campaign we have been carrying on through these years are beginning to show.

You notice the stand the governor is taking. Sentiment in general has shifted wonderfully among people in Southern Minnesota. They are beginning to understand that we are not a divided people, but one body and that the exploitation of any part of our territory is felt adversely by all the people in every part.

Some, of course, are still trying to make capital out of dissension and misunderstanding. I think that is at the bottom of much of the opposition to the road laws. Genuine misunderstandings as to the state's need is also at the bottom of the opposition to the idea of a big, well developed immigration department. I am going after that in the next issue of Farm, Stock and Home and attempt to develop the idea that our immigration commissioner should stand as the exponent and helper of all the great business activities of the state, furthering any and every legitimate enterprise to the full extent of his power as a publicity factor. I agree that if we are not going to allow our immigration commissioner do anything or be anything, we ought to supply him with an ax and tell him to use it on himself.

Well, this is just to say that I wish you God-speed in your fight and not to run into a dissertation on Minnesota development. Yours very truly.

HUGH J. HUGHES.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipts of the following poems:

"People Will Talk," "Bereaved" and "Somebody's Darling," from a Lover of Poems, Duluth.

Requests have been received for the following:

"The Boy With the Busy Dad" from Aymel Pardello of Iron River, Mich., and "The Cremation of Sam Magee" by Alice L. Virtue of Hill City, Minn.

"People Will Talk."

You may get through the world, but 'twill be very slow,
If you listen to all that is said as you go;
You'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew—
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do
And people will talk.

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed
That your humble position is only assumed—
You're a wolf in sheep's clothing or else you're a fool,
But don't get excited—keep perfectly cool—
For people will talk.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or a slight inclination to take your own part,
They will call you an upstart, conceited and vain;
But keep straight ahead—don't stop to explain—
For people will talk.

If threadbare your dress or old-fashioned your hat,
Someone will surely take notice of that,
And hint very strong that you can't pay your way;
But don't get excited whatever they say—
For people will talk.

If your dress is the fashion, don't think to escape,
For they criticize then in a different shape;
You're ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid;
But mind your own business, there's naught to be made,
For people will talk.

Now, the best way to do is do as you please,
For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease;
Of course, you will meet all sorts of abuse;
But don't think to stop them—it ain't any use—
For people will talk.

"Bereaved."

Sad is the heart of the mother,
Dreary the days and long,
She mourns for the little daughter,
Child of love and song,
And oft she stands in the doorway,
And thinks of the weary years,
Since first the mound on the hillside
Was wet with bitter tears.

Her thoughts are backward wandering
To the happy days of old;
She turns with a mother's longing
Once more in her arms to fold
The form of her Eva, darling,
But she knows that never more
Shall she see the sweet lips smiling
Until they meet on the other shore.

See, the heavy clouds are lifting,
Hope sends a cheering ray,
To the heart so sadly aching,
As they bore her away that day,
For well she knows her darling,
From sorrow and pain at rest
In the tender Savior's keeping,
She feels that it is blest.

Sweet childish lips call mother,
Home is not all bereft;
She kneels and thanks the Giver
For the precious treasure left.
Like some rare bud slowly opening
She sees one day by day,
She waits the flower's unfolding,
But the Giver answers, Nay.

She sees her blossom fading,
Soon from the household hand;
They whisper Stella is going,
Nay, gone to the better land.
The sad good-by 'tis spoken,
She yields at the command.
For the chain of love was broken
By the Master's gentle hand.

The grave holds not her treasure—
Only the heart-worn rest—
She waits the Master's pleasure
To join their blessed rest.
Though oft the tears are falling,
As on the past, she dwells,
Through sad lips softly smiling,
She answers, "It is well."

"Somebody's Darling."

Into a ward of whitewashed walls,
Where the dead and the dying lay—
Wounded by bayonet, shell and ball—
Somebody's darling was borne one day.

Somebody's darling, so young and so brave,
Wearing still on his pale, sweet face,
Soon to be hid by the dust of the grave,
The lingering light of his boyhood's grace.

Matted and damp are the curls of gold,
Kissing the snow of that fair, young brow;
Pale are the lips of delicate mold—
Somebody's darling is dying now.

Back from the beautiful blue-veined face,
Brush every wandering silken thread;
Cross his hands as a sign of grace—
Somebody's darling is still and dead.

Kiss him once for somebody's sake,
Murmur a prayer soft and low;
One bright curl from the cluster take—
They were somebody's pride, you know.

Somebody's hand hath rested there—
Was it a mother's, soft and white?
And have the lips of a sister fair
Been baptized in these waves of light?

God knows best. He was somebody's love;
Somebody's heart enshrined him there,
Somebody wafted his name above,
Night and morn on the wings of prayer;

Somebody wept when he marched away,
Looking so handsome, brave and grand;
Somebody's kiss on his forehead lay,
Somebody clung to his parting hand.

Somebody's watching and waiting for him,
Yearning to hold him again to her heart.
There he lies, with his blue eyes dim,
And smiling child-like, lips apart,
Tenderly bury the fair, young dead,
Pausing to drop on his grave a tear;
Carve on the wooden slab at his head:
"Somebody's darling lies buried here."

PAIN GONE! RUB SORE, RHEUMATIC ACHING JOINTS

Rub Pain Away With a Small Trial Bottle of Old, Penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

COSTS ARE NOT KNOWN

Report of the Investigation Into the Pottery Industry.

Many Plants Are Poorly Situated and Badly Arranged.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Secretary Redfield has made public the report of the investigation by the department of commerce into the pottery industry, began coincidentally with the enactment of the present tariff law and an announcement by the United States Potters' association that any reductions in selling prices resulting from reduced duties "must be followed by a corresponding reduction in wages."

The tariff reduced duties from 55 to 35 per cent and from 60 to 40 per cent on undecorated and decorated earthenware, respectively. The report says the imports of pottery for the first twelve months of the tariff law increased less than $500,000 over the last twelve months of the old law.

Costs Not Known.

"1. The potters of the United States are without adequate knowledge of the costs of production in their own industry.

"2. Extreme costs of production were found in the different potteries of the United States. There were also large variations in earnings and profits.

"3. Large differences in the cost of production between the potteries of the United States and those of Europe were found to exist. The general level of costs was considerably higher in the United States. In fact, the lowest cost of production in any American pottery exceeded that of the highest cost of production in any European pottery, except one establishment in Austria.

"4. Competitive prices of American and foreign ware in the United States are not determined solely by the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. Other factors, including customs duties, transportation charges, and incidental expenses are sufficient as shown in the report to offset the difference in cost of production.

Potteries Poorly Situated.

"5. Many of the American potteries are poorly situated and the plants are badly arranged, owing to the haphazard character of their development. There are few American potteries that have thoroughly modern plants equipped throughout with up to date machinery.

"6. In spite of the fact that the average wages paid in American potteries in the different occupations are higher than those paid in European potteries by from 90 to over 600 per cent, the labor cost per unit of product never shows so great a difference as 82 per cent (except in German china plants). This indicates the greater efficiency of American workmen.

"7. The standard list upon which American potters base their selling prices is obsolete. It establishes for different articles selling prices that vary widely from the relative costs of production. Complete revision is necessary before American potters can intelligently sell their ware.

Better Methods Needed.

"8. There is a distinct need for more scientific methods of production which can be brought about only by highly skilled instruction and more scientific research work.

"9. Finally, this report has aimed to be constructive in its analysis of the pottery industry. There are means, and these have been pointed out by which the cost of production may be materially reduced. And these costs must be reduced, not only that the American industry may compete with foreign products brought into this market but in order that American products may compete in foreign markets."

The investigation was made in the potteries of England, Germany and Austria, and, in the United States, in forty-eight establishments in New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Maryland. The report deals exhaustively with the mechanical, scientific, labor and marketing processes connected with the industry.

BAPTISTS HEAR RABBI.

Members of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church heard Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits of the Temple Emanuel last night in an address on various phases of the European war. The talk was given at the Baptist church, the occasion being the regular monthly meeting of the club.

Dominant racial characteristics of the warring nations were described by Dr. Lefkovits, who gave a short outline of the conflicting causes, political, racial and commercial, which combined to cause the war.

A buffet supper followed the program.

Threatened President.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 24.—Frank Grandcored, of Greensburg, entered a plea of "guilty" in criminal court here yesterday to a charge of having written a letter to President Wilson threatening him with death. He was sentenced to serve not less than one year and not more than three years in the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary.

CATARRH GERMS EASILY KILLED

Only Way to Cure This Disease Is to Destroy Its Cause.

By a Specialist.

If you have catarrh and want to get rid of it you must kill the germs which cause catarrh. Stomach dosing, ointments, sprays, creams, douches, etc., fail because they overlook this fact. They all help by giving temporary relief but they do not reach the germ life that has found lodgment in your head, nose, throat, and could not destroy it if they did.

The best known way of destroying the dangerous germs of catarrh and consequently ending the disease itself, is to breathe into the air passages of your nose and throat the pleasant, penetrating air of Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me). Hyomel is made from purest oil of Eucalyptus combined with other powerful, healing, antiseptic and germicidal ingredients. You breathe it through a little pocket inhaler which Boyce Drug Store and other leading druggists in Duluth and vicinity are furnishing with every complete treatment sold. Every time you inhale the sweet, fragrant air of Hyomel through this little device you are drawing into your swollen, inflamed, germ laden membranes a medicated air which will not only reduce all the swelling and inflammation and open your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages, but will absolutely and positively destroy every trace of catarrh germ life it reaches. Druggists are so sure of the blessed, lasting relief that Hyomel brings to catarrh sufferers that they sell it invariably on the positive guarantee that money paid will be refunded if successful results are not secured from its use. Get a Hyomel outfit from your druggist today and begin at once to drive this dangerous and disgusting disease from your system forever.

COED HAS DISAPPEARED.

Girl From Norway Drops From Sight at University of Minnesota.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 24.—Miss Svanhild Amundsen, a freshman student at the University of Minnesota college of dentistry, has been missing since last Thursday. It is said that she had plenty of money, supplied by her father in Christiania, Norway. President Vincent of the niversity issued a statement in which he said that so far as known she had no special cause for worry. Her college work had been difficult, because she did not know English well, but the authorities had arranged to make her studies easier for her.

Miss Amundsen left her purse in her room and, it is said, took no clothing except what she wore.

BRITAIN ENDS BELGIAN AID

American Relief Commission So Informed By Sir Edward Grey.

Refusal of Germany to Stop Cash Requisitions in Belgium Cause.

London, Feb. 24.—Explaining that its course was due to the refusal of Germany to stop cash requisitions in Belgium, the British foreign office on Feb. 22 directed a note to Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American Belgian relief commission declining to give a direct subsidy to the commission for relief in Belgium.

The letter is signed by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary. It says:

"Dear Mr. Hoover: Your return from Germany and the information you have given me as to the result of your journey, afford me the opportunity to sum up the negotiations which passed between the commission for relief in Belgium and his majesty's government in reply to the various letters you have written me.

"When the work of the commission was originally set on foot, through the United States and Spanish ambassadors in London in behalf of the Belgian government, his majesty's government agreed that all food supplies from neutral countries through the commission should pass into Belgium without interruption for distribution among the Belgian people under guarantees given by the German government to the commission.

Contribute $500,000.

"His majesty's government also contributed £100,000 ($500,000) to the funds of the commission. This sum has been supplemented by grants of money from Canada, Australia and New Zealand. We also were able to extend facilities which ensured your shipping reaching Rotterdam, and in certain instances to relax in your favor our prohibitions affecting the export of food and the transfer of money.

"Military considerations might be held to render such action on our part inadvisable, but it appeared to us necessary in the circumstances to disregard such considerations. You represented to us, however, that such grants were quite inadequate to your needs, since your expenditure for foodstuffs distributed in pure charity amounted to between £400,000 ($2,000,000) and £500,000 ($2,500,000) monthly. You, therefore, asked for a monthly subvention from our government to supplement the very generous private contributions which you are receiving from the American public.

"We did not see our way to accede to your request. Indeed, for some time we have regarded the whole project of the distribution of food in Belgium with some doubt, in view of the action of the German authorities.

"While respecting the food actually imported by you they did not until December accede to your representations regarding the cessation of requisitions or the use of the German army of supplies of native food remaining available for the civil population of Belgium. They even carried away cattle and cereals from Belgium into Germany.

Levied Large Assessments.

"They also levied large monetary assessments on the cities of Belgium. These exactions have now culminated in a levy of the sum of $8,000,000 per month from the whole country.

"It was evident that if, under such conditions the British government undertook through your commission to supply money and food to the Belgian population, the only result would be an equivalent diminution of the food and supplies already there. The British government, in fact, would be facilitating the feeding and paying for the maintenance of the German army.

"Under these conditions it was impossible for our government to make a direct grant to the commission. Eventually, however, his majesty's government recognized that the work of the commission was directed on sound lines to supply the urgent needs of the Belgian people, and had the less doubt on this point in view of the additional guarantee obtained by you in December from the German government that at least all kinds of foodstuffs which would need to be replaced by the commission should be free from all requisition, and in view of the assurances you were able to give his majesty's government that foodstuffs imported by you had not been interfered with by German troops.

"Further, I was able to inform you last month that his majesty's government would grant the commission a monthly subvention to enable it to carry on its work, on condition that the German government would undertake to cease all requisitions for food of any kind, and all levies and contributions of any kind whatever in Belgium with the exception of such taxation as is admitted under The Hague convention.

"At your request, this offer was not made public at the time, but you were authorized to inform the German government of it. I understand that during your visit to Berlin you informed the government of the exact position of affairs, but that, while they consented to stop all requisitions of food in the zone of occupation east of Ghent, they refused to consider the cessation of their pecuniary actions, and especially the levy of 40,000,000 francs a month, which they apparently intend to continue.

Arrangement Ended.

"Solely on account of this attitude on the part of the German government, the proposed arrangement between his majesty's government and the commission must be regarded as having broken down. We shall, of course, maintain our general favorable attitude towards your work, and our offer of financial support will remain open in the event of the German government receding from their present position with regard to levies in Belgium. But for the moment, the idea of a direct subvention out of the government funds toward the charitable work of the commission must remain in abeyance.

"I cannot conclude this letter without expressing our appreciation of the generosity of the American people and of the admirable organization established by the commission which have alone made this work possible. The people of this country will, I am sure, recognize in your work a prominent example of the qualities of efficiency and public spirit which distinguish the many neutral services being rendered by Americans in Europe at the present time.

(Signed) "E. GREY."

Mr. Hoover, in reply to the letter of Sir Edward Grey, made the following statement last night:

Commission's Reply.

"The commission deeply regrets that its hopes again have been disappointed in finding some lack of accommodation between the belligerents by which the financing of the benevolent side of the commission's work would have been in a great measure assured. The failure of this particular negotiation does not alter the fact that 7,000,000 people in Belgium still must be fed, nor that there are 1,500,000 absolutely destitute people in the country, nor that the number of destitute people will increase by 250,000 before the next harvest.

"The commission took up its task because both sides denied responsibility for feeding the nation, and we always have been confident that sooner or later some basis of general accommodation could be arrived at between the conflicting powers. Although we have received much direct and indirect help from all the belligerents in our work, we started our work originally with little resource except faith that the world could not and would not allow those people to die. We do not purpose to lay down our burden simply because no remedy actually is in sight.

"The very immensity of the problem itself must yet bring a solution. Had it not been for the stream of supplies we sent into Belgium during the last four months, the decimation of the people would already have set in. From one source or another of philanthropic financing we have delivered into Belgium $15,000,000 worth of food, and have another $12,000,000 worth on the way. Yet we have a supply far short of enough to tide over the people until the next harvest.

"The rise in the value of food and the gradual exhaustion of the native supply of meat and potatoes necessitates our acquiring the enormous gross income of $7,500,000 monthly in money or food, of which $2,500,000 is required to feed the destitute whom we have on hand, and $500,000 is to pay for food for resale to those who can still pay.

"The destitute in Belgium are the wards of the world. There is no solution for their misery and hunger save charity. As we have as yet failed to secure the help of the governments in this department, we can but continue to appeal to the mercy of the people in every land."

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies

Our altruistic nature impels love for the cooing infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever before us. To know what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real helpful things is an external abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommend it to their own daughters that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unnecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

A little book mailed by Bradfield Regulator Co., 305 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., refers to many things that women like to read about. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to their expansion but also to nausea, morning sickness, caking of breasts and many other distresses.

CAMPAIGN ON FAKE BEGGARS

National Association of Deaf Would Expose Malefactors

The National Association of the Deaf, of which Jay Cooke Howard of Duluth is president, has renewed its campaign to rid the public of fake beggars, who operate under the guise of being deaf. Bulletins are being sent out by the association which aims to secure the widest publicity possible to the fraud that is being worked upon the people all over the country.

"Each winter sees a number of able-bodied mendicants too lazy to earn an honest living, who solicit alms by masquerading as deaf and dumb," the bulletin states. "The strange part of it is that they not only completely hoodwink the general public, unaware of the truism that the deaf never beg, but frequently secure the support of public opinion when suddenly confronted and unmasked by a genuine deaf person.

"Arnold Kiene, a wealthy deaf dealer in bank supplies, tried to secure the arrest of a 'deaf' beggar on the street cars of Los Angeles the other day. Sympathetic passengers almost mobbed the real deaf man. The other is still panhandling—somewhere."

Sympathy for the deaf and blind, the bulletin states, will usually obstruct action taken to prevent these fakers from operating, or at least cause delays that will make it possible for them to get into another city.

"The National Association of the Deaf has a well organized bureau aiming to suppress this evil," the bulletin continues. "In each state chairmen have been appointed and the 85,000 deaf citizens of America are clamoring for legislative enactment making it unlawful for any person to falsely represent himself or herself as blind, deaf, dumb, crippled, or otherwise physically defective, and providing a penalty.

"The deaf never beg.

"The safest thing to do when a so-called mute peddles or asks funds on some plausible pretext or other is to detain him while some one summons an officer. The police should then get a real deaf person to expose the imposition and the judge will probably impose the limit of the law."

NEARLY 2,000 AT AUTO SHOW

Crowds Above Expectations; Estimate of 10,000 for Week Too Small.

Dealers Report Forty Sales; Music Program Makes a Big Hit.

There were nearly 2,000 people in attendance at the automobile show yesterday.

Manager W. F. Daly said this morning that the crowds are exceeding the expectations of all in charge of the show and indications are that the original estimate of 10,000 for the week will be exceeded before Saturday night. It is now claimed by members of the executive committee that the total figures will be much nearer 15,000 by the close of the show next Saturday evening.

In addition to the large attendance, dealers at the show report good sales for the day and the total is placed at fifteen cars, three trucks and one electric. In all about forty cars have been sold since the opening of the show Monday afternoon.

Charles Helmer's orchestra scored a hit last night, as did Jean Mack of the St. Louis band with his solo numbers, especially his automobile parodies to popular songs. Mr. Helmer has augmented his orchestra to nine pieces.

Today is Sweden's day and a large crowd is expected this evening from across the line.

"TWELVES" WILL BE NEXT

Auto Agents Predict Eight-Cylinder Cars Will Be Surpassed.

These representatives of automobile factories, who are attending the automobile show at the Auditorium, declared during a discussion about engine construction that within a year, at least, Duluthians will see twelve-cylinder cars on the market.

Needless to say not one of the three men would permit his name being used in connection with a discussion on the "twelve." One man sells "sixes" and the other two represent manufacturers of four-cylinder cars. But in addition to being salesmen, they are engineers.

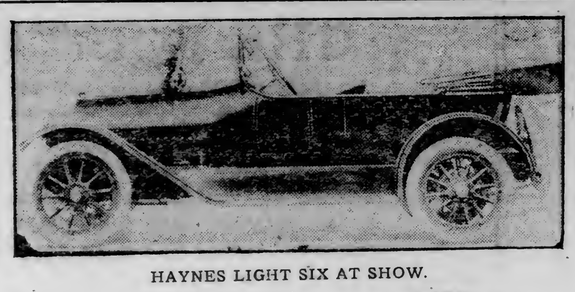

"I know the engineers of one of the oldest established motor manufacturers in the country are at present designing a twelve-cylinder engine," continued the six-cylinder representative. "The car will be introduced next fall. These engineers tell me that it will be the mechanical perfection of efficiency and economy.

"It seems a bit of a shock to learn that a 'twelve' can be run cheaper than a six-cylinder car, but the engineers say near increase in the steadiness and smoothness of the pulling power—the perfect torque is the technical expression—will cause less gasoline to be consumed."

Fifteen years ago a single cylinder car—that one longer—made startling exhibitions of speed. The two-cylinder followed rapidly, with the introduction of endurance runs and hill-climbing contests. Then came the four-cylinder and the six-cylinder marvel of but a few years back. The "six" was a marvel of steady pulling power. The "eight," the latest announcement, is the feature of all motor shows throughout the country.

But are the engineers going to be satisfied with an "eight?"

The management of the St. Louis hotel has arranged a series of unique features for the Rose Garden cafe for each remaining night of the auto show. All of these entertainments, which will be given from 10 p. m. to midnight, will have special auto features.

Tonight will be Ford night; tomorrow night will be devoted to the Maxwell; Friday night, the Chalmers, and on Saturday night there will be a free-for-all program.

The Rose Garden cafe has a large number of entertainers, and excellent music and some good comedy songs may be expected.

UP AND DOWN THE AISLES

Two carloads of Paige cars are expected here tomorrow morning on the Northwestern road and the six machines are to be delivered at once. H. B. Knudsen, local agent for the car, said this morning that he has sold six Paiges since the show started. He sold one Paige after the show closed last night.

* * *

C. K. McLaughlin of Syracuse, N. Y., is here representing the Franklin factory, and is helping Joseph Peacha to sell some of these cars.

* * *

L. F. Bond of Minneapolis is here helping Earl Bradley sell some Oldsmobiles.

* * *

"You don't want to be cranked; be a self-starter," is the slogan of Oakland salesmen.

* * *

John Mankey of Hibbing, agent on the range for Joseph Peacha, Jr., arrived last night to spend the week at the show. Mr. Mankey will endeavor to meet all the range residents who visit the Auditorium during the week.

* * *

The Iron Range Electric company of Pittsburg, Pa., has an exhibit in the balcony, showing a new auto searchlight.

* * *

Miss Florence O'Del, operator of the Zenith telephone exchange, would easily win a popularity contest at the show, for this young woman is giving the boys "some service."

* * *

E. J. and L. Filiatrault of the Mutual Auto company will give a banquet for their local and out-of-town salesmen at the St. Louis hotel this evening. This dinner is similar to those conducted by the factories for the dealers at the Chicago show and will undoubtedly be followed by other local automobile men.

NO-ACCIDENT LEAGUE FORMED IN BOSTON

Autoists Seek to Lessen Dangers of the Pedestrians.

The Massachusetts No-Accident League has been formed at Boston for the purpose of minimizing danger to people, among pedestrians. It is planned to investigate the cause of all accidents in which vehicles are concerned, and to attempt to prevent similar ones. Legislation will be sought to have lights placed at intersecting streets and roads in cities and towns and on the state highways; for the establishment of safety zones for people entering or leaving street cars, and for placing of policemen at all crossings near schoolhouses that are frequently used by children.

The men back of the organization have been studying the figures of the motor and other accidents the last year. The motor deaths numbered 229, while 4,010 persons were injured. There was a total of 7,961 accidents in which motor cars figured.

Of the fatal accidents, 150 were pedestrians, 56 occupants of motor cars, 18 motorcycle riders, 3 bicycle riders and 2 were occupants of carriages. There was an increase of forty-one deaths over 1913. This was 21.8 per cent. The number of motor vehicles increased 23 per cent and the number of people authorized to drive them 22 per cent, so the ratio of fatalities kept pace with the increase.

The number of injured showed an increase of 37.18 per cent, and the number of accidents increased 58.63 per cent. Of the injured, 2,808, or more than half, were pedestrians. Of the others 879 were car occupants.

The officers of the new organization are prominent business men of Boston. Henry R. Loomis is president, Carrol L. Meins vice president, and George F. Hines secretary-treasurer. Headquarters have been established at 153 Milk street.

ELECTRIC CAR IS POPULAR

Wide Interest Shown in This Type at Auto Shows.

Improvements Add Greatly to Its Attractiveness for Buyers.

The wide use of the electric car has made that type of automobile of more than ordinary interest at the many automobile shows. Time was when the electric was the center of interest for the women. Now the men have become just as much interested in it.

A few years ago when an automobile show was held the women crowded around the exhibits of electrics and the men were to be seen only at those displays were the gas cars were shown. There has been a change. Men are now interested in the electrics, and not a few women are just as interested in the gas cars.

A remarkable change has come in the sentiment towards the electric. This is due largely to the improvements made in the car itself. When the car was first made it was conceded even by the manufacturers that it was for city use only. Long trips were out of the question. This has been changed, for now the electric can be used for long tours and it can go into the country.

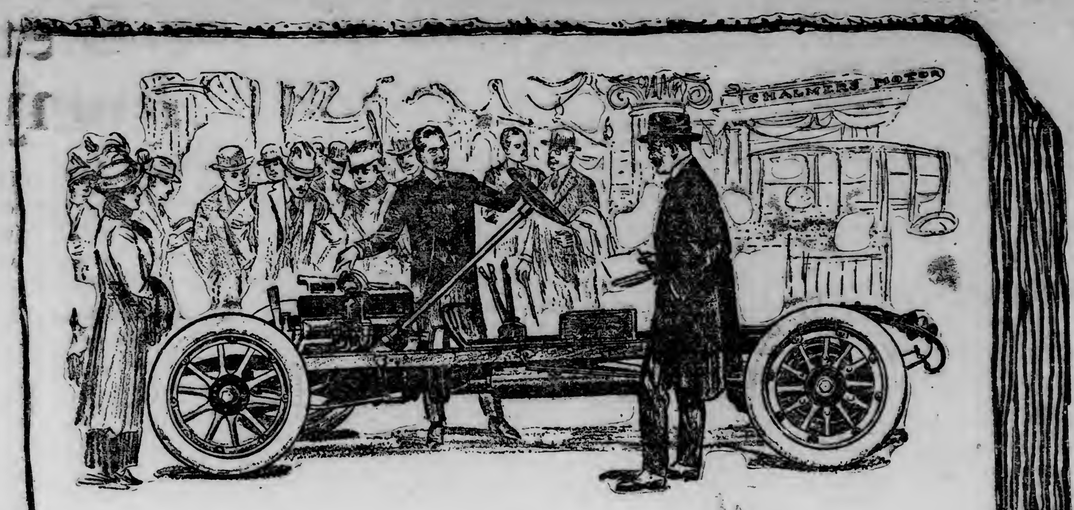

The electric still maintains its biggest hold upon the women purchasers, however. First of all, it is easy to manage. Milady, starting out for an afternoon tea, doesn't have any trouble with the machine. She simply gets in and goes sailing to her destination.

The electric is particularly popular with the debutante set in Duluth. The young women flitting from party to tea and from tea to reception prefer to drive their own electrics rather than have their chauffeurs take them about in the big limousines. There is the added satisfaction of keeping the car just as long as they please without any thought of having the driver call for some other member of the family.

The grandmothers of the city are not content to be taken around by someone else, and so many of them are now running their own cars.

Many business men have become devotees of the electric car, and they run them around town just as conveniently as they would a gas car.

The electric has come into its own and the interest shown in this type of cars at the various Eastern shows indicates this to be a certainty.

Why the Chalmers is the Lowest Priced "Six"

Don't Judge by the Purchase Price

What you pay when you buy a car is not the real price.

The real price is what you pay while you have it—the upkeep cost for service.

The car of expensive upkeep cost is the high-priced car.

Figured this way, the economical Chalmers "Light Six"—now $1650—is the lowest priced "Six."

For its cost of service—season after season—is lowest.

So the Chalmers $1650 "Light Six" has won the preference of practical men everywhere.

It is the fastest selling "Six" Chalmers has yet built.

Where the Chalmers Excels in Economy

Quite possibly there are other "light sixes" that consume no more gasoline in a season.

But gasoline saving is comparatively a minor saving.

$25 will easily cover the difference between the season's gasoline costs of any two "light sixes" on the market.

It isn't in oil, either, that the Chalmers "Light Six" is so much more economical.

But oil cost is a very small part of upkeep expense. A gallon will last for hundreds of miles.

It is really the repair bill that determines whether the upkeep cost of any car is high or low.

One repair bill is often large enough to wipe out a season's saving in oil and gasoline.

No Other Car "Stays Put" Like the Chalmers

The test of the past season has shown that this car excels all others in meeting severest usage without a single part flinching.

Most cars will run well the first month. It's in the second and third and later months that the real ordeal comes.

It is then the Chalmers "Light Six" begins to show its marked superiority—its greater strength and stamina.

Why the Chalmers "Stays Put"

Four qualities are mainly responsible. First,—its construction is right. The basic principles of its design are correct. Strains and stresses have been eliminated.

Second,—its weight is right. Not too light, for an underweight car is necessarily flimsy. Nor yet is it too heavy.

Third,—it has proper balance. The load is distributed properly. The rear axle carries just the right amount. The front axle is not overburdened. Moving parts are adjusted with hair's breadth accuracy.

Four,—the materials put into this car are of top-most quality. Makers of steel and automobile accessories will tell you that no company is more exacting in its requirements.

What the Chalmers Saves You

It saves you in first cost—considering its value. For it is a manufactured car. Parts makers' profits do not swell the purchase price.

Rigid economy in building operations has cut costs here to the lowest notch. You save, too, in daily, monthly cost. For this car's service, season after season you pay less than the owner of any other "light six"

And these economies have been proved this season by over 4000 owners.

Come in today and see this car of economy.

ROADS WELL UNDERSTOOD

Cross-Country Tourists Now Have Little Difficulty.

By Robert Bruce.

(Manager A. A. A. Touring Bureau.)

The various roads from the eastern seaboard states to Chicago and Mississippi river points generally are now so well understood and so constantly traveled that they present no difficulties, even to the novice in long distance touring, and one may choose among them according to preference or convenience.

But it is still highly desirable, if not absolutely necessary, for the average person making a tour from Chicago, St. Louis or Kansas City to the Rocky Mountains, or the Pacific coast expositions, to know in advance something about prevailing road conditions, principal mileages and character of accommodations on the different routes, in order to lay out a trip going, and perhaps returning, best suited for his purpose, including length of time required and expense to be allowed for.

Four Practicable Routes.

Four thoroughly practicable routes now extend all the way across the Central West and Far West, briefly as follows, in their order from north to south: (1) "Northwest Trail"—Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Fargo, Bismarck, Livingston (Yellowstone Park connection); Butte, Spokane, Seattle. (2) "Overland Trail"—Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, (or Ogden, or both), Reno, Sacramento, San Francisco. (3) "Midland Trail"—St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver (or Colorado Springs, or both), Salt Lake City, Ely; Los Angeles, and (4) "Trail to Sunset"—Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, La Junta, Trinidad, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Phoenix, Yuma, San Diego (or Flagstaff, Needles, San Bernardino), Los Angeles.

To these should be added the fifth, the Pacific Highway, the predominant north and south thoroughfars of the western coast, by means of which the four western routes already mentioned are connected on the Pacific end, and return trips over the other lines greatly facilitated.

Long Tours Shortened.

The time required for a transcontinental tour has been greatly shortened by the road improvements made on all lines during 1912, 1913 and 1914, and is now really less than generally supposed. From principal Atlantic seaboard points to Chicago is now a matter of only about five, six or seven days of fairly constant traveling, and in favorable conditions of roads and weather one may complete the trip to Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles or San Diego in from twenty to twenty-five days additional. A protracted wet spell—which might be encountered on any transcontinental route—will greatly interfere with the best arranged schedule; and of course the average tourist will stop over a day or so at a few intermediate points.

RECIPE TO STOP DANDRUFF

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum ..... 1 oz.
Barbo Compound ..... a small box
Glycerine ..... ¼ oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

SUFFRAGE BILL HELD

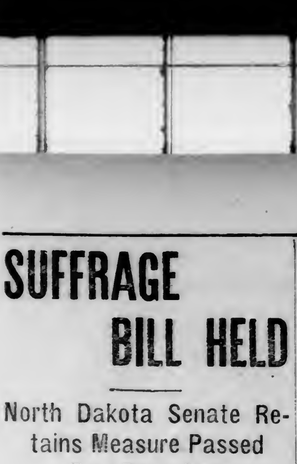

North Dakota Senate Retains Measure Passed Few Days Ago.

Capitol Removal Bill Killed; Elevator Fund Cut Down.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate yesterday, by a vote of 25 to 23, refused to send the woman suffrage bill to the house, from which it was recalled a few days ago. The next move by the suffrage forces will be the introduction in the house of a certified copy of the bill as passed by the senate. A fight probably will be made against such procedure on the ground that the senate has not released the bill, and that therefore there is nothing for the house to consider.

Senator Putnam's bill, proposing the removal of the state capital from Bismarck to New Rockford, which has been lying on general orders in the senate for weeks, was finally indefinitely postponed, the vote being 16 to 16, with Lieutenant Governor Fraine casting the deciding vote in favor of postponement.

The Lathrop committee bill abolishing twenty-four demonstration farms in the state was lost in the house through lack of a constitutional majority, there being only forty-six votes for it, with thirty-two members absent.

Insanity as a cause for divorce has now been approved in both houses, the senate passing Albrecht's bill making insanity statutory grounds for divorce.

No Vice Comaission.

North Dakota will not make a study of crime conditions, Representative Purcell's bill proposing the creation of a vice commission being defeated by the house.

Purcell's automobile taxation bill, which provides a tax based on the motive power in lieu of all other taxes, such income to be divided equally between the counties and the state highway commission, was reported out for passage. It is the first highway commission bill approved up to this time.

McClellan's bill for the recall of officials in city council governed cities was recommended for passage. Only a few days ago this bill was killed, but it was saved by reconsideration.

Hickle's bill giving $200 for first year high schools, and permitting high schools to charge other districts $6 per month per pupil enrolled, was approved in committee.

Terminal Elevator Fund.

The abolishment of appropriations for continuing terminal elevator fund, and the transfer of moneys now in the special elevator fund to the general fund, will grow out of the attitude taken by the house of representatives yesterday, when that body acted upon the Lathrop committee bill with reference to terminal proposition.

The house, sitting as a committee of the whole, amended the measure in such manner that only a $2,000 appropriation is carried for the coming year, this being for the purpose of investigation by the railroad commission with reference to the construction of terminals both within the state and without.

of the bill introduced by Representatives Charles H. Warner of Aitkin and L. W. Bouck of Royalton, to limit purchases of state land to 160 acres to each individual, and to require certain improvements on each tract before title could be confirmed.

If the state's land were all ready for the plow, or if the state were enterprising enough to reclaim it and make it ready for the plow before offering it for sale, the bill would have gone through without a protest.

Land Needs Reclamation.

But when so much of the state's land is submerged or stump-covered, and when the state is doing so little to reclaim it, it was felt by those who fought the bill successfully that to impose upon the sale of state land the restriction that it should go to settlers only would only have the effect of stopping state land sales and paralyzing the sections that contain a large amount of state land.

State Auditor Preus, incidentally, let it be known to the committee members that he is not only ardently in favor of the McGarry-O'Neill reclamation revolving fund amendments to the Constitution, which has passed the senate and is now before the house, but pledged his best efforts, when the amendment is submitted, toward inducing the people of the state to adopt it.

Also, Mr. Preus stated that he was in favor of a further amendment to the Constitution that would permit settlers to locate on state land and to pay for it after they have had a chance to establish themselves there and made a home.

Now, all state land must be sold at public auction, so the settler must not only pay for his land and pay the taxes on it, but must let the state keep the mineral rights and must buy outright the timber that may be left upon the land, before he can apply a grubhook.

Mr. Preus suggested that the bill might be limited to state school land, and not be made to apply to swamp land, as it was plainly evident that it would be impossible to make the required improvements on swamp lands. However, it developed that a good deal of the school land is also swamp, so nothing came of this suggestion.

Frank S. Lang of International Falls appeared before the committee and made an effective talk against the bill.

State's Failure Scored.

Incidentally, the failure of the state to keep its agreement with the national government, under which it received this swamp land on a pledge to reclaim it, came in for severe criticism during the discussion.

Senator Nord pointed out that the state does nothing to improve this land, and that if the proposed bill went through it would prohibit anybody else from improving it.

"There are places," he said, "where for 100 miles there is muskeag swamp—the best land on earth when it is drained and properly cared for. But the state won't drain it.

"There is only one way to solve this problem. Let the state allow purchases in unlimited quantities by those who will reclaim this land and settle it—in other words, do what the state might do to its profit, but refuses to do. Then the land would go on the tax rolls, benefiting the state in increased taxes, the state school funds in increased volume, and the local communities by contributing to the cost of local improvements."

Representative Spencer J. Searls of Carlton, who has been asked to look out for the bill in the unavoidable absence of Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, moved that the measure be reported out without recommendation. His motion was lost, and the committee adopted a motion by Representative Pendergast that the bill be recommended for indefinite postponement.

Initiative and Referendum.

The Bjorge-Dendixen initiative and referendum constitutional amendment, resubmitting with several changes the amendment that failed of passage at the last election, was reported out of the house committee on elections yesterday afternoon without recommendation, which will give it a chance for consideration by the house.

The principal changes from the measure submitted two years ago are that proposed constitutional amendments initiated by the people shall go direct to the people, without going through the legislature; and that when a proposed statute, initiated by the people, is amended by the legislature in a form unsatisfactory to its proponents, only the original and unamended proposal shall be submitted to the people if an additional petition of 6 per cent of the voters is filed.

The committee killed the Corning-Dendixen bill providing for a constitutional amendment making the speaker of the house elective by the people. The vote was 6 to 5, Chairman Bjornson casting the deciding vote.

A public hearing will be given Friday afternoon to the bill by Representative Sam Y. Gordon permitting political party conventions to propose party candidates for the primaries. The purpose of the bill is to legalize "elimination conferences," and to surround them with legislative safeguards.

The Larson woman suffrage bill will be given a hearing at a date to be fixed later in the week.

The Primary Bill.

The senate is due for a fight on the question of changing the primary election date from June back to September. The senate committee on elections voted yesterday afternoon to indefinitely postpone the bill by Representative Anton Borgen of Duluth, providing for the September primary, which has passed the house. There will be a minority report in favor of the bill.

Senator W. A. Campbell's bill providing for the abolishment of the senate and the substitution of a one-chamber body of 100 members was also recommended for indefinite postponement.

* * *

The last public hearing on the efficiency and economy bill was held yesterday afternoon, when the civil service feature of the bill was considered. The committee will now take up the bill for consideration and must report it back to the house by March 2.

* * *

Aimed at Christian Science.

Another bill aimed at Christian Science and other healers came in to the senate yesterday afternoon, being introduced by Senator John W. Andrews of Mankato, a physician. It is aimed at all classes of drugless healers, and requires that all persons desiring to practice "any kind of system of healing, curing or relieving any human disease, other than the several schools now recognized by law," must get licenses from the state board of medical examiners, and first must pass scientific and practical examinations.

* * *

Senator Richard Jones of Duluth yesterday afternoon introduced his bill creating a system of state industrial insurance, which was described in The Herald last Friday. He is joined in the authorship of the bill by Senators O. H. Griggs of Virginia and W. A. Campbell of Minneapolis.

* * *

To surround dry towns with a saloon deadline two miles away is the purpose of a bill introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator J. T. Ailey of Buffalo. The law now forbids the licensing of saloons within half a mile of a dry community, and his bill amends this to make it two miles.

* * *

Bills Introduced.

The following bills came into the senate yesterday afternoon:

By Senator F. D. Vibert of Cloquet—Providing for the official publications of the proceedings of school boards in independent districts.

By Senator J. W. Andrews of Mankato—Appropriating $7,500 to buy two bronze replicas of the Houdon statue of George Washington, one to be placed in the state capitol and the other in the University of Minnesota.

By Senator F. E. Putnam of Blue Earth City—Allowing appeals from railroad and warehouse commission orders to the district court in any county in which the order is effective.

By Senators Richard Jones of Duluth and James Handlan of St. Paul—Providing for the licensing of plumbers and the state inspection of plumbing.

* * *

The senate in committee of the whole yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar the bill by Senator Charles E. Adams of Duluth providing for the incorporation of Protestant Episcopal cathedrals. The purpose is to allow Trinity pro-cathedral in Duluth to put its property in the name of a corporation.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

OTTERTAIL INTERESTE)

county division whereby a minority can prevail over an adverse majority, they have been much struck by the proposal from the range county of a plan of county division by which division could be brought about entirely by the votes of those in the section which is to be set off in a new county, and without the voters of the rest of the county having anything to say about it.

That is the plan proposed in the pending bill, and it has interested the Ottertail county divisionists hugely. They are here to see if there is any way they can get behind it and help, providing it is broadened so that it will take them in. As it stands, the bill applies only to St. Louis county, though if the legislature would enact a law making it apply to one county, doubtless it would willingly make it the general rule of county division practice in this state.

A delegation of eighteen from various Mesaba range communities came down yesterday to appear last evening in the house chamber at a joint meeting of the towns and counties committee of the senate and house.

The night was stormy, and the turnout was therefore small. The senate members were not present, and only a bare majority of the house committee appeared. There were nine committee members present, four of whom are from St. Louis county.

Opposition to be Heard.

It was arranged that last night's meeting should be given up wholly to the advocates of the bill, and another hearing will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the opposition will be heard.

The range members had wanted the hearings closed up last night, and were a little indignant at the idea that another should be held. They gave notice that they would insist upon participating in the second hearing, and they were assured that if they would give the opposition as free a chance to present its case as the affirmative had last night, there would be no objection whatever to their presenting arguments in rebuttal.

E. J. Larson of Virginia asked the committee members to consider the division bill as a matter of state policy, as St. Louis county is a large share of the state on the map, and a large share, too, if you look at the tax statistics. It has a large share also of the state undeveloped acres, and it is as backward in agriculture as any other part of the state and perhaps a little more so.

"When the ore and timber are gone," asked Mr. Larson, "what will be the result? Holes in the ground and stumps. What St. Louis county needs is roads, ditches and general improvements for settlers. It is a great county. A large part of the people have to travel 150 miles to reach the county seat. To do business on that basis, and to attract settlers, is difficult. On that principle you should give us a new county. We have a city population of 75,000 people on the ranges, and if we had an equal number of farmers to feed them we would have something when the ore is done. Don't let yourself be confused by the figures of large local expenses that will be given you. They are temporary, and should not be considered."

Claims Inconvenience.

D. W. Freeman of Eveleth, speaking as a real estate man, said that it was very inconvenient to go to the county seat to look up matters relating to titles. The range courthouse does not, as many may think, provide a branch county seat, though it has a district court with a deputy sheriff and deputy clerk of court. "We still have to go to Duluth," he said, "for all real estate litigation."

"It is a good deal of trouble to go to Duluth to get road work done," said P. R. Cosgrove of Gilbert. "It is expensive and annoying, and when you get there it is hard to get anything through because it is going to the range. The people of Gilbert all want county division. I can't explain just why we want it, but we do. We want to get our county government closer to us, so we can get our development work done faster. It is a good farming country, most of it, and we want to develop it. We are handicapped by the expense of taking of prisoners to Duluth, as well as county cases of sickness. If we had a county of our own, it wouldn't cost us as much to run the two counties as it does now to run the one."

Thad Bean of Buhl said that the people of his town want division. They had a public meeting recently in favor of it, and the business men and farmers are for it. "They are not all posted on the details," he said, "but all feel that it will be a fine thing to have. The reason St. Louis county has remained undivided so long is because it has been slow in settling up. In the old days one county seat and one county government were enough to handle the business, but as the country settles up new counties are formed; and we have reached the stage where we need it. We ask it on the fundamental right of American people to govern themselves." Mr. Bean denied in advance the assertion that only "lawyers and politicians" are in favor of division.

On Behalf of Hibbing.

D. D. McEachin of Hibbing, speaking in behalf of the commercial interests of Hibbing, made an eloquent plea for dividing St. Louis county. Speaking of Hibbing, he said that it is the largest village in the country, if not in the world, and has about 15,000 people. The proposed division, he said, would be on natural lines, laid out by Providence, through a great swamp which divides the range country and Duluth.

"We cannot work to the best advantage," said Mr. McEachin, "so far from the seat of county government. County government should be for convenience, and the present arrangement is not convenient. Neither is it just to have 75,000 people living 75 to 150 miles from the county seat. We are only asking for the right of self-government, and I hope nobody here would deny us that right. The business interests of Hibbing to a man are asking for this bill. It is impossible to divide the county under the present law. Give us a chance—give us justice."

* * *

George F. Peterson, editor of the Bear River Journal, said he spoke for a farming district thirty miles north of the range and depending on good roads for the development not only of the farmers' land but of the land owned by speculators, railroads and the state.

"Every road in the northern part of the county," he said, "has been opposed by the Duluth county commissioners. The contest is between the development of the northern part of the county and the southern part, where a large proportion of the road money is spent within the city limits of Duluth."

Surprised at Opposition.

R. J. Montague of Virginia declared that it was strange that there should be anybody opposed to this bill, and that there could be nobody not influenced by personal or local interests. "There are no arguments whatever against it," he said. "The range country is many miles from Duluth, yet Duluth says that county division is not necessary. We pay nearly three-quarters of the taxes, and get back about a quarter of what we pay. It is a burden on us to have to go to Duluth to transact business, and there are many legal matters that we have to go there to adjust. We are interested in developing our country; Duluth is not."

W. J. Archer of Virginia, one of the original county division boosters, who, along with N. B. Arnold, now of Duluth, were among the earliest agitators of division, said that the county division talk had had one good effect, anyway, because it has resulted in giving the range county more of the county road money than used to be spent there. He advocated division on grounds of economy, efficiency and development, basing his talk largely on the claim that the fees and mileage and other costs for transacting county business over long distances are so great that the new county could get along with a smaller expense than it now contributes to the support of St. Louis county. He presented petitions from various communities asking for county division, and read a letter from a Duluth lawyer in favor of the proposition, who he said used to live on the range but whom he did not name.

Range people here for the hearing included the following: Mayor Victor L. Power, C. M. Atkinson and D. D. McEachin of Hibbing, Peter R. Cosgrove, J. N. Carlson and Clyde Campbell of Gilbert, H. A. Mitchell of Mountain Iron, R. J. Montague, W. J. Archer, E. J. Larson, Ellis-Walsh and William Rooney of Virginia, Thad Bean and W. J. Doyle of Buhl, Mayor Joseph Austin of Chisholm, John Gleason and D. W. Freeman of Eveleth, C. S. Schuster of Biwabik, and George F. Peterson of Bear River.

ill with pneumonia in a local hospital.

The debate for the bill was opened by Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, author of the house bill for which the F. H. Peterson senate file was substituted.

Fights on Amendments.

Besides considerable oratory on both sides there was a prospect of more or less prolonged fights on proposed amendments. The friends of the bill, it was said, had gained a doubtful vote by agreeing to lengthen from sixty days to six months the time for saloons to quit business in counties that vote dry. Under the bill 25 per cent of the voters of any county can bring about a special election on the issue of county prohibition and if a majority of those voting vote dry, no more liquor licenses may be granted in that county. It is predicted that if the bill becomes a law, seventy or more of the eighty-six counties will go dry in a short time.

With Senator George H. Gardner of Brainerd, author of the house bill, leading the fight, the senate in committee of the whole this morning by an overwhelming vote recommended for passage the Vasaly-Hynes house bill requiring railroads to pay their employes twice a month. This measure has been fought over in the last three sessions, but has always heretofore been beaten by railroad opposition. Senator Richard Jones of Duluth spoke for the bill.

Woman Suffrage.

Woman suffrage this morning was again made a special order in the senate, this time for Thursday, March 9. This action was taken on motion of Senator Sageng of Dalton, author of the bill. There is still a prospect that the house will act on its bill, introduced by Representative Larson of Sandstone, before the senate passes on the issue of votes for women.

Representative George W. Rodenberg of St. Paul introduced a trio of bills aimed at the regulation of banks and corporations. One requires banks having savings departments to keep their savings deposits rigidly separate from their other funds after Dec. 31, 1915. Another compels every state bank to include the word "state" in its title, and provides that those who fail to comply with this regulation before Jan. 1 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. A third forbids corporations to use loose leaf ledgers or account books, or any other type of book from which leaves can be detatched without the fact being apparent.

SECRET CONFERENCE HELD AT THE HAGUE.

The Hague, Feb. 24, via London.—There is good reason to believe that the political situation in Holland at the present time is such that most interesting developments might be expected at any moment. There have been recently numerous meetings between the diplomatic representatives of various countries at The Hague, but the subjects discussed at these conferences have been kept strictly secret. The Netherlands ministers have been in conference with some of the foreign diplomats and at the same time work in the government offices has been going on night after night until a late hour.

The Holland-American line steamer Ryndam, when she left Rotterdam for New York last night was brilliantly lighted. She laid to off the harbor all night before proceeding down the channel. The name "Ryndam" in large letters has been painted on both sides of the steamer.

CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK CHILDREN NEED "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

A Coated Tongue Means Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Listen Mother!

Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has sour stomach, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills. Give a teaspoonful and in just a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle.

Mother, keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper size. Don't be fooled.

ATTACKS ON FOUR FRONTS

Russian Army Corps Had Desperate Battle With Germans.

Story Told By Those Who Managed to Make Escape.

Petrograd, Feb 24.—The desperate resistance offered by the Twentieth corps of the Russian army to the advance of the Germans in East Prussia after it had been cut off from the Tenth army is described in an official communication issued here last night. The report is based upon information from "various individuals belonging to this corps, who managed to escape." The Russians claim that although these troops were surrounded by a German army in the territory between Goldap and Suwalki they inflicted heavy losses upon their antagonists. They repelled attacks on four fronts "until their strength was completely exhausted." The communication follows:

"The communication of Feb. 21 which described the unusually difficult position of parts of our army corps during the retreat in East Prussia applied to portions of the Twentieth corps commanded by Lieut. Gen. Bulgakoff, comprising the Twelfth division and three reserve regiments. Communications between this corps and the Tenth army was broken on Feb. 13 and the corps found itself surrounded in the country between Goldap and Suwalki by a German army which constantly increased in numbers.

Fought Heroically.

"This corps fought heroically until Feb. 22 against an enemy which outnumbered it several times. During these days the troops marched about thirty-two miles, continuing to force a passage for themselves toward the southeastern part of the forest of Augustowo.

"According to accounts given by prisoners, our corps inflicted heavy losses upon the Germans who attempted to bar the way, particularly in the lake region and the forest near Ghita. Reports just given by various individuals belonging to this corps who managed to escape show the corps was ready to fight until its strength was completely exhausted, gallantly repelling attacks on four fronts, retaining its artillery and taking with it many German prisoners.

"Severe fighting continues on the right banks of the Bobr and Narew rivers. German detachments which took the offensive near Osowietz on Feb. 21 were forced back by the fire of our artillery. Fighting has been in progress north of Lomza on the roads to Radzilowo, Artchoutchina and Kolno. In spite of attacks by strong forces we hold Jedwabno."

A German attack along the Szczuczyn-Kolno road was supported during the night of Feb. 22 by armored automobiles and was unusually intense.

Offensive Continues.

"The German offensive continues in the Przasnysz district. Three attacks upon Przasnysz were repulsed, our armored automobiles assisting greatly in this respect. Their fire decimated the Germans at a distance of seventy-five paces. On the road to Plonsk some villages changed hands several times.

"South of the Moghely farm on the left bank of the Vistula we exploded mines under a German trench, occupying the dugouts in the remainder of the German trenches. We captured three machine guns, trench mortars and bombs and also took a number of prisoners. The losses to the Germans caused by the mine explosions numbered 500.

"In the Carpathians the Austrians bombarded a convent south of Mezolaborcz with 12-inch mortars. We repulsed persistent Austrian attacks in the region of Mikov, Smolnika and Tiszovica and inflicted enormous losses upon the enemy in the region of Myto Koziourka.

"Austrian troops have taken the places of the Germans south of Bolina. Obstinate fighting has begun at Stanislau against great forces of the enemy.

"Between Jan. 21 and Feb. 20 our army in the Carpathians captured 621 officers, 47,640 men, 17 cannon and 118 mitrailleuses."

to come before a British prize court. She was loaded with a cargo of food products in New York and started for a German port. She was gathered in by the British marine authorities and the disposal of her cargo is being watched with much interest.

The text of the German declaration follows:

"By motion of William L. Brooking, manager of the Green Commission company of St. Louis, the Imperial government makes the following declaration: The cargo of the steamer Wilhelmina, as well as the cargoes of vessels arriving in the future from American with food for Germany, shall be subject neither to seizure nor to selling right, nor to any other government measure taken in connection with maximum prices, according to the measures already issued for home grown wheat. The cargo of the Wilhelmina, as well as all future similar cargoes, shall remain the property of the American owner and it can be sold by him at any place at the price asked.

"Food coming in this manner to Germany shall not be used for either the army or the navy, or for any other government purposes. The American owners of such cargoes shall be permitted to impose upon buyers the obligation that this food be not used for the army or the navy or for other government purposes."

Do Not Apply.

In support of the contention that the German conservation regulations do not apply to imported grains, Mr. Brooking said today that Roumanian grains had been freely dealt in since the beginning of the war and that at all times the prices on them had ranged much higher than the maximum prices for home grown grains, in some cases nearly double.

Mr. Brooking says that some anti-American sentiment has been created in Germany over the large exportation of arms and ammunition to Great Britain from America. "However," Mr. Brooking said, "well informed Germans fully realize that there is no illegality in this. Still they are anxious to see what stand the American government will take relative to the exportation of foodstuffs to Germany, whether the United States will insist upon its legal rights when this favors Germany."

at several points were repulsed, with enormous losses for the attacking forces. It is claimed that during the last month more than 48,000 Austrians have been captured.

It was officially announced in Berlin that a British transport had been sunk off Beachy Head, England. The location and time given make it probable, however, that the Berlin announcement has reference to the sinking of a British naval collier, which was made known last night.

A report from French sources is that the Roumanian army will take the field in April. The Roumanian minister in London, according to this unconfirmed statement, will shortly present to the British government a communication to this effect.

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 24, by wireless to London, 3:07 p. m.—The official report on the progress of the war given out in Berlin today says the Russians have succeeded in crossing the Bobr river in Northern Poland, in two places.

The statement is as follows:

"In the western theater of war:

"Near Perthes, in Champagne, French infantry divisions yesterday made an attack on several places. Violent hand-to-hand fighting took place, which everywhere resulted in favor of the Germans. The enemy suffered heavy losses and was driven back to his positions.

"In the Vosges, German attacks against Sulzern and Muehlbach, east of Stossweier, made progress. In the engagements during the last few days we made 500 prisoners.

"Otherwise nothing important has occurred on the western front.

"Eastern theater of war: A new Russian advance from Grodno was easily repulsed. Southeast of Augustowo the Russians crossed the Bobr river in two places. Near Sziabin they have already been driven back. Near Krasnyborg the engagement continues.

"Near Przasnysz, 1,200 Russians were made prisoners and two cannon were taken.

"A Russian night attack east of Skierniewice was repulsed."

French Statement.

Paris, Feb. 24, 2:45 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting which reads as follows:

"With the exception of a few successful actions on the part of our troops near Auberide-Sur-Suippe, nothing of importance has occurred since the giving out of the communication of last night. We have made further progress to the north of Perthes."

Cellar Full of Hyacinths.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 24.—Mrs. George Kitto of Dollar Bay has a cellar full of beautiful hyacinths of various colors, which are attracting much admiring attention. The bulbs were planted Dec. 1, last, with the expectation that they would be blossoming about Easter. But they are all coming up now, some weeks earlier than was expected.

THREE MORE STEAMERS SENT TO BOTTOM

Dyke at The Hague:

"Carib reported sunk in North sea outside route prescribed by German instructions."

No report had come today of the missing boatload of men from the American steamer Evelyn.

Submarines and Mines.

London, Feb. 24.—What with submarines and mines, the situation in the waters surrounding Great Britain continues to furnish fresh developments, involving ships of neutrals in both Europe and America. A second American steamer, the Carib, has gone to the bottom of the North sea with a valuable cargo of cotton, and two British steamers have been torpedoed in the last twenty-four hours. As a precaution England has closed the entrance to the Irish channel, excepting a narrow strip near the coast, in which navigation will be permitted only by daylight. These restrictions are patterned after those enforced in the English channel some time ago.

The Scandinavian countries, among which Norway already has lost four ships, are trying hard to find some solution of the problem, but so far without result, although it is purposed tentatively to provide some sort of a naval convoy for their craft. The matter is to be discussed further.

The crew of the American steamer Carib, which was sunk by a mine off the German coast, is reported from German sources to have been saved, but the whereabouts of the sailors is a mystery. It was reported also that part of the crew of the American steamer Evelyn, sunk by a mine off the German coast, was being taken to Holland.

There are indications that the allied fleets in the Mediterranean are attacking the forts along the Dardanelles in earnest, though there has been an interruption of operations on account of weather conditions.

Germany is still celebrating Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's advance over the Russian frontier from East Prussia.

Say Transport Was Sunk.

Berlin, Feb. 24, by wireless to London.—Official announcement was made last night that the British transport No. 192 was sunk by a German submarine off Beachy Head at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A dispatch last night from New Haven, England, stated that eighteen members of the crew of the Cardiff steamer Branksome Chine, a government collier, had landed there and announced the sinking of their vessel either by a mine or a torpedo in the English channel twenty miles southeast of Beachy Head, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This probably is the vessel to which the Berlin announcement refers.

Dodged Torpedo.

Paris, Feb. 24.—A German submarine which for the past few days had been lying in the English channel in wait for steam packets plying between France and England, Monday night fired a torpedo at the steamer Victoria, while she was on the voyage from Boulogne to Folkestone with a number of passengers, including some Americans.

The captain of the Victoria, however, saw the characteristic wake made by the torpedo and slowed down his vessel and the torpedo passed harmlessly about 100 feet in front of her.

The French second light squadron was informed to keep a sharp lookout in the channel for the submarine.

The minister of marine announces that a torpedo boat belonging to the squadron sighted the submarine at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning eight miles south-southwest of Cape Alprech, near Boulogne, and immediately opened fire and succeeded in scoring several hits before the submarine was able to dive. The announcement adds that a wide patch of oil was seen afterward on the sea at the spot where the submarine disappeared, and from this it is presumed that the submarine was wrecked.

Went in Front of Ship.

London, Feb. 24.—The following statement has been issued by the official press bureau:

"The secretary of the admiralty announces that the Folkestone-Boulogne cross-channel passenger boat was attacked last night after leaving Boulogne harbor by a German submarine. One torpedo passed thirty yards ahead of the ship.

"The passengers, numbering ninety-two, consisted of civilians and included a number of neutrals."

The case went to the jury late yesterday.

How to Overcome or Prevent Pyorrhoea

Among many diseases from bad teeth are: Chronic inflammation of the pharynx, disease of the middle ear, gastritis, gastric ulcer, anemia. Poisons generate in the digestive tract from germs of dental origin and set up inflammation of connective tissues between the bundles of nerve cells in the overworked area. The disquieting feature, says the London Lancet, is that teeth and gums which appear perfectly healthy may be germ breeders. These discoveries add new terrors to pyorrhoea, or Riggs' disease. It is imperative to look to your gums and teeth constantly. You can tell, of course, when gums recede from the teeth, when they are sensitive to heat or cold, sweets or tobacco, when red, swollen, inflamed, bleed easily, are sore or tender, when pus exudes or you find gums shrink from the necks of the teeth. And you can easily overcome these conditions if you will get from your druggist say four ounces of fluid ergan (you won't need more), and use a teaspoonful morning, noon and night, rocking this to and fro in the mouth for a minute or so, then throwing it out. The pale straw color or deep yellow peels off and your own white enamel is shown.—Advertisement.

NOVEL PLAN OF AD CLUB

Will Begin Series of Demonstration Campaigns at Next Meeting.

Members Hear Address By William Billstein on Success in Advertising.

A most interesting meeting of the Duluth Advertising club was held last evening following a dinner at the Commercial club. William Billstein, president of the Columbia Clothing company, was the chief speaker, and the club determined to begin, at the next meeting, a series of demonstration business campaigns, which, besides being novel, are expected to have a most advantageous effect in the way of education of the members in the conduct of large business enterprises.

In his address, Mr. Billstein talked of the elements that make for successful advertising. He emphatically impressed it upon his hearers that the chief requisite for successful advertising is the telling of the truth in their "ads."

Due to illness, the president of the club, George D. McCarthy, was unable to be present and make an address, as was the plan.

As to the new educational idea advanced, it was planned that the members of the club will organize themselves into an incorporated company—supposedly, of course—and will proceed to conduct the business of the corporation along approved lines. The object of the "incorporation" will be to push the sale of a "specialty," in this case, the "specialty" being a work shirt.

Various heads of departments will be appointed, following the formation of the "company," and the election of officers, and each department manager will have his part of the work assigned.

Following the conclusion of the "wholesale or manufacturing" campaign, will come a campaign in selling the shirt in retail stores.

"The first demonstration consists of what is termed the 'selling and advertising campaign of the Duluth Manufacturing company, makers of work shirts.' At the first meeting the company will be formed and the officers elected as follows: President, vice president, secretary and merchandise manager, treasurer and credit manager, sales manager, advertising manager. The directors will then meet to decide on the name of the shirt and general sales problems.

At the second meeting the advertising campaign will be discussed; the third meeting will be devoted to the matter of sales plan and manufacturing, the factory manager's department and those of the merchandise manager and treasurer and credit manager; and the fourth meeting will take up the work of the advertising manager and sales manager, the latter including demonstrations of sales.

It is believed that these demonstration lessons will not only prove very attractive but will also be found to be of great benefit to the members of the club.

GEN. VON BELOW PRAISED BY KAISER

Compliments Troops on Forced Marches Over Snow-Covered Ground.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—Emperor William has addressed the following telegram to Gen. Otto von Below, one of the German commanders in the field:

"In forced marches lasting over nine days on snow drifted and icy roads your brave troops, shoulder to shoulder with their advancing comrades in the north, have succeeded in continuous battles in breaking the obstinate resistance of our opponent, driving him from German soil and surrounding and defeating him effectively. Thus with your excellency's time-tried leadership a victory has been achieved which is more glorious than anything we could have desired.

"I express to your excellency and the troops under you my imperial thanks and my fullest recognition for the splendid accomplishment. I confer upon you the Order Pour le Merite."

BERNHARDT SHOWS GREATEST OPTIMISM

Tells What She Will Do After Her Recovery From Operation.

Paris, Feb. 24.—"Seven months of suffering and the shock of the operation have paled Sarah Bernhardt's cheeks but her eyes have the same wonderful depth and her voice the same tones," says the Journal's Bordeaux correspondent. "Lying in her great white bed she is unhappy because 'the eddying wind which bends the pines and magnolias prevents my having the windows open,' she said yesterday.

"'All the suffering I have endured,' continued the tragedienne, 'is more than compensated by the tokens of sympathy I have received from the most illustrious and the humblest alike. All have taken an interest in my fate; all have hoped for my recovery. It is an immense consolation and I don't know how I shall be able to thank all of them adequately.'

"To the question, 'Were you not frightened?' she answered:

"'Frightened? Not at all! I fell asleep quite naturally, hearing far-away harmonious chimes. Then I awoke to live again. Already I am free from suffering; happy and full of courage and now I am going to get well quickly. I shall obey the doctors implicitly—but as soon as they permit I shall retake my place in the world.

"'I have been in despair since the beginning of the war at being helpless when there was so much to do. The Parisians feted me when I told them in all simplicity the story of my life. I shall tell it again with another memory added in my theater which I shall reopen next month. As soon as I have recovered completely I shall resume my classes at the conservatory and then move heaven and earth to realize my dream—create Rostand's Princess Lointaine.'

"Mme. Bernhardt became excited while telling of her plans and the effort tired her a little, but she soon recovered and was able to receive immense bouquets piled high at her door by friends and sympathizers."

Record Shingle Load.

Port Blakeley, Wash., Feb. 24.—The largest single shipment of shingles ever exported from Puget sound are now on the big freighter Missourian on the way to New York and Boston. The shipment contains 250,000 bundles or 6,300,000 shingles. The big freighter is filled with shingles and should she strike a rock and tear a great hole in her hull she could not sink, for the light cedar shingles would buoy her up.

BERLIN INTERESTED IN AMERICAN NOTE.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—Berlin newspapers are displaying interest in the American note presented to the foreign office the evening of Feb. 22, embodying certain informal proposals in the matter of foodstuffs for civilians and of submarine activities.

This note is now being considered by the German government. Referring to it the Berlin Tageblatt says:

"We hear that this American note is couched in a form which would appear to show that on the American side also there is no desire that this matter become more acute. The very fact that the American government makes counter-proposals shows it has not been able fully to disregard the weight of Germany's reasons."

GERMANS LOSS 50,000 IN ATTACK ON RUSS.

Paris, Feb. 24.—At least 50,000 men were lost by the Germans in their attack on the Russian positions on the Rawka river and in the regions of Borjimow and Gumbinnen, according to Ludovio Naudeau, the Journal's correspondent, who witnessed the operations. He considers the general situation highly favorable to the Russians and says:

"The Germans are being gradually but implacably worn down. Whether they attack or merely defend themselves their armies melt away from day to day. Their feverish activity and their frightful sacrifice of lives show they realize they are fighting against time."

SERBIAN TROOPS INVADE AUSTRIA.

Geneva, via Paris, Feb. 24.—Serbian troops invaded Austrian territory on the night of Feb. 20 and 21 near Bjelina opposite Ratcha and at Mitrovitza, penetrating from one to four miles across the frontier, according to a dispatch received here. The object of the Serbian offensive, it is believed, probably is to force the Austrians to send back to the west part of the troops operating against the Russians.

DO YOU WANT TO SAVE THE DRINKER?

Saving the man who drinks to excess is one of the most glorious accomplishments. Every hard drinker has moments when he wrestles with his better self and resolves to break with the drink habit. He knows the inevitable finish of all excessive drinkers. Loss of business and position, lost friends, lost happiness and all too often lost homes, divided families and broken hearts.

The Neal Liquor Treatment takes anyone who is in alcoholic slavery and drinks because some impelling force dominates his will, and in a few days eradicates the appetite completely leaving them as immune from alcoholic influence as they were before acquiring the habit.

ANSWER FILED IN $25,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Power Company Denies Charges of Damage From Overflows.

An answer was filed in the United States district court today by the Minnesota & Ontario Power company to the complaint made by William Abner Jameson of International Falls, in which action is brought for $25,000 for damages alleged to have been caused to property of the plaintiff by a dam constructed across Rainy river. Most of the allegations made in the complaint are denied in the answer.

The complaint states that water overflowing from the river caused great damage to property in Jameson's addition, filling cellars and preventing platting and other work for the improvement of the property. It is alleged that the property before being flooded was very valuable for manufacturing sites.

The defendant denies that the dam built on the American side of the border was built by the defendant company and was constructed by the Rainy River Improvement company, subject to an act of congress, and that the plans were approved by the secretary of war and United States engineers. The portion of the work on the Canadian side, however, was constructed by the Minnesota & Ontario Power company. The answer alleges that the dam is of great benefit to the city and that it has never caused the water to be raised above the proper level according to its knowledge.

Doctor said To Take Father John's Medicine for Colds and Body Building"

When Mrs. C. H. Dunkel, of 33 Linden street, Reading, Pa., was asked why she took Father John's Medicine for her cough, she replied, "it was recommended by my doctor." The same question was asked and a similar answer returned by the following:—Mrs. A. E. Hixon, 30 Larkin street, Bangor, Me.; Henry F. Villet, 25 Crown street, Merdiden, Conn.; Frank Poff, Hallam, Pa.; Charles L. Brown, Irving, Ill., as well as a great many others.

Physicians, hospitals and other institutions endorse Father John's Medicine because they know of its history and value.

It is best for colds, coughs and throat and long troubles and it makes flesh and strength. Free from alcohol and poisonous drugs.

RUSSIANS SHOWING DESPERATE COURAGE.

Berlin, Feb. 24, via London.—A dispatch received from Vienna quotes the war correspondent of the Fremdenblatt as saying the fighting in the Carpathians has resolved itself into a series of most bitter and stubbornly contested engagements. The Russians are showing desperate courage. It is quieter in the Dukla pass, where both sides have entrenched themselves. An important engagement is raging to the southward of Stanislau, in Galicia, where the Russians for the third time have opposed the advance of the Austrian right flank.

STOPPED BY PATROL AND WARNED OF MINES

New York, Feb. 24.—The Danish steamer Gulfaxe arrived at Quarantine here last night from Copenhagen after a stormy and uneventful passage.

Capt. Peterson reported that while the Gulfaxe was passing north of the Shetland islands, a British patrol boat put a shot across the steamer's bows. The Gulfaxe proceeded until another shot was fired, when she stopped.

The patrol boat, upon learning the identity of the steamer, allowed her to proceed after cautioning the captain that he was in a mine zone.

The Gulfaxe was in the center of a hurricane on Feb. 18. Heavy seas washed her side-lights out of their fastenings, broke lashings, lifted a propeller bolted on the aft-deck and shifted it fifty feet, damaging deck plates and hatches.

ELLEN TERRY HAS OPERATION ON EYE.

New York, Feb. 24.—Miss Ellen Terry, the English actress, underwent an operation at a local hospital yesterday for the removal of a cataract from her right eye. It was stated at the hospital that the operation was successful and that Miss Terry probably would be able to leave the institution in about two weeks.

Miss Terry is 67 years old.

Constipation a Penalty of Age

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as keeping the bowels open. It makes one feel younger and fresher and forestalls colds, piles, fevers, and other dependent ills.

Cathartics and purgatives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative-tonic, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it, is the combination of simple herbs with pepsin sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The price is fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

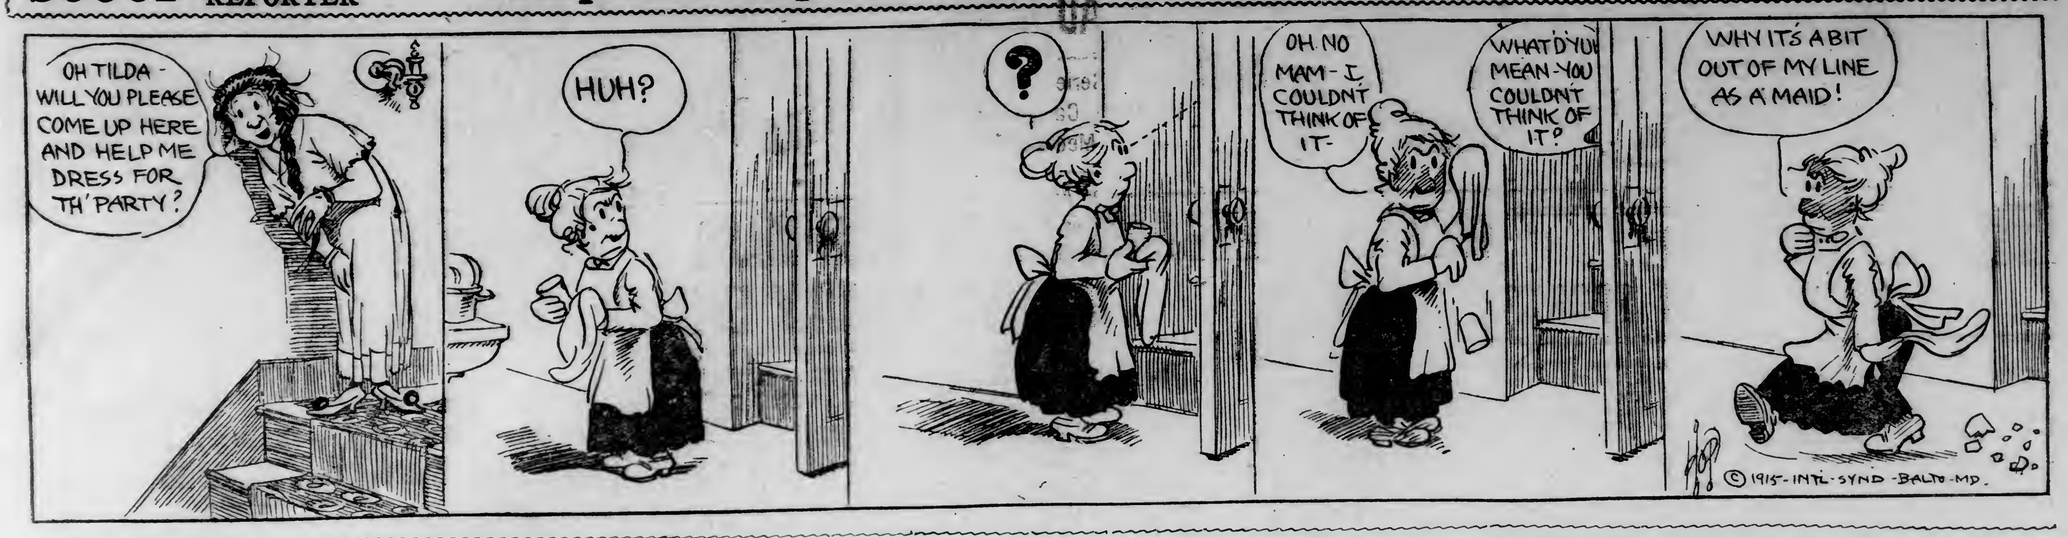

If you know some one who is troubled with catarrhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Experiments conducted in England some time ago seem to prove conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were directly caused by constitutional trouble. It was further brought out that salves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money were spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness and head noises will soon be extinct is given below in understandable form so that any one can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by local action, the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.

BENEFITS OF ELWELL LAW

Author of Road Measure Addresses Large Meeting at Brainerd.

Points How Road Law If Observed Will Double Land Values.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Addressing large audiences at the Chamber of Commerce, composed of farmers, business men and others, Senator James Elwell explained the workings of the road law bearing his name.

"Twenty-one counties," said Senator Elwell, "are using the Elwell law to build $2,751,723.70 worth of good roads. It is an option law. Protests and fault-finding, as a rule, come from men who have never built roads under the law. It is the only law which gets together enough money in one lump sum to build good roads now.

"Its provisions are fair. Under it the state pays half of the cost and the county one-fourth of the cost and the benefited property the other fourth, each having from one to ten years to pay in.

"Roads built in your northern counties to suit your needs will more than double your land valuations in the next two years. Good roads will keep the boys and girls on the farm. It will bring consolidated schools, enable you to see your neighbors, bring you nearer to town, enable you to haul more to town.

"Under this law each road is financed by itself and only the exact amount of money required to build it is provided for. The use of the Elwell law in one county does not raise the taxes in the next county or in the state."

Senator Elwell explained how the law was originally written in one-tenth the verbiage of the present law, but to make it constitutional the ditch law was used as a groundwork. In cities special benefits like sidewalks, sewers and paving were assessed against property benefited and he could not see why this could not be done with a road and eventually this view, passed on by the courts, has become law.

EX-SENATOR JAMES T. ELWELL Of Minneapolis, Author of Famous Road Law.

Benefited Hubbard County.

L. H. Rice of Park Rapids, chairman of the good roads committee of the Parks Rapids Commercial club, told of road building in Hubbard county under the Elwell law. It enabled them to build roads and enjoy them in this generation. It gave them roads which enabled a farmer to haul increased tonnage in a shorter time. It increased the value of every acre of land near the road. Enabling a farmer to double his load really lessened the distance to town by half. There was no opposition to the Elwell law in Hubbard county.

At the close of the local meeting a rising vote was taken in favor of the Elwell law and not a man voted against it. Secretary C. E. Hansing of the chamber of commerce said he would notify Senator George H. Gardner of Crow Wing county.

AFTER SUFFERING TWO LONG YEARS

Mrs. Aselin Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"After my little one was born I was sick with pains in my sides which the doctors said were caused by inflammation. I suffered a great deal every month and grew very thin. I was under the doctor's care for two long years without any benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try it we got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the third bottle of the Compound I was able to do my housework and today I am strong and healthy again. I will answer letters if anyone wishes to know about my case."—Mrs. JOSEPH ASELIN, 606 Fourth Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

"SUPPORT WILSON," SAYS F. B. KELLOGG

St. Paul Attorney Declares This Is No Time to Criticize.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24.—In the opinion of Attorney Frank B. Kellogg, who returned Monday from Washington, this is not a proper time for undue criticism regarding the handling of our foreign affairs. Mr. Kellogg believes the country should hold up the hands of the president.

"This is not the proper time for criticism," said Mr. Kellogg. "The responsibility as to our foreign affairs lies with the president and his administration and we should, as far as can be consistently done, strengthen his hand.

"I am a Republican, but this is a time when we should all be American citizens. Politics can have no place in a matter of this kind. I do not believe that there is anything in the situation to unduly alarm the people.

"Naturally, the times are delicate and matters are perilous, but we, as a people, should keep cool and meet the situation with unbiased judgment. The administration is doing everything it can to maintain a neutral attitude."

STATE LUMBERMEN GATHER AT FARGO

Welcomed to City, Delegates Hear Reports and Listen to Paper.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Lumbermen's association this afternoon began a two days' session in the Builders and Traders' exchange. President Emery of the city commission welcomed the visitors, and President Potter of the association responded. The president, the secretary and the treasurer made their annual reports indicating a considerable increase in the membership of the organization and the officials took a decidedly optimistic view of the future of the association. The use of cement on the farm was the subject of the chief address of the afternoon by J. H. Chubb and this resulted in considerable discussion. Tonight the visitors will be entertained by the local builders and traders at a vaudeville show and a smoker.

CRANKING AUTOMOBILE BLAMED FOR DEATH.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 24.—Dr. Colbert H. Cannon died recently at Eugene, Or. Dr. Cannon lived for twenty-three years in St. Paul. He entered the service of the Great Northern railway in 1879 as car accountant and was made superintendent of car service in 1894. He remained in that position until Feb. 1, 1903.

More than a year ago Dr. Cannon strained the muscles of his heart while cranking his automobile. He grew worse steadily and had been confined to his bed since Jan. 9.

He is survived by his widow and four children, one of the latter being Walter H. Cannon, a professor at Harvard university.

DEMONSTRATION FARMS DESIRED

Protest Sent North Dakota Legislature Against Their Abolishment.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A protest has been sent to the legislature against the proposed abolishment of the state demonstration farms as recommended by the Lathrop committee. These demonstration farms have been in operation about a dozen years, five having been first established, and there are now twenty-three. They are for the purpose of showing the farmers of different communities the advantages of crop rotation. The experiments are brought directly to each community and the results can easily be watched by the farmers of that vicinity. Each demonstration farm costs about $350 annually, about $100 of which goes to the farmer conducting the experiments, who works under the direction of the superintendent and takes whatever crops are produced, being paid the $100 for extra work. Increased yields universally follow the experiments and many farmers have been induced to change their methods as a result of the demonstration plats. In many localities the farms are so popular that picnics are annually held at which the experiments are fully explained and the benefits shown the visitors.

NORTH DAKOTA CHESS PLAYERS' TOURNAMENT

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 24.—The North Dakota State Chess association is meeting here this week, and some interesting "sessions" are being held over the chess boards.

The state tournament is being pulled off at the Commercial club and many are taking part. Among those playing are: E. C. Fleming, Fargo; John Tunstall, Jamestown; E. Anderson, Crary; George Honness, Crosby; Justice E. T. Burke, Bismarck; E. P. Wing, Bismarck; M. E. Young, Fargo; Judge W. L. Nuessle, Bismarck; Max Pfaender and E. Pfaender of Mandan; W. A. Peterson, Rev. O. C. Belsheim, J. Christiansen, also of Mandan; Dr. Hibbs, Frank Bangs, Bismarck; Alex Steinbach of Jamestown.

CROP ROTATION CARTOONS.

Used to Show Results From Practice in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Illustrating the results of the crop rotation and corn and wheat growing tests conducted on the farms at the state experiment station during the last fifteen years, W. C. Palmer has issued placards and cartoons that are proving effective over the state. One picture shows "Miss Wheat" working on an acre of land for four years and producing 59¼ bushels. Sneaking up behind is "Highwayman Weed" threatening her life and property. The companion picture shows "Miss Wheat" and her companion, "Mr. Corn." "Miss Wheat," working only three years out of four, produced 64 bushels of wheat to the acres, while "Mr. Corn," the year "Miss Wheat" took a vacation, produced 33 bushels of corn. More wheat was produced in three than in four years, to say nothing of the big corn crop; but best of all, "Highwayman Weed" is sneaking away in the companion cartoon, frightened at "Mr. Corn" and the protection he gives "Miss Wheat" and the soil against such desperadoes.

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

NEBISH MAN BOUND OVER.

Merchant Held on Charge of Misappropriating Postal Funds.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with misappropriating money collected for money orders at the Nebish postoffice, of which his wife is postmistress, E. M. Tschoepe, a merchant, has been bound over to the federal grand jury to await trial at the next term of the Federal court at Fergus Falls in May. His arrest was caused by Postoffice Inspector Carl Egge of Crookston, who alleges that Tschoepe is short $886.94.

Tschoepe was unable to secure the $2,000 bonds exacted and today was taken to Fergus Falls to be incarcerated until the grand jury acts on his case.

MONTANA PROHIBITION NOW UP TO GOVERNOR.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 24.—It only remains for Governor Stewart to sign H. B. 224 to make the legislative referendum prohibition bill a law. The house voted to concur in the senate amendment to the bill making it operative Dec. 31, 1918. That date is a compromise between the "wets," who wanted prohibition, if it carries, to become effective Dec. 31, 1919, and the "drys," who wanted prohibition Jan. 1, 1918.

MINISTER DISAPPEARS ON EVE OF WEDDING.

Cadott, Wis., Feb. 24.—Rev. J. W. Brokawa, who came here last fall to be pastor of the Methodist church, has disappeared and it is feared he is sick or that some evil has befallen him. He left here a month ago to be married in Chicago to a girl from his native town in Ohio and since cashing a check for $100 at Chippewa Falls has not been heard from. It is feared he has suffered an attack of aphasia.

SCENT SCHEME TO CAPTURE COUNTY SEAT

Schafer, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Petitions have been sent the members of the legislature from McKenzie county to oppose the bill that provides for the removal of the county seats on a majority instead of a two-thirds vote, as formerly. While it is claimed that the bill was introduced in the interests of Dunn county it also applies to McKenzie, Oliver, Steele, Slope and Sioux counties, the county seats of which are all located off railroads, an amendment having been introduced to the effect that the bill should apply only to counties of that class.

Local people appear to see in the bill a scheme of the residents of Alexander to recapture the county seat, it having been taken away from Alexander some years ago.

AGGIE DEBATERS TO MEET CALIFORNIANS.

Agricultural College, N. D., Feb. 24.—The second debate between the University of Southern California and the North Dakota agricultural college will be held at the college armory on Friday evening, March 12. The question will be, "Resolved, That the Initiative and Referendum Should be Made Part of the Legislative System of State Governments." Last year the agricultural college debaters journeyed to California and returned home victorious.

ENCOURAGES FARMERS TO GO IN FOR BEES.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor W. C. Gilbreath is calling the attention of the farmers of the state to the advantages of the bee industry.

There are numerous farmers making a success of the industry already and Commissioner Flint has compiled, from their records, statements showing the opportunity for added farm products.

Commissioner Flint says the state has unusual advantages for raising bees and he is hopeful of being able to build it up as one of the state's important new farm activities.

Was Father of Fifteen.

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 24.—Funeral services will be held from Mitchell M. E. church tomorrow afternoon for Samuel Stanaway, a resident of Negaunee for twenty years, who died in his home Saturday from pneumonia. Mr. Stanaway prior to coming to Negaunee resided at the Ropes Gold mine in Ishpeming. He was 54 years old and is survived by his widow and fifteen children.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks—The police arrested John Mullen, aged 23; Ed Mallory, 26, and William Gardner, 31, charged with entering the grocery store of J. Wilson, and the theft of merchandise. Search of the premises of a family at 1509 Budge avenue, discovered the stolen goods, the woman of the house denying any knowledge of the same. Her name is being withheld pending investigation.

Bismarck—The reduction in the amount of liquor sold in North Dakota during the last five years is indicated by the falling off in the number of Federal licenses from 1,830 in 1909, to 280 in 1914, according to the annual report of F. L. Watkins, superintendent of the North Dakota Law Enforcement league.

Grand Forks—Russell Miller of Grand Forks, fireman on the Great Northern railway, sustained a fracture of the right arm Sunday afternoon when the coal conveyer at the railway yard at Grafton broke, striking him a heavy blow. Miller was knocked down and sustained severe bruises on the body, as well as the fractured arm.

Fargo—Clarence Fjeld, aged 20 years, who has been a student at the Agricultural college for the past year, died Feb. 20, after an eight-day illness at a local hospital of measles and diphtheria. The remains were shipped to Kloten this morning to be interred in the family lot at that place on Wednesday.

Rugby—The bar association of the Ninth district held a meeting here on Lincoln's birthday, most of the legal lights of the district being present.

Brookings—Several thousand persons attended the first extensive health exhibit of South Dakota at the state college. The exhibit, arranged by Shirley R. Miller, professor of zoology and biography, filled 4,000 feet of floor space, and graphically showed the causes and methods of prevention or control of tuberculosis and typhoid. Each of the thirty or more booths was in charge of an instructor or a student of the department.

Fargo—Arthur Briggs, formerly of Fargo, who has been a traveling representative for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company in Montana, has been appointed general manager of the Great Falls, Mont., branch office of that company.

Valley City, N. D.—Governor Hanna was the speaker of the day at the Washington birthday meeting at the Valley City normal school. He was introduced by Ex-Governor Frank White.

Fargo, N. D.—George W. Wilkinson, newly appointed postmaster of Fargo, arrived Monday evening from the East. He carried with him a freshly executed commission, signed by President Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson, designating him postmaster of this city.

Watford, N. D.—Watford has already started its preparations for a big Fourth of July celebration. Committees have been named and $500 has already been subscribed to a fund to make the celebration the largest gathering ever held in McKenzie county, and distinguished speakers have been secured.

Fargo, N. D.—The retail hardware dealers in session here elected these officers: President, Hubert Harrington of Fargo; first vice president, Otto Sougstad, Northwood; second vice president, D. R. Jacobson, Minot; secretary, C. N. Barnes, Grand Forks; treasurer, A. J. Smith, Carrington.

Egeland, N. D.—The Cando basket ball team was defeated here by the Egeland Athletic club team in a hard-fought game by the score of 22 to 20. The Egeland team has a long string of victories and is rated the best of the quints in the vicinty. A dancing party followed the game.

"Cure Your Rupture Like I Cured Mine"

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.

Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

"Fellow Men and Women, You Don't Have To Be Cut Up, and You Don't Have To Be Tortured By Trusses."

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ironwood—The board of education has entered into a three-year contract with Edmund T. Duffield, superintendent of city schools. The salary will be $3,000 the first year, $3,100 the second and $3,200 the third.

Marquette—The administration building of the Northern State Normal school, which has been in course of construction since last spring, is now being hastened to completion, and a large force is employed on the interior finishing.

Gwinn—Lawrence Carso has returned to Gwinn, after completing a three-year term of service in the United States navy. Mr. Carso served on one of the battleships in the North Pacific fleet and he saw service in Alaskan waters.

Manistique—For mayor at the Manistique primary election to be held March 3, there are two candidates: William L. Middlebrook and Joseph Pattinson. Mr. Middlebrook is making the race on the Republican ticket, while Mr. Pattinson is the Democratic candidate. The former served the city for seven years as mayor. Mr. Pattinson has served as mayor one year; he is the present executive.

Marquette—Another case of smallpox was reported to the health officer Monday. The patient is Joe Gotto, who was taken to the pesthouse. His case is not considered serious.

Menominee — Reports show fifty-three wolves were killed in the county during 1914. Inc bounties on wolves, wildcats, lynx and sparrows the county paid out a total of $1,504.58, but $778 of this was later repaid by the state.

Marquette—Morgan Mowick and Roy Gorg, the 17-year-old local boys who, it is alleged, stole valuable jewelry from the residence of Miss Minnie Moore on Spruce street last week, are confined in the city lockup awaiting arraignment on the charge of burglary. Because both are 17 years old they face a state's prison sentence.

Ishpeming—Two boys, 12 years of age, have confessed to taking $128 from the safe of the saloon in O. E. Lafreniere's saloon last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Lafreniere has recovered most of the money. It is probable that the boys will be sent to the reform school, as they have been in trouble before.

Houghton—Plans for the big conclave of the Knights Templar of Michigan, to be held in Houghton and Calumet the second week in June, are gradually shaping themselves, according to Gordon R. Campbell of Calumet, grand commander of the order in Michigan, who has just arrived home from a trip through the lower peninsula.

Calumet—Rev. G. A. Ogglesby, the colored missionary worker, who has been in the Copper country for the last five weeks in the interests of the new negro school to be opened at Palos Park, Ill., about twenty-five miles from Chicago, has completed his work here and left for Ironwood.

Hancock—Peter Erickson, a dairyman, was fined $5 and costs by Justice Eichkern when a plea of guilty was entered to a charge of keeping his cows in insanitary surroundings.

Houghton—The annual village caucus at which nominees for village offices to be elected March 8, will be named, will be held in the amphidrome next Friday night. The registration board will be in session March 6 in the village hall.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—The building to be utilized for a short course in agriculture at Ashland Junction will be ready soon. According to Prof. E. J. Delwiche, the building will be completed in a few weeks. The short course will commence on March 16 and will continue until March 20.

Green Bay—William J. Monahan, a passenger conductor on the Green Bay & Western line for thirty years, died at his home here, aged 72. He had been an invalid for ten years. The funeral will be held here Wednesday.

Sheboygan—While working at his home on a steam gauge which he was perfecting, Fred Leonhardt, oldest engineer on the Lake Shore division of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, dropped dead Feb. 22. Mr. Leonhardt had served as engineer on the Northwestern road for more than forty years, being retired on Feb. 1 on pension.

Oshkosh—Milwaukee and Appleton contractors will build the proposed addition to the Oshkosh normal school, Oshkosh contractors bidding on the work submitting figures too high to secure the contract.

Milwaukee—The Rev. John Schuette, aged 65, former pastor of Lutheran churches in Milwaukee, died Sunday in the Wauwatosa hospital for the insane, where he had been an inmate for twenty years.

Beloit—Jitney busses have become so popular in this city that they are bumping into each other in a mad scramble for business. Several accidents have been reported as a result of collisions.

Madison—Mayor Kaiser has named Judge R. B. Siebecker, Prof. A. R. Hall, the Reverends F. A. Gilmore, P. B. Knox and Nils P. Haugen, P. O. Stromme, John Kenney, Frank Cantwell, Frank C. Blied and Fred Rentschler as this city's delegates to the peace convention to be held in Chicago Feb. 27 and 28 to devise ways to stop the European war.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Pipestone—Martin Papp, the 11-year-old son of H. P. Papp of Burchard, was killed while catching a ride on a freight while it was switching in the yards at that town. The boy missed his hold on the ladder of the car and was carried beneath the wheels.

Sleepy Eye—Nels Larson, single, about 50 years old, committed suicide by hanging in the basement of the Berg hotel. He had lost his position and was discouraged.

St. Paul—Robert Kilroy, 24 years old, a clerk at the St. Paul Gas Light company, died Feb. 22 at the City hospital from cancer of the stomach. He had been in the hospital but twenty-four hours and submitted to an operation. Kilroy was stricken Feb. 21 at Ninth and Wabasha streets, and was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance.

Grand Marais—Fifteen enterprising young men of Hovland, realizing the public need of such an improvement, subscribed $50 apiece for the construction of a hall suitable for dancing or other public purposes. This building is now completed, and the opening has been announced for Saturday evening of this week.

Moorhead—The new consolidated school house at Ulen will be dedicated on Friday, March 5. Among the speakers will be President F. A. Weld of the Moorhead Normal school, President J. A. Aasgaard of Concordia college and State Inspector of Graded Schools McLean.

Little Falls—The Antlers hotel building will be turned into a Lutheran old people's home if an inspection of the building being made Feb. 22 by a delegation from the Lutheran Inner Mission society of Minneapolis is satisfactory and if satisfactory terms can be made for the purchase of the building.

St. Cloud—John M. Blommer, one of Stearns county's early pioneers, died Feb. 21 at St. Joseph's hospital of old age and complications. He had been a resident of this country for about forty-six years. John M. Blommer was born in Germany, April 15, 1831, and came to this country when 16 years of age.

Moorhead—The personal injury damage case of Elmer Harrison vs. the Northern Pacific Railway company resulted in a verdict in favor of the company. Several days were consumed in the trial of this case and the jury quickly arrived at a verdict.

St. Cloud — James O'Brien, alias James Rice, for five years an inmate of the reformatory and recently discharged, was arrested Feb. 22, charged with stealing brass and lead from Great Northern carshops, where he had been employed until a few days ago.

Minneapolis — Cecil R. Horne, 26 years old, who disappeared from his home here Feb. 16, was located in Olathe, Kan. It is said he was suffering from aphasia. He explained that he recalled being in the Minneapolis Great Northern station, but that he remembered nothing between that time and finding himself in the little Kansas town.

Fergus Falls—A. E. Luedke, who left for Battle Creek, Mich., for treatment a short time ago, has had a stroke of apoplexy there, and is in a dangerous condition. It is reported that he is unconscious.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

HERE is an opinion of the approaching scrap between Red Watson of San Francisco and Pal Brown of Chisholm:—it should prove a corking bout and Watson is our choice.

If Watson lives up to the record he has made and the nice things that have been sprinkled before him prove unadorned truths, then the fans in these parts will see one of the most promising lightweights of the ring steaming into action against the pride of the Minnesota ranges.

It is but natural that Pal Brown should be a pugilistic idol in the northern tier of the state. It is a truism that when idols fall the bump is quite some bump. P. Lawrence Brown heaved a lot of prestige over his right shoulder the memorable evening he fox trotted with John Tecumseth Tillman. His friends are hoping that the Jackpine Kid stakes the Watson one to a real beating on Friday evening; and the enemies of the little battler hope just as sincerely that this red-headed bunch of rumored ring fury from the reaches of the Pacific slope stows the Chisholm youth away for the sleep count.

There is generally an ebb and flow to all things. The men and institutions of this world either progress or retrograde. After his return from Australia Pal Brown was at the very height of his ring glory. The good sports from Hibbing way, Virginia, Chisholm and other of the range towns came down in train loads and stormed the Grand opera house to see their idol take Johnny Tillman, an erstwhile preliminary fighter, over the jumps.

One of the strangest and most unaccountable things happened—Brown failed to stop Tillman and failed to display the ring craft or punching power that one would naturally attribute to a boy who had won a cleancut decision over Hughey Mchegan and lost the second decision by the chicanery of a referee, a decision so palpably unfair that several thousand fans rose to their feet and hissed and raved in an excess of righteous indignation.

In his battle against Frankie Whitney, Brown did much to redeem himself. But the dark and dank memory of that unfavorable start against Tillman, when so much was expected of P. Lawrence Brown, still sticks and still rankles.

It is our opinion that Red Watson is a better man than Johnny Tillman is or ever will be. The record of Watson is cleancut and impressive. His two showings against Leach Cross alone would class the Pacific coast lightweight immeasurably greater than Tillman. If Brown comes through and gives this youngster, touted in select circles as a real comer, a severe drubbing, the range pugilist will be justly entitled to all of the encomiums that go with a good job well done.

As a matter of pure fact, it is our opinion that the coming fight will prove a better bout than one between Brown and Mandot.

Mandot could not possibly have put the Chisholm youth away. If Watson carries the punch he is credited with, and the ring record of the coast boy would surely indicate that Watson can hit—he is liable to drop Brown. If the Kearns' pride accomplishes this, a feat that has been accredited to no other pugilist will go to the credit of Watson.

Finishing the Season.

THE Winnipegs of Winnipeg, possibly the Monarchs of the same city, the Detroit team, maybe the Regina seven, also, may be, the Western university team of London that defeated Cleveland, and a vague possibility of the American Soo team, are some of the hockey games promised for the remainder of the season here.

Manager Jacobi is at work on the windup of the season. Portland is not coming and negotiations with Ottawa are likewise off. It is stated that if the American Soo desires to come here, the curling club management stands ready to schedule a series of games.

This has been one of the most prosperous seasons in the history of the curling club. It has also been one of the greatest seasons for the team. But two defeats have been chalked up against the curling club seven. Port Arthur defeated the Duluth seven one game and was hopelessly defeated in the second game of the series.

St. Paul hung one on the local seven at the Hippodrome rink and suffered a disastrous beating in the return game. Therefore no team this season has defeated Duluth that in turn has not been badly worsted by the curling club seven.

As the American Soo seven is without a doubt the best team in the Copper country, it would be the final feather in the gay sheath of the local team, were it to meet and defeat the Soo seven.

Mike Yokel at Weight.

EMIL KLANK, former manager of Frank A. Gotch, and now the manager of Mike Yokel, wrote here yesterday that Mike Yokel weighs 157 pounds and that he will not weigh more than 158 pounds the night he steps into the ring to battle Waino Ketonen.

Klank is sojourning at Hot Springs. He will leave the American Spa within the week, journey to Chicago and collect a lot of wrestling partners for Yokel.

"Marin Plestina will help train Mike," writes Klank. "He has assisted in the conditioning of Frank Gotch for several of his big matches. Plestina will get Mike right for the little Finn. Mike knows and I also know that Ketonen is one of the greatest of all the middleweights. We are going to take no chances. Duluth is going to see one of the greatest battles ever wrestled there. If Ketonen beats Yokel he will have to prove himself the greatest 158-pound wrestler in the world."

Ketonen assured Lewis yesterday that he would be here right after the first of March and would finish his training here for the big match.

BADGER SCHEDULES ARE ANNOUNCED

Wisconsin Announces the Dates for Diamond and Gridiron Contests.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 24.—Nineteen games are on the schedule of the University of Wisconsin baseball team, which was announced here yesterday. The team meets nearly all the conference nines, as follows:

April 21, Chicago at Chicago; April 26, Ohio state at Columbus; April 30, Indiana at Bloomington; May 1, Purdue at Lafayette; May 6, Indiana at Madison; May 8, Illinois at Madison; May 14, Illinois at Urbana; May 18, Chicago at Madison; May 19, Minnesota at Madison; May 27, Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The football schedule, also announced, is as follows:

Oct. 2, Lawrence at Madison; Oct. 9, Marquette at Madison; Oct. 16, Purpue at Lafayette; Oct. 23, Ohio state at Madison; Oct. 30, Chicago at Chicago; Nov. 13, Illinois at Urbana; Nov. 20, Minnesota at Madison.

Nov. 20 has been named as the annual home-coming day.

ADVANCE SALE RECORD SET FOR HUDSON BOUT.

The largest advance seat sale ever made in one day is the record set for the opening day sale for the Gibbons-McGoorty fight. The bout between the two men is to be held at Hudson on the evening of March 2. The seats were placed on sale Monday. The check-up yesterday showed that $17,500 worth of pasteboards were disposed of. Interest in the meeting is so great that Mike Collins has already started men at work enlarging the seating capacity of his arena. It is estimated that the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a fight in the West will watch the two great middleweights settle their argument.

CALUMET WINS OVER HOUGHTON IN SECOND.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 24.—Calumet defeated Portage Lake 3 to 2 last night in a hockey game that was lacking in sensational features, but so closely contested as to be exciting at all times. It opened with indications in favor of Portage Lake, which scored two in the first half to Calumet's nothing.

Calumet's scores came in the second half, showing that team to be in better condition or a better uphill team. Dietz, the new rover for Portage Lake, was fast but not effective in scoring.

SMOKE FEELS HOPELESS

Gives Up Attempt to Reach Juarez for the Present.

Havana Promoters Now Trying to Arrange Johnson-Willard Match.

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 24.—All indications point to the probability that Jack Johnson will abandon, for the present, his intention to proceed to Tampico in order to reach Juarez for the proposed fight with Jess Willard originally arranged to take place March 6. No reply has been received to Johnson's cable message to Gen. Venustiano Carranza, requesting Carranza's permission for him to pass through the constitutionalist lines, but Johnson believes the difficulties of transportation to Juarez from Tampico would be insuperable.

The steamer Morro Castle, on which Johnson intended to proceed to Vera Cruz Monday, but which postponed its sailing on account of the situation at Progreso, expects to sail today, the Mexican consul having received authorization from Carranza to clear the ship for both Progreso and Vera Cruz.

The boxing promoters here, of whom there are three rival combinations, are now engaged in efforts to induce Willard to arrange a championship fight with Johnson in Havana at some time in the near future, probably the first week in March. Johnson, it is understood has no objection to the fight here, but declares he has made all efforts to carry out his engagement to meet Willard in Juarez.

WILLARD FEARS OVER-TRAINING

Has Falling Out With Manager—Johnson Still Missing.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 24.—Jess Willard and his manager, Tom Jones, had a disagreement yesterday in the lobby of a hotel here, and as a result Willard declared he would not continue his training until Jack Johnson appeared at Juarez for the boxing bout, for fear of over-training.

The promoter of the fight had announced that the battle, originally set for March 6, would not take place for at least a week after Johnson arrives at Juarez.

The whereabouts of Jack Johnson was not divulged by the fight promoters. It was intimated that after Johnson's disappearance at Havana Monday he sailed for some Mexican port.

It has been suggested that Johnson may attempt to enter Mexico through Manzanillo, a west coast port reported to be about to fall into Villa's hands.

DULUTH BOYS MAKING SHOWING AT SYRACUSE.

In a letter received here from James E. Ten Eyck, he states that Walter Glass and Art Osman are almost sure of the regular Syracuse crew the coming season and that Frank Williams and young Whiteside are certain of rowing in the freshmen crew. This is a remarkable prospective showing for Duluth boys and is another stalwart boost for Prof. Jimmy Ten Eyck's school of rowing. Apply at Minnesota point. Hours from dawn to dusk.

OARSMEN TO HOLD MASS MEETING MONDAY EVENING

Jim Ten Eyck Will Address Crew Men and the Candidates.

Active Training Will Begin at the Y. M. C. A. Next Wednesday.

BY BRUCE.

Next Monday evening at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. the 1915 rowing season of the Duluth Boat club will be formally launched with due ceremony and impressive pomp.

James E. Ten Eyck, Ray Higgins, Dr. Frank Lynam, Bentley Neff and several others will address the assembled oarsmen and those who hope to be assembled oarsmen in the future.

The meeting will be the first gun fired in the rowing campaign to eclipse the other bright seasons of the past and set the jeweled rowing crown of the Duluth Boat club even higher in the firmament of rowing accomplishment.

Well, Duluth will have to go some to do this—surest thing you know—and Duluth is getting ready to go some.

Jimmy Ten Eyck is expected here Saturday. On Wednesday the training for the season is scheduled to begin. The old men and the candidates for places in the boats will be assembled in the rowing room of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and started out on the long grind by Jimmy.

Candidates Are Wanted.

Capt. Wallace Quimby of the rowing department of the club stated today that the committee has already rounded up a large number of candidates for the crews. It is the desire of the club officials that every boy in the city who has the least intention of rowing would be present at the rally of Monday evening.

Ray Higgins, president of the club, will speak on the benefits to be derived from the club. Dr. Lynam is going to air the views of a veteran oarsman, and Coach TenEyck will give a lucid talk on the moving pictures of the National regatta at Philadelphia, and also have something to say to the boys on the glories of the past, the needs of the present, and the prospects of the future.

City Is Stirred Up.

In the windows of the Columbia and several other stores of the city are prodigiously spread forth the spoils of Duluth's triumphant rule of the rowing circles of the nation. The trophies won in the calcium of national renown.

Duluth has several reinforced reasons for feeling proud of the record of the Duluth Boat club oarsmen. When all has been said about rowing, when all alibis are groomed down and laid on the shelf, it must be admitted that no club in the shining history of the sport has every hung up a record that will compare with that of the Minnesota point organization.

C. Beerenbossel, Max Rheinberg, Wallace Quimby, Dave Horak, Phil Moore and A. Arneson are members of the committee hustling candidates. The committee has stated that there will be a goodly crowd of future winners on hand to start the training season with the proper gusto. There is grave need for junior material, and this need is being supplied by the members of the hustling squad.

CURLING

Ray Bishoff defeated Frank Fregeau and went into the semi-finals of the Bagley event last evening. As Bishoff is down for a game in the semi-finals of The Herald with Laird Goodman for this evening, it may be remarked that the progress of his green rink has been rather remarkable.

SAILOR BEATEN BY P. PETKOFF

Bulgarian Takes Two Out of Three Falls From Tar.

Pete Petkoff defeated Sailor Jack last evening at the old Masonic Temple, two falls out of three, in a wrestling match that was held to settle once for all the difference of mat opinion between the two men.

After the tar had won the first fall in 37 minutes with a body hold, the Bulgarian strong boy came bounding back and won the next two falls in 15 and 11 minutes, respectively.

While the sailor showed strong in the initial bout his endurance was not as great as that exhibited by Petkoff. The little Bulgarian seemed in the better condition of the two.

HEFFELFINGER MAY BE PROFESSIONAL COACH.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 24.—It was semi-officially announced here last night that W. W. Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, famous Yale football player in the '90s, has been offered a contract to assist Head Coach Frank Hinkey in the development of next fall's Blue eleven.

Heffelfinger will accept, it is believed. It is stated he will devote his entire attention to coaching the linesmen.

WINNIPEGS ARE THE NEXT TEAM ON DULUTH'S SCHEDULE

Curling Club Has "Already Played 'Vics' Under Name of St. Paul"—Duluth and St. Paul All "Het Up" Over Recent Contest.

The Winnipegs of Winnipeg, one of the city hockey league teams of the Western Canadian metropolis, will meet the septet of the Duluth Curling club at the curling club rink on Friday and Saturday evenings of the present week.

Information from Winnipeg states that the Winnipegs finished third in the league up there. As all of the teams of the city league are very strong, the fact that the Winnipegs did not win the city title should not be taken to mean that the team lacks strength. The average brand of hockey played in the Peg is far and away ahead of that played in other cities.

What About the Soo?

It was stated yesterday that the management of the local team is ready to pay the expenses of the American Soo down here for a series of games with the curling club team. Whether the local management would consider the proposition of contesting on the basis of a winning and losing share of the gross receipts is a proposition that has not been considered.

Sharing the general deep-seated peeve of all adherents of Copper country hockey, it is not believed that there is a chance to arrange a contest or series of contests with the team that is generally admitted to be the class of the Copper country end of the American Hockey association.

Looking Somewhat Ahead.

This has been one of the most prosperous seasons in the history of the puck game here. It is believed that the ledgers of the club will show a balance on the right side of the books.

There is no doubt in the world but what a sediment of foggy feeling has been stirred up between Duluth and St. Paul. Before leaving Duluth late Monday night, Ray Johns, former resident of this city and one of the most ardent boosters of hockey that Duluth ever boasted of, declared that never would he bring another team to these parts.

Johns declared that Manager Jacobi of the local team bitterly took him to task for playing Bonciil of Winnipeg under the name of Landirault. Johns said that no deception was intended, but Manager Jacobi of the curling club team holds otherwise.

Capt. Kahler of the St. Paul team further declared that Simpson of Winnipeg, who played Monday, would continue to be a member of the St. Paul team. It will be interesting to note whether Simpson does continue to be a member of the St. Paul septet. That still leaves Smith of the Victoria trio to be accounted for.

"We are going to have some team next season," said Johns, before he boarded the train. "Minneapolis is also going to get into the game right. I have done a lot for Duluth and taken a genuine pride in what the team here has accomplished; but never again. I guess we are about through with Duluth."

Already Played "Vics."

Manager Jacobi stated that it looked as if all negotiations with the Vics of Winnipeg would be called off, as the Vics seemed rather disposed to play here under the name of the St. Paul team.

It is needless to say that the local hockey management harbors a feeling against St. Paul for what it considers a deliberate attempt to win at any cost, and the future relations of the teams may be cool and distant, to say the least.

Johns declared that his team received a "rotten" deal from the official and Duluth players. Manager Jacobi holds that there was a deliberate attempt put through to win a game at any cost. The Duluth players knew of the presence of the three Victoria men Monday, and were not disposed to be too careful of their feelings. If a league is formed in which St. Paul and Minneapolis form an integral part, there may be an attempt made to give Duluth the haughty stare, should Duluth desire to play as a member of the league.

But, for the matter of that, the curling club has done mighty well this season with independent games, despite the dismal prediction of Copper country observers that the fans would "tire of dub games."

More Worlds to Conquer.

Duluth has beaten all of the teams of the surrounding territory. Detroit is probably coming. The Western university septet, the team that defeated Cleveland, may also be brought here, and there is a possibility that Regina may come.

If Duluth holds the present team

CATCHER MEYER MAY PLAY HERE

Darby O'Brien Said to Be After Former Winona Star.

It is rumored that Darby O'Brien, second baseman and manager of the Duluth White Sox, has started negotiations with Joseph Killian, present manager of the Oshkosh, Wis., team of the W.-I. league, looking to securing the services of William Meyer, last season catcher of the Winona team and acknowledged by followers of the league as the best receiver in the Northern.

Oshkosh withdrew from the W.-I. last season and it is not known where Killian will hold forth this season. But the former manager of the Winona team of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league is securing players and evidently planning to take the Oshkosh franchise to some other town. Meyer was recently sold to Killian by the Winona club.

O'Brien Needs Catchers.

With Jerry Edmunds reported to be through with Northern league baseball and Bert Sweeley incapacitated, the second baseman-manager is looking for a real receiver and this man Meyer is the jewel that it is rumored the Dook has set his eye upon.

Meyer is a heady catcher, a great thrower and a timely hitter. The Winona star was head and shoulders above any catcher in the league and in the opinion of many of the followers of the game was quite good enough for American association company.

BILL JAMES WANTS $2,000 RAISE

World Champions' Pitcher on Strike for More Pay.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 24.—"Big Bill" James, who helped to pitch the Boston Nationals to the world's baseball championship this year, announced yesterday that he had no intention of joining the Boston club this year, unless he is granted an increase in salary of $2,000 a year.

James, who is on his way to Los Angeles, told his friends here that he felt that he was entitled to more than the $4,000 annually which he said his three-year contract with the Braves calls for.

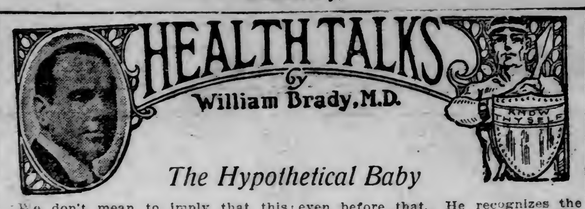

Boston, Mass., Feb. 24.—James E. Gaffney, president of the world champion Boston club of the National league, said that with the receipt today of the signed contract of Catcher Bert Whaling, the club has the signature of every member.

CHAPTER NINE WINS.

Defeat Scottish Rite Indoor Team By 38 to 29 Score.

The Scottish Rite indoor baseball team was defeated by the Chapter nine at the Masonic temple last evening by the score of 38 to 29. Kehl and Anderson were the batteries for the winning team, while Anderson and Schilling worked for the Scottish Rite nine.

Tonight the Shriners and the Ionic teams will clash and the last game in the February schedule will be played Friday night between the Shriners and the Trinity team. An informal dance for Masons only will follow the Friday night game.

The Hypothetical Baby

We don't mean to imply that this great free country has already reached the point where the baby is hypothetical and non-existent in fact, but we do mean to imply that we are on the way. Time was when the parents of a family of ten or twelve children were envied and honored by all their neighbors; now the Society For Something-or-Other institutes an investigation of the housing conditions with the arrival of number 5.

For the purpose of getting the facts on record, that future descendants of the race, if any, may know, we here append a pedigree of the hypothetical normal baby for the first year of his reign.

He arrives with a loud protest, and is the moeliest looking little red-faced, snub-nosed creature you ever saw. As you debate whether to keep him he winks one eye slyly, and you're on. He tips the scale at seven and one-half pounds, which reads eleven or twelve with your hands on. In the course of the first three days, owing to unavoidable delay in the arrival of his rations, he loses ten ounces, but he gains it back by the end of ten days, if grandma doesn't jiggle him too much. Each week thereafter he gains at least four ounces until he is 6 months old; from then until the end of the year he gains about a pound a month, weighing twenty-one pounds on his first birthday.

He Makes Progress.

He voluntarily grasps things at 3 months. He can hold his own head up even before that. He recognizes the voices of his parents at 3½ months. He begins to creep at 7 months. He is able to stand drunkenly on his feetsies at 10 months. He twists up his mouth in the drollest manner and says something at 12 months—call it "papa" or "mamma," whoever hears it first. Yes, of course, he has probably cut a tooth or two, but he don't care whether he has or not, for that makes no difference with his majesty, the hypothetical baby. So long as he assimilates his food, and grows, and crows, and gets lots of fresh air regardless of the weather, we are not at all concerned about his teeth.

Questions and Answers.

Hernia: Would you advise the use of so-called "plaster pads" for a hernia or rupture?

REPLY.

No, not for adults. Adhesive plaster support would be all right if the skin were not so much irritated by the plaster. A truss is more satisfactory and cheaper in the long run, if there is any good reason why you cannot undergo the radical surgical cure.

Wrinkles: Will saxolite remove wrinkles from the face?

REPLY.

It is one of the new-fashioned patent medicines advertised in imitation "beauty hints" signed—"Adv." The Kansas state chemist reported that it consists of alum 52 per cent, epsom salts 48 per cent. Old stuff masquerading as a new wrinkle.

NORTHERNS GIVEN SCARE

Central High School Hockey Team Loses 7 to 6.

The Hilltop Students Play Best Game of Year.

Team Standing.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Northerns	5	1	.833
Big Duluths	4	2	.666
Universals	3	2	.600
Two Harbors	3	3	.500
Central High	1	3	.250
Bagleys	0	5	.000

By the defeat of Central high last evening at the French rink the Northerns increased their lead in the Duluth Amateur Hockey league race. The Hardware men took the studes down the line to a 7-to-6 defeat. The showing of the high school boys was the best of the present season, and the threats of a real brace upon the part of the hillside players was eloquently carried into dazzling effect.

Central went in during the second half and actually played Dave Larson's boys off their feet. In the second installment of play the students of the war of Gaul and the bridge construction stuff scored three times while the Northerns were with the utmost difficulty saving their wan faces by scoring twice.

It was in the beginning of the game that the Northern Hardware players made their greatest showing. Four caged pucks was the sum total of 14 minutes of play. The students failed to get together and the defense of the hill toppers was as open as a frontier town after the election of a popular sheriff.

After this the defense stiffened and the offense gained momentum and from the half way mark of the first half to the conclusion of the game the hardware boys were really outplayed.

While Central failed to win, the great showing is one of the best things that could happen and is promising of better things from the high school septet in its future games.

Parsons, Hegardt and Gunderson played a remarkable game for the high school. After the first few minutes of play, young Palne performed valorously at goal. Nelson and Bastien were the stellar lights for the Northerns.

Double Bill Tonight.

put one right over the fence and score for yours truly via Prince Albert, tobacco that made three men smoke a pipe today where one smoked before, and put new notions into men who know what a real makin's cigarette can taste like!

Why, to fire up a jimmy pipe packed with P. A. or to pull on a P. A. makin's cigarette is just about, just about! Never was such tobacco, because no other tobacco can be made like the national joy smoke

PRINCE ALBERT

Sooner or later you'll go to this wonder-smoke as little apples grow on trees. Just can't help it, like! P. A. is so good and true, such chummy tobacco, that men just go happy about it. You get it into your system without losing any more time that you'll strike 18 kt. gold just as soon as you fire up a jimmy pipe or roll up a makin's cigarette with P. A.

Also, get these few remarks: Prince Albert is produced by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. Prove that at the cost of a dime before you do the next thing!

Blood Destruction Stopped and Rebuilt

Worries Overcome, Evidence Brushed Away. The Skin Cleared.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is man's architect. It contemplates the damage done and repairs the damage. It also looks after the possible damage and corrects all tendency to blood eruptions, decay of bones, clogging of joints and any and all of those myriad of destructive effects such as rheumatism, catarrh, swollen glands, sore throat, bronchial affections and the host of infirmities so well known as being caused by impure blood. And now, why should S. S. S. do all this? Simply because it is Nature's antidote, a remedy of searching influence. It contains a powerful, natural ingredient, that sweeps its way to the skin. And in doing this it not only annihilates destructive germs but causes them to be so converted that they are easily and harmlessly voided, expelled or destroyed and then driven out through the natural outlets of the body. Thus let S. S. S. be your safeguard in all blood troubles no matter what they are. It won't fail you. Get a bottle today of any druggist but refuse any and all substitutes.

Get in communication with the medical department. Write The Swift Specific Co., 54 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This special advisory work on blood troubles has been of incalculable benefit and has cured a host of sufferers.

OTHER WORK NOW PLANNED

Protests Prevent City Doing Three Large Paving Jobs.

Murchison Says $400,000 Will Be Spent on Smaller Improvements.

Commissioner Murchison, head of the public works division, announced this morning that in view of the fact that protests have been made against the three largest paving jobs of the year, he will now make an effort to complete other improvements in various parts of the city, for which petitions have been on file in his office during the last two years.

"Now that the property owners on East Superior street, Second street, and Grand avenue have protested against the pavements," said the commissioner, "I will be able to go ahead with many other improvements held back because of these larger jobs, which had to be taken up first. The department will spend about $400,000 during the year, almost as much as was outlined for street improvements in the making of budgets last fall."

Protest Is Presented.

Yesterday afternoon Commissioner Murchison presented the petitions protesting against the paving of East Superior street, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues, signed by practically every property-holder on the thoroughfare. The members of the commission decided to call a public meeting within the next week and at that time take the matter up with the owners of property, as Commissioner Murchison claims that the people do not really understand the proposed program.

During the last few weeks protests were made against the paving of Grand avenue, from Vernon street to Fifty-fourth avenue west, and Second street, from Fourth avenue west to Fifth avenue east, the three largest jobs planned for this year.

However, Commissioner Murchison said this morning that Minnesota Point, from Twelfth street to Thirty-eighth street; Ninth street, from Seventh to Fourteenth avenues east; Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to Kent road, Oneota street, and the New Duluth road would all be paved this year, while an effort will also be made to complete other improvements, petitions for which have been on file for some time. There are also a number of minor improvements left over from 1914 which will be completed this year, he said.

First street, grading and paving from Nineteenth avenue west to Thirtieth avenue west; Helm street, grading from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-eighth avenues west; Sixth street, grading and paving from Twenty-first to Twenty-fifth avenues west; First street, grading and paving from Twenty-eighth to Thirty-first avenues east; Wicklow street, grading from Twenty-eighth avenue west to Michigan avenue; Red Wing and Faribault streets, grading, etc., from Woodland avenue to Colman's addition; Sixth streets, grading, etc., from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenue east; Third avenue east, grading from Seventh to Eighth streets; Fifth alley, grading and paving from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth avenues east.

Following are some of the improvements requested in petitions now on file: Twentieth avenue west, paving from Michigan street to Piedmont avenue (petition needs more signers); Central avenue, paving from Cody street to D., M. & N. railroad; Highland street, grading, etc., from Fifty-seventh to Sixty-sixth avenues west; Crestline court, grading and graveling from Commonwealth avenue to Ninety-sixth avenue west (petition needs more signers); Fifth alley, paving from Fourteenth avenue east to Fifteenth avenue east; Fifth alley, paving from Twenty-first avenue east to Twenty-second avenue east; Fifth street, grading from Twelfth avenue east to Thirteenth avenue east; Ninth street (Fond du Lac), grading from One Hundred and Twenty-first avenue west to One Hundred and Twenty-eighth avenue west, etc.; Nineteenth avenue east, grading and graveling from Fourth street to Eighth street; Second alley, paving from Twenty-fourth avenue east to Twenty-fifth avenue east; Seventh alley, paving from Ninth avenue east to Tenth avenue east; Sixteenth avenue east, paving from Sixth street to Seventh street.

DELPHIANS ELECT OFFICERS FOR TERM.

At the semi-annual election of the Delphian Literary Society of the Central high school Frederica Tuteur was elected president. Other officers elected were: Dorothy Bates, vice president; Theresa Miller, secretary; Gladys Anderson, treasurer.

A committee consisting of Evelyn Ahlen and Sarah Winberg was appointed to take charge of the programs of the society. Work for the remainder of the school year will be outlined.

FIRST ARRESTS UNDER MANN ACT RULING.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Jens M. Pedersen, Chicago manager of a Cleveland, Ohio, concern, and Miss Sadie Samollow, his stenographer, were arrested by Federal officials here yesterday, the first arrests under the supreme court's new ruling on the Mann act that women who conspire to break the law may be prosecuted as well as the men.

In default of bail, they were committed to jail. They were charged with having conspired to violate the white slave act Aug. 20, 1914, in coming from Milwaukee to Chicago.

Pedersen denied that he had ever been in Milwaukee. He said he was being prosecuted by his wife, from whom he was recently divorced. Miss Samollow refused to discuss the charges.

EVELETH ENFORCES ALL LIQUOR LAWS

Blind Pig Evil and Grocery Store Wine Sales Eliminated.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city is now considered one of the most law-abiding cities in the state in respect to liquor laws. The city has a nicely fitted ild, which requires that all licensed dealers close at 11 p. m. sharp and remain closed on Sunday. The police have been successful in combatting the blind-pig evil in the locations and the work of the police during the last week has been the last step in law enforcement.

The city administration's crusade against the illicit sale of liquor took a new angle when the attention of the police was turned from the locations, where the war on blind-pigs has been waged for the last few months, to the downtown district.

It was found that bottled wines have been a staple article in several grocery stores, especially those having an Italian trade. Large stocks of liquors were carried and there was evidently no thought of law violation in supplying customers with whatever wine they desired.

Carried on Openly.

This business has been carried on quite openly without thought of law violation and, contrary to published statements that much wine was seized, the police did not make any such seizure and will not unless orders to dispose of the stocks are not carried out. Over 3,000 gallons of wine was found last week and the owners ordered to dispose of it to licensed dealers or return it to the wholesalers. Most of the stock has already been transferred to licensed dealers and the others are expected to obey the mandates of the police.

Monday another cache of wine, consisting of ten 55-gallon casks, was found and ordered disposed of. Now that dealers have been warned seizures and arrests will probably follow violations.

RIATAI CASE NOW BEING TRIED AGAIN

Jury Acquits Allen Loyd of Chisholm Accused of Theft.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—After only a few hours deliberation the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of Allen Lloyd, who was accused of stealing a suitcase valued at $55 from Edward Hubert at Chisholm, Jan. 21.

A jury was drawn this morning to again try Paul Riatal. The case ended in a mistrial last week. Riatai is charged with stealing five quarters of beef valued at $60 from Oscar Pera of Mesaba, Dec. 7. He was not arrested until a month afterward. Meat, alleged to be that stolen, was found in his hayloft. Pera, however, declared that he bought that meat from a meat vender. The reason for buying it, he said, was that he got it at a reduced price. The meat was produced as evidence against Riatai at the former trial. It was confessed by Chief of Police Hansen of Mesaba. Attorney Crocker of this village appears for Riatai while Assistant County Attorney H. F. White is prosecuting the case.

This will be the final case of this term as the case against Andy Erd, charged with operating a gambling house at Chisholm, was transferred to the Virginia term.

IS PROGRESSIVE FARMER

John McMann, Living Near Cohasset, Making Good on Soil.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John R. McMann has a fine farm half a mile west of Cohasset upon which he is making good at actual farming without any side lines. Mr. McMann is interested in dairying and is building up a fine herd of high-grade Guernsey cows, and plans on patronizing the Itasca Co-operative creamery this spring. Mr. McMann now has a fine barn, enough land cleared so he does not have to buy any feed off the place, and he is well satisfied with the progress he has made, though he admits that it was discouraging at first. He is progressive, always alert for things which will benefit him and his community and he is firm in the belief that the Cohasset Farmers' club, of which he is a member, will do much to improve conditions for the farmers of that section.

COLERAINE MASONS OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

Coleraine, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Canisteo lodge of Masons celebrated its seventh birthday Monday evening at Fraternity hall, with one of the prettiest parties ever given on the Western Mesaba. Dancing and a literary program were the features. After dancing a few numbers, Worshipful Master A. M. Peterson announced an unusual program. The newly organized Corinthian quartet of Masons, consisting of Alex King, C. D. Donaldson, A. E. Jurgens and Bernard Carlson, gave an hour of unusual entertainment with solos, quartet and dialogues. Mrs. H. A. Johnson was accompanist and later with Mrs. F. S. Fisk rendered a piano duet, which was heartily encored. Mrs. Carl T. Olin gave a humorous reading. Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell of Marble sang a duet, which was enthusiastically received. At the conclusion of the program Past Master F. S. Fisk stepped forward and in a witty speech presented each member of the quartet with an iron cross, "more honorable than the double cross." The dancing was again continued.

The music was furnished by A. E. Hagan, violinist from Chisholm; L. G. Bonsteel, clarinet, and William Sweet, drums, both from Marble, and Mrs. O. Flack, pianist of Coleraine. Tables were set and a fitting repast was spread for the Masons and their ladies.

INDIAN PUPILS GIVE PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

Nation's Wards at Nett Lake School Pay Tribute to Washington.

Nett Lake, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Feb. 19, the pupils of the Indian school here gave a patriotic entertainment in honor of George Washington's birthday. Many parents and friends of the little Indian pupils attended the performance.

The Indian pupils sang their songs with the assurance, in a harmonic manner as the birds of their forest. They gave their recitations with self-possession.

The entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. R. E. L. Daniel and Miss Hattie Nessheim, teachers of the Indian school. The program:

Song—"Good Old U. S. A.," the school; reading, "Why We Celebrate," John Drift; "Washington's Rules for Conduct," the school; recitation, "The Flag," Clara Fields; song, "Red, White and Blue," pupils primary grade; flag salute; Longfellow's poem, "Mr. Finney's Turnip," Pearl Fields; "The Children's Hour," pupils primary grade; "The Village Blacksmith," Sadie Farmer; "Washington's Hatchet," Bobby Drift and Annie Goodsky; song, "The Cherry Tree," pupils primary grade; recitation, "I'll Try to Be Like Washington," Paderewski Nett Lake; reading, "My Country's Son," Bob Strong; recitation, "Our Banner," Maggie Benner; recitation, "George Washington," Thomas Palmer; recitation, "The Red, White and Blue," six little girls; song, "My Own Native Land," second and fourth grades; recitation, "The Reason Why," Reba Farmer; recitation, "The Red, White and Blue," Roy Soreeyes; recitation, "The Stars and Stripes," Hallie Boney; song, "The Flag," second and fourth grades; recitation, "Our Country Flag," Frank Connors; reading, "I Cannot Be a Washington," Angeline Wein; dialogue, "No School Tomorrow," second grade; closing song, "Home, Sweet Home," the school.

ITASCA COUNTY BOOSTERS MEET

Have Banquet at Bovey and Discuss Advancing That Section.

Bovey, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A very successful meeting of the Itasca County Development association was held at the Fitger hotel here last evening, when a banquet and attendant speeches were indulged in by about 100 boosters.

W. J. Stock of Coleraine, who has been president of the association for the past year, presided. Talks were made by Supt. Bergh of the North Central Experiment station, George B. Alton, C. C. McCarthy, E. C. Kiley and W. R. Webster of Grand Rapids, Frank Provinske of Bovey, J. A. Vandyke and L. R. Salisich of Coleraine.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the establishment of an agricultural school for the northeastern portion of the state, and asking that the school be located at the state farm at Grand Rapids.

Frank Provinske of Bovey was elected president; P. A. McEachin of Keewatin, vice president; George E. Keenan of Deer River, secretary, and George B. Alton of Grand Rapids, treasurer.

BURY EVELETH WOMAN.

Last Rites Are Held for Mrs. Barrie Who Died Suddenly.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. John Barrie, who died Monday morning was held this morning from St. Patrick's church, Rev. Father Culligan officiating. Mrs. Barrie died unexpectedly, although her death was preceded by a long illness from a nervous disorder. She passed into a quiet sleep Sunday afternoon and died early Monday morning without awakening. She is survived by a husband, who is employed by Saari Brothers, and six small children.

GRAND RAPIDS SENIORS ENJOY UNUSUAL OUTING.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The seniors of the high school enjoyed an unusual holiday Monday. Early in the afternoon they hiked out to Marr's summer home at Pokegama lake, where they prepared themselves a three-course dinner, spending the intervening time in fishing through the ice, skiing, sliding, etc. Following the meal they sang and listened to selections on a gramaphone until 7:30, when teams came and took them to Cohasset. There they visited at the Scodopole, Stapleton and Lane homes, at each of which places they had more refreshments, returning home at 11:30.

BOYS' CLUB URGES COUNTY OPTION VOTES.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. P. A. Schwarz, president of the Presbyterian Boys' Study club, has sent this message to both Representatives John Gill and Murphy, urging them to work for county option:

"The Presbyterian Boys' Study and Recreation club of Eveleth, with twenty-six members, has gone on record in favor of county option.

"On behalf of the club I would respectively urge you to vote and work for the county option bill now before the house."

To Aid Quake Sufferers.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city auditorium has been engaged for Sunday afternoon for an Italian opera to be given by local Italians for the benefit of their countrymen who were victims of the earthquake which recently devastated large sections of Italy.

Free Bible Lecture.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 24.—A free Bible lecture on "The End of the World" will be given in Glen hall Friday evening, Feb. 26, at 8 o'clock, by J. P. McPherson of New York. All welcome. No collection.

FULL REPORT ON SEWER DESIRED

Until Then Virginia Council Will Not Take Definite Action.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 24.—Pending the receipt of City Engineer Johnson's full report as to why the one-inch concrete base was omitted in the construction of the six-foot sewer that cost the city $118,000, the city council will defer definite and final action on the affair.

The council met in committee of the whole last evening behind locked doors and discussed Johnson's partial report, during which there was some acrimonious debate, but just what was said is not made public. It develops that the contractors had been paid every cent of the contract price, even to a supplementary check for 8 cents which was omitted in figuring the final estimate.

Pile Bill for Damages.

After the committee of the whole meeting the council went into session to consider routine. Mesberg & Lazik, Chestnut street merchants, presented a bill for $500 for damages to their property alleged to have resulted from water backing up and overflowing in the Chestnut street sewer. As City Attorney Montague was in St. Paul working for county division, the matter went over.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN SUDDENLY STRICKEN

C. M. Miller, Pioneer Resident, Topples Over Dead in His Home.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. M. Miller, a pioneer of Grand Rapids, died suddenly of heart failure at his home here at 11 o'clock last night. Mr. Miller, who conducted a confectionery store, had waited on customers until 10:15 and was apparently in the best of health. After closing up the store he went into the living rooms, which are off the store, and was standing in the dining room when he toppled over, dead. The physician, who was called, stated that he was probably dead before he struck the floor.

Came From Saginaw, Mich.

Mr. Miller came to Grand Rapids from Saginaw, Mich., about twenty-five years ago. He worked in a grocery store here and later served several years as county treasurer. For the last eight or ten years he has been in the confectionery business here. He leaves a wife and two sons, Herbert and Chester. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

TO RELIEVE BELGIANS.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of women was held at the library Monday evening to discuss aiding on Belgian relief work. It was decided to form an organization to take charge of the work to be known as the Chisholm Belgian Relief association. The following officers were named: Miss Margaret Palmer, president; Mrs. E. H. Nelson, secretary; Mrs. R. S. O'Neil, treasurer.

Women at the head of the various organizations in the village will be asked to help in the work, through arousing interest in the movement among the members of the lodges or clubs to which they belong. The teachers, students of the high school and the children of the grades may take an active part in the work.

CHISHOLM YEOMEN HAVE FINE TIME.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banquet and initiation held jointly by the Hibbing and Chisholm Brotherhood of American Yeomen Monday evening was an enjoyable affair. Visitors from all range towns participated. Visiting officers conducted the initiatory ceremonies at the hall after which the meeting adjourned to the Nealy hotel, where a banquet was served by Mrs. Frank Laurie. Cleffman's orchestra discoursed music throughout the evening.

Fred Freeman of Hibbing was toastmaster.

Miss Winnifred Hayes gave several vocal selections.

Foreman O. J. Backman made a hit with an amusing dialogue.

Speeches were made by several state officers of the organization and visiting members from Hibbing.

SEWER MATERIAL IS BADLY NEEDED.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because Mayor V. L. Power and others were at St. Paul, the council did not meet last night. The water and light board meeting was also postponed.

Urgent need is felt for material for the Alice sewers, the trenches for which have been left open pending the securing of pipes and other material, the contract for which has not yet been made. According to engineers, water from melting snow is carrying the dirt back into the trenches and if the pipes are not laid soon it will mean quite an additional expense to the sewer construction. More than 200 men are employed on the work and a ditch, extending quite a distance, has been dug.

CHISHOLM ITALIANS APPEAR IN PLAY.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The G. Verdi Italian Dramatic club entertained Sunday evening, when an old-time Italian drama was played in the Italian language. Peter Cichotto rehearsed the actors.

Miss Ursiline Bessette and Miss Minnie Mattioli starred in the cast and each acquitted herself admirably.

The play was given to raise funds to help the sufferers of the disastrous earthquake in Italy.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

BURY ITASCA PIONEER.

Rites Paid at Grand Rapids for Frank Voight of Deer Lake.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Frank Voigt of Deer Lake, a pioneer of Itasca county was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Presbyterian church. Mr. Voight died Sunday of pneumonia, he was 59 years old and he leaves nine children, six boys and three girls, and his wife.

CHISHOLM CANDIDATES.

Additional Day for Filing Brings Out Some New Ones.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—As Edward Freeman, village attorney, held that it would be legal to file Tuesday, many more candidates came out for municipal offices. The complete list of candidates follows:

GIVEN GILBERT CONTRACT.

Crane-Ordway Company of Duluth to Furnish Water Pipe.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large number of bids for pipe for the new water system were received by the village council last night and the Crane-Ordway company of Duluth being the lowest bidder was awarded the contract. Considerable interest was taken in this matter and a large number of bidders and contractors were present. The new water system is well under way and over 100 men are now employed getting ready for the laying of pipe.

CANDIDATES COY IN GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the village election only a little over two weeks away, little is heard of local politics.

Frank Sherman, who has been village recorder for the past three years, having been elected county auditor, will not be a candidate, and F. A. McVicar has announced that he will be a candidate. Mr. McVicar was postmaster of Grand Rapids for twelve years.

In township matters Charles Brock is the outgoing supervisor. It is not known if he will be a candidate.

Little is heard of the candidates, which include treasurer, clerk, assessor, constables and justices.

Farm School Indorsed.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the new Commercial club held Monday evening a committee, consisting of D. M. Gunn, A. L. La Freniere and E. C. Kiley, was appointed to draw up resolutions indorsing the proposed farm school for this section, to be sent to members of the legislature. The committee on membership, consisting of H. D. Powers, L. A. Whittemore, J. H. Despinakis, Dr. Harrison and Mr. Peterson, was instructed to consider the matter of entrance fees and dues, and to further look into the matter of quarters for the club. The club agreed to co-operate with the Itasca county association.

HIBBING WOMEN MAY CENSOR MOVIES.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Information relative to methods of organization and conducting a Woman's Council has been received by the Saturday club and it is probable that steps will be taken in the near future to organize a local club.

If organized it is probable that the council would have as its object the bettering of social and civic conditions here, including a censorship for motion picture shows, campaigns against flies and rats and other activities.

UNIFORM RESTAURANT PRICES ARE PLANNED.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 24.—An informal meeting of the boarding house, hotel and restaurant proprietors was held Monday evening and it was decided that another meeting should be held at the Merchants' hotel, March 1, for the purpose of organizing a hotel and restaurant association for the purpose of establishing uniform rates and for the mutual benefit and protection of each other.

Scarlet Fever Controlled.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The threatened epidemic of scarlet fever has been controlled to Fayal township, where it was first discovered, and no new cases have been reported. Of the two cases, one house has already been fumigated and the family released from quarantine and the other family will be released soon.

To Plumbers' Meeting.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adam N. Schirmer left Monday for Minneapolis to attend the annual convention of the Master Plumbers' association. From there he will go to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for a visit with his mother and other relatives.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. THURSDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion Iron ranges: Partly cloudy weather tonight and Thursday; lowest temperature tonight 15 degs. to 20 degs. above zero at Duluth-Superior and 5 degs. to 15 degs. above zero on the iron ranges; moderate winds, mostly westerly.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

CLOUDY

This morning started out with promise of sunshine, but for some reason or other Old Sol decided to retire behind the clouds again. The weather is bracing, however, and is really delightful, barring the sunshine and also, it may be added, barring the slippery walks.

A year ago today was fair but cold. The sun rose this morning at 6:57 and will set this evening at 5:46, giving ten hours and forty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature has fallen over Alberta, Saskatchewan, Montana, North Dakota, the Southern Lake region, Ohio, Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys and Southeastern states, and has risen over Eastern Wyoming, Western South Dakota and Northern Texas. Rain or snow fell during Tuesday or last night over Pacific states, Iowa and nearly all districts east of the Mississippi river. Heavy rain occurred at Knoxville, Tenn., and Montgomery, Ala."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota — Fair tonight and Thursday, not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight with probably snow flurries in north portion and colder in east and south portions; Thursday partly cloudy.

Montana—Fair tonight and Thursday, except probably rain or snow Thursday west of the divide; warmer tonight.

Lower Michigan—Cloudy with probably local rains or snows tonight and Thursday.

Upper Michigan—Snow flurries and somewhat colder tonight; Thursday fair.

MOUNTAIN IRON MAN WILL GIVE AWAY BABY.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unable to care for his nine children, ranging in ages from 3 months to 14 years, Emil Borgman, widower of this village, will be pleased to hear from responsible parties wishing to adopt his youngest, a blue-eyed healthy girl. He says that since his wife died he finds the care of the children too much for him and that he would be willing to surrender the youngest providing the child is adopted by people able to give her a good home.

EMBARRASS GIRL EXPECTED TO LIVE.

Soudan, Minn., Feb. 24.—Miss Mamie Nellmark of Embarrass, who recently contracted blood poisoning as a result of sticking a table fork into her finger while washing dishes at her home, underwent a second operation at the Soudan hospital in order to check the spread of the toxin. The girl has been dangerously ill since the accident, but physicians declare her chances of recovery are good and that her hand probably can be saved.

By Gilbert Sunday School.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Presbyterian Sunday school held their annual exhibit last evening at the church parlors. A large number was present. The works of the different classes were on exhibit. A short program was rendered, after which light refreshments were served.

Education Board Meeting.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 24.—There will be a meeting of the board of education at the office of School Clerk Lizer in the Technical building this evening. The regular meeting was to have been held Monday evening, but was postponed until tonight because of Washington's birthday.

Son Born to Mr. and Mrs. Krause.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Krause announce the birth of a son, Feb. 21.

WOULDN'T "STAND FOR" UNCLE TOM

Baldwin Management Is Forced to Change Name of Play in Atlanta.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" with Lola May as "Topsy" probably would be ranked as the season's greatest success, in Duluth, and the S. R. O. sign would lose all its paint and get worn off at the corners.

In the words of the "profesh," "it would be a knockout."

But citizens of Atlanta, Ga., didn't want to see "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in any form, and after an agitation, Walter S. Baldwin changed the name of the production his company is giving this week to "Old Plantation Days."

When the Baldwin-Melville company announced that Lil' Eva and Uncle Tom and Simon Legree would appear, the Daughters of the Confederacy, as well as other organizations, registered loud protests. "Old Plantation Days" is said to embody many of the essential features of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Atlanta was very much aroused over the attempt to present the play, according to telegraphic reports, and Mr. Baldwin is staking his reputation that it will be worth while.

"Old Plantation Days" will have a Simon Legree, and Uncle Tom, Miss May as "Topsy," and Miss Maud Melville at "Eliza."

CHANNELS CLOSED BY BRITISH ORDERS

Navigation of Irish and North Channel Waters Restricted

London, Feb. 24.—The British admiralty announces that the Irish channel and the North channel waters lying between England and Scotland and Ireland have been restricted for navigation.

The southern entrance to the Irish channel, known as St. George's channel, is between Carnsore point on the Irish coast and St. David's head, on the opposite coast of Wales. Certain areas of this channel have been closed to mercantile navigation by the admiralty's orders, which also require that all traffic wishing to go through the North channel must pass to the southward of Rathlin island between sunrise and sunset. No ship will be allowed within four miles of Rathlin island between sunset and sunrise.

The admiralty order restricting navigation in the Irish sea closes the Irish channel to all ships of every nationalty and entirely prohibits navigation of this area from Feb. 23.

The closed area is a parallelogram covering almost the whole of the channel between Ireland and the coast of Ayreshire. A narrow passage is left open to sea-borne traffic off the Irish coast, but this may not be used between sunset and sunrise.

The admiralty order also closes the greater portion of the North channel leading from the Atlantic into the Irish sea. This will simplify the examination of vessels entering the Irish sea and at the same time hamper the operations of hostile vessels in this locality.

It is expected that the effect will be to divert Atlantic traffic around the south of Ireland, where, owing to the wider seas, there will be greater facility in maneuvering in such a way as to avoid a submarine attack.

RHEUMATISM A MYSTERY

Some diseases give immunity from another attack, but rheumatism works just the other way.

Every attack of rheumatism invites another. Worse than that, it reduces the body's power so that each attack is worse than the one before.

If any disease needs curing early it is rheumatism but there is almost no disease which physicians find more difficult to treat successfully. When a medicine does help rheumatim nobody knows how or why it does it.

All authorities agree that the blood becomes thin with alarming rapidity as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood therefore is a reasonable way of preventing and combating rheumatism. That it works out in fact is shown by the beneficial results in the treatment of rheumatism, acute, muscular and articular, with the blood tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

That hundreds who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their rheumatism get well is a fact beyond dispute. That the rheumatism does not return as long as the blood is kept rich and red is equally true.

Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free pamphlet "Building Up the Blood" and kindly mention this paper. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

ONE MORE SEEKS HAND OF WIDOW

Mayor's Efforts as Match-Maker Beginning to Bring Results.

Another applicant has come forth for the hand of Mrs. Jennie Worley of Aitkin, Minn.

This time it is Steve West of Cramer, Minn., who has written Mayor Prince in answer to an article that appeared in The Herald several weeks ago stating that Mrs. Worley was in search of a husband and that she had appealed to the mayor for assistance.

Cramer's letter follows:

"I seen a piece in The Herld, where a widow wants a man in marage. Would like to corespond with her. I am 24 years old, weight 157 pounds. I like farm life. Please put me in a position to write to her and oblige."

About two weeks ago an applicant wrote in from International Falls.

SPECIAL OFFERS TO BE MADE SETTLERS

Soo Line Expected to Make Them at Moose Lake Land Meeting.

Moose Lake, Minn., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting of the Minnesota Farm Lands association, to be held here Thursday, promises to be successful.

The officers of the association will be present and letters have been received from land men along both branches of the Soo. Officers of the Soo Line will be present and work with the association to launch an advertising campaign to further the opportunities of this section of Northeastern Minnesota. It is understood the Soo will offer special inducements to settlers along their line in the way of assisting in the clearing of land and take the initiative in agricultural development and securing markets for all kinds of farm products.

Duluthians to Attend.

A number of Duluth people have signified their intention of being here and it is expected L. B. Arnold of Duluth, land commissioner for the trustees of the Rock Island railroad, will be present, as that company is heavily interested along both lines of the Soo. Resolutions will be passed recommending the passage of a law licensing land men to insure purchasers against unscrupulous dealings.

GREEN MADE AGENT TO DISTRIBUTE FRY

Game and Fish Association Outlines Active Campaign for Season.

Members of the Northeastern Minnesota Game and Fish association, at a meeting held last evening in the rooms of the Commercial club, voted to appoint John Green as agent to assume complete charge of all distribution of fish fry for this section of the state.

Mr. Green will supervise the handling and distribution of the fry and is empowered to employ a number of assistants to make sure that it is thoroughly distributed to all parts of the district.

Various phases of the fish and game situation in this section of the state came up for discussion at the meeting last evening. Enthusiasm in the work of the association was manifested on every hand. A decided boost for the establishment of a fish hatchery here was given, and there was also desultory discussion of an improvement in several of the laws of the state, as well as insisting upon a more literal observance of all of the game laws on the statute books.

Members of the association believe that the appointment of Mr. Green as agent for the distribution of fry will result in great good to the fishermen of this part of the state. It is pointed that in previous years some of the fry intended for distribution has never been placed in the streams or lakes, through carelessness or neglect, and that a strict supervision of the work of distributing the fry will be a boon to lovers of the sport of angling.

Plans are already being made for the meeting of March 4. At this time there will be the election of officers and various recommendations will come up for action. James A. Lowrie, secretary of the association, was appointed chairman of a committee that will be asked to frame some suggested changes in the state game laws. The other members of the committee will be announced later.

Not in Deficiency Bill.

Washington, Feb. 24.—As brought into the house today the general deficiency bill does not contain an appropriation of $290,000 asked by the Danbury hatters to pay their fines under the recent anti-trust decision. An effort may be made to put it in on the floor.

BELIEVED TO HAVE SUNK

Bad Weather Prevailed at Time She Was Last Spoken.

London, Feb. 24.—The official information bureau announced this afternoon that the Clan MacNaughton, an armed merchant cruiser, is missing. The vessel was last heard from Feb. 3, and it is feared that she has been lost.

The text of the bureau's announcement follows:

"The secretary of the admiralty regrets to announce that H. M. S. Clan MacNaughton, an armed merchant cruiser, Commander Robert Jeffreys, R. N., has been missing since Feb. 3, and it is feared that the vessel has been lost.

Wreckage Discovered.

"An unsuccessful search has been made and wreckage supposed to be portions of this ship has since been discovered.

"The last signal received from the Clan MacNaughton was made in the early morning of Feb. 3, and it is feared that she was lost during the bad weather which prevailed at that time."

Two hundred and eighty men lost their lives when the Clan MacNaughton went down.

From the fact that there is no regular cruiser in the British navy named Clan MacNaughton, and that there is a merchant steamer of that name, it can safely be assumed that the British naval authorities have taken the merchant vessel and made use of her as an auxiliary warship.

The merchant steamer Clan MacNaughton was built at Glasgow in 1911 and was of 4,985 tons gross. Her length was 429 feet, beam 53 and depth 34 feet. She had been in the Indian service, for she reached London from Calcutta Nov. 4 last year. She was owned by Cayzer, Irvine & Co., of Glasgow.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

STREET CAR MEN TO PLAY BASEBALL.

The Duluth Street Railway company will have a baseball team this season. An organization was effected last evening. The team will play under the name of the Duluth Street Railway Employes' association.

Frank Lake, representative of the carmen; Arthur Hunter of the shopmen, and William Johnson, representing the office men, were elected directors of the association.

W. S. Byers was elected president of the association and Henry Morrison secretary and treasurer.

Any employe of the street railway company may become a member of the association. The fees were set at 25 cents a year.

WESTERN TROTTING DATES.

Great Western Circuit Meeting to Arrange Racing Schedule.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—The Great Western circuit of trotting tracks met here yesterday to arrange the dates for the different meets of the circuit.

The first meet is to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, the last week in July, and is to be followed by meets in different cities of Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas.

BADGER WOLVES GIVE PHYSICIAN BIG SCARE.

Oconto Falls, Wis., Feb. 24.—While Dr. Robert J. Goggins of this city was returning from a late call at the home of a patient in the town of Chase, wolves gave chase. Lashing his horse, he was able to keep ahead of them for a distance, but in front of the James McEwen farm, in the town of Morgan, one of them passed the buggy. When the electric lights on Main street, this village, were reached at 4 o'clock in the morning the wolves gave up the chase.

MAY HAVE BEEN SHIP SEEN OFF HASTINGS.

London, Feb. 24.—The loss of the steamer Oakby apparently was mentioned in a dispatch from Lydd, Eng., last night. This message referred to the torpedoing of two vessels off Hastings. One sank, but her crew was saved and landed at Ramsgate. The other was in a sinking condition and a mine sweeper was described as endeavoring to tow her into Dover.

The Oakby was 275 feet long and of 1,251 tons. She was built in 1897 and was owned in West Hartlepool.

FRENCH DUMMY GUN

This is a French "42-centimeter gun." It is an old barrel mounted on a pair of wheels so as to look to a distant foe or a man in an aeroplane like a gun of big caliber. These dummies have been used by the French to draw the enemy's fire and the Germans have been chagrined to find that they had been wasting ammunition on an old barrel.

SUPERIOR

FIFTY BANKERS MEET.

Northern Wisconsin Men Will Hear Noted Speakers.

More than fifty bankers of Northern Wisconsin are in Superior today attending the annual convention of the Northern Wisconsin Bankers' association. A short business session was held this morning from 10 o'clock until noon. The bankers are being taken this afternoon about the city and bay front on a special train. A session will be held the latter part of this afternoon at which Theodore Weld, governor of the Ninth Federal reserve bank, will speak. Several other prominent bankers will give addresses.

RECALLERS WILL BEGIN NEW ACTION.

The city and other defendants in the injunction suit started by J. S. Stack to restrain the approval of the petition for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel refused to allow the names of petitioners on the petition to be entered as parties to the suit. Attorneys for the recallers now intend to bring action in the district court to compel the city to allow them to become parties to the injunction suit. The refusal on the part of the city came as a surprise to a number of Superiorites.

CHARGES ARE MADE AGAINST GERMANS

Russian Ambassador Presents Document to the State Department.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Russian ambassador, George Bakhmeteff, sent to the state department today a memoir from his government charging Germany and Austria with violations of the Geneva Red Cross convention and of part of The Hague convention; with mutilation and killing of wounded Russians; and putting to death Russian prisoners; with attacks on the Russian civil population by German and Austrian armies; attacks against Russian troops by the civil population of German and Austrian territory; the use by Austrians of dumdum bullets and with the desecration and pillaging of churches.

The document was presented to the state department, it was stated, not as a protest, but as matter of information.

It was announced at the embassy that similar communications were made to all other neutral countries through their various embassies and legations.

In addition, the embassy sent a copy of the memorandum to the American National Red Cross, accompanied by a letter from Prince Alexander of Oldenburg, head of the Russian Red Cross and of the sanitary service of the Russian empire, in which he declares that he "protests solemnly before all the Red Cross societies of the world, including those of Germany and Austria-Hungary, against the violations of the most sacred laws, committed by our enemies of the actual war."

The document was brought to Washington by Baron Renaud d'Ungern-Sternberg, who has just arrived to be second secretary of the embassy to succeed Boris Yonine, who will be attached to the Russian embassy at London.

Commander Briggs Dead.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Commander John B. Briggs, retired executive officer of the cruiser Baltimore at the battle of Manila bay, died here today. He will be buried in Everett, Mass.

Plan Abandoned.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Proposals to remove the tax on mixed corn and wheat flour, in the hope of reducing the price of breadstuffs, were abandoned today by the house ways and means committee, which decided there was not time in the remaining days of the Sixty-third congress to enact them into law.

HIGH-WATER MARK OF LIME.

Geological Survey Bulletin: The manufacture of lime in the United States in 1913 broke all previous records, the production amounting to 3,595,390 short tons, valued at $14,648,362, according to R. W. Stone of the United States Geological survey. This was an increase over 1912 of 65,928 tons in quantity and of $678,248 in value. The average price per ton in 1913 was $4.07, as compared with $3.96 in 1912 and $4.03 in 1911. While Pennsylvania is the largest producer, the output of this state is only 2.36 per cent of the total, indicating the wide distribution of the industry; in fact, forty-four states reported to the survey a production of lime in 1913.

Lime used in building operations represents nearly a third of the total output, but large quantities are sold to chemical works, sugar factories, tanneries, etc., as well as to farmers for broadcasting on agricultural land.

HEAVY EXPORT INQUIRY SENDS WHEAT PRICES UP

Market Has Good Bulge, With Urgent Buying By Foreigners.

Substantial Export Trade Reported By Duluth Houses; Flax Steady.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 24.—The market was steady up to the close at the higher range. Cash sales of wheat to go forward from Duluth at opening of navigation for export were estimated at 750,000 bu.

May wheat closed 3c up and July 2¾c up. May durum closed 1½c up and July 1½c.

Oats closed 1⅛c up at 54c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.19@1.20; barley unchanged at from 67c to 76c and corn ¾c up at 68½c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c up at 66½c bid and July ⅝c up at 66¾c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.42¼ and calls at $1.50½.

The wheat market underwent a sharp reversal of form today. On heavy buying attributed to both export and millers sources an advance extending up to 3c a bu was recorded up to the noon hour.

A big bulge came at the opening as result of the Liverpool market not following the heavy decline on the American boards yesterday, the quotation there being just 1c off. Unfavorable weather in Argentina and the likelihood of shipments from that country being delayed helped along the bullish sentiment abroad.

Just as had happened on previous occasions, exporters came in heavily on the break at all points and in the aggregate it is estimated that considerable trade was worked today.

Sales to an estimated aggregate of 250,000 bu to Eastern millers for shipment at the opening of navigation featured the local market this morning. Buyers of three houses interested in export business were busy during the first three hours of the session, and it was intimated that some foreign trade was worked. A substantial tonnage was also disposed of by a Duluth operator to go to a Minnesota mill.

Minneapolis and Winnipeg also reported good sales of wheat for export.

Exporters were said to have been the chief buyers in the Winnipeg May future during the morning. New York claimed that a big trade has been put through there in wheat and oats during the last two days.

A decline of 1,914,000 bu in the world's visible supply during the week also exerted a bullish influence. Against that, however, American clearances of wheat and flour in the day amounting to only 174,000 bu against an average around 1,000,000 bu daily for some time back, was given some consideration. From that showing it was surmised in some quarters that the German submarine blockade of the British and French coasts is interfering with shipments temporarily, at least.

May wheat opened 1c up at $1.48⅛ bid, but the first sale recorded was at $1.45. From that the market advanced 1⅝c more during the next three hours' trading. July opened ⅛c up at $1.43½ and gained 2½c more. May durum opened ½c up at $1.54 and gained 1½c more.

Flaxseed Holds Firm.

Trading in flaxseed was in better volume on the appearance of fair inquiries from crushers. The price was narrow throughout the session. At Buenos Aires flax closed ½c up and at London it sold off 1⅞c.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.85⅝, closed unchanged at $1.85¾ asked; July opened unchanged at $1.86⅛ and closed ½c off at $1.86⅛ nominal; September opened ¼c up at $1.85¼ and closed ½c up at $1.85½ nominal.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed unchanged at $1.65¾ and July unchanged at $1.68 asked.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Wheat market was partially affected by the weakness in America yesterday, but the unfavorable weather in Argentina and nervousness regarding shipping led to some support. Winters are offered at 9d decline and Plates at shilling lower but later advanced. General demand is quiet with spot market inclined lower.

Italian crop conditions continue unfavorable. Prices have perceptibly declined, showing a drop from 77s 3d to 66s 6d per 480 pounds. This was due to the cessation of the government's sell consumers upward of 250,000 bu at cost and supply wheat where needed.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Foreign Advices Give Wheat Lively Upturn at Opening.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Wheat made a lively upturn today, influenced by the comparative strength of quotations at Liverpool and by reduced estimates on the exportable surplus in Argentina. Besides, the foreign crop summary was rather unfavorable. There was some buying of May on seaboard account, but nervousness still continued in regard to interference with shipping. Opening prices, which varied from 1½ to 2¼c higher, were followed by further gains and then a moderate setback.

The replacing of lines that were thrown overboard yesterday tended to bring about a fresh ascent. The close was firm at 2¾c to 2⅞@3c net advance.

Lightness of offerings helped to bring about a sharp advance in corn. Shorts and commission houses were free buyers. After starting a shade to 1⅜@1½c higher, the market went an additional fraction upgrade.

Many traders acted later on belief that selling yesterday had been overdone. The market was also bullishly affected by huge cash sales of oats here. The close was unsettled, ¾ to ⅞@1c net higher.

Oats climber with other grain. Selling was slight in volume until prices had a substantial bulge.

Higher values for hogs and cereals gave strength to provisions. Much of yesterday's losses were overcome.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR IN GOOD DEMAND

Its Quotation Moves Up on Increased Dividend Expectations.

Business in mining stocks at Boston today was again comparatively light, but quotations were well maintained. Butte & Superior was the feature, a good volume of transactions in it being reported. Its quotation was moved up 63c to $45.87 an advanced dividend expectations.

In the Duluth curb list as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Calumet & Corbin sold at 13c; United Verde Extension at $2.75@3; Atlanta at 26c; First National Copper at $1.06; Stewart at $2; Jumbo Extension at from 7⅝ to 7¾c; Houghton at $1.50@1.38; Davis-Daly at 95c.

The Boston News Bureau says: "The Boston curb has listed the shares of the Calumet & Corbin Mines Company of Maine. This is the company that has recently acquired the Gold Lake Mining properties in Manitoba. The shares of the old Calumet & Corbin Mining company will cease to be dealt in on the exchange on March 15. These shares are, however, exchangeable on certain terms for shares of the new company. Development work is in active progress at the properties of the new company."

• • •

Local brokers are advised by the Calumet & Corbin office at St. Paul that the stock will be exchanged share for share without additional cost, except the government tax which is 5 cents per 100 shares.

• • •

Wolverine has declared a dividend of $4 a share payable April 1. Wolverine produced 608,141 pounds of copper in January from the milling of 31,926 tons of rock. A surplus of $829,000 remained at the end of the June 30, 1913, year.

STOCKS ARE MORE STEADY

Declines at Opening But Recovery Due to Short Covering.

Higher Level Is Maintained for Better Part of Afternoon.

New York, Feb. 24.—Declines of 1 and 2 points in Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line, respectively, were the chief features of today's early stock market. Prices as a whole were lower, speculative favorites as well as specialties tending downward. The tone of Americans in the London market was rather mixed, Canadian Pacific showing a gain of over a point, while Union Pacific and Reading were lower. Trading here was relatively light, with continued pressure upon new bond issues.

Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line continued to show marked heaviness on today's stock market, and before noon both had fallen to their minimum prices of 112 and 89 respectively. Several other speculative issues also repeated recent low established prices, while Northern Pacific stock and bonds were under pressure. Among the prominent industrials, United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, American Smelting and several of the coppers were off a full point, while Republic Steel preferred lost 3. A moderate recovery ensued at midday. Foreign exchange markets were again extremely unsettled, demand on London selling within a fraction of last week's low quotations.

Bonds were heavy.

Rumors from Washington, pointing to more satisfactory foreign conditions contributed to the further recovery of the early afternoon. Standard stocks were then on a parity with yesterday's close and some specialties were higher.

More steadiness was shown by today's stock market, the result in part of short covering. The higher level was maintained for the better part of the afternoon with some recessions in the final dealings. The closing was firm.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —TO— CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— PITTSBURGH STEEL ORE COMPANY.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Allegheny—ss.

We, the undersigned, Wallace H. Rowe and C. E. Beeson, do hereby certify that we are respectively President and Secretary of Pittsburgh Steel Ore Company, a corporation of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said Company, duly held on the 11th day of February, 1915, at 4 o'clock P. M., at the Company's office, Room 1900 Frick Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., at which meeting all of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company were represented, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, all of the said issued and outstanding shares being voted in the affirmative, viz.:

"Resolved, That Article VI and Article VII of the Certificate of Incorporation of this Company be, and the same are hereby, amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VI.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000.00), divided into Seven Thousand Five Hundred (7,500) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each; the same to be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VII.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000.00)."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and the corporate seal of said Company at Pittsburgh, Pa., this 12th day of February, 1915.

WALLACE H. ROWE, President.

C. E. BEESON, Secretary.

(Pittsburgh Steel Ore Company, Duluth, Minn., Corporate Seal.)

In Presence of:

ORDER FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR ADMINISTRATION—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Ignatius Golcz, Decedent.

The petition of Franciszka Golcz having been filed in this Court, representing, among other things, that Ignatius Golcz, then being a resident of the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, died intestate, in the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, on the 26th day of January, 1914; leaving estate in the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, and that said petitioner is the widow of said decedent and praying that letters of administration of the estate of said decedent be granted to John L. Golcz, It is ordered, That said petition be heard before this Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 8th day of March, 1915, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted. Ordered further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law, and that a copy of this order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing, and that a copy of this order be mailed to each heir of decedent at least fourteen days before the said date of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., Feb. 9, 1915.
By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.
Attest: A. R. MORTON, Clerk of Probate.

WHAT ADVERTISING DID FOR FURNITURE

Thirty-five years ago practically no furniture was sold in February.

Furniture factories were shut down four months in the year.

Now more furniture is sold in February than in two ordinary months, and furniture factories are busy the year around.

What made the change?

Aggressive merchandising and vigorous newspaper advertising.

It is a healthy change, a change that has benefited manufacturer, retailer and consumer.

It is also a remarkable evidence of the potential force of newspaper advertising.

COUNTY OPTION BILL PASSES THE HOUSE WITH AMENDMENTS AND SENATE CONCURS IN THEM

WILL BE LAW WHEN SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Prompt Action Taken By Upper House on the Measure.

Will Not Reach Governor Until Late Friday Afternoon.

Hibbing Officers Want Higher Salaries and Longer Terms.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate this morning concurred in the house amendments to the county option bill and repassed it without debate and with two additional votes. Senators George P. Gardner of Brainerd and A. S. Campbell of Austin, who voted against the bill on its original passage, voted for its repassage. The vote was 37 to 28 two senators being absent. The bill must now be enrolled and engrossed and it will not reach Governor Hammond before late tomorrow afternoon.

When the bill came in from the house at 10:50, Senator Rocke wanted to know how it got there, when the records showed that the house had adjourned last night till 2 o'clock this afternoon and was not then in session, but Lieutenant Governor Burnquist ruled that the bill was properly before the senate.

The house was taking a rest this morning after its arduous labors of yesterday, but met at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The A. V. Anderson bill to repeal the Elwell road law was a special order for 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the Minnette-Burrows telephone regulation bill was scheduled for 11 o'clock this morning. Other dates will be fixed.

The Vermilyn senate bill repealing the Elwell road law was a special order for this morning in the senate, but on motion of the author the special order was continued to March 3.

The senate elections committee this morning reported favorably the Sageng initiative and referendum bill, and reported for indefinite postponement the bill for a constitutional convention. The report was adopted.

Cut Forestry Appropriation.

The senate finance committee yesterday voted to cut down the appropriation for state forestry work from $75,000 to $40,000 a year, and this morning introduced a bill reducing the state forester's salary from $4,000 to $3,600 and cutting his assistant from $2,700 to $2,200. The forestry bureau had declared that the old amount was inadequate to provide proper protection for the state's forests, and had asked for an increase to $150,000 a year.

NO BARGAINING, IS LONDON COMMENT

Westminster Gazette Refers to American Note on Food.

London, Feb. 25.—"We are obliged to say at once that there can be no bargaining on this subject," says the Westminster Gazette, in referring to the American note to Great Britain and Germany, concerning the situation which has grown out of Germany's naval war zone decree. The editorial continues:

"The pressure of our sea power is a perfectly legitimate operation of war. Germany had full warning from her own economists what must happen if she risked a prolonged war with a superior sea power. By making grain supplies public property and still more by putting her population on rations, she entitles us to treat these supplies as contraband of war. On her own principle of limited consumption, the supplies of the civil population could not be increased in the manner suggested. The results simply would be to leave the government large supplies for military purposes.

"Who can suppose that, if the positions were reversed and Germany were the superior sea power, she would listen to such a proposition if made by us? It may be a German necessity to win the war by starving her population, but it cannot be incumbent on us to facilitate her scheme of conquest by saving her civilian population from liabilities which she deliberately incurred on their behalf."

INTRODUCER OF COUNTY OPTION BILL THAT PASSED

SENATOR F. H. PETERSON
Of Moorhead.

SENATE MAY HAVE SESSION

Possibilities of Extra Meeting Are Under Discussion.

Consideration of Treaties and Nominations May Demand It.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Possibilities of an extra session of the senate alone after March 4, for consideration of treaties and nominations were being discussed today among administration leaders and while White House officials refused to discuss the subject it was known President Wilson is giving it consideration.

Treaties with Colombia to pay $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama and with Nicaragua to pay $3,000,000 for inter-oceanic canal rights and naval bases, undoubtedly will fall of ratification at the present session. The need of action upon them is considered by the administration of great importance. Officials also fear confirmation of the Federal trade commission will be delayed.

The treaties will be taken up at the cabinet meeting tomorrow and some decision probably will be reached on whether an extra session of the senate is necessary.

The failure of the senate to confirm the trade commission nominations during the present session would not alone be taken as sufficient reason for calling an extra session of the senate, it was said, because President Wilson has been informed by his legal advisers he has authority to give recess appointments.

RUSS DENY REPORTS OF SEVERE REVERSE

General Staff States That Reports From Berlin Are Inaccurate.

Petrograd, Feb. 25.—The general staff of the Russian army has issued a statement concerning the recent occurrences in Russian Poland and the German claims to a sweeping victory, which reads as follows:

"Official announcements given out in Berlin to the effect that the Tenth Russian army suffered a severe reverse in its retreat to the rivers Niemen and Bobr are absolutely not correct. The German declarations that the Tenth army has been completely annihilated can be categorically denied.

"As a matter of fact the component parts of two of our corps, the Twentieth and another, finding themselves in an untenable and dangerous situation, as we already have announced, withdrew from their positions at Wirballen, Russian Poland, with heavy losses.

"As to our other corps these troops, after having foiled an atempt of the enemy to surround them, are holding today the positions alloted to them, and for several days past they have been engaging the enemy.

"Along this entire front our armies are fulfilling successfully the duties assigned them. During the past few days two regiments of the Twenty-ninth division, belonging to the Twentieth corps, advanced from the Augustowo forest and rallied our men."

INVESTIGATION OF STRIKE RIOT STILL ON.

Fairmont, W. Va., Feb. 25.—Thirty witnesses had been heard by the special grand jury investigating the Farmington strike riot when it continued its work here today and it was expected that twenty more would be called before the jury should be ready to report.

Forty men are now confined in the county jail charged with complicity in the disturbance which cost the life of Constable Riggs and the serious injury to a number o fdeputy sheriffs last Saturday.

SUBMARINES' TORPEDOES AND MINES CONTINUE DESTRUCTION

GREAT BRITAIN FAVORS RUSSIA'S DESIRES FOR A WARM WATER PORT

Sir Edward Grey So Announces in House of Commons.

Russ Intention to Occupy Constantinople Brings Statement.

Attitude of Britain Has Heretofore Been an Open Question.

London, Feb. 25.—Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, announced in the house of commons today that Great Britain was in entire accord with Russia's desire for access to the sea.

"With Russia's desire for access to the sea, England is in entire accord," the foreign secretary said in response to a question from Frederick W. Jowett whether England knew of and approved the statement of the Russian foreign minister, M. Sazanoff, in the duma that Russia intended permanently to occupy Constantinople.

The foreign secretary responded he was unaware that M. Sazanoff had made any such statement, but he added "the statement I have seen was that M. Sazanoff had said that the events on the Russo-Turkish frontier would bring Russia near realization of the political economic problem bound up with Russia's access to the sea."

"With these aspirations," he continued, "England is in sympathy. What form their realization will take will no doubt be settled in the terms of peace."

The announcement of Sir Edward Grey marks one of the most important developments in the European political situation since the beginning of the war. Russia's desire for a warm water port and an unrestricted outlet from the Black Sea has long been one of her most cherished national aspirations. Speaking in the duma on Feb. 9, Premier Goremykin said:

"Turkey has marched with our enemy, but her resistance already has been shattered by our glorious Caucasian troops, and the radiant future of the Russians on the Black sea is beginning to dawn near the walls of Constantinople."

The attitude of Great Britain in the event that the fortunes of war should favor Russia in the struggle with Turkey has been an open question.

Negro Lynched.

Kissimee, Fla., Feb. 25.—Will Reed, a negro, accused of having attacked a white woman, was taken from the county jail here yesterday by 100 armed men and lynched. His alleged victim was said to have fdentified him.

BECKER'S HOPES BASED ON THIS MAN'S TESTIMONY

JAMES MARSHALL.

New York, Feb. 25.—A motion for a new trial for Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant convicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was made in the supreme court today. Becker's counsel said he based his motion on newly discovered evidence to the effect that James Marshall, a negro, one of the state's witnesses to a material fact, had testified falsely at Becker's second trial.

BRITISH UNIFORMS SEEN IN WRECKAGE.

Berlin, Feb. 25, via wireless to London.—According to dispatches reaching Berlin from ports on the North sea, the Norwegian steamer Orla, when coming through the English channel recently, sighted a quantity of floating wreckage in which were to be seen British military uniforms. It was supposed that this military clothing was from some British transport which had been sent to the bottom.

AGREE TO EXCHANGE THE INCAPACITATED.

Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 25, via Paris.—France and Germany have concluded arrangements for the exchange of prisoners of war totally incapacitated for any future military activity and in a few days the repatriation of these men will begin. Swiss hospital trains will be made use of for the transportation of invalids.

Text of Proposal Is Still Unknown to General Public.

Britain Still Holds Off Declaring Food for Germany Contraband.

London, Feb. 25.—The proposals of Washington to Great Britain and Germany, which are in London, assumed to embrace the abandonment of Germany's self-declared war zone and the adoption of the belligerents of some definite policy regarding foodstuffs for the civilian population, have noticeably quickened the public interest, both in this country and in Germany in this delicate diplomatic situation.

The British press in general is restrained in tone, but the average Englishman plainly resents what he considers a hint at an attempt to interfere with the absolute blockade of Germany should Great Britain care to enforce this with her sea power. In the meanwhile, and in spite of the sinking of four more British merchantmen involving the loss of four lives, Great Britain still holds off from declaring food destined to Germany to be contraband. It is believed, if this step is taken, that it will be postponed until the American proposal has been discussed at length.

Proposal Secret.

Just what this proposal is the public both here and in Berlin is unaware. Its only information has been gleaned from the meager and qualified dispatches from Washington. There would seem to be no doubt, however,

TRIED TO GET PASSPORT FOR GERMAN RESERVIST

New York, Feb. 25.—Richard Madden, a teamster, alleged to be involved with Richard Peter Stegler, a German naval reservist, in a conspiracy to obtain Stegler an American passport, was arrested today by agents of the department of justice and arraigned before a United States commissioner. Stegler, who was arrested yesterday, is accused of having used Madden's name to obtain the passport. Madden is alleged to have permitted the use of his name for a consideration.

Madden was held in $15,000 bail for examination March 3. At the time of his arrest he had in his pocket one of Stegler's cards. He tried to tear this up but was prevented from doing so.

SAYS SING SING PRISON IS UNFIT FOR EVEN PIGS

THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Sing Sing prison inmates are kept in cells unfit for cows and pigs, Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of the institution, told a joint committee of the legislature yesterday. He appeared with others to plead for the abandonment of Sing Sing, except perhaps as a temporary place of confinement, and the erection, with prison labor, of a farm cottage prison in Dutchess county.

FIGHT JUST BEGINNING

Russians Say Something Will Be Doing in North Poland.

German Campaign Claims Characterized as Premature.

Petrograd, Feb. 25, via London—The Germans appear to have concentrated large forces near Przasnysz, which is now the center of their attack in the region north of the Vistula. The action about Ossowetz, which had been the chief point of attack by the Germans, is becoming less intense.

Serious fighting is reported also further to the north, at Shtabin and Yastrzemb, points between Grodno and Augustowo, but there is little information concerning the character of these actions.

According to official comment, the Germans have exaggerated the magnitude of their victories along the East Prussian front and from the Russian viewpoint the fighting in Northern Poland "is only now beginning." The German claim that they have brought to a brilliant finish their winter campaign is characterized here as premature.

A Russian officer expressed the view that the German claims were made in the hope of offsetting what he termed the loss of sympathy of neutral pow-

FOUR MORE SHIPS SENT TO BOTTOM

One Life Lost When British Steamer Deptford Sinks.

Three Chinamen Killed When Harpalion Is Torpedoed.

Rio Parana and Western Coast Also Victims of Warfare.

London, Feb. 25.—One sailor lost his life when the small British steamer Deptford, 230 feet long and 1,208 tons, was sent to the bottom in twenty minutes, either by a German torpedo from a submarine, or by coming in contact with a mine in the North sea at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at a point off Scarborough. The fifteen other members of the steamer's crew were saved and were landed at South Shields at an early hour this morning.

The engineer of the Deptford says he was on duty in the stokehold at the time the explosive in the torpedo head or in the mine rent the Deptford in twain. He says he saw a flash of blue flame shoot up from the bottom of the ship and through her deck. The force of the explosion threw him down violently and stunned him. He managed to reach the deck, however, as the vessel was heeling and just as the lifeboat was being launched. It was the carpenter of the Deptford who lost his life.

After hours in an open and leaking boat in a snowstorm which caused them to suffer acutely, the men say, they signalled a steamer, but no notice was taken of their appeal. Later, however, they encountered the steamer Pulgena, which picked them up and brought them into South Shields.

Some members of the crew say they saw the wake of a submarine after the Deptford was struck.

HARPALION SUNK.

Three of Crew, Chinamen Killed, Two Others Scalded.

New Haven, via London, Feb. 25.—The British steamer Harpalion, from London for Newport News, without cargo, has been torpedoed off Beachy Head. She was struck by submarines. Three of the crew, Chinamen, were killed. Two others were severely scalded. For-

TAFT GIVES TALK ON EDUCATION

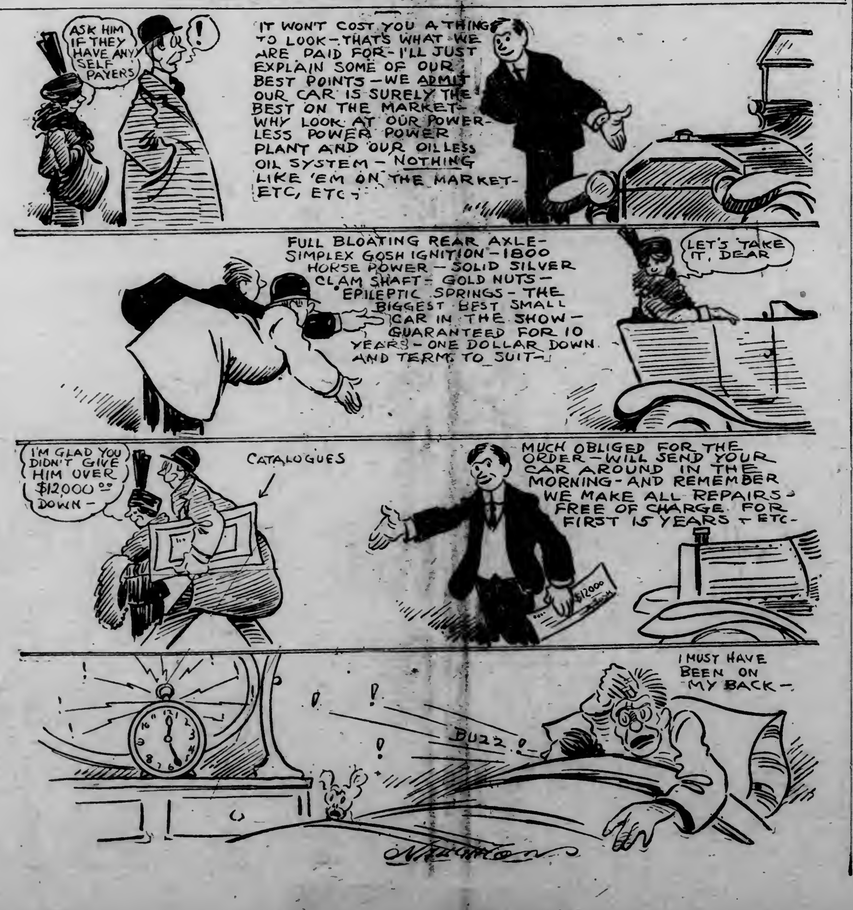

Former President Principal Speaker at Cincinnati Convention.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Prof. William H. Taft, former president of the United States, was the principal speaker on the program of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education association convention here today. His address was on the question: "Is a National Standard of Education Practical?"

The remainder of the convention was devoted to a question of "school curricula and organization." Among the speakers on this topic was David Snedden, commissioner of the board of education of Massachusetts, who, in the course of his address, paid a high tribute to Gary, Ind., in so far as schools go.

"As I see it," he said, "the Gary plan provides excellent foundations in practical experience of a kind now popularly miscalled 'pre-vocation' education. The Gary plan can readily be made to include vocational education, and if adopted in other progressive cities, having different conditions, would probably do so."

HAVE YOU BEEN TO THE AUTO SHOW?

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The second week of Germany's submarine campaign opened today with the loss of another British ship. The Deptford, a small steamer, was sunk off the English coast by a mine or a torpedo. Previously ten vessels, seven of them British, had been sent to the bottom.

Germany apparently is preparing to extend the field of these operations, for three submarines have been sent to Pola, presumably for use in the Adriatic and Mediterranean.

The American proposals for cessation of this form of warfare and the admission of foodstuffs to Germany are before the German and British governments, but there are no indications whether they will find acceptance.

Germany's claim to an overwhelming victory in East Prussia, resulting in the virtual annihilation of the Russian Tenth army, is denied categorically by the Russian general staff. The admission is made that two army corps suffered heavily during the retreat, but the remaining corps are said to have escaped from the German surrounding movement. Efforts of the Germans to clinch their victory by striking a decisive blow in Northern Poland are leading to continuous battles all along this section of the front, the outcome of which the Russian staff does not attempt to forecast.

Hardly less intense is the campaign in the Carpathians. The Petrograd announcement claims successes for the Russians in small engagements. Dispatches from the front to Swiss newspapers assert that the Russians are winning consistently, and that the Austrians have lost more than 3,000 men at Dukla pass.

Another important victory over the Russians was announced today by the German war office in the capture of the Polish city of Przasnysz. The heaviest fighting in Northern Poland since the expulsion of the Russians from East Prussia has occurred in the vicinity of this city and its fall is said to have led to the capture of more than 10,000 Russians. Petrograd has not confirmed the report.

The French and German official communications of today indicate that the calm on the western front is unbroken. French attacks in Champagne continue without important results.

A declaration in the house of commons today by Sir Edward Grey constituted perhaps the most important political development since the opening of the war. The foreign secretary announced that Great Britain was in sympathy with Russia's aspiration for access to the sea.

NEW TREATMENT IS FOUND FOR TETANUS

Apparatus Sent to Europe to Use on Wounded Soldiers.

New York, Feb. 25.—Announcement was made today on behalf of the Rockefeller institute of the invention of an apparatus and the discovery of a new method of treatment, both designed to reduce the mortality from tetanus among soldiers wounded on European battle fields. Twenty-five apparatus, it was said, had already been sent to Europe by the institute for use on the battle field and patents to the invention had been thrown open so that whoever wished might manufacture and use the apparatus.

The institute's investigators have found, it was said, that most of the deaths among wounded men are due to tetanus and that the present method of treating tetanus has certain drawbacks.

An injection of a solution containing epsom salts into the membranes of the spinal cord is a part of the method of treatment, it is announced. To Dr. F. J. Meltzer of the institute is given credit for the new method.

The belief is expressed that with this method of treatment and the use of the new apparatus, which is designed to aid in artificial respiration, many more lives will be saved.

"STENOGS" POST UNIQUE RULES

City Assessor's Helpers Couch Hints in Diplomatic Language.

Stenographers in the office of City Assessor Scott have prepared a unique list of office rules that are attracting the attention of everybody who enters the assessor's headquarters. Here are the rules:

"Gentlemen entering this office will leave the door wide open, or apologize."

"Persons having no business with this office will call often, take a chair, lean against the wall; it will preserve the wall and may prevent it from falling on us."

"Gentlemen are required to smoke. Tobacco will be furnished."

"Spit on the floor; the cuspidors are for ornaments only."

"Talk loud or whistle, especially when we are engaged. If it has not the desired effect, sing."

"Profane language expected at all times, especially if women are present."

"Put your feet on the table or lean on the desk. It will be of great assistance to those who are writing."

"Don't wipe your feet, as it would soil the mat."

"Read all correspondence on the desk. If it does not give you the desired information, ask for it."

"Last, but not least, use the telephone as much as you like. Out-of-town calls are preferred, as the company supplies the bills and we do the rest."

DOUBLE CHARGE MADE BY WIFE.

Drunkenness and desertion are urged as grounds for divorce in an action started in district court today by Lillie Johnson, 22, against Marinus Johnson, 32, whom she married in Minneapolis Nov. 30, 1908. Five months after their marriage, Mrs. Johnson alleges, he began to drink and continued to do so until he deserted her about Oct. 1, 1909, she says. At the time of their marriage, she says, Johnson was employed as a clerk in a Minneapolis wholesale house.

TO SUPREME COURT.

Question of Filing Non-Partisan Election Expenses to Go There.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 25.—Charles E. Pierce of Janesville, president of the Home Rule and Taxpayers' league of Wisconsin, appeared in municipal court today today on an indictment charging failure to file campaign expenses in connection with the election of last fall and was released without bond.

It has been tentatively arranged with the district attorney to argue the matter of the indictment within the next two weeks. Mr. Pierce, it is understood, will move to quash the indictment on the grounds that the political organization of a non-partisan character is not required to report expenses under the law.

It is planned to carry the case to the supreme court following a ruling by the lower court on the motion to quash the indictment.

INSOLVENT MONTH AGO

But Farmer Testifies He Was Ready to Buy Store.

Explains That $4,700 Farm Is in His Wife's Name.

When Walter Panov, dairyman at Homecroft park on the Calvary road, faced the prospect of parting with $40 to satisfy a judgment secured against him, he pleaded insolvency and swore before a notary public in supplementary proceedings that he owned no property, real or otherwise. That was on Jan. 23, last.

Yesterday Janov took the stand in district court as a witness for the defense in the prosecution of Julius Paul and Edward Fitzpatrick, charged with swindling A. N. Friedman out of $50 on a fake business deal, and testified that he was the owner of a dairy farm at Homecroft park worth $4,700, and that he was the "farmer" whom Paul had picked to buy Friedman's grocery store. The theory of the defense is that the deal would have gone through had not Friedman acted too hastily in securing Paul's arrest.

When County Attorney Greene this morning asked Janov to explain the slight discrepancy in his testimony on two different occasions, the witness declared that his wife owned the property. He could see no reason why any fine distinctions as to ownership should be drawn.

Judgment Still Stands.

The prosecutor also developed that the $40 judgment was still outstanding against Janov, the "prosperous farmer," who yesterday testified that he had $400 on his person the day following Paul's arrest on a charge of swindling and who came to town to close the deal with the storekeeper. It was also developed that in the proceedings involving the Janov judgment, Edward Paul, a brother of Julius Paul, and Edward Fitznatrick were witnesses on behalf of Janov.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Fesler denied the motions of the defense to dismiss after hearing arguments on both sides which consumed two or three hours.

This morning both of the defendants took the stand and told their stories. Their claim is that Janov was the "farmer" who was referred to as the prospective purchaser and not Fitzpatrick, as claimed by Friedman. Fitzpatrick denied that he posed as a rube from Rice Lake, Wis., or any other place when he visited the store last November when the deal was made. Paul admitted getting $50 commission from Friedman for selling the store before the deal was actually closed, but claims that Friedman gummed the game by getting him arrested.

Edward Paul, a brother of the defendant, Julius Paul, who was mentioned several times during the trial and who has been present in court every day, released a few months ago from Leavenworth Federal penitentiary, where he was sent up from Duluth for two years for counterfeiting. Paul pleaded guilty to the charge.

It is expected that the case will be concluded this afternoon and will be given to the jury.

WAR RESOLUTIONS UP NEXT THURSDAY

Wisconsin Senate in No Hurry to Act on Resolutions.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 25.—The Wisconsin senate exhibited disinclination today to act hurriedly on proposed indorsements of President Wilson's neutrality or on the prohibition of arms and war munitions to belligerent nations.

It voted down a motion to consider any or all of these measures today, but finally fixed next Thursday as the time when it will consider all pending "war resolutions."

After considerable discussion on the measures, Senator Perry said:

"The only way to stay naturality is to stop agitation. If you want the Marseillaise, the Wacht am Rhine or Tipperary sung in this chamber, just start the ball a-rolling."

Both houses concurred in a resolution requiring that names of lobbyists be printed daily in the journal of each house.

The assembly state affairs committee unfavorably reported the McGowan bill to prohibit the granting of a diploma to a student who smoked cigarettes.

NO EVIDENCE HEARD IN DARNELL CASE

At Request of Government Prisoner Remanded for Week.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—No evidence was heard today by Lewis F. Mason, United States commissioner, in the preliminary hearing of charges against the Rev. James Morrison Darnell, who is accused of violating the Mann white slave act.

At the request of the government attorneys Darnell was remanded for a week. It was expected that he would remain at the county jail in default of furnishing bond unless the Federal grand jury in Milwaukee finishes its investigation of his case before the resumption of the hearing before the United States commissioner here.

Darnell is charged with having violated the Federal law by having transported Ruth Soper from Minnesota to Chicago and thence to Wisconsin. In Kenosha, where he was the pastor of a Unitarian church, the young woman was regarded as his wife.

WOLVES HEARD IN THE SUBURBS

Teams Are Frightened—Workmen See Animals on the Ice.

Wolves are said to have been seen recently in the outlying parts of West Duluth. The beasts are said to be getting very bold and to have frightened some teams recently on the Proctor road as well as roads near New Duluth.

Two of the workmen employed at the steel plant claim to have seen wolves yesterday afternoon on the St. Louis river. The animals were running along the ice near the Wisconsin shore. It was reported this morning that a resident of a farm near Proctor had found difficulty in chasing two animals away yesterday afternoon. They attacked his team as he was driving along the Proctor road towards West Duluth.

Residents of New Duluth and Fond du Lac claim that during the last two or three nights the howling of the wolves a short distance from the suburbs has been heard at night. These residents say they are taking extra precautions to lock up securely what live stock they have.

YEOMEN WILL TAKE IN CLASS

18th Anniversary Banquet Will Be Held in Superior.

Many members of Non-excelled homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, and of the Duluth homestead residing in the western end of the city, will attend the banquet to be held this evening in honor of the eighteenth anniversary of the order at the Superior hotel. A special car conveying the local members across the bay will leave the end of the Grand avenue line at 7:15 p. m.

This car will make stops at Sixty-third avenue, at Fifty-seventh avenue, Central avenue, Forty-sixth avenue, Thirty-ninth avenue, Twenty-ninth avenue, Twenty-second avenue, Superior street and Twentieth avenue, and arrive at Garfield avenue at 7:45 p. m. The car will also stop at 600 Garfield avenue.

Among the supreme officers who will speak are: Dr. O. W. Winters, supreme medical examiner, and Mrs. Ida L. Garland, supreme sentinel. Duluth members who will speak are: P. F. Harouff, district manager, who will be toastmaster; Mayor W. I. Prince, Rev. J. W. Lillico, J. C. Wesenberg, John Allen and Neal Beaton. Others who will give short talks are: Mayor J. S. Konkel of Superior, J. H. Murphy of St. Paul, Dr. Searle of Superior, Ross Johnson, William Erickson, Sylvester Woods and Emille Sphung of Superior.

The initiation of a class of about 100 new members will take place before the banquet. The initiation will be held at Maryland hall.

IS VICTIM OF MOST PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Ralph Eyyen, age 35, 118 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, had the nose nearly torn from his face and his face badly injured in an accident at the Carnegie coal dock at the foot of Fiftieth avenue west this morning. He was taken to the Duluth hospital, where his injuries were attended by Dr. R. S. Forbes.

Eyyen was working along the car tracks trying to pry loose a chain used to haul cars along the track. In some manner the crowbar he was using slipped or the chain on it broke and it struck him in the face, nearly tearing his nose off. There was no witness to the accident, it is said. The man was rushed to the hospital by employes of the coal dock.

Party for Visitor.

Miss Bertha Longdon, 17 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, entertained last evening for a number of her friends in honor of Leon Duffy, who will leave Saturday for his home at Kansas City, Kan. Mr. Duffy has been spending several days in West Duluth visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Duffy, 101 North Fifty-eighth avenue west. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. E. C. Mehling. There were twenty guests.

With the Curlers.

Only one of the three games scheduled for last evening was played at the Western Curling rink. The game was between Kriedler and R. F. Wade, the former winning by a score of 12 to 10.

Four games will be played tonight. They are: McDonald vs. F. H. Wade, Mallory vs. Zauft, Donald vs. Judson, and R. F. Wade vs. Quinn.

TWO FILE FOR JUDGESHIP

Capt. Smallwood and M. E. Louiselle Are First to Enter Race.

None of Five Candidates for Commission Has Entered Yet.

The candidates for the municipal judgeship filed their nomination petitions with City Clerk Palmer this morning, while none of the candidates for the city commission had filed up to an early hour this afternoon.

Today was the first day that candidates for office could file, according to the charter, and Capt. W. H. Smallwood, candidate for the short-term of commissioner two years ago, was the first to present his name this morning. He is a candidate for municipal judge and shortly after the office of the city clerk was opened this morning, he presented the fifty petitions required and the $5 filing fee.

M. E. Louiselle, a local attorney, appeared shortly after and also filed for the same office. Judge Windom, who will run to succeed himself, has not yet filed.

There are five candidates out for commissioner, but none of these filed this morning. They have nine more days in which to file and it is expected that they will present their nominating petitions before long. Commissioners Hicken and Murchison are both out to succeed themselves for the four-year term, while J. A. Farrell, Bernard Silberstein and R. E. McFarlane have announced that they will also make the race.

On March 9 there will be the first registration day for all the voters of the city, to be followed by a second registration on the succeeding Saturday, March 13, City Clerk Palmer announced this morning.

DAMAGE ACTION TO BE TRIED HERE

Wisconsin Steel Company Sued for $7,500 on Death Claim.

The case of A. C. Kvennes, administrator of the estate of Adolph Kvennes, deceased, against the Wisconsin Steel company has been transferred from the Fifteenth judicial district of Minnesota to the Federal district of Minnesota and will be tried in Duluth. The action is for $7,500 alleged to be due for the wrongful death of the deceased. The order of removal is signed by Judge W. S. McClennehan of Brainerd. Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes are attorneys for the defendant company.

The complaint alleges that Adolph Kvennes, the deceased, was fatally injured by an electric shock while in the employ of the defendant company. Negligence is charged in that the company allowed its dynamo to run while Kvennes was working near an electrical apparatus.

The deceased is declared to have been a capable young man of good habits, and earning $150 a month, a good share of which he was devoting to the support of his parents. Damage is demanded in behalf of his father and mother and the plaintiff.

IOWA MULCT LAW VOID AFTER NEXT JANUARY.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 25.—Governor George W. Clarke today signed the mulct law repeal bill passed last week by the Iowa legislature. The bill is effective Jan. 1, next, and returns the state to statutory prohibition.

The bill for the submission to the voters of the state a constitutional amendment providing for constitutional prohibition, which was passed by the assembly last week, is expected to go before the governor for his signature within the next few days. It is claimed he will sign it. Des Moines is already dry territory, the eighty-six saloons of the capital city having been closed two weeks ago by order of the city council.

THE WINDIEST REGION.

National Geographical Magazine: The windiest region of the world of which we have any knowledge appears to be the coast of Wilkes Land, where Dr. Mawson's expedition recently spent two years.

Records at Adelie Land for 1912 showed an average wind velocity throughout the year of about forty-eight miles an hour, while velocities of 100 miles an hour were common.

OBITUARY

Albert G. Bryant, business and organization director of the world peace foundation, died Feb. 24 of cerebral hemorrhage at a hospital in Fall River, where he was operated on a few days ago for appendicitis. Mr. Bryant, who lived at Newton, Mass., was 40 years old, a native of Hancock, Mich., and a graduate of Oberlin college.

Gen. Thys, a noted Belgian officer, who was one of the leading figures in Belgian colonial development, died in Brussels, Feb. 24. Gen. Thys, who was born in 1849, was identified with railway building in the Congo, having been given the task by King Leopold in 1885 of preparing plans for a railroad connecting Stanley Pool and the navigable part of the estuary of the Congo. He was placed at the head of the enterprise which was begun in 1890 and concluded in 1898 which connected Vivi-Matadi and Leopoldville.

Mark Hall, 28 years old, pitcher for the Detroit American league baseball club, died at Joplin, Mo., Feb. 24, after a long illness. Hall started his baseball career in Joplin with a Western association team. He was compelled to return home in the middle of last season when he was taken ill.

Arthur W. Bower, at one time one of the leading woolgrowers of Montana, died suddenly at his home in Mount Vernon, N. Y., Feb. 21, of heart disease, aged 68. A native of New York, he graduated from the Troy Polyclinic and for several years was professor in that institution. In the early eighties with his two brothers he went to Montana and embarked on a big scale in the sheep business. The firm of Bower Bros. prospered and when it dissolved a few years ago each member retired very wealthy. Prof. Bower lived at Great Falls, Mont., until 1913 when he moved to Mount Vernon.

Winter Doubles Work.

In summer the work of eliminating poisons and acids from the blood is helped by perspiration. In cold weather, with little outdoor work or exercise to cause sweating, the kidneys have to do double work. Foley Kidney Pills help overworked, weak and diseased kidneys to filter and cast out of the blood the waste matter that causes pains in sides or back, rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness of joints, sore muscles and other ills resulting from improper elimination. CONSIDER HOW TO CAPTURE PIUTES

Indian Agents and Marshal in Conference at Bluff.

Lake City, Utah, Feb. 25.—A special to the Deseret from Bluff, Utah, says that Indian Agent Creel and Assistant District Attorney Cook, who arrived last night, are in conference with Marshal Nebeker, Agent Jenkins and citizens of Bluff regarding the best method to apprehend the hostile Piutes.

Several wealthy cattle owners at the conference are urging that troops be rushed in at once, as thousands of cattle located beyond the Indian stronghold are in danger. Bluff is under heavy guard with lookouts stationed at all points of vantage.

According to a treaty entered into years ago the Ute Indians agreed to assist in the capture of any outlaw members of their tribe. Assistant District Attorney Cook says that if the friendly Utes do not observe the treaty provisions they will be regarded as accessories after the fact.

MYSTERY IN NEW COMPANY

Corporation With $1,500,000 Capital Organized.

May Build Power Plants, or Generate and Distribute Electricity.

Is Duluth to have a new enterprise in the Minnesota Electric Light & Power company, capitalized at $1,500,000, which today filed articles of incorporation with Charles Calligan, register of deeds?

The incorporators are: A. C. Gillette, J. A. Sinclanr, A. McC. Washburn, C. A. Carlson, C. F. Liscomb, B. R. Heney and Oscar Mitchell, all of the law firm of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell.

In view of the fact that the same attorneys handle the legal affairs of the Duluth-Edison Electric company and are connected with such other public service enterprises as the Great Northern Power company and the Mesaba Electric Railway company, there is some little speculation as to what the purpose of the new corporation is. It may be connected with one of these or it may be an entirely new enterprise.

When asked concerning the new light and power company, Mr. Mitchell stated that he had nothing to give out for publication at this time.

The articles of incorporation give the company broad powers. The general nature of its business is stated as the generation of electricity and the distribution of the same within the state for light, heat and power purposes, "all to be done for public use for reasonable compensation."

The company is also authorized under its incorporation articles to purchase, lease or condemn land and to construct power plants, dams, reservoirs, canals and pipe lines. It also is empowered to purchase rights and franchises held by other corporations engaged in a similar business.

Wants $1,500 Damages.
For injuries which he received Nov. 5, 1914, when a Duluth-Superior car bumped into a wagon which he was driving along Garfield avenue, Henry Blackman wants the Duluth Street Railway company to pay him $1,500. Suit was instituted against the company in district court yesterday afternoon. Blackman alleges that he was thrown from the vehicle and that he suffered a severe injury to his left ankle and kneecap.

Professional Night.
Friday, the 26th, Hotel Holland cafe. Music and entertainment every night. 6 to 8 and 9:30 to 12.

Collapsible Voting Booths.
Collapsible voting booths, which could be used in public buildings and churches, have been sent here by the manufacturers in Nebraska and they are on exhibition in the city hall. Members of the city commission plan to purchase some of these, as they could be used to advantage in buildings where objection is raised against the use of nails or screws, necessary with the present booths.

New Optical Store.
A. R. Burquist is in Minneapolis in attendance at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Association of Optometrists. On his return it is his intention to engage in business on his own account.

Coffee and Cake Social.
A coffee and cake social will be held this evening at the Salvation Army hall, 508 West First street. There will be music by the singing brigade and by the band. The meeting is open to the public.

Hicken to Inspect Trucks.
Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division, will leave this evening for the Twin Cities to inspect the motor trucks in use there before deciding finally on the bids opened here last Tuesday morning. The commissioner wants to buy a motor truck to be used in place of a horse-driven vehicle at the No. 2 station and also an automobile for the chief.

Say Overflow Caused Damages.
Thomas Foubister, 5620 Grand avenue, and N. F. Nelson, 5626 Grand avenue, filed notices with the city clerk this morning that they will make claims for damages resulting from defective sewer pipes in their buildings. They allege that an overflow of water on Jan. 29 last was caused by a defective pipe.

Will Inspect Dairies.
On March 1 Gust Hedman, city milk inspector, will begin scoring Duluth dairies for this first quarter. Dairies are rated on the cleanliness of their plants and purity of products. A check on all the dairies of the city is made by the health department four times each year, this plan having been adopted two years ago, previous to which time but two scores a year were made.

Class Will Hold Reunion.
The Millenial class of the Scottish Rite Masons will hold their first reunion and banquet at 6:30 o'clock this evening at the Holland hotel. E. K. Coe, venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, will be the honor guest. Following the banquet the class will go in a body to attend the meeting of the Scottish Rite lodge at the Masonic temple.

Guild of St. James.
The Guild of St. James will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Bishop's club room.

Discuss County Division.
The state and county committee and the legislative committee of the Commercial club held a meeting during the noon hour at the club rooms today and discussed the county division matter, in opposition to which the club is on record. It was decided to hold another meeting on Saturday, at which a committee appointed today will report data to be looked up. This committee will also attend to the matter of having the club represented at the hearing before the legislative committee handling the bill.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

1914, at Washburn, Wis., left real estate in St. Louis county worth $150 according to a petition filed today by his widow, Mrs. Mary Dalziel, who is seeking letters of administration. There are no other heirs.

Edgar Prochnik, Austro-Hungarian consul at St. Paul, is seeking appointment as administrator in the estate of Frank Zakrajsek, who died June 20, 1914, at Biwabik. The heirs reside in Austria. They will share in a $1,000 estate.

SUPERIOR

GATES WILL HEAD BADGER BANKERS

Choice Is Unanimous; Convention Closes With a Banquet.

Joel S. Gates, cashier of the United States National bank of Superior, and vice president of the Northern Wisconsin Bankers' association, was elected president of that organization by a unanimous vote at the annual election of officers held yesterday afternoon. Other officers are: J. M. Smith of Shell Lake, secretary-treasurer; J. O. Smith of Ladysmith, vice president, and J. L. Banks of Superior, member of the executive committee.

The principal feature of the afternoon session was an address given by Theodore Wold of Minneapolis, governor of the Ninth District Reserve bank, who gave a brief history of the working of the Federal Reserve bank. Talks were given by Earl Pease of Fond du Lac, president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association; George R. Pratt, Racine; W. E. Briggs, Minneapolis; J. C. Crowley of the Superior Rotary club, and others.

The convention ended last night with a banquet at the Superior hotel, which was attended by more than 100 delegates, and as many more local business men.

THREE ESTATES OPENED.

Petitions for Settlement Made in Probate Court.

Three new estates were opened in probate court this morning by the filing of petitions for administration.

Ida Mathilda Carlson, widow of Charles O. Carlson, who died July 22, 1914, aged 50, wants the court to appoint her administratrix of the estate, which is valued at $3,515. Besides the widow, eight daughters and one son will share in a division of the property.

FRAUD CHARGES AGAINST CARLSON

Former Sheriff and His Deputies Sued for "False" Collections.

Former Sheriff Gust Carlson, Former Deputy Sheriffs Carl Hallgren and Carl Norquist and Former Jailer Andrew Berg are named as defendants in a civil action started by Chief of Police Vincent McKinnon, as a taxpayer, for the recovery of funds of Douglas county alleged to have been collected on fraudulent expense claims. The action was filed in court this morning.

It is claimed by the plaintiff that the defendants at various times collected moneys from the county for expenses of an extra man in taking prisoners to Waupun and other state institutions when, the chief of police claims, only one deputy really accompanied the prisoner. These alleged fraudulently received sums, the chief claims, amount to a considerable amount of money.

Mr. Carlson, when interviewed this noon, asserted that there was nothing to the suit. He said that it was simply a retaliatory measure prompted by the anti-recall men. Mr. Carlson was active in securing signatures for the petition for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel.

PROBE BY SHERIFF.

Would Learn Who Has Used Dictagraph in His Office.

Sheriff George Comiskey of Douglas county is conducting an investigation for the purpose of finding out who has been listening to conversation in his office. Yesterday he asserted that somebody had placed a dictagraph in his office two days ago, but up to this time had been unable to find out who the person was. The dictagraph was not hidden behind anything, but in plain view in one of the corners of the sheriff's office. Sheriff Comiskey said the instrument was valued at about $50.

ORDERS WITHIN ORDERS IN RECALL PETITION.

The city and City Clerk R. E. McKeague are ordered to show cause why the signers of the petition to recall Mayor J. S. Konkel should not be made parties to the injunction suit in the recall matter in an order filed yesterday with the city clerk, mayor and the city attorney, signed by R. I. Tipton, commissioner of the circuit court. The answer is returnable Saturday.

The court order is the result of the city refusing the recallers to be named parties to the injunction suit. It is expected that this order will quickly bring the recall tangle to a head...

N. P. FIGHTS TAX ON ITS ORE DOCKS.

The Northern Pacific railroad, through its local attorneys, yesterday filed a petition for a temporary restraining order with City Clerk R. E. McKeague to prevent the city from collecting $9,420.75 in taxes against the company's ore docks in the East end. It is the belief of city officials that the action was taken owing to the recent decision of the state supreme court which held the terminal taxation bill invalid. The company's property in the East end is valued at $395,000.

WOULD RECOVER ON BURNED GOODS.

After Axel Hagstrom had turned over several sets of harness to James M. Graham, a harness dealer, to be sold by Graham, fire destroyed the latter's place of business and the property was consumed. In a lawsuit started in district court today Hagstrom is seeking to recover from Graham the value of the goods. He asks the court to order an accounting between them. Hagstrom declares that the goods were turned over to Graham on July 26, 1914, and that they were worth about $237.

EXAMINATIONS AT CLOQUET IN MARCH.

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Percy Vibert, ranger in the Minnesota forest service, announces that examinations of those wishing positions in the Minnesota forest service will be held here March 13 and 15, also at the different rangers' headquarters and at St. Paul.

PROTEST AGAINST PULPWOOD RATE

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Attorneys for the Duluth & Northern Minnesota railroad, which is all within the state of Minnesota, today asked the Federal court to restrain the government from enforcing an interstate commerce commission ruling against the road. The attorneys contended that a recent ruling of the commission fixing the rates on wood pulp should not apply to an intrastate road. Wood pulp is the principal commodity carried by the road.

Protest against the pulpwood rates is being made in Chicago today by Attorneys Harris and Pearson of Duluth in behalf of the railroad.

The attorneys contend that a recent ruling of the commission decreasing the rates on wood pulp should not apply to an intrastate road.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

ROYAL CHIEF TO VISIT CLANSMEN

Alex G. Findlay Will Be Clan Stewart's Guest Next Wednesday.

Clan Stewart, Order of Scottish Clans, will have as its guest the royal chief of the order, Alex G. Findlay of Seattle, Wash., next Wednesday night, and the members of the clan will endeavor to entertain him in a manner which will make him renew his already expressed kindly feeling towards the Scotsmen of this part of the country. Royal Chief Findlay visited here a year ago and at that time was given a reception befitting his rank in the order.

Next Wednesday evening a dinner will be given in the royal chief's honor at the Vienna cafe, following which the entire body will go to the clan hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, where a class will be initiated and a program given. Further arrangements are now being made.

INJURY ACTION BROUGHT FOR $15,000

Damages in the sum of $15,000 are sought by Erick C. Peterson against the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company in an action instituted today in district court. Peterson is suing as guardian for Axel E. Bloomquist, who was injured while in the employ of the railroad company at Two Harbors on July 1, 1913.

Bloomquist, a minor, had been working as a car checker in the Two Harbors yards about a month before the accident occurred. On the afternoon of July 1, while attempting to pass under a string of cars he lost his left foot at the ankle.

The cars under which Bloomquist attempted to pass were supposedly standing still and unattached to any train, he says. At the moment he crawled under, however, the cars were bumped by a car which had been shunted there on a "flying switch." The string of cars moved about ten feet and caught Bloomquist.

Bloomquist, it is alleged, was using ordinary caution and was not warned of the danger that he was subjected to.

INSURANCE BILLS DEAD

North Dakota Senate Defeats Six Measures By Davis.

Workingmen's Compensation Bill Is Passed By the Senate.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many important legislative enactments were approved by both houses of the legislature yesterday, that being the final day for the consideration of bills except those originating in the opposite house.

One of the important features of the final day was the indefinite postponement by the senate of six bills by Senator Davis, aimed at giving the state supervisory power over fire insurance rate-making bureaus. The vote was 22 to 22, Lieutenant Governor Fraine casting the deciding vote.

The workingmen's compensation bill, patterned after Minnesota's law, was passed by the senate, 25 to 19, and attempts at reconsideration were voted down by even a greater majority. It now goes to the house.

Bronson's ambulance chasers' act was passed without opposition.

State Fire Insurance.

Senator Gronvold's bill creating a state fire insurance department was passed by the senate. Under its provisions the state would carry all its own insurance on buildings of institutions, etc.

The Allen bill, aimed at placing the primary publicity pamphlet upon a paying basis, was passed by the senate.

O. O. TRAGETON,
Senator From Northwood.

Recently that body failed to pass Bratton's bill abolishing the pamphlet, and the Allen bill is aimed at preventing a deficit.

Davis' bill restricting the powers of city commissions in the matter of engaging in construction work in special improvement districts, was passed by the senate.

During the debate on the insurance bills, Senator Davis made the charge that the "most insidious lobby ever working at the capitol" was here opposing the insurance bills.

Aid for immigration to the extent of $50,000 in the coming two years was approved when Hyland's bill, carrying $25,000 for the first year and $35,000 for the second year, was passed.

Tax Commission Bill.

The Heckle bill, abolishing the present tax commission and providing for a tax commissioner, was passed without debate and with only Bonzer, Bronson, Hoverson, Hyland, Wartner, Putnam, Porterfield, Nelson of Richland voting to retain the present commission plan.

McFadden's bill, compelling railroads to give members of the railroad commission and state immigration agents free passes, was adopted with only three dissenting votes.

The Wartner bill, proposing the creation of a new judicial district in the central section of the state, was killed.

Senator Vail's bill, carrying a $15,000 appropriation for the continuance of the expert accountant investigation of state departments and institutions, was passed without opposition.

The bill which would license agents selling supplies to schools was killed without debate.

Public Defender.

The bill by the judiciary committee to create the office of public defender was passed.

Senator Bronson's bill providing for the state fair deficit was passed, it indemnifying the fair association at Grand Forks against loss through a slash in appropriations.

The house killed Purcell's road bill, which would have converted the taxation from automobiles, based on motive power, into the good roads fund, divided equally between the state and the county.

The house passed a bill which does away with the levy for a terminal elevator. This forecasts the abandonment of the storing up of money for elevator purposes.

The Lathrop committee bill appropriating $5,000 to a fund to be used in fighting increased rates, the money to be placed in the general fund of $10,000 that western states are raising, was passed.

Representative Axvig's bill providing that railroads must build sidings near the international boundary, and which is of particular interest to farmers near Walhalla and in a portion of the Turtle mountains, was passed.

BIG SHIPMENTS OF PIG IRON MADE.

One of the hopeful harbingers of increased business sighted by the freight traffic men of Duluth is the large volume of pig iron being shipped from Duluth to various foundries of the Northwest.

J. I. Thomas, general agent of the Northern Pacific here, declared today that there has been a marked increase in the volume of pig iron shipped from the Head of the Lakes during the last month. Large shipments have been made to various foundries.

Outside of the increased tonnage offered the local roads in the commodity specified, there is a light movement in general freight. There is small inquiry for lumber and light orders in general merchandise.

REMEDY FOR THE CAT.

Columbia State: "Doctor," said he, "I'm a victim of insomnia. I can't sleep if there's the least noise, such as a cat on the back fence, for instance."

"This powder will be effective," replied the physician, after compounding prescription.

When do I take it, doctor?"

"You don't take it. You give it to the cat in a little milk."

WILL MAKE WANTS HEARD

Woodland Residents Will Ask Charter Commission for Amendment.

Claim Present Assessment System Is Burden on "Little Fellow."

Members of the Woodland Neighborhood club are raising vigorous protest against the plan proposed by the charter commission to submit but one amendment to the voters at the coming election on April 6, omitting the one regulating the payment of assessments for property improvements.

At the meeting of the charter commission to be held at the city council chamber this evening, the members of the Woodland club will formally object to the program and insist that the other amendment be included. Officials of the club say that they have the support of virtually all the civic organization in the city and that there will be a large delegation present at the meeting.

T. T. Hudson, chairman of the charter commission, announced yesterday that but one amendment, raising the purchase limit from $100 to $500, would be recommended at the meeting tonight.

Early in the present month it was proposed by the Woodland club that the people be given a chance to vote on amending the city charter so as to let the owner of property pay improvement assessments in instalments when the assessments amounted to less than $25 per 3,500 square feet of benefitted property. Under the present provision, it was claimed by the Woodland people, an undue burden is imposed on men of small means who are trying to buy or build homes. The proposition, with others, was referred to the committee of the charter commission, and it was announced yesterday that the committee had decided to report adversely as to submitting the Woodland proposal.

Club Takes Action.

J. A. P. Neal, chairman of the Woodland Neighborhood club committee, took the matter up with Mr. Hudson, as did other members of the committee, and today support was given to the Woodland proposal by members of the clubs of West Duluth, Lester Park, Hunter's Park, the West End, the Hillside people and New Duluth.

Earnest efforts will be made to get the charter commission to place the Woodland proposition on the ballot at the coming election, as its advocates declare its adoption is important to the working men of the city.

"If the commission turns us down now the question will have to go over for some time, and the working men will have to keep on being burdened with big cash levies," Mr. Neal said today, "for the only way we could get it on the ballot without the help of the charter commission would be by means of a petition signed by 5 per cent of the voters, and it is too late now to circulate and file such a petition.

"I earnestly hope the commission will not accept the report of the committee.

"Furthermore, I hope the proposal will be broadened so as to include sidewalk assessments in those that can be paid in installments. At present a sidewalk assessment, even if it amounts to as much as $100 for a twenty-five-foot lot, must be paid in cash. The condition existing when the charter was framed are responsible for that provision, but City Commissioner Voss is authority for the statement that conditions have since changed so that such a provision is no longer necessary. It would be only just to the men of small means to make this change along with the other."

LAUNDRY WORKER SUES FOR $2,847

Marie Olson, Acme Employe, Says Slippery Floor Caused Fall.

Because she slipped and fell on a wet floor in the Acme laundry and sustained injuries and bruises about the body, Marie Olson wants $2,847 damages from John T. Armstead, owner and proprietor. Suit was started in district court today.

The accident on which the action is based occurred March 5, 1913, according to the young woman's complaint. She alleges that she was employed as a sorter and that in walking across a damp and slippery floor she lost her footing, and fell, striking a box. The fall resulted in one of her legs being badly cut and bruised, one rib being fractured and another splintered.

Kenney & Kenney are her attorneys.

Mrs. H. A. Meyer Dies.

Funeral services for Mrs. Herman A. Meyer, 2119 East Fifth street, will be held from the family residence, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Forest Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Meyer, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schuler, 1012 East Seventh street, lived in Duluth for many years, attending the schools of this city. She was well known and had a large number of friends at the Head of the Lakes. She died yesterday at Pokegama sanatorium, Pine City, Minn., where she had been under treatment for a short time.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Meyer is survived by a daughter, June; a son, Walter; three brothers, W. P. Schuler, G. E. Schuler and John Schuler, all of Duluth, and a sister, Mrs. A. W. Warner of San Francisco. Her father also is living.

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood,—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale,—is responsible for more ailments than anything else.

It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles.

It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known. It has been wonderfully successful in removing scrofula and other humors, increasing the red-blood corpuscles, and building up the whole system. Get it today.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

BANG! WENT EIGHTY CENTS.

Three Held for Selling Stolen Mackinaw and Celebrating.

EIGHTY cents ordinarily doesn't go very far when the spender is trying to emulate Scotty of Death Valley fame, but three men yesterday succeeded in having too much fun on that sum, according to the police.

Hans E. Erickson, Ludvig Olson and Iver Christianson, were arrested by Patrolmen Monahan and Ricketts, charged with stealing a mackinaw from August Johnson, 509 West Superior street, selling it for 80 cents, and staging a "party" with the proceeds.

The three pleaded not guilty to a charge of petty larceny in municipal court this morning and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

WIFE RELENTS.

Pleads for His Release After Having Him Arrested.

After Mrs. Alfred S. Nelson, 2106 West Superior street, had complained against her husband and had him arrested on a charge of assault, she pleaded with the police this morning to dismiss the charge and let him go.

When Nelson appeared in municipal court his wife accompanied him, wearing a large bandage and showing other signs of rough treatment. Nelson, who is a printer, told the court that he had been unable to keep his temper.

He was sentenced to a fine of $30 and costs or 30 days at the work farm. Detective Herman Toewe brought him to headquarters last night after Humane Officer McKercher had investigated his case.

THIRD ACT OF DRAMA.

Woman Used Revolver for Bluffing Purposes Only Court Finds.

With Mrs. Addolorata Montellone as "Katherine," the third act of a revised version of the "Taming of the Shrew" was staged in municipal court this morning. "Katherine's" case, one of attempted breach of the peace, was dismissed.

On Feb. 19 Mrs. Montellone was arrested on the complaint of Mike Bruno, who told the police that she had threatened to kill him, and that he was inclined to believe that she could do it.

Mrs. Montellone told the court that she had found an old rusty revolver and some cartridges that didn't fit, and had tried to scare Bruno so that he would let her alone. She succeeded, but the court held that Bruno had been in the wrong, so "Katherine" was allowed to return to her fireside.

EARLY BIRD GETS "WORM."

Axel Niemi Wakes Up to Find $48 and Roommate Gone.

Seven o'clock in the morning is early, but 6 o'clock is earlier, and "the early bird catches the worm," as Axel Niemi found out to his sorrow yesterday.

The "worm" was a $48 one this time, for when Axel turned over and rubbed his eyes at 7 o'clock he found that his roommate had eloped with all his money, amounting to $48.

He reported his loss to the police late yesterday, and told Detectives F. H. Schulte, and Donald Irvine that he couldn't remember his roommate's name, although they had come here together from a lumber camp near Embarass, and had been living here two days.

The men were staying at a lodging house at 145 First avenue east. No trace of the "bird" and its choice "worm" has been discovered.

FORCED THE ISSUE.

Patrolman Unable to Preserve His Friendly Neutrality Any Longer.

Patrolman David Olson is unhappy today, because he found it necessary to arrest a man last night.

This is the first time this year that "Dave," as he is popularly known, has had to break his record, in order to preserve the peace and quiet of his beat.

Dimitro Raiko started to celebrate by throwing a pop bottle through a plate-glass window of the tailor shop of M. Lieberman, 30 West First street, and he carried out his program so thoroughly that Officer Olson was unable to avoid the issue.

Raiko told the police that when he got started he simply couldn't stop. He was sentenced to forty days at the work farm for disorderly conduct.

"Dave" believes in preserving peace without making arrests, and he has succeeded in doing it for nearly two months.

WOULD BEAT THE DUTCH.

Prisoner Suggests Plan to "Work" Them for Ticket to Europe.

"Send me to Grand Rapids, Mich., there's a lot of Holland Dutch there and they won't want me, so they may send me back to the old country."

This was the request made by Rudolph Akkerman, a blond young descendant of Queen Wilhelmina's race, in municipal court this morning. Akkerman was arrested at the courthouse yesterday by Humane Officer Robert McKercher, and charged with vagrancy.

He told the officer that he hadn't been in Grand Rapids for twenty years, but he thought the citizens of that town would remember him and that they wouldn't want him. He expected to be able to get back to the old country, if sent to Grand Rapids.

He pleaded not guilty to the vagrancy charge and will be given an examination this afternoon before Judge F. H. Cutting.

HEAVY BAIL NO OBSTACLE

Suspects in $1,900 Robbery Case Raise $8,000 and Are Released.

O'Regan Already Has $5,000 Posted in Minneapolis Case.

Edward O'Regan, alias "the Jap," and George E. Roach, alias Burke, two alleged pickpockets arrested on a charge of taking $1,900 in bills from Ross Garver, manager of the Orpheum theater, secured bail for $4,000 apiece in the district court yesterday and were released.

The pair were arrested Feb. 6, several hours after Manager Garver had been jostled in the vestibule entrance to a West Superior street cafeteria and relieved of the roll, which included the weekly payroll for the theater.

Manager Garver identified O'Regan and Roach as two of the three or four men, who, he believed, had robbed him, from pictures in the police rogues' gallery.

The pair waived examination in municipal court Feb. 17, and were bound over to the grand jury. The district court fixed bail at $4,000, which both men succeeded in getting yesterday. Attorney John Norton has represented them.

Including this $8,000, the two men now are under $13,000 bail. O'Regan, at the time of his arrest here, was under $5,000 bail in connection with a pickpocket case in Minneapolis. He is alleged to have robbed a man in the Minneapolis & St. Louis passenger station last fall, and will be tried on this charge at the next term of the Mill City court.

According to police, both O'Regan and Roach are known nationally as pickpockets, although neither of them is known to have ever served time in a penitentiary for any offense. O'Regan has been arrested several times on pickpocket charges, but never has been convicted. He was tried on a charge of robbing Charles C. Reynolds of Minneapolis of $1,100 in a "revolving door" theft at the Northwestern National bank entrance in Minneapolis four years ago.

James E. Rafferty and Laura M. Harris of St. Paul were named as bondsmen for Roach, while Walter M. Magee and John J. Flynn, also of St. Paul, posted security to insure the return of O'Regan.

Both men left for the Twin Cities last night.

ARMORY WANTED FOR SCHOOL CORPS

Drillmaster Jones Suggests That School Board Buy It.

When the board of education meets a week from next Friday evening, aside from other business that will be brought before it, a proposal will be made that it purchase the armory for school gymnasium and drill uses.

The members of the board have not yet been sounded on the matter and, therefore, there is no indication as to how they will view the proposal, but the man who suggests it believes that the board can be shown that the school pupils—particularly those in the high schools of the city—would enjoy a very great benefit if the project is consummated.

C. C. Jones, lieutenant of Aad patrol, and who has been appointed drillmaster of the high school cadets at Central, is responsible for the idea. He believes that the school board, if it intends to continue drilling the cadets and developing the military side of school affairs, must make some provision for quarters in which the drilling can be done.

"The Central gymnasium," said Lieut. Jones this morning, "is not adequate for the drilling of a company, and so quarters must be controlled by the school board which are. If this work is continued, some provision must be made, and I know of no better place than the armory. It could be used for drill and gymnasium purposes, for entertainments of athletic and other natures, and in the basement a swimming pool could be put in that would put to shame any other swimming pool in this part of the country, besides having plenty of room for shower baths and other necessities."

It is understood that Contractor Lounsberry, who is constructing the new armory at Thirteenth avenue east and London road, expects to have that building ready by Sept. 1. In that case, Lieut. Jones points out, the present armory could be available for the schools at the beginning of the next school year.

"WALTZ ME AGAIN" WILSON IS HERE

One of the Few Survivors of a Famous Band of Old-Time Minstrels.

One of the last survivors of the great minstrels of the old days is in Duluth today in the person of George Wilson, known the country over as "Waltz Me Again" Wilson, who is the most famous minstrel living, and one of the original minstrel company of Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West. Barlow and West have already been called to the great beyond, and Wilson and Primrose are the only two survivors of that noted band of "burnt-cork" pioneers.

Mr. Wilson arrived in Duluth today, and will be the headline attraction at the New Grand for the remainder of the week. What William H. Crane is to the American dramatic stage, George Wilson is to the minstrel world.

Early last fall Mr. Wilson and his old partner, George Primrose, began a farewell tour at the head of a minstrel troupe and planned a tour of the whole country. The cotton slump in the South, the war and other depressing things interfered with their financial success on the road, and Mr. Wilson decided to close the year in vaudeville.

Mr. Wilson is a decided personality in the amusement world. While his function on the stage is to make people laugh he has always maintained a certain native dignity that made his audiences feel he was something more than a mere blackface comedian who was clowning to amuse them. During his early days on the stage he was dubbed "Waltz Me Again" Wilson, and the popular song of that name was at one time sung by almost every boy in the land.

Many of his old admirers will be glad to see him again, on what may be his last appearance in Duluth. He has often been asked why he still sticks to the stage, and he always answers that he has become a "part of the stage and can't leave it." He has a beautiful home at Binghampton, N. Y., where he resides with his wife and a summer cottage at Penn Yan, where he goes when he wants a taste of country life.

GROCERS TO TEST DULUTH'S SUMMER

Will Hold State Convention Here a Year From June.

At the annual meeting of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' and General Merchants' association, which has just closed in St. Paul, it was determined to hold the next convention in Duluth. This will take place in June, 1916, and the Duluth members of the organization will lose no time in getting ready for the big affair. The last time the state convention was held here was in February, 1912, and the delegates were given such a good time that they have been anxious to come back here ever since, but want to come in summer this time in order that they may test the much-talked-of Duluth summer climate. Members returning last night and today say that the Southern Minnesota grocers declare that they will come in hordes and will at once begin to make arrangements for the trip here next year.

George Schulenberg of St. Paul, formerly of Duluth, was re-elected president and M. R. Bush of Duluth was reappointed member of the board of directors from the Eighth congressional district. The Duluth men attending were: A. M. McEwen, M. R. Bush, J. O. Johnson, John Roos, John Moir, Alvin Olson, David Olson, Edward Strange and Peter Sjoselius.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL FIGHT TO BITTER END.

London, Feb. 25.—Premier Asquith took occasion in the house of commons this afternoon in replying to a question, to indorse the opinion expressed recently by First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill in a newspaper interview to the effect that Great Britain would continue to fight to the bitter end, even should France and Russia withdraw from the war.

The premier pointed out that Mr. Churchill had declared with especial emphasis that he could not conceive of such a contingency as this, "but," added the premier, "I am in complete agreement with him. I see no reason to differ from the views he has expressed."

HOUSE VOTES FOR COUNTY OPTION BILL

Measure Gets Precisely Number of Votes Necessary to Pass.

Several Amendments Are Adopted, Requiring Bill's Return to Senate.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a fight that kept the house in continuous session three-quarters of the way around the clock, the F. H. Peterson county option bill squeezed through that body at 8 o'clock last night, getting precisely the number of votes needed to pass it—66—with 62 votes against it.

One member, Representative Boyd of Crookston, was absent; and Representative Devold of Minneapolis, Socialist, refused to vote, though he made a talk against the bill on the ground that it would deprive workers of their jobs.

Several amendments were adopted, thus necessitating the return of the bill to the senate for concurrence. If the senate concurs, the bill will go to the governor for his signature.

If he signs it—and he is generally expected to do so—county option will be the law of this state; and it is freely predicted that more than three-quarters of the eighty-six counties of the state will go dry as soon as elections can be called, and that the dry element will make the attempt in nearly all of them.

The bill now has only two hazards to encounter—that the senate may refuse to concur in the amendments and that it may go to conference, and that the governor may veto it. Neither of these are considered serious menaces.

How They Voted.

The vote on the bill was as follows:

For the bill—Adams, Anderson, Bendixen, Bernard, Bjorge, Bjorklund, Bjornson, Boehmke, Christianson, Corning, Dare, Dealand, Erickson, Flinn, Frye, Gill, Gordon, Grant, Gulleford, J. M. Harrison, Hauser, Hogenson, Holmes, Hompe, Hulbert, J. T. Johnson, M. Johnson, Kneeland, Knutson, Konzen, Larson, Lattin, Lee, Madigan, Marschalk, Marwin, Morken, Nordgren, Norton, Ollen, Parker, A. Peterson, A. M. Peterson, Pikop, Pratt, Putnam, Sanborn, Searles, Sorflaten, Southwick, Spooner, Stenvick, Stevens, Swanson, Swenson, A. F. Teigen, L. O. Teigen, A. L. Thompson, H. O. Thompson, Tollefson, Vasaly, Warner, Wefald, Weld, Wilson, Wold and Woodfill—66.

Against the bill—Baker, Baldwin, Barten, Bessette, Borgen, Bouck, Brown, Burrows, Carmichael, Condon, Davis, Dunleavy, Dwyer, Ferrier, Gerlich, Gilman, Girling, Greene, Hafften, Halslet, H. H. Harrison, Hinds, Hynes, Indrehus, Kuntz, Larimore, Lennon, Leonard, Lydiard, McGrath, McLaughlin, Malmberg, Miner, Minnette, Moeller, Mueller, Murphy, Nelson, Nietzel, Nimocks, North, Novak, Papke, Pendergast, Pless, Ribenack, Rodenberg, Sawyer, Seebach, Schrooten, Scott, Slitter, Smith, Steen, Stoetzel, Sudhelmer, Swenson, Syverson, Thornton, Welch, Wilkins, Speaker, Flowers—62.

Absent or not voting—Boyd, Devold—2.

Fight Lasts Nine Hours

The nine hours of the fight was divided between debating, fighting over amendments, idling while absent members were brought in, and filibustering.

The debate was rather featureless, though longer than usual Representative Leavitt Corning put about the only real ginger into it, with a partisan diatribe against Governor Hammond because, as Mr. Corning assumed, he had minimized the importance of the county option issue as compared with the business of efficient and economical state government, and with a very sweeping charge that those who opposed county option were jumping when the brewers cracked their whips.

Both of these taunts brought sharp rebukes from Representatives Girling, Burrows, Dwyer and others.

The real excitement began when at 3:40, after four hours and forty minutes of debate, the opponents of the bill, abetted by others interested in a rest and something to eat, tried to get a recess to a later hour.

Representative Lydiard moved to take a recess until 8 o'clock, and on a roll call, demanded by the friends of the bill, his motion was voted down, 67 to 61.

Representative Erickson then moved to recess until 5 o'clock, but his motion was lost, 63 to 66. Representative Konzen's motion to recess until 7 o'clock, was voted down, 65 to 63.

Trouble to Keep Members.

Then the house began to havet rouble keeping its members in the chamber. It developed that Representative Green of St. Paul had left, and the opponents of the bill insisted upon continuing the call until he could be brought back. It developed that he had gone out and given himself a comfortable feed; but when he got back a dozen more members were absent. Finally the absentees dwindled down to Representative Rodenberg of St. Paul, who had been excused timporarily to consult a physician, and just when the house was wrangling over whether to send a warrant for him or to go on without him, he returned and the panel was complete again.

Then the consideration of amendments began. The only important amendment adopted, the one that it is asserted gained two votes for the bill that it had been expected would be cast against it, was offered by Representative Boehmke, and being accepted by the friends of the bill was adopted without division. It extends from sixty days to six months the period allowed saloon keepers to close up after a county votes dry.

Several hostile amendments were offered, but none of them was adopted. Representative McGrath's proposal to exempt all cities from the operation of the bill was beaten, 62 to 75. Representative Gerlach's similar amendment to exempt cities of the first, second and third classes was voted down, 39 to 86.

Caused Stormy Debate.

Representative Welch promoted another stormy debate by an amendment that would have allowed manufacturers of liquor in dry counties to sell at wholesale in those counties. They are now allowed to manufacture in dry counties under the bill, but are not allowed to sell there. Representatives Welch, Ericson and others said it was fairer to let the little local brewers get this business than to compel the trade to go to the Twin Cities, and they thought the amendment ought to go on. It was beaten, however, 49 to 74.

After the roll had been called and the bill declared carried, Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin, who had led the fight for it in the house, moved that the vote be reconsidered, and asked that his motion be voted down. This is the usual procedure to prevent the opposition from any further operations. His motion was lost, and that settled the bill so far as the house is concerned.

The next question is whether or not the senate will concur in the house amendments, and it is regarded as likely that it will. If it does not, there is another chance for a fight, as it is doubtful if the bill could go through the house without the amendment giving saloon keepers in dry counties six months to wind up their affairs.

PROPOSAL BY UNITED STATES AROUSING MUCH INTEREST IN ENGLAND

that Great Britain will reserve the right to declare food contraband at any time she deems it necessary, especially as Germany's so-called blockade has been enforced with all the power Germany has at her command for a week past.

How the British cabinet feels about this matter would appear to have been plainly indicated by the statements made by Foreign Secretary Grey, Premier Asquith and First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill, all of whom have more than hinted that drastic retaliatory measures might be expected at any moment.

Statements Contradictory.

Now that the Russians have made a stand on their own soil, the fighting in the eastern arena of the war is resolving itself into a mass of contradictory statements and counter-claims. The German claims of a victory in Russian Poland are circumstantial and detailed. The Russian denials, while emphatic, are sweeping and general.

It would appear from dispatches reaching London that at the present moment neither the Austrians nor the Germans are making headway anywhere on the line from the Baltic to the Carpathians. British observers are calling attention to the fact that there apparently has been no decisive battle at the northern extremity of the line to prove whether the recent advance will be of lasting value or not.

Discussed in Berlin.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—Nothing has been made known up to the present time of the conference of the German statesmen last night to discuss the American identical notes on marine warfare and the feeding of civilian populations sent by the United States government to both Great Britain and Germany. This meeting was held in the residence of Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, the imperial chancellor. Among the statesmen present was Gottlieb Von Jagow, the foreign minister.

No further details have been given out in Berlin of the reported sinking of a British transport by a German submarine. It is being explained here that the under-sea boat in question sent ouly a brief wireless announcement and that details of the occurence probably were not known even to her crew because of the limited field of observation of submarine periscopes. Furthermore the submarine may have had no other opportunity to use its wireless apparatus.

Second Boat Picked Up.

The crew of the American steamer Evelyn which went down in the North sea, as a result of striking a mine apparently all have reached Bremerhaven, the second boat having been picked up by a German steamer.

Neither the American embassy nor the German admiralty has as yet received a detailed report concerning the loss of the American steamer Carib which struck a mine and sank the afternoon of Feb. 22 off Helgoland in the North sea. The circumstances under which these two ships were wrecked are being investigated thoroughly. The American consul at Bremerhaven is taking the deposition of the master of the Evelyn, whose statement will determine the responsibility for the Evelyn being off the course described as safe by the German admiralty.

The German announcement that a British troop transport had been sunk by a submarine has not been borne out from London, where it has been said that this report doubtless referred to the torpedoing of the British steamer Branksome Chine, a government collier which was attacked the afternoon of Feb. 23 in the English channel at a point south of Beachy Head.

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 25, via London, 3 p. m.—The town of Przasnysz, Russian Poland, was yesterday taken by storm by German forces, according to the official announcement given out in Berlin today. The Germans captured 10,000 Russian prisoners. The report is dated Feb. 25 and reads as follows:

"In the western arena of the war: In Champagne the enemy yesterday continued his desperate efforts which, in spite of the strong forces engaged, were again absolutely without success. Otherwise there has been nothing of importance on the western front.

"In the eastern arena: The engagements on the Memel Bobr and Narew rivers continue. The town of Przasnysz, in Russian Poland, which had been extensively fortified, was stormed yesterday by the East Prussian reserves. After a stubborn fight we were victorious, capturing more than 10,000 prisoners, over 20 cannon, a large number of machine guns, and a very large amount of war material.

"In other engagements fought north of the river Vistula during the past few days we have taken 5,000 Russian prisoners. In Poland, south of the Vistula, the Russians advanced to Mogilly, which is southeast of Bollmow, and occupied this position. Their forces in this movement outnumbered ours five to one. Otherwise there is nothing of importance to report in this region.

"It is characteristic that the commander of the Fifty-seventh Russian reserve division, taken prisoner at Augustowo, asked German officers whether it was true that Antwerp was being besieged by the Germans and soon would fall. When the situation on the western front was explained to this Russian officer he refused to believe that the German western army was on French soil."

French Statement.

Paris, Feb. 25, via London, 3:25 p. m.—At the war office this afternoon the following statement was given out:

"Near Lombaertzyde, our artillery demolished a blockhouse and some of the enemy's lookouts.

"In Champaigne we have maintained the new positions which we won yesterday. All of the enemy's counter attacks were repulsed. Our aviators threw sixty bombs on railway stations, trains and concentrations of the enemy. This bombardment was very effective.

"In the Argonne, at Marie Therese, the enemy made an attack which immediately was checked.

"Between the Argonne and the Meuse, in the Cheppy wood, we made further progress. Our heavy artillery destroyed armored shelters. The enemy was unable to retake trenches captured by us.

"In Lorraine, near Parroy, there was a skirmish between patrols, the Germans being put to flight."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, Feb. 25.—The escape from a ring of German troops of two regiments of the Twenty-ninth Russian division, who were surrounded during the retreat from East Prussian, is recorded in an official communication given out by the general staff last night. It is stated that the Germans are making continuous attacks all along the front from the Bobr district at Jedwabno as far as the Vistula in the region of Bodzanow. Minor successes for the Russians in the Carpathians are claimed as the result of desperate fighting. The communication follows:

"North of Grodno there were actions Tuesday near Jaszrobno and Stabine.

"In the Augustowo forest two regiments of the Twenty-ninth division who had been surrounded during the retreat, broke through the enemy's lines and rejoined our forces. Patrols of the enemy are attempting to cross to the right bank of the Narew where attacks by the Germans are continuous all along the front from the Bobr district at Jedwobno as far as the region of Bodzamow on the Vistula.

"Fighting is becoming very intense in the Przasnysz region. On the left bank of the Vistula we repelled attacks of the enemy at the village of Boguslav and at points west of Opotchno and Lopouschko.

"There has been desperate fighting east of Lupkow pass in the Carpathians. Our troops have had several successes in the region of Munkato.

"At daybreak Feb. 22 near Zavadka we captured three lines of trenches on a height which is almost a sheer precipice. The Germans defending the height were killed or taken prisoners.

"German attacks were repulsed south of Myto Koziourka. We carried a height south of Dukla after a stubborn fight. We checked the offensive of important forces of the enemy on the Doline and Salitch roads on the right bank of the Rozanka."

FIGHT JUST BEGINNING

ers, particularly the United States, as a result of Germany's submarine campaign in the war zone around the British isles.

Scattered By Cavalry.

The German detachment, which crossed the river Niemen at three points on Feb. 23, has been scattered by Russian cavalry, and part of this force has been captured. Some of the prisoners held in their possession explosives and tools which indicated they were intending to blow up the railroad leading from Vilna to Warsaw.

In Galicia the Austro-German forces have occupied a new front extending from the Carpathians to Stanislau. The characteristic feature of this front is its thinness. The rear of the Austro-German line touches Roumania. The line of communication is maintained, not from the rear, but from the flanks, being parallel with the Carpathians.

It is reported that the city of Wyszogrod, on the Vistula, has been damaged seriously by German shells.

The official communication from the German war office today announces the capture of Przasnysz, described in the foregoing dispatch as the center of the German attack. It may be that the German news is of later date, reporting a development in the battle referred to above.

STRIKES MINE.

Rio Parana, Loaded With Coal, Goes Down; Crew Saved.

London, Feb. 25.—A dispatch to Lloyds agency from New Haven says the steamer Rio Parana of London, laden with coal and bound from the Tyne to Portoferrajo, island of Elba, struck a mine five miles southeast of Beachy Head at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The explosion tore a hole in the vessel's starboard side and she filled and sank.

The crew of the Rio Parana was rescued by a torpedo boat and landed at New Haven.

Members of the crew of the Rio Parana who were taken to New Haven by a torpedo boat after their ship was sunk, said they were uncertain whether the vessel was destroyed by a mine or a torpedo. They had no warning whatever of impending disaster.

Western Coast Lost.

London, Feb. 25.—The small British coasting steamer Western Coast has been sunk by a mine or torpedoed in the English channel at a point off Beachy Head. The crew was landed at Portsmouth today.

SEEKING HER DAUGHTER.

L'Anse Mother Follows Lead No Matter How Unlikely.

Mrs. Emil King of L'Anse, Mich., is looking for a long lost daughter, when she has not seen since December, 1907.

In a letter to Sheriff John R. Meining, Mrs. King incloses a clipping from a newspaper relating about a young woman in Duluth who, escaping being trampled under the hoofs of a runaway team, swooned and on being resuscitated refused to tell her name. Mrs. King fancies that the woman might be her daughter and asks the sheriff to find out.

The missing girl is Emma Pickard by name and when she left home in December, 1907, she was 16 years old. Mrs. King believes that she joined some theatrical company. A picture of the girl was inclosed in the letter to the sheriff.

BREAK ROCK FOR ARMORY.

Thirty Men Are Put at Work at Point of Rocks.

Thirty men were placed at work this morning at the Point of Rocks to provide stone for the armory foundation.

Several weeks ago George Lounsberry, contractor, agreed to buy fifty cords of stone from the city, if the municipality would agree to deliver the rock at Thirteenth avenue east and Jefferson street, the site of the new armory. To this the officials agreed and the delivery of the stone will start at once.

A large crew of men is at work excavating for the armory and preparing for the laying of the foundation, which will start with the first shipment of stone.

TURKS BEAT OFF RUSSIAN ATTACK.

Berlin, Feb. 25, by wireless to London.—Reports received here from Constantinople set forth that a Russian attack in the territory east of Artzin, which is in trans-Caucasia, thirty-four miles southeast of Batun, has been beaten off by the Turks, with heavy losses to the enemy. The Russians have been driven also from the region of Elmali, in Asia minor, where a quantity of war material was captured by the Turks.

COULD DISPENSE WITH HIGH SOCIETY

President Says Native Ability Has Nothing to Do With Social Origin.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Praise for the "simple, straightforward" people of the Southern mountains, and criticism of "the airs that high society gives itself," were voiced by President Wilson here last night at a meeting held in the interest of Berea college, Kentucky, founded to educate the mountaineers. The president declared that "the college was going straight to the heart of one of the most interesting problems of American life, and added that "the only thing that is worth while in human intercourse is to wake somebody up."

Justice Hughes of the supreme court presided, and other speakers were President Frost of Berea college, F. G. Bonser of Columbia and Hamilton Mabie of the Outlook magazine. They said there were 3,000 people in the mountains who needed only education to make them of immense benefit to the nation.

Speaking of the work of the college, the president declared that the object was "to do what America was intended to do, to give people who had not had an opportunity and give it to them on absolutely equal terms, upon a basis not of birth, but of merit."

"What America has vindicated above all things else," said the president, "is that native ability has nothing to do with social origin. It is very amusing sometimes to see the airs that high society gives itself. The world could dispense with high society and never miss it. High society is for those who have stopped working and no longer have anything important to do."

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE NEAR LASSEN PEAK.

Redding, Cal., Feb. 25.—News was brought here of a severe earthquake Sunday night in Twin Valley, 30 miles east of here, and 20 miles north of Lassen peak. The ground cracked in all directions and one house was tilted over five feet out of plumb by the sinking of the earth.

Large rocks have entirely disappeared, while new springs have appeared.

An acre of ground sank sixty feet. The snapping and roaring of the earth's crust has been likened by residents of the district to the roar of a heavy wind. It is not known here whether the mountain is now in eruption, as the peak is obscured by heavy rain clouds.

TAKEN BACK TO TRAINING SCHOOL

Youth Arrested in Duluth for Breaking His Parole.

Failure to give ready answers to an officer's questions caused the downfall of Nellia Sanders, a 14-year-old "fugitive from justice," yesterday morning, and he now is on his way back to the state training school at Red Wing, Minn.

The lad was arrested at the Union station and taken to headquarters, believed to be implicated in the recent robbery of the postoffice at Moose Lake, Minn.

He told Chief Troyer that he had run away from his home in Moose Lake after the postoffice inspector had quizzed him, thinking that he was going to be arrested as a burglar.

Sheriff Harry McKinnon of Carlton county arrived in Duluth last night and will take the boy back to Red Wing today. Sanders was out on parole, and will not be tried in connection with the Moose Lake case.

INSISTS ITALY REMAIN NEUTRAL

Germany Bringing All Pressure Possible on That Country.

Rome, Feb. 25, via Paris.—Close observers in Rome of the political situation declare that since the readiness of Italy to join in the war has become apparent, the insistence of Germany upon her continued neutrality has grown stronger.

It is declared in a reliable quarter that Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Italy, has summarized the Italian situation to his government substantially as follows:

Italy has spent nearly 2,000,000,000 lire ($400,000,000) in war preparation since the outbreak of hostilities; consequently, action on her part is daily becoming more imperative. Furthermore, for international reasons, all political parties are asking the government to obtain, as a result of diplomatic negotiation or through the use of the Italian army and navy, the fulfillment of the aspirations of the nation, particularly in return for the heavy sacrifices already made.

Germany urged Austria-Hungary strongly to cede to Italy her Italian province of Trent and a portion of the Istria peninsula, with the idea of keeping Italy neutral at the present time and enlisting her favor for the future.

It has been asserted in Rome that Prince von Buelow has said Austria must be induced to accede to his views concerning territorial concessions to Italy, else he would resign his post.

JOBBERS ARE ALL HOPEFUL

Orders From Merchants Over Northwest Are in Larger Volume.

Managements of Duluth Houses Look Forward to Expansion in Spring.

While there have been no special developments in wholesale and manufacturing lines during the last few days, Duluth houses aver that business is rounding to nicely.

Though merchants over the territory are still pursuing a conservative policy in placing future orders, current business is reaching gratifying proportions. Taken on the whole, it is thought that no valid grounds for complaint exist on the score of trade and the feeling of confidence regarding the outlook for the balance of the year is extending.

Grocery Prices Firm.

A steady trade in groceries was reported by the Barthe-Martin company of this city and the Twohy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior. There have been few price changes in either the staples or specialties list during the last few days. The markets are firm in nearly all commodities with the tendency upward on the whole.

The bulge in sugars that had been a feature for some time has been halted, and while one refinery is still quoting cane product at 6 cents, the ruling basis is 5.75 cents. A flood of realizing on the part of speculators developed as a result of the long market advance, and the digesting process is still going on.

Coffees are weak, attributable to heavy Brazilian receipts. The big jobbers in coffee advise heavy liquidation in March contracts on fears of further large offerings on the American markets. Prices are steady in canned and dried fruits and vegetables on continued liberal buying by the European belligerents. Second quality tomatoes are said to be one of the few weak items in that list.

All cereals quotations are firm, in line with the strong grain markets.

Drygoods Trade Satisfactory.

Taking the unsettlement brought about by the war into consideration, trade in drygoods is regarded as fairly satisfactory by F. A. Patrick & Co. In view of the weakness that would be precipitated in most raw materials in the event of a sudden termination of hostilities at any time, merchants are inclined to go slow in their future commitments, but current business is regarded as reflecting a healthy situation. The corps of special salesmen put out two months ago to cover the Eastern, Central and Western states with the house's patricks and woolen goods lines, are now returning to headquarters. They are advised to have been successful in opening up a large number of new accounts which is expected to develop into a substantial volume of business later. The woolen market is reported strong with scoured wools and fleeces each up 20 and 25 per cent on the average.

Spring Hardware Going Out.

Heavy shipments of farming tools and other spring lines of hardware over the West were advised by the Kelley-How-Thomson company and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. The markets in many iron and steel products still show evidence of advancing. On top of the bulge reported a week ago, galvanized sheets have been again boosted $2 a ton, due to the continued upward course of spelter. Quotations in wire and nails are being maintained on the higher basis set recently, and retailers are ordering more freely, taking the view that recessions are improbable. Quotations in linseed oil have been reduced 4 cents a gallon.

Better Feeling in Shoes.

A better feeling in the shoe trade over the country was noted by the Northern Shoe company. Sales being booked by its travelers are mounting up well and factory operations are said to be now on practically the same basis as a year ago. Touching upon shoe styles, cloth tops in women's wear are thought likely to be popular during the spring and fall months. Toes will be on the medium order along the lines of the English last.

Demand for Building Papers.

A substantial increase in building paper orders for early spring delivery was noted by the Duluth Paper company. Business being taken in general stationery and notions was advised to be showing gains over last year. The company has arranged to cover its territory embracing Northern Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan closely, and substantial gains in trade during the year are expected.

Furniture Trade Improves.

The receipt of carlot furniture orders from Northern Michigan, North Dakota and Montana points during the last few days, was regarded by the De Witt-Seitz company as affording good promise of spring trade activity. The house is engaged upon the preparation of its new catalog, which is expected to be issued early in April.

PARK BONDS WILL BE DELIVERED

Legal Obstacles Out of Way and $50,000 Will Be Realized.

All legal obstacles preventing the sale of the $50,000 issue of park bonds have been removed and the bonds, properly signed, will be delivered today to the Minnesota Loan & Trust company.

As a result the proceeds will reach the city shortly and the money will be turned over at once in payment for the Fairmont park addition and the remainder laid aside to be used in improving the park property and making a public bathing beach at that point. The owners of the property recently agreed to accept about $38,000 for their holdings.

Mayor Prince, City Auditor Campbell and City Clerk Palmer this morning signed the fifty bonds, making them legal, and they are to be forwarded at once to the trust company at Minneapolis.

Shortly after the bid of the Minnesota Loan & Trust company was accepted several weeks ago, a Boston law firm declared that the sale was illegal as the city had advertised for unconditional bids. The trust company, however, had sold the issue before this opinion and a legal tangle was the result.

Another firm of bond attorneys in Boston has decided that the sale was legal and that no violations were made, so that the deal is practically closed.

DESERTED BABE DIES.

A 5-months'-old babe, who died a few days ago at the Children's Home, after having been disowned by the man believed to be its father, and deserted by its mother, was yesterday afternoon buried at the county's expense. Humane Agent McKercher notified the county poor authorities that he had been looking for the parents for several days but had been unable to find them.

The child was born Sept. 25, 1914, to Edith and Fred Shal. The Shals had been separated for some time prior to the birth and when the child was born, Shal denied its paternity. On Nov. 12, the mother placed the child in the Children's Home, where she promised to pay for its support. She failed to do so, except that $3 was given to the matron with the promise of regular remittances in the future.

PIMPLES SPREAD ALL OVER HEAD

Severe Itching and Burning. Red and Sore. Kept Awake at Night with Itching. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Head All Healed.

"3503 N. Hamilton Ave., Chicago, Ill.—"My scalp trouble began on the lower part of my head with severe itching and burning, forming into lumps or pimples which spread all over my head. These would itch something terrible, getting red and sore and after some time they got hard. My trouble always seemed to be worse. Nights when I would take down my hair and comb it the scales were so thick that I would have nothing but scales in my comb.

"I had had the trouble six months when I heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. The itching had kept me awake at night but when I used the sample I had better rest. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and bar of Cuticura Soap and used them every night and morning for four weeks. My head was all healed and I would never wash my head now with anything else but Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Miss Helen Beyer, July 30, 1914.

NATIVES OF LEWIS ISLE AT BANQUET

Annual Gathering of Scots Most Pleasing to Many Participants.

Scots of Lewis Isle reverted to the use of their native tongue last night at the Foresters' hall, during the fourth annual gathering of the Lewis society of Duluth. Gaelic was used throughout the program, most of the songs, toasts and talks being given in the language of the "land o' cakes," as was a playlet, one of the features of the evening's entertainment.

"Lewis Isle and Its People" was the subject of one of the principal talks of the evening, given by James T. Mitchell, former citizen of that celebrated island, now living in Winnipeg. He gave a short outline of the history of the isle and told of some of its traditions.

Selections by the Lewis pipers, Norman MacLean, John MacLean, Norman A. Matheson, Don E. Mackenzie, Angus Nicholson and W. MacRitchie, helped in reminding the audience of their native glens.

Following a dinner, a program of songs and toasts was presented, this being followed by a short playlet "Reiteach," meaning "The Marriage Contract." A blessing in Goelic was asked by John Macdonald before the dinner, and singers and speakers used their mother tongue during a large part of the evening.

Proceeds of the banquet will be sent to Isle of Lewis, to form a part of the fund being raised to help support people of the island who are widows or orphans as a result of the European war.

The program included: Address of welcome, Capt. M. A. MacLennan; solo, (Gaelic), Don MacLennan; Scotch reel, Norman Matheson, Norman Mackenzie, Donald Mackenzie and Don MacLennan; (Gaelic), Mrs. P. M. Young; toast, "The Ladies," William Morrison; Highland fling, Miss Catherine MacLean; song (Gaelic), Miss Mitchell of Winnipeg; pianoforte selections, Highland, Miss Margaret Clark; song (English), Miss Marian MacLennan; Gaelic quartet, Alexander Macrae, Don MacLennan, D. M. Morrison and Capt. M. A. MacLennan; toast, "The Land of Our Adoption," Simon Clark; song (English), Miss Anna Morrison; sword dance, Miss Daisy Macaskill.

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from 3 to 5 pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

WEST END WANT THREE SITES BOUGHT

Grounds for Police Station, Library and Market Are Sought.

City Officials Will Visit West End to Look Over Property.

The city will have to purchase three sites in the West end for public institutions if the program outlined by the West end residents is carried out. The sites will be for a West end police station, a public market and the public library.

Members of the committee that interviewed the city officials yesterday regarding a branch police station feel assured that the city will soon acquire a location for the proposed jail. The money with which it is to be purchased will be that derived from the sale of lots near Twentieth avenue on Michigan street. This property was sold nearly a year ago. It had been purchased more than twenty years ago as the site for a police station.

Commissioner Hicken, Mayor Prince, Commissioner Voss and Chief of Police Troyer will within a few days visit the West end to look over some desirable sites for a station. It is probable that the commissioners will also look over prospective sites for a public library. The members of the West End Commercial club have recommended property near Twenty-third avenue west and Second street for that purpose.

As for the public market, members of the club feel certain that within a short time the city will be called upon to secure another location. It is intimated that the owner of the present grounds on Twenty-first avenue and Superior street will build in the near future and if such a decision is made in the summer, it will leave the district without a market place. A number of sites have been mentioned for a market, most of these being close to the business district and easily accessible for the farmers.

WILL PREPARE FOR MIDSUMMER'S DAY

Lodges Will Select Men to Arrange for Event in June.

A delegation of five members from each of eight Swedish lodges of the city will meet Monday evening at the Bachelor's hall, Nineteenth aveiue west and First street, and organize for the coming year as the Swedish-American National league for the celebration of mid-summer's day on June 24. These forty men will have charge of the fourth annual celebration to be held by the Swedish people of this city this year.

The Swedish-American league will have delegations from three lodges of the Sons of Vasa, from the Fridhem lodge, Order of Svithold; North Star lodge, I. O. G. T., Svea Glee club, Zenith City band and Orpheus Singing society.

The meeting Monday evening will be for the purpose of electing officers and arranging the personnel of the various committees to handle the affair. O. W. Olson, president of the organization last year, will call the meeting to order.

MORE SAWMILLS WILL BE OPENED

Indesaries of the West end promise to be very active this coming summer. Announcement was made this morning that the sawmill of the Scott-Graff Lumber company will begin operations on May 1.

This is now the only sawmill in the West end that is not in operation. The Alger-Smith and Mullery-McDonald sawmills resumed operation early this month, giving employment to about 600 men. The Alger-Smith mill in West Duluth will open about April 15.

West End Briefs.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, will speak on "Christian Assurance" at the mid-week services to be held in the church this evening.

Miss Agnes Cruikshank, 2222 West First street is ill at St. Mary's hospital, suffering from an attack of bronchitis.

Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church, is expected to return today from Aitkin, where he conducted services yesterday.

Mrs. George Carpenter of Virginia is a guest at the home of Mrs. Mary Sease, 119 North Twenty-third avenue west.

John J. Moe left last night on a two weeks' business trip to New York and other Eastern markets.

Rev. George Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will conduct services at his church this evening.

CALENDAR NOT HEAVY.

Last Day for Filing for March Term of Court Develops No Rush.

The March, 1915, term of court will not be an unusually heavy one according to the calendar of civil cases which was completed yesterday, the last day for the filing of actions for trial with the clerk of the district court. The new term of court will open next Wednesday.

The calendar has 206 cases, of which 97 are for trial by jury, 61 are for determination by the court, and 48 are divorce cases. Twenty divorce cases are contested. Of the total number of cases, 42 jury cases, 47 court cases and 24 divorce actions were continued from the January term of court.

RECRUITS ARE RECEIVED.

Spanish War Veterans Hold Business Session and Social.

Camp John G. McEwen, United Spanish War Veterans, mustered in a large class of recruits last night at the regular meeting held at Memorial hall, courthouse. Supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, which entertained for Mrs. F. L. Bradley.

In addition to the regular ceremonies an excellent musical program was rendered.

The camp has arranged to hold a "hard times" social for its members and friends on March 10. A special program for this occasion is being arranged.

Not Good for Pastry? Nonsense!

It's a perfect pastry flour. Use a little more water in mixing the dough, that's all. And you'll have delicious pastry. There is no need for you to have two flours in your pantry—one for bread and one for pastry. By no means.

Pillsbury's Best

is fine for both purposes. The one sack can more than take the place of two. And it's a hard wheat flour, rich in vigor building gluten, the particular virtue of hard wheat flour. For strength, for taste, for yield, for pastry, get PILLSBURY'S BEST flour. The Pillsbury Cook Book tells how.

MAKE THE BEST COUGH REMEDY AT HOME

Cheaper Than You Can Buy

When in need of a good remedy for severe, stubborn coughs or colds, why not buy one which is guaranteed will be found the most satisfactory remedy you ever used, and get your money refunded by the Lyceum Pharmacy in case it should not prove so, instead of buying one purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money? In buying Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much excellent cough medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, because 50 cents worth makes a whole pint when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. The above pharmacy will refund the money to any person who finds this remedy does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the very best ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough or hoarseness. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee, or order direct of R. J. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

TAKES PLEDGE AND ESCAPES WITH WORK FARM SENTENCE

"I'll never touch another drop as long as I live."

Alexander Macfarland, 65, took the pledge along with a 60-day sentence at the work farm yesterday afternoon in Judge Fesler's division of the district court. Macfarland pleaded guilty to an information charging him with grand larceny in the second degree.

The charge against Macfarland was that he had obtained $30 from Gust Egdahl by passing a worthless check. Assistant County Attorney Forbes dismissed the forgery count against him.

Frank Griffen, who pleaded guilty to an information charging him also with grand larceny in the second degree was given a like sentence. He admitted the theft of a shotgun worth $3 and a pair of mittens from Aaron Shapiro at 711 West Superior street, on Feb. 3, 1915. Griffen was arrested in the act of stealing the property. A burglary charge against him was dismissed after he pleaded guilty to the lesser offense.

Bert McCall, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, changed his mind about pleading guilty to an information prepared by the county attorney, when he learned that a penitentiary sentence might be imposed by the court. He is charged with the theft of a watch March 15, 1914. He is held to the March term grand jury.

WHY DO MEN DRINK?

Men drink because they have acquired the habit by drinking an occasional glass for sociability or stimulant; gradually impregnating their systems with small doses of alcoholic poison until a resistless craving for liquor is created. When the habit is well established it assumes the nature of a malignant malady requiring specific and effectual treatment.

The Neal Liquor Treatment effectually stops all desire for alcoholic liquor by neutralizing and eliminating the accumulation of old alcohol poison, and in just a few days changes desire to dislike for everything alcoholic. It is a harmless, vegetable remedy, taken internally. There are no hypodermic injections. Write for our new booklet.

Woman's Realm

All available places for the suffrage luncheon, that will be given tomorrow at 12:15 o'clock in the Glass Block tea room, have been taken. The members of the committee in charge regret that only 110 can be accommodated, as part of the tea room must be reserved for other patrons, but they announce that Mrs. Andreas Ueland, president of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association, and Mrs. David F. Simpson, both of Minneapolis, who will speak at the luncheon, will speak at the meeting to be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in the library clubroom.

"TOOTHACHE."

Dental Clinic Committee Arranges to Have Film Shown.

Mrs. E. L. Tuohy, a member of the dental clinic committee of the Women's council, has arranged for the presentation of "Toothache," a film that has been described as "an offering of intense human interest for the benefit of humanity," at three of the downtown motion picture houses and possibly at a West Duluth picture house within the next few weeks.

This film was shown during the free dental clinic campaign in Cleveland, Ohio. It is not the purpose of the dental clinic committee to raise money by means of the picture, but to have it presented as an educational factor, hoping club women and school children will attend the presentations.

Mothers' Club Program.

Junior Guild of St. James.

The Lenten concert given last evening in the Bishop's club room by the Junior Guild of St. James was presided over by Miss Margaret Lydon, who was a stately Lady Washington in a Colonial white gown with large purple flowers, made with panniers and tight bodice.

Miss Elizabeth Maddox, who sang "The Little Gray Home in the West," received a hearty encore, responding with "Tipperary." She was accompanied by Miss Theresa Lynn. Other pleasing vocal numbers were Ronald's "Sunbeams," by Miss Anna Lydon, and "Absent," by John Scanlon. Miss Portia Lugoff gave two brilliant piano numbers, "Spinnadchen," by F. R. Spindler, and a waltz in A flat major by August Durand, and Miss Elizabeth Donovan gave a clever reading.

Rt. Rev. James McGolrick told of the sewing and knitting he saw women doing for war sufferers during his recent trip East. He congratulated the junior guild on its work, and urged it to give an entertainment for the children of St. James' orphanage at Easter.

The very small membership fees of the junior guild are used for the benefit of the orphanage children. The Easter entertainment will be the next activity of the Junior Guild of St. James.

Club Luncheon.

Mrs. Julia White entertained the Past Presidents' club of J. B. Culver corps, No. 69, W. R. C., at luncheon yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Lutes, 2101 East Third street. Pink roses formed the centerpiece of the table at which covers were laid for ten.

The club will give a silver tea and musical program Monday afternoon, March 15, at the home of Mrs. J. T. Armstead, 5148 London road.

SECRETARY'S WIFE IS A STRIKING FIGURE IN WASHINGTON

MRS. BO SWEENEY.

Mrs. Bo Sweeney, the wife of the assistant secretary of the interior, is a striking figure in the capitol set. She is unusually tall and of the true blonde type with beautiful golden hair. She is a suffragist and much interested in modern civic movements. She drives her own automobile and calls for the assistant secretary to take him home after his day's work.

Literature Meeting Is Postponed.

There will be no meeting of the literature department of the Twentieth Century club this week. The program that was planned for tomorrow, consisting of a talk on "Present Day British Dramatists" by Mrs. F. J. O'Donnell and the reading of one of Lady Gregory's plays by Miss Mary Shesgreen, will be given March 12.

Temple Bible Class.

The story of Jacob, under the leadership of Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, was studied at the meeting of Temple Emanuel Bible class that was held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom. Mrs. S. Goldberg was in charge of the Scripture reading and Mrs. Maurice Lefkovits reported on current events.

At the next meeting, to be held March 10, the story of Jacob will be completed and Mrs. M. G. Levi will report on current events.

Banquet for Pilgrim Choir.

The annual banquet of the choir of Pilgrim Congregational church was given in the church parlors last evening by Circle No. 4 of the Ladies' union. Daffodils and narcissi, hatchets, flags and red candles were the decorations of the tables, where covers were laid for thirty-seven.

Following the banquet there was an informal program. A burlesque on "Romeo and Juliet" was given by Mrs. Philip J. Frost, Mrs. W. S. Adams, Miss Luella Gleason and George A. Reifsteck. Rev. C. N. Thorp closed the meeting with an address.

SUFFRAGE AS SEEN BY AN ENGLISHMAN

Frederick W. Pethick Lawrence, the English worker for equal suffrage, who was in Washington when the equal suffrage amendment was debated in the house, wrote the following for his London paper, "Votes for Women," comparing the English and American proceedings on the suffrage question:

"The really interesting comparison relates to the matter of the speeches and the ideas which underlie them. I went to the house of representatives anxious to find out whether American men were more progressive than Englishmen in their views about women. I came away satisfied that there were more extremes of opinion. On the one hand, I heard speeches which carried me back to the debates of many years ago in the house of commons. There was the same talk about 'fascinating ladies,' the 'queens of the home,' the 'caressing and guarding angels,' the 'protecting arm of men,' the fear that women's purity should be soiled by the corrupting influence of politics,' and even the 'hand that rocks the cradle rules the world.' These old stage properties of the nineteenth century anti-suffragists were trotted out in the most extraordinary solemnity, and even applauded as if they were inspired new truths.

"On the other hand there was the unanswerable logic of the men who came from the suffrage states and who struck a note of assurance which is always lacking in England. It is not merely what we think,' said one of them, 'it is what we know.' Piece by piece they showed up the arguments of their opponents as a disingenuous sham. They challenged them to prove that the women in the enfranchised states were less careful of their homes, less loving as mothers, less pure and clean in their outlook, less essentially 'women'—in all that is best in the word—in consequence of having secured the power to care for the children of the race in the bigger world which lies outside the home. And the challenge was not taken up, because it could not be."

Oyster Recipes.

Philadelphia Telegraph:

Panned Oysters are very good. Place a round buttered toast in the bottom of individual baking dishes. Place raw oysters on the toast, about four or five to each dish. Cover with bits of butter, a spoonful or two of cream and a dash of pepper and salt. Cover and bake till plump. Garnish each dish with a slice of lemon.

Broiled Oysters and Bacon—Select large oysters, wipe with a clean cloth and wrap each in a thin slice of bacon, roll up and fasten with a toothpick. Place on the gridiron and broil till the oysters are plump.

Oyster Croquettes are delicious when just right. They should be crisp without and creamy within, and when once you have tried them you will be sure to serve them frequently. Drain the oysters and bring them to a boil without adding any liquor. When plump drain once more, reserving the liquor that has collected in the saucepan. Then chop them fine. Put the liquor on to boil with a cup of rich milk, a tablespoon of butter and salt and pepper to taste. Thicken with a tablespoon of flour rubbed smooth with a tablespoon of milk, add the chopped oysters and cook for a few moments, then spread out in a flat dish to cool; make into croquettes, dip in cracker crumbs, let them stand for an hour or two, then egg and crumb and fry according to directions for frying, previously given.

Creamed Oysters make a perfect piece de resistance for a Sunday night tea, when a few friends have dropped in and something substantial is in order.

Heat a pint of oysters in their own liquor, skimming well; add a cup of cream and a tablespoon of butter, melted and mixed with a tablespoon of flour in a separate saucepan, season with sault. Serve on toasted crackers or buttered toast.

Curried Oysters are fit for an epicure. I must give you the recipe for them: Fry a thinly-sliced onion in a tablespoon of butter till a golden brown, add the juice of a lemon, two tablespoons of curry powder and a pint of oysters, drained. Cook till the oysters are plump, season with salt and thicken with a tablespoon of flour rubbed smooth in a tablespoon of water. Serve on toast.

TEXAS GIRL MAKES HIT AS PRIMA DONNA

HENRIETTA BUCKLER.

At one of the entertainments for the Red Cross given in New York recently a Texas girl made a distinguished success in a prima donna role. She is Henrietta Buckler, the daughter of Judge Buckler, attorney for the Frisco road at El Paso. She is a graduate of Vassar, and she is now in New York studying music. Her mother was Mary Madden, a famous Kentucky beauty.

Get Jobs as Supers.

"Suping" with the Baldwin Players has been a popular form of amusement with youthful Duluthians this week.

In this week's production of "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." a number of "supers" are used for the scene in the third act when the revolutionists break into the castle of the king and try to force him to abdicate. This scene forms the climax of the play, for the revolutionists are met by the young American, and with the aid of a little American stuff and some money, he succeeds in quelling the revolution and saving the king.

In order to make the mob scene effective, Manager Baldwin engaged and trained a number of "supers," and disguised as soldiers of Borovino, in wigs, uniforms and high boots, many young Duluthians have made their first appearance on the stage this week. The job of "super" has appealed especially to high school boys, and many of them have been in the "mob" at the Lyceum this week. Handling a mob scene is always a difficult task for a stage manager, for many of the recruits are troubled with stage fright, but it is now an experienced and smoothly working "mob" at the Lyceum, and some of its members are already ambitious to secure small parts in which they will have a few lines to speak.

"Hawthorne of the U. S. A." is proving an exceptionally popular vehicle. It will continue until Saturday night, with a matinee Saturday, and next week the company will be seen in "Tess of the Storm Country."

Laddie Cliff in Production.

Laddie Cliff, the little English comedian, who is delighting patrons of the Orpheum this week with a series of clever songs and eccentric dances, is soon to desert vaudeville for the biggest of the New York musical productions. Mr Cliff is to have one of the principal roles in the latest Klaw & Erlanger production, which will be a revue on the style of the "Follies," "Watch Your Step," "Hello Broadway," "Safety First," etc. Mr. Cliff will finish his vaudeville tour at Winnipeg next week, and although the agents of the Orpheum circuit have endeavored to have him continue the tour for the second time around the circuit, he was forced to decline the offer, as he is already under contract to report in New York for rehearsal immediately after the Winnipeg engagement. Laddie Cliff's first appearance in this country, and also one of his biggest hits was made in "The Follies Bergere," and in the new show, which is to be a pretentious offering, being a combination of both vaudeville and musical comedy, he will no doubt repeat his former success. Laddie Cliff has a knack of getting his comedy and songs "over" in a manner possessed by only a few performers on the stage today, while his lively eccentric dancing steps never fail to make him an easy winner in any show.

New Bill at Grand.

Comedy and novelty combined promise to make the new show opening at the New Grand today one that should meet with approval. Heading the bill is the favorite minstrel, George Wilson, late of Primrose and Wilson minstrels. As an entertainer George Wilson stands supreme on the stage in his line of work.

Campbell and Brady, artistic novelty entertainers, offer a new diversion that is sure to be a hit. Both are clever artists and original in their work.

Le Roy and Cahill Bon Ton, entertainers with a repertoire of new songs, clever dances and some witty chatter form a combination of talent that is of the best.

The Marriott Troupe, three men and a girl, offer a daring and thrilling cycle and monoplane novelty that is sensational.

The Hearst-Selig News contains many interesting views from all parts of the world, including the use of the X-ray in search for contraband in shipments from the United States; scenes from the battlefields of Europe, and John D. Rockefeller on the witness stand in the mine war probe.

Among the photoplays is the always interesting railroad stories with Helen Holmes as the leading figure, this week, "The Escape on the Fast Freight;" a two-reel Biograph feature, "Dwellers in Glass Houses," and a comedy, "Sophie's Fatal Wedding." This bill will continue for the balance of the week including Sunday.

Actress Is Author.

Miss Clara Thropp, member of the Manhattan Opera company at the New Empress, this week in "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," is an author and playwright.

As an author, Miss Thropp has to her credit a charming novel, "A Few Little Lives," and as a playwright several vaudeville sketches. "Queen Mab," a three-act comedy played by Mabel Paige, a favorite throughout the South, is also from Miss Thropp's pen.

In addition, Miss Thropp has lectured and a few years ago toured the West with a series of lectures on Ibsen. She also played four of Ibsen's best feminine roles during her lectures.

Miss Thropp is a member of the Professional Women's League of New York, the Actors' fund, the Equality league and the Gamut club of New York. During her summer vacations Miss Thropp spends a great deal of her time at Long Island.

This week Miss Thropp is scoring a hit as Mrs. Dean, pseudo society leader. "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" will continue until Saturday night, with a regular matinee Saturday afternoon.

Next Sunday the Manhattan players will open in "The Telephone Girl."

Mary Pickford Returns.

The world's most famous motion picture star, Mary Pickford, is at the Rex today. As Mistress Nell she is seen in the costume of the romantic period of English history. In the film version of this famous drama of the gallant days of King Charles II, "Little Mary" assumes the character of "Mistress Nell' with such charm and skill as to make it one of her greatest screen triumphs.

The tender love interest of the story is dramatically developed in the dashing romance of the perlods of hearts and swords, and "Mistress Nell's" complete triumph over the enemies of the king and over the heart of the king himself, is thrillingly portrayed.

MURCHISON WILL ATTEND MEETING OF MUNGER CLUB.

The Munger Improvement club will hold a meeting at the Munger school Friday evening to discuss public improvements. Commissioner Murchison will be present and talk with property owners regarding the proposed Ninth street paving. An estimate on this project has been made, and many of the property owners consider the price too high. A large turnout is expected from Ninth street. A delegation from Superior View, also, will be present to discuss the building of a bridge across Chester creek.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Carry An Identification Card.

A gentleman recently pointed out to me that women do not as a rule carry upon their person, or in any of their belongings, a card bearing their name and address, or anything of that nature.

A man usually has a business card giving his full name and business address, and if he is carrying any valuables about him he ordinarily places one of these cards with the treasure. If he has no card, one or more letters addressed to him may be found in some one of his numerous pockets, and barring these, tailors have a way of sewing a strip bearing a man's name into some part of his clothing. So, with these marks of identification one is quite likely to be able to determine a man's place of abode as well as his name, on making a thorough search of his clothing or his belongings.

Of course some men are careless in this respect, but it is to women that we must yield the palm. Women are continually losing their pocketbooks and their handbags, and in the greater number of cases they were lost for good. It may be too much to affirm that this is because they contain no hint which would enable the finders to return them to their rightful owners again if they were honestly inclined, but as the majority do not, we should give the finders the benefit of the doubt.

I know a few women who are thoughtful and sensible enough to keep a card bearing their name and address about them, but I know more who entirely neglect the precaution just as though injuries and the loss of one's valuables were of only occasional occurrence, when as a matter of fact thousands throughout this country either lose their belongings or are injured daily.

It would be a very wise plan for all women who have not made a practice of marking their pocketbooks, or any article that they are in the habit of carrying about with them every day, with their name and address, to do so. It may be written in some concealed place, in indelible ink, and then if it is lost you have a better chance of recovering it. Of course a dishonest person can remove all signs that the property ever belonged to another, but there are honest people who would gladly return things that they find, no matter how trifling the value, if they had an idea who owned the articles.

The families and friends of people who are injured on the streets would be saved hours of anxiety if wearing identification marks was a more universal custom. This applies particularly to those contemplating visiting strange cities.

Lea & Perrins SAUCE

RECIPE

Savory Stew Cut 1½ lb. cold beef, veal or mutton into fairly thick slices. Mix together 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Dip each slice of meat in seasoned flour. Cut 3 slices cooked ham in large dice. Melt 4 tablespoons drippings, add beef and ham, brown them lightly and remove from pan. Peel and slice 3 Spanish onions, fry them in the fat, then drain and keep hot. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons flour into pan and brown it, add 1 cup stock, 2 sliced tomatoes, 1 teaspoon mixed herbs, 2 tablespoons LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE salt and pepper to taste. Bring to boiling point, put in meat and let it heat through slowly 30 minutes. Arrange meat on hot dish, pile onions on top, and strain over the gravy.

TO HELP THE WORKING MAN.

Nobody will quarrel with the opinion of the city charter commission's committee, that it is better not to confuse the issues of an election by submitting a great number of amendments at one time. But the soundness of that opinion does not alter the fact that there are occasionally amendments of such importance that they should be submitted at the earliest possible date, so that if adopted, the citizens may get the benefit of them.

That is exactly the character of the proposal to reduce the amount required as a cash payment in levies against property to pay for benefits from public improvements. The amendment would remove a serious burden from the man who is buying or building a home and who is dependent on his earnings to make the payments on it. That is, it would help the working man, while not imposing additional burdens on others.

Under the present provisions of the charter, levies must be paid in a lump sum when they do not exceed twenty-five dollars for every thirty-five hundred square feet of property benefited. When the levy amounts to more than twenty-five dollars for every thirty-five hundred square feet, the owner has the privilege of paying it in three or four installments.

This provision makes the home-builder or home-buyer with a lot fifty feet wide and more than seventy feet deep—and most of the lots where homes are being built are approximately 150 feet deep—pay cash for improvements costing up to fifty dollars. It hits some of these men pretty hard to have to raise $49 or $40 or even $30 in a lump sum, when at the same time they are putting as much as they can into paying for their homes.

It has been proposed to the charter commission by the Woodland Neighborhood club that the charter be amended to reduce this amount so that the "little fellow" may have the privilege of paying in installments, with interest on deferred payments, the same as the man with more valuable property and perhaps more ready means and certainly more opportunity to borrow whatever he may need to meet the levy.

The proposal is being seconded in all sections of the city where home building is being carried on to any great extent.

There have been several propositions for charter amendments laid before the commission, most of them dealing with administrative questions involving the work or powers of city officials. This is the only one suggested that would come close to the citizens themselves, and particularly to the home builders. The home builders are worthy of the greatest consideration by the city, and the adoption of this amendment to the charter at this time would mean a decided help to that class of citizens.

It may be as well to let the others, or most of them, go over at present to some other time, but this proposition is too vital to the welfare of the man of small means to be ignored. There would seem to be little doubt of its approval by the voters, and the benefits it would bring cannot be given to the people of the city any too soon. It would be well for the charter commission at its meeting tonight to disagree with the committee report in that particular, and submit this plan to the voters now, even though a majority of the others suggested are not presented until later.

At least that's one way to make sure of general interest in county elections.

THANKS TO THE STATE'S POLICY!

Auditor Preus' plan for securing settlement of the state's land by men who would develop it and build homes on it has gone glimmering. The bill providing for such disposal of public acreage has been quietly and effectively smothered in committee, and the prospects are that it will stay smothered until the next session of the legislature.

But that doesn't mean that the plan is wrong in principle or would be found detrimental in practice. According to The Herald's reports from St. Paul, even the men who successfully opposed the state auditor's proposal admitted that he was right in what he sought to have done, BUT ——

And right there is where the state can get an eye-opener that it is badly in need of, for that "but" means that the only thing that prevented the adoption of the Preus plan is the fact that the state's policy has been such as to discourage the taking up of land by bona fide settlers, and that as long as that policy continues this same opposition to the better system will continue—and probably succeed.

To a certain extent the state has gone in for reclamation of land, but what is needed, and needed badly, is a system by which the man who takes a homestead will be helped, not hindered, by the policy under which state land is administered. If such a policy had been in force for the last five years, or even for the last two years, this plan to prevent the securing of state land in huge tracts for speculation would have gone through without difficulty. Instead of that it is beaten, and the state has its own policy to thank for that fact.

The thing to do now is to make a radical change in the state's land policy, putting it on the basis it should have been on before. Then a homesteaders' bill can go before the next legislature and be certain of passage.

Viscount Bryce lays the war to racial consciousness and national vanity. Don't know about the vanity part of it, but there certainly is a lot of vexation of spirit.

COUNTY OPTION WINS.

In spite of several confident predictions to the contrary, county option has passed the Minnesota legislature, and the prospects are that it will become a law, in spite of the amendments to the bill made by the house. There is really only one important factor in the bill, and that is the fact of county option in itself. The house extended the time which liquor men may have to dispose of their stocks, but that amendment does not go to the heart of the question, and it does not seem likely that the senate will refuse to concur.

While the county option question was more or less of an issue in the campaign which ended with the election of the present legislature, there were several members who had no definite instructions from their districts as to how they should vote on the question. This situation leaves some room for reasonable doubt as to whether county option is actually desired by a majority of the voters of the state. At the same time there seems no room to doubt that a majority of the legislators—even though it be by but a small margin—interpret the sentiment in their districts as being favorable to such a law, and it is the views of the legislators that determine the issue.

As to the effect of the operation of the law there still is room for two opinions—or perhaps even more than that. The Herald has never been in favor of the county option plan, believing it an infringement on home rule. It can readily be seen how the law would work out in a county where there is a city opposed to the abolition of the saloons and where the country districts favor prohibition. If the country districts cast a controlling vote, the city would have to go dry willy-nilly; and experience has proved that in such case the law would be little if anything more than a farce. Or the city might vote "dry" and the country districts cast a controlling vote on the "wet" side.

However, the prospects are that we will have an opportunity to see the law in active operation in many counties in Minnesota, and so to study it at close range. In any event, the legislature is to be congratulated on getting rid of a vexing question so early in the session.

An eight-year-old girl was shot in the foot during the primary election in Chicago. Which fact will doubtless be used with telling effect as an argument by the opponents of woman suffrage.

Holland a Land of Babies.

Florence Craig Albrecht in the National Geographic Magazine: You will find her perhaps in the market place with her own small daughter or son beside her. There is always room for a chubby boy or girl among the baskets when mother comes to town in Walcheren, Holland. You meet them in Zuid-Beveland, where she frequently rides into market upon a bicycle. They are so funny—so cunning, we would say—these little replicas in miniature of their parents.

A tiny maid of 4, a wee laddie unable to speak plainly, wear precisely the same costume as mother or father—full, long, black skirt, white cap, tiny gold spiral, coral beads and aprons for one; black cloth or velvet trousers and jacket, much adorned with silver buttons, silver-buckled shoes and queer black hat for the other.

You may have seen them buying sweeties or fruit in the market place, eyeing the coveted baubles which kermis brings, or waiting patiently while mother bargains for a new teapot, and if you look closely you will meet them again here in the butter market, wedged in between the chubby mothers and half hidden by the voluminous skirts. Dear little round baby faces looking out from a frame of quaint old-worldly dress!

The Wilson "Machine."

By Savoyard.

Washington, Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—In 1912 there was not a single Republican from ocean to ocean who was not relentlessly opposed to the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for president of the United States by the Democratic party at Baltimore and in 1915 there is not one single Republican between earth and sky who is not bitterly hostile to the suggestion of Wilson's nomination—not one. It was a maxim of a great soldier to find out what the enemy did not want you to do, and then go ahead and do it. That is what the Democratic party did in 1912 and that is what the Democratic party is going to do in 1916.

Every expedient has been resorted to by Republican statesmen in both houses of congress to discredit the Democratic president and to make his policies impotent and odious. One fellow will get up and speak to the people to the effect that the man is a weakling, cringing to and cowering before poor old war-torn Mexico. Another will follow with asseverations that Wilson is a bold bad man, a despot, a tryant, a Caesar, bent on bending congress to his will.

* * *

Just now the only policy the G. O. P. has is to force an extra session of congress. Why? Because such Republican leaders as Gallinger and Penrose know that business is timid and fears congress in session. The greatest misfortune that could befall mankind, according to Lodge and Root, would be business prosperity and domestic tranquillity while a Democrat is in the White House.

That will make your extra session. They care not a rap about the shipping bill. If recommended by a president of their party, as it would be if a Republican was in the White House, every devil of 'em would be for it and railing against the Democrats for wicked and unpatriotic filibusters. But what is the use of being a hypocrite—all the time? Why not try a little honesty, just for a change, to see how the novelty would fit?

* * *

Here is the Washington Post, standpat Republican, that between the set of one sun and the rise of the next changed its politics touching the European war, pretending to discuss Democratic politics and causing horses to laugh with its wailing and things about the "Wilson machine" that is to "force his renomination." The Post is become a comic paper, however, and the law should require that it be printed in colors, or be excluded from the mails as sailing under false colors.

We are told that the national committee of the Democratic party is to hold a conference here March 4 and that the object is to forestall and obliterate all opposition to the renomination of Wilson. Who opposes his renomination? I'll bet you can't find a single community of the entire Union—outside of Tammany Hall — where can be mustered 1 per cent of the Democratic voters who are not enthusiastically in favor of the renomination of Wilson. The party in 1888 was unanimously in favor of the renomination of Cleveland—all but Tammany.

* * *

Mr. Wilson is what Mr. Cleveland, unfortunately, was not—a skillful politician as well as a profound statesman. Had Cleveland been the politician Wilson is, the Republican party would have died in 1888. You can name no man of our hemisphere whose study of politics compares with Wilson's. He is a doctrinaire profound to a degree, and as a practical politician he is a match for all his adversaries. Whom would the party select if not Wilson? Who is your candidate against him and whence hails he? I did hear one disreputable fellow suggest Underwood; but all the oxen in Texas could not draw Mr. Underwood to that scratch. Perhaps he is not Solomon, Shakespeare, and Bacon combined, but Underwood knows that Wilson is the only possible nominee of the Democratic party in 1916.

On the Republican side of the hedge there never before were so many lightning rods up. It reminds one of the demand of Walsh, "the Tailor," one night at the old Louisville theater, when he roared out at the benefit of a popular actress of the old stock company, "Whar's Rice?" One of the favorites in this "Chicken Bristle" derby was in congress when the tolls question was on the hooks and proposed to vote for it. It was his "conviction." He went home and was given a "reception." He had arranged his speech to advocate repeal of the subsidy to the ship monopoly.

* * *

It was when fried-meat Democrats and super-royal Republicans were arraigning Wilson for "surrendering the canal to Great Britain." In the audience was an old Grand Army man. He seized the flag, made a progress around the hall, shouting the refrain of "Marching Through Georgia," and swearing by all the gods that made Hector of Troy that he was "ready to fight the rebels again."

What did that orator do? He changed his speech then and there, denounced Wilson for surrender to Great Britain on the tolls question, and hastened back to Washington to record his vote against the repeal that would have been recorded for it if he had not gone home.

Now that fellow, governor of his state by the whim of politics, is prominently "mentioned" for president of the United States! Can you imagine Woodrow Wilson making such a turn on the instant, though devils had confronted him? Hardly.

And that is what will renominate and re-elect Woodrow Wilson.

The Retirement of Mr. Baker.

Buffalo Enquirer: Home-run Baker, according to Connie Mack, has retired from baseball to devote himself to farming in Maryland.

Mr. Baker, it appears, is not dissatisfied with his contract. He is not on the list of invalids or cripples. He could hold his present job or secure a new one at record compensation. The whole thing is that he prefers agriculture to the diamond.

It is particularly noteworthy that it is farming which woos this star from the national game. It proves the advancement of that sturdy occupation in general esteem when a hero in his prime deserts the arena that made him famous for life with the cows and chickens. The law, medicine, business or politics never performed a greater feat.

Let us hope that Mr. Baker will prove so good a farmer that we shall be able to say that what was baseball's loss was agriculture's gain.

Another Guess at It.

New York Tribune: There is a lot of speculation about the parentage of the word "jitney." Its derivation is thus: In towns like San Francisco the 5-cent piece is the smallest piece of charge in common use. From a fusing of "jot" and "tittle" came "jit;" and the "ney" suffix is the "ney" of endearment or diminutiveness.

Every Home Should Have Its Neutral Ground

Bessie Beatty in the San Francisco Bulletin.

Is their any neutral territory in your home?

Have you any little harbor where the bark is safe when whitecaps top the water and a squall is threatening?

Listen to this little scheme! It is the plan of a man and a maid, who, three years ago, set up their household gods on a hearth of their own and drew up terms for a long partnership.

"Three years without a semblance of a quarrel," says he.

"And do you want to know how we do it? The big chair deserves all the credit.

"When we were married we had less than $100 with which to buy furniture. A quarter of it went into the purchase of a chair big enough to hold us both—and now it holds her and me and a little chunk of a fellow besides."

That chair was ceremoniously christened "neutral territory."

A house rule was made that whenever anything went wrong the offended should summon the offender into the good natured depths of "neutral territory" and talk things over quietly and sanely. In neutral territory no high pitched voices or excitable states of mind are permitted.

The stories that big chair could tell would fill a book, but according to its owners, it has never failed to accomplish marvels as a friction eliminator.

That story starts a lot of thought.

Neutral territory—it's what we seem to need almost everywhere in life.

Talking it over is the best medicine for all misunderstanding—provided we talk on neutral territory; talk with soft voices, open minds, sympathetic hearts and a desire to speak a common language.

Silence is a blessed blessing at times, but silence in the face of misunderstanding is more dangerous than matches in the hands of babes.

Silence breeds sullenness. It takes wee, little molehills and heaps trouble upon trouble, ache upon ache, until it has built a mountain of woe. Assisted by imagination, it erects barriers so high that some people never succeed in climbing over them.

There is probably not a man or woman among you who cannot look back upon some barrier built in just this way.

They divide friend from friend, brother from brother, husband from wife, nation from nation and race from race.

We provide against one emergency and ignore another, more important. We stock the larder with canned groceries and keep the linen closet stocked against the coming of an unexpected guest. We buy life and fire and accident insurance and put savings (if we have any) in the bank. But we don't provide neutral territory.

Most people start friendships and partnerships with little thought for all the difficult adjustments that must be made. They forget in the joy of new relationships that every human being is an individual, and as such has points of difference from every other individual.

It takes a big chair to meet these differences. It takes the state of mind that the big chair represents. For what does the big chair mean, but merely an excuse for getting closer together; for striving to look sympathetically and with love in our hearts at the other man's failings, the while we are conscious of our own.

Dishonest Tariff Tactics

Minneapolis Tribune (Rep.): The American Economist, official organ of the American Protective league, is making a desperate effort to capitalize the effects of the war in behalf of its persistent propaganda in favor of a high protective tariff. The Economist declares that the nation is in "financial straits, due to the operation of the Underwood tariff," and it proceeds to offer a series of prizes to undergraduates in college who will prepare the best articles connecting the Underwood tariff with depressed conditions. The Economist professes to believe that the deficit in the Federal revenues is due chiefly, if not solely, to the operation of the present tariff law.

The Economist is wasting good bait in an effort to catch gudgeons if it thinks the American people are to be so easily deceived on this phase of the tariff question. The Federal revenues depend largely on the volume of dutiable imports. The European war put a stop to most of the imports. The revenues would not be measurably larger if the tariff wall were high enough to suit the taste of the American Protective Tariff league.

Further tariff revision may be necessary. The people want an honest tariff, whether it is high or low. The measure of the schedules must eventually be determined by the result of the operation of the Underwood tariff in time of peace, not in time of war. The war has practically abolished all tariff schedules.

Fuel Value of Wood.

New York Times: The fuel value of wood is in weight about half that of coal. But the forest service laboratory at Washington has determined that a cord of seasoned hickory, oak, beach, birch, hard maple, ash, elm, locust, longleaf pine, or cherry equals a ton of coal; a cord and a half of shortleaf pine, hemlock, red gum, Douglas fir, sycamore or soft maple and two cords of cedar, redwood, poplar, catalpa, Norway pine, cypress, basswood, spruce or white pine are needed to equal in heat value a ton of coal.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—When he was prosecuting attorney out at Carson City some years, E. E. Roberts, now congressman-at-large from Nevada, was persuaded one day to take a chance on a horse and buckboard at a raffle.

For the sake of being agreeable, he took a chance, which cost him 63 cents, and foolishly imagined that the incident was closed. The truth was that his troubles were scarcely started.

Two or three days later, having forgot all about his 63-cent investment, Roberts received a telephone call from a man who had dropped into the leading saloon of Carson City to ring him up and convey the glad tidings that he had won the horse and buckboard.

'Well, this is great luck!" joyfully exclaimed Roberts, and he thought it was.

"Yes, and er—uh, aren't you going to set 'em up?" asked the friend.

"Oh, yes. Yes, indeed. Certainly," replied Roberts. "Tell the proprietor there to set 'em up by all means and send the bill to me."

* * *

Now, it seemed that practically the entire population of Carson City was gathered together in that saloon at the moment the friend called Roberts up to tell him of his good fortune. So Roberts' bill there for making a good fellow of himself amounted to about $26. So far his horse had cost him $26.63. And he hadn't seen the horse.

When he did get a look at his new possession, he found that it was a "thoroughly broken wild horse," with virgin feet that spread o'er the ground like a colored man's. It was almost as good a horse as one could expect to get for $26.63, however, and Roberts did not complain.

He took his prize home and turned it into a little inclosure back of the house. The next morning he found that it had felt the call of the wild and had jumped the fence. Feeling it necessary to follow up his investment, Roberts hired a horseman to search the countryside and bring back his horse dead or alive. The man brought it back at the end of the second day and Roberts paid him $9—which brought the cost of the horse to $35.63.

* * *

At the end of the week he still had the horse in his possession, but his entire family, including a valuable hunting dog, were cripples, for the time being, and the cost of surgical aid had added to the overhead charges of acquiring the animal. Even at that the whole cost was only a trifle more than $75, and many of Roberts' neighbors drove horses that had cost them $50, so he really was not out much. One evening, though, the horse ran into two buggies and a plate glass window, all of which were charged up to Roberts, and the total charged up against the horse on Roberts' books then amounted to $117. It was then that Roberts began to see that a horse can cary a joke too far. If he had wanted a horse in the first place he might have reconciled himself to the situation, but to have had such a horse dropped into his lap out of the cloudless sky—oh, 'twas too much. He even began to suspect that the raffle had not been operated on the level.

* * *

But a ray of light pierced the black horizon. Roberts heard that a certain Jap living near town desired to buy a horse. He had never cared for the personality of that particular Jap anyhow, and at once sought him to make a dicker.

"How much of moneys for horse and those buckboard" inquired the Jap.

Now Roberts yearned to hand the man $10 for his trouble and tell him to take the outfit, but he feared exciting his suspicions, so he asked: "Would $3 be too much?"

To relieve his conscience Roberts gave the money to a charitable organization, and that night he slept the untroubled sleep of a babe.

Little things, eentsy teentsy little things, wield their influence on the lives of future great and near-great men.

When Josephus Daniels was a youngster starting in at the primary school, he was assigned one day to speak a little piece. Somebody handed him a little verse about an editor and that suited his purpose nicely. Part of it ran thus: "They get in free to circuses, and other kinds of shows."

Having recited the piece, it set Daniels thinking—especially that about the circuses. He thought that he, too, would like to be an editor. To add to the circumstances, a friend of the family got young Josephus to recite the verse to one of the leading editors of the locality. The editor praised him, and from then on Daniels career was cut out for him.

He grew up to be an editor and eventually to run the state of North Carolina the way he thought it should be run. It was just a short easy step from there to becoming a full-rigged statesman.

False Economy In Buying

Milwaukee Journal: "What one does not need is dear at a penny." This was known and expressed so long ago as Plutarch's time, but it seems to be one of the things we know but never realize. It is just as true today and just as much needed. For many people, when they see things that are pretty or pleasing, immediately think they would like to have them in their homes, they are seized with the longing to possess. It takes no little self-control to keep money in one's pocket and pass these things by.

It is a real delight to go about and look at beautiful and useful things. The price often makes them tempting, and there is always the old argument that it is an economy to buy what is "sure to be needed some time." Often this is true, but there is another consideration to be remembered; it is dear at any price if we do not need it. So, when you go a-buying, think first of what you need, then find the thing that meets that need.

And remember, too, that it is just as extravagant to buy because of its cheapness an article that will not fill your need as to buy something you don't need at all. For there is more than price to be considered. There is lasting quality; there are the other things that must go with what you buy. It's better to be inconvenienced for awhile by doing without than to buy an article that won't last long after its newness wears off. A good article is cheaper than a "cheap" one. And the way to buy the good article is not to be wasting money here and there for the things you don't need.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Time Enough Wasted.

Austin Transcript: One-third of the session of this legislature passed and no important measures made laws. This is better than undue haste, but the closing days of any session are not the best time for deliberation. The few important measures demanded by the people can be completed without much longer delay.

Amend But Don't Repeal.

Warren Sheaf: Strenuous efforts are put forth in some quarters for the repeal of the Dunn and Elwell good roads laws by the present legislature. We hope the legislature will do nothing of the kind. While these laws may not be perfect, yet they are a big improvement on the road laws we had before. Some amendments may possibly be found necessary, but repeal them, never. Under them, Minnesota has already made great strides forward for better roads.

The Cashman Law.

Hill City News: Some of the legislators are after the scalp of the Cashman distant tariff law. While we have no doubt but that this law is a good one in some respects it is certain that it works a hardship on shippers of timber, pulpwood, cordwood, ties, etc., making the freight so high as to be burdensome. This, of course, does not affect the southern part of the state very much, but it strikes hard against the development of the northern part.

Should Be Open.

Tower News: The resolution offered by Representative Welch of McLeod county in the state legislature that newspaper men be allowed to be present at every meeting shows that the legislators desire to play fair. This is right. An executive session shows signs of cowardice gumshoe tactics. The acts of a state legislature interests us all and should be known.

Keep Close to People.

Aurora News: The closer the members of the legislature are kept to the people the better it will be for the ordinary folks who go to make up the great majority of the population. There is little reason for making the terms of the house members four years unless the legislature is to meet only once in four years. Legislators are only ordinary mortals and it is well to keep in touch with them after each session. But if there are to be two members elected from each district and one of them were to be elected every two yars the four-year term might not be so bad. In this way the feeling of the constituency would be expressed before each session.

Ever Changing Primaries.

Elk River Star-News: Just when the common people are getting the hang of the latest primary election law, along comes the legislature with amendments, making it necessary to study up some more. No legislature comes or goes without doing something to the primary election law, and of course we have to stand for it.

Give Them a Chance.

Little Falls Herald: There is strong opposition among some of the legislators against both the Elwell and Dunn road laws. The Elwell law has not been taken advantage of in this territory, but in a number of places where it has been they are very favorable to it. There is no doubt room for a betterment of the Dunn road law, but any great change in it before it has had a chance to make good would seem to be a mistake. Many miles of excellent roads have been built under these laws.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quiutius, the Sunshine Man.

Keep thou the heart of hope,
Life's toil is not in vain,
By vale or rocky slope,
In sunshine or in rain.

There is a will that works
A purpose pointing true,
He fails alone who shirks
What he is called to do.

Above the storm and strife,
Unseen but ever near,
Are boundless springs of life
To quench the thirst of fear.

Keep thou the heart of hope,
It anchors deep in power;
Not those who blindly grope
Shall find the bud and flower.

But those who, patient still,
See through no lighted way
With eyes of faith until
The rise and shine of day.

Who walk through flowerless fields
It seems to early eyes,
But keep the faith that yields
The fragrance of the skies.

Keep thou the heart of hope,
All things await and just
Beyond the vale and slope,
Above the dream and dust.

Inspiring Taxpayers.

Pittsburg Dispatch: Reference was made recently to the suggestion of a Chicago judge that the Stars and Stripes be displayed inside and outside each polling place to stimulate the patriotism of the voters. Julius Smietanka, Federal collector of revenue in the Chicago district, thinks well of the idea, so well that he proposes to use it in an effort to loosen the pocketbooks of taxpayers. Hereafter, taxes will be paid at his office under the folds of "Old Glory." Patriotism is never more needed, he says, than when you are giving up your good money to the tax collector.

The resort to the flag, he thinks, is specially justified now when Americans, many of foreign birth, are being called upon to pay war taxes. It may stop their grumbling, protesting and evasion, he believes, if they can be reminded by the flag's presence of the benefits Americans enjoy under its folds. Both native-born and foreign-born are too prone to forget this phase when summoned to step up and settle at the collector's office. The flag should remind him that, however burdensome the taxes may be here, they are as nothing compared to the burden being borne in Europe and likely to be borne there for two or three generations.

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

The lighthouse board today awarded the contract for maintaining sixty-six spar buoys in Superior and St. Louis bays, harbor of Duluth, for the present fiscal year to F. L. McDonald of Duluth at his bid of $238 per month.

Governor Clough today appointed Samuel F. Fullerton of Duluth on the state game and fish commission. He takes the place of W. P. Andrus of Minneapolis, who made a hard fight for reappointment.

Stephen L. Merchant has decided to open a real estate office in the small building on Central avenue, West Duluth, formerly occupied by P. O. Noben and the Scandinavian Investment company.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 26 deg. above zero; mixmum yesterday, 50 deg. above zero; minimum yesterday, 20 deg. above zero.

Charles H. Modisette died yesterday of spinal meningitis at his home, 414 Sixth avenue west. Mr. Modisette was well known on the board of trade, representing A. D. Thomson & Co. for five years. When he first came here seven years ago he was with the firm of A. Waters & Co. Afterward he was in business for himself until joining the Thomson forces. He was 35 years of age and leaves a wife and one child.

The firm of R. A. Taussig & Co. has been dissolved. R. A. Taussig will retire and go to Philadelphia to remain. The insurance and loan business will be continued by W. F. Moore and Charles A. Stark under the firm name of Moore & Stark. Mr. Moore has been associated with Mr. Taussig for three or four years. Mr. Stark has been in the firm for about a year, previous to which he was with the Marshall-Wells Hardware company.

In the curling game yesterday Ron Smith's rink lost the set of curlers' buttons presented by President E P. Towne, S. F. Fullerton's rink defeating them rather severely, by a score of 18 to 7.

At a meeting of the St. Louis County Bar association, a recommendation that a constitutional convention be held as soon as possible for the purpose of revising the Minnesota state Constitution was adopted. The legislature will be asked to pass a bill to establish an appellate court, with three judges drawing $4,500 salary each and sitting alternately in Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Patrick Lawler, janitor of the Endion school, broke a rib by falling from a street car on Superor street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues east.

The Duluth Boat club is anxious to have an eight-oared crew this year and has the material but lacks the boat, which would cost from $500 to $600. It is hoped to raise the amount among the business men.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Manson arrived in Duluth yesterday and will reside in Chester terrace.

A FARMER'S POINT OF VIEW.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Under the present system of selling the state agricultural lands to intending settlers the state's intention is undoubtedly fair to the man intending to bring into cultivation a farm, and where a portion of such land is cleared by the state before being sold—the cost of such clearing being added to that of the land—the state's intention is undoubtedly generous. But it is most certainly true that in actual practice that generous intention is apt to work out into a hardship for the intending buyer, the cost of the clearing, etc., as done by the state, being very apt to make the selling price of the land too high for the purse-reach of men of moderate means. Do what you will it will get into politics—which, of course, means that graft will get it—and no American needs be told what that means. Now I believe—and I've had fifty years' experience in clearing and cultivating wild lands—that I can propose a better plan for aiding the buyer of and settler on state lands; one that will advantage the state as well as the settler, is simple and easy of operation, and which is briefly this:

Let the state make to the buyer of its lands who needs and asks for assistance a loan of $25 to $30 per acre for not to exceed five acres of every forty acres included in his purchase, on these conditions: No loan to be made before the settler has the amount of land on which he is to borrow cleared of stumps, grubbed, and ready for breaking; the interest charged him as well as the loans to be added to the price of his land, and the whole incorporated into his contract with the state.

If the settler needed no aid from the state, all the better, he need not ask it. If he did, and was sure of getting it as soon as he cleared off his land, he could easily obtain credit for what he needed to buy while at work, and especially for the dynamite necessary for blowing out stumps; one of the heaviest expenses a land-clearer has to meet. The settler, giving his sole attention to the work, could and would clear the land much cheaper than the state could do the work, and as he could get no money until his clearing was done, be sure that he would do it speedily. The state would be vastly benefited by getting its unproductive lands into the hands of taxpaying farmers, and the conversion of a vast amount of liabilities into a vaster lot of assets. Again it would make the state's lands first choice among the best class of customers the state could get—intending farmers—as against the great tracts of cut-over lands owned by lumber companies, as well as those held by speculators for higher prices.

It is plainly apparent that the state lands are regarded as a stumbling block in their way by the owners, dealers in and speculators with the great areas of wild land in Northern Minnesota, at least, and as easily can it be seen that they are bent on removing that obstacle if it can be done. Their problem, it seems to me, is how to sidetrack the sale of state lands to actual settlers until their own are disposed of; to which end, it seems to me they are introducing, or having introduced some very effectual legislation in the state legislature this present session.

The measure proposed by a Koochiching county member being openly intended to hand state lands over to corporations or wealthy speculators for exploitation, so evidently shows itself for what it is, as to be scarce worth considering.

That introduced by Representative Warner of Aitkin county, and said to have been drafted by State Auditor Preus, however, it seems to me, merits the closest study any good citizen can give it. However well intended it is, however greatly at heart it has the interests of the farmer-to-be of state lands, and however much it is intended to benefit the state at large, it seems to me to be sure to injure both if it becomes law. Simply because instead of hastening the sale of such lands to real home makers it will be certain to hinder greatly that very thing, and for the reason that not a tithe of such would be able to comply with its conditions.

And the only effect that I can see as likely to follow its enactment would be that of retarding state land sales, development of Northern Minnesota, and time allowing for the great land owners and speculators to dispose of their holdings. I will be glad to answer any letters of inquiry on the subject that I may receive, and freely place my experience and knowledge of it at the service of any one asking it. Very sincerely,

J. M. ROMANS.

WAR LOSSES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Referring to the query in last night's Herald signed, "A Reader," and dated "Thompson, Minn.," relative to the number of men killed to date in the great European war, beg to advise a reader that Collier's Weekly has the following to say in the last issue:

"The Germans have lost approximately 1,500,000 in killed and seriously wounded and over 200,000 are prisoners in the hands of the allies, making a total of nearly 2,000,000 Germans rendered hors-de-combat, and despite this terrible loss of men in the so far unsuccessful drives towards Paris, Calais and Warsaw, the German generals continue their mass tactics. In the great battle of Goumine-Borjimow when a huge army under Gen. von Mackensen was beaten in the third attempt to take Warsaw the Germans lost upwards of 160,000 killed and wounded and thousands of prisoners. The total for Germany and Austria is about 2,500,000 to 4,000,000; for the allies, 3,000,000."

Other leading magazines who have correspondents at the front give the Russian losses to date in killed and wounded and prisoners at nearly 2,000,000, and the loss for Great Britain at 125,000, and for Belgium at 200,000, and Serbia at 150,000 and France at three-quarters to a million, this would give the same approximate total reached by Collier's correspondent of around 3,500,000 for the allies.

The Austrians have lost practically as heavily as Germany, while no records are found on Turkey.

When one takes into consideration that the total losses on both sides to date are somewhere around 7,000,000 men or over half of the voters of the entire United States, an idea of the terrific fighting can be formed. The losses given England are not in reality less than that of the other countries, considering the number of men they have in the field, but when Earl Kitchener's new army of 1,000,000 goes into the field in the spring, England will undoubtedly get her share of this enormous slaughter.

These accounts do not take into account naval losses. Yours truly,

C. E. LEE.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"If I Only Had a Home Sweet Home," from Mrs. Gregory J. Inlodzek of Duluth.

"My Bonny Black Bess," from Mrs. Bert Arnold of Ewen, Mich.

"The Cowboy's Lament" and "Down by the Drooping Willows," from an unknown subscriber.

"She Rests by the Swanee River," from Mrs. Elbert H. Reid of Farris, Minn.

Requests have been received for the following:

"Where the Silvery Colorado Wends Its Way," from Mrs. Elbert H. Reid of Farris.

"The Flying Cloud" and "When We Had Been Sailing About Two Days," from Mrs. Bert Arnold of Ewen, Mich.

"If I Only Had a Home, Sweet Home."

'Twas a party for the little ones,
And ere they all could go
They sang the song of "Home, Sweet Home."
The one we all love so.
Without a ragged child looked on,
His heart so lone and sad;
He never had a home, sweet home,
Mid sobs and tears he said:

Chorus.

"If I only had a home, sweet home,
Someone to care for me,
Like all the other girls and boys
How happy I would be;
A kind papa and mamma, dear,
To call me all their own
This world would be all sunshine,
If I had a home, sweet home."

The little ones, now homeward bound,
So happy and so free;
The ragged child still wanders 'round,
No home, sweet home has he;
No cozy little bed for him,
The cold, cold ground instead;
And as he lays him down to sleep,
So mournfully he said:

My Bonny Black Bess.

When misfortune, kind godess, had left my abode,
And friends turned against me, I took to the road.
To plunder the wealthy to ease my distress;
To aid me, I bought you, my bonny black Bess.

How quiet you stood when the carriage I stopped,
Till the gold and the silver the inmates had got.
I ne'er robbed a poor man nor did I distress
A widow or orphan, my bonny black Bess.

When dark sables midnight its mantle had thrown,
O'er the dark face of nature, how oft we have flown
From faith, hope to hither, nor an unwelcome guest,
Through the missions of fortune, my bonny black Bess.

When England's bold sheriffs did me hotly pursue,
From Yorkshire to London like the lightning you flew;
No toll gates would stop you, broad rivers you'd breast;
In twelve hours you made it, my bonny black Bess.

When stern justice pursued me, the high sheriff I shot,
It was not my intention, but death was his lot.
For to save me, Bess, you did do your best,
But you're worn out and wearied, my bonny black Bess.

Hark! the bloodhounds approaching, but they never shall have
A steed like you, Bessie, so gallant and brave.
You must die, my dumb brute, though it does me distress;
There, there, I have shot you, my bonny black Bess.

When future ages have past, and have gone,
My story will be handed from father to son,
Your death, some may pity, but they will all confess,
It was through kindness I shot you, my bonny black Bess.

Can anyone say ingratitude dwelt in the heart of Dick Turpin,
A vice or a fault;
I'll die like a man, and be with you at rest;
So farewell forever, my bonny black Bess.

She Rests by the Swanee River.

When a lad I spent my days
In a dear old Southern place
Way down in dear old Georgia, far away;
With my sweetheart on my arm,
I would stroll around the farm,
Or watch the Swanee river, on its way.
Then my heart was young and gay
Until one fatal day
My sweetheart died before our wedding morn.
By the Swanee she's at rest
'Tis the place she loved the best,
Her childhood's home where she was bred and born.

Chorus.

She rests by the Swanee river
Where the orange blossom's bloom.
Where the air is always scented
With magnolia's sweet perfume.
Where the mocking birds are singing
In the tree tops all the day.
She rests by the Swanee river
Far, far away.

In my dreams I often roam
To that dear old Southern home
And wander to that spot where she and I
Where oft seated side by side
Where she vowed to be my bride
When first I saw the lovelight in her eyes.
Then I find I am alone
My sweetheart she has gone to realms above,
Ne'er to return again.
As I stroll along the shore
Her lone grave I see once more
And then my heart is filled with bitter pain.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

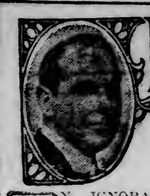

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HEALTH TALKS

By William Brady, M.D.

The Medicine Habit

AN IGNORANT layman will swallow without compunction day after day and week after week drugs which a doctor would hesitate about taking under any circumstances. It requires nothing more than a circular thrown at his door, or an extravagant, lying advertisement indorsed by the druggist who hopes to profit on the sale, to persuade the poor deluded "sucker"—there's no other suitable word—to put down his good money for a bottle of worthless or harmful dope.

It is nothing less than a national disgrace that our national legislature, having been literally shamed into making some show of willingness to protect the public, foisted upon the country a so-called "pure food and drugs act," which has served chiefly to help patent medicine manufacturers in their business. You should know, if you don't already know, that the words "Guaranteed Under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906," on a label are no guarantee of harmlessness or purity of the product, but simply an assertion that the product does not contain certain poisons unless they are mentioned on the label. No nostrum or drug is so dangerous or worthless that it cannot be thus "guaranteed," and indeed the most deadly ingredients need not be mentioned on the label. Only a small list of poisonous ingredients must be mentioned on the label, under the law.

The Cure Worse Than the Disease.

In the United States $500,000,000 is spent annually for medicine. Most of the medicine is consumed by individuals who would get well as soon or a little sooner without it. A good share of it is taken by people who like the effects of alcohol, opium, acetanilide, chloral or other ingredient. Some of it is consumed by unfortunates who are rendered incurable by the poisons they swallow. Many of the most pitiable and hopeless wrecks we see are indebted for one part of their trouble to disease, and for nine parts to the habit of taking "perfectly harmless" or "highly recommended" patent medicine.

Questions and Answers.

Take Fresh Air: What simple remedy would you recommend for ordinary cold in the head? We have it occasionally, though not bad enough to interfere with our work.

REPLY.

Cold fresh air out of doors. Careful personal isolation—be sure you don't pass it on to your friends or fellow workers indoors. A simple cathartic, a short ration for a few days, and cold fresh outdoor air are the best remedies we know.

* * *

Crackling Joints: A woman of thirty, not very strong and still not sick enough to consult a doctor, complains that her joints crackle and snap as she turns in bed or moves about the house. The spine particularly makes a loud click, so do the knees, the elbows, and other joints.

REPLY.

How sick must one be before it is worth while to be properly advised? It is a serious mistake waiting until you are sick-a-bed to have the doctor. He can prevent much illness which can't be cured. The condition is evidence of malnutrition, either from a fault in the diet, or a defect in assimilation, or some unrecognized disease which interferes with good nutrition. You need a complete physicial examination.

* * *

Excessive Salivation: What is the cause of an excessive secretion of saliva? I have so much saliva that at night it rolls out of my mouth and wets the pillows. I am a woman of forty-three, and this has bothered me about a year.

REPLY.

Toxemia, often from kidney disease. Again it sometimes signifies arterial disease. Have the blood pressure taken and have a chemical and microscopical urinalysis.

Dandruff and Oily Hair: Please suggest some remedy for dandruff and oily scalp.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: FEB. 28.

I Samuel vii, 3-17: Samuel, the Victorious Leader.

THE CONNECTION.

In our last lesson we saw how the Philistines defeated Israel, slew the two corrupt sons of Eli and captured the ark of God, and how Eli fell from his seat and broke his neck when he got the news. Well, the possession of the ark brought trouble to the Philistines, for the statue of their god, Dagon, fell down and was broken, when the ark was taken into their temple, and then a plague broke out among them. Then they sent the ark back in a wagon drawn by a cow that took it to Beth-Shemes. There it remained till removed to Kiziath-Jearim, where an Israelite, named Abinadal, had charge of it for twenty years. Meantime Samuel was growing in age and influence and was accepted as a prophet of God. The next stage in the growth of the people was at hand.

THE LESSON.

I.

Successfully Calls the Nation to Repentance, 3-4.

"And Samuel spake unto all the house of Israel, saying, 'If ye do return unto Jehovah with all your heart, then put away the foreign gods and the Ashtaroth from among you, and direct your hearts unto Jehovah, and serve Him only; and He will deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines.' Then the children of Israel did put away the Baalim and the Ashtaroth, and served Jehovah only."

1. DEMANDS.—Several things had been getting them ready for this sharp demand of his—his growing influence, their increasing hardships—for their Philistine masters humbled and disabled them as much as possible; for one thing, wouldn't allow them to have blacksmiths, but compelled them to come to Philistine blacksmiths, and the growing feeling that they must regain the lost favor of God.

His demand is for a thorough repentance and return to God "with all your heart." That was imperative, else God would not deliver them, no use doing it, only a waste of time. There would be two years of that thoroughness, repudiation of all their foreign gods and a re-establishment of the service of Jehovah. The former involved removal of the altars and other physical means of serving their male and female gods, Baalim and Ashtaroth. That was not easy. It meant rebuke of their own bestial natures, for self-indulgence marked their worship of the male and female principles in creation. It meant a declaration of war against their oppressors to repudiate their gods. The latter, to "serve" God, meant to rebuild His altars and confess Him to the exclusion of all others, in the presence of friends and foes. It meant the humiliation of confessing their sins in the face of scorn.

2. RESPONSE.—It was immediate. "Then" may refer to time, but it connects the cause and effect closely. It was thorough, for they did exactly the two required things. Their hearts were not perfect, but they were very "hearty" in this. Samuel could hardly have expected more. The section most affected was the territory north and east of the site of the future Jerusalem, containing such centers as Bethel, Gilgal, Shiloh, Ebenezer, belonging to the tribes of Ephraim and Benjamin.

II.

Calls a Mass Meeting for Prayer. 5-11.

"And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Mizpah, and I will pray for you unto Jehovah. And they gathered together to Mizpah, and drew water, and poured it out before Jehovah, and fasted on that day, and said there, We have sinned against Jehovah. And Samuel judged the children of Israel in Mizpah. And when the Philistines heard that the children of Israel were gathered together to Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the children of Israel heard it, they were afraid of the Philistines. And the children of Israel said to Samuel, Cease not to cry unto Jehovah our God for us, that He will save us out of the hand of the Philistines. And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it for a whole burnt offering unto Jehovah: and Samuel cried unto Jehovah for Israel; and Jehovah answered him. And as Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to battle against Israel; but Jehovah thundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Philistines, and discomfited them; and they were smitten down before Israel. And the men of Israel went out of Mizpah, and pursued the Philistines and smote them, until they came under Beth-car."

1. CONFESSION. — They confessed their sins in three ways—by words, "We have sinned against Jehovah;" by dramatic signs, as when they poured out water, symbol of the outpouring of the heart in confession, and as they fasted to express their humiliation, and later when they offered a burnt offering, the young lamb, a new life, symbol of their consecration to Jehovah. With the confession and prayers of the people rose the prayers of their prophet.

2. BATTLE.—It was inevitable, the only way they could throw off the Philistine yoke. The latter saw the assembly and had a paroxysm of rage that their will should be resisted, mingled with a nameless fear that the God of Israel was about to do something.

3. VICTORY.—It was a swift attack, while Israel was offering sacrifices, made by a superior foe, well armed, insolent, maddened. The victory came from God. God is still in charge of the elements. From the high hill of Mizpah they saw the Philistines thrown into a panic by the electric storm below. The thunder was the voice of God calling to His people to finish the battle. They did, pursuing the enemy to their own city of Beth-car.

III.

Leads the Nation in a New Career. 12-17.

"Then Samuel took a stone, and set it between Mizpah and Shen, and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, Hitherto hath Jehovah helped us. So the Philistines were subdued, and they came no more within the border of Israel; and the hand of Jehovah was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. And the cities which the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from Ekron even unto Gath; and the border thereof did Israel deliver out of the hand of the Philistines. And there was peace between Israel and the Amorites. And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. And he went from year to year in circuit to Beth-el, and Gilgal, and Mizpah; and he judged Israel in all those places. And his return was to Ramah, for there was his house; and there he judged Israel; and he built there an altar unto Jehovah."

1. THANKSGIVING. — Praise for what God has done is as important as prayer for Him to do it. The thanksgiving was expressed in words and songs, no doubt, but especially in the memorial stone, Ebenezer. There were three things to be thankful for: the victory, the recovery of their lost cities, and the long peace.

2. REFORMS.—He re-established the worship of Jehovah, reformed the judiciary and infused a true spirit into the people.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

A good memorial of some favor from God is a church building, or Sunday school room, or park, or endowment for a school, or an organ, or window, or hospital, or orphanage, or old people's home, or the support of a missionary. Most people have something special to commemorate—recovery from sickness, the conversion of a loved one who caused anxiety, a bit of special prosperity, the accomplishment of a desired piece of work, or something else.

Many a Christian could take to himself the answer of the office boy who applied for a position. The business man looked the undersized chap over and asked: "Now, suppose I should take you at $4 a week, would you be willing to devote all there is of you to my service, or would you want to steal off to the baseball games whenever I was out, or spend your time watching the bulletin board when you should be at work?" The lad looked steadily in his eye and replied: "I guess I am not big enough to divide up, so if you'll take me I'll give you all there is of me."—Cowan.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Why is true penitence the prelude to prosperity?
2. What is the benefit of a praying man to a community?
3. How can God give courage to the coward?
4. What sort of memorial may you raise for special grace?

SENDS CHECK TO RESCUER OF SON

Harry Dahl, Who Saved Lives of Two Boys, Substantially Remembered.

Harry Dahl, 119 East Superior street, who saved two boys from drowning in an air hole in the lake, Washington's birthday, while the auto races were in progress, received a check for $50 from the father of one of the boys yesterday. The two boys were Carl Carlson, 720 Sixth avenue east, and Edwin Rodahl, 607 Sixth avenue east. Both are about 9 years old. The father of the Carlson boy sent the check.

While on their way to the auto races, the boys were deceived by some sawdust on the ice near Second avenue east, and the Carlson lad slipped into a hole. His companion was dragged in after him, in trying to help him, when Dahl came along and pulled them out with a belt from his mackinaw coat.

JEWS ACTIVE IN WHITE PLAGUE FIGHT

M. S. Cook Gets Annual Report of National Relief Society.

M. S. Cook of this city, who is one of the national directors of the Jewish Consumptives' Relief society, has just received the tenth annual report of that organization, showing that ever since its conception 1,924 patients have been cared for at the hospital in Denver, Colo.

At the Denver hospital, which is supported by the Jews of the nation, is a large staff of physicians and nurses, who care for the afflicted brought from every part of the country. Since the society was organized in 1904, a total of $590,362.54 has been contributed for the benefit of the Jewish consumptives of the nation.

Silberstein, M. S. Shore and Benjamin Sher, all of this city, are also national directors of the society.

"PRINCIPLE OF THE THING"

Duluthians Have Fought Petty Case in Courts Five Years.

Appeal From Verdict for $68 Argued Before Supreme Court.

George H. Lounsberry, contractor, and John T. Armstead, laundry proprietor, are willing to concede each other nothing when it comes to lawsuits.

They have been litigating for nearly five years over the question of who was to blame when their automobiles bumped together back in March, 1910, on London road. And they are still at it.

In June, 1911, a jury heard the squabble and handed Mr. Armstead, the plaintiff, an award of $68.51 against Mr. Lounsberry. Judgment, however, was not entered until Aug. 26, 1914.

Since judgment has been docketed in district court against Mr. Lounsberry, he has appealed to the supreme court. His contention is that Mr. Armstead, according to the evidence adduced at the trial, did not have a state license to operate his automobile and was, therefore, a trespasser on the public highways and barred from suing to recover damages for his automobile.

The two automobiles were running in the same direction with Mr. Armstead in the lead. According to Mr. Lounsberry's version, Mr. Armstead suddenly stopped and turned across the road. The contractor claims that he could not halt his machine in time to prevent the two cars from bumping.

The two litigants have never agreed as to who was to blame for the accident, each blaming the other and vowing that they will fight through to the court of last resort to have the point decided, notwithstanding attorney's fees, court costs and other expenses incidental to the administration of the law.

Mr. Lounsberry engaged Howard T. Abbott of Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert to defend his position and John Jenswold, Jr., is appearing for the plaintiff, Mr. Armstead. The attorneys will appear before the supreme court today to argue the case before the highest tribunal.

The amount of the judgment is less than $70. Exclusive of attorney's fees, the cost of appeal will range from $150 to $200, it is estimated, and it begins to look as if both litigants were bound to lose money regardless of how the appeal is decided.

HAMMOND NOT COMING

Chief Executive Unable to Leave Capital for Auto Show.

Governor Hammond will be unable to attend the automobile show tomorrow night, as had been expected by the officials in charge.

Yesterday afternoon the chief executive of the state sent a telegram to local automobile men to the effect that he will not be able to attend the show tomorrow evening because of the previous engagement. In his telegram he states that he had written to the show officials regarding his inability to attend, but that on seeing newspaper accounts of his visit Friday, he immediately decided to send a telegram.

Officials of the show had planned to have the governor here tomorrow night for his first official visit since the election last fall.

Another large crowd was in attendance all day yesterday, bringing the total well above the 6,000 mark for the last three days.

Today is Duluth day at the show, tomorrow is society day and Saturday, the last day of the show, has been set aside as range day.

Our Advice Is:

ANNUAL SHOW IS ASSURED

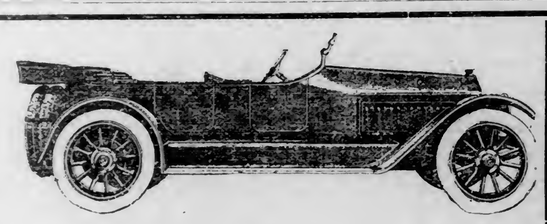

An annual automobile show in Duluth is now an assured fact.

So successful has been the first automobile show at the Auditorium this week that there is no doubt in the minds of local dealers that the program will be repeated at this time each year. This first show was put on as a test, a local dealer said this morning, and its success is already apparent.

"We tried out this show just to see how it would go," said a prominent dealer at the Auditorium this morning, "and there is no doubt in my mind but that we will stage a similar affair every year from now on. The people of Duluth and the range towns have taken to the show much better than we expected, while the sales have gone far beyond our expectations.

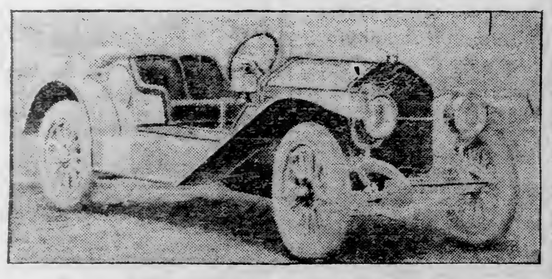

"When the dealers met several weeks ago, the attendance for the show was placed at 10,000 and indications already show that it will be nearer 15,000 before the week is over.—The auto sales are averaging about twenty a day, so that really everyone is satisfied."

All the dealers expect the automobile business to increase, even after the show is over. They are of the opinion that buyers are now interested in some machine and that sales in the next two or three months will be the result of the present exhibit.

What Do You Get For the Other Two Thousand?

$2,350 will buy the Hudson Six-54, a big, powerful, impressive six-cylinder touring-car. You can pay $4,000 or $5,000 and over for a somewhat similar car. But what do you get for your other $2,000? The big Hudson is conceded a masterpiece of the engineering skill of Howard E. Coffin, the world-famous Hudson engineer. It gives all that any man can ask of road performance, durability, comfort and luxury. Prominent people who are able to own the finest cars the world can produce are enthusiastic in their appreciation of this splendid Hudson. See the Hudson Six-54 before you decide.

HANDSOME CHANDLER CAR AT AUTO SHOW

UP AND DOWN THE AISLES

About twenty-five men were present at the Ford banquet given at the New St. Louis last night by L. and E. J. Filiatrault of the Mutual Auto company. Tonight H. B. Knudsen will entertain at dinner, while another banquet is to be held for local and range Cadillac men. Tomorrow night the Mutual Auto company will give a dinner for Chalmers salesmen and subagents.

* * *

Dr. J. D. Parks, president of the Duluth Auto club, is making an extensive campaign at the show in behalf of the Duluth-Twin City road. He is constantly talking good roads to all auto enthusiasts he meets and it is his opinion that the present show will serve as an impetus to the movement and there will be interest created in behalf of the highway.

* * *

Lawrence Whitall, factory expert for the Cadillac car, is attending the show and helping G. A. Maxson make some sales. Mr. Whitall is an optimist and declares that business has never been better.

* * *

Many of the factory representatives and experts, who are attending the local show this week, are also making occasional visits to the industrial exposition, where a number of autos are on display.

* * *

C. V. Yelton, factory representative for the Locomobile, is here helping Dr. J. D. Parks, local agent for the car, demonstrate the new 1915 limousine, which is on display at the show. This car is the most costly on exhibition, costing $7,300.

* * *

at Eveleth, who was defeated by Odin Halden for county auditor at the last election, is now in the automobile business and is attending the automobile show for a few days. "Ed" is making some hit with a new inner tube, which he is selling at the show.

* * *

By the way, "Ed" says that there is more money in the auto business than in politics.

* * *

The Duluth Auto club has a small booth at the show, where the officials are exhibiting sample "danger" signs and where interesting booklets on road conditions and the work of the local and state clubs are given away.

* * *

Beautifully colored photographs of Packard cars are painted in the headlights of the machine on exhibition and these are even made more attractive when the lights are put on.

* * *

Besides selling cars, Jack Sneve, local agent for the Packard, is receiving congratulations from the boys, as he recently became a benedict. Mr. Sneve cut short his wedding trip just to get back in time for the show.

* * *

Especially noticeable in the attendance this morning was the large number of farmers, who are visiting the show and inspecting the 1915 models. The farmers come into town and bring their whole families along, making a visit to the show during their stay in the city.

AUTO RACES ON THE LAKE

Races on the ice, called off last Monday because of warm weather, will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, weather permitting.

E. J. Filiatrault of the Mutual Auto company, who is in charge of the racing program, announced this morning that in addition to nine heats, there will be an aeroplane flight by Harry Webster, with Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Auto club, as a passenger, and a race between the aeroplane and the winning car in the 20-mile auto race. Walter G. Baldwin, manager of the Baldwin Players, may also be carried as a passenger on one of the flights. In addition four Ford cars will race against time in a special event, while two motorcycles and two motor sleds have also been entered.

If the weather is favorable, Mr. Filiatrault said, but if it is extremely cold in the morning, they will be postponed until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. However, plans at present are being made for a morning race, he said.

There will be three heats between the higher-priced cars entered, including the Oldsmobile, Marmon, National and American Traveler. These will include four, eight and twenty-mile races on the four-mile track laid out and which is, by the way, the largest course in the world. The winner in the last heat will race against the aeroplane.

Four cars, the Buick, Maxwell, Dodge and Ford, have been entered for the medium-car race, of which there will be two heats, four and eight-mile events. Following these there will be two heats between the Henderson and Harley-Davidson motorcycles and motor sleds.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WILL SPEAK FOR HAMMOND

Postmaster W. E. McEwen has been delegated by Governor Hammond to represent him at the automobile show tomorrow evening, and the former this morning accepted the invitation to address the crowd at 8:30 o'clock.

Officials of the show invited the governor to visit the show, and although he had planned to make the trip to Duluth, he was compelled to cancel the engagement. He requested Postmaster McEwen to represent him, and the latter has accepted the invitation, Manager Daly of the automobile show announced this morning.

Tomorrow night will be society night and it is expected that a large crowd will be present.

From 8 until 9:30 o'clock, Manager Daly announced, the management of the show has secured the services of Miss Maybelle Messersmith, Harry Carter, Robert Willis and Gordon Hyndman, entertainers at the Holland cafe, who will entertain the visitors. Miss Messersmith will sing ballad selections, while the male trio will present a series of humorous songs. Mr. Hyndman is the piano accompanist.

After the automobile show the Holland management will present another of the professional evenings for the benefit of the dealers, who are planning to have supper at the cafe.

WATSON HANGS K. O. ON ST. PAUL MAN

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Red" Watson, who will fight Pal Brown, the Chisholm lightweight, at Superior on Friday night, is a very busy youth, and on his way to Superior stopped over here and hung the k. o. on a St. Paul fighter in a private bout.

Duff Seidel of St. Paul, who had aspirations in the prize ring, thinks differently of it this morning. Seidel had trimmed a good many lightweights and entertained the notion that Watson would fit him for a late supper last night. Watson boxed him beautifully for seven rounds and when he thought Seidel had had enough exercise and he, himself, had gone through a good-enough workout for the Brown fight, he slammed in his right in the seventh and it was curtain for Seidel.

Watson is in fine shape for Friday's battle.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— THE SHAWMUT COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, the undersigned, have voluntarily associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes of Minnesota, of the year 1913, and acts amendatory thereof, and do hereby agree upon, adopt and sign the following articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

(a) The name of this corporation shall be "The Shawmut Company."

(b) The corporation's principal place of transacting business and its general office shall be in Duluth, Minnesota.

(c) The purposes of the corporation and the general nature of the business to be carried on shall be to buy, hold, sell, exchange, mortgage, lease and deal in all kinds of real and personal property, including stocks and bonds of other corporations; to explore and examine lands for iron and other minerals, metals and stone, and to conduct exploring, mining and quarrying operations in the State of Minnesota and elsewhere, and to improve all kinds of property, real or personal or both, and to do all things incident to the business herein mentioned, including the right to borrow or loan money, and to give or accept security for the same.

ARTICLE II.

The period of duration of this corporation shall be thirty years from and after the twentieth day of February, 1915.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are as follows: W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; E. M. Dunbar, Duluth, Minnesota; T. T. Hudson, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The management of the business and affairs of the corporation shall be vested in a Board of five Directors, who shall be elected by the stockholders from among their members at the annual meeting of the corporation to be held in its general office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the first Tuesday in December in each year, between such hours as may be fixed by the By-Laws of said corporation, and shall hold their offices for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Until the first annual meeting of stockholders, the Board of Directors shall be Louis Rouchleau, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Joseph Chapman, Minneapolis, Minnesota; W. A. Durst, Minneapolis, Minnesota; W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; Russell Tyson, Chicago, Illinois.

The officers of the corporation and of the Board of Directors shall be President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as may be provided for in the By-Laws; which officers, after the first, shall be elected by the Board of Directors.

The first officers of the corporation and of the Board of Directors shall be: Louis Rouchleau, President; W. M. Prindle, Vice President and Treasurer; Joseph Chapman, Secretary.

The term of the several officers shall terminate at the election of his or their successors. The Board of Directors shall have power to fill vacancies in its membership and in its officers.

The first Board of Directors shall adopt By-Laws, which shall remain effective until and as amended by the stockholders at any regular meeting or special meeting called therefor. The Board of Directors shall have full power and authority to transact any business within the power of the corporation and to delegate such power and authority as it may deem expedient to any agent or officers of the corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000) divided into Twenty-five Hundred (2500) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100) dollars each. Such stock shall be paid for at such time or times as may be determined by the Board of Directors, and shall be issued only when the same has been fully paid.

The Board of Directors may issue stock in exchange for property or services, or for stock of other corporations, and the judgment of the Board of Directors as to the full value of such property, or services, or stock, shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive.

ARTICLE VI.

The amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation shall at any time be subject is One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this second day of February, 1915.

SAYS BLASTING HURT PROPERTY

Hibbing Man Files Claim for Damages With Village Council.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Workmen blasting in the Alice sewer construction work damaged the building at 2520 Fourth avenue, is the contention of John Kennedy, owner, who filed a claim with the village council yesterday afternoon. Trustee B. J. Burrows was elected acting president in place of Mayor V. L. Power who was in Minneapolis. Trustee R. L. Gelselman was absent.

A communication was received from the Oliver Iron Mining company with reference to a permit to cross certain tracts of land with the proposed high tension electric line to Alice. This communication was tabled for further consideration.

Ernest L. Carlson sent in an application for a police position. It will be acted upon at the next meeting.

Two Get Liquor Licenses.

Applications of Louis Kallanji, 113 Pine street, and H. W. Austin, 405 Third avenue, for liquor licenses, having been approved by the license committee, were granted.

An application for a building permit by Fred Burkman was referred to the fire committee. An application of Randall Nelmi, to open up street pavement to make sewer connections was referred to the street and alley committee.

Injury reports of Joe Rosette and Gene Armand, who have been employed by the village, were referred to the village attorney.

No action was taken relative to the contracting for material for the Alice sewers.

BRINGS LIVE WOLF TO CHISHOLM PARK

Trapper Finds Animal Fast in Trap and Brings It to Village.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Bark, a trapper, brought to town Wednesday a live she wolf he had captured in a trap, three miles north of town. On going to his traps yesterday he discovered the wolf fast by the hind leg. He decided to bring it to town alive and sell it to the park. The task was no small one, as the animal put up a desperate battle. Bark had three miles to walk with the fighting animal, but had gone about one mile when he found a piece of wire with which he made a muzzle, winding the wire around the wolf's snout and jaws. Supt. Belschfold purchased the animal and it will be placed in a cage at the park.

RAITAI CASE NOW NEAR CONCLUSION

Accused in Alleged Beef Stealing Case Persists in Innocence.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cross examining witnesses, attorneys in the Paul Riatai case in district court here, all yesterday afternoon and a good part of this morning were obtaining evidence. Oscar Pera, owner of the five quarters of beef which Riatai is accused of taking from the Pera warehouse at Mesaba, Dec. 7, was one of the principal witnesses for the state. All the evidence, however, is purely circumstantial and Riatai has stood unwaveringly on his plea of not guilty throughout this and the previous trial. The case will go to the jury this afternoon.

Last Criminal Case.

Following the decision of the jury on this case, the criminal calendar will be closed for this term. Several civil cases are et to be tried, many of them being before the jury. It is expected that the bulk of what has not been settled out of court or referred to the Virginia term will be over within a fortnight.

RAPIDLY BEING SETTLED.

Home Builders Are Coming Into Wawina Section, Itasca County.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—John W. Oaks of Wawina reports that his section is settling up fast, and that settlers are getting in many fine milch cows. Upon the opening of a road which will accommodate upward of fifty farmers on a stretch of between 5 and 10 miles, Mr. Oaks reports that there will be sufficient territory adjacent to Wawina from which the farmers can drive in with their cream to support a good creamery. He states that there is a good spirit of co-operation and that the prospects are that a creamery there would be very successful.

HIBBING BRIEFS.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Range Probation Officer C. E. Everett made a business trip to Virginia yesterday.

Among Hibbing sport fans who will leave for Superior Friday afternoon to attend the Brown-Watson bout are Cy Reiger, Benjamin Sanders, Jerry Edmunds, Jacky Sacks and William Lyman.

William Bergeron has been disposed for several days.

A match pool game will be played between Cy Reiger and Earl St. Julien against George Cusciatto and Dean Jackson.

Miss Katherine Furlong returned home from Duluth where she was visiting since Saturday.

J. Geraghty, director for the Moose lodge, has returned home from Chisholm, where he was helping arange for the rally Tuesday night.

HANGS SELF WITH PIECE OF HAY WIRE

John Hanson, Recently Released From State Asylum, Takes Life.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 25.—Deputy Coroner Crowe and Edward Ala went to Cook late yesterday in response to a message stating that John Hanson, who was recently released from the asylum for the criminal insane, had hanged himself in a barn near there. He had made a noose out of a piece of hay wire, fastened one end about his neck and the other end to the rafters, then jumped off the hay mow. He was dead when found. He is survived by a widow, and several children.

Threatened His Wife.

About a year ago, Hanson was tried in the district court on a charge of assault in the first degree committed on his wife. Evidence was introduced to show that Hanson tried to kill his wife by striking her over the head with a hammer. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty because insane. As a result of this verdict Hanson was committed to the state hospital and later released.

The body of Hanson was brought here this afternoon and will be buried by the county. His family live on a claim near where he killed himself.

GILBERT PIONEER BORNE TO GRAVE

Last Rites Are Held for August Benson, Formerly of Sparta.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services for August Benson, who died Tuesday morning from an attack of pneumonia, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. Interment was made at the Gilbert cemetery. The F. O. E. and S. H. & E. P. lodges of Eveleth, of which Mr. Benson was a member, escorted the body to the cemetery.

Mr. Benson was a pioneer of Gilbert and well known in the range towns, and one of the first to start in business here.

He moved to this village from Sparta. He was 40 years old and is survived by one sister and two brothers. His sister lives at Omaha and two brothers in the West.

BOTTLE COMES BACK FILLED WITH LIQUOR.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. B. Coates, the well known mining man, got a surprise in the express the other day. It was a bottle of whisky from a Kentucky distillery that he had not ordered. The odd thing about the gift was that the liquor was in a bottle that Mr. Coates emptied with a party of friends while steaming down the River Nile in Africa about a year ago and thrown into the murky stream. In the bottle he had placed a slip of paper bearing his name and address. Some one found the bottle and forwarded it to the distillery, where it was filled and sent to Mr. Coates with the liquor factory's compliments. The original bottle was presented to Mr. Coates by a local friend when he started on his African trip.

GILBERT TEAM TO PLAY VIRGINIANS.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gilbert basket ball team will play the fast Virginia high school team at the local gymnasium next Friday evening. Much interest is being taken in this game as the Virginia boys are the fastest team on the range, having won every game they have played this season.

The Gilbert boys are doing considerable practicing this week and a good game is expected.

In the earlier part of the season these two teams played together at Virginia at which time the Gilbert boys were defeated but have a stronger team at this time.

TWO HARBORS FIVE TO PLAY ROTARIANS.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 25.—A game of basket ball will be played here this evening between the fast Rotary team of Duluth and the local city team. The game will commence promptly at 7:45 at the Y. M. C. A. gym. The Rotary team has defeated the locals once this year but by a very close margin and the game this evening is expected to be hard fought. The locals have effected a change in their lineup for this evening. They will lineup as follows: John Woodward, center; Ted Sullivan, captain and forward; Harry Freeman, forward; Filiatrault, guard; Harry Johnson, sub guard and forward; Bob McCurdy, guard.

PICTURES DISPLAYED IN HIBBING LIBRARY.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A collection of beautiful mounted pictures, reproducing the work of American artists, is on display at the Carnegie library this week, directly under the charge of Miss Stella Wiley, librarian.

The exhibit is loaned from the Minnesota State Art society and includes pictures in sepia and colors, embracing favorites of Sargent, Alexander, Whistler, Winslow, Homer, Inness, Cecelia, Beaus and others.

CHISHOLM MOOSE PLAN BIG TIME.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Moose lodge held a social Tuesday evening and have laid plans for a monster good time next Tuesday at the Chisholm Opera house. Invitations have been issued to the Virginia, Ely, Hibbing, Duluth, Superior and Proctor lodges to attend. Election of officers will take place at the meeting. Athletics sports, story telling, speeches and one grand feed are to constitute the evening's amusement.

JAMES LUNZ IS TO HEAD TICKET

Two Harbors Business Man Nominated for Mayor By Non-Partisans.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a mass meeting held in the courthouse last night the non-partisan ticket was completed.

About 100 voters of the city were present. Several candidates for each of the various offices were nominated.

James H. Lunz, one of the foremost business men of the city and who has always taken keen interest in the welfare of the city, was nominated for mayor. At first Mr. Lunz declined to accept the nomination but he was finally prevailed upon to accept. The following candidates for aldermen-at-large were nominated: John Larson, from Second ward; Victor Coursolle, Third ward; and T. Kirkby from the Fourth ward. W. B. Woodward will run for municipal judge, and W. Lorne Fowler will run for city treasurer.

Ticket Now Completed.

The non-partisan voters have now a full ticket in the field. At ward meetings held last week the following candidates for the aldermen of the various wards were appointed: First ward, Emil Strom; Second ward, Robert J. Tubman; Third ward, August Bloomquist; Fourth ward, Alfred L. Anderson.

George Thompson was chosen to be the candidate for city assessor.

YEOMEN LODGES IN JOINT EXERCISES

Eveleth and Gilbert Homesteads Installed Officers at Gilbert.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gilbert and Eveleth Brotherhood of American Yeomen lodges held a joint installation and celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the order at a banquet last evening at this village. The initiation took place at Carson's hall, sixteen members being taken in. The banquet was held at the Commercial hotel. Music was furnished by the Virginia orchestra.

At the banquet the following program was as follows: Invocation, address, P. H. Harouff, district manager; welcome address, Michael Kriser; address on Yeomanry and good of the order, J. H. Murphy, state manager.

Thomas H. Sharpe, local foreman was toastmaster. After the banquet several amusements took place at the lodge rooms.

The visiting archers from Eveleth were: Mrs. L. Philstrom, Mrs. Robert Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Grange. The visitors from Virginia were: J. Prince, Miss Margaret Forst, Mrs. Caroline White and J. Sennette.

LOSES TO FOND DU LAC.

Grand Rapids Beaten By Badger Basket Ball Team.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Rapids Athletic association basket ball team lost to the Fond du Lac team in a game played at the high school gymnasium last evening by a score of 25 to 43. The game was fast and comparatively free from rough playing. Grand Rapids was clearly outclassed by the visitors, but put up a good fight. On Friday evening the local team will meet the Oswego, N. Y., team on the local floor.

FORMER CHISHOLMITE NOW OREGON BANKER.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word has been received here that Frank L. Austin, formerly of Chisholm, has purchased a controlling interest in the South Bend, Or., State bank and is now cashier. South Bend is a small town with agricultural backing and a splendid future.

Dunkleberger left this week for Rosedale, Ind., where he will help Harvey Heaton of that place, who is moving up to this section, to load his household and farm goods and stock, and to bring the cars through from Indiana to Grand Rajids. Mr. Heaton will arrive in Grand Rapids with his family about March 5, and his goods will arrive about the same time.

COLD GONE! HEAD CLEAR AND NOSE OPEN--IT'S FINE!

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Colds and Grippe in a Few Hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all grippe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

GROCERY SITE IS TO BE DISCUSSED.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club will meet tonight and besides hearing the report of the committee that went to St. Paul to work for county division will consider the proposition of securing a site here for a wholesale grocery firm that contemplates locating in this city, providing a suitable site can be secured.

VIRGINIA ENGINEERS WILL HAVE MEETING.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Engineers' club will have a meeting in the public library tonight. Ben Walk, assistant city engineer, will deliver an address on "Sewer Construction Work in Virginia."

Steals Trousers—Sentenced.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 25.—Otis Seymour, colored, was arraigned before Judge Carey yesterday charged with the theft of a pair of trousers containing $22, the property of John Ikola, who alleged the garment was stolen while he slept in a lodging house run by Seymour. The accused offered to refund the money if released, but Judge Carey took a different view and sent him to the county work farm for ninety days.

Black River Man Killed.

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 25.—Brief advices were received here that Ole Veum, a well-known resident of the Black river country, shot and killed himself Tuesday. It is not known whether his death was accidental or intentional. Don Burrows went to Loman with a casket and will bring the remains here for shipment to some outside point. The Odd Fellows of Loman are in charge of the arrangements, deceased being a member of that order.

Driving Fine Stallion.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. John Dickie, who is a thorough horseman, and who always has at least one fine driving animal, has been the past week driving a fine trotting stallion of the famous Belmont breeding. The horse has a fine track record, and aside from the other uses to which Dr. Dickie will put him to, the horse will be a favorite in the racing circuits of this section of the state.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

CLOUDY

Great weather, isn't it? Even with the snow flurries in the air, it feels good, and every once in a while the sun peeps out and brightens up things. Nothing depressing in this brand of weather; even a lazy man must feel an unwonted desire to hustle. And not much change is promised immediately.

A year ago today was mild. The sun rose this morning at 6:55 and will set this evening at 5:47, giving ten hours and fifty-two minutes of sunlight. The eleven-hour day will begin on Sunday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Colder weather prevails in most districts east of the Mississippi river and over the greater portion of Canada. Zero temperature occurred last night at Port Arthur, Medicine Hat and Edmonton. Rain or snow fell during Wednesday or last night over the Lake region, Upper Ohio Valley, Middle and North Atlantic states, Eastern Canada, the Plateau region and Pacific states. Heavy rain fell at New York City."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota and Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, probably rain or snow in west portion Friday; warmer in west portion tonight.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Friday, probably snow.

Montana—Probably snow or rain tonight and Friday.

Lower Michigan—Snow flurries this afternoon; fair tonight and Friday; colder tonight in south portion.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Friday; colder in extreme east portion tonight.

INDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Duluth Citizen.

The public indorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Duluth adds one more to the many cases of Home Indorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

A. Siden, tailor, 17 Sixth avenue west, Duluth, says: "I was troubled by weak kidneys, especially when I caught cold. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened my kidneys and removed the trouble. Now, I don't have any sign of kidney complaint or backache, although I work hard every day."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Siden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

POLITICIANS ARE TO BE ARRAIGNED

Five Indianans Charged With Conspiracy to Corrupt Elections.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25.—Charged in a Federal indictment with conspiracy to corrupt the election of Nov. 3, 1914, in the Fifth Indiana congressional district, five Republicans were to be arraigned before United States District Judge A. B. Anderson here today. They are Roy L. Shattuck of Brazil, who opposed Congressman Ralph W. Moss for re-election and Warren Soules, William F. Sears, William E. Myers and Morton H. Holmes, all of Terre Haute, and candidates for offices in Vigo county.

These men were named in a separate indictment from that on which 116 Democratic and Progressive leaders of Terre Haute were arrested on Christmas day, 1914. The Republicans are alleged to have entered into a conspiracy which, according to the indictment, included Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute, Democrat; John Nugent, former Progressive city chairman and night superintendent of police under Roberts; John Hines and Frank Hesse, all of whim were included in the first indictment to buy the election of themselves. It is set out in the indictment that $1,000 was paid to Hesse, who is said to have shared the money with the others, in order to secure the election of the Republicans. The Republicans, however, were defeated.

Other charges in the indictment are similar to those placed against the Democrats and Progressives and include conspiracy to intimidate voters, to prevent qualified voters serving as election officials, and to vote illegal voters, thereby attempting to defraud the United States through corrupting the election at which a United States senator and member of congress were being chosen. The Federal government, as in the first case, asserts its right to regulate the election on the ground that constitutional officers of the United States were being chosen.

Of the 116 Democrats and Progressives arrested, 87 have entered pleas of guilty and the cases of the remaining 29 who plead not guilty have been set to begin here March 8.

DACIA NEARS PORT; NOT SEIZED AS YET

Breitung's Steamer Will Pass Through English Channel If Not Taken.

New York, Feb. 25.—The steamship Dacia which sailed from Norfolk, Feb. 11, for Rotterdam with cotton, in the face of assertions that she would be seized by British men of war inasmuch as she had been a German vessel at the outbreak of the war, has almost completed her trip across the Atlantic without interference on Feb. 23, according to messages received here today.

These messages asserted that the Dacia was 400 miles west of Land's End, Eng., on that date and would proceed through the English channel to Rotterdam if not taken.

The Dacia is owned by Edward N. Breitung of this city, who purchased her from the Hamburg-American line and changed her registry, placing her under the American flag. Mr. Breitung also purchased the Seguranca of the Ward line, an American vessel, and had her remodeled as a freighter. The Seguranca is now loading with provisons for Rotterdam and is expected to sail from this port within a day or two.

FRENCH INDUSTRY FAST RECOVERING

Number of Employes Now Only 20 Per Cent Less Than Normal.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Investigations made by Minister of Labor Marin show that the activity of French industries and commerce has recovered to a large extent since the first month of the war. The number of employes now is only 20 per cent fewer than normal. Figures obtained from 31,000 establishments employing over 1,000,000 show that about half of them were closed temporarily by the mobilization order, and that they lost about two-thirds of their workmen at that time.

Since mobilization was completed, the number of factories open has increased 43 per cent and the number of workers 83 per cent. Many establishments which were running only two or three days a week in August, now are operating normally and some of them even on an overtime basis. The plants which are most active are those producing articles needed in carrying on the war. Workers in the textile, leather and metal trades have more than doubled in number, while those making clothing and chemicals have increased 80 and 75 per cent, respectively. There also is considerable increased activity in the pottery, glassware, transportation and woodworking industries. Reports of officials are said to show the situation to be steadily improving.

BODIES OF 2,000 ARE REVEALED BY THAW

Melting Snow Uncovers Remains of Austrians and Russians in Dukla Pass.

Geneva, via Paris, Feb. 25, 5 a. m.—Continued successes for the Russians in the battles which continue to rage furiously in the Carpathians are described in dispatches to Swiss newspapers. The Austro-German forces are said to have lost 3,000 more men at Dukla Pass while melting snow at Uszok pass revealed the bodies of 2,000 Austrians and Russians.

The Austrians are reported to have launched a number of futile attacks at Dubova in which they lost heavily.

The Russians captured at Grownik a transport wagon with the regimental safe containing 80,000 crowns ($20,000.) The Russians claim to have captured an advanced post with 600 men at Plasa and are showing great activity at Zakliczyn. The dispatches say that additional Russian columns have burst into Marmaros county in Hungary, bordering on Galicia, Bukowina and Transylvania, capturing convoys.

IS YOUR DAUGHTER PALE?

Does she inherit a delicate organization from you? The anemia of young girls may be inherited or it may be caused by bad air, lack of proper food, insufficient out-of-door exercise, hasty and irregular eating and not enough rest and sleep.

It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes palpitation of the heart and headache. In a majority of cases constipation is present. Often the patient craves unusual things to eat, such as starch or chalk. There may be no loss of flesh but the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

There is no need to worry in a case of this kind. The treatment is easy and simple. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, non-alcoholic and free from any harmful drug, are just the tonic to remedy this condition. Improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich and red the peculiar pallor leaves the face, strength and activity gradually return and if the treatment is continued until the last symptom disappears the danger of relapse is slight.

A booklet, "Building Up the Blood" which tells all about this treatmnet, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

AT the request of the writer, Harley Davidson has written his opinion of the condition of Pal Brown. Let it be stated that Davidson, a great trainer and a wise head who has observed fighters and athletes in general in all parts of the world, was with Brown in Australia and assisted in the preparation of the Chisholm youth for several of his battles.

The world's renowned skater left here Sunday morning and has been in the training quarters of Brown for several days. Here in part is what Davidson sends us, penned with the scent of rubbing liniment in his nostrils:

"To say that Pal is in good shape is putting it mildly. He is as strong as a lion and say, he has his Australian condition beaten a city mile.

"I don't think Watson will punch hard enough to hurt Brown. On the other hand Watson may have the K. O. attached to his name. Yesterday in the second round of boxing with Billings Brown fractured the Superior boy's jaw with a left hand punch, Billings is leaving the training camp today for Superior."

Billings strolled into The Herald office shortly before noon yesterday. The resident of Billings park had a puffed right cheek that looked as if he has a case of solitary mumps. The Billings one admitted that he was soaked and soaked hard.

"Brown is right this time," said Billings out of the good side of his countenance. "Pal is about twice as good as when he fought Tillman. He is hitting awfully hard and believes that Watson will be his victim."

All this is just what the fans in these parts have been waiting to hear. After the Tillman contest the story of Brown's illness came flickering into being. Here it is Thursday, one day before a contest that has aroused a great deal of interest over the Northwest, and the fans are assured from two members of the Brown training camp that the Jackpine Kid is in the condition of his life.

Watson is due here today. Jack Kears' red-head is scheduled to hop through his finishing stunts some time during the afternoon. Some of the more curious of the fans have planned to go over and get a line on the lad who has succeeded in making a sensational name on the Pacific slope.

If the word goes the round that the invader is all that advance dope has generously claimed for Watson, it looks as if the auburn-thatched lightweight will enter the ring tomorrow evening a favorite over Brown, something, by the way, that has not happened in some seasons in these parts.

Get This Chatter.

W. R. HOSKING of the St. Paul Dispatch is guilty of the story that is given below. We are running it for the information of the followers of the game in these parts—so that they may see the exquisite alibi that has been framed for that 11 to 1 defeat.

Here is what Mr. Hosking so unblushingly writes:

"We were looking for it and we got it; we can and will take our medicine," said Manager Ray Johns of the Athletic Hockey club, when he and the battered St. Paul team arrived this morning from the Duluth trenches.

Though Mr. Johns would not discuss the treatment the team received, others were not so reticent.

Said one of the players not on the hospital list: "Kahler was carried off the ice with an injured ankle; Peterson was carried off unconscious, after a vicious swipe on the head; Roddie Smith was helped off after being cracked across the knees, and Brennan, while he managed to stay on the ice, was so crippled in the first few minutes of play that he was useless for the rest of the game."

St. Paul players expected a rough match, but they were not prepared for what actually happened. Capt. Kahler, a former Duluth star, had received letters from friends to the effect that it was current talk in hockey circles that he would not play the game out, but he disregarded the warning. His friends appear to have been well informed, however, because Nick was carried off the ice before the first half was half over.

Though they were roughed throughout the match, the St. Paul men did not retaliate in kind, as not one Duluth player was injured.

Manager Johns said today that no team directed by him would ever play Duluth again under conditions prevailing last night. "St. Paul is willing to play Duluth," he said, "but there must be fair and competent officials running the game. Crassweller did the best he could last night, but apparently he did not see that the first two goals Duluth scored were on passes that were so palpably forward that hundreds of spectators noticed and commented on it. Crassweller did not begin penalizing the Duluth players for rough work until they had a safe lead rolled up on us."

It may be mentioned that St. Paul is not the only team that has received unsportsmanlike treatment at Duluth. Linder's team is on the blacklist of all the Copper country teams, and Winnipeg teams do not hesitate to say that Duluth stops at nothing in order to win.

They're Off at Milwaukee.

THAT elegant master of the tango, fox trot, Castle walk and other tancy steps as applied strictly to ring use, Mr. Freddy Welsh of Pontypridd, Wales, will this evening attempt to give another of those high priced dancing lessons to one Charlie Anchowitz.

Fame is much the same the length and breadth of this world. Common folks sometimes go before state legislatures and ask to have their names changed from an homely and common garden variety of name to some high sounding title with poetic suggestion. With authors, actors, prizefighters and embezzlers the case is quite different. They change their names and lo and behold the world smiles and all is lovely.

Welsh is like Packey McFarland, one of the world masters at the ten-round distance. Since the days when garrets and the lone crust of bread went out of date as quite the thing for genius to break into print with, masters have usually commanded a stiff price for their services.

For teaching Charley White some of the latest steps in the prevailing ring style Welsh is going to receive a lot of Tom Andrews' money. If White should win by a knockout and astound the world he would get some theatrical dates and a big guarantee for his next fight.

Walter Miller on the Shelf.

WALTER MILLER took up the transmitter of the long distance telephone long enough yesterday to state that his ankle was so stiff and weak and that he has been obliged to cancel a number of matches in the West.

Mellen, Wis., promoters wanted the little Pole to tackle Walter Willoughby in a finish contest. Miller also had a number of contests booked in Montana. But Walter's first attempt to do any training since the terrific struggle with Yokel resulted in the abandoning of any attempt to appear on the mat for sometime.

Few persons attending the sensational contest between Miller and Ketonen realized the extent of the injury suffered by the St. Paul boy. Not only were the ligaments of Miller's knee torn away, but his ankle was badly sprained.

WELSH AND WHITE READY FOR FIGHT

World's Lightweight Champion and Chicago Contender Will Meet.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 25.—Freddie Welsh, world's lightweight champion boxer, and Charlie White, Chicago, aspirant to the title, are ready for their ten-round no-decision contest in Milwaukee tonight.

While no decisions are permitted under the Wisconsin law, should White knock out his opponent the title would revert to the Chicago boy.

Articles of agreement call for boys to weigh not more than 135 pounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Both contestants claim they will meet scale requirements and are in tiptop shape for the fray.

When these boys met here several months ago, Walsh had the advantage of several pounds in weight and a majority of sporting writers at the ringside awarded him the decision. White claims with the poundage handicap overcome he will render a better account of himself, while Welsh avers he will be faster at the lighter weight than before.

TWO FARGO SHOWS.

Auto and Dog Shows in North Dakota City Next Week.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo will have two exhibits next week. The auto show and the dog show are both expected to attract a large number of exhibitors and visitors. The auto show will occupy the entire Auditorium and armory building, having both floors and every exhibit space has been taken.

The dog show will have many exhibits from the Twin Cities, and other sections of the Northwest. Winnipeg will again be a big exhibitor. Many prizes have been offered and the show is to be held under A. K. C. rules which will make it possible for winnings here to count on championships.

CURLING CLUB HOCKEY STARS

ARNIE OLSON.

RUSS BARKELL.

These two boys have been playing a star game with the curling club hockey club team this season. Olson learned the game on local teams and has developed into one of the steadiest and most effective men on the all-star septet. Barkell has been playing the game of his life this season, his playing against St. Paul being one of the decided features of the contest.

BASKET BALL

JUNIORS MEET ON CENTRAL FLOOR

"Gym" Team Will Have West End Conemaughs for Opponents.

Two of the best of the younger basketball teams of the city will be pitted against each other tonight at the Central high school gymnasium when the crack Central high school "gym" class quintet will take on their rivals, the Conemaugh club five, from the West end. Both of these teams are unusually strong for their class and are well known in the city. The contest of this evening will have a bearing on the Head of the Lakes junior title and some exceptional playing should be brought out.

The Conemaugh club has made a good record this season and although previously defeated by the high school "gym" team, the score was a close one and the West end boys hope to turn the tables tonight.

Consistently playing teams that have greatly outweighed them, the Central high "gym" team has not suffered defeat this year and has built up an enviable name for itself. It has won by cleverness, team-work and speed. Some of the victories have been overwhelming and others close. The team has registered wins over the Spaa club, Conemaughs, Central Business college team, Denfeld high quint and many others of lesser note. The closest game was with the big Y. M. C. A. team of Proctor at the suburb gymnasium. Even after overtime playing the game resulted in a tie, 21 to 21, and the Proctors will play a return game down here a week from tomorrow, March 5. The Columbias claim a victory over the "gym" team but this was only the second quint. The lineup for the game tonight will be as follows:

Central "Gym"—		Conemaugh—
Pedrizetti	f	Moerke
Mason	f	Melander
Goginsky	c	Anderson
Rosenberg	g	Stevens
Shaw	g	Brown

CURLING

Ralph Bradley and Ray Bishoff will meet this evening in the semi-finals of The Herald event, while Oldham and Billy Dinham's rink will meet in the eights of the same event, the winner to progress into the semi-finals.

Walter Hall is in the fours of the Bagley with Bradley, Dinham, Bishoff, Fregeau, Goodman and Ditzel in the eights. Not all of the winners have come out of the squads in the Universal event as yet. In the Columbia, play in one of the ends is in the four, the Columbia being played down on two sides.

With good weather for the next three all of the trophy events will be cleaned up nicely.

The games of last evening and the draw of tonight:

Universal Event.

"ADONIS" TERRY, FORMER ANSON PITCHER, DEAD.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 25.—William H. Terry, former National league pitcher, died here last night of pneumonia.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Terry was a member of the famous baseball team captained by Adrian C. Anson and was familiarly known as "Adonis." He played at one time with the Brooklyn team. He retired from the diamond many years ago and had been interested in a bowling alley during recent years.

OLD RIVALS WILL FIGHT FOR TITLE

Cathedral and Central High School Quints Meet Second Time.

When the Cathedral and Central high school basket ball teams meet tomorrow evening in the former school's gymnasium the interscholastic basket ball supremacy of the Head of the Lakes will be at stake. On Jan. 22 these two crack fives clashed in their initial battle of the season and the Cathedral school boys proved to be the stronger by a slight margin.

Both aggregations have made wonderful strides in developing their team-work and becoming more accurate in their shots. Both have enjoyed, almost unbroken, a good string of victories and the contest of this evening should bring out undoubtedly the best interscholastic basket ball seen here this season. From start to finish the battle should be a hummer and the capacity crowd which is expected to appear at the Catholic gymnasium should be kept on its toes at all stages of the game by some really sensational playing.

Cathedral has been going great all season and has encountered few setbacks. Its victory of the first Central clash makes the Cathedral team the natural favorites for the contest of tomorrow evening and they are certainly intending to put up a great fight in order that they may annex the second game and thus clinch the Head of the Lakes title.

The Red and White warriors from the Central camp are just as determined that the Fourth street men will not carry off the coveted honors. Coach G. A. Glyer has made some marked improvements in his band of shooters. Although the Hanson proteges from the Catholic school are having the advantage of playing on their own floor, they will encounter a much better balanced Central quintet than the one which faced them earlier in the season and they will have to do some "tall hustling" if they expect to preserve their dignity.

The lineup for the game of tomorrow evening will be as follows:

Central—		Cathedral—
Scrivens	f...(capt.)	Monahan
Karon	f	McNamara
Moore	c	Hart
Solheim, (capt.)	g	Nicholson
Taylor	g	Cole

WOLGAST INJURED AGAIN.

Can't Meet Leach Cross Friday; Johnny Dundee Substitutes.

New York, Feb. 25.—Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, injured his right arm again while training yesterday, and will be unable to meet Leach Cross of this city next Friday night. Johnny Dundee, also of this city, has been substituted.

Wolgast injured his arm in a bout with Freddie Welsh, world's champion, last November.

INVESTIGATING DOPE ON ROWING HEART.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 25.—The question of whether rowing is injurious to college oarsmen, is to be determined by the medical supervisors of Harvard college athletics.

It is announced that X-ray photographs are being taken of the hearts of members of the varsity and freshmen eight-oared crews. These examinations will be continued for years and from the data, medical experts expect to be able to obtain valuable conclusions.

PULFORD OUT AT WINNIPEG

National Board of Arbitration Rules in Northern League Squabble.

Declares Change of Benefit But Owners Must Be Reimbursed.

Auburn, N. Y., Feb. 25.—The national board of arbitration of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues yesterday handed down several important decisions.

In the matter of the Northern league, the board held that the ownership of the Winnipeg franchise is an internal affair, and that, under the conditions recited in the complaint, a change could be made with benefit to the league and to organized baseball in general, providing that the owner be reimbursed for any interest he may have in the playing grounds or the construction thereof, the league having waived all claims to the Winnipeg players.

Awards of important players were also included in the decisions. Charles Hasson, claimed by Minneapolis and Greensboro, N. C., is awarded to Greensboro; W. A. Meyers is awarded to Winona, Minn.; Mike Sampson, to Grand Forks, N. D., and E. Barth, to Seattle.

Claims disallowed: M. E. Reams against Aberdeen, Wash.; George H. Dunlop against Cleveland Association; Harry B. Trekell against Denver; Larry Pape against Portland, Or.; Racine, Wis., against Memphis, Tenn., in re Besse.

DEFI HURLED AT C. CUTLER

Young Nebraska Farmer Offers to Wrestle Chicagoan for $1,000.

Charley Cutler has formally claimed the world's heavyweight wrestling championship. On top of this claim by the former Bemidji boy comes a challenge from Joe Stetcher, the sensational young farmer boy, who has been silently working under the tutelage of no less a personage than Frank A. Gotch, for a finish contest for $1,000 a side—real money.

Last night Tilt Lewis received a wire from Lincoln, Neb., asking him if he would make a bid for such a contest, The Duluth promoter has taken the matter under consideration.

Stetcher is the young wonder who has been every man brought out to Nebraska to ring in on the supposedly green farmer boys. Such men as Marin Plestina were taken out to the prairie places to clean the young mat wonder, and it is sufficient to state that Plestina and others came home defeated.

Most of the followers of the mat game believe that Cutler is the greatest wrestler this country has produced since Gotch was in the heyday of his sensational and wonderful mat career. Cutler has everything that goes to make up a great grappler. The former Minnesota man has weight, remarkable speed and is versed in the fine points of the game. The winter Charley worked every afternoon with the late Yussiff Mahmout made him a great wrestler in all that the word implies.

Yet the followers of young Stetcher are willing to back the farmer liberally to win. If the former Minnesota farmer boy whom Frank Gotch has declared is a wonder, is good enough to warrant his friends backing him against Cutler, then he must have created some impression down in the prairie country of Nebraska.

Cutler showed the night before last in Lexington, Ky., that he is wrestling in grand form, when he defeated in two straight falls, Lemeine, a Bohemian, who has been touted as a wonder. Charley won easily and in comparatively short time.

Whether Cutler is willing to wager $1,000 against the young farmer, who has been touted as a second Frank Gotch, remains a matter to be decided by Cutler himself.

LOSES FRANCHISE.

Jersey City Club in International Fails to Meet Obligations.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 25.—The Jersey City baseball franchise in the International league has been declared forfeited by President Barrow of the league, according to a telegram received from him by the Providence club.

The franchise was forfeited, Mr. Barrow said, because of the failure of the Jersey City club management to meet obligations. A new franchise, he added, would be awarded to a stock company now being formed in Jersey City.

FAST UNIVERSALS WIN FROM THE HILLTOP SEVEN

Flour Makers Defeat Studes By Decisive Score of 8 to 1.

The Three Leaders in the Amateur League Race Are Bunched.

Team Standing.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Northerns	6	1	.833
Big Duluths	4	2	.666
Universals	4	2	.666
Two Harbors	3	3	.500
Centrals	1	4	.200
Bagleys	0	5	.000

Central high school was the stepping stone on which the crack Universal Hockey team last evening climbed to a higher position in the Duluth Amateur Hockey league race. The Universals defeated the hilltoppers by the cleancut and decisive score of 8 to 1 and are now tied with the Big Duluths for second place.

Woods of the Universals scored the first goal of the contest in the shortest time that a goal has ever been scored in a league game in years. In just five seconds after the bell sent the two teams off on their grind the little rover received the puck from the faceoff and skated through the Central players and shot a cage unassisted.

"Beany" Brown took the rubber down the side ice before the lapse of the first eight minutes of play, and passing the puck over to Wharton near the enemy's goal, Jimmy slammed her in for the second score of the evening.

From this point on till the end of the first half the students came back and played a corking game. The battle was nip and tuck. Central made some dashes into the scoring zone of the enemy, but the defense and checking of the flour makers generally prevented a clear shot at goal.

Universals Start Again.

Right after the opening of the second half the flour men started again. A rebound from some painful portion of the anatomy of Paine bounded to Brown and that player lost not the least time in shooting the rubber in.

Right after this Curly Harris got another rebound in a spirited scrimmage in front of the Central net and smashed the rubber past Paine.

Parsons scored the only cage for the studes by taking a neat pass from Gunderson and shooting the rubber past Mahan. Gunderson made a pretty rush up the ice, dodging two of the defense men and displaying some clever stick handling.

Asher Taylor, the "handsome young banker," scored the next goal from a hot melee in front of the student's goal. Brown followed with another goal from scrimmage. On the next score Bartlett took the puck down the entire length of the ice and made a pretty pass to Taylor just in front of the net. Taylor shooting the rubber past Paine. It was a large evening for Taylor. The speed boys scored the final goal of the evening from scrimmage, making three goals for the evening.

Winners Show Class.

In the contest of last evening the Universals showed some of the best hockey of the season. The team work of the winners was the equal of anything that has been cut loose this season in the league, while the defense of the flour men was impregnable.

While the score would indicate a one-sided contest, there were bright stretches in the game when the students rallied and made the winners travel at some dizzy pace to hold their opponents.

As a result of the victory of the Universals the race in the amateur league has developed into a thing of beauty. The Northerns hold a tenuous lead, but both the Big Duluths and Universals are on the heels of the hardware men.

The playing of the Universals in the last two starts has been such as to lead some of the followers of the league to predict a great windup of the race upon the part of the Harris outfit.

Early in the season the Universals failed to get together and failed by some good measure to display the playing qualities looked for by followers of the team's past record. With the Northerns going at a dizzy pace and the Universals coming to the front with a rush, the finish of the league promises to be nearly as exciting as the finish of last year.

While the Bagleys and Centrals look to be hopelessly out of the running, there are four teams in the hunt for the oriflamme. The Two Harbors team has several postponed games to play. If the railroad gang can stage some of the fluffy stuff that La Fleur's men showed at the start of the season, there may be four teams bunched at the windup.

It is a great little race—one that has the followers of the play looking forward to the result of every game. With some good weather to fight out the remainder of the schedule, the lovers of the sport are due to see some fine exhibitions.

The lineup and summary:

Universals—		—Centrals.
Woods, Harris	c	Parsons (capt.)

FIGHT FOR FRANCHISE.

Kansas City Federal Club Officials Will Not Surrender.

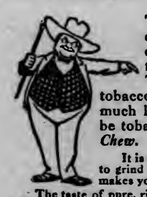

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 25.—D. J. Haff, a director of the Kansas City Federal league club and Solon T. Gilmore, the club attorney, left here last night for Chicago, where, they said, they will confer with President Gilmore before going to Buffalo, where

THE GOOD JUDGE CAUTIONS THE ANGRY DEACON.

GETTING the fine, satisfying comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew themselves, your "Right-Cut" users let no grass grow under their feet while they are passing the good word along to all their friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

The two local men asserted that they would make every effort at the Buffalo meeting to have the franchise, recently sold to F. T. Powers of New York, retained in Kansas City. If necessary, it was asserted, the local organization will carry the matter to the courts.

New York, Feb. 25.—Official announcement that the Kansas City team of the Federal league will be transferred to Newark, N. J., is made today by F. T. Powers and Harry F. Sinclair, who recently purchased the franchise.

RACE MEETING DATES HAVE BEEN AGREED ON.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 25.—Representatives of the five cities in the Minnesota-Dakota racing circuit met here elected C. A. Nash of Fargo president and Don V. Moore of Grand Forks, secretary and fixed the following dates for the race meets:

Cooperstown, N. D., June 29 and 30, July 1 and 2.

Valley City, N. D., July 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Crookston, Minn., July 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24.

Fargo, N. D., July 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31.

Rifle Shooting Record.

Washington, Feb. 25.—A world's record for rifle shooting was made last week by the Cleveland team, which scored 1,000 out of a possible 1,000 in the ninth match of the inter-club championship tournament. The five marksmen put 100 shots into a bullseye the size of a 10-cent piece at a distance of seventy-five feet with 22-caliber rifles.

UP TO PULFORD TO MAKE GOOD HIS THREATS OR WITHDRAW

BY BRUCE.

A. H. Pulford, former Northern league magnate, has been making various threats and various noises about various intentions. It is all simmered down to a show upon the part of the former leader of Northern league baseball in Winnipeg.

If Mr. Pulford, as he has oft threatened, is going to hale his case into the civil courts of the dominion, the fans around the circuit would like to see him either go through or retire gracefully from the scene. Let Mr. Pulford make good his oft repeated threats—or let Mr. Pulford retire and let Brother Webb have the center of the stage, is the average fan's attitude.

It was rich picking for Pulford. Because it was rich picking covetous eyes were cast upon the holdings of the ousted one. The league was engineered to oust Pulford and the auctioneer got his where the Thanksgiving turkey lawont to feel the keen edge of the sharpened ax.

That is an old story. Why the Northern league was organized on a year-to-year basis, after the blunder of making John Burmeister president for three years, has been threshed over times innumerable in the various newspapers of the circuit.

No one blames a man for fighting for what he believes are his rights; for a rich holding, considering holdings in the classification of leagues of the size of the Northern. Now that the arbitration board has ruled that Pulford is on the outside looking in—it is time for Pulford to make good his threats or retire and permit harmony and sweet and chastened peace to descend like a mantle upon the doings of the league.

Pulford charges that magnates of the league went out with deliberate attempt to grab his holdings. However the game as it is played has gone against A. H. Pulford.

Spring and the rains are approaching. Baseball time is coming. It is time that the Northern league settled to harmony and baseball fragrance, and apparently Pulford and the harmony thing have nothing in common.

WILL FIGHT IN HAVANA

Jack Johnson Quits Attempt to Reach Juarez to Meet Willard.

Championship Battle May Be Staged in Cuban Capital in April.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 25.—Tom Flanagan, who trained Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, for the fight with James Jeffries at Reno, announced that he had received a cablegram from Johnson at Havana, in which Johnson said he had called off the fight with Jess Willard, set for March 6, at Juarez and that the fight would occur in Havana.

"Will fight Willard here. Fight will draw as much as Jeffries-Johnson fight. There is not a chance for me to go to Mexico."

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 25.—It is stated here that there is a strong probability that a fight for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard will be arranged to take place in Havana early in April. Johnson, having made all possible efforts to reach Juarez in time for the proposed fight there March 6, has fully decided to remain in Havana. He expressed confidence yesterday that Willard would consent to come here for the fight.

Johnson appeared last night in an exhibition bout with his sparring partner, and an enormous crowd of spectators witnessed the affair.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 25.—Jack Curley, promoter of the Johnson-Willard bout at Juarez announced that he will leave today for Havana to see Johnson. It was said the trip to Cuba did not mean the transfer of the fight to Havana.

In view of present unsettled conditions, Willard has moderated his training schedule. Nothing further could be learned regarding his reported disagreement with Tom Jones, his manager.

EPSOM OFFICIALS REBUKED BY DUKE

One of England's Greatest Sportsmen Withdraws Race Entries as Result of Patriotic Anger—Track Officials Would Oust Wounded From Club House.

London, Feb. 25.—The duke of Portland, who for thirty years has been one of the leading figures on the English turf, has caused to be canceled all racing entries for the Epsom track, including the Derby for both 1915 and 1916, because of the refusal of the Epsom association to do without the use of its clubhouse for a few days.

This building is now being used as a military hospital and the Epsom association is shortly to hold its regular meeting. When the association permitted the occupancy of its building as a hospital it stipulated that the house be returned to it for its coming conferences.

In a letter of protest to the committee, the duke wrote:

"Surely for one year the few followers of racing should be only too glad to forego their luncheons if by so doing it becomes unnecessary to disturb British soldiers who have been wounded for the sake of their country."

The committee yielded partially and said they would require only one floor of the building during race week. But this did not satisfy the duke of Portland and he caused the withdrawal of all entries.

PLAYER JUMPS BACK.

Austin, Signed With Pittfeds, Returns to St. Louis Browns.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 25.—James Austin, third baseman, who signed a three-year contract with the Pittsburg Federal league club a few months ago, today announced that he would play with the St. Louis Americans this year.

Austin, who played with the St. Louis Americans last season, arrived here this morning and said he would go with the St. Louis team to the spring training quarters at Houston, Tex., next Saturday. He would not say whether any inducements were offered him to come back to the American team.

It was learned from an authoritative source that several weeks ago Austin wrote to President Hedges of the St. Louis team indicating that he desired to rejoin the American league players.

LOSES PIECES OF BONE—HAPPY NOW

In Avery, Texas, lives Ira Davis, who suffered for years with a chronic sore on his foot which doctors advised would never heal without scraping the bone. Mr. Davis states that one box of Allen's Ulcerine Salve drew out several pieces of bone and lots of pus, and the sore healed up completely.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 has been known as the only salve powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful it often heals burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and draws out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. Sold by The Spencer Pharmacy Co. and other leading druggists.

MANY HOCKEY GAMES ON AMATEUR SCHEDULE

It will require some real hustling upon the part of the officials of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league to complete the schedule before warm weather sets in. As the schedule stands at the present time, three double-headers a week will be played up to March 5. This will leave about five postponed games to be played off. As the race right now is very close, it is expected that there may be a playoff for the title at the end of the season.

MOOSE JAW PLAYER OFFERED MANAGERSHIP.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 25.—Patrick Flaherty will not manage the Grand Forks Baseball club. He will play in right field again, however, having already signed a 1915 contract.

Director A. J. Kavanaugh sent a contract to the manager of the Moose Jaw club, which last year finished in second place in the Western Canadian league. Mr. Kavanaugh hopes to land this man as manager.

Fox asks too much money to lead the local club, and consequently Mr. Kavanaugh has given up all attempts to secure him.

The Moose Jaw man has been highly recommended. Dugdale, owner of the Seattle team, informed Mr. Kavanaugh that he is one of the fastest men that ever played in the Pacific coast league.

Brother Meets Brother.

New York, Feb. 25.—J. C. Waterbury won his match from William Post of Tuxedo in the second round of the national amateur championship tournament at the Racquet and Tennis club yesterday. He will meet his brother, Lawrence Waterbury, holder of the title in one of the semi-final matches today.

No Davis Challenge.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 25.—At the annual meeting of the National Lawn Tennis association held here yesterday it was decided that on account of the war and the absence of several prominent players, there would be no challenge for the Davis cup this year, and the dates for the Canadian championships were left for future consideration.

Rube Trains With Giants.

New York, Feb. 25.—Richard (Rube) Marquard, who jumped to the Brooklyn Federals early in the winter, will leave for the Marlin, Texas, training camp of the New York Nationals with others of the team today, according to a list of players given out last night by Secretary John B. Foster of the club.

Comiskey Sick.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 25.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, is confined to his room in a hotel here suffering from a severe attack of stomach trouble.

Cline Defeats Taylor.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Harry Cline defeated Al Taylor 300 to 265 in a Billiard Players' league game here last night. Averages and high runs: Cline, 15; 100; Taylor, 13, 18, 19; 57.

Wins Track Meet.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—The University of Chicago track team last night defeated Northwestern university, 58 5-6 points to 32 1-16 in the Patten gymnasium at Evenston.

HICKEN'S SON MAY BE WARBA'S MAYOR

Report of His Nomination Comes as Surprise to His Father.

W. P. Hicken of Warba, Minn., son of Commissioner Hicken, is a real "chip o' the old block."

At a caucus of the voters in the little village held Tuesday evening, the younger Hicken was nominated for mayor, and indications are that he will be elected, as the slate selected at the special gathering was given the unanimous support of those present.

Commissioner Hicken was very much surprised on receiving word yesterday of the nomination and said that he had no knowledge his son had entered politics. Whether his son's policies are like his own, he would not say.

The election at Warba will be held March 9 and the slate selected at the caucus Tuesday night follows:

Mayor, W. P. Hicken; trustees, H. G. Carlson, E. E. Clinite and Fred Martin; recorder, E. M. Westurn; treasurer, E. E. Dahl; assessor, John Muzzy; constables, Albert Erlandson and B. Marshall, and justice of the peace, Swan Carlson.

PROBLEMS ARE MOST SERIOUS

These Are Critical Days for United States, Says Counsellor.

Liability of Error Makes Path of Neutrality Rough and Uncertain.

New York, Feb. 25.—Robert Lansing, counsellor for the state department, in a speech before 700 alumni of Amherst college at their annual banquet here last night declared that these were critical days for the United States, "how critical only those who are in intimate touch with affairs can realize."

The European war, he said, had raised a series of problems which had never before been solved, "and the liability of error, the danger of unintentional partiality and the constant complaint of one or another of the belligerents makes the path of neutrality rough and uncertain."

Mr. Lansing expressed disapproval of the suggestion that diplomatic officers be placed under civil service rule, and defended President Wilson and Secretary Bryan against criticism that they failed to retain diplomats who had been named by former administrations. These diplomats could not be expected, he said, to support the foreign policies of the present administration. On men who comprehended and were in sympathy with these policies, and were enthusiastic in carrying them out, the success of the policies depended, he asserted.

Rather Amusing.

"I must say that the emphatic opinions of our former representatives are rather amusing, when one considers that they would never have been appointed under civil service rules," said Mr. Lansing.

"The trouble is that they as well as other advocates of the system start out on wrong premises. Chief of these, I think, is the idea that an ambassador or minister never acts independently, and his only duty is to repeat words put in his mouth by the department of state, that he has no more initiative than a consular officer.

"Successful diplomacy requires today individual initiative and sound judgment, as it always has. It is the man of force, of originality, of personality, who becomes distinguished in the diplomatic service. On men of that character the success of the administration's foreign policies depend. They must also be men who comprehend those policies, who are in hearty sympathy with them and who are enthusiastic and untiring in carrying them out. Now, that goes a good deal beyond merely obeying orders.

Opposed to Tying Hands.

"When it comes to the principal posts abroad, I am strongly opposed to tying the hands of the president in any way. If we had obtained all our ambassadors and ministers by promotion, we would not have had such men at London as E. J. Phelps and Joseph H. Choate, or men like Myron T. Herrick and Brand Whitlock. Such men, inexperienced in diplomatic practice, but equipped with qualities which command respect and achieve success, are the ones who have brought luster to American diplomacy. I feel very strongly the injustice of the criticisms which have been made of the president and Secretary Bryan in regard to their failure to retain in the posts abroad men who were named by former administrations, and who could not be expected to give hearty support to policies with which they had no sympathy.

"Diplomacy today is wrestling with novel problems, to which it must apply natural justice and practical common sense. Neutral nations have to meet a series of problems which have never been solved. The liability of error, the danger of unintentional partiality, and the constant complaint of one or another of the belligerents make the path of neutrality rough and uncertain.

"Things have to be done, not studied these days. The motto, 'Do it now,' is not a piece of advice in the department of state; it is a command. A question which is a week old is ancient history. Considering the customary slow and dignified ways of diplomacy this 'touch and go' method of doing business was a decided innovation and compelled a radical change in the machinery through which our foreign affairs are conducted.

Critical Days.

"These are critical days for our country; how critical only those who are in intimate touch with affairs can fully realize. It is time for serious thought, a time of anxiety.

"Today, when nations are swayed with unreasonable passion, when prejudice blinds them when they 'see red,' when they misjudge their friends as well as their foes, is the time for us to avoid harsh judgment, to preserve calmness in dealing with them and to curb the natural resentment which arises when our acts are misinterpreted and we are charged with wrong motives and purposes."

American citizens, he concluded, could not be too thankful that they had a president "whom we can trust to deal with the momentous and difficult problems of the hour with wisdom, justice and patience, having equal regard for all and favor toward none, unInfluenced by popular clamor, unswerving in his determination to maintain the strict neutrality which this government has preserved throughout the war."

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drugstore. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

M. R. writes: "I have suffered with dyspepsia, or nervous indigestion, more or less for 8 years, and I want you to prescribe treatment for me; my symptoms are the usual ones, such as pain and distress after eating, sour stomach, headache, heartburn, and pain in regions of heart, or between shoulders, constipation, or sometimes diarrhea, coated tongue, bad breath and a score more. Am miserable, in a word.

Answer: Your case is chronic, but by careful diet and the regular use of an aid and tonic you should soon recover a normal state. Obtain a packet of "double-four stomach and bowel medicine" of a druggist. With it are directions. This is the newest and best treatment I know of.

C. J. R. asks: "Can I safely reduce my weight, and how?"

Answer: Go to a well-stocked druggist and get five-grain arbolone tablets in sealed tube with complete directions. Take as directed, and you should soon feel the relief you desire. Many of my patients report quick results without any harmful action whatever.

Ellen J. asks. "Tell me, please, how I can increase my weight and improve my color. I seem to be aenemic, weak and tired all the time."

Answer: Begin taking three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets with your meals and soon you will feel your strength returning and gradually your weight and color will improve. This is a most effective remedy if persistently used.

J. W. W. asks: "Can you prescribe a rellable treatment to get rid of dandruff, itching and feverish scalp?"

Answer: I know you can get instant relief and permanent results by using plain yellow minyol as per directions which accompany each 4-oz. jar.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps, so I write to you."

Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. The following regularly used will oust any curable cough or cold promptly: Obtain a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentho-laxene, mix it with a home-made sugar syrup or honey as per directions on bottle.

Miss "Stranger" asks: "I am in a weakened condition due to a long siege of catarrhal trouble. Briefly I have Pelvic Catarrh (leucorrhea) and catarrh of the nose and throat. What local treatment is good for a cure?"

Answer: I am quite sure that antiseptic Vilane Power is the most prompt and effective treatment that one can possibly use. Full directions accompany either a two or eight ounce package. Do not neglect catarrhal trouble. Advertisement.

Mrs. Belle C. writes: "I am informed that I have kidney trouble and that it is fast approaching a serious stage. What would you prescribe?"

Answer: If your symptoms are the usual ones, such as puffs under the eyes, swelling ankles, scant, copious or foul-smelling urine, accompanied by headaches, pains, depression, fever, chills, etc., I would advise the immediate use of halmwort tablets, a very fine remedy for such difficulties, sold in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration.

James J. asks: "For several months I have not been feeling well. My skin is sallow, my tongue is coated, have headache, am sleepless, nervous and bothered with chronic constipation. Please help me."

Answer: You need a laxative blood cleansing treatment in the form of three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). Overcome the tendency to constipation and gradually your good health and pure blood will return.

"Poor Nerves" writes: "Is it possible to find a medicine which by its tonic or nutritive powers will bring the glow of health and ambition back to a man who has everything in the world but health and happiness? I am dull, forgetful, despondent, weak, trembling, short of breath and suffer more or less with pain in spine and back of head."

Answer: Your condition indicates the need of a strong, harmless tonic nutritive to restore nerve equilibrium, which in turn fortifies and strengthens the organs of nutrition, thus vitalizing the blood and promoting new cell and tissue to take care of the waste forces. Three-grain cadonene tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions, are recommended in all such cases.

"D. E. G." writes: "My rheumatism is getting worse all the time. I am getting so stiff that it makes it very hard for me to get around."

Answer: Do not worry about your rheumatism, as that can be very easily controlled by using the following: Get at the drugstore the ingredients named mix thoroughly and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again at bedtime and you should soon be entirely relieved of that disagreeable disease, rheumatism. Purchase 2 drams of iodide of potassium; ½ oz. of wine of colchicum; 4 drams of sodium salicylate; 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort; 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla. This has satisfied thousands and I am sure it will you.

GOVERNOR FIFIELD'S WILL.

Leaves Bulk of Estate to Adopted Daughter, Brother and Brother-in-Law

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 25.—The will of former Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Fifield of this city just offered for probate leaves the bulk of his estate to his adopted daughter, Lillian Payne, to his brother, H. O. Fifield and his brother-in-law, Horace Grimes. George F. Merrill, Lucius K. Baker and H. C. Grimes, all of Ashland, are appointed executors. A number of legacies are made and the will contains this proviso:

"In case my estate shall not be sufficient to pay the above legacies the same shall be paid prorata, each receiving the same per cent of their legacies."

The proviso for relatives is one-fourth to his adopted daughter, a like amount to his brother and his brother-in-law, the balance being used by the executors in paying debts and expenses of sickness and funeral. The amount of the estate is not given.

MOOSE LAKERS PLEAD GUILTY

Three Saloon Keepers Admit Selling Liquor in Territory Voted Dry.

Are Fined $50 Each and Costs, Jail Sentence Being Suspended.

Carlton, Minn., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The final curtain was rung down on the "Moose Lake Liquor Case" yesterday when Joseph King, H. K. Lower and M. Herschler appeared before Judge Dancer with their attorney, C. J. Dodge, and entered pleas of guilty to the charge of selling liquor in their saloons last April after the village had been voted dry. The three men were indicted by the grand jury at the present term of court.

Get Off With Fines.

The court accepted the pleas and imposed a fine of $50 and costs upon each, amounting in all to $69.90, and a jail sentence of thirty days. The jail sentence was suspended.

This closes the most interesting chapter in the history of the "wets and drys" of Carlton county. The case was the outgrowth of the 1914 spring election in Moose Lake township in which the village of Moose Lake is located. The residents of the village voted with the town people on the question of license, and, in order to eliminate certain saloons operating in the township outside the village the township was voted dry by a big majority of village citizens' votes, both elements of the village uniting to make the township dry.

Holds Village Is Dry.

County Attorney H. S. Lord decided that the village was part of the township, insofar as the liquor question was concerned, and when the law went into effect it covered all territory in which voters participated in the ballot. The district court ruled against him and the saloons were allowed to continue business but he carried the case to the supreme court and the decision was reversed and Moose Lake went dry.

Last fall an election was called for the purpose of separating the village from the township, so that the village would be privileged to manage its own saloon affairs but this proposition was voted down by a decisive majority and Moose Lake is still on the dry list.

GRAND MARAIS, MICH., SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

Five Large Business Structures Destroyed in Village's Worst Fire.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 25.—Word has been received here that Grand Marais, Mich., sustained a disastrous fire Sunday when five of the largest buildings were destroyed by a fire originating in the saloon of David Thomas, presumably from defective wiring. It was the worst fire in the history of the village several thousand dollars damage resulting before the progress of the flames was checked.

From the saloon building in which it started the fire spread on the south side to the office building occupied by Dr. T. M. Cady, and owned by J. D. O'Brien, which was entirely consumed. O'Brien hall, a large two-story structure adjoining the office building, was the next building to go. It made a hot blaze and was a heap of smouldering ruins in a short time. The hall was used for most of the public gatherings in the town.

Masonic Hall Burns.

The Masonic hall, next to O'Brien's hall, and one of the best buildings in the town, occupied by a number of tenants, was the last structure to be burned on the south. The lower floor of the building housed the Grand Marais club during the prosperous days of the village and was at that time the social center. The building was owned by the Masonic lodge, which occupied the second floor. The residence of J. F. Chisholm, next to the Masonic hall, was saved after a hard fight by the volunteer firemen.

From the Thomas saloon, where the fire originated, to the north it swept Beaulieus' livery and feed stable, and partially destroyed the Calmus building adjoining, where its progress was halted. All horses were safely removed from the stable, but a large amount of feed was practically all destroyed.

The stage line operating between Grand Marais and Seney had quarters for its equipment at the stable, and its owners suffered a loss of six months' feed that was in storage.

STATE DAIRY MEETING.

Annual Gathering of North Dakota Association on at Minot.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 25.—The Twenty-first annual session of the North Dakota State Dairymen's association which opened here Tuesday with a large attendance is winding up its business today.

Men prominent in dairy matters including Charles L. Hill, dairy expert, Rosedal, Wis., are taking part in the proceedings. The addresses scheduled for today follow:

"Creamery Needs of North Dakota," ... Miller, state dairy commissioner, Bismarck.

"Creamery Buttermaking," J. R. Keithley, professor of dairying agricultural college, N. D.

"Feeding Dairy Stock," C. Larson, associate editor, Dakota Farmer and professor dairy husbandry, Brookings, S. D.

"Possibilities of North Dakota as a Dairy State," T. A. Hoverstad, agricultural commissioner, Soo Railway company.

WINDING UP MEETING.

North Dakota Lumbermen Concluding Gathering at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The best attended meeting ever held by the North Dakota Lumbermen's association will end here tonight. The membership has increased since last year and there is a splendid representation here. One of the features of the meeting will be the banquet tonight given the dealers by the traveling men. It will be an elaborate affair and a number of well known speakers will respond to toasts.

Secretary Hardy of the Fargo Commercial club was the speaker this morning. Following his address there were a number of trade talks by members of the organization and the standing committees reported.

Frank B. Stockdale of Chicago was the afternoon speaker and his address resulted in considerable discussion. There was considerable routine business transacted after his address and the regular work of the convention will conclude late this afternoon with the annual election of officers.

HEARS DARNELL CASE.

Evidence Against Marrying Parson Presented to Milwaukee Grand Jury.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—Inquiry into the case of Rev. James M. Darnell, who was arrested in Chicago last week on a charge of violating the Mann act, was completed by the Federal grand jury last yesterday afternoon after the taking of testimony of three witnesses who were subpoenaed to appear before that body.

Ruth Soper, Owatonna, Minn., Doris Vaughn and Louise Jansf, the last two of Chicago, were the only witnesses to offer testimony.

A large number of persons visited the Federal building during the day hoping to see or hear the witnesses to the case, but most of them were disappointed.

The proceedings being secret nothing could be learned as to what transpired within the closed doors.

As the jury has numerous other cases to consider, it may be several days before bills are reported to the court.

TO WIND UP AFFAIRS.

Proceedings Involving Rush City Creamery Before Court.

Rush City, Minn., Feb. 25.—A hearing was held before Judge P. J. Stolberg in district court at Stillwater Tuesday on a petition to wind up the affairs and appoint a receiver for the Laurentia Creamery of Rush City. Orr, Stark and Collett represented the petitioners that included W. C. Hopps, C. M. Peters, E. D. Kinney and E. S. Mungoland. Representing other stockholders and creditors were J. R. Markham, Rush City; Alfred Stolberg, T. F. Kain and Mr. Murphy, St. Paul attorneys.

The creamery has been in operation a year and using a new process. It is alleged that it has $75,000 capital stock, of which $48,500 is paid in, and that there are $25,675.99 debts.

The minority stockholders and some of the creditors opposed appointing a receiver at this time and wanted an investigation by the attorney general. It was claimed that the petitioners did not represent a majority of the stockholders. Judge Stolberg has taken the matter under advisement.

FAVORS PROHIBITION.

South Dakota Lawmakers Also Enacting Woman Suffrage Amendment.

Pierre, S. D., Feb. 25.—A resolution for state-wide prohibition was passed yesterday by the senate of the South Dakota legislature.

The resolution calls for the submission of the question to a vote of the people at the next general election. The house is conceded to be in favor of the amendment.

The house passed a resolution for constitutional equal suffrage 57 to 37. If the senate acquiesces, the question will go to a vote at the next election.

MICHIGAN TRAPPER TAKES VALUABLE FOX.

Pentoga, Mich., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Lotterman made one catch in a trap that will repay him for his season's work in the woods. Near the Pine river he found one of the traps contained a silver gray fox. These hides are valued at from $200 to $1,500.

Sears' Inheritance Tax.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 25.—Attorney General Smith says that the state will get about $100,009 inheritance tax from the estate of Richard Sears, who died recently. The estate totals about $12,000,000 and as Mr. Sears conducted a mail order house here before going to Chicago and as he owned stock in Minneapolis banks and a large amount of bonds in Minnesota cities, Minnesota will get a portion of the tax. Mr. Sears had about $4,000,000 in city bonds.

FARGO CANDIDATES.

Several Seeking Nomination on the City Commission.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo city commission jobs appear in demand. The terms of Waterworks Commissioner Blakemore and Police Commissioner Jordan expire this spring. Both are candidates for re-election and they have plenty of opposition. H. C. Plumley, retiring postmaster, and a resident of Fargo for more than a third of a century, J. H. Dahl, a local insurance man, Wayne Eddy, a young business man, and T. H. Moore, an attorney, are already in the field.

NORTH DAKOTAN FATALLY BURNED.

Hampden, N. D., Feb. 25.—Mrs. W. Welcome of this city died at a hospital in Devils Lake Tuesday, as the result of burns sustained Sunday night when a gasoline lamp exploded at her residence.

The house was completely destroyed by the blaze. Two of Mrs. Welcome's sons were also badly burned, and George Graham, a neighbor, who assisted in removing Mrs. Felcome from the burning house, may lose the sight of his right eye as the result of burns.

ALL INJURED IN WRECK WILL LIVE.

Albert Lea, Minn., Feb. 25.—Five of the victims of the Milwaukee train collision Tuesday night three miles west of here, between passenger train No. 23 and a freight train, are at a hospital here.

Hiram Wells of Austin, brakeman on the freight, who suffered a fractured skull, and David Jones of Austin, engineer on the freight, was was internally injured, are in a serious condition, but physicians believe they will survive.

BRIDGE APPROACH BIDS ARE OPENED.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Feb. 25.—The city council met in special session Tuesday night to open bids for the construction of the approach to the De Mers avenue bridge and for repairs to the same, made necessary as the result of the recent fire.

Jardine & Anderson of Fargo were the lowest bidders, their estimate being $13,771. Other bidders were as follows: M. A. Adams & Co., Minneapolis, $14,397; Great Northern Bridge company, Minneapolis, $13,878; Iowa Bridge company, Minneapolis, $14,000.

ENDS INSOMNIA BY BLOWING OFF HEAD.

Westhope, N. D., Feb. 25.—Despondent and unable to sleep George Alt committed suicide by blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. Alt had been caring for the McIntosh farm this winter while the owner was in the East and was found in the yard dead by a neighbor who went to the farm to assist in some work.

Holstein Breeders Elect.

Glenwood City, Wis., Feb. 25.—The Northern Dunn and St. Croix County Holstein Breeders' association, at its annual meeting in Glenwood City elected as president, D. C. Collidge of Downing; vice president, S. S. Sievertson, Colfax; secretary, S. B. Peck, Boyceville and treasurer, E. H. Radtke, Downing.

Indian Murderer Freed.

Aberdeen, S. D., Feb. 25.—W. G. Porter has won a fight he had been conducting for five years to secure the release from prison of Francis Van Moore, a Sioux Indian, who was sentenced on July 3, 1900, to the state penitentiary for life for the murder, in Stanley county, of Susan Tincup, an Indian woman.

Ice Leaving Mississippi.

Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 25.—During the mild weather of the past week, the main channel of the river at Diamond Bluff has been free of ice and one or two old scows were pressed into service by a party of boys in the village who, just for the novelty of it, pulled the first oar of the 1915 season of navigation.

The river is rising rapidly and the ice has been pushed out of the main channel and in between the dams in that vicinity.

Robbed Third Time.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 25.—The Frank Henkmeyer general store at Clear Lake was robbed Tuesday night for the third time in as many months. The robbers were evidently frightened away while at work, for merchandise was found scattered near the door of the building. About $50 worth of goods were taken.

Winona Strikers Return.

Winona, Minn., Feb. 25.—The strike at the plant of the Winona Carriage company has ben ended by the men going back to work at the terms offered by the company, a 10-per-cent reduction in wages and an increase in the working day from eight to ten hours. The men remained out just a week. Under the new wage schedule they will make a little more money than formerly, but will have to work two hours longer a day to do it.

Ontario Timber Deal.

Fort Frances, Ont., Feb. 25.—An important lumber deal was closed here a few days ago when Supt. Noel of the Northern Construction company sold the entire stock of lumber on hand in the yards here to Messrs. Fullerton and Krugar of Minneapolis. The amount of lumber disposed of was over 9,000,000 feet, making the largest sale of timber that has ever been carried out so far as this district is concerned.

This completely cleans up the yards and stock of the company here.

Montana Auto Victim.

Dillon, Mont., Feb. 25.—Fred Vance, aged 35, a storekeeper of Southern Montana, was hurled from an automobile with two companions when the machine crashed into an embankment, and instantly killed. His companions, young women, were badly bruised.

Dumplings

For Soups, Stews and Fricasseed Chicken

Left overs of roast lamb, veal or beef, the cheaper cuts of fresh meats, and fowls too old for roasting, make delicious and nourishing stews. K C Dumplings make them doubly attractive and the whole dish is most economical—an object to most families while meats are so high and must be made to go as far as possible.

K C Dumplings

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, the well known baking expert.

2 cups flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful salt; 1 cup shortening; milk or cream.

Sift together three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; into this work the shortening and use cream or milk to make a dough less stiff than for biscuits.

Allow the stew to boil down so that the liquid does not cover the meat or chicken. Add half a cup of cold water to stop its boiling and drop the dough in large spoonfuls on top of the meat or chicken. Cover and let boil again for 15 minutes.

Made with K C Baking Powder and steamed in this way, dumplings are as light as biscuits and are delicious with thickened gravy.

This recipe is adapted from one for Chicken Pot Pie in "The Cook's Book" by Janet McKenzie Hill, editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine. The book contains 90 excellent recipes for things that are good to eat and that help reduce the cost of living.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Dickinson—The 5-year-old daughter of Thomas Montambo of Pentoga, Iron county, narrowly escaped being scalded to death when she fell backwards into a boiler filled with hot water that had just been taken off the stove. Mr. Montambo was standing near and jerked her out. He stripped her of her clothing before the boiling water fully penetrated it, but her back was badly blistered.

Wells—Crossing the Escanaba & Lake Superior railway tracks here, John O'Dell, a workman at the I. Stephenson mills, was run down by a freight train and instantly killed. His body was mangled. O'Dell had been employed by the I. Stephenson company for the last fifteen years as a machinist and had taken the same route to his work during all that time.

Ishpeming—Mrs. Julia Decaire, who had been a resident of Ishpeming for years, died Feb. 23 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Ayotte. She was 81 years of age. The surviving members of the family are three sons, Michael and Leo Decaire of this city, and Joseph of Chassell, and five daughters.

Ishpeming—Charles Thal of Negaunee won the first prize in the professional class at the ski tournament Feb. 23, with 296½ points to his credit. Thal also made the longest standing jump, 138 feet, which is only eight feet less than the hill record.

Marquette—Max Klar, formerly of Marquette and now of Holmlinden, Germany, has been appointed chemical engineer of the Henke & Baertling works of that city to succeed Fritz Baertling, one of the partners of the firm, who died recently. Mr. Klar was formerly chemist at the Pioneer Iron company.

Calumet—Isadore Ethier of Tamarack, aged 56 years, died Feb. 23. Mr. Ethier was a native of Canada and came here about thirty-five years ago. He had been a resident of Calumet almost continuously since that time. Besides his widow, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Harry Ashton, and two sons, Albert of Superior, Wis., and Edmund of Calumet.

Hancock—On complaint of W. H. Koivapalo, a neighbor, Matt Elsilla of the Snake river district, was arrested on a peace warrant and arraigned before Justice Eichkern of Hancock. Elsilla was required to furnish a bond of $500 to keep the peace for a period of six months.

Houghton—Oskar farmers, to the number of forty, met in the Oskar school and preliminary steps toward the organization of a cow testing association were taken. Final action will be taken next week when County Agriculturalist Geismar will submit a constitution and set of by-laws.

Hancock—The pupils of the Franklin school will give a patriotic and literary program at Quincy hall next Saturday evening, Feb. 27.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Portage—Archbishop Messmer has appointed the Rev. J. Nicolas of Elkhorn to the pastorate of St. Mary's church, Portage. The Rev. J. J. Morrissey of Portage takes the pastorate of St. Patrick's church at Milwaukee and the Rev. J. Condon succeeds the Rev. Nicolas at Elkhorn.

Milwaukee—The death of Mrs. Anna Koerner at the county hospital was due to blood poisoning which followed an unlawful operation, self-performed, was the coroner's verdict returned at the inquest into the woman's death.

Neenah—Every effort will be made to make the state convention of the Holstein Breeders' association to be held here on March 3 the biggest ever conducted. On March 2 a banquet will be held at Hotel Neenah. The Rev. John Faville of Appleton will give an address on "The Holstein Cow of Thirty Years Ago."

Fond du Lac—Working among the caskets in his establishment, Undertaker Robert Candish stepped into the wagon he uses for carrying rough boxes and his horse became frightened. Mr. Candish was thrown to the alley pavement and was not found for half an hour. He sustained a fractured rib.

Lima Center—John D. Godfrey, 72 years old, a resident of Lima, died at his home after a short illness. Mr. Godfrey was prominent in promoting the welfare of his town and served on the town board twenty years, fourteen of which he was chairman.

Ashland—Julian Howard died at Ralnier, Or., Feb. 17. Mr. Howard lived here for a number of years, owning the handsome stone dwelling house and ground at Prentice Springs. He was general superintendent for the Nester Lumber company here at that time and w. a well-known lumberman. Previously he was manager of a lumber company at Tower, Minn.

Beloit—Mrs. Edith Stevens bid in the four cats which formerly belonged to Fred Toenges, recent owner of a defunct bank of Rockton, Ill., and which she sold at public auction for a debt of $30, which she declares Toenges owed her.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks—H. O. Oppedahl, editor of one of the leading daily papers of Christiania, Norway, spoke at the bi-weekly dinner of the Commercial club Tuesday evening on "Commercial Relations of Norway and the United States, Past, Present and Future."

Minot—An increase of $13,180.90 in bank clearings last week as against the week previous is reported by the Minot clearings house. Last week's clearings were $159,177.87, while the preceding week they amounted to $145,969.97.

Grand Forks—Lessons from the lives of Washington and Lincoln were drawn by J. F. T. O'Connor in his address at the special meeting held Monday night by the Knights of Columbus. The meeting, which was open to the public, was largely attended.

Devils Lake—President A. L. Johnson of the city commission has gone to Des Moines, Iowa, where he will address a meeting of the Iowa state laundrymen. Mr. Johnson will talk particularly upon the question of express rates.

Tyndall—"Grandma" Reynolds, a pioneer resident of Tyndall and this part of the state, recently celebrated the ninety-fifth anniversary of her birth. She is as hale and hearty as she was ten years ago and apparently her chances are good for living to see the century mark.

Huron—First place in the Kent oratorical contest in the Huron college was won by Clement Thomas, who secured thereby a prize of $25 in gold, a gold "H," and the distinction of representing Huron college in the state contest at Sioux Falls in March.

"Me for 'GETS-IT' When I Have Corns"

Simple As Saying It; Never Fails

It does your heart good to see how easily and quickly any corn comes out when you put "GETS-IT" on! And then when you've gone along for years trying everything, when you've sat up nights wrapping up your toes in bandages, smearing on salves that rub off or swell up the corn, pasting on cotton plasters that make corns pop-eyed, slaughtering your toes with razors, jabbing them with knives and pruning to the quick with scissors—and then you put on 2 drops of "GETS-IT" and see your corn fall right off—why, it just looks like a miracle. Just try it. "GETS-IT" never fails. No pain, no trouble. Use it for any corn, callus, wart or bunion.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Montevideo—The new $150,000 school building here was dedicated on Washington's birthday anniversary. The schools were open all day for visitors and in the afternoon a musical program was presented in the large assembly room by pupils.

St. Cloud—A handicraft exhibit in which the students of public and parochial schools of the city will compete, is to be held March 10 to 20. The exhibit will be divided into school work and home work departments.

Moorhead—One hundred twenty-five school officers of Clay county attended the meeting at the courthouse on Monday; County Supt. S. O. Tang presided and addresses were made by George F. Howard of the state university and Dr. O. J. Hagen of Moorhead.

Brainerd—Henry Hawkin, aged 62, agent of the Northern Pacific railway at Underwood, Minn., died at a local hospital and the remains were sent to his former home.

Sleepy Eye—The temperance forces are organizing a campaign to vote the city "dry" at the election in April. Last spring, the first time the question was voted on here, the "drys" polled approximately 200 votes out of a total of 465, without making a campaign.

Crookston—The local council of Eagles has just initiated another large class. The local aerie is making substantial gains in membership, now being one of the strongest in every respect. At a comparatively early date, arrangements will be completed for a big masked ball, to be given at the new armory auditorium.

Minneapolis—The next annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota will be held here May 18 and 19, and it will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the institution of that organization.

Stillwater—Nels Johnson, who says his true name is Martin Sand, and Nellie Lee, were given sentences by Judge P. H. Stolberg to the state prison. Each pleaded guilty to grand larceny, in stealing clothes at Newport, in the second degree. Their terms will be from one to five years.

Sauk Rapids—Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Miller of Sauk Rapids received a telegram telling of the death of their daughter, Mrs. George Bloxam, which occurred at Spokane, Wash., where she was making her home. Three weeks ago Monday their daughter, Miss Belle, died and the shock of the news of the death of another daughter is a severe blow to the bereaved parents. Deceased was 52 years of age and death was due to dropsy.

Cannon Falls—The annual meeting of the Goodhue County Rural Carriers' association was held here Feb. 23. Twenty-two carriers from Cannon Falls, Kenyon, Zumbrota, Goodhue and Red Wing were present. The following officers were elected: President, T. D. Sward; vice president, E. J. Nelson; secretary and treasurer, E. Perrot. The officers are all from the Zumbrota district. The next convention will be held at Zumbrota on May 30.

Red Wing—Adolph Garlich, father of the late Emma M. Hack, who presented a claim of $6,346.35, against his daughter's estate which he alleged represents moneys loaned in various amounts from time to time and who was allowed but $27, in an order filed by Judge William M. Erickson recently, has, through his attorneys, served notice of appeal to the district court.

Rochester—Rev. I. B. Wood, pastor of the Methodist church, has been invited to preach the university sermon at Hamline college, Sunday, June 6. Mr. Wood is a graduate of the Methodist educational institution.

ENDION CLUB TO MEET.

Ward and Settle Will Speak After Dinner Is Served.

The Endion Men's club of the Endion M. E. church will hold a meeting Friday evening in the church parlors. A home-cooked dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and several speakers will give addresses. "Our City and County Work Farm," will be discussed by Fred Ward, the superintendent of that institution, and he will illustrate his talk with lantern slides. T. S. Settle of New York, who is representing the National Playgrounds Association of America, will speak on the work of that organization.

NO MORE ARRESTS BY GAME WARDEN WOOD.

No further arrests have been made by Game Warden George Wood in the campaign against marketing of undersized lake fish. Three dealers, two wholesale and one retail, were arrested as a result of the first day's investigation.

H. J. Kolling, representing one of the firms charged by the game warden, appeared in municipal court for the Kolling Produce company, 116 West Michigan street. The H. J. Kolling company, a corporation, operating a plant at 130 West Michigan street, was not named in any complaint. The Booth Fisheries company and the M. M. Gasser company also were named.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

25 Cent Bottle of "Danderine" Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful.

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in Few Moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

WHEAT AGAIN TURNS WEAK

Market Sells Off at Close After Showing Strength at Start.

Crushers Good Buyers of Flaxseed and It Firms Up Moderately.

May wheat closed ⅞c off and July 1⅛c off; May durum closed 1¼c off and July 1¼c off.

Oats closed 1c off at 53c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.19@1.20; barley unchanged at from 67 to 76c and corn 2½c at 66⅝c for on the track.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅜c off at 66⅛c asked and July ¾c off at 66c asked.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.41 and calls at $1.49.

Urgent export demand at the seaboard and higher Liverpool cables led to a strong market in wheat around the opening this morning. Quotations were advanced 1c over yesterday's close during the first hour's trading. The working of some further business in No. 1 northern for shipment at the opening of navigation was reported by Duluth houses, and under the good bidding, cash No. 1 northern wheat was advanced here to a premium of 1½c over May. Two days ago it sold at the May price.

The strength in the markets here and at Minneapolis was reported to have checked export trade later on in the morning, and quotations eased off 1½c. Foreign buying then appeared to some extent and a slight upturn was recorded. Weakness in corn and intimations of some re-selling of it by exporters helped along the weakness in wheat. It is intimated that only a small tonnage of No. 1 northern wheat is available for sale in elevators at the Head of the Lakes, the great bulk of it being owned or controlled by two houses. That situation brought about the late firming up in the cash market here.

Export trade was reported at Chicago, Baltimore and New York today. Foreign demand for oats is the feature, sales at Western points during the last two days being estimated at 4,000,000 bu.

In some quarters it is feared that the growing congestion in the ocean freight situation may check shipments. Boston reported that rates there have been advanced 3d ic since Monday. Clearances, however, mounted up again today, being reported at 1,369,000 bu of wheat and flour. Primary receipts on the other hand fell off sharply, amounting to 543,000 bu against 605,000 bu last year.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.51, sold up ½c more, and then eased off to $1.50 around the noon hour. July 600 bu; bonded, 245,000 bu; total flax, 574,000 bu; increase, net, 12,000 bu.

Total all grains, 16,558,000 bu; net increase, 23,000 bu.

Afloat—Corn, 258,000 bu; oats, 334,000 bu.

Clearances reported: Wheat, 1,144,000 bu; flour, 50,000 bbl; together they equal 1,369,000 bu; corn, 9,000 bu; oats, 4,000 bu.

Charles E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "German activities in the naval war zone and the reported bombardment of the Dardanelles along with considerable talk of an export embargo here all tended to create an unsettled feeling which resulted in lower prices. Support was limited on the decline except for little buying by cash houses presumably for export account. Statistical news was favorable to holders, but was generally ignored by the trade.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Develop Decided Strength After Setback at Start.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Decided strength developed in wheat prices today after a temporary sag at the start. Attempts made by leading firms to buy on the decline disclosed the fact that the pit was almost bare of offerings. A rapid advance ensued. The action of the market was in a measure explained by the suspension of United States government risk vessel insurance and by later announcements that the writing of such insurance be resumed but at a doubled rate. Opening prices here which varied from ¼ to ⅞@1c lower were followed by a further setback and then a rise to 1½c above last night's level.

Renewed bombardment of the forts at the Dardanelles led afterward to a sharp reaction in prices. There was also fresh attention to the possibility of congress passing an embargo act. The close was unsettled at 2⅛ to 3⅛@3¼c under last night.

Corn swayed with wheat. Changes, however, were narrow, and trade was confined almost wholly to floor speculators. After opening unchanged to ¼c lower, the market declined a trifle more and then rose above last night's figures.

Subsequently, assertions that dealers at the seaboard were reselling to the west brought about a material downturn. The close was heavy at 1⅞@2 to 2⅛@2¼c net decline.

Chances of a liberal demand from exporters made oats firm from the outset, it was difficult, though, to confirm rumors that several round lots had been sold for ocean shipment.

Higher prices on hogs tended to lift provisions. Gains in pork were nevertheless not well maintained.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS REOCCUPY SADAGORA.

London, Feb. 25.—Russian troops have reinvaded Bukowina and reoccupied Sadagora, on the railroad four miles north of Czernowitz, according to a dispatch received by the Evening News from Mamornitz, in Roumania. The Austrians, the correspondent adds, are pushing up their troops towards Czernowitz to meet this new Russian attack.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Further Improvement and Net Gains By Leading Issues.

Trading Is at Its Dullest in the Final Hour.

New York, Feb. 25.—Stocks showed some hesitation at the opening of today's market, but soon moved upward, many of the representative issues scoring gains of a point or more within the first half hour. United States Steel was readily absorbed at rising quotations and the metal shares also evinced strength while a few specialties, including Mexican Petroleum, advanced materially. The movement was not altogether the one way, however. New Haven and Southern Railway preferred each declining two points to their new minimum of 43. Baltimore & Ohio yielded over a point and Pressed Steel Car preferred broke six points to 92.

Selling was encountered in the early rise and prices in today's stock market shaded fractionally in the second hour, with dealings in steadily diminishing volume. Traders expressed disappointment at the continued absence of public interest, the investment inquiry being at a low ebb. Foreign news threw no light on the European situation, but less was heard of liquidation from that quarter. Numerous inactive issues repeated their recent minimum prices. Mackay preferred fell 2 points to 55, its minimum, and May department stores declined almost 9 points to within easy range of its minimum.

Bonds reflected improvement with less future selling.

Apart from the extension of the advance in Reading and Lehigh Valley, the early afternoon brought no changes of importance. There was scattered selling of bonds for foreign account, Chesapeake & Ohio convertible 4s declining 3¼.

Further improvement was recorded by today's stock market, leading issues showing net gains.

Trading was at its dullest in the final hour, with fractional recessions in Reading, Steel and Canadian Pacific. The closing was firm.

FLAX MARKET IS STAGNANT

Scarcely Any Change in Prices in Last Five Days.

So far as the flax market for the five days ending yesterday is concerned, the best story of it is contained in the figures given in the tables. They tell that there has been no market. The closes for the last three days of last week in cash, on track and May flax were identical, with but slight changes in the other two options, and the closes of Tuesday and yesterday—Monday being a holiday, and therefore there being no market—were also duplicated. Receipts of flax continue to be far in excess of shipments, buying is almost unknown, and yet the market refuses to show much action of any sort.

It is claimed that the reason of this is due to the fact that the crushers have glutted themselves, getting in on every break and at all the low ranges during the last several months. They have plenty of oil on hand, and have filled practically all of their storage capacity with seed. The reason of this fore-handedness on the part of the crushers is said to be because they expect that during the coming crop season the flax crop on this continent will be the shortest in the history of the seed.

War conditions are responsible. With Europe looking toward this hemisphere, and chiefly toward North America, for its grain food supplies, it is pointed out that farmers will most likely sow almost every inch of ground they have to wheat, corn and oats. To make flax pay them as well as the three cereals mentioned as substitutes in their crops, it is believed that it would be necessary during the next year to get as high as $3 a bushel for the seed, and perhaps even higher. Consequently the farmer is going to go after the stuff that will get him the money, on the fortune-making principle to sell what people must have.

Argentina May Benefit.

Provided this condition comes to pass, and provided further that the Argentine flax crop now held up because of freight rates, which are prohibitively high, the South American crop may have an inning next fall, winter and spring, in case industrial activity resumes to any great extent, as is the prediction now. Even with nearly all of the domestic and Canadian crop of this year corralled, activity in manufacturing or anything like the boom predicted for the current year will rapidly reduce the supply of oil and seed now on hand, and with a severe crop shortage in prospect, it may even reach the point where what now looks like excessive freight rates from the Southern hemisphere may not appear so excessive later on.

Such a condition would relieve the situation in Argentina, while it would not hurt the American farmer in the least, as he would have lost interest in the flax market for the time being. It is not considered as a wild dream, by any means, to look with anticipation toward such an outcome.

The war has created such a condition that even bids for flax from across the water have not infused life into the market. Holland has instituted strong inquiry for flax in the last week, but the German blockade and the danger to ships—at least, so it is supposed—proved a wet blanket to interest, and the market did not respond to the demand.

BETTER TRADING IN THE COPPERS

Butte & Superior was again a prominent feature in trading in mining stocks at Boston today. It advanced 75 cents to a close of $46.75, on good investment buying. North Butte was also liberally traded in. It sold up 75 cents to $23.75.

Alaska Gold closed 38 cents up at $27.87; Calumet & Arizona 25 cents up at $52.50; Mohawk $1.25 up at $56.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed 37 cents up at $51.75, and Anaconda 25 cents up at $25.25.

* * *

Interstate-Callahan is a strong issue at present. Today $9 was bid for it without any stock coming out.

* * *

In the Boston curb list, as reported by Paine, Webber & Co., Calumet & Corbin sold at 12c; United Verde Extension at $2.63@3; Calaveras at $1.06; First National Copper at $1; Jumbo Extension at from 65 to 75c; Goldfields Merger at 20@21c, and New Baltic at $1.25. Alex-Scott was quoted there at $4.50 asked; Keating at $1.50 asked; Denn-Arizona at $8 asked; and Cliff at 35c asked.

* * *

At St. Louis lead closed strong at 3.80 cents and spelter strong at 9.12½@9.35 cents.

* * *

A wire from Houghton to Paine, Webber & Co. said: "South Lake will be further financed by an issue of 10,000 shares of stock, instead of an assessment as was generally contemplated. This will provide funds for further development operations. New issues probably will go out at $5 a share. Close to 70,000 shares are now issued $6.60 paid in."

* * *

One of the large copper producing companies has advanced the price of copper metal to 15 cents. The business for the last week for domestic and foreign account has been very large, according to a Boston wire.

* * *

The Anaconda Copper Mining company has negotiated the sale to the National City bank of $16,000,000 5 per cent two-year notes, according to announcement at New York yesterday. With the proceeds, the Anaconda company will purchase from the Amalgamated Copper company and the United Statec Metals Selling company, the notes of the Amalgamated company amounting to $12,500,000 which mature on March 15 next. The Anaconda company will also spend $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 in improvements this year, which explains the increase in the amount of notes sold over the outstanding issue of the Amalgamated company.

WILL OBSERVE FEAST OF PURIM

The Feast of Purim, celebrating the deliverance of the Jewish nation from the rule of King Ahasuerus and his prime minister, Haman, over 2,000 years ago, will be observed by Duluth Jews with special services and prayer Sunday and Monday.

At Temple Emanuel tomorrow evening, Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits will conduct a special Purim service and he will deliver a sermon for the occasion on "An Old New Story." There will be a special program of music during the evening. Services at Adras Israel synagogue will be held Saturday evening and Sunday.

The Feast of Purim is one of the minor holidays in the Jewish calendar and is based wholly on the story of Esther, in the Old Testament. On this feast day the Jews sing praises to Esther and Mordecai and in orthodox churches the children have rattles, which they turn with a vengeance whenever the name of Haman is mentioned during the services, which consists of the reading of the Book of Esther.

According to the Biblical story, King Ahasuerus, who ruled over the world in the year 521 B. C., drove Queen Vashti from his palace in Shusan, because she refused to enter his banquet room and appear before his ministers. As a result he ordered all the beautiful maidens of the kingdom to appear before him so that he might select a wife and Esther, a Jewess, was chosen.

At this time Haman, the king's prime minister, angered because Mordecai, a Jew, refused to bow to him, as he had ordered, and Haman then endeavored to conspire against the Jews. Later Mordecai saved the life of Ahasuerus and as a result was made one of the ministers of the court. Esther, through her efforts, succeeded in saving all the Jews, who had previously been ordered killed at the request of Haman, who had now been deprived of his power. As a result Haman and his nine sons were hanged on a tree, which he had erected for Mordecai and some of the more powerful Jews of the kingdom.

FLOATING DULUTH PLAN IN K. C.

N. J. Upham Engineering Realty Deal Similar to Waverly Park.

N. J. Upham, president of the Duluth Real Estate exchange, is at Kansas City, Mo., where he is looking into a platting proposition in behalf of the International Realty Associates.

It is proposed to place a realty proposition on that market on the same basis as the Waverly Park deal was put through in Duluth last summer. A substantial profit was realized within a few weeks on the associates' investment here.

MEN WORKING TO GET HIGHER RATES

Chicago, Feb. 25.—At today's session of the board of arbitration in the western railroad wage case, Warren S. Stone, representing the men, reminded the general managers present that while the engineers and firemen are seeking to obtain higher wages, they are also active in trying to get higher freight rates for the roads.

A. W. Trenholm, general manager of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, was under cross-examination and remarked that while the men were seeking more money, they were active in pushing legislation which, witness said, would curtail the earning power of the roads. He instanced the movement to restrict train lengths.

"While that is true," said Mr. Stone, "you neglect to mention that we are helping you in your efforts to obtain higher freight rates."

"I didn't know it," replied the witness. "I have no desire to present a wrong picture to the board nor withhold credit where it is due."

ADVERTISING THAT PAYS

Y. M. C. A. Salesmanship Class Hears Practical Talk on Silent Seller.

Charles McDonell Speaks on Specific Phase of Goods Distribution.

The class in salesmanship at the Y. M. C. A., at its regular meeting last evening, evinced much enthusiasm during and following an address on "Advertising" given by Charles McDonell of The Herald advertising force. The class has been thoroughly drilled in the general subjects connected with salesmanship by Ike Black, who has charge of the class, and in various sidelines by business men of the city who have talked to the class on phases of business outside of the actual making of sales, but a knowledge of which is of value to salesman.

But it so happened that the subject of advertising had not been specifically dealt with up to last night. Mr. McDonell gave an address on the force of advertising, its value, the necessity of care in preparing copy and of giving thought to it, the possibility of advertising in a way that would prove valueless; and also spoke of the matter of co-operation between the advertising solicitor and the advertiser.

Mr. McDonell declared that advertising is one of the greatest forces behind modern business, and is the cornerstone of success for any business institution if rightfully applied. Illustrating the recognition of the value of advertising, he cited the fact that a recent investigation has shown that in the United States last year $600,000,000 was spent for advertising, which, he asserted, largely reflects the strides that are being made in advertising and the importance attached to it.

When It Doesn't Pay.

"Some dealers," said Mr. McDonell, "try to tell us that advertising does not pay, and they won't advertise. If it does not pay, their methods are at fault. Recently a store on Superior street, prominent because of its location, and carrying first-class goods, went out of business. No comment was heard about it; scarcely anybody noticed that it had gone out of business. The public did not know it had gone out of business because, in the first place, few knew it was in business. That firm did not advertise; its manager was one of those who did not believe that advertising pays.

"No matter how well established is a business, it must constantly keep before the public, for new people are always coming and the firm that ceases advertising ceases to attract attention and soon drops back in the race."

The speaker declared that there should be co-operation between the solicitor and the advertiser, the former being able to help in preparing the copy, if the advertiser desires it, and, in view of the fact that one man cannot know all about the business, the advertiser would sometimes do well to accept and even ask suggestions from the solicitor, who, if the proper kind of solicitor and interested in his work, keeps posted on advertising. He declared also that the only way to make advertising effective is to give it plenty of thought, and to take care in preparing copy.

"Advertising," said Mr. McDonell, "is a great investment to the business man and should be given as much attention as any other investment. Good copy and business go hand in hand and carelessness should not be tolerated. To sell your goods you must popularize them so that people will ask for them. The only way to do that is to advertise them and then have the quality to back up your advertised assertions."

LIFE PRISONER MAKES ESCAPE

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Peltier, a lifer in the North Dakota state penitentiary here, escaped late last night while employed as a member of an ice gang working about seven miles away from the penitentiary.

Blood hounds picked up the scent and trailed him for some distance, but Peltier has so far eluded pursuit.

Peltier, his brother, Joe Peltier, half-breeds, and Little Rising Sun, full-blooded Indian, murdered the postmaster and his niece at Somber, N. D., in the foothills of the Turtle mountains, five years ago. Charles Peltier pleaded guilty after his brother had been sentenced to death, Charley's confession alleging to assume greater responsibility for the crime, with the result that Joe's sentence was commuted. Rising Sun also is in for life.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— MINNESOTA ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY.

The undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under and by virtue of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota and of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1905 as amended, have associated themselves together and have subscribed and acknowledged the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "MINNESOTA ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY."

The general nature of its business shall be the generation of electricity by means of steam or water power for public use, and the distribution of the same within the State of Minnesota for light, heat and power purposes, all of the foregoing to be done for public use for reasonable compensation; and for such purposes the corporation may acquire by purchase, lease or condemnation, and may construct and maintain all necessary dams, reservoirs, canals, pipe lines, power houses, substations, transmission lines, cables and conduits, and any and all other works or appliances necessary or convenient for carrying on the business of the corporation as above defined. The corporation may acquire by purchase, lease or condemnation all other property, rights and franchises necessary or convenient in carrying on its general business as aforesaid, which is hereby declared to be the manufacture of electricity, and the distribution and sale of the electricity manufactured by it.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be at Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time for the commencement of this corporation shall be February 27, 1915, and the period of its continuance shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of this corporation are as follows:

A. C. Gillette, J. A. Sinclair, A. McC. Washburn, C. A. Carlson, C. F. Liscomb, B. R. Heney and Oscar Mitchell, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of this corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of five (5) directors, and the following officers to be elected by the board of directors, to-wit: A president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The president and vice-president shall be directors of the corporation. The secretary and treasurer may, but need not, be directors of the corporation. Any two offices in the corporation may be held by the same person, except the offices of president and vice-president.

The board of directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the corporation, and shall have full power to transact the business, manage the affairs of the corporation, and to define the duties of the other officers and agents of the corporation.

The annual meeting shall be held at the corporation's office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the third Tuesday in January of each year, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

The names and addresses of the persons composing the board of directors and officers of the corporation until the first election, and until their successors are elected and qualified, shall be as follows:

A. C. Gillette, J. A. Sinclair, A. McC. Washburn, C. A. Carlson, C. F. Liscomb, B. R. Heney and Oscar Mitchell, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota, shall constitute the first Board of Directors; and until their successors are elected and qualified, the following persons shall constitute the officers of the corporation:

A. C. Gillette, President.
A. McC. Washburn, Vice-President.
B. R. Heney, Secretary and Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000.00), divided into fifteen thousand (15,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each, and shall be divided into the following classes:

One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) in amount divided into ten thousand (10,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each shall be common stock, and Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000.00) in amount divided into five thousand (5,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each shall be preferred stock.

The preferred stock shall be entitled out of the net earnings of the corporation to a semi-annual preferential dividend at the rate of seven per cent. (7%) per annum and no more, payable on the first days of January and July in each year, to be cumulative, and to be paid or set apart before any dividend shall be paid or set apart on the common stock. Provided that, after the payment of a semi-annual dividend upon the preferred stock at the rate of seven per cent. (7%) per annum, the corporation may forthwith, without waiting for the expiration of the year, pay a dividend at such rate as may be determined upon the common stock. In case of liquidation or dissolution, the preferred stock shall be paid in full at par before any payment is made upon the common stock, and the remaining proceeds in liquidation shall be distributed among the holders of the common stock alone.

The holders of common stock shall be entitled to full voting power, one vote for each share of stock.

The holders of preferred stock shall have no voting power.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors, either in cash or in property or services, at a valuation to be fixed by the Board of Directors, whose determination for that purpose shall be final.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000.00).

IMPORTANT BILL FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTA THROUGH LEGISLATURE

Amendment for Reclamation Revolving Fund Is Finally Passed.

Breach of Senatorial Courtesy Charged By Jones Against Adams.

Minnette-Burrows Telephone Regulation Bill Passes House.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The reclamation revolving fund constitutional amendment, introduced in the senate by Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, passed the house this morning, 71 to 26, and being the first proposed constitutional amendment to pass, it is assured of a leading place on the ballot. This is the amendment No. 3, voted on last fall, but narrowly failing of ratification for lack of proper education of the public. Plans for a campaign of education are already under way, and the friends of this first step towards a real policy of state development will take no risks of failure this time. The amendment, which authorizes setting apart a reclamation revolving fund of $250,000, has been broadened to include land clearing. From a Northern Minnesota viewpoint this is the most important measure of the session to date.

Jones Peeved at Adams.

A split in the Duluth senatorial delegation, involving charges of breach of senatorial courtesy, enlivened the senate this morning. On motion of Senator C. E. Adams of Duluth the bill by Senator Jones of Duluth forbidding employment agents to take fees for getting jobs at com-

FARMER HAS NO VOICE IN MATTER

Leiter Says He Has Nothing to Say as to the Price of Wheat.

New York, Feb. 26.—Joseph Leiter, noted wheat operator of fifteen years ago, testified today at the state inquiry into the increased cost of bread, that American farmers had long been selling wheat for less than what it cost.

The farmer, Mr. Leiter said, has nothing to say concerning what price he shall receive for his product. That is usually done at the terminal markets or exchange, he added; and the Liverpool exchange, as the leading exchange of the world, usually fixes the price.

The farmer today cannot obtain the proper return on his work, Mr. Leiter said, on the old basis of wheat prices, because farm labor has increased in price and the laborers' hours have been shortened.

The production of wheat in this country is gradually being reduced, he testified. The average farmer twenty-five years ago devoted 300 acres to wheat growing, while today he devotes only 100 acres.

GOVERNOR TO SIGN IT

County Option Bill Will Be Law of the State Soon.

Bill That Stirred Up Christian Scientists Withdrawn By Sawyer.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—If county option is not the law of this state when these lines are published, it will be within a few hours.

At this writing the bill lacks only the signature of Governor Winfield Scott Hammond, and there never has been the slightest doubt that it would get that final touch.

When asked yesterday afternoon if he would have any statement to make in connection with his action on this bill, he said that he would not, any more than he would have in connection with his action on any other bill that came before him.

"I have been somewhat puzzled," he said, "by some of the questions that have been asked me in reference to this bill. I had thought that my attitude on this question was thoroughly understood."

In the campaign Governor Hammond said that though personally he believed in local option rather than in county option, he would sign the bill if the legislature passed it—precisely what the late Governor Johnson said, and what Former Governor Eberhart said.

Now that the bill is a law, and the ten-year fight for it is ended, what next?

Effect on the State.

There are two angles of that question. One is as to the effect on the state and the other as to the effect on the legislatures of the future.

As to the effect of the new law on the state, that is yet to be seen. Some effects of it, however, need no prophet to foretell.

One of these is the immediate stir-

NEW ASSOCIATE JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

ALBERT SCHALLER
Of Hastings, Dakota County.

SCHALLER IS NEW JUSTICE

Appointed to the Supreme Court to Succeed Late P. E. Brown.

Daly of Renville and Michael of St. Paul District Judges.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.—Governor Hammond today announced the appointment of Albert Schaller of Hastings, Dakota county, to be associate justice of the supreme court, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Justice P. E. Brown of Luverne.

Richard T. Daly of Renville has been appointed judge for the Twelfth district, to succeed Judge Gorham Powers, who has retired from the bench, and James C. Michael, former corporation counsel for St. Paul, has been appointed to the new district judgeship in Ramsey county created by the present legislature.

Former State Senator.

Albert Schaller is one of the best known Democrats in Minnesota and was a member of the state senate from 1894 until 1913, being elected from Dakota county continuously. He declined to run again last fall for senator. He has also been known as a lawyer of marked ability. He studied law with Clagget & Searles of Hastings and took the law course in the St. Louis law school, where he graduated in 1879. He was admitted to practice law in Minnesota in July, 1879, and was elected county attorney of Dakota county in the same year, serving in that position until January, 1891. Mr. Schaller was born in Chicago on May 20, 1856, and came to Hastings with his parents when an infant. He was educated in the public schools of Hastings and at other schools in this country, France and Germany. In addition to practicing law, he has had experience in mercantile and newspaper business. The new justice is the father of Mrs. Wilbur Joyce of Duluth.

GRADUATES ALMOST EQUAL AUTO OUTPUT

Number of Scholars Finishing School Doubled in Seven Years.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 26.—In the last seven years the number of children graduating each year from the elementary schools of America had doubled, according to Dr. Leonard P. Ayres, director of the division of education of the Russell Sage foundation, New York city, who addressed the department of superintendence of the National Education association convention today.

Dr. Ayres said the number of elementary school graduates now is three-quarters of a million greater annually than it was seven years ago. The only organized industry in America that has increased the output of its finished product as rapidly as the public schools during the last seven years, he said, was the automobile industry. He claimed the increase in graduation was the result of the nation-wide efforts of schools to reduce backwardness among school children, and to the school survey movement.

Four other minor bodies of the National Education association held sessions today. These were the National Association of State Supervisors and Inspectors of rural schools; National Council of Teachers of English; School Garden Association of America, and the Commission on the Reorganization of Secondary Education.

Heavy Snow in Quebec.

Montreal, Feb. 26.—The province of Quebec suffered today from a heavy snow and sleet storm and telegraph and telephone communication between many points was impossible. Rivers have risen rapidly for several days. In suburban Montreal streets are canals and houses can be reached only in rowboats.

DETERMINED ATTEMPT BY COMBINED FLEET TO FORCE DARDANELLES

Allies Report Forts at Entrance Reduced By Warships.

Turks Declare Three Warships Damaged By Fire From Shore.

Report From London Makes No Mention of Disaster to Ships.

Constantinople, Feb. 26, via London.—Three warships of the allies were damaged in the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts Feb. 25, according to an announcement given out today at the headquarters of the Turkish army here.

Here is the text of the announcement:

"Ten big armored vessels on Feb. 25 again bombarded the Turkish forts at the Dardanelles for a period of seven and one-half hours. At the conclusion of this operation they retired in the direction of the island of Tenedos.

"One ship of the Agamemnon type and two other armored vessels were damaged by the fire from the forts on the Asiatic side of the straits."

It was announced from London last night that all the forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles had been reduced by the combined fleets of Great Britain and France, a naval force which has been estimated at something over thirty vessels.

The English announcement made no mention of losses either to vessels or in men. It described the operations as successful and said they were continuing.

The Dardanelles are the key to Con-

TOO MANY TUBERS USED FOR FODDER

Bundesrath Raises Price of All Potato Products in Consequence.

Berlin, Feb. 26, via London.—The bundesrath, having learned that German farmers were using potatoes too freely for fodder, has raised the prices of potato products. It is believed this will prevent the consumption of potatoes by cattle.

In the future potato flakes will cost 35 marks ($8.75) per 100 kilograms (220 pounds) and potato starch will cost 48 marks ($12) per 100 kilograms.

Under their former prices, potatoes were much the cheapest cattle food available and farmers were storing them for the use of their livestock.

The sole right to manufacture potato products has been vested in a government-controlled company, which has been empowered to expropriate potatoes for its purposes.

The bundesrath found also that the price of hogs had increased to such a degree as seriously to impede municipalities in laying up stores prescribed for them. It has, therefore, fixed for hogs under 100 kilograms liveweight a series of maximum prices at which municipalities are empowered to expropriate them.

WILL END INQUIRY IF BREAD BECOMES CHEAPER

ALFRED L. BECKER.

New York, Feb. 26.—A return to the wholesale price of 4 cents a loaf for bread, which reports say the big baking companies are contemplating, will, Deputy Attorney General Becker indicated today, result in a discontinuance of the inquiry he is conducting here into causes for the increased price of wheat, flour and bread.

HAVE CLEW TO MURDER

Old Woolen Glove Hoped to Be of Aid at Aurora, Ill.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 26.—In an old woolen glove, one that was worn at some time by a man engaged in hard labor, the police today pinned their greatest hope of running down the mysterious murderer who last night struck down Miss Emma Peterson, 21 years old, with a short section of heavy gas pipe. The glove with the piece of pipe was found within a half block of where the young woman was murdered in fashionable Lake Street. The young woman's handbag, opened and rifled, was found a block and a half away on the Northwestern railroad tracks.

The glove has been carefully guarded and will not be exposed until it is given bloodhounds for the scent. They are on the way here from Decatur, Ill.

Forty-two suspects, twenty-five of them negroes, have already been picked up in this, the third unsolved clubbing to death of an Aurora woman within a year.

As in the murder of Miss Jennie

FRENCH DESTROYER IS SUNK IN THE ADRIATIC

Dague Strikes Austrian Mine Off the Port of Antivari.

Thirty-Eight of the Vessel's Crew Have Disappeared.

Paris, Feb. 26. — The destruction of the French torpedo boat destroyer Dague in the Adriatic sea was announced today by the French ministry of marine.

The official announcement follows:

"The French torpedo boat destroyer Dague, while escorting a convoy with provisions for Montenegro, struck an Austrian mine off the port of Antivari, (Montenegro) on Feb. 24 and sank.

"Thirty-eight of the crew disappeared. The accident did not hinder finishing the work of provisioning and the return of the convoy.

"The French cruiser Desaix made a demonstration against Akabah (Arabia) on Feb. 23. A landing party, aided by the ship's cannon, dispersed and put to flight a small band of Turks occupying the village."

The Dague was 256 feet long and had a displacement of 720 tons. She was built in 1911 and was rated at a speed of 33.1 knots. Her complement was eighty-one men. She was armed with two 3.9-inch guns, four 9-pounders and four 18-inch torpedo tubes.

Swedish Steamer Strikes Mine.

Amsterdam, Feb. 26, via London, 3:21 p. m.—The Swedish steamer Svarton from Rotterdam, arrived today at Ymuiden, Holland, with a large hole in her starboard side near the bow. The captain reported that the Svarton had been damaged on Thursday afternoon by either a mine or a torpedo. It is his opinion that the damage was inflicted by a mine.

OTTO RATHS TO BE POSTMASTER

Will Be Named for St. Paul on Recommendation of Van Dyke.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Postmaster General Burleson said today, after the cabinet meeting, that he would appoint Otto N. Raths to be postmaster at St. Paul, following the recommendation of Congressman-elect Carl C. Van Dyke. It is expected that the nomination will go to the senate early next week.

Approved By Senate.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Abolition of the navy plucking board, as provided in the naval bill by the house, was approved today by the senate.

NO DECISION IS REACHED

American Note Still Under Exhaustive Discussion in Germany.

Considered Satisfactory Basis for Future Negotiations on Matters.

Berlin, Feb. 26, via London.—The American note to Germany and Great Britain on the subject of foodstuffs to civilian populations of belligerents and submarine activities at sea, a copy of which was handed to the German foreign office by Ambassador Gerard the night of Feb. 22, has been a subject of exhaustive discussion for the past two days between the German imperial authorities concerned and the American ambassador. As a result of this close attention the German reply is gradually taking definite form. The correspondent of the Associated Press has been assured by a most competent and reliable authority that the American proposals are regarded as constituting a satisfactory basis for future negotiation and that they are themselves in many respects acceptable. Certain of the proposals,

RUSS NEGOTIATE FOR BIG ORDER OF SHELLS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 26.—Negotiations are in progress between the Russian government and a large machine company here which will likely result in a contract for $10,000,000 worth of war munitions. Shrapnel shells form the principal part of the order, and as special machinery is required to make some sizes, the company has asked Russia to deposit $1,000,000 in bank to indemnify it should the machines become useless by reason of a sudden termination of hostilities. The company is now working on a number of large orders of similar character, its machine men, who have been trained to work their lathes at 1-1,000 of an inch, being able to make fast time on shells where accuracy goes no farther than a quarter of an inch.

TROOPS ON DEFENSIVE IN POLAND

Will Merely Hold Positions While Delivering Blow in West.

Allies Prepared to Meet Any Rush Made By the Teutons.

Decided Change for Better Has Taken Place Among Troops.

London, Feb. 26, 12:50 p. m.—The impression is gaining ground among British and French military commentators that Germany is preparing for a fresh expenditure of energy in the land campaign along the western front. Notwithstanding the recent successes of the Germans in the east they are apparently encountering as stubborn resistance as at any time. The resiliency and recuperating powers of the Russian armies, according to theories advanced here, have convinced the German general staff that it is wisest to adopt the defensive in the Russian campaign while delivering another blow in the west.

If this rush comes the allies will be prepared to meet it. During the last few months a decided change for the better has taken place in the forces of the allies, what with reinforcements, bigger guns and more complete equipment, lack of which was felt keenly during the early stages of the war.

Another Theory.

As against the expectation of a new German general offensive in the west, another theory is advanced in some quarters that the German attack in the east will be continued, with the main idea of taking Warsaw from the north.

ATTEMPT TO TAKE VERDUN UNAVAILING

Military Activities in That Region Told in Official Recital.

Paris, Thursday, Feb. 25.—Military activities in the vicinity of Verdun in the month of February are described in an official recital given out in Paris tonight which reads as follows:

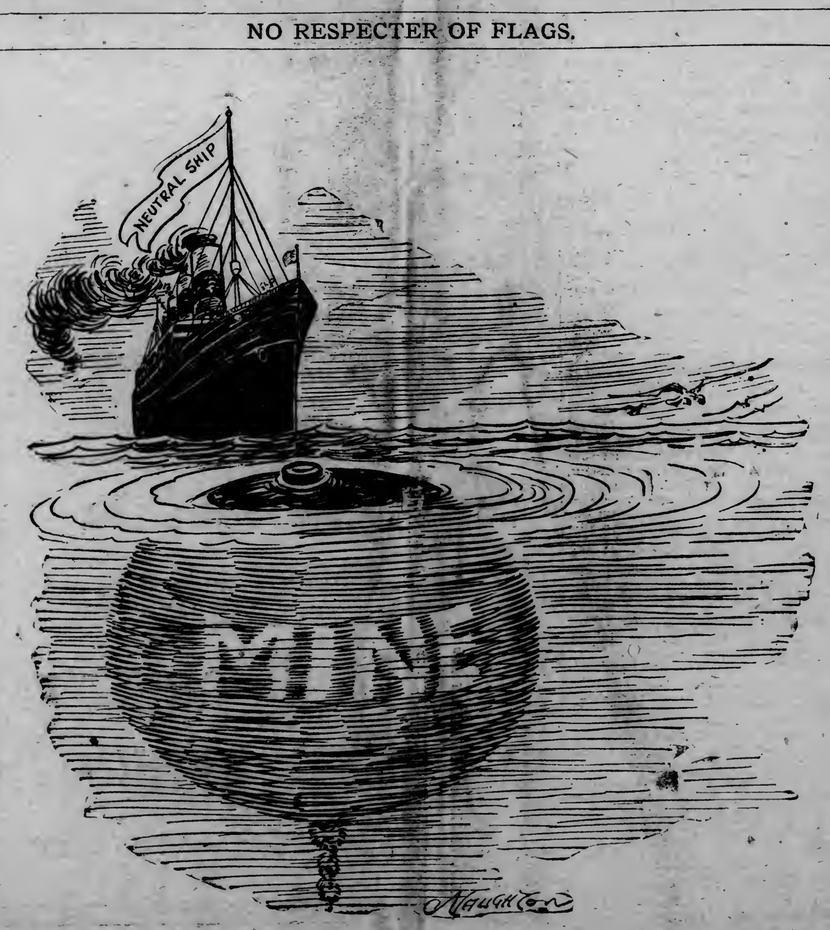

The investment of Verdun always has been one of the objects of the German general staff and the measures they have taken to this end have been costly and useless. The German offensive movement to the southeast of the entrenched camp of the Meuse was checked at St Mihiel and the enemy could not advance against the eastern defenses of this locality. Along the heights of the Meuse the line of battle has remained unchanged for several months past. When the Germans moved forward they were successful in gaining a foothold northeast of St. Mihiel. They occupied Vigneulles and Hattonchatel and the forest of Montagne. Further to the north, however, they could not maintain their former gains, and later French troops occupied the northern extremity of the heights of the Meuse.

Enemy Driven Out.

At the village of Desparges in a valley of the Meuse the enemy had taken a strong position, but we were successful in driving them from it in spite of their fierce defense.

Continuing, the recital says that the attacks on Desparges were begun by sapping operations. This was followed by the explosion of mines, and the excavations thus made were used by the French soldiers as points of protection while they waited for the artillery to open the way. The fighting was marked by hand to hand engagements of great violence. In one trench alone the Germans left 200 dead; survivors to the number of twenty-five surrendered. Attacks and counter-attacks on these positions continued with rapidity. The fighting finally came to an end Feb. 21 with victory for the French. The losses of the enemy are estimated at 3,000 men, being one-half of their total strength engaged.

NO RESPECTER OF FLAGS.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Three warships of the Anglo-French fleet, which bombarded the Dardanelles, are said by the Turkish authorities, in a statement issued at Constantinople, to have been damaged. The statement does not refute specifically the British claim that all of the outer forts of the Dardanelles were reduced, but conveys a contrary idea, asserting that the fleet withdrew after a bombardment of seven and one-half hours.

The capture of Przasnysz, Northern Poland, by the Germans, has not been confirmed from Petrograd. Considerable successes for the Russians are claimed in actions along the Warsaw front and in Galicia. The correspondent of a Cologne newspaper reports that the Russians have suffered another reverse in Bukowina and that their final opposition there has been shattered, the province being cleared of the invaders.

Fighting between Austria and Montenegro has been resumed. A dispatch from French sources stated that an Austrian force which attacked a Montenegrin column in the Austrian province of Bosnia was repulsed after a violent fight.

Germany is framing a reply to the American note concerning food supplies for civilians in belligerent countries and mines and submarines. The hope is growing in Berlin that the American proposals may form a basis for negotiations which may lead to an adjustment of the difficulties which have arisen.

The British admiralty gave out a statement to the effect that since Feb. 18, when the German naval war zone decree went into effect, there have been 708 arrivals at and 673 sailings from British ports of the United Kingdom, and that German submarines have sunk seven vessels.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

WALKED IN HIS SLEEP.

West End Youth Found in Maid's Bed When Police Arrive.

LIKE the guest who sleeps in the haunted chamber on a dare, a young woman employed as a domestic in a West end home was awakened last night to find a ghostly figure at her door.

Instead of screaming for help, she dressed hurriedly, ran down stairs and telephoned the police that there was a gentleman burglar, or a ghost, abroad.

In response to the hurry call, Patrolman Duff arrived on the scene a few minutes later, and armed with his flashlight, started looking for the visitor.

A young man was found asleep in the maid's room. He was the eldest son of the maid's employer. Meanwhile the mother was awakened by the noise of the searching party and explained matters by saying that her son was subject to sleep walking. The maid's room had formerly been occupied by his younger brother, before the maid's arrival two days ago.

Patrolman Duff was not conversant with somnambulism, however, and the youth was taken to headquarters. The matter was adjusted this morning, after the maid, her mother and the patrolman had learned of somnambulism to their satisfaction. It is not likely further action will be taken, as the young woman admitted that the youth simply crawled into the bed and apparently went to sleep after telling her to move over and make room for him.

HIS SEVENTH PLEDGE.

John Has Flung Aside His Winter Garment of Repentance Before.

John Albert Olson, one of the most persistent worshipers at the shrine of Bacchus in Duluth, took the pledge again this morning.

Police records show that it was the seventh time that John Albert has bemoaned the night before on the morning after and he was sentenced to sixty days at the work farm.

On Feb. 19 John Albert was arrested, charged with being bibulous.

"I never will take a drink again as long as I live, your honor," he said, when Judge F. H. Cutting asked him about his troubles. He repeated this declaration so often and so convincingly that Probation Officer Frank Hicks decided to give him one more chance and the 60-day sentence was suspended.

His elaborate promises were frowned upon this morning.

ARE YOU READY?

If You Are, the Police Have Good News for You.

Are you Ready?

If your name is Ready—Hugh J. or James P.—the police are looking for you to help the province of New Brunswick, Can., grant you a "considerable portion" of an estate.

Chief of Police Troyer received a communication this morning from a firm of barristers at St. John, N. B., asking that a search be instituted for the Ready brothers, as their father, the late James Ready of St. John, had willed them a large share of his estate.

Hugh J. Ready is described as about 50 years of age, while his brother is ten years younger. Hugh has not been at home since a short time before his father's death, while the younger brother has been absent for ten years.

The father died early in March, 1913, according to the letter, and remembered both of his sons in his will, although they both had been nomads.

FROWNS ON PLAN TO "BEAT THE DUTCH"

Police Judge Refuses to Help Prisoner With Little Scheme.

Citizens of Grand Rapids, Mich., may be given a chance to get rid of Rudolph Akkerman, who visited them about twenty years ago, but not because of the action of the Duluth police court. Rudolph told the police yesterday that he knew they wouldn't want him there, and that they might grow so tired of his presence that they would send him back to the old country. So he wanted Duluth to ship him to Grand Rapids.

His plan for "beating the Dutch" was not approved by the judge when he appeared in municipal court yesterday afternoon, but his promise to "be good" in the future caused the authorities to suspend a thirty-day work farm sentence, which had been imposed, and he is at liberty to return there if he wishes.

Akkerman was arrested by Humane Officer R. D. McKercher on a charge of vagrancy, after he had been loafing around the county courthouse for several days.

FAILED TO GET LICENSE.

Trip to Gretna Green Ended at Jail—Cupid May Triumph Yet.

Trips to Gretna Green are a miserable failure when policemen interfere before the marriage license is procured, as Archie O. Andrew, aged 24, and May Gunderson, aged 18, both of Superior, found to their sorrow last night.

They came to Duluth and after registering at a Superior street hotel started to look for a minister or a justice of the peace so that they could take the "terrible leap" without any more delay.

Hotel officials became suspicious and telephoned headquarters. Detectives Herman Toewe and J. L. Bradley arrested the pair later.

In municipal court this morning they were released, to appear March 9 or before with their marriage license, so that the clerk of court can write "they lived happily ever after" on the city's record.

MAKE PLAY OF SCHOOL WORK

Rural School Teachers Get Away From Daily Grind.

Bulletin Tells of Methods Used to Make Studies Interesting.

Stories of how some of the teachers in the rural schools of St. Louis county have kindled new interest in school work among their pupils by breaking away from the daily routine in some particulars are related in the February edition of the Rural School Bulletin, which is published monthly from the office of N. A. Young, county school superintendent. The issue for the current month is just off the press.

"Miss Schleunes, a teacher in one of the county schools," says the bulletin, "has an original and unique way of registering the daily temperature. The pupils have thermometers drawn on a piece of bogus paper six inches long by four inches wide, and rounded at each end. A hole is punched at the top and bottom of the line showing the numbers. Through these holes is passed a white twine string, a part of which has been colored red with water color paints or crayola, to show the mercury. The child who takes the reading for the day reports upon it, and the class draws the string until the edge of the red rests on the number of which the mercury registers. For example, if the mercury registers 40 degs. below zero as it did not long ago, the string is drawn until the edge of the red line rests on the number which shows that.

"Each child has a weather chart in his desk, and after the temperature is properly recorded on the thermometer, he takes out his weather chart and records it again in the square which belongs to that day. This weather chart when finished gives the picture for the month, and is valuable as such as well as for comparison. Work of this class makes for interested and intelligent children."

Poster Work.

The bulletin also contains an account of how the pupils in a school conducted by Miss Margaret Sever, have been doing excellent poster work to illustrate language and history studies. "The foundation for this work," says the bulletin, "is an oak tag board, one foot wide by three feet long. The figures are cut, appropriately colored and mounted on this background. Hiawatha's home is shown by the shores of the 'Big-Sea-Water.' Hiawatha's canoe is drawn up on the sandy beach. Dark behind the wigwam rises the forest represented by very realistic trees of many varieties, cut, colored and mounted to show perspective. Old Nokomis is seated in the foreground. Hiawatha stands by the shore.

Story of Columbus.

"A series of Columbus pictures tell vividly of the different chapters in the story of Columbus. Columbus seeking admission to the monastery shows the monks in sandals, gown and cowl, and Columbus clothed in garments belonging to that period. The old grey stone monastery forms the background. The next picture shows Columbus at the court of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella. This is a gay scene with the king, queen, Columbus, attendants and courtiers, in the court costumes. Another picture shows Columbus' three ships sailing out into the unknown. Only ocean, sky and ships are to be seen. The last picture of the series shows almost dramatically the 'Landing of Columbus.' This too, is a gay scene, with the palm trees and plants of that Southern latitude, the blue waters of the ocean, the ships at anchor, Columbus and his sailors, their Spanish flag and banners, and the Indians with whom Columbus is trying to communicate.

"The story of the Pilgrims is also shown in a series. 'The Pilgrims in Holland,' 'The Landing of the Pilgrims,' and 'The Pilgrims Going to Church.' Each picture is worked out carefully and in detail. The Pilgrims in Holland, show the windmills, canals, dikes, buildings and Dutch figures of that country. The other two posters show the 'Bleak New England Shore' true to life.

"There is also a poster of the "Three Wise Men.' A night sky with the star, the sands of the desert, the three great white dromedaries and their riders, make a very impressive picture. Santa Claus ready to descend into the chimney was the subject of a Christmas poster.

"Miss Server reports that her pupils have been more than usually interested in theor work this year, and she thinks it is owing to the fact that they have been allowed to do illustrative work."

Skillful Carving.

A fourth grade boy from County School No. 14, the Bulletin states, who has been in America less than a year has carved a miniature dining room table which deserves honorable mention. The top of the table is circular and the legs which fit into a central column are fashioned and fitted carefully. The work was done with a jackknife and shows that the boy who handled the knife was very skillful.

Six birch bark canoes were recently sent to the superintendent's office from the pupils in Miss Seguin's school. "The largest of the canoes," says the Bulletin, "is seventeen inches long by four and one-half inches deep. No. 2 reed was used for the frame work in place of the boughs of cedar. Each canoe has a different design sewed on it in colored yarn. The colors are harmonious and the designs which are original have each a meaning."

STORMS HINDER WAR OPERATIONS

Another Semi- Weekly Report Issued From the Front.

London, Feb. 26.—The official information bureau gave out today another of the semi-weekly communications from the front. It follows:

"The period since the last communique has been marked by a thick mist and rain which culminated on the 24th in a heavy snow storm. Operations consequently have been hindered. In spite of bad weather, however, our air craft carried out their duties. Cooperation between aviators and the artillery has been particularly close.

"Near Ypres intermittent fighting continued along the canal without any change in the relative positions of the opposing forces. Many gallant acts have been performed during the recent fighting in this neighborhood. A sergeant and a man held a communication for a considerable period unaided and shot down all Germans who attempted to advance.

"Our machine guns handled particularly well one occasion when they came into action in the open and inflicted a considerable loss on the enemy.

"Along the remainder of our front the enemy's artillery fire at times has been somewhat heavy. No infantry attacks by either side have occurred."

TILT ENLIVENS DAY'S SESSION

Stone and Trenholm Continue to Spar at Arbitration Meeting.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—A tilt between Warren S. Stone, counsel for the Western enginemen, and A. W. Trenholm, general manager of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, enlivened the forenoon session of the board of arbitration in the Western railroad wage case today.

"Engineers and firemen," remarked Mr. Trenholm, "are well paid and generally contented. We hear little complaint from them. It is only since listening to the officers of their brotherhoods that I have found that they are overworked and underpaid."

This comment was brought out during a long discussion of what constitutes a way, or local freight, the enginemen of which generally receive higher wages than those of through freights. Further along, Mr. Trenholm gave Mr. Stone an opening when he said: "These runs cannot be arranged for the benefit of the engineers; trains must be run for the benefit of the public."

"I might remark here," put in Mr. Stone, "that it is only on such occasions as this that we hear about the necessity for taking care of the public. I will add that the officers of the brotherhood do not invent grievances."

BAD WRECK IS AVERTED

Coasters Collide With Street Car; Nobody Is Killed.

Seven young people, none of whose names could be secured, had a narrow escape from being instantly killed or crippled for life in a bob-sled accident at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street at 11 o'clock last night. The sleigh, coming down the hill at a high rate of speed, crashed into the gates of the west-bound East Fourth & Fifty-seventh avenue car No. 243 just as it passed the center of Twenty-fourth avenue.

As far as could be ascertained by Conductor R. C. Eubank and Motorman James Williamson, none of the occupants of the sled was severely injured. The gates of the car proved a cushion for the heads of at least three of the coasters and others were thrown in a heap on top of the leaders. The gates and the front sled of the bob suffered the most damage, the gates being demolished and the front sled being broken.

The accident is the first of its kind this winter, although employes of the company say that many accidents have been narrowly averted. The accident last night might have proved fatal to many of the party had the sled struck a few feet ahead of the gates. Motorman Williamson said that he had no intimation of any kind that a sled was coming down the hill, the view of this corner towards the hillside being shielded by the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church.

The streets of the West end crossing the Third avenue street car line are said to be very attractive to young people for coasting. At night several of the streets are used by hundreds of young folks for this purpose. Repeated warnings of the possibility of accidents, it is said, have apparently had but little effect.

MAY APPLY FOR GARDEN SEEDS

A large amount of free seed will be distributed among children of the West end this year. So far 425 children from the Lincoln, Ensign, Munroe, Madison and Adams schools have presented their names to Dr. O. A. Oredson, who, some time ago, promised to send the names to Washington in order that the applicants might receive the seed from the government.

The garden contest planned by the West End Commercial club this year promises to be as great, if not a greater, success than those of former years. Entry lists of pupils are now being prepared at the several schools which, before the end of next month, will be presented to the club's committee. It is likely that there will be fully as many children as last year enter the contest for the various prizes to be offered and that the West end will again take a leading part in having the back yards of homes converted into useful gardens.

According to members of the club's garden committee, arrangements will be made to have speakers at various times at the schools to give talks on gardening. These talks to the children will be planned during April and May.

LIMIT ON ANNUAL BANQUET TICKETS

Attendance at the annual banquet of the West End Commercial club, to be held a week from tonight at the Rex hotel, will be limited to 200, according to announcement made by members of the committee. Tickets for the banquet are rapidly being disposed of and it seems likely that almost every business and professional man of the district and his lady will be present.

The banquet will begin promptly at 7 o'clock, and the speaking program will probably begin before 8:30 o'clock. The program, with the exception of the name of a speaker to represent the Woman's Council, has been completed. The speakers will be: Mayor W. I. Prince, who will speak on "Civic Affair"; Rev. F. O. Hanson of Trinity English Lutheran church; Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of Grace Methodist church; Frank E. Randall; Hans B. Haroldson, who will represent the Duluth Commercial club; W. B. Getchell, who will represent the West Duluth Commercial club; and a representative yet to be chosen, from the Woman's council. The musical numbers will include several selections by the Svea Glee club and other artists. Dr. O. A. Oredson will be toastmaster, and the invocation will be given by Mr. Silloway.

GIVES SPECIAL SERMON.

Rev. G. E. Silloway Will Talk on Story By Dr. Henry Van Dyke.

"The Tolling of Felix" by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, will be the subject of a special sermon to be delivered Sunday evening by Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. The sermon will be one of a series of special subjects that the pastor will speak on this spring.

Rev. Mr. Silloway has been conducting a series of revival meetings at the church during the past three weeks. These will come to a close tomorrow evening. Services will be held tonight, at which special music will be given.

St. Peter's Lenten Services.

The first of a series of weekly Lenten services, in Swedish, was held at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, last night. Rev. I. Tapper preached. The Swedish services will be held every Thursday during Lent. Lenten services in English will be held this evening and every Friday evening throughout Lent at the church. Rev. Hans Wolner of Virginia will speak this evening.

WILL PROMOTE SOCIAL LIFE

Builders' Exchange Forms Auxiliary Club for That Purpose.

About twenty-five members of the Duluth Builders' exchange yesterday formed an auxiliary organization, the Duluth Builders' club, to take charge of the social and get-together work of the exchange. This club will operate in connection with the mother organization, its purpose being purely social.

All members of the builders' exchange are eligible to membership in the new club, which will share the rooms of the exchange, 504 Lyceum building. The following temporary officers were elected at the initial meeting: R. M. Weaver, president; M. A. Thompson, vice president; L. F. Sharpless, secretary, and H. Crassweller, treasurer.

Permanent officers will be elected later, when the club is more fully organized and the membership list larger than the charter one. This idea has been followed successfully by builders of Minneapolis, St. Paul and otner cities in the Northwest and local contractors expect to strengthen their organization materially in this way.

The officers of the builders' exchange are: Emil J. Zauft, president; J. H. Cook, Jr., secretary, and R. D. Annis, treasurer.

FARM CREDITS BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Attached as Amendment to Agricultural Appropriation Measure.

Washington, Feb. 26.—A farm credits bill, providing for government loans to farm owners, was attached to the agricultural appropriation bill yesterday in its hurried passage through the senate. Presented by Senator McCumber as an amendment the provision was incorporated in the supply bill without a record vote at a time when but few senators were in the chamber. The bill itself was passed a short time later.

The McCumber amendment would create a bureau of farm credits in the treasury department, to make loans of government funds through national banks on farm mortgage notes. These loans would run for ten years at 5 per cent interest and would not be less than $300 nor more than $10,000 to individuals. Issue of United States twenty-year 4½ per cent bonds to establish a permanent fund of $10,000,000 to cover such loans would be authorized. This and other changes increased the bill's total from $23,000,000 to about $36,000,000.

Senator Hollis of New Hampshire made a point of order against the rural credits amendment, but withdrew it with the understanding that the measure would be perfected in conference between the house and senat. There, an effort will be made to shape it into a rural credits plan acceptable to the house and to the president.

CANADA'S PAVILION OPENED AT BIG FAIR.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 26.—Canada's pavilion at the Panama Pacific exposition was formally opened to the public yesterday. Dedicatory ceremonies were attended by a huge crowd, including a large number of British subjects.

The building is most imposing. Massive lions guard its double entrances and Ionic columns support its heavy cornices. The pavilion which was erected at a cost of $700,000, contains a comprehensive exhibition of the resources of the Dominion. It is one of the largest buildings erected by a foreign nation.

INVESTIGATION OF PASSPORT

German Naval Attache at Washington Brought Into Case.

Said to Have Furnished One Used By Late Carl Lody.

New York, Feb. 26.—Federal authorities today were investigating a statement made by counsel for Richard P. Stegler, the German naval reservist arrested in this city Wednesday night, to the effect that Capt. Boy-ed, naval attache to the German embassy in Washington, had furnished an American passport to Carl Hons Lody, the German spy who was put to death in the tower of London last November. In his general denial of Stegler's statements involving him, Capt. Boy-ed referred to this allegation as "trash."

Charles H. Griffiths, former assistant United States attorney, who was assigned by United States Commissioner Houghton to defend Stegler, linked the names of the German naval attache and Lody in a statement given out after a conference with Stegler in the Tombs.

"Stegler told me," Mr. Griffiths said, "that on one occasion, while he was on his way to keep an appointment with Capt. Boy-ed, a Dr. Fuehr told him that Capt. Boy-ed had carried through the scheme that made it possible to secure an American passport for Lody and that Boy-ed sent Lody to England, where he was executed. Stegler also said that Dr. Fuehr had told him Boy-ed was the only person who knew all the details of the Lody plot, because he had planned the whole thing."

Statements Corroborated.

"Mr. Griffiths said that all of Stegler's statements were corroborated by Mrs. Stegler, the young Georgia woman, at whose suggestion Stegler abandoned his all-ged plan to go abroad. According to Mr. Griffiths, Stegler was to have sailed for England, to work for the German government in obtaining information as to the whereabouts of an English fleet of dreadnaughts supposed to be in St. George's channel. Stegler was to have gone on the steamer Franconia, according to the lawyer, and when he decided not to go a young German-American, whom he knew by sight, but not by name, was assigned to the perilous task and sailed on the steamer with a bogus passport in his pocket.

The Franconia is due to arrive in Liverpool within a day or two.

Stegler was quoted by Mr. Griffiths as having said that his negotiations with Boy-ed had progressed to the point where they had discussed money that was to be paid to Mrs. Stegler while her husband was in England. According to the lawyer, Capt. Boy-ed, in a talk with Stegler at the German club in this city, had agreed to pay Mrs. Stegler $150 a month while Stegler was in England and had furthermore agreed, should the British discover his mission and he met the same fate as Lody, to pay Mrs. Stegler $150 a month so long as she should live.

Denied By Boy-ed.

Capt. Boy-ed denied all statements alleged to have been made by Stegler. The naval attache said he had tried to obtain employment for Stegler and had advanced him money on account of traveling expenses because he thought he could place him with a friend in Germany who wanted to employ a good linguist. Later, Capt. Boy-ed continued, he had decided that Stegler was not a suitable person for the position he had in mind and had asked Stegler to return the money advanced. This Stegler had not done Capt. Boy-ed said.

"The impression that Stegler wished to create," Capt. Boy-ed added, "that the real intention of his trip was to act as a spy for the German government, is false."

Roger B. Wood, the assistant United States district attorney, who is presenting the case to the Federal grand jury, said:

"This department will get to the bottom of whatever there is to get to the bottom of. The rest of the work, if there is any to be done, is up to the authorities at Washington."

stantinople, and the effort to force them has been going on since the middle of December. In possession of this waterway, which is a strait about forty-five miles long and from one to three miles wide, between the sea of Marmora and the Mediterranean, the warships of the allies would not encounter any serious difficulty in making their way to Constantinople and training their great guns on the Turkish capital. Turkey always has relied upon the strength of the Dardanelles fortifications for protection from attack by sea; their defenses in the sea of Marmora and around Constantinople have been described as relatively more important.

It has been declared that with Constantinople in possession of the allies, a vast amount of Russian wheat would come out from the Black sea and be distributed to ports in France and England. The possession of Constantinople also would have the effect of driving Turkish naval power and particularly the former German cruisers Goben and Breslau into the Black sea, where they would be without any port of refuge.

While the efforts to force the Dardanelles have been going on for over sixty days, the immediate operations, which, according to the British official announcement has now resulted successfully began about a week ago. Aeroplanes are said to have rendered material assistance.

The Dardanelles were forced in 1807 by an English admiral, who made his way through the sea of Marmora to Constantinople, but then encountered much more difficulty in getting back through the narrow waterway than he had in going in.

The Agememnon type of British battleship is of 16,500 tons displacement and 435 feet long, with a main battery of four 12-inch guns.

British Report.

London, Feb. 25.—All the forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles have been reduced by the allied fleet. This announcement was made officially last night.

The announcement of the secretary of the admiralty follows:

"The weather moderating, the bombardment was renewed at 8 o'clock this morning (Feb. 25). After a period of long-range fire, the squadron of battleships attacked at close range. All the forts at the entrance to the straits were successfully reduced and the operations are continuing."

The Dardanelles, known as the gateway to Constantinople, is a narrow tortuous strip of water dividing European Turkey from Asiatic Turkey and leading from the Aegean sea to the Sea of Marmora. It is about forty-five miles in length and averages about two miles in width.

At the entrance to the straits on the European side are Forts Helles Burnu and Sedd-El-Bahr, which face Fort Kum Kale on the Asiatic side. Sedd-El-Bahr is a quadrangular inclosure with solid walls and two towers at the angles. Standing on the side of the hill, which slopes to Cape Graecae, its lower walls slope to the waters. Sedd-El-Bahr is the largest fort in the Dardanelles. On the height is the Sahin Kaleis fort.

Across the strait from Sedd-El-Bahr to Kum Kale is about two miles. Kum Kale is an old stone castle, which on the flat land of the Asiatic side lies almost at the water line. Of late years this fortress had been permitted to fall into decay, but with the outbreak of the present war, it undoubtedly has been strengthened with modern guns.

The mouth of the Dardanelles is said to be heavily mined. Up the waterway toward Constantinople many small forts dot the shores at intervals and there are big fortifications at the entrance to the Sea of Marmora and also about ten miles from the entrance to the strait at the beginning of the narrows. Here are Forts Namazie on the one side, the Chank fortress opposite it, both modern fortifications armed with Krupp guns.

Under the treaty of 1841, which was confirmed by the Paris peace treaty of 1856, no foreign warships were permitted to enter the Dardanelles except by the consent of Turkey.

BELIEVED GERMAN ARMY IS PREPARING FOR NEW ATTACK

Przasnysz, fifty miles north of Warsaw, now being in the hands of the Germans, according to their claim, it is probable that a battle is now raging along the River Orzyc, where the Russians are attempting to stay the Teutonic advance.

The Turks are again appearing in the war news by virtue of renewed fighting in the Caucasus. Meantime the allied fleet has at last demolished the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles, in what is believed to be preliminary to a determined attempt to force the historic strait.

Wireless reports that the American steamship Dacia plans to go northward around Scotland on the way to Hamburg revive speculation as to when and where she will be seized by the British.

French Statement.

Paris, Feb. 26, via London, 3:50 p. m.—The war office gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"The Belgian army has retaken a small portion of the trenches which it had lost temporarily.

"The British army repulsed in Belgium a German attack and also gained 100 meters on La Bassee road.

"German artillery displayed considerable activity in the Aisne valley.

"Our batteries reduced it to silence in the afternoon.

"In Champagne our progress continues. We won some ground in the wood northwest of Perthes and north of Mesnil-les-Hurlus. The engagement continues in the valley of the Meuse. At Jumelles- Dornes we destroyed some machine gun shelters and wrecked the trenches of the enemy.

"We made fresh progress in Bois Brule in the forest of Apremont. The Germans were subjected to heavy losses, abandoning on the field various accoutrements and weapons."

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 26, by wireless to Sayville—Today's official report on the war is as follows:

"Nothing important has occurred in either theater of the war."

F. O. E., ATTENTION!

All members of Duluth Aerie, No. 79, are hereby requested to meet at Crawford's undertaking rooms, Saturday, February 27, at 2 p. m., to attend the funeral of our late Brother, Arvid Sefbla of Virginia Aerie.

HAVE CLEW TO MURDER

Miller, the daughter of Former Mayor Miller, who was crushed to death with a pipe wrench as she passed into the shadows of the Free Methodist church, a "great tall man wearing a long overcoat," is being sought.

Picked up Something and Fled.

A man answering this description stood over the body of Miss Peterson, stopped to pick up something and then fled, according to Miss Eliza Calkins, who lives within a short distance of the scene of the crime. Miss Calkins was brought to her window by a single long, piercing scream, she says. She saw the man run towards the nearby Northwestern railroad tracks. Supporting her story, the handbag carried by the young woman was found on the Northwestern railroad tracks.

Miss Calkins' story, together with other circumstances, leads Chief of Police Michals to believe that the man who slew Miss Miller is the man who murdered Miss Peterson. In both cases a tall man with a long overcoat was seen in the immediate vicinity of the crime; after both attacks the slayer took the woman's handbag and carried it a block or so from the crime and then dropped it; also, both terrific assaults were made from the front with a crude and silent weapon. Miss Peterson's skull was crushed down through the forehead as was Miss Miller's.

Both Attacks Similar.

Both attacks were further similar in that they were made in a prominent residence district and within a few minutes' dash of the railroad tracks. Heavy trees which line the streets veiled with their shadows the murderer of both women.

A man 60 years old, described as being an eccentric, was held by the police today in connection with the murder of Miss Emma Peterson, who was found with her head crushed and jaw broken a half block from her home last night.

It was the third mysterious murder of a woman in Aurora in twelve months. In each case the victim had been slugged to death. In no case has the murderer been caught. The three unsolved murders are: Theresa Hollander, who was clubbed to death in a cemetery on the night of Feb. 16, 1914. Tony Petras, a rejected suitor, was twice tried on a charge of having slain her, and acquitted.

Jennie Miller was clubbed to death in a churchyard on the night of Nov. 19, 1914. Several arrests were made but the crime was never solved.

Emma Peterson was found clubbed to death near the residence of Former United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins. No weapon was found near the body; the police obtained no clews.

Does Odd Jobs.

The man under arrest, John Mason, does odd jobs at St. Joseph hospital for his board. He had been detained by the police early last night after he had attempted to seize a young woman by the arm a block from the spot where Miss Peterson's body was found. The girl had complained that she had been stopped by a man in the vicinity the night before. Her father followed her last night and trapped Mason. The police, after questioning him, released him. Two hours later the body of Miss Peterson was found.

Mason, according to the police, admitted that he sometimes carried a strip of rubber hose filled with shot, but the Sisters at the hospital asked for his release, declaring that he was a harmless eccentric.

Miss Peterson, who was 22 years old, had been living in the home of a wealthy retired farmer for the last three years.

The police are working on the theory that all of the three murders of the last twelve months have been committed by the same man.

NO DECISION IS REACHED

however, will be subjected to more or less important modifications.

Government circles have expressed themselves as impressed by the friendly spirit in which these proposals have been advanced, and the evident desire on the part of the American administration to reach a solution of the difficulties involved in the present methods of martime warfare to belligerents and neutrals alike.

Three Subjects.

The American note probably will not be published here until the German response has been sent forward, but there is good reason to believe that it deals with three principal subjects, namely, mine and submarine blockade of coasts; the use of floating mines and the entry of foodstuffs for civilian populations.

It is difficult to obtain any authoritative expression of opinion concerning the German point of view on these points from any of the imperial governmental departments interested in the negotiations, or to overcome the censorship restrictions in treating of this matter in news dispatches sent out from Berlin by telegraph. Judging, however, from a general knowledge of German policy and intentions, it may be said with confidence that little difficulty will be experienced, so far as Germany is concerned, in reaching a mutual agreement for the discontinuance of floating mines. The attitude of the German admiralty on mine planting along hostile coasts, however, is at the present time unknown."

MANY VESSELS SAIL IN THE WAR ZONE

Over 1,300 Arrivals and Departures Since Blockade Began.

London, Feb. 26.—The British admiralty last night issued a memorandum of the number of arrivals and sailings of overseas steamers of all nationalities at and from United Kingdom ports during the present year. The memorandum shows that Feb. 18, when the German blockade began until Feb. 24, 708 vessels arrived and 673 sailed.

The admiralty also gave out the following list of British vessels which have been sunk by German submarines:

The steamers Cambank, Downshire, Branksome Chine, Oakby, Rio Parana, Western Coast and Harpallon. It says the steamer Deptford probably struck a mine.

No ship has taken a single passenger from England to Holland since Feb. 18, says the Daily Express.

Dutchmen Stranded.

"Hundreds of Dutchmen are stranded here," the newspaper adds. "Some of them are endeavoring to reach Holland by way of Paris, Switzerland or Berlin, while others declare they will return home by way of the United States. The Dutch government has ordered the Dutch steamship companies not to take any passengers until it is clear that their ships are in no danger from torpedoes or mines.

It is officially announced that hereafter all persons desiring to go to Holland from England must obtain a permit from the home office three days before sailing. They must state the object of their journey and, if it is on business, must file a certificate from their employer. All applicants must furnish as references the names of two British subjects.

SEVEN CRUISERS AT THE FALKLANDS

Berlin Hears Report That British Ships Are Badly Damaged.

Berlin, Feb. 26, by wireless to Sayville—The Cologne Gazette has published a letter received in Germany from Montevideo, Uruguay, in which it is declared that seven British cruisers are lying at the Falkland islands, in the Southern Atlantic, severely damaged. This information has been brought into Montevideo the letter says, by officers of an Argentine steamer.

It was in December of last year that a British squadron met and overcame a group of German cruisers off the Falkland Islands. Every one of the seven British warships which took part in this sea fight has since been reported in news dispatches as active in other marine fields. Under present circumstances of communication it probably would take a letter considerably more than a month to go from Montevideo to Germany.

The German cruiser Karlruhe is believed to be still active in the Southern Atlantic.

Tark Steamer Safe.

London, Feb. 26.—The British tank steamer Weehawken, concerning which some anxiety was felt because a life buoy bearing the name of the vessel was picked up on the shore at Anglesey, is safe at Barry. The life buoy was lost overboard in a storm three weeks ago.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

WHOLE BLOCKS FALL UNDER SHELL FIRE

Bombardment of Reims More Severe Than Ever Before.

Paris, Feb. 26.—The bombardment of Reims was more severe on the night of Feb. 21-22 than at any other time, according to C. Lenoir, deputy for Reims, who was in the city at the time. Shells began falling at 9 o'clock and continued to rain down until 2:15 a. m. The projectiles came from all parts of the German front from the northwest to the east.

The gunners seemed to aim especially at the First ward of the city, M. Lenoir said. This section hitherto had been spared. Fire broke out in twenty places at once and whole blocks collapsed like card houses. Official reports show that over 2,000 shells have been thrown on the old working quarter of the city, causing the destruction of 400 houses. The bombardment was resumed at 10 a. m. on the 22nd and continued intermittently until 4 p. m.

BLOCKADE COAST OF GERMAN EAST AFRICA.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Formal announcement was made at the state department today of Great Britain's decision to declare a blockade of the coast of German East Africa as from midnight, Feb. 28.

The announcement said:

"The British ambassador at this capital has informed the department of state that his government has decided to declare a blockade of the coast of German East Africa as from midnight, Feb. 28. This blockade to extend along the whole coast, including islands, that is, from latitude 4 degs. 41 minutes, south, to latitude 10 degs. 40 minutes, south, four days grace from the time of institution of the blockade being given for the departure of neutral vessels from the area.

Brookston Electrically Lighted.

Brookston, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The electric current from Cloquet was turned on in this village Thursday evening and those who have had their buildings wired have commenced to use it. General satisfaction has been given thus far, and local users are glad to discard the kerosene and gasoline lamps which have been in use for some years. The street lights will be lighted as soon as the contract between the village and the electric company is signed up.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Anton J. Klimek et al., respondents, vs. Henricksen Jewelry company, et al., appellants

When one transaction or agreement constitutes an inducement or part consideration for another deal or contract, it is not objectionable in bringing suit upon the latter to plead the pertinent matters of the former. In this case the court committed no error in refusing to strike matters of inducement from the complaint or in refusing to compel an election.

An ambiguous part in a written contract may, by subsequent acts of the parties with reference thereto, be rendered certain. In such case where the subsequent acts are in dispute, it is not improper to leave the interpretation of the ambiguous provision to the jury, although as a general rule the construction of a written contract is for the court.

The contract sued on was not within the statute of frauds, requiring the consideration to be expressed therein.

No prejudicial error is found in the charge, or in the refusal to give certain requested instructions.

The contract not being within the statute of frauds, it was permissible by oral testimony to prove that another contract constituted a consideration, although no reference is made thereto in either contract.

No reversible error is found in the rulings upon the reception or exclusion of evidence, nor in the alleged misconduct of respondent's counsel. Order affirmed. HOLT, J.

CASS COUNTY.
Judgment Affirmed.

A. M. Kipp, appellant, vs. James Love, et al, defendants; Ida C. Mulliken, respondent—

Following Nicholson vs. Congdon, 95 Minn. 188 and Rogers vs. Clark Iron Co., 104 Minn. 198, it is held that the right and privilege given to certain persons under the Chippewa treaty of Feb. 22, 1855, to locate and enter 160 acres of land in the ceded territory was assignable, and that an irrevocable power of attorney, executed by the one entitled to this right for a valuable consideration, which released to the donee of the power all of the donor's beneficial interests to be derived from the exercise of such right, passed the legal title to the donee to land subsequently located, entered and patented thereunder, although, according to the prevailing practice of the United States land office, the entry was made and the patent issued in the name of the donor of the power.

The finding that the actual location and entry was made by the donee in the power of attorney, is sustained by the evidence, and the finding, that the prevailing practice of the United States land office required patents to issue in the name of the person given the right of entry by the treaty, although such right had been assigned, is considered not material, even if it should not be held that such practice prevailed to such an extent that courts are charged with judicial knowledge thereof.

The court committed no prejudicial error in permitting the answer to be amended after the evidence was submitted, for the evidence was admissible under the original answer. Nor did the court abuse its discretion in refusing to open the case and hear testimony upon the issues attempted to be raised by the reply to the amended answer, for no proper issue not already fully litigated and available to plaintiff was made by such reply.

A notice of the expiration of the time of redemption in a tax proceeding which is ambiguous and misleading as to the exact amount required to redeem is nugatory.

The record fails to disclose that plaintiff as holder of tax liens was entitled to a larger amount than awarded; and she has no cause for complaint that it was adjudged against defendant's lands as a whole instead of placing specific amounts thereof against each tract.

The court did not err in awarding costs to defendant.

Judgment affirmed. HOLT, J.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.
Injunction Properly Denied.

Ernest L. Hopkins, appellant, vs. George S. Taylor, respondent—

A land owner may rid his land, for any legitimate purposes, of surface waters, even to the injury of the land of another, but in doing so he must use all reasonable means to avoid unnecessary injury to the land of others. If it be practicable to deliver the water drained into a natural drain or watercourse, it is the duty of the land owner to do so, but circumstances may justify him in cutting through a water-shed or in draining a marsh or pond that has no natural outlet.

The evidence in this case sustains the findings of the trial court that the route taken by defendant in draining a marsh with no natural outlet was the most natural and feasible one, and that defendant used all reasonable means in constructing his drain so as not unnecessarily to injure plaintiff's land, and plaintiff's prayer for an injunction restraining the improvement was properly denied.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Defendant Not Lessee.

Birdie Winters, appellant, vs. American Radiator company et al, debtors, American Radiator company, respondent—

The defendant radiator company employed a transfer company to make deliveries for it. The transfer company exercised an independent calling, routed the deliveries, took other deliveries with those of the defendant, received an agreed compensation per hundred weight, and the defendant exercised no control over it. A driver, in making a delivery, negligently left some radiators in the sidewalk space, and the plaintiff fell over them and was injured. It is held that the transfer company was an independent contractor and the defendant is not liable on the doctrine of respondent superior.

Order affirmed. DIBELL, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Contract Implied.

In re estate of Cinderella M. Lansing, Meda H. Lansing, respondent, vs. Frances E. Gregory, appellant:—

The presumption is that services rendered by one member of a family to another are without expectation of pay, and that there can be no recovery for them. This presumption is overcome by proofs of promise to pay, express or implied in fact. In this case, conceding that the respondent and decedent occupied in relation of members of a family, the evidence justified a finding of a contract to pay implied in fact.

Judgment affirmed. DIBELL, C.

LYON COUNTY.
No Interference Warranted.

John Kommerstad, respondent, vs. Great Northern Railway company, appellant.—

The plaintiff, a section hand, working upon the defendant's right-of-way, was injured by a trespassing horse being struck by an engine and thrown against him. Upon a review of the evidence it is held:

1. That it was a question for the jury whether the trainmen saw the horse on the track and negligently failed to give a warning or slacken speed.
2. That is was a question for the jury whether the trainmen were negligent in failing to keep a proper lookout.
3. That it was a question for the jury whether the negligence of the defendant, in either of the respects mentioned, was the proximate cause of the injury to the plaintiff.
4. That the verdict, as reduced by the court, is not so excessive as to warrant interference by this court.

Order affirmed. PER CURIAM.

MARSHALL COUNTY EDUCATORS MEET

Warren, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The teachers and school officers of Marshall county are holding their annual convention here with over 300 in attendance, the meeting being the largest and most successful of its kind ever held in the county.

The visitors inspected the city schools and North Star college yesterday afternoon.

The first regular session was held in the M. W. A. auditorium yesterday afternoon.

The pupils of the Warren graded schools entertained the country educators with patriotic drills and playlets. County Superintendent of Schools David Johnson, in an addresses of welcome, expressed Warren's hospitality towards the visitors.

Polk County Man Talks.

Supt. N. A. Thorson of Polk county spoke on "Consolidated Schools." In an interesting and thorough manner he discussed this subject, which means a great deal in improving rural schools. At the business meeting Warren was unanimously chosen the convention city for 1916.

Last evening Prof. A. W. Rankin of the state university talked on "Co-operation of Community and School." He emphasized the importance of the consolidated school to a community. The visitors were then tendered a reception by the Warren Commercial club. The refreshments were furnished by the domestic science department of the Warren high school.

RAT POISON IN ROLLS CAUSES DEATH OF ONE.

Alma, Mich., Feb. 26.—One person is dead, another is reported to be dying and thirty are seriously ill as a result of eating rolls sold at a church festival held here several days ago. Some rat poison, it is believed, accidentally became mixed with the flour from which the rolls were made. A. A. Billings, cashier of the Alma State bank died last night after being taken seriously ill from the time of eating the rolls. The life of Lela Hagg, daughter of a merchant, is desperately ill. Doctors believe the others will recover.

BRITISH PRIDE IS HUMILIATED

Comments on Raising of American Flag By the Lusitania.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 12.—Following an editorial on the humiliating aspect of the Lusitania flag incident from the viewpoint of British national pride, the Daily Express, Conservative in politics and intensely British in policy, has asked its readers, "What is wrong with the Union Jack?"

Among the replies, Sir Robert Purvis says:

"For a British merchantman to hoist neutral colors to avoid capture by a German armed vessel is allowable if he thinks fit to do so. But for the British government solemnly to intimate to the mercantile marine on a Sunday night—like news of a stricken battle—to strike the Union Jack, seems uncalled for, humiliating and indecent. It is a step down, and also gives occasion to the enemy, when we denounce his wars, to charge us with hypocrisy of Mr. Pecksniff."

Another Englishman writes:

"When I read the other day of the German accusation against us of authorizing the use of a neutral flag to protect our shipping, I at once called it another German lie. Imagine my horror, then, to find such an action has taken place, and under the authority of our foreign office."

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

UNSETTLED LANDS TO BE ADVERTISED

Minnesota Farm Land Association Plans to Attract Settlers.

Moose Lake, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—An enthusiastic meeting was held here yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Commercial-Agricultural club to devise plans to properly advertise the unsettled lands in Northern Minnesota with land men present from farms along the Soo lines and the Northern Pacific, also from Duluth, Minneapolis and Bemidji. Immigration Commissioner Killen and Assistant Immigration Commissioner Bates of the Soo line were present and a plan will be worked out whereby the company will aid in the development of the territory along their lines of railway. The meeting was called to order by C. J. Dodge of Moose Lake, who acted as chairman, and C. J. Womack acted as secretary.

Explains Soo Methods.

Mr. Bates gave a very interesting talk on the methods used by the company in settling North Dakota and felt that the same plan would work satisfactorily in the timbered section of Minnesota. Mr. Killen said the company was willing to meet the people along its line on any kind of proposition that meant for the development of their community.

W. R. MacKenzie suggested that some plan be worked out whereby the representatives of the various congressional districts would be represented at a meeting to be held at the office of the company and on a motion carried, the following were appointed a committee to meet with Soo line officials at their office in Minneapolis Wednesday, March 3, to agree on a plan to be adopted for the advertising of the country and induce settlers to locate here: D. M. Cole, Duluth; C. F. Serline, Mora; W. R. MacKenzie, Bemidji; R. C. Mathig, Warren; C. F. Mahnke, Moose Lake; R. J. Bolen, Palisade; J. H. Grell, Pierz; J. H. Baldwin, Frazee; E. F. Farmer, Minneapolis.

Want Immigration Commissioner.

The convention also passed the following resolution:

"Hon. W. S. Hammond, State Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.—We, the land men of Northern Minnesota, in convention assembled, urge you to use your good office to maintain the office of immigration commissioner and have the annual appropriation increased commensurate with the importance and requirements of that department."

Litchfield Mill Burns Down.

Litchfield, Minn., Feb. 26.—The Litchfield Woolen mill was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday night which started in the boiler room. The loss on machinery and stock will be heavy with partial insurance.

GREEN STUFF PLENTIFUL

Vegetables Arrive From South and West; Prices Reasonable.

Potatoes Expected to Be Cheaper; Fruits Are Quoted Lower.

Consumers are afforded abundant variety in fruits and vegetables today, and prices are regarded as very reasonable for the season.

Arrivals of Louisiana and California vegetables have been liberal during the last few days, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. A long list of greenstuffs is available, including beans, beets, brussels sprouts, celery, endives, leaf and head lettuce, mushrooms, oyster plant, radishes, spinach, tomatoes, etc.

Celery is slightly higher, due to the California supply being cleaned up and Florida stock not having made its appearance here yet. Celery from the latter state is expected to reach this market about the second week of March.

The cabbage market is off on account of the extended period of warm weather having led holders to make endeavors to unload their stocks.

Minnesota potatoes remain at from 47 to 52 cents a bushel, and in the opinion of dealers, an advance is unlikely. Supplies of tubers in the Northwest are said to be much larger than had been estimated, and failing an active demand for them from the South, it is thought their quotations are more likely to be shaded than advanced.

Apples Still Abundant.

Apples remain the feature in fruits. Slight declines have come about in some varieties, due to efforts to clean up stocks, but the late varieties are firm. It is believed that there are sufficient supplies of the fruit remaining in warehouses through the country to carry the trade through until new apples are marketed.

There is said to be a good movement in oranges on account of the good appearance and quality of the fruit.

Grapefruit is selling on the cheapest basis in years, with big supplies in hand. No change in its cost is expected for some time.

Eggs Slump Again.

Another tangible drop in egg prices will be appreciated by consumers. The market in them is off 3 cents to 27@29 cents a dozen for the fresh article, and it is predicted that their figure will be down a cent more by next Monday. This is due to the heavy receipts during the past two weeks from Iowa and Missouri, and expectations that they will be supplemented by supplies from Minnesota sources within a few days.

Stocks of storage eggs are said to be practically cleaned up here and they are also reaching the vanishing point in the East. Eggs are now quoted 3 cents a dozen lower than a year ago at this time.

Butter Cheaper Too.

The best creamery butter is selling a cent a pound cheaper at from 29 to 31 cents. While the make is increasing; it is thought that present figures will be maintained for a time at least. Attention is drawn to the fact that Duluth butter prices are at present 3 cents a pound below the Duluth New York market, the quotation on 60-pound tubs down there being 32 cents. A good Eastern call for the product on this market is reported by the Bridgeman-Russell company and the Victor Produce company. Shipments from here were made down that way this week. Importations of both Danish and Argentine butter have been reported at New York during the past two weeks.

Meat Market Firm.

Meats of all kinds are firm after their break of a week ago, quotations in beef, veal, lamb, mutton and pork remaining at the basis to which their figures were dropped then.

Receipts of live poultry are merely nominal at present, and no special change is expected for a month or six weeks yet. Live springs and hens have been marked up 1 cent to 17 cents a pound. Other prices are unchanged.

NEARLY HALF MILLION

Paid in Minnesota in Workmen's Compensation By Insurance Firms.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—Premiums collected on workmen's compensation insurance last year by companies doing business in Minnesota was $1,165,546.09. The losses paid for the same period were $441,831.80.

The workmen's compensation act took effect Oct. 1, 1913, and the premiums collected in Minnesota for the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1913, were $481,697.17 and the losses paid were $29,805.17.

The total premiums collected in Minnesota since the act became effective amount to a total of $1,647,237.26 and the losses paid $471,636.97.

Horn Case Considered.

Boston, Feb. 26.—The Federal grand jury yesterday completed the examination of witnesses to determine whether the laws regulating the interstate transportation of explosives had been violated by Werner Horn, the German officer who attempted to blow up the international railway bridge at Vanceboro, Me. The jury probably will report its findings May 2.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

SUFFERING OF POLAND

Seventy Thousand Men Reburied at Przemysl to Avoid Epidemic.

First Hand Description of Conditions Given By Dr. Mlynarshi.

New York, Feb. 26.—The first actual description of the suffering and devastation in Poland, by one who had just left the country, was given a few days ago by Dr. Felix Mlynarshi, Ph. D., who, with Artur Walenty Hausner, an editor, was sent from Lemberg, in Austrian Poland, by the leaders for a Polish nationality. The object of their coming is to acquaint the 2,000,000 Poles in America with actual conditions and needs in their stricken country.

"Americans do not dream of the suffering and the need for aid in Poland," says Dr. Mlynarshi. "You Americans have a faint conception of what has happened in Belgium and Northern France, those regions having been visited by many writers and photographers, who, returning with pictures and stories, have given you some idea of the real situation. But Poland is an unknown land to you. It is cut off from the world's lines of communication; it has none of Belgium's political significance; it is literally a nation without a helping hand, without a friend in the world."

Fund Is Started.

Dr. Mlynarshi was overjoyed to learn that an American committee, of which Mme. Sembrich is honorary president, had been formed to raise funds for the Polish non-combatants and had established headquarters at 14 East Forty-seventh street, in this city, where the contributions are sent. He continued:

"To understand the situation bear in mind that there is a population of Poles alone of about 20,000,000, and next to Belgium it is the most densely settled region in Europe. Now, remember, further, that the Poles had no direct interest in this great conflict and finally that the Poles are primarily an agricultural people, lacking the accumulated reserves that are at least partially sustaining the Belgians in their present distress.

"Suddenly the war broke. To the Poles it was like a flash of lightning from a clear sky. At once we were summoned to the colors of the three powers who control our destinies. What mattered it that this literally meant brother fighting against brother! We were compelled to go, almost to the last ablebodied man, since all three powers have raised the age limit for reserves to 38 years. Outside of Poland 32 years is the age limit, but for the Pole it is 38 years, each of the three powers ruling that its portion of Poland was threatened with invasion and that all classes of reserves were required for defense.

Crops Destroyed.

"Galicia of Austrian Poland was invaded by Russian troops in the first weeks of the war. We shall never forget that invasion. Galicia is the granary of Poland, and the crops were only partially harvested. In a twinkling our sustenance for the fall and winter was utterly destroyed.

"Do not assume that the Russians were unopposed in thtir advance. On the contrary, the fighting was severe, and there were such numbers of wounded that it was necessary to convert every public building in Lemberg into a hospital. As fast as a soldier was fit for discharge he was given his weapons and ammunition and sent on his way to join his company. This is according to regulations, but it worked out as a peculiar hardship upon the Polish people. The regiments of these men had moved on or had been broken up. The result was that these men became marauders upon the helpless.

"In Galicia alone there is a population of 8,000,000 Poles. According to the best estimates, fully half of these people are wandering upon the face of that weary, war stricken land. In the armies of Austria, Germany and Russia there are over 1,250,000 Polish soldiers, and I do not believe that a single one of them is a willing participant.

Animals and Vehicles Taken.

"When war was first declared nearly all the farm animals and vehicles of convenience were commandeered by the respective governments. Later when the hostile troops swept over the land every remaining animal and vehicle was carried away. When you remember that Poland is a land of small holdings, tilled without any considerable aid of machinery, you can begin to appreciate what it means.

"The battlefields of Poland are sickening and grewsome sights with their endless stacks of unburied men and beasts, and the flocks of ravens rise in clouds and wing away to alight again. After the siege of Przemysl was lifted, it was necessary to bury anew some 70,000 men who had fallen in the conflict that raged and who had been hastily interred beneath a few inches of earth. Think of the horror of this undertaking, but it was necessary or else abandon this ancient city. The battles in Poland have generally been fought along some stream, and the waters, becoming choked and polluted with the bodies of fallen men, have spread cholera, dysentery and typhoid, these streams being the only sources of water supply for the cities of the region. Diseases of this nature have been raging in many sections of Poland."

VICTORY WON BY OILTANKER'S CREW

Get Judgment Against Vessel's Owners for Promised Bonus.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 12.—The crew of the oiltanker Carpathian has just won a victory at law against the owners of the vessel who tried to escape the payment of a bonus promised by the captain for running the gauntlet of German cruisers in the Atlantic.

The Carpathian was caught in a Texan port at the outbreak of the war. Her crew of seven men refused to sail unless paid risk money. Th captain agreed to give them a bonus of $60 each in addition to their wages. Rumors of German cruisers destroying commerce were then numerous. But the men accepted the risk and the vessel sailed for Rotterdam with a cargo of oil.

Although the ship was loaded with a dangerous cargo, which could be set afire by a shell, the crew agreed, in view of the bonus, to stick to the captain through thick and thin, as they testified in court. The journey was safely made, and at its end the skipper offered the men $5 each instead of $60. Thereupon the crew brought suit.

The court, the owners, the Petroleum Steamship company, did not deny the allegations of the men and fell back on the technical defense that under the merchant shipping act a seaman is not entitled to wages further than those stipulated in the articles he has signed.

COURSE FOR S. S. TEACHERS

Will Be Held at Presbyterian Church Second Week in March.

Instructors From Iowa and Wisconsin Will Give Lectures.

Beginning a week from next Tuesday an interesting course of instruction in Sunday school work and methods will be given at the First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street, for six afternoons and evenings for the Sunday school workers of the Presbytery of Duluth. While the course is for the workers of the Presbytery, the meetings are open to all. Prof. George C. Fracker, Ph. D., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Rev. Gerritt Verkuyl, Ph. D., of Appleton, Wis., will be speakers at all sessions and will be assisted at some of them by local pastors and Sunday school superintendents. The sessions will be held each afternoon from 3 to 4:45 and each evening from 7:30 to 9:10, the first fifteen minutes of each being given over to a devotional service. The subjects of the various sessions will be as follows:

Tuesday: Afternoon—"Concept of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Agencies of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The First Aim," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Organization of Educational Work in the Local Church," Dr. Fracker.

Wednesday: Afternoon — "Three Phases of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Aim, Content and Method of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Culture of Reverence," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Administration of Educational Work in the Local Church," Dr. Fracker.

Thursday: Afternoon—"The Sunday School at Home," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Religious Life of the Child," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Development of the Boy Life," J. D. Batchelor of the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., and "Science of Conversion," Dr. Fracker.

Friday: Afternoon—"Devotions at Sunday School," Dr. Verkuyl; "The Age of Doubt," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Meaning and Place of Religious Education in America," Dr. Fracker, and "The Boy," Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church.

Saturday: Afternoon — "Individual, Sex and Other Differences and Social Unity," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Psychological Basis of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker, and "Building the Program," Dr. Verkuyl.

Sunday: Afternoon — "Principles of Early Training of the Child," Dr. Fracker, and "Teaching to Pray," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Boy and His Father," Dr. Fracker, and "The Man Four-Square," Dr. Verkuyl.

The courses count as credits to those attending in their teacher-training work and graduating exercises will be held and certificates issued at the end of the Sunday evening lectures, concluding the course.

BAYONET PLAYING IMPORTANT PART

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 12.—The band of jiu jitsu teachers and fencing masters whose offer of services in the instructing of recruits has been refused by the war office are evening scores by charging that the office does not realize the important part the bayonet is playing in this war on both Western and Eastern fronts. They say the army heads are unable to overcome the prejudice against the bayonet inherited from the experiences of the South African campaign, and fail to read the new lessons of warfare.

The bayonet was first pronounced obsolete in the Spanish-American war. In the few cases where fighting was done in the Philippines at close quarters, the Americans used their guns as clubs, throwing away their bayonets as a nuisance. This was also the verdict of the British in the Boer war. In the Russo-Japanese campaign, however, the bayonet returned to favor, with the result that the American government reconsidered its intention to abolish the bayonet, and this arm was also retained by the British.

Now come the reports of the constant us of the bayonet in trench warfare. Quickness of thrust and parry, of foot, eye and decision are necessary in this kind of fighting. But the drill sergeants, the jiu jitsuists and fencing masters complain, are content to teach the old-fashioned routine exercises, which would avail little against skilled antagonists or even against impromptu tactics vigorously pursued.

SAXONS DID NOT WANT TO FIGHT THE BRITISH.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 12.—According to an officer who writes from a British trench in Flanders, this sign was posted by the Germans in a nearby trench:

"We are Saxons; you are Anglo-Saxons. Keep your bullets for the Prussians who relieve us tonight."

He says that immediately after posting this notice the Saxons perched themselves on their trench tops, lit their pipes, and enjoyed their ease until a volley over their heads sent them back to their trenches.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE PIUTES

Effort to Influence Reds to Submit Has Proved Unavailing.

Denver, Feb. 26.—Efforts of government agents and Indians friendly to the whites to influence the band of Piute Indians who are aiding Tse-Ne-Gat in evading arrest on a charge of murder, have failed, according to reports received here from Bluff, Utah, today. Navajo scouts have reported to United States Marshal Nebeker that the squaws and papooses in the band of fugitives have been taken to a place of safety across the San Juan river.

Forty-eight warriors, headed by "Old Polk," father of Tse-Ne-Gat and "Old Posey" are said to be entrenched in what is known as Butler's Wash, a few miles southwest of Bluff and are prepared to resist the posse of Federal deputies. Marshal Nebeker, it is stated, will make another attempt to surround and capture the Indians with his present force and will not ask for Federal troops for the present at least.

Evelyn's Crew All Safe.

PREDICTS WIN FOR DE PALMA

Former Mechanician at Duluth Auto Show, Racer's Admirer.

Sees But One Result in Coming Vanderbilt Cup Race.

A. H. Balke, mechanical expert for the Apperson factory, who has been mechanician with America's foremost automobile racers at practically every big event in the last fifteen years, is visiting the automobile show, and during an interview with The Herald this morning declared that Ralph De Palma would win the Vanderbilt cup race at the San Francisco fair a week from tomorrow.

"Ralph has beaten all the boys in the country," said Mr. Balke this morning, "and the fact that he has won first prize in the Vanderbilt races for the last two years is convincing enough that he will win again this year. In my opinion Ralph will win this big event, or break his neck doing it. That's the only thing that will stop him.

"De Palma is the most fearless racer in the world and will stop at nothing in the line of speed or hazardous turns to win a race. I was his mechanician at the Elgin races in 1910, and, believe me, he certainly gave me a fright or two during that dash. He is the most fearless driver I ever worked with in all my fifteen years experience in automobile racing."

Mr. Balke was mechanician with such world-wide known drivers as Louis Strang, Chevrolet and De Witt. Previous to becoming mechanical expert with the Apperson factory, Mr. Balke worked for the Lozier and Buick companies and helped build the racing cars these factories have put out in the last ten years.

This is Mr. Balke's first visit to Duluth and he is very much pleased with the city and especially the automobile show.

"This is a classy little show," said Mr. Balke, "and I'm glad I came."

Mr. Balke is also well known as an athlete and boxer and was one of the trainers who helped Jim Flynn prepare for his fight at Las Vegas, N. M., two years ago.

SKATING RACES AT FRENCH RINK

Simon Berg Gives Exhibition; John Olson Wins Race.

Simon Berg, an amateur fancy and speed skater, gave an exhibition at the French rink last evening before a large crowd, performing some clever fancy figures and then giving an exhibition of speed work. Berg skated a fourth of a mile on the small rink in 42 1-5 seconds.

Mrs. John Olson skated a half mile against time, making the distance in 1 minute and 15 seconds.

John Olson, claiming the Northwestern championship, raced against William Olson, Simon Berg and Dave Berg in a three-mile relay contest, John Olson winning out by about five feet.

BUSY TIMES AT BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Week End Well Occupied for Youthful Members of Y. M. C. A.

The Freshman High School club will meet for dinner at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., this evening at 6:15. At 7:30 the social committee will conduct the popular Friday night program. It will be a Pentathlon contest, with the following events, which will not be explained until the meet starts: "Somewhat Elephantine," "A Boxer Uprising," "Polly Contest," "Biscuit Shoot" and "Mexicana Americana."

Prizes will be awarded the winners, and refreshments will be served.

Tomorrow noon the Intermediate Bible Study club will meet for dinner, and at 2 o'clock the outing committee will go out for their weekly "hike."

The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and all boys in the city over 12 years of age are invited. A good speaker and music forms the program. When a boy attends on four successive Sundays he is initiated into the club, receives the club button and is entitled to all the privileges of the club, which include a monthly supper, trips, and a week at Camp Miller.

The Sunday club for older boys will meet at 4 o'clock and will be addressed by D. A. Davis, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Constantinople. During the Balkan war Mr. Davis led in the organization of the Red Cross work, was first assistant to the head surgeon, and was decorated by the government for his services. All older boys and young men are admitted to this meeting.

ALLAN LINER IS CALLING FOR HELP

Steamer Mongolian in Distress 400 Miles Off Cape Race.

New York, Feb. 26.—The steamer Mongolian of the Allan line, bound from Philadelphia for Glasgow, Scotland, is in distress 400 miles off Cape Race, according to a message received here today by Bowring & Co., steamship agents. The Mongolian was said to be calling for help and leaking badly. The Red Cross liner Stephano is about 416 miles from Halifax and is rushing to the assistance of the Mongolian.

A message to Bowring & Co., agents for the Stephano, from J. R. Bennett, acting premier of Newfoundland, said the Mongolian had 200 passengers aboard. It was upon the premier's request that the Stephano was instructed to go to the Mongolian's assistance. Mr. Bennett's message read as follows:

"Urgently request the Stephano be sent to assist the Mongolian. Leaking badly and heading in for Halifax. Consider action most urgent."

MEMORIAL FOR LATE S. S. FIFIELD

Wisconsin Senate Adopts Resolution By Rising Vote.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 26.—In the senate today a memorial commemorating the late Samuel S. Fifield of Ashland, former legislator and lieutenant governor, was adopted by a rising vote.

Indefinite postponement was recommended for the Burke bill permitting appeals from state commission decisions to be tried in counties where appeals originated.

Concurrence was given changing the name of Dunbar, Marinette county, to the town of Goodman.

The bill allowing immigration agents to ride as notaries public on passes and franks was killed.

The assembly killed the Donnelly resolution for a codification of election laws by an expert.

Three petitions were presented asking for passage of a law increasing passenger rates to 2½ cents per mile.

The bill to lower wage exemption from $60 to $40 was killed.

SUFFRAGE LUNCHEON

No Valid Reason Why Women Sould Not Vote, Says Mayor.

Barons Who Secured Magna Charta Were the First Suffragists.

More than 100 men and women attended the suffrage luncheon held today in the tea rooms of the Glass Block and heard addresses by Mrs. Andreas Ueland, president of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association and Mrs. David F. Simpson of Minneapolis.

Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, president of the Duluth Woman Suffrage association, introduced Mayor William I. Prince as the first speaker.

Mayor a Suffragist.

"Men are willing to grant women suffrage when the women evidence a desire for it in a broad way," said Mayor Prince. "The matter of suffrage is not entirely at the door of the men of the country. You must in a vigorous way, but not too vigorous a physical way, show your interest. In my opinion there exists no valid reason why women should not vote. Freely do I acknowledge the superiority of women over men intellectually and ethically. That you may be successful in securing what you seek at the earliest possible time is my wish."

Mrs. Simpson said: "I bring a torch from one of the little cities down on the river. Woman suffrage is discussed at all social gatherings in Minneapolis. The great onward movement is coming and you can't escape it.

The First Suffragists.

"The barons who wrested the Magna Charta from King John of England were the first suffragists. The men of this country have never been deprived of the franchise. It has been granted to them before they demanded it. Only one portion of the citizens of this country have asked the franchise and been denied. Are they unfit ethically? They furnish only 5 per cent of the criminal class. Are they intellectually unfit? More than half of them are graduates of common and high schools. Do they take an insufficient interest in public affairs? More than four-fifths of the philanthropic and church work is done by women. The only objection seems to be—because women are women.

"He Does."

"A man said to Miss Lathrop, the great social worker. 'It is all right for intelligent, refined women like you to vote, Miss Lathrop, but if you vote your cook will vote.' And Miss Lathrop replied, 'He does.'

"Anti-suffragists point out flaws in the government of states that have woman suffrage. We do not expect to do in ten or twenty years what men have tried to do for centuries. We are not criticizing the men for suffragists do not criticize men. We are not like the small boy whose father taught him on the way to Sunday school, 'howsoever a man sows, so shall he reap' and was horrified when his young hopeful recited in the class, 'whatever a man sews rips.'

"Replying to those who say women should not vote because they never have voted, we might suppose that women had never ridden on railroad trains. If such were the case and women asked to ride on them, they would be told, 'Your grandmothers never rode on railroad trains, they are too noisy and dirty for you; there are other means of getting where you want to go, and men smoke and swear and play cards on trains.

"If there are any women here who are opposed to woman suffrage, you should want it for the women who need it. No matter how fortunate you are you can not cut yourself off entirely from the human race.

Mrs. Ueland's Speech.

Mrs. Ueland said in part:

"The standard of human beings when they are young is 'might makes right.' The child always takes the larger part, if he did not we would be worried about him. In the youth of a country 'might makes right.' Woman, because she is physically weaker than man, has always had the harder end. The old Roman law considered a woman the property of her father until she was married, then she was the property of her husband. The common law of England was modeled on the Roman law, and the laws of America have been modeled on the English law. Only little by little has this inequality been removed."

Mrs. Ueland traced the granting of property rights and the equal guardianship right from its beginning fifty years ago to the present time. She compared the wife of the working man, who was chosen for her capacity for work to the wife of the wealthy man who was chosen for her beauty, referring to the old novelists who portrayed the heroines as delicate creatures who subsisted on the wings of birds, delicate pieces of toast and who constantly swooned, with the women of today.

Seated at the speakers table were Mrs. Ueland, Mrs. Simpson, the officers of the local association; Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, Mrs. Helen Stewart, Miss Harriet Glendon, Dr. Mary McCoy, Mrs. J. B. Crowley and Mayor W. I. Prince.

On the tables jonquils and tulips carried out the suffrage colors and the ices and caked were also in the chosen color.

JURY STILL OUT.

A jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court is deliberating today on the question of the guilt or innocence of Julius Paul and Edward Fitzpatrick, charged with having swindled A. N. Friedman out of $50 on a fake deal for the sale of Friedman's store. Arguments to the jury were concluded last evening and the court charged this morning, the jurors retiring to consider their verdict at 9:48 a. m. Up to a late hour this afternoon no verdict had been reached.

There's One Particular Bon Ton Model That Will Best Give Your Figure the New Fashion Lines

Just what model this is our corset experts are prepared to show you, and it is of utmost importance to you that you secure the exactly correct model.

Fashion changes demand new figure lines; the waist must show a slight, yet not too pronounced "nip" giving just a suggestion of roundness.

The bust line is a trifle higher, as are the shoulders, which are so modeled as to give the flat back.

There Are Special Bon Ton Models for Stout Women

The right Bon-Ton corset will enable the tall and fleshy women to rival her more slender sister in gracefulness.

The proper effect is brought about through a distribution of the exuberant flesh, though there is no harmful squeezing.

Some of the new models are cleverly designed to flatten the abdomen without injury.

Let a new Bon Ton Corset be your first step for the spring styles.

This will give the proper foundation on which the entire style of your new gown, suit or waist depends, and considering what this means you cannot afford to economize by improper selection of corsets.

The new Bon Tons which create the new figure lines most successfully are here in models to sell at $3.00 to $5.00.

PICKED UP DEAD ON BATTLEFIELD

Austrians Find 3,000 Bodies and 8,600 Wounded at Svidnik.

Geneva, Feb. 26, via Paris.—During the night of Friday, Feb. 19, taking advantage of a lull in hostilities in the Carpathians, the Austrians picked up at Svidnik 8,600 wounded men and over 3,000 dead. The wounded had been lying on the ground, some of them, for eighteen hours without food or succor. A chief officer of the Austrian medical department, is authority for the estimate that 70 per cent of them will be invalids for life.

A majority of the wounded at Svidnik were injured in the head by blows from rifle buts and 20 per cent of them will be either partially or totally blind.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

MRS. J. F. EBY IS SUMMONED

Had Been a Resident of Duluth for Twenty Years.

After an illness of about five weeks Georgia W. Eby, wife of Joseph F. Eby of this city died at the family residence, 305 East Isanti street, shortly after 11 o'clock last night. Mrs. Eby had lived in Duluth about twenty years and had many friends, being active in social and educational, as well as religious circles. She was 42 years of age.

Mrs. Eby was born March 15, 1873, at Indianapolis, Ind., and moved to Litchfield, Minn., in 1875. She was a graduate of the Litchfield high school and the St. Cloud state normal school and taught school in Duluth for four years. She was an active worker in the First Christian church and Sunday school of this city.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Eby is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth; the mother, Mrs. Martha D. Waggoner, and a sister, Laura Waggoner, both of Duluth; a sister, Mrs. Charles Ward of Deer River, Minn., and a brother, Lyman S. Waggoner of Viking, Alta., Can.

Funeral services will be held from the residence, 305 Isanti street, Monday afternoon at 2:30, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

INCREASE IN THE BUDGET

North Dakota House Agrees Upon the Appropriation Bills.

About $400,000 in Excess of Budget for Past Two Years.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Appropriations for the coming biennial period have been agreed upon by the joint appropriations committees, and the house already has passed the complete list of appropriation bills, including the general budget bill. As for the senate, the passage of the budget measure and the several other bills is merely a matter of form, as the committees are all agreed on the plan of action.

All told, the budget for the coming two years is about $400,000 in excess of the budget for the past two years,

JOHN THORNE,

To Investigate Crime.

The Purcell bill for the creation of a commission for the investigation of the cause of crime, finally passed by the house after a stormy career. This bill had been twice killed and revived in the house.

The Englund bill for the creation of a board for the examination and licensing of chiropractic examiners, was passed by the house without debate. The measure now requires only the signature of the governor to make it effective.

Senator Englund's bill providing that the state railroad commission shall exercise authority over telephone companies also was approved in the house. This bill makes provisions whereby it will be possible to enforce the establishment of physical connections between telephone companies. The question of joint rates also is left to the commission.

In the senate the Bronson bill for employers' liability was passed by a vote of 26 to 19.

RUSSIA HAS BIG PROBLEM

Proposal to Oust the German Population Hangs Fire.

Occupy an Important Position in Russia's Industrial Scheme.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Petrograd, Feb. 6.—The proposal to oust the German population from Russia still hangs fire. Recommendations made before the imperial council and several commissions and subcommissions appointed by the government have included the government purchases of all landed property owned by Russian citizens of German nationality and the expulsion of these subjects from Russia. But owing to the difficulty of replacing the Germans, who occupy an important position in Russia's industrial scheme, the German problem still lies before the commissions with little probability of immediate solution.

The liberally-inclined members believe that while the Germans should not continue to enjoy the special privileges which have favored German industry in Russia in the past, they should not, on the other hand, be thus summarily deprived of their rights in Russia, so long as they are Russian citizens. The Pan-Slavists and the extreme members of the Nationalist party favor the immediate expulsion of Germans at all costs.

Has Conspicuous Place.

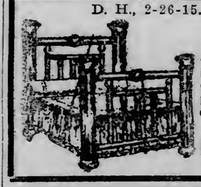

As a practical measure, the whole question hinges upon the availability of other candidates to fill the positions now occupied by Germans. This German population does not exceed 3 per cent of the entire population, but it occupies a conspicuous place in the administrative activity of Russia, both of a private and a governmental nature. The majority of bank and insurance company directors, property owners and managers, are Germans; the same is true of university professors, lawyers, doctors, chief foresters, exporters, importers, civil engineers, printers and foremen in factories. Before the beginning of the war, Russia viewed this condition of things with complacency, realizing that German motive power was indispensable in a country not yet trained to develop its own resources to their highest efficiency. The problem therefore, which Russia has faced since the beginning of the war is a complicated one, for which no practical solution has yet been suggested. Works that prepared ammunition for war, railroads and steamship lines for the transportation of troops and munitions, were directed by Germans, and most of the land fringing the Russian boundaries in Europe was owned by the Germans.

A Further Obstacle.

Even if the Russians could immediately train themselves for the work hitherto left to the Germans, a further obstacle arises in settling with the German-Russian subjects. The Russian treasury has no cash ready to pay Germans for their property or for their stocks. Even if the money were forthcoming, it is not clear to any one, just what would be done with the property when bought. Russians themselves consider that the depreciation in land value and the decreased productivity during the period of transfer would be a calamity.

The various tangles into which the question unravels seems effectively to obstruct any positive action. Meanwhile some Germans are being sent out of Russia, and are temporarily replaced by competent persons of other nationality. Some, in view of the indispensability of their services, have received special permission to remain at their posts. Those who have been expelled are concentrated in camps in Siberia and in the Ural districts, awaiting the outcome of the war and the fate which shall decide whether they are to be allowed to go to their homes in Russia or the homes of their forefathers in Germany.

Woman's Realm

The Red Cross workshop that was opened by the King's Daughters in the F. A. Patrick factory Jan. 11, finished work at noon yesterday after having completed 2,880 short unbleached muslin hospital shirts that will be sent to the Red Cross terminus at New York to be drawn upon by the Red Cross society for distribution among European war sufferers.

The workshop gave employment to 39 of the 54 women who applied. From 10 to 15 sewing machines were going daily. Garments were paid for at the rate of $2 a dozen and as each woman made on an average of half dozen garments a day the average wage was $1. Five hundred dollars was paid in wages. Including material and labor the cost of the garments was about $5.50 a dozen.

The work shop has been of great benefit not only to the Red Cross society, but to the women who have been employed in it. Some of the workers have been more or less steady employes, others have been enabled by it to support themselves until they secured more lasting employment or members of their families obtained work. The social hour at noon was beneficial as they had the use of the factory cafeteria, where they were at liberty to eat the lunches they brought from home without making any purchase if they did not wish to do so.

The carnival that was given by the King's Daughters in December, for the establishment of the workshop, netted about $650, the bridge party that was given at the Spalding this month added $500 to the fund and $200 additional was received in donations.

The King's Daughters wish to thank the public for generous help, F. A. Patrick for the room that was used for the workssop and for the use of the cafeteria, the Marshall-Wells company for scissors, Singer Sewing Machine company for the loan of five machines, White Sewing Machine company for the loan of six machines, individuals for the use of other machines, the Soo line that has donated the transportation of the garments to Chicago, the Associated Charities, Mrs. Agnes Atwood of the Minnesota Free Employment bureau and the press.

MRS. ROHRER HAS RIVAL.

Omaha Bachelor Gives Recipes for Corn Bread, Etc.

Recently the World-Herald of Omaha sent the following circular letter to several prominent housewives of that city:

"High cost of living is forcing many people to economize more than ever before. Will you help to find a solution to the vexed problem? Will you kindly send us two recipes for preparing two different articles of food which you know by experience are palatable and will be of value to the average housewife. They can be for making corn or wheat bread, preparing meat for the table, cooking potatoes, pastry, egg dishes, combination dishes or, in fact, whatever suggests itself to you."

One of the letters fell into the hands of a man who broke into print and culinary circles with:

"Editor Sunday World-Herald: Will you let an old bachelor furnish you a recipe or two for economical living? Take some cornmeal, pour scalding water over it, just enough to dampen it, then pour some grease on the mass, either bacon grease, cottonseed oil or something else of that sort, and add enough water to make a thick dough, or whatever you call it, then put it in a greased pan and bake it. When it comes out hot with a nice crust on it, it is mighty good and don't cost much. The amount of cornmeal and grease depend on how hungry you are. Oh! yes, you must put some salt in it, too.

"Baked potatoes are mighty good. All you have to do is to put them in the oven and let them stay there until they are done. Break them open in the middle, put a little salt on them, dig them out with a teaspoon and eat while good and hot. Cornmeal, grease, salt and potatoes are all cheap.

"OLD BACHELOR."

WINS $1,000 PRIZE.

"Zenith" Is Most Popular Gown at Chicago Fashion Show.

Mme. Winifred M. Burns of this city was awarded the $1,000 silver Gossard trophy for the best gown of American design shown in Chicago by the Fashion Art League of America. The formal announcement was made last evening at a banquet held in the Auditorium hotel. The prize is of special interest to Duluthians as it was won by Mme. Burns' "Zenith," an evening gown of American beauty lace. The decision was the result of a sealed vote cast by the Chicago women who have attended the exhibition held in the gold room of the Congress hotel.

Mme. Burns entered four frocks, the others were: "Belgium," an afternoon street suit of Belgian faille d'armour silk; "Katherine," an afternoon street suit of corn-colored broadcloth, and the "Mayflower," an afternoon gown of Callot striped faille.

The display of 100 gowns, all of American design, gave the first glimpse of spring fashions for this year. Chicago preceded New York and Paris designers for the first time in their display. Among the exhibitors were Mme. Alla Ripley, president of the league; Bassler, Grosfield, Pattee, Hosac, C. H. Phair, Hillquist, Turner, Marguerite, Chambers, Rold, Becker, Morgan, Moore and Mooney.

Cows Get Half Rations.

The Woman's Journal contained a story told by Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, the Hungarian writer and lecturer who was in America early this winter, that shows to what an extent the two-wage standard can be carried.

"According to Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, a Swiss man school teacher gets, among his perquisites, fodder for his cow. The woman school teacher gets a much lower salary. But not only is it assumed that the woman has less need to eat than a man has; it is also assumed that a woman's cow eats less than a man's cow, so that only half rations of fodder are doled out to the cow unfortunate enough to belong to the woman teacher."

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. A. F. Swanstrom, Jr., of 423 Twenty-first avenue west entertained at bridge luncheon today. Color schemes of yellow, red, blue and pink were carried out at the ten tables. Jonquils were used at the yellow tables, white carnations at the blue tables and red and pink carnations at the red and pink tables. An out-of-town guest was Mrs. Florence Holland Snyder of Watertown, S. D., the guest of Mrs. John McNaughton of 527 West boulevard.

WOMAN'S UNION WITHDRAWS FROM NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

New York, Feb. 26.—The Women's Political union, which is headed by Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, has withdrawn from the National American Women's Suffrage association, according to a statement given out at the headquarters of the latter last night. This action was made known in a letter to Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers, treasurer of the N. A. W. S. A., by Mrs. Eunice D. Brannon, treasurer of the W. P. U.

According to Mrs. Brannon, the executive board of the W. P. U. decided on Feb. 19, that the union should withdraw from its membership with the national association. Mrs. Brannon is quoted in the letter as saying the reasons which led to the decision were the need of all the union's funds for campaign work in New York and the fact that it did not agree with the national association in its support of the Shafroth-Palmer amendment on the woman's suffrage proposition in congress.

"Tess of the Storm Country."

Next week the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum will jump from the mythical kingdom of Borovino to the picturesque district around Lake Champlain in New York.

They will switch from a romantic comedy drama dealing with kings and revolutions to a dramatic story of the life of the poor squatters around Lake Champlain, who make their living from fishing, or in any method they can with the least possible expenditure of hard work.

From a princess of Borovino, Miss Doris Olsson, the new leading woman, will become "Tess" in "Tess of the Storm Country," a wild, untutored child of the forest.

From a care-free, young American adventurer, who quells a revolution and saves the life of a king, Homer Barton will change to a young minister who is trying to better the conditions of life in the "storm country."

From the daughter of an American senator, Miss Margaret Lotus will become a farmer's child.

"Tess of the Storm Country" is expected to give Miss Olsson every opportunity to show her ability. The woman's part in this play predominates, whereas this week the play is a man's play.

"Hawthorne of the U. S. A." will continue until Saturday night, with the usual Saturday matinee, and "Tess of the Storm Country" will open with the Sunday matinee.

Last Chance to See Orpheum.

The performance tonight and tomorrow matinee and night will practically wind up the season at the Orpheum for a time at least, as the house will close after the Saturday night show and remain dark for an indefinite period. This week's program which is the closing bill, is all that could be desired in the way of good vaudeville. Every act on the bill is above the standard of merit, making a program which is without a dull moment and unusually entertaining from start to finish. The three Travilla brothers and their wonderful diving seals are the novelty feature of the bill, while Laddie Cliff, the little English comedian is really the headline number. Ben Deeley and Marie Wayne & Co., and Tony Hunting and Corinne Francis furnish an abundance of good clean comedy while the act presented by Lawrence and Hurl Falls adds just the right number of thrills in acrobatic work. In fact, the entire bill is one well worth seeing.

Old Minstrel at Grand.

The difference between imitation and the real thing is about the way most minstrels compare to George Wilson, one of the original Primrose artists, who is headlining the bill at the New Grand the latter half of the week. While many minstrels merely impersonate other minstrels, relying upon a grotesque make-up and a lot of stock jokes and songs, Wilson impersonates the negro, and if a theater patron has heard any of his jokes before, it is not his fault. They were original with him. In his act yesterday he appeared like a real negro, his dialect and make-up being about as nearly perfect as possible in a burnt-cork turn. His audiences roared with laughter and he was recalled many times.

The remainder of the bill, both vaudeville and photoplays, is full of entertaining features. Leroy and Cahill present a very good song and dance act.

Campbell and Brady have a novel juggling act with a little dancing thrown in. The vaudeville bill is closed with an act of great originality presented by the Marriott troupe. Five players appear in a bicycle novelty stunt.

There are several good photoplays and the Hearst-Selig new pictorial of current events. Miss Helen Holmes appears again in another of her railway episodes. "The Escape on the Fast Freight." This time Helen thrills her audiences by leaping from a trestle to the top of a rushing freight train. There she grapples with a bandit and both are hurled into a lake. The two-reel feature, "Dwellers in Glass Houses," is a film drama of heart interest. "Sophie's Fatal Wedding" is a good Western comedy.

At the Empress.

Three more performances of "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" will be presented by the Manhattan Opera company at the New Empress theater, and the players will then open in "The Telephone Girl."

Special prices will prevail at the regular matinee tomorrow afternoon.

In "The Telephone Girl," Miss Mabel Day, prima donna, will appear as Estelle Coocoo, the operator, who falls in love with Dick Marvel, a young stock broker, to be played by Hudson Freeborn. Estelle, however, is jealous of her lover, and she suspects him of being in love with Beauty Fairfax, who in turn is married to a wealthy New Yorker.

To find out for herself Estelle disguises herself as a maid and goes to Beauty's home to learn if Dick is a visitor there. Here the complications arise, especially when Hans Nix, a telephone repairer, arrive.

During the show the company will present Mr. Freeborn's original dancing novelty, "The Reuben Tango Huskin Bee." In addition Mr. Freeborn, assisted by Miss Eleanor Mascotte, will introduce the latest fox trot steps.

At the Rex.

In one of the most thrilling film successes of the season, Hobart Bosworth, in the role of "Buckshot John," is given unusual opportunities to display his brilliant genius and charms of personality. This film will be shown today and tomorrow.

It will be a pleasure for theater patrons to renew their acquaintance with Mr. Bosworth in work wherein he portrays a "ruthless desperado," a "repentant convict," doing some very difficult riding, submitting to the "lynching party," leaping in front of a "limited flyer" at imminent risk of his life, "riding the rods" of a freight train and jumping when it is under full headway, with unlimited other "stunts" perilous to life. These thrilling events mingled with a sweet, wholesome love story, help to make this an artistic and dramatic treat.

At the Zelda.

"Mignon," from the opera of that name, with Beatriz Michelena in the title role, was the attraction at the Zelda theater yesterday. It was very well received by the audience. The film production is now on its second day at the Zelda. This production will be shown tomorrow for the last time in five complete performances. It is hard to imagine a person better fitted to in such a manner as to subtly suggest noble lineage than Beatriz Michelena. Miss Michelena is Mignon and Mignon is Miss Michelena.

Especial mention should be made of the good work of Andrew Robson as Lothario, the licentious nobleman driven insane by the afflictions visited upon him. His portrayal of the mad minstrel wandering about seeking his lost daughter is excellent. Belle Bennett as the daughter of the leader of the band of gypsies also did an exceptional bit of acting.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET.

County Association Will Hold Convention at Virginia.

There will be a county Sunday school convention at Virginia, March 2 and 3, and all schools in the county are expected to be represented. Pastors, superintendents and teachers especially are urged to be present. There will be a special car for delegates on the Duluth & Iron Range train, which will leave Duluth at 7:30 a. m. next Tuesday.

Brewer Matthews, Jr., secretary of the county association, announces that there will be an interesting program of music and addresses with many excellent features. There will be something of particular interest to all departments of the Sunday school.

NO PLACE FOR A WOMAN.

Judge: "Well," remarked the proprietor of the Junkville general store, as he closed the cash drawer and resumed his place behind the stove, "the women want to vote at the polls tomorrow."

The moralist twisted a plug of black tobacco between his molars and proceeded to chew himself into a logical frame of mind before replying:

"Can't say I approve. 'Taint respectable. Whut's the world comin' to, anyway? Women at the polls! 'Twon't be fittin' place for a woman."

"Why?"

"Because I'm goin' to git drunker'n a b'iled owl and raise all manner o' trouble!"

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Some Engagements Should Be Broken.

To my way of thinking, a young woman had better break her engagement with a man if she finds that he is unworthy of a good woman's love, rather than keep her promise and live in misery and perhaps shame the remainder of her days. If she had only herself to think of and she was fond enough of the man to believe that she could endure whatever form of shortcoming was his, all well and good, but there are usually children to be considered. The least that any woman can do is to secure as father of her children a man of good moral fiber, if possible, and if that is not possible she is better off single.

Sometimes a woman becomes engaged to a man, thinking that she really loves him. Subsequently she may meet another man who opens her eyes to the true state of her affections. Under such circumstances I believe that the first man should be told the truth and asked for a release. A loveless marriage, or a marriage with love on but one side, is a pretty poor investment for anyone. These are two never failing reasons why an engagement should be broken, for in either case misery will result unless steps are taken before it is too late.

Occasionally both men and women, before marriage, will display such traits of character that the prospective partner of their joys and sorrows is very sensible indeed if he or she stops and considers where these peculiarities may end. Often as not after years of useless suffering it is in the divorce court. A woman of my acquaintance married a man who before the wedding day arrived indulged in several very disagreeable fits of temper. This should have opened the woman's eyes to the future, though it did not. Finally, after several unhappy years of married life, they settled their differences for good and all in the divorce court.

The putting off indefinitely of the wedding day seems to me to constitute another very good cause for breaking an engagement in many instances. A man will engage himself to a woman and keep her on the waiting list for several years without making a move to settle down and provide a home for her. Men with insufficient means have been known to keep girls of ability waiting until an expected increase in salary arrives, and quite often the increase never materializes.

So while there are many engagements entered into thoughtlessly and broken off at will, there are many cases where it is only the right thing to do.

THE FORESTRY BUREAU.

The state senate finance committee is playing hob with the plans of the state forestry bureau. It is cutting off here and there and has made a general advance on the enemy by trimming the annual appropriation down from seventy-five to forty thousand dollars. The forestry bureau had asked for double the amount given it in the last two years,and here the senate committee is cutting the old sum in two.

Our state forests are not as great as they might have been had there been an earlier awakening to the necessity and advantages of conservation. But they still exist to some extent, and modern study of forestry is showing every year new methods of caring for those that remain and replacing those that have gone.

Minnesota has suffered severely in the past in losses to her forests. Heavy damage has been caused to property by forest fires and many lives have been lost, and had the forestry bureau been in existence and properly equipped the terrible disasters at Hinckley and Baudette might have been prevented. The money expended on the forestry bureau is well spent, and the legislature should grant an appropriation that will increase the efficiency of the bureau, instead of crippling it.

WANTED: A CENSOR.

There is a rapidly developing belief throughout the country that President Wilson experienced an entirely undeserved punishment when he had Frank P. Walsh handed to him as a member, and especially as chairman, of the Federal Industrial Relations commission. Great things had been hoped for from this body, and those who stood sponsor for the plan gave President Taft and his advisers to understand that it must inevitably develop into a valuable power for good.

Today it would be hard to locate any one great benefit that the country or any state or organization has gained from the commission's work, or at least anything at all commensurate with the trouble that is being stirred up or threatened by Chairman Walsh. That official seems to have lost entirely the proper conception of his office. Instead of accepting the semi-judicial and widely advisory character of the work as it was intended, he is making use of his place to attract attention to a series of statements that can be called nothing less than "remarkable," and that might justly be called many other things.

Recently Chairman Walsh delivered himself of this before the City club of Chicago:

> Let us have a new declaration of war and a good mobilization. I hold that every organization we have for good should strike a blow at the main offender: Low Wages.
>
> When we divide our forces into three great battalions—those working for better economic conditions, those working for better social conditions, and those working for better moral conditions—we make a monumental blunder.

The first paragraph reads like an introduction to a heated appeal to the prejudice of the workers of the pre-organization age of industry, and the second is like the incoherencies of an uninformed organizer of uncertain forces. Would Mr. Walsh really unite church, state and industry in one all-powerful body—even with himself at its head? As to wages, the Louisville Post aptly says:

> The only way to war on low wages is to work. Poverty cannot be abolished by idleness, and work that is remunerative must be intelligent, persistent and wisely applied. Taking any reasonable period of time, we find that wages' rise is measured by what wages will purchase. A day's work of a bricklayer or printer or carpenter or mechanic will today get more of the necessities of life than ever before.

The Post even goes so far as to suggest the abolition of the industrial relations commission, but perhaps this is only the Post's gentle way of suggesting that Mr. Walsh tackle the low wages matter along the lines on which that paper says it should be tackled.

It might not be advisable to abolish the commission—or it might be advisable. There should be some serious consideration before such a step is taken. But it would assuredly be advisable to put a censor to work on Mr. Walsh. And not an inexperienced one, either, but an expert—even if we had to send to the European war zone to get the right man.

RUSSIA AND CONSTANTINOPLE.

Students of history will find much to interest them in Sir Edward Grey's indorsement of Russia's desire to take and hold Constantinople as a permanent "warm water port." To be sure the British foreign secretary rather discounts the idea that Russia has officially announced that desire or any plan to carry it into effect. But his indorsement is none the less significant for all that.

Constantinople has been a goal for Russian ambition for many centuries, and this is not the first time she has made efforts to reach that goal. It really looks now as if she might advance even that far, and if she does this and holds the long-coveted port, there will be a tremendous difference in the trend of development in that part of the world.

It has been asserted that the close of the present war, whichever side wins, will find the Russian nation in a more advanced position, socially and economically, than ever before. Grant this, and grant also the industrial and other gains that will naturally grow from this advancement, and Russia's possession of Constantinople would mean the emergence of that important center from the deepest of darkness into the light of modernism. The history student who can foresee the end of such a situation will be entitled to a hearing by every other historical worker in the world.

Now is an appropriate time for philologists to expound the relationship of the words "ute," "piute" and "Utah."

A SCHOOL FOR HOUSEMAIDS.

Down in Kenosha, Wis., they have started a school for housemaids in connection with the public schools, and reports say that fifteen young women took advantage of the plan at the very first session. It's not a half bad idea. One of the great troubles of the family in which household help is employed is to get help that is competent, and the purpose of this school is to make girls competent in housework.

We have schools to teach sewing and cooking and typewriting and bookkeeping and about everything else, and this establishment of a school to teach how to clean rooms and make beds and take care of bedding and rugs and things, and how to make sure that cooking and table dishes are clean, and how to do the thousand and one other things, little and big, that enter into housework, is only a logical development of the same idea.

If the school lives up to its possibilities it can add materially to the capability of any industrious and intelligent girl who attends it, and that is only one way of saying that it will add not only to her earning power, but to her fitness for the duties of housewife if she ever becomes the manager of a home of her own. And if it can only teach these girls to be systematic in their work, to plan it in advance instead of going at it haphazard, that lesson alone will be worth all the time they may spend learning it.

Reims having been bombarded again, the state department at Washington may look for a new instalment of protests and counter charges. Then the war will go on.

WORK AHEAD FOR SOMEBODY.

Two more states have decided to join the prohibition column with the beginning of the new year—Iowa through the repeal of the mulct law, and Idaho by virtue of the action of her legislature.

There is work—and lots of it—waiting for somebody in those two states, for prohibition does not enforce itself anywhere. To put the law on the statute books and then sit back and wait for it to work will mean nothing and will get nowhere.

In the city of Portland, Me., there were 4,006 arrests for drunkenness in the year 1913, according to the records of the chief of police, and Maine is repeatedly held up as an example of a prohibition state.

Kansas records show that in the month of September, 1913, 90,062 gallons of liquor were received in Topeka, a city with forty-five thousand inhabitants. And Kansas is regarded as an exemplary prohibition state.

Clearly, prohibition laws in any state call for vigilance and effort on the part of somebody. Perhaps the new states—and there are half a dozen in which prohibition will go into effect within the next twelve months—will be able to eclipse all former records. At any rate it will be interesting to watch their efforts.

How would the European people like to be looking forward to a change of administration on March 4?

On the other side of the Atlantic they think of the humming of shells and solid shot as the music of the spheres.

A Squad of Dead Men Held a Blockhouse

From "Life in the Legion," a soldier's story of his five years' service in the French Foreign Legion, by Frederic Martyn (A soldier tells the writer how the theft of a general's clothing caused him to win a medal. He had been on guard and as punishment for his negligence was sent to a small outpost on the desert, a blockhouse guarded by twelve men.)

It wasn't long before the Oulad-Seghir Arabs made us busy as we wanted to be.

We had a goodly supply of wine Christmas day. I got four or five liters myself and when I went to sleep I wanted to sleep a long time. But I didn't get a chance, because in the middle of the night the sergeant, who was a poor man at the drink, came and shook us until we were roused up. We had no sooner opened our eyes than we heard the bugler on the roof cracking his lungs with the "rouse," the "alarm" and the "regimental call."

We bounded up to the roof with our rifles in our hands, but no trousers on our legs, and lined up at the "ready."

"Good," said the sergeant, "I was afraid that you were all too drunk. I came up here to smoke a pipe and found the sentry had gone to bed with the rest of you. It would have been a bad job for us if I hadn't wanted that pipe. Look there!" and he pointed to the borders of the oasis where we saw moving figures and plenty of them. "I had the alarm sounded just to remind those monkeys that they can't catch the Legion asleep, and the regimental call was blown on the off chance that it would be heard in Rasel-Chel, telling the company that there is business going on here."

It was nearly 7 o'clock before they came. It was good that they didn't start earlier for there were several hundreds of them with modern rifles. They climbed up into the palm trees and shot down at us but that gave us a better chance at them for we couldn't miss birds of that size. Every shot we fired brought one down.

Our bugler was first to lose his number. He was shot through the head and he stood in the angle of the parapet and remained standing as if he were effective.

That gave us an idea and as each man fell afterwards we propped him up with a bayonet behind and stood him against the parapet. When the sergeant went out we stuck his pipe in his mouth and he looked regular life-like, only more determined. Soon there was a row of dead men guarding the blockhouse and they looked so calm and confident that the Oulad-Seghir evidently thought it would be too risky to come to close quarters with us. They gave up the fight in disgust so when our company came to our rescue at the double there was nothing for them to do.

"Brave fellows, you have saved the post," said our captain, as he embraced the corporal and myself, the only two left standing. But the worthy man was mistaken. It wasn't us that saved the post. It was those others that he didn't embrace.

The company marched past that line of dead defenders and saluted them.

That's how I got this bit of tin, comrades.

Japan and America

Adachi Kinnosuke in Harper's Weekly: Japan has or has had no such fancy idea as committing a national harakiri by attacking the United States at any time.

Not, mind you, that Japan thinks that America will blow her off the map before breakfast if war should come. Not that she thinks it impossible for her to get Hawaii. Japan, indeed, thinks that she could get the Hawaiian and the Philippines, the Samoan and other islands of the Pacific belonging to the United States, and that rather easily. Indeed, she does not quite see the American occupation of Hondo, Shikoku, Kyushu, Hokkaido, etc., she has never yet lost a single moment of sleep. Japan knows that she can take Hawaii—unless things change radically. She knows the American temperament; how impatient it is in matters of national honor. All that Japan has to do is to take Hawaii, fortify it formidably, garrison it with ample force; leave the Philippines as a bait and then sit down in her well sheltered and gun-fenced waters, become a trifle more extravagant in mines and submarines and watch what miracles the American fleet would be capable of in operating 6,000 miles from the home base. That is, if America be the only power to reckon with. But it isn't. There is the rub.

The fact is Japan could never see the United States in the light of a menace. She has always looked upon the American-Japanese war talk as something rather useful to professional newspaper humorists when they get very hard up for jokes to fill up his column. It is not difficult to take this view of the thing when we are told that Japan is actually trying to fight the best friend she has ever had, international-politically speaking and by far the best customer she has, for the sole ecstasy of hoisting another white elephant unto her almost broken back.

Clinging to the jumping off edge of the extreme East is a string of not very fertile islands called Nippon. She has succeeded in winning the enmity of both Russia and Germany and also of China. She is straining her every effort to patch up her armor as well as she might. The United States—fourteen times as big as she in area and twice in number of people and prospering as no other people on the face of the globe, and heaven only knows how many times richer than Japan—sitting 6,000 miles away—thinks that the little heathen is spoiling for a fight with her. Japan would certainly laugh, if it were not so downright heartrending.

Sing of Honest Voting.

Philadelphia Ledger: In one of the hymns now used to thrill the Billy Sunday tabernacle and to inspire conversion are lines:

"And at the next election
See that you vote right."

If the electorate will but act upon the lyric inspiration, not content until a voiced conviction has been translated into votes, the political powers that be have reason to fear the power of a song, which he well knew who said that he would rather write the songs of a nation than its laws. For, as the poet puts it:

"• • • three with a new song's measure
Can trample a kingdom down."

Brazil.

Dan Ward in the World Outlook: Now look at Brazil, the giant republic. Excluding Alaska, you could put all our United States into this country and have 200,000 square miles left! If we had a river like the Amazon stretching inland from New York, the greatest ocean steamers could sail through the heart of the United States as far as Omaha, Neb.

How Much Do You Know?

Kansas City Times.

How many of these questions can you answer correctly without the aid of a reference book?

The questions were given yesterday to the pupils of the Country Day school in a general information test by Ralph Hoffman, head master. The test was to see how well posted the boys were in history, literature and current events and to stimulate their interest in broad reading and keeping abreast of the times.

What Is a Hard Drinker?

Cincinnati Commercial - Tribune: What is a hard drinker, or how much makes one has always been a debatable question. It depends altogether on the standpoint. In the police court the other morning was an old man in his bare feet charged with drunkenness. He offered his own defense.

"I'm not a heavy drinker," he shouted. "I never drink more than a gallon of whisky a day and I can prove it, even if I am 68 years old."

The writer has heard of men who drank a quart a day who disclaimed being heavy drinkers, but this is the first case where a man who drinks a gallon a day has claimed that he is not a heavy drinker. He must be a man of means, for his liquor bill, almost at wholesale, will run close to $2.50 a day. And if he drinks that much he cannot work. He must have a fixed income, but it will not be fixed long.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jimmy Burke, or rather James Francis Burke, member of congress from Pittsburg—until March 4—once performed a peculiar favor for ex-Congressman Brantley of Georgia that Brantley never forgot. While here on a visit recently Brantley made it a point to hunt up Burke and express his appreciation.

One night some years ago in an all-night session of the house Brantley made a speech that was much out of the ordinary. It was after midnight and the comparatively few members present were slouching in their seats sleepily when Brantley started to speak. When the speech was over, Speaker Cannon remarked to Jimmy Burke:

"That is the best speech I have ever heard in this house."

Instantly Burke seized a piece of paper, took a pencil from his pocket and said to Cannon:

"I wish you would put what you have just said into writing."

"Why should I do that?" asked Cannon.

"Because," replied Burke, "it is no idle praise for a man of your position after nearly forty years in the house to say that a speech is the best you ever heard. If Brantley had that in writing it would be something for him to hand down to his children. I am asking you to do this simply because if you ever made a remark like that about a speech of mine I would certainly want to know it."

So, after a little more persuasion on Burke's part, Cannon wrote on the piece of paper:

"Dear Mr. Brantley—That speech of yours was the best I ever heard.—J. G. C."

And Burke, his face lighted up with the joy of doing a kind act, carried the paper over to Brantley.

There were tears in Brantley's eyes as he took Burke's hand and declared:

"I think the finest thing about the testimonial is your thoughtfulness in getting it."

Thomas Ewing, commissioner of patents, was automobiling with a friend the other day, and the talk turned to the subject of tires and punctures.

"Why doesn't somebody invent a spring wheel that will do away with pneumatic tires?" asked Ewing's friend.

Whereupon the commissioner of patents was obliged to laugh heartily.

The humor of the question lay in the fact that spring wheels designed to do away with pneumatic tires on autos lead every other kind of invention filed at the United States patent office. A few years ago nonrefillable bottles headed the list of new inventions. Now spring wheels for automobiles have easily first place. Six or eight applications for patents on spring wheels are filed every day.

Yet how many different kinds of spring wheels do you see in use? Why so few are ever placed on the market nobody seems to know.

• • •

And here, by the way, is a funny thing about inventors and inventions: The busy season at the patent office is in the early spring, for the reason that men invent things during the long winter evenings, and then prepare to reap the result of their labor when the winter is over. About 75 per cent of all inventions, so one learns, are made by laymen without mechanical training. Farmers are about the most inveterate class of inventors. They try to get out improvements on farm machinery, new kinds of horseshoes, harness buckles—everything.

• • •

Hundreds of men are still working on perpetual motion machines. Three or four applications for such devices are made each week. For years perpetual motion machines were about the biggest nuisance to the patent office. The applications had to be filed, worthless though they were, and the inventors of perpetual motion machinery are not always pleasant people to deal with. Most of them are mentally unbalanced—or will be. But the patent office avoids all such bother now simply by requiring a working model of the machine. And up to the hour of this writing no such working model has ever been seen.

Joys of Strap-Hanging

Philadelphia Ledger: Are those who find fault with the transit companies for not furnishing every passenger with a seat barking up the wrong tree? "There is a large percentage of our passengers," writes the general manager of the Interborough to an investigating committee of the New York legislature, "who prefer to stand."

Unless this curious circumstance is merely another illustration of the eccentricity of citizens of the metropolis, Mr. Hedley's statement throws new light upon the problem of urban transportation and deserves the attention of every community where the occupants of straps frequently outnumber the occupants of seats. If the pushing, sweltering crowds who surge into the subway, surface and elevated cars at the rush hours are clamoring for the mighty joys of strap-hanging, then the corporations that provide the opportunity are public benefactors and their motives have been shamefully traduced.

The theory is an interesting one, and many considerations might be urged in support of it. The most obvious, of course, is that this crowding has gone on for years, and that people must like it or they would stop it. Those who have been sitting at desks all day find the exercise both agreeable and salutary. It not only strengthens the muscles of the arms, but it brings the whole body into intense physical activity; one has to fight one's way out again. Those who have been standing at counters for an equal period are so used to it that they do not need to sit. This is particularly true of women; and physical relaxation of that sort might be dangerous to their health. Those who have their arms full of parcels cannot very well grasp a strap, but they are able to perform feats of balancing which help them to attain the ancient ideal of a sane mind in a sound body.

Modern science has been largely devoted to proving that whatever is, is wrong. But there does not seem to be a shadow of doubt as to the correctness of Mr. Hedley's assertion. There is the plain fact that people do hang to straps. And psychology, eugenics, metaphysics and what not else can be called upon for further proof.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Better for Taxpayers.

St. Peter Herald: Governor Hammond makes haste slowly in the matter of making selections for the appointive offices at his disposal, and the Herald learns that there is some impatience among members of his party who have been waiting for slices of the pastry. Prior to taking his office the chief magistrate announced that the qualifications of applicants would be considered before appointments were decided upon, and the delay would seem to indicate that the governor is pursuing that policy. Certainly it is a policy which would seem to promise better service to the taxpayers. And even the disappointed ones must admit that, while the quantity has not been large, there has been no lack of quality in the appointments made thus far.

Great Qualities Blended.

Belgrade Tribune: Today our country is confronted by graver problems than any other presidents but Washington and Lincoln have had to face. With half the world at war and delicate situations arising almost daily that threaten to drag us in, the problem of meeting them in such a way as to conserve both our peace and our honor is a tremendous responsibility. Fortunate, indeed, is our country that in this great crisis, the wisdom, courage and foresight of Washington and the patience, faith and determination of Lincoln are blended in the third great American president—Woodrow Wilson.

Not a Bit.

Hibbing Tribune: Your curler doesn't care how cold a shoulder the weather man turns to him.

Wants Immigration Bureau.

Grand Rapids Herald-Review: We do not believe that the legislature will act wisely if its members refuse to provide for the maintenance of the state immigration bureau. Minnesota needs nothing so much as it needs settlers for its vacant agricultural lands, and the immigration department has been doing a good work in securing them. Its efforts have been largely directed toward advertising the advantages of the state among people looking for a change of location, and the result has been that during the past two or three years Minnesota has received about as many of these permanent and desirable additions to its population as all other Northwestern states combined. It costs some money to keep the department going, but we believe it is a good investment.

Indorses President's Veto.

Le Sueur News: President Wilson has been sustained by the press of the country in his veto of the immigration bill. The press knows the value of the laboring man to the nation and can be depended upon to express the sentiment of the majority.

Roads All-Important.

Brainerd Tribune: The question of good roads is one of untold importance. It has been considered, from time to time, by the press, but only in a fragmentary way, and never as it has really merited. It is not affirming too much to say that the bad condition of the roads entail a heavier burden on the farming community than do all the taxes of county and state combined. The waste of time, the wear and tear on wagons, the excessive work of horses, the loss of opportunity to take advantage of high markets, and the cost to keep the roads even in their present condition, are appalling to consider. But the farm is not the only loser. The manufacturer, the merchant, and in fact every class are affected by bad country roads.

De Mortuis Nil Nisi Bonum.

Baudette Region: One thing we can't understand is why party papers talk about live statesmen as though they ought to be in jail and dead statesmen as though they ought to be in heaven.

The "Down-and-Outers."

Redwood Falls Sun: The Lincoln day Republican gathering in St. Paul was another attempt of the "down-and-outers" to get into the saddle again. If that bunch don't let up it will doubtless mean Hammond for four years.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlivan, the Sunshine Man.

The psalmist tells us that "the fool hath said in his heart, No God, no God." It was a fool who said it, and even a fool had to say it in his heart, for even a fool's head knew better than that. Atheism, of whatever kind, is a freezing void, an Arctic breath, a lifeless life, an atmosphere in which no wing can soar, no heart can beat, and no soul rejoice. Atheism can transform a rare day in June into a raw day in January.—R. S. MacArthur.

Honest doubt is simply the absence of conviction, and its remedy is evidence; dishonest doubt comes from moral alienation, and its only remedy is repentance and submission to truth. You can no more cure dishonest doubt by evidence than you can cure cataract on the eye by an operation on the ears. We should respect honest doubt which comes from insufficient evidence, for we are not sponges to be put a-soak in a tub of doctrine, and take up whatever happens to be in the tub. But an honest doubter will leave no stone unturned in order that he may find out the truth.—Arthur T. Pierson.

A good theological definition of the nature and effects of the labors and mission of an atheist or infidel is "The devil's whetstone to sharpen dull preachers on."—I. D. Driver.

For lo, the kingdom of God is within you.—Luke xvii, 21.

True happiness never flows into a man; but always out of him. Heaven itself is more internal than external.—Newman.

Dayton, Ohio.

Substantiated Abner.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The talk topic at a smokefest a few nights ago turned to things tonsorial, when Congressman Robert Crosser of Ohio was reminded of how the assertion of a party named Abner was substantiated.

Abner was a boy who lived in a thrifty country community where, from a point of economy, his hair was cut at home. At the village Sunday school one afternoon the teacher read the story of Delilah and Samson, whereat Abner sat right up and began to take notice.

"I knowed it! I knowed it!" he exclaimed with an air of positiveness when the story was completed. "That's just exactly what I have been tellin' mother!"

"Do you mean," kindly inquired the pleased teacher, "that you have been telling her about Delilah and Samson?"

"No," was the prompt response of Abner, "I have been tellin' her that it don't pay to let a woman cut a feller's hair."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

The state senate today recommended for passage Senator Spencer's bill establishing a normal school at Duluth. The bill does not carry any appropriation.

The recent successful exhibition by W. W. Lowd of Duluth of his invention for transmitting pictures by telegraph has aroused considerable interest throughout the country. As a result, Mr. Lowd has been flooded with letters and telegrams inquiring as to the methods of his invention, but he will not make his process known until he has secured the patent.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 26 deg. above zero; maximum yesterday, 40 deg. above zero; minimum yesterday, 26 deg. above zero.

The common council has decided to appropriate $500 for the Ladies' Relief society. The amount will be raised by enforcing the ordinance imposing an annual license of $250 on each theater in the city, which has been a dead letter.

The 3,600-point balk line billiard contest between W. F. Hatley and Frank Maggioli opened yesterday. At the end of the first day's run the score stood 600 to 365 in favor of Hatley. The largest run was 65, made by Hatley.

L. A. Paddock has resigned as president and general manager of the Farmers' Grain and Produce company and will become general manager for H. M. Paddock & Co., general commission merchants, 733 West Michigan street.

A telegram was received today announcing that the Union Transit company has absorbed the Crescent Transportation company's line, leasing its boats for three years. The boats are the Eber Ward, John M. Nicol, W. H. Stevens, S. F. Hodge, John V. Moran and James Fisk, Jr. This gives the Union Transit company eight boats, the other two being the Avon and Portage. John Gordon of Buffalo is the manager of the company and J. P. Gordon is its Duluth representative.

A. V. Fuller was today appointed postmaster at Iron, St. Louis county, vice E. H. Strenholm, resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Darling celebrated the crystal anniversary of their wedding at their home, 532 West Third street, last evening. About eighty of their friends were present.

On Feb. 23 the Duluth public library issued 1,123 books, the greatest number ever issued in one day. The number is about one-fifteenth of all the books in the library. The library is four years old, has 16,000 volumes and employs five people.

The Duluth commission men have urged the appointment of Charles J. Birch, a West Duluth grocer, for dairy inspector for Duluth. The names of Adelmer Snyder and J. E. Meyers have also been presented to the Duluth delegation in the legislature.

QUESTION OF GEOGRAPHY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

What is the distance between the east coast of England and the west coast of Norway?

OLAF ANDERSON.

Duluth, Feb. 24.

About 350 miles at the narrowest point.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks, the receipt of the following poems:

"The Farmer's Boy," from Willie Jackson of Penobscot location, Hibbing.

"Universal Friendship," from George Altman of Duluth.

Requests have been made for the following:

"The Preacher and the Bear," from J. F. MacInnis of Duluth.

"On the Banks of Benbana," from a Calumet reader.

The Farmer Boy.

The sun went down behind yon hill,
Across the dreary moor.
Both weary and lame a boy there came
Up to a farmer's door.
"Can you tell me if there any be
Will give to me employ.
To plough and sow and reap and mow
and be a farmer's boy?

"My father's dead, my mother's left
With her five children small.
And what is worse for mother still,
I'm the largest of them all.
Though little I be I fear no work,
If thou will me employ.
To plough and sow and reap and mow
and be a farmer's boy."

"And if thou will not me employ,
One favor let me ask.
To shelter me till break of day,
From this cold winter's blast.
At break of day I'll trudge away
Elsewhere to seek employ.
To plough and sow and reap and mow,
And be a farmer's boy."

The farmer said "pray try the lad,
No further let him seek."
"Oh yes, oh yes," the daughter cried,
Till the tears ran down her cheek.
"Tis hard for those who wish to work,
And wander for employ.
To plough and sow and reap and mow,
And be a farmer's boy."

They tried the lad and found that he
Was worth his weight in gold.
For he would work with all his might,
And do as he was told.
Right glad the farmer asks the lad,
To stay in his employ.
To plough and sow and reap and mow,
And be a farmer's boy.

In course of time he grew a man,
The good old farmer died.
And left the lad the farm he had,
And his daughter for his bride.
The lad that was, now farmer is,
And ofttimes thinks with joy.
Twas a lucky day he came that way
To be a farmer's boy.

Universal Friendship.

If all mankind were moved by just one heart,
If all the people would their quarrels forget;
If socially there were no lines to part
The different classes and class hatred set;
And would religious boycott die away,
And leave the heart unfettered with its chain;
If blood-soaked Patriotism ceased to flay
The world with thrills which naught but blood do drain—
Then would Elysian stars give this earth light,
And mutual love would take the place of strife;
One chain of friendship would the world unite,
And everyone enjoy the bliss of life
Then, friend, to this precept do ever bow:
All other men are just as good as thou.

Sailor Boy.

'Twas on a dark and stormy night,
The snow lay on the ground,
The sailor boy stood on the key,
For his ship was off-land bound.
His sweetheart, standing by his side,
Shed many a silent tear,
And as he pressed her to his side,
He whispered in her ear:

Chorus:
Farewell, my own true love,
This parting gives me pain,
You be my love, my gulding star,
Till I return again;
My thoughts shall be for you, my love,
When the angry waves dash high,
Remember me, my own true love,
As your faithful sailor boy.

'Twas in a gale, that ship set sail,
The lass was standing by,
She watched the vessel out of sight,
And a tear bedimmed her eye;
She prayed to God in heaven above
To guide him on his way.
And the last words he said to her,
Re-echoed o'er the spray.

'Twas sad to say that ship returned
Without the sailor boy.
For he had died far out at sea,
And the flag was half-mast high,
And when his comrades came ashore
And told her he was dead;
And in the message sent to her
These words it softly read:

Chorus:
"Farewell, my own true love,
On earth we meet no more,
I hope to meet you in heaven above
When all is peace and joy.
I hope to meet you in that land
On the far and distant shore,
And never more you'll have to part
From your faithful sailor boy."

MANY BUILDING SILOS AROUND NEW SALEM.

New Salem, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the results of the prominence gained by this section of the state in dairy matters is the rapid increase in the number of silos in this vicinity. A large number were built last fall and at least a dozen will be constructed near town this spring, the material for three having just arrived. Incident to the construction of the silos each farmer is increasing his corn acreage.

UNCERTAINTY IN BUSINESS

Too Much Legislation Is Cause Ascribed By J. J. Hill.

Rest Needed That Commercial Conditions May Become Settled.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Business needs a rest, according to James J. Hill. In a letter from Mr. Hill, read last night at the annual banquet of the Chicago Traffic club, the retired railroad magnate said legislation of the past two years has so distracted business that not even the best informed legislator nor the ablest lawyer can give any hint of the ultimate effect of that legislation upon business. Mr. Hill predicted that whatever the ultimate effect of the legislation, the period of adaptation to new conditions would be extremely critical to every kind of business activity.

"Any revision of the tariff requires two years before commerce can adjust itself to the new schedule. This country is making such an adjustment now, but so much less important and uncertain in effect is it than other changes in progress, that business men almost forget the tariff in trying to forecast and prepare for the future.

"The next new element is the Federal banking and currency system, the first attempt in the nation's history to deal with this subject in the light of economic principles. The public as a whole, though not overlooking the faults of the system, believes it will work out well as a preventive of panics. Yet only experience can bring out in practice its merits and its faults.

Slows Down Business.

"Some uncertainty remains and uncertainty almost as much as actual disaster slows down business operations everywhere."

These two measures alone would compel business to proceed cautiously, Mr. Hill wrote. The new corporation commission and the Clayton bill, he listed as newer legislation of "doubtful propriety and questionable results."

Mr. Hill predicted it would be generations before all the provision of the Clayton bill had been interpreted. "Some of its provisions are crude and almost ridiculous," he said, "like the limitation on interlocking directorates. That can produce nothing but a crop of dummy directors. The man with the property interests in two corporations will not abandon one of them because he can no longer be a director in both. He will send instead a clerk who will obey his orders. The public will gain nothing. The business will only substitute a second-class man for a first-class man. Other provisions of the law are plainly iniquitous. Such is the first formal piece of class legislation in this country by which the same act done in the same way and for the same purpose, is illegal by a manufacturing concern or trading concern and legal by a labor or agricultural concern. Even though this perversion of equal rights eventually will be set aside by the courts, the business men will remember that the law explicitly authorizes formidable conspiracies against him and forbids him a remedy under heavy penalties."

NAME IN SIX FORMS.

Probate Court to Untangle Titles of Nels H. Nyhus' Property.

Nels H. Nyhus, who died in Duluth, Feb. 16, 1915, aged 70, had six different ways of signing his name, according to information stated in a petition, which was filed yesterday afternoon in probate court by his son, Herman O. Nyhus, who asks that his father's will be admitted to probate. Nyhus never changed his surname but signed his Christian name differently at various times and when he died he owned property under each of the names he had been using. The various names were Nels H. Nyhus, Nils H. Nyhus, Niels H. Nyhus, Nells H. Nyhus, Nels Nyhus and N. H. Nyhus. The estate is valued at $16,850 and is bequeathed by the will to the widow, Julia Nyhus, and the son who is named in the will as executor.

ONLY FOUR ARE ABSENT

Millennial Class of Scottish Rite Masons Holds First Reunion.

But four members of the Millennial class of Scottish Rite Masons were absent at the first annual reunion and banquet held last evening at the Holland hotel. Out of the twenty-nine original members, twenty-five were present last night.

When these twenty-nine Masons took the fourteenth degree a year ago, they brought the membership of the Scottish Rite body in Duluth above the 1,000 mark and because of this significant fact, E. K. Coe, venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, requested that they organize the Millennial class. At the organization meeting it was decided to hold an annual reunion and banquet until but one lone survivor of the class remains.

About a week ago A. B. Kapplin, chairman of the banquet committee, sent out the reunion notices to all the members and everyone responded but four, who are out of the city, and who wrote they would be unable to be present.

Mr. Coe was the honor guest of the class last night and the principal speaker of the evening. C. F. How, Jr., president of the class, presided during the evening and short talks were made by every member of the class. Shortly after 8 o'clock all those present went down to the Masonic temple in a body to attend a meeting of the Scottish Rite lodge.

The committee in charge of the reunion last night consisted of A. B. Kapplin, A. L. Kreitter and G. H. Franklin. Fred G. Hanson is secretary of the class and J. Q. Adams is a member of the executive committee, consisting of C. F. How, Jr., and Mr. Hanson.

The membership of the class consists of the following: J. Q. Adams, G. C. Kane, T. F. Clark, E. S. Lyden, F. R. Randall, C. F. How, J. T. Lundquist, A. B. Kapplin, G. H. Franklin, A. T. Lind, G. A. Farmer, F. D. Ash, Fred G. Hansen, Fred G. Kleyn, A. L. Kreitter, O. W. Olson, G. B. Hathaway, L. J. Wixcen, H. D. Cole, L. M. Duncan, G. J. Kermott, J. C. MacDougall, David Cone, L. C. Heckroth, E. H. Stevenson, J. R. McKinley, L. B. Arnold, H. Lykstad and C. N. Lewis.

ROTARY MEN HOLD BANQUET

Club Celebrates Its Tenth Anniversary; Large Number Present.

Rotarians of Duluth commemorated the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Duluth club last night by an informal banquet at the Elks' club. About seventy-five members of the Zenith City organization were present.

During the last few years the Duluth organization has grown rapidly, until it now has about 150 members and is ranked as one of the strongest chapters in the state. Its membership list is almost as large as that of St. Paul.

Rotarianism and its real meaning was discussed by Charles H. Macklntosh in one of the two addresses of the evening. He told of the philosophy of Rotarianism and its significance to the active members. He also gave a short report of the recent rotary conference at Minneapolis.

J. R. Zweifel, in a short talk commemorating the tenth anniversary, told of the growth of the Duluth club and its work during the last few years. At 9 o'clock the guests adjourned to attend a performance at the Rex theater. During the dinner Miller's orchestra furnished musical selections.

It was announced after the dinner that the annual election of club officers would take place next Thursday evening. The place of meeting has not been decided upon, but will be announced later.

MURCHISON TO SPEAK.

Will Address Munger Improvement Club on Paving.

Commissioner Murchison will address the members of Munger Improvement club at their meeting to be held this evening at the Munger school, Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street.

Residents in the vicinity of the school are objecting to the advance assessment of $31,500 on the paving of East Ninth street, which they claim is too high, and the commissioner will explain the assessment at the meeting this evening.

In addition the club members propose to make a formal request for a bridge across Chester creek at Ninth street.

Six-Cent Milwaukee Bread.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—Wholesale bakers of Milwaukee announced today that beginning Monday the price of bread would be advanced from 4 to 5 cents, making the price to the consumer 6 cents.

UNFAMILIARITY WITH ENGLISH DRIVES "U" COED TO TAKE LIFE

MISS SVANHILD AMUNDSEN.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 26.—Miss Svanhild Amundsen, the student missing from the University of Minnesota, is dead. Her body was found in the suburbs late yesterday afternoon lying on the bank of Minnehaha creek. The finders, a group of searchers from the university, said they were satisfied she took her own life. The coroner assumed charge of the body. Her parents in Norway have been notified. She was a freshman dental student and disappeared last Thursday. President Vincent of the university issued a statement later saying there was no known cause why she should worry, except that her work was difficult owing to unfamiliarity with the English language.

MANY YEOMEN AT BANQUET

More Than 300 Attend the Eighteenth Anniversary Dinner.

Nearly 150 members of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, more than half of whom were from West Duluth, attended the banquet in celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the order, held last night at the Superior hotel. The total attendance was more than 300. A special car conveyed the crowd from Duluth to Superior.

A feature of the evening was the initiation of a class of ninety-three new members held at the Maryland hall before the banquet. Of this number forty-nine were secured by the Superior homesteads and forty-four by the Duluth lodges. The degree staff of the Duluth homestead exemplified the work.

P. F. Harouff, district deputy of Duluth, was toastmaster at the banquet. Short, interesting talks were given by Mayor J. S. Konkel of Superior, Mayor W. I. Prince of Duluth, J. C. Wesenberg, foreman of the Duluth homestead; Dr. O. G. Winters of Des Moines, Iowa, assistant chief medical director of the order; Nell G. Beaton, Duluth; M. E. Louisell, Duluth; Ross Johnson and William Erickson, Superior; Mrs. Ida L. Garland, supreme sentinel, and J. H. Murphy, St. Paul.

Baskets of roses were given to Dr. Winters, Mrs. Garland, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Harouff by Mr. Wesenberg, and Mr. Murphy presented in behalf of the home office, special emblems to Mrs. Claudia Brassard of West Duluth and William Erickson of Billings Park.

The program was not completed until after 2:30 a. m.

START WORK SOON.

Subway Under Missabe Tracks Practically Assured.

At a conference held this morning by the city commissioners in the mayor's office, plans for the proposed subway under the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad at Highland street were thoroughly gone over. It was said that all of the required signatures, with the exception of two, have been obtained, and that these would be had before Monday afternoon.

Notification to that effect is to be given the railroad company, so that it may make preparations to start work on the subway early next week.

Prohibition Rally.

A prohibition rally will be held this evening at the I. O. O. F. hall of Proctor at which talks will be made by Dr. J. W. Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church of Duluth and Watson S. Moore. The meeting is one of a series planned by the "dry" forces in their campaign to vote out saloons in the village at the election on March 9. A meeting was held Wednesday evening at the hall which was attended by a large number of residents.

INJURED IN FALL; DIES

Alfred Pelky Steps Through Trap Door at Scott-Graff Plant.

Alfred Pelky, 20 years old, driver for the Scott-Graff Lumber company, died this morning at St. Mary's hospital from a fracture of the skull sustained Wednesday afternoon in a fall of two stories at the plant. The young man failed to regain consciousness.

Pelky was assisting the warehouse man in carrying lumber from its storage place on the second floor to a freight elevator. A trap door had been left open near the elevator. Pelky in carrying lumber to the elevator walked backward and fell through this open door landing in the basement. He struck on his head, fracturing his skull.

Pelky had been employed by the firm for the last year and a half. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelky, 2231 West Superior street, two brothers and one sister. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

Surprised By Friends.

Mrs. Louis Oreck was pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of her West Duluth friends at her home, 5 West Fourth street. Five hundred was played at four tables, the honors being won by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Macaulay, Judge H. W. Lanners and Mrs. M. J. Murray. The guests were: Judge and Mrs. H. W. Lanners, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Macaulay, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunleavy, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Medland and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Johnson.

Spaa Club Wins.

The Spaa intermediate basket ball team defeated the Y. M. S. quintet in a fast game last night. The score was 28 to 16. The following was the lineup:

Spaa club—		—Y. M. S.
Bergquist	f	J. Flynn, Farley
Nordstrom, Dahl	f	Ryan
Harper,
Schlederick	c	P. Flynn
O'Lind, Lienberg	g	Kiley
Peterson,

With the Curlers.

Three games will be played this evening at the Western Curling rink. In the Bagley event games will be played between Iltis and Evered, and between Judson and McDonald. Olson and Donald will play in the Henricksen event.

Last evening Zauft won from Mallory, 11 to 6, and R. F. Wade won from Quinn, 12 to 8. Games are to be rushed from now on owing to the nearness of the end of the season, according to members of the games committee.

Monthly Smoker.

The West Duluth Commercial club will entertain this evening at another of its monthly smokers for its members and business men of this end of the city. Each member of the club is expected to bring a friend to enjoy the program. Several short talks by members on subjects of betterments for West Duluth will be given.

NOTICE!

MANY RUMORS OF SHIPYARD CHANGES

Company May Become Repair Yard or Enlarge; No Confirmation.

Have the days of big ship building ended at the Head of the Lakes?

Rumors give the inference that they have, or that, at least, they have been suspended.

For some time the story has been abroad that the Superior Shipbuilding company, which is the organization subsidiary to the American Shipbuilding company at the Head of the Lakes, will sell most of its buildings to the Soo road, the supposition being that the Soo would use the buildings for repair shops.

Now the further story has arisen that the plant of the shipbuilding company will no longer be used for the building of ships and that the yard will be moved to Connor's point, just across Howard's pocket, and will be used only for repair purposes.

Still another and later rumor has it that instead of selling its buildings, the shipbuilding company will construct more.

G. A. Tomlinson, president of the Superior Shipbuilding company, is out of the city and will not return until the first of the week, and none of the officials under him would discuss the prospects of the yard. The Soo road officials here express ignorance of any move on the part of their road's officers to make such a deal as that rumored.

"I have heard nothing from headquarters," said one, "but, of course, have heard the rumor. I know nothing more about it than anybody else does; but the purchases made by our company and its development plans come about so quickly that I would be astonished at nothing."

CHILD IS KILLED; MOTHER MAY DIE

Pouring Kerosene Into Fire Causes Tragedy in Brainerd Home.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pouring coal oil on a kitchen fire caused an explosion today which instantly killed the 15-month daughter of John Verkennes and so badly burned his wife that she is not expected to survive. The explosion tore the bottom and nozzle from the kerosene can which the woman held, burned the curtains and table cloth in the room, broke the glass of a cupboard. A human torch, the woman ran to the door, where she collapsed on the sill and neighbors came to the rescue, extinguishing the fire in her clothes, but she was badly burned.

INJURY'S EXTENT IS IN DISPUTE

Mining Company Denies Total Disability of Plaintiff in Suit.

Judge Fesler in district court this morning conducted a hearing on the disputed claim of Peter Avdalovitch against the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company for damages for injuries received Oct. 18, 1914, at one of the company's mines at Ironton. Avdalovitch alleges that he was caught under a mass of debris and rock when a portion of the mine wall caved in, and asserts that he was permanently disabled for work. He asks to be awarded damages in accordance with the schedule for total disability as set forth in the workmen's compensation law.

The company, on the other hand, alleges that he was not permanently disabled and is unwilling to compensate him in an amount in excess of what he would be entitled to receive on account of five week's disability. Testimony was given this morning by physicians who examined Avdalovitch.

PREPARE FOR UNEMPLOYED

City Will Provide Work for Many Woodsmen and Sailors.

Spring Improvements Will Be Started Early to Relieve Situation.

Because scores of men return from the woods during March, and as many more come to Duluth in anticipation of the opening of navigation on the lakes, the city commissioners expect the labor situation to become acute and as a result have decided to begin an early program of street improvements, so that a large share of these unemployed can be given work during the next two months.

At a special conference of the commissioners held in the office of Mayor Prince this morning, it was decided to start the improvement program much earlier this year so that these men can be given work, especially in March and April. The heads of the various divisions are all in accord with the plan and within the next week a great share of the work will be ordered and it is expected put under way before the middle of next month.

Commissioner Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, plans to start laying water mains in Railroad street next week, giving employment to about twenty-five men, while Commissioner Murchison of the department of public works expects to start his improvement program before very long.

"During March and April," said Mayor Prince this morning, "the labor situation is the worst during the year, and we plan to do all we can to relieve the situation. Most of the men now in the woods come home during March and many sailors drift to the city in advance of the opening of navigation. These men have nothing to do these two months and if we can help them over until May, then the problem is solved. After spring sets in the men can easily find work."

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

WILL ESCHEW THE GREEN MACKINAW

Two Are Sentenced for Theft and Sale of Colored Coat.

Green mackinaws never will appeal to Hans E. Erickson and Ludvig Olson again, for a coat of this color was the indirect cause of a sixty-day sentence for each of them this morning in municipal court.

When the two, accompanied by Iver Christiansen, stole the coat from its hook in front of the store of August Johnson, 509 West Superior street, yesterday, nothing was said, because no one knew that they had taken it.

Later on, however, when the three succeeded in selling it for 80 cents, and staged a "party" with the sum, they let the cat out of the bag. Inspired by the 80 cents' worth of fun producer, they made so much noise that they attracted the attention of Sergeant John Roberg, and the investigation which followed led to their arrest.

Erickson was sentenced to sixty days in jail, Olson drew sixty days at the work farm, while Christiansen was released.

ANCIENTS WERE ALFALFA WISE.

Breeders' Gazette: Reading ancient books on agriculture shows that farmers of old knew nearly as much about alfalfa and its culture as we know today. They knew 2,000 years ago that the plant throve best on a calcareous soil; that to top dress it with ashes promoted its thrift; that before seeding it was better to drain the land and to apply quantities of manure. It is recorded also that the first year the alfalfa must not be cut too soon or it may be killed, but apparently there is no record of their having observed that alfalfa should never be cut before its little new shoots appear at the base of the stems, close to the earth or just beneath the earth.

This is the most vital fact of alfalfa growing after the need of drainage, lime and fertility. Various English agriculturists nearly 200 years ago wrote enthusiastically of alfalfa growing, yet it did not much advance, probably because the frequent cuttings they advised, without waiting for the appearance of new shoots, so weakened the plants that they became a prey to weeds and grasses, or died in winter.

FRECKLES

February and March Brings Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from Boyce drug store or any druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

WOODLAND WINS POINT

Residents of the Suburb May Yet Get Desired Amendment.

Chairman of Charter Commission Explains Action on Others.

Complying with the request made by members of the Woodland Neighborhood club, the charter commission will, in all probability, submit, at the April election, an additional amendment lowering the limit for payment of assessments at the spring election. Only one amendment, raising the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500, had been decided on by the commission's special committee.

When the announcement was made Wednesday that the committee of the commission had rejected four out of the five amendments proposed and that the one raising the purchase limit would be recommended to the charter commission last night, members of the Woodland club immediately got busy and insisted that the one they proposed also be submitted to the voters on April 6.

As a result a large delegation from the Woodland club was present at the meeting of the commission last night and following a general discussion, T. T. Hudson, chairman of the commission, promised to call another meeting for tonight, when he will present the two amendments mentioned. In all probability both of these will be ordered submitted to the voters in April.

Under the new amendment proposed by the Woodland club, smaller property owners will be greatly benefited, as an assessment will then be paid in installments, if it exceeds $15 for every 4,000 square feet of property benefited, while at present the limit is $25 for every 2,500 square feet.

There was no quorum of the charter commission present at the meeting last night.

Reasons for Rejection.

During the evening Mr. Hudson gave out the following statement, explaining the various amendments and why the commission rejected all but one:

"That Section 31 of the charter of the city of Duluth be amended so as to read as follows:

"'In all cases of work to be done by contract, or of the purchase of property of any kind, when the amount involved is more than $500, unless the council, by an emergency resolution, shall provide otherwise, it shall advertise for bids in the official paper of the city. When such probable expenditure shall be more than $500, and less than $1,000 in amount, such notice shall be published once in said official paper, and when more than $1,000, the same shall be published in at least two issues of said paper. Contracts shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and purchases shall be made from the responsible bidder who offers to furnish the article desired for the lowest sum. The council may, however, reject any and all bids; and nothing contained herein shall prevent the city from contracting for the doing of work with patented processes, or from purchasing patented appliances. The council shall regulate the making of bids and letting of contracts by ordinance.'

"That w believe it in advisable to make any change in the city charter in the matter of taking appeal from special assessments for local improvements as provided in Chapter 9 thereof, for the reason that we believe practically all of the objects and remedies sought by the proposed change are covered by existing law, and that no amendment should be submitted until the courts have decided adversely thereon.

"The proposition to place the power with the city commissioners to appraise damages and benefits for the taking of private property for public use we think should not be submitted. The owner of property taken should have his damages appraised by an impartial tribunal. Where the city commission undertakes to condemn or take property for a public use, they are subject to the charge of being biased in favor of the city. We believe the general law of the state which provides that property required by the city for a public use shall be acquired through a court proceeding is fair to the citizen, whose property is taken, and is not unfair to the city.

Should Be Uniform.

"The state law of Minnesota makes the mayor, the city clerk and the city assessor a board of review of all cities of the state, except in cities whose charters provide for a board of equalization to review and correct assessments. At the time of framing the city charter, this matter was carefully considered by the charter commission, and it was deemed best to preserve uniformity throughout the state by having the same officials constitute the board of review for this city, as the state law provides for other cities. In view of the fact that the duty of this board is simply to correct errors which are made in assessments, the sub-committee considers that the officials now constituted by the state law are as well qualified to perform the duties of this board as any body of men or officials which may be named as such a board. The sub-committee, therefore, recommends that no change be made.

"As to the question of the advisability of granting greater latitude in the matter of extension of assessments for local improvements, your committee reports the same back, without recommendation either for or against. Your committee understands that interested parties desire to be heard before the full commission, and for that reason your committee deemed it best not to prejudice the question by making any recommendation. If the commission should deem it expedient to recommend this amendment, your committee suggests that it be done by amending section 68 of the charter by decreasing the $25 limit and increasing the 3,500 square feet area limit in that section, and by striking out from the section the following sentence: 'No assessment for the construction of sidewalks shall be payable in installments, unless the sidewalk is constructed in connection with other improvements.' In this manner, the amendment would not impair the harmony of the system of extension of assessments, as now provided in the charter."

mon labor was referred to the judiciary committee for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The move caught the friends of the bill napping, and Senator Campbell of Minneapolis later moved to reconsider the vote of reference, declaring it to be a move to kill the bill.

Senator Putnam, chairman of the judiciary committee, resented this as an affront to his committee, and said he did not believe Senator Jones agreed with Campbell's ideas on the subject.

Senator Jones said he certainly did agree with Campbell and, moreover, he felt that a breach of senatorial courtesy had been made in springing this surprise on the friends of the bill. The motion to reconsider failed, getting only four votes.

Senator Adams then expressed regret if anything he had done left a sting, and the incident closed.

The Faribault School.

The Faribault Commercial club sent in a resolution which was read in the house this morning declaring that the Faribault school for the deaf is excellently managed. Representative Konzen, chairman of the committee now investigating the school, said he didn't know what fear this resolution indicated, but that the investigation would be fair and full and fearless and the findings based on the full facts divulged.

Representative W. J. North of Duluth, a member of the committee, said that if the Faribault Commercial club thought it could scare him off by such a resolution, it had the wrong man! His remarks were applauded.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

GOVERNOR TO SIGN IT

ring into life of a fury of prohibition propaganda—county prohibition propaganda.

There is nothing to prevent this beginning next week and doubtless its beginning will not be delayed much beyond then.

In any county of this state, a petition of 25 per cent of the voters, properly authenticated, can bring about a special election on the question whether or not licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquor shall thereafter be granted in that county.

This election must be held on a Monday, not less than forty days nor more than fifty days after the filing of the petition.

The intention of the authors of the bill is that county option elections shall not be confused with any other issues. If a petition for such an election is filed within sixty days before any primary or general state or local election, the law provides that the special election shall be held not less than thirty nor more than forty days subsequent to such regular election.

This privilege will be used, quickly, freely.

In most of the counties, perhaps in all of them, petitions will soon be in circulation. It is no great chore to get 25 per cent of the voters to sign them, and then the campaigns will be on.

Campaigns Will Be Bitter.

They will be bitter campaigns. Such contests always are bitter. The brewers and their employes, the saloon keepers and their employes, the cigar manufacturers and their employes, all those dependent directly or indirectly upon the liquor traffic for a livelihood, will be fighting for their bread and butter. They will be supported by many who believe in personal liberty, and by many business interests, doubtless, who fear the result of prohibition.

On the other hand, those who believe that liquor is a curse and a waste will be fighting to blot out the liquor saloon, and they are zealous and will fight hard.

The campaigns will be short, and the issue in each county where it is raised will be decided six or seven weeks after the filing of the petitions.

It is predicted that seventy out of the eighty-six counties will go dry at the first county option election, which is as it may be. It is certain that many will go dry. There are two counties entirely dry now under local option. Aitkin county, neighbor to Duluth, is one of them. There are many counties like Carlton, where wet spots are few and small. Whether they go dry or wet, there will be fights in most or all of them.

It is said that Hennepin county, containing Minneapolis, the largest city of the state, is almost certain to go dry under county option. Ramsey county, its neighbor, is certain to go wet. The Twin Cities then will be an oasis and a drouth.

* * *

Effect on the Legislature.

That is one side.

The other side—the effect on the legislature—is fully as interesting and even more important.

For eight years the Minnesota legislature has been elected largely on this one issue.

A vast majority of the members of both its branches have been chosen either because they were for county option or against it.

Either way, this works against the best interests of the state. Men chosen to make laws largely or even solely because they are on one side or the other of a single question are likely to be narrow men. Certainly bodies so constituted are not likely to develop the highest capacity of statesmanship. This is particularly true when the issue is of this character.

The Minnesota legislature has had many good men in its membership during this period.

Its membership has not averaged so high as it did before this single issue crowded most other issues out of the campaigns.

Now that county option, the one overwhelming and all-absorbing issue of the past five sessions of the legislature, is out of the way, there is hope that a broader basis will be found for the choice of men to sit in the senate and the house of representatives to make the laws of this state.

And this hope may be realized if the repeal of county option or the specter of statewide prohibition that lurks ever in the near background do not complacently step in at the next election to occupy the field.

Fight Dates Back Many Years.

County option is old in this state, but the real fight has been a matter of comparatively few years.

County option was before the legislature of 1893, twenty-two years ago; for in the last campaign William E. Lee, a candidate for governor, was charged with having ducked the vote on it when he was presiding as speaker in that session.

County option was in the legislature in the present century, when the redoubtable J. F. Jacobson of Lac Qui Parle was a member.

County option has been before the legislature off and on for many years, therefore, but the real fight goes back only about ten years.

A dozen years ago the Anti-Saloon league was organized in this state, and it immediately got behind the county option issue. It has been growing ever since, and so has the issue. It is well supplied with campaign funds, thousands of churches over the state contributing the sinews of war, and it has gone into politics with a vengeance.

But never until this year did the Anti-Saloon league succeed in getting a county option bill through either branch of the legislature. Two years ago it came closest, when the bill failed in the house by but one vote. But the senate then was "wet," and the bill would not have become law even if it had gained that one lacking vote in the house.

This year both houses were close, and the issue was in doubt up to the last moment in each. County option was carried in both houses by the votes of men not definitely instructed or pledged to vote for it.

Much of the credit for this final success of county option is freely given to the legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, Magnus Martinson. His opponents on this issue are generously admitting that he played real politics—shrewd, resourceful and successful politics. Others are expressing the belief that he outplayed the oldest and most experienced politicians on the other side, and that that is why his cause won.

Wants Corning to Apologize.

There was an echo of the county option debate yesterday afternoon when Representative Robert J. Carmichael of Dakota county offered a resolution summoning Representative Leavitt Corning of St. Paul to the bar of the house to apologize for his strictures upon the governor and the house membership. Representative Elmer E. Adams of Fergus Falls put the matter over to today by giving notice of debate.

The resolution is as follows: "Whereas, in the debate of the county option bill a member of this body from Ramsey county, Leavitt Corning, overstepped all rules of this house and violated all parliamentary usages and decencies by questioning the sincerity of the governor of this state and charging honorable members of this body with being the hirelings of the breweries, Be it resolved, that said member be brought to the bar of the house to make due apologies."

Sawyer Withdraws Bill.

The bill that has stirred up the Christian Scientists of Duluth and all other parts of the state vanished yesterday afternoon under a storm of protests when its author in the house, Representative Charles L. Sawyer, moved that it be recalled from the committee on public health and pure food and returned to him. His motion prevailed, so that finished the bill.

Mr. Sawyer explained that he had introduced the bill by request, and had introduced the bill by request, and that since he found that it had hurt the feelings of a great many good people in Minneapolis and in the state, he had concluded not to push it.

The bill required healers of all kinds to secure licenses from the state board of medical examiners and to pass examinations in medical subjects.

Senator Oluf Gjerset of Montevideo, who introduced a similar bill in the senate, told The Herald yesterday afternoon that he had introduced it by request of Mr. Sawyer, merely as a courtesy and without even examining its contents, and that he had no idea of pushing it.

Senator John W. Andrews of Mankato, a physician, also has such a bill before the senate.

There was to have been a hearing on the Sawyer bill before the committee on public health and pure food tonight, and it is said that thousands of Christian Scientists from all over the state, including many from Duluth, would have been here to oppose the measure.

* * *

Elwell Road Law.

The house yesterday afternoon continued the special order on the A. V. Anderson bill to repeal the Elwell road law to Tuesday, March 11. The senate special order on the similar bill by Senator J. L. Vermilya of Dover was yesterday continued to next Wednesday. It is not considered probable that any bill repealing the Elwell law will get through at this session, or that any very serious changes will be made in the Dunn road law.

The sale of any tobacco or tobacco product containing opium, cocaine or other narcotic drugs is forbidden by a bill which Representative E. R. Ribenack of Duluth introduced in the house yesterday afternoon at the request of wholesale and retail dealers in tobacco.

Commission dealers in farm produce are put under rigid regulations by the terms of a bill introduced in the house yesterday afternoon by Representatives C. H. Warner of Aitkin and C. M. Bendixen of Morgan.

Commission men must get licenses from the railroad and warehouse commission, must file bonds to protect their customers, and must refrain from any kind of unfair practices, many of which are expressly named and forbidden. The railroad and warehouse commission is authorized to cancel licenses for violations of these provisions.

The state of Wisconsin is requested to put its whitefish regulations on the same basis as Minnesota's by a joint resolution offered in the house yesterday afternoon by Representative Edward Indrehus of Foley. Wisconsin allows whitefish weighing 2 pounds rough to be caught, while Minnesota makes the minimum 2½ pounds.

* * *

Speakership Contests.

A sort of special corrupt practices act applying to speakership contests, with a view to abating such long-drawn contests as that which preceded the present session, is proposed in a bill introduced yesterday afternoon by Representative Charles L. Sawyer of Minneapolis. It prohibits the use of money or promises in influencing votes on the speakership, and limits the amount that can be spent by or on behalf of each candidate to $500. No money can be spent at all except through the official manager of each candidate, and statements of all receipts and expenditures, showing where the money came from and how it was spent, must be filed with the secretary of state before the session.

* * *

Other bills introduced in the house yesterday afternoon were as follows:

By Representative Davis—Increasing the pay of county commissioners in counties having less than 75,000 people to $5 per day. It is now $3.

By Representative Spooner—Appropriating $240,000 for a livestock barn and a roof on the grandstand at the state fair grounds, the money to be raised by certificates of indebtedness to be met in twenty-four annual instalments.

By Representatives Syverson, Vasaly and Bouck—Appropriating $1,000 to pay Martin Hess for caring for the Deerwood fish hatchery.

By Representative Lydiard—Providing penalties for the sale or removal of personal property covered by conditional sale contracts—that is, bought on the instalment plan.

* * *

The house yesterday afternoon refused to initiate a movement to give its members four-year terms, the same as the senators. It voted, 58 to 28, to indefinitely postpone the bill by Representatives Wilson and J. T. Johnson proposing a constitutional amendment to that effect.

Australian Ballot for Villages.

The Australian ballot system for all villages of more than 1,500 people or more than $1,000,000 assessed valuation is provided in a bill by Representative Larson of Sandstone which the house advanced to the calendar yesterday afternoon.

Representative Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, who was planning to introduce such a bill when Representative Larson put this one in, made a speech for the bill, saying that it was much in demand in the iron range country. The amendment including villages having $1,000,000 assessed valuation, regardless of their population, was added at the request of Representative A. M. Peterson of Coleraine.

* * *

"The only class of people in this building who are earning their pay," said Representative H. H. Harrison to the house yesterday afternoon, "are the scrubwomen. I am against increases in salaries and pensions. If you want to pension anybody, pension the poor devil that works for $2 a day."

Mr. Harrison was speaking in favor of the Guilford bill to repeal the law of 1913 under which incapacitated judges can retire, getting their pay to the end of their terms, so that their places may be filled by men who can do the work and prevent delay in litigation. The bill was advanced to the calendar.

* * *

The house in committee of the whole yesterday recommended for passage the joint resolution by Representative Devold asking congress to make naturalization easier and cheaper. There was a good deal of opposition to it, but a speech in favor of it by Representative Bjornson turned enough votes to advance it to the calendar.

THREE MEN DIE FOR MURDERING WOMEN.

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Three men, all from New York city, were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison today for murdering women. Oscar Voght stabbed Mme. Agnese Guth, a dressmaker, with whom he was infatuated. Vincenzo Campenella, a counterfeiter, shot his wife, after a prison term, because on his return he alleged he found her faithless. Robert Kane shot Anna Klein because, he said, she caused him to lose his wife's affections.

JAPANESE TALK ON FRIENDLY RELATIONS.

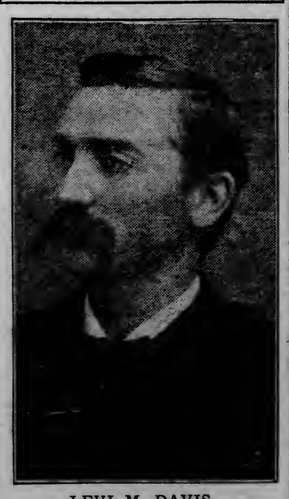

New York, Feb. 26.—The friendly relations between Japan and the United States were dwelt upon by both Japanese and Americans last night at the annual banquet of the Japan society at which Ambassador and Viscountess Chinda, and Admiral Baron Dewa, representing the Japanese government at the Panama-Pacific exposition were guests of honor. Both Admiral Dewa and the ambassador in their remarks alluded to the close intimacy between the two nations and "the valuable contributions made by the United States toward the development of modern Japan along the lines both of material civilization and of mental and moral life."

Cameron Has Specific Instructions From the Board of Directors of the Cameron-Johnson-Horgan Furniture Company to Raise $25,000 Immediately

Here is the story in a nutshell. Hundreds of our customers are unable to meet their obligations with us and the factories who have shipped goods have stated plainly "they need cash," therefore it is up to Cameron to make good. There is nothing left to do but sacrifice our enormous stock of homefurnishings regardless of cost or value. The problem must be solved quickly and we earnestly request everybody in need of furniture (that have the cash) to come RIGHT NOW and purchase at practically their own price. We will sweep clean our salesroom and wareroom without reserve. NOW COME!

Valuable Item For Men

Health and strength hitherto unknown will be felt surging in rich red blood through the arteries and veins and life's greatest ambitions may be realized as never before if the following special treatment is followed by those men, and women, too, who are stricken with that most dreaded of all afflictions, nervous exhaustion, accompanied with such symptoms as extreme nervousness, insomnia, cold extremities, melancholia, headaches, constipation and dyspepsia, kidney trouble, dreadful dreams of direful disasters, timidity in venturing and a general inability to act naturally at all times as other people do. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health and all the happiness accompanying it, the following home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit forming drugs whatever:

The treatment consists of (3) three-grain cadomene tablets, packed in sealed tubes, and widely prescribed and dispensed by physicians and well-stocked pharmacists. Full directions for self administration now accompany each tube. It is claimed that these tablets possess the most wonderful tonic-invigorating powers which can soon be experienced after taking them.

Mothers Tell of Mother's Friend

Experience is or should be our best teacher. Women who have obeyed the highest and noblest of all sacrifices, the struggle for the life of others, should have a better idea of helpful influence than those who theorize from observation.

At any rate when a prospective grandmother urges her daughter to do as she did—to use "Mother's Friend," there is ample reason to believe it the right kind of advice.

Its purpose is to furnish pliancy to the muscles, to take away the strain on the cords and ligaments, to relieve the tension of nerves and tendons so apt to provoke or aggravate nausea, morning sickness, twitchings of the limbs and so on. It is applied externally.

Although, in the nature of things, a woman would use "Mother's Friend" but rarely, yet so effective has it been found that this splendid remedy is on sale in most drug stores throughout the United States. It has been prepared by Bradfield Regulator Co., 306 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and advertised by us for over twenty years. Ask at the drug store for a bottle of "Mother's Friend." It is worth while.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease.

The reason why so many people who suffer from catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually seeking the momentary relief of sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointments, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head temporarily, besides stopping for a while the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure. To drive out catarrh for good you have got to get down to its real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does fail to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgment in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

The germs of catarrh can be best destroyed by inhaling the pure medicated air of Hyomei (pronounced Hi-o-me). This splendid and powerful combination of oil of Eucalyptus with other healing agents has a wonderful germicidal action. You breathe its air into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hard rubber inhaler which Boyce Drug Store and other leading druggists here in Duluth and vicinity supply with every treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of your system and when the germs are destroyed the catarrh with all its disagreeable symptoms will stop. Even two or three minutes use will give refreshing relief, while, if you will use it two or three times a day for a few weeks it will completely banish catarrh and every symptom of catarrh. As Hyomei is pleasant to breathe and is always sold by druggists everywhere with a positive guarantee of successful results or money back, surely no Catarrhal sufferer should go long before trying this simple home remedy.

OUCH! LAME BACK. RUB LUMBAGO OR BACKACHE AWAY

Rub Pain Right Out With Small Trial Bottle of Old, Penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Kidneys cause Backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

ON THE IRON RANGES

SEEKING ELECTIVE JOBS IN NASHWAUK

H. T. Reifel May Not Be Opposed as Candidate for President.

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some candidates for the village positions to be filled at the election of March 9 are being mentioned.

H. T. Reifel is the only one so far to announce candidacy for president, and he may be unopposed. The office of clerk is being sought by Wilbur Ohles, whose candidacy has been announced. The treasurership office is being contested for by J. E. Cannon, present incumbent, and Crockett Brown. For trustees, A. McWilliams and Henry Varonen have announced themselves. Others who have been mentioned for the job are Santo Sella, Frank Saccoman and Baptista De Petro. Charles Kamminen is seeking re-election as assessor.

The Nashwauk township offices thus far are causing no interest. Mr. Milan is the only candidate for clerk, and H. T. Lafitte has announced himself for re-election as supervisor.

The village and township caucuses will be held at the village hall here Tuesday evening, and it is expected that others will participate in the coming election for offices. The caucus board is as follows: John T. Ring, John P. Lanto and Oscar Johnston. Edward Gaffney is out for re-election for township treasurer.

ARE NOMINATED BY KEEWATIN CAUCUS

Candidates to Be Voted for in Village Election Are Chosen.

Keewatin, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Little interest was shown in the village caucus held Wednesday evening to nominate candidates for the election March 9, owing to the lack of opposition, to the present members of the village council who have decided to seek re-election.

Those nominated were:

For president, George Matakovich.
For trustees, Patrick McGuire, Harry Williams and Ernest Conte.
For clerk, C. W. Extrum.
For treasurer, Mike Kolumber.
For constable, Joseph Graham.
For justice of the peace, Andrew Feel.

It is said that an opposition ticket will be put up, with Attorney P. M. Stone as president, C. W. Extrum as clerk, Judge Reppe, Cuselitz and McDonfell as trustees and for treasurer the space will be left blank owing to the many candidates now in the field.

If these developments continue, the village will be represented by two strong tickets with little choice as to the outcome.

BUHL CANDIDATES QUITE BACKWARD

So Far Few Barkises Are Getting Into Political Game.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Little political activity has been manifested here, although it is expected that campaigning will commence in earnest before election, March 9.

Mayor W. J. Doyle, who seeks re-election, is the only person who has announced his candidacy. Recorder F. Demel has announced that he will not try for re-election and Axel Kilstrom has already begun lining up voters. It is expected that Swan D. Olson, treasurer, will be a candidate for re-election. Henry Smith and Matt Keyges are candidates for trustees.

As none of the aspirants for village offices are required to file, there is always a number of candidates who jump into the campaign the last minute. The treasurership and recordership are two positions considered well worth having, and it is expected that the competition for these will be most lively.

Seek Township Jobs.

Dr. A. W. Shaw and James Moore have announced their candidacy for supervisor of Great Scott township. For town clerk, H. C. Miller has announced his candidacy for re-election. He is opposed by Peter Medure. Maurice Johnson may also enter the race. It is expected that the number of candidates for all these offices will be materially increased before election time.

WANT ACCOUNTING OF FIRE RELIEF FUND

Chisholm Council Gets Request to Know Where Money All Went.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council Wednesday at its last session received a petition from five citizens, asking for an accounting of the Chisholm fire relief fund since 1905. It was turned over to the village attorney.

A cigarette license was granted to the Chisholm bathhouse.

Pete Miskowsky's claim for $150 for damages caused to his building by flood was referred to the village attorney.

Charles Borak's bill for a live wolf for the park was allowed.

Liquor license renewals were granted to Albin Maninen and B. Bessette.

The King Lumber company was given the contract to supply sewer pipe.

The bid of the Star Electric company for switchboard for the fire department was accepted.

C. E. French appeared with a request to have village warrants registered before being paid out. The matter was laid on the table for the time being.

Appointed on Light Board.

Frank G. Harris, president of the Commercial club and a delegation of business men appeared and requested that a town man be appointed to the water, light, power and building commission in place of Antone Tancig, whose time expires next month. Trustee Mitchell came back with a motion that Mr. Tancig be re-appointed. On the motion being put to a vote, it was lost three to two. Trustee Mitchell then proposed C. A. Munro, but his motion received no second. Recorder Culver proposed A. Bergerson and he was appointed.

A request from Jack Rice for an ice house at the cemetery was denied.

Attorney Alger Syme, representing the Chisholm Electric company, was successful in having an ordinance passed granting amendments to the franchise held by the company.

VIRGINIA SKIERS EXPECT BIG TIME

Believe If Conditions Are Favorable Records May Be Broken.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—If conditions are favorable there may be some record smashing at the state ski tournament to be held on the big slide near here next Sunday. Some of the crack skiers have already arrived for the tourney. Barney Illey and Lars Haugen are already on the ground and more arrived today.

The warm weather of the past few days has not interfered with the slide, which is exceptionally fast, the mild weather and freezing later making the slide almost a solid piece of ice and a hard, fast track.

Sixtus Lindahl and Harry Solberg, who are at the head of the tourney, expect records may be excelled.

There will be a special event for the boys and entrants in this class have been exceptionally heavy from the ranges.

Messrs. Lindahl and Solberg visited the slide and reported everything in excellent condition. Work will be continued there today and Saturday and the slide put in the best possible condition.

EVELETH ELECTION IS NOT ABSORBING

Apparently Little Interest in Outcome of Voting on Franchise.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—There appears to be little interest in the special election to be held next Tuesday to decide whether the city shall award Kennedy & Lynch a gas franchise. There was a small registration last Tuesday of new voters desiring to express themselves on the question.

The advocates of municipal ownership are working against the granting of the franchise and appear to have a semblance of an organization. They want the city to own the plant and cite the success of the municipal plant in Virginia.

If the municipal ownership advocates can defeat the franchise it is expected they will initiate a movement to have the city erect and operate a plant.

HIBBING WOMAN ALLEGES FRAUD

Suing to Recover Money She Claims Was Deviously Obtained.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In district court a civil action is on trial today in which Mrs. Mary Glad demands interest and principal of $460 from Nov. 21, 1913, and cost of action from Peter Aha of Hibbing, who she alleges "by fraudulent means and representation" obtained $600 of her.

She alleges he has paid only $150. She says Aha took advantage of her ignorance in business affairs, said a bank would be unsafe and that he better take care of her money. She finally consented, and she says he tried to compensate her by giving her shares, but, after having friends ascertain their value, returned them.

JURY ACQUITS RIATAI.

Second Trial of Mesaba Man on Theft Charge Is Favorable.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A district court jury this morning returned a verdict of not guilty in the Paul Riatai case. Riatai was twice tried on the charge of stealing the carcasses of five dressed beeves at Mesaba, the jury disagreeing the first time. This ended the criminal cases and the civil calendar was taken up.

QUINT FANS DISAPPOINTED.

Rotary Club Players Failed to Come to Two Harbors as Expected.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Basket ball fans were disappointed last night when, upon arrival at the Y. M. C. A., where a game between the Rotary team of Duluth and the local city team was to be played, learned the Rotary boys had failed to keep their appointment and had not left Duluth. No explanation was offered by the management of the Rotary team.

The local management endeavored to get the Duluth boys to come on a logging train but failed. It was reported that several of the Rotary players were out of the city. The local management went to considerable expense to advertise the game.

HE FAVORS PAYING VILLAGE OFFICIALS

Mayor of Hibbing Indorses Bill Introduced By Senator Healy.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Members of the Hibbing council should be paid for their services and held responsible for transactions and contracts made in behalf of the village, in the opinion of Mayor V. L. Power, after hearing that Senator John A. Healy had introduced a bill in the legislature providing that the president be given a salary of $2,000 a year and each trustee a compensation of $1,200.

"If village officials were paid for their services it could be expected that they would inconvenience themselves to do something in the interests of the village," Mayor Power said. "As it is, although it is not unusual for officials to go out of their way to do a service, to many their own business will have to come first as a matter of necessity. Council members devote a considerable time in working for the village, and I see no reason why this service should be gratuitous, when the village can well afford to pay for it."

OSWEGO TEAM DEFEATS VIRGINIA 54 TO 35.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Basket ball fans got plenty of thrills at the contest here last night between the local and the Oswego, N. Y., five, the visitors winning by a score of 54 to 35.

Neither side gained much in the first half. Grimstad, center for the visitors, got busy in the second period and things happened. He played all over the floor and made some marvelous shots. Murnane, also of the visiting team, gave a brilliant performance.

For the Virginians, Williams, Cummins and McCabe starred. O'Malley was referee.

Tonight the Oswego five will play at Grand Rapids, returning here for a second game with the Virginia men Saturday.

HIBBING PEOPLE AT FUNERALS IN NEGAUNEE

Negaunee, Mich., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis arrived here Wednesday from Hibbing, Minn., having been called by the death of Mrs. Ellis' brother-in-law, Samuel Stanaway. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mitchell Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. R. L. Hewson conducted the services.

The funeral of Arthur J. Wasmuth, who died Monday morning after an illness of over five years, was held Thursday afternoon from the Wasmuth home on Gold street, and was largely attended. Gordon J. Murray and son, J. A. Murray of Norway, were here, and other out-of-town relatives present were: Mrs. Gordon Murray, Sr., and son, John Murray of Hibbing, Minn.

Circle Meetings.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The circles of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the M. E. church will meet next week as follows: Circle No. 1, Mrs. Fred Hurt, hostess, on Wednesday; Circle No. 2, at the library Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5; Circle No. 3, Mrs. George Train, hostess, on Wednesday; Circle No. 4, Mrs. A. B. Dugar, hostess, on Tuesday; Monroe circle, Mrs. Govette, hostess, on Wednesday. The Shenango circle met on Wednesday.

Bury Chisholm Child.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yelka Radakovich, aged 5 years, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Radakovich of the Sawmill location, died Wednesday after a short illness. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from the Serbian church and interment was made in the local cemetery.

Buhl Sunday Concert.

Buhl, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fifth band concert to be given by the village concert band will be held Sunday afternoon in the village hall. An elaborate program has been prepared by Band Master Chauncey Mills. As soon as the weather permits, he said, open air concerts will be given.

WHAT DOES YOUR MIRROR SAY TO YOU

If Your Face Is Not Fair You Are Not Fair to Your Face. Use Stuart's Calcium Wafers and Banish Pimples, Etc.

Before beauty can ever be realized it must have a complexion that adds to its lustre, that makes a magnificent face contour radiate an artistic color. The charm of all beauty rests chiefly in the clear skin, the pure red blood, the soft cream-like complexion.

"It is an Exquisite Joy to Look in My Mirror Now—Stuart's Calcium Wafers Gave Me Back My Clear Complexion."

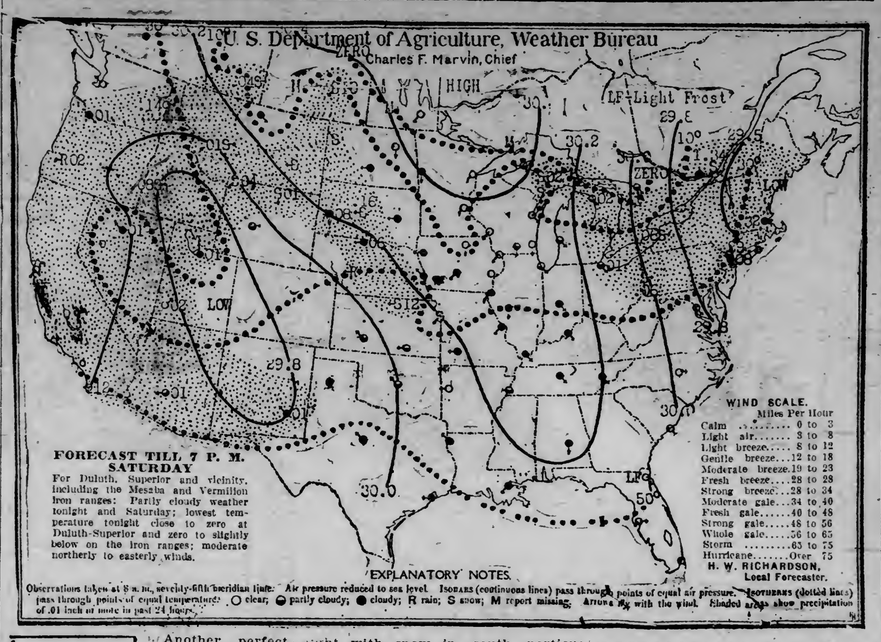

Stuart's Calcium Wafers act directly upon the sweat glands of the skin, since their mission is to stimulate the excretory ducts. They do not create perspiration, but cause the skin to breathe out vigorously, thus transforming perspiration into a gaseous vapor. The calcium sulphide of which these wafers are composed consumes the germ poisons in the sweat glands and pores, hence the blood makes a new, smooth skin in a surprisingly short time.

You will never be ashamed to look at yourself in a mirror, once you use Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Nor will your friends give you that hinting look, as much as to say—for goodness sake, get rid of those pimples.

There is no longer any excuse for anyone to have a face disfigured with skin eruptions, when it is so easy to get rid of them. Simply get a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers at any drug store and take them according to directions. After a few days you will hardly recognize yourself in the mirror. The change will delight you immensely. All blemishes will disappear.

All druggists sell Stuart's Calcium Wafers at 50 cents a box. A small sample package mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., 175 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

CLOUDY

Another perfect winter's day. The sun adds to the other pleasures of a Duluth winter's day. The worst feature is the walking—only, of course, where people have disregarded the city ordinance on keeping their walks clear. It feels a long way to many places but not to these days, and many are getting falls.

A year ago today was balmy. The sun rose this morning at 6:53 and will set at 5:49 this evening, giving ten hours and fifty-six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Somewhat colder weather prevails in Atlantic states, the Ohio and Upper Mississippi valleys, Lake region and greater part of Canada. The temperature is rising over Southwestern states. Zero temperature occurred last night in Ontario, extreme Northern Minnesota, Manitoba and Northern Saskatchewan. During the last twenty-four hours snow or rain fell over the eastern Lake region, North Atlantic states, Pacific states, the extreme Southwest and greater portion of the Northwest. Heavy snow occurred at Montreal."

General Forecast.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota and Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Partly cloudy in east portion, probably snow or rain in west portion tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota—Fair in east portion, probably cloudy in west portion tonight and Saturday; colder in west portion tonight.

South Dakota—Probably snow tonight and Saturday; colder tonight.

Montana—Unsettled and colder tonight with snow in south portion; Saturday partly cloudy.

"MURDER" MYSTERY CAUSES SENSATION.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was great excitement among men working for the city on the Sand Lake road yesterday afternoon when they found in an old test pit some blood and marks of human hands. Wild reports were current that there was a deep murder mystery. Oliver police hurried to the scene and one of the men was lowered into the pit, where he found a large dog with its head cut off. The animal had apparently been decapitated and thrown into the pit.

TO SPEAK ON RANGE.

Secretary of American Bible Society to Be Heard.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. S. H. Kirkbride, secretary of the Northwest for the American Bible society, will speak here next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Kirkbride is well known throughout the Northwest as an able and eloquent speaker and will spend a few days on the ranges for the American Bible society. He will come to Eveleth from Chicago and then go to other range cities, speaking at Hibbing Sunday evening.

CHISHOLM POWER PLANT TO BE BUILT.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to Herald.)—Elaborate plans have been prepared by the engineers in charge of the construction of the new power plant for the Chisholm Electric company. The excavation for the new plant will commence early in March and the building will be rushed to completion. The company will maintain its policy of extending its improvements and, if anything, greater additions to its lines and electrical equipment will be made this year than last. In its light plant and manager, Chisholm is fortunate.

KEPT DAIRY COWS IN HIS BASEMENT.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Health Officer Dr. Bulkley is urging the city to appoint a milk inspector. He recently made out a complaint against the manner in which Andrew Merkle kept his place of business in the basement of 215 Grant avenue, where there are four cows in the basement under a saloon and the family lives upstairs.

On the charge of keeping the place in an insanitary condition he was brought before Judge Ed Moylan by the local health officer and was fined $15 and costs of $2.50.

Hibbing Men as Cooks.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Men of the First Methodist church, without the aid of women, served a supper which in quality equaled the offerings of the women, and in quantity, excelled, at the church last night. C. E. Everett was head cook and had on his staff a large number of boys, including the older members of the church boys' scout orgainzation.

ANGORA WOMAN IS CERTAINLY LUCKY

Leaves Money at Virginia Place and Then Has Purse Taken.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. P. L. Ford of Angora today considers herself a very lucky woman, as she is some $60 ahead by exercising a little foresight.

She came to town yesterday to shop and visit. Before going out on Beach street to visit a friend she left $60 in cash in the Elmwood farm dairy office for safe-keeping. As she neared her destination she says a young man not over 18 ran again her, snatched her purse, containing $4, and fled. She is glad she stopped into the dairy. She could give the police little in the way of a clew to the thief.

Burglar in Alderman's Home.

It leaked out today that Alderman Mollan's home, on Maple street, was visited by a burglar early Wednesday morning. The intruder got nothing more than a fall when he tumbled down stairs and aroused the family. Candle-grease marks were found in some of the rooms. The burglar's fall aroused the family and this scared him away.

ILLEGAL HUNTER GIVEN SENTENCE.

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Salmon sentenced Tom Younger, a shacker, to the county work farm for sixty days for killing deer out of season. He was arrested by Game Warden Wood. While walking along the road between Colby and Allen Junction, Young was seen by a settler carrying a packsack from which protruded the legs of a deer. The settler notified Wood who made the arrest. Young said he was taking the venison to Aurora to sell and seemed ignorant that there was a law to protect game animals.

Barny Simonitich of Minneapolis through his attorney Mr. Schuster of this place, pleaded guilty to illegal hunting at Pelican lake and was fined $20 and costs.

REJECTED LOVER WANTS $2.25 BACK

Buys License Hoping to Influence Girl, But Ruse Fails.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy District Clerk Holloway has some queer questions asked of him, but he got a poser today when a young Italian who recently took out a license to wed the girl of his heart, came back and wanted his $2.25 returned, saying the girl had married another man and the license was worthless. His request was denied.

It developed that James Greeni and Enrico Buratti both loved Lauretta Corgottina, but the girl was not sure which one she preferred. Buratta hoped to influence her Feb. 9 by getting out a marriage license. A few days later the other lover got one and married the girl. Today Buratta wanted to know how two licenses could be issued to marry the same girl and desired his money back, but failed. He pocketed his disappointment and left, saying, "gooda joka."

VIRGINIANS LIKE CITY MANAGER IDEA.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charter commission at its meeting tonight will take further action looking to the establishment of the commission form of government for this city. The city manager plans, so successful in Dayton, Ohio, is growing in popularity here, and it is expected a new charter calling for the commission form and city manager will soon be submitted to the voters.

Ely Vs. Tower.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 26.—The Ely city basket ball team will play the Tower Independents Saturday night at Tower. A special train from Ely and Winton, leaving the latter place at 7 o'clock, will carry rooters.

Seeks Village Presidency.

Mountain Iron, Minn., Feb. 26.—C. Walker, now superintendent of the water and light department here, has announced himself as a candidate for president of the village and declares that if elected he will qualify and perform the duties of that office impersonally and to the best of his ability.

STEAMER NOBLE WAS OVERLOADED

Federal Court So Rules in Liability Case Over Lost Vessel.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 26.—Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle yesterday ruled that the steamer Benjamin Noble of Detroit which foundered with her crew of eighteen men in Lake Superior off Duluth during a storm last April, was overloaded with steel rails at the time of the accident. Judge Tuttle declined to grant a petition, limiting the loss liability, which was filed by the Capitol Steamship company of Detroit, owner of the vessel.

Opposition to granting the petition came from underwriters who had insured the cargo of steel on the ill-fated steamer. Heirs of some of the Noble's crew appeared on the side of the underwriters.

The steamship company denied that the Noble was loaded to deeper draft than conditions warranted.

Judge Tuttle appointed William S. Sayres, Jr., of Detroit as commissioner to determine the extent of the Capitol Steamship company's liability.

LODGE HOLDS ROLL CALL

About 100 Odd Fellows Attend Annual Meeting.

Duluth Odd Fellows held an interesting meeting last night when Encampment No. 26 had its annual roll call in the lodge rooms at Axa hall. About 100 members were present.

J. E. Hauter, religious secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, gave a short talk on Mexico. Mr. Hauter passed about four years in that country, and his talk was largely the recalling of personal experiences. Arthur O'Donnell rendered a number of violin solos, and short addresses were made by Chief of Police Troyer, H. M. Todd, R. E. McFarland and John Gillis.

Visitors from Cascade encampment were Sidney Morgan, Daniel Frink, N. E. Hurd, R. McDonald and Fred Chartier.

Brainerd Store Improvement.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The O'Brien Mercantile company store will be improved by a brick addition adding twenty-seven feet to the width and an arcade front of metropolitan design extending seventy-five feet across with a return on Laurel street. White Bros. of Brainerd are the general contractors and expect to start work early in April.

Never Pull a Tooth Till All Else Fails

In every gathering of dentists, the prominent theme is that a tooth should never be extracted until all else fails. Some dentists work over a refractory tooth for months, using every means possible to save it. "Once out, always out," is a trite but true saying. Store teeth seldom look well, are a continual source of dissatisfaction. The sockets of lost teeth become atrophied and cause other teeth to feel the loss. Then comes a train of teeth and mouth troubles. When hard, gritty, tartar substances collect around the gums and teeth it is time to have them dissolved and removed—else surely as the sun rises, will follow sore teeth, bleeding, receding gums, loose teeth, decay.

All these can be corrected if you will but get from your druggist about four ounces of fluid ergan and use morning, noon and night, simply holding a teaspoonful in the mouth a minute or so. The gritty substances will be dissolved, washed out, loosened teeth become firm and strong in the gums, receding gums will begin to be normal. The dirty yellow spots, black on the enamel, soon peel off. Sore teeth, pyorrhoea, facial tooth disfigurement, will be prevented. —Advertisement.

NEURALGIC PAINS

These may be felt in any nerve of the body but are most frequent in the nerves of the head. Neuralgia may be caused by a decayed tooth, eye-strain or a diseased ear but the most common cause is general debility accompanied by anemia, or thin blood.

For this reason women who work too hard or dance too much and who do not get sufficient rest, sleep and fresh air, are the most frequent sufferers from neuralgia and sciatica, which is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve.

Nutrition for the nerves is the correct treatment for neuralgia and the only way to nourish the nerves is through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply to the blood just the elements it needs to increase its capacity to carry nourishment to starved nerves. They have proved helpful in so many cases of neuralgia and sciatica that any sufferer from these troubles is fully justified in giving these pills a trial. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful or habit-forming drugs and may be taken for any length of time with perfect safety.

The pamphlet "Diseases of the Nervous System," is free to you if you mention this paper. Address: The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

EAGER TO BEGIN KILLING WOLVES

Californian Believes Bounties Would Bring Him Big Income.

Attracted by a newspaper article, which stated that the state of Minnesota was paying $7.50 bounty for wolves, H. A. Dike of Calexico, Cal., has written County Auditor Odin Halden for further information on the subject.

Dike declares that he and his partner are past masters in the art of reducing the wolf population and that at the rate of $7.50 per it sounds like easy money.

The county auditor's office has notified Dike that not only will the state pay him a reward of $7.50 for each wolf killed but a like bounty will be paid by the county in addition.

OPEN DOORS IN TURKEY.

Lecture Will Be Given at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday, Feb. 28.

D. A. Davis, four years a resident of Constantinople, Turkey, secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, will be in Duluth next Sunday, Feb. 28, and will speak at the Y. M. C. A. at 5 o'clock on his most interesting experience in Turkey. Mr. Davis, during the Balkan war led in the organization of the Red Cross work, was first assistant to the head surgeon and was decorated by the government for his services.

The address will be given without charge, and from the interest in Turkey on account of the recent bombardment of the Dardanelles and Turkey's part in the European war it appears that a very large crowd will be present to hear Mr. Davis. Men and women are invited to this special address.

The subject of the lecture will be "Open Doors in Turkey."

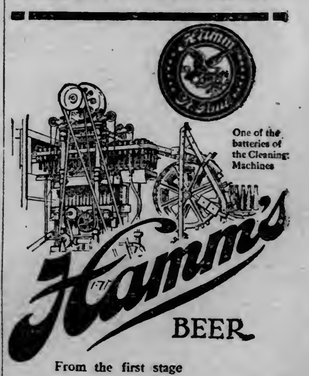

Band for Medina, N. D.

Medina, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting was held here and it was decided to establish a band. There are a number of young men without experience anxious to join and a well-known director will be secured to drill them.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GOPHER GAME MAY SUFFER

Removal of Canadian Restriction on Killing Moose and Deer Feared.

Minnesota Animals, Protected, May Wander Across Boundary and Be Killed.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to S. C. Bailey, game warden inspector, who returned from a trip to International Falls, Baudette and Williams this week, some of the settlers in the north a part of Beltrami county are trying to find a way in which they can obtain Canadian moose and deer meat, which can be lawfully hunted in Canadian territory, the game laws being suspended on account of the European war.

Others are opposed to the action of the Canadian government, saying that not only the Canadian deer and moose will be killed, but that the American game also will be killed as the deer and moose cross the Rainy river at will, the river being frozen and others contend that it will merely drive the big game away from the boundary line.

United States May Benefit.

The question at this point, according to Mr. Bailey is whether the game will go north or south. If they go south, the United States will get the benefit and if they go north, Northern Minnesota, one of the last strongholds of the moose in the United States, may be almost rid of this animal.

The settlers who are anxious to obtain deer and moose meat from the Canadians are wondering if it is against the laws of Minnesota to buy meat that is killed by the Canadians on the Canadian side. Mr. Bailey has placed the whole matter in the hands of the state game warden.

SIXTY INDIANS TO BECOME FARMERS

Well Educated Redskins Take Out Red Lake Allotments.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sixty Indians this week took their allotments of land from the government on the Red Lake Indian reservation. The lands selected by them are adjoining Reiner township of Pennington county on the east. These Indians are all college men and will engage in farming on an extensive scale. Material is already on the ground for the erection of some good buildings and work will be rushed on them as fast as possible. This land is but nine miles from the end of the line of the Minnesota and Northwestern Electric Railway company, which runs from this city to Goodridge.

Indian Timber Available.

The bill introduced in congress to create a forest reserve on the Red Lake Indian reservation has been favorably reported out of the committee on Indian affairs by Senator Clapp. This means that the bill will undoubtedly pass. Through this bill over 300,000,000 feet of timber on the reservation will be released. This will furnish the local mill with material for about ten years' work. With the mill employing over 400 men it means much to Thief River Falls.

AGED AITKIN WOMAN HOSTESS ON BIRTHDAY

Aitkin, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Grandma" Haugen, as she is affectionately called by her friends, celebrated her 84th birthday anniversary Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna Lowell, by entertaining about twenty-five of her friends and relatives. Despite her years she is in excellent health and assists with the housework. She has been a resident of Aitkin for more than thirty years, and upon her birthday received many gifts and letters of congratulation.

TUBER WAREHOUSE AT THIEF RIVER

Pennington County Seat Decides to Erect Structure This Year.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the business men, held in the Auditorium last evening, it was definitely decided that a potato warehouse will be built in this city. Fifteen prominent business men are back of the proposition to erect such a structure. The building will be a substantial and commodious one, of ample size to handle the local farmers' potato crop and the assurance that the building will be erected will have the effect of inducing the farmers of this section to put in a large acreage of potatoes.

Hold Potato-Raising Campaign.

The decision to carry out this plan was reached as a climax to a two weeks' potato campaign which had been conducted throughout the county. Numerous meetings were held at different places and all were attended by large crowds, the farmers displaying great interest in the movement. The meetings were addressed by Prof. J. H. Hay, superintendent of the local schools; A. J. Hoverstad, agricultural agent for the Soo railroad; and "Potato Smith" of Parkers Prairie. The farmers present at the different meetings pledged themselves to plant from one to twenty acres to potatoes.

TODD COUNTY MAN SLAIN BY RELATIVES

Struck Over Head With Piece of Wood By His Brother-in-Law.

Sauk Center, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a quarrel with his brother-in-law, Andrew Larson, a farmer, aged 62, living in Todd county, a short distance across the Stearns county line, Christ Altenberg, aged 35, a hunter and trapper, living four miles from here, killed his relative Wednesday afternoon, using a stick of wood. Altenberg telephoned in here that he would surrender, and later was brought to jail here at 3 p. m. yesterday. According to his story, Larson and a neighbor set upon him and in desperation he grabbed a stick of wood and struck Larson. Larson is survived by a wife and one child.

MUCH INTEREST IN CULTURE OF CORN

Farmers of North Dakota Turning Attention to That Cereal.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Corn and silos, alfalfa and livestock are subjects in which the farmers of the state are now interested," stated W. C. Palmer, extension man for the North Dakota experiment station. "I have returned from a tour of the state with the farmers' institute corps," he continued, "and have made a special investigation of the views of the farmers, because of the widespread fear that many of those who had become interested in crop diversification and livestock might recant and return to wheat because of the present high prices.

"Of course, there will be some who will dispose of their stock and return to wheat. They will, however, be a relatively small percentage of the total number of farmers who have become interested, and, as a rule, will be those not trained in livestock handling and rather tired of the arduous grind in this connection. Those who really like livestock and understand how to properly handle animals are likely to continue in the business instead of being won away by the siren song of high-priced wheat, which they know is unlikely to continue for more than another year or two.

Interest in Corn Culture.

"Wherever the institutes are held the farmers are eager for information on how to grow more and better corn, on silo construction, how to start alfalfa and the difference in raising both the general and the seed crops, and how to secure more improved stock and the best methods of feeding and fattening the animals for market. It is a most unusual thing to have an inquiry about how to increase the wheat yield, unless the question arises incidentally in connection with the benefits to be derived from corn cultivation, or some other method of crop diversification.

"Nearly all the farmers who are sticking to wheat are showing a disposition to put the crop in better than before and are paying more attention to seed selection, weed eradication and other matters."

LOSING SALOONS IS COSTLY FOR BEMIDJI

Bonds Must Be Sold to Care for Current Debts.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 26.—A problem that will confront the new city administration when it takes hold of Bemidji's affairs next Monday will be that of raising revenue to care for floating debt and to make up for the deficiency resulting from the closing of the saloons by the government.

The city lost one of its largest revenue sources in the closing of the saloons, not only being without the $25,000 brought by licenses, but loses personal property taxes of considerable amount by the removal of many persons employed in the various liquor houses from the city, and this is a point for consideration.

About $60,000 Required.

At the present time there are warrants outstanding to the amount of $47,000, which, with accrued interest, takes the figures to $53,000. In addition to this there is an indebtedness of $6,000, already contested for, for which no warrants have been issued. In order to cover this amount and making the various funds free from debt it will be necessary to sell $60,000 worth of bonds. The money would be used entirely for the purpose of picking up the outstanding warrants.

BEGS FOR MORPHINE.

Man Arraigned in Court Asks Judge to Give Him "Shot."

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—A slave to morphine, Charles Schwinn, 29 years old, clung to the bench in municipal court and bared his arm to the shoulder.

"Give me a shot in the arm, judge," he pleaded, a mournful wheeze issuing from his clenched teeth. "Just a little dope. I got to have it. I'd steal from my own brother for it. It's driving me crazy."

He was charged with larceny, second offense. Detectives said he has been systematically robbing telephone boxes in downtown office buildings.

"That's all true," Schwinn moaned.

Judge Backus, in sentencing Schwinn to three years at Waupun, said he hoped physicians at Waupun would be able to cure him.

MILWAUKEE PAPER CHANGING OWNERS.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—Henry P. Myrick, first editor of the Milwaukee Free Press and director of the editorial policy of that paper since its establishment nearly fifteen years ago, has retired from that position. He has been succeeded by Ernest Kronshage, who has been editorial writer on the Free Press for three or four years and prior to that dramatic critic. The retirement of Mr. Myrick is said to be part of the program of the men who are promoting the company projected to purchase the Free Press from Senator Isaac Stephenson.

MUST USE ENGLISH.

Otherwise United Lutheran Churches Will Lose Members, Says Minister.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 26.—The English conference of the United Lutheran church, representing many states, elected Rev. H. B. Kildahl of Milwaukee president. Other officers are: Secretary, Rev. Olaus Qualen, Ottawa, Ill.; resolutions committee, Rev. H. J. Holman, Chicago; Rev. Jacob F. Rohlin, Roselane, Wis.; correspondence, Rev. H. B. Kildahl, Rev. O. Qualen and Rev. H. Maidland, Merrill. In his convention sermon Rev. T. V. Thompson, Chicago, declared that English must be used in the Lutheran church to prevent loss of members.

HEIRESS HAS TROUBLES.

Milwaukee Stenographer, Who Inherited Half Million, Faces Claim.

Escanaba, Mich., Feb. 26.—Miss Flora Holt, the Milwaukee stenographer, who recently fell heir to the $500,000 estate of Miss Vilna McDonald, daughter of the late J. H. McDonald, former lieutenant governor of Michigan, is going to be compelled to put up a fight to retain the entire amount, according to a claim filed in probate court here on Tuesday by James R. McDonald of Escanaba, declaring that his share of the estate should be $100,000 instead of $5,000.

The local man bases his claim on services he had rendered to Miss McDonald and on promises he says she made him. Miss Holt and Attorney William C. Quarles of Milwaukee are here to file an answer to the claim. Miss Holt declared the claim to be "preposterous" when asked about the matter.

Miss Holt proposes to live in the mansion of the late Miss McDonald.

MOTHER OF EIGHTEEN CHILDREN IS BURIED.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 26.—The funeral of Mrs. Angela Decaire was held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church. Mrs. Decaire, who was 86 years of age, was the mother of eighteen children, eight of whom are living. She had ninety-six grandchildren and 101 great grandchildren.

The husband of one of her great grandchildren was a railroad engineer who was killed in a holdup in Mexico about a year ago, while working on his run.

OLD MARQUETTE RESIDENT CALLED.

Marquette, Mich., Feb. 26.—Fred W. Thoney, aged 40 years and a lifelong resident of Marquette, died Wednesday night at St. Luke's hospital, after a short illness. He had been at the hospital since last Saturday, but his condition was not regarded as serious. Mr. Thoney was one of Marquette's successful business men and was highly regarded by the many who held his acquaintance. He was affiliated with both the Elks and Pythians.

VILLAGE OF WALKER IS IN DEBT $23,000.

Walker, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village financial report which was issued this week shows that the village is $23,000 in debt. Ten thousand dollars is bonded indebtedness and the balance floating.

BIRCHDALE SCHOOL WILL BE ENLARGED.

Baudette, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The consolidated school at Birchdale, an inland town up river, will be enlarged this summer. It was built two years ago and it was thought by some that a four-room building was too large. Four more rooms will be added this year which shows the rapid growth of this section.

McDougall township received word that bonds for $7,000 had been disposed of and preparations for building roads are already under way. Williams, Cedar Spur and Graceton, three of thriving towns, are in this township.

CAUGHT BY POLICE.

Two Men Attempting to Rob Milwaukee Jewelry Store Arrested.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—A daring attempt to rob the jewelry store of Richard Seidel, in the very heart of the downtown district, was frustrated last night at midnight when, after one of two men, believed by the police to be from Chicago, had thrown a padded brick through the front window and smashing it to small bits, they were scared away, pursued by four detectives.

After a chase of less than a block, they were captured and placed in custody. They gave their names as Ferdinand Reel, age 32, a molder, and Thomas Larkin, age 30, a bricklayer.

LOS ANGELES DEBATERS COMING TO NORTHWEST.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A debating team representing the University of Southern California will arrive here March 10 from Los Angeles for a joint debate with the Agricultural college March 12. Last year a team representing the Agricultural college went to Los Angeles and won the debate. The subject this year is: "Resolved, That the initiative and the referendum should be a part of the legislative system of all state governments."

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Chippewa Falls—Patricia McDonald, age 10, at Cornell, Wis., was thrown off her sled into a pile of brush in a ditch by the road side. Her right eye was torn completely out, and the left eye injured, but the sight can be saved.

Ashland—H. T. Holtz & Co. of Chicago were the highest bidders for the $50,000 courthouse bonds when the bids were opened Feb. 24. Their bid was $52,236 or a premium of $2,236 for the bonds. This is a better premium than any offered on the last issue of $75,000 of the same bonds, the premium at that time being $2,280.

Baraboo—The Frank Herfest canning factory has raised the price of sweet corn $1 a ton and will pay $8 a ton the coming season. The pea acreage has all been subscribed.

Madison—Senator Barwig of Mayville has introduced a joint resolution in the Wisconsin senate, providing for investigation of the subject of charging fees against non-resident students at the university.

Manawa—Of the 11,000 milch cows within a radius of seven miles of this city, 7,000 of them contribute to the condensory here, 1,500 to the Manawa creamery, 2,000 to the Ogdensbury creamery and the remaining 2,500 to the cheese factories at White Clover, Little Creek, Symco, Stony Ridge, Zehren, Kaspers and Lebanon.

Waukesha—Charles Gates was instantly killed at noon on Wednesday when a limb from a tree he was trimming struck him and knocked him to the sidewalk.

New Richmond—The Inter-County Co-operative Packing company, capitalized at $250,000, has been organized by official representatives of the American Society of Equity in St. Croix, Dunn, Polk and Barron counties to establish and operate a co-operative meat packing plant in New Richmond.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Joseph Ellery of Hermansville, who is serving a sentence in the Marquette prison for murder, is among the applicants for hearing at the meeting of the board of pardons here this week.

Houghton—The Houghton County Traction company began running its cars across the Portage Lake bridge Tuesday, after an interruption of six weeks, during the repairs to the Houghton end of the structure.

Marquette — Mrs. Caroline Terrell Pelmear, aged 75, who was one of the oldest residents of Marquette county, died Feb. 24 at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George Pelmear. She is survived by four daughters and one son: Mrs. George E. Watson, Astoria, Or.; Mrs. Bert Williams, Hancock; Mrs. C. W. Danielson, Chassell; Mrs. George Pelmear, Marquette, and Nicholas Pelmear, Los Angeles, Cal.

Ishpeming—Mayor C. G. Barnett has received a letter from attorneys in St. Johns, N. B., asking concerning the whereabouts of Hugh and James F. Reidy, who are believed to have lived in Marquette county some years ago. The former is 50 years of age and the latter 40. Hugh left St. Johns two years ago and James has not been there for ten years. It is stated in the letter that the Reidy brothers are heirs to a substantial estate.

Calumet—Plans for the big mass meeting of the Finnish workmen of the Copper country at the Light Guard armory Sunday are completed. The meeting will be held to protest against the activities of the agitators and Socialists in this district.

Hancock—Albert G. Bryant, aged 33, organizing director of the World Peace foundation and son of Christopher Bryant of Hancock, formerly of Ripley, died Feb. 24 at his home in Newton, Mass., according to word received here. Death followed an operation for appendicitis in the Fall River Highland hospital of that city. Mr. Bryant was born in Ripley and was educated in the schools of Ripley and Hancock, leaving when he was 19 years of age for Albion college.

Negaunee—The inquest in the death of P. Greene, who was killed last week by the southbound C. & N. W. passenger train, was held in Justice William Verran's court room. The verdict was that Greene came to his death in some unknown manner while supposed to be stealing a ride on a C. & N. W. train.

Calumet—Sarah Elizabeth, the 1-year-old daughter of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. O'Brien of Ahmeek, died Feb. 24. The little girl was to have celebrated her first anniversary of her birth.

Houghton—L. R. Nash of Stone Webster Management association arrived in Houghton Wednesday. He is here on general matters of supervision for both the traction and electric light companies.

Calumet—Because of the pressure of other business, and fearing that he will not be able to devote the necessary time to the office if elected, John B. Rastello, for several years a member of the Laurium village board, decided that he will not make the run this year.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

New Rockford, N. D.—In the district court, J. W. Lobart was awarded a verdict against the Minnesota Grain company of $3,977.72 on a claim for grain and lumber left with the company in 1908 when Lobart sold the elevators at Warwick and McVille.

Jamestown, N. D.—The Kepford Implement company has been organized and will begin business in Jamestown on March 1. The members of the company are C. B. Kepford, well known in the implement business, and John F. McGinnis of Parhurst.

Fargo, N. D.—Fargo pastors and business men tendered a special banquet to Raymond Robbins, Chicago's real municipal worker, at the Commercial club rooms Thursday noon.

Wales, N. D.—A piece of needle was removed from the arm of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay South of Wales. The piece of steel worked through the skin and it is supposed that she had swallowed it some time ago.

Fargo, N. D.—At an election held by members of Company B, First infantry, N. D. N. G., Sergt. Earl South was chosen sergeant of the company.

Williston, N. D.—A disastrous accident happened at the Huseby coal mine, Feb. 22, when one of the men named Warhelm, engaged in hauling coal to Williston, fell down the shaft in the mine, a distance of sixty feet. At this writing he is critically ill at the local hospital.

Mandan, N. D.—Mrs. Carrie Huff, a pioneer, died Feb. 23, age 83, at her home in the Syndicate. She came to Mandan with her husband and family in 1881, having immigrated here from Norway, and since that time has made Mandan her home.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Theodore Wordwell, Jr., at the state university, son of a prominent Pembina, N. D., family, lies at a local hospital with a fractured skull as a result of a blow received Feb. 24 from a beam in the Mechanic Arts department of the state institution.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Wayzata—Frank Braden, for many years a resident of Wayzata, died at Seattle, Wash., on Monday, aged 62 years. He and his family moved to Seattle thirteen years ago. He leaves a wife, daughter and son.

Little Falls—Little Falls' 1915 chautauqua will be held later this year than last, the dates having been arranged as June 29 to July 6.

International Falls—A. G. Fillman, formerly manager of the Koochiching county farm dairy, is back after an extended trip through the Southwest. Mr. Fillman expects to engage in the dairy business at Hibbing.

Bemidji—The annual meeting of the Bemidji Commercial club will be held on Tuesday evening, March 9, and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

St. Cloud—A petition signed by nearly all of the attorneys of the city may be filed soon with the commission asking for the organization of a municipal court in St. Cloud.

Hendrum—A Commercial club has been organized here with the following officers: A. M. Eckmann, president; J. P. Grothe, vice president; Elmer Rustad, secretary; J. H. Canning, treasurer; Dr. Offelal, J. M. Douglas and J. C. Bergh, publicity committee.

Ada—The following election officers have been appointed for the election of March 9: Judges, T. N. Strand, E. J. Volland and W. F. Andrews; clerks, I. Roesch and G. Kittilson.

Moorhead—The Moorhead Commercial club has gone on record in favor of building an auditorium. It was decided to appoint a committee of five members to work out and suggest a plan at the next meeting of the club.

Crookston—News has been received here of the death at Fountain City, Wis., on Sunday last of John Ristow, formerly well known in Polk county. At one time he resided on a farm near Fanny, but several years ago he removed to Wisconsin. It is stated that the end came after a stroke of paralysis. The deceased leaves a wife and twelve children.

Bemidji—In the case of Sorenson Bros. against Wes Wright, tried in district court, a verdict for $5.16 in favor of the plaintiff was returned. This case was brought to recover $75 for the purchase of a carload of hay which Wright refused because of poor quality.

Crookston—The Consolidated school at Trail will hold its dedication exercises on March 1 at the school building. Supt. Selvig of the agricultural school, B. D. Keck, architect of the building, and County Superintendent of Schools N. A. Thorson will be present at the meeting. They will deliver addresses.

Glyndon—The farmers' short course here this week was a great success. About 200 Clay county farmers attended the different sessions. The speakers were R. W. Clary of Montana, E. W. Smith of Parkers Prairie, Minn., C. E. Brown of Crookston, P. E. Clement of this city and C. O. Carlson of Erskine.

STOMACH SOUR? STOP INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN---PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Don't Suffer! Regulate Your Upset Stomach in Five Minutes.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. and Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

Diseased Blood Calls for Help

Nature's Willing Workers are Always at Your Service.

If it is eczema, pimples, boils or worse—your safeguard is S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. It is always lined up to attack diseased blood. And it always does the work. It does the work after disappointment, after alleged specialists, mercury, iodides, strychnine, arsenic and other destructive drugs that have reaped a harvest of mistakes and left a host of invalids guessing as to what is to come. S. S. S. is not such a drug as the cupidity or ignorance of man would be able to produce. It is Nature's wonderful contribution to our necessities. It is wonderful because it can not be imitated; can not be made any other way than to assemble Nature's products and produce what a host of men know as S. S. S., the world's greatest medicine. There are people everywhere that had an old sore or ulcer that defied all the salves known. And yet S. S. S. taken into the blood just naturally put into that old sore the elements that made new tissue, new flesh, and covered it with a new coating of healthy skin. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggest and be on the way to perfect blood health. But beware of substitutes. For special advice consult the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 55 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is free and has helped a multitude.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R.I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

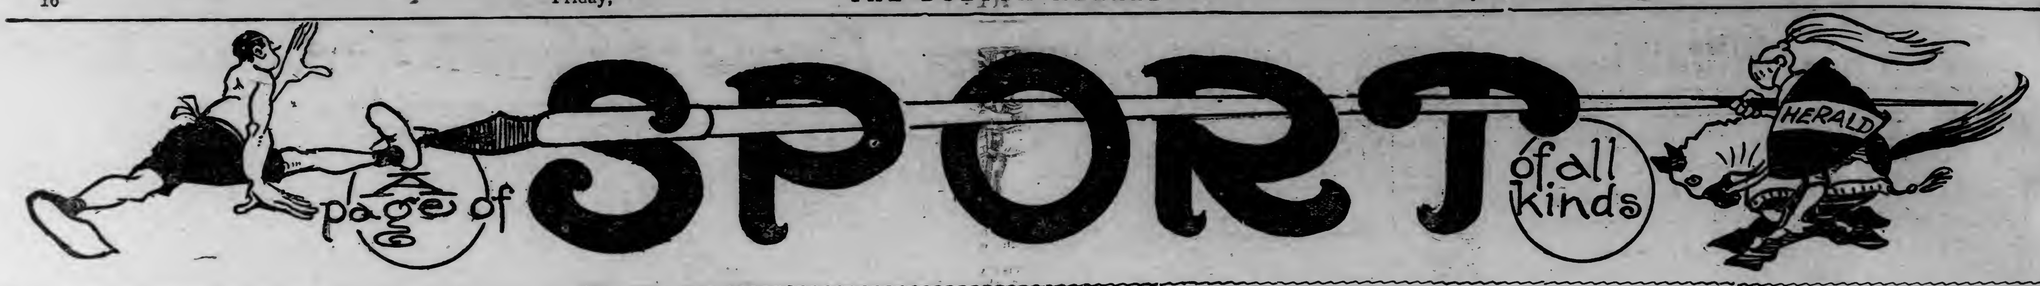

PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

CHAMPION IS TOO ELUSIVE

Charlie White Finds Title Aspirations Out of Reach.

Freddie Welsh Outboxes Chicago Lightweight—Clever and Fast.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—Freddie Welsh outboxed Charlie White in a ten-round no-decision contest at the Auditorium last night, according to the almost unanimous opinion of sporting writers. Welsh appeared to have the advantage of five rounds, the third to seventh inclusive. White shaded his opponent in the ninth and tenth, and the first, second and eighth appeared to be even.

The Englishman had White at his mercy during most of the fight, being fast and clever, and getting away without punishment. White was slow and seemed unable to solve Welsh's whirlwind style of attack.

First Rounds Even.

The boys shook hands for action at 10:31 p. m. Welsh got in the first punch, a light right to White's jaw. Welsh started off in brisk fashion, but White took things easy, apparently waiting for an opening to hook in his famous left. Freddie was outpointing the Chicago boy, but toward the end of the round he got a trifle careless and Charlie mixed matters with him, having a shade the better of the exchange. The round ended even.

Charlie took advantage of every opportunity, but he found Freddie pretty shifty. White had more confidence after the first mixup, and Freddie was required to use all of his cleverness to evade the Chicago boy's rushes. The boys were on even terms at the end of the second session.

The champion used all of his cleverness with telling effect in the third session, doing some damaging execution on Charlie's face and body. Freddie pumped four or five lefts to White's face at one time during the round, the punches coming so fast that they apparently bewildered the Chicagoan. Welsh had the advantage of the round.

White Takes a Chance.

White heeded the advice of his seconds and many friends in the arena to go in and take a chance. Charlie did so, but found Freddie very much alive to the situation. Freddie emerged from the fourth with a shade to his credit.

The champion showed superior cleverness in the fifth round, jumping about the Chicago boy with amazing rapidity, and at the same time hitting him wherever and whenever he pleased. The sixth round was a repetition of the fifth, being Welsh's.

At this time, it looked as though Welsh would be returned the winner by a good margin White's cheekbones began to swell from the pummeling of numerous rights and lefts from the champion's gloves The contest was apparently so strongly in Welsh's favor that the crowd began to boot White. Welsh continued to hold theadvantage.

Welsh Too Elusive.

White tried to use his right more in the eighth, finding Welsh too elusive to land his left. White got one left to Welsh's body at the opening of the round, but the rest of the round was unable to land effectively. White did a little better in this round and merited an even break in the session.

White started to rush things in the ninth round, following Welsh across the ring and swinging rights and lefts. He got in several good blows, but they were not hard enough to bother Welsh much. Charlie had the better of this round, his aggressiveness earning a shade for him.

Both boys tried for a knockout in the final round, swinging rather wildly. Welsh was tiring, but succeeded in making White swing wildly and protecting himself from any serious punishment. White earned a shade of the final session.

ST. PAUL TEAM WILL DISBAND

Too Many Cripples to Schedule Any More Games.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.) — Though Manager Ray W. Johns has offers from hockey teams at Regina, Renfrew, Winnipeg, Detroit and London, Ont., to come here, he has decided to disband his team for the season. Peterson, Kahler, Smith, Brennan, Goheen and Henderson all are on the hospital list, and it will be some time before the A. C. septet can put a representative team on the ice.

"We have had a pretty good year for a starter," said Johns today, "and have prospects for a stronger team next season. Our newest recruits, Smith, Romerilli and Simpson, late of the Winnipeg Victorias, all will try out for places next year, and there are several other stars who want to come here to endeavor to catch places. We shall have a much larger squad of regulars next season, in order to be protected against injuries, and I feel that next winter our team will be able to meet the best in the country on even terms."

J. H. Ritchie in the Minneapolis Journal comments on the game as follows:

"The St. Paul hockey team went up to Duluth the other night as full of pride as a burlesque soubrette with a new pair of pink silk stockings. The Duluth contingent doused them through the dew in manner most uncouth and unfeeling, the final score being 11-1.

"The St. Paul team returned home yesterday and aside from a slight hint that the officials were not competent, that the pace was too fast and that they were unduly roughed, mussed and mistreated, say they have no kick coming. Judging by their quoted opinions since their return home, the Saints think the Zenith team would be a highly gentlemanly outfit were it not for the fact that, in their opinion, they are a set of saber-toothed, ring-tailed athletic ourang-outangs. There's nothing like losing in good game style.

"Of course, we don't know anything about what happened or did not happen at Duluth. We are very firmly convinced, however, that in the list of pet games hockey is not by any means a lapdog for a lady."

INTERSCHOLASTIC TITLE AT STAKE

Central and Cathedral Quints Will Struggle in Decisive Game.

The interscholastic basket ball championship of the Head of the Lakes is at stake. It will be decided tonight at the Catholic gymnasium, when the Central high school and Cathedral high school quintets meet. These are two of the fastest high school fives in the Northwest, and it is felt certain that some sensational basket ball will be the result.

On Jan. 22 the teams met in their initial battle of the season, and the Cathedrals won by a slight margin. The Fourth street team will be the natural favorites in tonight's affray, and they will doubtless fight hard this evening in order that they may annex the second game and thus clinch the

READY FOR RING TILT

Red-Headed Californian Is Made Favorite Over Range Idol.

Colie Munro Predicts a Win for Little Chisholm Battler.

BY BRUCE.

Fight fans of the Head of the Lakes and the Northeastern part of the state in general will have the opportunity this evening of deciding for themselves whether Pal Brown carries the pugilistic wares that are required in the makeup of a great lightweight fighter.

The Chisholm youth is pitted against Red Watson of California, a fighter who comes here touted as one of the most sensational and promising young lightweights that has come to the front within the last decade.

Watson has a remarkable record to substantiate the claims made for him by fight followers of the Twin Cities, where Watson has worked daily for nearly a month. As a comparative ring novice Watson fought two remarkably even twenty-round battles with that resourceful veteran, Leach Cross, flooring the New York dentist in the second encounter at San Diego and nearly putting him away.

Watson Is Favorite.

For perhaps the first time Brown started in these parts he will be on the short end of the odds in the engagement of this evening. In Superior and some places in Duluth those who make it a practice to wager on sporting events are offering long odds that Watson will be returned the winner and fairly even money that the red-thatched pugilist from the sunny climes of California wins by the knockout route.

Watson, Jack Kearns, his manager, and Billy Murray, the young San Francisco middleweight, arrived at the Head of the Lakes yesterday. Watson is the very personification of confidence. The somewhat astute Mr. Kearns declares his implicit faith in the ability of his boy to win and win decisively.

As a workout, a sort of preliminary sortie to the affair of this evening, Red Watson met "Buff" Seidel of St. Paul, the night before last in Minneapolis under the auspices of a private club. Referee Jimy Potts stopped the sanguinary affair in the sixth round to save Seidel from further punishment. Seidel is rated as some boy in the sweet scented environment of the two cities, therefore the feat of Watson is one bespeaking class and the positive possession of a wallop.

What About Pal Brown?

Colie Munro was the advance Brown guard to reach here. The Chisholm merchant came down yesterday to complete final arrangements for the Jackpine kid.

"I believe Brown will win," said Munro. "I should say that Pal is in the best condition he has shown in two years. Lack of condition will not figure in the result of the contest, speaking from our side of the house. Brown is right. You know Pal always expects to win. I tried to argue with him over the question of weight before the match was made, but he declared that he would fight Watson if he weighed a ton. We figure that Watson will enter the ring weighing 138 pounds—but then I think Brown is going to be returned the winner, and Pal is even more positive of that result than myself."

The little Chisholm fighter, Harley Davison and Delahunt, who has been working with Brown, arrived here early today. Pal remained at his training quarters until almost the last train out of Chisholm. When T. Hardy wrote something about far from the madding crowd, it is believed he had direct reference to the P. Brown one.

Sling Up the Boxers.

It is difficult to get a direct line on Watson. From all the reports of the red-headed Californian, he is not 99 per cent pure on ring science or generalship, but packs and widely distributes a wallop that spells dreamland when he connects.

The Kearns' entry is rated as one who hits with either paw and clouts out from most any old angle. The coast kid is also, as is the case with the majority of these brawny sluggers, said to be a veritable glutton for punishment. If the true rating of Watson materializes in the engagement of this evening, the contest should early develop into a simon pure slugging match in which the survival of the fittest issue will prove extremely interesting.

Brown, as the majority of ring fans who follow bouts with intelligence and judgment know, is a rather peculiar combination of boxer and fighter. Brown is more clever than he is often given credit for. The Chisholm lad is difficult to catch flush to head or body. The range battler has a peculiar, and at the same time effective, method of blocking and covering. Many blows that apparently land are impeded or partially blocked by gloves or elbows.

Brown may be said to be something of an erratic starter. Against Frankie Whitney he boxed in faultless fashion, coming in and out with speed and hitting with force and precision. While Brown carried the Superior milling to Tillman in that memorable encounter, he boxed like an old woman.

With good preliminaries on the card, the offering looks like about the best that has been scheduled for Northern state followers of the padded mitt game for some time.

WELLING TO MEET BROWN

Pal Brown and Chicago Boy Will Fight in Windsor Ring.

Pal Brown and Joe Welling of Chicago will meet at Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit, in an eight-round engagement on the evening of March 4.

Welling is the rising young ring sensation who journeyed to Australia with Jimmy Clabby and Larney Litchenstein and who has been winning bouts with monotonous regularity since returning from the antipodes.

In passing it might be mentioned that Packey McFarland is said to have offered to back Welling to the extent of $5,000 in a 20-round battle with Charley White. In meeting Welling Brown is going against one of the toughest boys in the lightweight ranks and the result of the contest will be watched with a great deal of interest in these parts.

Wanted New Orleans Bout.

In reply to query as to why Brown did not attempt to secure some bouts over the Derby route, Colie Munro yesterday stated that the little Chisholm fighter has wired an offer to the New Orleans promoters, putting his services on the market for two round trip tickets to the Crescent City.

"We figured that Pal would make good in his initial bout and would step into the big money, thus compensating him for practically fighting his first go for nothing," said Munro.

As yet nothing has come of the offer of Brown. It was also stated that Pal was offered a contest with Willie Betcher in Milwaukee, but declined it on the ground that there was no money in sight.

WITHERS HAS LEFT THE SOX

Big Pitcher to Join Edmunds on Hibbing Team.

Jim Withers, well known as a pitcher and famous as an advocate of "Hock der Kaiser" shouting under circumstances that warranted extreme silence and exceeding discretion, is going to play with the Hibbing independent baseball team the coming season.

The Withers one was in the city yesterday. Judge Brady of Hibbing was also here, and Withers declared that all of the details of his job in the iron village had been completed and that he would join the industrial army on the first of the month.

"I can make more money by playing baseball with Hibbing in the summer and working all the year," said Withers. "It was a case of steady employment with Edmunds. That boy is one of the best catchers in minor league baseball. Why he never went up, is beyond me. Last year he caught the best ball of his career. Outside of Meyers he was away the best catcher in the Northern league."

Withers reported that Doc Ezells, one of the most effective pitchers that worked in the Northern last season, is in rather serious condition. The parents of the long slab artist who pitched Duluth into the pennant last season are taking him south.

If Judge Brady of Hibbing signs up a few more players of the stamp of Edmunds and Withers he will have some team on the range this year. Withers was one of the headiest twirlers in the league last season. He was out there pitching what they did not expect, using his "noodle" all the time, and "getting away" fine. Jim was a genial soul, a comedian of rare worth, and his departure for independent fields will be sincerely regretted by a host of followers of the White Sox.

DAVIS CAPTAIN AGAIN.

Will Again Be Field Boss of Philadelphia American Team.

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Harry Davis will be captain of the Philadelphia Americans the coming season, it was announced by Manager Mack yesterday. Ira R. Thomas, who was captain last season, will have complete charge of the pitchers.

Davis was captain of the Athletics for several years before he became manager of the Cleveland Americans in 1912. For the last two years he has been coaching the Athletic players.

championship. The Red and White warriors from the Central camp are just as determined that their rivals will not carry off the coveted honors.

Coach G. A. Glyer of Central has been putting his men through a strenuous grind, and expects that they will be in great shape for the game tonight. The team has made a marked improvement since the first Cathedral game and has added several victories. Central has one big handicap in that they will be playing on a strange floor.

That the game will be a thriller is not doubted. Both teams are ground to the edge and determined to "do or die." Both contesting teams have been in the habit of putting up some excellent basket ball all season, and the contest this evening should prove to be an unusually exciting one to watch. Both schools are all "het up" over the big game, and the gallery should be taxed with the largest crowd of the season.

Coaches Hanson of Cathedral and Glyer of Central are both determined that their respective protegos will come through the fire with the bacon. This contest will most likely prove to be the best interscholastic game that has been offered at the Head of the Lakes this year. The lineup of the two teams will be as follows:

OLYMPIC OFFICIAL KILLED IN BATTLE

Capt. Roesler, General Secretary German Committee, Slain.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 26.—Capt. Kurd Roesler, general secretary of the German committee on Olympic games, was killed in a recent battle in the Mazurian lake district. Capt. Roesler, who visited the United States with the German Olympic committee in 1913, retired from the army in order to devote his entire time to preparedness for the Olympic games which were to have been held in Berlin in 1916.

At the outbreak of the war, however, he re-entered the army and is said to have served with conspicuous gallantry first in the western zone of hostilities and then in the eastern.

Fast Canadian Hockey Team to Meet the Linderites.

Visitors Are Expected to Give Locals a Hard Run.

The Winnipegs of Winnipeg, rated as one of the strongest hockey teams of the famous Canadian center of the puck game, will play the first of a series of two games with the crack Duluth Curling club septet on the curling club ice this evening.

Followers of the game here look for one of the hardest games of the season. Winnipeg teams have in the past always played a corking brand of hockey. The Winnipegs, playing a fast and consistent game all through the present season, and ending up a creditable record with a victory over the Monarchs, are expected to make the Linderites travel at top speed.

With the exception of Russ Barkell, who has been under the care of a physician for several days, the members of the curling club team are in the very best of shape. The sparkling exhibition against the St. Paul team demonstrated clearly that Linder's men are playing in the best form of the season.

Mahan and Mohon are shooting with remarkable accuracy and splendid range, while Barkell is covering more ice and checking with amazing effect. Linder, Bogan and Nicholson make a trio of defense that have saved the Duluth net from any great bombardment this season. Olson is playing by far the best game of his career.

Unless the Winnipegs have one of the best teams that has ever been sent out of the metropolis of Western Canada, they are due for a trimming at the able hands of the locals. But one team in one game on the local ice during the present season has had it on Duluth. In the first game of the Port Arthur series the Canadians sure did show our boys a thing or two about rushing the puck. We retaliated the following evening and have been registering home victories ever since that event.

Smith-Dillon Match.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—Gunboat Smith, New York, and Jack Dillon, Indianapolis, heavyweights, will meet in a ten-round boxing contest in Milwaukee on March 16 or 17, it was announced last night.

HEALTH TALKS

By William Brady, M.D.

Experimenting on Your Cough

IN THE good old benighted days when even the doctors treated all ailments symptomatically—that is, gave a separate pill or potion for each different symptom the victim mentioned, though it meant a dozen drugs at once—it was excusable and almost commendable in the individual who began to cough to hasten to the corner drug store and buy a bottle of Old Doctor Knock-em-out's Compound Expectorant. He was simply trying to beat the doctors at their own game.

Today, if your doctor isn't determined to get rich quick at all hazards, he doesn't try to fit a favorite cough remedy to all coughs. He looks you over—and the less clothes you have on the more accurately can he determine what is making you cough. Then, having formed a fairly good opinion of the nature and cause of the trouble which makes you cough, he probably treats your nose or removes a plug of wax from your ear or tells you frankly that you've got tuberculosis or a touch of the measles.

Never Treat a Cough.

The treatment of the many different conditions which cause cough is not a cut and dried system. If it were, it would be superfluous for the patient to visit the doctor more than once for any illness accompanied with cough. If the wrong medicine can do any harm, then it is certainly a desperate business experimenting with cough syrups on your own case. How do you know but that the narcotic ingredient of the cough syrup will shut off the cough enough to retain secretions which ought to be expectorated from the chest, and these secretions, being full of germs, might infect the lungs and produce pneumonia?

We are convinced that many a simple tracheitis or a bronchitis which would proceed to recovery within a few days if left alone, becomes pneumonia ultimately by reason of the patient's fatal error in taking a cough mixture containing some narcotic, like morphine, heroin, codein, opium, chloroform or chloral.

It isn't so bad to advise your friends to take so-and-so for the cough—if you are that kind of person and have that type of friends—but when it comes to experimenting on your own cough, if you're wise you'll leave it to the doctor, who is not infallible, of course, but about a thousand times safer than self-doctoring can be.

Questions and Answers.

For Chapped Hands: Please suggest what is best to use as a hand lotion for chapped hands. I work in an office where it is necessary to wash very frequently, and the hands suffer.

-REPLY.

Dissolve half an ounce of boric acid, half an ounce of glycerin and one drop of oil of rose or other scent in a pint of boiled water still hot. Then add a dram (one-eighth ounce) of tragacanth coarsely powdered. Shake till it is dissolved. Use it freely. It may partly take the place of soap. It is soothing and prevents and relieves chapping. Colored and bottled and named a fancy name, it is sold at a handsome profit by many firms.

* * * *

Gentle Tippling: Does Vinol contain any alcohol or narcotic drug?

REPLY.

The average daily dose of Vinol contains about as much alcohol as you would get in five and three-fourths teaspoonfuls of ordinary whisky. It beats the deuce how "strengthening" alcohol becomes under any other name than booze!

* * * *

Lithia Water: Will lithia water help rheumatism if taken as a regular drink instead of city water?

REPLY.

No more than city water. The "uric acid" theory was long ago exploded, and even if you took lithium salts in full dose you wouldn't gain anything in particular.

ROWING TANK IS PLANNED FOR DULUTH

Jimmy Ten Eyck Securing Plans for Indoor Water Rowing.

Plans are being made to provide a rowing tank for the crew candidates of the Duluth Boat club. Jimmy Ten Eyck is now in the East securing plans and specifications for the construction of a large tank with running water. If the plans meet with the approval of the directors, it is both possible and probable that early in the present year work will be begun on a large inclosed tank.

Ten Eyck is bringing to Duluth several sets of films of the Syracuse oarsmen at work. One of the pictures is of the crew men at work in the tank and James is of the opinion that these pictures will be especially instructive to his rowing pupils.

The big mass meeting of the oarsmen will be held Monday evening at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. Every boy with the least intention of trying for the crews is earnestly requested to be on hand. It is expected that the largest number of candidates ever answering a call will be present.

FIRST BREACH IN FED RANKS MADE

Kansas City Enjoins Removal of Franchise—Demands Accounting.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—A temporary injunction issued by the circuit court late yesterday will halt the transfer of the Kansas City Federal league franchise to P. T. Powers of New York, which was expected to be effected at the meeting of the league in Buffalo today. The injunction was issued after the club had filed a suit to restrain the Federal League of Professional Ball clubs from transferring the franchise to another party. The writ of injunction was served on James A. Gilmore, president of the league, just as he was boarding a train for Buffalo.

The bill recites that under the franchise given by the defendant league Feb. 28, 1914, it was understood that the Kansas City club could operate permanently as a member of the league and that consequently the club had assumed a great many obligations.

While admitting that loans had been made from time to time by the league, the club asserted that these loans are offset by sums due from the defendant. The bill states that, although the club has repeatedly asked the league for a statement of its account, being ready to pay any just claims, the league has refused any such statement, although continuing to claim a balance due from the club.

The suit was set for hearing on March 5.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 26.—In the absence of President James A. Gilmore, who is on his way to Buffalo, other officials of the Federal league gathering here for their meeting today, were averse to discussing the legal contest over the Kansas City and Newark franchise.

Confidence was expressed, however, that a way would be found to switch the franchise to Newark and at the same time satisfy the Kansas City magnates. P. T. Powers, when informed of the Chicago proceedings, said:

"That is up to President Gilmore and the league. The contingency of such a proceeding was taken into consideration and I believe the officials of the league are prepared to meet it."

The litigation over the Kansas City-Newark franchise, it was said, would not hold up the work of the schedule-makers.

WATERBURY VS. PELL.

Racquets Champion Must Defend Title in National Tournament.

New York, Feb. 26.—As a result of yesterday's play in the semi-finals for the national amateur racquets championship, Lawrence Waterbury of this city will defend his national title in the final match tomorrow against C. C. Pell of Tuxedo, N. Y.

The champion defeated his brother, J. C. Waterbury, yesterday in three straight games, 15-8, 15-4, 15-10. In the other semi-final C. C. Pell outplayed Stanley C. Mortimer of the home club rather easily, although the full five games were gone through, 15-1, 9-15, 15-10, 12-15 and 15-7.

BIG HOCKEY BILL OFFERED

Duluth Amateur League Has Double-Header on Schedule.

With the Northerns and Two Harbors and the Bagleys and Big Duluth hockey teams all listed on the double bill of puck entertainment of this evening, amateur league followers have a rich treat in store for them. Dave Larson's team is picked for the pennant by a majority of the fans of the D. A. H. L. Since early in the season the Northerns have been playing real hockey. Two Harbors has been going fast and it is generally expected that the contest will be one of the thrillers of the year. Should the railroad gang win, the result will be to make the race in the Fenton organization a close trek to the wire. Should the hardware dealers be returned winners, the lead of the Larson contingent will be increased and its chances of pulling down the oriflamme that much increased.

Mons. Anderson of the Bagley aggregation takes the task of building a team very much to heart. George has been laboring like a Trojan to place a real team in the field. Since the start of the season the jewelry dealers have been occupying a lowly place at the bottom of the percentage rating. Manager Anderson and his players are going to attempt to startle the followers of the league by actually winning a game. Let it be said here that the startle would be some startle.

Much interest is being shown by the members of the Big Duluth and Universal teams in the outcome of the contest between Two Harbors and the Northerns. The members of the two teams tied for second place are pulling hard for a victory for the out-of-town players.

CURLING

Ray Bishoff was finally put out of the running of The Herald event after making a game fight with a comparatively green rink. In the contest of last evening, Ralph Bradley put his regular third man's rink out by administering a defeat by the score of 16 to 7.

William Dinham added to the illustrious record he is hanging up this season by staking John Oldham to a neat beating to the tune of 15 to 6. Dinham moved into the semi-finals by this victory and will meet Dr. Gillespie to determine which rink will meet the strong Bradley rink in the finals of The Herald.

The results of last evening and tonight's draw are given:

Columbia Event.

W. E. Magner, 12; F. Falk, 0 (forfeit).
H. Ditzel, 17; John Currie, 3.

LEADS IN MARKSMANSHIP

Iowa City High School Rifle Team Makes Another Fine Record.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Iowa City high school made the high score of 988 out of a possible 1,000 in the seventh match for the public high school rifle shooting championship of the United States, in which that team still leads Class A. Score:

Class A—Iowa City, 988; vs. Manual, Washington, 948; Deering, Portland, Me., 976, vs. Auburn, Cal., 861; Stoneham, Mass., 976, vs. Manual, Brooklyn, N. Y., 898; Portland, Me., 966, vs. Salt Lake, 946; Morris, New York city, 943, vs. Baltimore Poly., 930.

CONEMAUGHS NO MATCH FOR "GYM"

Fast Central High School Juniors Win Another Basket Ball Victory.

Last evening saw the Central high school gym class basket ball team victors in another clash. By a score of 29 to 16 they decisively trounced the fast Conemaugh club aggregation from the West end. The game was rough but exciting, and although the gym men were outweighed, they won with comparative ease. Shaw and Rosenberg played in grand form for the winners but the whole team, as usual, all played in even shape. Moerke put up a fine exhibition for the losers.

Between halves of the main contest the gym seconds defeated the Herald Carriers team in a good game, 20 to 17. Kerr played best for the winners while Casmir showed well for the newsies.

The lineup of the big game was:

Gym—		Conemaugh—
Pedrizetti	f	Moerke
Mason	f	Meiander
Cogins	c	Anderson
Shaw	g	Brown
Rosenberg	g	Stevens

BEMIDJI MAKES SHOWING.

Meets Fast Fond du Lac Five, Losing By 27 to 16 Score.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The crack Fond du Lac, Wis., basket ball team did not have an entirely easy time beating the Big Bemidji basket ball five here last night as the local team made a good showing and were defeated by a score of only 27 to 16.

Heinisch, forward of the Wisconsin five, was the star of the game, shooting five baskets. Bestul, guard; Peck, at center, and Stevenson, who guarded Fogarty, played well for the locals.

ROWE WINS CLOSE BILLIARD GAME

In the Hatley amateur balk line billiard tournament game of last evening, Rowe defeated Butchart by the score of 150 to 144. It required the winner sixty-two innings to go out. Butchart made a high run of 22, and the winner, one of 13. The contest was one of the best and closest that has been played in the tournament to date.

Cutler Wins Match.

Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 26.—Albert Cutler defeated Welker Cochran, 300 to 226, in a Billiard Players' league match here last night.

ASSESSMENT FOR PAVING

City Assessor Will Make Ready for Oneota Street Work.

With the completion of the advance assessment rolls yesterday for the paving of Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Thirty-eight streets, City Assessor Scott this morning began preparing the advance assessment for the paving of Oneota street.

Commissioner Murchison said this morning that if property owners along Oneota street do not object to the advance assessments levied on the paving of that thoroughfare, the work will probably be the first started this coming spring.

"That thoroughfare needs paving more than any other street," said Commissioner Murchison, "and if no objection is made by the property owners, we will go ahead just as soon as warm weather sets in. We plan to pave the roadway from Thirtieth to Thirty-ninth avenues west at the present time and if we have the money, to finish the pavement up to Forty-sixth avenue, while otherwise, we will have to continue the work until next year."

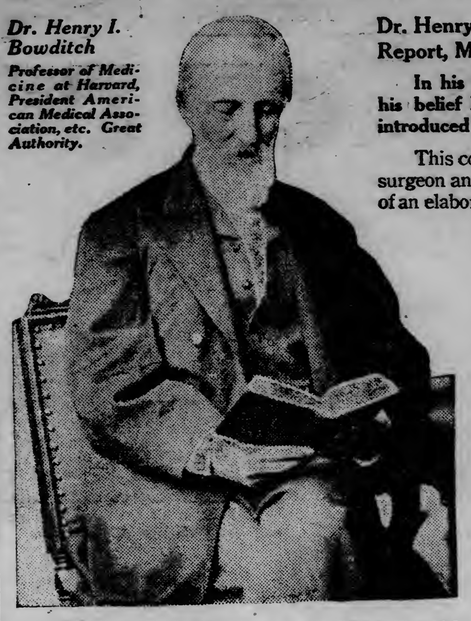

The assessment on the Park Point paving job covers 80 per cent of the improvement, which City Assessor Scott estimates will be $81,011.57. Lots between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets are to be assessed $145.89 each on the advance levy, while all others will be assessed $109.65 each. The difference is caused by the varying in the width of the pavement.

Out of the total cost the city will pay $8,615 for street intersections, the money to go out of the permanent improvement fund.

Sisters Die on Same Day.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Feb. 26.—The prayers of Icey May and Nelly Sylvia Griffith, sisters, aged 20 and 23, respectively, that they might die on the same day and occupy the same grave, were answered yesterday when they succumbed to illness within a few hours of each other.

Board of Health Endorses Beer

Dr. Henry I. Bowditch

Professor of Medicine at Harvard, President American Medical Association, etc. Great Authority.

Dr. Henry I. Bowditch in 3rd Annual Report, Massachusetts Board of Health

In his report of 1871, Dr. Bowditch states that in his belief lager beer is the greatest benefaction ever introduced into this country.

This conclusion of the late Dr. Bowditch, physician, surgeon and writer of international repute, was the result of an elaborate correspondence or investigation made by him for the State Board of Health of Massachusetts of which he was chairman.

His papers of inquiry were sent to thirty-three resident American Ambassadors, one hundred and thirty-two consuls and others whose opinions he knew would be valuable.

The Doctor makes this observation in his report: "The American people as a whole do not by any means as yet understand the true philosophy of food and drink."

Fitger Natural Beer is a matchless table beverage. It has all the life and sparkle of the finest draught beer as drawn fresh from the wood. This is due to our innovation, the Kieselguhr filter (first of its kind in America.) By Kieselguhr filtration Fitger Natural Beer attains a pure brilliancy heretofore unknown. To Kieselguhr filtration also is due the marvel of a beer in bottles with the full natural taste, aroma and character of the finest draught beer.

A. Fitger.

FITGER Natural Beer

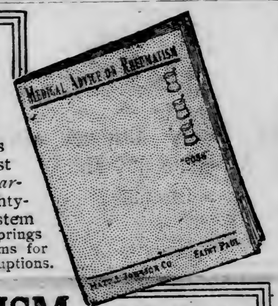

"A Draught Beer in Bottles"

Besides its value as a pleasant, appetizing beverage Fitger Natural Beer has value as a food. One of the most authoritative of Medical Journals "The Hospital," (London) says: "When a man drinks good beer he eats at the same time, just as when he eats a bowl of soup."

PLANS FOR ROAD WORK

Program Complete for Congress to Be Held Next August.

Thirty Leading Good Roads Associations to Take Active Part.

Plans have been completed for the congress of good roads which will be held in San Francisco during the week beginning Aug. 2, and which will be represented by more than thirty leading good roads and highway bodies of the country. This will be the first good roads congress of its kind ever held on the Pacific coast, and will be called under the auspices of the Tri-State Good Roads association, comprising California, Oregon and Washington.

Delegates from every leading good roads and highway association, the allied chambers of commerce of the Pacific coast, supervisors and many other officials will participate in the speaking program of the congress.

The purpose of the congress will be to bring a representative body of automobile and business interests together, where questions dealing with good roads and kindred subjects will be discussed. Matters of legislation, the question of securing Federal aid in constructing roads, the work of furthering lateral roads, bond issues and the subject of convict labor will be taken up in detail by the delegates.

Among the principal organizations invited to attend the congress are the following:

American Highways association, National Highways association, American Road Builders association, Automobile Club of Southern California, Pacific Highways association, American Association of State Highway Officials, League of California Municipalities, League of Northwestern Municipalities, Board of Supervisors' Association of California, Lincoln Highway association, American Bar association and Cannon Ball Trails association.

BUILD A HILL TO GET REAL TEST

Chalmers Engineers Perform Unique Feat Near Detroit Plant.

Making a hill grow where none grew before is a $100,000 feat in "landscape architecture" accomplished by the Chalmers engineers at the Detroit factory, according to E. J. Fillatrault, the local Chalmers dealer. Detroit is situated in flat country and there are no hills for testing automobiles within twenty-five miles of the city. But that did not deter these Chalmers engineers from devising a strictly scientific "hill" test.

The hill is in reality a series of electric dynamo meters by which every Chalmers car is tested. They cost $100,000 to install, eliminate the necessity of sending cars out on long road and hill trips, and give the same results in a far more scientific way than any actual hill test ever devised.

The electric dynamo meter system is one of the things experts generally figure on seeing during their visits to the great automobile factories of Detroit.

In the making of this famous $100,000 "hill" test, the completed chassis of Chalmers cars are set in steel frames. Great chains are fastened to the rear wheels and to great dynamos, and, running under their own power, the motors of the cars work against electrical resistance. Accurate instruments measure the horsepower developed by the motors, and expert mechanics judge the fitness of every working part for long road service.

The dynamo meter test, lasting twenty-four hours, not only measures the horsepower of the motors, but also tests the strength and silence of Chalmers transmissions, clutches, rear axles, and other parts, all of which work exactly as they do in the road. The chart of each chassis is a record of scientifically measured work, with every chance of human error eliminated.

By means of this wonderful test, absolutely uniform quality is assured for every car turned out. It enables the Chalmers company to guarantee that each car is as powerful, smooth running and sturdy as every other car of the same model.

More Service at Less Cost

The Detroit Electric will amply care for any and all of your travel requirements except long cross country tours.

Moreover you will derive a great deal more service from your Electric than is possible from a gas car and at less cost of operation and upkeep.

You dispense with a chauffeur. You are freed from large repair bills. You can laugh at the usual winter troubles of frozen carburetor and chilled cylinders. You experience no annoying delays—you go when and where you will—summer and winter alike.

Its year 'round usefulness, its ever ready service, its reliability, its ease of operation, its power and speed—these are the things which make the Detroit Electric the choice of fully ⅓ of all buyers of Electrics.

Let us explain all of the features of superiority embodied in the Detroit

WILL REPLACE FOREIGN MAKERS

Americans Are Finding New Fields for Cars This Year.

By John N. Willys, President, the Willys-Overland company, Toledo, Ohio.

American motor car manufacturers already are finding tremendous fields for their product in lands heretofore covered only by foreign automobile makers. The inhabitants of the most distant points of the globe have awakened to the wide utility of the automobile and the demand that formerly went entirely to Europe is now coming to this country.

There has been a great increase in sales of American built cars both in European and other countries. Since the start of the Willys-Overland company's fiscal year on July 1, Overland sales abroad exceed by fully 42 per cent what they totaled during the same period of 1913. Considering the fact that shipments of cars to all the belligerent nations ceased entirely during August, this showing is highly gratifying.

Today, Overland cars are selling in about half the languages spoken. The last edition of our foreign catalog, published a few weeks ago, numbered 125,000 copies and was printed in nine different tongues.

Our 4,000 Overland dealers cover the entire civilized world and reach into parts almost unknown to the average American. There are several Overland dealers in China, three in Japan and just as many in Java. One of our distributers does a flourishing business in Pepepe Hate. Many Overlands are being driven daily in Tasmania, New Zealand, Hawaii, Australia, India, Arabia, Iceland, Turkey and numerous other countries which two or three years ago we considered decidedly unpromising fields.

We frequently deliver cars several hundred miles from a railroad station. Early last fall we received an order for a single Overland from Nairobi, which is considered the jumping off place on the east coast of Africa. The car was shipped from Toledo about the first of September and arrived at Nairobi just a few days before Christmas. It was taken from the package in which it was shipped, and in the absence of any other means of transportation, it was cranked up immediately, to make its own delivery trip.

That car was delivered 200 miles farther inland than any other automobile had ever traveled. There are no mechanics within hundreds of miles from the owner's home. If anything ever goes wrong with the car, which the owner is unable to remedy, it will have to be taken all the way back to Nairobi for repairs.

Europe will never recover the automobile field lost during the war. When once people who have been using cars of foreign make discover the superiority of American design and construction, they can never be induced to go back to European automobiles.

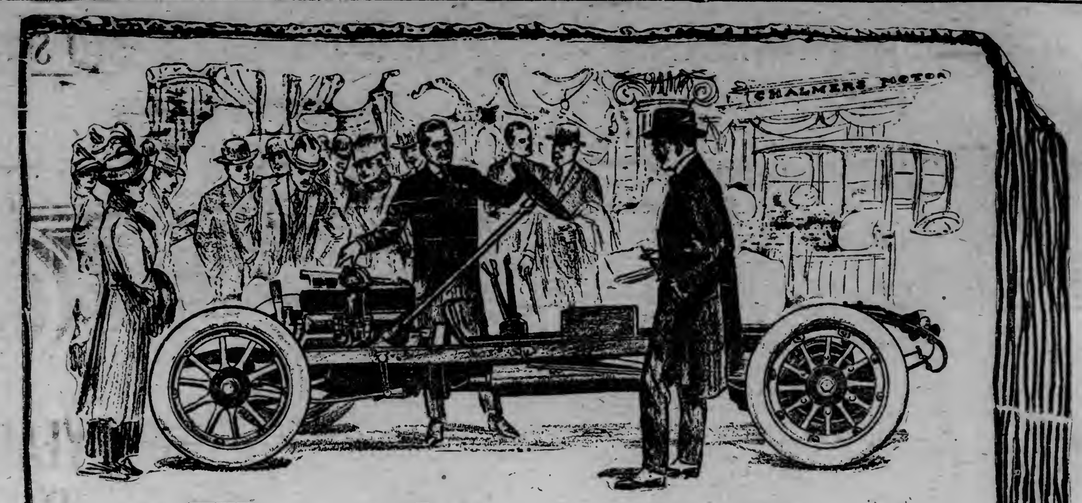

You should interview the salesmen of the OVERLAND Co. who are at the Auto Show in Duluth. These men will tell you the The Truth of motor car construction; they can show you the things that are to be considered in the purchase of a car. You will profit by letting them show you these points that mean so much.

Three things to settle at the Motor Show

1. Gasoline Economy or Real Economy?
2. Right Weight or Wrong Weight?
3. A Proved or An Unproved Car?

IT isn't gasoline saving that keeps your car's expenses down.

It's very little that can be saved in gasoline. There isn't $25 difference in a season's driving between the gasoline bills of any two "light sixes" on the market.

It's cutting down repair items that is real economy.

Often one repair bill will wipe out a year's saving in gasoline and oil.

If that were not true the Chalmers "Light Six" wouldn't be any more economical than any other "light sixes."

There are other cars which are just as sparing of gasoline.

The big difference is that the Chalmers "Light Six" "stays put"—keeps running month after month without any need of attention.

So Chalmers "Light Six" owners have come to call this the "car of economy."

BUY a car that's underweight and you get a flimsy car.

It may save a little in oil and gasoline but it's going to cost a lot more in repairs.

You must have enough weight to make the car sturdy and strong, to make it easy riding, to make it hold the road when you "open up" a bit, and to give season after season of service at the lowest cost.

When you buy a Chalmers "Light Six" you are settling this weight question sanely.

Take a good look at this car in the Chalmers Exhibit at the Show.

Note how substantially it is built where weight is necessary for strength and safety. Glance at the strong torque tube anchored to the frame that takes up the stresses and strains of driving.

Because this car is a right-weight "Light Six" it rides most easily, gives longer service and holds upkeep cost at the very lowest notch.

THE purchase of an unproved car is a speculation—of a proved car a wise investment.

The Chalmers "Light Six" has proved in the past season's service that it costs far less to own than any car of similar size and power on the market.

The motors in the Chalmers "Light Sixes" put on the road in May are still running "sweetly" and smoothly. Six million miles of travel have produced no signs of weakening.

Originally this car was priced at $1850. It was a big value at that price—now, at $1650, it is a $200 greater value.

You should see this car. It's at the Chalmers Exhibit.

COMBINE ENERGIES TO PRODUCE CARS

Cole Company Takes Over Production of Northway Corporation.

J. J. Cole, president of the Cole Motor Car company of Indianapolis is responsible for the statement that his company has contracted with the Northway Motor company of Detroit for the latter's entire season's production on the Cole-Northway eight-cylinder motor, and that quantity deliveries will begin during the month of March.

As an indication of the conditions prevailing in the automobile industry, the Cole Motor Car company has just wired its distributors a night letter as follows: "Big Northway Motor Plant and the Cole company are combining their energies this season towards producing the Cole-Northway eight in large quantities. The demand is unprecedented. Undoubtedly this will be the biggest year in our history.

"Signed J. J. COLE."

"I regard the prospects for good business during the coming year as the brightest that we have ever had in our whole history," said President Cole. "Our sales department reports that after a careful analysis of the entire field there is the utmost confidence in our line of business at least, and I feel that the pulse of the automobile industry is a pretty good indication of how things are running in other lines.

"There has never been a moment when I doubted the superiority of our method of building—I mean the idea of working with a group of high-class parts makers who are at all times in touch with public demand and also in touch with engineering development. If there has been the slightest doubt about the correctness of this method the success of the Cole in designing and providing an "Eight" power plant at just the right time should correct any isolated and inaccurate impression.

"The big Northway motor plant is just as determined as we to see that deliveries on the Cole Eight are assured and made on an absolute schedule. They are one of the biggest independent motor builders in the world; they have the facilities; and the '8' motors they are bringing through are as thoroughly dependable as any type of motor made; just as well worked in as if they had been building nothing but eights for years. This is one of the advantages of doing business with a concern that is at all times up to the minute."

SOCIETY NIGHT AT AUTO SHOW

Tonight is society night at the automobile show and the largest crowd of the week is expected to be in attendance.

The program for this evening will open with an address of welcome by Postmaster W. E. McEwen, who will speak in place of Governor Hammond, the latter having been compelled to cancel his engagement. Charles Helmer's concert orchestra will play throughout the evening and special entertainment will be given the visitors by the Holland hotel entertainers. Those include Miss Maybelle Messersmith, Harry Carter, Robert Willis and Gordon Hyndman, who will play and sing from 8 until 9:30 o'clock.

Immediately after the automobile show there will be "auto" and "professional" night at the Holland hotel for the local dealers and their friends.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the show all day yesterday, Duluth day. Tomorrow will be range day and it is expected that several hundred residents will come to Duluth to attend the show.

SET DATES FOR EXAMINATIONS

State High School Board Will Give Tests Next Month.

March 25 and 26 are the dates which have been selected for conducting the first of the state high school board examinations in St. Louis county this year, according to N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools.

The schedule which will be followed is:

Thursday, March 25—Spelling, English grammar and American history.

Friday, March 26—Arithmetic, eighth grade composition and geography.

All eighth grade pupils are eligible to take examinations in all subjects. Seventh grade pupils are eligible to take examinations only in geography and spelling. If papers are sent in from seventh grade pupils on any other subjects, they will not be considered.

County examinations are no longer given. A pupil will be issued a county diploma from the office of the county school superintendent when he or she has secured state high school board certificates in four subjects, provided that none of the four is spelling and that one of the four is either eighth grade composition or English grammar.

The second state high school board examination will begin on May 31.

Brainerd Officer Fined.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 26.—Charged with disorderly conduct and arrested on complaint of Alderman George Hess, Officer Aibert Scott pleaded guilty in municipal court and was fined. Fred C. Cook was fined $35 for permitting minors to frequent a poolroom.

UP AND DOWN THE AISLES

A delegation of Ashland, Wis., residents was here all day yesterday attending the automobile show and picking out the cars for 1915. In the party were Dr. J. M. Dodd, former mayor of the Wisconsin city, and his son, John; Prof. John A. Stoip of Northland college, John Sampson, Joseph Corla, Robert Rundlette and Archibald Reynolds.

* * *

The handsome $7,300 Locomobile on exhibition at the show was sold yesterday by Dr. J. D. Park and it will be delivered to its buyer immediately after the show is over. Dr. Park said this morning that he has also sold two other Locomobiles for early delivery this spring.

* * *

The "Maxwell' supper at the St. Louis hotel last night was the talk of the show this morning.

* * *

After the show tonight L. and E. J. Filiatrault of the Mutual Auto company will entertain at a "Chalmers" supper at the St. Louis that promises to rival Mr. Knudsen's "Maxwell" supper of last night. On Wednesday night the Filiatrault "boys" gave a "Ford" party for their friends.

* * *

G. A. Maxson gave a party for local and range Cadillac men at the St. Louis hotel last night.

* * *

The Duluth-Twin City highway will be the keynote of the address to be delivered this evening by Postmaster McEwen. It is hoped by the auto men that this talk will start a concerted movement in behalf of this highway.

* * *

The "auto jack," an invention of local automobile men, is on exhibition at the show this week. It is a unique device for relieving tires from the weight of automobiles, while the car is stored away for the winter. With these "jacks" a car can be turned completely around in a garage.

* * *

John M. Ford, who is in charge of the Overland exhibit, reported this morning that thirty-one Overland cars have already been sold since the opening of the show last Monday. The coupe, said Mr. Ford, is making a big hit with the women.

* * *

H. H. Gilbert, local agent for the Rauch & Lang electric, announced this morning that a service station will be established at the M. W. Turner garage next week. He said that this station will cater to electric owners and will be prepared to meet any emergency.

* * *

The Kelley Hardware company's exhibit of the Indian motocycle in its display window downtown is receiving favorable comment. An Indian is shown just emerging from his tent and about to jump on his motocycle, while an attractive Indian maid is standing nearby, watching him off on his journey.

All the dealers are getting ready for tomorrow, the last day of the show.

KNUDSEN GIVES MAXWELL PARTY

Auto Agent Entertains Many Friends Following Auto Show.

Nearly 150 friends of H. B. Knudsen attended his "Maxwell" party at the New St. Louis hotel after the close of the automobile show last night.

Following the automobile show, Mr. Knudsen and his friends went in a body to the hotel, where an elaborate supper was waiting the party in the Rose Garden cafe, which was especially decorated for the occasion. Suspended above the table was a miniature Maxwell car, partly hidden by a festoon of leaves and roses.

F. R. Barlow and Robert Evans, factory representatives, who attended, and who have been here since the opening of the show, declared last night that Mr. Knudsen's "Maxwell" banquet exceeded anything of its kind they had ever attended.

A. E. McManus, a local attorney, acted as toastmaster and addresses were made by a number of those present.

The Rose Garden orchestra and Jean Mack, entertainer, played and sang for the guests throughout the supper.

SPRING STYLES FOR THE FIREMEN

Fetching New "Dreams" Similar to Those Worn By Police.

When you hear the siren of fire engine this afternoon, or this evening, as the case may be, and run to get out of the way of the apparatus, you may notice that most of the fire fighters will be hanging onto their caps.

This posture will not be a salute, but is merely assumed for safety's sake, as the department is being supplied with new headgear, and the "fire eaters" don't want to lose their new bonnets.

Until the caps are broken in, and stay on without being held, this right-hand-raised pose will be the vogue. The new caps are to be very similar to those worn by Duluth's policemen, although they will be a trifle lower in the crown, according to Assistant Chief Wilson, who is an authority on styles.

Incidentally, the firemen are entertaining a motion to dispense with uniform caps, and wear ordinary headgear. They object to buying their own caps every little while, and say that they should be furnished them. Police and other city officials in uniform are furnished headgear by the city administration.

THREE-YEAR FIGHT ENDS

Litigation Between Jewelry Firms Settled Finally in Supreme Court.

Hendrickson Company Must Pay $1,643.51 to Superior, Wis., Concern.

After a fight which has dragged in the courts for the last three years and was twice carried into the supreme court, it has been determined that the Henricksen Jewelry company of this city must pay a judgment of $1,643.51 in favor of Klimek Bros., Superior jewelers, because the Duluth firm failed to live up to their agreement to assume all liabilities of the Superior concern when they purchased their business four years ago.

The supreme court today affirmed an order made by Judge Dancer of the district court denying the Henricksen Jewelry company a new trial of the action. The Henricksens appealed to the supreme court from the order of the trial court, but the higher tribunal refused to disturb Judge Dancer's findings.

The lawsuit is one involving a dispute growing out of the purchase of the jewelry business of Anton J. and Frank Klimek, doing business as Klimek Bros., sellers, in which it is claimed that the Henricksen Jewelry company, buyers, failed to live up to their agreement to assume the liabilities of the firm in favor of L. Gutman & Sons of Cincinnati.

The business changed hands during the month of April, 1911. At the time of the transfer of the business to the Henricksens, the Klimeks were indebted to the Gutmans. The Klimeks claimed that on April 30, 1910, after a four-fifths interest of the business had been taken over by the Henricksens, the latter represented that the indebtedness to the Gutmans had been paid. During the fall of 1910, about Nov. 20, the Klimeks disposed of the remaining one-fifth interest to the defendant, M. Henricksen.

At that time Frank Klimek was the owner of a government homestead in North Dakota, which had been previously mortgaged to secure the Gutman indebtedness. The Henricksens, having failed to pay off the Gutman debt, the Cincinnati concern sued and recovered a verdict for the full amount against the Klimeks in the North Dakota courts. The judgment stands as against the North Dakota property owned by Frank Klimek.

The Klimeks then instituted suit against the Henricksens to recover what they were out on the deal. The plaintiffs asked the court to have the original agreement claimed lived up to. The defendants demurred, Judge Dancer overruled the demurrer and was sustained in his position upon an appeal which the Henricksens took to the supreme court.

The case came to trial last October. On Oct. 30, a jury awarded a verdict for the full amount of the indebtedness plus the costs of the North Dakota litigation. Judge Dancer, however, reduced the verdict by $100.20 the cost of the North Dakota litigation. The defendants appealed from his order denying a new trial.

The Klimeks were represented in the litigation by Courtney & Courtney of this city and R. R. Briggs represented the Henricksens.

ARGUMENTS MADE IN LEO FRANK CASE

Supreme Court Asked for His Release on Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Arguments before the supreme court on the right of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, Atlanta, Ga., factory girl, to release from custody on a writ of habeas corpus, were continued today.

The court is considering an appeal from the refusal of the federal district court of Georgia to interfere in the case. Attorneys for Frank are making the appeal on the ground that the trial court which sentenced Frank had lost jurisdiction because of mob violence tolerated during the trial, and the consequent absence of the prisoner from court when the verdict was rendered.

Louis Marshall of New York began the opening argument. His statement that Judge Roan of the trial court "coerced" Frank into being absent when the verdict was rendered, was questioned by Chief Justice White. The attorney insisted, however, that the suggestion by the judge that Frank's life and limb and those of his counsel might be in danger if they attended, amounted to coercion. He argued that the right of the accused to be present, could not be denied.

When the point of mob violence was taken up, Justice Holmes remarked, "I am free to confess that point is one that impresses me very much."

POSTAGE RATE REDUCED.

Letters to British Honduras to Be Carried for 2 Cents.

According to information received by Postmaster William E. McEwen today from Washington, a special ruling will go into effect March 1 on letter postage rates to and from British Honduras. Postage on letters addressed in the United States for delivery in British Honduras will be reduced to 2 cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof. Letters with postage unpaid or with insufficient postage will be sent to their destination subject on delivery to a charge double the amount of the shortage.

This arrangement applies only to British Honduras. Letter rates to other English colonies except the Bahamas and Newfoundland remain as before, 5 cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof.

The Duluth-Edison Electric Co.

The Duluth-Edison Electric Company has established a New Business Department in order to render the best possible electric service to the citizens of this city.

Conditions existing in this city naturally change from time to time and the installation of electricity in new houses often makes a difference in the service requirements for the rest of the neighborhood, necessitating a periodical increase in our distribution system.

In order, as is our desire, to give the best possible electric service to our customers, we must first ascertain their individual requirements and needs.

A representative of this company will, therefore, call upon every tenant and residence in this city in order to list all lights and appliances, whether in use or not.

We ask you to frankly make any inquiries, suggestions or complaints to our representative so he in turn can refer them to the proper departments of this company for prompt attention.

For your protection, our representative will carry an authorized identification card, which he will produce upon request.

You will not be inconvenienced in any way.

We will greatly appreciate any co-operation given.

We desire to give the best possible Electric Service.

OPPOSE PLAN FOR DIVISION

Council Will Urge State Legislature to Vote Down Measure.

Prince to Draft Resolution; No Real Sentiment for Change.

Members of the city commission, believing that there is no public sentiment in favor of the division of St. Louis county as proposed by range solons in the state legislature, will next Monday afternoon pass a resolution opposing the plan and urging the state law-making body to vote against any such proposal.

At a conference held in the office of Mayor Prince this morning, the commissioners present were all of the opinion that the people of the county do not want a division, but that the subject has been brought up by a few range residents. Commissioner Hicken, who went to Minneapolis last night, was the only member of the commission absent.

As a result of the discussion it was decided that Mayor Prince should prepare a resolution to the effect that the city council of Duluth is against any division, as there is no public demand for a change.

In the resolution the commissioners will ask the legislature to oppose any such plan and assuring the state body that the action of the Duluth council is indicative of the sentiment of the people in St. Louis county generally.

Asks Divorce and Child.
Catherine Griffin, 44, started suit in district court today against her husband, Jeremiah Griffin, 45, in which she asks that a decree of divorce be granted her on the grounds of desertion. She also asks the custody of their only child, a son aged 12 years. They were married at Sault Ste Marie, Mich., June 18, 1900, and, according to Mrs. Griffin's story, her husband deserted her July 23, 1911. She has made her living since by working as a seamstress, she says.

Brown Granted Patent.
Patents were issued today at Washington, D. C., to Phillip Gordon Brown, for a robe lock and robe rail, and to Frank Z. Fisher, South Superior, for a bottle closure.

Wants Estate Settled.
Mary Matilda Young, whose death occurred in this city Dec. 27, 1914, left an estate valued at $2,500 according to a petition presented to the probate court yesterday by her husband, Charles Young, in which he asks the court to admit her will. The husband and eight children are legatees.

CANDIDATES MAY BE TAXED

City Attorney Must Decide If Stamps Are Needed.

Candidates May Not Spend More Than $500 on Campaign.

Do petitions nominating candidates for the commission or municipal judgeship have to bear war stamps?

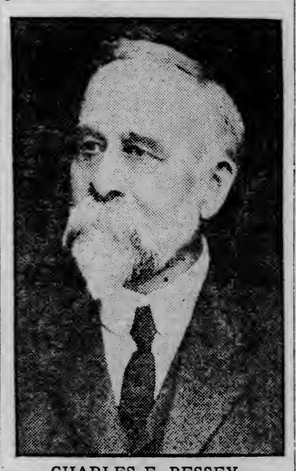

If it is found that nominating petitions must bear a stamp, every voter signing for a candidate will have to pay an additional 10 cents for a stamp. As fifty petitions are needed to nominate a candidate, this means a total of $5, and counting the $5 filing fee, which must be paid this year, it will make it cost $10 to run for office, aside from campaign expenses.

According to the city charter, every candidate for a municipal office must keep a complete account of all money spent either by himself or his friends in behalf of his campaign. The candidates elected must take oath on taking office that their expenses did not exceed $500, the maximum set by the charter. No money can be spent by a candidate for anything except for public meetings and literature, according to the charter.

No candidates filed for nomination this morning, but two having entered their names yesterday, the first day allowed by the charter. Capt. W. H. Smallwood and M. E. Louiselle both filed yesterday for municipal judge against Judge Windom.

PASSENGER RATE INCREASE DELAYED

March 1 Was Date Set, But It Is Put Over to May 29.

Contemplated increases in interstate passenger rates of from 2 cents to 2½ cents, scheduled to take effect on March 1, have been deferred until May 29, according to the announcement received here by local upassenger officials.

There will be a meeting of the interstate commerce commission in Chicago May 17, when further consideration of the proposed increase in interstate passenger rates will be made.

The announcement that no immediate increase will be made in rates means that Duluth commercial travelers and those who travel occasionally for pleasure will be saved a generous increase in rates from this point to Chicago, Milwaukee and all Eastern points.

Mileage books, generally used by commercial travelers, were to have been increased $5 for 2,000 miles. Until decisive action is taken by the interstate commerce commissioners, no increase will be made.

OWNERS OF NOBLE MUST PAY HEAVILY

Commissioner Levies $85,000 and Scores Lost Steamer's Company.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to a decision rendered today by William S. Sayres, Jr., appointed commissioner in the matter by Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, the Capitol Steamship company of Detroit, owners of the steamer Benjamin Noble, which foundered with her crew of eighteen men, near Duluth during the big storm of last April, must pay damages to the amount of $85,000 on the cargo of steel which she carried. A petition to limit the liability, offered yesterday by the owners, was denied by the court, and was opposed by the underwriters who insured the cargo.

The owners of the vessel are roundly scored by the commissioner in his report. The court had already ruled that the Noble was much over-loaded with steel rails.

IMPROVED THE OPPORTUNITY.

Everybody's Magazine: In one of the recent football games between Yale and Harvard, a young giant came out of the scrimmage looking as if he had encountered an unfriendly automobile. Among other superficial injuries his nose was most thoroughly broken.

The doctors stood in readiness to repair the damages, but he absolutely refused their services with: "Say, let that nose alone, and bring me a telegraph blank."

Thus he remained until a reply came in to his wire, when he announced:

"Now you can go ahead, doc, and follow these instructions," handing the surgeon the yellow slip. The message read:

"Have nose set Greek. Do not like Roman. Dorothy."

ONE DAY MORE TO PAY TAXES

Delinquent Collections Will Be Subject to Ten Per Cent Penalty.

Many Taxpayers Are Still to Report, Says County Treasurer.

Taxpayers must pay their personal property taxes tomorrow if they desire to escape the 10-per-cent penalty which is added to delinquent collections. Saturday is the last day allowed by the law for the payment of the current personal property taxes. Real estate taxes, however, may be paid in two installments, the first half before May 31 and the second before Oct. 31. A 10-per-cent penalty is also added to delinquent real estate taxes.

During the last week the collection has been heavy, but, according to Joseph Nelson, deputy county treasurer, the indications are that the delinquent list will be larger this year than last. Most of the large firms have already sent in their checks and it is expected that the remainder will follow suit tomorrow.

Among the large amounts received during the last two days are: First National bank, $30,624.75; Pickands-Mather & Co., $1,254.95; Shenango Furnace company, $2,969.81; George A. Gray & Co., $2,250.49; Island Creek Coal company, $7,752.36; Pittsburgh Coal company, $13,576.14; Consolidated Elevator company, $12,320.24; Scott-Graff Lumber company, $6,045.63; T. F. Cole, $5,664.87; Barnes-Ames company, $5,427.20; Northern National bank, $4,929.97; Zenith Furnace company, $4,163.14; Joseph Sellwood estate, $2,866.88; Great Northern iron ore properties, $2,617.50; Rust-Parker-Martin company, $2,615.84; St. Paul & Western Coal company, $1,710.10; Clarkson Coal & Dock company, $1,595.10; E. B. Hawkins, $1,301.49; T. D. Merrill, $1,009.90.

In Duluth there are 9,288 personal property taxpayers against whom a total of $524,799.26 in personal property taxes has been levied. The taxes is based on a valuation taken in May, 1914, and figured on a rate of 34.9 mills. The tax rate for the current year's collection is lower than it has been in seven years.

The Duluth Street Railway company is the largest personal property taxpayer in the county. Its tax this year is $42,645.85, as compared with $46,178.51 last year. The personal property tax also includes the tax on moneys and credits which is listed separately, but collected at the same time.

SMALLPOX REACHES N. D. LEGISLATURE

One Senator and a Legislative Clerk Have Contracted Disease.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—No more cases of smallpox have broken out here today, and health officials believe a further spread of the disease has been prevented.

State Senator Hoverson and Legislative John Gooden have the disease, but both are recovering rapidly, according to word received from the city detention hospital.

Vaccination Urged.

Health officials today continued their campaign, urging legislators and legislative attaches particularly to resort to vaccination. Steps also have been taken through fumigation to prevent the spread of smallpox germs.

The indications are, say legislative officials, that there will not be further spread of the disease, and they apprehend no difficulty during the few remaining days of session.

Mandan Takes Precautions.

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because John Gooden, clerk of the ways and means committee of the North Dakota senate, who is in a pest house with smallpox, visited here with friends Sunday, City Health Officer O. H. Altnow today ordered all those who came in contact with him vaccinated at once. One boarding house here may be closed. Every precaution is being taken to prevent spread of the disease.

ONE PERSON KILLED IN VENTIMIGLIA RIOTS

Genoa, Feb. 26, via Rome.—One person was killed and many wounded during riots at Ventimiglia, which resulted from a demonstration in favor of the maintenance of neutrality by Italy. A counter demonstration by persons desiring the intervention of Italy in the war led to a serious fight.

Police and carbineers interfered, but were unable to restore order for some time. During the fighting several of the police and a major of the carbineers were injured.

ARE WORTH ALL THEY RECEIVE

Reid Defends Salaries Paid to Officers of Railroad.

Would Not Accept Control of Western Road as Gift.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Daniel G. Reid, head of the group which took control of the Rock Island railway system in 1901, declared today at the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the road's financial affairs, that organization of the two holding companies put no additional burden on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company. Mr. Reid's examination was concluded and his assertion that the holding companies with total capitalization of $350,000,000 had not added to the burden of the operating concern, came during his cross-examination, which was very brief.

During his direct examination, Mr. Reid asserted that conditions had so changed in the railroad world of recent years that he could not now accept as a gift control of any Western or Southwestern railroad.

DANIEL G. REID.

"When you cut the earning powers of railroads by fixing rates, and everything else goes up in the way of taxes, conditions are worse," he said. "I am not complaining of the wages we must pay, but of what we get to pay wages with."

"Let us look at wages at the other end of the line," said Chief Counsel Folk for the commission. He pointed out that officers of the company had received during the period under investigation salaries ranging from $125,000 down to $25,000 a year.

"Do you complain of these high salaries?" he was asked.

Worth All He Got.

"There was not a man there who was not worth what he was getting," said Mr. Reid, adding that men capable of operating an 8,000 mile railway system were entitled to all they could get, "even if it were a million a year."

Mr. Folk pointed out that R. A. Jackson, a retiring director, got a present of $100,000 from the company in addition to a salary of $25,000. Mr. Reid said Jackson had been paid $50,000 a year, not $25,000, and the $100,000 was for "services rendered."

"Why didn't you give him more?" asked Mr. Folk.

"Because he did not ask for it," snapped the witness.

Later Mr. Reid said that what the railroads needed was "more rates, more tariffs and less legislation."

Commissioner Clements interposed with the observation that possibly what was needed was "more legislation to protect the public from security issues devised by lawyers."

SHOULD BE INCLUDED IN TAX INCOME RETURNS

Washington, Feb. 26.—Cash dividends, paid after March 1, 1913, constitute taxable income when received, and should be included in the income tax returns of individuals whose total income is more than $20,000, according to a ruling today by commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn. Stock dividends declared in good faith and not to evade the income tax law, are held not to be subject to the tax.

CO-RESPONDENT WAS ONLY "PLATONIC FRIEND"

MRS. ELIZABETH MEINKEN.

Mrs. Elizabeth Meinken, wife of Harry Meinken, a wealthy New Yorker, has just won a divorce suit, which her husband brought against her. He charged her with misconduct with Harry Hewes, a real estate man, whom she described as a platonic friend. The case was thrown out of court.

AUTO HAULED BY HORSES IN GALICIA

SIX-HORSE AUTO.

This is a six-horse auto belonging to the Austrian army. It was designed to be of 50-horse power; but in the Galician country roads are so bad that the wheels of an auto cannot drive it; and it has been necessary in this case to attack six strong horses to the car to pull it through the mud.

DEATH CLAIMS DULUTHIAN WHO WALKED FROM NEW YORK

Funeral services for Arvid Sepola, aged 29, who gained a reputation eight years ago as a pedestrian, and a vegetarian, when he walked from Duluth to New York City in thirty-seven days, on a wager, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Crawford's undertaking rooms. Sepola, on his long hike, lived on vegetables. He died yesterday afternoon after a long illness.

Sepola leaves a mother and sister, both living at 2312 Water street, which was his home. He was well known in Duluth, having many friends here. He was an active member of the Y. M. C. A., and one of the leaders of the Happy Weston Walking club of Duluth. He also was a member of the Eagles and the Machinists' union.

ALMONT, N. D., HAS DAMAGING FIRE

Four Buildings Destroyed and Others Have Very Close Call.

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The business district of Almont narrowly escaped complete destruction by fire early this morning, in a blaze that destroyed four buildings, damaged half a dozen others and caused a total loss of nearly $50,000. The fire started in Timmerman's general store which was purchased last week by C. B. Collins, formerly of Minneapolis, and spread rapidly to Ben Bird's pool hall, Frank Todt's barber shop and Oliver Deppin's pool hall. Bird managed to save most of his equipment. The other buildings and contents were destroyed. The insurance is small. The Farmers' State bank, Sherwood hotel and Hurley's residence caught fire but were saved by a bucket brigade. The cause of the fire is unknown.

BECKER'S APPLICATION FOR NEW TRIAL DENIED

New York, Feb. 26.—Charles Becker's application for a new trial on the indictment charging him with the murder of Herman Rosenthal was denied today by the supreme court.

ELLENDALE HOTEL KEEPER ACCUSED

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. H. Mann, proprietor of a hotel at Ellendale, N. D., is under arrest here charged with embezzlement. He was formerly located at Hebron, N. D., and engaged in real estate business. He is alleged to have sold a farm belonging to Mrs. John Zwecker, and is alleged to have made a false statement to her on the sale price; being also charged with retaining a large part of the money. Mann is a son of State Railroad Commissioner W. H. Mann and prominent in the state. His hearing is set for Saturday.

WINS HONOR IN NAVY.

F. L. McClure of Duluth Is Among Expert Riflemen.

Among the first applications for the new navy qualification of expert team riflemen is the name of F. L. McClure, Duluth, who is chief gunner's mate on the S. S. Louisiana, according to Peter Coyle, navel recruiting officer at the Federal building. Mr. McClure has several brothers living here, and one of his brothers was in the recruiting office here for a time.

The application of Mr. McClure is based upon membership on a team in a match won from the Danish army at Copenhagen, May 31, 1911, on membership on a team in a match won from the Royal Swedish navy at Stockholm, June 9, 1911, and on membership on the Louisiana ship's team winning first place in a fleet match at Guantanamo in March, 1912. The department has allowed these credits, and if men have qualified under former regulations and also under the present firing regulations as expert riflemen they will be awarded the expert team rifleman's medal.

NOTHING HEARD YET FROM GEN. CARRANZA

Washington, Feb. 26.—No reply had been received today from Gen. Carranza to the representations the United States has made against Gen. Obregon's decree issued in Mexico City, levying a heavy tax on foreigners and their properties. Protests have been made to the state department by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador and Senor Riano, Spanish ambassador.

The Carranza agency here today received the foreign advices from Laredo:

"Gen. Pablo Gonzales after receiving strong reinforcements today began an attack on Monterey."

Count Declines to Talk.

New York, Feb. 26.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States, declined through his secretary today to make any statement or give any interview upon any subject, including the story told by Richard P. Stegler, a German naval reservist under arrest in this city, charged with fraudulently securing an American passport.

SOME LONELY ISLANDS.

Stray Stories: Though scientific progress has made it possible to do a double journey between England and America in a fortnight, there remain many islands with which it takes years to communicate.

Off the Scottish coast are the groups of islands known as the Hebrides, Orkneys and Shetlands. Of these the most isolated island is St. Kilda, some three miles long and two miles broad. The inhabitants lead lives of great loneliness, for it takes a month to get to the next island, and the sea often makes any communication with St. Kilda impossible for months.

The group of eight Phoenix islands in the Pacific has a total population of only 158, while another little bit of the British empire is Fanning island. This is a landing-place for the Pacific submarine cable, and usually there are about 100 people in the place.

The loneliest of all parts of British territory is the island of Tristan Da Cunha, in the South Atlantic, which is also the smallest inhabited island in the empire. It is 1,800 miles from land, has a population of seventy-four Scottish-Americans, and the inhabitants get news of the outer world usually once every two years.

BELGIAN COUNTESS AIDS LACE MAKERS' CAUSE

COUNTESS DE HEMPTINNE.

Countess Marie de Hemptinne has come over from Belgium to interest philanthropic Americans in the condition of the lace workers of her country. Lace-making is one of the standard industries of Belgium. The activities of the workers have been interrupted because of the war, and the market for Belgian laces has been interrupted as well. The countess will try to obtain orders for Belgian laces from rich Americans.

OLD CUSTOMS IN HOLY LAND

Bridge Between Moslem Power in Asia Minor and Moslem Power in Egypt—Sacred to Believers of Three World Religions.

The latest land to have been brought within the rapidly expanded war area is that thin strip between the eastern coast of the Mediterranean sea, the Holy Land, sacred to the believers of three world religions, to Christians, Jews and Moslems, and ground wherein were cradled ideals which have made almost all civilization tributary. It is a bridge between the Moslem power in Asia minor and the Moslem power in Egypt, and so assumes strategic importance in the war of the nations. Yet the Holy Land is a land embalmed in the spirit and customs of 3,000 years ago, according to a description of village life there as prepared by John D. Whiting for the National Geographic society:

Customs Unchanged.

"Manners and customs which prevailed in Palestine in Biblical days are still unchanged. While the townspeople are losing their ancient customs and quaint costumes, the villagers are, in these things, as they were 3,000 years ago. Three distinct classes inhabit the land: the Bedouin, a nomadic, war-loving race; the Fellaheen, agriculturists, shepherds and village dwellers, and the Madanlyeh, who live in the towns and cities and are artisans.

"The present day villages are located, as a rule, either on the tops of hills, originally for protection, or near some spring or source of water. Many are built upon the foundations of buildings whose origin dates back thousands of years. There does not exist a single example of a peasant village that has been founded in modern times.

Crooked and Narrow Streets.

"Village streets are crooked, narrow and unpaved. The farmers' houses are crowded close together for protection. These houses consist of one large room, usually square. About two-thirds of the space within is devoted to a raised masonry platform, some 8 to 10 feet above the ground, and this is the kitchen, storeroom, bedroom and living room of the family. Below this platform, the cattle and flocks are housed, goats and sheep, a few work cattle, and perhaps a donkey or camel.

"Each village has a guest chamber, which is the social center for all the village men who love companionship and are great gossips. Each day, by turn, one of the villagers furnishes the coffee beans and sugar to be served to the men who gather at the guest chamber. He, also, supplies the food and bedding if some ordinary guests come along.

"They are, of course, great respecters of persons; so that if a common man happens in, a couple of fried eggs with bread and olives will do for him. If a more important personage arrives, a pair of roast chickens is provided for his supper; but if a still more honored one or a company of men appear, a lamb or kid is killed. The village guest chamber is a club of the village men.

Boys Preferred.

"Children in the peasant families are always welcomed. The father prides himself on his boys. Even the mother prefers them, and when questioned as to the number of her offspring, she will say she has five children and two girls or whatever the numbers may be. This is the more strange since the would-be husband must pay his father-in-law a handsome price for the girl, while boys are a heavy expense, and their wives and weddings are costly affairs.

"Women are looked upon as something inferior. The woman may never call her husband by his first name, but 'Oh father of Ahmed,' or whatever the eldest son's name may be. The wife likewise takes the name of her first-born son. The husband will never say 'my wife' or mention her first name, but will say either 'the mother of Ahmed' or 'my family,' 'the relative in my house,' 'the forbidden,' or 'the daughter of my uncle.' The reason for this last title is that the village man in the Holy Land marries his first cousin in preference to any one else, and in fact she cannot marry another if he wants her.

Infants Are Oiled.

"When the fellah or peasant child is born, its tender skin, without being washed, is rubbed with olive oil and salt. For seven consecutive days it is re-oiled, and when a week old gets its first bath and is again oiled. In some localities they consider it unsafe to bathe the baby before it is forty days old. Mortality among the babies is great and it is not to be wondered at, for in view of the rough treatment they receive, it becomes a question of the survival of the fittest.

"The ways of these village folk, their methods of agriculture, of administration of household and community, and of sanitation are primitive reminiscences of the days before the coming of Christ. The refuse of their villages are piled in great heaps around it, and there left to fester. Their plowing is a bare scratching of the ground with wooden plows, while they thresh their grain by flailing and treading, and mill it in stone mortars.

"The marriage customs of these people are interesting. Young men marry at about 20 and girls between 12 and 16. The son, on coming of marriageable age, picks his wife by choice of sight—no courtship is allowed—when his father arranges all further details. The girl has no voice in the matter. The price of a bride depends on her age, beauty, usefulness and family connections. It ranges, in our money, from $100 to $400."

CURIOUS FANCIES AS TO NUMBER NINE.

There are some curious facts and fancies connected with numbers. The number 9 is, perhaps, the first as regards such experiments, although number 7 is more prominent in literature and history. When you once use it you can't get rid of it, remarks London Tit-Bits. It will turn up again, no matter what you do to put it "down and out."

All through the multiplication table the product of 9 comes to 9. No matter what you multiply with or how many times you repeat or change the figures, the result is always the same.

For instance, twice 9 equals 18; add 8 and 1 and you have 9. Three times 9 equals 27; 2 and 7 make 9 again. Go on until you try eleven times 9—99. This seems to bring an exception. But add the digits—9 and 9 makes 18; and again, 1 and 8 make 9. Go on to an indeterminable extent and the thing continues. Take any number at random. For example, 450 times equals 4,050, and the digits, added, make 9 once more. Take 6,000 times 9, equals 54,000, and again you have 5 and 4.

Take any row of figures, reverse the order, and subtract the less from the greater—the total will certain be always 9 or a multiple of 9. For example, take 5,071—1,705 plus 3,366. Add these digits and you have 18, and 1 and 8 make the familiar 9.

You have the same result, no matter how you raise the numbers by squares and cubes.

One more way is given by which number 9 shows its strange powers. Write down any number you please, add its digits, and then subtract the sum of said digits from the original number. No matter what numbers you start with, the sum of the digits in the answer will be 9.

Try these experiments and you will be delighted with the exact manner in which they prove the statement. Some quaint puzzles have been made based on these fixed principles.

LEGAL NOTICES.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— THE SHAWMUT COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That we, the undersigned, have voluntarily associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 58 of the General Statutes of Minnesota, of the year 1913, and acts amendatory thereof, and do hereby agree upon, adopt and sign the following articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

(a) The name of this corporation shall be "The Shawmut Company."

(b) The corporation's principal place of transacting business and its general office shall be in Duluth, Minnesota.

(c) The purposes of the corporation and the general nature of the business to be carried on shall be to buy, hold, sell, exchange, mortgage, lease and deal in all kinds of real and personal property, including stocks and bonds of other corporations; to explore and examine lands for iron and other minerals, metals and stone, and to conduct exploring, mining and quarrying operations in the State of Minnesota and elsewhere, and to improve all kinds of property, real or personal or both, and to do all things incident to the business herein mentioned, including the right to borrow or loan money, and to give or accept security for the same.

ARTICLE II.

The period of duration of this corporation shall be thirty years from and after the twentieth day of February, 1915.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators are as follows: W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; E. M. Dunbar, Duluth, Minnesota; T. T. Hudson, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The management of the business and affairs of the corporation shall be vested in a Board of five Directors, who shall be elected by the stockholders from among their members at the annual meeting of the corporation to be held in its general office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the first Tuesday in December in each year, between such hours as may be fixed by the By-Laws of said corporation, and shall hold their offices for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Until the first annual meeting of stockholders, the Board of Directors shall be Louis Rouchleau, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Joseph Chapman, Minneapolis, Minnesota; W. A. Durst, Minneapolis, Minnesota; W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; Russell Tyson, Chicago, Illinois.

The officers of the corporation and of the Board of Directors shall be President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as may be provided for in the By-Laws; which officers, after the first, shall be elected by the Board of Directors.

The first officers of the corporation and of the Board of Directors shall be: Louis Rouchleau, President; W. M. Prindle, Vice President and Treasurer; Joseph Chapman, Secretary.

The term of the several officers shall terminate at the election of his or their successors. The Board of Directors shall have power to fill vacancies in its membership and in its officers.

The first Board of Directors shall adopt By-Laws, which shall remain effective until and as amended by the stockholders at any regular meeting or special meeting called therefor. The Board of Directors shall have full power and authority to transact any business within the power of the corporation and to delegate such power and authority as it may deem expedient to any agent or officers of the corporation.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000) divided into Twenty-five Hundred ($500) shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100) dollars each. Such stock shall be paid for at such time or times as may be determined by the Board of Directors, and shall be issued only when the same has been fully paid.

The Board of Directors may issue stock in exchange for property or services, or for stock of other corporations, and the judgment of the Board of Directors as to the full value of such property, or services, or stock, shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive.

ARTICLE VI.

The amount of indebtedness or liability to which the corporation shall at any time be subject is One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and seals this second day of February, 1915.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— MINNESOTA ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY.

The undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under and by virtue of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota and of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for 1905 as amended, have associated themselves together and have subscribed and acknowledged the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "MINNESOTA ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY."

The general nature of its business shall be the generation of electricity by means of steam or water power for public use, and the distribution of the same within the State of Minnesota for light, heat and power purposes, all of the foregoing to be done for public use for reasonable compensation; and for such purposes the corporation may acquire by purchase, lease or condemnation, and may construct and maintain all necessary dams, reservoirs, canals, pipe lines, power houses, substations, transmission lines, cables and conduits, and any and all other works or appliances necessary or convenient for carrying on the business of the corporation as above defined. The corporation may acquire by purchase, lease or condemnation all other property, rights and franchises necessary or convenient in carrying on its general business as aforesaid, which is hereby declared to be the manufacture of electricity, and the distribution and sale of the electricity manufactured by it.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be at Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.

The time for the commencement of this corporation shall be February 27, 1915, and the period of its continuance shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the incorporators of this corporation are as follows:

A. C. Gillette, J. A. Sinclair, A. McC. Washburn, C. A. Carlson, C. F. Liscomb, B. R. Heney and Oscar Mitchell, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of this corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of five (5) directors, and the following officers to be elected by the board of directors, to-wit: A president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The president and vice-president shall be directors of the corporation. The secretary and treasurer may, but need not, be directors of the corporation. Any two offices in the corporation may be held by the same person, except the offices of president and vice-president.

The board of directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the corporation, and shall have full power to transact the business, manage the affairs of the corporation, and to define the duties of the other officers and agents of the corporation.

The annual meeting shall be held at the corporation's office in Duluth, Minnesota, on the third Tuesday in January of each year, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

The names and addresses of the persons composing the board of directors and officers of the corporation until the first election, and until their successors are elected and qualified, shall be as follows:

A. C. Gillette, J. A. Sinclair, A. McC. Washburn, C. A. Carlson, C. F. Liscomb, B. R. Heney and Oscar Mitchell, all residing at Duluth, Minnesota, shall constitute the first Board of Directors; and until their successors are elected and qualified, the following persons shall constitute the officers of the corporation:

A. C. Gillette, President.
A. McC. Washburn, Vice-President.
B. R. Heney, Secretary and Treasurer.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000.00), divided into fifteen thousand (15,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each, and shall be divided into the following classes:

One Million Dollars ($1,000,000.00) in amount divided into ten thousand (10,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each shall be common stock, and Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000.00) in amount divided into five thousand (5,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each shall be preferred stock.

The preferred stock shall be entitled out of the net earnings of the corporation to a semi-annual preferential dividend at the rate of seven per cent. (7%) per annum and no more, payable on the first days of January and July in each year, to be cumulative, and to be paid or set apart before any dividend shall be paid or set apart on the common stock. Provided that, after the payment of a semi-annual dividend upon the preferred stock at the rate of seven per cent. (7%) per annum, the corporation may forthwith, without waiting for the expiration of the year, pay a dividend at such rate as may be determined upon the common stock. In case of liquidation or dissolution, the preferred stock shall be paid in full at par before any payment is made upon the common stock, and the remaining proceeds in liquidation shall be distributed among the holders of the common stock alone.

The holders of common stock shall be entitled to full voting power, one vote for each share of stock.

The holders of preferred stock shall have no voting power.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be paid in as called for by the Board of Directors, either in cash or in property or services, at a valuation to be fixed by the Board of Directors, whose determination for that purpose shall be final.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000.00).

GRAIN MARKETS SUFFER ANOTHER HEAVY BREAK

Wheat Prices Slump Severely With Big Selling on Dardanelles News.

Duluth Operators Work Considerable Export Trade in Day on Slump.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 26.—The market was strong around the close, with liberal inquiry from exporters and traders. May wheat closed 4¼c off and July 3⅝c off. May durum closed 3¼c off and July 3¼c off.

Oats closed 7c off at 52⅛c for on track; rye, 6c off at $1.13@1.14; barley unchanged at from 67@76c, and corn 1c off at 65⅜c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1c off at 65⅛c bid, and July ½c off at 65½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.35½ and calls at $1.44¾.

Another nerve-racking session developed in the wheat market again today. On the reported success of the allied fleet in demolishing the outer forts of the Dardanelles, a wave of selling was precipitated at the opening, and quotations ran off 6⅝c locally and 7⅛c at Chicago before the slump was stayed. Buying attributed to exporters then appeared; the market became steady, and a substantial rally was brought about around the closing hour.

The working of further export trade was reported by Duluth houses, all for shipment at the opening of navigation. The amount sold during the morning was placed at 250,000. Special strength was shown in cash wheat locally, the premium on it over May being maintained at 1½c. A sale of 100,000 bu No. 1 northern for export was advised, however, at 2½c over Duluth May. It was intimated that with supplies of free No. 1 northern wheat in the elevators here rapidly becoming a negligible quantity, exporters were inquiring for No. 2 northern this morning.

Export trade was also reported to have been worked at Winnipeg, Chicago and the seaboard. The Southwestern markets showed special weakness early today. Cash wheat at Kansas City and Omaha sold off 9c at each point. Liverpool was affected by the Dardanelles news and expected heavy shipments from Argentina, but the spot market there was firm, being quoted unchanged to 1d up.

Clearances were again liberal today, amounting to 1,455,000 bu of wheat and flour. Bradstreet's placed world's clearances for the week at 7,300,000 bu of wheat and flour.

May wheat opened 4⅝c off at $1.45; sold off to $1.43, and then recovered to $1.44¾, where it stood at the noon hour. July opened 2⅞c off at $1.42, and broke 2½c more. May durum opened 3¼c off at $1.50 and rallied ½c.

Flaxseed Also Weak.

Flaxseed turned weak in sympathy with the wheat markets, and on the appearance of some scattering liquidation. The amount of business put through was light in the aggregate.

May flax opened 7¼c off at $1.85 and closed 1c off at $1.84⅞ bid. July opened 1¼c off at $1.87, and closed 1¾c off at $1.85½.

September opened ¼c off at $1.86, and closed ¼c off at $1.85 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ¾c off at $1.65¼ asked and July ¾c off at $1.67¼ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

All-rail shipments from Duluth elevators for export and to mills today aggregated 75,600 bu. They include 33,750 bu durum shipped out from Consolidated Elevator B.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Weakness in America yesterday was offset here by firmness in Beunos Aires and unfavorable weather in Argentina, with spot markets steady. Cargoes were freely offered with winter at 6d decline and Plate about unchanged. Freer shipments from Argentina and the progress made by the allies in connection with the Dardanelles, served to cause free offers, but the demand everywhere appears quiet. Corn was neglected. Plate offers were firm and shipments lighter. These offset weaker American cables.

At Buenos Aires, wheat closed strong with a net advance of 1c for the day. Corn and oats were firm with good business. Wheat on passage was easy, 4½d lower.

Minneapolis cash market held relatively firm, with good demand for the top grades, but lower grades still dragged. One northern blue stem sold at 44@45c over May, and velvet chaff at May price to 1c over May. There were scattered hour sales for domestic account, with some export business pending. Cash one northern wheat sold there at from $1.50½@1.54¾, and No. 2 northern at from $136¼@1.42¼.

The Paine Commission company had the following from Logan & Bryan at Chicago: "Corn has declined over 11c per bushel, due to the fact that there has been an over-abundance of supplies with not even a normal demand. The situation now is that even after the break, the demand is no better than it was when the market was 11c higher. With the Dardanelles news, the foreign shipping situation and Argentine competition, which is soon to come, I think that still lower prices are inevitable."

Foreign crop summary:

South Africa—The outlook for corn is excellent and a very large yield is expected. Broomhall's agent estimates there will be at least 2,000,000 bu available for export.

France—Weather is again unsettled, with the cold less severe. The general conditions of seeding are favorable and seeding for winter has recommenced with government assistance.

Argentina—Weather continues unfavorable with heavy rain in parts and floods damaging in the south. Freights remain unchanged at 75 shillings. Wheat shipments were 3,512,000 bu, against 2,136,000 bu last year; corn 1,879,000 bu, against 715,000 bu; oats 1,680,000 bu, against 260,000 bu. CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Drops Rapidly on Opening on Rumors From Dardanelles.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Wheat dropped 7½c a bushel in half an hour today under excited selling due to reports that the outer defenses to the Dardanelles had been broken. The break in prices was in the fact of announcement that a foreign government had cabled to Chicago asking for an offer on 15,000,000 bushels, chiefly No. 2 hard winter, to be shipped within forty days. The request was from a country that would be directly benefited by the opening of the Dardanelles. The opening here which was 2¼@5⅛c under last night was followed by rallies of a cent or more but then came fresh breaks with subsequent reactions of lessened vigor.

Assertions that some spot cash wheat was being sold to the seaboard had a steadying effect after May wheat had dropped 7⅝c to $1.46. The best succeeding rally was just at the close.

Corn and oats today were fully as weak as corn.

Although provisions at first showed something of an upward tendency the break in cereals quickly led to a reversal of sentiment. This was the case in regard to pork.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.46@1.51; No. 2 hard, $1.47@1.52.

Oats—No. 3 white, 54@55c; No. 4 white, 53½@54c. Rye, No. 3, $1.15; barley, 69@80c; timothy, $5.00@6.50. Clover, $10.50@14.00.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Rise and Fall on Varying Conditions in Foreign Situation.

Early Price Level Not Fully Maintained—Closing Is Firm.

New York, Feb. 26.—Gains were the rule in today's early stock market, with a fair degree of activity. The rise was most noticeable in the special group where advances of a point or more were registered. Metal shares also were prominent, the success of the Anaconda Copper note offering acting as a stimulant to those issues. United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel reflected a moderate demand. Baldwin Locomotive preferred, with a 1-point decline to 99, was the only stock to record a minimum price in the early dealings. Prices for Americans in London were mixed, but gave no hint of further war developments.

Much of the early advance on today's stock market was attributed to covering by the short interest, that element, according to popular belief, having overplayed its position. Reports that the British admiralty had ordered a suspension of sailings from principal English ports were scouted in shipping circles, but accounted for the pause which followed the initial rise. Prices shaded generally, and by noon most issues were only a trifle over yesterday's close, with heaviness in New York Central and Canadian Pacific. Another gold importation from Canada was attended by some steadiness in exchange on London, but German remittances were lower than before. Bonds were firm.

Prices offered less resistance in the early afternoon, specialties showing greater weakness. The stock and bonds of the Rock Island system made low records.

Prices rose and fell in today's stock market, largely as a result of varying conditions in the foreign situation.

Heavy buying in the later session almost restored the early price level, but the recovery was not fully maintained. The closing was firm.

BILL FOR STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION IS BACK TO SENATE FOR ACTION

Lobeck Bill Reported By the Committee Without Recommendation.

Bill for Party Elimination Conventions Is Opposed at Hearing.

Spooner and Bendixen Have Clash Over Latter's Railroad Bill.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It never rains but it pours. With county option just out of the way, and even before it became a law, state-wide prohibition makes its appearance before the legislature and will have to be reckoned with.

However, it is not regarded now as a serious issue. The prohibition bill by Senator E. E. Lobeck of Alexandria, which the senate committee on temperance and temperance legislation voted yesterday afternoon to report back to the senate without recommendation, involves no vote of the people but proposes a law forbidding the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within the state. There are a number in both houses, including some who voted against county option, who would vote for submitting a constitutional amendment providing for prohibition, but most of these will probably balk at a proposal to impose prohibition without a vote of the people. Still, there will be votes for it in both houses, more votes than the handful of Prohibitionists can muster, and it is an issue that must be met and disposed of now that it is out of the committee.

Senator Lobeck, author of the bill, who was the Prohibition candidate for governor in 1912, wanted to have the committee report the bill favorably, but his motion to that effect was opposed by one from Senator Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet that the measure be sent out without recommendation. The Vibert motion prevailed, five to three. Senators Lobeck, P. A. Gandrud of Kirkhaven and J. L. Vermilya voted for a favorable report. Those voting for the motion that prevailed were Senators Fred D. Vibert, Theodore Blomgren, John W. Pauly, Peter Van Hoven and Albert L. Ward.

Following action of this measure, the committee voted to recommend for indefinite postponement the bill by Senator John W. Andrews, prohibiting the use of screens in saloons.

TIGHTENING UP PROHIBITION LAW

Only Half Gallon Can Be Carried Into West Virginia By Person.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 27.—Amendments to the Yost prohibition law, which became operative today, are expected to further decrease the consumption of intoxicating liquors in the state. Under the law, as it now stands, no more than half a gallon of liquor can be brought into the state by one person, unless the quantity and quality are marked in large black letters on the package and alcoholic beverages shall not be kept in any bowling alley, poolroom, boathouse, public building, park, road or alley.

SUES DARNELL FOR SEPARATION

Ruth Soper Asks Court for Independent Maintenance.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Suit for separate maintenance was filed here by Ruth Soper Darnell against the Rev. James Morrison Darnell, who is in the county jail under charges of having violated the Mann act by transporting the woman who is now suing him, from Minnesota to Chicago and thence to Kenosha, Wis., where he was the pastor of a church.

The complainant in the present proceedings was regarded as the wife of Darnell while they lived in Kenosha, and their child bears the name of James Morrison Darnell, Jr. Recently Darnell obtained a marriage license to wed Miss Ruth Soper. The license was issued in Crown Point, Ind. No return has been made on it.

The petition for separate maintenance recited that Ruth Soper and James M. Darnell were married in Hammond, Ind., in 1913, and that he has property valued at $40,000 and is amply able to support the complainant and her child. The court granted an injunction restraining Darnell from mortgaging or conveying real estate which he owns.

EAT MORE POTATOES ADVICE OF EXPERTS.

Washington, Feb. 27.—"If wheat remains at its present high figure or continues to rise in price, and if there is a corresponding increase in the price of bread, scientists in the department of agriculture suggested that the ordinary household will find it advantageous to eat more potatoes and less bread," said a statement issued today at the department. "With potatoes at 60 cents a bushel, 10 cents worth—or ten pounds—will give the consumer a little more actual nourishment than two one-pound loaves of bread at 5 cents each. If prices change sufficiently to make it desirable from a financial point of view, there is no scientific reason why potatoes should not be substituted to a great extent for bread."

GLOVES HAVE ODD PATTERN

Hunt for Murderer of Aurora, Ill., Girl Centers Around Them.

Twenty Men Under Arrest Will Be Inspected By Woman.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 27.—The hunt for the tall man in a long overcoat who Thursday night crushed in Miss Emma Peterson's skull with a piece of water pipe, centered today about the woolen gloves found near the scene of the crime and supposed to have been worn by the murderer.

It was learned that the gloves were bought about two weeks ago at the store of Fodolsky & Cohen, 10 North Broadway. The store is within two blocks of a squalid section of the city known as "Little Hungary." The gloves are of blue yarn with pink stripes across the fingers. The pattern is declared unusual and only the one store in Aurora carried it.

Will Inspect Suspects.

Another line of the investigation will come late today when upward of twenty suspects answering in a general way the description of the man seen leaving Miss Peterson after she had been struck to earth will be paraded before Mrs. Eliza Calkins. She lives across the street from where the girl was attacked and saw "a tall man with a long overcoat" stooping over Miss Peterson. Mrs. Calkins was called to her window by a piercing scream, she says.

Nothing of importance is seen in the arrest in Chicago yesterday of Frank Ramsey of Dixon, who said he was held as a suspect in the Miller murder here last winter. Ramsey was never held in the Miller case, the police say.

Following Clews.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Two Chicago detectives were in Aurora today examining the piece of pipe with which Miss Emma Peterson was brutally slain on Thursday night, to learn how it compared with a strip of pipe found in the room occupied by Frank Ramsey, who was arrested as a suspect here last night.

Ramsey, whose home is in Dixon, Ill., had in his possession, when arrested, a newspaper clipping telling how he had written the chief of police at Aurora last fall offering to furnish him with a clew to the identity of the man who murdered Miss Jennie Miller, the second woman clubbed to death there within the last twelve months.

AMERICAN FLAGS PAINTED ON SHIPS

Passenger Steamers Leaving New York for War Zone Have Them.

New York, Feb. 27.—Five passenger liners bound for ports in the war zone set by Germany around the British isles were included in today's sailings from this port. Hundreds of passengers were aboard.

The Lusitania, now the largest as well as the fastest passenger ship traveling the Atlantic, had many cabin passengers booked for Liverpool. The American liner St. Paul for Liverpool, the Holland-American steamer Rotterdam for Rotterdam, the Touraine for Havre, and the Kristianiafjord for Bergen were the other sailings.

American flags and the words "American line" in letters four feet high were painted on both sides of the St. Paul's hull. Two American flags were painted on her bows. The Rotterdam was marked for identification by lettering on her hull giving her name and destination.

CONVENTION TO PROMOTE PEACE CAUSE

National Conference to Adopt Plan Opened in Chicago.

Peace Advocates From All Parts of United States Are Present.

Under Auspices of Emergency Federation of Peace Forces.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—A national peace conference was opened here today for the purpose of adopting a plan by which the sympathy, influence and aid of the American people may be tendered nations involved in the European war and the cause of early peace promoted.

The conference, which was attended by peace advocates from all parts of the nation, was held under the auspices of the Emergency Federation of Peace forces. Miss Jane Addams of Chicago was the chairman. The conference will close tonight.

Edwin D. Mead, director of the World's Peace foundation, of Boston, in an address said that in the present European crisis the neutral nations had been silent too long.

"Their representatives should meet in conference upon the common welfare, and our own government should take the lead," Mr. Mead said. "We should take a strong part in the cre-

WRECKAGE FROM A GERMAN SUBMARINE

Indications That U-9 Has Met With Accident in North Sea.

Christiania, Feb. 27. — Wreckage picked up near Christiansand appears to indicate a disaster to the German submarine U-9.

The German submarine U-9 has played an important part in the naval activities of the war. It sank the British cruisers Hogue, Aboukir and Cressy in the North sea Sept. 23, and eluded pursuit. On Oct. 25, it sank the British cruiser Hawk.

A Dutch steam trawler reported Nov. 1 that it had met the U-9 in a disabled condition off Haaks lightship near Helder on the north coast of Holland. Its trouble had been caused by becoming entangled with fishing nets. There have been no reports regarding the U-9 since that date.

NO EXTRA SESSION FOR THE SENATE

President Said to Have About Made Up Mind on Matter.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Wilson has practically decided not to call a special session of the senate to consider the Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties. At the White House today it was said that while the question still was under consideration there were little prospects of a special session being called.

The opposition of some Republican senators makes it improbable that any action on the treaties can be taken during the present session. The president expects, however, that at least some of his nominees for the Federal trade commission will be confirmed before March 4. Any not confirmed are expected to get recess appointments.

SUBMARINE SEEN OFF THE COAST OF SPAIN.

Bilbao, Spain, Feb. 27, via Paris.—The lighthouse keeper at Portugalete, one of the harbors of Bilbao, has advised the maritime authorities that he sighted to the north of his lighthouse a submarine navigating on the surface of the water. The boat carried no flag, nor was there any other indication of its nationality.

RUSS CHECK ADVANCE OF AUSTRIANS

Recapture Stanislau and Kolomea After Most Desperate Fighting.

Believe German Plan for Attack on Warsaw Frustrated.

Thought That the Teuton Forces Will Now Push Forward in Center.

London, Feb. 27.—The Austrian advance in Eastern Galicia has been checked and the Russians, driving back their opponents have recaptured Stanislau and Kolomea, says the Evening News in a telegram from Hertza, Roumania. Heavy fighting preceded the recapture of these two towns. The Russians occupied Stanislau yesterday. Advancing in force from that point they attacked the Austrian position at Kolomea. The Austrians offered determined resistance, but, the Evening News says, finally were forced to give way.

Germans Thrust Back.

Petrograd, Feb. 27, via London.—The German infantry forces are being thrust back across the River Nieman in Northern Poland, and the Russian general staff believes that another German plan of attack upon Warsaw has been countered successfully.

Relationship is divined between the stubborn effort of the Germans to cut railroad communication to the north of Warsaw and the coincident resumption of pronounced activity near Borjimow, on the Central Poland front, west of Warsaw. To quote the opinion of a staff officer, as deduced from these operations by the Germans at widely separated centers: "Evidently the Germans intend to push forward again in the center. For this purpose they need reinforcements of troops on the Borjimow front. In the Kovno district, activity is diminishing. Hence it is evident that the Germans are again using their perfect railway sys-

IS ONE VAST GRAVEYARD

British Eye-Witness Tells of Country Southeast of Ypres.

Ground Furrowed With Remains of Old Trenches and Graves.

London, Feb. 27.—"All the ground on the front line is plowed up with shells and furrowed with the remains of old trenches and graves. The whole place is a vast cemetery, in which our trenches and those of the enemy wind in every direction."

This statement is made by the British official eye witness at the front in a description given out here of the recent battles southeast of Ypres and of the country in which the armies are fighting.

"In a sheltered spot," he continues, "there is a little graveyard where some of our own dead have been buried. Their graves have been carefully marked and a rough square of bricks has been placed around them. In front of the trenches German bodies still lie thick.

Fell Dead With His Men.

"At one point of the brick fields recently some thirty men tried to rush our line. At their head was a young German officer who came on gallantly, waving his sword. He almost reached the barbed wire and then fell dead, and he lies there yet, with his sword in his hand and all his thirty men about him.

"It is the same all along the front in this quarter. Everywhere still gray figures can be seen lying, sometimes several rows together and sometimes singly or in twos or threes.

"This description might serve, with a few minor alterations, for many of the localities along our front, where the fighting has centered around some wood, a village or line of trenches."

To the north of Ypres-Comines canal, the "eye witness" says, there are many woods, and these have become a tangle of fallen trees interspersed with shell craters.

To add to the hardships of such fighting, the troops have been attacking on ground in which the men sink up to their knees in mud.

"Despite all these drawbacks," the observer continues, "counter-attacks have been carried out with such resolution that, in nearly all cases, the original line has been regained."

Increases Suspended.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The interstate commerce commission today suspended until June 29 proposed increases in rates by Central and Western railroads on glucose and corn syrup in carloads from Chicago and other central points to Eastern seaboard and interior Eastern points.

DEFENSES AT ENTRANCE DESTROYED

Allied Fleet Follows Mine Sweepers Into the Straits.

Grim Determination to Open Waterway at This Time.

Huge Supply of Gr Black Sea Will E Released.

Paris, Feb. 27. — The Athens correspondent of the Matin has forwarded the following: "After the complete destruction of the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles, the allied fleet penetrated the straits and shelled the interior forts. It proceeded down the Dardanelles fourteen miles from the entrance.

Fleet Hammers Away.

London, Feb. 27.—A fleet of British and French warships continues to hammer away today at the door of the Dardanelles, the straits which close Russia's rich granary; and the very real necessity of releasing the huge supply of wheat on the shores of the Black Sea causes the general belief that the present attack on the Dardanelles forts is a serious undertaking, and not merely a demonstration.

Official announcements declare that after the reduction of the four outer Dardanelles forts mine sweepers went to work within the straits under the protection of guns of the fleet, while unofficial dispatches from Athens and Rome assert that at least one French warship actually has penetrated the passage.

Germany remains silent regarding her share in the military operations, both in the east and in the west, while Austria-Hungary declares that Austrian and German forces are holding their own in the Carpathians and in Eastern Galicia.

Petrograd, less reticent, announces a repulse of German attacks in North Poland, with heavy losses. As a result of the desperate fighting of the past

FRICTION OVER WAR CONTINUES IN ITALY

Extremists Make Violent Attack on Government in Chamber of Deputies.

Rome, Feb. 27.—Vehement attacks upon the government were made in the chamber of deputies yesterday by the extremists because of instructions given prefects to prohibit meetings even when they are described as private, if there is reason to believe they would result in disorders. The order was designed to prevent clashes between those who favor Italy's intervention in the war and those who advocate strict neutrality. A tumult arose when the extremists declared the prohibition of such meetings was a suppression of liberty and in violation of law.

Premier Salandra replied to the criticisms of the government. He declared the instructions to the prefects were designed to protect liberty, which was threatened by violence, raise the dignity of the country, which had been injured by dissensions, and cement a moral unity which would tend to triumph. As the extremists shouted that it was a plan to prevent Italy's intervention in the war, the premier declared amidst applause:

"I do not know whether our nation is destined to march to war, but if this shall be the case, we must all unanimously obey the orders of the fatherland and the king."

A KNOCKOUT WE WILL ALL BE GLAD TO WITNESS.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The efforts of the German and Austrian armies to crumple both ends of the long Russian front are reported to have been checked.

In Eastern Galicia the Russians are reported to have recaptured Stanislau.

On the western front there has been no change. German aeroplanes made a raid on positions of the allies near Nieuport and a French aeronaut dropped bombs on Metz.

Another British merchantman is reported to have been torpedoed by a submarine in the English channel. A French warship has gone to its assistance.

A Paris dispatch says that the French press is unanimous in its opposition to the informal proposals of the United States to Great Britain and Germany concerning the admission of food supplies to belligerent nations for the civil population, and the cessation of submarine attacks on merchantmen. Great Britain's allies also are said to have advised her that they favor the policy of cutting off supplies from Germany.

Clashes between the factions favoring and opposing war continue to create disturbances in Italy and the plan of the government to suppress public meetings for the discussion of this question led to a turbulent scene in parliament yesterday.

Warships of the Anglo-French fleet are reported to have penetrated the Dardanelles after silencing the outer forts, and the removal of mines is under way, preparatory to an attempt at a further advance toward Constantinople.

The great battle in Poland is still to be decided, although latest reports indicate that the German rush from East Prussia has been checked. The Russian statement that the Germans have been defeated in the region of Przasnysz and the German announcement of the capture of the city leave in doubt the situation on that part of the front, where the battle at present is being waged most fiercely.

PERMANENT ICE TRACK

Weekly Auto Races By Professionals Planned for Next Year.

Races on the Lake Will Begin at 2 P. M. Sunday.

Duluth as a mecca for professional automobile drivers during the winter season, with weekly races on a permanent 4-mile track on the ice, may be one of the features of outdoor winter sport life at the Head of the Lakes soon, according to E. J. Filiatrault.

"If the people, by their attendance at tomorrow's races on the lake, show their approval of this kind of sport," he declared, "we are going to establish a new form of winter sport in Duluth—one that should outshine all the others and make the Head of the Lakes an automobile center during the winter season."

Spurred on by assurances from Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson that the day would be bright and clear, and the ice free from water, local motor men have practically completed arrangements for a gala day on the ice tomorrow. The program will begin at 2 p. m. sharp.

Amateur automobile drivers will vie for honors in seven events, while motor sled and tri-car drivers will contest in three events. This program may be added to, judging from the enthusiasm being shown, so that motor enthusiasts are assured of an afternoon of the best kind of sport.

"If the people of Duluth and Superior show that they want this kind of sport," declared Mr. Filiatrault, "there is no reason in the world why we cannot attract some of the best drivers in the country to the Head of the Lakes each winter.

"We already are considering plans for a 4-mile track, to be laid out on St. Louis bay and extending from the boat club grand stand towards the Superior shore. If races we are giving in connection with our first auto show are successful, we probably will go ahead with plans for this ice track, which will be the only one of its kind in the world."

Course on Lake.

The four-mile course on the lake, extending from Fifth avenue east to Twenty-third or Twenty-fourth avenue east, has been marked out with small black flags and is ready for the contestants. The shore line will be protected by a rope fence, 100 yards from the track, stretching for three-fourths of a mile along the shore side.

In order to insure the safety of spectators, no one on foot will be permitted inside the 100-yard zone, say officials, although persons driving cars will be allowed to occupy the center of the track. They have suggested that spectators equip themselves with field glasses, so that they can see the entire race.

In the heavy, or 60-horse power, car class there will be three races—four, eight and twenty miles. In the middle class, for medium cars, there will be a four and eight-mile race, while the lighter cars will race over the four and eight-mile distances.

In the large class, National, Olds, Locomobile and Lozier cars already have been entered. In the medium class, the Buick, Maxwell, Dodge and a Ford will vie for honors, while the third class will be confined to standard equipped Fords. The Harley Davidson and Henderson motor sled and tri-car will contest in the motorcycle events.

Harry Webster, driver of the aeroplane which was to race with a car during the events staged Monday on the ice, is making every effort to get his machine in shape, and will race with the winner of the heavy car race, if he can make an appearance. The auto-aeroplane race will be eight miles, if staged.

Officials of the auto show, in announcing plans for the program of races, state that adequate police protection has been assured and that the course will be guarded carefully.

MONEY FOR NORTHERN MINN. FARMERS.

Much of it is in St. Louis and Carlton counties, adjacent to Duluth. The settlement and development of these lands will greatly aid the growth and development of Duluth.

For rapid development of their farms settlers must have financial assistance. From whom shall this aid come? Why not from the people of Duluth, who have made their money in Northern Minnesota, who will be directly benefited by its development?

How can this be extended?

The Bankers' Mortgage Loan company of Duluth is loaning money to these settlers on first mortgages. These mortgages are on a most conservative basis. The properties are carefully inspected by its own representatives. The titles and all other particulars necessary in such matters are given most careful attention.

The mortgages bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent, payable semi-annually and are as strictly first-class investments as can be had anywhere. Interest will be collected and paid through our office free of charge.

We have on hand at all times an assortment of these mortgages, ranging from $300 to $5,000 each. We offer these mortgages for sale to Duluth people and invite you to call and inspect our goods.

BIG GRIST FOR THE GRAND JURY

Attorney Forbes Will Have Charge of Inquisitorial Body.

Between twenty and twenty-five cases will be brought to the attention of the March grand jury, which will convene Wednesday at the opening of the new term of court. Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, will have charge of the cases to be taken before the grand jury at this term of court. The grist contains the usual number of larcenies, forgeries and assault cases.

The following have been summoned for grand jury service:

W. H. Cole, 2204 East First street; J. S. Graves, 2439 East Third street; Donald Gordon, 324 South Sixteenth avenue east; S. B. Gerard, 4013 West Eighth street; P. H. MINNESOTA SUNSETS HELPED DULUTH MODISTE WIN $1,000

The beautiful Minnesota sunsets are said to have been the inspiration of Madame Winnifred Burns when she wove the various colors into the four handsome gowns, which won their designer the $1,000 Gossard trophy as an award for the first winner in the contest for the best American gown at the Chicago fashion show.

The trophy was awarded to Mme. Burns at the closing banquet given at the Auditorium hotel, Chicago, at the spring opening of the Fashion Art League of America.

It was awarded for the four gowns entered by Mme. Burns in the prize contest, "The Zenith," an evening gown, and the "Belgium," "Katherine" and "Mayflower," afternoon gowns. Two Chicago modistes won the first and second honorable mention, Mme. Marguerite the former and Mme. C. H. Phair the latter.

Mme. Burns declares that while the European designers must have a cathedral or some ancient work of art for their inspiration, the American designer can find ample material in the beauties of nature, such as are common in Duluth and the Northwest. Europe turns to the old; America, to the new.

Coloring and Line.

The Chicago Herald quotes Mme. Burns as follows:

"I think the coloring and lines of my gowns won the prize. Line and coloring mean art to me. They were made very simply and without much trimming. I am sure America is going to attain prominence in styles. There is inspiration in American sunsets and in our cities if we only look for it.

"Paul Poiret thinks a cathedral or ruined castle is necessary for an inspired gown. It is not so. Europe gets its inspiration out of the old; America finds it in the new."

The most notable gown of the Burns display was the "Zenith," named after the "Zenith City," a glowing American beauty glace taffeta made with panniers of silk, over a two-flounced petticoat, embroidered with net shading into American beauty. The bodice was completely of the net with a high waistline finished with a band of purple velvet caught with small red flowers. The gown had no sleeves, but was accompanied by a wrist band of purple streamers.

The "Belgium" suit was of faille d'armour with a circular skirt and short coat, while the "Katherine" had a short, loose box coat and circular skirt of corn-colored broadcloth with pockets in the skirt.

THE PRIZE GOWN.

The "Mayflower," was of Calliot striped silk with a skirt trimmed with graduated bands of black velvet with a close-fitting bodice cut in one piece tied in the back with a double butterfly bow lined with brilliant yellow.

INCOMPETENCY OF INVESTIGATORS

Chairman Gary Says Many Are Not Fit to Act as Such.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—Declaring that investigators often are not only incompetent, but are prejudiced, and as a result wilfully reverse many pertinent and material facts, E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation last night spoke on "indiscriminate criticism," at the alumni banquet of the University of Pittsburg. Earlier the university had conferred on him the degree of doctor of science in connection with its one hundred and twenty-eighth anniversary exercises. Mr. Gary said in part:

"The ordinary reader of the daily press seldom overlooks or neglects to read unfavorable criticisms. And so there is a class of men who, for selfish reasons, take advantage of that peculiar trait of human nature to discover, in one way or another, something that may be prejudicial to a cause, a community or a nation in order to have it published or in some way spread broadcast for the delectation of those who may be entertained by reading it.

"These efforts sometimes take the form of individual work, investigations by committees or commissions created by legislatures or congress, or, in exceptional cases, even by judicial branches of government, such as grand juries, with heir inquisitorial power. Oftentimes, the investigators are not only utterly incompetent, but they are prejudiced and wilfully reverse many pertinent and material phases.

"No one is exempt from these criticisms. They extend from the lowest individual even to the nation. This is without question an epoch of indiscriminate criticism. Much is justified; probably more is without warrant. In the last decade there has been more abuse, more slander, more personal atack, and more demagoguery and as a consequence more injury to the general public than ever before.

"No complaint of criticism, agitation or investigation can reasonably be made, provided the facts call for it. Circumstances seem to show that we are approaching the time when the investigator will be investigated, when the criticiser will be criticised; when committees will be brought before other similar bodies for judgment."

In conclusion Mr. Gary said there were many editorial writers who were discussing the important questions of the day impartially and declared that the general attitude of the great newspapers of today is "fair and just."

Feel Blue—or Just Stupid?

Sluggish bowels and torpid liver usually go together, and it does not take long for constipation to produce a bad condition—a feeling of langor or laziness—the "blues," headaches, palpitation or other malady. Indeed, when in this condition the system invites more serious illness and is not able to throw off disease. Foley Cathartic Tablets are a wholesome laxative and cleansing cathartic. They act without inconvenience, griping or sickening. Sold everywhere.

SUBMIT TWO AMENDMENTS

Charter Commissioners Bow to Request of Woodland Neighborhood Club.

First Provided for One Change—Three Proposals Ignored.

Two charter amendments, one raising the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500, and the other reducing the limit for the payment of special assessments in annual installments, will be submitted to the voters of Duluth at the spring election on April 6, when two commissioners and a municipal judge are to be selected.

Last night the charter commission met at the city hall and after going over the report made Thursday evening by the special committee, voted to recommend the above two amendments. The commission then adjourned and in all probability will not meet again until shortly before the next regular municipal election.

When the commission met for the first time two weeks ago, it had five amendments to consider, proposed either by the council, local civic organizations or private individuals.

Last Wednesday T. T. Hudson, chairman of the charter commission, announced that only one amendment, that raising the purchase limit, would be recommended. As a result the Woodland Neighborhood club raised an objection and insisted that the one reducing the cash assessment limit also be submitted at the spring election. When the commission met Thursday evening, a large delegation appeared from the Woodland club and formally asked that the charter body recommend the two amendments.

With the action taken last night, the charter commission will now send the two amendments to the city council and these will be read at the meeting Monday afternoon, when they will probably be approved and ordered placed on the ballot.

NORTH DAKOTA LEGISLATURE

Bill for Temperance Commissioner Is Killed By Senate.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 27.—The senate yesterday afternoon indefinitely postponed the temperance commissioner bill, voting it down by 23 to 22. On the adoption of the clincher motion the strength of the "antis" increased, the vote being 26 to 21. It will now require a two-thirds vote to revive the measure.

The house appropriations committee reported on all bills except those providing $60,000 for immigration and the appropriation for the Jamestown asylum for insane.

Opposition to the immigration bill has developed in the house and indications are it will be fought on the floor of that body when reported. This governed the committee's action in failing to report.

As for the asylum bill, the request of one committee member for opportunity to examine the plans proposed for the administration building, listed at $75,000, held up action.

Woman's suffrage probably has gone by the boards, so far as this legislature is concerned, the suffrage supporters being confronted by the house rules which require a two-thirds vote before the measure can be considered in that body. In the senate, supporters of suffrage lost a vote when Senator Hoverson was sent to the detention hospital with smallpox.

Admits Robbery.

Bessemer, Mich., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Lutkus, a Russian Pole, 21 years of age, when brought to circuit court this week, pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery preferred against him by Howel Kosalka. Judge S. S. Cooper will pronounce the sentence today.

LENIENCY NOT APPRECIATED

Roy B. Bain Forfeits Parole By Again Passing Bad Checks.

Court Had Suspended Sentence on First Charge on Good Promises.

Because he fell back into old ways after having been given an opportunity to escape the stigma of a prison sentence by right living, Roy B. Bain must suffer the consequences of his act and serve his time.

Judge Cant, in district court this afternoon, ordered Bain's parole revoked and the young man committed to the Minnesota state reformatory under a sentence imposed last October, when he appeared before the court and pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted forgery in the second degree.

Bain was indicted by the September grand jury. He was charged with having forged the name of his mother, Elizabeth Bain, to a check for $31 drawn on a local bank and to have passed it on L. K. Daugherty on June 16, 1914. He pleaded guilty before Judge Cant on Oct. 7, last, and was sentenced to St. Cloud.

Bain's mother interceded in his behalf and Judge Cant on Oct. 24 made an order suspending the sentence and putting the young man on parole until March 3, 1915.

It has come to the attention of the county attorney's office that Bain has passed two more bad checks since he was put on parole, so Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, applied to the court to have the parole revoked. A bench warrant was issued and the young man was arrested yesterday in Virginia.

He will be taken to the state reformatory within the next few days.

LONG STRIP OF CITY IN DARKNESS

Burning of Electric Cable Stops Hockey Game for Half Hour.

The east end of Duluth, from about Third street down to the lake was in darkness for about half an hour last night, and the hockey game at the curling rink was suspended for about that length of time, owing to the sudden extinguishing of the electric lights in that part of the city, due to a burning out of a wire under the Lake avenue viaduct.

C. E. Van Bergen of the Duluth-Edison company, said this morning that it was one of those things that do not happen more than once in a dozen years. The wires come up out of the ground from the conduits right under the viaduct, and it was at this point that the burning out of a cable occurred. It was in such a place that at the hour it happened, the defect was exceedingly hard to find, and it took about half an hour to make the repairs necessary.

Street railway service was not interrupted as that has no connection with the Duluth-Edison company's cables, but in the strip of city mentioned the current was cut off all the way to Lester Park.

At the curling rink the second half of the game was about to begin. When the lights went out, the players loafed as best they could, and the spectators, instead of trying to get out, waited patiently for the "glims" en masse.

Bury Ironwood Miner.

Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Thomas Korchich was held this morning from Holy Trinity Catholic church and was conducted by Rev. Father Spritzer. Mr. Korchich was of Croatian nationality 32 years old, and was employed as a miner. Death was caused by pulmonary tuberculosis. He is survived by his wife. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

NOT AN ARSENAL BUT A STORE

This information was brought to us by a breathless individual—probably of one of the allied nations—who, after he had calmed down somewhat, further startled us with the announcement that the man in charge appeared to be a German.

A large storeroom, so it appeared, on Superior street, mind you; lower side, between Lake and First avenue east, was crammed full of implements of warfare.

Investigation followed immediately, our informant leading us along the upper side of East Superior street until opposite W. S. Kirk's Army and Navy Goods Store at No. 26. No amount of urging would bring him closer, so we, being thus far, went over. Mr. Hurst, the manager, who, by the way, may be English, said he would "bite" when we told him of the above incident. Well, anyway, referring back to a remark of our "informant," you wouldn't believe it, the things they have in that place—guns, swords, knives, bayonets, cannon shells and other military weapons were only a few of the things we saw. Because, as Mr. Hurst said, the United States is a neutral nation, so consequently the demand for firearms is limited. All these guns, and in fact everything in the store—for store it is—has been purchased from the U. S. government by Mr. W. S. Kirk, who is the owner of this and four other stores just like it.

Mr. Kirk has been in this business for thirty years buying goods from our government and reselling them. It's interesting to know that all the goods in this store have been inspected by a government inspector. A shoe was shown us that had been sawed through the center in the course of inspection—and a well built shoe it was. Blankets, cloth, socks, uniforms, coats, etc., all receive inspection by government officials before they are accepted. We were told that some concerns, endeavoring to build up a business along the line of Mr. Kirk, will buy goods rejected by the government. Of course, goods rejected are faulty in the respect that they are not up to standard. The W. S. Kirk company refuses to even bid on such goods.

Mr. Kirk, so we are informed, takes a particular pride in the merchandise he handles, claiming that goods that are not good enough to pass U. S. inspection are not good enough for his stores. This probably accounts for his wonderful success.

We were shown things made for the U. S. army or navy that we thought could only be found in the National Museum. Here is a gun that was made by J. H. Hall at Harper's Ferry in the year 1838. It is a breech-loading flint lock rifle. The percussion lock was adopted just four years later.

We were shown a Colt's revolver that probably did more towards making the name "Colt's" stand for good firearms than any other gun they ever made before or since.

This was during the Civil war; the Remington Arms company was away behind on orders for revolvers using a center fire shell, and Col. Samuel Colt put out his revolver with a contrivance for loading powder and shot into the chamber. Although this revolver used caps and required a longer time to load than the Remington, it became a favorite weapon among many of the Northern soldiers.

There are relics of all kinds and descriptions. Here we find a general's sword, with his name engraved on it; a Cuban bolo, heavy as an axe and dull as a hoe; a Filippino knife, ground down to a keen edge—this weapon we couldn't help but think had a history.

One thing that struck us very forcibly was the low prices on U. S. wearing apparel. For instance, some heavy, long blue military overcoats, wool lined, were priced at $5.00. These coats cost the government $20 apiece, but owing to lessons learned from the European war, grass green uniforms are now being adopted, this color being harder to see than navy blue. So you see it costs the government money to keep in style.

KOCH GOES TO STATE "PEN"

Fake Paralytic Sent Up on Indeterminate Plan for Swindling.

Christian F. Koch, "fake" paralytic, who has defrauded railroad corporations out of $10,000 in personal injury settlements during the last three years and who was convicted by a district court jury in this county Feb. 19 on a charge of having swindled the claim department of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company out of $1,000 last December, was sentenced today by Judge Fesler to the Minnesota state penitentiary.

Koch was found guilty of grand larceny in the first degree and under the law must serve from one to ten years in prison as punishment for the crime. He was sentenced under the indeterminate plan and his release will depend upon the pardon or parole board of the state's prison.

Koch's game was to "fake" an injury to his back and pretend that he had become afflicted with paralysis. Under assumed names he secured different sums of money out of various railroad companies during the past two years. He was detected after his Duluth swindle and he was caught in Nevada a short time later. He was extradited and brought here for trial.

Koch fell while alighting from a train at Two Harbors, Oct. 5, 1914. He was taken to the Budd hospital there and treated for seven or eight weeks for paralysis, submitting to tests for anesthesia such as being pricked with pins suddenly and having hot and cold water applied to his body. Claim agents settled with him for $1,000 in Duluth on Dec. 7, 1914. The same day he discarded his crutches and took a train out of Superior.

GERMAN REPORT ON FRENCH LOSSES IN WAR

Berlin, Feb. 27, by wireless to Sayville.—The Hamburger Nachrichten has published what purports to be an authentic list of French losses in the first six months of the war.

The paper says this list was compiled by the French ministry of war and that it was not intended for publication as yet. It gives the number of dead at 250,000 and the wounded 700,000, of whom 400,000 are described as slightly hurt. In addition 200,000 men have been reported missing.

CLUB WILL OPPOSE COUNTY DIVISION

Two Members Will Go to St. Paul to Carry on Fight.

The West Duluth Commercial club went on record last night as being opposed to any attempt to divide St. Louis county and voted to take active steps to oppose the county division bill now pending before the Minnesota state legislature. A committee, consisting of W. B. Getchell, H. H. Phelps and David Sang was appointed to represent the club at a noon meeting of the Duluth Commercial club today, at which the subject was to be discussed.

The club also voted to send at least two of its members to St. Paul to oppose the bill. These delegates will be appointed by President W. A. Pond on Monday or Tuesday. They will accompany a like delegation from various other civic organizations of the county when the bill will be taken up for consideration on Wednesday.

The consensus of opinion of members was that if the county was divided the expense of maintaining two sets of officials would more than double the rate of taxation. At present it was claimed that 3.45 mills was paid in taxes toward county expense, and it was claimed that in the northern half of the county the rate would probably amount to 9 mills, while in the southern half it would be about 8 mills.

The club also appointed L. A. Barnes as representative at the annual banquet to be given by the West End Commercial club next Friday evening.

Following the business session, a smoker was held. The entertaining committee of the club provided lunch and cigars for the members. Cards were also played.

WEST DULUTH TO HAVE NEW CHURCH

St. Stephen's Will Construct Modern Edifice to Cost $10,000.

West Duluth will have another new church this spring. The congregation of the St. Stephen's German-English Lutheran church, Sixty-seventh avenue west and Raleigh street, will build a handsome new edifice at the corner of Fifty-eighth avenue and Nicollet street. The new church will cost $10,000.

The building will be modern in every way. It will have a full basement, which will be used as clubrooms for the various church societies as well as for Sunday school purposes. The church will be built of stone and brick.

It is expected to start building as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The congregation purchased this property about five years ago, and shortly afterwards built a handsome parsonage on the rear end of the lots. This is now occupied by the pastor, Rev. Walter Sievers.

WIFE APPEALS TO THE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Stegler Asks That Her Husband Be Set Free.

Washington, Feb. 27. — President Wilson today received a letter from Mrs. Richard P. Stegler, wife of the German reservist arrested in New York on a charge of fraudulently obtaining an American passport, declaring that Stegler had been led into the project by Capt. Boy-ed, German naval attache here. Mrs. Stegler asked that her husband be set free.

Her letter was referred to the department of justice, which is in charge of the investigation into the case.

Mrs. Stegler wrote the president that her husband had been promised $150 a month for her support by Capt. Boy-ed while abroad and that she would be given $150 a month for life if he was killed. She declared she had no money now and did not know how she could support herself unless her husband were released.

"When the secret service men came to see my husband," wrote Mrs. Stegler, "he told them the truth, because he wanted everything to be known. He could have burned the passport and saved himself from being accused of forgery, but he came right out and told everything."

FRANK CASE IN HANDS OF COURT

Arguments Concluded Before High Tribunal on Habeas Corpus Appeal.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Arguments on the Georgia Federal court's decision refusing a writ of habeas corpus to Leo M. Frank, under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan the Atlanta factory girl, were concluded yesterday before the United States supreme court. A decision will probably not be given for several weeks. Should the supreme court affirm the decision of the Georgia Federal court, nothing would stand in the way of the state carrying out the death sentence. If the ruling is reversed, according to counsel for both sides, the case must go back to the district court for the taking of evidence on which the allegations in the petition for the writ were based.

Louis Marshall of New York, on behalf of Frank, told the supreme court that the trial court lost judisdiction over the prisoner because of mob violence during the trial and because of Frank's absence when the verdict was announced through "coercion" by the trial judge. Both sides agreed that the truth of these allegations was a question to be determined by the lower court if the supreme court held that, as a matter of law, assuming the allegations were true, Frank was entitled to the writ. Notwithstanding this, both sides at times argued the truth of the allegations, until at last Chief Justice White suggested to State Solicitor Dorsey that he was wasting his time.

GREAT LINER WAS USED AS COLLIER

Aquitania, Repaired After Collision, Is Again Ready for Service.

Liverpool, Feb. 27.—Fully repaired and with steam up, the Cunarder Aquitania is lying at the Gladstone docks here, ready for the sea, probably in the merchant service.

At the outbreak of the war the admiralty took over the Aquitania with the idea of using her for a transport and when the impossibility of taking her into any of the continental ports where troops were being landed was realized, it was determined to transform her into a collier.

This indignity to the big ship has never been forgiven by the people of Liverpool, who never fail to relate with much heat, how the rich fittings were ripped out of the vessel. The work was done with axes and the deck was littered with scraps of the beautiful panels and costly copies of famous paintings which made the ship the last word in the art of decorating trans-Atlantic liners.

Hardly had the Aquitania begun her prosaic task of supplying the British navy with coal, when she ran down a much smaller liner, which, by what seemed a miracle, stayed afloat, but which afforded enough resistance to smash and curl back the bow of the Cunarder for a distance of fifty feet.

Repairs have been under way ever since and the ship is now ready for service.

MANY WOLVES IN THE SUBURBS

Shell Lake Settler Has Exciting Encounter With One of Them.

That wolves are plentiful around West Duluth and in the country district adjacent is told by settlers who visit this end of the city occasionally. Guy Nettleton was in the city this morning and told about having received "the scare of his life" in an encounter with one on Thursday evening.

Nettleton said he was returning to his cabin near Shell Lake when he ran across the wolf. He said he had been swinging jauntily along the road not paying much attention to anything and had just rolled a cigaret and lighted it when he heard a growl. He was then only about 100 feet from the road leading to his cabin. Looking in the direction of the place from where the growl came he saw a large gray timber wolf standing up close to the fence not more than forty feet from him.

Nettleton said he did not lose any time. Throwing his lighted cigarette in the direction of the beast and giving a yell he sprinted for his cabin.

"The gleam of those eyes and glistening teeth was enough for me and I wasn't going to take any chances," said Mr. Nettleton. "When I got to the cabin I got my rifle, but the beast had disappeared. I had heard the settlers speak a lot about wolves near the place and have occasionally heard howls of the animals, but that is the first time I actually ran across one."

Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd just returned from Lake county and said that the wolves are playing havoc with the deer. Skeletons of the deer, he said, are to be found in many places, the bones of the animals being picked clean by the wolves.

Hicken Will Speak.

Commissioner W. A. Hicken will be the principal speaker at a social to be given by Morning Star lodge, No. 17, I. O. G. T., at Victor's hall, 5528 Grand avenue, on Tuesday evening. The lodge at its meeting last Tuesday evening indorsed Commissioners Hicken and Murchison for re-election.

The program will also include a number of musical selections, readings and short talks by members. Among those who will take part in the program are: P. P. Borgstrom, who will give a short talk; Anton Hogland, violin solo; Miss Lillian Johnson, piano solo; John Ottis, cornet solo, and Gust Hedman, reading. A short playlet will also be given by three members of the lodge.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE AT LOGGERHEADS.

Husband and wife are at loggerheads in a contested divorce action which was started in district court today between Susanna Opland, 55, and Julius E. Opland, 54. Mrs. Opland asks for a decree on the grounds of cruelty, claiming that she has been subjected to a course of ill treatment for the last eight years. During the winter, she claims, he came home drunk and abused her. Once, she says, he drove her out of the house in freezing weather.

In his answer, Opland tells another story. He claims that he and his wife were married in Norway in 1882 and that he came to this country in 1887. At that time his wife refused to accompany him. He made two trips to Norway to try to get her to come across he says, and sent her money on different occasions.

While on a return trip to Norway, he claims, he bought and improved a farm, which he asserts, she squandered in 1908 before she joined him in this country. He claims that he has worked hard to satisfy her whims and to build a home for her, but that she is desirous of getting rid of him.

WILLIAM SLOAN DEAD.

Well Known Young Duluthian Succumbs After Short Illness.

William Sloan, aged 25, a well known young Duluthian, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Temple Sloan, 6 Wellington street, this morning, after a short illness.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Crawford's undertaking rooms, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery. Rev. J. A. McGaughey will officiate.

Mr. Sloan is survived by his father, mother and two brothers, all of Duluth.

Brother of Missing Man Thinks Shock of Daughter's Death Caused Dementia

Adam Dovadopski, 159 West Second street, has asked the assistance of the police to find his brother, Peter Dovadopski, who left his home on Feb. 20. The latter is said to have gone away that night following the reading of a letter from his wife in Poland, informing him of the death of his daughter.

His brother is of the opinion that Peter, while temporarily insane, committed suicide. The missing man is described as being 37 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighing about 170. When he left home he was wearing a black suit and overcoat.

PARTNERS IN LIFE; PARTNERS IN DEATH.

John O'Neil, age 96, died at 8 o'clock last evening, just four hours following the death of his wife. Mrs. O'Neil was 86 years old and had been ill but a short time. Heart failure, prompted, it is believed, by the shock of the death of his wife was the cause of the death of Mr. O'Neil. They had been making their home with their daughter, Mrs. Belle Ryan, 1317 Hammond avenue.

Recallers Capture a Trench.

The recallers of Superior won their first round of legal battle in the district court before Judge Risjold of Ashland. The judge issued an order allowing the names of men on the recall petition to be made parties to the injunction suit along with the city, city clerk, mayor and other officers. He also announced that on Monday he would hear arguments for the dissolving of the injunction which so far has prevented the city clerk from certifying to the petition for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel.

UNEMPLOYED NOT PRESSED

City Defers Collection of Water and Light Bills.

Meters Will Not Be Shut Off at Homes of Idle Men.

Dozens of men, who have been without work during the winter, are being allowed an extension of time in which to pay their water and light bills, and the regular rule of shutting off water is not being followed out in their cases.

Both Commissioners Merritt and Manager Reed of the water and light department denied the report that water was being shut off in homes, where the head of the family has been without work throughout the winter and is unable to pay his bills. They claim that dozens of men are being carried along and that whenever the circumstances warrant such action, the meters are never turned off.

"We try to take care of all these men who are out of work, or in straitened circumstances," said Commissioner Merritt this morning. "There is nothing to such a report, and we never plan to shut water off in a home where a man is without work and unable to pay the bill. In many instances I have paid these bills myself and shall always be willing to help those unable to meet obligations piling up against them."

A report has been in circulation during the last few days that the meters in homes of the poor were being shut off and that families are deprived of gas and water, because they do not pay their bills. The only meters shut off, Commissioner Merritt explained, are those where the heads of families do not care about paying the bills or where they show an inclination to beat the department out of the money.

"Wherever a man comes to us and wants help, he will get it," the commissioner concluded.

ACCUSES HIS WIFE.

Theodore Swanson Files Cross Bill for Divorce on Serious Grounds.

Charging his wife with criminal intimacy with a roomer at their home, as well as with other men, Theodore Swanson, 49, today filed an answer to the divorce case which Olivia Swanson, 44, his wife has begun against him in district court in which she accused him of cruelty. Both are seeking a divorce.

Swanson claims that his wife committed adultery with Earl Stafford, 22, on Jan. 9 last at their residence, 414 Fifth avenue east, and that she also had wrongful intercourse with Oscar Swanson on July 4, 1908. He accuses her of being a woman of low character.

Mrs. Swanson, in her complaint, charges that her husband, has attempted to beat her on several occasions and that he was only prevented by the interference of her children.

Mrs. Swanson has one son, Edward, aged 22, by a former marriage, whom Swanson charges is responsible for the family breach. The Swansons have four children ranging in age from 16 to 9 years. They were married in Superior Aug. 17, 1895.

PUPILS READY FOR "GRIND"

Almost Four Months of Steady Work Ahead; Senior Essays.

Buttermakers Have Big Output; Lambs' Club Plans Activity.

This week marks the close of the first month of the second semester at the Central high school. Examinations in most of the subjects held the interests of the students. Next week the marks will go in, the reports will be issued and the cards given out. The school is now well settled after the opening of the second semester and the pupils are fitting themselves to the four-months "grind," which concludes with the close of school before the summer vacation. With the exception of the one week Easter vacation this period will be unbroken with rests. The Easter vacation includes the week before Easter Sunday, that day coming on April 4. The short holiday will, therefore, overlap the latter part of March and the early part of April.

Along with several other important subjects the seniors are beginning to think of their annual "senior essays." These are prepared by the fourth-year English classes each year and are the cause of considerable excitement and interest. Mr. Alexander, the head of Central's English department, has set the date for the time limit of the essays as May 14, about one month before the close of school. The most creditable papers are generally read at the commencement exercises in June. There are several in the class who are capable of preparing an excellent piece of work and unusually good ones will undoubtedly be in the hands of the English instructors when the time limit is up. An exceptionally wide range of subjects are available for the seniors to select from. The war and its divisions will, of course, come in for a large share of the number. The essays will as usual cover an extensive range of subjects and points both unimaginable and amusing will be discussed.

At the semi-annual election of officers of the Delphian society Tuesday, Frederica Tuteur was chosen president; Dorothy Bates, vice president; Theresa Miller, secretary, and Gladys Anderson, treasurer. Evelyn Ahlen and Sarah Weinberg were selected as a committee to take charge of future programs of the club. The officers elected last week will serve in those capacities throughout the second semester. The members of the club are planning on an exceptionally active semester of work and they expect that much will be accomplished.

In order that the girls of the Duluth high schools may be assisted in the selection of a college which they may attend when they have completed their high school course, the local chapter of the Collegiate Alumnae association has arranged for a series of lectures on colleges and college education. The talks will be open to the junior and senior girls of the Central and Denfeld high schools. The first set of lectures was given last week. At the Central high school, Mrs. L. Kling spoke on the "Value and Possibility of a College Education for Girls," and Mrs. Hunner lectured on "The University of Wisconsin." At the Denfeld school, Miss Goering talked on "Columbia University," and Mrs. Dinsmore on "The University of Minnesota." According to Mrs. Oscar Thayer, chairman of the association lecture committee, the talks will be given during March and April. Members of the association will deliver the addresses.

The "Forum" was decided upon as the best name for the new freshman literary society, at a meeting of members held Tuesday. A talk by Mr. Rasey and a short debate featured the program.

Fully 2,162 pounds of butter has been churned by the members of the school of butter making class, the report having been completed up to yesterday. The exact amount is kept in tabulated form and announced from time to time. Each week the students appear especially desirous of breaking the record, and as a result the total mark climbs higher and higher very rapidly. When the churn was first installed it was doubted if 1,000 pounds could be turned out during the entire year. Thus far, with the second semester just beginning, that mark has been more than doubled. It is expected that at least 4,000 pounds will be registered before the year is up. Quantity, however, is the least noticeable characteristic of the butter. It is said by experts to be as good as can be bought in the city.

In the agricultural greenhouse the mass of tangled tomato vines is dotted with large and luscous-looking specimens of ripe tomatoes. This has greatly pleased the students for they see their efforts crowned with success.

The regular Wednesday drill of the cadet corps recruits was held in the Armory on the appointed day. The ranks have been growing steadily and the attendance Wednesday was the largest of any of the drills. The number has become so large that C. C. Jones, who drills the boys, has found it necessary to organize the lot into two groups, Company A and Company B. The first one will be composed of the tallest boys in the list and the latter one will be made up of the more diminutive "soldiers." At the next drill, the most important of all those that have been held yet, the election of officers will take place. At this time it is planned to select only the first and second lieutenants for each company, making four in all, while later the petty officers will be chosen. The selection of officers will be absolutely on merit alone. Later they will be put through a private drilling by Mr. Jones, so that they may become efficient in giving commands. They will thus be of great service to Mr. Jones in that a considerable amount of the work may then be taken off his shoulers. It is likely that the next drill, when the officers are chosen, will be held on Wednesday of next week.

Practically all of the seniors now have their pictures finished and the collection for the Zenith is now going on. A new departure has been instituted in regard to those persons who wish to have their pictures in the annual, but who are not going to graduate in June. Heretofore, it has been customary to print pictures of many persons, who, although not graduating with the class, entered with it as a freshman. This will not be done this season and only those who have been graduated will be seen in the book. The old custom of exchanging pictures among the members of the senior class seems to have proved more popular than ever this season. The homes of most of the seniors may be found littered with pictures of "friends," and each senior has his pictures scattered broadcast.

At a meeting of the Lambs Dramatic club yesterday, Mr. Holmes of the English department addressed the members on the advisability of reading the play, "The Servant in the House." He urged everybody to become familiar with it and he also read several pleasing passages to illustrate the style.

The members of the club have not definitely decided on what will be the first important item in the debit column of Treasurer Alexander's account book. Hiring the Duluth Concert orchestra to give a concert before the school children of Duluth, and buying new stage scenery for the high school stage, have been brought up and discussed. It is also quite probable that several interesting books on the drama will be bought. It is quite probable that a benefit at the Lyceum will be held about once every month. The treasury of the club is very healthy just now, but means of spending the "cash" are many.

The initial tryouts for positions in the senior class play were held in the auditorium yesterday afternoon under the supervision of Mr. Rasey of the English department. A wealth of material is contained in the class and the directors of the play should experience little difficulty in selecting the persons that will best fill the various positions. The only obstacle is that there are so many excellent "actors" and "actresses" trying for places, that it will be exceedingly hard to select the best. Thirty-eight members of the senior class were in the initial tryout yesterday.

BILL FOR STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION IS BACK TO SENATE FOR ACTION

S. Y. Gordon and in the senate by Senator Edward Rustad.

"The bill legalizes party "elimination" conventions such as were held last summer by the Republicans, Democrats and Progressives.

W. T. Coe, Minneapolis Progressive, who at various times has been a candidate for congress, district judge and other offices, was the first to confess.

"I remember the time when I and five other men in an election precinct ran things," he said. "We absolutely dictated who should be delegates from our district to conventions and did things in the way we thought they ought to be done. Since then I have reformed and I don't want any more of those kind of days. This bill of Gordon and Rustad is paving the way for a return to them."

James A. Peterson of Minneapolis was the next to confess. He was a candidate four years ago for United States senator and last spring was one of those "eliminated" in the Republican convention.

Thirty Delegates for $50.

"I was a candidate in the old days," he said, "and got my nomination from a convention. When I was elected county attorney I succeeded during my term of office in sending a good many men to prison and among them a number of prominent men. So when I came up for renomination I thought I would have it easy, but I found a great deal of opposition had arisen to me and there were several other candidates. I decided I didn't care whether I got the nomination or not and started to go out of the convention. At the door I was met by a man who said he would deliver thirty delegates to me if I paid him $50. I said I didn't want the nomination that badly so another candidate got the thirty delegates and I was defeated."

Peterson also told about the bosses of 25 or 30 years ago.

"You talk about bosses now," he said. "Why you haven't got a real boss in any party in Minnesota. We had them then though, and some of us oldtimers know what a real boss is. I don't want to get back to anything like those days."

"The Rustad-Gordon bill is one conceived by a coterie of politicians to get control of party organizations, name candidates, defeat the will of the people and get the jobs. It means a return to conventions and machine politics."

Clemans Opposes Bill.

Frank J. Clemans, St. Paul, also spoke against the bill. He said that under the caucus system employes of big corporations do not dare go out and express their opinions or vote according to their consciences, but under the primary system they have the right to vote as they want to.

Rustad and Gordon both defended the measure.

"The bill does nothing to injure the primary election law," said Mr. Gordon. "It merely legalizes conventions which are now held and will be held in the future without any authority of law. Anybody eliminated at such a convention still has a right to be a candidate at the primary. Anyone else can also run. If the people don't approve of the candidate indorsed by the convention they can vote for someone else."

No action was taken by the committee.

Bendixen and Spooner Clash.

A verbal clash between Representatives C. M. Bendixen and L. C. Spooner threatened to disrupt the proceedings of the house transportation committee during the public hearing on the Bendixen bill amending the passenger rate law of 1913 to clarify a section which the state supreme court construed differently from the exact intention of the bill.

Personalities grew into hot words, which were exchanged with lightning rapidity.

Without taking any action on any of the bills, it was suddenly discovered that there was not a quorum, and the committee adjourned.

The bill before the committee amends the 2-cent fare law relating to short-distance rates. The 1913 law provides a 3-cent rate for distances not exceeding five miles. The supreme court construed this to mean that the railroads could charge 3 cents a mile for the first five miles of any distance.

The present bill provides a charge of 10 cents for any distance not exceeding five miles, but that additional charge per mile must not be applied on distances exceeding five miles.

Mr. Spooner made a motion that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

"This bill certainly was written in the interests of the railroads," he said.

Would Repeal Law.

"My advice is to repeal the Bendixen law." He added that under the law the railroads could charge 3 cents a mile on branch lines where passenger earnings are less than $1,200 per mile.

Mr. Bendixen took exception to this statement, declaring that it was evident Mr. Spooner had given the bill little consideration.

"Let me ask you, Mr. Bendixen, who wrote that bill?" said Spooner.

"The attorney general," was the reply.

"I'll buy a box of cigars if you can make the attorney general admit it in my presence.

"If I were sent out by the railroad," continued Mr. Spooner, "to prepare a bill to the railroads' interests, I would draw a bill like that."

Turning toward a group of railroad officials, he shouted:

"There is not a railroad man here who dares arise and say the bill is not exactly what is wanted."

Pointing a finger at Mr. Bendixen, he continued:

"Bendixen, you're not much of a lawyer, are you?"

In an instant Bendixen was on his feet.

"No, Mr. Spooner, I am not. But it is interesting to note that farmers have in their time accomplished good things, even in legislatures. It would be a sad matter if we were to turn our legislatures over to lawyers."

"Why are you interested in this bill?" Spooner asked.

"Because it is completing my efforts of two years ago. Furthermore, I resent your insinuations that perhaps I have been influenced by the railroads."

"I don't say you have been; I only say you don't know what you're doing."

At this juncture Mr. Spooner left the room.

Railroad officials were of the opinion that Mr. Spooner had misconstrued the meaning of certain sections of the bill.

Railroads Oppose Bill.

Opposition to the bill compelling railroads, before beginning construction of a new line, to submit maps to the railroad and warehouse commission together with proof that there is a public demand for the proposed road, was voiced by railroad officials.

It was pointed out to make known the intention of establishing a new line long in advance would result in a sudden rise in the price of real estate which of a necessity the railroad must purchase.

"I certainly will go into the real estate business if this measure becomes a law," said Representative Frank E. Nimocks, one of the opponents of the measure.

The committee decided to appoint a sub-committee of three to confer with the railroad and warehouse commission regarding certain amendments.

State Fire Marshal.

A hearing on the advisability of placing the state fire marshal's department under the insurance commission was held before the house committee on public accounts and expenditures, of which Representative C. L. Sawyer is chairman, yesterday afternoon.

Both State Auditor Preus and Insurance Commissioner Works indicated that in their opinion such a change would be feasible.

Criticisms of expenditures of the state fire marshal's department have been made in resolutions introduced in the house. It has been pointed out, too, that money has been spent for detective purposes, which could have been better used to take preventive measures.

It is possible that a bill will be introduced by the committee within the next two or three weeks, placing the fire marshal's department under the insurance commissioner.

The Efficiency Bill.

If there are enough of them in town, there will be a meeting at the Merchants' hotel tonight of the Spooner house committee of efficiency and economy, the new Gordon committee appointed to fame a substitute for the efficiency bill if it fails, and the members of the Eberhart commission on efficiency and economy, which framed the bill.

The meeting was called by Chairman Spooner of the house committee, and it is possible that an agreement may be reached that will be satisfactory to a majority of the committees and that will push the efficiency bill farther toward passage through the house than it has yet seemed.

The committee pursuant to the Gordon resolution, named by Speaker Fiowers yesterday afternoon, is as follows: Representatives Papke, Parker, Jalslett, Southwick, Swenson, McLaughlin, Sanborn, Sudheimer, Guilford, Lennon, Bouck, Warner, Christianson, Gordon, North, Bessette, Bjorge, Konzen, Girling and Pratt.

It is understood that a majority of this committee is favorable to the passage of the efficiency bill much as it stands. STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

WARSHIPS PENETRATE DARDANELLES

few days the Russian general staff claims to have forced back the Germans along a front of twenty-five miles in the Przasnysz region.

The impression is growing in England that the German advance in East Prussia is due mainly to political and economic motives and that consequently it is without great strategic effect on the eastern campaign as a whole.

In the west the French continue to claim advances in the Champagne district, with quiet prevailing along the rest of the line.

The ship-building strike is causing some concern in London, but the prompt action of the government in ordering the resumption of work during arbitration is expected to settle the strike.

French Statement.

Paris, Feb. 27, 3:45 p. m.—The war office this afternoon gave out the following statement:

"There is no change to report in the situation from the sea to the Aisne.

"In Champagne nothing has developed since yesterday's communication. "Our artillery in the Argonne exploded an ammunition depot near St. Hubert. In the wood near Melincourt between the Argonne and the Meuse, the enemy again sprayed one of our advanced trenches with burning liquid, necessitating the abandonment of the trench, the occupants of which were seriously burned. A counter attack immediately checked the Germans who suffered losses, including a number of prisoners.

"In the region of Verdun and on the heights of the Meuse our heavy artillery wrecked some German guns, exploded twenty ammunition wagons, annihilated a detachment and destroyed an entire camp. In the Bois Brule the battle continues to our advantage.

German Statement.

Berlin, Feb. 27, wireless to Sayville.—The war office report of today follows:

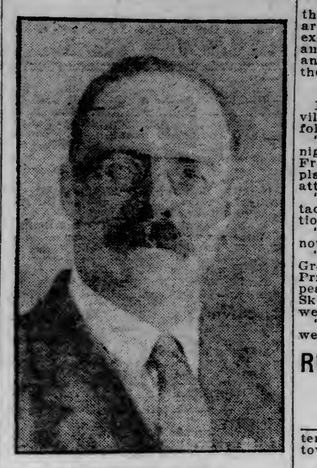

"In Champagne yesterday and last night there were renewed strong French attacks. Fighting in some places still continues; otherwise the attacks were repulsed.

"North of Verdun the Germans attacked a portion of the French position. Fighting still continues.

"Along the rest of the western front nothing important has occurred.

"Eastern theater: Northwest of Grodno, west of Lomza and south of Przasnysz, new Russian forces appeared and began attacks. On the Skroda, south of Koino, 1,100 Russians were made prisoners.

"To the left of the Vistula there were no developments of importance."

Representative From Litchfield.

tem to throw over troops from Kovno toward Borjimow.

Trying to Cut Railroad.

"In order that we shall not be able to do the same thing, namely, rush troops southward to the Bzura and Rawka rivers, the Germans are making desperate efforts, first with cavalry and then with infantry, to cut the railroad from Warsaw north to Vilna. Thanks to the watchfulness of our commanders and to the indomitable energy of our troops, the efforts of the enemy have been futile."

This officer added that even though the German plans had succeeded, this achievement would not have influenced greatly the Russian position at Borjimow, so long as the other railroad lines from Warsaw to the front remained in commission. He said further that the success which the Russians are reported to have gained at Przasnysz had uncovered the Germans right flank operating at Ossowetz, where the artillery engagement still remained undecided.

CONVENTION TO PROMOTE PEACE CAUSE

ation of a league of peace. Our people must give definite and persistent thought to their opportunity and duty."

"The absence of women from the councils of state partially, if not largely, is responsible for the continuance of the plague of war upon earth," said Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue of New York. "Is war cureless?" was the question he discussed.

The belief that man was born a fighting animal and must forever remain one, he called "the most immoral of all moral heresies," and he viewed diplomacy's hidden ways as one of the ultimate causes not only of the present war, but virtually of all war.

"A substitute for war must be found and can be found," Dr. Wise said. "There must be some outlet for the passion of men to serve and strive together, some opportunity for the play of social instinct which burns within men and is ready to merge the interest of the citizens in the interest of the country."

SAY BRITAIN CANNOT ACCEPT PROPOSALS

French Papers Unanimous in Comments on Latest American Note.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The French press is unanimous in declaring that Great Britain cannot accept the informal proposals said to have been made by the United States, that the embargo on foodstuffs for Germany be raised provided Germany abandons her intention of destroying merchant ships. The papers, however, express appreciation of the spirit in which the proposals were made.

The Matin declares such a step would be carrying altruism altogether too far because "every loaf which a civilian was able to spare would be a loaf the more for a soldier; in other words, the allies are asked to continue the war and sacrifice the lives of their soldiers in order to save German civilians from want."

GERMAN PILLAGER SENTENCED TO DEATH

Rennes, France, Feb. 27, via Paris.—A German soldier named Carl Vogelgesang of the Twenty-sixth Saxon infantry, a native of Eisleben, has been sentenced here by a French court-martial to military degradation and death, having been found guilty of pillaging while under arms, of arson and of dispatching French wounded.

The principal evidence against this German soldier were the entries in his own diary which was found on his person when he was searched after having been made prisoner by the French, the 15th of last September. Vogelgesang denied before the court that he had killed wounded men. He admitted the other charges, however, but declared he was acting under superior orders.

TURK SULTAN READY TO LEAVE CAPITAL.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The Matin this morning prints a dispatch from its correspondent at Athens who repeats the story published several times recently that the sultan of Turkey is preparing to leave Constantinople and that to this end imperial trains are kept with steam up in the railroad station. The inhabitants of the Principo islands in the Sea of Marmora not far from Constantinople have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness to leave.

LEAKING STEAMER IS MAKING HARBOR.

New York, Feb. 27.—The Allan line steamship Mongolian, which sent out a wireless call yesterday for help because she was leaking badly 400 miles off the coast of Nova Scotia, is heading for Halifax under her own power and should reach there tomorrow, local agents of the line announced here today. The United States coast guard cutter Seneca is convoying the Mongolian, which has aboard 200 passengers bound for Glasgow.

GILBERT FIVE LOSES.

Beaten By Virginia Quint on Their Home Floor.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gilbert high school basket ball team went down to defeat to the fast Virginia high school team last evening, losing the fastest and most exciting game of the season played here by the score of 23 to 20. The game took place at the high school gymnasium and was witnessed by a large crowd. A large number of rooters accompanied the Virginia boys. Both teams were evenly matched and the game was fast from start to finish and was anybody's game up to the last second. The first half ended 8 to 10 in favor of Virginia.

Tim Shean of Gilbert made 4 baskets and 1 foul; F. Indihar, 3 baskets and 1 foul, and Alfred Matt, 2 baskets.

Cusson for Virginia made 4 baskets and 3 fouls; Enright, 5 baskets and Rooney 1 basket.

The line-up was as follows:

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Martha Washington Rebekah lodge celebrated its eighth Biwabik anniversary Monday evening by giving a card party in the Odd Fellows' hall.

Wednesday evening a band concert drew a crowd that tested the capacity of the school auditorium. Many were compelled to stand throughout the evening.

Miss Hilma Norman of Skibo was the guest of Miss Marie Lasch Monday.

Mrs. E. I. Casey returned Wednesday evening from Minneaonlis, where she visited her son, Roy Casey, who is attending the state university.

Mrs. S. B. Dunn, wife of the wire chief of the Mesaba Telephone company, is seriously ill at her home in Gilbert.

The schools have received 218 Palmer buttons, which are given for 25 drills, and 24 progress pins, which are given for 100 drills. All the students are diligently working for a certificate.

There was a slight fire in Siegel's barn Tuesday afternoon. It is charged to a lighted cigarette that was carelessly thrown down. No serious damage was done.

Replay Chess Game.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth chess club met last night to re-play the game in which its representative at the recent Northwestern Chess tournament in St. Paul, Charles Mueller, was defeated. With different members taking part the game was replayed as it might have been.

COMMISSION HAS JURISDICTION

Intrastate Railroad Is Amenable to Its Orders.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Three judges of the United States court, Landis, Kohlsaat and Geiger—ruled yesterday that the interstate commerce commission has jurisdiction over an intrastate railroad. Sitting en banc they ordered dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by the Duluth & Northern Minnesota road last December, restraining the commission from enforcing its ruling raising the rate on wood pulp.

The road extends only fifteen miles and is entirely within the state of Minnesota. Its argument that because it could not do an interstate business, it was not amenable to the commission, was overruled by the court.

Attorneys Harris and Pearson of Duluth argued the case for the railway company in Chicago, and they have not yet returned. Officials of the company, however, state that no fixed rate had been established on pulp wood in this state before the rate was established by the interstate commerce commission. No further statement could be obtained from the company, and the officials prefer to wait until the attorneys return.

Transferred to Norway.

Winnipeg, Feb. 27.—F. Dillingham, United States consul general at Winnipeg, has been appointed by President Wilson to the consul-generalship of Norway with headquarters at Christiania. Frederick Ryder, American consul at Quebec, succeeds Mr. Dillingham at Winnipeg and will take up his duties in two or three weeks.

Pronounced Unreasonable.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Proposals by railroads to exclude from regular baggage service pentagonal trunks were pronounced unreasonable today by the interstate commerce commission.

NORTON FOR JUDGESHIP

Former County Attorney Files for Bench—Three in Race.

Judge Windom Will Enter Later—Farrell First for Commissionership.

John H. Norton, former county attorney, filed for municipal judge in the city clerk's office shortly before noon today.

Mr. Norton's name had been mentioned a number of times as a candidate for the municipal judgeship during the last few weeks, but he refused each time to affirm these reports and it was generally believed until now that he would not make the race against Judge Windom at the coming spring election.

Yesterday afternoon J. A. Farrell filed his nomination for city commissioner, he being the only aspirant for office to file all day yesterday. Mr. Farrell is the first candidate for commissioner to officially enter the campaign. Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, who are going to make the race to succeed themselves, Bernard Silberstein and R. E. McFarlane, all of whom recently announced their candidacies, have yet to file.

With Mr. Norton in the race, there are now three candidates out against Judge Windom, the incumbent, the other two being Capt. W. H. Smallwood and M. E. Louiselle. Judge Windom has not yet filed.

Candidates for city office have until next Saturday night in which to officially enter the race.

ONE DAY MORE TO FILE RETURNS

Income Tax Law Imposes Heavy Fine on All Delinquents.

There is but one more day to file income tax returns, and if they are not in by Monday night a heavy penalty will be imposed. The penalty for individuals is from $20 to $1,000 and for corporations, not more than $10,000.

Every person who has had an income during 1914 of $3,000 exclusive of business expenses must file returns not later than March 1, according to Attorney J. J. Robinson. Such a person may claim his exemption on $3,000 or $4,000, as the case may be, in order to avoid the penalty of not filing on time. Returns may be filed with the deputy collector of internal revenue at the Federal building here or at the St. Paul office.

There is one exception, however, to this ruling. Where a person receives an income of $3,000 or more on which tax has already been paid at the source, as in case of dividends received from a corporation, tax upon such dividends having been already paid by the corporation, the individual receiving such dividends need not make a return of such income.

RUBLEE HELD UP.

Favorable Reports on Other Members of Federal Trade Commission.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Favorable reports on the nominations of Joseph E. Davies, Edward N. Hurley, W. J. Harris and W. H. Parry as members of the Federal trade commission were voted today by the senate interstate commerce committee, but action on the nomination of George Rublee of Cornish, N. H., was deferred pending a further hearing Monday.

Although the favorable reports with reference to the four members were ordered opposition reservations were made by several senators with regard to Mr. Hurley and Mr. Parry.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

DRAMATIC CRITIC PUNCHED.

Fireman Wouldn't Stand Dictation as to His Amusements.

UNION LABOR is all right, but when it comes to attending the "movies," it is another question, in the judgment of Ed Berry, a fireman, who objected to being told what theater he should attend.

When Berry was chided by C. B. Stone he promised to "punch his head," and kept his promise, according to police. The little argument as to the merits of two of Duluth's movie houses started in a West Superior street cafeteria and ended at police headquarters.

Capt. A. G. Fiskett arrested the belligerent one, using Stone's countenance as evidence, and charged him with assault in the third degree. Berry pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing in municipal court Monday.

SINS OF THE FATHERS.

Matt Inherited Name of "Switwitch" and Gets Arrested for It.

When a philosopher remarks, "What's in a name?" to Matt Switwitch, hereafter, Matt will answer:

"There's at least $7 in mine."

His unfortunate cognomen was the indirect cause of a $7 fine in municipal court this morning.

Matt, so the story goes, was trying to quiet a noisy friend in a West Michigan street refreshment parlor last night when Patrolmen Le Beau and Krawczyzk, attracted by the scuffle, entered.

When Matt tried to tell the officer his name, the guardian of the law exclaimed, in horrified tones:

"Why, the man's intoxicated, I believe."

Accordingly Matt was given a ride with his friend.

He now wants to change his name to Smith, Jones, Green or Brown, and he isn't particular.

"IN RIGHT CHURCH BUT WRONG PEW."

Cuspidors, chairs and tables don't go well together when you're in the juggling business temporarily, according to William W. Lawver, aged 38.

He entered the office of Dr. C. H. Clark, 215 New Jersey building, this morning and asked for Dr. Graham.

When Dr. Clark informed him that he was in the "right church but the wrong pew," Lawver didn't like it, and attempted to balance a cuspidor on the doctor's cranium.

The cuspidor struck a chair and a table in the melee which followed, so Lawver will answer to a charge of disorderly conduct in municipal court this afternoon. He is an old offender, according to police.

"OH-I SAY-BOBBY!"

Police Acquire a Spitz Dog Which Adopted an Englishman.

"Oh-I say-bobby!"

"What th—" ejaculated Police Sergeant Albert Weber, glancing up.

Before him was an impressionistic picture of Dear Old Lunnon, fresh from the fourth chapter of a best seller.

"Silly little juggins—eh what?" continued his "friend," holding up to the sergeant's gaze a bedraggled little near-white Spitz dog.

"No sense. Beggar's followed me since tiffin. No end silly. What, what?" continued the visitor.

"Won't have it. Didn't mind first. Coming it a bit thick now," he went on before the worthy sergeant could edge in a word.

By this time the Spitz managed to get a breath, and broke in with a loud clamor for recognition.

"Noisy beggar, eh what?" said the picture of Wilton Lackaye. "Simply won't have it. Don't want the juggins. No end a nuisance, eh bobby?"

"Bobby" at last recovered himself: "Get out!" he said.

The man backed out, dropping the rope and leaving the Spitz to his fate.

"No end a bore, these Americans. Should have annexed blooming country. Very common. Constable persons worst of lot," said he as he reached the sidewalk.

At least that's the way Detective Schulte tells the story of the coming of the Spitz dog. The other officers apply the short and ugly word to Schulte, but the Spitz is still at headquarters.

He has adopted Jaller Wanvick, which is quite a come-down from the Englishman, eh, what?"

CITY ELECTION WILL BE ON APRIL 6

Formal Call Will Be Made By Council Next Monday.

Next Monday afternoon the city council will formally set the regular spring election for Tuesday, April 6, also designating the polling places and judges and clerks for each district.

In addition the commissioners will order the placing of two amendments on the official ballot and the city clerk will be instructed to prepare the ballots at once and to print samples in local newspapers prior to the election.

At the meeting Monday, the commission will pass a resolution objecting to the division of St. Louis county and asking the state legislature to vote against such a proposal. Several other matters of minor importance are also expected to come up during the meeting.

CANDIDATES MAY TAKE CHANCES

Clerk Will Accept Nominating Petitions Without War Stamps.

City Clerk Palmer will accept nominating petitions from any candidate running for office, without the war stamps, but the candidate takes a chance, and it is up to him to get a legal decision on the question.

"The city attorney has instructed me to accept all petitions," said City Clerk Palmer this morning, "but the candidate is the one who takes the chance. It is up to those running for office to find out whether war stamps are needed or not."

Yesterday morning the city clerk was asked if stamps are needed, as the petitions are legal certificates, and the question was put to the city attorney. If candidates are required to place a stamp on every petition, it will mean an additional $5 expense for every man running for office.

WILL HEAR KICKS ON ELECTRIC SERVICE

Local Company Has Established Department to Aid Efficiency.

Something new in the operative line is announced by the Duluth-Edison Electric company, in the establishment of what it calls a "new business department." The object of this department is to make sure that the company through its service is "delivering the goods" to the public. The system is in line with the policy adopted by the larger public-service corporations in the country, and means trying to get in closer touch with the people, whether they use Edison electric service or not, and of trying to make their service of the greatest possible value.

C. B. Rhodes is here to assist the management of the Duluth-Edison Electric company in establishing this department on a permanent basis. Mr. Rhodes, in explaining the work of the department, said today:

"It is our desire to have people make inquiries, suggestions or complaints, for in that way only can we get to the bottom of things in order to give the best possible service. Our interest does not end with the securing of a customer. It is our desire to give to that customer the best possible service so that he will always be satisfied.

Fix Up Appliances.

"Perhaps a customer has an electric iron, a motor, toaster, percolator or some other electric appliance that is not giving perfect satisfaction. We want to know of it in order that the proper steps can be taken to have the matter regulated so the customer may enjoy electric service and get the full benefits from the use of the appliance, whatever it may be.

"We are planning to make a complete canvass of the city and to have a representative call on every house and tenant, whether they are electric customers or not, find out the individual requirements and needs of each—to see in what way we can be of service to the people. We hope the people will appreciate what we are trying to do and will in turn help us.

This canvass will necessarily take some time, and if people have inquiries, suggestions or complaints to make, they do not have to wait for our representative to come to them, they may come or telephone to the New Business department of the Duluth Edison Electric company.

"It is our desire to see that no one has cause to complain about our service and with the co-operation of the people we hope to preclude such a possibility."

NEW CLASSES

In day and night school will be organized at the Duluth Business University on Monday, March 1. Location, 118-120 Fourth avenue west, Christie building.

MAKI SENTENCED.

Gets Ninety Days for Doping and Robbing His Roommate.

Jack Maki, alias J. Murray, found guilty by a district court jury on Jan. 20, on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, received a ninety-day sentence at the hands of Judge Fesler this morning.

Maki was accused of having "doped" Fred Johnson with drugged whisky at the Nicollet hotel on the night of Nov. 7, when $40, a necktie and a stickpin were stolen from the latter. The two men retired together and when Johnson awoke he found Maki and his money gone. Maki was arrested in Superior and at the time was wearing Johnson's necktie. He denied the theft of the money.

USED WALL TO PUNISH WIFE

Says Husband Knocked Her Head Against It.

Knocking his wife's head against the wall was a favorite pastime with Ole Emmett, 48, whenever he imagined that she needed discipline, according to the story which Mrs. Emma Emmett, 42, relates in divorce proceedings started today in district court. The Emmetts reside at 813 North Twenty-fourth avenue west.

Emmett has been cited to appear in court this afternoon before Judge Cant and show cause why an order should not be made restraining him from visiting the family domicile during the pendency of the divorce action and also why he should not be required to furnish her with suit money and attorney's fees to prosecute action, as well as temporary alimony.

The Emmetts were married at Ironwood, Mich., July 14, 1906, and got along together until the summer of 1914 when, according to her story, he began to maltreat and abuse her. She recites more than one occasion where he bumped her head against the wall and cursed her. Ten days ago he drove her out of the house twice in one evening although she was clad in thin garments.

Mrs. Emmett also declared that her husband accused her of having poisoned her former husband and having entertained similar designs upon him. She declares that he has spoken hardly a decent word to her during the last two years.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, Feb. 27.—Bradstreet says: Renewed expansion in trade, especially in the Southwest, further speeding up in industrial operations and excellent advices as to winter wheat go hand in hand with optimism, which, however, is tempered by conservative buying. There is no disposition to speculate as to the future, partly because it is deemed prudent to wait for expansion in the curtailed purchasing power of those dependent upon industrial operations and partly because banks are carefully scrutinizing credits, even though money is cheap. With war orders furnishing activity to a number of lines, idleness has decreased, many ammunition plants are working double time, ship-building yards face many months of activity; automobile shops, especially those making commercial cars for use in the European war zone, are speeding up, and certain branches of the machine tool industry are swamped with war orders.

Railway earnings are showing up better and January reports, taken collectively, are likely to present a more pleasing view.

Bank clearings for the week (five days), aggregate $2,509,406,000, a decrease of 7.6 per cent as compared with the like week last year.

Business failures for the week were 400 compared with 260 last year; in Canada commercial failures number 59 against 49 a year ago.

STATEMENT OF RESERVE BANKS

Washington, Feb. 27.—Bills discounted and loans made by Federal reserve banks have increased about $3,000,000 during the last week, according to the statement of conditions Feb. 26, issued today by the Federal reserve board. The statement shows:

Investments—Due from Federal reserve banks: Items in transit, $8,088,000; all other resources, $7,765,000; total resources, $331,733,000.

Liabilities—Capital paid in, $36,069,000; reserve deposits, $290,336,000; Federal reserve notes in circulation (net amount), $5,328,000; total liabilities, $331,733,000; gold reserve against net liabilities, 86.6 per cent; cash against net liabilities, 96.7 per cent; cash reserve against liabilities after setting aside 40 per cent gold reserve against net amount of Federal reserve notes in circulation, 97.7 per cent.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and through the blood on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates, and at the same time it improves the digestion.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists.

STATEMENT MADE BY BANKER SPEYER

Tells of His Firm's Dealings With Rock Island System.

Washington, Feb. 27.—James Speyer, head of the New York banking house of Speyer & Co., made a voluntary statement before the interstate commerce commission today of his firm's dealings with the Rock Island system during the period of its history under investigation.

The firm never had occupied the position of fiscal agent for the railroad, he said, but acting as a principal, had bought and resold between 1904 and 1912 securities of the Rock Island Railway company itself of some $170,409,000 face value. The total profit on those transactions for his firm, Mr. Speyer said, was $1,438,743 or eight-tenths of 1 per cent. Not all of the firm's transactions in Rock Island securities had resulted in profits, Mr. Speyer added, saying: "I will not disclose our losses since 1912 for fear my friends will think I am not a good banker."

Ogden Mills, a director of the Rock Island Railway company and of the New Jersey Holding company, said he had no personal knowledge of the various payments in stock or bonds in addition to salary made to various officers of the Rock Island system. In several instances he did not know of them until they were mentioned during the present hearing. He said it was customary for those details to be left to the executive committee. He had no personal knowledge as to the actual value of securities carried on the company's books as assets, saying the directors took the word of our officers on all these matters.

REARGUMENT ORDERED ON THE MARCUS CASE.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—The supreme court today ordered a reargument during the week of March 2 of certain features of what is known as the Marcus case, the decision in which is said to jeopardize nearly every Wisconsin constitutional amendment since 1865. This decision held that the franchise amendment to the constitution denying the right of suffrage to persons of foreign birth after 1911 unless they had obtained their full citizenship papers, was not spread at length on the journals of both houses and was therefore not legally passed.

Attorneys who investigated the amendments passed since 1865, claim that only three of the twenty-nine amendments passed during that time would be upheld under the Marcus ruling.

Part of Decree Annulled.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Consul Silliman today notified the state department that Gen. Carranza had annulled so much of Gen. Obregon's decree levying a tax upon commercial houses in the Mexican capital as applied to Americans and other foreigners. The state department had protested.

MONDAY—Board meeting of the Matinee Musicale at Pilgrim Congregational church at 1:30 p. m.; Matinee Musicale program at Pilgrim church at 3 p. m.; meeting of the Shakespeare class of the Twentieth Century club in the library clubroom at 7:30 p. m.; meeting of the Monday Evening club at the Kitchi Gammi club.

TUESDAY—Parliamentary law drill of the Twentieth Century club in the library clubroom at 10 a. m.; dramatic afternoon of the West Duluth study class of the Twentieth Century club at the West Duluth library at 2:30 p. m.; meeting of the Duluth Woman's Suffrage association in the library clubroom at 3:30 p. m.; meeting of the Bishop's club in the Bishop's club room at 8 p. m.; meeting of the American Literary society at the Y. W. C. A. at 8 p. m.; lecture by Thomas Whitney Surette on "Music in Its Relation to Education," given under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale at Pilgrim church at 8:15 p. m.

WEDNESDAY — Lecture given by Thomas Whitney Surette under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale at Pilgrim church at 8:15 p. m.

THURSDAY—Meeting of the Duluth Drama Study club in the library clubroom at 10 a. m.; meeting of the Cecilian society at the home of Mrs. Leo A. Ball, 2222 East Fifth street, at 2:30 p. m.; weekly dancing party at the Kitchi Gammi club.

FRIDAY—Meeting of the Woman's council in the library clubroom at 10 a. m.

SATURDAY—Meeting of the Saturday club in the library clubroom at 2:30 p. m.

Perhaps Lent, perhaps the exodus to Florida and California, may be held responsible for the lack of social affairs in Duluth. Club meetings continue but aside from them and a few small, informal gatherings the social calendar is a blank.

Two musical treats of the week were the program given by the Duluth Concert orchestra Sunday afternoon, at which the orchestra's first symphony and Miss Mary Bradshaw's soprano solos were important parts, and the piano, organ and vocal recital given by Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchanan Morton Tuesday evening at Glen Avon church.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baldwin entertained at their cottage in the country. Thursday Mrs. J. E. Gardner, Jr., entertained at a bridge luncheon of eight covers. Friday Mrs. A. F. Swanstrom, Jr., was the hostess for a bridge luncheon of ten tables.

The lecture recitals that will be given by Thomas Whitney Surette Tuesday and Wednesday evenings under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale are being looked forward to with much pleasure by professional musicians and by those who are interested in music as a broad cultural agent.

During the week meetings will be held by the Matinee Musicale, Duluth Woman's Suffrage association, Bishop's club, American Literary society, Duluth Drama Study club, Saturday club, Woman's council and departments of the Twentieth Century club.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

The Foolish "13" Superstition.

The new England Thirteen club, which has a membership numbering considerably more than thirteen, did on the thirteenth day of this month prove, as they thought, what little stock they took in foolish superstition, which in one or more or all of its guises, bothers and makes life uncomfortable for many of a superstitious turn of mind. Most people, however, pay no attention to the signs, omens and happenings that are supposed to bring good or bad luck in their train.

These gentlemen who gathered themselves together to defy superstition were bold, indeed, from the viewpoint of any one who has the least faith in the fatality of the number "13." They sat themselves down at thirteen tables, ate of thirteen courses, drank of thirteen beverages and in every act of theirs throughout the day gave that number conspicuous prominence. They dined seated under open umbrellas and even smashed mirrors, both of which acts are supposed to bring dire results to those who participate, unconsciously or otherwise.

I venture to say that there are practically few people who would not be more or less unhappily affected were they to break a mirror, accidently, deliberately or otherwise. And while the superstition of the mirror is almost universal, many persons have their individual misgivings on certain portentious matters and are careful to observe the rules and regulations relating to them in order that they may escape some misfortune.

There are dozens of people in a hurrying throng who will abruptly step aside and take to the street when they see a ladder obstructing their pathway. They would go a good bit out of their way to avoid having to walk under one and if by chance they were obliged to, the fact would lie heavily upon their mind until something occurred to make them forget.

Another superstition which has a fair share of devotees is the one relating to persons who have an affection of the eyes, commonly called cross eyes. Some people think that unless they expectorate three times in rapid succession after a person so afflicted looks at them, bad luck will follow them all that day at least. Others insist that a companion must follow them through the same gateway or door in order that they may have no quarrel.

These are but a few of the silly things that people fret themselves over and are typical of almost all the signs, omens and the like that come under the head of superstitions.

TONS OF FRUIT GOING TO WASTE FOR LACK OF MARKET

MISS M. GERMOND.

Tons of grapefruit, pineapples and citrus fruits are wasting in heaps in the orchards of the Isle of Pines this season for want of a market, according to Miss M. Germond of this city who returned recently from a month's sojourn on the island.

The war in Europe is ascribed by the growers as responsible for the condition of the present market. The trans-Atlantic trade suffered a severe blow when hostilities broke out and rather than ship the products to the states at a reduced price, many growers have preferred to permit the fruit to go to waste in the orchards.

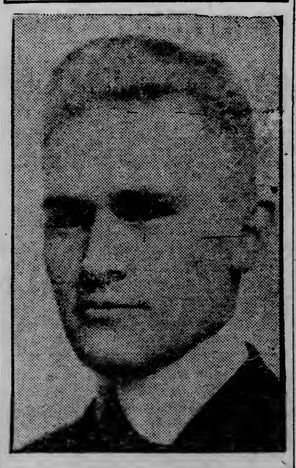

Miss Germond declared that she was quite impressed with the climate of the Isle of Pines. Although well within the tropics, the island has an average temperature of 74 degs. and an average rainfall of sixty inches.

"The sea breezes," she said, "penetrate every portion of the island, tempering the heat of the summer and lessening the cold of the winter. The island is becoming known as a health resort. The nights are always cool and pleasant there. Although it is south of Cuba, the temperature is somewhat lower."

Miss Germond declared that aside from the climate and agricultural possibilities of the island and the natural charm of its scenery, its numerous mineral springs have given it a wide reputation as a health resort.

Miss Germond also declared that grape fruit growers on the island are developing their crops earlier this year but using a strong chemical fertilizer to bring the trees out in blossom so that the fruit might be placed on the market in August instead of December.

INTEREST IN SUFFRAGE IS REVIVED IN DULUTH

Prominent Men Publicly Identify Themselves With Movement; Voting and Being a Father; New Plan of Organizing Is Adopted.

THIS has been a busy week for Duluth suffragists.

The suffrage luncheon held yesterday at which more than 125 men and women heard convincing arguments for woman suffrage—but those who attended did not need to be convinced—showed that although Duluth has not taken an active part in this question, there are among the citizens many able women who are asking the ballot.

Apparently there are also included among the citizens of Duluth, many men who believe that woman is man's equal intellectually and morally and are not ashamed to publicly avow their opinions.

Many of Duluth's leading business and professional men attended the luncheon and evidenced their interest in the addresses.

The Real Reasons.

At the luncheon held in the Glass Block tea room in honor of Mrs. Andreas Ueland, president of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association, and Mrs. David F. Simpson, another active suffrage worker of Minneapolis, the president of the local suffrage organization, Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, told of an Englishman, with "Sir" in front of his name and about a third of the alphabet trailing after it, who said men have not given their real reasons for denying woman the vote, but that the real reasons are that women do not make money, that they do not go to war and that they are intellectually and morally inferior to men. The man probably owes his life to Mrs. Lawrence suppressing his name, it was suggested. Mrs. Simpson told of one woman who said she didn't like watermelon and was glad she didn't like it, because if she liked it she would eat it and she didn't like it, anyway.

Voting and Being a Father.

Referring to the argument that a woman cannot vote and give the proper attention to her home and family, Mrs. Simpson asked: "Did you ever hear a mother say, 'Willie will vote next year and then who will take care of his business?' or a father say, 'My son, when you reach the age at which you vote, you take a terrible responsibility upon yourself. To vote and be the father of a family is an impossibility.'"

Mrs. Ueland, who was president of the Woman's Political Equality club of Minneapolis and a member of the executive board of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association before she became president, pointed out that equal suffrage brings into government the points of view of mothers who always have fought to better the conditions of their children. Another point made by Mrs. Ueland was that man's being compelled to provide has made him interested in business, a point of view that has been overestimated to the detriment of the human element.

The activity of the Duluth suffragists and their guests did not end with a pleasant luncheon and enjoyable talks. This morning a meeting of all interested in the enfranchisement of women was held in the library clubroom for the purpose of organizing according to the three districts of the city, as more can be accomplished by smaller groups working intensively than by one large organization.

SURETTE WILL GIVE TWO LECTURES HERE THIS YEAR

Thomas Whitney Surette, whose lecture last year so delighted those who heard it, will give two lecture recitals Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8:15 o'clock at Pilgrim Congregational church under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale. He was the first person to do educational lecturing on music in the United States. The lecture Tuesday evening will be on "Music in Its Relation to Education." He will choose the subject of the Wednesday evening lecture after he reaches the city. They may be attended by all who are interested.

Mr. Surette's lectures are said to be free from technicalities and interesting to persons without musical education because he draws upon the whole field of art for illustrations. "As good a lecture on literature as it was on music," is a comment often called forth by his talks. "The greatest practical benefit to be derived from Mr. Surette's lectures," one critic said, "lies in the help they afford the listener in appreciating and understanding the best music—they teach him to listen."

Scope of Lectures.

Mr. Surette's lectures include "Music in Its Relation to Life," "Operas Past and Present," "Great Symphonies," "Wagner," and "Folk Songs and Dances." In each group there are from six to twelve lectures that go into details that bring out the particular qualities of the subject under discussion and are illustrated on the piano by the music of the composer and by musical quotations from many sources.

Mr. Surette is the composer of "The Eve of St. Agnes," a dramatist ballad for chorus, soli and orchestra that has been given many times in America and England, and "Priscilla," an operetta that has been performed a thousand times. In collaboration with D. G. Mason he wrote "The Appreciation of Music," an established book for those who seek to understand the works of the great classic school of music.

After leaving Harvard university he devoted years to piano and organ playing, teaching, conducting and composing before he engaged in his present work.

THOMAS WHITNEY SURETTE.

He is a staff lecturer on music for Oxford university extension delegacy, University of London, University of Chicago extension division, Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, University of California, University Extension Society of Pittsburg and Birmingham university.

While in the city Mr. Surette will be a guest at the home of Mrs. Emma L. Schmied, 2218 East First street, as he was during his other visit to Duluth.

GRIEG MUSIC IN CONCERT

Director Fred Bradbury of Concert Orchestra Planning "Peer Gynt" Suite for Next Program at High School Auditorium, Sunday, March 7—Other Scandinavian Music to Be Played.

FOR THE next concert to be given by the Duluth Concert orchestra at the high school auditorium Sunday, March 7, Director Fred Bradbury has arranged a program of exceptional merit which will comprise in the main selections by Scandinavian composers.

The famous "Peer Gynt" suite by Grieg, which has not received an orchestral interpretation in Duluth for several years, will be the principal offering. This suite is in four movements and is taken from the incidental music to Ibsen's dramatic poem, "Peer Gynt," the musical setting dealing with the events in the wanderings and adventures of Ibsen's hero.

It opens with the beautiful "Morning" theme, depicting the sunrise in the mountains with its attendant beauty in the awakening of nature. This is followed by "The Death of Asa," solemn and melancholy, though beautiful in subdued melody. In the third movement, "Anitra's Dance," the suite takes on its gayest aspect while the lithe, supple form of Anitra moves through the graceful and fascinating figures of the dance. In the poem, Anitra is the daughter of a Bedouin chief, and Peer Gynt, during his wanderings, has met and loved her. The final movement, which is weird and strange and in striking contrast to the preceding ones, describes the hero's pursuit of the goblins after his departure from the hall of the mountain king.

Other numbers by Scandinavian composers included in the program are "Saeterjenten's Sondag" by Ole Bull, whose name has always been a shining example musically in his native country, together with "Entrance of the Bojaren," a brilliant, march-like composition reflecting all the dignity, pomp and splendor of the scene it illustrates, by Johan Halversen, and the "Swedish Wedding March," by August Sodermann.

The program will also include von Suppe's famous military overture, "Light Cavalry," and the "Vorspiel" to the opera "Lohengrin," by Wagner.

Director Bradbury and the members of the orchestra are highly elated by the way the public has shown approval of their efforts by increased patronage at each succeeding concert, and there is no question but what the orchestra has been of real educational value.

The orchestra numbers forty musicians, which makes it the most pretentious concert organization Duluth has ever boasted, while next season it is intended to increase the number to fifty players.

The soloists next week will be Donna Riblette Flaaten, soprano, and Valborg Gunderson Finkelson, violinist.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC.

T. W. Surette Will Tell of Boston Investigations.

THOMAS WHITNEY SURETTE has asked to meet the public school educators during his stay in Duluth early next week. He would like to meet the superintendent of schools, supervisors of music, principals and any other persons who are interested in his subject. Mr. Surette wrote as follows: "I have been in a position to help reform the public school music of Boston and I am interested in the Duluth public school music. I thought the Duluth school officials might be interested to know what the Boston investigation reveals."

Mrs. Anne Dixon and Miss Helen Garvin, supervisors of music in the schools, are delighted over Mr. Surette's kind offer and have made arrangements for all who are interested to hear him Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Central high school assembly hall. This will be an informal and intimate talk.

This meeting will be in addition to those scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Pilgrim Congregational church. Non-members of the Matinee Musicale may buy tickets for the evening lectures at the door.

NEW EVENING CLASS FOR THE STUDY OF MODERN DRAMATISTS

MRS. W. A. KAAKE.

HELEN ANDERSON.

MRS. J. C. H. ENGEL.

E. PEARL PRESTON.

BERTHA MENDELSON.

MONDAY evening at the Holland hotel the first regular meeting was held by the Evening Drama class that was organized Feb. 10 as a branch of the Duluth Drama Study club of which Mrs. W. A. Kaake is the president. The officers of the new class are: Mrs. J. C. H. Engel, chairman; Miss Bertha Mendelson, vice chairman, and Miss E. Pearl Preston, secretary-treasurer.

Meetings will be held twice a month for the study of modern drama. Under the leadership of Miss Helen Anderson Ibsen's "The Lady From the Sea," has been begun. Each meeting will be preceded by a half hour of music and humorous readings. Monday evening Miss Ethel Jacobson and Miss Isa Botten gave piano numbers and Mrs. E. W. Kaltenbach read.

The Evening Drama class, intended for men and women who can not attend meetings held in the daytime, is modeled after the Duluth Drama Study class. The Mother club that was organized last spring has held a successful course of study of modern plays from world literature—French, German, English, Scandinavian, Russian, Spanish and Italian. Two meetings are assigned for a representative play of each country, the members of the class reading the parts of the various characters. At the first meeting a short talk is given on the dramatist under consideration. At the second meeting the reading in concluded and the members hold a general discussion of the questions suggested in it. These discussions are opened by two minute talks on the characters or on topics implied by the dramatist.

The work of the club is strictly up to date as the only dramatists studied are those who are living or have been dead only a short time.

DULUTH BOY WILL BE CHORUS "GIRL"

Julius St. Clair Will Be in Opera Cast at the Michigan "U."

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Julius R. St. Clair of Duluth, who is a student in the University of Michigan, has been honored here with having been chosen as one of the "chorus girls" for the opera, "All That Glitters," which is to be presented here next month by the Michigan union, the men's organization of the school. Mr. St. Clair was chosen with the other successful candidates from a list of scores of applicants. So popular is this annual opera with the students that it is considered a high honor to be selected as a member of the cast.

All parts of the opera are played by men, although the play is a musical comedy, with choruses of dancing and singing "girls" costumed in the most costly frocks and frills. After the presentation here, the Opera company will make a short road trip to a number of large cities.

GEORGE W. AYLIFFE IS DEAD IN LONDON.

London, Feb. 27.—George William Ayliffe, a well known London theatrical critic, is dead at his home on the Thames, aged 90 years. As a boy Mr. Ayliffe was a great favorite of King William IV, who, by royal decree, gave him permission to fly his kite in Bushey park, where he was the playmate of Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar. Both of Mr. Ayliffe's parents were employes of the royal household.

In the late sixties Mr. Ayliffe joined the staff of a theatrical paper and through this connection he became a close friend of Charles Dickens. He was twice arrested as a Fenian owing to his striking resemblance to a prominent dynamiter.

RESCHE GETS PRESENT.

Group of Pictures Sent By Boys at Reform School.

Duluth boys at the state reform school at Red Wing have presented Col. F. E. Resche, probation officer of St. Louis county, with a group of twenty-four pictures showing the various buildings and grounds at the state training school. Each picture is four by six inches and is enclosed in a mammoth frame, which is, of itself, a work of art. The picture was hung yesterday in Col. Resche's office at the courthouse. Mrs. Margaret Forgy, deputy probation officer, supervised the grouping.

WEST END

WILL BUILD ORPHANAGE

Swedish Lutheran Conference Decides on Duluth for Institution.

Rev. J. E. Hedberg of Gibbons, Minn., Asked to Become Superintendent.

The Minnesota conference of the Augustana synod, Swedish Lutheran Church of America, will build and maintain a home for orphans in Duluth, according to action taken at the conference meeting being held this week in Minneapolis. The conference has extended a call, which has been accepted, to Rev. J. E. Hedberg of Gibbons, Minn., to become superintendent of the Duluth home.

Local pastors of the conference, including Rev. F. O. Hanson of Trinity English Lutheran church, Rev. Carl A. Eckstrom of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. John A. Krantz of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, and Rev. Carl O. Swan of the First Swedish Lutheran church, will assist the conference committee in securing a site and making plans for the location of the orphanage.

The amount of money to be spent in purchasing the site and in building the home had not been decided at the time when Rev. F. O. Hanson left the meeting yesterday. It is probable that this will be decided on today or Monday.

Local pastors favor the location of such an institution in the western end of the city. Sites on the hillside beyond the end of the Piedmont avenue street car line or out beyond West Duluth, just west of Fairmont park, are said to be desirable. It is expected to secure a site where from five to ten acres can be procured at the lowest possible price.

It is expected that Mr. Hedberg will arrive in the city within the next month to begin the preliminary arrangements. After the establishment of the orphanage, children from various parts of the conference district, which includes Minnesota and the two Dakotas, will be taken care of here.

CREAMERY SEEMS TO BE ASSURED

Neighboring Farmers Subscribe for Stock and Will Soon Begin Operations.

The farming district west of the city is apparently almost certain to establish a creamery and have it in operation before the middle of the summer. Farmers interested in the venture are already subscribing for the stock and it is said that the greater part of the $3,000 issue to be placed on the market has been sold.

The creamery will be located about a mile north of Five Corners and two miles from Adolph. The stock, so far, has been taken up almost entirely by farmers residing in Herman township and these have promised to bring their entire supply of milk to the station. These farmers own about 350 cows.

The stock sold to an individual is limited to $200. Each share has a valuation of $25. In this manner it is expected that the control of the creamery will always remain in the hands of many instead of a few.

A meeting of subscribers of the stock wil bé held Tuesday at Five Corners at which definite plans to proceed with the project will be taken. An expert creamery man will attend this meeting.

W. S. MOORE SPEAKER.

Will Address Sunday Afternoon Meeting at Star Theater.

The third of a series of Sunday afternoon meetings at the Star theater, 2107 West Superior street, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Watson S. Moore will speak. Mr. Moore gave a talk before a large crowd last Sunday. The meetings are being held under the auspices of the extension department of the Y. M. C. A. Cards inviting all men to attend the meetings have been left at every shop and factory in this end of the city and it is expected that the men will pack the playhouse.

TO ADDRESS MOTHERS.

Deputy State Factory Inspector Will Talk to Bryant School Club.

Miss Victoria Erickson, deputy state factory inspector, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Mothers' club of the Bryant school to be held on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Erickson will speak on "Labor and Labor Laws for Children."

Many activities are being planned by the social center at the school. On Monday evening the Boys' Glee club and boys' gymnasium class will meet. On Wednesday evening the glee club, the Junior Women's club will meet at 7:15 p. m. and at 8:15 p. m. the dancing club will have charge of the entertainment.

HERMANTOWN WILL HAVE AN ELECTION.

The town of Herman will hold its annual election on March 9. A meeting of the village board will be held next Tuesday at the town hall, at which arrangements for the election will be made.

So far, it is said that there will be a contest for only one of the offices, that of town supervisor. This position is now held by W. W. Johnson, whose term expires. Mr. Johnson has announced himself a candidate for re-election. The other town supervisors are Otto Witte and Ernest Zebott, but they hold over.

The other officers of the town, all of whom seek re-election and against whom there appears to be no opposition, are: James R. Grady, town clerk; H. Halverson, treasurer; William Yanzig, assessor; C. B. Lindgren, constable, and W. W. Johnson, justice of the peace

Entertains for Auxiliary.

Mrs. H. L. Tabor, 1911 Piedmont avenue, entertained for members of Aerial lodge, No. 230, auxiliary of the B. of L. F. & E. at her home Thursday afternoon. Following the business meeting a social session was enjoyed at which games and music featured the entertainment. The guests were:

Mesdames G. Winters, O. Abramson, F. Janowsky, J. E. Bergstrom, W. Lawrence, W. McDonald, A. Welliver, H. Forrest, W. S. Kearns, C. Janzig, J. Lambert, G. Dingwall, R. Leonard, J. Scholtes, V. Rootkie, J. Donahue and L. Anderson; Misses Sadie Welliver, Pearl Brightfelt, Dulcie Verboncoeur, Evelyn Winters, Dayis Janowsky, Elene Gibson, Verly Root

THE SATURDAY HERALD YOUR SUNDAY PAPER

A NOVEL, ATTRACTIVE HOME FOR $3800.00

The above design is, in the opinion of the architects, the best type of home that can be constructed for the above sum. Close study to the floor plan will convince you that every inch of space has been utilized. The first floor is finished in birch and the second floor in yellow pine. The exterior color scheme is white stucco, with green trimmings and a dark red roof. If this house was built under the "unit system," about $300 on its cost could be saved. The house under contractors' estimates could be constructed in the city of Duluth, including hot water heat and plumbing, for $3,800.

Joseph Harmon TINSMITH

Any work in the line of roofing cornice, chimney tops, ventilation, sheet metal work, furnaces, etc., can safely be entrusted to Joseph Harmon, whose place of business is situated at the corner of Lake avenue and Second street. Mr. Harmon has been doing that kind of work for fifty-two years, having been in business in Duluth for over thirty years. During that time he has done some very large and extensive jobs, and he believes that his work is his best recommendation.

Mr. Harmon has some new and useful articles of his own invention that he intends to place before the public in a short time through the advertising columns of The Herald's Home Beautiful page. In next Saturday's issue he will advertise a chimney top that is entirely his own invention. Among other articles of his own invention that he will advertise later are heat regulators, automatic, adjustable and sanitary warm air registers, water fountains, and others. He claims that all these are entirely new and that every article will be first class, useful and up to date in every respect.

Mr. Harmon guarantees you a good clean job in everything he is entrusted to do. In addition to the different varieties of work herein mentioned, he can heat churches, schools and large public buildings by the fan system. You can also find him by calling at his shop or telephoning Grand 343-X.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The long-expected opening of the new music building took place Friday afternoon. A reception under the auspices of the music club was given to university students in the afternoon, which was followed by a continuous musical program 4 to 5:30 o'clock. The program consisted of selections by the men's and women's glee clubs, accomplished pianists and violinists, in addition to the ensemble music, which was a feature of the entertainment. After the concert light refreshments were served.

In order to give the girls on the main campus an opportunity to take the home economics course under favorable conditions, the home and education department of the women's club has decided to place before the legislature a request for funds to be used as an appropriation for a building of this sort on the main campus. At present only juniors and seniors in the academic college are allowed to take home economics, and for this instruction they must go to the agricultural campus. At present only six of the thousand or more girls in the academic college take this course.

ASSOCIATIONS ELECT.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27.—Choice of the 1916 convention city of the Minnesota Optometrists association was not made Thursday at the closing meeting of the convention. The matter was referred to the board of directors. The Minnesota Retail Jewelers' association will meet here again next year instead of going to St. Paul as had been anticipated.

Albert Meyer, secretary of the optometrists, was presented with a gold watch when he was re-elected secretary. W. H. Kindy of St. Paul was named president. Other officers are Paul C. Hirschy, Minneapolis, and H. T. Holverson, Alexandria, vice presidents; J. J. Dowd, Minneapolis, treasurer, and S. J. Pratt of St. Paul, chairman of the board of directors.

All of the officers and directors of the jewelers have ben re-elected as follows: President, Charles D. White, Minneapolis; secretary, E. M. Schwenke, New Richland; vice president, R. S. Swarthout, Pine Island; treasurer, D. W. Smith, Pipestone.

Thaw Trial Postponed.

AUTO SHOW BIG SUCCESS

Dealers Declare They Will Make It an Annual Event.

Many Sales Made During Week and "Prospects" Are Numerous.

Duluth's first automobile show was a notable success and will be an annual affair.

Local automobile dealers are most enthusiastic about the show and not only report a large number of sales during the week, but are of the opinion that they have laid the foundation for many more sales this coming spring. As this show was the first and a test, the dealers are all agreed that it has been successful throughout and that an automobile show is now an annual event. The attendance for the week, it is estimated, will be about 12,000.

Today is the last day and hundreds of range residents are here to attend the show. There will be special music tonight by Charles Helmer's orchestra. At 10:30 o'clock the show will come to a close.

Tomorrow the dealers will remove their cars and the 1915 automobile season will be on in full swing. Car shipments will be arriving regularly from now on and more new cars will be seen on the streets as the days pass by.

Considerable credit for the success of the show is due G. A. Maxson, chairman of the executive committee, and W. F. Daly, manager. The other dealers in charge were: Dr. J. D. Park, Carl Lovelace and J. W. Arnold, Jr., members of the executive committee.

CONCERT PROGRAM FOR AUTO SHOW

Charles Helmer, whose orchestra has been scoring a hit at the auto show in the concerts every evening, announced the following program for this evening:

March—"Rifle Regiment" ..... Sousa
Overture—"William Tell" ..... Rossini
Waltz—"June" ..... Baxter
Song—Selected .....
Jean Mack.
Selection—"Ziegfeld's Follies of 1914"
Selection—"Carcarole" from "Tales of Hoffman" ..... Offenbach
Waltz hezitation—"Dreaming" ..... Pulitzer
One-step—"High Cost of Loving" ..... Meyers

Many range residents, who attended the prize fight in Superior last night, are visiting the automobile show today, and it is estimated by the dealers that at least 150 people are here from the northern cities to inspect the 1915 machines on display.

MARKET DEPENDS ON GOOD ROADS

Postmaster McEwen in Speech at Auto Show Urges Improvements.

"If Duluth would become a great market for this territory," said Postmaster McEwen in addressing the large crowd at the Auditorium last night, "it must have good roads going in every direction from the center of the city."

Postmaster McEwen took the place of Governor Hammond at the automobile show, and his address on "Good Roads and Their Importance," was well received. Last night was Society night, and the largest crowd of the week was present at the show.

Mr. McEwen was introduced by E. J. Filiatrault, a member of the committee in charge of the show, following the first musical number of the evening.

Following Postmaster McEwen's address, song numbers were rendered by Jean Mack of the St. Louis and the trio of Holland entertainers.

GOT IDEA FOR A 'HORSELESS CARRIAGE'

Haynes Tells How He Got "Hunch" for First Automobile.

By Elwood Haynes,
President of the Haynes Automobile Company.

In 1890 I was identified with the Indiana Natural Gas & Oil company of Chicago, Ill., in the capacity of field superintendent. My work necessitated a great deal of driving and it occurred to me that some better means of locomotion over the highways than the horse and buggy might be produced.

I found that the great trouble with the horse was lack of endurance. I accordingly laid plans for the construction of a mechanically propelled vehicle for use on the highway. The use of a steam engine was first considered but I made no attempt to build a car of this description for the reason that a fire must be kept constantly burning on board, and with liquid fuel this would always be more or less of a menace.

I next considered electricity, but found that the lightest battery obtainable weighed over 1,200 pounds for a capacity of 12-horse hours, and as this showed little promise of success I gave it no further consideration and proceeded to consider the gasoline engine. Even the lightest engines made at that time were heavy per unit of power and rather crude in construction.

In the fall of 1892 I moved to Kokomo, Ind., and the following summer I had my plans sufficiently matured to begin the actual construction of the "horseless carriage."

I ordered a 1-horse power marine upright, two-cycle gasoline engine. This motor barely gave one brake horse power and wighed 180 pounds.

The little machine was built up in the form of a small truck. Its total weight when completed was 820 pounds.

July 4, 1894, when ready for test it was hauled into the country for three miles behind a horse and carriage and started on a level turnpike.

It moved off at once at a speed of about seven miles per hour and was driven about one and one-half miles further into the country. It was then turned about and ran all the way back to Kokomo without making a single stop.

I was convinced upon this return trip that there was a future for this "horseless carriage," although I did not at that time expect it to be so brilliant and imposing.

HEAVY SHIPMENT OF OLDSMOBILES

New York Agent Gets Forty-Two Carloads in One Consignment.

The manufacturers of the Oldsmobile are in receipt of their first spring trainload order for model-42 touring cars. An odd coincident is that the order, which originated with one of their distributors, H. Larson of New York city, calls for immediate shipment of not less than 120 cars and when loaded the cars will occupy forty-two freight cars—so there will be forty-two carloads of model-42.

This, they believe, augurs extreme prosperity for spring and indicates clearly that their light weight four (a faithful copy of the Oldsmobile big six on a somewhat smaller scale) will enjoy an overwhelming demand during 1915 and necessitate maintaining in their plans the increased production schedule which went into effect last August when the model-42 was launched.

C. H. Larson has been handling Oldsmobiles on Broadway, New York, for more than twelve years and is enjoying an increase in sales of more than 500 per cent this season over the corresponding months of last year.

URGE CONGRESS TO PASS MEASURE

Driver's License Should Be Good in All States, A. A. A. Declares.

Ford Times: Congress is being asked by a million and a half motor car users to pass the Adamson measure. The American Automobile association has taken the matter in hand, and the president of that association, John A. Wilson, with other friends, is laboring earnestly in Washington in the effort to have the government enact into national law the following:

"No person who shall have qualified by complying with the laws and regulations of the state, territory or district of his residence to use and operate such vehicle or vehicles shall be required in any other state, territory or district into which he may go for business or pleasure to make an additional registration or take out any additional license in order to use and operate any such machine."

Commenting upon the measure, the president of the American Automobile association remarks:

"The inference of the highest court that there should be a national law covering the subject should prompt our immediate attention to the matter, for it is certainly a most unusual situation when a citizen of the United States is not free to travel in any section of the country after he has provided himself with an identification number from his home state. The European countries, with different languages and different customs, have agreed upon an international plate of identity, and also an international triptych relating to customs duties. For instance, a motorist of France, after having obtained a home number—which incidentally allows him to operate a car in any part of France—then obtains in his own country an international plate which is acceptable in practically every other country in Europe, and he can cross and recross international boundary lines without any trouble whatever. Surely if European countries can agree in a matter of this sort, it does not seem reasonable that the several states of the Union and the capital district of the country should be unable to provide free and uninterrupted road travel. It is now generally recognized that a state must provide sturdier road construction because of the multiplying of a faster and more economic road vehicle. With a logical plan of Federal participation with the several states, a large percentage of highways expense of an interstate character properly would be transferred to the national government."

UP AND DOWN THE AISLES

The range was well represented at the show last night, among those in attendance being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trezona, Ely; Judge Bray, Ely; Capt. Trevilla, Hibbing; E. W. Bushman, Hibbing; E. W. Coons, Hibbing, and John Kleffman, Hibbing.

* * *

"Chalmers" night at the St. Louis after the show was a huge success and the supper party given by E. J. and L. Filiatrault is the talk of the show today. There were 125 in the party and following the supper, addresses were delivered by many present. E. J. Filiatrault presided and acted as toastmaster.

Many of the local dealers entertained at a stag party at the Holland last night, when the management staged its "automobile" night program. The affair was a huge success.

FORD CARS MAKE A HIT IN THE ANDES MOUNTAINS

An extraordinary story of the adventures and resourcefulness of a motor car dealer on the very edge of civilization is told by T. Hjorth Andersen, who has just established an agency for the Ford Motor company in the very heart of the Andes, South America.

Mr. Andersen lives in Cali—a town of about 16,000 people—in the department of Valle de Cauca, Colombia.

About a year ago Mr. Andersen, on a visit to this country, decided there was a market for Ford cars in that remote little clearing in the Andean wilderness. With this idea in mind, he took with him a Ford touring car. His trip led him by steamer from New York to Panama, where the car was shipped over the Panama railroad and again loaded upon a steamer in the Pacific.

The seaport town is Buena Ventura, and the journey into Cali is made, for the most part, by mule teams over some of the wildest and most dangerous passes of the Andes. There is no wharf or any way of landing at Buena Ventura. Consequently, it was necessary to take the Ford car off in a lighter and when the lighter reached the surf, to have the Ford carried through the surf by about thirty colored natives.

The body of the Ford was put on two long bamboo poles with a mule at each end. In some places the turn in the trail was so abrupt, with a sheer drop of about 2,000 feet over the precipice, that it was necessary to take the mules out and haul the body of the Ford around the perilous corners by hand.

The trip by mule-train from the coast in to Cali took three days and required the use of seven mules just to carry the various parts of the Ford.

In the heart of the Andes—in this little town of Cali—there are some five miles of road over which it is possible to motor. However, so great was the enthusiasm and delight of the inhabitants of Cali when they saw the Ford running over its streets, that Mr. Andersen immediately took orders and the entire purchase price for six more Fords. These Fords have already been shipped in over the Andes in the same perilous way as the Ford pioneer automobile.

The Ford populace of Cali, however, report that their Ford is the very first automobile that has ever been able to negotiate the terrific mountain roads of the Andes, and so great is their enthusiasm that they are already extending their roads and this will, no doubt, prove a very considerable motor car market in the near future—whatever have been the trials and perils of the pioneer motorist, Mr. Andersen.

AUTO MATERIALS REMAIN THE SAME

Big Strides Are Made Only in Building of Cars.

(By E. Ver Linden, Factory Manager of the Oldsmobile.

Aluminum, bronze, steel, iron, brass, wood, leather, hair, woven fabrics and glass, constituents of the earliest types of automobiles, are still in use, and, according to an authority on the subject, probably will continue to be used as long as motor cars are manufactured. Almost without exception the materials used in most present day cars are essentially the same as were used in the production of automobiles five years ago; heat treated and alloy steels and malleable castings of improved quality are noteworthy exceptions.

How to advance still further the art and technique of motor car building has become a problem more difficult of solution as the modern automobile approaches nearer and nearer to perfection.

Strides were made in recent years in improving the body designs and mechanical construction of motor cars, and the introduction of each added improvement has restricted the opportunities for further advancement in similar directions. Yet great improvements are still to be accomplished, and these will take the form of improvements in the quality of cars.

That automobiles manufacturers realize the race for supremacy will hinge ultimately upon workmanship is shown in the fact that a higher class of labor is being employed, that workmen who demonstrate their ability are being assured of permanent and congenial employment, and that production methods are being developed on a more scientific basis.

The importance of depending upon picked men of long experience is made plain on considering the thousands of separate operations required in building an automobile.

SCIENCE IN CONSTRUCTION.

Overland Company Employs Best Experts to Select Material.

With an output for 1915 exceeding even the 50,000 Overlands of last season, the Willys-Overland company of Toledo ranks second in the motor car industry as a consumer of raw materials. Thousands of tons of metal are annually converted into finished automobile parts at the enormous plant. And to protect itself and Overland owners, the company employs expert chemists to test carefully each batch of raw material delivered for use at the factory.

"It would matter little what care and attention were paid to the details of manufacture if the rough stock which enters into the car was not up to the standard specified by the engineers and designers of the car," remarks John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company. Mr. Willys is at present in Pasadena, where he intends to spend the remainder of the winter.

"A motor car is first made on paper through the combined efforts of the engineers," continues Mr. Willys. "These experts know exactly how large a piece of steel must be to withstand a certain strain, provided that the steel is composed of certain percentages of basic materials. So when they make their calculations, they base them upon steel containing a certain percentage of carbon, nickel, manganese, chromium and other elements."

EMPHASIZE THE MOTOR.

Endurance More Important Than Exterior, Says Chandler Official.

By C. A. Emise,
Vice President Chandler Motor Car Company.

In some respects the building of automobiles bear a startling resemblance to the clothing business. You may, for instance, pay $25 for a suit of readymade clothes that for perfect fit and general appearance has all the advantages of the suit for which a custom tailor would charge from $75 to $100. But the tale is not told until the record of service is complete.

Ninety-nine times in one hundred the suit from the shelf passes into the discard from a year to two years in advance of the tailor-made product. And the purchaser who bought the ready-to-wear article is frequently money out, because he failed to look beyond the mere exterior of things.

Because we believe the motoring public to be educated beyond this point in the selection of their motor cars, we have subordinated talk on the exterior selling points in our car for the more important features of the motor in our publicity of the past year. We have not only built a sale campaign on our motor, but have just finished the most successful year in our history through selling the power plant to every prospective customer.

The policy has worked out perfectly in every detail and we have found the great majority of prospects eager to learn more about the mechanical parts of the car which have been so touched upon by salesmen in recent years.

HUDSON SIX

7-Passenger Phaeton

3-Passenger Roadster

10,000 Owners Proved It Right

The Light Six, remember—the car of today—has upset many standards.

It means a new-type, high-speed motor.

It means new materials, lighter and stronger.

It means redesigning a thousand parts to save 1,000 pounds without sacrificing staunchness. The best of makers risk mistakes in revising old standards that way.

The HUDSON Six-40 is the one Light Six which has proved itself beyond question.

There are 5,000 last-year models running—5,000 this-year models. These 10,000 owners have driven them at least 25 million miles.

They have proved that the car is faultless. Ask any of them. With one accord these owners say, "HUDSON is my ideal car."

The HUDSON is the pioneer Light Six.

Its famous designer—Howard E. Coffin is the creator of this type. He has spent four years on this model, with the whole HUDSON engineering corps at work with him.

So you see in this car—not a first attempt—but the final refinement in the Light Six type.

You can see the result in the finish, the detail. You can see it in advanced equipment. You can see it in its record lightness.

But its chief appeal lies in the fact that the HUDSON is the proved-out car of its type. You know it is free from mistakes. You see in this car the Light Six as it will be.

And HUDSON service is the best in America. It is extreme in its protections. Every HUDSON owner knows that.

Racers on Their Way.

San Francisco, Feb. 27.—Thirty cars lined up at 10:30 o'clock this morning for the start of the Grand Prix automobile race on the course within the ground of the Panama-Pacific international exposition. Heavy clouds hung in the sky and though the weather had predicted a clear day, there were threats of rain.

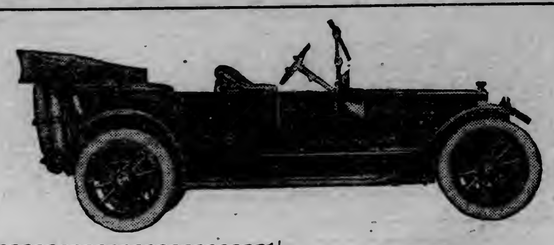

The distance of the race officially announced as 400.2856 miles, requiring 104 laps to complete it.

At 10:30 o'clock the starting signal was given by Starter Fred Wagner, and Cooper, No. 8; Ruckstell, No. 6; Newhouse, No. 15, shot out on the course. Fifteen seconds later Taylor, No. 29; Bragg, No. 14, and 30 later; Parsons, No. 24; Nikrent, No. 10, got off. The rest went in flights of three cars every fifteen seconds.

At the end of the tenth lap, Resta, No. 9, led. Time, 35:44. Ruckstell, No. 6, was second, 9 seconds behind. Following were Alley, No. 2; Hughes, No. 23; De Palma, No. 22; Rickenbacker, No. 17. Resta's average was sixty-eight miles an hour.

Early, Cooper was forced out of the race on the second lap by a broken connecting rod.

KISSELKAR AT SHOW AND ITS AGENT

ALL-YEAR KISSEL SOLVES PROBLEM

Takes Place of Sedan and Touring Car, Says Peacha.

"The fact that the sedan is not a suitable summer car has kept a great many people from buying them," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the Kissel Kar. "Many who could easily afford to own both a sedan for winter and touring car for summer have felt that the expense was excessive, not only as to first cost, but also in employing a coach builder twice a year to change the bodies.

"The Kissel all-year car has solved the problem. Here is a sedan with every comfort, refinement and luxury and an open touring car of the most advanced design—the two in one.

"The idea has been so well worked out that the most fastidious can find no fault with either the appearance or workability of the combination and the prices is not much more than for a touring car alone. It is so simple that experts have made the changes in less than five minutes. Two inexpert men can accomplish it in less than an hour.

"As a large majority of owners prefer to drive their own cars, the sedan is by far the most popular type of closed body and I believe the time will soon come when it will be in quite as general use as the open touring car.

"The sedan is essentially the ideal family car at least five months in the year. It is the car to drive to and from John's business and Mary's shopping with all the respect to the electric, which lacks the power and stamina that a car must have to cope with the elements in winter.

"Next year you will see the detachable sedan top more widely imitated than was the single compartment touring car, but it is doubtful if the beautiful Kissel all-year car can be improved upon."

JOSEPH T. PEACHA, JR., Agent for Kissel.

COLE EIGHT MEETS GREAT SUCCESS

New Model Creates Big Interest in All Cole Cars.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 29.—The announcement of the new Cole eight-cylinder car which came to the public as such a surprise, has created so much interest in the Cole line that C. P. Henderson, general sales manager of the company, has found it imperative to make a tour of the West.

"Since the Cole eight was announced," says Mr. Henderson, "we have received hundreds of letters regarding it. The interest in the car is intense. Our company has experienced a new sales record in connection with the recently announced bottles, not only in eights, but in the fours and sixes as well. We are doubling our production for February and will double it again for March, with the full expectation of keeping it at the maximum from that time on."

Mr. Henderson made his first stop in Minneapolis where he attended the Minneapolis show. From that city itinerary takes in Butte, Mont.; Spokane and Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Or., and then San Francisco.

In the latter city Mr. Henderson expects to close a distributors contract of some magnitude. It is said to involve the entire state of California. It is also said that a big deal embracing the Northwestern states may be consummated in the very near future.

HOSPITAL AT FACTORY.

Dodge Plant Declared to Be "Almost" Above Criticism.

Muckrakers on factory conditions will find little material to work on when visiting some of the big Detroit motor car plants. The fine twenty-acre factory of Dodge Brothers, in the northern suburbs of the city, is a striking case in point.

In addition to serve-self restaurants, rest rooms and other features provided for the comfort of the employes of the company, the visitor of Dodge Brothers' factory will find a completely equipped hospital in one of the big 600-foot buildings which make up the plant. In charge of an experienced physician is a suite of first-aid rooms which would do credit to many a small city. Finished in shining white enamel throughout, the Dodge hospital consists of an operating room, physicians' room, nurses' room and separate wards for men and women. Only in rare cases does the physician in charge deem it necessary to turn over any of his patients to city hospitals for further treatment, as he has the equipment and material necesary for all save exceptional cases.

Through the institution of an intelligent safety-first campaign and the safe-guarding of all dangerous machinery, Dodge Brothers have cut down accidents to the minimum in their factory. Safety-first signs with the familiar red circle in the center are posted in all sections of the plant, together with occasional pictures of an employe who failed to take ordinary care and lost a finger or thumb thereby.

SAYS BUYERS WILL BE DISCRIMINATING

Chalmers Declares First Cost Secondary to Repair Expense.

"If the year 1915 is to be marked by one tendency more than another in automobile buying, that one thing, I believe will be greater discrimination than ever before on the part of the automobile buying public," says Hugh Chalmers, president of the Chalmers Motor company.

"People these days are exercising better judgment in their selection of motor cars. They are far-sighted. They are choosing their cars on the basis of the economy they will secure in the long run—which, after all, is the logical way.

"The difference of a few dollars in first cost between one car and another is no longer the determining factor. Neither is the difference of a few dollars one way or the other in the cost of gasoline or oil during the course of the year. Even the slight saving that one car may show over another in the item of tire expense, no longer clinches the decision of a motor car buyer.

"It is the saving possible in repair expense that is the big, important saving. One way in which good design and good building evidence themselves is by cutting down repair expense. One reason why some cars are better than others is because they do not roll up big repair bills.

"So when I predict that this year will be remembered as a year of economy in the automobile industry, I do not mean to imply that people will buy lower-priced cars than they did before. First cost is only one phase of the question, and wise motor car buyers, when hesitating between two cars of almost equal price will buy the more expensive machine of the two providing that car can show better performance at a lower all-around cost of operation. To the argument advanced in favor of one car over another that it is economical in gasoline consumption, the best thing to do is to admit it—and add that in an entire season the entire saving of one 'light six,' for instance over another in gasoline is less than $26.

"Those, then, are the things that motor car buyers seek, because in these things are embodied true motor car economy. This year will be remembered as an economy year. By that I mean that it will be known as the year of the newer and saner way of judging economy."

ON TO CALIFORNIA IS THE SLOGAN NOW

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 27.—"On to California" seems to be the 1915 slogan for motorists in the United States and Canada. At least the reports from automobile manufacturers, who are receiving numerous inquiries from persons driving their particular make of automobile would indicate that transcontinental automobile touring will be heavy this season.

The owners are asking for information on the different routes, the condition of the highways, what equipment they should carry and any other information regarding the jaunt across the country that the manufacturers are in possession of.

EQUIPMENT OF 1915 MODELS IS COMPLETE

Efficiency and Cheapness Go Hand in Hand, Says Turner.

"Perhaps the most striking feature that is to be observed in the 1915 season models is the completeness of the cars connected with the low selling price," states M. W. Turner, distributor in this territory for the Haynes Automobile company, Kokomo, Ind. "Regular equipment on the leading cars includes many features that were formerly counted as extra equipment. Electric starting and lighting is taken as a matter of course. The automobile electric system is a complete city lighting plant on a small scale. It has its peak loads, and must have a reserve capacity for all emergencies. The speedometer is no longer driven from the front wheel, but from a rear gear on the propeller shaft where it is hidden and protected from the mud. The front wheel is kept free from grease.

"Both the foot brake and clutch pedals are adjustable to different heights. This represents a refinement that has long been needed. No standard position of fixed pedals will accommodate all drivers. The engagement of the starting motor with the engine in starting has always presented a problem difficult of solution. Trying to mesh a small pinion gear revolving at high speed with a gear on the fly wheel that is stationary at the start is not at all satisfactory under every condition likely to be encountered. The element of wear is a big factor. Using a chain and an overrunning clutch seems to be the most logical method because there are no gears to mesh, and but a single button need to be pushed to start the engine.

"The strapless tire carrier is a real convenience as well as a saver of tires. A gasoline gauge in the filler cap saves much time and labor in determining the amount of gasoline in the tank. A dimming device is a necessity for "safety first" principles. Connecting both head lamps in series gives the desired results with the least possible current consumption. No-glare Mazda lamps solve the problem of eliminating the glare when the lamps burn at full intensity. Clear running boards and a graceful stream-line body are the dictates of the most advanced design. Strapless one-man type tops make neater appearing cars. Instead of long straps or rods, the top is secured by ball socket joints on the top of the wind shield. Including a tire air pump as regular equipment is a decided advance. The tire pump is more of a necessity than a luxury."

TEN THOUSAND LIGHT HUDSONS IN USE

Reputation of the Maker Important in Buying a Car.

By Roy D. Chapin,
President Hudson Motor Car Co.

Ten thousand Hudson light cars are in the hands of users in forty-three different countries. Allowing 1,000 miles of travel for each car makes a total of 10,000,000 miles of travel for these 10,000 Hudson forties.

This, in brief, gives my ideas on how to select a motor car so as to insure a satisfactory purchase. In other words, consider motor car experience rather than motor car experiment. Theoretically, of course, one cannot gain experience without some person buying and trying the article in question, but practically this need not be considered by the purchaser of a motor car in the year 1915. It is the penalty of youth and inexperience that it must find itself in a more difficult position than does experience.

How the man, or the article, who possesses experience gains, need not be discussed. A lawyer with a fine suite of offices, or a distinguished looking physician who lives in a stately house has little weight with us as against professional men of tried and tested experience, who have given excellent satisfaction to many of our friends. The fact that untried men present some strikingly novel and unusual reason why we should patronize them has little weight.

So with a motor car. To insure satisfaction and the most profitable investment, look to the reputation of the maker of the car and to the record it has had in the hands of a sufficient number of users to establish a safe average. If you had 10,000 friends, each of whom owned a motor car, and if each one of these 10,000 told you that his car was the best he ever owned or drove, it would not take you very long to make a choice.

It would be quite impossible to convince you that all or even any considerable percentage of these men could be mistaken, or that they purposely would make a false statement.

STEADY STREAM OF TAXPAYERS

Rush to Escape Penalty on Personal Property Payments.

A steady stream of taxpayers poured into the county treasurer's office today, the last day allowed by law for the payment of personal property taxes without penalty. Several thousand dollars were taken in over the counter by County Treasurer Vivian and his assistants.

Out of the 9,288 personal property taxpayers in Duluth, it has been estimated that 2,000 pay a tax of 35 cents or less and that there are 3,000 who pay a tax of 50 cents or less.

WANT MILLER TO GO TO PHILIPPINES AGAIN.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Representative Clarence B. Miller is considering another trip to the Philippines. Several members, including Representative Young of North Dakota, want to go to the islands, and they have asked Mr. Miller to be their conductor. The trip is contingent upon the failure to pass the Philippine government bill, now pending in the senate. This seems likely, in view of the fact that congress ends next Thursday.

FOOD SITUATION IS BETTER IN MEXICO CITY

Washington, Feb. 27.—Gen. Carranza's agency here today announced receipt of a report from Vera Cruz saying "the food situation in Mexico City is better and food supplies are being received from various sources and distributed among the poor.

"Villa and Zapata factions," it added, "are reported fighting at Cuernavaca. Carranza forces defeated the enemy at Tacuba, near Mexico City, yesterday."

AUTO TO REPLACE THE STREET CAR.

"Even as the horse street railway service gave way to the electric car service, so the electric street railway service will in a great measure give way to the automobile," says H. H. Franklin, president of the Franklin Automobile company.

Continuing, Mr. Franklin said: "As crude as may be the jitney automobile bus service which is taking the cities of the country by storm, it is the beginning of a great and radical change in transportation. Fight it as they may, the street railway interests cannot stop the growth of the jitney service.

"The service has come to stay and the rapid development of public automobile transportation during the next five years will be another wonder in the marvelous progress of the automobile.

"While, at the present time, the jitney bus is any old automobile, it will not be long before cars beautifully adapted to the service will appear.

"The service will not be confined to cities. It will eventually cover the country from city to village and village to city, as on the interurban railways.

The development of the jitney service cannot be stopped because it is going to be quicker, more convenient, and in the long run cheaper."

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

SUNDAY FOR OLD TIMERS

Evangelist Says the Players of Long Ago Were Real Stars.

When it comes to pitching, says Billy Sunday, you can't show me any men today who are better than Clarkson was, or Jim McCormick or Charlie Ferguson, or Amos Rusie, or Bobby Matthews, or Jim Galvin, or Theodore Breitenstein, or Ed. Morris, or Matt Kilroy. Why, the fans raved over "Rube" Waddell. But Breitenstein was the Waddell of another generation. Amos Rusie had as much speed as any pitcher that ever lived. Actually, he had as much speed on his curve ball as he had on his fast one. Tim Keefe was a wizard. He was the first man to develop the slow ball; that is, he developed the motion, so that when he pitched a batsman could never tell whether he was going to pitch a fast ball or a floater. He had such a deceptive motion that I have seen Cap Anson strike at Keefe's floater before the ball was up to the plate. Others had the slow ball in those days, but Tim Keefe could fool the best batsman that ever stood up to the plate.

Galvin Great Pitcher.

One of the best twirlers that ever looked a batsman in the eye and never flinched was old Jim Galvin. Galvin had a motion that might be called a balk in these days. A base runner couldn't get far off a base when Galvin was pitching or Jimmy would pot him before he could think of getting back to the sack.

There certainly were some wonderful pitchers in those days. Jim McCormick was one of the hardest pitchers in the world to hit. He had a ball like Al Orth. When the batsmen hit it the ball would go sailing into the air. Why, for two years straight McCormick and John Clarkson pitched Chicago into the championship. Think of that, and then compare them with the big staff of twirlers a club has nowadays.

Clarkson Terror to Giants.

Clarkson was a terror to the Giants, and McCormick was easy for them. On the other hand, McCormick could make the Detroit team, which had such famous sluggers as Brouthers, White, Richardson, Rowe, Sam Thompson and others eat out of his hand. I have seen Clarkson pitch in three games in one series of four against the Giants and I have seen McCormick pitch in three games out of four against the Detroit sluggers, and Jim won every one of them. Old Ed. Delehanty was a wonderful player. But what's the use? There are great players in these days, and there were wonders in the old days. The game doesn't develop better players now than it had when I was playing. What it does is to make them think quicker and work better together, and it compels them to live up to stricter rules so that they conserve their energy and can play longer, and when they are through they have something stored up for the rainy day.

Pell Wins Title.

New York, Feb. 27.—Clarence C. Pell of Tuxedo won the national amateur racquet championship here today by defeating Lawrence Waterbury, who won the title last year, three games to one in the final match of the tournament at the racquet and tennis club. The scores: 15-13; 9-15; 15-1; 15-7.

PROBABLY STRUCK A FLOATING MINE

Washington, Feb. 27.—The first report of Commander Gherardi, naval attache at Berlin on the sinking of the American cotton steamer Evelyn by a mine in the North sea, received here today indicates that the ship was not off her course as was suggested, and was in fact, in waters where she should have been safe.

By comparing the Evelyn's position in latitude and longitude and by studying maps and a comparison with the German admiralty's directions, naval officers are of the opinion that the Evelyn was about twenty miles off the north coast of Holland and twenty-five miles northwest of Borkum island. The German war zone decree placed a strip thirty miles along the Dutch coast in the safety zone. The German embassy several days ago, giving directions for shipping, announced that "merchant vessels bound for the Ems should make directly for its mouth."

The Evelyn apparently was only a short distance to the northwest of the mouth of the river when she sank in about seventeen fathoms of water. In the opinion of naval officers here the Evelyn probably struck a mine which had broken loose from its moorings somewhere along the German coast and which was floating toward the coast of Holland, where, according to reports, numerous mines have been found on the shores.

COUNTY OPTION BILL IS DELAYED

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The absence from St. Paul of Governor Hammond precludes the possibility of the county option bill being signed before Monday. The governor is at his old home in St. James.

In the meantime the bill awaits the signatures of Speaker Frowyss and Chief Clerk Arneson before going to the chief executive. It is expected they will have the bill before him when he returns on Monday. It is practically certain he will sign it.

WORK HELD UP.

New Law Relating to Foreign Labor Hits Subway Operations.

New York, Feb. 27.—Work on New York City's new subway was halted in some instances today and proceeded with diminished forces of workmen in others because of the decision Thursday of the state court of appeals upholding the labor law forbidding the employment of aliens on public work.

It is considered very doubtful if Americans can be obtained to replace alien workmen, although there are thousands of unemployed persons in the city. The rough nature of the work, rather than wages, was said to be the chief objection of American workmen.

TWO CHICAGO BOYS ARRESTED IN RACINE.

Racine, Wis., Feb. 27.—Ernest Medford and John Mier, giving their ages as 17 years and their homes as in Chicago, were arrested here last night on the charge of entering two prominent homes and stealing jewelry and silverware valued at $1,500. The boys readily confessed when taken into custody and informed the police where the loot was hidden. They said they had been in Racine several days to plan a campaign of burglary. The valuables with the exception of one diamond ring have been recovered.

CORRESPONDENTS TO GO TO BRITISH FRONT.

London, Feb. 27.—Six newspaper correspondents are to leave London next Monday morning for the British front. They are going out under the auspices of the British war office. Among them is one American. This will be the first time newspaper men are permitted to visit the British lines. The same six men went to the French lines some weeks ago.

There are in all eighteen correspondents credited to the British war office. They will go to the front in detachments of six each, the second group starting when the first returns, and the third following the second.

TWO AVIATORS TAKEN FROM THE NORTH SEA.

Lowestoft, England, Feb. 27, via London.—Two German aviators, who for two days have been clinging to their machines in the North sea, were landed here today by the British trawler which rescued them. The Germans met with their accident while attempting to fly from Ostend to England last Sunday. Both of them were handed over to the naval authorities.

WITH tonight's performance at the Orpheum theater that playhouse will close for an indefinite period. The future of the Orpheum theater is a subject of much interest to Duluth theatergoers. During the time it has been running in Duluth it has been moderately successful. It made money in at least two seasons, and in two seasons is believed to have about "broken even." One factor which is believed to have militated against the theater is the fact that some of the "big acts" were not booked here. Some few acts like Sarah Bernhardt, and Gertrude Hoffman's dance review were booked for a limited engagement of perhaps twenty weeks. Naturally the circuit gave the biggest cities the preference, for more money was made there than cities like Duluth could hope to earn with a theater of smaller capacity. The impression spread that Duluth was not getting the full Orpheum shows, although this impression was not well founded, with the above exception, until the present season.

The change in policy last fall failed to bring hoped for results, and the attendance dwindled despite the fact that better acts were booked after the reduction than before.

The future policy is very much in doubt, but there is a well defined rumor that the theater will be reopened on Easter Sunday with the full seven-act Orpheum shows again, and the old scale of prices, and that the circuit will make an effort to reestablish itself here by giving Duluth the biggest acts it has booked. It is also possible that this plan of action will be postponed until late in the summer, and that the theater will remain dark until then.

Granville Barker, who came widely heralded to New York, seems to be finding rather rough going. Some of the New York critics are not inclined to take Mr. Barker and his methods as seriously as they were a few weeks ago, and in fact some of the recent criticisms of his work have a decided undertone of ridicule.

Days when the minstrels marched along the street to the stirring music of the band, and halted in front of the theater for the "big free concert" were recalled to Duluthians by the presence here this week of George Wilson, better known as "Waltz Me Again Wilson," who is headlining the Grand bill. Wilson was the peer of any of the old-time minstrels. He is one of the few remaining figures of those "good old days." Lovers of old-time minstrelsy are about as numerous as lovers of the circus. One or two a season were sufficient, as a relish to the regular theatrical diet, but the relish seems to have been banished from the modern bill of fare. May George's joints never grow stiff.

Down in Atlanta they objected to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" being produced by Walter G. Baldwin, and the name of the play was changed. Mr. Baldwin, who has an experience in stock second to none, has a theory that it is necessary to change the diet of his patrons every few weeks, and that an old-fashioned play is necessary every few weeks. His theory is that it not only makes his patrons appreciate the new plays, but that there are thousands who want to see the old plays occasionally and that their tastes should be considered. The Baldwins may put on "Uncle Tom" in Duluth during the coming spring. It will be interesting to watch the working out of Mr. Baldwin's theory.

Year after year dramatic critics make themselves unpleasant by proclaiming the superiority of foreign-made drama, by exhorting the American dramatist to cultivate more solidity of thought and more sense of style. And year after year the American dramatist fails to respond. Why is it? Is it because the best minds in this country do not go into the theater? One of the most distinguished of living British dramatists, who was in New York this past autumn, said to me one day, "If I were 30, with my life to live over again, I should not become a dramatist, but a novelist. I should not again undergo the humiliations and restrictions which our theater, as now conducted, imposes." If that is true of England how much more forcibly it is true of the United States, where our playhouses are not conducted by actor-managers, like Tree and Wyndham and Alexander, but by graduate ushers, water boys and the like! Yet the born dramatist will generally struggle up and through any environment, however hostile. Probably we ourselves are more to blame than anyone. We do not demand solidity of thought or sense of style. We as cheerfully accept any substitutes for these qualities as we accept the qualities themselves in the imported dramas. Truth to tell, the American theatergoer, by and large, has not yet developed taste.

A deluge of war plays is threatened, according to a New York writer who has the following to say:

It will not be very surprising if before long we have an avalanche of war plays, for after one or two plays of a certain type are produced it is the custom for both playwrights and managers to help the good cause along until we are surfeited. So far we have had two war plays, the last one being "Inside the Lines," which is now at the Longacre theater. "The White Feather" started the vogue the week before. "Inside the Lines" is by Earl Derr Biggers, author of the story from which "Seven Keys to Baldpate" was constructed. On this account the opening performance aroused more than usual interest. Mr. Biggers' play started wonderfully well, with all sorts of suspense, which it maintained. The end, however, was not consistent with the main character, who had carefully led us to believe all along that he was a German spy, only to reveal himself finally as a British spy. There was no danger of offending anyone in the audience, because the victim of the plot and the one punished was an East Indian who was endeavoring to blow up the British fleet in the harbor off Gibraltar.

SCENE FROM "TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY,"
Which Will Be Played at Lyceum All Next Week By the Baldwin Players.

FIGMAN AT ZELDA.

Star Players Will Appear in Their Greatest Success.

Max Figman in his latest success, "The Truth Wagon," will open a three-day engagement at the Zelda theater Monday. He is supported by Lolita Robertson in this five-act drama.

The management of the Zelda is presenting the great stars in motion pictures. After the engagement of Max Figman, Mr. Mistachkin will present Clara Kimball Young in "The Deep Purple" Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A comedy, a song by Miss Jones and music by Mr. Dixon, are given in addition to the feature film.

"The Truth Wagon," as Mr. Figman's production is called, is a pretty story of John Ross, who is the idle son of a rich father. Because of his pranks and idleness he is continually bombarded with the question, "Why don't you tell the truth and go to work?" "Helen Dean," the leading lady in question, comes into his life, and weaves a net around his heart. The story becomes very exciting in the second and third acts. "The Deep Purple" will be at the Zelda Thursday, Friday and Saturday in six complete performances daily. The first performance will commence at 12 o'clock sharp. The theater will open at 11:30, and a comedy will take the first place on the program. The same will be done with all features, commencing with Max Figman. Clara Kimball Young makes a great impression on the spectators with her clever art. "The Deep Purple" is full of action and arrests and retains attention from beginning to end. The story concerns the doings of a set of people who are types to be met with in every-day life, and here the mirrors are held up to nature.

WHAT PRESS AGENTS PROMISE FOR DULUTH THEATERS

"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"

Baldwin Players in Dramatization of Well Known Novel.

With tonight's performance the Baldwin Players will bring to a close a very successful week's engagement in "Hawthorne of the U. S. A."

Despite the fact that it is the first week of Lent, the attendance during the week has been fully up to the mark. The presence of the new leading woman, Miss Doris Olsson, and the fact that the play had never before been seen in Duluth stimulated interest. The closing performance of "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." will be given tonight, and Sunday afternoon the company will open in "Tess of the Storm Country."

"Tess of the Storm Country" will differ widely from the present week's offering. Whereas the scene of the latter is laid in a mythical kingdom in Europe, the scene of the new play is laid in the Lake Champlain country in New York state. The story deals with the squatters on the shores of the lake, who are said to be low in the moral scale, and who make their living in the easiest way possible, hard work being their last resort. In this setting is Tess, a young child of the forest. Such a part will give Miss Olsson, the new leading woman, an excellent opportunity to show her abilities. Tess is a "woman's play" as the current attraction is a "man's play," and the title role is a most interesting one for an actress.

Homer Barton will be seen in the part of a young minister.

The play is adapted from the book of the same name which has been one of the "best sellers." It has never been seen in Duluth, and Mr. Baldwin is planning to give it an elaborate setting.

The story of the play is as follows: The scenes are laid among the squatters on the shores of Lake Cayuga, New York, where the people are poor and of low moral standing, careless of habit and mostly trying to make a living by means other than hard work. Here dwells in a squatter's cabin, Oron Skinner and his daughter, Tessibel, commonly called Tess. The father is a fisherman and the daughter grows up a wild child of the forest without education or refining influences.

In the neighborhood lives a wealthy land owner whose daughter Teola, loves a game warden, and whose only son has become a minister of the gospel. Ben Letts, who is netting fish contrary to the law, is caught by the warden and Letts kills him just on the eve of his marriage to Teola. A child is born to Teola in a secluded cabin, where she is found by Tess, who to save the rich man's daughter from shame claims the child as her own. The father of Tess has been accused of the murder and taken to prison. The young minister is attracted by the wild beauty of Tess, and believing in her goodness under the rough exterior, he hires a lawyer to defend her father and becomes her staunch friend.

A half witted fisherman who witnessed the murder, finally tells the minister it was Ben Letts who committed the crime, and the father of Tess is released from prison as the real murderer is apprehended. Tess asks the minister to baptize the child and he, thinking it is hers, refuses. He finally consents to do so and asks the child's name. Tess does not know and he tells her he cannot proceed with the ceremony. At this point the sister, who is present, breaks down and confesses that the child is hers. Then real happiness begins for Tess, and with her father freed of the murder charge and with the protecting love of the minister, she enters on a new life.

PEER OF MINSTRELS DRAWS THE CROWDS

Grand Bill Well Rounded; Many Good Features Next Week.

The present bill at the New Grand has proved to be one of the best drawing cards of the season at that popular playhouse. Capacity houses have been on hand at nearly every performance to enjoy the excellent array of talent provided by the management.

Heading the bill is the old favorite, George Wilson, premier blackface comedian, and the peer of the old-time minstrels. George seems to grow better from year to year, and he comes to us this time with a fund of new jokes and a repertoire of parodies that are side-splitting.

Campbell and Brady are jugglers of the novelty type and comedians of extraordinary ability. They juggle everything from eggs to tables and chairs, and inject just enough comedy into their offering to make it go big.

Le Roy and Cahill, singers, dancers and comedians, offer a diversion in their line with a lot of witty chatter and some good songs. Both have excellent voices and are clever dancers.

One of the big hits of the bill is the Marriot Troupe. Six men and two girls comprise the troupe, and their cycle work is new. An especially thrilling finish is obtained by introducing a monoplane with a young lady riding the propeller while revolving at lightning speed.

The Hearst-Selig News contains views of events from all over the world, including some particularly interesting war scenes.

A two-reel feature, "Dwellers in Glass Houses;" one of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Escape of the Fast Freight," and a comedy, "Sophie's Fatal Wedding," are among the photoplays.

Commencing Monday matinee, the bill will change entirely. A novelty that is rarely seen is King and Brown, comedy monopede acrobats. With but a pair of legs between them, these clever athletes perform many daring and thrilling feats.

Rooney and Bowman, two stunning and handsomely gowned young women, offer a singing and dancing diversion with changes.

Tiny May, said to be the smallest elephant in the world, is the feature of a miniature circus of performing animals.

The De Michael Brothers, Italian musicians and comedians, use the violin and harp in offering a repertoire of classic and popular numbers.

"The Attorney for the Defense" is a thrilling story with plenty of action and heart interest in three reels. "Bud, Bill and the Waiter," a comedy; a drama, "The Call of Her Child," and a scenic film, "Mount St. Michael," complete the program.

NEW MUSICAL PLAY AT THE EMPRESS

Manhattan Opera Company Will Present "The Telephone Girl."

For its third week at the New Empress theater the Manhattan Opera company will present "The Telephone Girl," one of the former musical comedy successes of the East, in which Louis Mann, the famous character actor, starred for two seasons. The new show will open tomorrow afternoon.

The company at the New Empress theater is gaining in favor.

A distinct feature of the company is that all the principals have pleasing voices and that the musical numbers are rendered with considerable grace and finish. The chorus is well trained.

For "The Telephone Girl" the management has brought a new set of costumes for the principals and chorus, and a well-finished production is promised.

The plot of "The Telephone Girl" contains many humorous lines and ludicrous situations. For its principal character it has Hans Nix, the repairer of telephones, played in the original production by Mr. Mann.

Estelle CooCoo, the telephone girl, falls in love with Dick Marvel, a young stock broker, who returns her love, and the two become engaged.

While working at the telephone, Estelle connects a call for Beauty Fairfax, an actress occupying smart apartments in the uptown residence section of New York city. She immediately suspects that Dick is making an engagement with the actress, and she becomes furious. Later she breaks in on a call from Miss Fairfax, who inquires for a maid. Estelle answers the call and says that she will send an applicant immediately, deciding, of course, to apply for the position herself.

Of course, this is where the complications begin, especially when Hans Nix appears to fix the telephone. Hans falls in love with the actress and a lively time follows, while the German endeavors to win her love.

In the last act Estelle discovers that Miss Fairfax had been married all the time. Estelle is ready to forgive Dick and everything ends happily for all concerned.

During the action of the play Beauty's parents appear from their farm upstate, and they, too, help liven things up a bit at the home of their daughter. It is during the second act that Miss Clara Thropp, who will play the role of Samantha Fairfax, introduces the dancing novelty, "The Reuben Tango Husking Bee," originated by Hudson Freeborn, director of the company. In addition Mr. Freeborn and Miss Eleanor Mascotte will introduce the fox trot.

The role of Estelle will be played by Miss Mabel Day, prima donna, while Mr. Freeborn will appear as Dick Marver, the stock broker. The part of Hans Nix has been assigned to James McElhearn, who played the role in the East. Mr. McElhearn is best in a comedy part and many Duluthians will remember him in one of the comedy roles of "The Gingerbread Man" and of "Sergeant Kitty." Miss Hazel Kingdon will play Beauty Fairfax, the actress.

"The Telephone Girl" has a long list of tuneful songs and these will be presented in addition to several late hits.

The Manhattan players will present "The Telephone Girl" all of next week, with regular matinees Sunday, Tuesday and Saturday afternoons. The following week the company will present "The Talk of New York," a sequel to "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," written by George Cohan and presenting "Kid" Burns in a new vehicle.

AT THE REX.

Cyrus Brady Play and Gaby Deslys Will Be Seen.

"The Little Angel of Canyon Creek" is a story out of the beaten path. Cyrus Brady, L.L. D., wrote the play and the army directing and arrangements were all taken care of by Col. Jaspar Erwing Brady, late of the United States army. The entire story is highly dramatic, and its thrills are more of the heart than of the spinal column. The far-reaching influence of a child is the main motive of the drama, which will be shown at the Rex Monday and Tuesday.

Gaby Deslys, famous French beauty and dancer and her one-time dancing partner, Harry Pilcer, will furnish entertainment Wednesday and Thursday. The famous Gaby is too well known the world over to need any heralding. The story in which Gaby stars is an original one of the theater and written especially for her to display to the utmost advantage the dances which have won such triumphs on the stage. The play was produced in Gaby's native country, France, and with a strong support of French actors. To millions of people throughout the country, who have read in the daily newspapers of Gaby's stage achievements, an opportunity has now come where she can be seen at her very best, as the screen affords her an opportunity to prove that she can act as well as dance.

"The Love Route," Daniel Frohman's romance of the ranch and railroad, is a route well worth seeing. If one has already followed the trail, there will be a world of pleasure in looking back over it. If one has yet to travel the route, a great deal of experience may be gleaned from seeing the play which will be at the Rex Friday and Saturday.

Rex Beautiful will soon have travel pictures. The Paramount Picture corporation has just sent an expedition to South America with four expert camera men to take pictures of that remarkable country. The members of the party sailed Jan. 21 on the S. S. Kroonland of the Red Star line. Also on board the Kroonland are Roger Babson of the Babson Statistical bureau and a party of 270 prominent American business men, who are making the trip to study commercial conditions. The Rex theater is the only place in the city where one can see Paramount pictures.

FANTASMA AT SUNBEAM.

Fairy Version of Faust and Marguerite in Films.

For today only the Sunbeam theater manager presents the Hanlon Bros.' famous spectacle, "Fantasma," in five parts, with George Hanlon, Jr., in the role of Pico.

Old age, with all its infirmities, finds solace in recollections of childhood and those delightful stories of the brothers Grimm, Hans Anderson, and even of old Mother Goose, are enjoyed at any stage of one's experience. In producing "Fantasma," a most pleasing fantasy, the Edison company believes that it is offering a subject that will be relished, not only by the younger generation, but by "children of a larger growth" as well. A large part of the American public is familiar with "Fantasma." "Fantasma" is a fairy version of Faust and Marguerite.

For Sunday the vitagraph photoplay masterpiece, "A Million Bid," will be the attraction. This film production has played to 250 capacity houses on Broadway, in New York, a record for any consecutive run in motion pictures. In this five-reel film play Anita Stewart portrays the leading role and the Chicago Tribune say that her work in this picture is her greatest accomplishment. On Wednesday and Thursday, Maurice Costello, one of the leading players in the realm of motion pictures, will be seen with an all-star vitagraph cast in the "Evil Men Do."

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

There is a well-defined and seemingly authenticated rumor abroad that George Tyler, the well-known theatrical man, who was the real executive head of the defunct theatrical firm of Liebler & Co., will, in the near future, be identified with Klaw & Erlanger. It is said that he will be a member of the stage directing staff.

* * *

The burlesquers are getting busy again with this season's crop of successful plays. "Twin Beds" will be turned into an affair called "Tin Beds," and "Kick In" will be seen as "Kick Out."

* * *

According to present plans there will be no one-night stands for the Brady attractions next season. It is said that nothing but week stands are being booked by his office at the present for the coming theatrical year.

* * *

Ina Claire and Maurice Farkoa are reported to have formed a team for the two-a-days.

* * *

Charlotte Walker has a new sketch which she is presenting in vaudeville. It is said to be a sort of fairy play, but the author is not her husband, Eugene Walker.

* * *

Albert de Courville has secured the English rights to "Twin Beds" and "The Show Shop." De Courville is the manager of the London Hippodrome, and has spent a couple of weeks on this side of the water looking over the crop of this season's American successes.

* * *

Charles Frohman has secured the American rights to "Kings and Queens," which is at present playing successfully in London.

* * *

Johnny Ford is denying the report that he and his former wife, Mayme Gehrue, will again join forces for a vaudeville stunt. Ford is at present doing a single in the two-a-days, and is said to be perfectly satisfied with the results.

* * *

Minnie Dupree has asked Edward Childs Carpenter to stretch her present vaudeville sketch, "Bread Upon the Waters," of which he is the author, into a regular three-act play.

* * *

Jack Lait has written a sketch for Nat Goodwin, which the latter will use in vaudeville as soon as he has completed his tour in "Never Say Die."

* * *

* * *

According to the latest reports the Shuberts intend to convert the Hippodrome into a house for big revues, thus making it a sort of second winter garden.

* * *

George Anderson is planning to star his wife, Fritzi Scheff, who was last identified with "Pretty Mrs. Smith," deceased, in a musical revue which is to play the Pacific coast immediately after the big exposition at San Francisco.

* * *

Eugene Walter's play, "A Plain Woman," may again be given a trial next season by Al H. Woods.

* * *

Virginia Pearson, who succeeded Mme. Dorziat in the leading feminine role of "The Hawk," has now herself been superseded by Emelie Polini.

* * *

The proposed revival of "Mr. Wu" with Walker Whitesides, has been called off.

* * *

Broadway says that "Half a Bride," which was to have been Grace George's vehicle, will serve in a like capacity for Jane Cowl.

* * *

A dramatization of Jack London's stirring novel, "The Sea Wolf," is soon to be produced. The adaptation was taken care of by Guy Bolton and Joseph Noel. It is said that Holbrook Blinn has been offered the title role.

* * *

"The Girl From Utah" will play a return engagement in New York after it closes its run in the Windy City.

* * *

Comstock and Gest have a new production in view, she same being an operetta, entitled "Baron de Gink." It is an adaptation of last season's Vienna success, "Der Jux Baron."

* * *

Nazimova, now that she has had a good taste of the two-a-days, likes her new surroundings so well that she will remain there for the remainder of the present season and part of the next. It is said that she is to have a new play by the Hindu poet, Tagore, who was awarded one of the Nobel prizes.

* * *

After Mary Garden's present European trip she will take a flyer in vaudeville.

* * *

Lou-Tellegen, the romantic Greek-Dutch-French actor, who was formerly Mme. Sarah Bernhardt's leading man, will begin rehearsals this week in "A Charming Fellow," a three-act farce, the American rights for which were secured by Lee Shubert during his annual playseeking quest abroad last spring. As "Ein Reigender Mensch" this play proved the biggest success of the 1913-14 season in Vienna, where it ran for nine months continuously. "A Charming Fellow" is from the pen of Paul Frank and Siegfried Geyer. Lou-Tellegen will be supported by a noteworthy company of well known artists in this production.

* * *

Emmanuel Reicher will make his first appearance on the American stage in "John Gabriel Borkman," by Ibsen, which is to follow the production of "Elga," by Hauptman, by the Modern Stage, at the Garrick theater, New York.

REPORTED EXECUTED IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—That Dietloff S. Pottgieter, graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and one of the best known foreign students who ever attended the Badger institution, has been executed in South Africa, his home, as a result of a court martial, is the substance of a report received here.

Although no details have been learned, the story is generally believed, as it was known here some time ago that Pottgieter was arrested in his native land after he refused to enlist in the army.

It is said he was drafted for service to quell a rebellion. The story has it that he was arrested, thrown into prison and subsequently executed. Another version is that Pottgieter was actively connected with the rebellion and met summary death when captured.

Practically every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

HELPING HARASSED BUSINESS MEN

Y. M. C. A. Employment Department Studies Applicants for Jobs and Some Business Houses Looking Up Back History, Ability, Experience and Other Points When Needing to Fill Positions.

Having in mind the fact that conservation of time is becoming more and more the all-dominant factor in business and that this slave-driver of the business man is demanding more and more, as time goes on, the Y. M. C. A. employment and vocational department, through its secretary, S. W. Harris, has inaugurated a system of finding employes for the business houses of the city that will obtain "just the man needed," with no further effort on the part of the business manager seeking an employe for a certain place than the mere acceptance. The service is free to both employer and applicant.

The idea has been broached to most of the business houses of Duluth, and in almost every instance, the harried business man, after inspecting it and learning its methods and purposes, has welcomed the plan with open arms, heaved a sigh of relief and has turned his employment troubles over to Mr. Harris. The latter being something over six and a half feet high, broad in proportion, young, sturdy and energetic, doesn't even bother with the sigh, but proceeds to work his plan, which he does "just as easy."

The plan, which is in force in three Eastern, one or two Middle Western and in several Pacific coast cities, is simple, but it takes off the employer's shoulders a burden in the way of inquiry from reference furnished, and the energy wasted in worrying as to whether or not the man is fit, that bids fair to prove a boon to those who must have help, no matter whether or not that desired employe is a superintendent, an accountant, a stenographer or almost anything else. The gist of the plan is simply this:

Plan in Brief.

Numerous men apply to Secretary Harris for positions of various kinds. These are required to fill out blanks in which they have to furnish information concerning themselves, as to whether married or single, nationality, personal description, place and date of birth, habits, defects, duration of local residence, education, position desired or most conversant with, names of schools attended and when, former employers, teachers, friends, other than relatives, and other things.

Blanks are then sent to former employers, friends and teachers mentioned, in which questions as to character, ability, personality, weak points, habits, etc., are asked. Even a physical examination is furnished if it is thought advisable.

In short, by the time the employment department of the "Y" gets through with an applicant for a position there is little concerning him that is not known, and a pretty good general "sizing up" can be obtained. Mr. Harris, who has paid a good deal of attention to character study in his work in employing men, both as an employer and in conducting employment departments, usually has the man rather well classified before the returns begin to come in, and declares that he seldom finds himself wrong.

S. W. HARRIS.

As to the employer's part: In case one calls up Mr. Harris and tells the latter that a man is wanted to superintend, for instance, a shipping department, a glance over the files will inform the secretary whether he has such a man's application on file. If he has he will say so and can tell the inquiring employer whether or not the man is the kind that will fit in the open place. Among the employers who have tried the plan so far, the usual reply to such assurance is, in a more satisfied way than formerly:

"All right, send him along."

Mr. Harris declares that since he has started this system, he has yet to find a case where his recommendation proved faulty; and adds that there are so many sources of information tapped concerning the applicant that it is rather a hard matter to fail to detect where the "fall down" is possible.

Causes of Failure.

In a letter which Secretary Harris has just been sending out to the business men of the city, informing them of his plan, he gives an interesting statement from Bradstreet's reports concerning the causes of failure, chief among which is claimed to be inefficient help. The statement is as follows:

"Speculation causes less than 1 per cent of the failures; extravagance less than 1 per cent; competition less than 3 per cent; lack of capital less than 14 per cent; but the big stumbling block is human help, which is responsible for 88 per cent of the failures."

Using that rather startling statements as a prelude, Mr. Harris, in this letter to employers adds:

"As an employer of men, you have time and again been embarrassed by the difficulty of finding "the right man for the job." If it were possible for an employer to order human material, according to exact specifications, as he does lumber, iron or steel, the greatest problem in modern business would be solved.

"The majority of progressive employers have adopted the most detailed systems for the mechanical features of their business, but few have definite, adequate methods for securing and adapting suitable men for their organization. The 'hit or miss,' 'hire and fire' way is still the prevailing rule. The financial losses which result from this failure to get the right man for the right job are enormous and are annual charges on the wrong side of the ledger.

"These figures prove that this is the biggest problem which you, as an employer, have to deal with. In view of these facts, I think you will agree that the information which we secure on the enclosed form of application, and from former employers, would enable you to select your employes with a much higher degree of certainty as to their efficiency and fitness.

"We specialize in commercial, technical and clerical positions of all grades. Men with large experience, with the highest training and fitted for positions of responsibility, can be introduced by us, as well as the younger and less experienced men. All of these men have the varied opportunities of the Y. M. C. A. to increase their efficiency in body, mind and character, thus developing the qualities which makethem desirable employes.

"In the last six months this department has interviewed over 900 different men, including the highest types from practically every commercial and industrial field. In spite of the abnormal conditions, we have, during this time, filled 183 positions."

FIRST SHIP THAT EVER SAILED GREAT LAKES

Belief That the Griffon, Light Craft Built By La Salle, Was Sunk at Saginaw and That Parts of Ship Dug Up By Dredges in 1913 Came From It.

Saginaw, Mich., Courier: That the Griffon, the first sailing boat that ever sailed on the Great Lakes, a light craft built by La Salle a short distance from Niagara Falls in 1678-79, was sunk in the Saginaw river, is the belief of George C. Zwerk, 922 Fitzhugh street, who has in his possession several strips of wood held together by hand-made copper bolts which were brought up from the river bed by dredges in the summer of 1913. He believes that these relics are parts of the Griffon, which was lost late in 1679 and never heard from. In this belief he has the support of state historians and investigators of the Michigan Historical commission.

In an article dealing with the history of the Griffon, printed recently in the Detroit Journal, C. M. Burton of Detroit, considered one of the best authorities on Michigan history, tells the several different stories of the fate of La Salle's sailing vessel and points to the relics in Mr. Zwerk's possession as possible clews to the real fate of the Griffon.

Mr. Burton's article follows:

"Some workmen in dredging in the Saginaw river brought to the surface parts of an old vessel which was imbedded in the sand. The portions brought up were of such an unusual character that they were submitted to various persons to determine, if possible, to what sort of vessel and to what era of shipbuilding the remains belonged. Of course, the first serious thought was the possible connection of these pieces with the Griffon, the first and only vessel built by the French that sailed the Upper Great Lakes.

Tells La Salle's History.

"Before examining the relics let us turn to the history of that boat and of its maker.

"Robert Rene Cavalier, sieur de La Salle, was one of the most, if not the most famous of American explorers. He was born in Rouen, France, in 1643. He was educated among the Jesuits and intended to join their order, but his love of travel and adventure qualified him for an explorer rather than for a priest. His first visit to America was in 1666. He was so successful in his explorations that he was given a patent of nobility in 1673.

"In 1677 he returned to France in order to obtain authority to make more extensive explorations and, having accomplished that object, he left France in July, 1678, with Henry Tonty, a pilot, and thirty other persons, who were sailors and artisans. His destination at this time was Fort Frontenac (now Kingston, Ont.), which he owned and commanded. He brought with him on this trip anchors and riggings for boats which he intended to build, and arms and goods.

Sends Men to Illinois.

"Towards the end of the year he sent fifteen of his men, with large quantities of Indian goods, to await him in the Illinois country, as he expected to meet them near the Mississippi river.

"Late in the year 1678 he sent carpenters to the Niagara river, under command of La Motte de Lussiere, to build a ship on Lake Erie. Father Louis Hennepin, a Recollect priest, accompanied La Motte. Hennepin kept a journal of the various movements of the people he was with, and added to it such other information as he could gain regarding La Salle's travels. His narrative was printed and has been generally accepted as the true story of La Salle's life in the woods. Many other little details concerning La Salle have come to light from time to time, but have mostly been unpublished or are only to be found in the French text.

Bring Materials for Boats.

"Several years ago—as early as 1847—Pierre Margry, the noted French archivist, began the collection of papers relating to La Salle and the other American explorers. Margry's collection in six large volumes was printed in Paris in 1878. It has been one of the efforts of the Michigan Historical commission to translate this great work and place the material before English readers in their own language. The work of translating is now completed and the work of printing will be begun ere long. Among the Margry papers are many references to the building of this boat by La Salle and it is to this work and the published works of Hennepin that we refer in order to obtain the interesting story.

"La Motte did not remain long at Niagara, but returned to his starting place. Hennepin returned part of the way with La Motte in order to visit some Indians. Hennepin returned to Niagara on Jan. 15, 1679, and on the twentieth of the same month, La Salle arrived from Fort Frontenac. He had started with a great barque, filled with provisions, rigging and tackling for the ship that he was to build on Lake Erie. His barque was cast away but a short distance from the Niagara river and much of the boat building materials were lost. The anchors and cables were saved and probably tools and other things used in shipbuilding were partly saved. This loss greatly hampered the shipbuilders, and the faulty construction of the boat may, in part, be explained by the want of proper materials.

Indians Menace Builders.

'La Salle now hastened the work as much as possible. He chose for his shipyard a place two leagues above the falls, now supposed to be at the mouth of Cayuga creek. The keel of the ship was laid on Jan. 26, 1679, and building proceeded. La Salle returned to Fort Frontenac in March or April, leaving Tonty in charge of the work. The Indians were troublesome and threatened to set fire to the shipbuilding works and Tonty had to keep a continual watch on their movements.

"One day, it is related, a drunken savage attacked the smith, who drove him off with a red-hot iron bar. The fact that the smith had a bar of iron indicates that they could have used iron in the construction of the ship, if they had thought it possible to use the metal for that purpose.

"The ship was called the Griffon. It was not a large boat—only 45 tons, as Hennepin says in one place—certainly not larger than 60 tons. As soon as possible the boat was launched, and thereafter, as it lay in the stream, uncompleted, the workmen made it a home, unmolested by the Indians and in much greater security to themselves. After the vessel was floated out into the river it was kept in place by two anchors. The workmen were still engaged on it when Hennepin returned to Fort Frontenac to solicit two monks to accompany the proposed expedition with La Salle.

Priests Join Expedition.

"Charon, who had disagreed with Tonty, left the party and returned to Fort Frontenac with Hennepin, La Salle, Frs. Hennepin and Gabriel, and the two priests, Ribourde and Zenobe Membre, and the additional men who were to make up the exploring party, did not reach Niagara until Aug. 4. The vessel was nearly completed when they arrived. Hennepin says of it: 'We were very glad to find our ship well rigged and ready fitted out with all the necessaries for sailing. She carried five small guns, two whereof were brass and three harquebuses. The beak head was adorned with a flying griffin and an eagle above it; and the rest of the ship had the same ornaments as men-of-war.'

"Hennepin says that the ship cost La Salle a large sum of money, for the rigging, anchors and goods were brought from Quebec to Fort Frontenac in canoes, and that the carrying of every hundredweight of anchors, cables and the like cost eleven lives.

"The boat set sail on Lake Erie, Aug. 7, 1679, with thirty-four men on board. They crossed Lake Erie and proceeded through the Detroit and St. Clair rivers without meeting any unusual obstacles. In sailing north, after crossing Saginaw bay, they encountered a storm. They sounded all night long, because our pilot, though a very understanding man, was somewhat negligent.'

Encounter Another Storm.

"'Another storm came up on Aug. 26, and for a time it appeared doubtful if the boat would ride out the gale. La Salle was frightened and everyone fell on his knees in prayer except the pilot, who we could never oblige to pray; and he did nothing all that while but swear against La Salle, who, as he said, had brought him thither to make him perish in a nasty lake, and lose the glory he had acquired by his long and happy navigation on the ocean.'

"The storm abated and the next day the boat ran safely to harbor at Mackinac (Michilimackinac.) Hennepin says that on Sept. 2 they sailed to Green Bay, but we have a promissory note for 2,934 livres, 1 sol and 9 denier, dated Sept. 3, 1679, made by La Salle at Mackinac in favor of sieur de Saintes for beaver skins purchased from him. Either the note was improperly dated or Hennepin made a mistake of at least a day in the time the vessel sailed.

"From this point the ship sailed westward and soon entered Green Bay. La Salle loaded the vessel with furs purchased from the Indians and sent it back in charge of the pilot and five men. They started from Green Bay Sept. 18, 1679.

Ignored Indian's Advice.

"It was afterward ascertained that the boat came to anchor at the north end of Lake Michigan a few days later, and that the Indians advised the pilot to follow the coast line and not sail in the middle of the lake. The pilot would not listen to any advice and sailed as he thought best.

"But the ship was hardly a league from the coast when it was tossed up by a violent storm in such a manner that our men were never heard of since; and it is supposed that the ship struck upon sand and was there buried."

"In this manner Hennepin disposes of the boat and its crew. If the vessel sailed as far down as the Saginaw Bay, which was then, as now, a treacherous place to pass, it would not be impossible, nor indeed, improbable, that it would be storm driven to the place at present occupied by the remains of the vessel recently found.

La Salle Tells Story.

"From a letter written by La Salle in 1682 we get his story of the loss of the boat. He says that he delayed sending the Griffon from Green Bay for two days in order to write letters giving an account of his explorations. This delay was the cause of loss of the boat. He writes: 'The barque would have escaped if I had not delayed it for two days in order to complete them (his letters) with the accounts, maps and memoranda which I wished to send. As the wind was very favorable on those two days, the barque would certainly have got back to Michilimackinac before the storm in which probably, it went down, for, as no one in it escaped, and very little of the wreckage has been seen, one can only guess.'

"In another place he says the Jesuit priests, who, he thought, were trying to injure him, told him that the barque was burned by the Pottawattomie Indians, but he argued with them so strongly that this could not be true, that they finally gave up the effort. If they could have made him believe the Indians burned his vessel, he would, very likely, have gone to war with them and thus he might have been blamed by the governor. That is what the Jesuits desired.

Blames "Certain Persons."

"And again, in 1683, he refers to the loss of the barque and the attempt of 'certain persons' (meaning the Jesuits) to make him believe that the Pottawattomie Indians were responsible for the wreck, or for the loss of the boat, in order to induce him to make war on that Indian tribe. He writes as follows: 'The eagerness which I have observed until now in certain persons to induce me to proceed against the Pottawattomies as if they had plundered and burned the barque which was lost on this lake, (he is writing from Chicago) always made me think there was some mystery concealed under it. I saw no likelihood that Indians could have destroyed the vessel without any remains of it being found anywhere, or anything which had formed part of its cargo being seen in their possession. I was convinced, instead, that the pilot, bribed by some one, had sunk it and then withdrawn, and I could not get rid of the idea, which was found on a thousand details which would not allow me to doubt it. At least I hope I shall very soon be enlightened upon it; and it seems to me that God has permitted it by an altogether special guidance, in order to reveal the wickedness of those who envy me, who must have been aware of the journey of the pilot and his companions, even if they were not aware of their treachery.'

Explorer Buys Native.

"La Salle had purchased or had obtained by gift a young Indian, who had been captured in one of the wars. The boy ran away from La Salle, but was afterward caught and returned to him, and soon learned the French language. He told La Salle that he had seen two French men prisoners among his tribe, and from the description he gave, La Salle was sure the men were his pilot and one of his men. They had been captured on the Mississippi river and at the time of the capture there were six white men in the party, just the number that sailed on the Griffon. The pilot had some grenades and he exploded one of them to terrify his captors. There were several other evidences related that were sufficient to make La Salle believe that the Griffon was not wrecked in a storm, but was taken off and sunk, its load of furs being disposed of, either to the Indians or to other traders or coureurs de bois.

"Now let us return to the relics we have and examine them with such light as we have derived from the narratives of La Salle and Hennepin.

"The pieces consist of three short strips of wood—oak, probably—bolted together by hand-made copper bolts and riveted. With them, and as part of the structure, is a copper rod or long bolt which shows some evidence of being rolled, but also shows of hand work and particularly the heads show the work of the hammer.

Belong to Saginaw Man.

"The pieces belong to George C. Zwerk of Saginaw, and it is through his courtesy that we are enabled to make this examination. The several pieces of wood were evidently fastened together in the first place by wooden pegs. The peg holes are very numerous. Most of the pegs have been loosened and fallen out of their places, but a few remain. The copper nails and bolts were used to assist the wooden pegs in keeping the pieces of woodwork together. Only one of the pieces is painted and that with a dark colored, heavy paint that has resisted the water for many years. The woodwork shows that it was sawed, though portions are so rough and uneven that they may have been shaped by an ax or adz.

"The shipbuilders evidently had a plane or drawing knife to round off the edge of one of the pieces. We know that La Salle had sawyers with him and that he had everything necessary to build the boat. His ship carpenter had been engaged in shipbuilding on salt water; his pilot had never sailed on fresh water, as we have seen. The boat was built to withstand salt water and that is the only reason why copper, and copper exclusively, was used in the parts of the vessel, we have. It is not probable that any English-made vessel was ever built with copper nails, and this (the Griffon) is the only vessel ever built by the French above Niagara Falls.

Believe Pilot Sunk Ship.

"If La Salle is right in his conjectures that the pilot carried the vessel off and sunk her that would fully account for her being found in the Saginaw river, where she was sailed and scuttled 225 years ago. This is about all that can be said of the vessel, as so far brought to the surface, except that the discoloration of the wood shows that it has been in the water a long time.

"The pieces we have were dug up more than a year ago and as the dredges did not have to resume work in that part of the Saginaw river in 1914, the larger portion of the wreck is probably still imbedded in the bottom of the river.

"When these pieces of wood were first brought to my attention I was very doubtful about their being of any great age, or of the possibility of their forming a part of the Griffon. Not knowing much about boat building, I submitted the pieces to William Livingstone for examination. He at once called my attention to matters of which I, until then, had overlooked.

Built for Salt Water.

"The fact that the boat was built with copper nails and bolts indicated that the builders were ignorant of fresh water ship building and were building a salt water craft. All ocean vessels are constructed with copper fasteners, while iron is exclusively used in fresh water boats. Then, again, wooden pegs would not have been used in modern times for a boat builder would have had enough iron nails to have furnished the boat.

"If further investigation should demonstrate that these are the remains of the Griffon, a new page may be written in history of early navigation of the lakes.

"On board the boat were numerous articles that are indestructible, which, when found, will conclusively prove the identity of the vessel. It carried at least two large anchors and was equipped with five cannon. These, time and water would not destroy and will doubtless be found with the wreck."

An Open Letter

To Users of Morphine, Cocaine or Opium Derivatives:

THE FEDERAL LAW restricting the sale of Morphine, Heroin, Codeine and all derivatives of Opium and Cocaine goes into effect March 1, 1915. After that date none of these "drugs" can be obtained except through physicians' prescriptions, and physicians must make strict accounting to the Government on every prescription of this nature. It will be extremely difficult if not impossible for a drug user to obtain any of the drugs restricted under this law.

Persons addicted to the use of these drugs can obtain quick and permanent relief at the Keeley Institute, 629 South Tenth Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota. The treatment is not hard to undergo. It builds up the system, restores normal conditions and removes the necessity for the use of the drugs.

Correspondence will be kept strictly confidential. All matter mailed from the Institute in response to inquiries will be enclosed in plain wrappers. Full information free.

WAR BRIDES.

Much has been and is being written to impress on people's minds the horrors and wastefulness of war, but it is doubtful if anything more effective in this line has been produced than the one-act play, "War Brides," by Marion Craig Wentworth, in which Nazimova is playing the leading role in Boston. The text of the play appeared in the Century Magazine for February. It has been characterized as "startling," but it has a strength that is not in the least implied by that adjective.

Amelia, a peasant's daughter, is eager to be a war bride, and her eagerness is multiplied by the excited talk of her friend, Minna, who wears an iron ring and has just come from the church where ten couples were united by one ceremony. She tells of it while her husband is at drill.

Hedwig, Amelia's sister, has been married several months and her husband, Franz, is at the front. She enters and confronts Hans Hoffman, who, already in uniform, is urging Amelia to be his war bride. He tells the women "it is a glory to be a war bride," and Hedwig answers him by saying a war bride is but "a breeding machine." Hoffman admits this, in milder terms, and Hedwig speaks again, at first nodding slowly:

"What I said—to breed a soldier for the empire; to restock the land. (Fiercely) And for what? For food for the next generation's cannon. Oh, it is an insult to our womanhood! You violate all that makes marriage sacred! Are we women never to get up out of the dust? You never asked us if we wanted this war, yet you ask us to gather in the crops, cut the wood, keep the world going, drudge and slave, and wait, and agonize, lose our all, and go on bearing more men—and more—to be shot down! If we breed the men for you, why don't you let us say what is to become of them? Do we want them shot—the very breath of our life? * * * *

"You use us—and use us—dolls, beasts of burden, and you expect us to bear it forever dumbly; but I won't! I shall cry out till I die. And now you say it almost out loud, 'Go and breed for the empire!' War brides! Pah! * * * What will happen to Amelia? Have you thought of that? No; I warrant you haven't. Well, look: A few kisses and sweet words, the excitement of the ceremony, the cheers of the crowds, some days of living together—I won't call it marriage, for Franz and I are the ones who know what real marriage is, and how sacred it is—then what? Before you know it, an order to march. Amelia left to wait for her child. No husband to wait with her, to watch over her. Think of her anxiety, if she learns to love you! What kind of child will it be? Look at me. What kind of child would I have, do you think? I can hardly breathe for thinking of my Franz, waiting, never knowing from minute to minute. From the way I feel, I should think my child would be born mad. I'm that wild with worrying. And then for Amelia to go through the agony alone! No husband to help her through the terrible hour. What solace can the state give then? And after that, if you don't come back, who is going to earn the bread for her child? Struggle and struggle to feed herself and her child; and the fine sounding name you trick us with—war bride! Humph! That will be forgotten then. Only one thing can make it worth while, and do you know what that is? Love. We'll struggle through fire and water for that."

Later old Capt. Hertz comes to the house and remonstrates with Hedwig. She repeats that the women did not want the war. He says war is man's business, and Hedwig replies:

"Who gives you the men? We women! We bear and rear and agonize. Well, if we are fit for that, we are fit to have a voice in the fate of the men we bear."

Climax follows climax as the end of the play approaches, and Hedwig sends her message to the emperor: "I refuse to bear my child unless you promise there shall be no more war."

The setting of the play is German, but this is due to the accident that the news dispatch inspiring it bore a Berlin date. The conditions could apply to any country. If the play does not make a sensation wherever it is produced, then the people have become more calloused than could have been believed.

AS THE SNOW MELTS.

Not the least bizarre among the features of war is the way in which it caricatures the common things of everyday life. The hasty quarrel over nothing, but which estranges long-time friends or near neighbors, is turned into the deliberate shooting or butchery of one another by men who had never met, and who if they had met might have become fast friends. The ordinary night alarm that grows from the nervousness of some member of the family, appears in war time as the real and justified terror at the approach of the invader. And the gay and carefree life of the camping party becomes the watchful, madness-breeding existence of the march and the trench.

And now there is added yet another and more gruesome caricature. Every householder is familiar with the condition in which the yard is almost sure to appear when the snow goes off in the spring—how bits of paper or pieces of wood and one thing and another that had been snowed under and forgotten, become visible again, with a kind of washed-out sickliness added to their general appearance. And not only the things that were left there in the fall, but all the accumulation of winter also reappears, and seems multiplied and multiplied again as it all settles to the ground.

From Geneva, via Paris, comes a dispatch saying that melting snow at Uszok pass in the Carpathians has revealed the bodies of two thousand Russians and Austrians. It must be a grisly sight; one that will never be forgotten by those who see it. And yet it is nothing but one of the ordinary and to-be-expected results of war. Part of the horror has been hidden, and perhaps forgotten, during the winter, but as the snow melts it comes to light again with a greater ghastliness than ever.

Perhaps the shock of this return of forgotten horrors will help make those who experience it firm opposers of war. If it does, there would be great profit for the world if all the rulers and ministers of the belligerent nations could be compelled to stand and watch as the snow melts.

Perhaps now that Maxim Gorky is at peace with Russia again we can rest easy from the fear that he might some time try to revisit us.

FOR A RECLAMATION REVOLVING FUND.

At the next state election the voters will once more have an opportunity to ratify the constitutional amendment for a state reclamation revolving fund, and this time the amendment should carry. The last election saw it fail by comparatively few votes to secure the necessary proportion of votes cast, and now the legislature has again voted to submit it to the people.

Without this fund the state's reclamation work is constantly hindered by the necessity of going to the legislature for appropriations, and there is always the possibility that some special reasons may arise that will keep the legislature from granting the needed funds. With this amendment in force the state reclamation work could go ahead year after year with a reasonably definite and sure amount of money to draw on, and without the necessity of calling for special appropriations for the work.

This year the amendment has been changed so as to provide for the clearing of land as well as for drainage and irrigation. This change makes it of greater interest and value than before to Northern Minnesota, but the amendment is needed for the benefit of the whole state. Every newspaper and every organization in the state should join in a campaign of education so as to insure the approval of the amendment at the polls.

With 155,000 women voting at the Chicago primaries, there is little excuse left for those who claim the women wouldn't vote if they had the chance.

UNIFYING HEALTH WORK.

Coupled with some complimentary words regarding the public health work in Minnesota, there comes from Dr. Frederick R. Green of Chicago, secretary of the American Medical association's committee on public health and instruction, a suggestion for the unifying and development of health work throughout the country. The proposal, roughly, is this:

That the several states organize bodies to look after this part of the public welfare; that the state bodies organize county associations which shall be members of the state organizations, and that the various state associations unite into a national association, for the purpose of exchanging ideas and experiences. Thus, through the operation of the different organizations, every county in every member state would get the benefit of the experience and observation of every other county in member states.

There is a good deal to be said for the plan. Heretofore there has been necessarily a certain amount of duplication of work. That is, although one locality might have solved certain problems of sanitation or of fighting epidemics, the experience there was not generally known, and other localities have had to go through the same trouble and expense to get the same results. Under Dr. Green's plan the experience of the first locality would be at the service of all the others, and the benefits are easily to be understood.

Of course there are many problems that arise in one section of the country that are unknown in others. The South and West, for example, often suffer from diseases or conditions that we of the North never encounter. But there are other problems that are common to all parts where human beings congregate, and it might easily be that the proposed organization would help to solve these, or many of them.

How Dr. Green proposes to have these several bodies financed does not appear in the reports at hand. Doubtless he has thought of some arrangement for that feature, which in fact might readily become of such proportions as to wreck the whole idea. But whether it be carried out as he suggests, or on some other lines, there is much in favor of work of that nature. It will be worth while to take his suggestion under consideration throughout the country.

These are the days when it doesn't take a poet to think of it as "the golden grain."

GARDEN CONTESTS.

Garden prizes are to be given again this year by the various civic organizations, and those eligible to compete should begin to lay plans for their ground plots. Even though the snow is not all gone there are few who are not already familiar with the area they can put under cultivation, and the sooner the plans are laid the sooner the ground itself can be prepared when once the frost is out of it.

Probably nobody realizes the extent to which these garden prize contests will influence the younger generation to take up soil cultivation on a larger scale as the years go on. Let a family find that all its table need for onions and radishes and lettuce and such products can be supplied from a really small patch of ground, and the desire promptly arises to make use of a little larger patch, and supply other vegetables for home use.

That is the spirit that is at work among the people today, and it is likely to prove a most important factor in solving the food problem, if it continues to develop in the next few years as it has in the last few. Many a family that has found it difficult to get through one summer with the mounting grocery bills, has found it comparatively easy the next year when even twenty-five or fifty dollars was cut off the expense by the tilling of a little back yard ground.

While this experience has been in many cases the result of deliberate intention on the part of the adults, there are other instances in which the children's interest in garden contests started the back yard cultivation, and this list is being added to every year. That is one of the two great benefits that result from these contests. The other is in the intelligent interest the children themselves develop in the raising of flowers and vegetables.

How far this interest will influence their future it would be impossible to estimate. There has been much written and said about the boys and girls from the country who are leaving the farms to seek a living in the city. Perhaps these contestants for garden prizes will get "the hunch" to go to the country and so take the places of the others. Who knows? Stranger things than that have happened in this old world. At any rate the contests furnish their participants with good, healthful outdoor exercise, and the young people at the same time accomplish something of tangible value and learn things that will be of the greatest use to them later in life.

Duluth every year has numerous garden contests. May they continue and arouse ever greater and greater interest. And if these contests are the means of sending one student a year from this city to the state agricultural schools, or elsewhere, to fit himself for a life of intelligent soil cultivation, the whole system will more than pay for itself.

These are times when an ex-president is justified in being thankful for the "ex."

THE PAUPER.

The other day a man in an Eastern city died in a poorhouse and was buried in a pauper's grave. For years he had been a nuisance to part of those about him and an eye sore to the rest. He had lived off charity and dressed as poorly as he could and still keep from suffering actual exposure to the weather. Those he might have claimed as relatives had as little as possible to do with him, and he was generally supposed to look on them with more or less hatred.

After his body had been covered with earth to the accompaniment of as little ceremony as might be and with a feeling of relief more than anything else on the part of those who had had to care for him, what little property he had left was examined, and there came to light some four hundred thousand dollars!

Four hundred thousand dollars and the life of a pauper, the death of a pauper and the grave of a pauper. What good did his wealth do him? None. Had he used it as he might, he could have lived in comfort instead of first in squalor and later on the charity of others. He could have had friends, or at least he could have made himself companionable instead of a nuisance. He could have had, to follow his casket to the grave, a long line of mourners who remembered gratefully the help he had given them, and who would have kept his memory as one of the good things of life, to be cherished as long as life remained to them.

Instead of this the relatives he had estranged first gasped at the discovery that he had left any property at all, then laughed at the thought of their profiting by his own self-punishment. It may not have been exactly polite, but there's no denying that they had a right to laugh—and certainly they had no cause to mourn. Living, he was a disgrace to them; dead, his wealth came like a windfall.

Maybe he got enough enjoyment out of his hoarding and the way he was fooling people to make up for all it cost him, but we doubt it. And somehow there is a temptation to compare him with the man who hid the talents under a stone.

The German submarine U-9 is said to have got into trouble. But it isn't as if the U-9 hadn't been looking for trouble.

AS TO THE SALE OF ARMS.

It is generally recognized that whatever might have been the aspect of such action before the war began, it would be an effective breach of neutrality for this country to lay an unprovoked embargo on the exportation of arms and supplies now that one of the sides to the struggle seems to be in virtual control of the routes of commerce. We could make no such restriction now without appearing to give deliberate aid to Germany, and if positions were reversed we could not act without appearing to aid the allies.

But there are other and forceful reasons for refusing to lay such an embargo, according to ex-President Taft. In his Morristown speech early this week he pointed out that we do not discriminate between the belligerents in the matter of furnishing war material, but that the fortunes of war and circumstances over which we have no control prevent one side from purchasing in our markets, which are open to the world. Mr. Taft then continued:

> But my chief objection to giving up the lawful and usual course of a neutral to sell arms and ammunition to belligerents, is based on the highest national interest. We are a country which is never likely to be fully prepared for war. We must have the means of preparing as rapidly as possible after war is imminent and inevitable. We would be most foolish to adopt a policy of refusing to sell arms and ammunition to belligerent powers which, if it was pursued against us when we were driven into war, would leave us helpless.

There is nothing to quarrel with in that statement. It might serve to settle the issue in many minds. But the speaker did not stop there, but said:

> If we were to place an embargo on the sale of arms and ammunition to belligerents, we would discourage the industry in this country and reduce substantially our possible domestic means of preparing for future wars.
>
> Finally, the general adoption of a course by neutrals not to sell arms to the belligerents in a war, would greatly stimulate the tendency to increase armaments in time of peace, to be ready for war. Such a stimulus to greater armaments we all should deplore, because of their burden upon the peoples of the countries affected, and because of the temptation to war involved in their maintenance.

Ever since the war began, Mr. Taft has shown a keen appreciation of the difficulties confronting the government at Washington. He himself faced crises enough during the Mexican and California troubles to be able to appreciate fairly well something of what his successor is experiencing. But in this support to the policy being pursued by the president with respect to the sale of arms to belligerents, Mr. Taft gets far beyond a mere effort to "help out," and furnishes some logical reasons that seem all but unanswerable.

If you had an income of more than $3,000 how much of it would you be willing to spend trying to get out of paying an income tax?

THE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION.

According to all reports, the meeting of the Minnesota State Editorial association at St. Paul was a distinct success. There was plenty of enthusiasm and interest there, and the best thing about it is that the enthusiasm and interest are continuing, if judgment may be based on what the different members are writing.

The Bemidji Pioneer declares that the association is "coming into its own after a period of little activity," and that the social element that formerly predominated the meetings is giving place to work of a more serious and practical character.

This is good, both for the organization and for its members. Newspaper people are like other people—it does them good to mix with their kind once in awhile and learn from first hand what problems have been solved and how. And there is no better way for this kind of information to be exchanged and spread around than by means of these meetings.

Incidentally, what the Pioneer calls "the renewal of the vigor" of the Minnesota Editorial association is a mighty good thing for the state, for it is indisputable that the "country" press is one of the most effective and powerful influences in any state. It follows naturally that a strong and virile press must help materially in the development of a worth-while citizenship, and any agency that helps to that end is extremely valuable.

So it is doubly to the advantage of Minnesota that her newspaper men should be united in a strong and active organization, such as this association is developing into. Duluth is to have the honor of entertaining the members of the Northern Minnesota association during the coming summer, and it will be both a pleasure and an honor to have them as guests.

One great difficulty about an auto show is that so many people try to make puns on the name.

PUTTING IT TO A VOTE.

Imagine a vote taken throughout the country relative to President Wilson's policy on matters arising out of the European war. What would the result show? The Buffalo Enquirer tried to guess, and prefaced its guess with some brief summaries of criticisms of the administration. These criticisms were boiled down to four propositions—that Great Britain had insulted America by commercial restrictions; that Germany insulted this country by her war zone declaration; that Japan insulted this country by her attitude toward China, and that "while insults accumulate, the United States only waits and watches."

The Enquirer continues:

> Let's have an expression of public opinion on these matters!
>
> All in favor of war with the British empire, shout aye!
>
> All in favor of war with Germany, raise your right hands!
>
> All in favor of war with Japan, stand up!
>
> What?
>
> Everybody silent—all keeping their right hands below their belts—all sitting as though glued to their seats!

It is impossible to fail to agree with the Enquirer's conclusion:

"President Wilson and his advisers, apparently, are just suiting United States of Americans by not hunting for trouble and by failing to sprint three-quarters of the way to meet it."

Let's see—which comes first, pussy willows or the first robin?

The Newspapers

Indianapolis News: Nothing seems more difficult than for the representatives of some industries to understand that there is a certain self-respect even in the newspaper business. This fact has evidently made a deep impression on the consciousness of the Steuben Republican, which recently printed the following paragraph:

> The Republican is in receipt of an offer from a plate house to furnish us free of all charge a page of matter advocating the raising of railroad passenger fares in Indiana from 2 cents to 2½ cents a mile. This office has discontinued issuing free passes to railroads, and as long as we have to pay fare or walk, we prefer that the rates remain at 2 cents.
>
> We do not suppose that there was in this case the slightest thought of corrupting, or improperly influencing the paper in question. And yet that would have been the effect, had the proppsition been accepted. The papers of the country are always willing to consider, and with the utmost care, any arguments advanced by the railroads—but they ought to be the arguments of the roads, and not those provided by the roads and used by the papers as though they were their own. Nothing could be more dishonest than that, or more offensive to a self-respecting newspaper.
>
> If the railroads are really entitled to an increase of rates, and there is something to be said for it, they ought to be able to prove their case. There is not a newspaper in Indiana that would not be willing to give the most painstaking consideration to any reasons that they may advance. But when the railroads start a press bureau for the purpose of furnishing without charge literature bearing on the subject, they discredit their own case, insult honest newspapers, and breed the suspicion that there is nothing to be said in behalf of their contention. Further than that, they make it difficult for any paper to advocate their cause, even though the paper may believe that it is just. A canned campaign for rate increase in Indiana will seriously injure the cause that the railroads are trying to further. Newspapers are mostly honest, and few of them have any other desire than to be fair to all classes, including the railroads. The people are entitled to honest arguments, accurately reflecting the opinions of the papers.

Poor Marksman.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph: Sergeant (disgustedly to Private Jones:) Ugh! Don't waste your last bullet. Nineteen are quite enough to blaze away without hitting the target once. Go behind that wall and blow your brains out.

Jones walked quietly away, and a few second later a shot rang out.

"Great sausages, the fool's done what I told him!" howled the sergeant, running behind the wall. Great was his relief when he saw Private Jones coming toward him.

"Sorry, sergeant," he said apologetically, "another miss."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois never gives tips. In refusing to tip he is not prompted by a sense of economy so much as the idea that one should have the courage of one's convictions. He knows of no reason why a man should pay the highest price for hotel food and then bribe a hotel employe to fetch it to him. Likewise he sees no logic in paying a bellboy to hover about in one's way performing useless service. As a rule Sherman eats in old-fashioned restaurants where he can sit on a neat little revolving stool, and he stays at the medium-priced hotels, simply because he dislikes the pomp and glitter of the more pretentious places. A little while ago, however, Sherman went to New York to make a speech, and a reception committee escorted him to one of the big hotels where a bellboy carries up one's grip, asks if the guest desires any ice water, takes a tip, goes and sends up the ice water by still another bellboy who also expects a tip.

The boy who carried Sherman's modest little satchel to his room bustled about, turning on electric lights, raising window shades, messing with the lace curtains, changing the key from the outside to the inside of the door, and by divers other methods making himself generally obnoxious. After he had exhausted his entire repertory of ways and means to annoy a guest, he asked Sherman if he wanted any ice water. Sherman said he did not. Then the boy inquired if there was anything else he could do, and Sherman shook his head.

Still the boy hung about, as if waiting for something.

"I think that'll be all," remarked Sherman, becoming rather annoyed.

"Thank you, sir," replied the boy, with much over-politeness, backing out of the door, "thank you, thank you." A bellboy, of course, always says "thank you" three times when he has received no tip, but only once when he has. Sherman noted the three "thank yous," all in a row, and savagely he responded, somewhat as follows:

"You're welcome, goldarn you, goldarn you, goldarn you!"

Lineas D. Underwood, one of the special examiners in the United States patent office, has a young son who is, in a way, the luckiest and also the most tantalized boy in the country. Underwood's position requires him to pass on the plans of all newly-invented toys, velocipedes and similar articles. Every night he goes home and tells his little boy what new toys, puzzles, games and playthings of various kinds are going to be on the market. On an average of once a week Underwood becomes so interested in a new toy that he makes it a point to learn where it will be manufactured, and he arranges to buy the first one turned out. In that way his boy is the first in the United States to play with certain of the new toys. But the unlucky part of the child's position is that every evening he hears of still more newly-invented toys, and he wants them all. It is highly impracticable for any father to buy his son all the toys that are invented—and many of the inventions will never be successfully marketed anyhow. Sometimes Underwood's boy wishes his father had another job, so that he would not hear of so many toys that he must do without.

When the immigration bill was up in the house recently a speaker made the assertion that the illiteracy among white people in the district represented by Caleb Powers of Kentucky is about 30 per cent. Powers resented the statement and hastily arose to declare that the illiteracy among whites in his district was merely about 19 per cent.

All of which recalled to Wild Bill Gordon of Ohio this incident:

While trying a lawsuit, a year or so before he entered congress, Wild Bill sought to discredit the testimony of a certain colored witness for the other side.

"Weren't you arrested recently and fined $19 for stealing chickens?" inquired Gordon.

"No, sir, I was not!" replied the witness, rising from his chair and clenching his fist in righteous indignation. "I was only fined $16.80."

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

The "Bees of the Bible" are very numerous. They yield a great deal of honey, and it is their nature to be found together in swarms. Here is a specimen of them:

"Be kindy affectioned one to another."

"Be sober and watch unto prayer."

"Be content with such things as ye have.

"Be strong in the Lord."

"Be courteous."

"Be not wise in your own conceits."

"Be not unmindful to entertain strangers."

"Be not children in understanding."

"Be followers of God as dear children."

—"Friend."

Remember.

You are writing a Gospel,
A chapter each day,
By the deeds that you do,
By words that you say.
Men read what you write
Whether faithless or true.
Say! that is the Gospel
According to YOU!

Don't praise yourself.

Don't be a backbiter.

Don't listen to a slanderer.

Don't be inquisitive about things that do not concern you.

Don't repeat evil things that others tell you.

Don't fail to read your Bible daily and to pray daily.

Don't allow yourself to become a faultfinder of the church. It is not perfect, but it is the best institution in the world.

The Peanut.

Detroit, Mich., News: Relief is borne with the news that the peanut business is not imperiled by war turmoil.

The peanut is an American institution. In England and on the continent it is not easily obtainable and is used mostly as a tidbit for inmates of zoological gardens.

The peanut immigrated to North America from Brazil and the largest output is from the Southern states.

Roasted, it takes rank at once as a nutritious food and as a delicacy. It comes naturally in a sanitary, germproof package. Extracting it from its shell affords congenial employment for the consumer.

Baseball and the circus, also native to our soil, are linked closely to the peanut. A whiff of the hot goober, in the process of preparation, stirs in all hearts sunny recollections of youth.

May the peanut be spared forever.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

Yesterday was the warmest February day on record in the Duluth weather bureau office, which was established twenty-five years ago. The thermometer recorded 58 deg. above zero. The highest point attained previous to that was 57 deg. Today the weather is almost as mild as yesterday, but it is cloudy.

Work was begun today on the excavations for a new three-story building on the lower side of Michigan street just west of Second avenue west. It will have fifty feet frontage, and one side will be occupied by Messick & Macauley with a commission and cold storage business.

The mild weather has knocked the bottom out of the state curling bonspiel at St. Paul and the curlers have returned to their homes.

William Jeffrey of Oneota has been appointed to fill the position of sewer commissioner at West Duluth, made vacant by the death of William Jennings.

M. Newell and family will leave West Duluth within a few days for the southern part of the state, where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Korb have gone to Milwaukee.

The billiard match between W. F. Hatley and Frank Maggioli brought forth some remarkable features last evening. Maggioli made a run of 167, the highest in the tournament, but in spite of this run scored only 173 in the evening against 600 by Hatley, whose highest run was 68.

At the State Farriers' convention held at St. Paul yesterday, J. Smith of Duluth was elected first vice president, and W. F. McGraw of Duluth was elected recording secretary. Sixty of the leading horseshoers of Minnesota were present.

W. C. Sargent has leased his coal dock to the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company for the coming season, but Mr. Sargent will not go out of the coal business. He will handle the Schuylkill coal for the Philadelphia & Reading company.

At the residence of John Foley in Superior yesterday, Miss Grace Van Allen of Ortonville, Minn., niece of Mrs. Henry Van Brunt of Duluth, and John G. Cowie of Superior were married. Miss Van Allen has been visiting Mrs. Van Brunt this winter.

The Duluth Grand Army posts will be well represented at the encampment at St. Paul. Those leaving yesterday to attend were Commander N. A. Gearhart and Delegates M. W. Bates and W. G. Ten Brook of Culver post, Commander V. W Wilkinson and Delegates L. C. Johnson and W. F. Davey of Gorman post, and Mrs. W. F. Davey, Mrs. N. A. Gearhart and Mrs. E. E. Lloyd, representing the Women's corps.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Driftwood Fires.

Dwellers on tidewater know the fascination of picking up driftwood. After a storm the beach is littered with pieces of all sizes and shapes. The poor man may gather a harvest without money and without price. And is any fire quite equal to one made of these materials? One day this winter the sea yielded a piece of cedar spar, heavily coated with green paint, and with a stout iron ring bolt in it. High upon the beach it lay after a voyage that no mortal man could guess.

Split up and dried, it burned nicely in the open grate, the copper paint giving off the most beautiful shades of color as the flames licked it about. We sat before the funeral pyre of some noble ship that had yielded up its life one knew not when or how. The tragedy, if such it had been, was at least ending in warmth and cheer. Within an hour the spar was reduced to ashes, but there was one part that would not burn—the iron ring bolt. That remained among the embers as unhurt as on the day the builder sunk it in the fragrant wood.

As for man himself, who would not wish his life to go out in such beauty and cheer as marked the end of this old ship's spar? Happy is one indeed if he may crown a career of service by so graceful an exit, with the sorrow of the mourners mingled with a solemn joy that such a life has been.

In that bit of flotsam was one irreducible element, the ring bolt, that withstood all the attacks of the flame upon it. The fact suggests a test is to be applied to us all in the day when "the fire shall try every man's work; of what sort it is." The great requirement is that there should then be something in us not capable of being consumed like dross. Nearly everyone believes in some sort of a future judgment day. Whatever else that ultimate test may mean it surely means a real moral appraisal on the basis of the values we have been putting into life day by day.

Wordsworth speaks of—

"That best portion of a good man's life—
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love."

These surely endure when much else is forgotten. Some of the so-called big things — wealth accumulated, fame achieved, power attained—these shall seem less than the cup of cold water given in the spirit of unselfishness.

The final adjustment of human lots is depicted in the Bible as being on the basis of our humanity or our lack of it. "I was a hungered and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger and ye took me in. * * * Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my breathren, ye have done it unto me." The big success in life is made, not by riding rough shod over everyone else to some conspicuous position, but by generous lifting, by lending a hand, by "helping lame dogs over stiles."

If you should take their money, their appetites, their selfish ambitions away from some men there would be mighty little left. You would have little or nothing worth keeping, nothing of value in a moral universe. These people have nothing fireproof in their characters.

"And now abideth faith, hope, love, these three." These are the unchanging values that cannot be lost in the sea or burned in the fire. "The world passeth away and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Unafraid of the present or the future he

"Shall flourish in immortal youth
Unhurt amidst the wars of elements,
The wreck of matter and the crash of worlds."

LEADERSHIP

By SAVOYARD

Washington, Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—I do not recall a statesman on the house side of congress who could beat Claude Kitchin for "looks" since Tom Ewing of Ohio. Roscoe Conkling was the most magnificent personal presence I ever saw among the statesman at this capital; but there were old fellows who held that John C. Breckinridge beat them all for physical comeliness, graceful manners and stately bearing.

If Claude Kitchin had the mind of John Sharpe Williams some of us Democrats would feel better over the refusal of Finis Garrett of Tennessee to contest with the North Carolinian for the leadership. Now, there is a young chap, Garrett, who extorts your confidence. He is the ablest parliamentarian on the Democratic side, and the equal of Mr. Mann on the Republican side. In debate he won his spurs his first session years ago, and if I were called on to pick the most promising young statesman on Capitol hill I would not hesitate to name Finis Garrett of Tennessee.

• • •

If old Tennessee will only encourage and stand by this young man he will do her great honor as her representative at either end of the national legislature. He would be a worthy successor of James K. Polk in the chair of the speaker of the house of representatives, and he would worthily wear the toga of Isham G. Harris or Edward W. Carmack of the senate wing. I hope I can say this without impertinence, for Kentucky and Tennessee have ever been twin in the American sisterhood.

"Leadership" in the American congress has always been a vague term compared with what it is in England. Thaddeus Stevens and Thomas B. Reed were nearest actual leaders our congress has ever known. Yet even these very extraordinary men were often hampered and occasionally defeated by recalcitrancy on the part of the members of their own party. They forced things. There was Mr. Carlisle, the actual leader of his party in every congress in which he sat. He convinced. His speech was the simplest of any man of his time. In consisted of statement, a laying down of general principles and a marshaling of an array of facts. I am sure that Finis Garrett comes as near to that way of presenting a question as any other member of the present house I can name now. He is a growing man, for he is a student and he has industry. He profits from experience with his fellows.

• • •

Mr. Kitchin is leader of the house by virtue of the law of primogeniture. He was senior on the committee on ways and means and thus the "leadership" fell to him like the pear that is ripe falls to the ground. There was an exception to this rule instituted by Thomas B. Reed in the Fifty-fourth congress. That great man put aside Sereno E. Payne and promoted to the leadership Nelson Dingley and the event justified the innovation. It call it "innovation," notwithstanding that Speaker Randall had previously deposed William R. Morrison—put him off ways and means and gave the job to Fernando Wood. The cases were not similar. Randall sent Morrison to the rear because he was not in accord with him on the tariff question. Reed promoted Dingley over Payne because he was better fitted for the position, and I predict that ere the death by lapse of time of the Sixty-fourth congress the Democratic majority of the house will regret that the example set by Reed twenty years ago was not followed and Finis Garrett selected for leader.

• • •

To be sure, for a dramatic and voluble occasion Kitchin can beat Garrett. That would have done admirably forty years ago; but we have fallen on times when "debate" is no longer mere voiceful oratory. Go back to the war. Henry Winter Davis was the very first orator in either house of congress. His vocabulary was magnificent and it was ornate, a rather good copy of his model, Macauley; but who recollects Henry Winter Davis? He must have been a very considerable man. He was the head of a rebellion against President Lincoln in his own party. Mr. Blaine hated Conkling because Theodore Tilton said the mantle of Davis had fallen on Conkling, for Blaine was persuaded it had fallen on himself. When I first came here, more than a third of a century ago, I was told that congress had never known the match for Henry Winter Davis as an orator. Who remembers him? Who has forgot Thad Stevens, or Tom Reed? Who does not recall John G. Carlisle, or Roger Q. Mills?

• • •

Mr. Underwood has been a very capable leader of the house of representatives. He is a man of strong will. In the Sixty-second congress he got a Donna Julia approbation out of Claude Kitchin for a tax on wool in a Democratic tariff, though the Hon. Claude swore he would never consent. In the succeeding congress the Hon. Claude opposed the president in the repeal of the free tolls for the ship trust for its craft passing through the Panama canal. At this moment the leader, Mr. Kitchin, is opposing the president, who is striving to relieve the situation by the ship purchase bill.

I shouldn't wonder if the Democrats regret that Finis Garrett is not the leader of the majority in the Sixty-fourth congress.

HEALTH TALKS

by William Brady, M.D.

Up in the Air

A LADY, a perfect lady, consulted us the other day about her gastric trouble. Translated into United Statesish this means stomach complaint—gastrum being Latin for stomach. She was not yet 40 but on her way. Also she was, well, let us say plump—no, corpulent. Corpulent especially in the middle. But her straight front armor disguised the fact fairly well.

Having heard her history, and having investigated her occupation, diet, and general condition, and having thumped her in due form we concluded that her stomach wasn't complaining so much as her diaphragm, which was so crowded that it hadn't room to work. So we endeavored to break it gently—our opinion—and show the lady how to regain her former fine health.

Madam, we ventured, you eat too much in the first place. You must adopt the fruit breakfast plan, and cut down the quantity of meat in your diet; say, meat only three times a week. You will also take a teaspoonful of this medicine before each meal—(it would never do to send the patient away without any medicine, not the first time anyway). But most important of all, you must take a little physical culture.

Oh, she smiled, I get plenty of exercise doing my housework.

How to Take the Medicine.

You will take it in this way, we continued, ignoring the interruption. You lie flat on your back on the floor. Then slowly raise your right leg to a vertical position, and as slowly lower it again. Repeat with left leg. Then both legs at once, without raising your head or shoulders from the floor and without grasping anything with your hands. Do this for five minutes night and morning and we'll guarantee you will be sore all over for a few days. But stick to the culture and in three weeks your stomach will behave so much better that you will enjoy putting your feet up in the air.

The lady didn't blush—she was a lady, as we have already stated. She promised to try.

Result: She reduced her middle several pounds, discarded the injurious straight front armor, and found marked relief from her stomach trouble. Yes, she kept taking the medicine, but that was a mere incidental. The improvement was attributable to the way she learned to put her feet up in the air.

Questions and Answers.

More Painless Childbirth Piffle: In ——— magazine a new, non-poisonous, perfectly safe drug for preventing the pains at childbirth was recently described. What is the opinion of American physicians about this one?

REPLY.

More piffle. This "new" drug is morphine. Same old stuff, only served up as first class sob stuff. Really, in practise childbirth isn't such a terrible ordeal, at least young mothers say so. With chloroform and science the process is made quite endurable. Don't be alarmed by the epidemic of "painless methods" now sweeping over the country.

• • •

Treatment of Stammering: Is the Lewis school of Detroit a good school to attend for stammering?

REPLY.

Some of Detroit's leading physicians recommend it.

• • •

It's All Over the U. S.: Is there any part of the United States where catarrh is not prevalent? Where is the lowest percentage of deafness? Has deafness of the inner ear ever been cured by operation?

REPLY.

1. Catarrh is a symptom which prevails about as much in one place as another—climate has little influence. 2. Iceland. 3. Often.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

The Idle Wife.

THE SECOND BLOOMING. By W. L. George, author of "The Making of An Englishman." Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.35 net.

Mr. George is announced as "a promising rival of H. G. Wells and John Galsworthy," an introduction which in itself is likely to prejudice the perverse mind against his book. But he certainly does resemble those writers in his analysis of character. The great difficulty, from the standpoint of the general reader, will be found in the length of time it takes to get anywhere in particular with the story. There are occasional paragraphs that serve to light up the events of a decade or more; but there are chapters that seem to linger over ten or twenty uneventful minutes. But then, both the writer and the story are English, and so are hardly to be judged by the standards that govern "the average reader" in this country.

The story frankly and plainly points a moral—that there are not enough children in families of the British "upper middle class." The chief characters are three sisters of a family of this class. All marry suitably, and none of them has any particular demand upon her time except such affairs as she chooses to be interested in. The result is each takes up a different hobby. One becomes the mother of a considerable family and devotes her time and thought to rearing the children properly. The second turns suffragist and mixes into politics. The third cares nothing for children or politics, but indulges her penchant for finery and society. It is this third one that forms the horrible example for the purposes of the novel, for she meets an adventurer of attractive manner, and promptly illustrates the danger which the idle wife of her class is supposed to face. The character work all comes to a climax and the lesson of the story is advanced in the last chapter, in which is described a reunion of the three sisters.

There are bits of humor and intimate knowledge of personalities that appear unexpectedly in the narration, but the book is bound to appeal to the persistent novel reader rather than to the person who occasionally wants "something to read."

Romance and Adventure.

THE TURBULENT DUCHESS. By Percy J. Brebner, author of "Princess Maritza," "The Little Gray Shoe," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.50 net.

When Mr. Brebner gets his romance and adventure mills to working you don't care a rap whether there ever was real history or biography or geography in all the world. You take his characters at face value, and every incident that happens to them is just that much more added to your own enjoyment. In "The Turbulent Duchess" he works in just enough authentic history to give the story a setting, and as much geography as is absolutely necessary to seem to locate the characters somewhere. And after that it is all just story. Rattling good story it is, too, for that character of reading.

The duchess has won her reputation for turbulence through her persistent and more or less turbulent defense of her little principality against the encroachments of the French and the Prussians. She likes the customs of her little world, and even goes to the extent of keeping up, long after all other rulers have discarded it, the practice of having a jester at court. We first meet her as she is looking for a new jester to take the place of one who has died, and the new one becomes an important character at her court.

For the person who wants only to be interested and amused "The Turbulent Duchess" will furnish a couple of hours or more of enjoyment.

When You Were a Fish.

THE LAW OF BIOGENESIS. By J. Howard Moore. Chicago: Charles H. Kerr & Co. 50 cents.

According to this book—and it is only fair to say that the assertion is not peculiar to this one author—the old verse about "when I was a tadpole and you were a fish" is at least founded on fact. The book contains a series of lectures on science, given by Prof. Moore to the students of biology in his high school classes. They seek to show the origin of many instincts and impulses in modern man that have puzzled observers of human nature, and point out how to utilize these instincts and impulses for the better development both of the individual and of the race. Even though you do not accept fully the scientific theory of evolution, there are many things in this little volume that will give you something to think about in working out your own plan of daily existence.

How to Use the Canal.

THE PANAMA CANAL AND INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMPETITION. By Lincoln Hutchinson. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.75 net.

Mr. Hutchinson tries here to answer for every commercial interest that is concerned in export trade the question, "What good will the Panama canal do me?" He says little about the cost, capacity, depth, width and other statistics regarding the canal, but confines his book rather to answering the question, "What are we going to do with it?"

Beginning with a careful study of the economic and commercial interests that characterize the Atlantic and Pacific ocean countries respectively, he shows the forces that brought about and are adding to the volume of trade between those nations, and from this works into the theme of how to use the canal to the best advantage. He gives facts and figures as to trade routes, freights, mileage and other things that enter into international commerce, and shows how and where to gain by utilizing the new water route. In beginning his conclusion he says:

Never since the completion of the Suez canal has an event occurred in the field of international commerce so fraught with new opportunities as the opening of the new waterway across the Isthmus of Panama.

The book contains valuable tables on shipping matters, and an index that makes it doubly worth while as an ...ters' reference book.

Good Verse.

CRACK O' DAWN. By Fannie Stearns Davis (Mrs. A. McK. Gifford). New York: The Macmillan company. $1.00 net.

"Myself and I," by this same author, attracted more or less favorable attention among readers of verse, and this little volume is entitled to more attention. There are some poems in it that are not at all out of the ordinary, but there are many that are decidedly above the average trend of the day's versifications. There is much of introspection in them, and perhaps that is the secret of their charm; for the poet who can lay bare, not his own personal characteristics, but the things in his own inner life that are understood by or would appeal to others, is the one that can command attention. "Crack o' Dawn" gets its name from the first poem in the collection, but there are verses in the book that are much more worthy of that honor.

An English View of William II.

THE KAISER. By Stanley Shaw, LL. D., of Trinity College, Dublin. London, England: Methuen & Co., Limited. New York: The Macmillan company. 50 cents net.

In 1913 a large book under this same title and by the same author was published in England. This volume is an abridgment of that work, with a chapter added dealing with the present war. The book is an intimate and interesting character study of William of Germany from the time of his boyhood to the present, from an English point of view. There is much of instruction regarding German life and customs in the first part of the book, even aside from the things directly pertaining to the rearing of a prince of the royal family.

In the added chapter there is matter less complimentary to the kaiser than in the earlier portions of the book. Referring to those earlier chapters it says:

It is not the picture of a man raised, as the emperor imagines himself to be raised, above the frailties of ordinary humanity. It is rather that of a man of some great merits and many weaknesses, placed through no virtue of his own in a place where those merits were soon obscured and those weaknesses were dangerously exaggerated until at last the fabric of his nature gave way before the disordered promptings of the temper by which he was controlled."

New Browning Poems.

NEW POEMS BY ROBERT BROWNING AND ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING. Edited by Sir Frederic G. Kenyon. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.35 net.

Students of Browning will find here a treasure, and others a curiosity. The little volume contains twenty-nine poems by Robert Browning and six by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Many of the verses are of little value except to show the development of the poet's work. Notes and prefaces to the various poems give something of the history of them so far as it is known. There is at least one in which Browning tries to strike the same vein that Lowell employed in "The Unhappy Lot of Mr. Knott," and the result is about what one would expect.

Probably the most important of Mrs. Browning's verses given here is her tribute to Lytton. Of special interest to Browning students will be the collection of criticisms made by Mrs. Browning of her future husband's writings. These include "The Boy and the Angel," "The Tomb at St. Praxed's," "England in Italy," "The Confessional," "Saul" and "Luria."

The poems published here were collected from various sources, many of them being from a limited edition of thirty copies issued not many years ago, and all of which were omitted by the poet from his own collection of his works.

HOSPITAL FOR ALL NATIONS

Uncle Sam's Care for Sick Immigrants---Medical Service at Ellis Island.

By MILTON H. FOSTER, M. D., Surgeon, United States Public Health Service.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

Over a million immigrants arrived at the port of New York last year—a total about equal to the population of Boston and Washington combined.

Take any week in the year and imagine that, during the week, all the people who were sick and needed treatment in these two cities were to be sent to one hospital and you will have a pretty fair idea of the total amount of work performed by the hospitals at Ellis Island last year.

Of these million immigrants about one out of every hundred was sent to the hospital. In actual figures, 10,179 were treated in the institution which has been aptly called "a general hospital for all nations."

Hundred Cases a Day.

In these days of huge vessels, a modern steamship often brings over on one trip more than 2,000 steerage passengers. It is by no means unusual to receive one hundred cases or more at the hospital in one day. The task of admitting, examining, treating and housing this number of new patients in five or six hours would tax the capacity of the largest hospitals in the country.

A few hours before the time of departure of vessels from the other side the ship surgeons take their place at the head of the gangway and carefully scrutinize each immigrant as he comes on board. This inspection is made under difficulty; but as a general rule it prevents anyone who is actually sick at the time from gaining admission to the steamer. Hence the greatest number of immigrants who are ill when they arrive have become so since they left home.

The medical inspection of those arriving is made chiefly for two purposes: First, to see that they are strong, well and bright enough to be able to earn a living and get along in this country; and second, to ascertain that they do not have certain diseases which they might transmit to their new neighbors in America.

The immigrant hospitals are modern in every respect and well equipped. The wards are light, airy and comfortable and there are a few private rooms for cases which especially need them. The food is abundant and of the best quality. The attending physicians are commissioned officers of the United States public health service. All the nurses are graduates of approved institutions. Excellent facilities for the scientific treatment of patients are available, including an X-ray plant, four operating rooms and a complete laboratory where all the complex and difficult examinations required by modern medicine are daily made.

Physicians' Problems.

There are no interpreters employed especially for the hospital. Some of the physicians and employes can speak one or more foreign languages, and all on the staff have picked up a few useful words in several tongues. When it becomes absolutely necessary, an interpreter is borrowed from the regular corps employed by the immigration service.

After a surgeon has been on duty at the island for some time he acquires the ability to make diagnoses without holding much communication with the patient. Outside physicians have to do the same thing when treating very young children, so it is not so much out of the ordinary, after all.

A far more difficult problem than diagnosis is the attempt to feed all these different races from one general kitchen. While patients are really ill and in bed, a few of the simpler articles of diet, such as milk, eggs, chicken, toast, etc., will suffice; but when they remain in the hospital for a longer period or are recovering from a protracted illness, it is oftentimes almost impossible to furnish food which will appeal to their foreign palates and poor appetites at the same time.

In desperate cases, it has sometimes been necessary to throw ordinary dietetic teachings to the winds and allow articles of food which at first blush would appear to be surely harmful. A little Arab girl who had an operation for an attack of appendicitis refused absolutely all our food until she was almost dead from exhaustion and starvation, but she ate greedily a most villainous looking form of native sausage and cream cheese which her mother brought to the hospital; and on that most unpromising diet, she made a splendid and uninterrupted recovery!

Religion and Diet.

Not only custom, but also religion, enters into the problem of diet. The orthodox Jew asks for kosher food; the Hindoo loses caste if the hands of any stranger touches what he is to eat. Fortunately, most of these creeds permit the devotee to ignore diet restrictions when sick; but the problem is constantly coming up, and has to be met in one way or another.

An intelligent study of the diseases treated at Ellis Island, gives a pretty good idea of just what maladies travelers at sea are especially liable to contract. Strange as it may seem, admissions for digestive troubles or as the result of sea-sickness are not very common; but pneumonia, sore throat, bronchitis, scarlet fever, measles, rheumatism, inflamed eyes, and minor injuries occupy a prominent place in the island's case histories. Diseases like typhoid fever or appendicitis occur about as often as they would in the same number of people remaining at home.

Insane people, if they can get the necessary money, are very apt to travel. There are several reasons for this. If they suffer from delusions of persecution, they are constantly moving from place to place to escape their imaginary persecutors. Then, too, as soon as their mental peculiarities are appreciated, they are generally shunned and avoided by their friends; hence they often go to a new country to avoid this social ostracism, or because they cannot longer obtain employment at home. Sometimes relatives will furnish a troublesome individual with money to emigrate in order to escape the annoyance of his presence.

Detecting Insanity.

Such aliens are frequently able to conceal their true condition sufficiently to obtain admision to this country, but occasionally they are detected by the steamship surgeon while en route or are diagnosed by the medical officers, when inspected. Hence the hospital receives a number of insane yearly and must care for them until they are deported.

The crowded condition of the steerage especially favors the spread of any communicable disease which happens to break out in this part of the ship. Furthermore, vessels often arrive with a large number of children already sick and helpless from measles. Several years ago, 294 cases of measles were taken from the steerage compartment of one vessel.

Some communicable diseases, like tuberculosis, syphilis, trachoma, favus, etc., require laboratory tests and other methods of examination which may extend over several days. Aliens suspected of having these diseases are sent to the hospital not only to aid the examination, but also to assure that the necessary precautions are taken to protect the health of those coming in contact with them while they are detained.

Difficult Cases.

These cases are the most difficult to handle. Not realizing that they are sick, they cannot understand by what stroke of scurvy fortune they have been selected from among all the others and forbidden to enter the promised land. The more excitable burst into tears, wring their hands and protest loudly against this great and unexpected injustice. It is useless to try to calm or reassure them. They are not amenable to reason and refuse to listen to the explanations offered. The more stoical accept their misfortune with sullen resignation. They have been ill-treated and abused all their lives; so this new disaster is not a matter of surprise, but is calmly accepted merely as another portion of that heritage of woe into which they have been born.

The social welfare of sick immigrants is looked after by missionaries and agents of various philanthropic societies which have branches permanently located on Ellis Island. These social workers render valuable service to patients who may be in need of advice or help. This assistance covers a wide field, ranging from giving them clothes or money, according to what may be most needed, down to writing letters to their friends.

THE INDICATING AND RECORDING OF TIME

Washington, Feb. 27.—The indication of time has long been one of the most important factors in the history of the world. Even the primitive peoples had crude methods of telling time, usually by the sun, and one of the first implements used for the purpose was a vertical pole stuck in the ground to establish the noon mark. Representative types of early time-keeping apparatus and mechanisms from various countries are to be seen in the United States National museum at Washington. This collection consists of permanent and portable sundials, hourglasses, time candles and lamps, a large series of watches and watch movements, and clocks, including a water clock of the 17th century.

Among the sundials, which are perhaps the best known of the early time indicators, is a model of one used by the Montagnais Indians of Canada, consisting of a pole set vertically, the shadow of which was marked in the snow by each hunting party to indicate the time of its arrival to the Indians who followed, thus making the passage of time calculable. Other interesting specimens are brass and ivory pocket sundials of the 15th and 16th centuries. There is also a ring dial which, when held vertically, permits the sun to shine through a small hole on one side of the rim and register the hour on a scale on the opposite side. Vertical and horizontal dials from many countries and latitudes, dating from the 15th to the 20th centuries, are represented.

One of the most primitive time recording devices employed by the Chinese and Japanese, was a knotted wick about two feet in length, which smouldered without breaking into flame, and indicated the passage of an hour by the time consumed in burning between two knots. King Alfred is credited with having established a system whereby twelve-inch wax candles were divided into equal distances; relatively a third of an hour being required to burn an inch. A candle of this type, but only ten inches in length, is exhibited in the museum collection.

Phillippe II. of Spain is supposed to have used an oil lamp for indicating time, the decrease in the amount of oil being shown by graduations on the glass reservoir. It was designed especially for night use; the graduations started at the top, with the mark IIII, passed down to XII., and then from I. to VIII., covering the period of winter darkness. A similar lamp is in the National museum exhibit, classified as a pewter time-indicating lamp, marked for the hours nine to six, and was collected in 1900 in Nuremburg by Dr. Samuel P. Langley, late secretary of the Smithsonian institution.

Sand glasses are represented by seven specimens of various types indicating 3 minutes, one-quarter hour, one-half hour, and one hour, and one German set of four-hour glasses probably of the 14th century. The hourglass is said to be the invention of Luitprand, a monk of Chartres, who, near the end of the 8th century, revived the art of glass blowing. These instruments are still popular with many clergymen, and it is understood that one is in daily use in the British house of commons.

Clocks operated by water power date back as far as 300 B. C. in Egypt, and although their history is somewhat vague, it is believed that the earliest ones indicated "hours" of uneven length, while those evolved during the 17th century and later were simpler and showed even periods. Clocks of this description and of this period are known as Clepsydras; one with an alarm attachment was collected for the museum by Dr. Langley in Paris. It consists of a hollow drum, partly filled with water, suspended from an oblong frame by two cords, the lower ends of which are wrapped about the shaft of the drum. When the cord is wound about the shaft, the drum is at the top of the frame, and if released would descend rapidly, unwinding the cord as it goes, were its speed not regulated by the action of the water which flows slowly through a series of seven compartments within the drum, causing a drag or counterbalance to the action of gravity. The ends of the shaft act as indexes pointing to the hours marked on the frame.

The date of the introduction of clocks worked by weights is not definitely known. But it is supposed that they did not appear until the 13th or 14th century, and that John Megestein of Cologne invented the escapement. The museum displays a number of these clocks, including a ship's clock which rings "bells" in sea-going style.

Portable time pieces appeared shortly after 1500 as the invention of Peter Henlein of Nuremburg, who employed a long ribbon steel prong to drive the mechanism of his watches.

The museum collection of watches and movements numbers several hundred, and illustrates the development of the mechanical part of the watch, making it possible to compare the work of many early watchmakers of this and other countries.

IN THE SWIRL OF THE SPORT GAME; GOSSIP GLEANED HERE AND THERE

The Gibbons-McGoorty Contest May Draw a Record-Breaking House—Our Hockey Team Is Discussed Far and Near—Duluth Boat Club to Inaugurate 1915 Season—Ketonen Thinks He Can Defeat Yokel.

BY BRUCE.

MILWAUKEE in the West, New York in the East and San Francisco in the West have always been considered the three greatest boxing centers in the United States. Strange as it may seem, and incongruous at first suggestion, the little town of Hudson, Wis., promises to spring blithely into national notice on the large evening that the meeting between Mike Gibbons and Eddie McGoorty meet there to settle the much mooted question of supremacy.

Mike Collins, the promoter of the impending encounter, was here yesterday. An alert young business man, cleancut and above board in all his dealings, Collins has taken the boxing game purely as a business and has applied business principles to the sport.

The Hudson club has a secretary and is conducted much the same as any up-to-date business would be conducted. Collins keeps a double entry set of books and can tell you in a twinkling his profits or losses in any of the contests he has conducted.

What is bringing followers of boxing all over the length and breadth of the country to speak of Hudson, Wis., in terms of amazement, is the fact that the seat sale on the opening day broke the world's record for a ten-round boxing bout. When all sales had been checked up it was found that approximately $17,500 worth of pasteboards had been sold to the citizens of the Twin Cities and dozens of little towns scattered over length and breadth of the state.

Collins believes that the bout between Gibbons and McGoorty will draw a $28,000 house. McGoorty and Gibbons drew $37,000 in the Garden. Wolgast and Ritchie at Milwaukee pulled nearly $40,000 into the coffers of Tom Andrews' club. Jimmy Coffroth's San Francisco club has drawn around the $100,000 mark in some of the big heavyweight championship bouts. By this comparative statement of box office receipts of boxing contests it will be seen that if the Hudson bout draws as great a house as Collins anticipates, that it will hop right into the big league class.

Frank E. Force, former sporting editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, was here yesterday with some of the boxing enthusiasts of the Twin Cities. "Mike Gibbons for mine," said Force. "He is my choice over McGoorty. The Oshkosh boy is a real fighter, packing a great wallop, but I am of the opinion that Mike will cop."

"McGoorty aired some of his opinions just before I left for Duluth," said Collins. "He is not one bit afraid of Gibbons. Eddie is a peculiar fellow. When he is confident the Oshkosh boy is awfully hard to beat. McGoorty beat Gibbons in the Garden, the majority of the critics claimed, and this fact seems to serve to make Eddie believe he is going to hang one over on a boy who is generally rated as one of the greatest of all the middleweight contenders."

Gibbons and McGoorty should make a great bout, and if interest in this part of the state is an indication to go by, there will be many fans from these parts at the ring side when the gong rings.

Speaking of Hockey, Etc.

IF some industrious and alert press agent has sought out methods to create a hullabaloo and a lot of noise he could not have hit upon a more effective scheme than employed by the members of the St. Paul hockey team to ease somewhat the sting of victory. The Duluth hockey team is being generously discussed in newspapers wherever the puck game is played.

Charges of rough playing have been circulated in the Twin City papers and in the press of Winnipeg. And yet the fact remains that in no way can St. Paul explain away the fact that the 11 to 1 score will admit of no real reasoning away.

Had the game been close there might have been some serious credence given to the charge that dirty playing had a great deal to do with St. Paul losing. Whether the Duluth players were unduly rough or not, is a matter that was in the hands of the referee; but the fact stands out that the St. Paul hockey team, an aggregation that we at the Head of the Lakes had heard much regarding, was outclassed and beaten by so decisive a score as to leave no doubt as to the superiority of the septet that won.

A Great Season for Duluth.

ON Monday evening at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. there will be a mass meeting of the oarsmen and prospective oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club. At this meeting it is expected that there will be an impetus given that will start bounding on its way the best season in the history of a rowing club that today stands unchallenged as an organization that has accomplished more in a shorter time than any other club in the history of the sport.

Let this column take this opportunity to urge every young man in the city of Duluth to seriously consider the proposition of going out as a candidate for the crews of the boat club.

The physical training is the best that any young fellow could possibly receive. The moral influence is necessarily of the best, for the old adage of a clean mind in a clean body surely holds true of the rowing game as it is conducted under the auspices of the boat club.

There are plenty of opportunities of making the crew the coming season. There are manifold advantages to be enjoyed by those earning a seat in one of the boats. In addition to the training, any boy going out for the crew is thrown with some of the finest young chaps in the city and will be given the enjoyment of possibly a trip to the Panama exposition.

But of more paramount importance by far, is the glowing fact that you are joining a big movement by lending your aid and influence to the boat club. The crews of this city have advertised Duluth far and wide. They have brought honor and exceeding athletic glory to our midst. The excessive winnings of the blue and white clad oarsmen have made Duluth the national center of the sport.

Get out, young fellow, and try for the crew; and by all means be on hand Monday evening and get some of the spirit of the Duluth Boat club—it's great.

Just What Ketonen Thinks.

ELLIS OSTBERG is already here looking after some of the early details of the coming Ketonen-Yokel contest. It may prove interesting to note what this man, who has been associated with the little Finn wrestler for several years, has to say regarding the chances of Waino with the Rocky Mountain Lion.

"I honestly think Ketonen will win and he is just as confident as I am," said Ostberg today. "Mark my words, Yokel will be more nervous than the little Finn when the men crawl through the ropes.

"Strange as it may seem Ketonen has been picked as a beaten man in the majority of his matches. Fritz Hanson, some years back when Waino was a mere novice at the game, came to New England to beat him. It was during the wrestling of that contest that I formed my opinion of the real greatness of Ketonen. The contest went three hours and some twenty minutes and Ketonen was given one of the worst gruellings that ever a wrestler received. Yet Hanson could not beat him.

"Miller was picked by a large number of followers of the game here to defeat Waino. Wrestling Miller was only one match in a dozen with Ketonen. It will be the same way with Yokel. What has Yokel that Ketonen hasn't? Ketonen is tremendously strong, has all the stuff that any wrestler has, and is one of the headiest men on the mat. We expect to defeat Yokel and then go after 'Pet' Brown, the sensational middleweight of Taylor, Tex. Out in Nebraska they will back Waino against Brown for $500 a side."

FEDERAL TEAMS TO START FIRST

Outlaw Season Will Open April 10, Four Days Before O. B.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The selection of April 10 as the opening date of the Federal league's playing season, four days in advance of the first game in the other major baseball leagues, and the recommendation by the umpires of some minor changes in the playing rules, marked the opening sessions of the league's annual schedule meeting here yesterday.

Although the injunction proceedings instituted at Chicago over the transfer of the Kansas City franchise to Newark prevented the formal adoption of a schedule, the magnates went ahead with their work, with the expectation that Newark would be the eighth team in this year's lineup.

The tentative schedule provides for Newark to open at Baltimore, Buffalo at Brooklyn, and Indianapolis and Chicago at home, with St. Louis and Pittsburg as the contending teams.

D. J. Haff, A. F. Gordon and Arthur Black, representing the Kansas City owners, registered at the hotel where the league meetings were held, but did not seek recognition at yesterday's sessions. The belief was expressed that a way would be found to adjust the dispute before the date set for the hearing in Chicago.

The Kansas City delegation left for home last night after a brief conference with President Gilmore, during which, it is understood, they said it was their purpose to use every honorable means to keep the disputed franchise in the Western city.

HOUGHTON BEATEN BY SAULT SEVEN

Portage Lake Hockey Team Plays Well in Second Half.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 27.—The Sault Hockey team added another to its string of victories last night by defeating the Portage Lake, 5 to 3. The first period was in the Sault's favor, but Portage Lake came up in the second half and played the visitors to a standstill, keeping the puck in Sault ice.

Thompson was injured when he fell, cutting a deep gash in his neck. He will be out of the game for the rest of the season.

A FAST DULUTH SKATER

JOHNNY GRIMSTEAD.

DULUTH HOCKEY TEAM IS DEFEATED BY WINNIPEGS

Visitors Take Fast and Clean Contest By 5 to 3 Score.

Ten-Minute Overtime Period Is Necessary to Decide Issue.

In one of the fastest and cleanest hockey games played in Duluth this season, the Winnipegs of Winnipeg defeated the Duluth Curling club septet last evening by the score of 5 to 3. The deciding scores of the visitors were made in an extra 10-minute period, the score being knotted at the termination of the second half, 3 to 3.

The visitors held an advantage in the first half, leading at the end of this period by the score of 3 to 2. Mohon, the dashing rover of the Duluth team, shot a pretty net early in the second half, and from the 4-minute period until the close of the half some of the prettiest and fastest hockey of the season was played.

Five minutes of the extra session passed without either team being able to score. The spectators were holding their breath or letting forth shrill screams. Munro took the puck in scrimmage after a lively mixup in front of the Duluth goal, and shot a goal at the conclusion of seven and one-half minutes of play. Hogan made a nice rush up the ice and fell as he was about to shoot for the cage. The puck was taken down the ice on a clever rush by Anderson, Munro and Henry, Anderson neatly passing the puck over to Henry near the home net, and Henry shot the final goal of the game, just one and a half minutes before the bell clanged out.

A Fine Contest.

It was one of the greatest games that has been played here for years. There was no semblance of dirty work by any member of either team, no penalties being imposed. It was a contest so close and spectacular all the way that interest was never allowed to lag. The visitors trotted out a real hockey team; an aggregation of speedy skaters with team work and a beautiful brand of combination play. At times the visitors outskated the home team, but, the game from every angle was a remarkably even one. Mahan played a brilliant game and the same may be said for Mohon.

Winkler, Anderson, Henry and Galbraith played like real stars for the visitors. Russ Barkell was out of the lineup because of injuries, his place being taken by Jack Barkell, who played a fine game.

The lineup and summary:

Winnipegs—		Duluth—

WATSON AND BROWN FIGHT A TERRIFIC TEN-ROUND DRAW

California Boy Excels in Fighting and Range Lad in Boxing.

The Chisholm Youth Proves a Veritable Glutton for Punishment.

BY BRUCE.

Pal Brown of Chisholm, Minn., and "Red" Corbet Watson of the subtler clime of California went ten high-pitched rounds to a draw last evening at the Superior Grand opera house before an audience of enthusiastic fans that packed the theater from pit to dome.

In the point of aggressive fighting the red-headed fury held the whip hand in the majority of rounds. From the third round on until the ninth session, Watson carried the going to his taller and more rangy opponent.

Again in the matter of punching there can be no doubt that stubby Watson, compact and rugged, carried the heavier bore guns. Watson shook Brown up often during the cantata, rocking the range lad's head with terrific left and right swings. At one time during the battle it appeared as if Brown was verging on the first stage of distress.

Brown Fights Great Bout.

Brown's best effort was a straight left that Watson seemingly made little effort to avoid. The redhead often took the left lead of the Chisholm boy in the endeavor to land with a hard right swing. Brown carried little force in his left, but twice shook Watson up with hard rights, once sending the diminutive San Franciscan half way to one knee with a hard right jolt to the head.

If a hair line decision were to be rendered, it could be given to the visitor from the sunny climes of the gentle Pacific coast. A draw is the fairest possible decision to render and is giving two game kids all the best of the scrap from every possible angle.

Pal Brown proved, as never before in the history of his fight career, that he is a glutton for punishment. There were two bad rounds for the range boy. The jackpine kid came back and surprised old followers of the game by his recuperative powers and his amazing ability to take terrific wallops without any appreciable effect.

During the majority of rounds, Watson was after his man. Brown made the Californian miss many terrible swings. On the other hand the redhead, always coming, caught Pal some terrible swings with both left and right hands. Brown was knocked to his knees once and several other times was carried to the ropes by the terrific onslaught of the stubby auburn-thatched lad.

Brown Finishes Strong.

The final round of the contest is the one that earned a draw decision for the game little battler from the iron ore precincts. Brown came back strong and made a gallant finish to a battle that had gone against him in several eventful sessions. The boys fought all over the ring and finished amid the ringing salvos of an audience worked up to a climatic pitch of interest.

The fight may be briefly and succinctly summed up in the statement that Brown showed better as a boxer, and Watson clearly and forcefully excelled in fighting force. Brown's left failed to disturb Watson, and the Chisholm boy failed to make extended use of his right. When Brown let his right go it carried force, but except in attempts at in-fighting, Pal made rare use of his old trusty right.

It was a real battle, one fairly teeming with slugging and one packed with animated action from the third round to the finishing bell. Watson came to these parts lugging a reputation that must have cost him some change as excess baggage. Let it be said that Jack Kearns' Scotchman failed in no small detail to live up to his effulgent reputation. In saying this, a great compliment is paid to Pal Brown. Watson let fly everything in the shop. Urged and goaded by the cries from his corner, Watson tore in, trying desperately from the fifth round on for a knockout. It is a fine tribute to the durability, the gameness and the fibery toughness of the pride of the iron ranges to state that he weathered all the stress and storm of Watson's attack and came back for more in the final session of the battle.

Much In-Fighting.

There was perhaps more in-fighting in the battle at large last evening than any staged across the bay since the gay Wisconsin solons lifted the ban from the ring sport. Both boys strove with demoniac energy in close to ram home those short and ripping blows, with the impact of the body planted behind them. Both Brown and Watson fought for the body in close, and Referee Curly Ulrich was kept on a perennial hop in the effort to break the combatants.

It must be said that little Pal Brown, outrageously quoted on the short odds, more than made good. The range lad was facing a ring youngster who has made a sensational record and is rated, and justly so, with being the most promising lightweight in the country today. Members of the Twin City contingent were liberally offering ridiculous odds that Watson would stop the Jackpine lad before the end of the battle. That Brown went in and gave so much for so much, is a tribute to his standing and a diploma of ring prowess.

The Preliminaries.

In the preliminaries the Adams football team received a bad evening. George Turner, one of last year's squad, and Kid McDonald, another player, started but failed to finish.

Joe Franklin, the honest blacksmith of Saxon, Wis., the hardy, who writes blood-curdling epistles in flaming ink, walked over the husky tar, Turner. In the third round Turner was laid prostrate in his corner by a submarine attack. The bell saved the United States navy and the ship was given a tow to port. In the fourth round the Saxon submarine again rammed and the United States white signal of distress was run to the masthead.

Young Oliver of Superior also proceeded to blurr if not extinguish the pugilistic lights of Kid McDonald, who was willing but lacked knowledge of the fact that if a straight line is the shortest route between two given points, likewise a straight punch is the most speedy method of reaching a given point on the anatomy of an opponent.

Young Oliver possessed straight punching ability in right and left, while the Duluth entry attempted to swing his way to glory. The fight was terminated in the fifth round.

In the curtain raiser Battling Stewart and Young Gabby met and exchanged pleasantries. Stewart was the stronger, was somewhat more versed in the game, could hit harder, showed more willingness to fight and hit oftener. Outside of these qualifications young Gabby did exceedingly well. Stewart won, as you may have gathered.

The Brown-Watson Fight by Rounds:

Round one—Brown walked from his corner and opened the hostilities by reaching Watson's head with a long left. Both boys were feeling each other out and little real fighting was done. Watson made little effort to land, but slowly walked around the ring in wild pursuit of Pal. Brown again landed a left to the face and came back once more with a left, all of the blows being light and failing to disturb Watson. The boys went into a clinch. Coming out Watson caught Pal with a right and set him on one knee. There was no damage done. Even round.

Round two—Brown drew first blood, cracking Red with a left that started a thin stream of claret from Watson's lips. Watson came in close and hung a hard right to Brown's head. The boys fell into a clinch and indulged in close body working, both endeavoring to pump in short lefts and rights to body. Watson worked both hands to body and Pal rammed in a hard right. No damage done and round even.

Round three—Brown caught Watson a hard right to head and followed this with a hard uppercut to body. Pal rushed the fighting along the ropes. Watson came out of the clinch and rushed with demoniac fury, swinging from his hips. The blows missed Pal by feet. When Brown let his right go it carried force, but except in attempts at in-fighting, Pal made rare use of his old trusty right.

Round four—Watson came out and started this round with terrific fighting force. The Californian landed a hard right to Brown's head. The redhead again landed a left swing and his blows appeared to carry a world of force. Brown broke before the onslaught of the San Francisco boy. In a clinch both boys worked rights and lefts to body. Brown came out of the clinch and landed right and Watson rushed back and swung both left and right hard to head. The round was a corker and belonged to Watson.

Round five—Watson again started hard in this session. He reached Brown with hard swings, landing left and right and rocking the range boy's head. Brown landed his long left twice, but his blows seemed to lack steam. Watson rushed and carried the fighting to Brown, swinging a hard left to face and catching Pal a short left to body. The boys fell into a clinch along the ropes and battled to the center of the ring with Ulrich trying to break them. Near the close of the round Watson rushed and again swung a heavy left to Brown's head. Watson's round.

Brown and over near the ropes let go a hard left that landed high on the head. The boys clinched and pumped in short arm jolts to body. The round belonged to Brown by a shade.

Round Seven.—Again the boys started at a terrific pace. The round was prolific of several furious mixups in mid-ring. The boys exchanged rights and Watson rushed headon into a long, raking left. In a clinch the boys fought to the ropes and out in mid-ring again. Watson uncorked a hard left to head and then Brown unlimbered a straight left to face. The boys fought half way around the ropes, both mixing furiously in a neutral corner. The gong found the lads swinging away in the center of the ring. The round was even.

Round eight—Watson rushed Brown around the ring, several of the terrific swings of the Californian going wild. Watson caugh Pal with a hard right and rocked his head. The boys were clinched against the ropes and both tried vallantly for rights for head with one arm pinned before broken by Ulrich. Watson kept rushing and carrying the fight to Brown, but the range boy avoided many of his swings. Brown came in with a left and again Watson swung hard to head. The fighters went round in a half clinch, both battling in a semi-embrace. There was little to choose at the end of the session.

Round nine—Both boys were coming hard. Watson was rushing and catching Brown with a right, spun him around and Pal dropped to his hands. Brown came back strong and started to carry the fight to Watson. The range lad came in with a right uppercut and then landed a left to head. Watson caught Pal with a left swing and then missed a terrific right for head. Brown carried Red to the ropes and the boys fought at times half through the hempen enclosure. It was a furious round, with one rousing exchange near the ropes. Even round.

Tenth and last round—The boys shook hands in mid ring and then starter to annihilate each other. Brown came in strong and rushed Red to the ropes in a clinch. The boys battled along the ropes, partially in an embrace. Watson was viciously shooting in short uppercuts to body and Brown, leaning over his shorter opponent, was swinging his right in a crooked semi-circle, pumping in shots to the body. Along the ropes the lads went, back to mid ring and then back to the ropes, the crowd standing on its feet and letting loose a volley of shouts. Watson broke free and swung a short right to head. Brown came back with a short right to body aid again the boys fought in and out of a clinch, circling around the ring. The bell found the boys fighting along the ropes, battling with fury and mad desire to put an end to the contest. The round and fight were even.

BALL TEAMS OFF TO TRAINING CAMP

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 27.—Miller J. Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, accompanied by a dozen of his players, left last night for Hot Wells, Texas, where the team will condition itself for the coming campaign. Many of the veterans will meet Huggins and his squad at the Texas resort, and several youngsters will join the party en route.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Eleven ball players, members of the Chicago National league club, left here last night for Tampa, Fla. Other members, veterans and recruits, will meet the train en route. Spring work is to begin March 1.

Gophers Lose Again.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—The University of Chicago basket ball team last night defeated the University of Minnesota team 19 to 15 in a Western conference game here.

THE GOOD JUDGE CAUTIONS THE ANGRY DEACON.

GETTING the fine, satisfying comfort of the Real Tobacco Chew themselves, your "Right-Cut" users let no grass grow under their feet while they are passing the good word along to all their friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molassee and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

FORTY MEN ON DIAMOND

Eleven "M" Athletes Turn Out for Baseball Practice.

Northwestern Gymnastic Meet Will Be Held at "U" March 20.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forty men turned out for baseball practice last Saturday afternoon in answer to the first call of the season by Capt. Reuben Pennington. Eleven "M" men were among the candidates. At least two of the "M" men will be unable to make the team and there are indications that several more will be beaten out of their places by new players. The 'varsity veterans who answered the first call were: Capt. Pennington, Petraborg and Lawler, basket ball players; Dietrich, a member of the football team; Henry and Anderson, last years pitchers; Tracy, Aronson, Dangavel, Mundy and Longly. Among the new material of whom much is expected are: Carl Hedge, captain of the St. Thomas baseball team two years ago and a member of the Gophor football team last fall; Swanson and Stowe, who played first base last year for the freshmen. These men and several others are expected to make the veterans fight hard for their places.

Regular practice for the baseball squad began Tuesday. Leonard Frank, track coach, is temporarily in charge until after the arrival of Frosty Thomas on March 1. The first scheduled game will be played with Hamlin April 14, but it is likely that practice games with Twin City high schools will begin about April 1, when the Northrop field diamond ought to be in shape.

Practice Play in Morning.

Baseball practice in the morning, a new feature in college athletics, will be started at the university. The reason for experimenting with morning baseball is that an unusually large number of candidates are out for the team this year, the university armory being overcrowded with athletes working on track basket ball, gymnastics and intramural sports. Several candidates for the team, students in the law, academic and pharmacy college have hours in the morning without classes, and it is for these players that morning baseball is to be tried. Between classes it will be possible for candidates to bat the ball around the cage, or warm up their pitching arms for an hour. Dr. L. J. Cooke, physical director, is preparing a schedule appointing certain times for the use of the armory by candidates for the various sports.

Prof. James Paige of the eligibility committee announced Thursday that Minnesota track men would be allowed to take part in the Y. M. C. A. national guard track meet in the Minneapolis Armory on March 6 and 7 even though other college athletes were entered.

First Indoor Track Meet.

The university sophomores defeated the freshmen last Saturday afternoon in the first indoor track meet of the season, by a score of 46½ to 39½. More than fifty athletes participated in what proved to be the largest intramural event this year. Ballentyne, a second-year man, was the star of the meet, winning two firsts in the dashes and running a spectacular race in the sophomore relay. Owing to a misunderstanding in the system of rating, Ballentyne started under the freshman colors and won two races, putting the first year men in the lead. Capt. Cross of the sophomores, objected to Ballentyne. Coach Frank found after investigation that Ballentyne's points belonged to the sophomores. The one-half mile was a fast race, Cross winning at the tape, finishing one-half a second ahead of Ryder. The time was 2 minutes 17 3-5 seconds. Moersch made 5 feet 5 inches in the high jump, beating out Wise by one inch. The height was considered good owing to the slippery condition of the floor.

The Minnesota football team was given a strenuous workout in the Armory behind closed doors on Thursday afternoon. Capt. Rosenthal kept any would-be spectators from spying on the Gophers, while Dr. Williams instilled the principles of the Minnesota shift and other formations of the freshies. There was an exceptional amount of new material on hand. Long, Wyman, Ballentyne, Hanson, Anderson and Weiss, all of whom played on the freshman eleven last year, were present. McLain, a newcomer, who earned his letter at Yale in baseball, was tried out at quarter with Long and Weiss.

Because of the popularity of Dick Lewis, basket ball star, and Biernie Bierman, football halfback, no candidates have filed against them for election to the presidency and vice presidency of the university athletic board of control. The polls closed on Wednesday noon, and although it is possible for a candidate to file by petition, it is unlikely that anybody would venture to run against either man. The election will be held next Wednesday. The board is composed of students and faculty members, and it controls all intercollegiate athletic activity at the university. Representatives will be chosen from the engineering, law, academic and agricultural colleges.

Engineering students, whose football team won the intramural championship in football last fall, announced Thursday that sweaters would be given to all the men who were on the team. A collection was taken up and more than enough money subscribed to buy sweaters for the players. The players have been awarded a six-inch gold "E" by the intramural sports committee.

Northwestern Gymnastic Meet.

The Northwestern gymnastic meet will be staged in the university armory March 20. Teams will be entered from Hamline, St. Olaf, Macalester, St. Johns and possibly St. Thomas. There will be competitions on the horizontal bars, parallels, horses, rings, and tumbling events. The all-university wrestling championships will be determined by a tournament held in conjunction with the gymnastic meet. The winner of the A. A. U. lightweight wrestling championship last year, T. Irving Madigan, has been declared eligible for the university wrestling team. He is expected to win easily for Minnesota in the spring bouts, being by far one of the best lightweights in the conference. Madigan entered as a junior this semester.

Quint to Close Season.

The Minnesota basket ball team left Thursday night for a trip to Chicago and Madison to play the two last conference games scheduled away from home. The Gophers have been beaten both by Wisconsin and the Maroons, and the squad is bent on revenge. Little, Pynn and Lawler, three players who have been on the sick list, are expected to play in both games. Huseby, Douglas and Crosby accompanied the team as substitutes.

Rifle shooting at Minnesota received a severe blow this week when it was announced that Maj. E. C. Rollman has left school. During the past four years Rollman has been one of the mainstays of the Gopher team, having several times held the individual high average for the season, and having been for two years captain of the team. This year he gave promise of smashing all his previous records, his off-hand shooting being remarkable. For some reason or other Minnesota has not been doing very well lately in the intercollegiate rifle competition. Of the five matches already shot, Minnesota has lost four, winning only one. Last week's match went to the Massachusetts "aggies" by a score of 972 to 939. Following are the team totals:

	Off-hand.	Prone.	Tl.
Col. Lambert	93	97	190
Carlson (captain)	98	97	190
Lieut. Countryman	90	98	188
Capt. Larson	90	96	186

KID TAYLOR MAY LEAD SUPERIOR CLUB.

W. J. Sommer, who is again to take over the Superior Baseball club, is expected to arrive from California in a few days. Kid Taylor announced yesterday that he had been offered the management of the Superior club for the 1915 season. Taylor stated that there was some doubt in his mind as yet whether he would be in the league.

"If Sommer will pay me what I think I am worth, I may lead the club," quoth the kid.

Ouimet Below Scratch.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 27.—Francis Ouimet, national amateur golf champion, was yesterday given a rating as plus two by the Massachusetts Golf association. It is the first time that any golf association in the country has put a player below the scratch mark.

CURLING

Ditzel went into the semi-finals of the Bagley event last night by the defeat of Laird Goodman, 10 to 3. That makes Ditzel and Walter out in the semi-finals, with Ray Bishof. The winner of the Billy Dinham-Ralph Bradley contest will also go into the finals. This will leave four of the crack rinks of the contest to fight it out for the honor of progressing into the finals.

In The Herald, Ralph Bradley is out in the finals, awaiting the winner of the Gillespie-Dinham contest. As this game is scheduled to be played sometime today, it is expected that the finals of The Herald will be played off Monday evening.

BIG DULUTHS ARE WINNERS

Bagleys Defeated at Hockey By the Score of 6 to 0.

Two Harbors Team Has Dropped Out of League.

Team Standing.

Team—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Northerns	6	1	.857
Big Duluths	6	2	.714
Universals	4	2	.666
Two Harbors	3	4	.428
D. C. H. S.	1	4	.200
Bagleys	0	6	.000

Last evening at the French rink the Big Duluths drew up a bit on the Northerns in the hockey race of the Duluth Amateur league by administering a 6-to-0 defeat to the Bagleys. For 10 minutes of the first half the watch peddlers really looked like winners. After the lapse of this period of pending prosperity the Bagleys fell back to normal playing form and the merchants came on and proceeded to make a collection of nets.

Olson shot the first two Big Duluth goals from scrimmages in front of the net. Alder caged the final count of the initial period, Olson and Alder making a pretty rush up the ice, Olson neatly slipping Capt. Alder the rubber just in front of the enemy's goal.

Alder made the first goal in the second half on a scrimmage, scored the second on a pass from Olson, after the twin had made another grand rush through the jewelry team, and Olson completed a successful evening by caging the final score of the game from a rebound from some part of the goal tender's anatomy.

Two Harbors Is Out.

Report reached here late yesterday afternoon that the Two Harbors hockey team would not fulfill its engagement to play the Northerns last evening. It was stated that the management of the team seemed unable to keep the boys together and effort had been abandoned to play out the season's schedule.

There will be a meeting of the league officials today or Monday, when action will be taken to complete the season without the Two Harbors aggregation. While it is considered unfortunate that the members of the railroad gang should take it upon themselves to spoil in a measure so fine a race, the league officials stated today that the schedule will be played out.

The lineup and summary:

JIM TEN EYCK HAS RETURNED

Famous Rowing Coach Predicts Great Year for Duluth.

Coach Jimmy Ten Eyck reached Duluth today from Pennsylvania, where he has just completed a business trip. The coach of the local crews will start his men off on real training on Wednesday and is enthusiastic over the prospects of this season.

"We are going to have three of the best boats ever constructed," said Jimmy. "The three new boats specially constructed for the boat club are perhaps the lightest shells ever built. The boats have been built at extra cost. They are extremely light, but no stiffness has been sacrificed to attain lightness. The boats were built by Ward of Edgewater, N. J., and some of my own ideas have been embodied in the lines. Ward constructs all of the boats for Yale, Princeton, the Navy and the University of Pennsylvania, as well as Syracuse.

"Some special oars are being made by Ellis Ward, former coach of the U. of P. The oars, like the boats, will be especially light. The oars will be hollow, a new process of manufacture being used to gain lightness and at the same time strength.

"Hoover and Kent have new singles and there is not a doubt in the world that our boys will do a lot of sculling. I look for a great year for the boys. We are going to make every effort to arrange a contest on the Pacific coast. The University of Washington wants Syracuse and Cornell to make the trip, and we shall try to make the trip. If we could get in a contest it would settle the much mooted question in regard to the relative speed of college and rowing club crews."

FOXHOUNDS WIN DERBY.

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 27.—Fred Ayer, driving a team of fourteen foxhounds, finished first late yesterday in the 64-mile Solomon derby for dog teams. His estimate was four hours and twenty-four minutes.

Percy Blatchford driving the Downing-Blatchford team, was second in six hours and thirty-eight minutes.

At last reports, Leonard Seppala was leading "Scotty" Allan driving the Allan-Darling team of malamutes for third place.

CATHEDRALS CLINCH TITLE

Beat Central High School Second Time in Basket Ball Game.

Result Determines Interscholastic Championship for Head of Lakes.

Before a crowd of nearly 400 enthusiastic rooters the Cathedral high school basket ball quintet on its home floor last evening defeated the Central five in a rough but fast and exciting contest by the score of 14 to 5. This is the second victory of the Fourth street squad and thus assures them the Head of the Lakes interscholastic championship.

The first half was nip and tuck all the way through. Excellent guarding on both sides held down the score and considerable "rough house" was displayed by both teams. The score of this half was 5 to 3 with the Catholic boys on the long end. The second half started with a rush but the Cathedral men displayed much better team work and more noticeable accuracy in their shots. Considerable luck helped the Cathedral score, while hard luck kept down the Central points. The Central men had many more shots at the basket, but they did not seem to be able to locate it.

Monaghan of the victors played a wonderful game, while Cole and McNamara were also in unusual form. For the Central quintet no man showed especially brilliant, as the whole team seemed to be somewhat "off-color." Up until the time that he left the game in the second half "Locky" Taylor played a strong game at guard. Shots that he generally makes went wild, however, and he was unable to contribute to the score. Shaw, rushed in during the second half, made a nice basket.

As a curtain raiser to the main affair the Cathedral seconds won from the Phoenix five in a hard-fought contest by the score of 7 to 5. The lineup and summaries of the two games follow:

Central—		Cathedral—
Scrivens, Shaw	f	Monaghan
Karon	f	McNamara
Moore	c	Lee
Taylor, Farah	g	Cole
Solheim	g	Nicholson

Goals—Karon, 1; Shaw, 1; Monaghan, 2; McNamara, 3; Nicholson, 1. Free throws—Moore, 1; Monaghan, 2.

Cathedral Seconds—		Phoenix—
Tierney	f	Gallagher
Gruesen	f	McDonald
Fitzpatrick	c	Killeen
Tobin	g	Ryan
McKinnon	g	Corcoran

Goals—Gallagher, 1; McDonald, 1; Fitzpatrick, 2; Tobin, 1. Free throws—McDonald, 1; McKinnon, 1.

TRINITY NINE STILL LEADS TEMPLE LEAGUE

With the close of the February schedule in the Temple Indoor Baseball league last night, when the Trinity team defeated the Shriners, the West end blue lodge members are found to be still at the head of the league, with a safe lead over their nearest rival, the Ionic nine.

The Trinity team won easily over the Shriners, the score at the end of play being 32 to 15. Erickson and Anderson were the batteries for the West end players, while Critchfield and Pond worked for the fez wearers. After the game about 150 Masons and their women friends enjoyed an informal dancing program.

The standing of the league with the close of play last night follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Trinity	9	1	.900
Ionic	7	3	.700
Scottish Rite	6	6	.500
Palestine	4	6	.400
Shrine	3	7	.300
Chapter	2	8	.200

The schedule for March, as announced this morning, follows: March 2, Trinity vs. Chapter; March 5, Scottish Rite vs. Shrine; March 8, Shrine vs. Chapter; March 9, Palestine vs. Ionic; March 10, Trinity vs. Scottish Rite; March 15, Ionic vs. Scottish Rite; March 16, Trinity vs. Palestine; March 17, Chapter vs. Ionic; March 23, Shrine vs. Palestine.

WOULD STAGE BIG FIGHT IN HAVANA

Cubans Form Sporting Club to Get Johnson-Willard Match.

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 27.—The National Sporting club of Cuba, which has just been organized, hopes to stage a fight between Johnson and Willard in Havana, the bout to be held either in the Havana stadium, the Politeama theater or in a new stadium to be erected under a concession held by the club.

Nothing definite as to the prospects will be known, however, until the arrival of Jack Curley, promoter of the proposed Johnson-Willard bout in Juarez, Mexico. Curley, who is now on his way to Havana from Juarez, is expected to arrive here Monday.

The National Sporting Club of Cuba, held its inaugural boxing meeting last night, and Johnson appeared in an exhibition bout.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 27.—Jack Curley, promoter of the proposed bout between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard at Juarez, Mexico, said last night he had no intention of transferring the match to Havana. He will sail for Havana today for a conference with Johnson.

Ertle Fouled In Fight.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 27.—Johnnie Ertle, St. Paul, bantamweight, last night won on a foul over Frankie Izzo, Chicago, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round no-decision bout.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CLAIM BILL TOO RADICAL

Corporations Objecting to North Dakota Measure That Passed House.

Allege House Bill 449 Will Give Competitors Too Much Information.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The corporations, both state and foreign, are protesting against House Bill No. 449, which has passed the house and gone to the state senate. This measure originated with the state tax commission and was introduced by the committee on taxes and taxation. It is extremely radical in its provisions requiring unusually detailed reports from corporations regarding their stockholders, officers, places of business, volume of business done and many other details that the corporations insist are unfair in that it would give their competitors inside information that could be used adversely.

There are provisions giving extra powers to the tax commission to require additional information if demanded. The corporations disclaim any desire to fight the bill because of the taxation features, but they oppose it because of the extraordinary requirements regarding the reports.

May Change Corporation Form.

They assert that as far as possible many of the local corporations will be changed into partnerships to evade the requirements of the law and hundreds of foreign corporations will withdraw from the state.

The senators are being bombarded by telegrams and letters from over the state urging them to oppose the measure. Local corporations are taking an active part in the opposition and are endeavoring to prevent its enactment. As the bill also proposes to abolish the present tax commission of three members and substitute a one-man commission, it is expected the bill in question will be defeated or considerably modified in its scope.

PROTEST AGAINST AGITATORS

Finnish Mine Workers of Copper Country to Make Demonstration Sunday.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several thousand Finnish mine workmen from the four counties of Baraga, Ontonagon, Houghton and Keweenaw are expected to respond to the call of the local Finnish miners' committee to attend the mass meeting and parade here Sunday in protest against the activities of labor agitators and so-called Red Socialists who are charged with creating an impression among mine operators that their Finnish employes are unreliable.

The Finnish nationality is leading all others in the Copper country in the campaign to expel from the district the agitators and Socialist organizers. The claim is made that the Socialist organizers have been collecting tribute from many unwilling Finnish workmen for the United Mine Workers and Western Federation of Miners organizations since the end of the strike last spring, resulting in the loss of jobs for hundreds who promised, when employed, not to affiliate with those organizations.

NORTH DAKOTANS MAY RAISE SUGAR BEETS

Bulletin Showing High Grade Beets Raised Attracts Attention.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota may get into the sugar beet industry as a result of the recent publication of a bulletin regarding the cultivation and yield of the beets in this state.

The average per cent of sugar in the beet-raising states is 13 per cent, while in North Dakota it is 15 per cent. The report shows there is a wide area in which sugar beets can be profitably grown. The greatest difficulty is in securing factories which are highly expensive and can only be put in by outside capital.

Sugar Men Investigate.

The report has attracted the attention of sugar manufacturers who are investigating the conditions more fully and intimate a factory could be secured with a guarantee of an adequate supply of beets. The farmers are becoming interested and agree they would cultivate sugar beets if there was any assurance of a market. Efforts will be made to get the sugar manufacturers and the farmers interested in beet culture together.

IS DETAINED AS SPY.

Grand Forks Man, Returning From Europe, Held Up at Fort Frances.

He is survived by a wife and four sons, Russell, Allen, Harold and Arthur also six brothers, Benjamin and Charles of Stillwater, Arthur of Superior, Henry of Saskatchewan, William and Justice of Blackville, N. B. also a sister Mrs. Benjamin Holmes of Stillwater. Mr. Underhill came to Stillwater, Minn., in 1886 and in 1888 married Miss Grace Schafield, who died in the spring of 1890. Mr. Underhill came to Rutledge, where he was employed by the Sauntry Lumber company in 1892, and two years later was employed by the Rutledge Lumber & Manufacturing company until 1904 when they finished their work here. In the summer of 1895 he married Miss Alice J. Underhill of Blackville, N. B. The winter of 1904 and 1905 he logged at Ashland, Wis., in partnership with J. D. McCormack. In the summer of 1905 he moved to Rush City, and in the winter of 1905 and 1906 he logged at Foxboro, Wis., with J. D. McCormack. In 1906 he moved to Golden, B. C., where he was employed by the Columbia River Lumber company.

Mr. Underhill thought Minnesota a more desirable place and returned to Rutledge in July 1909, where he built a modern home which he completed in 1913.

As an employe Mr. Underhill was faithful and diligent and when he commenced independently for himself he was most successful in all his undertakings.

BADGER COUPLE ARE MARRIED IN A HACK.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 27.—A youthful love romance found its culmination here Thursday at an unusual wedding ceremony, under unusual conditions, when Mrs. Dora Ward was wedded to Albert F. Hutchison, both of Readstown, Wis. The ceremony was performed in a hack standing in front of the Episcopal rectory.

Hutchison has been in Rochester for some time to consult physicians, and it is realized that his condition is somewhat serious. Mrs. Dora Ward, a sweetheart of his youth, learning of his serious illness, rushed to Rochester to become his bride. Hutchison's physical weakness made it impossible for him to leave the hack to enter the rectory, so the rector was summoned without, the nuptial vows being spoken in the public cab.

TWO ALLEGED GRAIN THIEVES ARRESTED.

Langdon, N. D., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Englebert and Anton Eggl were arrested on a charge of stealing 100 bushels of oats from the Donovan farm, near Clyde. They live in Towner county. The former pleaded guilty to the charge, but claimed his brother was innocent. The officials held the brother, however, and are after a third man, who is supposed to have been implicated. During the winter raids have been made on a number of graneries and the man who pleaded guilty to this charge is thought to have knowledge of some of the other thefts.

WHEAT SCORES BIG JUMP ON HEAVY EXPORT DEMAND

Market Advances With Strong Bidding in All Quarters.

Duluth Operators Work More Grain for Shipment—Flax Strong.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 27.—Bulls were in full control of the wheat markets today. Strong Eastern millers' demaid was in evidence right at the opening, and there were rumors of a large tonnage having been sold for export at the seaboard. Under these influences price advances extending up to 4c were scored at the close.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.45½, and closed 4c up at $1.49½ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.41 and closed 4c up at $1.45 bid.

Durum was strong, but trading in it was restricted through the scarcity of supplies. The May future in it opened ½c up at $1.51, and closed 3½c up at $1.45. July closed 3¼c up at $1.50¼ asked.

The urgent inquiry for cash wheat was a feature on the local market. There was keen bidding for everything on the tables, and the premium was advanced to 2c over May. Cash houses are said to be bidding strongly for grain in line elevators through the country, and there is strong possibility of a large proportion of it being routed this way. The fact of the spread being between the Duluth and Minneapolis May futures now standing at 4c in favor of this market, whereas earlier in the week it was only 2½c over is regarded as evidence that operators here have taken the market away from the interior grain center. Minneapolis grain men have become nervous on the score of milling supplies, and they advanced their cash premium to 1c today. As it is, the Duluth cash market is now 2c higher than Minneapolis on anything grading No. 1 northern.

That exporters are coming after No. 2 northern wheat here now was attested in the working of 100,000 bu yesterday afternoon to go out at the opening of navigation. A considerable tonnage was also said to have been sold by local operators to Eastern millers today.

It was noted that wheat supplies in Duluth elevators showed a decrease of 173,000 bu in the week, making the tonnage now stand at 10,346,000 bu. Total stocks of all grains in the houses at the Head of the Lakes now stand at 16,572,000 bu, a decrease of 37,000 bu in the six days.

Moderate Bulge in Flax.

Trading in flaxseed was quiet and narrow, but with better inquiry from crushers, moderate advances being scored.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.84⅞ and closed ⅝c up at $1.85⅝. July opened unchanged at $1.85½ and closed ⅝c up at $1.86¼ bid. September opened unchanged at $1.85 and closed ½c up at $1.85½ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1⅝c up at $1.66⅞ bid and July 1⅞c up at $1.69⅛ bid. Crushers were said to be good buyers up there.

There was good bidding for oats and they closed 1⅛c up at 53⅜c for on the track. At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c up at 65⅜c bid and July ⅜c up at 65⅞c bid.

Rye closed unchanged at $1.13@1.14 and barley unchanged at from 67c to 76c. There were no market for corn.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Minneapolis cash demand was very good for the heavy wheat, but still slow for the light grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 4@4½c over May and velvet chaff was in excellent demand. Fair domestic flour sales were reported. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.44 to $1.48½ and No. 2 northern at from $1.40 to $1.45.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat market was dull with an easier undertone, influenced by the weakness in America yesterday and sentimental effect of better news from the Dardanelles. Spot market is comparatively steady at ½@1½d decline, with most of the pressure on American winters.

"Cargoes and parcels are weak, with winters offered at 9d to 1s lower, whiles Plates are about unchanged. Prospects are for larger Indian offers and freer Argentine shipments, but the demand for immediate shipment continues and indications point to smaller American shipments this week."

* * *

Argentine weather is unsettled, with rain in parts. Movement is being seriously affected and the new corn crop unfavorably affected. Broomhall's agent reduces his exportable surplus of wheat to 104,000,000 bu.

* * *

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "Total stocks are now 13,780,000 bu, against 14,221,000 bu, last week and 19,000,000 bu last year. Receipts today are 190 cars and shipments out are 140 cars. Receipts last year were 394 cars, and shipments 80 cars. Flour shipments today are 67,720 barrels. It is generally conceded that our receipts are largely at the expense of country elevators, farmers not selling or shipping very much. There is no doubt but that interior stocks are very light and elevator stocks below normal. One of the large lines companies reports only an average of 1,500 bu in each of its interior houses."

* * *

A New York wire said: "I was in Baltimore yesterday. Know one exporter there who sold three cargoes of corn and all told I believe sales of corn there were over 1,000,000 bu and fully that much oats. Baltimore exporters think there is 15,000,000 bu corn sold for export and more than that of oats, and this stuff will be shipped out in the next sixty days."

Russell's News New York says: There were some lots of cash wheat taken by exporters this morning, and it is understood that there is a fair English and Itallan demand.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Lively Shipping Inquiry Causes Advance in Price of Wheat.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—More of a friendly feeling toward the buying side of wheat was manifest today. Failure of Liverpool quotations to reflect fully the decline yesterday on this side of the Atlantic tended to encourage the bulls and so also did a further lowering of estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus. Active demand for spot cash delivery had an additional strengthening influence on futures. After opening ¼c down to ¾c up, prices here advanced all around, July leading with a rise 2c above last night, but later reacting 1c.

Opinions that long delays might be expected in the opening the Dardanelles and in adjusting commercial conditions in Russia, stopped to a large extent today the talk of unlimited shipments flooding soon past Constantinople. The close here was strong at 2½@4¼c net advance.

Lively shipping inquiry from the seaboard helped to lift the corn market. Besides, rural offerings were small. The opening, which varied from ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c higher, was followed by other moderate gains.

Rains and snows in the West, likely to diminish receipts and to increase feeding, acted later as a prop to the market. The close was strong, 2¼c to 2½@2⅝c net higher.

Oats climbed with wheat and corn. One of the largest houses in the trade was conspicuous in the purchasing.

Provisions averaged lower. Weakness in the hog market counterbalanced the effect of grain strength.

Alaska Gold closed unchanged at $28; Calumet & Arizona 25c up at $52.50; Copper Range, a shade up at $33.87; Granby at $1 up at $67; Greene-Cananea 50c off at $26; Mohawk 50c off at $55.25; and North Butte unchanged at $23.75.

At New York Amalgamated Copper closed 27c up at $53.50, and Amalgamated Copper 25c up at $26.

In the Duluth market, Calumet & Montana Consolidated sold at 57@58c and closed at 58c bid. Interstate-Callahan was in good demand on the declaration of its dividend of $1 for the year payable at 25c a share quarterly. Investors were reported to be bidding $12 for it.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Calumet & Corbin sold at 12 cents; United Verde Extension at $2.78; Jumbo Extension at 55 cents; First National Copper at $1.06; Butte & London at 17 cents.

For the week ending Feb. 20, Arizona Commercial shipped 440 tons of which 120 tons was smelting ore. Total shipments in February up to the twentieth were 200 tons of smelting and 1,240 tons of concentrating ore.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "The action of the market today was most encouraging in the face of the war possibilities over Sunday. The zinc stocks were notably strong and the coppers showed signs of life just at the close. Indications point to a sharp rally next week if nothing unforeseen happens. We are especially bullish on Copper Range, Allouez and Mohawk. North Butte has been quiet for a long time, and should soon resume its leadership."

A Boston wire said: "Winona has about 600,000 pounds refined copper in storage at the Quincy smelter at Hancock, Mich., waiting for an opportunity to sell at higher prices."

Goldfield Consolidated company has declared a dividend of 10c, payable April 30, to stock of record March 31.

W. P. Heihbach, president of the Butte-Alex Scott Copper company, has returned from a visit to the Scott mine at Butte. He reports that he found the property in excellent shape physically, and prepared to resume production actively as soon as it is assured that the copper metal market is stable, and there is reasonable assurance that a profitable price will be maintained. Mr. Heimbach says that he found the mining contingent of Butte feeling sanguine, and convinced that once the European war is ended, or the end actually in sight, that there will be an increased demand, and for a long and indefinite period, at profitable prices.

Referring to the stock market situation, Skillings' Mining and Market Letter of today says: "The technical position of the stock market is strong and the only thing which operates to the exercise of caution, and the taking of small profits, is the European war. Stocks, particularly the coppers, are cheap enough at present prices. They may be safely bought for either speculation or investment. If the speculator desires to turn his money every day perhaps this may not apply, but if he is willing to hold for a spell, he cannot lose. The end of the war is not in sight at this time, but it will be well for investors in coppers to have some good stocks when it does end. This talk that the war may last one or two years longer is not reasonable. That it will last beyond mid-summer, allowing for no new complications, would seem to be giving it a wide margin."

TRADING IS VERY DULL

Stocks Move Within Narrow Limits During the Short Session.

Amalgamated Only Speculative Leader to Show Marked Strength.

New York, Feb. 27.—The stock market moved within very narrow limits during today's short session, opening with gains in most of the better known issues, but soon falling back on moderate offerings. Traders seemed loath to make new commitments over the week-end, in view of the foreign situation. Amalgamated Copper was the only speculative leader to manifest marked strength, advancing a point. The Pacifics and Grangers were barely steady, while trunk line shares sold off fractionally. Specialties furnished their quota of the session's small output. Petroleums showing weakness, while motor stocks were relatively strong. The closing was firm. Bonds were irregular.

New York Central was the only important issue to reflect pressure, the London market for Americans was dull with mixed gains and losses.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR MINE AND MILL WORKING TO CAPACITY

Operating at Rate of 1,450 Tons of Ore Per Day.

St. Paul and Duluth Capitalists Take Option on the Brooklyn.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The failure of Butte & Superior stock to advance in sympathy with the phenomenal advance in the price of spelter has aroused a lot of speculation among Butte & Superior shareholders. The stock rather receded from the price at which it was selling when spelter was 7 cents a pound instead of advancing when spelter went above 9 cents, and the talk of a "nigger in the woodpile" became common in Butte. All sorts of reasons were advanced for the peculiar action of the stock. It was stated that Butte & Superior was not selling its spelter, that its contract with the smelting company was so unfavorable that the mining company derived little benefit from the high price of spelter, that insiders were fearful of the approaching trial of the suit with the W. A. Clark interests, involving a large portion of the Butte & Superior ore bodies, and also that the zinc ore of the Butte & Superior was rapidly being exhausted, the ore turning into a low grade of copper. However, the company's report for January, filed in the Federal court in Butte, as required in the litigation with the Minerals Separation, Ltd., of London, over the oil flotation system used by the Butte & Superior, shows no depreciation of zinc values, apparently. During January 32,817 tons of ore were mined and milled and 3,042 tons of concentrates recovered at a cost of $3.52 per ton, the concentrates having a value of $39.97 per ton, against a value of $24.24 per ton for the December concentrates which were recovered at a cost of $5.42 per ton.

Higher Recovery.

Both mine and mill are being worked above normal capacity, and the percentage of recoveries is higher than it has been for some time, the average for some time having been around 92 per cent. The force of men employed in the mine and mill numbers 1,150, which is also the record number. It is claimed that on 7-cent spelter the company earned $500,000 a month, and every additional cent advance in the price of spelter meant an additional earning at the rate of a million dollars a year on Butte & Superior stock; yet in the face of that fact the price of the stock began to decline as the price of spelter advanced. In the first ten days of February the company mined and milled at the rate of 1,450 tons of ore per day.

"Of course," said General Manager Bruce, "the conditions are abnormal, and no man can more than guess how long they will last. It may be a month, or six months. Any effective blockade in shipping could cause a change, and there are other conditions that might affect the market one way or the other. Personally, I am inclined to believe that we will have high price for spelter for some time to come, but I hardly expect to see the market hold up to the present figure. One cause of the rise has been the demand for spelter by manufacturers of ammunition, who use large quantities and who do not seem to have anticipated the big orders that have been placed in the United States for munitions of war. When they needed spelter they did not hesitate at the price created by the demand. A thing that gives color to the belief that spelter will remain in demand at a high price is the generally accepted belief throughout the world that the European war is nowhere near its close, but that it is likely to continue for a long time, perhaps for years."

Not Acquiring More Ground.

Mr. Bruce is of the opinion that Butte & Superior stock has shown a very reasonable though conservative advance in price, going from $25 to $46 a share since the resumption of trading on the exchanges. There have been reports that the Butte & Superior is acquiring additional mining ground in the Butte district and in the Princeton district near Pilipsburg. This is officially denied. An important group of claims in the North Butte district, owned by the Butte Hill Copper Mining company, were offered to interests connected with the Butte & Superior and that gave rise to the story that the latter company was interested in the deal, but even the men to whom the propetry was offered did not give it serious consideration. The Brooklyn mine in the Princeton district was examined by an engineer connected with the Butte & Superior for other parties and made a report on it, which is all the basis there is to the story that the Butte & Superior is interested in the deal for the Brooklyn, which is a zinc, lead and copper property.

Option on the Brooklyn.

C. W. Backley of Butte has an option on the Brooklyn for $50,000 and is understood to represent some St. Paul and Duluth capitalists. There are seven claims in the group and four mill sites, situated seven miles from the property of the Royal Basin company. The property is developed with a 600-foot tunnel and at the bottom of a 60-foot winze a large body of resin zinc ore has been uncovered. Some assays of the ore show 50 per cent zinc. The silver runs with the lead in the ore while the zinc is entirely separate. The report of one of the engineers recommends the running of a 500-foot tunnel and the construction of a small concentrator. The estimated cost of this work is about $25,000.

The high price of spelter is causing a lot of activity in zinc properties, not only in the Butte district, but throughout the state.

The Emma Mine.

There is much local interest in the announcement coming from President Albert J. Seligman of the Butte Copper & Zinc company, that a new concern called the American Zinc company of 115 Broadway, New York, had taken a lease on the Emma mine in Butte and an option on 188,300 shares of Butte Copper & Zinc stock, including 88,300 shares of remaining treasury stock, at $1 per share, the remainder of the 188,300 shares to be contributed by the stockholders, each shareholder to give 25 per cent of his holdings, the price to be paid for this contributed stock being $1 per share for 50,000 shares, due Oct. 1, 1915, $1.50 per share for 50,000 to be paid Feb. 1, 1916, and $2 per share for 50,000 shares to be paid Aug. 1, 1916. The American Zinc company has taken a lease for five years and agrees to unwater the Emma mine and mine a certain tonnage of ore, though the company has the right to surrender the lease at any time. The stockholders are also to agree to deposit their remaining 75 per cent of stock in New York and accept therefore voting trust certificates.

The Emma mine is situated in the heart of the city of Butte. It has never been a producer and was owned by a man named Dickerman of Minneapolis, from whom the promoters of the old Butte Mining & Development company obtained an option and promoted a company, raising a lot of money and spending about $200,000 in sinking an 800-foot shaft and opening two levels. The bottom level cut through the vein, 300 feet wide, and found it so heavy with zinc and carrying only 2 per cent copper, that the property was abandoned. At this time zinc in Butte ore was a penalty and could not be recovered at a profit. The zinc in the Emma ore is said to run 26 to 49 per cent. About the time that the property was abandoned experiments on Butte zinc ores were begun, and have just been brought to a high degree of success and profit by the Butte & Superior and Elm Orlu Mining companies. Efforts have been made for some time by the large stockholders of the Butte Copper & Zinc company, which bought the Emma mine after it had been given up by the Butte Mining & Developing company, to enlist capital in the project of reopening the mine and working it for zinc, and it appears that this has finally been brought about. The New Jersey Zinc company was induced to look at the property a few years ago, but it only unwatered a portion of the shaft and then quit, as Butte zinc mining was not then so attractive as it is now.

Montana Is Mineral Output.

According to statistics gathered by the Anaconda company, Montana has produced a total of 6,161,489,052 pounds of copper since copper mining began in Butte; 405,189,263 ounces of silver and 5,931,926 ounces of gold. Butte alone has produced 5,868,515,042 pounds of copper of a value of $865,794,271; 275,118,838 ounces of silver valued at $191,765,310, and 1,270,739 ounces of gold worth $26,268,516, the total value of the three metals produced from Butte ores being $1,083,828,007. Of this total at least $750,000,000 was spent by the mining companies in wages and for supplies of various kinds directly in the state.

"There is an impression prevelant to the effect that the mining companies of Montana are engaged in extracting from the state enormous wealth that is shipped out of the state and that does the state practically no good," said C. F. Kelley, vice president and managing director of the Anaconda company, in commenting on these figures. "Nothing could be farther from the truth. There are very few business ventures in which the return upon the capital invested is smaller than the copper business, with wide fluctuation in the markets, making it questionable at times whether a sufficient return can be obtained to justify continued operation. During the last five years the Anaconda Copper Mining company has spent out of a gross income approximately $200,000,000, about $150,000,000 in this state, and is spending today, and each day that it continues to do business, approximately $100,000. The conduct of such a business can not help but have a marked influence upon the rest of the state. Out of the total population of Montana of about 400,000 persons, about 80,000 are directly affected by the continuance of this business in the communities where mining and smelting are conducted. The Anaconda company alone employes on an average 16,000 men in the state."

Rainbow May Resume.

A letter from officials in Duluth expresses the opinion that development work can soon be resumed on the property of the Butte & London and the Rainbow Development company, both Cole properties, on which work was suspended when general mining business was smashed by the European war.

NEW PROCESS IN COEUR D'ALENES

Flotation Plant at the Hunter Mine Works Successfully.

Another flotation plant has been installed and is successfully working in the Coeur d'Alene district. In every instance where the modern method of ore treatment has been tried in that district, the result has been a pronounced success. The latest installation was at the Hunter, near Mullan, a lead-silver property whose owners have wrestled for years with the problem of economical handling of the ore and getting the fullest possible recovery. The account of the new process and results obtained are given by the Wallace Press-Times:

The new flotation plant of the Hunter Mining company at Mullan is now in successful operation. The installation of the plant, including all expense, cost the company $30,000, and according to careful tests made, will pay for itself in three months' time, or at the rate of $10,000 per month, all of which comes from waste ores impossible to save by the old method of gravity concentration. Under the old system the mill saved from 60 to 65 and sometimes 75 per cent of the mineral content of the ore. With the new flotation end of the system in operation the mill is saving practically 90 per cent of the mineral content of the ore, and making a better grade of concentrates than was formerly possible. The company was forced to scrap practically $20,000 worth of machinery of the old type in order to make room for the flotation machines, which have been installed without increasing the size of the mill building, and without interfering with the normal output of the plant except for a few days' time. The installation work has been in charge of Otto Trojanowsky, millwright.

PUSHING CROSSCUT AT THE DAVIS-DALY

Development Work in Colorado Mine Is Going Forward.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 27.—At the Colorado mine of the Davis-Daly mine development work is progressing steadily. The crosscut on the 2,500-foot level has been run in the neighborhood of 200 feet. It is probable it will have to be run close to 900 feet before the principal vein of the Davis-Daly is encountered and this may take two or three months.

It wil be about July 1 before anything definite is known as to what this development will show. The small vein that showed such very high-grade ore is still being followed up. It is not of such extent to warrant any great expectations but is merely a very encouraging feature.

In the last quarterly report of the company it stated that in addition to the crosscutting on the 2,500-foot level work had also begun on the 1,750 and 1,900-foot levels. The ore body on the 1,750 level showed some good ore and mining on that level is now being carried on.

On the southeast crosscut on the 2,500-foot level, about thirty-five feet from the shaft, the vein that showed such splendid promise was encountered. The report says: "The vein struck on the 2,500-foot level has the appearance of being the downward extension of the vein found on the 1,750-foot level and the same vein which was cut on the 2,300-foot level, all of which is encouraging.

OUTPUT IS VERY HEAVY

Calumet & Hecla Is Shipping About 9,600 Tons Daily to Mills.

Success Attends Drilling on Smith Lands in Porcupine Mountains.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Calumet & Hecla is shipping about 9,600 tons daily to its mills at Lake Linden, 5,200 to 5,300 from the Calumet conglomerate and 4,300 from the Osceola amygdaloid. The monthly tonnage would be, therefore, 249,600 for the usual month, which is a high figure. Shafts Nos. 6 and 7 at the South Hecla were being sunk up to the beginning of the war, but this work was then stopped to reduce costs, and as there is plenty of reserves ahead, sufficient to last a long time, this work will not be resumed again until the good times return. Not so much development work is being done here on the conglomerate as before the war, six machines having been laid off and not having been put in operation again. The tonnage of 4,300 tons on the amygdaloid is being made with only five shafts, No. 18, which was shut down when the war commenced, not having been opened again, and this figure equals any yet made here, including those of the periods when No. 18 was open. Stoping on the amygdaloid has not been carried below the fifteenth level and is now being done up through the eighth level. At No. 17 the stoping or taking out of the rock is being done from the fourth to the eighth levels, inclusive, and at No. 18 it was being carried as high as the second and third when it was closed down.

Porcupine.

The Porcupine mountains explorations at the S. L. Smith property, ten miles west of the White Pine, have now the assistance of an inch and a half eighth diamond drill in their crosscutting at the depth of seventy feet. For the present until the drifts are increased in length so that both the drilling and the drifting can be carried on more comfortably, none will be taken to the surface, where some work laid out for the future will be done now. A great success has been achieved here already in finding the lodes of the White Pine and ascertaining that the mineralization still continues. Manager F. B. Close is confident, from his thorough surface examination, that there are profitably mineralized beds on both sides of the fifty feet he has so far covered by a crosscut. The diamond drilling is being done by Cole & McDonald of Virginia, Minn.

Mohawk.

Mohawk is now changing the old skips of two and one-half tons capacity for those able to hoist seven and one-half tons. Of course up to the present time these have been large enough for the work, but the number of drifts is constantly increasing. The work here is about all development, which consists of opening up as fast as possible new drifts and then drifting to a line half between this shaft and No. 6 to the north and to the Ahmeek boundary line on the south. The stoping will be done as wanted from the outer ends of these drifts inward. It is not the intention to take from this shaft only very little more than that coming from the development, since to do so would necessitate the taking of less from some of the other shafts, as the four stamps are running pretty nearly to their capacity. It was considered probable some years back that some stamp room would be by this time available at the Wolverine for the Mohawk rock, but it would seem now that it would be from ten to fifteen years before such a course would be possible. Mohawk can supply very easily five stamps with as good rock as it does four. The adoption of an underground selection with some gain by more rock coming from the richer shafts Nos. 5 and 6 has given good results with but little extra costs. With a yield of 17 pounds a ton and at the present price of copper, very conservative figures give earnings of very close to $8 a share.

Allouez.

Allouez's directors did just what was expected here, because it was figured that with the uncertainty of the future, the rather gloomy outlook at the present time, and the fact that there is only about a little over $400,000 in the treasury, when it is thought that they would desire to have a surplus of $500,000, no beginning of dividends would be begun at this time. The production is now pretty close to 40,000 tons monthly, where it was before the war. On a three-quarters' time basis 32,000 tons had been shipped for one month. When business is normal the present production can be quite materially increased.

Old Colony.

Old Colony has located No. 35 diamond drill hole about 400 feet southwest of No. 33, where, at the depth of 1,667 feet, the Mayflower lode was found to be fifty-seven feet wide and well mineralized, carrying values varying from "fair" to "rich." A very important feature of that core was the normal and unbroken condition of the formations. The new hole will be approximately 2,700 feet south of the Mayflower boundary, and the distance on the two properties of the ground covered by the series of holes measured along the strike of the lodes will be 6,600 feet.

South Lake.

South Lake has passed through the fourth lode with its crosscut, and has encountered a width of sixteen feet, a good showing of profitable stamp rock, and about 50 pounds of small mass and barrel sizes. As the first lode crossed after the change of dip occurred was only four feet wide and as it carried but little copper, it is not counted. About thirty-five feet of trap so far has been met with since the drill passed out of the fourth lode. It would appear that the four lodes discovered in the cores of the six diamond drill holes had now been located and that the bed of ophite, a particular variety of trap, revealed between the second and third lodes and having a width of 150 feet, had changed here to the common trap of this district and that it had narrowed down to a thickness of about fifty feet. It is understood to be the purpose of the management to continue the crosscut until it has some indication that all of the lodes have been opened. In the meantime steps will be taken to increase the compressor power, so that more drills can be operated, when the drifting on the lodes is begun. The occurrence of four remakably well mineralized lodes in a thickness of 350 feet with a known length of about 1,360 feet on the strike is the record showing for the Lake Superior copper-bearing series. The buying of the stock has been for some time almost wholly from here and to a great extent by those who bought soon after the management began to exhibit the cores of the six holes. If these lodes persist to the southward, when money can be raised the Adventure management will procure it and explore for them.

Keweenaw.

Keweenaw, after cutting a very large sump or basin to catch the water coming from above, at the seventh level has begun to sink the shaft again and is finding excellent ground almost as high in grade as that encountered at the last or seventh level and in the skip pit and which was spectacularly rich. The drifts on the third level were stopped when the distance of about 1,700 feet had been covered. Drifting has been begun on the sixth level and the rock there and on both drifts at each of the fourth and fifth levels is showing good values.

Franklin.

Franklin should, by its crosscut from the Allouez conglomerate on the thirty-second level, reach the Calumet conglomerate at the distance of about 149 feet further east or at that of about 1,400 feet in. It is considered probable that this famous lode will be revealed somewhat narrower than at the Calumet & Hecla and with little or no mineralization, as has been the case when opened, except for short stretches adjoining that mine at the Centennial and Tamarack Junior and as is found in the bank on the hillside immediately back of the Copper Range railway station, nearly on the water's edge at Houghton, about four miles south, pinched down to three feet and carrying hardly any copper. Yet the unexpected may at any moment happen in our lodes, and the opening of No. 13, or the Calumet conglomerate, is being awaited with great interest even by those very familiar with the formations of the district. An exceedingly high rate of speed is being made by the two Leyner-Ingersoll drills that are being worked two shifts, the rate of fifty-four feet having been made last week and that of sixty-four some weeks ago. The crosscut from the twenty-seventh level from the shaft on the Pewabic or Quincy amygdaloid, driven for the purpose of furnishing a tramway and better ventilation for the raise in the Allouez conglomerate from the thirty-second level, is now in fifty-one feet. The raise now has a height of 390 feet and the ground is continuing good. The raise from the bottom, the thirty-seventh level, is 210 feet up, but the work has been stopped and a chute for the rock is being cut out. This preparations are being made to supply rock to the mill, which will resume concentrating in about two months, as announced two weeks back.

North Lake.

North Lake, in the long crosscut from its shaft in search of the so-called Evergreen lodes passed through by the South Lake shaft, has, at the distance of about 775 feet, encountered an amygdaloid, probably a later and younger member of the Evergreen series, containing some copper. This is regarded as a good sign, as it shows that there is copper in this particular place where the lodes are being sought.

Mass.

Mass will sell the stock on which the assessments are still unpaid April 14. This stock will be advertised March 4. Of the last assessment of $1 a share, called the latter part of last year, there is less than $10,000 to be paid. The previous assessment was $2 and was levied in May, 1911. There have been paid in so far $23 a share, leaving only $2 yet to be called. The present price of copper, 15 cents, is giving the company a very fair profit. The company is in an excellent condition; its tonnage is very good for this season, about 9,600 tons; its costs are low; its reserves are ample as its plant is mostly pretty well up-to-date; its yield is very good, and its management is capable and progressive. For the last decade, at least, a period during which the writer has been closely watching the copper mines of this district, its prospects have not been so bright as at the present time.

DEVELOPMENT OF BOSTON & MONTANA

Capital Assured From Canadian Capitalists for Continuing Work.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 27.—Through the placing of a contract with Toronto and Montreal capitalists for 400,000 shares, the Boston & Montana Development company is believed to be assured of sufficient capital to continue development work at its Elkhorn properties and crosscutting will begin according to President W. R. Allen, when the tunnel has been driven a distance of 2,000 feet, which length will afford a depth on ten of the company's principal veins of at least 800 feet.

The Central vein dips toward the tunnel and it is regarded as possible that this ledge, one of the strongest near the surface the company has, will be intersected by the tunnel before cross cutting is begun. If it is not, it is expected that it will be picked up within a short distance to the tunnel. The Central vein shows a surface width of about thirty feet, in which values of 5 to 6 per cent copper are freely found with an associate of about fifteen ounces in silver and some gold. A shaft sunk to a depth of 150 feet shows the ledge to be holding its own at that depth. It is planned to crosscut a total distance of from 1,000 to 2,000 feet on each side of the tunnel, which crosscut will open, besides the Central vein, the Indiana, Mono, Ruby, Red Sky, Aspen and Park, chief among the larger ledges in the Elkhorn group of seventy claims, and a series of veins of lesser surface showing.

IRISH MAG SHAFT TO BE OPERATED

Lease Taken Between the 1,000-Foot Level and the Top.

Bisbee, Ariz., Feb. 27.—A real good sign in local mining circles is the start of the Irish Mag lease at the famous old property of the Calumet & Arizona company. The lease work is in charge of Tom Stafford and Dick Whiteside will act in an advisory capacity. The Mag is perhaps one of the best known shafts in the state of Arizona. It has been in operation for a great many years and some of the richest ore ever found in the district was taken from its ore bodies.

For a matter of eighteen months the shaft has not been in operation above the 1,000-foot level. It is between this level and the top that the lease has been taken. The hoist is being repaired and a force of men will soon be put to work producing. The Mag is reported to have produced a matter of $10,000,000 in dividends for the company, but a part of this amount should be credited to the Oliver. This would mean a production for the property of about $30,000,000.

SHAFT WILL BE LOCATED

Officials of the Barrows Company Selecting Place for Shaft.

Washing Plant May Be Installed at the Thompson Mine.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Barrows Mining company has completed drilling hole No. 10 A in section 16. This week several officers of the company, including Supt. C. B. Rowley and Carl Zapffe, a mining expert, were at the property to locate a place for the the shaft. A drill hole is to be put down 90 feet northwest of hole No. 8, about 125 feet from the foot wall of the ore body and, if the surface is all right a this place, samples of the drill being taken every two feet, the shaft will be located there. This will be about the center of the ore body. Plans and specifications for shaft and machinery will be made in a few days.

The Barrows-Mississippi Iron company has drilled twelve holes on its property in section 9 and it was decided to discontinue drilling for the present. A meeting of the stockholders will be held early in March to discuss how much more work is to be done on the property. The Brainerd Mining company is drilling on section 15 of its property.

Iron Mountain.

At the Iron Mountain mine the new boilers have been installed and a crew of men is busy getting everything in shape for the operation of the mine. Capt. Roscorla has returned from a trip to Michigan. C. J. Braden of Chisholm has taken a position as master mechanic.

The Inland Steel company which now is operating the Armour No. 1 and No. 2 mines and the Thompson mine, it is reported will put in a washing plant at the Thompson mine to bring the grade ore up in iron. The details of the plan, it is said, have not been entirely worked out. A steam shovel has arrived at the Armour No. 1 mine preparatory to stripping.

The Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore company at Cuyuna is hoisting ore and stockpiling it. At the Brainerd-Cuyuna Mining company's property in the city of Brainerd, the shaft is down 110 feet. At 160 feet drifting will be commenced. The ledge has been found rather soft and some timber brace in, but this has been quickly remedied by Supt. Andrew Johnson. About 100 gallons a minute are being pumped. At the Croft mine in Crosby the shaft has been straightened and day and night shift of miners is being worked.

The Adams interests which have been prospecting for copper in the Gordon, Wis., district, lately took up their drills and shipped back to Deerwood four cars of machinery.

Changes in Interest.

Joseph J. Hennen of St. Paul has quit-claimed to John B. Sanborn and Dillon J. O'Brien an undivided half interest in the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 6, township 138, range 25, the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 7, township 138, range 25, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 8, township 138, range 25, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter, the south half of the southwest quarter, the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 17, township 138, range 25, the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 18, township 138, range 25.

The Inland Steel company, it is reported, is to establish its own laboratory on the range.

The pit mines of the range are expected to resume operations on March 1, at which time the Rowe mine of the Pittsburg Steel Ore company, the Pennington and the Thompson mines of the Inland Steel company will be working full crews. It will also mark the working over of the Armour No. 2 property into a pit mine. The Hill Crest pit mine property is being prepared for development work and the hydraulic method will be used in stripping.

WORRY

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

Worry—to choke or strangle, says the dictionary. It is not necessary to seek for the further definition for that is truly the physical manifestation of mental torment.

Worry strangles our mental powers and chokes the bodily functions. There are innumerable instances in which physical decline and death are directly traceable to worry.

It is true that in everyone's life, force of circumstance, bitter experiences and trying problems must be met, considered and conquered. No matter how vital these may be or how much real thought is required in their solution, worry will never aid and it inevitably handicaps all effort to obtain a clear point of view and the establishment of a true perspective toward life's happenings.

The ancient philosophers deemed worry unworthy of men of true mental attainment. Our physical makeup is so finely adjusted that any distress of mind reacts upon the bodily functions. Excessive danger is often followed by illness and worry with its accompanying morbid thoughts has a like influence.

There is a close relation between our physical and mental selves and a sound body is a reserve force behind the mind. When you are tempted to worry bestir yourself physically. Exercise in the open air, a long tramp or some similar diversion will often times prove a sufficient stimulant to aid materially any mental effort you may make to cast off the burden.

Another and even more effective measure is to keep busy at one's daily tasks. Occupation, if it be of a nature to require close application, is one of the most effective cures for worry.

MEXICAN "PUCHERO."

London Chronicle: When things are at their best in Mexico first-rate feeding is to be had. When such an expert as George Augustus Sala describes anything as "a grand dish," there can be no doubt about it; and that is how he speaks of the "puchero"—the literal meaning of which is "pipkin." There is beef in it—boiling beef—the French bouilli, in fact. There is bacon. There are garbanzos (broad beans) and charming little black puddings, and cabbage, and delicate morsels of fried banana. It is very wholesome and very filling; and there is no use in your complaining that an odor of garlic pervades it, because the room and the table cloth and your next neighbor are all equally redolent of the omnipresent ajo. * * * There is a proverb which I may translate thus:

He who lets puchero pass
Is either in love, or asleep, or an ass.

THE CRUSADE FOR WAGE LAWS

Progress Hangs on Supreme Court Decision in Minimum Wage Case.

By FLORENCE KELLEY,
Secretary, National Consumers' League.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

The decision of the United States supreme court in the pending case of the Oregon minimum wage law may reasonably be expected during the winter, the oral argument having been heard on Dec. 17, 1914.

Should this decision be adverse, there would necessarily follow a diversion of energy to the task of changing the constitutions in order that American women may be protected against destitution while working, as hundreds and thousands of wage-earning men and women in Australia, New Zealand and England already are protected.

If, however, as is confidently hoped, the decision proves to be a favorable one, a nation-wide effort for the enactment of statutes modeled more or less exactly upon that of Oregon will immediately follow. During the year 1915 forty legislatures will be in session.

State Commissions.

A brief survey of the status of minimum wage legislation in the United States is thus timely. Such legislation was a favorite subject throughout 1913 and state commissions were authorized to establish wage rates in California, Colorado, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin. Commissioners were authorized to prosecute inquiries as to the desirability of such legislation, or as to the living wage of women and minors in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Connecticut. In 1915, New York, Missouri and Michigan have made public the results of such inquiries.

Utah dispenses outright with commission and wage boards and establishes a flat rate of wages specified in the statute for girls 14 to 16 years of age, for minors over 16 years and for adult women.

The commissions of Oregon, Washington, Massachusetts and Minnesota have, during 1913 and 1914, promulgated wage rates and the difficulties peculiar to our system of legislation are now conspicuously manifest.

American Laws Compared With Foreign.

The outstanding characteristics of American minimum wage legislation compared with that of England, Australia and New Zealand are three: The first is its omission of men; the second is its reference to the welfare of the people as a whole; the third, which is responsible for both the others, is its subordination to the courts on grounds of constitutionality, entailing the practice of placing upon American states the burden of proof that they are acting within their police powers when they create state wage commissions and wage boards or conferences. In several states the name, "industrial commission," or "industrial welfare commission," is deliberately intended to suggest that here is no apparatus intended merely to facilitate haggling between employers and employes, but an organ of the whole of society created to serve the whole, by protecting the health and morals of women and minors.

Many of the laws provide that the commissions or wage boards shall include in their membership representatives of the public as well as of employers and employes, and some specify that at least one member shall be a woman.

Despite these precautions, however, progress is for the moment halted. Until the decision of the United States supreme court becomes known, no legislature is likely to experiment farther in the new field. But this is not all. The Minnesota wage rate established Oct. 23, 1914, to become effective Nov. 23, has been met by a temporary injunction issued by Judge Catlin of the Second judicial district of Minnesota, on the grounds that "the questions presented are important and doubtful," and the pending decision in the Oregon case will "doubtless dispose of all the main questions involving the Minnesota statute."

Two Sources of Opposition.

Some opposition to minimum wage legislation has expressed itself on the part of employers who retained as counsel against it Rome G. Brown of Minneapolis to represent them before the supreme court of the United States.

More surprising opposition is found, here and there, among labor leaders. In the United States, Samuel Gompers and Hugh Frayne in the East, and a small group of members of San Francisco labor unions have vigorously opposed all wage board legislation for men, and have exercised a mildewing influence upon such effort even when confined to women.

Because in Australia wage determinations were enforced by the courts of industrial arbitration these American labor leaders opposed them as a part of their general dislike of compulsory arbitration—a dislike rooted in their long and dire experience of American courts. This objection is, however, less intelligible when, under the newer wage laws, compulsion is confined to the employers, who must pay at least the agreed wage, though no worker need accept it.

Another possible explanation of their hostility may be found in a calculation that in the long run, the power of the unions may be undermined if unorganized workers can get through wage commissions such improved rates as have in the past been attainable only through labor organizations.

This reasoning is discredited by the facts. For in the brief experience of Massachusetts, the conspicuous feature is the impetus given to workers in the candy and brush trades to form organizations where none had been before. In Australia, labor organization seems to have kept step with the march of the wage boards and, in England, the first labor organization of women in the nail and chain industry accompanied the creation of the first wage board, though the trade is so old that women in it solemly told the writer, a generation ago, that their "forbears had made the chain mail for King Arthur and his knights."

These circumstances—the extraordinary powers of the courts, and the attitude of certain labor leaders—explain the state of the movement for minimum wage laws in America compared with England and Australia. The case now pending before the United States supreme court to determine the constitutionality of the Oregon minimum wage law will settle the fate, for years to come, of effort in this field. If the law is upheld, consumers in search of ease of conscience, and social workers striving to reduce all that portion of tuberculosis, insanity, vice and premature death which they believe to be directly due to underpay, will carry forward with renewed zeal the crusade for wage laws.

If the Oregon law is upheld then the Ohio constitution will loom up with its provision, adopted by a popular vote in 1912, authorizing the legislature to fix working hours and wage rates and prohibiting any construction of the instrument itself in conflict with this prohibition. Whenever the people of Ohio may care to avail themselves of it, the broad wording of this clause admits men. The constitutional convention of New York state, which will meet in April, will be urged to imitate the example of Ohio, and to adopt a modification of the Ohio clause, to be submitted in November, 1915, to the voters of the greatest industrial state in the Union.

'TWAS CONCEDED.

Louisville Herald: The judge was a kindly old fellow, and the young barrister was nervous.

"My unfortunate client——" he began, in a quaking voice and a dry throat, then stopped.

Fumbling among his papers with a trembling hand, he began again.

"My unfortunate client——" Again his throat dried up.

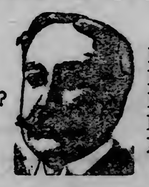

Despairingly mopping his brow with a handkerchief, he made another attempt.

"My unfortunate client——" But it was no good.

The judge, smiling down at him in a kind way, said:

"You may proceed with your statement, Mr. Blank. The court, so far, is in entire agreement with you!"

LAKE COUNTY INSTITUTES

Plans Perfected for Giving Farmers Many Up-to-Date Ideas.

Experts on Various Subjects Will Address the Institutes.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representatives from the different farmers' clubs of Lake county met with A. A. McPheeters, agricultural director and expert of the local city schools, last evening, to work out a program for the different institutes, which will be held in connection with the work of the agricultural extension department of the Two Harbors high school. The representatives of the different clubs who met with Mr. McPheeters were: Henry Olson, Olof Quist, S. M. Jensen, C. F. Kroberger and John Naslund.

The delegates had dinner with Mr. McPheeters, after which a program was arranged, which they are satisfied will fit the needs of the farmers living in this district.

This will be the first time in the history of the Two Harbors schools that such an institute has been undertaken. Those in charge of the program have secured some of the best agricultural and dairy men in the country to lecture on the various subjects of interest, among them being: A. J. McGuire, live stock specialist, University farm, St. Paul; N. E. Chapman, state poultryman, University farm; A. B. Hostetter, farm demonstrator, Duluth, and A. A. McPheeters, local agricultural expert.

Dairy farming, poultry raising and home economics will be featured at the institutes. Every phase of these subjects will be discussed and explained.

Miss Mary E. Colwell, head of the domestic science department of the local schools, will have charge of the work in home economics. She will be assisted by Miss Ruth Woodward.

The different meetings will all be held out in the farming districts so as to make it as convenient as possible for all the farmers to attend each and every one.

Dates of Institutes.

The meetings will be held in the following places on the dates given: Waldo town hall, March 15 and 16; Silver creek town hall, March 17 and 18; Lincoln schoolhouse, March 19 and 20. The following program will be given at each of the above named places:

First day—2 p. m., "Land Clearing," A. J. McGuire; "Poultry Raising," N. E. Chapman;" 8 p. m., "Dairy Farming," A. J. McGuire;" "Feeding Poultry," N. E. Chapman; "Domestic Economy," Miss Colwell.

Second day—2 p. m., "Dairy Cattle and Draft Horses," A. J. McGuire and A. A. McPheeters.

In the afternoon of the second day there will also be open discussion in domestic science and home economics fo the women. 8 p. m., "Feeding and Care of Dairy Cows," A. J. McGuire;" "Farming as a Business," N. E. Chapman.

HOMESTEADER HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Breaks Through Birch Lake Ice With Team, Losing Animals.

Ely, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elmer Pruitt, a homesteader living thirty miles south of Ely on Stoney, had a very narrow escape on Thursday evening, while crossing Birch Lake on the ice with his team of horses. Pruitt, in coming to Ely, saved a distauce of eight miles in crossing the lake which has many springs. When about three miles from the half way the ice gave way and the horses plunged through, taking Mr. Pruitt with them. Pruitt, with presence of mind, after getting again oh the ice, cut the harness and held the horses' heads by tying them to a log nearby.

He then called for help at the halfway. The horses died of exposure before they could be taken from the water.

VIRGINIA NOTES.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cohen announce the engagement of their daughter, Minnie Gertrude, to Samuel Rosenholtz of International Falls.

Alderman and Mrs. A. D. Heritage left yesterday for Duluth, where they plan to visit the auto show.

Mrs. Donald Young has returned from Aurora, Ill., where she visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Young also visited in other cities before returning to her home.

The Mesdames E. O. Sorenson, W. Bushnell, George Sutterholm and O. D. Hole will entertain the North Side Ladies' Aid society at the Mohami clubhouse at a 15-cent luncheon on Thursday, March 4, for the benefit of the North Side Mission church.

H. W. Overpeck of Buhl was here Thursday evening and attended the basket ball game played at the Technical gym.

M. C. Hanson, formerly a Virginia resident, who is in the employ of a Duluth commission house, where he now makes his home, was a Virginia visitor Friday.

Mrs. M. West of Maple street returned Thursday evening from a visit of three weeks in Duluth, Minneapolis and Omaha with relatives and friends.

CAUCUS IS HELD AT GRAND RAPIDS

Candidates to Be Voted for on March 9 Selected.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village caucus to nominate candidates for village and township offices to be voted upon on March 9 was held at the village hall last evening. Ralph A. Stone, chairman of the caucus committee, called the meeting to order. E. C. Kiley was elected chairman and Frank Sherman, secretary. George Riddell, who has been village president for many terms, was nominated by acclamation. For trustees Messrs. Arscott, Thomas Russell, C. W. Forest and C. J. Eller were presented, the former three, who were the trustees last year, were nominated, the vote standing 107 for Arscott, 106 for Russell, 94 for Forest, and 70 for Eller.

Recorder and Treasurer.

For recorder, F. A. McVicar and William Fraser were candidates, the former winning by a vote of 89 to 72. Lester Lofberg, present village treasurer, was nominated without opposition. H. S. Huson and O. N. Steenstrup were nominated for justices of the peace, and Jesse Harry and G. O. Johnson for constables. Ralph A. Stone, A. L. La Freniere and Henry Hughes were appointed as a caucus committee to call next year's caucus.

Following the village caucus the caucus to nominate candidates for township offices was held. E. J. Farrell presided and H. W. Stark was secretary. Charles Brock, the present incumbent, was named as the candidate for township supervisor, and Hugh Shannon for township clerk, both without opposition.

COLERAINE BIBLE CLASS AT BANQUET

Very Successful Affair Is Held in Fraternity Hall.

Coleraine, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to the Herald.)—The C. I. C. adult Bible class of the M. E. church was entertained at a banquet last evening by the lady members of the class at Fraternity hall. Covers were laid for seventy-five, and that many people never sat down to a more sumptuous feast nor in a more appropriately decorated banquet hall than did the members and guests of the Bible class. The menu and program follows:

Menu—"Whites," pickles, olives, jelly, fruit cocktail, wafers, beef loaf with brown gravy, cold roast of pork, mashed potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, rolls, cabbage salad, ice cream, cake, coffee.

C. I. C. orchestra, selection—Song, C. I. C. trio, Messrs. IS KILLED BY FALLING TIMBER

Shift Boss of La Rue Mine at Nashwauk Loses His Life.

Nashwauk, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Able Tallon, shift boss at the La Rue mine here, was instantly killed about 7:30 o'clock this morning when struck on the head by a piece of falling timber. Men were lowering timber in the mine when a large piece broke loose and, falling, struck the shift boss on the head, crushing his skull.

Mr. Tallon had been employed here about five years and previously had been employed at other mines on the Mesaba range many years. He was about 45 years old and is survived by a wife and three children. Funeral arrangements have not been perfected.

BOVEY BRIEFS.

Bovey, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Bernice Provinski and Miss O'Neil came from Cohasset Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Provinski.

Local people attended the dance given in Coleraine Monday night by the Yeomen lodge.

Charles Weston of the county seat has been in town this week.

L. G. Bonestell of Marble was a visitor here Sunday.

GERMAN BLOCKADE HITS SCANDINAVIA.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)— John Edmands of Lengby, Minn., who has been working at Hibbing the last two years, has a letter from his brother, Oscar Edmands, who is now in Sweden, stating that the German blockade of Great Britain has seriously affected the shipping interests of both Norway and Sweden.

SEALED VERDICT IN GLAD ACTION

Finding in Case Tried at Hibbing Will Be Known Monday.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following a severe examination of Mary Glad, plaintiff, and Peter Aha, defendant, in a suit for $450 and interest on that amount from Nov. 21, 1913, and cost of litigation, the case yesterday afternoon was given to the jury by Judge Hughes. The jury returned a sealed verdict, but as court has adjourned until Monday morning the finding of the jury will not be known until then. Judge Hughes is holding juvenile court at Virginia today. The testimony in the Glad-Aha case yesterday differed materially.

According to allegations of Mary Glad, Aha had, "through fraudulent misrepresentation" obtained the money from her in the first place. He had paid her $150 of the amount and then gave her what he valued at $800 worth of shares in a mining company for settlement for that amount. According to testimony of the plaintiff, she told him that these shares would only be acceptable on the condition that she found them satisfactory after consulting friends who would read them. She consulted Paul Maras, a local saloon keeper about the shares, and he advised her to return them. This she did two months later by mail, she says. She has not received any more money from Aha, although the latter demanded $50 in a counter suit.

Lawyers Have Clash.

Sharp verbal clashes took place when the attorney for the plaintiff, A. E. Templeton was cross-examining Aha. He was asking him about the last $25 which he had received from the plaintiff and which it was later found was not dated correctly, when Attorney V. L. Power interposed, with an explanation as to the receipt.

"Mr. Power let the witness testify," Templeton replied.

"All I want to do," Mr. Power replied, "is to clear your mind of what seems to me to be a confusion of that and another receipt."

"I can read English," heatedly replied Attorney Templeton as he went on with his cross-examination.

Monday morning a jury will be drawn to try George Babich vs. D. B. Wuijunovich, in which the plaintiff demands $1,000 for injuries which he declares he sustained he received through rough handling by the defendant in his saloon one early Sunday morning last spring.

The two were arrested but dismissed in municipal court by Judge Thomas F. Brady.

According to allegations made by the plaintiff, he was in the saloon that Saturday night. He also helped roast a pig, for which he had money coming. He ordered several drinks with others and early that morning an argument came up between him and the defendant regarding the price of some liquor purchased. Because he refused to pay it, he alleges, Wujunivich assaulted him and inflicted several severe injuries.

CHISHOLM ELECTION GOING TO BE LIVELY

About Thirty-Eight Candidates in Race for Offices.

Chisholm, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—With some thirty-eight candidates out for office, the coming village election promises to be a lively affair. There are two tickets seeking village honchips.

The town ticket is headed by Dr. E. E. Webber, for president; C. Menty Tramontin for recorder; Peter Wall, Victor Strom and Otmar Tancig for trustees, and J. J. Stukel for treasurer.

The mining company ticket consists of Henry Fugere for president; B. E. Culver for recorder; William Ulrich, Steve Musolf and William Sundquist for trustees, and C. E. French for treasurer. The candidates running for the council outside the two tickets are B. H. Graham, for trustee; Lovrance Kovach for trustee; Antonio Mahne for trustee; A. B. Dugar for recorder, and Jalo J. Kekoni for president.

C. M. Tramontin, A. B. Dugar and B. E. Culver are the candidates left in the race; Mr. Tramontin representing the town, A. B. Dugar running independent and B. E. Culver the mining companies.

C. E. French and J. J. Stukel are the only candidates for treasurer.

A. H. Kleffman and Joseph E. Cummings are running independently for justice of the peace.

For constable, three face the firing line, all independent.

The race for the assessorship promises a lively tilt, no less than eight men being lined up.

The judgeship is exciting as much interest as any. There are eight in the race.

FORBES SETTLERS TO PLANT CARMEN TUBERS.

Forbes, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Acting on the suggestion of County Agricultural Agent H. G. Larsen made at a recent Farmers' club meeting, settlers in the vicinity of this village have decided to raise only one variety of potatoes in order to get better prices. Mr. Larsen recommended the Carmen No. 3 and this will probably be selected.

CASCARETS KEEP BOWELS REGULAR AND CURE COLDS

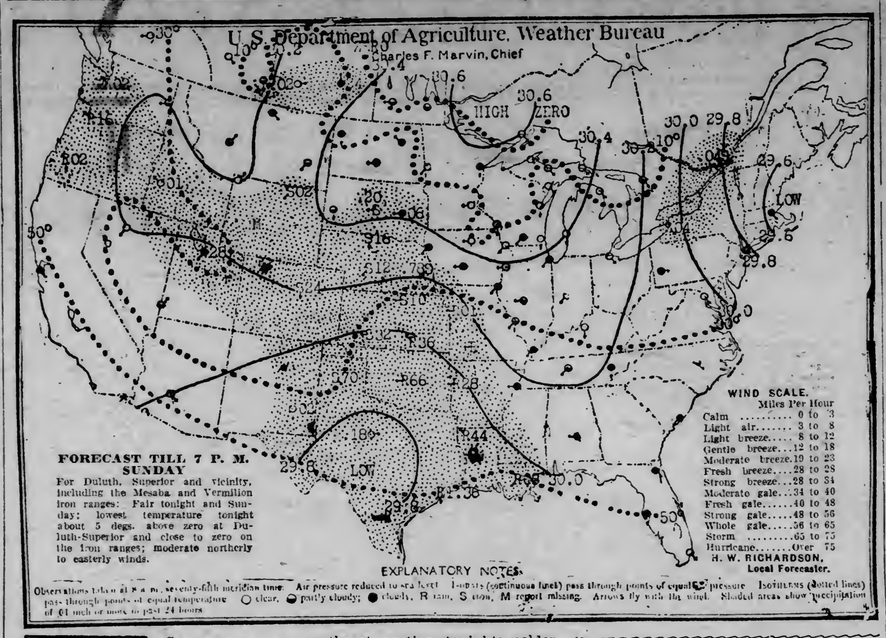

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation By Morning.

Get a 10-cent box.

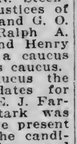

Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets to-night and you will wake up with a clear head and no doubt you will wonder what became of your cold. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

Sunshine succeeding the fleecy fall of snow of the early morning, started business in making nature's effort to cover the icy walks futile. Taken as a whole the atmospheric conditions are pretty nearly ideal and there is a distinct feeling of spring in the air. With the wild geese hitting it up for the north, boys playing marbles and other things of that sort happening, the present balmy weather may possibly be taken as an "earnest" of an early break-up of winter.

A year ago today was balmy. The sun rose this morning at 6:52 and will set this evening at 5:52, giving ten hours and fifty minutes of sunlight. Tomorrow the eleven-hour day will begin.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Zero weather occurred last night in Western Ontario, Manitoba and Northern Minnesota. The temperature has fallen over the Rocky mountain region, the Southwest and North Atlantic states, and has risen over Eastern Ontario, the Red River valley and Saskatchewan. Rain or snow fell during Friday or last night over the Southwest, Rocky mountains, Oregon, Washington and the St. Lawrence valley. Heavy rain fell at Galveston, Tex."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Sunday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Sunday; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Sunday; probably becoming unsettled in south portion by Sunday night.

Iowa—Probably snow tonight and Sunday.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in northwest portion tonight.

South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Sunday, preceded by snow in southeast portion tonight; colder in east portion tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in northeast portion tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight; Sunday increasing cloudiness; probably unsettled over south portion.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Sunday.

GILBERT OFFICES NOT GOING BEGGING

No Dearth of Candidates in Liveliest Election in Years.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Interest is being taken in the election to be held here March 9, and it promises to be the liveliest ever held in this village. A large number of candidates are in the political game, making it a hard matter to predict how strong they will run.

Two candidates are out for mayor, Dr. Fred Barrett, the present mayor, and Thomas S. Morrison. No other candidates have expressed themselves as candidates for that office. The most sought-for office is that of village recorder. Jacob Mukvic filled this week, which makes four now in the race for this office. A. E. MacInnis, the present recorder, Thomas H. Sharpe and W. J. Dowling are also candidates.

Three After Treasurership.

The past week brought out one more candidate for the office of village treasurer, making three now seeking this office. W. J. Luke, the present treasurer, seeks re-election, while Leo Kerker and Victor Maryland are his opponents.

Several new candidates have filed for trustees, making ten now in the race for these offices. Three are to be elected. The following have filed to date: John Connor and Clyde M. Campbell, for re-election; William Markus, John Zollar, Jacob Pirl, Mike Kohler, A. K. Kapeller, R. E. Brown and Mike Viola.

Three candidates are out for the office of justice of peace: C. O. Welch, A. R. Anderson and Tim Burns.

All of the present officers of the village seek re-election this year excepting Trustee Julius Bordeau.

GRAND RAPIDS BRIEFS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herendeen, recently of Procter, arrived Tuesday from Hill City, where they had been visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Herendeen not long ago purchased of Frank Passard a lot of several acres in the McKinney Lake addition to Grand Rapids, and he expects to build a home thereon in the spring.

H. O. Sargeant, an attorney of Minneapolis, was here this week to look after the sale of the real estate of Gifford Edie, who died a couple of years ago. Mr. Edie was a British subject and his estate is being looked after by C. E. Hamilton, British vice consul. Arrangements for the disposal of the property were made by Mr. Sargeant, and the estate will be closed up soon.

Mrs. W. C. Tyndall was at Keewatin this week, the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Will King.

W. C. Tyndall, Frank E. King and H. Hughes were among those who attended the automobile show at Duluth this week.

Miss Katherine Doran came from Chisholm to spend a few days visiting relatives and friends here.

Philip M. Stone of Keewatin was a guest of his brother, County Attorney Ralph A. Stone, over Sunday.

H. D. Powers was a visitor at the Twin Cities the first of the week.

Edward Hachey, who is inspector on the construction work on the Blackwater bridge west of Cohasset, spent the week-end here with his family.

Miss Fannie Scrub, a teacher in the Chisholm schools, spent Sunday here at C. E. Aiken's home.

Ralph West went to Minneapolis to attend a class reunion at the state agricultural college at St. Anthony Park, of which he is a graduate.

C. C. Peterson went to St. Paul Tuesday to appear before the Minnesota tax commission relative to some tax matters in which he is interested.

Mrs. Will Passard arrived Tuesday from Des Moines, Iowa, to join Mr. Passard, who recently came here to make his home in Grand Rapids. They will make their home in rooms in the James Passard residence until spring, when they will build a home of their own near McKinney lake.

Mrs. Emma Lane returned Monday from Bemidji, where she had been to spend Sunday with Mrs. Ed Gould, formerly Miss Katherine Baker of this place.

One of the young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dethloff, living about ten miles north of town, caught a bobcat in a trap not far from his home. The hide brought him a nice sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. King were here from Cass Lake the first of the week packing their household goods. Their house will be occupied by H. H. Timm.

SCHOOL HEAD QUITS.

Superintendent of Schools at Deer River Retires.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resignation of George E. Keenan as superintendent of schools of the sixth district, tendered the school board, comes as a surprise to the community. Mr. Keenan under his contract would have over two years to serve yet and he is now in his fifth year in his position which he has filled to the satisfaction of the people and the directors. He retires to enter the farm land business, which he believes is about to see a boom in this county. Mr. Keenan will manage an office in Deer River for the Minnesota Farms company, a Minneapolis concern which has thousands of acres north of here along the Minneapolis & Rainy River railroad.

DEER RIVER DEFICIT.

Closing of Saloons By Government Cuts Down Village Income.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is little interest in the village election to be held March 9. It is probable the present officers will be re-elected without opposition. A proposition will be voted upon to bond the village for $8,000 to take up the floating indebtedness of the village. The deficit of the treasury is caused by the closing of the saloons by the government under the Indian treaty act.

Ball Club Lake Man Dies.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. J. Lonning, a settler at Ball Club lake, died here Wednesday from neuphritis. He was 62 years old and single. At different times in the last several years he has received aid from the county and at the time of his death he was in the care of County Physician McGee.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

FORBES NEWS NOTES.

Sawmill Established West of Range Village Boon to Settlers.

Forbes, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Kaukala Bros. have established a sawmill west of Forbes, and most of the settlers in the vicinity are hauling timber to be sawed next year. The lumber will nearly all be used in erecting new buildings.

A. E. Dyer, an assistant county engineer, has a crew of men at work a few miles west of Forbes resurveying all section lines and re-establishing corner posts for the benefit of settlers.

The Forbes Telephone company has seventeen new subscribers in the vicinity of Zim and two wires are to be strung as soon as possible to reach the new subscribers. This will give the company about fifty instruments in use.

Martin Panian of Eveleth has purchased a forty three miles west of Forbes from Joseph Francel, also of Eveleth. Mr. Panian has begun improving the land.

Marcello Monetti of Forbes has purchased a pure bred Holstein bull and intends to go into the business of raising pure bred stock.

GRAND RAPIDS PUPILS WILL PRESENT PLAY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening at the high school will be presented by the seventh and eighth grades the drama "Our Country." The play will be staged under the direction of Miss Rosalie Huderlie, a teacher in the grades.

It was intended to give the play Thursday evening, but owing to the large number of other functions on that date, it was postponed to this evening.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for the purchase of pictures for the assembly room in the new addition to the high school.

VIRGINIA WILL KEEP THE CUSSON TROPHY.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 27.—In a curling match played Thursday evening in Eveleth the Dan Coffey rink of Virginia defeated the Thomas Pratt four of Eveleth by 13 to 10, deciding the Cusson trophy for the year, which now is to remain in the hands of the Virginia Curling association.

TEACHING EVELETH PUPILS TO SAVE.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A complete savings bank system has been worked out in the Eveleth schools in order to teach pupils thrift and the principals of banking. Every school room is in effect a sub-depository for the postal savings system. Every pupil who opens an account receives a bank book on which entres are made of his deposits. The savings, as they accumulate, are transferred to the pupils' accounts at the postoffice.

The plan, under the direction of Otto Schmidt, principal at the Lincoln school is working out well and there are already a large number of regular depositors.

TWO HARBORS TO PLAY SUPERIOR FIVE.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A basket ball game will be played this evening at the Y. M. C. A. between the Nelson Dewey high school team of Superior, and the local high school team.

The Nelson Dewey team defeated the locals once this year by a very close margin and this evening the locals are determined to even up matters. The locals will line-up as follows: Center, Johnson, forwards, Richands and Irwin; guards, Haugstein and Cleveland.

VIRGINIAN'S BROTHER KILLED IN WISCONSIN.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—T. P. Dwyer of this city received a message today that the body of his brother, Edward Dwyer, employed as trainman on the Northwestern railroad, had been found lying beside the track three miles from Watertown, Wis., having fallen from a train. He had been missing and many inquiries were made about him. Last Sunday he was at Butternut, Wis., attending the funeral of his wife's brother, while at the same time another brother was buried at Antigo, Wis.

Body Brought From Iowa.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of Thomas Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vol Gardner, of this city, were brought here this morning for burial. Mr. Gardner was killed at Mason City, Iowa. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Deceased was 35 years old and single.

Eveleth Forfeits Game.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth forfeited a close basket ball game to Aurora at the Auditorium last night, 12 to 10, and Coach West of the locals narrowly escaped rough treatment at the hands of indignant fans because of differences with Capt. Saari of the local quint. West's attempt to substitute another player against Saari's opinion is reputed to have started the trouble. West was obdurate and Saari left the room. The Eveleth players followed their captain from the floor and the referee declared the game forfeited to Aurora.

When the result was announced the crowd started after West. Threats were made and a police officer was called to give the coach safe conduct to his hotel.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK RANGE TROLLEY CAR

Car Hits Obstruction Piled on Track Half Mile From Eveleth.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—An attempt was made last night to wreck a car on the Mesaba electric railway about 11 o'clock within about half a mile of Eveleth. As the car approached a curve Motorman Roberts saw rocks piled on the track and tried to stop the car, but could not and struck the obstruction with a crash, badly shaking up the passengers.

The car was put on the track and resumed its journey only to come upon another obstruction near the ski slide, but this time the car was stopped before hitting it. Three people for whom the car had previously not stopped near the ski slide are blamed for the outrage. The Eveleth police are at work on the case.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

BARGAIN HUNTERS IN REAL ESTATE MARKET NUMEROUS

But Duluthians Are Not Disposed to Sacrifice Holdings.

Investment Interest Broadens and Busy Spring Is Expected.

Receipt of a healthy inquiry for all classes of realties is advised by local real estate operators.

Investment interest is said to be broadening, and it is of such a satisfactory nature that the putting through of a substantial number of transactions during the spring months is regarded as assured.

An obstacle in the way of operations is said to be the difficulty of obtaining propositions to meet the views of bargain hunters. A proportion of would-be investors are alleged to have been under the impression during the last few months that in view of the unsettlement brought about through the war, desirable central business properties would be offered at price recessions. These operators have been disappointed in that connection, realties being very closely held all round. It was intimated this week that negotiations in some deals that have been pending for some time are reaching a favorable stage and the closing up of at least two important trades is expected shortly.

The own-your-own-home movement is reported to be giving every promise of extending. Operators have been busy of late in showing properties, and numbers of contracts for lots in both the eastern and western sections of the city have been entered into.

Church Buys a Site.

A realty feature of the week was the sale of the Massachusetts Real Estate company to the church of St. Anthony De Padua of the northwest corner of Ninth avenue east and Fourth street at a consideration of $13,000 cash. The property has a frontage of 200 feet on Fourth street. The transaction was put through by H. L. George.

* * *

Stryker, Manley & Buck reported the receipt of earnest money on sales of two centrally-located residence properties.

* * *

The Harris Realty company received earnest money on two transactions, one of them a two-flat brick house on Fifth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues east, at $6,500, and the other on a property at Water street and Twenty-second avenue east, in which the consideration was $1,100.

* * *

C. P. Craig & Co. sold for the Lakeside Land company to L. Lohman a building lot at Dodge street and Fiftieth avenue east. The purchaser proposes to improve at once in the building of a home.

The inquiry for Lakeside properties was reported gratifying at that office and the carrying through of an extended building program is foreshadowed during the spring months by recent buyers of lots.

* * *

* * *

A gratifying inquiry for farming tracts in Duluth district was advised by W. C. Sargent. Transactions in residence properties in the eastern sections of the city are also pending, he said.

* * *

With the near advent of spring interest in Gary properties is improving, according to A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company. Prospective investors from Southern Minnesota and Illinois were in the city during the week to look over some Gary propositions.

* * *

Richardson, Day & Cheadle reported some activity, especially in small tracts of land, close in. Sales were made of a six-acre tract in Norton's Duluth outlots at Kenwood, two one-acre tracts near Kenwood and two tracts of thirty and ten acres each, near Duluth Heights. They also reported a better inquiry for inside residence property.

* * *

Gratifying outside interest was reported by the Gray-Wertin in Ne-Na-Mik-Kata, its summer homes proposition at Lake Vermilion. Sales of three lots were effected during the week, to Philadelphia and Baltimore investors. Since placing the property on the market last fall, numbers of inquiries have been received from Eastern and Middle states points, and sales have been made to persons in the Twin Cities, Madison, Wis.; Lincoln, Neb.; Philadelphia and Baltimore. It is expected that a number of cottages will be built at the lake for occupancy during the coming season.

HOW THE MINISTER IS TREATED.

Ladies' Home Journal: Once upon a time a manager asked George Ade if he had ever been taken for a minister.

"No," replied Ade, "but I have been treated like one."

"How was that?"

"I have been kept waiting for my salary six or seven months."

BUSY BUILDING SEASON FORESHADOWED IN DULUTH

Value of Work in Sight Placed at More Than $1,000,000.

Schools and Residences Figure Largely in New Proposals Coming Out.

Building prospects are steadily brightening, and it is now confidently expected that work placed in hand during the early part of the season will reach the largest proportions in years.

As an indication of its probable extent, it was intimated by a local architect today that he has commissions for plans in his office involving approximately $200,000 in value. Included in it are two schools and a business block to go up in three towns in this district.

Locally it is said that jobs amounting to approximately $400,000 held over from last year, will be proceeded with this spring, and that in addition new proposition amounting to as much more will probably go out for figures within a few weeks. On the score of work in sight, architects, contractors and building materials and supply men are looking forward to a season of exceptional activity and arrangements are being made accordingly.

More Flat Buildings Under Way.

A brick flat building to contain two flats of six rooms each, is about to be built for O. L. Davis on Second street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues east at an approximate cost of $7,000. The plans were prepared by Arthur Hanford, architect, and the contract has been awarded to the Hanford Construction company.

* * *

Figures are being taken by Arthur Hanford upon a brick veneer home for Ira W. Smith on Fourth street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east at an estimated cost of $6,000.

The same architect has the plans out for figures on two frame houses to go up on Nineteenth avenue east at an outlay of about $3,000 each.

* * *

E. C. Gilluson, architect, will take figures next week on a frame and stucco home for B. Cook on Woodland avenue at an approximate outlay of $7,000.

The Minnesota Tea company is about to build a one-story and a basement store building on Superior street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenues west. Figures upon the job have been received by Holstead & Sullivan, architects, and it is expected that the contract will be let next week.

The contract for a proposed two-story office building for the Meadowlands State bank will be awarded next week by the same architects. Its cost is estimated at $8,000.

* * *

Jacobson Bros., contractors for the Harriet Beecher Stowe school at New Duluth, are completing the plastering. The structure could be ready for occupancy within two months so it is reported by the architects, Kelly & Williams.

* * *

Plans for the proposed new school at Bruno, Minn., will be ready to go out for figures within a week, from the offices of Kelly & Williams, architects.

* * *

Gratification was expressed by F. W. Perkins, architect, over the nature of the work materializing this early. He looks forward to an active season in both residence and commercial construction. He is now engaged upon plans for two high-class homes in Congdon park to go out for figures this spring and has besides other proposals in hand. He intimated that F. Fitzgerald, who is a member of the firm, will be permanently in charge of the Duluth office.

* * *

It is expected that the contract for the proposed parochial high school at Virginia, Minn., will be let early next week. It will be three stories in height, of reinforced concrete construction, faced with brick and terra cotta, and is estimated to cost $70,000. The plans were prepared by Holstead & Sullivan.

* * *

Armour & Co. are about to make extensive alterations in their cold storage plant at Michigan street and First avenue west. A permit for $6,800 to cover the work has been issued at the building inspector's office.

* * *

H. Spjovold is building a frame house on Twentieth avenue west, between Third and Fourth streets to cost $3,500.

* * *

HOARD THEIR FOOD SUPPLY

European Nations Using Utmost Economy, Says Italian Consul.

Italy Takes Duty Off Wheat and Flour; Home Products Retained.

Although the Italian government took steps last fall to eliminate, as far as possible, the chance of a food shortage, an edict of recent date places many more articles on the forbidden list. Attilio Castigliano, Italian consul for the Head of the Lakes district, has received a communication from the Royal Italian embassy at Washington which enumerates the supplies which are not to be exported from the Italian peninsula.

Reports from Europe show that nations are economizing in every possible way and hoarding food supplies, so that the people will not suffer from famine before the next crops can be harvested. Despite these precautions, food experts say that thousands of persons in the war-stricken districts will come close to starvation before the next harvest.

Duty on wheat, cereals of all kinds and flour was abolished Feb. 1, according to an edict from King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. This will be in force until at least June 30, 1915.

An edict issued Feb. 7, according to Consul Castigliano, prohibits the exportation of all products containing oil and every product used in feeding animals, including meal. Products of cereals of all kinds and seeds of all kinds, also macaroni, cannot be shipped to other countries.

The provision covering macaroni may be repealed temporarily, upon the presentation of proof of an equal importation of wheat.

Hogs, sausages, hams and meats of all kinds are on the taboo list, as are all preparations from meats and preserves prepared from by-products. Cocoa in grain, chestnuts, poultry, oil, fish, fat of fish, palm oil, tallow, animal or vegetable wax and any other product manufactured from animal fat are included on a prohibited list issued in a decree of Jan. 31.

Since that time further edicts have enlarged upon the original one to further include preserved fish of all kinds, dry vegetables, sulphate of ammonia, ammonia and ammoniacal salts and salicylic acids.

Even more rigid rules may be enacted to keep the people of Italy from want, according to indications, although the present list includes a large percentage of the food supplies.

Italy has gone further than any other European country in protecting its people from the ravages of war, according to press dispatches, and the list of exports which have been prohibited strengthens this report.

CLUB ADVOCATES TWO IMPROVEMENTS

Bridge Over Chester Creek and Ninth Street Paving Urged.

Seventy-five members of the Munger Improvement club during a meeting at the Munger school, Twelfth avenue east and Eighth street, last night, passed a resolution advocating the construction of a bridge across Chester creek and the paving of East Ninth street from Seventh avenue east to the Chester park line.

Special emphasis was placed on the importance of the bridge, which the club wants built across the stream from Ninth street, sloping south near Eighth street on the east bank.

Ninth street residents were strongly in favor of the street improvement and will circulate a petition among the property owners, so that it can be authorized.

Roderick Murchison, commissioner of the division of public works, was present and expressed himself as favoring the bridge project. He suggested that property owners on Ninth street start a petition for the paving, and said that the city commission would gladly receive such a petition.

KING WINTER REIGNS AT LAKE NEBAGAMON

Special Trains Will Run to Ice Palace There on Sunday.

Lovers of winter sports will have an opportunity of indulging themselves to their hearts' content tomorrow at Lake Nebagamon, where King Winter will reign, unmolested by saucy sunbeams.

Special excursion trains are to be run from Duluth and Superior to the ice palace at Lake Nebagamon, the "country estate" of King Winter. Leaving Duluth at 1 o'clock and Superior (Soo depot) at 1:30, the train will accommodate all excursionists. The return trip from Lake Nebagamon will start at 9 p. m. Stops will be made at both Superior depots, Superior, East End and Allouez.

Toboggan slides, skating rinks, and the dance pavilion, have been prepared for a large crowd of visitors, and King Winter's lords and ladies (officials at the ice palace) predict that Sunday will be one of the record days of the season at Lake Nebagamon.

NO SCARCITY OF FOOD IN GERMANY

Food conditions in Germany are not quite as bad as reported, according to a letter Max Wirth, the Duluth druggist, has received from his brother living in Munich, Bavaria, Germany.

The writer says that meat prices are no higher than in the United States while grain prices are not abnormally high considering the war stress. The government has simply taken charge of grain supplies to prevent "cornering." Herr Wirth writes that petrol, a necessary liquid in this war is plentiful, Germany being able to secure a large supply from Austria and Roumania. Considerable corn, or as it is called in Europe, maize, is also being received from Roumania.

The spirits of the German people, the writer says, are still buoyant and they are confident of either winning a victory over the allies or of getting e war with high honors.

GUILTY OF SWINDLING

Julius Paul Convicted of Collecting Commission on Bogus Deal.

Edward Fitzpatrick Alleged Accomplice Acquitted — Leniency Recommended.

Julius Paul, charged with having swindled A. N. Friedman out of $50 on a bogus business deal, was convicted on the crime of grand larceny in the second degree by a jury which reported in Judge Fesler's division of the district court this morning. The same jury acquitted Edward Fitzpatrick, Paul's alleged partner in crime, who was tried with Paul on a joint indictment. Attached to the verdict was a recommendation to the court for leniency in Paul's case.

Lacking five minutes the jury was out on the case exactly twenty-four hours. The jurors retired to deliberate on their verdict at 9:48 o'clock yesterday morning and reached an agreement at 9:43 o'clock this morning. Paul's crime is punishable by a sentence either to the state reformatory, state penitentiary or city and county work farm. He will be brought before the court for sentence later.

The two men were accused of having secured $50 from Friedman by false representations growing out of a deal for the sale of Friedman's store at 1131 East Fourth street. Friedman had advertised in the newspapers that he had a store to sell and Paul came to him and volunteered to get him a buyer. Paul talked of a farmer whom he had in mind.

Paul, a day or so later, brought in Fitzpatrick, who, it was claimed, impersonated a "hayseed" farmer in his talk and actions. The deal was closed except for the actual paying over of the money. It was agreed that the money should be paid at a certain hour on Nov. 21, 1914. Just before the hour came around, Paul showed up and, in accordance with an agreement, collected a $50 commission. The "farmer" failed to arrive. Friedman had both of the men arrested.

At the trial, Paul was represented by Former County Attorney Norton and Fitzpatrick by Attorney G. A. E. Finlayson. County Attorney Greene prosecuted.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR FARM LOANS

New Corporation Will Make Specialty of Financing Farmers.

A clearing house for farm loans which have, for the most part, been negotiated with the various banks of St. Louis, Carlton and Aitkin counties, will be supplied through the Bankers' Mortgage Loan company, which has organized and has opened offices at 715 Providence building.

The company is backed by a chain of small banks in which C. W. Gardner of Minneapolis, comptroller of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, is interested. Mr. Gardner is president of a number of banks in St. Louis and Carlton counties and is also president of the mortgage loan company.

The capital stock of the new company is $50,000 and the purpose of its organization is to act as broker in real estate loans, particularly loans to farmers ranging from $300 to $5,000. Through the various banks with which the company is in touch, a large number of these loans can be placed with investors who are in the market for safe, conservative investments.

Charles P. Osburn, secretary treasurer and manager of the company, declares that so far as he has been able to learn, there are no companies in Duluth at the present time which are making a specialty of handling farm mortgages as investments, although there are firms which buy and sell city loans and mortgages.

Mr. Osburn declares that the placing of loans made by the small banks of outside communities with investors will give the banks an opportunity to turn over their money again in making new loans and will eventually mean much in the direction of developing the surrounding territory.

In addition to the farm loan business, the company will also handle bonds and other investments.

MORE ADVERTISING OFFERED THE CITY

St. Louis Paper Would "Write Up" Duluth's Superiority in Cheap Power.

The Daily Star of St. Louis, Mo., wants to know about light and power rates in Duluth, for St. Louis has something of a discussion on as regards these things and is wondering what to do.

The Commercial club, this morning, received a letter from that paper asking for information. The writer of the letter says that he understands that in Duluth power is obtainable at rates sufficiently cheap so that "even small plants may use it profitably." That, it is inferred from the wording of the letter, is something that St. Louis does not enjoy, and wonders at.

The Star, last year, printed a full-page review of the work that Duluth is doing each year in gardening and homecrofting, telling of the contests that are carried on in the garden development work here each year. This page, the paper syndicated, and as a result it was published in scores of newspapers in the South, giving Duluth an immense amount of valuable advertising, from which much good was realized. The Star staff man, who has just written to the Commercial club, recalls that page, and says that with the information regarding electric power and light rates at hand, and how it is obtainable, he will devote another page to Duluth and syndicate the story, the same as in the former case.

WE MUST RAISE $25,000 CASH IN THIRTY DAYS!

Cameron has specific instructions from the board of directors of the Cameron-Johnson-Horgan Furniture company to raise $25,000 immediately. Here is the story in a nutshell: Hundreds of our customers are unable to meet their obligations with us and the factories who have shipped goods have stated plainly "they need cash," therefore it is up to Cameron to make good. There is nothing left to do but sacrifice our enormous stock of home furnishings regardless of cost or value. The problem must be solved quickly and we earnestly request everybody in need of furniture (that have the cash) to come right now and purchase at practically their own price. We will sweep clean our salesroom and wareroom without reserve. Now come! Deliveries everywhere or shipped anywhere.

CAMERON-JOHNSON-HORGAN,
Salesrooms, 2110 and 2112 West Superior street.

DO YOU WANT TO

BE A LANDLORD

There is no better way than to first buy your own home. It will take only a few years of your usual rent money to pay for it.

THEN YOU WILL HAVE FORMED THE HABIT of making a monthly payment on an investment, and as surely as night follows day you will buy another house, or build another, and resell it to someone who has not yet learned the lesson of paying rent to himself.

On the second investment you make, the terms will work out easier because while you will be paying something out every month you will also be collecting a similar amount from your customer.

OTHERS HAVE DONE THIS

and why not you? The majority of our middle rich people started with a small investment, just as a baby learns to walk by creeping.

HAVE YOU EGGS OR POULTRY FOR BREEDING PURPOSES FOR SALE?

Thousands of people in and around Duluth are interested in poultry raising, and will buy stock, eggs and baby chicks. Some one will sell to them. Why not you? The Herald reaches practically all of them. Offer in the "Herald Want ad" poultry columns what you have for sale and you will find a ready market.

CIRCULATION GREATEST — RATES LOWEST

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Duluth. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. For information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take, ask for a "Want" ad man who will be pleased to give the desired information.
